14 And the lot on the East side fell vpon Selemia: and for Zacharia his sonne (which was a wise counseller) they cast lots, and his lot came out toward the North.

15 And Obed Edoms lot fel to the South: and for his sonnes fell the houses of [a] Asuppim, a Asuppim, that is to say, the counsell house.

16 For Suppim and Hosa towarde the West, with the gate ‖ Sallecheth, by the paued streete that goeth vpwarde: one watch being ouer against another.

‖ That is, the dongue port.

17 In the East were sixe Leuites, and towarde the North foure a day, towarde the South foure a day, and towarde Asuppim two and two.

21 As concerning the sonnes of Laadan, which were the children of the Gersonites of Laadan, came ancient fathers, euen of Laadan, there came Gersuni, and Jehieli.

26 Which Selomith and his brethren were ouer all the treasures of the dedicate things, which Dauid the king, and the ancient fathers, the captaines ouer thousandes and hundreds, and the captaines of the hoste, had dedicated.

27 Out of the spoyles wonne in battels they did dedicate to maintaine the house of the Lord.

28 And all that Samuel the Seer, and Saul the sonne of Cis, and Abner the sonne of Ner, and Joab the sonne of Saruia had dedicated: and whosoeuer had dedicated any thing, it was vnder the hand of Selomith and of his brethren.

29 Of the Izaharites was Chenania and his sonnes, appointed to the businesse without ouer Israel: for they were officers, and iudges.

30 And of the Hebronites, Hasabia and his brethren, men of actiuitie, a thousande and seuen hundred, were officers among them of Israel beyond Jordane westward, in al businesse belonging to God, and seruice of the king.

31 Among the Hebronites was Jedia the chiefest, euen a prince among the Hebronites and fathers of the kinred: and in the fourtieth yere of the kingdome of Dauid they were sought for, & there were found among them men of actiuitie at Jazer in Gilead.

32 And his brethren were men of actiuitie, euen two thousande and seuen hundred ancient fathers: whome king Dauid made rulers ouer the Rubenites, Gadites, and ouer the halfe tribe of Manasse, for euery matter pertaining to God, and for the kings businesse.

The xxviij. Chapter.

5 Becauſe Dauid was forbidden to builde the temple, he willeth Solomon and the people to performe it, 8 Exhorting him to feare the Lord.

AND Dauid gathered all the lordes of Iſrael, the lords of the tribes, the lordes of the companies that miniſtred to the king by courſe, the captaines ouer the thouſands, and ouer the hundreds, and the lords that had the ouerſight ouer all the ſubſtance and poſſeſſion of Dauid, and of his ſonnes, with the chamberlaines, and all the mightie and valiant, and all actiue men, vnto Hieruſalem.

2 And king Dauid ſtood vp vpon his feete, and ſaid, Heare me, my brethren and my people, I had in mine heart to build an houſe of reſt for the arke of the couenant of the Lorde, and for the [a] footeſtoole of our God, and had made readie for the building.

a So he called the arke, becauſe on it God ſhewed himſelfe preſent by myracles.

3 *But God ſaid vnto me, Thou ſhalt not builde an houſe for my name, becauſe thou haſt bene a man of warre, & haſt ſhed blood.

2.Sam.7.13

4 Moreouer, the Lord God of Iſrael choſe mee before all the houſe of my father, to bee king ouer Iſrael for euer: for in Juda would hee chooſe a captaine, and of the houſholde of Juda is the houſe of my father, and among the ſonnes of my father he had a luſt to me, to make me king ouer all Iſrael.

Sapi.9.7.

5 *And of all my ſonnes (for the Lord hath giuen me many ſonnes) he hath choſen Solomon my ſonne, to ſitte vpon the ſeate of the kingdome of the Lord in Iſrael.

6 And hee ſayde vnto mee, Solomon thy ſonne he ſhall build me an houſe and courts: I haue choſen him to be my ſonne, and I wil be his father.

7 I will ſtablish his kingdome for euer, if he will be ſtrong to doe my commandements and my lawes, as it goeth this day.

8 Now therefore, in the ſight of al Iſrael, the congregation of the Lorde, and in the audience of our God, keepe and ſeeke for all the commandements of the Lord your God, that yee may enioy a good land, and leaue inheritance for your children after you for euer.

9 *And thou Solomon my ſonne, knowe thou the God of thy father, and ſerue him with a pure heart, and with a willing mind: for the Lord ſearcheth all hearts, and vnderſtandeth all the imaginations of thoughts: and if thou ſeeke him, he wil be found of thee: but if thou forſake him, hee will caſt thee off for euer.

1.Sam.17.7 pſal.7.10. iere.17.1.

10 Take heede nowe, for the Lorde hath choſen thee to builde him an houſe of a ſanctuarie: be ſtrong therefore, and play the man.

11 And Dauid gaue Solomon his ſonne the paterne of the porch, and of the houſes that longed thereto, of the ſtorehouſes, vpper chambers, inner parlours, and of the houſe of the mercie ſeate:

12 And the example of all that he had in his minde, for the courtes of the houſe of the Lorde, and for all the celles round about, for the treaſures of the houſe of God, and for the treaſures of the dedicate things:

13 For the diuiſions of the Prieſtes and Leuites that waited by courſe, and for al the workemanſhippe that ſhoulde ſerue for the houſe of the Lord, and for all the veſſels that ſhould ſerue in the houſe of the Lord:

14 For gold, & for the weight of gold, for all veſſels of ſundry miniſtrations, for all maner of veſſels of ſiluer in waight, and for all veſſels whatſoeuer purpoſe they ſerued vnto:

15 The waight of golde for the candleſticks, and the golde for their lampes, with the waight for euery candleſticke, and for the lamps thereof, and for the candleſticks of ſiluer by waight, both for the candleſticke and alſo for her lampes, according to the diuerſitie of the vſe of euery candleſticke.

16 And by waight (he gaue) gold for the tables of ſhewe bread, euen for euery table, and likewiſe ſiluer for the tables of ſiluer, 17 And pure golde for the fleſhhookes, cups, and drinking pots: and pure golde in waight for baſons, euen for euery baſon: and likewiſe ſiluer by waight, for euery baſon of ſiluer.

18 And for the altar of incenſe pure golde by waight, and golde for the paterne of the charet of the Cherubims that ſtretched out their wings, and couered the arke of the couenant of the Lord.

19 All he sayde was giuen me by writing of the hand of the Lord, which made me vnderstand all the workemanshippe of the paterne.

20 And Dauid sayde to Solomon his sonne, Bee strong, and of good courage, and doe manfully: feare not, nor be faint hearted, for the Lord God, euen my God, is with thee, and hee shall not faile thee, nor forsake thee, vntill thou hast finished all the worke that must serue for the house of the Lord.

21 Beholde, the Priestes and Leuites are deuided in companies, for all maner of seruice that pertaineth to the house of God, they are with thee for all maner of workemanship, and so are all that excell in wisedome for any maner of seruice, thou hast also the princes and all the people wholy at thy commandement.

The xxix. Chapter.

2 The offring of Dauid, and of the princes, for the building of the Temple.

AND Dauid the king sayd vnto all the congregation, God hath specially chosen Solomon ‖ my sonne, which is yet yong and tender, and the worke is great: for the house shall not be for man, but for the Lord God.

‖ Others reade, my only sonne.

2 Moreouer, I haue prepared with all my might for the house of my God, golde, for vessels of golde, siluer, for them of siluer, brasse, for things of brasse, iron, for things of iron, and wood, for things of wood, and Onix stones, and stones to bee set, ‖ glystering stones, and of diuers colours, and all maner of precious stones, and marble stones in great abundance.

‖ Some read, Carbuncle stones.

3 And because I haue lust to the house of my God, I haue of mine owne proper good, of gold and siluer which I haue giuen to the house of my God, beside all that I haue prepared for the holy house,

4 Euen three thousand talents of gold of Ophir, and seuen thousande talents of tried siluer, to ouerlay the walles of the house withall.

5 The golde, for things of golde, siluer, for them of siluer, and for all maner of worke by the handes of artificers: and whosoeuer is [a] willing, may this day [b] consecrate his hand vnto the Lord.

a He was not onely liberall himselfe toward the building of Gods house, but also prouoked other.
b That is, may offer to the building of the house of the Lord.

6 And so the ancient fathers, and the lords of the tribes of Israel, the captaines of thousands, and hundreds, with the lordes that were rulers ouer the kings worke, were willing:

7 And gaue for the seruice of the house of God, fiue thousand talents of golde, and ten thousand pieces of golde, and ten thousand talents of siluer, and eighteene thousand talents of brasse, and one hundred thousand talents of iron.

8 And they with whome precious stones were found, gaue them to the treasure of the house of the Lorde, by the hand of Jehiel the Gersonite.

9 And the people reioyced when they were so willing to giue their goods, and with a perfect heart they offred willingly to the Lorde, and Dauid the king reioyced with great gladnesse.

10 And Dauid blessed the Lord before all the congregation, and sayde, Blessed be thou Lord God of Israel, our father, for euer and for euer.

11 Thine, O Lord, is greatnesse, and power, glory, victorie, and prayse: for all that is in heauen and in earth, is thine, and thine is the kingdome, O Lord, and thou excellest aboue all, euen as the head of all.

12 And riches and honour come of thee, and thou reignest ouer all, & in thine hand is power and strength, and in thine hand it is to make great, and to giue strength vnto all.

13 And nowe our God, wee thanke thee, and prayse thy glorious name.

14 But who am I, and what is my people, that wee shoulde bee able to giue these things so willingly? but all things come of thee, and of that which we receiued at thine hand, wee haue giuen thee.

15 For wee bee but strangers before thee and soiourners, as were all our fathers: our dayes one the earth also are but as a shadow, and there is none abiding. Wisd. 2.5.

16 O Lord our God, al this stuffe that we haue prepared to builde thee an house for thy holy name, commeth of thine hand, and is all thine.

17 I wote also, my God, that thou triest the hearts, and hast pleasure in vnfainednesse: and in the vnfainednesse of mine heart, I haue willingly offred all these things: and nowe haue I seene thy people which are founde here to offer vnto thee willingly, and with gladnesse.

18 O Lord God of Abraham, Isahac, and of Israel our fathers, [c] keepe this for euer in the desire of the thoughts of the heart of the people, and prepare their hearts vnto thee.

c Confirme them in this good minde, that they may serue thee wholy.

19 And giue vnto Solomon my sonne a perfect heart, to keepe thy commandements, thy testimonies, and thy statutes, and to doe all, and build the house for the which I haue made prouision.

20 And Dauid sayd to all the congregation, Nowe blesse the Lord your God. And all the congregation blessed the Lorde God of their fathers, and bowed downe their heads, and worshipped the Lord, and the king.

21 And they offred offrings vnto the Lord: and on the morow after the said day, they offered whole burnt offerings vnto the Lord, euen a thousande yong oxen, a thousande rammes, and a thousand sheepe, with their drinke offerings, many sacrifices offred they for all Israel,

22 And did eate and drinke before the Lord the same day with great gladnesse, and they made Solomon the sonne of Dauid king the second time, and anointed him prince before the Lord, and Zadoc to be the high Priest.

23 And Solomon sate on the seate of the Lorde, and was king in steade of Dauid his father, and prospered: and all they of Israel obeyed him.

24 And all the lordes, and men of power, and all the sonnes of king Dauid, submitted them selues, and were vnder king Solomon.

25 And the Lorde magnified Solomon in dignitie, in the sight of all them of Israel, and gaue him so glorious a kingdome, as no king had before him in Israel.

3.Kings 2.11. 26 *And so Dauid the sonne of Isai reigned ouer all Israel.

27 And the space that he reigned ouer Israel, was fourtie yeeres: Seuen yeeres reigned he in Hebron, and thirtie & three yeeres reigned he in Hierusalem.

28 And he died in a good age, ful of dayes, riches and honour: and Solomon his sonne reigned in his stead.

6 The offering of Solomon at Gibeon. 8 Hee prayeth vnto God to giue him wisdome, 11 which he giueth him, and more. 14 The number of his charets and horses, 15 and of his riches.

[Or, Salomon. 3.King.3.1. [Or, greatly

AND ‖ Solomon the sonne of Dauid waxed strong in his kingdome, * and the Lorde his God was with him, and magnified him ‖ in dignitie.

2 And Solomon spake vnto all Israel, to the captaines ouer thousands, to the captaines ouer hundreds, to the iudges, and to euery officer in all Israel, and to the ancient fathers.

3 And so Solomon, and all the congregation with him, went to the high place that was at Gibeon: for there was the Tabernacle of the Congregation of God, which Moses the seruant of the Lorde made in the wildernesse.

4 But the Arke of God had Dauid brought from Kiriath-iarim, into the place which Dauid had made therefore: for hee had pitched a tent for it at Hierusalem.

Exod.38.1. 5 *Moreouer, the brasen altar that Bezaleel the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur had made, was there before the tabernacle of the Lorde: and Solomon and the congregation went to visite it.

6 And Solomon went vp there before the Lorde, to the brasen altar that was before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and offered a thousand whole burnt offrings vpon it.

7 And the same night did God appeare vnto Solomon, and sayde vnto him, Aske what I shall giue thee.

8 And Solomon sayde vnto God, Thou hast shewed great mercie vnto Dauid my father, and hast made me to reigne in his stead.

9 Nowe therefore, O Lorde God, let thy promise, which thou madest vnto Dauid my father, be true: *for thou hast made me king ouer a people which is like the dust of the earth in multitude: 3.King.3.9.

10 *Giue me now wisedome and knowledge, that I may be able to [a] goe in and out before this people: for who els can iudge this people that is so great? Sap.9.7.

[a] That I may gouerne this people.

11 And God sayd to Solomon, Because this was in thine heart, and because thou hast not asked treasure, and riches, nor honour, nor the [b] liues of thine enemies, neither yet long life, but hast asked wisedome and knowledge for thy selfe, to iudge my people, ouer whome I haue made the king:

[b] That is, to be reuenged on thine enemies.

12 Wisedome and knowledge is granted vnto thee, and I will giue thee treasure, and riches, and glory: so that among the kings that haue bene before thee, or after thee, none was or shall be like thee.

13 And so Solomon came from the high place that was at Gibeon, to Hierusalem, from the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and reigned ouer Israel.

14 *And Solomon gathered charets, and horsemen: and he had a thousand and foure hundred charets, and twelue thousand horsemen, whom he bestowed in the charet cities, and with the king at Hierusalem. 3.Kings 10.28.

15 *And the king made siluer and golde at Hierusalem, as plenteous as stones, and 3.Kings 10.26.

Cedar trees made hee as plentie as the mulberie trees that growe in the valleys.

16 Also Solomon had horses brought out of Egypt, and fine linnen: the Kings marchants receiued the fine linnen for a price.

17 They came also, and brought out of Egypt a charet for sixe hundred pieces of siluer, euen an horse for an hundred and fiftie: and so brought they horses for all the kings of the Hethites, and for the kings of Syria, by their owne hand.

The ij. Chapter.

3 Solomon sendeth to Hiram the king of Tyrus for wood and workemen.

AND Solomon determined to builde an house for the name of the Lord, and an house for his kingdome.

2 And Solomon tolde out threescore and ten thousand men to beare burdens, and fourescore thousand men to hewe stones in the mountaine, and [a] three thousand and sixe hundred to ouersee them.

a It is to be vnderstand of all sortes of officers and ouerseers.

3 *And Solomon sent to Hiram the king of Tyre, saying, As thou diddest deale with Dauid my father, and diddest send him Cedar wood to build him an house to dwell in, euen so deale with me:

3.Reg.5.2.

4 Beholde, I build an house for the name of the Lorde my God, to offer vnto him holy things, and to burne sweete incense, and to set shewe bread before him continually, to offer whole burnt sacrifices of the morning, and euening, on the Sabboth dayes, in the first day of euery newe moone, and in the solemne feasts of the Lord our God: for it is an ordinance to be continually kept of Israel.

5 And the house which I builde shall be great: for great is our God, aboue all gods.

6 But who is able to build him an house: when that heauen, and heauen aboue all heauens is not able to receiue him, what am I then, that should builde him an house: nay, but euen to burne sacrifice before him shall this building be.

7 Sende me nowe therefore a cunning man that can worke in golde, and siluer, in brasse, and iron, in purple, crimson, [b] yellowe silke, & that can skill to graue with the cunning men that are with me in Iuda & Hierusalē, whom Dauid my father did prepare.

b Other read, like of a violet colour.

8 Sende me also cedar trees, pine trees, and [c] algume trees out of Libanon: for I wote that thy seruants can skill to hew timber in Libanon: and beholde, my men shalbe with thine, c Some take it for brasell.

9 That they may prepare mee timber ynough: for the house which I am determined to build, shall be wonderfull great.

10 And beholde, for the vse of thy seruants the cutters and hewers of timber, I haue giuen twentie thousand measures of beaten wheate, and twentie thousand measures of barley, & twentie thousand battes of wine, and twentie thousand battes of oyle.

11 And Hiram the king of Tyre answered in writing, which hee sent to Solomon, Because the Lorde hath loued his people, therefore hath he made thee king ouer them.

12 And Hiram said moreouer, Blessed be the Lorde God of Israel, which made heauen and earth, and that hath giuen Dauid the King a wise sonne, and one that hath discretion, prudence, & vnderstanding, to build an house for the Lorde, and a palace for his kingdome.

13 And nowe I haue sent a wise man, and a man of vnderstanding, whome my father Hiram did vse:

14 The sonne of a woman of the [d] daughters of Dan, and his father was a man of Tyre, and he can skill to worke in golde, and siluer, in brasse, and iron, in stone, and timber, in purple, and yealowe silke, and fine white, and crimson, and can graue sundry maner of grauings, and to finde out diuers maners of subtile worke that shall be set before him, with thy cunning men, & with the cunning men of my lorde Dauid thy father.

d It is also written that she was of the tribe of Nephthali. 3.Reg. 7. which may be vnderstanded, that by reason of the confusion of tribes which then began to be, she married in the tribe of Dan, & by her mother of Nephthali.

15 Nowe therefore, the wheate, and barley, oyle, and wine, which my lorde hath spoken of, let him sende vnto his seruants:

16 And we will cut wood in Libanon, as much as thou shalt neede, and will bring it to thee in flotes by sea to Japho, from whence thou mayest cary them to Hierusalem.

17 And Solomon numbred all the strangers that were in the land of Israel, after the number of them whome his father Dauid had numbred: and they were found an hundred, fiftie, and three thousand, and sixe hundred.

18 And hee set threescore and tenne thousand to beare burdens, and fourescore thousand to hewe stones in the mountaine, and three thousand and sixe hundred officers to set the people a worke.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The Temple of the Lorde, and the porch are builded, with other things thereto belonging.

AND Solomon began to builde the house of the Lorde at Hierusalem in mount [a] Moria, where the Lorde appeared vnto Dauid his father, euen in the place that Dauid prepared in the threshing flooze of ‖ Ornan the Iebusite.

a Which is the mountaine where Abraham thought to haue sacrificed his sonne, Gene. 22.

‖ Or, Areuna.

2 And he began to build in the second day of the second moneth, the fourth yeere of his reigne.

3 And these are the paternes whereby Solomon was instruct to builde the house of God: the length was threescore cubites, after the old measure, and the breadth twentie cubites.

4 And the porche that was before the length in the front, according to the breadth of the house, was twentie cubites, and the height was an hundred and twentie cubits: and and hee ouerlaide it on the inner side with pure golde.

5 And the greater house he sieled with firre tree, which he ouerlayed with the best golde, and graued thereto paulme trees, and chaines.

6 And hee ouerlaide the house with precious stone beautifully: and the golde was golde of Paruaim.

7 The house I say, the beames, postes, walles, and doores thereof, ouerlaid he with gold, and graued Cherubims on the walles.

8 And he made the house most holy: whose length was twentie cubites, like to the breadth of the house, and the breadth thereof was also twentie cubites: and he ouerlaid it with good golde, euen with fiue hundred talents.

9 And the waight of the nailes of golde was fiftie sicles: and he ouerlaide the vpper chambers with golde.

10 And in the house most holy, he made two Cherubims of image worke, like children, and ouerlaid them with golde.

11 And the winges of the Cherubims were twentie cubites long: the one wing was fiue cubites, reaching to the wall of the house: and the other wing was likewise fiue cubites, reaching to the wing of the other Cherub.

12 And euen so the one wing of the other Cherub was fiue cubites, reaching to the wall of the house: and the other wing was fiue cubites also, and reached to the wing of the other Cherub.

13 So that the wings of the sayd Cherubims were stretched out twentie cubites: and they stoode on their feete, and looked inwardes.

Mat.27.51 14 *And he made a forehanging of ‖ yealow silke, purple, crimson, and fine white, and caused the pictures of Cherubims to be brodered thereon.

Iere.52.21. 15 And hee made before the house *two pillars of thirtie and fiue cubites high, and the head that was aboue on the toppe of euery one of them, was fiue cubites.

16 And hee made chaines of wreathen worke for the quier, & put them on the heads of the pillars, and made an hundred pomegranates, and put them on the chaines.

17 And he reared vp the pillars before the temple, one on the right hand, and the other on the left: and called the right Jachin, and the left Boaz.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 The altar of brasse. 2 The lauatorie. 6 The caldron. 7 The candlestickes, &c.

3.Reg.7.23 AND he made an *altar of brasse, twentie cubites long, and twentie cubites broade, and ten cubites high.

2 And he cast a brasen lauatorie of ten cubites from brimme to brimme, rounde in compasse, and fiue cubites high, and a line of thirtie cubites did compasse it rounde about.

3 And vnder it was the fashion of oxen, which did compasse it rounde about: with ten cubites did they compasse the lauatorie round about, and there were two rowes of oxen, which were cast like molten worke.

4 And it stoode also vpon twelue oxen: three looked towarde the North, three towarde the West, three towarde the South, and three toward the East, and the lauatorie was set vpon them: and all their backes were towrad the lauatorie.

5 And the thickenesse of it, was an hand breadth, and the brimme like the brimme of a cup, with flowers of lilies, and it receiued and helde three thousande battes.

6 And he made ten lauers, and put fiue on the right hand, and fiue on the left, to wash and cleanse in them such things as they offered for a whole burnt offering: but the great lauatorie was for the Priestes to wash in.

7 And he made ten candlesticks of gold, according to the paterne that was giuen of them, & put them in the temple, fiue on the right hand, and fiue on the left.

8 And he made also ten tables, and put them in the temple, fiue on the right side, and fiue on the left: and hee made an hundred basons of golde.

9 And he made the court of the priestes, and the great court, and doores to it, and ouerlaide the doores of them with brasse.

10 And he set the great lauatorie on the right side of the East ende, ouer against the South.

11 And Hiram made pottes, shouels, and basons, and finished the worke that hee was appointed to make for king Solomon in the house of God.

12 The two pillars, and the bowles, and the pommels on the toppe of the two pillars, and the two wreathes to couer the two bowles of the pommels, which were on the toppe of the pillars, 13 And foure hundred pomegranates on the two wreathes: two rowes of pomegranates on one wreath, to couer the two bowles of the pommels.

14 And he made two bottomes, and lauers made he vpon the bottomes.

15 The great lauatorie, and twelue oxen vnder it.

16 Pottes also, shouels, and flesh hookes: and all these vessels did [a] Hiram his father make to king Solomon for the house of the Lord, of bright brasse.

[a] Hiram is called Solomons father, because Solomon reuerenced him, and fauoured him as his father.

17 In the plaine of Jordane did the king cast them, euen in the clay grounde that is betweene Socoth and Saredatha.

18 And Solomon made all these vessels in great abundance: for the waight of brasse could not be reckoned.

[b] In Hebrew, the bread of the faces, because they were set before the arke, where God shewed his face.

19 And Solomon made all the vessels that were for the house of God, the golden altar also, and the tables to set the [b] shewe bread vpon.

20 Moreouer, the candlesticks, with their lampes to burne, after the maner before the quier, and that of precious golde.

21 And the flowers, and the lampes, and the snuffers, made he of golde, and that perfect gold.

‖Some read, hooks: and others, instruments of musike.

22 And the ‖ dressing knives, *basons, spoones, and censers, of pure golde: and the doore of the temple, and the inner doores within the place most holy, and the inner doores of the temple were gilted.

The v. Chapter.

The things dedicated by Dauid, are put in the temple

3.Kin.7.51

AND so all the worke that Solomon made in the house of the Lord was finished: * and Solomon brought in all the things that Dauid his father had dedicated, with the siluer and golde, and al the iewels, and put them among the treasures of the house of God.

2 Then Solomon gathered the elders of Israel together, and all the heades of the tribes and ancient fathers of the children of Israel, vnto Hierusalem, to bring the Arke of the couenant of the Lord out of the citie of Dauid, which is in Sion.

3 Wherefore, all the men of Israel resorted vnto the king, in the feast, euen in the a September. a seuenth moneth.

4 And all the elders of Israel came, and the Leuites tooke vp the arke.

5 And the Priestes and the Leuites brought away the Arke of the Tabernacle of the congregation, and all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle, and they bare them.

6 And king Solomon, and all the congregation of Israel, that were assembled vnto him before the arke, offered sheepe and oxen, so many, that they could not be tolde, nor numbred, for multitude.

7 And the Priestes brought the arke of the couenant of the Lorde vnto his place, euen into the quier of the temple, within the place most holy, and set it vnder the wings of the Cherubims,

8 So that the Cherubims stretched out their wings ouer the place of the arke, and the Cherubims couered both the arke and her barres aboue on high.

9 And the barres of the arke were so long,

‖Or, endes. that the ‖ heades of the barres were seene without the arke, within the quyer, but not without: and there the arke remained vnto this day.

10 But there was nothing in the arke, saue the two Tables which Moses put therein at Horeb, when the Lord made a couenant with the children of Israel, after they were come out of Egypt.

11 And when the Priests were come out of the holy place (for all the Priestes that were present, were sanctified, and did not then wayte by course:

12 That both the Leuites and the singers, vnder Asaph, Heman, and Idithun, were appointed to sundry offices, with their children and brethren, and were arayed in fine white, hauing Cymbales, Psalteries, and Harpes, and stoode at the East ende of the altar, and by them an hundred and twentie priests blowing with trumpets:

13 And the trumpet blowers and the singers so agreed, that it seemed but one voyce in praising & thanking the Lord, and when they lift vp their voyce with the trumpets, Cymbales, and other instruments of musicke, and when they praised the Lorde, how that he is good, and that his mercie lasteth euer:) the house of God was filled with a cloude, 14 So that the Priests could not endure to minister by the reason of the cloude: for the Maiestie of the Lord had filled the house of God.

The vi. Chapter.

3 Solomon blesseth the people. 4 Hee praiseth the Lorde. 14 He praieth vnto God for those that shall pray in the Temple.

THen Solomō said, * The Lord hath spoken, how that he will dwell in the darke cloude. 3.Kin.8.12.

2 And I haue built thee an house of habitation for thee, and a place for thy dwelling for euer.

3 And the king turned his face, and blessed the whole congregation of Israel (and all the congregation of Israel stoode.)

4 And he sayde, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, which hath with his ‖ handes fulfilled it that he spake with his mouth to my father Dauid, saying, ‖Or, power.

5 Since the day that I brought my people out of the land of Egypt, I chose no citie among all the tribes of Israel to builde an ‖ house in, that my name might be there, neither chose I any man to be a ruler ouer my people Israel: ‖Or, temple.

6 Sauing that I haue chosen Hierusalem, that my name might be there, and haue chosen Dauid to be ouer my people Israel.

7 And when it was in the heart of Dauid my father, to build an house for the name of the Lord God of Israel,

8 The Lord said to Dauid my father, For as much as it was in thine heart to builde an house for my name, thou diddest wel that thou thoughtest in thine heart.

9 Notwithstanding, thou shalt not build the house: but thy sonne, which shal come out of thy loynes, he shall builde an house for my name.

10 The Lorde therefore hath made good his saying that he hath spoken: and I am risen vp in the roume of Dauid my father, and am set on the seate of Israel, as the Lord promised, & haue built an house for the name of the Lord God of Israel.

11 And in it haue I put the arke, where-a Meaning, the two tables. in is the a couenant of the Lord that he made with the children of Israel.

12 And the king stood before the altar of the Lord, in the presence of all the congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands:

13 (For Solomon had made a brasen scaffold of fiue cubites long, & fiue cubites broad, and three of height, and had set it in the mids of the great court, and vpon it he stoode, and kneeled downe vpon his knees, before all the congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands toward heauen,)

2.Mac.2.10 14 And said, *O Lord God of Israel, there is no God like thee in heauen, nor in earth, which keepest couenant, and shewest mercie vnto thy seruants that walk before thee with all their hearts.

15 Thou which hast kept with thy seruant Dauid my father, the things that thou promisedst him: thou saydest it with thy mouth, & hast fulfilled it with thine handes, as it is to see this day.

16 And now Lorde God of Israel, keepe with thy seruant Dauid my father, ỹ things that thou promisedst him, saying, Thou shalt in my sight not be without a man that shall sit vpon the seate of Israel, so that thy children take heede to their wayes, to walke in my law, as thou hast walked before me.

17 And now Lord God of Israel, let thy saying be true, which thou spakest vnto thy seruant Dauid.

18 (And will God in very deed dwel with men on earth? Behold, heauen, and heauen aboue all heauens, doe not containe thee, howe much lesse the house which I haue builded?)

19 Let it be thy pleasure therfore to turne to the prayer of thy seruant, and to his supplication, O Lord my God, to hearken vnto the voyce and prayer which thy seruant prayeth before thee.

20 And let thine eies be open toward this house day and night, ouer this place whereof thou hast sayd, that thou wouldest put thy name there, to hearken vnto ỹ prayer which thy seruant praieth in this place.

21 Hearken vnto the prayers of thy seruant, & of thy people Israel, which they pray in this place: heare thou, I say, out of thy dwelling place, euen out of heauen, heare, and be mercifull.

b By withholding any thing from him, or els by keeping that which is left him to keepe, or doing him any wrong. 22 If a man sinne b against his neighbor, and take an othe against him, and make him to sweare, and the othe come before thine altar in this house:

23 Then heare thou from heauen, and doe and iudge thy seruaunts, that thou reward the vngodly, and recompence him his way vpon his head, & iustifie the righteous, and giue him according to his righteousnesse.

24 And if thy people Israel bee put to the worse before the enemie, because they haue sinned against thee: yet if they turn and giue thanks vnto thy name, and make intercession, and pray before thee in this house:

25 Then heare thou from heauen, and be mercifull vnto the sinne of thy people Israel, and bring them againe vnto the land which thou gauest to them and to their fathers.

26 When heauen is shut vp, and there bee no rayne, because they haue sinned against thee: yet if they pray in this place, & confesse thy name, and repent from their sinne, for the which thou chastenest them:

27 Then heare thou in heauen, and bee merciful vnto the sinne of thy seruants, and of thy people Israel, & guide thou them into the good way to walke in, and send raine vpon thy land which thou hast giuen vnto thy people for an inheritance.

28 And if * there be dearth in the land, or Chap.20.9.
pestilence, corruption, or blasting of corne, Grashoppers, or Caterpillers, or that their enemies beseige them in the ‖ cities of their land, or whatsoeuer plague or sickenesse it be:

‖ Or, in the land of their gates.

29 Then what supplications and prayers soeuer shall bee made of any man, and of all thy people Israel, when euerie one shall know his owne sore, and his owne griefe, and shal stretch out their hands toward this house:

30 Thou shalt heare from heauen, euen from thy dwelling place, & shalt be mercifull, and giue euery man according vnto all his wayes, as thou doest knowe euery mans heart: (for thou c onely knowest the hearts of the children of men,)

c God onely knoweth the heart of man.

31 That they may feare thee, and walke in thy wayes as long as they liue in the land which thou gauest vnto our fathers.

32 Moreouer, the stranger which is not of thy people Israel, if he come from a farre land for thy great names sake, & thy mightie hand, & thy stretched out arme: if they come, I say, and pray in d this house, d He sheweth that before God there is no difference of persons. But all people that feareth him and worketh righteousnesse, is accepted, Act.10.

33 Thou shalt heare from heauen, euen from thy dwelling place, and shalt doe according to all that the stranger calleth to thee for: that all people of the earth may knowe thy name, and feare thee, as doeth thy people Israel, and that they may know how that in this house which I haue built, thy name is called vpon.

34 If thy people goe out to warre against their enemies by the way that thou shalt send them, and they pray to thee in the way toward this citie which thou hast chosen, euen toward the house which I haue built for thy Name:

35 Then heare thou from heauen their supplication and praier, & helpe them in their right.

36 If they sinne against thee (as there is *no man but he doeth sinne) and thou be angrie with them, and deliuer them ouer before their enemies, and they take them, and cary them away captiues vnto a land farre or neere:

37 Yet if they repent in their heart, in the land where they be in captiuitie, and turne and pray vnto thee in the land of their captiuitie, saying, Wee haue sinned, we haue done euill and wickedly:

38 And turne again to thee with all their heart, and all their soule, in the land of their captiuitie where they keep them in bondage, and so pray toward their land which thou gauest vnto their fathers, euen toward the citie which thou hast chosen, and toward the house which I haue built for thy name:

39 Then heare thou from heauen, euen from thy dwelling place, their supplication and their prayer, and iudge their cause, and be mercifull vnto thy people which haue sinned against thee.

Psal.131.8. 40 Now, my God, let thine eies be open, and thine eares attent vnto the prayer that is made in this place.

d That is, into the temple.

41 *Now vp, O Lorde God, into thy d resting place, thou, and the arke of thy strength: O Lord God, let the Priests bee clothed with health, and let thy saintes reioyce in goodnesse.

42 O Lord God turne not away the face of thine e anoynted: remember the mercies which thou hast promised to Dauid thy seruant.

e Heare my prayer, which am thine anointed king.

The vii. Chapter.

1 The fire consumeth the sacrifice. 2 The glory of the Lord filleth the Temple.

2.Mac.2.10 AND when *Solomon had made an end of praying, there came downe fire from heauen, and consumed the whole burnt offring, and the sacrifices, and the house was filled with the glory of the Lord.

2 And the Priestes could not goe into the house of the Lorde, because the glory of the Lord had filled the Lords house.

3 And when all the children of Israel saw how the fire and the glory of the Lord came downe vpon the house, they fell downe flat vpon their faces to the earth vpon the pauement, and worshipped, and confessed vnto the Lord, That he is gracious, and that his mercie lasteth euer.

4 And the king, and all the people, offered sacrifices before the Lord.

3.Re.8.63. 5 *And king Solomon offered a sacrifice of twentie and two thousand oxen, and an hundred and twentie thousand sheepe: and so the king and all the people, dedicated the house of God.

6 And the priests waited on their offices, and the Leuites had the instruments of musicke of the Lorde, which king Dauid had made to confesse vnto ỹ Lord, That his mercie lasteth euer, Dauid praysing God by thē, and the Priests blew with trumpets before them, and all they of Israel stood.

7 Moreouer, Solomon halowed the middle of the court that was before the house of the Lord: for there hee offered whole burnt offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings, because the brasen altar which Solomon had made, was not able to receiue the whole burnt offerings, and the meate offrings, and the fat.

8 So at the same time Solomon kept a a feast of seuen dayes, & all Israel with him, an exceeding great congregation, euen from the entring in of Hamath, vnto the riuer of Egypt.

a That was the feast of tabernacles.

9 And in the eight day they made an assembly: for they kept the dedication of the altar seuen dayes, and the feast seuen dayes.

10 And the three and twentie day of the seuenth moneth, he let the people depart into their tentes, glad and mery in heart, for the goodnes that the Lord had shewed to Dauid, and to Solomon, and to Israel his people.

11 *And so Solomon finished the house of the Lord, and the kings house: and all that came in his heart to make in the house of the Lord, and in his owne house, went prosperously forward. 3.Reg.9.1.

12 And the Lorde appeared to Solomon by night, and sayd to him, I haue heard thy petition, *and haue chosen this place for my selfe, to be an house of sacrifice. Deut.12.5.

13 If I shut vp heauen, that there bee no raine, or if I commaund the Locustes to deuour the land, or if I send pestilence among my people:

14 And if my people, among whom my name is called vpon, do humble themselues, and make intercession, & seeke my presence, and turne from their wicked wayes: then wil I heare from heauen, and be mercifull to their sinne, and will b heale their land.

b I will end the pestilence to cease, and destroy the beasts that hurt the fruit of the earth, and send raine in due time.

15 And from henceforth mine eies shal be open, and mine eares attent vnto the prayer that is made in this place.

16 And therefore, now I haue chosen and sanctified this house, that my name may bee there for euer: and mine eies and mine heart shall be there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before mee, as Dauid thy father walked, to doe all that I haue commanded thee, and shalt obserue my statutes and my lawes:

18 Then will I stablish the seate of thy kingdom, according as I made the couenant with Dauid thy father, saying, Thou shalt not be without a man to be ruler in Israel.

19 But if ye turne away, and forsake my statutes and my commandements which I haue set before you, and shal goe, and serue other gods, and worship them:

20 Then will I plucke them vp by the rootes, out of my land which I haue giuen them, and this house which I haue sanctified for my name, will I cast out of my sight, and will make it to be a prouerbe and a iest among all nations.

21 And this house, which is most high, shall bee an astonishment to euery one that passeth by, and shall say, Why hath the Lord dealt on this fashion with this land, and with this house?

22 And

22 And they shall answere, Because they forsooke the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, and caught hold on other gods, and worshipped them, and serued them, therefore hath hee brought all this euill vpon them.

The viii. Chapter.

1 The cities that Solomon built. 12 His sacrifices which he offered.

AND * after a twentie yeeres, when Solomon had built the house of the Lord, & his owne house:

3.Kin.9.10 a Signifying that he was twentie yeres in building them.

2 Hee built the cities that Hiram gaue him, and caused the children of Israel to dwell there.

3 And Solomon went to Hamath Zoba, b and strengthened it.

b Other read, he ouercame it.

4 And hee built Thadmor in the wildernesse, and repayred all the store cities which were in Hamath.

5 And he built Bethhoron the vpper, and Bethhoron ẏ neather, strong cities, hauing wals, gates, and barres:

6 And Baalah, and all the store cities that Solomon had, and all the charet cities, and the cities of the horsmen, and euery pleasant place that Solomon had lust to build in Hierusalem, and Libanon, and throughout all the land of his dominion.

7 And all the people that were left of the Hethites, Amorites, Pherezites, Heuites, and Iebusites, which were not of the children of Israel,

8 But were the children of them which were left after them in the land, and were not consumed of the children of Israel, them did Solomon make to pay tribute, vntil this day.

9 But of the children of Israel, did Solomon make no seruantes for his worke: but they were men of warre, and rulers, & great lords with him, and captaines ouer his charets and horsemen.

3.Re.9.23. 10 * And king Solomons officers that ouersaw and ruled the people, were two hundred and fiftie.

11 And Solomon brought the daughter of Pharao out of the citie of Dauid, into the house that he had builded for her: for he said, My wife shall not dwell in the house of Dauid king of Israel, for it is holy, because that the Arke of the Lord is come vnto it.

12 Then Solomon offered whole burnt offerings vnto the Lorde, on the altar of the Lord, which he had built before the porch:

13 Doing euery thing in his due time, and offering according to the commaundement of Moses, in the Sabboths, newe Moones, and solemne feastes, three times in the yeere, that is to say, in the feast of sweete bread, in the feast of weekes, and in the feast of tabernacles.

14 And Solomon set the sorts of Priestes to their offices, as Dauid his father had ordered them, and the Leuites in their watches, for to praise and minister before the Priests day by day, and the porters by course at euery gate: for so had Dauid the man of God commanded.

15 And they omitted not the commandement of the king vnto the Priestes and Leuites, concerning any maner of thing, and concerning the treasures.

16 For Solomon made prouision for the charges from the first day that the foundation of the house of the Lorde was laied, till it was finished, that the house of the Lord was perfect.

17 Then went king Solomon to Ezion Gaber, & to Eloth at the sea side in the land of Edom.

18 And Hiram sent him by the handes of his seruants, ships, and seruaunts that had knowledge of the sea: and they went with the seruants of Solomon to Ophir, and caried thence foure hundred and fiftie talents of gold, and brought it to king Solomon.

The ix. Chapter.

1 9 The Queene of Saba commeth to see Solomon, and bringeth gifts.

AND * when the Queene of Saba heard of the fame of Solomon, she came to proone him in hard questions at Hierusalem, with a very great companie, with Camels that bare spices, and plentie of gold, and precious stones: and when she was come to Solomon, she communed with him of all that she had in her heart. 3.Re.10.1. mat.12.42 luke 11.31

2 And Solomon soiled her all her questions, and there was not one worde hid from Solomon, which he told her not.

3 And when the Queene of Saba had seene the wisedome of Solomon, & the house that he had built,

4 And the meate of his table, the sitting of his seruants, and the standing of his waiters, their apparell, his butlers, their apparell, ‖ his going vp by the which he went into the house of the Lord: there was no more spirit in her.

‖ Or, his whole burnt sacrifices which he offred in the house of the Lord.

5 And shee sayde to the king, The saying which I heard in mine owne land of thine ‖ acts, and of thy wisedome, is true.

‖ Or, sayings

6 I beleeued not the wordes of them, vntill I came, and mine eyes had seene it: and beholde, the one halfe of thy wisedome was not told me: for thou exceedest the fame that I heard.

7 Happy are thy men, and happy are these thy seruants which stand before thee alway, and heare thy wisedome.

8 Blessed be the Lord thy God, which had lust to thee, to set thee king on his seate, that thou mightest be king for the Lord thy God: because thy God loueth Israel, to make them continue euer, therefore made he thee king ouer them, to do right and equitie.

9 And she gaue the king an hundred and twentie twentie talents of gold, & of spices exceeding great abundance, and precious stones: neither was there any more such spice as the Queene of Saba gaue king Solomon.

10 And the seruaunts of Hiram, and the seruants of Solomon, which brought gold from Ophir, brought also Algume wood, and precious stones.

11 And the king made of ỹ Algume wood staires in the house of the Lord, and in the kings palace, and harpes, and psalteries for singers: and there was none such wood seene before in the land of Juda.

12 And king Solomon gaue to ỹ Queene of Saba euery pleasant thing that she asked, a besides that which shee had brought vnto the king: and so she turned, and went away to her owne land with her seruants.

a Besides that, that is to say, the recompence of that which she had brought vnto the king.

13 The waight of gold that came to Solomon in one yeere, was sixe hundred, three score and sixe talents of gold.

14 Besides that which chapmen and marchants brought: and all the kings of Arabia, and rulers of that country, brought gold and siluer to Solomon.

15 And king Solomon made two hundred targets of beaten gold: and sixe hundred sicles of beaten gold were spent vpon one target.

16 And three hundred shieldes made hee of beaten golde: and three hundred pieces of golde went to one shield: and the king put them in the house that was in the forrest of Libanon.

17 And the king made a great seat of Iuorie, and ouerlaid it with pure gold.

18 And there was sixe steppes to the seat, with a footstoole of gold fastened to the seate: and pommels on eache side of the sitting place, and two Lions standing by the pommels.

19 And twelue Lions stoode on the one side and on the other vpon the sixe steppes: so that there was no such worke made in any kingdom.

20 And all the drinking vessels of king Solomon were of golde, and all the vessels of the house that was in the forrest of Libanon were of precious golde: for siluer was counted nothing woorth in the dayes of Solomon.

21 For the kings ships went to Tharsis with the seruaunts of Hiram, euery three yeeres once came the ships to Tharsis, and brought gold, siluer, Iuorie, and Apes, and Peacocks.

22 And king Solomon passed all ỹ kings of the earth in riches and wisedome.

23 And all the kings of the earth sought the presence of Solomon, to heare his wisedom that God had put in his heart.

24 And they brought euery man his present, vessels of siluer, and vessels of gold, raiment, harnesse, spices, horses & Mules, yeere by yeere.

25 *And Solomon had ‖ foure thousand stables for horses and charets, and twelue thousand horsemen: whom he bestowed in the charet cities, and some were with the king at Hierusalem.

‖Or, foure thousand horses in stalles.

26 And he raigned ouer all the kings that were from Euphrates vnto the land of the Philistines, and to the border of Egypt.

27 And the king made siluer in Hierusalem as plenteous as [b] stones, and cedar trees as plenteous as the Mulberie trees that grow in the valleys.

b The abundance of the temporal treasures in Salomons kingdome is a figure of the spirituall treasures, which the elect shall enioy in Iesus Christ. 1.King.11.41.

28 And they brought vnto Solomon horses out of Egypt, and out of all lands.

29 The rest of the acts of king Solomon first and last, are they not written in the sayings of Nathan the Prophet, and in the prophecie of Ahiah the Silonite, and in the visions of Iddo the Seer of visions, against Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat?

30 And Solomon raigned in Hierusalem vpon all Israel fourtie yeeres.

31 And Solomon slept with his fathers: and they buried him in the citie of Dauid his father, and Roboam his sonne reigned in his stead.

The x. Chapter.

4 The rigour of Roboam. 13 He followeth lewd counsell. 16 The people rebell.

AND *Roboam went to Sichem: for to Sichem were all Israel come together to make him king. 3.Reg.12.1

2 And when Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat (which was fled into Egypt from the presence of Solomon ỹ king) heard it, he returned out of Egypt.

3 And they sent and called him: And so Jeroboam and all they of Israel came, and communed with Roboam, saying,

4 Thy father layd a grieuous yoke vpon vs: now therefore remit thou somewhat of the grieuous seruice of thy father, and of his heauy yoke that he put vpon vs, and we will serue thee.

5 And he sayd to them, Come againe vnto mee after three dayes. And the people departed.

6 And king Roboam counselled with the Elders that had stand before Solomon his father, while he yet liued, and he sayd, what counsell giue ye me to answere this people againe?

7 And they told him, saying, If thou bee kind to this people, and shew thy selfe lowly to them, and speake louing wordes to them, they will be thy seruants for euer.

8 But hee left the counsell which the Elders gaue him, and tooke counsell with the yong men that were growen vp with him, and [a] that stood in his presence.

a Which were of his counsell and secrets.

9 And hee said vnto them, What aduice giue yee, that wee may answere this people, which haue communed with me, saying, Abate somewhat of the yoke which thy father did put vpon vs?

10 And the yong men that were growen vp vp with him, spake vnto him, saying. Thus shalt thou answere the people that spake vnto thee, saying. Thy father made our yoke heauie, but make thou it somewhat lighter for vs: thus shalt thou say vnto them, My little finger shall be thicker then my fathers loynes.

11 For where my father put a heauy yoke vpon you, I will put more to your yoke: my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with ‖ scourges.

12 And so Ieroboam and all the people came to Roboam the third day, as the king bade, saying, Come againe to mee the third day.

13 And the king answered them cruelly, and king Roboam left the counsell of the aged men, 14 And answered them after the aduise of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke grieuous, and I will adde thereto: my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scourges.

3.Reg.12. 31. 15 * And so the king hearkened not vnto the people: but the occasion came of God, that the Lorde might make good his saying, which he spake by the hand of Ahia the Silonite, to Ieroboam the sonne of Nabat.

16 And when all Israel saw that the king would not agree vnto them, the people answered the king, saying, What portion haue we in Dauid? For wee haue no inheritance in the sonnes of Isai: Euery man to his tent, O Israel, and now Dauid see to thine owne house. And so all Israel gate them to their tents.

17 So that Roboam reigned ouer no moe of the children of Israel then dwelt in the cities of Juda.

18 Then king Roboam also sent Haduram that was ruler ouer the tribute, & the children of Israel stoned him with stones, that he died: but king Roboam made speede to get him vp to his charet, to flee to Hierusalem.

19 And Israel rebelled against the house of Dauid vnto this day.

The xj. Chapter.

4 Roboam is forbidden to fight against Ieroboam.

AND when Roboam was come to Hierusalem, he gathered of the house of Juda and Beniamin, nine score thousand chosen men of warre, to fight against Israel, and to bring the kingdome againe to Roboam.

3.Reg.12. 22. 2 *And the word of the Lord came to Semeia the man of God, saying,

3 Speake vnto Roboam the sonne of Solomon king of Juda, and to all them of Israel that are in Juda and Beniamin, and say,

4 Thus sayth the Lorde, Ye shall not goe vp, nor fight against your brethren: returne euery man to his house, for this thing is done of mee. And they obeyed the wordes of the Lorde, and returned from going against Ieroboam.

5 And Roboam dwelt in Hierusalem, and built strong cities in Juda.

6 Hee built vp Bethlehem, and Etam, and Thecoa,

7 Bethzur, Socho, and Adullam,

8 Gath, and Maresa, and Ziph,

9 Adurahim, Lachis, and Azecah,

10 Zoraa, Aialon, and Hebron, which is in Juda and Beniamin, strong cities.

11 And he repayred the strong holdes, and put captaines in them, and store of victuall, and wine, and oyle:

12 And in all cities hee put shieldes and speares, and made them exceeding strong, hauing Juda and Beniamin on his side.

13 And the Priests and the Leuites that were in all Israel, resorted to him out of all their coastes.

14 For the Leuites left their suburbs, and their possession, and came to Juda and Hierusalem: for Ieroboam and his sonnes had cast them out from ministring vnto the Lorde.

15 And hee ordeined him Priestes for the high places, for the [a] deuils, & for the calues which he had made.

a Meaning idols, reade Esai.34.

16 And after the Leuites, there went out of the tribes of Israel, such as submitted their hearts to seeke the Lord God of Israel, and came to Hierusalem, to offer vnto the Lord God of their fathers.

17 And so they strengthened the kingdome of Juda, and made Roboam the sonne of Solomon mightie three yeeres long: for three [b] yeeres they walked in the way of Dauid and Solomon.

b So long as they feared God, and set forth his worde, they prospered.

18 And Roboam tooke him Mahalath the daughter of Jerimoth the sonne of Dauid to wife, and Abihael the daughter of Eliab the sonne of Isai:

19 which bare him children, Jeus, Samaria, and Zaham.

20 And after her hee tooke * Maacha the daughter of Absalom, which bare him Abia, Atthai, Ziza, and Selomith. Iudg.19.1.

21 And Roboam loued Maacha the daughter of Absalom aboue all his wiues and concubines: for he tooke eighteen wiues and threescore concubines, & begate twentie and eight sonnes, and threescore daughters.

22 And Roboam made Abia, the sonne of Maacha, the chiefe ruler among his brethren: for he thought to make him king.

23 [c] And he played wisely, and scattred all his children throughout all the countries of Juda and Beniamin vnto euery strong citie: and he gaue them abundance of victuall, and obteined many wiues.

c Others reade, and hee taught him.

The xij. Chapter.

1 Roboam forsaketh the Lorde, and is punished by Sesac.

AND when Roboam had ſtabliſhed the kingdome, and became mightie, he forſooke the lawe of the Lord, and all Iſrael with him, a As the prince is, ſo for the moſt part the people will be.

2 And in the fifth yeere of king Roboam, Seſac king of Egypt came vp againſt Ieruſalem (becauſe they had tranſgreſſed againſt the Lorde)

3 With twelue hundred charets, and threeſcore thouſand horſemen: and the people were without number that came with him out of Egypt: Lubim, [b] Sukim, and the Ethiopians.

b Which were a people in Africa called the Troglodites, becauſe they dwelt in holes.

4 And he tooke the ſtrong cities in Juda, and came to Hieruſalem.

5 Then came Semeia the Prophet to Roboam, and to the lords of Juda that were gathered together within Hieruſalem for Seſac, and ſayd vnto them, Thus ſayth the Lord, Ye haue left me, and therefore haue I alſo [c] left you in the hands of Seſac.

c God neuer leaueth vs vntill we haue caſt him away.

6 Whereupon the lords of Iſrael and the king humbled themſelues, and ſayde, The Lorde is righteous.

7 And when the Lord ſaw that they ſubmitted themſelues, the worde of the Lorde came to Semeia, ſaying, They ſubmit themſelues, therefore I wil not deſtroy them, but I will deliuer them ſomewhat, & my wrath ſhall not be powred out vpon Hieruſalem by the hand of Seſac.

8 Neuertheleſſe, they ſhalbe his ſeruants: to knowe what difference is betweene [d] my ſeruice, and the ſeruice of the kingdomes of the world.

d God puniſheth his, not to deſtroy thē, but to reforme them, 1. Kings 10.

9 And ſo Seſac king of Egypt came to Hieruſalem, and tooke away the treaſures of the houſe of the Lorde, and the treaſures of the Kings houſe, he tooke all: and he caried away the ſhieldes of golde which Solomon made.

10 In ſteade of which, king Roboam made ſhields of braſſe, and committed them to the hands of the chiefe of the garde, & that kept the entrance of the Kings houſe.

11 And when the King entred into the houſe of the Lord, the gard came & fet them, and brought them againe vnto the garde chamber.

12 And when hee humbled himſelfe, the wrath of the Lord turned from him, that he would not deſtroy altogether: and in Juda all was well.

3. Reg. 14. 21.

13 *And ſo king Roboam wared mighty, and reigned in Hieruſalem: and Roboam was one and fourtie yeeres olde when he began to reigne, & he reigned ſeuenteene yeres in Hieruſalem, the citie which the Lord had choſen out of all the tribes of Iſrael to put his Name there: and his mothers name was Naama, an Ammoniteſſe.

14 And he did euill, becauſe hee prepared not his heart to ſeeke the Lord.

15 The acts alſo of Roboam firſt and laſt, are they not written in the ſayings of Semeia the Prophet, and of Iddo the Seer, which noted the genealogie? and there was warre alway betweene Roboam and Jeroboam.

16 And Roboam ſlept with his fathers, and was buried in the citie of Dauid, and Abia his ſonne reigned in his ſteade.

The xiij. Chapter.

1 Abia maketh warre againſt Ieroboam. 4 He ſheweth the occaſion. 12 He truſteth in the Lorde, and ouercommeth Ieroboam.

IN the eighteenth yeere of king Jeroboam, beganne Abia to reigne ouer Juda.

2 And hee reigned three yeeres in Hieruſalem: (his mothers name alſo was Michaia, the daughter of Uriel of Gibea:) and there was warre betweene Abia and Jeroboam.

a Called alſo Abiam.

3 *And Abia ſet the battell in aray, with the armie of valiant men of warre, euen foure hundred thouſand choſen men: and Jeroboam ſet himſelfe in aray to fight againſt him, with eight hundred thouſande picke men, which were ſtrong, and men of armes.

3. Reg. 14. 7

4 And Abia ſtood vp vpon Zemaraim, an hill which is in mount Ephraim, and ſayde, Heare me thou Jeroboam and all Iſrael.

5 Doe not you know howe that the Lord God of Iſrael gaue the kingdome ouer them of Iſrael to Dauid for euer, euen to him, and to his ſonnes, with a [b] ſalted couenant?

b Which is true and perpetual, becauſe that ſalting, (which is taken a ſpecial kind couenant) is meruelous ſtrong, and cannot eaſily be diſſolued, and confirmed by offering ſacrifices, (where as they vſed ſalt, as was ordained. Num. 18.

6 And Jeroboam the ſonne of Nabat the ſeruant of Solomon the ſonne of Dauid, is riſen vp, and hath rebelled againſt the Lord.

7 And there gathered vnto him lewde men, the children of Belial, and preuailed againſt Roboam the ſonne of Solomō, when Roboam was [c] young and tender hearted, and could not ſtand before them.

c In yeares and courage.

8 And now yee ſay that yee be able to preuaile againſt the kingdome of the Lorde, which is in the hand of the ſonnes of Dauid, and yee be a great multitude, and haue the golden calues which Jeroboam made you for gods.

9 And haue ye not caſt out the Prieſts of the Lord the ſonnes of Aaron & the Leuites, and haue made you prieſtes after the maner of the nations of other lands? ſo that whoſoeuer commeth and conſecrateth his hande with a young ore & ſeuen rammes, the ſame may be a prieſt of them that are no gods.

10 But wee belong vnto the Lorde our God, whome we haue not forſaken, and the Prieſts are the ſonnes of Aaron which miniſter vnto the Lord, and the Leuites waite vpon their office.

11 They burne vnto the Lorde euery morning and euening, whole burnt ſacrifices, and ſweete incenſe: the ſhew bread ſet they in order vpon a pure table, and prepare the candleſticke of golde, with the lampes of the ſame, to burne euer at Euen: and truely wee keepe the watch of the Lorde our God, but ye haue forſaken him.

12 And beholde, God himſelfe is our captaine, and his Prieſts blow with the Trumpets, and cry alarme againſt you. O yee children of Iſrael, fight not againſt the Lorde God of your fathers: for it will not proſper with you.

13 But for all that, Ieroboam conueyed men priuily about, to come behind them: and ſo they were before Juda, and the liers in waite were behinde them.

14 And when they of Juda looked about, beholde, the battell was before and behinde, and they cried vnto the Lord, and the Prieſts blew with the Trumpets.

15 And the men of Juda gaue a ſhoute: and as the men of Juda ſhouted, it came to paſſe that God ſmote Ieroboam and all Iſrael, before Abia and Juda.

16 And the children of Iſrael fled before Juda, and God deliuered them into their hande.

17 And Abia and his people ſlewe a great ſlaughter of them: there fell downe wounded of Iſrael fiue hundred thouſande choſen men.

18 And ſo the children of Iſrael were brought vnder at that time, and the children of Juda preuailed, [d] becauſe they leaned vnto the Lord God of their fathers.

[d] The cauſe of victorie.

19 And Abia followed after Ieroboam, and tooke cities from him, Bethel with the townes belonging thereto, Ieſana with the townes that belonged thereto, and Ephron with her townes.

20 And Ieroboam recouered no ſtrength againe in the dayes of Abia: and the Lorde plagued him, and he died.

21 But Abia waxed mightie, and married fourteene wiues, and begate twentie and two ſonnes, and ſixteene daughters.

22 The reſt of the actes of Abia, his maners and his ſayings, are written in the ſtorie of the Prophet Iddo.

The xiiij. Chapter.

3 Aſa deſtroyeth idolatrie, and commandeth his people to ſerue the true God.

SO Abia ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie of Dauid, * & Aſa his ſonne reigned in his ſteade, in whoſe dayes the lande was in quietneſſe tenne yeeres.

3.Reg.15. 8.

2 And Aſa did that was good and right in the eyes of the Lord his God.

3 For hee tooke away ſtrange altars, and the high places, and brake downe the images, and cut downe the groues:

4 And commaunded Juda to ſeeke the Lord God of their fathers, and to doe according to the lawe and commandement.

5 And hee put away out of all the cities of Juda, the high places and the images: and the kingdome was quiet before him.

6 And hee built ſtrong cities in Juda, becauſe the land was in reſt, and hee had no warre in thoſe yeeres: for the Lorde had giuen him reſt.

7 Therefore hee ſayde vnto Juda, Let vs builde theſe cities, and make about them walles, towres, gates, and barres, for the land is yet in reſt before vs: becauſe we haue ſought the Lorde our God, wee haue ſought him, and hee hath giuen vs reſt on euery ſide. And ſo they built, and it proſpered with them.

8 And Aſa had an armie of men that bare ſhieldes and ſpeares, out of Juda three hundred thouſande, and out of Beniamin that bare ſhields, and drewe bowes, two hundred and foureſcore thouſande: all theſe were valiant men.

9 And there came out againſt them Zarah of Ethiopia, with an hoſte of tenne hundred thouſande, and three hundred charets, and came as farre as Mareſa.

10 And Aſa went out before him, and they ioyned the battel in the valley of Zephata, beſide Mareſa.

11 * And Aſa cried vnto the Lorde his God, and ſaide, Lorde, it is no harde thing with thee to helpe with many, or them that haue no power: helpe vs therefore, O Lorde our God, for wee truſt to thee, and in thy Name wee goe againſt this multitude: thou art the Lorde our God, and no man ſhall preuaile againſt thee.

1. Sam. 14. 6.

12 So the Lorde ſmote the Ethiopians before Aſa and Juda, and the Ethiopians fledde.

13 And Aſa and the people that was with him, followed after them vnto Gerar: and the Ethiopians hoſte was ouerthrowen, that there was none of them left, but were deſtroyed before the Lorde and before his hoſte: and they caried away a mightie great praye.

14 And they ſmote all the cities rounde about Gerar, for the feare of the Lorde came vpon them: and they ſpoyled all the cities, and there was exceeding much ſpoyle in them.

15 They ſmote alſo the tentes of cattell, and carried away plentie of ſheepe and camels, and returned to Hieruſalem.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The exhortation of Azaria. 8 Aſa purgeth his countrey of idolatrie. 14 They ſweare together to ſerue the Lord. 16 He depoſeth his mother for her idolatrie.

AND the ſpirite of God came on Azaria the ſonne of Obed.

2 And he went out to meete Aſa, and ſaide vnto him, Heare me, Aſa, and all Juda and Beniamin, the Lorde is with you, while yee bee with him: and when ye ſeeke him, he will be founde of you: and againe, when yee forſake him, he alſo will forſake you.

3 Nowe for a long [a] ſeaſon Iſrael hath bene without the true God, and without [a] For the ſpace of twelue yeres vnder Roboam, and three yeres vnder Abia, true religion was neglected and idolatrie planted.

Priests to teach, and without lawe.

4 And when any man in his trouble did turne vnto the Lord God of Israel, & sought him, he was found of them.

5 And in that time there was no peace to him that did goe out and in, but great sedition was there among all the inhabiters of the earth.

6 And nation was destroyed of nation, and citie of citie: for God did moue all aduersitie among them.

7 Play ye therefore the men, and let not your hands slacke: for your worke shalbe rewarded.

8 And when Asa heard those words, and the prophesie of [b] Azaria the sonne of Obed the Prophete, hee tooke courage, and put away the abhominable idoles out of all the land of Juda and Beniamin, and out of the cities which hee wanne in mount Ephraim, and renued the altar of the Lorde that was before the porch of the Lord.

9 And hee gathered all Juda and Beniamin, and the strangers with them, out of Ephraim, Manasse, and Simeon: for there fel many to him out of Israel, when they sawe that the Lord his God was with him.

10 So they assembled together at Hierusalem the [c] thirde moneth, the fifteenth yeere of the reigne of Asa.

11 And they offered vnto the Lorde the same time, of the spoyle which they had brought, seuen hundred oxen, and seuen thousand sheepe.

12 And they made a couenant to seeke the Lorde God of their fathers with all their heart, and all their soule.

13 And whosoeuer woulde not seeke the Lorde God of Israel [d] should die for it, whether he were small or great, man, or woman.

14 And they sware vnto the Lord with a loude voyce, showting and blowing with trumpets and shawmes.

15 And all they in Juda reioyced at the othe: for they had sworne vnto the Lord with all their heart, and sought him with all their lust, and he was found of them: and the Lord gaue them rest round about on euery side.

16 * And king Asa put [e] Maacha his mother out of authoritie, because shee had made an idole in a groue: and Asa broke downe her idole, and stamped it, and burnt it at the brooke Cedron.

17 But all the high places were not taken away out of Israel, though the heart of Asa was perfect all his dayes.

18 And he brought into the house of God the things that his father had dedicate, and that hee himselfe had dedicate, euen siluer, and golde, and vessels, 19 And there was no more warre vnto the thirtie and fiue yeere of the reigne of Asa.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 Asa for feare of Baasa king of Israel, maketh a couenant with Benhadad king of Syria. 7 He is reproued by the Prophet.

IN the thirty and sixe yere of the reigne of Asa, came Baasa king of Israel against Juda, and built Rama, to the intent that hee would let none passe out or in to Asa king of Juda.

2 And Asa set out golde and siluer out of the treasures of the house of the Lorde, and out of the kings house, and sent to Benhadad king of Syria that dwelt at ‖ Darmeser, and saide,

‖ Or, Damascus.

3 There is a confederation betweene me and thee, betweene my father and thine: beholde, I haue sent thee siluer and golde, that thou wilt come and breake thy league with Baasa king of Israel, that hee may depart from me.

4 And Benhadad graunted vnto king Asa, and sent the captaines of his armies to the cities of Israel: and they smote Ijon, Dan, and Abilmaim, and al the strong cities of Nephthali.

5 And when Baasa heard this, hee left building of Rama, and let his worke cease.

6 And then Asa the king tooke all Juda, and caried away the stones and timber of Rama wherewith Baasa was a building, and he built therewith Geba and Mispah.

7 At that time Hanani the Seer came to Asa king of Juda, and saide vnto him, [a] Because thou hast trusted in the king of Syria, and not rather put thy trust in the Lorde thy God, therefore is the hoste of the king of Syria escaped out of thine hand.

8 * Had not the Ethiopians and Lubim an exceeding great hoste, with many charets and horsmen? and yet because thou trustedst in the Lorde, hee deliuered them into thine hande.

9 * For the eyes of the Lord behold all the earth, to strengthen them that are of perfect heart towarde him: herein thou hast done foolishly, and therefore from henceforth thou shalt haue warre.

10 And so Asa was wroth with the Seer, and put him into a [b] prison house, for he was displeased with him, because of this thing. And Asa destroyed certaine of the people the same season.

11 And beholde, these deedes of Asa first and last, are written in the booke of the kings of Juda and Israel.

12 And Asa in the thirtie and ninth yeere of his reigne fell sicke in his feete, and his disease continued very long, and in his sicknesse hee sought not the Lorde, [c] but Phisitions.

13 And Asa slept with his fathers, and died in the fourtie and one yere of his reigne.

14 And they buried him in his owne sepulchre, which hee had made for himselfe in the citie of Dauid, and layd him in the bedde which was filled with diuers kindes of spices, and sweete odours, made by the craft of the Apothecaries: and they made a very great burning.

The xvij. Chapter.

5 Iosaphat trusting in the Lord, prospereth in riches and honour. 6 He abolisheth idolatrie, 7 and causeth the people to be taught.

AND Iosaphat his sonne raigned in his stead, and preuailed against Israel.

2 And hee put souldiers in all the strong cities of Iuda, and set rulers in the land of Iuda, and in the cities of Ephraim, which Asa his father had wonne.

3 And the Lorde was with Iosaphat, because hee walked in the former wayes of his father Dauid, and sought not Baalim:

4 But sought the Lord God of his father, and walked in his commaundements, and not after the doings of Israel.

5 And the Lorde stablished the kingdome in his hande, and all Iuda brought him presents, so that hee had abundance of riches and honour.

6 And he lift vp his heart vnto the wayes of the Lorde, and hee put downe yet more of the high places and groues out of Iuda.

7 In the third yeere of his raigne he sent to his lordes, euen to Benhail, Obadia, Zacharia, Nethanel, and to Michaia, that they should [a] teach in the cities of Iuda:

a Iosaphat first reformeth religion into the countreys to be religiously maynteined, and the people truly instructed.

8 And with them hee sent Leuites, euen Semeia, Nethania, Zebadia, Asael, Semiramoth, Jehonathan, Adonia, Tobia, and Tobadonia, Leuites: and with them Elisama and Joram, Priests.

9 And they taught in Iuda, and had the booke of the Lawe of God with them, and went about throughout all the cities of Iuda, and taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Lorde fell vpon all the kingdomes of the lands that were round about Iuda, and they fought not against Iosaphat.

11 And some of the Philistines brought Iosaphat giftes, and tribute siluer, and the Arabians brought him cattell, euen seuen thousande and seuen hundred rammes, and seuen thousande and seuen hundred hee goates.

12 And so Iosaphat prospered and grewe vpon high: and he built in Iuda castels, and cities of store.

13 And hee had great ‖ substance in the cities of Iuda: but the men of armes and strongest souldiers were in Hierusalem.

14 And these are the ‖ offices of them in the house of their fathers: the captaines ouer thousands in Iuda, Adna the captaine, and with him of fighting men, three hundred thousand.

‖ Or, numbers.

15 And next to his hande was Jehohanan captaine, and with him two hundred and fourescore thousand.

16 And next him was Amazia the sonne of Zichri, which of his owne good will offered himselfe vnto the Lorde, and with him two hundred thousand mightie men of warre.

17 And of the children of Beniamin, Eliada a man of might, and with him armed men with bowe and shielde two hundred thousand.

18 And next him was Jozabad, and with him an hundred and fourescore thousande that were prepared for the warre.

19 These waited on the King, besides those which the king put in the strong cities throughout all Iuda.

1 Iosaphat maketh affinitie with Achab. 10 Foure hundred Prophetes counsell Achab to goe to warre. 14 Micheas is against them. 29 The effect of his prophesie.

AND * Iosaphat had abundance of riches and honour, and ioyned affinitie with Achab. 3. King. 22. 3.

2 And after certaine yeres he went downe to Achab to Samaria: and Achab slue many sheepe and oxen for him, and for the people that hee had with him, and entreated him to goe vp with him vnto Ramoth in Gilead.

3 And Achab king of Israel sayde vnto Iosaphat king of Iuda, wilt thou goe with me to Ramoth in Gilead? And he answered him, I will bee as thou, and my people shall be as thine, and we will goe with thee to the warre.

4 And Iosaphat saide vnto the king of Israel, Seeke counsel, I pray thee, at the word of the Lord this same day.

5 Therefore the king of Israel gathered together of prophets foure hundred men, and saide vnto them, Shall wee goe to Ramoth in Gilead to fight, or should I cease? And they said, Goe vp, and God shall deliuer it into the kings hand.

6 But Iosaphat saide, Is there yet here neuer a Prophet more of the Lords, that we might aske of him?

7 And the king of Israel saide vnto Iosaphat, There is yet one man, by whome wee may aske the Lorde, but I hate him, for hee neuer prophecieth me good, but alwaye euill: and the same is Micheas the sonne of Jemla. And Iosaphat said, Let not the king say so.

8 And the king of Israel called one of his chamberlaines, and said, Fetch hither quickly Micheas the sonne of Jemla.

9 And the king of Israel and Iosaphat king of Iuda sate either of them on his seate in their apparell, in a threshing floore beside the gate of Samaria, and all the prophetes prophecied before them.

10 And one Zedekia the sonne of Chanaana had made him hornes of yron, and saide, Thus sayeth the Lorde, With these thou shalt push Syria, vntill they bee brought to nought.

11 And all the prophetes prophecied euen so, saying, Goe vp to Ramoth in Gilead, and it shall prosper with thee: for the Lorde shall deliuer it into the hand of the king.

12 And the messenger that went to call Micheas, spake to him, saying, Beholde, the wordes of the prophetes speake good to the king with one assent: let thy wordes therefore, I pray thee, bee like one of theirs, that thou speake that which is pleasant.

13 And Michea said, As the Lord liueth, euen what my God saith, that will I speake.

14 And when hee was come to the king, the king saide vnto him, Michea, should wee go to Ramoth in Gilead to fight, or leaue off? And he saide, Goe vp, and all shalbe well, and they shall be deliuered into your hand.

15 And the king saide to him, So and so many times doe I charge thee that thou say nothing but the trueth to mee, in the Name of the Lord.

16 Then he saide, I did see all Israel scattered in the mountaines, as sheepe that haue no shepheard, and the Lorde sayde, [a] These haue no master: let them returne euery man therefore to his house in peace.

a The prophecieth how the people should be dispersed, and Achab slaine.

17 And the king of Israel saide vnto Iosaphat, Did I not tell thee, that hee would not prophecie good vnto me, but euil?

18 But he saide againe, Therefore heare the word of the Lord: I sawe the Lord sit vpon his seate, and all the company of heauen stoode on his right hand and on his left.

19 And the Lorde saide, Who shall deceiue Achab king of Israel, that he may goe vp and be ouerthrowen at Ramoth in Gilead? and one said this, another said that.

20 And there came out a spirit, and stoode before the Lord, and said, I wil deceiue him. And the Lord said vnto him, Wherein?

b They that will not beleeue the trueth, God sendeth strong delusions, that they should beleeue lies.

21 And he said, I wil go out, and be a [b] lying spirite in the mouth of all his prophetes. And the Lord saide, Thou shalt deceiue him, and shalt preuaile: goe out, and do euen so.

22 And nowe therefore beholde, the Lord hath put a lying spirite in the mouthes of all these thy prophets, and the Lord hath spoken euill against thee.

3.King. 22. 22.

23 Then Zedecia the sonne of Chanaana went to, and smote Michea vpon the cheeke, and saide, By what way went the [c] spirite of the Lord from me, to speake with thee?

c Thus the hypocrites boast of the spirite which they haue not, and declare their malice against them in whom the true spirit is.

24 And Michea said, Beholde, thou shalt see the day when thou shalt go from chamber to chamber for to hide thy selfe.

25 And the king of Israel saide, Take ye Michea, and bring him to Amon the gouernour of the citie, and to Joas the kings sonne.

26 And yee shall say, Thus saith the king, Put this fellow in the prison house, and feede him with bread of affliction, and water of trouble, vntill I come againe in peace.

27 And Michea said, If thou come againe in peace, then hath not the Lorde spoken by me. And he said, Hearken to ye people euery one of you.

28 And so the king of Israel and Iosaphat the king of Juda went vp to Ramoth in Gilead.

29 And the king of Israel saide vnto Iosaphat, I will change me when I goe to the battel: but see that thou haue thine owne apparel vpon thee. And the king of Israel changed himselfe, and they came to the battell.

30 But the king of Syria had commaunded the captaines of the charets that were with him, saying, See that yee fight not against small or great, saue against the king of Israel onely.

31 And when the captaines of the charets sawe Iosaphat, they saide, It is the king of Israel: and therefore they compassed about him to fight. But Iosaphat cryed out, and the Lord helped him, and God ‖ chased them away from him.

1.Kin.22. 32.

‖ Or, moued them to depart from him.

32 For when the captaines of the charets perceiued that it was not the king of Israel, they turned backe againe from him.

33 And a certaine man drew a bowe ‖ at a venture, and smote the king of Israel betweene the ioynts of his habergine: and hee saide to his charetman, Turne thine hande, that thou mayest cary me out of the hoste, for I am wounded.

‖ Or, in his simplicitie.

34 And the battell encreased that day: howbeit, the king of Israel caused his charet [d] to stande still against the Syrians, vntill Euen: and about the time of the sunne going downe, he died.

d He willeth both his hurt, that his souldiers might fight the more courageously.

The xix. Chapter.

1 After Iosaphat was rebuked by the Prophet, he calleth againe the people to the honouring of the Lord.

AND Iosaphat the king of Juda came home againe in peace to Hierusalem.

2 And Jehu the sonne of Hanani the Seer, went out to meete him, and said to king Iosaphat, Wouldest thou helpe the vngodly, and loue them that hate the Lord? Therefore is wrath come downe vpon thee from before the Lord.

3 Neuertheless, there are some good acts found in thee, in that thou hast hewen downe the groues out of the land, and hast prepared thine heart to seeke God.

4 And Iosaphat dwelt at Hierusalem, and turned, [a] and went out to the people from Beerseba to mount Ephraim, and brought them againe vnto the Lorde God of their fathers.

a He called all the countrey, and brought his people from idolatrie, to the knowledge of the true God.

5 And he set Judges in the land, throughout all the strong cities of Juda, citie by citie,

6 And saide to the Judges, Take heede what ye doe: for yee execute not the iudgements of man, but of God, which is [b] with you in the iudgement.

b To punish you, if you doe iniustly, and to punish you if you doe contrary.

7 Wherefore nowe let the feare of the Lord be vpon you, and take heede, and be doing the thing: for there is no vnrighteousnesse with the Lord our God, that he should haue any respect of persons, or take rewardes.

Iob.34.19. act.10.34. rom.2.11. 1.pet.1.17.

8 Moreouer, in Hierusalem did Iosaphat set of the Leuites and of the Priestes, and of the ancient fathers ouer Israel, in the iudgement and cause of the Lorde, and they returned turned againe to Hierusalem.

9 And hee charged them, saying, Thus shal ye doe in the feare of the Lord faithfully, and with a pure heart:

10 What cause soeuer come to you of your brethren that dwell in their cities betweene blood and blood, betwene lawe and commaundement, betweene statutes and ordinances: ye shall warne them that they trespasse not against the Lorde, and so wrath come vpon you and your brethren: thus doe, and ye shall not offend.

11 And beholde, Amaria the high Priest is among you in all matters of the Lorde, and Zebadia the sonne of Ismael, a ruler of the house of Iuda, for all the kings matters: There be officers of the Leuites also before you, take courage to you therefore, and be doing manfully, and the Lord shall be with such as be good.

The xx. Chapter.

3 Iosaphat and the people pray vnto the Lord. 22 The marueilous victorie that the Lorde gaue him against his enemies. 30 His reigne and actes.

AFter this also, the children of Moab and the children of Ammon, and with them other of the Ammonites, came against Iosaphat to battel.

2 And there came some that tolde Iosaphat, saying, There commeth a great multitude against thee from the other side of the sea, and out of Syria, and beholde, they be in Hasason Thamar, which is in En-gadi.

3 And Iosaphat feared, and set himselfe to seeke the Lorde, and proclaimed fasting throughout all Iuda.

4 And Iuda gathered themselues together, to aske counsell of the Lorde: and they came out of all the cities of Iuda, ‖ to make intercession to the Lord.

‖ Or, to inquire of the Lord.

5 And Iosaphat stood betweene the congregation of Iuda and Hierusalem, in the house of the Lord, before the newe court,

6 And said, O Lorde God of our fathers, art not thou God in heauen, and reignest not thou on all the kingdomes of the heathen, and in thine hand is power & might, and there is no man that is able to withstand thee?

7 Art not thou our God which diddest cast out the inhabiters of this lande before thy people Israel, and gauest it to the seede of Abraham thy louer, for euer?

8 And they dwelt therein, and haue built thee a temple therein for thy name, saying,

9 *If euill come vpon vs, as the sword of iudgement, pestilence, or hunger: then if we stand before this house in thy presence, (for thy name is in this house) and crie vnto thee in our tribulation, heare thou, and helpe.

2.Chr.6.28.

10 *And nowe behold the children of Ammon and Moab, & mount Seir, † by whom thou wouldest not let them of Israel goe, when they came out of the lande of Egypt, but they departed from them, and destroyed them not.

1.Kin.8.37. Deut.2.9.

11 See howe they reward vs, to come for to cast vs out of thy possession, which thou hast giuen vs to inherite.

12 O our God, wilt thou not iudge them? for wee haue no might against this great companie that commeth against vs: neither wote we what to doe, but our eyes a be vnto thee.

a We onely put our trust in thee, and waite for our deliuerance from heauen.

13 And all Iuda stoode before the Lorde, with their yong ones, their wiues, and their children.

14 And there was Iahaziel the sonne of Zacharia, the sonne of Benaia, the sonne of Iehiel, the sonne of Matthania, a Leuite of the sonnes of Asaph, and vpon him came the spirit of the Lorde in the middes of the congregation:

15 And hee saide, Hearken all Iuda, and ye inhabiters of Hierusalem, and thou king Iosaphat, Thus sayeth the Lorde vnto you, Be not afraide, nor faint hearted, by reason of this great multitude: for the battell is not yours, but Gods.

16 To morow go ye downe against them: beholde, they come vp by the cliff of Ziz, and ye shall finde them at the ende of the brooke, before the wildernesse of Ieruel.

17 Ye shall not needs to fight in this battell, but step forth, and stand, and beholde the helpe of the Lorde which is with you: feare not, nor let your heartes faile you, O ye of Iuda and of Hierusalem, to morow goe out against them, for the Lorde will be with you.

18 And Iosaphat b bowed his face to the earth, and all Iuda, and the inhabiters of Hierusalem fell before the Lorde, worshipping the Lord.

b Declaring his faith and obedience to the worde of the Lord.

19 And the Leuites of the children of the Caathites, and of the children of the Corahites, stoode vp to praise the Lord God of Israel, with a loud voyce on high.

20 And when they arose early in the morning, they gate them out vnto the wildernesse of Thecoa: and as they went out, Iosaphat stood, and said, Heare me, O Iuda, and ye inhabiters of Hierusalem: Put your trust in the Lord your God, that ye may be found faithfull: giue credence to his prophets, and so shall ye prosper.

21 When hee had consulted with the people, and set some to sing vnto the Lorde, and to praise him in the beautie of holinesse, and to go out before the armie, and to say, Praise the Lord, for his mercie lasteth euer:

22 And when they began to howte, and to praise the Lorde, the Lorde laide ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab, and mount Seir, which were come against Iuda, and they were ouerthrowen with strokes among themselues.

23 For the children of Ammon & Moab, rose against the inhabiters of mount Seir, and they slew and destroyed them: and when they they had made an ende of the inhabiters of Seir, euery one helped to destroy an other among themselues.

24 And when Juda came towarde Mispah in the wildernesse, they looked vnto the multitude, and beholde, they were dead carkeises fallen to the earth, and none escaped.

25 And when Iosaphat and his people came to take away the spoile of them, they founde among them abundance of goods, raiment, and precious iewels, which they tooke for themselues more then they coulde cary away: so that they were three dayes in gathering of the spoile, it was so much.

c Gaue thākes vnto the Lorde for that victorie.

26 And the fourth day they assembled in the valley of blessing: for there they c blessed the Lord, and therefore they called the name of the same place, The valley of blessing, vnto this day.

27 And so all the men of Juda and Hierusalem, returned with Iosaphat their head, for to goe againe to Hierusalem with gladnesse: for the Lord had made them to reioyce ouer their enemies.

28 And they came to Hierusalem with Psalteries, and Harpes, and Shawmes, vnto the house of the Lord.

29 And the feare of God fell on the kingdomes of all landes, when they had heard that the Lord fought against the enemies of Israel.

30 And so the realme of Iosaphat was in tranquilitie, and his God gaue him rest on euery side.

31 And Iosaphat reigned vpon Juda, and was thirtie and fiue yeeres old when he began to reigne, & hee reigned twentie and fiue yeeres in Hierusalem, and his mothers name was Azuba, the daughter of Silhi.

32 And hee walked in the way of Asa his father, and bowed not therefrom, doing that which was right in the sight of the Lord.

1.King.22. 43. 33 Howbeit, * the high places were not taken away: for the people had not yet prepared their hearts vnto the God of their fathers.

34 The rest of the actes of Iosaphat first and last, behold, they are written among the sayings of Jehu the sonne of Hanani, which noted them in the booke of the kings of Israel.

35 After this, did Iosaphat king of Juda ioyne himselfe with Ahazia king of Israel, whose mind was to doe wickedly:

36 He ioyned himselfe with him, to make shippes to goe to Tharsis: and they made the shippes in Ezion Gaber.

d God would not haue his to ioyne in fasciertie with idolaters and wicked men.

37 And Eliezer the sonne of Dodauah of Mareša, prophecied against Iosaphat, saying, Because thou hast d ioyned thy selfe with Ahazia, the Lorde hath broken thy workes. And the shippes were broken, that they were not able to goe to Tharsis.

The xxj. Chapter.

1 Iosaphat dyeth. 3 Ioram succeedeth him, 4 which killeth his brethren. 16 He is oppressed of the Philistines. 18 His miserable ende.

IOsaphat also slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the citie of David: and Joram his sonne reigned in his stead.

2 And hee had brethren which were the sonnes of Iosaphat, Azaria, Jehiel, Zacharia, Azaria, Michael, & Sephatia: all these are the sonnes of Iosaphat king of Juda.

3 And their father gaue them many great gifts of golde and siluer, and other ‖ speciall substance, with strong cities in Juda: but the kingdome gaue he to Joram, for he was the eldest. ‖ Or, precious.

4 * And Joram rose vp against the kingdome of his father, and preuailed, and slewe all his brethren with the sworde, and diuers of the lordes of Israel. 4.Kin.8.16.

5 Joram was thirtie and two yeeres old when he beganne to reigne, and he reigned eight yeeres in Hierusalem.

6 And he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, like as did the house of Achab, for he had the daughter of Achab to a wife: and he wrought euill in the eyes of the Lord. a Iewe language vsed in many place of a falsie religion.

7 *Howbeit, the Lorde would not destroy the house of David, because of the couenant that he had made with David, as he promised to giue a light to him and to his sonnes for euer. 2.Kin.7.11.

8 In his dayes the Edomites rebelled, when they were vnder the dominion of Juda, and made themselues a king.

9 And Joram went forth with his lords, and all his charets were with him: and hee rose vp by night, and smote the Edomites, which compassed him in: and the captaines of the charets.

10 But Edom rebelled still, so that they woulde not be vnder the hand of Juda vnto this day: that same time also did Libna rebell from being vnder his hand, because hee had forsaken the Lord God of his fathers.

11 Moreouer, he made high places in the mountaines of Juda, and caused the inhabiters of Hierusalem to b commit fornication, and prouoked Juda to idolatrie. b Meaning idolatrie, because the Israelites forsaking purenesse with God, as doth the adulterous woman with her husband.

12 And there came a writing to him from c Elia the Prophet, saying, Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Dauid thy father, Because thou hast not walked in the wayes of Iosaphat thy father, and in the wayes of Asa king of Juda: c Some think that this was Eliseus, because he had the double spirite of Elia.

13 But walkedst in the wayes of e kings of Israel, and hast made Juda, & the dwellers of Hierusalem, to goe a whoring like to the whoredome of the house of Achab, and hast slaine thy brethren, euen thy fathers house, which were better then thou:

14 Beholde, with a great plague will the Lord smite thy folke, thy children, thy wiues, and all thy goods:

15 And thou shalt suffer great paine, euen a disease of thy bowels, vntil thy guttes fall out out by reason of thy ſickneſſe day by day.

16 And ſo the Lorde ſtirred vp againſt Joram the ſpirite of the Philiſtines, and the Arabians that were beſide the Ethiopians.

17 And they came vp into Juda, and waſted it, and caried away all the ſubſtance that was found in the kings houſe, & his ſonnes, and wiues, ſo that there was neuer a ſonne left him, ſaue ‖ Joahaz, which was the yongeſt among his ſonnes. ‖Or, Ahazia

18 And after al theſe things, ỹ Lord ſmote him in his bowels with an incurable diſeaſe.

19 And in proceſſe of time, after the ende of two yeeres, his guttes fell out in his ſickneſſe, and ſo he died of very euill diſeaſes: and they made no burning for him like the burning of his fathers.

20 When he began to reigne, he was thirtie and two yeres olde, and reigned in Hieruſalem eight yeeres, and liued ‖ wretchedly: howbeit they buried him in ỹ citie of Dauid, but not among the ſepulchres of the kings. ‖Or, deposed, cha. 22.

10 Athalia putteth to death all the kings linage. 11 Joas eſcapeth.

4.Kin.8.24. AND * the inhabiters of Hieruſalem made Ahazia his young ſonne king in his ſteade: for the men of warre that came a with the hoſt of the Arabians, had ſlaine all his eldeſt ſonnes. And ſo Ahazia the ſõne of Joram king of Juda was made king.

b Which is to be vnderſtand, that he reigned thereby yeres, his father yet liuing, but after his fathers death he was confirmed king, when he was fourtie and two yeres olde.

c Shee was Ahabs daughter, who was the ſonne of Amri.

3 And he walked alſo in the wayes of the houſe of Achab: for his mother by her counſell enticed him to doe wickedly.

4 Wherefore he did that which was euill in the ſight of the Lord, as did they that were of the houſe of Achab: for they were his d counſailours after the death of his father, to his deſtruction.

d Euill counſailours make an euill king.

5 And hee walked after their counſaile, and went with Joram ſonne of Achab king of Iſrael, to fight againſt Hazael king of Syria at Ramoth in Gilead: and the Syrians ſmote Joram.

6 And he turned to be healed in Jezrahel, of ỹ woundes which were giuen him at Rama, when hee fought with Hazael king of Syria: and Ahazia the ſonne of Joram king of Juda, went downe to ſee Joram ỹ ſonne of Achab at Jezrahel, becauſe he was diſeaſed.

7 And it came of God that Ahazia ſhould be deſtroyed for his comming to Joram: for when he was come, he wẽt out with Joram againſt Jehu ỹ ſonne of Nimſi, whõ ỹ Lorde had anoynted to deſtroy the houſe of Achab.

8 And when Jehu was executing iuſtice vpon the houſe of Achab, & found the lords of Juda, & the ſonnes of the brethren of Ahazia that waited on Ahazia, he ſlue them.

9 And he ſought Ahazia: and they caught him (where hee was hid in Samaria) and brought him to Jehu, & whẽ they had ſlaine him, they buried him: becauſe, ſaide they, he is the ſõne of Joſaphat, which ſought ỹ Lord with all his heart: And the houſe of Ahazia had no power to keepe ſtill the kingdome.

10 *But whẽ Athalia, the mother of Ahazia, ſaw that her ſõne was dead, ſhe aroſe and e deſtroied al ỹ kings ſeed in ỹ kinred of Juda. 4.Kin.11.1.

11 And Joſabeth ỹ daughter of the king, tooke Joas the ſonne of Ahazia, & ſtale him from among ỹ kings ſõnes that were ſlaine, and put him and his nurſe in a priuie chamber: and ſo Joſabeth the daughter of king Joram, the wife of Jehoiada the Prieſt (and the ſiſter of Ahazia) hid him from Athalia, that he was not ſlaine.

12 And ſo hee was with them hid in the houſe of God ſixe yeres, and Athalia reigned ouer the land.

2 And they went about in Juda, and gathered the Leuites out of all the cities of Juda, and the ancient fathers of a Iſrael, and they came to Hieruſalem.

a Meaning of Juda and Beniamin, Chap.21.4.

3 And all the Congregation made a bond with the king in the houſe of God: & he ſaide vnto them, Beholde, the kings ſonne muſt reigne, as the Lord hath ſaide of the children of Dauid.

4 This is it therefore that ye ſhal do, The third part of you ſhall on ỹ Sabboth come to the Prieſts, Leuites, & keepers of ỹ porches,

5 And another third part ſhall be by the kings houſe, & another third part ſhall be at the gate of the foundation: and all the people ſhalbe in the courtes of the houſe of the Lord.

6 But there ſhal none come into the houſe of the Lord, ſaue the Prieſtes & Leuites that miniſter, they ſhal go in, for they are holy: but al the people ſhal keepe the watch of the Lord.

7 And the Leuites ſhal compaſſe the king round about, and euery man ſhall haue his weapon in his hand, and what other man ſoeuer doeth come into the houſe of the Lord he ſhall be ſlaine: & let them be with the king when he commeth in, & when he goeth out.

8 And the Leuites, & all Juda, did according to all things ỹ Jehoiada the Prieſt had commanded, and tooke euery man his men that came in on ỹ Sabboth day, with them that went out on ỹ Sabboth day: neither did Jehoiada ỹ Prieſt let the cõpanions depart.

9 And Jehoiada the Prieſt, deliuered to the captaines of hundreds, ſpeares, ſhieldes, and bucklers, that had pertained to king Dauid, and were in the houſe of God.

10 And he set all the people (euery man hauing his weapon in his hande) from the right side of the temple, to the left side of the temple, along by the altar and the temple, round about the king.

11 And they brought out the kings sonne, and put vpon him the crowne, and the ‖ testimonie, and made him king: and Iehoiada and his sonnes anoynted him, and said, God saue the king.

12 When Athalia heard the noyse of the people running, and praising the king, shee came to the people in the house of the Lord.

13 And shee looked, and beholde, the king stoode ‖ in his place at the entring in, and the lordes and the trumpets were by the king, and all the people of the land reioyced, blowing with trumpettes: and the singers were with instruments of musicke, and such as coulde sing prayse: but Athalia rent her clothes, and said, Treason, treason.

14 And Iehoiada the Priest went out to the captaines of hundreds, that were gouernours of the host, and said vnto them, Haue her forth of the ranges: and [b] who so followeth her, let him be slaine with the sworde: For the Priest said, That they should not slay her in the house of the Lord.

[b] Meaning, to take her part.

15 And they laid hands on her, til she was come to the entring of the horse gate, beside the kings house, and there they slue her.

16 And Iehoiada made a bond betweene him, and all the people, and the king, that they should be the Lordes people:

17 And all the people went to the house of Baal, and [c] destroyed it, and brake his altars and his images, and slewe Matthan the Priest of Baal, before the altars.

[c] According to their couenant made.

‖ Or, appointed.

18 And Iehoiada ‖ put the officers for the house of the Lord vnder ỹ hand of the Priests & Leuites, as Dauid had distributed them in the house of ỹ Lorde, to offer whole burnt offerings vnto the Lorde, as it is written in the lawe of Moses, with reioycing, and singing, as it was ordeyned by Dauid.

19 And hee set porters by the gates of the house of the Lord, that none which was vncleane in any thing, should enter in.

20 And hee tooke the captaines of hundreds, and all the nobles, and the gouernors of the people, and al the folke of the land, and caused the king to come downe out of the house of the Lord, and they came thorow the high gate into the kings house, and set the king vpon the seate of the kingdome.

21 And all the people of the land reioyced, and the citie was in tranquilitie after that they had slaine Athalia with the sword.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

1 Ioas repaireth the house of the Lord. 23 Ioas is killed of his owne seruants.

4. Reg. 12. 2 IOas * was seuen yeres old whē he began to reigne, and he reigned fourtie yeeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name also was Ziba, of Beersleba.

2 And Ioas did that which was right in the sight of the Lorde all the dayes of [a] Iehoiada the Priest.

[a] Who was a faithfull counsellour, and gouerned him & the people of God.

3 And Iehoiada gaue him two wiues, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

4 And after this, Ioas was minded to renue the house of the Lord.

5 And he gathered together the Priestes, and the Leuites, and saide to them, Goe out vnto the cities of Iuda, and gather of all Israel, money to repaire the house of your God, from yeere to yeere, and see that yee hast the thing: Howbeit, the Leuites were slacke.

6 And the king called Iehoiada that was the [b] chiefest, and saide vnto him, Why requirest thou not of the Leuites to bring in, out of Iuda and Hierusalem, the collection of Money, according to the commaundement of Moses the seruant of the Lord, and of the congregation of Israel, for the Tabernacle of witnesse?

[b] For he was the high priest.

7 For wicked Athalia and her children, brake vp the house of God, and al the things that were dedicate for the house of the Lord, did they bestowe vpon Baalim.

8 And at the kings commandement they made a chest, and set it without at the gate of the house of the Lord:

9 And made a proclamation thorowe Iuda & Hierusalem, to bring in to the Lord * the taxation of money that Moses the seruaunt of God set vpon Israel in the wildernesse. * Exo. 30. 11.

10 And the lords and all the people reioyced, and brought in, and cast into the chest ‖ vntill it was full.

‖ Or, vntil they had made an ende.

11 And at the same time they brought in the chest, vnto them which were in the kings businesse, by the hand of the Leuites, and when they sawe that there was much money: the kings scribe, and one appointed by the high Priest, came and emptied the chest, and tooke it, and caried it to his place againe. Thus they did day by day, and gathered much money.

12 And the king & Iehoiada gaue it to such as did labour and worke in the house of the Lorde, and hired Masons and Carpenters to repaire the house of the Lorde, and so did the artificers in yron and brasse, to mend the house of the Lord.

13 And so the workemen wrought, and the worke mended thorow their hands: and they made the house of God as it ought to be, and strengthened it.

14 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the money before the king and Iehoiada, and therewith were made vessels for the house of the Lord, euen vessels to minister withall, ‖ chargers and spoones, vessels of golde and siluer: and they offered whole burnt offerings in the house of the Lord continually, all the dayes of Iehoiada.

‖ Or, mortars, or bowles.

15 But Iehoiada waxed old, and died full of dayes: for an hundred and thirtie yeeres olde was he when he dyed.

16 And they buried him in the citie of Dauid, Dauid, among the kings, because hee dealt well with Israel, and with God, and with his house.

17 And after the death of Iehoiada, came the [c] lordes of Iuda, and made obeysance to the king: and the king hearkened vnto them.

[c] Which were flatterers and idolaters.

18 And so they left the house of the Lord God of their fathers, and serued groues and idoles, and then came the wrath of God vpon Iuda and Hierusalem for this their trespasses sake.

19 And he sent prophets to them, to bring them againe vnto the Lorde, and they testified vnto them, but they would not heare.

20 And the spirit of God came vpon Zacharia the sonne of Iehoiada the Priest, which stoode by the people, and sayde vnto them, Thus saith God, Why transgresse yee the commandements of the Lorde, that yee can not prosper? For because yee haue forsaken the Lord, he hath also forsaken you.

21 And they conspired against him, [d] and stoned him with stones, at the commandement of the king, euen in the court of the house of the Lord.

22 And so Ioas the king remembred not the kindnes which Iehoiada his father had done to him, but slue his sonne, and when he dyed, he said, The Lord looke vpon it, and require it.

Mat.23.35.

23 And when the yeere was out, the host of Syria came vp against him, and they came against Iuda and Hierusalem, and destroyed all the lordes of the people, from among the people, and sent all the spoyle of them vnto the king to Damascus.

24 For the Syrians came with a small company of men, and the Lorde deliuered a very great host into their hand, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers: and they gaue sentence against Ioas.

25 And when they were departed from him, they left him in great diseases: and his own seruants conspired against him, for the blood of the [e] children of Iehoiada the Priest, and slewe him on his bed, and hee died: and they buried him in the citie of Dauid, but not in the sepulchres of the kings.

26 And these are they that conspired against him: Zabad the sonne of Simeath, an Ammonite, and Iehosabad the sonne of Simrith, a Moabite.

[f] That is, concerning his sonnes.

27 [f] And his sonnes, and the summe of the tare that was raised in his time, and the repairing of the house of God, behold, they are written in the story of the booke of the kings: and Amazia his sonne raigned in his steade.

The xxv. Chapter.

3 Amazia putteth them to death which slewe his father.
14 He falleth to idolatrie.

AMazia was twentie and fiue yeeres olde when he began to raigne, and he raigned twentie and nine yeeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name was Iehoadan, of Hierusalem.

2 And hee did that which is [a] right in the sight of the Lord, but not with a perfect heart.

[a] Meaning in respect of his predecessors, albeit, he had his imperfection.

3 And as soone as hee was setled in the kingdome, he slue his seruants that had killed the king his father.

4 But he slew not their children, because it is written thus in the lawe and booke of Moses, where the Lord commanded, saying, The father shall not die for the children, neither shall the children die for the fathers: but euery man shall die for his owne sinne.

Deu.24.16 4.kin.14.6. ezc.18.20.

5 And Amazia gathered Iuda together, and made them captaines ouer thousands, and ouer hundreds, according to the houses of their fathers, throughout all Iuda & Beniamin: & he numbred them frō twentie yeres old, and aboue, and found among them three hundred thousand chosen men able to goe to battel, and that could handle speare & shield.

6 He hyred also an hundred thousande strong fighting men out of Israel, for an hundred talents of siluer.

7 And there came a man of God to him, and sayd, O king, let not the armie of Israel come with thee: for the Lord is not with Israel, to wit, with all the children of Ephraim.

8 But if thou wilt needes be faithlesse, come on, and take the battell in hand, & God shall make thee fall before the enemie: for God hath power to helpe, and to cast downe.

9 And Amazia sayde to the man of God, What shall wee doe then for the hundred talents which I haue giuen to the host of Israel? The man of God answered, The Lord is able to giue thee much more then they be.

10 And Amazia separated the armie that was come to him out of Ephraim, to goe home againe: wherefore they were exceeding wroth with Iuda, and returned home in great anger.

11 And Amazia tooke heart, and caried out his people, & went to the salt valley, and smote of the children of Seir, ten thousand.

12 And other ten thousande did the children of Iuda take aliue, and caried them vnto the top of a roche, & cast them downe from the top of the roche, that they all to burst.

13 But the souldiers of the [b] armie which Amazia sent away that they shoulde not goe with his people to battell, fell vpon the cities of Iuda, from Samaria, vnto Bethhoron, and smote three thousande of them, and tooke much spoyle.

[b] That is, the hundred thousand of Israel.

14 And after that Amazia was come from the slaughter of the Edomites hee brought the gods of the children of Seir, and set them vp to be his gods, and bowed himselfe before them, and burned incense vnto them.

15 Wherefore the Lord was wroth with Amazia, & sent vnto him a Prophet, which sayde vnto him, Why hast thou sought the gods of the people, which were not able to [c] deliuer their own people out of thine hand?

[c] That which can not deliuer others, nor saue it self, is no God, but an idol.

16 And as the Prophet talked with him, the king said vnto him, Haue men made thee of the kings counsell? Ceasse, why wilt thou be beaten? And the Prophet ceassed, and saide, I am sure that God is minded to destroy thee, because thou hast done this, and agreest not vnto my counsell.

17 Then Amazia king of Juda, tooke aduice, and sent to Joas the sonne of Joahaz the sonne of Jehu king of Israel, and sayde, Come, that we may see one another.

2Kin.14.8. 18 And Joas king of Israel, * sent to A-2Kin.14.9. mazia king of Juda, saying, * A thistle that is in Libanon, sent to a Cedar tree of Libanon, saying, Giue thy daughter to my sonne to wife: and there came a wild beast of Libanon, and trode downe the thistle.

19 Thou sayest, Lo, thou hast smitten the Edomites, and thine heart maketh thee proude to glorifie thy selfe: Nowe therefore bide at home, why doest thou prouoke vnto euill, that thou mayest perish, both thou, and Juda with thee?

20 But Amazia would not hearken to him: for it came of God, euen to deliuer them into the hand of their enemies, because they sought counsell at the gods of Edom.

21 And so Joas the king of Israel came vp, and they sawe either other, both he, and Amazia king of Juda at Bethsames, which is in Juda.

22 And Juda was put to the worse before Israel, and they fled euery man to his tent.

23 And Joas the king of Israel tooke Amazia king of Juda the sonne of Joas, the sonne of Joahaz, at Bethsames, and brought him to Hierusalem, and tare the wall of Hierusalem, from the gate of Ephraim, vnto the corner gate, foure hundred cubites.

24 And he tooke away also al the gold and siluer, and all the vessels that were founde in the house of God with Obed Edom, and the treasures of the kings house, the children also that were in hostage, and returned to Samaria.

25 And Amazia the sonne of Joas king of Juda, liued after the death of Joas sonne of Joahaz king of Israel, fifteene yeres.

26 The rest of the acts of Amazia first and last, are they not written in the booke of the kings of Juda and Israel?

27 And after the time that Amazia did turne away from the Lorde, they conspired treason against him in Hierusalem, & when he was fledde to Lachis, they sent to Lachis after him, and slue him there:

28 And brought him vp with horses, and buried him with his fathers in the citie of Juda.

The xxvj. Chapter.

1 Ozias obeying the Lord, prospereth in his enterprises.
16 He waxeth proude, and vsurpeth the Priests office.

THEN all the people of Juda
4.King.14. 21,&15.1. * tooke Ozias, which was sixteene yeeres old, and made him king in the roume of his father Amazia.

2 And hee built Eloth, and brought it againe to Juda, after that the king was laide to sleepe with his fathers.

3 Sixteene yeres olde was Ozias when he began to raigne, and he raigned fiftie and two yeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name also was Jecholia, of Hierusalem.

4 And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, according to all as did his father Amazia.

5 And he sought God in the dayes of Zacharia, who had vnderstanding in the visions of God: and as long as hee sought the Lord, God made him to prosper.

a This was not that Zacharia, which was the sonne of Jehoiada, but some other Prophet of that name.

6 And he went to battel against the Philistines, & brake downe the wall of Geth, & the wal of Jabne, & the wal of Asdod, and built cities about Asdod, & among the Philistines.

7 And God holpe him against the Philistines, and against the Arabians that dwelt in Gur baal, and Hamehunim.

8 And the Ammonites gaue tribute to Ozias, and his name spread abroad euen to the entring in of Egypt: for hee played the man exceedingly.

9 Moreouer, Ozias built towres in Hierusalem by the corner gate, and by the valley gate, and at the turning of the wall, & made them strong.

10 And he built towres in the wildernes, and digged many welles: for hee had much cattel in the valleys and plaines, plowmen, and vinedressers in the mountaines, and in Charmiel: for he loued husbandry.

11 And Ozias had an host of fighting men, that went out to warre in the armie, according to the number of their office, vnder the hand of Jeiel the scribe, and Maalia the ruler, and vnder the hand of Hanania, which was one of the kings lords.

12 And the whole number of the ancient fathers, and of the men of might, were two thousand and fiue hundred.

13 And vnder the hand of them, was the armie of the men of warre, euen three hundred and seuen thousand, and fiue hundred, that made warre with the power of an armie, helping the king against the enemies:

14 And Ozias prouided them throughout all the host, shields, speares, helmets, habergines, bowes and slings for to cast stones.

15 And he made subtile engins in Hierusalem, which hee inuented, and layde on the towres and corners, to shoote arrowes and great stones withall: and his name spread farre abroad, because he had prepared to himselfe marueilous strength.

16 But in his strength b his heart arose to his destruction: for he transgressed against the Lord his God, and went into the temple of the Lord, to burne incense vpon the altar of incense.

b Prosperity pusseth vp the heart of man, and maketh him often to forget God.

17 And Azaria the Priest went in after him, and with him foure score Priests of the Lord, that were valiant men:

18 And they stood against Ozias the king, and and ſaid vnto him, It perteineth not to thee, Ozias, to burne incenſe vnto the Lorde, but to the prieſtes the children of Aaron, that are conſecrated for to offer incenſe: c come therefore out of the ſanctuarie, for thou haſt trespaſſed, and it is no worſhip for thee before the Lord God.

c Though his zeale and intention ſeemed good, yet becauſe they were not reuealed by Gods word, his fact was wicked, and iuſtly puniſhed.

19 And Ozias was wroth, and had incenſe in his hand to burne it, and ſo while he had indignation againſt the prieſtes, the leproſie ſprang in his forehead before the prieſts in the houſe of the Lord, euen beſide the incenſe altar.

20 And Azaria the chiefe Prieſt, with all the other prieſts, looked vpon him, & beholde, he was become a leper in his forehead, and they thruſt him from thence, and he haſted to goe out, becauſe the Lord had ſmitten him.

1.Sam.15.5 Leui.13.46

21 * And Ozias the king continued a leper vnto the day of his death, and dwelt ſeuerall in an houſe, being a leper, and ſhut out of the houſe of the Lorde: and Jotham his ſonne had the gouernaunce of the kings houſe, and iudged the people of the land.

22 The reſt of the actes of Ozias firſt and laſt, did Eſai the Prophet, the ſonne of Amos, write.

23 And ſo Ozias ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the fielde of the buriall which was beſide the ſepulchres of the kings: for they ſayde, He is a leper. And Jotham his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

The xxvij. Chapter.

1 Iotham reigneth, and ouercommeth the Ammonites. 8 His raigne and death. 9 Achas his ſonne raigneth in his ſteade.

2.Reg.15.32.

IOtham * was twentie and fiue yeeres olde when hee began to reigne, and he reigned ſixteene yeeres in Hieruſalem: his mothers name alſo was Jeruſa, the daughter of Sadoc.

2 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the Lord, in all poyntes as did his father Ozias, ſaue that hee came not into the a temple of the Lorde: and the people did yet wickedly.

a To burne incenſe againſt Gods lawe, as Oſias his father did, Chap. 26. 16.

3 He built the high gate of the temple of the Lord, and on the wall (where the houſe of ordinance was) he built much.

4 Moreouer, he built cities in the mountaines of Juda, and in the wood countrey he built caſtles and towres.

5 He fought with the king of the children of Ammon, and preuailed againſt them, and the children of Ammon gaue him the ſame yeere an hundred talents of ſiluer, and tenne thouſand meaſures of wheate, and ten thouſand of barley: ſo much did the children of Ammon giue him the ſecond yeere, and the third alſo.

6 So Jotham became mightie, b becauſe hee directed his wayes before the Lord his God.

b All prudence commeth of God, who cannot falſely ſpeak that put their truſt in him.

7 The reſt of the actes of Jotham, and all his warres, and his conuerſation, loe, they are written in the booke of the kings of Iſrael and Juda.

8 Hee was fiue and twentie yeeres olde when he beganne to reigne, and reigned ſixteene yeeres in Hieruſalem.

9 And Jotham ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie of Dauid: and Achas his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

The xxviij. Chapter.

1 Achas an idolater is giuen into the hands of the Syrians and the king of Iſrael. 23 Achas encreaſeth his idolatrie. 26 His death, and ſucceſſour.

4.Reg.16.2

AChas * was twentie yeeres old when hee began to reigne, and reigned ſixteene yeeres in Hieruſalem, and hee did not that which is right in the ſight of the Lorde, as did his father Dauid.

4.Reg.16.3

2 * For hee walked in the wayes of the kings of Iſrael, and made molten images for Baalim.

3 Hee offered incenſe in the valley of the ſonne of Hinnom, and burnt his children in fire, after the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lorde caſt out before the children of Iſrael.

4 He offred alſo, and burnt incenſe in the high places, and on mountaines, and vnder euery greene tree.

5 Wherefore the Lord his God deliuered him into the hand of the king of the Syrians, which ſmote him, and caried away a great multitude of his captiue, and brought them to Damaſcus: and hee was deliuered into the hand of the king of Iſrael, which ſmote him with a great ſlaughter.

6 For Pecah the ſonne of Romelia ſlew in Juda an hundred and twentie thouſand in one day, which were all fighting men: and that becauſe they had forſaken the Lord God of their fathers.

7 And Zichri a ‖ mightie man of Ephraim, ſlew Maaſia the kings ſonne, and Aſrica the gouernour of the houſe, and Elcana that was next to the king.

‖ Or, tyrant.

8 And the children of Iſrael tooke priſoners of their brethren, two hundred thouſand women, ſonnes, and daughters, and caried away much ſpoyle of them, and brought the ſpoyle to Samaria.

9 But there was a prophet of the Lords, whoſe name was Obed: and hee went out before the hoſte that came to Samaria, and ſayde vnto them, Beholde, becauſe the Lorde God of your fathers is wroth with Juda, a he hath deliuered them into your hand, and ye haue ſlaine them with cruelneſſe that reacheth vp to heauen.

a All victory commeth of God.

10 And nowe yee purpoſe to keepe vnder the children of Juda and Hieruſalem, and to make them bondmen and bondwomen: and doe ye not lade your ſelues with ſinne in the ſight of the Lord your God?

11 Nowe heare me therefore, and deliuer the captiues againe which ye haue taken of your brethren: for els shall the great wrath of God be vpon you.

12 Wherefore certaine of the heads of the children of Ephraim, as Azaria the sonne of Johanan, Berechia, the sonne of Meshillemoth, and Ezechias the sonne of Sallum, and Amasa the sonne of Hadlai, stoode vp against them that came from the warre:

13 And saide vnto them, Bring not in the captiues hither: for whereas wee haue offended toward God already, yee intende to adde more to our sinnes and trespasse: for our trespasse is great already, and there is a fierce wrath against Israel.

14 And vpon that, the men of armes left the captiues, and the spoyle before the lordes and all the congregation:

15 And the men that were nowe rehearsed by name, rose vp, and tooke the prisoners, and with the spoyle clothed all that were naked among them, & arayed them, and shooed them, and gaue them to eate and to drinke, and anoynted them, and caried all that were feeble of them vpon asses, and brought them to Jericho the citie of palme trees, to their brethren: and then they returned to Samaria againe.

16 At that same time did king Achas send vnto the kings of the Syrians, to haue helpe of them.

17 And the Edomites came againe, and slewe some of Juda, and caried away captiues.

18 And the Philistines inuaded the cities in the low countrey, and toward the South of Juda, and tooke Bethsames, and Aialon, and Gederoth, and Socho, with the townes longing thereto, & Thimna with the townes of the same, Gimso and the townes thereof, and dwelt there.

19 For the Lord brought Juda lowe, because of Achas king of ‖ Juda, which made Juda naked, and transgressed sore against the Lord. ‖ Or, Israel.

20 And Thilgath Phalnasar king of the Assyrians, came vpon him, and troubled him, rather then strengthened him.

21 For Achas tooke away a portion out of the house of the Lorde, and out of the kings house, and out of the lordes houses, and gaue vnto the king of the Assyrians: and yet it helped him not.

22 And in the very time of his tribulation, did king Achas trespasse yet more against the Lord.

23 For he offred vnto the gods of Damascus, which [b] smote him, and he said, Because the gods of the kings of Syria helpe them, therefore will I offer to them, that they may helpe me also: but they were his destruction, and the destruction of all Israel. [b] Was be falsly supposed.

24 And Achas gathered together the vessels of the house of God, and brake them, and shut vp the doores of the house of the Lorde, and made him altars in euery corner of Hierusalem.

25 And in all the cities of Juda hee made high places, to burne incense vnto other gods, & angred the Lord God of his fathers.

26 The rest of his actes, and his workes first and last, beholde, they are written in the booke of the kings of Juda and Israel.

27 And Achas slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie of Hierusalem: but brought him not vnto the sepulchres of the kings of Israel, and Hezecia his sonne reigned in his stead.

The xxix. Chapter.

3 Hezecia repaireth the temple, and aduertiseth the Leuites of the corruption of religion.

HEzecia * began to reigne when he was fiue and twentie yeeres olde, and hee reigned nine and twentie yeeres in Hierusalem: and his mothers name was Abia, the daughter of Zacharia. * 4. Reg. 18.

2 And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord in all poynts, as did Dauid his father.

3 Hee opened the [a] doores of the house of the Lord, in the first yeere and first [b] moneth of his reigne, and repaired them. [a] Why then Jehu let not vp. [b] The temple fell all ruine, that first of all they clensed the true religion of God.

4 And he brought in the Priestes and the Leuites, and gathered them together into the East streete,

5 And sayde vnto them, Heare me, ye Leuites, and nowe be sanctified, and halow the house of the Lord God of your fathers, [c] bring filthinesse out of the holy place. [c] Meaning of the dead, stones, grauen, and idolatrous things vsed in the seruice, and superstition of the temple done before.

6 For our fathers haue trespalled, & done euill in the eyes of the Lorde our God, and haue forsaken him, and turned away their faces from the ‖ habitation of the Lord, and turned their backes on it. ‖ Or, tabernacle.

7 And beside that, they haue shut vp the doores of the porch, and quenched the lamps, and haue neither burnt incense, nor offered whole burnt offerings in the holy place vnto the God of Israel.

8 [d] Wherefore the wrath of the Lord fell on Juda & Hierusalem, and he hath brought them to trouble, to be wondred on, and to be hissed at, euen as ye see with your eyes. [d] The true cause of all the plagues, and the cause of their plagues.

9 For loe, our fathers were ouerthrowen with the sworde, and our sonnes, our daughters, and our wiues were caried away captiue for the same cause.

10 And now it is in mine heart to make a couenant with the Lord God of Israel, that he may turne away his heauie indignation from vs.

11 Now therefore, my sonnes, be not negligent: for the Lord hath chosen you to stand before him, and for to minister & serue him, and to burne incense.

12 Then the Leuites arose, Mahath the sonne of Amasai, and Joel the sonne of Azaria, of the children of the Caathites: and of the sonnes of Merari, Cis the sonne of Abdi, and and Azaria the ſonne of Iahaleleel: and of the ſonnes of the Gerſonites, Joah the ſonne of Zimma, and Eden the ſonne of Joah:

13 And of the ſonnes of Elizaphan, Simri and Jeiuel: and of the ſonnes of Aſaph, Zacharia and Mattthania:

14 And of the ſonnes of Heman, Jehiel, and Simei: and of the ſonnes of Idithun, Semaia, and Oziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and purified themſelues, and came according to the commaundement of the king, and the words of the Lord, for to cleanſe the houſe of the Lord.

16 And the prieſtes went into the inner parts of the houſe of the Lord, to cleanſe it, and brought out all the vncleanneſſe that they found in the temple of the Lord, into the court of the houſe of the Lord: & the Leuites tooke it, to cary it out into the brooke Cedron.

17 They began the firſt day of the firſt moneth to purifie, and the eight day of the moneth came they to the porch of the Lorde: ſo they ſanctified the houſe of the Lord in eight dayes, and in the ſixteenth day of the firſt moneth they made an ende.

18 And they went in to Hezecia the king, and ſayde, We haue cleanſed all the houſe of the Lord, the altar of whole burnt offering, with all his veſſels, and the Shew bread table, with all his ‖ appatell:

‖Or, veſſels.

19 And all the veſſels which king Achaz did caſt aſide when he reigned & tranſgreſſed, them wee haue prepared and ſanctified, and beholde, they are before the altar of the Lord.

20 And Hezecia the king roſe earely, and gathered the lordes of the citie, and went vp to the houſe of the Lord.

21 And they brought ſeuen oxen, ſeuen rammes, ſeuen ſheepe, and ſeuen hee goates, to be a ſinne offring, for the kingdome, for the ſanctuarie, and for Juda: and hee commanded the prieſtes, the ſonnes of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 And they ſlew the oxen, and the prieſts receiued the blood, and * ſprinkled it on the altar: likewiſe when they had ſlaine the rammes, they ſprinkled the blood vpon the altar: they ſlewe alſo the ſheepe, and they ſprinkled the blood vpon the altar.

* Or, without ſhedding of blood, nothing could be ſanctified.

23 And then they brought forth the hee goates for the ſinne offering, before the king and the congregation, and † put their hands vpon them.

† They that offred a ſinne offering, muſt lay their hands vpon it: Meaning, that they themſelues had deſerued that death: and alſo that they did conſecrate it to God, thereby to be ſanctified, Ex. 29.10.

24 And the prieſtes ſlewe them, and with the blood of them they cleanſed the altar, to make ſatisfaction for all Iſrael: for the king commaunded that the whole burnt offering and the ſinne offering ſhould be made for all Iſrael.

25 And ſet the Leuites in the houſe of the Lord, with cymbales, ſalteries, and harpes, according to the commaundement of Dauid, and of Gad the kings Seer, and Nathan the prophet: for ſo was the commaundement of the Lord through the hand of his prophets.

26 And the Leuites ſtood, hauing the inſtruments of Dauid: and the prieſts held the trumpets.

27 And Hezecia commanded to offer the whole burnt offering vpon the altar: And when the whole burnt offering began, the ſong of the Lord began alſo, and the trumpets, with the inſtruments that were ordeined by the hand of Dauid king of Iſrael.

28 And all the congregation worſhipped, ſinging a ſong, and blowing with the trumpets: and all this continued vntill the whole burnt offering was finiſhed.

29 And when they had made an end of offering, the king and all that were preſent with him, bowed themſelues, and worſhipped.

30 And Hezecia the king, and the lordes ſpake to the Leuites, to praiſe the Lord with the words of Dauid and of Aſaph the Seer: and they ſang prayſes with gladneſſe, and the other bowed themſelues, and worſhipped. 1.Chr.16.8.

31 And Hezecia anſwered and ſaid, Now yee haue conſecrated your handes vnto the Lord: goe to therefore, and bring the ſacrifices and thanke offrings into the houſe of the Lorde. And the congregation brought in the ſacrifices and thanke offerings, and whole burnt offrings, as many as were of a free liberall heart.

32 And the number of the whole burnt offerings, which the congregation brought, was threeſcore and tenne oxen, an hundred rammes, & two hundred ſheepe: which were all for the whole burnt offring of the Lord.

33 And there were dedicated ſixe hundred oxen, and three thouſand ſheepe.

34 And the prieſts were too few to ſlay all the whole burnt offrings: but their brethren the Leuites did helpe them, till they had ended the worke, and vntill the prieſtes were ſanctified: for the Leuites were purer hearted to be ſanctified then the prieſts.

35 And thereto the whole burnt offrings were many, with the fatte of the peace offerings, and the drinke offerings that belong to the whole burnt offering: and ſo the ſeruice, pertaining to the houſe of the Lorde, was finiſhed.

36 And Hezecia reioyced, and all the people, that God had made the folke ſo readie, and that the thing was ſo done.

The xxx. Chapter.

The keeping of the Paſſeouer by the kings commandement.

AND Hezecia ſent to all Iſrael and Juda, and wrote letters to Ephraim & Manaſſe, that they ſhould come to the houſe of the Lord at Hieruſalem, and keepe the Paſſeouer vnto the Lord God of Iſrael.

a Though they ought to haue done it at the firſt moneth, as Exod. 12. yet if any were not clean or had a long iourney, they might defer it to the ſecond moneth, as Num. 9.10.

2 And the king helde a counſell with his lordes, and all the congregation of Hieruſalem, to keepe the feaſt of Paſſeouer in the a ſecond moneth;

3 For they could not keepe it at that time, because the Priests were not sanctified sufficiently, neither was the people gathered together to Hierusalem.

4 And the thing pleased the king and all the congregation.

5 And they decreed that it shoulde bee proclaimed throughout all Israel, from Beersheba to Dan, that they should come and holde the feast of Passeouer vnto the Lorde God of Israel at Hierusalem: for they had not done it of a great season as it was [b] written.

b That is, in such sort and perfection as God had appointed.

6 So the postes went with letters of the kings and of his lords, throughout all Israel and Juda, and at the commandement of the king they sayde, Ye children of Israel, turne againe vnto the Lord God of Abraham, Isahac, and Israel, and hee will returne to the remnant that are escaped of you out of the hand of the kings of the Assyrians.

7 And be not ye like your fathers and your brethren, which trespassed against the Lord God of their fathers, which gaue them vp to be destroyed, as ye see.

8 And nowe be not ye stiffenecked like as were your fathers: but yeeld your selues vnto the Lorde, and enter into his holy place, which hee hath sanctified for euer, and serue the Lord your God, and the fiercenesse of his wrath shall turne away from you.

9 For if yee turne againe vnto the Lord, then shall your brethren and your children finde compassion in the presence of them that tooke them captiue, & they shall come againe vnto this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and mercifull, and will not turne away his face from you, if ye conuert vnto him.

10 And so the postes went from citie to citie, through the land of Ephraim, and Manasse, euen vnto Zabulon: but they laughed them to scorne, and mocked them.

11 Neuertheless, yet diuers of Aser, Manasse, and of Zabulon, submitted themselues, and came to Hierusalem.

12 And the hand of God was in Juda, and hee gaue them one heart to doe the commandement of the king, and of the rulers, according to the word of the Lord.

13 And there assembled to Hierusalem much people, and there was present a mightie great congregation, to holde the feast of sweete bread in the second moneth.

14 And they arose, and remooued the altars that were in Hierusalem: and all the altars for incense did they away, and cast them into the brooke Cedron.

15 And they slewe the Passeouer the fourteenth day of the second moneth: & the priests and Leuites which were [c] ashamed, sanctified themselues, and brought in the whole burnt offrings into the house of the Lord.

c Seeing their owne negligence, and the readinesse of the people.

16 And they stoode in their office after their maner, and according to the lawe of Moses the man of God: and the priestes sprinkled the blood which they receiued of the hand of the Leuites.

17 For there were many in the congregation that were not sanctified, and therefore the Leuites had the charge of the killing of the Passeouer for euery one that was not cleane, to sanctifie him vnto the Lord.

18 For many of the people, and very many of Ephraim, Manasse, Isachar, and Zabulon, were not cleansed, and yet did eate the Passeouer, against the lawe appoynted: but Hezecia prayed for them, saying, The good Lord be mercifull toward euery one,

19 That prepareth his heart to seeke the Lord God, the God of his fathers, though he be not cleansed according to the purification of the sanctuarie.

20 And the Lord heard Hezecia, and [d] healed the people.

d That is, to accept them as purified.

21 And the children of Israel that were present at Hierusalem, held the feast of sweet bread seuen dayes with great gladnesse: and the Leuites and the priests praised the Lord day by day, singing with loude instruments vnto the Lord.

22 And Hezecia spake ‖ comfortably vnto all the Leuites that had good knowledge to sing vnto the Lord: and they did eat throughout that feast seuen dayes long, and offered peace offrings, and thanked the Lord God of their fathers.

‖ Or, to the heart.

23 And the whole assembly tooke counsell to doe so other seuen dayes: and they helde those seuen dayes with gladnesse.

24 For Hezecia king of Juda, did giue to the congregation [e] a thousand young oxen, and seuen thousand sheepe: and the lordes gaue out to the congregatiō a thousand oxen, and tenne thousand sheepe, and a great number of the priests were sanctified.

e Hezecia bestowed his goodes liberally, for the setting forth of Gods glory.

25 And al the congregation of Juda, with the Priestes and Leuites, and all the congregation that came out of Israel, & the strangers that came out of the land of Israel, and that dwelt in Juda, reioyced.

26 And there was great gladnesse in Hierusalem: for since the time of Solomon the sonne of Dauid king of Israel, there was no such ioy in Hierusalem.

27 And the Priests and the Leuites arose, and blessed the people: and their voyce was heard of the Lord, and their prayer came vp vnto heauen his holy dwelling place.

The xxxi. Chapter.

1 The people destroy idolatrie. 2 Hezecia appoynteth Priests and Leuites, 4 and prouideth for the liuing.

NOw when all these things were finished, all Israel that were present in the cities of Juda, went out and brake the images, and cut downe the groues, and all to brake the high places and altars throughout all Juda and Beniamin, in Ephraim also and Manasse, vntill they had vterly destroyed them all: and all the children of Israel returned euery man to his possession, and to their owne cities.

2 And

2 And Hezecia appointed sundry companies of the Priestes and Leuites, after the diuersitie of their ministrations, euery man according to his office, both Priests and Leuites, for the whole burnt offering and peace offerings, to minister and to giue thankes and prayse in the gates of the [a] hoste of the Lorde.

[a] That is, in the temple where they assembled.

3 And the kings portion of his substance that hee gaue, were dayly whole burnt offerings in the morning and euening, & whole burnt offerings for the Sabboth dayes, new moones, and solemne feastes, according as it is written in the lawe of the Lorde.

4 And hee bade the people that dwelt in Hierusalem, to giue a [b] part to the Priests and Leuites, that they might with more courage apply them selues to the lawe of the Lorde.

[b] The tithes and first fruits do the maintenance of the Priests and Leuites.

5 And as soone as the kings commandement came abroade, the children of Israel brought abundance of first fruites of corne, wine, oyle, honie, and of all maner of fruites of the fielde, and the tithes of all maner of things brought they in plenteously.

6 And the children of Israel and Juda, that dwelt in the cities of Juda, they also brought in the tithes of oxen and sheepe, and other holy tithes, which were consecrate vnto the Lorde their God, and layde them all by heapes.

7 In the third moneth they began to lay the heapes in maner of a foundation, and finished them in the seuenth moneth.

8 And when Hezecia and the lordes came and sawe the heapes, they blessed the Lorde, and his people Israel.

9 And Hezecia questioned with the priests and the Leuites concerning the heapes.

10 And Azaria the chiefe Priest, of the house of Sadoc, answered him, & said, Since the people began to bring the heaue offrings into the house of the Lorde, [c] wee also haue had ynough to eate, and yet remaineth plentie: for the Lorde hath blessed his people, and this heape is left.

[c] The ministers were liberally prouided for.

11 And Hezecia bade prepare the ‖ chambers in the house of the Lorde: and they did prepare them,

‖ Or, storehouses.

12 And caryed in the first fruites, the tithes, and the dedicate things faithfully, ouer which Chonenia the Leuite had the rule, and Semei his brother next to him:

13 And Jehiel, Azaria, Nahath, Asael, Jerimoth, Iosabad, Eliel, Jesmachia, Mahath, and Banaia, were ouerseers, ordeined by Chonenia, and Semei his brother was an officer of Hezecia the king, and Azaria was the ruler of the house of God.

14 And Chore the sonne of Imma the Leuite, and porter of the East doore, had the ouersight of the things that were offered of a free will vnto God, to distribute the oblations of the Lorde, and the holy things that were consecrate.

15 And vnder his hand were Eden, Miniamin, Jesua, Semaia, Amaria, and Sechania, in the cities of the priestes, appointed of their fidelitie to giue to their brethren their partes, as well to the small, as to the great:

16 Also to their generation, being males, from three yeeres olde and vpward, euen vnto euery one that entreth into the house of the Lorde, they shall giue day by day for their ministration, & for their giuing attendance, and for their diuers waitings by course,

17 Both to the generation of the Priests and Leuites, throughout the housholde of their fathers, from twentie yeeres and aboue, to waite when their courses came:

18 And to the families of all their babes, wiues, sonnes and daughters, through all the congregation: for vpon the fidelitie of them, were the holy things bestowed:

19 And to the children of Aaron the priests which were in the fieldes and suburbes of their cities, city by citie, [d] men whose names were expressed afore, should giue portions, to all the males among the Priestes, and to all the Leuites, according to their number.

[d] Or, by name.

20 And of this maner did Hezecia throwout all Juda, and wrought that is good and right and true before the Lorde his God.

21 And in all the workes that he began for the seruice of the house of God, according to the lawe and the commaundements, hee sought his God: and that did he with all his heart, and prospered.

The xxxij. Chapter.

1 Sennacherib inuadeth Iuda. 3 Hezecia prepareth for the warre. 7 He exhorteth the people to put their trust in the Lorde.

AFter that these deedes were faithfully done, *Sennacherib king of the Assyrians came, and entred into Juda, and compassed the strong cities, & thought to winne them for him selfe. *4. Kings 18.13. esay 36.1. ecclus 48.19.

2 And so when Hezecia sawe that Sennacherib was come, and that hee was purposed to fight against Hierusalem,

3 Hee tooke counsell with his lordes and men of might, to stop the water of the fountaines without the citie: and they did helpe him.

4 For there gathered many of the people together, and stopt all the welles, and the brooke that ran throwe the middes of the land, saying, Why shall the kings of the Assyrians come, and finde much water?

5 And Hezecia went to lustily, and built vp the wall where it was broken, and made the towers, and another wall without, and repaired Millo in the citie of Dauid, and made many dartes and shieldes.

6 And he set captaines of warre ouer the people, and gathered them together to him in the large streete of the gate of the citie, and spake gently to them, saying,

7 Plucke vp your hearts, and be strong, be not afraid nor discouraged for the king of the Aſſyrians, and for all the multitude that he hath with him: for there be moe with vs then with him.

a That is, the power of man.

8 With him is an arme of a fleſh, but with vs the b Lord our God, for to helpe vs, and to fight our battels. And the people tooke a courage through the wordes of Hezecia king of Juda.

b This declareth that Hezecia did euer put his truſt in God, and yet made himſelfe ſtrong & vſed lawfull meanes, leaſt he ſhould ſéeme to tempt God.

9 After this did Sennacherib king of the Aſſyrians ſende of his ſeruants to Hieruſalem (but hee him ſelfe remained beſide Lachis, hauing all his power with him) vnto Hezecia king of Juda, and vnto all Juda that were at Hieruſalem, ſaying, 10 Thus ſayth Sennacherib king of the Aſſyrians, wherein doe ye truſt, O ye that dwell in Hieruſalem which is beſieged?

11 Doeth not Hezecia entice you to giue ouer your ſelues vnto death, hunger, and thirſt, ſaying, The Lord our God ſhall rid vs out of the hand of the king of the Aſſyrians?

12 Hath not the ſame Hezecia put downe his high places and his c altars, and commanded Juda and Hieruſalem, ſaying, Ye ſhall worſhip before one altar, and burne incenſe vpon the ſame?

c The wicked make no difference betwene true religion and falſe.

13 Know ye not what I and my fathers haue done vnto all people of the landes? were the gods of the people of other lands able or mightie to ſaue their lands out of my hand?

14 Which of all the gods of thoſe nations that my fathers deſtroyed, could deliuer his people out of my hand? And ſhall your God be able to deliuer you out of my hand?

15 Wherefore nowe let not Hezecia deceiue you, nor perſwade you of this faſhion, nor yet beleeue him: For as no God among all nations and kingdomes was able to ridde his people out of my hand, and out of the hand of my fathers: howe much leſſe ſhall your gods be able to keepe you out of my hand?

16 And yet moe things did his ſeruants ſpeake againſt the Lorde God, and againſt his ſeruant Hezecia.

17 And Sennacherib alſo wrote a letter to rayle on the Lorde God of Iſrael, and ſpake againſt him, ſaying, As the gods of the nations of other lands haue not bene able to deliuer their people out of my hand: euen ſo ſhall not the God of Hezecia deliuer his people out of my hand.

18 And they cryed with a loude voyce in the Iewes ſpeach vnto the people of Hieruſalem that were on the wall, to feare them, and to make them faint hearted, and that they might take the citie.

19 And they ſpake againſt the God of Hieruſalem, as againſt the gods of the nations of the earth, which were the workes of the hands of men.

d Prayer is the beſt refuge in all troubles and dangers.

20 But Hezecia the king, and the Prophet Eſai the ſonne of Amos d prayed againſt that blaſphemie, and cryed vp to heauen.

21 And the Lorde ſent an Angel, which deſtroyed all the men of warre, and the lords and captaines of the hoſte of the king of the Aſſyrians, that hee turned his face againe with ſhame towarde his owne land: and when hee was come into the houſe of his god, they that came of his owne body ſlewe him there with the ſworde.

22 And ſo the Lorde ſaued Hezecia and the inhabiters of Hieruſalem out of the hand of Sennacherib the king of the Aſſyrians, and from the hand of all other, and mainteined them on euery ſide.

23 And many brought offrings vnto the Lord to Hieruſalem, and preſents to Hezecia king of Juda: ſo that hee was magnified in the ſight of all nations from thencefoorth.

24 In thoſe dayes * Hezecia was ſicke to the death, and prayed vnto the Lorde: which anſwered him, and ſhewed him a wonderfull miracle. 4. Kin. 20. 1. eſai. 38. 1.

25 But Hezecia did not againe vnto God according to it that he had ſhewed him: for his heart aroſe, and there came wrath vpon him, and vpon Juda and Hieruſalem.

26 Notwithſtanding, Hezecia ſubmitted him ſelfe, after that his heart was riſen vp, he, and the inhabiters of Hieruſalem: and the wrath of the Lorde came not vpon them in the dayes of Hezecia.

27 And Hezecia had exceeding much riches and honour: and hee gate him treſures of ſiluer and golde, precious ſtones, and ſpices, ſhieldes, and of all maner pleaſant iewels, 28 And made ſtore houſes for the fruites of corne, for wine and oyle, and ſtalles for all maner of beaſtes, and coates for ſheepe.

29 And hee made him cities, and had of ſheepe and oxen great abundance: for God had giuen him ſubſtance exceeding much.

30 This ſame Hezecia ſtopped the vpper water ſpringes of c Gion, and brought them downe to the weſt ſide of the citie of Dauid: and Hezecia proſpered in all his workes. c Which also was called Ioa.

31 And when * the princes of Babylon ſent vnto him ambaſſadours, to enquire of the wonder that was done in the land, God left him, f to trie him, and that all that was in his heart might be knowen. 4. King 20. 12. f God tempteth his holy ſaints, to trie them.

32 The reſt of the deedes of Hezecia, and his goodneſſe, beholde, they are written in the viſion of Eſai the Prophet the ſonne of Amos, in the booke of the kings of Juda and Iſrael.

33 And Hezecia ſlept with his fathers, and they buryed him in the moſt worthy place of the ſepulchres of the ſonnes of Dauid, and all Juda and the inhabiters of Hieruſalem did him honour at his death: and Manaſſes his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

The xxxiij. Chapter.

1 Manaſſes an idolater, 9 cauſeth Iuda to erre: 11 He is led priſoner into Babylon.

Manaſſes

4. Kin. 21. 1 MAnasses was twelue yeres old when he began to raigne, and he raigned fiftie and fiue yeres in Hierusalem:

2 But did euill in the sight of the Lorde, like vnto the abominations of the heathen, whome the Lorde cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he went backe, and built the high places which Hezecia his father had broken downe: and he reared vp altars for Baalim, and made groues, and worshipped all the hoste of heauen, and serued them.

4 And he built altars in the house of the
2. Reg. 7. 10 Lord, where as the Lorde yet had said, *In Hierusalem shall my name be for euer.

5 And hee builded altars for all the hoste of heauen, in the two courtes of the house of the Lord.

6 And he burnt his children in fire in the valley of the sonne of Hinnom: he was a sorcerer, he regarded the crying of birdes, vsed enchantments, and maintained workers with spirites, and seers of fortunes, and wrought much euill in the sight of the Lord to anger him withall.

7 And hee put the carued image, and an idol which he had made, in the house of God:
1. Reg. 7. 10. 3. Reg. 8. 16 of which house God said to Dauid and to Solomon his sonne, In this house, and in Hierusalem which I haue chosen afore all the tribes of Israel, will I put my Name for euer.

8 Neither will I make the foote of Israel to remooue any more out of the lande which I haue ordeined for your fathers, if so bee that they will be diligent, and doe all that I haue commaunded them in all the lawe and statutes, and ordinances by the hande of Moses.

9 And so Manasses made Iuda, and the inhabiters of Hierusalem to erre, and to doe worse then the heathen whome the Lord destroyed before the children of Israel.

a Meaning by his prophets. 10 And the Lorde spake a vnto Manasses, and to his people: but they would not regarde.

11 Wherefore the Lorde brought vpon them the captaines of the hoste of the king of the Assyrians, which tooke Manasses, and bounde him with fetters and chaines, and caryed him to Babylon.

12 And when he was in tribulation, hee besought the Lorde his God, and humbled him selfe exceedingly before the God of his fathers, b Affliction giueth vnderstanding. 13 And made intercession to him, and God was b intreated of him, and heard his prayer, and brought him againe to Hierusalem into his kingdome: and then Manasses knewe that the Lorde was God.

14 After this he built a wall without the citie of Dauid, on the west side of Gion, in the valley as they come to the fish gate, and round about Ophel, and brought it vp of a very great height, & put captaines of warre in all the strong cities of Iuda.

15 And he tooke away straūge gods & images out of the house of God, & all the altars that he had built in the mount of the house of God & Hierusalē, & cast them out of the citie.

16 And he prepared the altar of the Lord, and sacrificed thereon peace offeringes, and thanke offerings, and charged Iuda to serue the Lorde God of Israel.

17 Neuertheless, the people did offer still in the high places, howbeit vnto the Lorde their God onely.

18 The rest of the actes of Manasses, and his prayer vnto his God, & the wordes of the Seers that spake to him in the name of the Lorde God of Israel, beholde, they are written in the sayings of the kings of Israel.

19 And his prayer, and how that he was heard, and all his sinnes, and his trespasse, and the places where hee made high places, and set vp groues and images before he was humbled, beholde, they are written among the sayings of the Seers.

20 And Manasses slept with his fathers, and they buried him in his owne house, and Amon his sonne reigned in his roome.

c Because he had so horribly offended against the Lord they did not burie him in the sepulchre of the kings, but in the garden of the kings house.

21 Amon was two and twentie yeeres olde when he began to raigne, and raigned two yeeres in Hierusalem.

22 But he did euill in the sight of ỹ Lord, like as did Manasses his father: for Amon sacrificed to al the carued images which Manasses his father had made, & serued them, 23 And submitted not him selfe before the Lord, as Manasses his father had humbled him selfe: but Amon trespassed greatly.

24 And his owne seruants conspired against him, and slew him in his owne house.

25 But the people of the lande slewe all them that had conspired against king Amon: and the same people of the land made Iosias his sonne king in his roume.

The xxxiiij. Chapter.

1 Iosias destroyeth the idoles, 8 and restoreth the temple. 14 The booke of the lawe is founde.

IOsias * was eight yeeres olde when he began to raigne, and he reigned in Hierusalem thirtie and one yeres. 4. Kin. 22. 1

2 And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the wayes of Dauid his father, and bowed neither to the right hand nor to the left.

3 In the eight yeere of his raigne, when he was yet a childe, hee began to seeke after the God of Dauid his father: & in the twelfth yeere he began to purge Iuda and Hierusalem, from the high places, groues, carued images, and images of mettall.

4 And they brake down the altars of Baalim euen in his a presence: & other images that were in greater honour then they, hee caused to bee destroyed: & the groues, carued images, and images of mettal, he brake, and made dust of them, and strowed it vpon the graues of them that had offered vnto them.

a Yee would see the reformation with his own eyes.

5 And he burnt the bones of the priestes vpon the altars of them, and cleansed Juda and Hierusalem:

6 And so did he in the cities of Manasse, Ephraim, Simeon, vnto Nephthali, and in the wildernesse of them round about.

b The godly zeale of this good prince, is a worthie ensample for all princes to followe.

7 He plucked asunder the [b] altars and the groues, and did beat the images and stampe them to powder, and cut downe all the idols throughout al the land of Israel, and returned to Hierusalem againe.

8 In the eighteenth yeere of his reigne, when he had purged the lande and the temple, hee sent Saphan the sonne of Azalia, and Maasiah the gouernour of the citie, and Joah the sonne of Joahaz the recorder, to repaire the house of the Lorde his God.

9 And when they came to Helciah the high priest, they deliuered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the entries had gathered of the hande of Manasse and Ephraim, and of all that yet remained in Israel, and of all Juda and Beniamin, and they returned to Hierusalem.

10 And they put it in the handes of the workemen that had the ouersight of the house of the Lord, and they gaue it to the labourers, that wrought in the house of the Lorde, to repaire and mend the house.

11 Euen to masons and carpenters, gaue they it, to get hewed stone, and timber, for couples, and for beames of the houses, which the kings of Juda had destroyed.

c Faithfull officers.

12 And the men did the worke [c] vpon trust: and the ouerseers of them to courage them forward, were Jahath and Obadia, Leuites of the children of Merari: and Zecharia and Mesullam of the children of the Caathites, and other of the Leuites, which all could skill of instruments of musike.

13 And ouer the bearers of burdens, and ouer all that wrought in whatsoeuer workmanship it were, were there scribes, officers, and porters of the Leuites.

14 And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lorde, Helcia the priest founde the booke of the lawe of the Lord giuen by Moses.

15 And Helcia answered and said to Saphan the scribe, I haue founde the booke of the law in the house of the Lorde. And Helcia gaue the booke to Saphan.

d For the king was commanded to haue continually a copie of this booke, and to reade therein day & night, Deut. 17.

16 And Saphan [d] caried the booke to the king, and brought the king worde againe, saying, All that was committed to thy seruants, that doe they.

17 And they haue gathered together the money that was founde in the house of the Lorde, and haue deliuered it into the hands of the ouerseers of the worke, & to the hands of the workemen.

18 And then Saphan the scribe shewed the king, saying, Helcia the priest hath giuen me a booke: and Saphan read in it before the king.

19 And when the king had heard the wordes of the law, he [e] tare his clothes.

e For lyuely that the images of God put downe so long supplyeth.

20 And the king commaunded Helcia and Ahican the sonne of Saphan, & Abdon the sonne of Micah, and Saphan the scribe, and Asaa, a seruant of the kings, saying, 21 Goe and enquire of the Lorde for me, and for them that are left in Israel and Juda, concerning the wordes of the booke that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lorde that is fallen vpon vs, because our fathers haue not kept the word of the Lord, to doe after all that is written in this booke.

22 And Helcia, and they that the king had appointed, went to Hulda a prophetisse, the wife of Sallum the sonne of Thecuath, the sonne of Hasra, keeper of the wardrobe (for shee dwelt in Hierusalem within the second wall) and so they communed with her.

23 She answered them, Thus saith the Lorde God of Israel, Tell yee the man that sent you to me,

24 Euen thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will bring euill vpon this place, and vpon the inhabiters thereof, euen all the curses that are written in the booke which they haue read before the king of Juda:

25 Because they haue forsaken me, and haue offered vnto other gods, to anger me with all maner workes of their handes: therefore is my wrath set on fire against this place, and shall not be quenched.

26 And as for the king of Juda, which sent you to enquire of the Lorde, so shall yee say vnto him, Thus saith the Lorde God of Israel, concerning the wordes which thou hast heard, f The ende of Gods threatnings, is to our repentance.

27 Because thine heart did [f] melt, and thou diddest humble thy selfe before God, when thou heardest his wordes against this place, and against the inhabiters thereof, & humbledst thy selfe before mee, and taredst thy clothes, and diddest weepe before me, I haue heard it also, saith the Lord.

28 Beholde, I will take thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the mischiefe that I will bring vpon this place, and vpon the inhabiters of the same. * And they brought the king worde againe. 4. Kin. 22. 1

29 Then the king sent, and gathered together all the elders of Juda & Hierusalem:

30 And the king went vp into the house of the Lord, and all the men of Juda, and the inhabiters of Hierusalem, and the priestes and Leuites, and all the people great and small, and the king did read in their eares all the wordes of the booke of the couenant that was founde in the house of the Lorde.

31 And the king stoode at his standing, and made a couenant before the Lorde, to followe the Lorde, and to keepe his commaundements, his witnesses, and his statutes, with all his heart, and with all his soule, and to fulfill the wordes of the couenant written in the said booke.

32 And he set in their roume al them that were found in Hierusalem and Beniamin: and the inhabiters of Hierusalem did according to the couenant of the Lord God of their fathers.

33 And Iosias put away al maner of abominations out of all lands that pertained to the children of Israel, & constrained all that were found in Israel, to serue the Lord their God: & they turned not aside from the Lorde God of their fathers, as long as he liued.

& Because he had charge ouer all, & must answer for euery one that perished, he thought it his duetie to see that all should make profession to receiue the word of God.

The xxxv. Chapter.

1 Iosias keepeth the Passeouer. 2 He setteth forth Gods seruice. 20 He fighteth against the king of Egypt, and dieth. 24 The people bewaile him.

AND *Iosias held the feast of Passeouer vnto ỹ Lord in Hierusalem, & they a slew the Passeouer in the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

a The scripture vseth in sundry places to cal ỹ name the Passeouer, which was but the signe of the Passeouer, because in al sacraments the signs haue the names of the things which are signified.

2 And hee set the priestes in their offices, and ayded them in the seruice of the house of the Lord,

3 And said vnto the Leuites that taught all Israel, & were sanctified vnto the Lord, put the holy arke in the house which Solomon the sonne of Dauid king of Israel did build, it shall be no more a burden vpon your shulders: but now serue the Lord your God, and his people Israel.

4 And prepare your selues by your ancient houshold and companies, according to the writing of Dauid king of Israel, and the writing of Solomon his sonne:

5 And stand in the holy place, according to the diuision of the ancient houseliolde of your brethren the children of the people, and after the diuision of the ancient housholds of the Leuites:

6 Kill the Passeouer, and sanctifie your selues, and prepare your brethren, that they may do according to the word of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

7 And Iosias gaue to the people, sheepe, lambes, and kids, all for the Passeouer, and for all that were present, thirtie thousand by tale, & three thousand oxen: and these were of the kings substance.

8 And his lords gaue willingly both vnto the people, and to the priests, & vnto the Leuites, Helcia also, Zacharia, & Iehiel, rulers of the house of God, gaue vnto the priests for the Passeouer offerings, two thousand and fiue hundred sheepe, and three hundred oxen.

b liberal prouision for the ministerie.

9 b Cononia, Semeia, and Nathanael, his brethren, and Hazabiah, and Iehiel, and Iosabad, rulers of the Leuites, gaue vnto the Leuites Passeouer offerings, fiue thousand sheepe, and fiue hundred oxen.

10 And so the seruice was prepared, and the priests stood in their places, and the Leuites in their distinct companies, at ỹ kings commandement:

11 And they slew the Passeouer, and the priests sprinckled the blood with their hand, and the Leuites pulled off the skinnes of the beasts.

12 And they set away the whole burnt offerings, to giue them vnto the people that were diuided by auncient houses: and that they should offer vnto the Lorde, like as it is written in the booke of Moses: and so did they with the oxen also.

13 And they dressed the Passeouer with fire, as the maner was: and the other dedicate beasts, sod they in pots, caldrons, and pans, and diuided them speedily among all the people.

14 And afterward they made readie for themselues, and for the Priestes: for the Priests the children of Aaron were busied in offering of whole burnt offerings, and the fat vntill night: therefore the Leuites prepared for themselues, and for the Priestes the sonnes of Aaron.

15 And the singers the children of Asaph stood in their standing, according to the commaundement of Dauid, and Asaph, Heman, and Idithun, the kings c Seer: and the porters waited at euery gate, and might not depart from their seruice: for their brethren the Leuites prepared for them.

c Meaning, the prophet.

16 And so all the seruice of the Lorde was prepared the same day, to offer the Passeouer, and to offer whole burnt offerings vpon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandement of king Iosias.

17 And the children of Israel that were present, kept the Passeouer the same time, and the feast of sweete bread, seuen dayes.

18 And there was no Passeouer like to that kept in Israel, from the dayes of Samuel the Prophet, neither did all the kings of Israel hold such a Passeouer as did Iosias, and the Priests, and Leuites, and all Iuda and Israel that were present, and the inhabiters of Hierusalem.

19 This Passeouer was holden in the eighteenth yeere of the reigne of Iosias.

20 After all this, *when Iosias had prepared the temple, Necho king of Egypt came vp to fight against Charcamis, beside Euphrates: and Iosias went out against him. 4.Re.23.29

21 Which sent messengers to him, & sayd, what haue I to doe with thee, thou king of Iuda? ‖ Bee not thou against thy selfe this day, for my warre is against another house, and God bade me make haste: leaue off therefore, & meddle not with God which is with me, least he destroy thee.

‖ Or, I come not against thee this day, but against the house of mine enemie.

22 Neuertheles, Iosias would not turne his face from him, ‖ but rather tooke aduise to fight with him, & hearkened not vnto the wordes of Necho, *out of the mouth of God, and came to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

‖ Or, changed his apparell to fight with him. Zach.12.11

23 And the shooters shot darts at king Iosias: and the king said to his seruants, Carry me away, for I am sore wounded.

24 His seruants therefore had him out of that charet, & put him in another charet that they had: and when they had brought him to Hierusalem, hee dyed, and was buried in the the sepulchre of his fathers: and all Juda and Hierusalem mourned for Josias.

25 And Jeremias lamented Josias, and all singing men, and singing women mourned for Josias in their lamentations to this day, and made the same lamentations an ordinance in Israel, and behold, they are written in the lamentations.

26 The rest of the actes of Josias, and his goodnes, as it is written in ỹ law of the Lord, 27 And his sayings first and last, behold they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel and Juda.

4.Re.23.30 AND * the people of the lande tooke Joahaz the sonne of Josias, and made him king in his fathers stead in Hierusalem.

2 And Joahaz was twentie and three yeeres olde when hee began to reigne, and he reigned three monethes in Hierusalem.

3 And the king of Egypt put him downe at Hierusalem, and condemned the land in an hundred talents of siluer, and a talent of gold.

Matt.1.13. 4 And * the king of Egypt made Eliacim his brother king vpon Juda & Hierusalem, and turned his name to Joacim: and Necho tooke Joahaz his brother, and caried him to Egypt.

5 Joacim was twentie and fiue yeres old when he began to reigne, and he reigned eleuen yeeres in Hierusalem, and he did euill in the sight of the Lord his God.

6 Against him came vp Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and bound him with two chaines, to carie him to Babylon.

7 Nabuchodonosor also caried of the vessels of the house of the Lord to Babylon, and put them in his temple at Babylon.

8 The rest of the actes of Joacim, and his abominations which he did, [a] & that which was found vpon him, behold, they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel and Juda, and Joacin his sonne reigned in his stead.

[a] He meaneth the markes of idolatry, which were found printed in his body when he was dead.

4.Reg.24.8 ierc.37.1. 9 * And Joacin was eight yeeres old when he began to reigne, and he reigned three monethes and ten dayes in Hierusalem, and did euill in the sight of the Lord.

10 And when the yeere was out, king Nabuchodonosor sent, and fet him to Babylon, with the goodly vessels of the house of the Lord, and made Zedecia his fathers brother king ouer Juda and Hierusalem.

11 Zedecia was twentie and one yeeres old when he began to reigne, and reigned eleuen yeeres in Hierusalem.

12 * And he did euil in the sight of the Lord his God, & humbled not himselfe before Jeremie the Prophet at the mouth of the Lord. Iere.37.1.

13 And he rebelled against king Nabuchodonosor, which had receiued an othe of him by God: but he was stifnecked, and too hard hearted, to turne vnto ỹ Lord God of Israel.

14 Moreouer, all the chiefe of the Priests, and the people, transgressed wonderfully, after all maner of abominations of the heathē, and polluted the house of the Lord, which he had halowed in Hierusalem.

15 And the Lord God of their fathers sent to thē by his messengers, rising vp betimes, and sending: for hee had compassion on his people, and on his dwelling place.

16 But they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his words, and misused his Prophets, vntill the wrath of the Lord arose against his people, and till there was no remedie.

17 And so he brought vpon them the king of Chaldee, which slew their yong men with the swoorde in their holy temple, and spared neither yong man, mayden, olde man, nor him that stouped for age: he gaue them all into his hand.

18 And all the vessels of the house of God, both great and smal, and the treasures of the house of the Lorde, and the treasures of the king, and of his lordes: all these caried he to Babylon.

19 And they burnt the house of God, and brake down the wall of Hierusalem, & burnt all the palaces thereof with fire, and destroied all the goodly iewels thereof.

20 And the rest that had escaped ỹ swoord, caried he to Babylon: where they were bondmen to him & to his children, vntill the time that Persia had the Empire:

21 To fulfill the woorde of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremie, vntill the lande had her pleasure of her Sabboths: for as long as she lay desolate, shee kept Sabboth, vntill threescore and ten yeeres were fulfilled.

22 And the [b] first yeere of * Cyrus king of Persia (when the woorde of the Lorde, spoken by the mouth of Jeremie, was finished) the Lorde stirred vp the spirite of Cyrus king of Persia, that hee made a proclamation throwout all his kingdome, & that by writing, saying,

23 Thus sayth Cyrus king of Persia, All the kingdomes of the earth hath the Lorde God of heauen giuen me, and hath [c] charged mee to builde him an house in Hierusalem, that is in Juda: wherefore whosoeuer is among you of all his people, the Lord his God be with him, and let him goe vp.

A verie profitable declaration for the vnderstanding of the histories of Esdras, Nehemias, Esther, Daniel, and diuers other places of Scripture, very darke, by reason of the discord that is among Historiographers, and among the expositors of the holy Scriptures, touching the successiue order of the kings or Monarchies of Babylon and of Persia: of the yeeres that the sayd Monarches lasted, from the transmigration of the Iewes vnder Nabuchodonosor, vntill the Monarchie of the Greekes, and of the confusion that is in the names of the kings of Persia.

This is the cause why Cambyses was not set in the succession order of the Monarchies. 3 Whosoeuer nowe among you is of his people, the Lorde his God be with him, and let him goe vp to Hierusalem in Juda, and builde the house of the Lorde God of Israel, (hee is the God) that is at Hierusalem.

9 Then Rehum the recorder, and Samsai the Scribe, and other of their company, they of Dina, of Apharsath, of Tarpelai, of ‖ Persia, of Arache, of Babylon, of Susan, of Deha, of Elan, ‖ Or, Apharsa.

10 And other of the people, whome the great and noble Asnapper brought ouer, and set in the cities of Samaria, and other that are now beyonde the water, and ‖ Cheeneth. ‖ Or, Chanaa.

11 This is the tenor of the letter that they sent vnto king Artaxerres, Thy seruants, and the men that are nowe beyonde the water, and in Cheeneth, salute thee.

12 Bee it knowen vnto the king, that the Iewes which came vp from thee to vs, are come vnto Hierusalem, a citie seditious and froward, and builde the same, and set vp the walles thereof, and laye the foundations.

13 Bee it knowen nowe vnto the King, that if this citie bee builded, and the walles made vp againe, then shall not they giue tolle, tribute, and custome, and so they shall hinder the kings tribute.

14 And nowe wee remembring that wee were brought vp in the kings palace, and woulde no longer see the kings dishonour, therefore sent wee out also, and certified the king,

15 That it may bee sought in the booke of the Chronicles of thy progenitours, and so shalt thou finde in the booke of the Chronicles, and perceiue that this citie is seditious and noysome vnto the kings and ‖lands, and that they cause other also among them to rebel of olde: and for the same cause was this citie destroyed.

16 Therefore do we certifie the king, that if this citie be builded againe, and the walles thereof made vp, thou shalt hereafter haue no portion beyond the water.

17 Then sent the king an answere vnto Rehum the Recorder, & Samsai the Scribe, and to the other of their companions that dwell in Samaria, and vnto the other that were beyonde the water ‖ in Selam, and ‖ Cheeth.

‖Or, peace and saluation.

18 The letter which ye sent vnto vs, hath bene openly read before me.

‖Or, Cheeneth.

19 And I haue cõmanded to make search, and it is founde that this citie of olde hath made insurrection against kings, and that rebellion and sedition hath bene committed therein.

20 There hath bene mightie kings also at Hierusalem, which haue reigned ouer all countreys beyonde the water: and toule, tribute, and custome was giuen vnto them.

21 Giue ye nowe therefore commaundement, that the same men bee forbidden, and that the citie bee not builded againe, till I haue giuen another commandement.

22 Take heede now that ye be not negligent to do this: for why should the king haue harme thereby?

23 Nowe when the tenor of king Artarerres letter was read before Rehum & Samsai the Scribe, and their companions, they went vp in all the haste to Hierusalem, vnto the Iewes, and forbad them with violence and power.

24 Then [c] ceassed the worke of the house of God at Hierusalem, and continued so vnto the seconde yeere of Darius king of Persia.

c Not altogether, for the Prophets exhorted them to continue, Cap. 5. verse 1. but they vsed the lesse diligence, because of their troubles.

The v. Chapter.

1 Aggeus and Zachari doe prophesie. 3 The worke of the Temple goeth forwarde, contrary to the minde of Thathanai. 6 His letters were sent to Darius.

THe *Prophets Aggeus, and Zachari the sonne of Iddo, prophesied vnto the Iewes that were in Iuda and Hierusalem in the Name of the God of Israel. * Agge. 1. 1. 3. esdr. 6. 6.

2 Then gate vp Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Iosue the sonne of Iosedec, and began to builde the house of God at Hierusalem: and with them were the Prophets of God, [a] which helped them.

a Which encouraged them to go forward.

3 At the same time came to them Thathanai, which was captaine beyond the water, and Stharbuzanai, and their companions, and saide thus vnto them, Who hath commanded you to build this house, and to make vp these walles?

4 Then said we vnto them after this maner, What are the names of the men that make this building?

5 But the [b] eye of their God was vpon the elders of the Iewes, that they coulde not cause them to ceasse, till the matter was brought to Darius: and then they answered by letters thereunto.

b His fauour and the spirit of strength.

6 This is the tenor of the letter that Thathanai, which was captaine beyond the water, and Stharbuzanai, and the counsellers of Apharsath, which were beyonde the water, sent vnto king Darius.

7 And the matter that they sent vnto him, was written thus within the letter, Vnto Darius the king, all peace.

8 Be it knowen vnto the king, that wee went into the prouince of Iury, to the house of the great God, which is builded with mightie great stones, and beames are laid in the walles, and the worke goeth fast forth, and prospereth in their handes.

9 Then asked we the elders, and said vnto them thus, Who commanded you to build this house, and to make vp the walles thereof?

10 Wee asked their names also, that wee might certifie thee, and write the names of the men that were their rulers.

11 But they answered vs with these words, and said, We are the seruants of the God of heauen and earth, and builde the house that was builded of olde and many yeeres agoe, which the great king of Israel builded, and set vp.

12 But after that our fathers had prouoked the God of heauen vnto wrath, hee gaue them ouer into the hand of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, and of the Chaldees, which brake downe this house, and caried the people away captiue vnto Babylon.

13 But in the first yeere of Cyrus the king of Babylon, the same king Cyrus gaue commandement concerning this house of God, that it should be built againe.

14 And the vessels of golde and siluer of the house of God, which Nabuchodonosor tooke out of the Temple that was at Hierusalem, and brought them into the temple at Babylon: those did Cyrus the king take out of the temple at Babylon, and they were deliuered vnto one Sal bazar by name, whom he made captaine, 15 And said vnto him, Take these vessels, and goe thy way, and set them in the temple that is at Hierusalem, and let the house of God be builded in his place.

16 Then came the same Sal bazar, and layde the foundation of the house of God, which is at Hierusalem: Since that time also, vntill nowe hath it bene in building, and yet it is not finished.

17 Now therefore if it please the king, let there be searche made in the kings [c] treasure house which is there at Babylon, whether it hath bene king Cyrus commandement that this temple of God at Hierusalem shoulde be builded: and let the king send his minde concerning the same matter.

[c] Where lay the registers of recordes of times.

The vj. Chapter.

1 At the commaundement of Darius the king of Persia, after the Temple was builded and dedicate, the children of Israel keepe the feast of vnleauened bread.

Esdr.8.18.

THen *commaunded king Darius, that search shoulde bee made in the librarie of the kings treasure house, which lay at Babylon:

2 And there was found in a coffer in the palace that is in the prouince of the Medes, a volume, and therein was it thus written, as a memoriall,

3 In the first yeere of king Cyrus, gaue the same king Cyrus commaundement concerning the house of God at Hierusalem, that the same house should bee builded in the place where they offer the sacrifices, and to ioyne the walles together of three score cubites height, and three score cubites breadth,

4 Three rowes of rough stones, and one row of new timber: and the expences shal be giuen of the kings house.

5 And let the gold and siluer vessels of the house of God, which Nabuchodonosor tooke out of the temple at Hierusalem, & brought vnto Babylon, bee restored, and brought againe vnto the temple at Hierusalem to their place in the house of God.

6 Nowe therefore thou Thathanai captaine beyonde the water, and Stharbuzanai, and your counsellours, and Apharsachei, which are beyonde the water, get yee away from them.

7 Let the worke of the house of this God alone, that the captaine of the Iewes, and their elders may builde the house of God in his place.

8 I haue commaunded what yee shall doe to the elders of Iuda for the building of the house of God, that of the kings goods, euen of the tribute beyonde the water, foorthwith expences be giuen vnto the men, that they be not hindred.

9 And if they haue neede of calues, rams, and lambes for the whole burnt offering of the God of heauen, wheate, salt, wine, and oyle, after the custome of the Priestes at Hierusalem, let the same bee giuen them dayly, that there be no default:

10 That they may haue to offer sweete sauours vnto the God of heauen, and pray for the kings life, and for his children.

11 And such a commaundement haue I giuen, that what man soeuer hee bee that altereth this worde, there shall a beame bee taken from his house, and set vp, and hee shalbe hanged thereon, and his house shalbe made a dounghill for the same thing.

12 And the God that set his name there, destroy all kings and people that put to their hand to alter and to breake downe this house of God which is at Hierusalem. I Darius haue made a decree, that this bee done with speede.

13 *Then Thathanai the captaine of the countrey beyonde the water, and Stharbuzanai, with their counsailours, according to that which king Darius had sent, so they did speedily. 3.Esdr.7.1.

14 And the elders of the Iewes builded, and they prospered through the prophecying of Aggeus the Prophete, and Zachari the sonne of Iddo, and they builded, and they finished it according to the commandement of the God of Israel, and after the commaundement of Cyrus and Darius, and Artaxerxes, kings of Persia.

15 And this house was finished the thirde day of the moneth [a] Adar, euen in the [b] first yeere of the raigne of king Darius.

16 And the children of Israel, the Priests, the Leuites, and the other children of the captiuitie, helde the dedication of this house of God with ioy,

17 And offered at the dedication of this house of God an hundred calues, two hundred rammes, foure hundred lambes: and for the reconciling of all Israel twelue hee goats, according to the number of the tribes of Israel:

18 And set the Priestes in their sundry courses, and the Leuites in their diuers offices, to minister vnto God at Hierusalem, *as it is written in the booke of Moses. Num.3.6. and 8.9.

19 And the children of the captiuitie helde the Passeouer vpon the fourteenth day of the first moneth:

20 For the Priestes and Leuites were purified altogether, and killed the Passeouer for all the children of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the Priestes, and for themselues.

21 And the children of Israel which were come againe out of captiuitie, and all such as had separated themselues vnto them, from the filthines of the heathen of the lande, to seeke the Lord God of Israel, did eate,

22 And held the feast of vnleauened bread seuen dayes with ioy: for the Lord had made them glad, and turned the heart of the king of Assur vnto them, to strengthen their hands in the worke of the house of God, euen the God of Israel.

The vj. Chapter.

1 By the commaundement of the king, Esdras and his companions come to Hierusalem. 27 Hee giueth thankes to God.

3.Esd.8.1.

AFter * these thinges, there was in the raigne of [a] Artaxerxes king of Persia, one Esdras, the sonne of Saraia, the sonne of Azaria, the sonne of Elcia,

2 The sonne of Sallum, the sonne of Sadoc, the sonne of Ahitob,

3 The sonne of Amaria, the sonne of Azaria, the sonne of Meraioth,

4 The sonne of Zeraia, the sonne of Ozi, the sonne of Bucci,

5 The sonne of Abisua, the sonne of Phineh es, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron the chiefe Priest.

6 This Esdras also went vp from Babylon, and was a ‖ perfect [b] scribe in the lawe of Moses, which the Lorde God of Israel did giue: and the king gaue him all that hee required, according to the hand of the Lord his God which was vpon him.

7 And there went vp certaine of the children of Israel, of the Priestes, Leuites, singers, porters, and of the Nethinims, vnto Hierusalem, in the seuenth yeere of king Artaxerxes.

8 And he came to Hierusalem in the fifth moneth, euen in the seuenth yeere of the king.

9 For vpon the first day of the first moneth, began hee to goe vp from Babylon: and on the first day of the fifth moneth, came hee to Hierusalem, according to the [c] good hande of his God that was vpon him.

10 For Esdras prepared his heart to seeke the lawe of the Lord, and to do it, and to teach the precepts and iudgements in Israel.

11 And this is the tenor of the letter that king Artaxerxes gaue vnto Esdras the priest, and scribe, which was a writer of the words and commaundements of the Lorde, and of his statutes ouer Israel.

12 Artaxerxes king of kings, vnto Esdras the Priest and scribe of the lawe of the God of heauen, peace and salutation.

13 I haue commanded that all they of the people of Israel, and of the Priestes and Leuites in my realme, which are minded of their owne good will to goe vp to Hierusalem, goe with thee.

14 And therefore art thou sent of the king and of his seuen counsailers, to visite Juda and Hierusalem, according to the lawe of God, which is in thy hand:

15 And that thou shouldest take with thee siluer, and gold, which the king and his counsailers offer of their owne good will vnto the God of Israel, whose habitation is at Hierusalem:

16 And all the siluer and golde that thou canst finde in all the ‖ countrey of Babylon, with it that the people offer of their owne good will, and the Priestes giue willingly for the house of their God which is at Hierusalem:

17 That thou mayest buy diligently with the same money, oxen, rams, and lambes, with their meate offerings and drinke offerings, and thou shalt offer them vpon the altar of the house of your God which is at Hierusalem.

18 And looke what liketh thee and thy brethren to doe with the remnant of the siluer and golde, that doe after the will of your God.

19 And the vessels that are giuen thee for the ministration in the house of thy God, those deliuer thou before God at Hierusalem.

20 And whatsoeuer thing more shall bee needefull for the house of thy God which is necessarie for to spende, thou shalt receiue the charges out of the kings treasure house.

21 I king Artaxerxes haue commaunded all the treasurers beyonde the water, that looke whatsoeuer Esdras the Priest & scribe in the lawe of the God of heauen requireth of you, * that ye fulfill the same speedily, 2.Chr.2.10.

22 Vntil an hundred talents of siluer, and till an hundred quarters of wheate, and till an hundred battes of wine, and till an hundred bats of oyle, and salt without measure.

23 Whatsoeuer also is the commaundement of the God of heauen, let the same bee done without any delay for the house of the God of heauen, that he be not wroth against the realme, and against the king and his children.

24 And wee certifie you, that yee haue no authoritie to require taxing and custome, and yeerely rentes vpon any of the Priestes, Leuites, singers, porters, Nethinims, and ministers in the house of his God.

25 And thou Esdras, after the wisedome of thy God, that is in thine ‖ hand, set Iudges and arbiters by my authoritie to iudge all the people that is beyond the water, euen al such as know the lawe of thy God: and them that know it not, those see that ye teache.

26 And whosoeuer wil not fulfil the lawe of thy God, and the kings lawe, let him haue his iudgement without delay, whether it be vnto death, or to be rooted out, or to be condemned in goods, or to be put in prison.

27 Blessed bee the Lorde God of our fathers, which so had inspired the kings heart, to garnish the house of the Lorde that is at Hierusalem:

28 And hath enclined mercie vnto mee in the presence of the king, & his counsailours, and before all the kings high estates: and I was comforted euen as the hand of the Lord my God was vpon me, and so gathered I the heads of Israel together, that they might go vp with me.

4 Of the children of the captaine of Moab, Elioenai the sonne of Zerahia, and with him two hundred men.

5 Of the children of Zechania, the sonne of Jahaziel, & with him three hundred men.

9 Of the children of Joab, Obadia the sonne of Jehiel, and with him two hundred and eighteene men.

10 Of the children of Selomith, the sonne of Josaphia, and with him an hundred and three score men.

11 Of the children of Bebai, Zachari the sonne of Bebai, and with him twentie and eight men.

14 Of the children of Biguai, Uthai, and Zabud, and with them seuentie men.

15 And I gathered them together by the water that runneth towarde Ahaua, and there abode we three dayes: and I looked among the people and the Priests, and found there none of the children of Leui.

16 Then sent I to Eliezer, to Ariel, Semeia, Elnathan, Jarib, Elnathan, Nathan, Zacharia, and to Mesullam, the rulers, and to Joiarib and Elnathan, which were men of vnderstanding.

17 ‖ And to those gaue I commandement vnto Iddo the chiefest at Casphia, and I told them what they should say vnto Iddo and to his brethren the Nethinims at Casphia, that they shoulde cause the ministers of the house of our God to come vnto vs. ‖Or, and I sent vnto.

18 And through the good hande of our God vpon vs, they brought vs a very wise man from among the children of Moholi the sonne of Leui the sonne of Israel, and Sarabia with his sonnes and his brethren, euen eighteene.

19 And Hasabia, and with him Esaias of the children of Merari, with his brethren, and their sonnes, twentie.

20 And of the Nethinims whom Dauid and the princes gaue to minister vnto the Leuites two hundred and twentie of Nethinims: which all were named by name.

21 And euen there at the water beside Ahaua I proclaimed a fast, that wee might humble our selues before our God, and seeke of him a right way for vs, and for our children, and for all our substance.

22 For I was ashamed to require of the king souldiers and horsemen, to helpe vs against the enemie in the way: for we had spoken vnto the king, saying, The hand of our God is vpon all them that seeke him in goodnesse, and his power and wrath is against all them that forsake him.

23 So wee fasted, and besought our God for this, and he was intreated of vs.

24 And I tooke out twelue of the chiefe priestes, Sarabia, and Hasabia, and tenne of their brethren with them,

25 And waied them the siluer and golde, and vessels that were appointed for the house of our God, which the king & counsailours, and his lordes, and al Israel that were there at hand, had giuen together.

26 And I waied vnto their hand sixe hundred and fiftie talents of siluer, and in siluer vessels an hundred talents, & in golde an hundred talents:

27 Twentie basons of golde of a thousand [a] drammes, and two costly vessels of good brasse, as cleare as golde. a A dramme is the right part of an ounce.

28 And I saide vnto them, Ye are consecrate vnto the Lorde, like as the vessels are holy also: and the gold & siluer are giuen of a good wil vnto the Lord God of your fathers.

29 Watch ye, and keepe them: for ye shall way them downe before the chiefe Priestes, and Leuites, and ancient fathers of Israel at Hierusalem, in the treasuries of the house of the Lord.

30 Then tooke the Priestes and Leuites the waied siluer and golde, and vessels, to bring it to Hierusalem vnto the house of our God.

31 And wee brake vp from the water of Ahaua on ỹ twelfth day of the first moneth, to goe vnto Hierusalem: and the hand of our God was vpon vs, and deliuered vs from the hand of the enemies, and of such as laide waite for vs by the way.

32 And wee came to Hierusalem, and abode there three dayes.

33 But on the fourth day was the siluer and golde and vessels waied in the house of our God by the hand of Meremoth the sonne of Uria the Priest, and with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinehes, and with them was Josabad the sonne of Josue, and Noadia the sonne of Bennoi, the Leuites.

36 And they deliuered the kings commission vnto the kings officers, and to the captaines that were beyond the water: and they promoted the people, and the house of God.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Esdras complaineth on the people that had turned themselues from God, and maried with the Gentiles.
6 He prayeth vnto God.

WHen these thinges were done, the rulers came to me, & saide, * The people of Israel, and the Priestes and Leuites are not separated from the people of the landes, as touching their abominations: namely, of the Chanaanites, Hethites, Pherezites, Iebusites, Ammonites, Moabites, Egyptians, and Amorites. 3.Esdr.9.6.

2 For they haue taken the daughters of the same to themselues, and to their sonnes, and the holy seede is mixed with the nations of the lands, and the hand of the princes and rulers hath bene principall in this trespasse.

3 And when I heard this saying, I rent my clothes and my garment, and pluckt off the heare of my head and of my beard, and sate ‖ mourning. ‖Or, sate downe astonied.

4 And there resorted vnto me all such as feared the wordes of the God of Israel, because of the transgression of the people of the captiuitie: and I sate ‖ mourning vntill the euening sacrifice. ‖Or, astonied.

5 * And about the euening sacrifice I arose vp from my heauinesse, and rent my clothes and my raiment, and fell vpon my knees, and spread out my handes vnto the Lord my God, Exo.29.39. num.28.3.

6 And saide, My God, I am ashamed, and dare not lift vp mine eyes vnto thee my God: for our wickednesses are growen ouer our head, and our trespasse is waxed great vnto the [a] heauen.

7 Since the time of our fathers haue we bene in great trespasse vnto this day, and because of our wickednesse haue wee and our kings and our priestes bene deliuered into the hand of the kings of the nations, vnto the sword, into captiuitie, into a spoyle, and into confusion of face, as it is to see this day.

8 And nowe for a litle space grace hath bene shewed from the Lord our God, in causing a remnant to escape, and in giuing vs [b] a nayle in his holy place, that our God may light our eyes, and giue vs a litle life, to take breath in our bondage:

9 For we were bondmen, and yet our God hath not forsaken vs in our bondage, but hath enclined mercie vnto vs in the sight of * the king of Persia, to giue vs life to set vp the house of our God, and to redresse the desolation thereof, and to giue vs a wall in Iuda and Hierusalem. Esai.22.23.

10 And nowe, O our God, what shall we say after this? for we haue forsaken thy commandements, 11 Which thou hast commaunded by thy seruants the prophets, saying, * The lande vnto which ye go to possesse it, is an vncleane lande because of the filthinesse of the people of the landes, which with their abominations haue made it full of vncleannesse on euery side. Exo.23.32. deut.7.3.

12 * Therfore shal ye not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, and their daughters shall ye not take vnto your sonnes, nor seeke their peace and wealth for euer: that ye may be strong, and ‖ enioy the goodnesse of the land, and that ye & your children may haue the inheritance of it for euermore. Deut.23.6. ‖Or, eate.

13 And after ỹ all these thinges are come vpon vs, because of our euill deedes & great trespasses (seeing that thou our God hast ‖ stayed vs from being [c] beneath for our iniquities) and hast giuen vs such deliuerance: ‖Or, pardoned our iniquities, c That is, hast not vtterly cast vs below, and destroyed vs for our sinnes.

14 Should we returne to breake thy commaundements, and ioyne in affinitie with the people of these abominations? wouldest not thou be angry towards vs, till thou haddest consumed vs, so that there should be no remnant, nor any escaping?

15 O Lorde God of Israel, thou art righteous, for we remaine yet escaped, as it is yet to see this day: Beholde also, in thy presence are wee in our trespasses, and because of it may we not stand before thee.

The x. Chapter.

1 The people repent and turne, and put away their strange wiues.

AND when Esdras prayed after this maner, and [a] knowledged, wept, and lay before the house of God, there resorted vnto him out of Israel a very great congregation, of men, and women, and children: and the people wept very sore. a This confesseth the sinnes of the people.

2 And Sechania the sonne of Iehiel, one of the children of Elam, answered, and saide vnto Esdras, We haue trespassed against our God, and haue taken strange wiues of the people of the land: Yet nowe there is [b] hope in Israel concerning this thing. b speaking, that Israel may repent, & God receiue them to mercie.

3 For nowe we wil make a couenat with our God, and put away all the wiues and such as are borne of them, according to the counsell of the Lorde, and of those that feare the commandements of our God, that wee may doe according to the lawe.

4 Get thee vp, for this matter belongeth vnto thee, we also will be with thee: be of good comfort therefore, and doe it.

5 Then

a They so exceede, that they can growe no greater.

b That is, a resting place: it is a similitude taken of them that remaine still in a place.

5 Then arose Esdras, and tooke an othe of the chiefe Priests and Leuites, and of all Israel, that they should doe according to this word: and they sware.

1.Esd.9.1. 6 * And Esdras rose vp from before the house of God, and went into the chamber of Johanna the sonne of Eliasib: and when he came thither, he did eate no bread, nor drinke water: for he mourned, because of the transgression of the people that had bene in captiuitie.

7 And they caused a proclamation to goe throwout Juda and Hierusalem, vnto all them of the captiuitie, that they shoulde gather themselues together vnto Hierusalem:

8 And that whosoeuer came not within three dayes, according to the deuice of the rulers and elders, all his substance shoulde be forfaited, and he shoulde be put out from the congregation of them of the captiuitie.

9 Then all the men of Juda and Beniamin, gathered themselues together vnto Hierusalem, within three dayes, euen the twentieth day of the ninth moneth, and all the people sate in the streete of the house of God, and trembled, because of this matter, and for the raine.

10 And Esdras the Priest stoode vp, and saide vnto them, Ye haue transgressed, and haue taken strange wiues, to make the trespasse of Israel yet more.

‖Or, giue praise. 11 ‖ Confesse nowe therefore vnto the Lorde God of your fathers, and doe his pleasure: and separate your selues from the people of the lande, and from the strange wiues.

12 And all the congregation answered, and said with a loude voyce, It shalbe so, and we will doe as thou hast said.

13 But the people are many, and it is a raynie weather, and the people are two faint to tarie without in the streete, neither is this a worke of one day or two: for ‖ we haue offended very sore in this thing.

‖Or, we are many that haue offended in this thing. 14 Let our rulers stand therefore in all the congregation, and let all them which haue taken strange wiues in our cities, come at the time appointed, and let the elders of euery citie and their iudges be with them, til the fierce wrath of our God for this matter be turned from vs.

15 Then were appointed Jonathan the sonne of Asahel, and Jahazia the sonne of Thecua ouer this matter: and Mesullam and Sabathai the Leuites helped them.

16 And the children of the captiuitie did euen so: and Esdras the Priest, and the ancient heads throwe the house of their fathers, all men of great fame, separated themselues, and sate them downe in the first day of the tenth moneth, to examine the matter.

17 And vntill the first day of the first moneth, they were finishing the businesse, with all the men that had taken strange wiues.

18 And among the children of the priests, there were men founde that had taken strange wiues: namely, among the children of Josue the sonne of Josedec, and of his brethren, Maasiah, and Eliezar, Jarib, and Gedalia.

19 And they gaue their handes, that they would put away their wiues: and they that had trespassed, gaue a ramme for their trespasse.

20 And among the children of Immer, Hanani, and Zebadia.

21 Among the children of Harim, Maasia, Elia, Semeia, Jehiel, Ozias.

22 Among the children of Pashur, Elioenai, Maasia, Ismael, Nethanael, Iosabad, and Elasah.

23 Among the Leuites, Iosabad, Semei, and Selaia (which same is Selitah) Phathaiah, Juda, and Eliezer.

24 Among the singers also, Eliasib: and among the porters, Sellum, and Telem, and Uri.

25 And of [c] Israel, among the children of Pharaos, Remaia, Iesia, Melchia, Miamin, Eliezer, Melchia, and Banaiah.

[c] Meaning, of the common people: for before he spake of the Priests.

26 Among the children of Elam, Mathania, Zacharia, Jehiel, Abdi, Jerimoth, and Elia.

27 Among the children of Zatthu, Elioenai, Eliasib, Mathania, Jerimoth, Zabad, and Aziza.

28 Among the children of Bebai, Jehohanan, Hanania, Zabbai, and Athalai.

29 Among the children of Bani, Mesullam, Malluch, Adaiah, Jasub, Saal, and Jeramoth.

30 Among the children of the captaine of Moab, Adna, Chelal, Benaia, Maasia, Mathania, Besalel, Bennui, and Manasse.

31 Among the children of Harim, Eliezer, Isiah, Melchiia, Semeia, Simeon, 32 Beniamin, Malluch, and Semariah.

33 Among the children of Hasum, Mattenai, Mathatha, Zabad, Eliphelet, Jeremai, Manasse, and Semei.

34 Among the children of Bani, Maadai, Amram, and Uel, 35 Banea, Badaia, Chelian,

36 Uaniah, Maremoth, Eliasib,

37 Mathaniah, Mathanai, Jasi,

38 Bani, Bennui, and Semei,

39 Selemia, Nathan, Adaiah,

40 Machnadebai, Sasai, Sarai,

41 Asarel, Selemia, and Semariah,

42 Sallum, Amaria, and Joseph.

43 Among the children of Nebo, Jehiel, Mathathia, Zabad, Zabina, Jadan, Joel, and Banaia.

44 All these had taken strange wiues, and among the same there were some that had children.

The

The booke of Nehemias, or ſeconde booke of Eſdras.

The firſt Chapter.

1 Nehemias bewaileth the calamitie of Hieruſalem. 5 He confeſſeth the ſinnes of the people, and prayeth to God for them.

THe wordes of Nehemias the ſonne of Hachalia. In the moneth [a] Chelleu, in the twentieth yeere, as I was in the caſtell at Suſan, [a] Which conteineth part of November and part of December, and was their ninth moneth.

2 Came Hanani, one of my brethren, hee and the men of Juda: and I aſked them howe the Jewes did that were deliuered and eſcaped from the captiuitie, and howe it went at Hieruſalem.

3 And they ſaide vnto me, The remnant that are left of ẏ captiuitie there in the land, are in great affliction and rebuke: the wall of Hieruſalem alſo is broken downe, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire.

4 And when I heard theſe wordes, I ſate downe and wept, and mourned certaine dayes, and faſted, and prayed before the God of heauen:

Deut. 9. 4. 5 And ſaide, * O Lorde God of heauen, thou great and terrible God, thou that keepeſt couenant and mercie for them that loue thee, and obſerue thy commandements:

6 Let thine eares hearken, I beſeeche thee, and let thine eyes be open, that thou maieſt heare the praier of thy ſeruant, which I now pray before thee day and night, for the children of Iſrael thy ſeruaunts, and knowledge the ſinnes of the children of Iſrael, which wee haue ſinned againſt thee: both I and my fathers houſe haue ſinned.

7 Wee haue grieuouſly ſinned againſt thee, and haue not kept thy cõmandements, ſtatutes, and iudgements, which thou commandedſt thy ſeruant Moſes.

8 I beſeech thee call to remembrance the worde that thou commaundedſt thy ſeruant Moſes, and ſaideſt, Ye wil tranſgreſſe, and I wil ſcatter you abroade among the nations.

9 But if ye turne vnto me, and keepe my commandements, and doe them: though ye were caſt out vnto the vttermoſt part of heauen, yet will I gather you from thence, and will bring you vnto the place that I haue choſen to ſet my name there.

10 They are thy ſeruants and thy people whom thou haſt deliuered through thy great power, and in thy mightie hand.

11 O Lorde, I beſeech thee, let thine eare hearken to the praier of thy ſeruant, and to the praier of thy ſeruants, whoſe deſire is to feare thy name: and let thy ſeruant proſper this day, and graunt him mercie in the ſight of [b] this man. For I was the kings Butler.

[b] That is, of king Artaxerxes.

The ij. Chapter.

1 After Nehemias had obteyned letters of Artaxerxes, 11 Hee came to Hieruſalem, 17 and builded the walles.

IN the moneth [a] Niſan, in the twentieth yeere of king Artaxerxes, the wine ſtoode before him: and I tooke vp the wine, and gaue it vnto the king: and I had not beene before heauie in his preſence.

[a] Which was the firſt moneth of the yeere, and conteineth part of March & part of April.

2 And the king ſaid vnto me, Why looketh thou ſo ſadly, ſeeing thou art not ſicke? It is nothing els, but that thou art heauie hearted. And I was ſore afraide,

3 And ſaide vnto the king, God ſaue the king for euer: howe ſhould I not looke ſadly, when the citie and place of my fathers burials lye waſte, and the gates thereof are conſumed with fire?

4 And the king ſaide vnto me, What is then thy requeſt? I made my prayer alſo to the God of heauen,

5 And ſaide vnto the king, If it pleaſe the king, and if thy ſeruant haue founde fauour in thy ſight, ſend me vnto Juda, vnto the citie of my fathers burials, that I may build it.

6 And ẏ king ſaid vnto me, (the Queene ſitting by him) Howe long ſhall thy iourney continue, and when wilt thou come againe? And it pleaſed the king to ſend me, and I ſet him a time,

7 And ſaide vnto the king, If it pleaſe the king, let him giue me letters to the captaines which are beyonde the water, that they may conuey me ouer, till I come into Juda:

8 And letters vnto Aſaph the lorde of the kings wood, that he may giue me timber, to make beames for the gates of ẏ palace which is hard by the houſe, and for the walles of the citie, and for the houſe that I ſhal enter into. And the king gaue me according to the ‖hand of my God which was good vpon me.

‖ Or, fauour.

9 And when I came to the captaines beyond the water, I gaue them the kings letters: and the king had ſent captaines of the armie, and horſemen with me.

10 Sanballat alſo the Horonite, and Tobia a ſeruant the Ammonite, heard of it, and it grieued them ſore that there was come a man which ſought the wealth of the children of Iſrael.

11 And I came to Hieruſalem, and was there three dayes.

12 And I gate me vp in the night ſeaſon, and a fewe men with me, neither told I any man what God had giuen me in my heart to doe at Hieruſalem: and there was not one beaſt beast with me, saue it that I rode vpon.

13 And I departed in the night by the valley port, before the dragon wel, and to the doung port, and considered the walles of Hierusalem, how they were broken downe, and the portes thereof consumed with fire.

14 And I went ouer vnto the well port, and to the kings ‖conduite, and there was no roume for the beast that was vnder mee to passe.

15 Then wēt I in the night by the brooke side, and considered the wall, & turned backe, and came home againe by the valley port.

16 And the rulers knewe not whither I went, or what I did, neither did I as yet tell it vnto the Iewes, to the Priests, to the noble men, to the rulers, and to the other that laboured in the worke.

17 Afterward saide I vnto them, Yee see the miserie that we are in, how Hierusalem lieth waste, and howe the gates thereof are burnt with fire: come therefore, and let vs builde vp the wall of Hierusalem, and that we be no more a rebuke.

18 Then I tolde them of the hand of my God, that it was gratious ouer mee, and the kings wordes that hee had spoken vnto me: and they said, Let vs get vp, and builde. And they [b] strengthened their hands to good.

[b] They were encouraged, & gaue themselues to doe well, and to trauaile in this worthie enterprise.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobia the seruant an Ammonite, and Gesem the Arabian heard it, they laughed vs to scorne, and despised vs, and said, What is this that ye doe? will ye ‖fall [c] away from the king?

‖Or, rebell.

[c] Thus the wicked when they will burden the children of God, euer lay treason vnto their charge, both because it maketh them most odious to the world, and also stirreth the hatred of princes most against them.

20 Then answered I them, and said, The God of heauen, he it is that hath granted vs prosperitie, and we his seruants will get vp and build: as for you ye haue no portion, nor right, nor remembrance in Hierusalem.

The iij. Chapter.

The number of them that builded the walles.

AND Eliasib the high Priest gate him vp with his brethren the Priestes, and they builded the sheepe gate, they repayred it, and set vp the doores of it: euen vnto the towre Mea [a] repayred they it, and vnto the towre of Hananeel.

[a] In Hebrew, they sanctified it, that is, they finished it, and so dedicated it to the Lord by prayer, in desiring him to maintaine it.

2 Next vnto him also builded the men of Jericho: and beside him builded Zachur the sonne of Amri.

15 But the well gate repayred Sallum the sonne of Cholhosah, ỹ ruler of the fourth part of Mispah: he builded it, and couered it, and set on the doores, lockes, & barres thereof: and the wall vnto the fishpoole Siloah by the kings garden, and vnto the steppes that goe downe from the citie of Dauid.

16 After him builded Nehemias ỹ sonne of Asboc, the ruler of the halfe part of Bethzur, vntill the other side ouer against the sepulchres of Dauid, and to the fish poole that was repaired, & vnto the house of the mighty.

18 After him builded their brethren Banai the sonne of Henadad the ruler of the halfe part of Ceilah.

19 And after him builded Ezer the sonne of Jesue, the ruler of Mispah, the other peice, hard ouer against the going vp to the house of ordinance that was in the corner.

20 Againe, after him brake forth Baruch the sonne of Zachai, of [c] indignation, and repayred the other piece from the turning corner, vnto the doore of the house of Eliasib the high Priest.

[c] Against himselfe, considering his owne slackenesse.

21 After him also builded Merimoth the sonne of Uria, the sonne of Haccos, the other piece, from the doore of the house of Eliasib, euen as long as the house of Eliasib extẽded.

22 After him builded the Priestes, the [d] men of the plaine.

[d] Which dwelt in the plaine countrey by Iordane and Iericho, and yet had houses in Hierusalem.

23 After him builded Beniamin and Hasub, ouer against their houses: and after him wrought Azaria the sonne of Maasia, the sonne of Anania, by his house.

24 After him also builded Bennui the sonne of Henadad, the other piece, from the house of Azaria, vnto the turning of the wal, and vnto the corner.

25 After him builded Pala the sonne of Vsai, ouer against the corner, and the high towre which lyeth out ouer from the kings house that was beside the court of the prison: after him, Phadaia the sonne of Pharos.

1.Esd.2.43. 26 *As for the Nethinims, they dwelt in the strong hold, vnto the water gate, toward the East, and to the towre that lieth out.

27 After him builded they of Thecua the other piece, ouer against the great towre that lyeth outwarde, vnto the wall of the strong hold.

28 But from about the horse gate forth, builded the Priests, euery one ouer against his house.

29 And after them builded Sadoc the sõne of Immer, ouer against his house: after him builded also Semeia the sonne of Sechania, the keeper of the East gate.

30 After him builded Hanania the sonne of Selemia, and Hanun the sonne of Zalaph the sixth, the other piece: and after him builded Mesullam the sonne of Barachia ouer against his ‖ store house.

‖Or, chamber.

31 After him builded Melchia the goldsmithes sonne, vnto the house of the Nethinims, & of the marchants ouer against the gate Mephead, & to the parlour of the corner.

32 And betweene the parlour of the corner, vnto the sheepe gate, builded the goldsmithes and the marchants.

The iiij. Chapter.

7 The building of Hierusalem is hindered. 15 But God breaketh their enterprise. 17 The Iewes builde with one hand, and holde their weapon in the other.

BVt when Sanballat hearde that wee builded the wall, hee was wroth in him selfe, and tooke great indignation, and mocked the Iewes:

2 And said before his brethren, and the souldiers of Samaria, What do these impotent Iewes? ‖ will the Heathen suffer them? shall they offer? shall they perfourme it in one day? shall they make the stones whole again, that are brought to dust, and brent?

‖Or, will they fortifie themselues?

3 And Tobiah the Ammonite was beside him, & said Though they builde, yet if a fore go vp, he shall breake down their stony wal.

4 Heare, O thou our God, for we are despised, turne their shame vpon their owne head, and giue them ouer ‖ into despising in the land of their captiuitie.

‖Or, for a pray?

5 [a] Couer not their wickednesse, and let not their sinne be put out in thy presence: for they haue prouoked the builders.

[a] Let the plagues be declare to the world, that they set themselues against thee and thy Church: that the prayers may be heard, hauing respect to thy glorie, and not for any priuate affection or grudge.

6 And so builded we the wall, and it was ioyned whole together vnto the halfe height thereof: & the people were minded to labour.

7 But when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and the Arabians, Ammonites, & Asdodites, heard that the walles of Hierusalem were made vp, and that the breaches began to be stopped, they were very wroth,

8 And conspired all together to come and fight against Hierusalem, and to make an ‡hinderance therein.

‡Heb. make a stay.

9 Neuertheless, we made our prayer vnto our God, and set watchmen by them day and night, because of them.

10 And Juda sayde, The strength of the bearers is feeble, and there is yet much more morter, and we are not able to builde on the wall.

11 And our aduersaries sayde, They shall not knowe, neither see, till wee come in the middes among them, and slaye them, and cause the worke to cease.

12 But when the Iewes (which dwelt beside them) came, they tolde vs [b] ten times, that in all places where wee goe vnto, they are appointed to fall vpon vs.

[b] That is, often times.

13 Therefore set I the people after their kinreds, with their swordes, speares, and bowes, beneath in the lowe places behinde the wall, vpon the toppes of the stones.

14 And I looked, & gate me vp, and saide vnto the chiefe men to the rulers, and to the other people, Be not ye afrayde of them: but thinke rather vpon the great Lorde which ought to be feared, & fight for your brethren, your sonnes, your daughters, your wiues, and your houses.

15 Neuertheless, when our enemies hearde that wee had gotten word of it, God brought their counsell to nought: and wee turned all againe to the wall, euery one vnto his labour.

16 And from that time forth, the halfe part of the yong men did the labour, and the other halfe part of them helde the speares, shieldes, bowes, and breastplates, and the rulers stoode [c] behind all the house of Juda.

[c] To encourage them, and to encourage them in their worke.

17 They which builded on the wall, and they that bare burdens, and those that laded thẽ, with one hand did euery one his worke, and with the other helde his weapon.

18 For euery one that builded, had his sword girded by his thigh, & so builded they: And he that blew the trũpet, was beside me.

19 And I said vnto the principall men, to the rulers, and to the other people, The worke is great and large, and we are separated vpon the wall one farre from an other.

20 Looke in what place therfore ye heare the noyse of the Trumpet, resort yee thither vnto vs, and our God shall fight for vs:

21 And wee will bee labouring in the worke. And the halfe part of them held their speares, speares, from the morning spring, till the starres came forth.

22 And at the same time saide I vnto the people, Let euery one with his seruant lodge within Hierusalem, that in the night season we may watch, and labour on the day time.

23 As for mee, and my brethren, my seruants, and the men of the watch which followed me, we put neuer off our clothes, saue onely because of the washing.

The v. Chapter.

1 The people are oppressed, and in necessitie. 7 Nehemias forbiddeth vsurie.

AND there arose a great complaint of the people & their wiues against their brethren the Iewes.

2 For there were some that said, Our sonnes, & daughters, and we are very many: therefore will we take corne for them, that we may eate and liue.

3 Some also there were that said, Let vs set our lands, vineyards, & houses to pledge, and take vp corne in the dearth.

4 But some there were that sayde, Wee haue borowed money for the kings tribute, and that vpon our lands and vineyards.

5 And now our flesh is as the [a] flesh of our brethren, and our children as their children: and loe, we bring into subiection our sonnes, and our daughters, as seruants, as some of our daughters are subdued vnto bondage already, and no strength is there in our hands to redeeme them, and other men haue our lands and vineyards.

6 And when I heard their complaint, and such words, it displeased me sore.

7 And I aduised so in my minde, that I rebuked the counsellers, and the rulers, and said vnto them, Euery one of you taketh vsurie of his brother. And I brought a [b] great congregation against them,

8 And sayde vnto them, We after our abilitie haue redeemed our brethren the Iewes, which were solde vnto the heathen: and will you sell your brethren againe? and shall they be solde vnto vs? Then held they their peace, and could finde nothing to answere.

9 And I sayde, It is not good that ye doe: ought yee not to walke in the feare of our God, because of the [c] rebuke of the heathen that are our enemies?

10 I, and my brethen, and my seruants, doe lend them money and corne: I pray you let vs leaue off this vsurie.

11 Therefore, this same day, I pray you, see that yee restore them their landes againe, their vineyardes, oliue gardens, and their houses, and remitte the hundred part of the money, of the corne, wine, and oyle, that ye haue exacted of them.

12 Then saide they, We will restore them againe, and will require nothing of them, and will doe as thou hast spoken. And I called the Priests, and toohe an oth of them, that they should doe according to this promise.

13 And I shooke my lap, and sayde, God shake out euery man after the same maner from his house and labour, that maintaineth not this word, euen thus bee hee shaken out, and voyde. And all the congregation sayde, Amen, and praysed the Lord: And the people did according to this promise.

14 And from the time forth that the king committed vnto me to be captaine of them that were in the land of Iuda, euen from the twentieth yeere, vnto the thirtie and two yeere of king Artaxerxes, that is twelue yeeres, I with my brethren liued not of such sustenance as was giuen to a captaine.

15 For the old captaines that were before mee, had beene chargeable vnto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, beside fourtie sicles of siluer, yea and their seruants had oppressed the people: but so did not I, and that because of the feare of God.

16 ‖ But I laboured also in the worke vpon the wall, and we bought no land: and all my seruants came thither together vnto the worke. ‖ Or, but rather I fortified a portion in the worke of this wall.

17 Moreouer, there were at my table an hundred and fiftie of the Iewes and rulers, which came vnto vs from among the heathen that are about vs.

18 And there was prepared for mee daily an ore, and sixe chosen sheepe, and birds were prepared for me: and euer once in ten dayes wine for all in abundance: Yet required not I the ‖ liuing of a captaine, for the bondage was grieuous vnto the people. ‖ Or, bread.

19 Thinke vpon mee my God vnto the best, according to al that I haue done for this people.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Nehemias answereth with great wisedome and zeale to his aduersaries. 11 Hee is not discouraged by the false prophets.

AND when Sanballat, Tobia, and Gesem the Arabian, and the other of our enemies heard, that I had builded the wall, and that there were no moe ‖ gaps therin: (howbeit, at the same time had I not hanged the doores vpon the gates,) ‖ Or, breaches.

2 Sanballat and Gesem sent vnto mee, saying, Come, that we may meete and take counsell together in the villages that are in the plaine of the citie Ono. Neuertheless, they thought to doe me euill.

3 And I sent messengers vnto them, saying, I haue a great businesse to doe, and I cannot come downe: why should the worke cease, whilest I leaue it, and come downe to you?

4 Howbeit, they sent vnto mee foure times after the same maner: & I gaue them the same answere.

5 Then sent Sanballat his seruant againe vnto mee the fifth time, with an open letter in his hand.

6 Wherein was written, It is tolde the

[a] That is, although we are of the bloud and flesh that our rulers be of, yet they vse not regarding our necessitie, but take our children and liuings to pledge and bring vs in like bondage as our brethren which remaine still in the countrie.

[b] By multitudes of people, either because they should be assisted with them as it is a-bouue, seeing poore many were oppressed by them: and also might haue the iudgement of others, which should be as it were vnto them of their euill dealing towards their brethren. 7 And hast ordeined the prophets to preach of thee at Hierusalem, and to say, He is king of Juda. And now shal this come to the kings eares: come nowe therefore, and let vs take our counsell together.

8 And I sent vnto him, saying, There is no such thing done as thou sayest, for thou fainest them of thine owne heart.

9 For they were all minded to make vs afraide, saying, They shall withdrawe their handes from their worke that it shall not bee finished: Now therefore, strengthen thou my hand.

10 And I came vnto the house of Semaia the sonne of Delaia, the sonne of Mehetabeel, and hee had shut himselfe within, and sayde, Let vs come together in the house of God, euen vnto the middes of the Temple, and shut the doores of the Temple, for they will come to slay thee, yea, euen in the night will they come to put thee to death.

11 And I sayd, Should any such man as I flee? who is, that being as I am, will goe in to the Temple to saue his life? I will not goe in.

12 And loe, I perceiued that God had not sent him, but that hee pronounced this prophecie against me: for Tobia and Sanballat had hired him for money.

13 Therefore was he hired, that through feare I should so doe, and sinne, that they might haue euill report of mee, to lay to my charge.

14 My God, thinke thou vpon Tobia, and Sanballat, according vnto these their workes, and on the prophetesse Noadia, and the other prophets that would haue put mee in feare.

15 And the wall was finished in the twentie and fifth day of the moneth b Elul, in c fiftie and two dayes.

b Which was the sixth moneth, and conteineth part of August, and part of September.

16 And when all our enemies hearde thereof, all the heathen that were about vs, were afraide, and their courage failed them: for they perceiued that this worke came of our God.

c After that I had sent Sanballat his answere.

17 And at the same time were there many of the chiefe of Juda, whose letters went vnto Tobia, and againe from Tobia vnto them.

18 For there were many in Juda that were sworne vnto him: for he was the sonne in lawe of Sechania the sonne of Arah, and his sonne Johanan had the daughter of Mesullam the sonne of Barachia.

19 And they spake good of him before me, and told him my words: and Tobia sent letters to put me in feare.

The vij. Chapter.

1 After the wall once builded, is the watch appointed. 6 They that returne from the captiuitie, are numbred.

NOw * when the wall was builded, I hanged on the ‖ doores also, and the Porters, singers, and Leuites were appointed: Eccl. 49.15 ‖ Or, gates.

The viij. Chapter.

2 Esdras gathereth together the people, and readeth the lawe to them.

AND al the people gathered them selues together as one man, in the streete that was before the water gate, * and they said vnto Esdras the scribe, that hee should fetch the booke of the lawe of Moses, which the Lord commanded to Israel.

1. Esd. 3. 1.
1. esd. 7. 6.

2 And Esdras the Priest brought the law before the congregation, both of men, and women, and all that could vnderstande, did hearken vnto it, vpon the first day of the seuenth moneth.

3 And hee read therein in the streete that was before the water gate, from the morning vntill the noone day, before men and women that did hearken to it: and the eares of all the people were enclined vnto the booke of the lawe.

4 And Esdras the scribe stood vpon a pulpet of wood which they had made for the preaching, and beside him stoode Mattathia, Sema, and Anatah, Uriah, Helcia, and Maaseiah, on his right hand: and on his left hand stood Pedaia, Misael, and Melchia, and Hasum, Hasabadana, Zacharie, and Mesullam.

5 And Esdras opened the booke before all the people (for hee stoode aboue all the people:) and when hee opened it, all the people stoode vp.

6 And Esdras prayed the Lord the great God: and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, lifting vp their hands, and bowed themselues, and worshipped the Lorde, falling downe vpon their faces to the ground.

7 And Iosue, Bani, Serebia, Jamin, Accub, Sebethai, Hodaia, Maasia, Celita, Azariah, Iosabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Leuites caused the people to giue heede vnto the law: and the people stoode in their place.

8 And they read in the booke of the law of God distinctly, and gaue the sense, and caused them to vnderstand the reading.

9 And Nehemias, which is Athirsatha, and Esdras the Priest and scribe, and the Leuites that caused the people to take heede, said vnto al the people, This day is holy vnto the Lord your God, be not ye sory, and * weepe not. For al the people wept when they heard the words of the lawe.

* The Leuites do not reprooue them for mourning for their sinnes, but assure them of Gods mercies, for asmuch as they are repentant.

10 And he said vnto them, Goe your way, and eate the fat, and drinke the sweete, and send part vnto them also that haue not prepared for themselues, for this day is holy vnto our Lord: be not yee sory therefore, for the ioy of the Lord is your strength.

11 And the Leuites stilled all the people, and said, Hold your peace, for the day is holy, be not sad therefore.

12 And all the people went their way to eate, and to drinke, and to send part vnto other, and to make great mirth, because they had vnderstand the wordes that were declared vnto them.

13 And on the next day were gathered together the chiefe fathers among all the people, and the Priestes, and the Leuites, vnto Esdras the scribe, that they might vnderstand the words of the lawe.

14 And they founde written in the lawe which the Lord had commanded by Moses, that the children of Israel should dwell in boothes in the feast of the seuenth moneth:

15 And that they should cause it to be declared and proclaimed in all their cities, and throughout Hierusalem, saying, Goe forth vnto the mount, and fetch Oliue branches, Pine branches, Myrtall branches, Palme branches, and branches of the thicke tree, to make boothes, as it is written.

16 And so the people went forth, and fet them, and made them boothes, euery one vpon the roofe of his house, and in their courts, and in the courts of the house of God, and in the streete by the water gate, and in the streete of the port of Ephraim.

17 And all the congregation of them that were come againe from the captiuitie, made boothes, and sate vnder the boothes: for since the time of Iosua the sonne of Nun, vnto this day, had not the children of Israel done so: and there was very great gladnesse.

18 And euery day, from the first day vnto the last, read Esdras in the booke of the law of God: and seuen dayes helde they the feast, and on the eight day they gathered together, according vnto the maner.

The ix. Chapter.

1 The people repent, and forsake their strange wiues.
5 The Leuites exhort them to praise God.

NOW the * twentie and fourth day of * this moneth, came the children of Israel together again, with fasting, and sackecloth, and earth vpon them.

2 And they that were of the seede of Israel, were separated from all the strange children, and stoode, & knowledged their sinnes, and the wickednesse of their fathers:

3 And stoode vp in their place, and read in the booke of the law of the Lord their God foure times on the day, and they knowledged, and worshipped the Lord their God foure times on the day.

4 Then stood vp vpon the stayres of the Leuites, Iosue, Bani, Cadmiel, Sabaniah, Bunni, Serebiah, Bani, and Chanani, and cryed loud vnto the Lord their God.

5 And the Leuites, Iosue, and Cadmiel, Bani,

Bani, and Hasabnia, Serebiah, and Hodia, Sebania, and Phathahia, sayd, Stand vp, and prayse the Lorde your God forever, and let thankes be giuen vnto the name of thy glory, which excelleth all thankes giuing and prayse.

6 Thou art Lorde alone, thou hast made heauen, and the heauen of all heauens, with all their hoste, the earth, and all things that are therein, the sea, and all that is therein, and thou preseruest them all, and the hoste of him worshippeth thee.

7 Thou art, O Lorde, the God that hast chosen * Abram, and broughtest him out of Ur in Chaldea, and calledst him Abraham: 1.31 7.5.

8 And foundest his heart faithfull before thee, and madest a couenant with him, to giue vnto his seede the land of the Chanaanites, Hethites, Amorites, Pherezites, Iebusites, and Gergesites, and hast made good thy wordes: for thou art righteous,

9 And hast considered the miserie of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their complaint by the red sea,

10 And shewed tokens and wonders vpon Pharao and all his seruants, and on all the people of his lande: for thou knewest that they were presumptuous and cruell against them: and so madest thou thee a name, as it is this day.

11 *And the red sea diddest thou diuide in sunder before them, so that they went through the middest of the sea, ‖drie shod: and their persecutours threwest thou into the deepe, as a stone in the mightie waters: 14.22. ‖Or, dry

12 *And leddest them on the day time in a cloudie pillar, and in the night season in a pillar of fire, to shewe them light in the way that they went. 13.21.

13 *Thou camest downe also vpon mount Sion, and spakest vnto them from heauen, and gauest them right iudgements, true lawes, good commandements, and statutes: 20.1.

14 And declaredst vnto them thy holy Sabboth, and commandedst them precepts, ordinances and lawes, by the hand of Moses thy seruant:

15 *And gauest them bread from heauen, when they were hungrie, and broughtest forth water for them out of the rocke, when they were thirstie, and promisedst them that they should goe in, and take possession of the land ouer which thou haddest lift vp thine hand for to giue them. 1.8.

16 But they, & our fathers, were proude and hardnecked, so that they followed not thy commandements:

17 And would not obey, neither were mindfull of the wonders that thou diddest for them: but hardened their necks, & had in their heads to returne to their bondage by their rebellion: but thou, O God of mercies, gracious, and full of compassion, of long suffering, and of great mercie, yet forsookest them not.

18 *Moreouer, when they had made them a molten calfe, and sayde, This is thy god that brought thee out of the land of Egypt, and did blasphemies: Exo.32.4. num.14.14. 1.cor.10.13

19 Yet forsookest thou them not in the wildernesse, according to thy great mercies: * and the cloudie pillar departed not from them on the day time to leade them the way, neither the pillar of fire in the night season, to shew them light in the way by which they should goe. Exo.13.21.

20 And thou gauest them thy good spirit to enstrurne them, and withheldest not thy Manna from their mouth, and gauest them water when they were thirstie.

21 Fourtie yeeres long diddest thou feede them in the wildernesse, so that they lacked nothing: their clothes waxed not olde, and their feete swelled not.

22 And thou gauest them kingdomes and nations, and diddest ᵇscatter them into corners: so they possessed the land of Sehon, and the land of the king of Hesbon, and the land of Og king of Basan. ᵇ Meaning, the Heathen. Num.21.

23 And their children multipliedst thou as the starres of heauen, and broughtest them into the lande whereof thou haddest spoken to their fathers, that they should goe into it, and haue it in possession.

24 And the children went in, and possessed the land, and thou subduedst before them the inhabiters of the land, euen the Chanaanites, & gauest them into their hands, with their kings, and the people of the land, that they might doe with them what they would.

25 And they wan their strong cities, and a fat land, and tooke possession of houses that were full of all maner of goods, ‖welles digged out, vineyardes, oliue gardens, and many fruitfull trees, and they did eate, and were filled, and became fat, & liued in pleasure through thy great goodnesse. ‖Or, cesternes.

26 Neuertheless, they were disobedient, and rebelled against thee, and cast thy lawe behinde their backes, and slewe thy Prophets, ‖which exhorted them earnestly, that they might bring them againe vnto thee, and did great blasphemies. ‖Or, which protested among them to turne them to thee.

27 Therefore thou gauest them ouer into the hand of their enemies that vexed them, and in the time of their trouble, when they cryed vnto thee, thou hearedst them from heauen: and through thy great mercy thou gauest them sauiours, which helped them out of the hand of their enemies.

28 But when they came to rest, they turned backe againe, to doe euill before thee: therefore lestest thou them in the hande of their enemies, so that they had the dominion ouer them: and when they conuerted, and cryed vnto thee, thou hearedst them from heauen, and many times hast thou deliuered them, according to thy great mercie, 29 And ‖testifiedst vnto them, that thou mightest bring them againe vnto thy lawe: notwithstanding, they were proude, and ‖Or, protestedst.

hearkened not vnto thy commaundements, but sinned ‖ in thy lawes, which if a man doe, he shall liue in them: and c turned the shoulder away, and were stiffenecked, and would not heare.

‖ Or, against thy iudgements.

c Which is a similitude taken of oxen that shrinke at the yoke and burden, as Zach. 7. 11.

30 Yet many yeeres diddest thou forbeare them, & ‖ testifiedst vnto thē through thy spirit by the hand of thy Prophets, and yet would they not heare: therefore gauest thou them into the hand of the nations of the lands.

‖ Or, protestedst.

31 And for thy great mercies sake, thou hast not vtterly consumed them, neither forsaken them: for thou art a gratious and mercifull God.

32 Nowe therefore our God, thou great God, mightie and terrible, thou that keepest couenant & mercie, regarde not a little all the trauaile that hath come vnto vs, and our kings, our princes, our priests, our prophets, and our fathers, and all the people since the time of the kings of Assur, vnto this day.

33 And truely thou art iust in all that thou hast brought vpon vs, for thou hast done right: as for vs, we haue bene vngodly.

34 And our kings, and our princes, our priestes, and our fathers haue not done thy lawe, nor regarded thy commaundements, and thy ‖ earnest exhortations wherewith thou hast ‖ exhorted them.

‖ Or, protestation.

‖ Or, protested amōgst them.

35 And they haue not serued thee in their kingdome, and in thy great goodnesse that thou gauest them, and in the large & ‖ plenteous land which thou gauest before them, and haue not conuerted from their wicked workes.

‖ Or, fat.

36 Beholde, we are in bondage this day, and so is the land that thou gauest vnto our fathers to eate the fruits and goodnes therof, beholde, there are we bondmen.

37 And great is the increase of it vnto the kings, whome thou hast set ouer vs, because of our sinnes, and they haue dominion ouer our bodies and cattell, euen as they wil them selues: and we are in great trouble.

38 Nowe because of all this, make we a sure couenant, and write it, and our princes, Leuites, and priestes seale vnto it.

24 And these were the chiefe among the Leuites: Hasabia, Serebia, and Jesua the sonne of Cadmiel, & their brethren ‖ in their presence, to giue praise and thankes, accoording as Dauid the man of God had ordeyned it, one watch ouer against another.

30 And the Priestes and Leuites were purified, and cleansed the people, and the gates, and the wall.
31 And I brought the Princes of Juda vpon the wall, and appointed two great ‖ quiers of men to giue thanks, which went on the right hand of the wall towarde the Dung gate.

32 And after them went Hosaia, & halfe of the princes of Juda, 35 And certaine of the priestes children with trumpets: namely Zachari the sonne of Jonathã, the sonne of Semeia, the sonne of Matthania, the sonne of Michaia, the sonne of Zaccur, the sonne of Asaph.

36 And his brethren, Semeia, Asarael, Melalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nathanael, and Juda, and Hanani, with the musical instruments of Dauid the man of God: and Esdras the scribe went before them.
37 And beside the well gate, they went vp ouer against them vpon the steppes of the citie of Dauid at the going vp of the wall, beyonde the house of Dauid vnto the water gate Eastwarde.

41 And so stoode the two quiers of them that gaue thanks in the house of God, and I and the halfe of the rulers with me:

42 And the priests, namely Eliacim, Maaseia, Miniamin, Michaia, Elioenai, Zacharia, and Hanania, with trumpets:

42 And Maasia, Semeia, Eleazar, Azzi, Iehohanan, Melchiah, Elam, and Ezer: and the singers sang loude, hauing Iesrahiah for their ouerseer.

43 And the same day they offered great sacrifices, and reioyced: for God had giuen them great gladnesse, so that both the wiues and children were ioyfull, and the myrth of Hierusalem was heard farre off.

44 *At the same time were the men appointed ouer the treasure houses, wherein were the heaue offerings, the firstlings, and the tithes, that they should gather them out of the fields about the cities, to distribute them vnto the priests and Leuites according to the law: for Iuda was glad of the priestes and Leuites that serued.

45 And both the singers and porters kept the ward of their God, & the ward of the purification, *according to the commandement of Dauid, and of Solomon his sonne.

46 For in the time of Dauid and Asaph of olde were the chiefe singers ordeined, and the songs of prayse and thanksgiuing vnto God.

47 In the time of Zorobabel and Nehemias, did all Israel giue portions vnto the singers and porters euery day his portion: and they | gaue tithes vnto the Leuites, and the Leuites | gaue tithes againe vnto the children of Aaron.

The xiij. Chapter.

1 The law is read. 3 They seperate from them all straungers. 10 An ordinance to serue God.

ON that day did they read in the *booke of Moses in the audience of the people, & therein was found written, that the Ammonites & Moabites should neuer come into the congregation of God:

2 *Because they met not the children of Israel with bread and water, but hired Balaam against them, that hee should curse them: and our God turned the curse into a blessing.

3 Nowe when they had heard the lawe, they separated from Israel euery one that was | mixt himselfe therein.

4 And before - this had the priest Eliashib the ouersight of the treasurie of the house of God, and he was kinsman vnto Tobia,

5 And had made him a great chamber, and there had they aforetime laid the offerings, frankincense, vessels, and the tithes of corne, wine, and oyle, which was commanded to be giuen to the Leuites, singers, and porters, and the heaue offerings of the priests.

6 But in all this time was not I at Hierusalem: for in the two and thirtieth yeere of Artaxerxes king of Babylon came I vnto the king, and after certaine dayes obteined I licence of the king to come to Hierusalem.

7 And I gate knowledge of the euill that Eliashib did for Tobia, in that hee had made him a chamber in the court of the house of God.

8 And it grieued me sore: therefore I cast forth all the vessels of the house of Tobia out of the chamber,

9 And commaunded them to cleanse the chambers, and thether brought I againe the vessels of the house of God, with the meat offring, and the incense.

10 And I perceiued that the portions of the Leuites had not bene giuen them, and that euery one was fled to his lande, euen the Leuites and Singers that executed the worke.

11 Then reproued I the rulers, and sayd, Why is the house of God forsaken? And I gathered them together, & set them in their place.

12 Then brought all Iuda the tithes of corne, & wine, and oyle, vnto the treasures.

13 And I made treasurers ouer the treasure, Selemiah the priest, & Zadoc the scribe, and of the Leuites, Phadaia: & vnder their hand was Hanan the sonne of Zaccur the sonne of Matthania: for they were counted faithfull, and their office was to distribute the portions vnto their brethren.

14 Thinke vpon me, O my God, herein, and wipe not out [b] my | mercy that I haue shewed on the house of my God, and on the officers thereof.

15 And the same time sawe I in Iuda some treading wine presses on the Sabboth, and bringing in sheaues, and which laded Asses also with wine, grapes, and figges, and all burdens, and brought them into Hierusalem vpon the Sabboth day: and I rebuked them earnestly the same day that they solde the victuals.

16 There dwelt men of Tyre also therein, which brought fish & all manner of ware, and sold on the Sabboth vnto the children of Iuda in Hierusalem.

17 Then reproued I the rulers in Iuda, and sayd vnto them, What euil thing is this that ye do, and breake the Sabboth day?

18 Did not your fathers euen thus, and our God brought all this plague vpon vs, and vpon this citie? and yee make the wrath more yet vpon Israel, in that ye breake the Sabboth?

19 And when the portes of Hierusalem began to bee [c] darke in the euening before the Sabboth, I commaunded to shut the gates, and charged that they should not bee opened opened till after the Sabboth: and some of my seruantes set I at the gates, that there should no burden be brought in on the Sabboth day.

20 Then remained the chapmen & marchantes once or twise ouer night without Hierusalem with all maner of wares.

21 Then reproued I them sore, and sayd vnto them, Why tarie ye all night about the wall? If yee doe it once agayne, I will laie hands vpon you: from that time forth came they no more on the Sabboth.

22 And I said vnto the Leuites, that they should cleanse themselues, and that they should come and keepe the gates, to halowe the Sabboth day: Thinke vpon mee, O my God, concerning this also, and spare mee according to thy great mercy.

23 In those dayes also saw I Iewes that married wiues of Asdod, of Ammon, and of Moab, 24 And their children spake halfe in the speach of Asdod, and could not speake in the Iewes language, but according to the language of the one people and of the other people.

25 Then I reproued them, and [d] cursed them, and smote certaine men of them, and made them barre: & [illegible] of them by God, Ye shall not giue your daughters vnto their sons, neither shall ye take their daughters vnto your sonnes, or for your selues.

26 Did not Solomon the king of Israel sinne by these things? and yet among many Heathen was there no king like him, which was beare vnto his God, and God made him king ouer all Israel: and yet neuertheless, outlandish women caused him to sinne. 3.Reg.3. 3.Reg.11.

27 Shall we then obey vnto you, to do all this great euill, and to transgresse against our God, and marrie strange wiues?

28 And one of the children of Ieholada, the sonne of Eliasib the high Priest, was the sonne in lawe of Sanballat the Horonite: but I chased him from me.

29 O my God, thinke thou vpon them that defile the priesthood, and the couenant of the priesthood, and of the Leuites.

30 Thus cleansed I them from all such as were outlandish, and appointed the courses of the Priestes and Leuites, euery one in his office:

31 And to offer the wood at times appointed, and the first fruites: Thinke thou vpon me, O my God, for the best.

The first Chapter.

3 King Ahasuerus maketh a royall feast. 10 Whereunto the Queene Vasthi will not come. 19 For which cause shee is put away. 20 The kings decree touching the preeminence of man ouer his wife.

IN the dayes of Ahasuerus, (this is Ahasuerus which reigned from India vnto Ethiopia ouer an hundred and twentie and seuen prouinces)

2 In those daies, when the king Ahasuerus sate on his seate royall, which was in the palace of Susan:

[a] That is, had rest and quietnesse.

3 In the third yere of his reigne, he made a feast vnto all his princes and seruants: and the mightie men of Persia and Media, the captaines also and rulers of his countreys were before him,

4 And shewed the riches & glory of his kingdome, and the glorious worship of his greatnes many dayes long, an hundred and fourescore dayes.

5 And when these daies were expired, the king made a feast vnto all the people that were in ỹ pallace of Susan, both vnto great and small, seuen dayes long, in the court of the garden by the kings pallace,

6 Where there hanged white, greene, and [yealow] clothes, fastened with cordes of fine silke and purple in siluer rings, vpon pillars of marble stones: the [benches] also were of golde and siluer made vpon a pauement of [greene, white, yealow, and blacke marble.

[Or, blew, violet coloured clothes.

[Or, beds, or tables.

[Or, Purphyre, Marble, Alabaster, white colour.

7 And they dranke in vessels of gold, and changed vessell after vessell, and royall wine in abundance, according to the power of the king.

8 And the drinking was by an order, none might compell: for so the king had appointed to all the officers of his house, that they should do according to euery mans pleasure.

9 And the Queene Vasthi made a feast also for the women in the pallace of Ahasuerus.

10 And on the seuenth day when the king was merie after the wine, he commaunded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, Abagthan, Zethar, and Charchas, the seuen chamberlains that did seruice in the presence of king Ahasuerus, 11 To fetch the Queene Vasthi with the crowne regall vnto the kings presence, that he might shew the people & princes her fairenesse: for she was beautifull.

12 But the Queene Vasthi would not come at ỹ kings word by his chamberlains: then was the king very wroth, and his indignation kindled in him.

[Or, appointed.

13 And the king spake to the wise men which knew the times (for so was the kings maner towards all that knew the lawe and the iudgements:

14 And the next vnto him were Carsena, Sethar, Admata, Tharsis, Mares, Marsena, and Memuchan, the seuen princes of Persia and Media, which sawe the kings face, and sate the first in the kingdome)

15 What, shall wee doe vnto the Queene Vashti according to the lawe, because shee did not according to the worde of the king Ahasuerus, which he commanded by his chamberlains?

16 And Memuchan answered before the king and the princes, The Queene Vashti hath not onely done euill against the king, but also against all the princes, and against all the people that are in all the prouinces of king Ahasuerus.

17 For this deed of the Queene shal come abroad vnto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands before their eies, & shall say, The king Ahasuerus commanded Vashti the Queene to bee brought in before him, but she would not come.

18 And so shall the princesses in Persia and Media say likewise this day vnto all the kings princes when they heare of this deede of the Queene: thus shal there arise too much despitefulnesse and wrath.

19 If it please the king, let there go a commandement from him, and let it bee written according to the lawes of the Persians and Medians, and not to bee transgressed, that Vashti come no more before king Ahasuerus, and let the king giue her roiall estate vnto an other that is better then she.

20 And when this commandement of the king, which shall be made, is published throughout all his empire, which is great, all women shall hold their husbands in honour both among great and small.

21 This saying pleased the king and the princes, and the king did according to the word of Memuchan.

22 For hee sent letters foorth into all the kings prouinces, into euery land according to the writing thereof, & to euery people after their language, that euery man should bee lord in his owne house: and this to be published after the language of his people.

The ii. Chapter.

1 After the Queene is put away, certaine yong maydens are brought to the king. 14 Esther pleaseth the king, and is made Queene.

AFter these actes, when the displeasure of king Ahasuerus was now ‖ alayed, hee thought vpon Vashti, and what shee had done, and what was decreed against her.

2 Then said the kings seruants that ministred vnto him, Let there be faire yong virgins sought for the king.

3 And let the king appoynt officers in all the prouinces of his empire, that they should bring together all the faire yong virgins vnto the palace of Susan to the womens ‖ building, vnder the hand of Hegai ♀ kings chamberlaine that kept the women, to giue them ‖ their apparell.

4 And that the maiden which pleased the king, should bee Queene in Vashtis steade. And this pleased the king, and he did so.

5 In the palace of Susan there was a certaine Iew, whose name was Mardocheus, the sonne of Iair, the sonne of Semei, the sonne of Cis, a man of Jemini,

6 * which was caried away from Hierusalem with the captiuitie, when Jeconia the king of Juda was led away, whom Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon caried thence:

7 And he nourished Hadassa (that is Esther) his vncles daughter: for she had neither father nor mother, and shee was a fayre and beautifull mayden, whome Mardocheus (when her father and mother were dead) receiued for his owne daughter.

8 So when the kings commaundement and commission was published, and many maydens were brought together into the palace of Susan vnder the hand of Hegai, Esther was brought also vnto the kings house vnder the hand of Hegai the keeper of the women.

9 And the mayden pleased him, and shee found fauour in his sight: & he caused ‖ ornaments to be giuen her speedily, & such things as belonged to her, and appointed her seuen comely maidens out of the kings house, ‖ and fauoured both her & her gentlewomen singularly in the house of the women.

10 But Esther shewed not her people and her kinred: for Mardocheus had charged her, that she should not tell it.

11 And Mardocheus walked euery day before the court of the womēs house, that he might know how Esther did, & what should become of her.

12 And when the appoynted time of euerie mayden came, that she should goe in to the king Ahasuerus, after that she had bene twelue moneths according to the maner of the women (for so were the dayes of their purification accomplished, sixe moneths with oyle of myrrhe, and sixe moneths with sweete odours, and in the purifying of the women:

13 And thus went the maydens vnto the king) whatsoeuer she required, that must be giuen her, to goe with her out of the [a] womens ‖ building vnto the kings palace.

14 In the euening shee went, and on the morow she returned into the second house of the women, abiding vnder the hand of Saasgaz the kings chamberlaine, which kept the concubines: and shee came in vnto the king no more, except it pleased the king to haue her, and that she were called by name.

15 Now when the course came of Esther, the daughter of Abihail, the vncle of Mardocheus (which had receiued her as his owne daughter) that shee should come in vnto the king, she desired nothing but what Hegai the kings Chamberlaine ꝑ keeper of the women said: and Esther found fauour in the sight of all them that looked vpon her.

16 And Esther was taken vnto king Ahasuerus into his house royall, in the tenth moneth (which is the moneth [b] Tebeth) in the seuenth yeere of his reigne.

b Which] containeth part of December, and part of Ianuarie.

17 And ꝑ king loued Esther aboue all the women, and she found grace & fauour in his sight, more then all the virgins, so that hee set the crowne of the kingdome vpon her head, and made her Queene in stead of Vashti.

18 And the king made a great feast vnto all his princes and seruants, which feast was because of Esther, and caused the prouinces to be in [c] quietnes, and gaue gifts as became the royaltie of a king.

c He released their tribute.

19 And when the virgins were gathered together the second time, Mardocheus sate in the kings gate.

20 And as yet had not Esther shewed her kinred and her people, according as Mardocheus had bidden her: for Esther did after the word of Mardocheus, like as if she had bene yet vnder his gouernance.

21 At the same time (while Mardocheus sate in the kings gate) two of ꝑ kings chamberlains, Bigthan and Theres, which kept the doore, were wroth, and sought to lay their hands on the king Ahasuerus:

22 Whereof also Mardocheus gate knowledge, and told it vnto Queene Esther, and Esther certified the king thereof in Mardocheus name.

23 And when inquisition was made, it was found so, and they were both hanged on tree: and it was written in the Chronicles before the king.

The iii. Chapter.

1 Haman after he was exalted, obteined of the king, that all the Iewes should bee put to death, because Mardocheus had not done him worship as other had:

AFter these actes did king Ahasuerus promote Haman the sonne of Amadatha the Agagite, and set him on high, and set his seate aboue all the princes that he had with him.

a This fact of Mardocheus seemed to come by the singular motion of Gods spirit, to the end he might execute his iust iudgement against wicked Haman, and also bring Mardocheus to honour for the preseruation of his people: for otherwise to obey magistrates in all ciuil behauiour, is Gods commandement. Rom. 13.

2 And all the kings seruants that were in the kings gate, bowed their knees, and reuerenced Haman, for the king had so comanded concerning him: but Mardocheus [a] bowed not the knee, neither did him reuerence.

3 Then the kings seruants which were in the kings gate, sayde vnto Mardocheus, Why transgressest thou the kings commandement?

4 And though they spake this daily vnto him, yet would he not heare them, therefore they tolde Haman, that they might see how Mardocheus matters would stand, for hee had told them that he was a Iew.

5 And when Haman sawe that Mardocheus bowed not the knee vnto him, nor did reuerence vnto him, he was full of indignation,

6 And thought it too litle to lay handes onely on Mardocheus, for they had shewed him the nation of Mardocheus: wherefore he sought to destroy all the Iewes that were throughout the whole empire of Ahasuerus, and that were of the nation of Mardocheus.

7 In the first moneth (that is the moneth Nisan) in the twelfth yeere of king Ahasuerus, they cast ꝑ hur, that is, a [b] lot, before Haman from day to day, and from moneth to moneth, to the twelfth moneth, that is, the moneth Adar.

b To finde by that meanes & time should be good to go about this thing, that it might haue good successe, but God ordeyning euery time and occasion.

8 And Haman said vnto king Ahasuerus, There is a people scattred abroad, and dispersed among all people in all the prouinces of thine empire, & their lawes are diuers from all people, and doe not after the kings lawes, therefore it is not the kings profit to suffer them.

9 If it please the king, let it bee written, that they may bee destroyed: and so will I ‖ weigh down ten thousand talents of siluer, by the handes of them that haue the charge of this businesse, to bring it into the kings treasurie.

‖ Or, pray.

10 And the king tooke his ring from his hand, & gaue it vnto Haman the sonne of Amadatha the Agagite the Iewes enemie.

11 And the king sayde vnto Haman, Let the siluer be thine, and doe with that people as it pleaseth thee.

12 Then were the kings ‖ scribes called, on the thirteenth day of the first moneth, and there was written according as Haman commanded, vnto all the kings officers, and to the captaines that were ouer euerie prouince, and to the rulers of euery people in the countreis on euery side, according to the writing thereof, and to euery nation after their language, in the name of king Ahasuerus was it written, & sealed with the kings ring.

‖ Or, secretaries.

13 And the letters were sent by postes into all the kings prouinces, to roote out, to kill, and to destroy all Iewes both yong and olde, children and women, in one day, vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, (which is the moneth Adar) and to spoyle them as a praie.

14 *This was the tenor of the writing, that there should be a commandement giuen in all prouinces, and published vnto all people, that they should bee readie against the same day.

* Read vers. 7.

15 And the postes went in all hast according to the kings commaundement, and in the palace of Susan was ꝑ commandement deuised: and the king and Haman sate and dranke, when in the meane time the [c] citie of Susan was disquieted.

The iiij. Chapter.

5 Mardocheus giueth the queene knowledge of the cruell decree of the King against the Iewes. 16 She willeth that they pray for her.

WHen Mardocheus perceiued all that was done, hee rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth with ashes, and went out into the middes of the citie, and cried loude and lamentably,

2 And came before the kings gate, but he might not enter within the kings gate, because he had sackcloth on.

3 And in al prouinces, countries, and places, as farre as the Kings worde and commandement came, there was great lamentation among the Iewes, fasting, weeping, and mourning, and many lay in sackclothes and in ashes.

4 So Esthers maydens, and her chamberlaines came, and tolde it her: then was the queene exceedingly astonied, and she sent raiment that Mardocheus shoulde put on, and lay the sackcloth from him: but Mardocheus would not take them.

5 Then called Esther Hathach, one of the Kings chamberlaines, which stoode before her, and gaue him a commaundement vnto Mardocheus, to know what it was wherefore he did so.

6 So Hathach went forth to Mardocheus vnto the streete of the citie, which was before the kings gate:

7 And Mardocheus tolde him of all that had come vnto him, and of ‡ the summe of siluer that Haman had promised to weigh downe into the Kings treasurie, because of the Iewes, if he would destroy them.

‡ Heb. Declaration.

8 And he gaue him the copie of the kings commaundement that was deuised at Susan to destroy them, that hee might shewe it vnto Esther, and to speake to her, and to charge her that shee should goe in vnto the king, and make her prayer and supplication vnto him for her people.

9 And when Hathach came in, he tolde Esther the wordes of Mardocheus,

10 And againe Esther spake vnto Hathach, and commaunded him to say vnto Mardocheus, 11 All the kings seruants, and the people in the prouinces of the king know, that whosoeuer commeth within the court vnto the King, whether it bee man or woman, which is not called, ‖ the commaundement is, that the same shal die, except the king hold out the golden scepter vnto him, for then he shal liue: but I haue not bene called to come in vnto the king now this thirtie dayes.

‖ Or, there is a lawe of him.

12 And when Mardocheus was certified of Esthers wordes, 13 Mardocheus bade say againe vnto Esther, Thinke not with thy selfe that thou shalt escape in the kings house more then all the Iewes.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, then shall the Iewes haue ‖ helpe & deliuerance out of an [a] other place, and thou and thy fathers house shalbe destroyed: And who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdome ‖ for this cause sake?

a This shall Mardocheus haue in the steede of that fauty which all Gods children ought to haue, which is, that God would deliuer them, by one meanes or other.

15 Esther bade them giue Mardocheus this answere,

16 Goe & gather all the Iewes that are found at Susan, and fast ye for me, that yee eate not & drinke not in three dayes, neither day nor night, I and my maidens will fast likewise: and so will I goe in vnto the king, which thing is yet contrary to the commandement, and [b] if I perish, I perish.

‖ Or, for such a time.

b I will put my life in daunger, & referre the successe to God, seeing it is for his glorie, and deliuerance of his people.

17 So Mardocheus went his way, and did according to all that Esther had commaunded him.

The v. Chapter.

1 Esther entreth in vnto the King, and biddeth him and Haman to a feast. 11 Haman prepareth a gallous for Mardocheus.

AND on the third day, Esther put on her royal apparel, and stood in the court of the kings palace within, ouer against the kings house: and the king sate vpon his royall seate in the kings palace: ouer against the gate of the house.

2 And when the King sawe Esther the queene standing in the court, she found grace in his sight: and the king held out the golden scepter that was in his hande: So Esther stept forth, and touched the top of the scepter.

3 Then sayde the King vnto her, What wilt thou, queene Esther? and what requirest thou? aske euen the halfe of the empire, and it shalbe giuen thee.

4 And Esther answered, If it please the King, let the King and Haman come this day vnto the banquet that I haue prepared for him.

5 And the King sayde, Cause Haman to make haste, that he may doe as Esther hath saide. So the King and Haman came to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

6 And the King sayde vnto Esther at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, that it may bee giuen thee? And what requirest thou? If it be euen the halfe of the empire, it shalbe done.

7 Then answered Esther, and sayd, My petition and desire is,

8 If I haue founde grace in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to giue me my petition, and to fulfill my request, then let the King and Haman come to the banquet that I shall prepare for them, and so will I doe to morowe as the King hath sayd.

9 Then went Haman forth the same day ioyfull and merie in his minde: but when Haman saw Mardocheus in the kings gate, that he stood not vp, nor moued for him, hee was full of indignation at Mardocheus.

10 Neuertheless, Haman refrained himselfe, and when he came home, he sent and called for his friends, and Zares his wife.

11 And Haman told them of the glory of his riches, & multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the king had [a] promoted him so greatly, and howe that he had set him aboue the Princes, and seruants of the king.

[a] Thus the wicked when they are promoted, in stead of considering their charge & bynding themselues, wax ambitious, disdainful, and cruell.

12 Haman sayd moreouer, Yea, Esther the queene did let no man come in with the king vnto the banquet that shee had prepared, except me: and to morowe am I bidden vnto her also with the king.

13 But in all this am I not satisfied, as long as I see Mardocheus the Iewe sitting at the kings gate.

[b] The comfort and counsell which he receiued of his wife, & friends, through the prouidence of God, was turned to his destruction.

14 Then said [b] Zares his wife, & all his friends vnto him, Let them make a gallous of fiftie cubites high, and to morowe speake thou vnto the king that Mardocheus may be hanged thereon: then goe thou in merily with the king vnto the banquet. And Haman was well content withall, and caused the gallous to be made.

The vj. Chapter.

1 The king turneth ouer the Chronicles, and findeth the fidelitie of Mardocheus, 10 and commaundeth Haman to cause Mardocheus to be had in honour.

THE same night could not the king sleepe, and he commanded to bring the ‖ Chronicles & stories: and they were read before the King.

‖ Or, the booke of records, & the Chronicles.

2 Then it was found written, how Mardocheus had told that Bigthana and Teres the Kings two chamberlaines which kept the ‖ doores, sought to lay handes on King Ahasuerus.

‖ Or, thresholds.

3 And the King sayd, What honour and dignitie hath bene giuen to Mardocheus therefore? Then saide the Kings seruants that ministred vnto him, There is nothing at all done for him.

4 And the King said, who is in the court? (for Haman was come into the court without before the Kings house, that hee might speake vnto the King to hang Mardocheus on the tree that he had prepared for him.)

5 And the Kings seruants said vnto him, Beholde, Haman standeth in the court. And the King said, Let him come in.

6 And when Haman came in, the King sayd vnto him, What shall be done vnto the man whom the King would faine bring vnto worship? (Haman thought in his heart, whom desireth the King to bring vnto worship more then me?)

7 And Haman answered the King, Let the man whome the King pleaseth to bring vnto worship be brought hither,

8 That he may be arayed with the royall garments which the King vseth to weare, & the horse that the king rideth vpon, and that the crowne royall may be set vpon his head:

9 And let this rayment and horse be deliuered vnder the hand of one of the Kings most noble princes, that they may aray the man withall, whome the King is disposed to bring to honour, and cause him to ride vpon the horse through the streete of the citie, and proclaime before him, Thus shall it be done to the man whom the King pleaseth to bring to honour.

10 And the King sayde to Haman, Make haste, and take as thou hast said, the raiment and the horse, and doe euen so vnto Mardocheus the Iew, that sitteth before the Kings gate: and let nothing fasle of all that thou hast spoken.

11 Then tooke Haman the raiment, and the horse, & araied Mardocheus, & brought him on horsebacke through the streete of the citie, and proclaimed before him, Thus shall it be done vnto the man whome the King is disposed to honour.

12 And Mardocheus came againe to the Kings gate: but Haman gate him home in all the haste mourning, and his head couered:

13 And tolde Zares his wife, and all his friends, euery thing that had befallen him. Then said his wise men, and Zares his wife vnto him, If it be Mardocheus of the seede of the Iewes, before whom thou hast begun to fall, thou shalt not preuaile against him, but shalt surely [a] fall before him.

[a] Thus do Gentiles vse to worship in the moment of the very deede, as speake the gesture which they vse to crouch in case to fall.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the Kings chamberlaines, and caused Haman to make haste to come vnto the banquet that Esther had prepared.

The vij. Chapter.

3 The queene prayeth for her selfe, and her people. 6 She accuseth Haman, and he is hanged on the gallous which he had prepared for Mardocheus.

AND the king and Haman came to banquet with the queene Esther.

2 And the King said againe vnto Esther on the second day at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, queene Esther, that it may be giuen thee? and what requirest thou? if it be euen to hall of the Empire, it shalbe done.

3 And Esther the queene answered, and said, If I haue found grace in thy sight, O king, and if it please the king, then graunt me my life at my desire, and my people for my petitions sake.

4 For we are solde, I and my people, to be destroyed, to be slaine, and to perish: and would God that wee were solde to be bondmen, and bondwomen, then would I holde my tongue: although the enemie could not recompence the Kings [a] losse.

[a] Meaning the tribute which the Iewes paid vnto the king.

5 The king Ahasuerus answered, and sayde vnto the queene Esther, Who is hee? and where is hee that dare presume in his minde to doe after that maner?

6 And Esther sayde, The enemie and adueraduersary is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was exceedingly afraide before the king and the queene.

7 And the king arose from the banquet, and from the wine in his displeasure, and went into the pallace garden: and Haman stoode vp, and besought queene Esther for his life: for hee sawe that there was a mischiefe prepared for him of the king already.

8 And when the king came againe out of the pallace garden into the place where they dranke wine, Haman had layde him vpon the bed that Esther sate vpon. Then said the king, Will he force the queene also before me in the house? As soone as that worde went out of the kings mouth, they [b] couered Hamans face.

9 And Harbona, one of the chamberlaines that stoode before the king, saide, Beholde, there standeth yet a gallous in Hamans house, fiftie cubites high, which hee had made for Mardocheus, that spake good for the king. Then the king saide, Hang him thereon.

10 So they hanged Haman on the gallous that hee had made for Mardocheus: Then was the kings wrath pacified.

The viij. Chapter.

1 After the death of Haman, was Mardocheus exalted. 14 Comfortable letters are sent vnto the Iewes.

THe same day did king Ahasuerus giue the house of Haman the Iewes enemy, vnto queene Esther, and Mardocheus came before the king: for Esther tolde what he was vnto her.

2 And the king tooke off his ring which he had taken from Haman, and gaue it vnto Mardocheus. And Esther set Mardocheus ouer the house of Haman.

3 And Esther spake yet more before the king, and fel downe at his feete weeping, and besought him that hee woulde put away the wickednes of Haman the Agagite, and his deuice that hee had imagined against the Iewes.

4 And the king helde out the golden scepter towarde Esther. Then rose Esther, and stoode before the king,

5 And saide, If it please the king, and if I haue found grace in his sight, and if it be acceptable before the king, and I please him, then let it bee written, that the letters of the deuice of Haman the sonne of Hamadatha the Agagite may be called againe, which letters hee wrote to destroye the Iewes which are in all the kings prouinces.

6 For howe can I suffer and see the euill that shall come vnto my people? or howe can I beare and looke vpon the destruction of my kinred?

7 And the King Ahasuerus sayde vnto queene Esther, and to Mardocheus the Iewe, Beholde, I haue giuen Esther the house of Haman, whome they haue hanged vpon a tree, because hee layde hande vpon the Iewes.

8 Write ye also for the Iewes as it liketh you in the kings name, and seale it with the kings ring: for the writings that were written in the kings name, and sealed with the kings ring, durst no man disanull.

9 Then were the kings scribes called at the same time, euen in the thirde moneth (that is in the moneth [a] Siuan) on the three and twentieth day thereof, and it was written according to all as Mardocheus commanded vnto the Iewes, and to the princes, to the deputies and captaines in the prouinces which are from India vnto Ethiopia, namely, an hundred, twentie and seuen prouinces, vnto euery prouince according to the writing thereof, and vnto euery people after their speech, and to the Iewes according vnto their writing and language.

10 And hee wrote in the king Ahasuerus name, and sealed it with the kings ring, and by postes that rode vpon horses, and swifte young Mules, sent he the writings,

11 Wherein the king granted the Iewes, in what cities soeuer they were, to gather themselues together, and to [b] stande for their life, and for to roote out, to slay, and to destroy all the power of the people and prouince that would trouble them, both children and women, and to spoyle their goods:

[b] That is, to defend themselues against al that would assaile them.

12 Vpon one day in all the prouinces of king Ahasuerus, namely, vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adar.

13 The tenor of the writing was, howe there should be a commaundement giuen in all and euery prouince, and published among all people, and that the Iewes should be readie against that day to auenge themselues on their enemies.

14 And so the postes that rode vpon the swift Horses and Mules, made haste with al speede to execute the kings worde: and the commaundement was deuised in the pallace of Susan.

15 And Mardocheus went out from the king in royall apparel, of ‖ yelow and white, and with a great crowne of golde, being arayed with a garment of ‖ silke and purple: and the citie of Susan reioyced and was glad.

‖ Or, blew.

‖ Or, fine linnen.

16 And vnto the Iewes there was come light and gladnesse, ioy and worship.

17 In all prouinces and cities into what place so euer the kings word and commaundement reached, there was ioy and mirthe, a feast and good dayes among the Iewes: in so much that many of the people in the lande became Iewes, for the feare of the Iewes came vpon them.

The ix. Chapter.

1 At the commaundement of the King, the Iewes put their aduersaries to death. 14 The tenne sonnes of Haman are hanged.

IN the twelfth moneth (that is, the moneth Adar) vpon the thirteenth day of the same, when the kings word and commandement drewe neere to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Iewes hoped to haue power ouer them, it turned contrary: for the Iewes had rule ouer them that hated them.

2 For then gathered the Iewes together in their cities within all the prouinces of king Ahasuerus, to laye hande on such as would do them euil, and no man could withstande them: for the feare of them was come ouer all people.

3 And all the rulers in the prouinces, and princes, and deputies, and officers of the king, promoted the Iewes: for the feare of Mardocheus came vpon them.

4 For Mardocheus was great in the kings house, and the report of him was noysed in all the prouinces: for this man Mardocheus waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Iewes smote all their enemies with the stroke of the sworde, & slaughter, and destruction, and did what they would vnto their enemies.

6 And at the palace of Susan, the Iewes destroyed a fiue hundred men.

a Beside those three hundred that they slue the second day, as verse 15.

7 And slue Pharsandatha, Dalphon, Aphatha,

8 Phoratha, Adalia, Aridatha,

9 Pharmastha, Arisai, Aridai, and Vaizatha,

10 The ten sonnes of Haman the sonne of Hamadatha, the enemie of the Iewes: but ‖ on his goods they layed no handes.

‖ Or, on the pray.

11 At the same time was the king certified of the number of those that were slaine in the palace of Susan.

12 And the king saide vnto queene Esther, The Iewes haue slaine and destroyed fiue hundred men in the palace of Susan, and the ten sonnes of Haman: what haue they done thinkest thou in other landes of the king? And what is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? or what requirest thou more to be done?

13 Esther answered, If it please the king, let him suffer the Iewes which are in Susan, to morow also to doe according vnto this dayes decree, that they may hang Hamans tenne sonnes vpon the tree.

14 And the king charged to do so: and the decree was deuised at Susan, and they hanged Hamans ten sonnes.

15 For the Iewes that were in Susan, gathered themselues together vpon the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, and slew three hundred men at Susan: but on their goods they layde no handes.

16 As for the other Iewes that were in the kings prouinces, they came together, and stoode for their liues, and had rest from their enemies, and slewe of their enemies seuentie and fiue thousande, howbeit, they layde no handes on their goods.

17 This they did on the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, and on the fourteenth day of the same moneth rested they, which day they helde with feasting and gladnesse.

18 But the Iewes that were at Susan, came together, both on the thirteenth day, and on the fourteenth: and on the fifteenth day of the same they rested, and held that day with feasting and gladnesse.

19 And therefore the Iewes that dwelt in the villages, and vnwalled townes, helde the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar with gladnesse and feasting, and b kept holy day, and euery one sent presents vnto his neighbour.

b As the Iewes do vnto this day, calling it in the Persians language Phurim, that is, the day of lot.

20 And Mardocheus wrote these words, and sent letters vnto all the Iewes that were in all the prouinces of king Ahasuerus, both nigh and farre:

21 That they should make a lawe among themselues, and holde the fourteenth and fifteenth day of the moneth Adar yeerely, 22 As the dayes wherin the Iewes came to rest from their enemies, and as a moneth wherein their paine was turned to ioy, and their sorrowe into a ioyfull day: and that in those dayes they shoulde make feastes and gladnesse, and one to sende giftes vnto an other, and to distribute vnto the poore.

23 And the Iewes promised to do as they had begunne, and as Mardocheus had written vnto them:

24 Because Haman the sonne of Hamadatha the Agagite, all the Iewes enemie, had deuised against the Iewes, howe hee might destroy them, and caused to cast Phur, (that is, a lot) for to consume them, and to bring them to nought.

25 * But when Esther came before the king, hee commaunded by letters, that his wicked deuice, which hee imagined against the Iewes, should be turned vpon his owne head, and that hee and his sonnes should bee hanged on the tree. * Esther 3.7.

26 For the which cause they called these dayes Phurim, because of the name of the lot, and because of all the wordes of this writing, and what they themselues had seene, and what had come vnto them:

27 And the Iewes ordeined, and tooke it vpon them and their seede, and vpon all such as ioyned themselues vnto them, that they would not misse, but obserue these two daies yeerely according as they were written and appointed in their season.

28 And that these dayes are to be remembred, and to bee kept of childrens children among all kindreds in all landes and cities, in these dayes of Phurim, which are not to bee ouerslipt among the Iewes, and the memoriall of them ought not to perish from their seede.

29 And Queene Esther the daughter of Abihail, and Mardocheus the Iewe wrote with all authoritie to confirme this seconde writing writing of Phurim.

30 And hee sent the letters vnto all the Iewes, to the hundred twentie and seuen prouinces of the empire of Ahasuerus, with wordes of peace and trueth:

31 To confirme these dayes of Phurim in their time appointed, according as Mardocheus the Iewe, and Esther the Queene had appointed them: and they bounde their ‖soule and their seede to fasting and prayer.

‖Or, selues.

32 And the decree of Esther confirmed these wordes of Phurim, and was written in the booke.

33 And the king Ahasuerus layde tribute vpon the lande, and vpon the yles of the sea.

34 And all the actes of his power, and of his might, and the declaration of the dignitie of Mardocheus, wherewith the king magnified him, be they not written in the bookes of the Chronicles of the kings of Medes and Persia?

35 For Mardocheus the Iewe, was the second next vnto king Ahasuerus, and great among the Iewes, and accepted among the multitude of his brethren, as one that seeketh the wealth of his people, and speaketh peaceably for all his seede.

The ende of the booke of Esther.

The booke of Iob.

The first Chapter.

1 The holinesse and riches of Iob, 5 the care of Iob for his children. 11 Satan hath permission to tempt him. 13 Hee tempteth him by taking away his substance, and his children. 20 His faith and patience.

IN the land of Hus there was a man whose name was [a] Iob, and the same was a perfect and a iust man, one that feared God, and eschewed euill.

a This Iob was a Gentile, declaring hereby that God hath his, euen among the heathen.

2 And hee had seuen sonnes, and three daughters.

3 His substance also was seuen thousand sheepe, and three thousand camels, fiue hundred yoke of oxen, and fiue hundred shee asses, and a very great houshold: so that hee was one of the most principall ‡men among all them of the [b] East countrey.

‡Heb. children.

b As well Arabians, Chaldeans, Ismaelites, Idumeans, as others.

4 And his sonnes went and banqueted in their houses, euery one his day, and sent and called for their three sisters to eate and drinke with them.

5 And when the dayes of their banqueting were gone about, Iob sent and sanctified them, and gate vp early, and offered for euery one a whole burnt offering: for Iob saide, It may be that my sonnes haue done some offence, and haue bene [c] vnthankefull to God in their heartes. Thus did Iob euery day.

c The Hebrew is, blesse God, which is some times taken for to curse, as blaspheme, and curse, and 1. King. 21.

6 And vpon a day when the [d] children of God came and stoode before the Lorde, Satan came also among them.

d Meaning, the angels which are called the children of God, because they are willing and ready to execute his will.

7 And the Lord said vnto Satan, Whence commest thou? Satan answered the Lorde, and saide, From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking through it.

8 And the Lorde saide vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob, howe there is none like him in the earth? a perfect and a iust man, one that feareth God, and escheweth euill?

9 Satan answered, and saide vnto the Lord, Doeth Iob feare God [e] for nought?

e Ye feareth thee, not for thyne owne sake, but for the commoditie that he receiueth by thee.

10 Hast not thou ‡preserued him and his house, and all that hee hath on euery side? thou hast blessed the worke of his hands, and his possession is increased in the land.

‡Heb. made an hedge about him.

11 But lay thine hande nowe vpon him, and touch all that he hath, and he shal [f] curse thee to thy face.

f The Hebrew is, blesse thee, as it is before take, in the fifth verse to curse, ‖Or, hand.

12 And the Lord saide vnto Satan, Loe, all that hee hath be in thy ‖power, onely vpon himselfe see that thou lay not thine hand. And Satan went foorth from the [g] presence of the Lord.

g That is, went to execute that which God had permitted him to doe, for els he can neither goe out of Gods presence.

13 And vpon a certaine day when his sonnes and daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

14 There came a messenger vnto Iob, and saide, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding beside them:

15 [h] And the Sabees came violently and tooke them away: yea, they haue slaine thy seruants with the edge of the sworde, and I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

h That is, the Arabians, so called of Sheba the sonne of Ketura, of whom Arabia felix was named the region of Saba.

16 While he was yet speaking, there came an other, and saide, The fire of God is fallen from heauen, and hath burnt vp thy sheepe, and seruants, and consumed them, and I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

17 And while he was yet speaking, there came an other, and said, The Chaldees made out three bandes, and fell vpon the camels, and haue caried them away, yea, and slaine thy seruants with the swoorde, and I onely am gotten away alone to tell thee.

18 And while he was yet speaking, there came another, and said, Thy sonnes and thy daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house, 19 And behold, there came a mighty great wind from beyond the wildernes, and smote the foure corners of the house, which fell vpon thy children, and they are dead, and I am gotten away alone to tell thee.

i Not of impatience, but as mourners vse to doe, thereby declaring that he was some thing moued according to the weakenesse of mans nature in afflictions. Eccle. 5. 14. 1. tim. 6. 7.

20 Then Iob stoode vp, and i rent his clothes, and shaued his head, fell downe vpon the ground, worshipped, 21 And saide, * Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, and naked shall I turne k thither againe: the Lorde gaue, and the Lord hath taken away, blessed be the Name of the Lord.

k Whereby is meant the bely of the earth, which is the mother of vs all.

22 In all these things did Iob not offend, nor charged God foolishly.

The ij. Chapter.

9 Iobs wife tempted him to forsake God. 11 His three friendes visite him.

AND on a day, the children of God came and stoode before the Lorde, and Satan came also among them, and stoode before the Lord.

2 And the Lord saide vnto Satan, From whence commest thou? Satan answered the Lorde, and saide, I haue gone about the land, and walked through it.

3 And the Lorde saide vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob? howe there is none like vnto him in the earth, a perfect and a iust man? one that feareth God, and escheweth euill, and continueth still in his vprightnesse, although thou mouedst mee against him, to destroy him a without cause.

a God alloweth Iobs innocencie, because he ceased not to feare God, although God tried him with plagues carelesse, at Satans request.

4 And Satan answered the Lorde, and saide, b Skinne for skinne, yea, a man will giue all that euer he hath for his life.

b That is, as a man will be content with the losse of an other mans skinne, so he may spare his owne: so is Iob content to beare the losse of his children, kine, and bodies in patience, rather then to suffer his owne skin and body to be touched.

5 But laye thine hande nowe vpon him, and touch his bone and his flesh, and he shall curse thee to thy face.

6 And the Lord said vnto Satan, Loe, he is in thine hand, but saue his life.

7 So went Satan foorth from the presence of the Lorde, and smote Iob with sore byles, from the sole of his foote, vnto his crowne.

8 And he tooke a potshard to scrape him: and he sate downe among the ashes.

9 Then sayde his wife vnto him, Doest thou continue yet in thy perfectnesse? c curse God, and die.

c For death was appointed vnto him that blaspheme and curseth God, as Leuit. 24. 15. meaning that he should be soone rid out of his paine.

10 But hee sayde vnto her, Thou speakest like a foolish woman: shall wee receiue good at the hande of God, and d not receiue euill? In all these things did not Iob sinne with his lippes.

d That is, to be patient in aduersitie, as we receyue when he sendeth prosperitie.

11 Nowe when Iobs three friendes hearde of all the trouble that came vpon him, they came euery one from his owne place, namely Eliphaz the Themanite, Bildad the Suhite, and Sophar the Naamathite: for they were agreed together, to shew their compassion vpon him, and to comfort him.

12 So when they lift vp their eyes a farre off, they knewe him not: then they cried, and wept, and euery one of them rent his clothes, and sprinckled dust vpon their heades ‡ in the ayre.

‡ Heb. Toward the heauen.

13 They sate them downe by him also vpon the grounde seuen dayes and seuen nightes, and none spake a worde vnto him, for they saw that his griefe was very great.

The iij. Chapter.

1 Iob complaineth, and curseth the day of his birth. 11 Hee desireth to die, as though death were the ende of all mans miserie.

AFter a this, opened Iob his mouth, and cursed his day.

a That is, after the seuen dayes were fully finished.

2 And Iob answered, and sayde,

3 * Let the day perish where in I was borne, b and the night in the which it was sayde, There is a man childe conceiued.

Iere. 20. 14.

b He cursed not his day because he was weary of it as one desperate, but rather wishing to be delyuered, least he further troubling he should be forced to offend God.

4 The same day bee turned to darkenesse and not regarded of God from aboue, neither let the light shine vpon it.

5 But let it bee stained with darkenesse and the shadow of death, let the dimme coulde fall vpon it, which may make it terrible, as a most bitter day.

6 Let the darke storme ouercome that night, and let it not be ioyned vnto the daies of the yeere, nor counted in the number of the monethes.

7 Desolate bee that night, and without gladnesse.

8 Let them that curse the day, and that bee ready to raise vp mourning, giue it also their curse.

9 Let the starres of that ‡ night be dimme thorough darkenesse of it, let it looke for light, but haue none, c neither let it see the dawning of the day:

‡ Heb. Twilight.

c The Hebrue speech is, the eye lidres of the morning.

10 Because it shut not vp the doores of my mothers wombe, nor hidde sorowe from mine eyes.

11 Why died I not in the birth? why did not I perish as soone as I came out of the wombe?

12 Why set they mee vpon their knees? why gaue they me sucke with their breastes?

13 Then shoulde I nowe haue lien still, I should haue slept, and bene at rest, 14 Like as the kings and ‡ lordes of the earth, which haue builded themselues ‡ speciall places:

‡ Heb. Counsellours.

‡ Heb. Desolate.

15 Or, as the princes that haue had gold,

and

and their houses full of siluer.

16 Or why was not I hidde, as a thing borne out of time, eyther as yong children which neuer sawe the light?

17 There [d] must the wicked ceasse from their tyrannie, and there such as laboured valiantly, be at rest.

18 There the [e] prisoners rest together, they heare no more the voyce of the oppressour:

19 There are small and great, and the seruant is free from his master.

20 Wherefore is the light giuen to him that is in miserie? and life vnto them that haue heauie hearts?

21 Which long for death, and finde it not, though they search more for it, then for treasures:

22 Which reioyce exceedingly, and be glad when they can finde the graue,

23 From whom their endes are hid, and concealed by God?

24 For my sighes come before I eate, and my roarings are powred out like the waters.

25 For the thing that [f] I feared is come vpon me, and the thing that I was afraid of, is happened vnto me.

26 Was I not happie? Had I not quietnesse? was I not in rest? and now commeth such miserie vpon me.

[d] That is, death as the end and perfect from the wearying and wretchednesse of them.

[e] Here Iob declareth the fine plagues per hare, counting plainelie in whole flare the three first persons, & bound prisoners: of which cares, after the opinion of the Hebr. he accounteth both the sonnes & mo.

[f] That is, the matter, which being in your thoughts, he knew.

The iiij. Chapter.

Eliphaz blameth Iob for impaciencie, 7 vniustice, and for the presumption of his owne righteousnesse.

THen Eliphaz the Themanite answered, and said,

2 If we assay to commune with thee, wilt thou be discontent? [a] But who can withhold himselfe from speaking?

3 Behold, thou hast bene an instructer of many, and hast strengthened the [b] weary hands.

4 Thy wordes haue set vp him that was falling, thou hast refreshed the weake knees.

5 But now it is come vpon thee, and thou art grieued: it toucheth thee, and thou art troubled.

6 Is this thy feare, thy confidence, thy hope, and thy [c] vpright liuing?

7 Consider, I pray thee, who euer perished being an innocent? or when were the godly destroyed?

8 For as I haue proued by experience, they that plowe iniquitie, and sowe wretchednesse, reape the same.

9 With the blast of God they perish, with the breath of his nosethrils are they consumed away.

10 The roaring of the lion, and the voyce of the lion, and the teeth of lions whelpes are pulled out.

11 The [d] lion perisheth for lacke of pray, and the lions whelpes are scattered abroade.

12 But where as a thing was [e] hid from mee, yet mine eare hath receiued a little thereof.

13 In the thoughtes and visions of the night, when sleepe commeth on men, 14 Feare came vpon me, and dread which made all my bones to shake.

15 The winde passed by before my presence, and made the haires of my flesh to stand vp.

16 It stoode, and I knewe not the face thereof, an image there was before mine eyes, and in the stilnesse heard I a voyce.

17 Shall man be more iust then God? or shall a man be purer then his maker?

18 Beholde, he founde not trueth in his seruaunts, * and in his angels there was folly:

19 Howe much more in them that dwell in [f] houses of clay, and whose foundation is but dust, which shall be consumed, as it were with a mothe?

20 They shalbe smitten from the morning vnto the euening: yea they shall perish for euer, when no man regardeth them.

21 Is not their royaltie gone away with them? they shall die truely, and not in wisedme.

[a] Because of the sore affliction, and the impatience.

[b] Meaning, thou hast holpen and counselled many in miserie, and canst thou not take the like paine?

[c] By this he gathereth that Iob was but an hypocrite, and had not perfect feare and trust in God.

[d] That is, God shal punish tyrants, which are compared to lions, although men neglecting their office, doe like beasts.

[e] Here Eliphaz sheweth the manner of diuine reuelation by the holy Ghost, saying, that which he withnow declare, is not humane reason, but as reuealed vnto him frō God.

2. Pet. 2. 4.

[f] Meaning, mans body which is nothing but dust and clay; 1. Cor. 5. 1.

The v Chapter.

1. 2 Eliphaz sheweth the difference betweene the children of God, and the wicked.

CRie, I pray thee, if there bee any that will answere thee, and [a] looke thou vpon any of the holy.

2 As for the foolish man, wrathfulnesse killeth him, and enuie slaieth the ignorant.

3 I haue seene my selfe when the foolish was deepe rooted, and suddenly I cursed his habitation.

4 His children were without prosperitie, and they were slaine in the gate, and there was no man to deliuer them.

5 His harueste was eaten of the hungrie, and taken from among the thornes, and the thirstie drunke vp their labour.

6 It is not the earth that bringeth foorth iniquitie, neither commeth sorowe out of the ground:

7 But man is borne vnto labour, like as the sparkes flee vp.

8 But [b] I would aske counsell at the Lord, and talke with God:

9 Which doeth great thinges, and vnsearcheable, and marueles without number.

10 He giueth raine vpon the earth, and powreth water vpon the streetes, 11 To set vp them that be of lowe degree, and that those which are in heauinesse may be exalted to saluation.

12 Hee destroyeth the deuises of the subtile,

[a] He willeth Iob to consider the example of all that hate liued godly, whether any of them were plagued in such sort as he was.

[b] If I were in thy case, I would craue helpe of God, saith Eliphaz.

tile, so that their handes are not able to perfo͂rme that which they doe enterpryse.

1.Cor.3.59 13 *He compasseth the wise in their owne craftinesse, and maketh foolish the counsel of the wicked.

c That is, in things manifest & plaine, they want godly wisdom and grace to see.

14 They runne into c darkenesse by faire day, and grope at the noone day, as in the night.

15 But hee deliuered the poore from the sword, from their threatnings, and from the violence of the mightie.

16 Hee is the hope of the poore, and the mouth of the wicked shalbe stopped.

Prou.3.11. iam.1.12. heb.12.5. 17 Beholde, * blessed is the man whom God correcteth, therefore refuse not thou the chastening of the almightie.

18 For hee maketh a wound, and he healeth: he smiteth, and his hand maketh whole againe.

d Alluding to the fire dayes of Gods first worke, and the seuenth day he rested, meaning, that of all thy cares and troubles, God will deliuer thee, and bring thee to rest, as in the seuenth day.

19 Hee shall deliuer thee in d sixe troubles, and in the seuenth there shall no euill come to thee.

20 In hunger he shall saue thee frō death, and when it is warre, from the power of the sword.

21 Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue, and when destruction commeth, thou shalt not neede to feare.

22 In destruction and dearth thou shalt be mery, and shalt not be afraid of the beastes of the earth.

e Shewing that when we haue God our friend, all creatures of his, will serue to our good.

23 For the e stones of the land shall be confederate with thee, and the beasts of the field shall be at peace with thee.

f God shall so blesse thee, that thou shalt haue occasion to reioyce in all things, and not to be grieued.

24 And thou shalt knowe that thy dwelling place shall be in rest, and thou shalt visite thy habitation, and shalt f not sinne.

25 Thou shalt see also that thy seede shalbe great, and thy posteritie as the grasse vpon the earth.

26 Thou shalt come also to thy graue in a full age, like a corne sheafe cut downe in due season.

27 Loe, this wee our selues haue proued by experience, and euen thus it is: hearken thou to it also, that thou mayest take heede to thy selfe.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Iob answereth, that his paine is more grieuous then his fault. 8 Hee wisheth death. 14 He complaineth of his friends.

BVt Iob answered, and said, a Meaning, that his troubles are excessiue, & vnmeasurable, as the sands of the sea.

2 O that my complaint were a truely weighed, and my punishment laide in the ballances together:

3 For nowe it would be heauier then the sand of the sea: and this is the cause that my wordes faile me.

b Declaring that he was not afflicted onely bodily, but also pricke inwardly in his mind.

4 For the arrowes of the Almightie are vpon me, the poison thereof hath drunke vp my spirite, and the terrible b feares of God are set against me.

5 Doeth the wilde asse roare when hee hath grasse? or loweth the oxe when he hath fodder?

6 That which is vnsauerie, c shall it be eaten without salt? or is there any taste in the white of an egge?

c Can we beare tribulations that are vnsauerie and vnpleasant, except we conceaue a way which changeth that are vnfauorie to the mouth.

7 The things that sometime I might not away withall, are nowe my meate, for very sorowe.

8 O that I might haue my desire, and that God would graunt me the thing that I long for:

9 O that God would beginne and smite me, that he would let his hand goe and take me cleane away:

10 Then should I haue some comfort, yea, I would desire him in my paine that hee would not spare, d for I will not denie the wordes of the holy one.

d Meaning, that he had rather to die, then to denie the wordes of the holy one, that is, the truth that appeareth to dwell in Gods mouth.

11 For what power haue I to endure? and what is mine ende, ‡ that my soule might be patient?

12 Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh of brasse?

13 Is it not so that there is in me no helpe: and that my ‖ substance is taken from me?

‡Hebr. If I should prolong my life for, strength, wisdome, or law.

14 He that is in tribulation, ought to be comforted of his neighbour: but the feare of the Almightie is cleane away.

15 Mine owne brethren passe ouer by me, as the water brooke, and as the ouerflowing of waters which doe hastily goe away, 16 Which are blackish by reason of the Ice, and wherein the snow is hid.

17 Which when they haue passed by, doe vanish: and when the heate commeth, they faile out of their place.

18 They depart from the course of their wonted chanell to other places, they run in vaine, and perish.

c Theman was one of the chiefest princes of Edom, and inhabited the South part of Arabia, of whom the region was called Theman, by the which men passe into the inner countries of Arabia, thinking to finde water there to quench their thirst, but they are deceiued.

19 They that went to c Theman considered them, and they that went to Saba waited for them.

20 But they were confounded in their hope, they came thither, and were ashamed.

21 Euen such truely are ye, nowe that ye see my miserie ye are afraid.

22 Did I desire you to bring vnto me, or to giue me any of your substance?

23 To deliuer mee from the enemies hande, or to saue me from the hande of the tyrantes?

24 Teache mee, and I will holde my tongue: and wherein I haue erred, cause me to vnderstand.

25 How strong are the wordes of trueth? and which of you can rebuke or reproue them?

f For you go about by your taunts to make me deeme that I speake vnduly, because I am in this miserable state.

26 Doe ye imagine to reproue f wordes, that the talke of the afflicted should be as the winde?

27 Ye fall vpon the fatherlesse, and dig a pit to ouerthrowe your owne friend.

g To consider my cause whether I haue not iust.

28 And therefore be content, and g looke nowe vpon me, and I will not lie before your face.

‡Hebr. let there be none iniquitie.

29 Turne I pray you, ‡ be indifferent iudges; turne againe, and ye shall see mine vnguil-vnguiltineſſe, whether there be any vnrighteouſneſſe in my tongue, or vaine wordes in my mouth.

The vij. Chapter.

1 Iob ſheweth the ſhortneſſe and miſerie of mans life.

IS there not an appointed time to man vpon earth? are not his dayes alſo like the dayes of an [a] hired ſeruant?

2 For like as a bondſeruant deſireth the ſhadowe, and as an hireling would faine haue the reward of his worke:

3 Euen ſo haue I laboured whole moneths long in vaine, and many a carefull night haue I told.

4 When I laid me downe to ſleepe, I ſaid, O when ſhall I ariſe? and [b] meaſuring the euening, I am euen full with tolling to and fro vnto the dawning of the day.

5 My fleſh [c] is clothed with wormes, and duſt of the earth: my ſkinne is withered and become horrible.

6 My dayes paſſe ouer more ſpeedily then a weauers ſhuttle, and are ſpent without hope.

7 O remẽber that my life is but a winde, and that mine eie ſhal no more ſee pleaſures:

8 Yea, and the eie that hath ſeene me, ſhal ſee me no more: for yet thou [d] faſten thine eie vpon me, I come to nought.

9 The cloude is conſumed and vaniſhed away: ſo hee that goeth downe to the graue [e] ſhall come no more vp,

10 Nor turne againe into his houſe, neither ſhall his place know him any more.

11 Therefore [f] I wil not ſpare my mouth, but I will ſpeake in the trouble of my ſpirite, and muſe in the bitternes of my minde.

12 Am I a ſea, or a whale fiſh, that thou keepeſt me ſo in priſon?

13 When I ſay, My bed ſhall comfort me, I ſhall haue ſome refreſhing by talking to my ſelfe vpon my couche:

14 Then feareſt thou me [g] with dreames, and makeſt me ſo afraid through viſions, 15 That my ſoule wiſheth rather to periſh and die, then my bones to remaine.

16 I am wearie, I ſhall not liue alway: [h] O ſpare me then, for my dayes are but vanitie.

17 What [i] is man that thou doeſt magnifie him? and that thou ſetteſt thy heart vpon him?

18 Thou viſiteſt him early and euery day, euery moment doeſt thou trie him.

19 Why [k] goeſt thou not fro me, nor letteſt me alone, ſo long till I may ſwalowe downe my ſpittle?

20 I haue offended, what ſhall I doe vnto thee, O thou preſeruer of men? why haſt thou ſet me as a marke againſt thee, ſo that I am a burden to my ſelfe?

21 Why doeſt thou not pardon my treſpaſſes, & take away mine iniquitie? Behold, nowe muſt I ſleepe in the duſt, and if thou ſeekeſt me in the morning, I ſhall not be.

a Meaning, that his caſtle ſhal bouide there neuer the more long, as bondmen doe.

b Declaring his long paines, in that euche houre ſeemed vnto him. c Thereby he ſignifieth what he was before, in that his whole body was very ſtrange and horrible.

d That is, faſten thy iudgement, which is to proue that I cannot eſcape.

e Before the generall iudgement.

f That is, leeing my life ſo vaine and miſerable, and that there is no recompence after death, I will refreſhe my ſelfe by expreſſing the griefes of my burthened mynde.

g That is, I am in extremitie of fearfulnes, continually night and day.

h Seeing I haue but a little time to liue, giue me ſome reſt.

i As though Iob had ſaide, What is mã that thou ſhouldeſt ſhewe ſuch ſpecial kindneſſe vnto him?

k Why doeſt thou not take ſome pitie to pardon me?

The viij. Chapter.

Bildad ſheweth that Iob is a ſinner, becauſe God puniſheth the wicked, and preſerueth the good.

THen anſwered Bildad the Suhite, and ſaid,

2 How long wilt thou talke of ſuch things? how long ſhall the wordes of thy mouth be as a [a] mightie winde?

3 Doeth God peruert the thing that is lawfull? or doeth the Almightie deſtroy the thing that is right?

4 For ſeeing that [b] thy ſonnes ſinned againſt him, did not hee ſende them into the place of their iniquitie?

5 If thou wouldeſt nowe reſort vnto God betimes, and make thy prayer to the Almightie,

6 If thou wouldeſt liue a pure and godly life: ſhoulde not hee awake vp vnto thee immediatly, and make the habitation of thy righteouſneſſe proſperous?

7 Inſomuch that wherein ſo euer thou hadſt litle afore, thou ſhouldeſt haue nowe great abundance.

8 Enquire, I pray thee, [c] of the former age, and ſearch diligently among their fathers:

9 (For wee are but of [d] yeſterday, and conſider not that our dayes vpon earth are but a ſhadow.)

10 Shall not they ſhew thee, and tel thee, and vtter the wordes of their heart?

11 May a [e] ruſh growe without moyſtneſſe? or, may the graſſe growe without water?

12 No, but whileſt it is nowe in his greenneſſe, though it be not cut downe, yet witherеth it before any herbe:

13 So are the pathes of all that forget God, and the hypocrites hope ſhall come to nought.

14 His confidence ſhall be deſtroyed, and his truſt ſhalbe a [f] ſpiders webbe.

15 Hee ſhall leane vpon his houſe, but it ſhall not ſtand: hee ſhall holde him faſt by it, yet ſhall it not endure.

16 But the greene tree in the ſunne ſhooteth forth his branches in the garden.

17 The rootes thereof are wrapped about the fountaine, & are folden about the houſe of ſtones.

18 If any plucke it from his place, and it denie, [g] ſaying, I haue not ſeene thee:

19 Behold, it wil reioyce by this meanes, if it may growe in another mould.

20 Beholde, God will not caſt away a vertuous man, neither will he ‖ helpe the vngodly.

21 Thy mouth ſhal be fill with laughing, and thy lippes with gladneſſe.

a He declareth that thoſe mens wordes which will diminiſh any thing from the iuſtice of God, are but as a puffe of winde, that banitheth away.

b And therefore are iuſtly plagued, but thou rather art more bound to God, becauſe he hath giuen thee ſpace to repent.

c Here Bildad confirmeth his ſayings by the authoritie of the fathers. Pſal. 143. 4.

d That is, lately liuyng.

e Meaning, that as a ruſh cannot growe without moiſture: ſo can not an euill man liue, without repentance moiſtened with Gods grace.

f Which is ſpunne to day, and to morow ſwept away: wherefore is likened the houſe of the wicked, his riches, and his ſubſtance.

g That is, ſo that there remaineth nothing there to ſhewe where the tree had growen, ſeeing no man.

‖ Or, take the vngodly by the hand.

22 They also that hate thee, shall be clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the vngodly shall come to nought.

The ix. Chapter.

Iob declareth the mightie power of God, and that mans righteousnesse is nothing.

IOb answered, and said,

2 I know it is so of a trueth: for howe may a man compared vnto God, be [a] iustified?

a Iob answered to Eliphas and Bildads oyations, confessing mans iustice to be nothing being compared to God.

3 If he will argue with him, he cannot answere him one thing of a thousand.

4 Hee is wise in heart, and mightie in strength: who hath bene fierce against him, and hath prospered?

b Here followeth the infinite power of God, whereby doth appeare mans weakenesse the more.

5 He [b] translateth the mountaines or euer they be aware, it is hee that ouerthroweth them in his wrath.

6 He remoueth the earth out of her place, that the pillars thereof shake withall.

7 He commaundeth the sunne, and it riseth not: he closeth vp the starres as vnder a seale.

8 Hee himselfe alone spreadeth out the heauens, and goeth vpon the ‖ waues of the sea.

‖ Or, height.

c These be the names of certaine starres, declaring that the powers of heauen are at his commandement.

9 He maketh the waines of heauen, [c] the Orion, the seuen starres, and the secret places of the South.

10 He doeth great things and vnsearcheable: yea, and wonders without number.

d Though his wonderous workes be before mine eies, yet am I not able to comprehend them.

11 Loe, [d] when he goeth by me, I shall not see him, and when he passeth, I shall not perceiue him.

e Declaring that God doth all things iustly, and is vnsearcheable in his doings, which not one can controll.

12 If he be hastie to take away, who will make him [e] restore it? or who will say vnto him, What doest thou?

13 God wil not withdraw his anger, and the most mightie doe stoupe vnder him.

14 Howe much lesse shall I answere him? or howe should I finde out my wordes with him?

15 For though I were righteous, yet might I not giue him one worde againe, but meekely submit my selfe to him as my iudge.

f A miserable case when man is brought to such desperation, whereas God himselfe saith, before they cry I will heare them.

16 If I had called vpon him, and he had answered me, [f] yet would I not beleeue that he heard my voyce:

17 He troubleth me so with the tempest, and woundeth me out of measure without a cause.

18 He wil not suffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitternesse.

19 If men will speake of strength, loe, he is strong: if men will speake of iudgement, who shall be my pleader?

g If I would stand in mine owne defence, yet God hath iust cause to condemne me, if he examine mine heart & conscience.

20 If I will [g] iustifie my selfe, mine owne mouth shall condemne me: if I will be a perfect man, hee shall proue me a wicked doer.

21 Though I were perfect, yet I knowe not my soule, and am weary of my life.

22 This is one point, and therefore I saide, He destroyeth both the perfect and vngodly.

23 And though he slay suddenly with the scourge, will he laugh at the punishment of the innocent?

24 As for the earth, it is giuen ouer into the hand of the wicked, and he shall [h] couer the faces of the iudges thereof: if not, where is hee, or who is hee, that can shewe the contrarie?

h That they cannot see to doe iustice.

25 My dayes are more swift then a runner, they are gone, and haue seene no good thing.

26 They are passed away as the ships that be good vnder saile, and as the Eagle that flieth to the pray.

27 If I say, I will forget my complayning, I will cease from my wrath, and comfort my selfe:

28 Then am I afraide of all my sorowes, for I knowe that thou wilt not iudge me innocent.

29 If I be wicked, why then [i] labour I in vaine?

i As if he had said, If I be wicked and shalbe iudged as the vngodly, why should then I labour to cleanse me with the grace, help and power I shall haue of this in vaine?

30 If I wash my selfe with snowe water, and make mine hands neuer so cleane at the well:

31 Yet shalt thou ‖ dip me in the mire, and [k] mine owne clothes shall defile me.

‖ Or, plunge me in the pit.

k Shewing our righteousnesse before God, to be no thing but as a beliefe only.

32 For he that I must giue answere vnto, and with whom I goe to the lawe, is not a man as I am:

33 Neither is there any dayes man to lay his hand betweene vs.

34 Let him take his rod away from me, yea, let him make me no more afraid of him, 35 And then shall I answere him without any feare: but ‖ because I am not so, I hold me still.

‖ Or, I haue nothing to make for me.

The x. Chapter.

1 Iob is wearie of his life, and setteth out his frailenesse before God. 20 He desireth him to stay his hand. 22 A description of death.

MY soule is [a] cut off though I liue, I will poure out my complaint against my selfe, and will speake out of the very ‖ heauinesse of my soule.

a I am vnprofitable as a dead man, then is one that is weary. ‖ Or, bitternesse.

2 I will say vnto God, O [b] doe not condemne me, but shewe me wherefore thou contendest with me?

b That is, in thy secret iudgement but not lay things to my charge.

3 Thinkest thou it well done to oppresse me? to cast me off, being the workes of thy handes? and to [c] maintaine the counsell of the vngodly?

c What thou helpest the wicked, and hatest me without cause.

4 Hast thou fleshly eyes? or doest thou looke as a man looketh?

5 Or are thy dayes as the daies of [d] man? and thy yeeres as mans yeeres?

d That is, changeable & therefore not to be trusted vnto, but thou not the same God that thou wast wont to be, mercifull and good to Iob?

6 That thou makest such inquisition for my wickednesse and searchest out my sinne?

7 Thou knowest [e] that I haue not done wickedly, and that none can deliuer me out of thine hand.

e That is, I cannot offend, by reason thou keepest me lowe in affliction.

8 Thy

8 Thy handes haue made me, and fashioned me altogether rounde about, wilt thou then destroy me?

9 Remember, I beseech thee, that thou madest me as the moulde of the earth, and shalt bring me into dust againe.

10 Hast thou not poured me as it were milke, and turned me to cruds like cheese?

11 Thou hast couered mee with skin and flesh, and ioyned mee together with bones and sinowes.

12 Thou hast graunted me life, and done me good: and thy [f] visitation hath preserued my spirite.

13 Thou hast hidde these things in thine heart, yet I am sure that thou remembrest this thing.

14 If I did sinne, thou haddest an eie vnto me, and shalt not pronounce me innocent from mine offence.

15 If I haue done wickedly, woe is mee therefore: if I haue done righteously, yet dare I not lift vp my head, so full am I of confusion, and see mine owne miserie.

16 And let it increase, hunt mee as a lyon, but thou wilt returne and shew thy selfe marueilous vpon me.

17 Thou bringest fresh ‖ witnesse against me, and thy wrath increasest thou vpon me: diuers and many are the plagues that I am in.

18 Wherefore hast thou brought mee out of the wombe? O that I had perished, and that no eye had seene me, 19 And that I were as though I had not beene, but brought from the wombe to the graue.

20 Are not my dayes few? Let him then leaue off from me, and let me alone, that I may comfort my selfe a little,

21 Before I goe thither from whence I shall not turne againe, euen to the lande of darkenesse and shadow of death:

22 Yea a lande as darke as darkenesse it selfe, and into the shadow of death where is [h] none order, but the light is there as darkenesse.

f Thy visitation and prouidence whereby thou preseruest me.

g That is, I had neither in minde nor will.

‖Or, plagues

h That is, no difference betweene light and darkenesse.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Iob is vniustly blamed of Sophar, 7 The maiestie of God cannot be searched. 14 God is mercifull to the repentant. 18 The godly liue in safetie.

THen answered Sophar the Naamathite, and saide,

2 Should not he that maketh many wordes bee answered? should hee that [a] babbleth much be commended therein?

3 Should thy lies make men hold their peace? and when thou mockest, others shall no man make thee ashamed?

4 For thou hast said, [b] my doctrine is pure, and I am cleane in thine eies.

5 But O [c] that God would speake, and open his lips against thee, 6 That he might shew thee the [d] secretes of wisedome, how thou hast deserued double, according to right: knowe therefore that God hath forgotten thee for thine iniquitie.

7 Art thou able to finde out the secrets of God? Or wilt thou attaine to the perfectnes of the almightie?

8 He is [e] higher then heauen, what art thou able to doe? deeper then the hell, howe wilt thou then know him?

9 The measure of him is longer then the earth, and broader then the sea.

10 Though hee turne all thinges vpside downe, close them in, and gather them together, who will turne him from his purpose?

11 For he it is that knoweth vaine men, he seeth their wickednes also, shoulde he not then consider it?

12 Yet vaine man would be wise, though man new borne, is like a wild asses colt.

13 If thou preparedst thine heart, and liftedst vp thine hands toward him:

14 If thou wouldest put away the wickednesse which thou hast in hand, so that no vngodlinesse dwell in thy house:

15 Then mightest thou [f] lift vp thy face without ‖ shame, and then shouldest thou be sure, and haue no neede to feare.

16 Then shouldest thou forget thy miserie, and thinke no more vpon it then vpon the waters which passe by.

17 Then should thy ‖ life be as cleare as the noone day, thou shouldest shine foorth, and be as the morning.

18 Then mightest thou be bolde, because there is hope, and take thy rest quietly, as compassed with a trench.

19 *Then mightest thou lie downe, and none to make thee afraide, yea, manie one should make suite vnto thee. Leuit. 26. 5.

20 As for the eies of the vngodly, they shall faile, and they shal not escape, and their hope shalbe sorow of minde.

a For not he that praiseth much, but he that knoweth much, and can speake well, is to be commended.

b Iob had said that he was cleane in the sight of God.

c Iob had gone about to prooue Iob to be sinfully plagued.

d Which is, that he should in suffering thy hate.

e If a man did not able to comprehend the height of heauen, the depth of hel, the length of the earth, and the breadth of the sea, which are but creatures, how can he attaine to the perfect knowledge of the creator?

f Such are the quiet mindes of those that truely repent.

‖ Or, spots.

The xij. Chapter.

1 Iob accuseth his friendes of ignorance. 7 Hee declareth the might and power of God. 17 And how God changeth the course of thinges.

SO Iob answered and said,

2 Then no doubt yee are the people, and [a] wisedome shal perish with you.

3 But I haue [‡] vnderstanding as well as ye, I am not inferiour to you: yea, who knoweth not these thinges?

4 *I am as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth vpon God, and he heareth him: the iust and the vpright is laughed to scorne.

5 Being as a light [b] despised in the hearts of the rich, and as one readie to fall.

6 The houses of robbers are in wealth and prosperitie, and they that maliciously meddle against God, dwell without care in those thinges that God [c] hath giuen richly with his hand.

a As though he should say, your wisdome exceedeth all other, & when ye die, al wisedome should perish with you.

‡ An heart.

b That is, as he that despiseth the light in the night season may cause stumbling, so they that vnrulie this afflicted mans thinges, doo but set to themselues his wrath & their peril.

c The Hebrewes read, whom God hath brought in with his hand.

d For euen the cattel, and all creatures doe declare Gods power as it is said, The heauens declare the glorie of God.

7 Aske the cattel, d and they shal enforme thee: the fowles of the ayre, and they shall tell thee.

8 Speake to the earth, and it shall shewe thee: or to the fishes of the sea, and they shall certifie thee.

9 What is he, but hee knoweth that the hand of the Lord made all these?

e For God doth not onely create his creatures, but also nourisheth, cherisheth, and preserueth them stil.

10 In whose hande is the e soule of euery liuing thing, and the breath of all ‖ mankinde?

‖ Or, flesh,

11 Doeth not the eares discerne the words? and the mouth taste the meate?

12 Among old persons there is wisedome, and in age is vnderstanding.

13 Yea, with God is wisedome and strength, counsel, and vnderstanding.

Esa. 22. 22. Apoc. 3. 7.

14 * Beholde, if hee f breake downe a thing, who can set it vp againe? if he shut a thing, who will open it?

f Here Iob proueth that nothing is comparable to Gods power, ne can preuaile against it.

15 Behold, if he withholde the waters, they drie vp: if he let them goe, they destroy the earth.

16 With him is strength and wisedome, both the deceiuer and he that is deceiued are g He sheweth that nothing is done in this worlde, without Gods will and ordinance.

17 He carieth away the wise men as it were a spoile, and maketh the iudges fooles.

18 He looseth the rule of kings, and gyrdeth their loynes with a bond.

19 He leadeth away the great men into captiuitie, and turneth the mightie vpside downe.

20 Hee stoppeth the mouth of them that speake trueth, and disappointeth the aged of their vnderstanding.

21 Hee poureth contempt vpon princes, and maketh the strength of the mightie weake:

22 Looke what lieth hid in darkenesse, he declareth it openly, and the very shadowe of death bringeth he to light.

23 He encreaseth the people, and destroyeth them, he maketh them to multiply, and diminisheth them.

24 He taketh away the heart of them that be heades of the people of the earth, and causeth them to wander in the wildernesse out of the way.

25 They grope in the dark without light, and he maketh them to stagger like a drunken man.

The xiij. Chapter.

20 Iob prayeth vnto God that he would not handle him rigorously.

h Meaning, I know the power of God as well as you.

LOe, all this haue I seene with mine eye, heard with mine eare, and vnderstand it.

2 What ye knowe, that same doe I knowe also, neither am I inferior vnto you.

3 Neuertheless, I talke with the almightie, and my desire is to commune with God.

4 As for you, yee are workemaisters of lies, and h vnprofitable physitions altogether.

b Christ, you are vnmeete for my schoole, hypocrits doth not the moderate so count them, rather to encrease, then to diminish your loue and fauors to wardes me.

5 Woulde God yee kept your tongue, for then might ye be taken for wise men.

6 Nowe heare my reasoning, and ponder the argument of my lippes.

7 Will you speake c wickedly for Gods defence, and talke deceitefully for his cause?

c Sheweth before I shall say or gainst you, by I meane you not in that you declare Gods power, but in cause you take a cardinal & vnmeete similitude to set forth your and so of some things you conclude.

8 Will yee accept the person of him? or will yee contend for God?

9 Shall that helpe you when hee calleth you to reakoning? or as one man mocketh another, doe ye so mocke him?

10 Hee shall surely reproue you, if ye do secretly accept any person.

11 Shall not his excellencie make you afraid? shall not his feare fall vpon you?

12 Your d remembrance is like vnto dust, and your bodies like the clay.

d Your fame shall come to nothing.

13 Holde your tongues before me, that I may speake, and let come on me what will.

14 Wherefore doe I e teare my flesh with my teeth, and f put my soule in mine handes?

e That is, am very sore greeued, as though I should rent and teare my flesh with my teeth.

f That is, set my life in hazard.

15 Loe, though he slay me, yet will I trust in him: but I will reproue mine owne waies in his sight.

16 He shal be my saluation: for there may no g hypocrite come before him.

g Here is my protest that Iohn will proue in God most of all perilles, discharging you false slanders of your euill opinion both they charge him.

17 Heare diligently my words, and ponder my sayings with your eares.

18 Beholde, nowe haue I prepared my iudgement, and know that I shall be founde h righteous.

h That is, not condemned by my friends, as you haue done.

19 What is hee that will i goe to law with me? if I now hold my tongue, I die.

i Or, pleade.

20 Neuertheless, do not these two things vnto mee, and then will I not hide my selfe from thee:

21 Withdraw thine hand farre from me, and let not the fearefull dread of thee make me afraide.

22 Then call, and I will answere: or let me speake, and giue thou me an answere.

23 How many are my misldeedes and sinnes? let me know my transgressions and offences.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and holdest me for thine enemie?

25 Wilt thou breake a leafe driuen to and fro, and wilt thou pursue the drie stubble?

26 For thou laiest sharply to my charge, and punishest me for the sinnes of my youth.

27 Thou puttest my feete also in the k stockes, and lookest narowly vnto all my pathes, and makest the print thereof in the heeles of my feete:

k Thou hast me for my presumption, and thinkest I escape me, that I am not to be found.

28 And I as a rotten thing doe consume away, as a garment that is moth eaten.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 Iob describeth the shortnesse and miserie of the life of man. 14 Hope sustaineth the godlie. 22 The condition of mans life.

Man

MAN that is borne of a woman, hath but a ſhort time to liue, and is full of miſerie.

2 Hee commeth vp, and is cut downe a like a flowre: he fleeth as it were a ſhadowe, and continueth not.

3 Doeſt thou b open thine eyes vpon ſuch one, and bringeſt me into thy iudgement?

4 Who can make it cleane that commeth of an vncleane thing? no body.

5 The dayes of man ſurely are determined, the number of his moneths are knowen onely vnto thee, thou haſt appointed him his bounds which hee cannot goe beyond.

6 Goe from him, that hee may reſt, vntill his day c come which hee looketh for, like as an hyreling doeth.

7 For if a tree be cut downe, there is ſome hope yet that it will ſprowt, and ſhoote forth the branches againe,

8 Though the roote of it be waxen old in the earth, and the ſtocke therof be dead in the ground.

9 Yet when it getteth the ſent of water, it will bud and bring foorth boughs, like as a tree that is planted.

10 d But as for man, when he is dead, periſhed, and conſumed away, what becõmeth of him?

11 As the waters paſſe from the ſea, and as the flood decayeth and dryeth vp:

12 So man after he is a ſleepe riſeth not, he ſhal not wake til the heauens be no more, nor ryſe out of his ſleepe.

13 O that thou wouldeſt hide me in the graue, and keepe me ſecrete, vntill thy wrath were paſt, and to appoint me a time wherein thou mighteſt remember me.

14 May a dead man liue againe? All the dayes of my life will I wayte ſtill, till my changing ſhall come.

15 Thou ſhalt e call me and I ſhall anſwere thee, ‖ deſpiſe not thou the worke of thine owne handes.

16 For nowe thou f numbreſt all my goings, and giueſt no delay vnto my ſinne.

17 Mine iniquitie is ſealed vp as it were in a bag, and thou addeſt puniſhment vnto my wickednelle.

18 The mountaines fall away at the laſt, the rockes are remooued out of their place.

19 The waters pearſe through the very ſtones by little and little, the floods waſh away the grauell and earth: ſo ſhalt thou deſtroy the hope of man.

20 Thou preuaileſt ſtill againſt him, ſo that he paſſeth away: thou changeſt his ‖ eſtate, and puttеſt him from thee.

21 And whether his children come to worſhip or no, I cannot tell: and if they be men of lowe degree, he knoweth not.

22 But while his h fleſh is vpon him, it muſt haue ſorow: and his ſoule ſhall mourne within him.

a This expreſſeth mans ſhortneſſe of life, and the vnſtableneſſe thereof, being compared to a flowre, to a ſhadow, and to the graſſe in the fielde.

b Signifying, that being man is ſo frayle, he ſhould not preſume vpon it vnreuerently.

c That is, death which he willingly as the hyreling looketh for in the end of his labour to receiue his wages.

d You may not thinke as ſpeaking as Iobs of true reſurrection, but as of the ſame impoſſible.

e Thou ſhalt call me both, for when thou ſhalt call me by at doomes day, I ſhall anſwere thee, as thou art commaunded.

Or, thou ſhalt loue.

f That is, thou ſhalt all my bodies members ſtand me ſtanding.

g Thou keepeſt thine enemies in bags, and reſerueſt mine vnpunished.

‖ Or, face.

h While he liueth.

The xv. Chapter.

Eliphas blameth Iob, becauſe he challengeth wiſedome and pureneſſe to himſelfe.

THEN anſwered Eliphas the Themanite, and ſaid,

2 Shall a wiſe mans anſwere bee as the winde, and fill his belly with the a winde of the Eaſt?

3 Shall he reprooue with a word that is nothing worthy, and ſpeake the things which can doe no good?

4 Surely thou haſt caſt off feare, and reſtraineſt prayer before God.

5 For thy mouth ſetteth forth thine owne iniquitie, ſeeing thou haſt choſen the tongue of the craftie.

6 Thine owne mouth condemneth thee, and not I: yea thine owne lips ſhape an anſwere againſt thee.

7 b Art thou the firſt man that euer was borne? or waſt thou made before the hils?

8 Haſt thou heard the ſecrete counſell of God? and doeſt thou reſtraine wiſedome to thy ſelfe?

9 What knoweſt thou that we know not? and what vnderſtandeſt thou, but wee can the ſame?

10 *With vs are both olde and aged men, yea, ſuch as haue liued longer then thy father.

11 Thinkeſt thou it a ſmall thing of the conſolations of God? ‖ with thee is a lying word.

12 Why doeth thine c heart ſo bewitch thee? and wherefore winkeſt thou with thine eyes, 13 That thy minde is ſo d puft vp againſt God, and letteſt ſuch words goe out of thy mouth?

14 What is man, that he ſhould be cleane? and he which is borne of a woman, whereby he might be righteous?

15 Beholde, hee doeth not ‖ truſt his ſaints, yea, the heauens are not cleane in his ſight:

16 How much more then an abominable and vile man, which e drinketh wickednelle like water.

17 I will tell thee, heare mee, and I will ſhew thee that I haue ſeene:

18 Which wiſe men haue tolde, and haue not hid that which they receiued from their fathers:

19 Vnto whome alone the earth was giuen, and no ſtranger went among them.

20 The f vngodly ſorroweth all the dayes of his life, as it were a woman with childe, and the ſ number of a tyrants yeeres are vnknowen.

21 A fearefull ſound is euer in his eares, and when hee is in peace, the deſtroyer ſhall come vpon him.

22 Hee beleeueth neuer to bee deliuered h out of darkeneſſe: for the ſword is alwayes before his eyes.

a Words of no effect ſpoken, are likened to the Eaſt winde, which driueth vp the moiſture as ſoone as it falleth: ſo fooliſh words ſuddenly periſh as ſoone as they be ſpoken.

b That is, art thou ſo ancient that all wiſedome is in thy head?

‖ Or, is there any ſecrete thing within thee?

c As one ſtandeth in thine owne conceite.

d So reade, anſwering him at thy pleaſure: the Hebrew is, anſwering him in thy ſpirite.

‖ Or, among his ſaints there is none without faulte.

e Which hath a deſire to ſinne as hee that is thirſtie to drinke.

f Here he repeateth certaine places of the Leuiticall lawe for his proofe, which in deede the fathers ſo ſpake, but did not vnderſtand them, as Eliphaz did.

g He ſhall be alwayes in feare day and night, not knowing any thing certaine.

h That is, out of the troubles and feares which fall vpon him.

23 Hee wandreth abroad for bread where it is, knowing that the day of darkenesse is ready at hand.

24 Trouble and anguish will make him afraide, they shall preuaile against him, as a king with his armie.

25 For hee hath stretched out his hande against God, and armed himselfe against the Almightie.

26 Hee runneth proudely vpon him, and with a stiffe necke fighteth he against him.

1 That is, abundance of riches hath made him so proude, that he forgetteth God.

27 Where as hee [1] coufereth his face with fatnesse, and maketh his body well liking.

28 Therefore shall his dwelling be [k] in desolate cities, and in houses which no man inhabiteth, but are become heapes of stones.

k That is, he shall haue no certaine and sure place to dwell in.

29 Hee shall not bee rich, neither shall his substance continue, neither shall the prosperitie thereof bee prolonged vpon the earth.

30 He shall neuer depart out of darknesse, the flame [l] shall dry vp his branches, with the blast of the mouth of God shall hee bee taken away.

l That is, such blessing as God gaue him, shall be turned into cursing.

31 He beleeueth not that he erreth in vanitie, and yet vanitie shall bee his recompence.

32 He shall perish afore his time be worne out, and his [m] branch shall not be greene.

m That is, his progenie or offspring shall not continue.

33 He shall be plucked off as an vntimely grape from the vine, and shall let his flowre fall as the Oliue doeth.

34 For the congregation of hypocrites shall bee desolate, and the fire shall consume the houses of such as are greedie to receiue giftes.

Esai. 59. 4. psal. 7. 15.

35 * Hee conceiueth trauaile, and beareth vanitie, and their belly bringeth foorth deceite.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 Iob moued by the importunacie of his friends, 7 counteth in what extremitie he is, 19 and taketh God to witnesse of his innocencie.

IOB answered, and sayd,

2 I haue oft time heard such things: [a] miserable giuers of comfort are yee, all the sort of you.

a For they vexe him with cruell words, then comfort him.

3 ‖ Shall not vaine wordes come yet to an ende? or what maketh thee bold so to answere?

‖ Or, words of winde.

4 I could speake as ye doe also: but would God that your [b] soule were in my soules steade, then coulde I frame wordes for you, and shake my head at you:

b Would ye suffered that which I suffer.

5 I woulde strengthen you with my mouth, and release your paine with the talking of my lips.

c For God will haue his pleasure ouer me, and ouerthrowe, chasten, and smite me. e Not by reason of yeeres, but by reason of my griefe, shewing his extreme paines.

6 For all my wordes my sorowe will not cease: and [c] though I hold my tongue, what am I eased?

7 But nowe hee hath made me wearie, thou hast made desolate all [d] my congregation.

8 And that thou [e] hast filled mee with wrinckles, my flesh is record, and my leanenesse riseth vp against mee, and beareth witnesse thereof in my face.

9 His wrath hath torne me, hee hateth mee, and gnasheth vpon mee with his teeth: mine enemie looketh fiercely vpon mee with his eyes.

10 They haue opened their mouthes wide vpon mee, and [f] smitten mee vpon the cheeke despitefully, they gather themselues together against me.

f That is, despitefully handled me, which striking on the cheeke signifieth.

11 God hath shut me vp with the vngodly, and deliuered mee [g] into the hands of the wicked.

g To punish him, and not to destroy him.

12 I was in wealth, but he hath brought mee to nought: hee hath taken mee by the necke, he hath all to shaken me, and set me as a marke for himselfe.

13 His [h] archers compasse mee rounde about, hee woundeth my reines, and doth not spare, my ‖ bowels hath hee [i] powred vpon the ground.

h His plagues and afflictions wherewith he terrifieth me. ‖ Or, gall. i God hath not onely stricken ourwardly my body and all my substance, but also touched my inward parts.

14 Hee hath giuen mee one wound vpon another, and is fallen vpon me like a giant.

15 I haue sowed a sackecloth vpon my skin, and wallowed my [+] head in the dust.

+ Hebdome

16 My face is withered with weeping, and in mine eyes is the shadow of death.

17 Howbeit there is no wickednes in my hands, but my prayer is cleane.

18 O earth couer not thou my blood, and let my crying finde no roome.

19 For loe, my witnesse is in heauen, and he that knoweth me is in the height.

20 My friendes gaue mee many wordes to scorne, and mine eye powreth out teares vnto God.

21 O that a body might pleade with God, as one man doth with another.

22 Yet the number of my yeeres is come, and the way that I must goe is at hand, from whence I shall not turne againe.

The xvij. Chapter.

1 Iob saith that hee consumeth away, and yet doth patiently abide it. 10 Hee exhorteth his friends to repentance, 13 shewing that he looketh but for death.

MY breath is corrupt, my dayes are shortened, I am hard at deaths doore.

a In all extreme calamities, yet this one vnder the rest must giue place. For they that haue therein conceiued true knowledge, will diuersely bear their cross and manifold paine.

2 a ‖ Froward men are with me, & mine eye must continue in the bitternesse of them.

‖ Or, mockers.

3 O deliuer me, and [b] looke out one to be my suretie in thy sight: what is he that knoweth who will promise for me?

b That is, make agreement with me, O God, that I may talke with thee, for I will not reason with them, for they are spirits.

4 For thou hast withholden their hearts [c] from vnderstanding, therefore shalt thou not set them vp on high.

c That is, thou hast hidden from them the cause of my punishment: but iudge me wicked, not knowing wherefore thou doest afflict thy children. ‖ Or, tabret.

5 He that speaketh flatterie to his friend, the eyes of his children shall faile.

6 He hath made me a byword of the people, where as afore I was their ‖ ioy.

7 Mine eye is dimme for very heauinesse, and all my strength is like a shadow.

8 Ther-

8 Vprightous men therefore shall well consider this, and the innocent shall take part against the hypocrite.

9 The righteous also will [d] keepe his way, and he that hath cleane hands will euer bee stronger and stronger.

10 As for all you, turne you, and ‖ get you hence, I pray you, seeing I cannot finde one wise man among you.

11 My dayes are past, and my counsailes and thoughts of my heart are vanished away, 12 Changing the night into day, and the light approching into darkenesse.

13 Though I tarrie neuer so much, yet the graue is my house, and I haue made my bed in the darke.

14 I said to corruption, Thou art my father: and to the wormes, You are my mother, and my sister.

15 [c] Where is then now my hope? or who hath considered the thing that I looke for? My hope shall go downe with me into the pit, and lye with me in the dust.

[d] Though the godly for their sinnes afflicted of God as the wicked are, yet they departe not, knowing that the end also are punished for the proude of them.

‖ Or, come nowe.

[c] Speaking I am but corruption.

The xviij. Chapter.

1 Bildad rehearseth the paines of the vnfaithful, and wicked.

THen answered Bildad the Suhite, and said,

2 When will yee make an ende of your wordes? Marke well, and then we will speake.

3 Wherefore are wee counted as beastes, and reputed so vile in your sight?

4 He destroyeth himselfe with his anger: shall the earth bee forsaken, or any stone remooued out of his place [a] because of thee?

5 Yea the light of the vngodly shall bee put out, and the sparke of his fire shall not shine.

6 The [b] light shalbe darke in his dwelling, and his candle shalbe put out with him.

7 The steppes of his strength shall bee restrained, and his owne counsaile shall cast him downe:

8 For his feete are taken as it were in the net: and he walketh vpon the snares.

9 The grinne shall take him by the heele, and the thirstie of blood shall catch him.

10 The snare is laid for him in the ground, and a pitfall in the way.

11 Fearefulnesse shall make him afraide on euery side, and shall driue him to his feete.

12 [c] Hunger shall be his strength, and destruction shalbe ready at his side.

13 He shall [d] eate the strength of his owne skinne, euen the first borne of death shall eate his strength.

14 His hope shalbe rooted out of his dwelling, and shall bring him to the [e] king of feare.

15 Other men shall dwell in his house, and it shalbe none of his, and brimstone shall be scattered vpon his habitation.

16 His rootes shall bee dried vp beneath, and aboue shall his branch be cut downe.

17 His remembrance shall perish from the earth, and hee shall haue no name in the streete.

18 They shall driue him from the [f] light into darkenesse, and chase him cleane out of the world.

19 Hee shall neither haue ‖ children nor kinsfolkes among his people, no nor any posteritie in his dwellings.

20 They that come after him shalbe astonied at [g] his day, and ‖ they that goe before shalbe afraid.

21 Such are nowe the dwellings of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

[a] That is, that God changes the counsailes and other of his operation in vs: and not afflict the wicked as his order is.

[b] His wilfulnesse shall perish, and from this place vnto the ende of the Chapter, Bildad goeth about to proue Iob wicked, because God plagueth him as he doth the wicked man.

[c] That is, he shall not attaine to that which he desireth, for all his power and might shalbe taken away by hunger.

[d] Meaning, the vngodly shalbe the destruction of the strength of his owne flesh, that is, of his children and posterity.

[e] Which is, death, the most fearefull and terrible of all things.

[f] From his inheritance to adversitie.

‖ Or, sonne, nor nephew

[g] That is, at his fall.

‖ Or, elders, or, ancients.

The xix. Chapter.

1 Iob reproueth his friendes, 15 and reciteth his miseries and grieuous paines. 25 Hee assureth himselfe of the generall resurrection.

IOB answered, and said,

2 Howe long will yee vexe my soule, and trouble me with wordes?

3 Loe, ten times haue yee reproched mee, and are not ashamed, but haue laughed me to scorne.

4 Be it that I haue erred in deede, mine errour then remaineth with my [a] selfe.

5 But if yee will aduance your selues against me, and rebuke me for the shame that is come vpon me:

6 Know this then, that it is [b] God which hath ouerthrowen mee, and hath compassed me with his net.

7 If I complaine of the violence that is done vnto mee, I cannot be heard: and if I cry, there is no sentence giuen with me.

8 He hath hedged vp my way that [c] I can not passe, and hee hath set darkenesse in my paths.

9 Hee hath spoiled mee [d] of mine honour, and [e] taken the crowne away from my head.

10 Hee hath destroyed mee on euery side, and I am ‖ gone: my hope hath hee taken away, as a tree plucht vp by the roote.

11 His wrath is kindled against mee, hee taketh me as though I were his enemie.

12 His [f] men of warre come together, which made their way ouer me, and besieged my dwelling round about.

13 Hee hath put my brethren farre away from mee, and mine acquaintance are also become strangers vnto me.

14 Mine owne kinsfolkes haue forsaken mee: and my best acquainted haue forgotten mee.

15 ‖ The seruants and maidens of mine owne house tooke mee for a stranger, and I am become as an aliant in their sight.

16 I called my seruant, and hee gaue mee no answere: no though I prayed him with my mouth.

17 Mine owne wife might not abide my breath, though I prayed her for the childrens

[a] As though he would say, what haue you to doe with that, the fault is mine, and not yours.

[b] He declareth that his affliction commeth of God, though he bee not able to feele the cause in himselfe.

[c] That is, I cannot goe from these my afflictions.

[d] That is, of my riches and substance.

[e] That is, hee stroped my children: for the crowne of the aged are childrens children, as it is in the prouerbs.

‖ Or, vndone.

[f] That is, his great plagues laid on me.

‖ Or, they that dwelt with me.

‖Or, folkes. 18 Yea, the ‖ yong men despised mee, and when I rose, they spake euill vpon me.

19 All my most familiars abhorred mee: and they whom I loued best, are turned against me.

20 My bone cleaueth to my skinne, and to my flesh, onely there is left me the skinne about my teeth.

21 Haue pitie vpon mee haue pitie vpon mee, O yee my friendes, for the hand of God hath touched me.

g Some reade, that he shall stand last on the earth, meaning, that Christ shall come at the latter ende vnto iudgement, and raise vp them that lie in the dust.

22 Why doe ye persecute me as God doeth, and are not satisfied with my flesh?

23 O that my wordes were nowe written, O that they were put in a booke, 24 And grauen with an iron pen in lead, or in stone, to continue.

‖Or, though after my skinne the wormes destroy this body, yet shall I &c.

25 For I am sure that my redeemer liueth, and that I shall g rise out of the earth in the latter day,

26 And ‖ shall be couered againe with my skinne, and shall see God in my flesh:

h That is, the iudgement of God, the reuenger of iniquitie: meaning, though their wicked endeuour tooke place now, yet God will hereafter consider him, and bee reuenged of the euill.

27 Whome I my selfe shall see, and mine eyes shall behold, and none other for me: this my hope is laid vp in my bosome.

28 But yee sayde, Why is hee persecuted? and there was a deepe matter in me.

29 h But beware of the sworde: for the sworde will bee auenged of wickednesse, and be sure that there is a iudgement.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Sophar sheweth that the wicked and the couetous shall haue a short end, 22 though for a time they florish.

THEN answered Sophar the Naamathite, and said, a Because Iob bragged of his innocencie (as they thought) Sophar interrupted his talke, as though he boasted in vaine, for that God accepteth none but the repentant sinner.

2 For the same cause do a my thoughts compell mee to answere, and therfore make haste.

b For two causes Sophar spake: one, because Iob answering toucheth him: and for that he deemed his knowledge sufficient to answere againe.

3 I haue sufficiently heard the b checking of my reproofe, therefore the spirit of my vnderstanding causeth me to answere.

4 Knowest thou not this of olde, and since God placed man vpon earth,

5 c That the gladnesse of the vngodly hath bene short, and that the ioy of hypocrites continued but the twinckling of an eye?

c Sophar euen to the ende of this Chapter, alleageth true sentences: but he erreth, in that he thought Iob for impietie and hypocrisie to be plagued.

6 Though hee bee magnified vp to the heauen, so that his head reacheth vnto the cloudes:

7 Yet he perisheth for euer like his doung, in so much that they which haue seene him, shall say, Where is he?

8 Hee shall banish as a dreame, so that hee can no more bee founde, and shall passe away as a vision in the night.

9 So that the eye which sawe him before, shall haue no more sight of him, and his place shall ‖ know him no more.

‖Or, see.

10 His children shall please the poore, and his hands shall restore their goods.

11 From his youth his bones are full of sinnes, which shall lye downe with him in the ‖ earth.

‖Or, dust.

12 When wickednesse was sweete in his mouth, he hid it vnder his tongue.

13 That hee fauoured, that would he not forsake, but kept it close in his throte.

14 The bread that hee did eate, is turned to the poyson of serpents within his body.

15 The riches that he deuoured shall hee parbreake againe: for God shall draw them out of his belly.

16 He shall sucke the gall of serpents, and and the adders tongue shall slay him:

17 So that he shall no more see the riuers and brookes of hony and butter.

18 The thing hee hath laboured for, shall he restore, and d shall not eate of it: great trauaile shall he make for riches, but he shall not enioy them, d For euill gotten goods God will soone take away, and restore them from whom they were craftily spoyled and rauened. Eccles. 5.13

19 Because hee hath oppressed the poore, and not helped them: houses hath he spoiled, and not builded them.

20 *Because he could not perceiue when his belly was well, through his greedy desire, he shall not escape.

e That is, his riches and possessions shall gape in vaine.

21 There e shall none of his meate be left, therefore shall no man looke for his goods.

22 When hee had plenteousnesse of euery thing, yet he was poore, though he was helped on euery side.

23 And it shall come to passe, that wherewith he purposed to fill his belly, God shall powre the furie of his wrath thereon, and shall cause his indignation to reigne vpon him, and vpon his meate.

24 Hee shall flee from the iron weapon, and the bow of steele shal strike him through.

25 The sword is drawen out, and goeth through the body, and glitereth of his gall: so feare shall come vpon him.

f That is, by fraud, and pretence of religion Sophar touched Iob, for that his friends and children were cast downe by sin.

26 All darkenesse shalbe hid in their secrete places, f an vnkindled fire shal consume him: and looke what remaineth in his house, it shalbe destroyed.

g Christ interpreting Iob the sense, that not he perish, and the earth shall receiue her inhabitants, as being sworn things shall fall to the wicked.

27 The heauen shall g declare his wickednesse, and the earth shall take part against him.

28 The substance that hee hath in his house shall bee taken away, and perish in the day of the Lords wrath.

h Speaken against God.

29 This is the portion that the wicked man shall haue of God, and the heritage that he may looke for of God, because of h his wordes.

The xxj. Chapter.

1 Iob declareth howe the prosperitie of the wicked maketh them proud, 15 in so much that they blaspheme God.

IOB answered, and said,

2 O heare diligently my wordes, and that shall be in steade of your consolations.

a As though he should say, my cause is before God whom I can not escape, and not before you.

3 Suffer me that I may speake, and when I haue spoken, mocke on.

4 Is it with a man that I make this disputation? which if it were so, should not my spirit then be in sore trouble?

5 Marke

5 Marke mee, and be abashed, and [b] lay your hand vpon your mouth.

6 For when I consider, I am afrayd, and my flesh is smitten with feare.

7 *Wherefore doe wicked men liue, come to their olde age, and encrease in riches?

8 Their ‖ children liue in their sight, and their generation before their eyes.

9 Their houses are safe from all feare, and the rod of God is not vpon them.

10 Their bullocke gendereth, and that not out of time, their cow calueth, and is not vnfruitfull.

11 They sende foorth their children by flockes, and their sonnes daunce.

12 They beare with them tabrets and harpes, and reioyce in the sounde of the instruments of musicke.

13 They spend their dayes in wealthines, but [c] suddenly they go downe to the graue.

14 They say also vnto God, [d] Go from vs, we desire not the knowledge of thy wayes.

15 Who is the almightie, that we should serue him? and what profite should we haue if we should pray vnto him?

16 Loe, there is vtterly no goodnesse in their hand, therefore will I not haue to doe with the counsell of the vngodly, 17 Howe oft shall the [e] candle of the wicked be put out, and their destruction come vpon them? O what sorowe shall God giue them for their part in his wrath?

18 Yea, they shalbe euen as hay before the winde, and as chaffe that the storme carieth away.

19 God wil lay vp the sorowe of the father for his children: and when hee rewardeth him, he shall know it.

20 Their owne miserie shal they see with their eyes, and drinke of the fearefull wrath of the almightie.

21 For what careth hee for his house after his death, when the [f] number of his moneths is cut short?

22 Seeing God hath the highest power of all, who can teache him any knowledge?

23 [g] One dieth in his full strength, being in all ease and prosperitie, 24 His breasts are full of milke, and his bones runne full of marowe.

25 Another dieth in the [h] bitternes of his soule, and neuer eateth with pleasure.

26 They shal sleepe both alike in the earth, and the wormes shall couer them.

27 Beholde, [i] I knowe what ye thinke, yea, and the subtiltie that yee imagine against mee.

28 For yee say, [k] where is the princes palace, and where is the dwelling of the vngodly?

29 Haue yee not asked them that goe by the way? doubtlesse yee can not denie their tokens, 30 That the wicked is kept vnto the day of destruction, & the vngodly shall be brought forth to the day of wrath?

31 [l] Who dare declare his way to his face? who will reward him for that he doeth?

32 Yet shall hee be brought to his graue, and dwell among the heape of the dead.

33 Then shall the [m] slimie valley bee sweete vnto him, all men also must followe him, as there are innumerable gone before him.

34 Howe vaine then is the comfort that ye giue me, seeing falshoode remaineth in all your answeres?

The xxij. Chapter.

1 Eliphaz affirmeth that Iob is punished for his sinnes. 6 Hee accuseth him of vnmercifulnesse, 13 and that he denied Gods prouidence. 21 He exhorteth him to repentance.

SO [a] Eliphaz the Themanite gaue answere, and sayde,

2 May a man be profitable vnto God, as hee that is wise may be profitable to him selfe?

3 Is it any aduantage to the almightie, that thou art righteous? or shal it profit him that thou makest thy wayes perfect?

4 Is hee afraide to reproue thee, and to steppe forth with thee into iudgement?

5 Is [b] not thy wickednesse great, and thy vngracious deedes innumerable?

6 For thou [c] hast taken the pledge from thy brother for nought, and robbed the naked of their clothing.

7 To such as were wearie, hast thou giuen no water to drinke, & hast withdrawen bread from the hungry.

8 But the mightie man had the earth, and he that was in authoritie dwelt in it.

9 Thou hast sent widowes away emptie, and the armes of the fatherles were broken.

10 Therefore art thou [d] compassed about with snares, and suddenly vexed with feare.

11 Shouldest thou then see no [e] darknes? should not the water flood runne ouer thee?

12 Is not God on high in the heauen? behold the height of the starres, how high they are.

13 Wilt thou therefore say, Howe [f] should God know? can he iudge through the darke cloude?

14 The clouds couer him, that hee may not see, and he walketh on the top of heauen.

15 Hast thou marked the way of ỹ world, wherein wicked men haue walked?

16 Which were cut downe out of time, and whose foundation was an ouerflowing riuer, 17 Which sayde vnto God, Goe from vs: and what could the almightie doe for them?

18 Hee filled their houses with good things: but the counsell of the vngodly bee farre from me.

19 The righteous saw it, and were glad, and the innocent laughed them to scorne.

20 Is our substance hewen downe? As for the remnant of them, the [g] fire hath consumed.

[b] That is, begin slumber.

Iere. 12. 1.

‖ Or, seede.

[c] Not being plagued with like heauinesse. [d] They say this, not with tongue, but by the wickednesse and impietie of their heart, they seeme to say.

[e] That is, their great felicitie and wealth.

[f] For the wicked die vnwares, and must endure the course of their dayes to the ende. [g] Meaning the wicked: where Iob saith, that it is not for man to reason with God, why he thus plagues the iust, and prospers the vniust, for who can teach God anie thing? [h] Thus he meaneth by the vngodly. [i] Some yee think me wicked, because I am plagued. [k] Thus they call Iobs house by reason of building and ornament of it.

[l] For no man can iudge by the wicked mens prosperitie what shal become of him.

[m] That is, he shalbe content with a homely house of clay, which before was not content with a kingly palace.

[a] The whole course of this Chapter is, that man compared to God is vnmild, and therefore ought to repent.

[b] They knew not that Iob had so greatly offended: but they conjectured because God so plagued him, which was not for his sinnes so much as for to proue him, & therefore all their conclusions are false.

[c] Thou hast bene vncharitable and vnmild.

[d] That is, therefore art thou thus plagued euery way.

[e] Trouble.

[f] He reproueth Iob, as though he denied Gods prouidence, and that hee could not see the things that were done in this world.

[g] Meaning, vngodly and euil persons.

h Eliphaz exhorteth Iob to repentance by the great goodnes that commeth therof.

21 Therefore h reconcile thee vnto God, and be at peace: so shall all things prosper with thee right well.

22 Receiue, I pray thee, the lawe at his mouth, and lay vp his words in thine heart.

23 For if thou wilt turne to the almightie, thou shalt be i built vp, & put all vnrighteousnesse from thy dwelling.

i God will restore vnto thee all thy substance.

24 Thou shalt lay vp golde as plentifull as the dust, and the gold of Ophir as the flintes of the riuers.

25 Yea, almightie God shall bee thy defence, and thou shalt haue plentie of siluer.

26 Then shalt thou haue thy delight in the almightie, and lift vp thy face vnto God.

27 Then shalt thou make thy prayer vnto him, and hee shall heare thee, and thou shalt ‖ keepe thy promises.

‖ Or, pay thy vowes.

28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and he shall establish it vnto thee, and the k light shall shine in thy wayes.

k That is, the fauour of God

29 When the wicked be cast downe, thou shalt say, I am lifted vp: and God shall saue the humble person.

30 The innocent shall deliuer the Iland: l it shalbe preserued by the pureneſſe of thine hands.

l The place taketh the better, where the righteous are.

The xxiij. Chapter.

2 Iob affirmeth that hee both knoweth and feareth the power and sentence of the iudge, 10 and that he is not punished onely for his sinnes.

IOb answered, and sayde,

2 Though my talke be this day in bitternesse, & my plague greater then my groning, a Iob being admonished before to returne to God, sayeth, if I should come to him, where is he, or where might I finde him, to pleade my cause before him?

3 O that I a might know him, and finde him, and that I might come before his seate:

4 I would pleade my cause before him, and fill my mouth with arguments:

5 I would know what answer he would giue me, and vnderstand what he would say vnto me.

6 Will hee pleade against mee with his great power? No, but he will make mee the stronger.

7 There the righteous might dispute with him, so should I be deliuered for euer from my iudge.

8 Behold, though I goe forward, I finde him not: if I goe backeward, I can get no knowledge of him:

9 If I goe on the left side where he doeth his worke, I can not attaine vnto him: againe, if I go on the right side, he hideth himselfe, that I can not see him.

10 But as for my way, hee knoweth me, & trieth me, that as the golde I may be tried.

b That is, Gods wayes, proouing therefore himselfe not to deserue such grieuous plagues and afflictions for his faultes.

11 My b foote doth keepe his path, his hie way haue I holden, and wil not goe out of it.

12 I wil not forsake the commandement of his lips, I haue esteemed the words of his mouth more then my necessarie foode.

c For God is immutable, & his decrees stand fast.

13 Hee is one, and c who can turne him? he bringeth to passe what he desireth.

14 Hee d performeth the thing that is appointed for mee, and many such things doeth he.

d That is, he hath decreed thus to punish me appointed perchance, although I can not attaine to the secret iudgements of God therein, and therefore I do feare his presence.

15 This is the cause that I shrinke at his presence, so that when I consider him, I am afraide of him.

16 For God maketh my heart soft, and the almightie putteth me in feare, 17 Because I am not cut off before the darkenesse, neither hath he couered the darke from my face.

The xxiij. Chapter.

1 Iob describeth the wickednesse of men, and sheweth what curse belongeth to the wicked. 12 Howe all things are gouerned by Gods prouidence, 17 and the destruction of the wicked.

WHy should not the a times bee hidden from the almightie, and they that knowe him, see not his dayes?

a The things of men are such and so variable, that it seemeth to him that God takes ignorance and carelesly his cause to gouerne the world, and punish the wicked, but remaineth in quiet.

2 For som men remoue the land marches, robbe men of their cattell, and feede of the same.

3 They driue away the asse of the fatherlesse, and take the widdowes ore for a pledge.

4 They cause the poore to turne out of the way, so that the poore of the earth hide themselues together.

5 Behold, as wilde asses in the desart goe they forth to their worke, and rise betimes to spoyle: Yea, the very b wildernesse ministreth foode for them and their children.

b That is, they liue by robbery and theft.

6 They reape the corne fielde that is not their owne, and gather the vineyard of the vngodly which they possesse vniustly.

7 They cause the naked to lodge without garment, and without couering in the colde.

8 They are wet with the shoures of the mountaines, and imbrace the rocke for want of couering.

9 They plucke the fatherlesse from the brest, and take the pledge from the poore.

10 They let him goe naked without clothing, and haue taken away the sheafe of the hungry.

11 They that labour in their oyle milles, and treade their wine presses, suffer thirst.

12 Men of the citie crye out, the soules of the slaine also cry out, yet God regardeth not their complaint.

13 Those are they that flee from the light, they knewe not his wayes, nor continue in his pathes.

14 The murderer riseth earely, & killeth the poore and needie, and in the night is as a theefe.

c That onely the spyare, but also the adulterer escapeth free, & in no suspicion.

15 The c eye of the adulterer waiteth for the darkenesse, and sayeth, There shal no eye see me: and hideth his face.

16 In the darke they digge through houses, which they marked for themselues in the day time: they knowe not the light.

17 The morning is to them euen as the shadowe of death: if one knowe them they are in in the terrours of the shadow of death.

18 The vngodly is [d] swift vpon the water: their portion shalbe cursed in the earth, and he shal not behold the way of the vineyards.

19 As the drie grounde and heate consume the snowy waters: so shall the graue the sinners.

20 The [f] pitifull man shall forget him, he shall be sweete to the wormes, he shall bee no more remembred, and his wickednesse shall be broken as a tree.

21 He hath oppressed the barren that can not beare, and vnto the widowe hath hee done no good.

22 He [g] drew the mightie after him with his power, and when hee was gotten vp no man was sure of life.

23 And though they gaue him to bee in safetie, yet his eyes are vpon their wayes.

24 They are exalted for a litle, but shortly are gone, brought to pouertie, and taken out of the way, yea, and vtterly pluckt off as the eares of corne.

25 Is [h] it not so? who will then reproue me as a lyar, and say that my wordes are nothing worth?

d Yet surely to the waters too shall hardnes.

e Although such abominable sinners liue prosperously in this world, yet at the length shall be punished from heauen.

f Meaning they passe not of others, they shall not be pitied at all.

g That is, when they haue plagued & oppressed the poore and humble, they shall oppresse the strong and mightie also.

h This saying, and not a of your owne inuention.

The xxv. Chapter.

Bildad proueth that no man is cleane, nor without sinne before God.

THen answered Bildad the Suhite, and sayde,

2 [a] Power and feare is with him, who maketh peace in his highnesse.

3 Is there any number of his armies? and vpon whom shall not his light arise?

4 But howe may a man, compared vnto God, be iustified? or howe can hee bee cleane, that is borne of a woman?

5 Behold, the moone ‡ shineth not, and the starres are vncleane in his sight.

6 How much more then man that is but corruption, and the sonne of man which is but a worme.

a Bildad bendeth power here that God plagueth the vnk, yet afterward he graunteth and beleeueth God beate me to with Iob, he confesseth that he was wicked.

‡ Compared with God.

‖ Or, worme

The xxvj. Chapter.

1 Iob sheweth that no man can helpe God, and proueth it by his wonderfull workes.

IOb answered, and sayde,

2 [a] Whom hast thou helped? him that is without strength? sauest thou the arme that hath no strength?

3 Where is the counsel that thou shouldest giue him which hath no wisdome? Hast thou taught him that is very wise?

4 To whom hast thou spoken these wordes? who made the breath to come out of thy mouth?

5 [b] Are not dead things shapen vnder the waters, and in places neare vnto them?

6 Hell is naked before him, and destruction hath no couering.

7 Hee stretcheth out the North ouer the emptie place, and hangeth the earth vpon nothing.

a Here Iob reprehendeth Bildad, for y he spake not enough to Gods prayse, who herein set many worthies, neyther considered him being inspired of God.

b That is, such things are in the waters beyonde life, as mettals & such like, wherein is expressed Gods great power.

8 He bindeth the waters in his cloudes, and the cloude is not broken vnder them.

9 [c] He holdeth backe the face of his throne, and spreadeth his cloude before it.

10 Hee hath compassed the waters with certaine boundes, [d] vntill the day and night come to an ende.

11 The [e] very pillars of heauen tremble and quake at his reproofe.

12 ‖ He stilleth the sea with his power, and through his wisedome smiteth he the stregth thereof.

13 His spirit hath garnished the heauens, and his hande hath made the crooked serpent.

14 Loe, these are part of his wayes: but howe litle a portion heare wee of him? who can vnderstand the thunder of his power?

c His throne of maiestie, which are the heauens, he coureth from vs.

d That is, as long as the world endureth.

e Not that heauen hath pillars, but by the pillars he vnderstandeth all things vnder heauen.

The xxvij. Chapter.

3 The constancie and perfectnes of Iob. 13 The reward of the wicked, and of the tyrants.

AND Iob proceeded, and went forth in his parable, saying,

2 [a] As God liueth, which hath taken away my iudgement, and the almighty that hath vexed my minde:

3 While the breath is in mee, and the winde that God hath giuen me is in my nostrills,

4 My lippes shall talke of no vanitie, and my tongue shall speake no deceite.

5 God forbid that I shoulde graunt your cause to be right: as for me, vntill mine ende come, will [b] I neuer goe from mine innocencie.

6 My righteous dealing keepe I fast, which I wil not forsake: my heart shall not reproue me [c] of my dayes.

7 Therefore [d] mine enemie shall be found as the vngodly, and hee that taketh part against me, as the vnrighteous.

8 For [e] what hope hath the hypocrite, though hee be neuer so couetous, if God take away his soule?

9 Will [f] God heare his cry when trouble commeth vpon him?

10 Hath he such delight in the almighty, [g] that he dare alway call vpon God?

11 I wil teach you in the ‖ name of God, and the thing of the almightie will I not keepe from you.

12 Behold, all ye your selues haue seene it, why then doe ye thus vanish in vanitie?

13 Saying, This is the portion that the wicked haue of God, and the heritage that tyrants shal receiue of the almightie.

14 If he haue many children they shall perish with the sword, and his posteritie shall haue scarcenesse of bread.

15 His remnant shalbe buried in death, and his widowes shall not weepe.

16 Though hee heape vp siluer as the dust, and prepare rayment as the clay:

17 He may well prepare it, but the godly a This was the order of the Hebrewes to sweare.

b That is, I will not confesse that God plagueth me for mine offence.

c Of my former life past.

d That is, because they reprehended mine vnworthy, they rather might be accompted wicked, and the plagne shall light on them, and be ridde from me.

e What auaileth it a man if he gaine all the world, and loose his owne soule?

f We haue no greater gift of God then the spirit of prayer, whereby we pray, God heareth vs.

g The hypocrite neyther trusteth nor prayeth to God: yea, though he pray, God will not heare him.

‖ Or, hand.

ſhall put it on, and the innocent ſhall deale out the ſiluer.

h Which dwelleth in an other mans garment, and is ſoone ſhaken out.

18 He buildeth his houſe as h the ‖ mothe and as a booth that the watchman maketh.

‖ Or, ſpider.

19 When the rich man ſleepeth, he ſhall not bee gathered to his fathers: they opened their eyes, and he was gone.

20 Terrour taketh hold vpon him as waters, and the tempeſt ſtealeth him away in the night ſeaſon.

21 A vehement Eaſt winde carieth him hence, and hee departeth, a ſtorme hurleth him out of his place.

22 God ſhal caſt vpon him ſuch things and not ſpare him, he would fayne flee out of his hand.

23 Then ſhall men clap their hands at him, and hiſſe him out of his place.

The xxviij. Chapter.

1 Iob ſheweth that the wiſedome of God is vnſerchable.

THere is a place where ſiluer is brought out of, and where gold is tryed,

2 Where iron is digged out of the ground, and ſtones reſolued into braſſe.

3 God bringeth the darkenes to an ende, and ſearcheth out all perfection, the ſtones hidden in darkeneſſe, and in the deepe ſhadowe.

4 The floodes breake out againſt the inhabitants, and the waters forgotten a of the foote, which were higher then a man, are gone away.

a Which a man cannot wade thorow.

5 b Out of the ſame earth commeth bread, and vnder it, as it were, fire is turned vp.

b As the fruitfull fields tilled and plowed, bring forth corne: ſo it being deepely digged, there are founde ſtonnes out of the which fire is ſtroken.

6 The c ſtones of it are a place of Saphires, and the duſt of it is gold.

c The Saphires do ſhine with golden pointes, ſo that here by Saphires is ment clods of gold.

7 There is a way that the birds knowe not that no Vultures eye hath ſeene:

8 Wherein the Lions whelps walke not, and where no Lion commeth.

9 Hee d putteth his hande vpon the ſtonie rockes, and ouerthroweth the mountaines by the rootes.

All theſe things are found, but Gods wiſedome who can reach?

d Here hee ſheweth Gods power, how earth may be digged hilles ouerthrowen, a fountaine made among ſtones, riuers turned from their courſe, but Gods wiſedome is not to be found.

10 Riuers flowe out of the rockes, and looke what is pleaſant his eye ſeeth it.

11 He bindeth the floods that they do not ouerflow: and the thing that is hid bringeth he to light.

12 Where then is wiſedome founde? and e where is the place of vnderſtanding?

e Gods wiſedome is partly ſeene in theſe worldly things, but his heauenly wiſdome & ſecret iudgement is hid, and vnknowen to all men.

13 No man can tell how f worthy a thing it is, neither is it founde in the land of the liuing.

f That is, it paſſeth mans capacitie to attaine to it.

14 The deepe ſayeth, It is not in mee: the ſea ſayth, It is not with me:

15 It can not be gotten for gold, neyther may the price of it be bought with any ſiluer.

16 No golde of Ophir, no precious Onyx ſtones, no Saphires may be valued with it.

17 No, neyther golde nor Diamonde ſhal be equall vnto it, the exchange of it ſhall not be for the plate of fine golde.

18 No mention ſhall bee made of Coral, nor of the Gabis: for wiſedome is more precious then pearles.

19 The Topas of Ethiopia ſhall not be equall vnto it, neyther ſhall it be valued with pure golde.

20 Whence then commeth wiſedome, and where is the place of vnderſtanding?

21 It is hid from the eyes of all men liuing, and hid from the fowles of the ‖ ayre.

‖ Or, heauen

22 Deſtruction and death ſay, Wee haue heard the fame thereof with our eares.

23 God ſeeth the way thereof, and knoweth the place thereof.

24 For he beholdeth the ends of the world, and looketh vpon all that is vnder heauen.

25 When he wayed the windes, and meaſured the waters,

26 When he made a decree for the rayne, and a way for the lightnings of the thunder:

g Meaning by this, that man hath to ſeeke of this excellent wiſdome of God, as by deeply ſearching out the nature of euery thing, but obſerue & feare God.

27 Then did he ſee it, then declared he it, prepared it, and knewe it.

28 And vnto man he ſayde, g To feare the Lord is wiſedome, and to forſake euil is vnderſtanding.

The xxix. Chapter.

1 Iob wiſheth the proſperitie of his time paſt. 7 He ſetteth forth auctoritie, 12 iuſtice, and equitie.

MOreouer Iob proceeded a went forth in his parable, ſaying, a That is, as his former purpoſe was.

2 O that I were as I was in the moneths paſt, and in the dayes when God preſerued me:

3 When his a light ſhined vpon my head, when I went after the ſame light, and ſhining euen thorow the darkeneſſe:

a That is, as his former purpoſe was.

4 As it ſtood with me when I was yong, when God proſpered my houſe:

5 When the almightie was yet with me, when my children ſtoode about me,

6 When I waſhed my b ſteppes with butter, and when the ſtonie rockes gaue me riuers of oyle:

b That is, when I had all things and abundantly. For vnder all ſorts & ſpecies of phraſes he ſeeketh to be reſtored to his former eſtate of proſperitie.

7 When I went out to the gate, euen to the iudgement ſeate, and when I prepared my ſeate in the ſtreete:

8 The c yong men ſaw me, and hid themſelues, and the d aged aroſe, and ſtood vp:

c Yong men, although at this courteous entertainment of their elders, yet muſt they ſhew their reuerence.

d Knowing both his wiſedome and gouernment.

9 The e princes left off their talking, and laide their hand to their mouth.

e Ouer to hearken him, by the great wiſedome that appeared in him, erecting them, cauſed their tongues to be in ſilence.

10 The mightie kept ſtil their voyce, and their tongue cleaued to the roofe of their mouth.

11 When the eare heard me, it bleſſed me: and when the eye ſawe me, it gaue witneſſe to me.

12 For I deliuered the poore when hee cryed, and the fatherleſſe, and him that had none to helpe him.

13 The bleſſing of him that was ready to periſh, came vpon mee, and I cauſed the widowes heart to reioyce.

14 I put vpon me righteouſneſſe, which couered mee as a garment, and equitie was my crowne.

15 I

15 I was an eye to the blinde, and a foote to the lame.
16 I was a father to the poore: and when I knewe not the cause, I sought it out diligently.
17 I brake the iawes of the vnrighteous man, and pluckt the spoyle out of his teeth.
18 Then I sayde, I shall die in my nest: and I shall multiplie my dayes as the sand.
19 For my roote hath spread out by the waters side, & the dew lay vpon my ‖ corne.
Or, haruest
20 Mine honour encreased more and more, and my bowe was ‖ euer the stronger in mine hand.
Or, renued
21 Vnto me men gaue eare, me they regarded, and kept silence at my counsell.
22 After my wordes they answered not, and my talke dropped vpon them.
23 They [f] waited for me as for the rayne, and gaped vpon me as the ground doeth to receiue the latter showre.
There is found of other creatures in vnreasonable and brutishnesse in vs.
24 When I laughed on them, they [g] beleeued it not, and the light of my countenance would they not put out.
25 I tried out their way, I sate as chiefe, and dwelt as a King with his armie about him: and when they were in heauinesse, I was their comforter.
f That is, they waited for me as for the rayne, and gaped vpon me as the ground doeth to receiue the latter showre.
g That neyther beleeued I the thing I spake in good earnest, and therefore would not be much mooued.

The xxx. Chapter.

1 Iob complaineth that hee is contemned of the vilest, 11. 21 because of his aduersitie and affliction. 23 Death is the house of all flesh.

BVt [a] nowe they that are yonger then I, haue mee in derision: whose fathers I would haue thought scorne to haue set with the dogges of my cattell.
a Before he shewed how greatly God had holpen the poore, and here is shewed how heauie a crosse it is to haue them to reproue them.
2 Whereto might the strength of [b] their handes profite me? for the time was but lost among them.
b They now despise me, whom with all their power I was in prosperitie ready to helpe me, it is to breake, that Iob declareth vnkindnesse they haue shewed him, & shewing that they are wicked like vnto their fathers, which died per they came to age.
3 For very [c] miserie and hunger they fled into the wildernesse, a darke place, horrible, and waste,
Or, mallowes.
4 Plucking vp ‖ nettles among the bushes, and the Iuniper rootes for their meate.
5 And when they were driuen forth, men cried after them, as it had bene after a theefe.
6 Their [d] dwelling was in the clifts of brookes, yea in the caues and dennes of the earth.
d Shewing plainly their wickednesse and their punishment, being such wretches: yet were they knowne Iobs, which is a great griefe to be mocked of such.
7 Among the bushes went they about crying, and vnder the thornes they gathered themselues together.
8 They were the children of fooles and villaines, which are the vilest in the earth.
9 Now am I their song, and am become their iesting stocke.
10 They abhorre me, and flee farre from me, and stayne my face with spittell.
11 Because God hath loosed my cord, and humbled me, they haue loosed the bridle before me.
12 Vpon my right hande rise the young men against mee they haue hurt my feete, treading vpon me, as vpon the wayes which they would destroy.
13 My [e] pathes haue they cleane marred, it was so easie for them to doe me harme, that they needed no man to helpe them. e That is, they ouerthrew all my doings, without helpe of any other.
14 They fell vpon mee, as it had bene the breaking in of waters, and came in by heapes to destroy me.
15 Feare is turned vpon mee, and they pursue my soule as the wind, and my health passeth away as [f] a cloud.
f That is, most swiftly.
16 Therefore is my soule nowe powred out vpon mee, and the dayes of my trouble haue taken hold vpon me.
17 My bones are pearced through in the night season, and my sinewes take no rest.
18 For the vehemencie of sorowe is my garment changed, which compasseth mee about, as the [g] collar of my coat.
g It is the maner among the Hebrues to haue their garments sowed round in euery part, sauing a hole onely in the highest of it to put forth the necke.
19 He hath cast me into the mire, and I am become like ashes and dust.
20 When [h] I cry vnto thee, thou doest not heare mee: and though I stand before thee, yet thou regardest me not.
h Iob saieth not this as blaming God, but grieuous affliction moued affection.
21 Thou art become mine enemie, and with thy violent hande thou takest part against me.
22 In times past thou diddest [i] set me vp on high, to be caried as it were aboue the wind, but now hast thou giuen me a very sore fall.
i That is, thou diddest set me in high authoritie, and suddenly thou puttest me downe.
23 Sure I am that thou wilt bring mee vnto death, euen to the lodging that is due vnto all men liuing.
24 Notwithstanding, thou wilt not stretch out thine hand against him that is in the graue, though men cry in his destruction.
25 Did not I weepe with him that was in trouble? Had not my soule compassion vpon the poore?
26 Yet whereas I looked for good, euill came vnto me: & [k] where I waited for light, there came darkenesse.
k In stead of comfort they gaue me mocks.
27 My bowels seeth in me without rest, for the daies of my trouble are come vpon me.
28 I went mourning without heate, I stood vp in the congregation, and cried.
29 I am a brother of Dragons, and a fellow of Estriches.
30 My skinne vpon me is turned to black, and my bones are brent with heate.
31 My harpe is turned to mourning, and my instruments of musike, into the voyce of them that weepe.

The xxxi. Chapter.

Iob rehearseth the innocencie of his liuing, and number of his vertues.

I Made a [a] couenant with mine eies, that I would not looke vpon a maiden.
a In this chapter Iob declareth his vpright liuing, not to boast against God, but to refel the false slander of his aduersaries.
2 For howe great a portion shall I haue of God from aboue: and what inheritance of the almightie from an high?
3 Is not destruction to the wicked? & some strange thing to the workers of iniquitie?
4 Doeth not hee see my wayes, and tel all my goings?

5 If

5 If I haue walked in vanitie, or if my feete haue runne to deceiue:
6 Let mee bee weyghed in an euen ballance, that God may ſee mine innocencie.
7 If my ſtep haue turned out of the way, and mine heart walked after mine eyes, and if any blot haue cleaued to mine handes:
8 Then ſhall I ſowe, and another eate:
‖Or, plants. yea, my ‖ poſteritie ſhalbe cleane rooted out.
9 If my heart haue bene deceiued by a woman, or if I haue laid waite at my neighbours dooze:
b Let her be a bondſlaue to another man. ‖Or, bowe downe vpon her. 10 Then let my wife [b] grinde vnto another man, and let other men ‖ lye with her.
11 For this is a wickednelle, and ſinne that is worthy to be iudged:
c Though mans puniſhment for adultery be omitted, yet Gods plague will neuer reſt to conſume and roote it out. 12 Yea, a [c] fire that vtterly ſhould conſume and roote out all my increaſe.
13 If I euer thought ſcorne to doe right vnto my ſeruants and maydens when they had any matter againſt me, d That is, if I in law haue reiected the complaint of my ſeruant, what ſhould I doe when God calleth me to lawe? 14 When God [d] will ſit in iudgement, what ſhall I doe? and when hee will viſite me, what anſwere ſhall I giue him?
e Iob expreſſeth the cauſe why he did pitie his ſeruants, for that they had one creator, and both made of the ſame ſubſtance. 15 Hee that [e] faſhioned mee in my mothers wombe, made hee not him alſo? were we not both ſhapen alike in our mothers bodies?
16 If I denied the poore of their deſire, or haue cauſed the eyes of the widowe to waite in vaine:
f Meaning, that he hath bene beneficial to the poore, to the fatherleſſe and widowes. 17 If I haue eaten my [f] morſel alone, that the fatherleſſe hath not eaten thereof:
18 (For from my youth mercie hath brought mee vp as a father, and hath guided me from my mothers wombe.)
19 If I haue ſeene any periſh for want of clothing, or any poore lacking raiment:
20 If his loynes haue not bleſſed me, becauſe hee was warmed with the fleece of my ſheepe:
21 If I haue lift vp mine hande againſt the fatherleſſe, when I ſawe that I might helpe him in the gate:
22 Then let mine arme fal from my ſhoul-der, and mine arme be broken from the bone.
23 For I haue feared the vengeance of God, and knewe very well that I was not able to beare his burden.
24 Haue I put my truſt in golde? or haue
I ſaide to the wedge of golde, thou art my confidence?
25 Haue I reioyced becauſe my power was great, or becauſe my hande gat ſo much?
g Did I vſe to worſhip the ſunne or moone, as other gentiles which were idolaters? 26 Did I [g] beholde the ſunne when it ſhined? or the moone walking in her brightnes?
27 Hath my heart bene ſecretly deceiued?
or did I kiſſe mine owne hand?
28 (That were a wickednelle worthy to be iudged: for then ſhould I haue denied the God that is aboue.)
29 Haue I reioyced at the hurt of mine enemie? or was I glad that any harme happened vnto him?
30 I neuer ſuffered my mouth to ſinne by wiſhing a curſe to his ſoule.
31 Did not the men of mine owne houſehold ſay, who ſhall giue vs of his fleſh? wee cannot be ſatisfied.
h Meaning, that he did not hold his peace, or keepe at home in the firſt inſtant cauſe of anger. i That is, I will carry the booke vpon my ſhoulder, and will accept it for a great gift, meaning, he would confeſſe his fault, if he had offended. k That is, with great reuerence. l That is, if the ground that payth his bounden duty vnto his maiſter, bewaile the wrongs done vnto the poore. m That is, if I haue by violence compelled any man to be euen, and not giuen food to the labourers. 32 The ſtranger did not lodge in [h] ſtreet, but I opened my doores vnto him that went by the way.
33 Haue I kept ſecret my ſinne, and hid mine iniquitie in my boſome, as Adam did?
34 If I feared a great multitude, or the deſpiſing of the meaneſt of a familie, I would haue kept ſilence, and not gone out of the [i] dooze.
35 O that I had one which would heare me: behold my ſigne that the almightie will witneſſe for mee, though mine aduerſarie write a booke againſt me.
36 Surely I will take it vpon my [k] ſhoul-der, and as a garland bind it about my head.
37 I will tell him the number of my goings, and go vnto him, as to a [l] prince.
38 If my land [l] cry againſt me, or that the [m] furrowes thereof make any complaint:
39 If I haue eaten the fruits thereof vn-paied for, yea, if I haue grieued the ſoules of the ‖ maſters thereof:
40 Then let thiſtles growe in ſteade of wheate, and cockle for barley.
‖Or, husbandmen. Here end the words of Iob.

The xxvii. Chapter.

6 Elihu reproueth them of follie. 8 Age maketh not a man wiſe, but the ſpirit of God.

a The hypocrites will, was neuer in any other man. MOreouer these three men ceaſſed to anſwer Iob, becauſe he held him-ſelfe a righteous man.
2 But Elihu the ſonne of Barachel the Buzite, of the kin-red of Ram, was very ſore diſpleaſed at Iob, becauſe he called himſelfe iuſt before God.
3 And with Iobs three friends hee was angrie alſo, becauſe they had found no an-ſwere, and yet condemned Iob.
4 Now taried Elihu till they had ended their communication with Iob: for they were elder then he.
5 So when Elihu ſawe that theſe three men were not able to make Iob anſwere, he was miſcontent.
6 Therefore Elihu the ſonne of Barachel
the Buzite, anſwered and ſayd, I am yong, and ye be men of age, I was afraid, and durſt not ſhew foorth my mind.
7 For I thought thus within my ſelfe, It becommeth ‖ old men to ſpeake, and the ‖ aged to teach wiſedome.
‖Or, the dayes ſhall ſpeake. ‖Or, the multitude of yeeres ſhall.
8 Euery man no doubt hath a mind, but it is the inſpiration of the almightie that giueth vnderſtanding.
9 Great men are not alway wiſe, neither doth euery aged man vnderſtand ‖ the thing that is lawfull:
‖Or, iudgement. 10 Therefore I ſay, Heare me, and I will ſhew you alſo mine vnderſtanding.
11 For when I had waited till ye made an ende of your talking, and heard your wiſe-dome, [b] what arguments yee made in your b Concerne Iob plagued for his offences. com-communication,

12 Yea, when I had diligently pondered what yee sayd, I found not one of you that made any good argument against Iob, that could answere his words, 13 Least ye should say, Wee haue [c] found out wisedome, God shal cast him downe, and no man.

14 Hee hath not spoken vnto mee, and I will not answere him as ye haue done.

15 For they were so abashed, that they could not make answer, nor speake one word.

16 When I had waited (for they spake not, but stood still, and answered no more,)

17 Then answered I in my turne, and I shewed mine opinion.

18 For I am full of ‖ matter, and the spirite within me compelleth me.

19 Behold, my [d] belly is as the wine which hath no vent, like the new bottels that burst.

20 Therfore wil I speake, that I may take breath: I will open my lips, and make answere.

21 I will [e] regard no maner of person, no man will I spare.

22 For if I would go about to [f] please mē, I know not how soone my maker would take me away.

[c] And latter were times, as though you had ouercome him.

‖ Or, words.

[d] That is, I should burst for the wine, if I should not speake, my wordes is in your mouthes.

[e] That is, I will not spare any man, calling a rich man learned, a wicked man iust.

[f] That is, I know not how to flatter, or giue the name, calling a wicked man learned, a wicked man iust.

The xxxiii. Chapter.

5 Elihu accuseth Iob of ignorance. 14 He sheweth that God hath diuers meanes to instruct man, and to drawe him from sinne.

WHerefore heare my wordes, O Iob, and hearken vnto all that I will say:

2 Behold, I haue now opened my mouth, my tongue hath spoken in my throte.

3 My heart doeth order my words aright, and my lips talke of pure wisedome.

4 The [a] spirit of God hath made me, and the breath of the almightie hath giuen mee life.

5 If thou canst giue me answere, prepare thy selfe, and stand before me.

6 Beholde, [b] before God, I am euen as thou: for I am fashioned and made euen of the same mould.

7 Behold, my terrour shall not feare thee, neither shall my hand be heauie vpon thee.

8 [c] Now hast thou spoken in mine eares, and I haue heard the voyce of thy wordes:

9 I am cleane without any fault, I am innocent, and there is no wickednes in me.

10 But lo, he hath picked a quarel against me, and taketh me for his enemie:

11 He hath put my feet in the stockes, and looketh narowly vnto all my pathes.

12 Beholde, in this hast thou not done right, I will make answere vnto thee, that God is greater then man.

13 And why doest thou then striue against him? for he shall not giue thee accompts of all his wordes.

14 For God speaketh [d] once or twise, and yet man vnderstandeth it not.

15 In dreames and visions of the night, when slumbring commeth vpon men, that they fall asleepe in their beds,

16 He openeth the eares of men, and correcteth them:

17 That he may withdraw man from his purposes, and deliuer him from [e] pride, 18 And keepe his soule from the graue, and his life from the sword.

19 He chasteneth him with sickenesse vpon his bed, he layeth sore punishment vpon his bones:

20 So that his [f] life may away with no bread, and his soule abhorreth to eate any daintie meate:

21 Insomuch that his flesh is cleane consumed away, and his bones are broken that they cannot be seene.

22 His soule draweth vnto the graue, and his life to ‖ death.

23 Nowe if there bee a messenger, one among a thousand, sent for to speake vnto man, and to shew him the right way:

24 Then the Lord is mercifull vnto him, and saieth, He shall be deliuered, that he fall not downe to the graue: for I am sufficiently reconciled.

25 Then shall his flesh bee as fresh as a childes, and shall returne, as in the dayes of his youth.

26 He shall pray vnto God, and he will be fauourable vnto him, and he shall see his face with ioy, for hee will render vnto man his righteousnesse.

27 A respect hath hee vnto men, let man then say, I haue offended, I did vnrighteously, and it hath done me no good:

28 Hee hath deliuered my soule from destruction, and [g] my life shall see the light.

29 Loe, all these worketh God ‡ alway with man,

30 That he bring backe his soule from the graue to the light, euen ỹ light of the liuing.

31 Marke well, O Iob, and heare mee: hold thee still, and I will speake.

32 But if thou hast any thing to say, then [h] answere me, and speake, for I desire to iustifie thee.

33 If thou hast nothing, then heare mee, and hold thy tongue, and I shall teach thee wisedome.

[d] God speaketh two maner of wayes vnto men, either by sleepe, or by his rod of sickenesse, and other plagues.

[e] For to beat downe the pride of man, God sendeth his plagues.

[f] That is, sickenesse that deadeth life, can take no sustenance.

‖ Or, to the buriers.

[g] That is, my soule shall appeare cleare in the land of the liuing.

‡ Heb. twise or thrise.

[h] That is, to shew thy selfe iust, and not wicked.

The xxxiiii. Chapter.

5 Elihu chargeth Iob that he calleth himselfe righteous, 12 He sheweth that God is iust in iudgements.

ELihu answered, and said,

2 Heare my wordes, O yee [a] wisemen, hearken vnto mee, ye that haue vnderstanding:

3 For the eare discerneth words, and the mouth tasteth meats.

4 As for [b] iudgement, let vs seeke it out among our selues, that wee may know what is good.

[a] Here Elihu proueth that God cannot be vniust, because he is the iudge of the world, the gouernour and creator of all.

[b] Let vs trie the cause by reasoning by right.

5 For

5 For Iob hath said, I am righteous, and God hath [c] taken away my iudgement.
6 In my right I must bee a liar: my wound is incurable without my fault.
7 Where is there such a one as Iob, that [d] drinketh vp scornefulnesse like water,
8 Which goeth in the company of wicked doers, and walketh with vngodly men?
9 For he hath said, It profiteth a man nothing, that he should walke with God.
10 Therefore hearken vnto mee, yee that haue vnderstanding: farre bee it from God that he should meddle with wickednesse, and farre be it from the almightie that he should meddle with vnrighteous dealing.
11 For hee shall reward man after his workes, and cause euery man to finde according to his wayes.
12 Sure it is that God will not doe wickedly, neither will the almightie peruert iudgement.
13 Who ruleth the earth but he? or who hath placed the whole world?
14 If he set his heart vpon man, & gather vnto himselfe his * spirit and his breath:
Psal. 103. 29.
15 All flesh shall come to nought at once, and man shall turne againe vnto dust.
16 If thou now haue vnderstanding, heare this, and hearken to the voyce of my words:
17 May hee bee a [e] ruler that loueth not right? wilt thou iudge him wicked that is most iust?
18 Wilt thou say vnto a king, Thou art wicked? or to princes, Ye are vngodly?
19 *God hath no respect vnto the persons of the princes, and regardeth not the riche more then the poore: for they be all the worke of his hands.
20 In [f] the twinckling of an eie shall they die, and the people shall bee troubled at midnight, and passe away, and the mightie shall be taken away without hand.
Rom. 2. 11.
21 For his eyes looke vpon the wayes of man, and he seeth all his goings.
22 There is no darkenesse nor shadow of death, that can hide the wicked doers from him.
23 For God will not lay vpon man more then he hath sinned, that he should enter into iudgement with him.
24 Hee shall destroy the mightie without seeking, and shall set other in their [g] stead.
25 Therefore shal he declare their works: he shall [h] turne the night, and they shalbe destroyed.
26 The vngodly doeth he punish [i] openly.
27 Because they turned backe from him, and would not consider all his wayes:
28 In so much that they haue caused the voyce of the [k] poore to come vnto him, and now he heareth the complaint of such as are in trouble.
29 When he giueth quietnesse, who can make trouble? and when he hideth his face, who can behold him? whether it be vpon nations, or vpon one man onely?
30 Because the hypocrite doeth raigne, and because the people are snared.
31 Surely of God onely it can bee sayd, I haue pardoned, I will not destroy.
32 If I haue gone amisse, enforme thou me: if I haue done wrong, I will leaue off.
33 Will hee performe the thing through thee? for thou hast reproued his iudgement, thine is the choise, and not mine: but speake on what thou knowest.
34 Let men of vnderstanding tel me, and let a wise man hearken vnto me.
35 Iob hath not spoken of knowledge, neither were his wordes according to wisedome.
36 O [l] father, let Iob be ‖ well tried, because he hath answered for wicked men:
37 Yea, aboue his sinne he doeth wickedly, triumpheth among vs, and multiplieth his words against God.

The xxxv. Chapter.

6 Neither doeth godlinesse profite, or vngodlinesse hurt God, but man. 18 The wicked crie vnto God, and are not heard.

Elihu a spake moreouer, and sayd,
2 Thinkest thou it right that thou saiest, I am more righteous then God?
3 For thou saiest, What aduantage will it be vnto thee, and what profite shall I haue if I be cleansed from my sinne?
4 I wil answer thee a word, and thy [b] companions with thee.
5 Looke vnto the heauen, and behold it, consider the [c] cloudes, which are higher then thou.
6 If thou hast [d] sinned, what hast thou done against him? if thine offences be many, what hast thou done vnto him?
7 If thou bee [e] righteous, what giuest thou him? or what will hee receiue of thine hand?
8 Thy wickednes may hurt a man as thou art, and thy righteousnesse may profite the sonne of man.
9 They which are oppressed, cry out vpon the multitude, yea, they cry out for the power of the mightie.
10 But none saieth, Where is God that made mee? and that giueth ‖ vs occasion to praise him in the night?
11 Which teacheth vs more then [f] beasts of the earth, and giueth vs more wisedome then the foules of heauen.
12 If any [g] such complain, no man giueth answere, and that because of the wickednes of proud tyrants.
13 For God wil not heare banitie, neither will the almightie regard it.
14 Although thou sayest to God, Thou wilt not regard it: yet iudgement is before him, trust thou in him.
15 But now, because his anger hath not visited, neither called men to accompt with great a Iob hauing his iust cause, & an vpright mans conscience.

b Or, that are like to the in sinfulnesse, not hauing the grace to amend.

c If the cloudes are higher then thou, how much more is God exalting himself in all.

d If such nothing auaunage God whether it be good or euil, for he nedeth not mans helpe, Iob shall neuertheles, pass mankind for small gladnesse.

e Though he should be iust, if he be good, it is more still.

Or, songs.

f That is, God hauing them not, he cannot they pray not vnto him in faith.

g That is, God hearing them not, he cannot they pray not vnto him in faith.

c That is, he hath not dealt with me according to the equitie of my cause.

d That is, for his foolishnes he beareth the scornefull reproofes of the mockers.

e As though Elihu would say, Is it meet that the vniust and wicked shal be rulers, or innocents commit wickednes, or inferiors to controll princes, or subiects to resist the king? how much lesse then oughtest thou to doe so to God the king of all kings?

f That is, suddenly before they are aware of it.

g God exalteth one, and humbleth another, as the foure monarchies of the world for example, that is, of the Assyrians, of the Persians, of the Grecians, and of the Romanes: as God doeth mightily, so doth he iustly.

h That is, he shall bring to light that which lay in darknesse.

i That is, in the sight of all men.

k Through ignorance and vnmercifull handling of them.

great extremitie:

16 Therefore doeth Iob open his mouth in vaine, and he maketh many words without knowledge.

The xxxvj. Chapter.

1 Elihu sheweth the power of God, 6 and his iustice 9 and wherefore he punisheth. 13 The propertie of the wicked.

ELihu also proceeded and sayd,

2 Hold thee still a litle, and I shall shewe thee what I haue yet to speake on Gods behalfe.

3 I will open vnto thee yet farre higher knowledge, & will ascribe righteousnesse vnto my maker.

4 And truely my words shal not be vaine, seeing hee is with thee that is [a] perfect in knowledge.

5 Beholde, the great God casteth away no man, for hee himselfe is [b] mightie in power and wisedome.

6 As for the vngodly, he shal not preserue him, but shall helpe the poore to their right.

7 He shall not turne his eyes away from the righteous, but as [c] kings shall they be in their throne, he shall stablish them for euer, and they shalbe exalted.

8 But if they be layd in chaines, or bound with the bonds of trouble, 9 Then will he [d] shewe them their worke, and their sinnes which they haue committed stoutly.

10 He openeth his eare also to discipline, and warneth them to leaue off from their wickednesse.

11 If they now wil take heede and serue him, they shall weare out their dayes in prosperitie, and their yeeres in pleasure.

12 But if they will not hearken, they shal goe thorowe the sworde, and perish, or euer they be aware.

13 As for the [e] hypocrites in heart, they shall heape vp wrath for themselues, for they call not vpon him, though they be his prisoners.

14 Thus shall their soule perish in ‖ foolishnesse, and their life among the fornicatours.

15 The poore shal he deliuer out of his affliction, and ‖ round them in the eare when they be in trouble.

16 Euen so would he take thee out of the straite place, into a broade place in the which there is no straitenesse: yea, and make thy table quiet, replenished with fatnesse.

17 Neuertheless, [f] thou hast commended the iudgement of the vngodly, and euen such a iudgement and sentence shalt thou suffer.

18 And seeing there is [g] wrath with God, beware lest he take thee away in thy wealth, and all that thou hast to redeeme thee, can not deliuer thee.

19 Thinkest thou that hee will regarde thy riches? he shall not care for golde, nor for all them that excell in strength.

20 Spende not the night in carefull thoughtes, how he destroyeth the people out of their place.

21 Beware that thou turne not aside to wickednes, which hitherto thou hast chosen more then affliction.

22 Beholde, God is of a mightie hie power: where is there such a teacher as he?

23 Who wil reprowe him of his way? who wil say vnto him, Thou hast done wrong?

24 Remember that thou doe magnifie his worke which men doe prayse.

25 All men see it, yea, men doe beholde it a farre off.

26 Beholde, so great is God, that he passeth our knowledge, [h] neither can the number of his yeeres be searched out.

27 He turneth the water to small drops, he driueth his cloudes together to rayne:

28 Which rayne the cloudes doe droppe, and let fall abundantly vpon men.

29 Who can consider the [i] spreading out of his cloudes, the couerings of his tabernacle?

30 Beholde, he doeth stretch his light vpon it, and couereth the bottome of the sea.

31 For by these ‖ gouerneth he his people, and giueth them abundance of meate.

32 With the cloudes hee hideth the light, and at his commandement it breaketh out.

33 Which dashing vpon the next cloudes, shew tokens of wrath.

The xxxvij. Chapter.

2 Elihu prooueth that the vnsearcheable wisedome of God is manifest by his woorkes, 4 as by the thunder, 6 the snowe, 9 the whirlewinde, 11 and the rayne.

AT [a] this also my heart is astonied, & moued out of his place.

2 Heare [b] then the sound of his voyce, and the noyse that goeth out of his mouth.

3 Hee directeth it vnder the whole heauen, & his light vnto the ends of the world.

4 A roring voice foloweth it: for his glorious maiestie giueth a thunder clappe, and he will not stay when his voyce is heard.

5 God thundreth marueilously with his voyce, great things doeth he, which wee can not comprehend.

6 He commaundeth the snowe, and it falleth vpon earth: he giueth the raine a charge, and the showres haue their strength and fall downe.

7 With the force of the rayne hee shutteth men vp, that all men may knowe [c] his workes.

8 The beastes [d] creepe into their dennes, and remaine in their places.

9 Out of the South commeth the tempest, and colde out from the North winde.

10 At the [e] breath of God the hoare frost is giuen, and the broad waters are frosen.

11 He maketh the cloudes to labour, in giuing moystnesse, & againe, with his light he driueth away the cloude.

h For hee is God frō euerlasting, without beginning or ending.

i Gods wonderfull is wonderfully declared in his creatures.

‖ Or, iudgeth.

a That is, at Gods wonderfull creatures, as the thunder, and such like.

b As though he would say, the thunder is the dreadfull voyce of God.

c Which workes are as it were a confirmation of Gods maiestie: for as soone as the thunder commeth, they flie for feare, wherein they shewe their owne weakenesse, and doe witnesse a manifestie of Gods mighte.

d Not onely man, but beastes also are witnesses of Gods power & maiestie, when they runne to their dennes for feare of the thunder.

e Speaning, the windes which are called the breath of God, which as they blowe out of colde, so they freese or thawe the waters, making them lesser and greater, 12 He turneth the heauens about by his gouernement, that they may doe whatſoeuer he commaundeth them vpon the whole worlde.

13 He cauſeth rayne to come, whether it be for punishment, or for his land, or to doe good to them that ſeeke him.

14 Hearken vnto this, O Iob, ſtand ſtill, and conſider the wonderous woorkes of God.

15 Diddeſt thou knowe when God diſpoſed them: & cauſed the f light of his cloudes to ſhine?

f That is, the lightening.

16 Haſt thou knowen the varietie of the cloudes, and the wonderous woorkes of him which is perfect in knowledge?

17 And how thy clothes are warme, whē the land is ſtill through the South winde?

18 Haſt thou helped him to ſpread out the heauens, which are ſtrong, and bright as a g moulten glaſſe?

g For the clearenesse or brightnesse of them.

19 Teach vs what we ſhall ſay vnto him: for wee are vnmeete to frame our talke, because of h darkeneſſe.

h That is, of our ignorance.

20 Shal it be told him what I ſay? Shal man ſpeake when he ſhalbe deſtroyed.

21 For men ſee not the light that ſhineth in the cloudes, but the winde palleth and cleanſeth them.

‡Heb. colde

22 The ‡ fayre weather commeth out of the North, the prayſe thereof is to God, who is terrible.

23 It is the almightie, we can not finde him out: he is excellent in power and iudgement, and abundant in iuſtice: he afflicteth not.

i Alluding to Iob.

24 Let men therefore i feare him: for there ſhal no man ſee him that is wiſe in his owne conceite.

The xxxviij. Chapter.

God ſpeaketh to Iob, and declareth the ignorance of man in the conſideration of his creatures.

THen anſwered the Lorde vnto Iob out of the a whirle winde, and ſayde, a To ſhew his maieſtie. & to inſtruct Iob, before whom he ſpake.

2 What is hee that b darkeneth his counſell by woordes without knowledge?

b That ſpeaketh ſo couertly & obſcurely.

3 Girde vp thy c loynes like a man: for I wil queſtion with thee, giue me an anſwere.

c That is, prepare thy ſelfe to anſwere.

4 Where d waſt thou when I layde the foundations of the earth? tell me, if thou haſt vnderſtanding.

d Inferring by this, that if he could not obteine Gods wonderfull woorkes, much leſſe his vnſearchable wiſedome.

5 Who hath meaſured it, knoweſt thou? or who hath ſpread the line vpon it?

6 Whereupon are the foundations ſet? or who layde the corner ſtone thereof?

7 Where waſt thou when the morning ſtarres prayſed me together, and all the children of God reioyced triumphantly?

8 Who ſhut vp the ſea with doores, when it brake forth as out of the wombe?

9 When I made the cloudes a couering for it, and darkeneſſe as his ſwadling band,

10 When I gaue it my commandement, making doores and barres for it, 11 Saying, Hitherto ſhalt thou come, but no further, and here ſhalt thou lay downe thy proud waues?

12 Haſt thou giuen ỹ morning his charge ſince thy daies, and ſhewed the day ſpring his place, 13 That it might take hold of the ‖ corners of the earth, and that the vngodly might bee ſhaken out of it?

‖ Or, wing.

14 c They are faſhioned as is the clay to the ſeale, and ſhalbe as a garment.

c Though the vngodly truſt in their riches to continue long, yet their ſhalbe as vncertaine as clay, and as a garment that ſoone perish.

15 The vngodly ſhall bee diſappointed of their light, and ‖ the arme of the proud ſhall be broken.

‖ Or, the high arme.

16 f Cameſt thou euer into the ‖ ground of the ſea, or walkedſt in the low ſteppes of the deepe?

f A liuely proofe of our ignorance in Gods workes, and ſecret counſels, that we can not iudge of them, vnleſſe we be taught.

17 Haue the gates of death bene opened vnto thee? or haſt thou ſeene the doores of the ſhadow of death?

‖ Or, the low ſteppes.

18 Haſt thou alſo perceiued how broad the earth is? If thou haſt knowledge of all this:

19 Then ſhew mee the way where light dwelleth, and where is the place of darkneſſe?

‖ Or, how.

20 That thou ſhouldeſt receiue it in the bounds thereof, and know the paths to their houſes.

21 Knewſt thou alore thou waſt borne how old thou ſhouldeſt be?

22 g Wenteſt thou euer into the treaſures of the ſnow, or haſt thou ſeene the ſecret places of the haile?

g As wee ſee in the like ſpeech ſ this is greatly much leſſe may Iob diſcerne by reaſon Gods ſecrets.

23 Which I haue ‖ prepared againſt the time of trouble, againſt the time of battel and warre?

‖ Or, laid.

24 By what way is the light parted? and into what land breaketh the Eaſt wind?

25 Who diuideth the waters into diuers chanels? or the way of the lightening and thunder, 26 To cauſe it to raine on the earth, where no man is, & in the wilderneſſe where none inhabiteth?

27 To ſatisfie the deſolate & waſte ground, and to cauſe the budde of the herbe to ſpring foorth?

28 Who is the h father of the raine? or who hath begotten the drops of the dewe?

h Meaning, God as ſ creator and maker of all things.

29 Out of whoſe wombe came the yce? who hath gendred the ‖ coldneſſe of the aire,

‖ Or, froſt of the heauen.

30 That the waters are ‖ i hid as with a ſtone, and lie congeled about the deepe?

‖ Some read, hide.

i The yce neuer it, as though it were paued with ſtone.

31 Canſt thou binde the ſeuen ſtarres together? or looſe the bands of Orion?

32 Canſt thou bring foorth the morning ſtarre in his time? canſt thou alſo guide ‖ the euening ſtarre with his ſonnes?

‖ Or, Arcturus.

33 Knoweſt thou the courſe of heauen, that thou mayeſt ſet vp the ordinance thereof vpon the earth?

34 Canſt thou lift vp thy voice to ỹ clouds, that they may powre downe a great raine vpon thee?

35 Canſt thou ſend the lightenings, that they they may goe their way, saying vnto thee, Loe, here are we.

36 Who hath put wil̃dome in the reines? or who hath giuen the heart vnderstanding?

37 Who numbreth the cloudes in wisedome? who stilleth the behement ‖ waters of the heauen?

38 [k] To cause the earth to growe in hardnesse, and the clottes to cleaue fast together?

39 [l] Wilt thou hunt the pray for the Lion? or fill the appetite of the Lions whelpes, 40 When they couche in their places, and tary in the couert to lye in waite?

41 Who prouideth meate for the Rauen, when his yong ones crye vnto God, and flee about for lacke of meate?

The xxxix. Chapter.

God proceedeth in declaring the ignorance of Iob, in the consideration of his marueilous workes, in beastes and soules.

KNowest thou the time when the wilde goates bring foorth their yong among the rockes? or [a] layest thou waite when the Hyndes vse to calue?

2 Canst thou nomber the moneths that they go with yong? or knowest thou the time when they bring foorth?

3 They lie downe, they calue their young ones, and they are deliuered of their trauaile and paine:

4 Yet their yong ones grow vp, and ware fatte through good feeding with corne: they go forth, and returne not againe vnto them.

5 Who letteth the wilde asse to goe free? or who looseth the bondes of the wilde asse?

6 Euen I which haue giuen the wildernesse to be their house, and the [b] barren land to be their dwelling.

7 Hee scorneth the multitude of the citie, neither regardeth the crying of the driuer:

8 But seeketh his pasture about the mountaines, and followeth the greene grasse.

9 Will the [c] Unicorne doe thee seruice, or abide still by thy cribbe?

10 Canst thou binde the yoke about the Unicorne in the forowe, to make him plowe after thee in the valleys?

11 Wayest thou trust him because hee is strong, or commit thy labour vnto him?

12 Wayest thou beleeue him that he will bring home thy ‖ corne, or carie it into thy barne?

13 Gauest thou the faire wings vnto the Pecockes, or wings and feathers vnto the Estretche?

14 The Estretche leaueth her egges in the earth, and heateth them in the dust.

15 She remembreth not that they might bee troden with feete, or broken with some wilde beast.

16 So hard is she vnto her yong ones, as though they were not hers, and [d] laboureth in vaine without any feare.

17 And that because God hath [e] taken wisedome from her, and hath not giuen her vnderstanding.

18 When the time is that hee mounteth on high, hee careth neither for the horse, nor the ryder.

19 [f] Hast thou giuen the horse his strẽgth? or learned him to ney couragiously?

20 Canst thou make him afraide as the grashopper? his stoute neying is fearefull.

21 He breaketh the ground with the hooues of his feete, hee reioyceth in his strength, and runneth to meete the harnest men.

22 He mocketh at feare, and is not afraid, neither starteth he backe from the sword.

23 Though the quiuers rattle vpon him, though the speare and shielde glister:

24 Yet rusheth he in fiercely, beating the grounde, hee regardeth not the noyse of the trumpets:

25 But when the trumpets make most noyse, he sayeth, ‖ Tush, for hee smelleth the battell a farre off, the noyse of the captaines, and the showting.

26 Commeth it through thy wisedome, that the Gosha wke flyeth with her wings toward the [g] South?

27 Doeth the Eagle mount vp, and make his nest on high at thy commaundement?

28 He abideth in stony rockes, and dwelleth vpon the high toppes of mountaines:

29 From whence he seeketh his pray, and looketh farre about with his eyes.

30 His yong ones also sucke vp blood: and where any dead body lyeth, there is he.

The xl. Chapter.

God declareth the weakenesse of Iob, by comparing the same to his great workes, and to the strength of Behemoth.

MOreouer, the Lorde spake vnto Iob, and saide,

2 Shall hee whome the Almightie will chasten, contende with him? Shoulde not hee which disputeth with God, giue him an answere?

3 Then Iob [a] answered the Lord, saying,

4 Beholde, I am vile, what shall I answere thee? therefore I will lay my hand vpon my mouth.

5 Once haue I spoken, but I will say no more: yea twise, but I will proceede no further.

6 Then answered the Lord vnto Iob out of the whirlewinde, and saide, 7 Girde vp thy loynes now like a man: I wil demaund of thee, & make thou answere.

8 Wilt thou [b] disanul my iudgement? or wilt thou condemne me, that thou mayest be righteous?

9 Is thy ‖ power then like the power of God? maketh thy voice a sound as his doeth?

10 Decke thy selfe nowe with excellencie and maiestie, and aray thy selfe [c] with beautie and glory.

11 Cast abroade the indignation of thy wrath, and beholde euery one that is proude, [k] Or, bottels. Or, to growe with the earth by the want of rayne.

[l] Here he had shewed his marueiles at home, he commeth to the earthe couasters, as though God would say, The things on the cloudes are inducement inough, yea many things in earth there should bee much cause there touch you to praise the Lordes power.

[a] He chiefly mindeth their nests, for they bring forth their young ones with great paine.

[b] Some read, their places, meaning, barren ground.

[c] If you cannot rule the Vnicorne, canst thou know Gods secrets, or appoint him to do thy will?

[d] Or, feede.

[e] The Estrich leaues the earth and her egges, hauing them in the sand, & by the heate of the same, the yong are brought forth, but shee knowes the egs so carelesse, forgetting the place where she put them, and is her labour is vaine. [e] To be vnnaturall towards her owne.

[f] Thus in all creatures the glory of Gods maiestie is declared.

[g] That is, flee into the regions that are hot, when cold commeth.

‖ Or, ha, ha.

[a] Here Iob confesseth his offence, and durst not speake: for when God doeth reprehend, who can answere?

[b] Meaning, that for a man to accompt himselfe iust, is to accuse God for vniust.

‖ Or, arme.

[c] Which no man is able to doe, for these things are only pertaining to God.

and abase him:

12 Looke on euery one that is arrogant, and bring him lowe, and destroy the wicked in their place:

13 Hide them in the dust together, and couer their faces in [d] secrete.

14 Then will I confesse vnto thee also, that [e] thine owne right hand shall saue thee.

15 Behold the beast [f] Behemoth, whom I made with thee, which eateth hay as an oxe:

16 Loe how his strength is in his loines, and what power he hath in the nauell of his belly.

17 When he wil he spreadeth out his taile like a Cedar tree, the sinowes of his stones are knit together.

18 His bones are strong as brasse, yea, his bones are like staues of yron.

19 Hee is the beginning of the wayes of God, he that made him, wil make his [g] sword to approch vnto him.

20 Surely the mountaines bring him forth grasse, where al the beastes of the fielde take their pastime.

21 Hee resteth him in the shade, in the couert of the reede and fennes.

22 The trees couer him with their shadowe, and the willowes of the brooke compasse him about.

23 Beholde, he drinketh vp whole riuers, and feareth not, hee thinketh that hee can draw vp Iordane into his mouth.

24 Hee is [h] taken with his eyes, and the hunter thrusteth him thorow the nose.

d That is, to the Diuel put off his shape.

e That is, who dare looke in his enemy?

f That is, he spareth not flames of fire out of his mouth. [Or, eye lids of the morning.

g That is, he spareth not flames of fire out of his mouth.

f That is cause them to die, if it lie in thy power.

e Which God can onely doe, and therefore trusting in thine owne strength, thou compareſt with God.

f The Hebrues say, Behemoth signifieth an Elephant, so called for his hugenesse, by the which may be vnderstand the deuil.

g This beast is one of the chefest workes of God among the beastes, whom though no man dare come neere, yet God can kill him.

h Some write, that when men purpose to take the Elephant, they make a holow place in the ground where he vseth to haunt and couer the same with hair, or prouender, which is soone as the Elephant espieth, he runneth hastily vnto it, and falleth into the pit, and then the hunter thrusteth him thorow the nose, because it is the tenderest part of him.

The xlj. Chapter.

God setteth foorth the malice, the members, the strength, and the pride of Leuiathan.

Canst thou drawe out [a] Leuiathan with an hooke? or binde his tongue with a corde?

2 Canst thou put a hooke in the nose of him? or bore his iaw thorow with a naule?

3 Will he make many faire wordes with thee, or flatter thee?

4 Will he make a couenant with thee? or wilt thou take him for a seruant for euer?

5 Wilt thou take thy pastime with him, as with a birde, wilt thou binde him for thy maydens?

6 That thy companions may make a banquet of him, or shall hee be parted among the marchants?

7 Canst thou fill the basket with his skin? or the fish panier with his head?

8 Lay thine hand vpon him, [b] remember the battel, and doe no more.

9 Beholde, his hope is in vaine: for shall not one perish euen at the sight of him?

10 No [c] man is so fierce that dare stirre him vp: who is able to stand before me?

11 Or who hath giuen mee any thing afore hande, that I may reward him againe? All things vnder heauen are mine.

12 I wil not keepe secret his great strength, his power, nor his comely proportion.

a Leuiathan, is a whale.

b For it is dangerous to trust Satan in any thing, yea it is hurtful to touch him: for Leuiathan representeth Satan.

c If the creature cannot be resisted, who can compare with the creator?

13 Who can discouer the [d] face of his garment? or who shall come to him with a double bridle?

14 Who [e] shal open the doores of his face? for he hath horrible teeth round about.

15 His scales are as it were strong shields, so fastened together as if they were sealed:

16 One is so ioyned to another, that no ayre can come in:

17 One hangeth so vpon another, and sticketh so together, that they cannot be sundered.

18 His [f] neesings make a glistering like light, and his eyes like the ‖ morning shine.

19 Out of his mouth goe torches, and sparkes of fire leape out.

20 And out of his nosethrils there goeth a smoke, like as out of an whot seething pot or caldron.

21 His breath maketh the coles burne, and the flame goeth out of his mouth.

22 In his necke there remaineth strength, and nothing is too laborous for him.

23 The members of his flesh are ioyned and cleaue fast together, [g] cannot be moued.

24 His heart is as hard as a stone, [g] as fast as the ‖ Stithie that the smith smiteth vpon.

25 When he moueth himselfe, the mighty are afraide, and feare troubleth them.

26 If any man draw out a sword at him, he wil not moue, neither for the speare, iauelin, nor brestplate.

27 Hee setteth as much by yron, as by a strawe, and as much by brasse, as by a rotten stiche.

28 He starteth not away from the arrow: and as for sling stones, they are as stubble vnto him.

29 He counteth the dartes as strawe, hee laugheth him to scorne that shaketh [g] speare.

30 [g] Sharpe stones are vnder him, and hee lieth vpon sharpe things, as vpon the soft mire.

31 Hee maketh the [h] deepe to boyle like a potte, and stirreth the sea together like an oyntment.

32 He maketh the [i] path to shine after him, and he maketh the deepe to seeme all hoarie.

33 Vpon earth there is no power like vnto his: for he is so made that he feareth not.

34 He beholdeth all the high things, [k] he is a king ouer all the children of pride.

d That is, to the Diuel put off his shape.

e That is, who dare looke in his enemy?

f That is, he spareth not flames of fire out of his mouth. [Or, eye lids of the morning.

g That is, he spareth not flames of fire out of his mouth.

Or, the other millstone.

g For the part next of his throate is hard, that he lieth vpon it without paine, as on the soft mire.

h He maketh great water in such hast, that the lees seeme to boyle.

i With a whote breath vpon the water.

k He beholdeth all other beasts and creatures, and is the prouidest of all other.

The xlij. Chapter.

6 The repentance of Iob. 9 He prayeth for his friendes, 12 and his goods are restored double vnto him.

Then Iob answered the Lord, and said,

2 [a] I know that thou hast power ouer all thinges, and that there is no thought hid vnto thee.

3 For who can keepe his owne counsaile so secret, but it shall be knowen? therefore haue I spoken that I vnderstoode not, euen the a Iob confesseth the omnipotence of God, and bewaileth his offence that he spake he wist not what.

the things that are too wonderfull for mee, and paſſe mine vnderſtanding.

b Iob beſeecheth to hearne of God.

4 Dᵇ hearken thou vnto me alſo, and let mee ſpeake: anſwere vnto the thing that I will aſke thee.

c He ſaith that he had but by the hearing of the eare, which is the face and image of God.

5 I haue heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but nowe mine eye ᶜ ſeeth thee.

6 Wherefore I giue mine owne ſelfe the blame, and take repentance in the duſt and aſhes.

7 Nowe when the Lord had ſpoken theſe wordes vnto Iob, the Lorde ſaid to Eliphaz the Themanite, I am diſpleaſed with thee and thy two friendes: for ye haue not ſpoken of me the ᵈ thing that is right, like as my ſeruant Iob hath done.

d Ye make Iob guilty as well as your ſelues, in that you condemne him, by imputing affliction, and not conſidering him with my mercie.

8 Therefore take you nowe ſeuen oxen, and ſeuen rammes, and goe to my ſeruant Iob, and offer vp for your ſelues a whole burnt offring, and my ſeruant Iob ſhall pray for you: him wil I accept, and not deale with you after your fooliſhneſſe, in that yee haue not ſpoken of mee the thing which is right, like as my ſeruant Iob hath done.

9 So Eliphaz the Themanite, and Bildad the Suhite, and Zophar the Naamathite, went, and did according as the Lorde commaunded them: the Lorde alſo accepted the perſon of Iob.

Or, the face.

10 And the Lorde ᵉ turned the captiuitie of Iob when he prayed for his friendes: Yea, the Lord gaue Iob twiſe as much as he had before.

12 So the Lorde bleſſed the laſt dayes of Iob more then the firſt: for he had fourteene thouſand ſheepe, ſix thouſand camels, a thouſand yoke of oxen, and a thouſand ſhee aſſes, 13 Hee had ſeuen ſonnes alſo, and three daughters.

14 The firſt daughter called he ʰ Jemima, the ſecond, ⁱ Cezia, and the third, ᵏ Cerenhaphuch.

15 In all the land were no women found ſo faire as the daughters of Iob: and their father gaue them inheritance among their brethren.

16 After this, liued Iob an hundred and fourtie yeeres: ſo that hee ſawe his children, and his childrens children, vnto the fourth generation.

17 And ſo Iob died, being olde, and full of dayes.

The Psalmes of Dauid.

Beatus vir qui non abijt. Psalme j.

Morning prayer.

BLessed is the man that hath not walked in the counsell of the vngodly, nor stande in the way of sinners: and hath not sit in the seate of the scornefull.

2 But his delight is in the Lawe of the Lorde: and in his Lawe will he exercise himselfe day and night.

3 And hee shalbe like a tree planted by the water side: that will bring foorth his fruite in due season.

4 His leafe also shal not wither: and looke whatsoeuer he doeth, it shall prosper.

5 As for the vngodly it is not so with them: but they are like the chaffe which the winde scattereth away from the face of the earth.

6 Therefore the vngodly shall not be able to stande in the iudgement: neither the sinners in the congregation of the righteous.

7 But the Lorde knoweth the way of the righteous: and the way of the vngodly shall perish.

Quare fremuerunt. Psal. 2.

WHy do the Heathen so furiously rage together: and why doe the people imagine a vaine thing?

2 The kings of the earth stande vp, and the rulers take counsell together: against the Lord, and against his anoynted.

3 Let vs breake their bondes a sunder: and cast away their cordes from vs.

4 He that dwelleth in heauen shall laugh them to scorne: the Lorde shall haue them in derision.

5 Then shall hee speake vnto them in his wrath: and vexe them in his sore displeasure.

6 Yet haue I set my king: vpon my holy hill of Sion.

7 I will preache the Lawe, whereof the Lord hath said vnto me: thou art my sonne, this day haue I begotten thee.

8 Desire of mee, and I shall giue thee the Heathen for thine inheritance: and the vttermost partes of the earth for thy possession.

9 Thou shalt bruise them with a rodde of yron: and breake them in pieces like a potters vessell.

10 Be wise nowe therefore, O ye kings: be learned ye that are Iudges of the earth.

11 Serue the Lorde in feare: and reioyce vnto him with reuerence.

12 Kisse the sonne least he be angrie, and so ye perish from the right way: if his wrath be kindled (yea but a little) blessed are all they that put their trust in him.

Domine quid. Psal. 3.

LOrde how are they increased that trouble mee? many are they that rise against mee.

2 Many one there be that say of my soule: there is no helpe for him in his God.

3 But thou, O Lorde, art my defender: thou art my worship, and the lifter vp of my head.

4 I did call vpon the Lord with my voyce: and he heard me out of his holy hill.

5 I layde me downe and slept, and rose vp againe: for the Lord sustained me.

6 I will not be afraide for ten thousands of people: that haue set themselues against me round about.

7 Vp Lorde, and helpe mee, O my God: for thou smitest all mine enemies vpon the cheeke bone, thou hast broken the teeth of the vngodly.

8 Saluation belongeth vnto the Lorde: and thy blessing is vpon the people.

Cum inuocarem. Psal. 4.

HEare mee when I call, O God of my righteousnesse: for thou hast set mee at libertie when I was in trouble, haue mercie vpon mee, and hearken vnto my prayer.

2 O ye sonnes of men, howe long will ye blaspheme mine honour: and haue such pleasure in vanitie, and seeke after leasing?

3 Know this also, that the Lord hath chosen to himselfe the man that is godly: when I call vpon the Lord, he will heare me.

4 Stande in awe, and sinne not: commune with your owne heart, and in your chamber, and be still.

5 Offer the sacrifice of righteousnesse: and and put your trust in the Lord.

6 There be many that say: who will shew vs any good?

7 Lord

7 Lord lift thou vp: the light of thy countenance vpon vs.

8 Thou hast put gladnesse in my heart: since the time that their corne and wine and oyle increased.

9 I will lay me downe in peace, and take my rest: for it is thou Lorde onely that makest me dwell in safetie.

Verba mea auribus. Psal. 5.

POnder my wordes, O Lord: consider my meditation.

2 O hearken thou vnto the voyce of my calling, my king and my God: for vnto thee will I make my prayer.

3 My voice shalt thou heare betimes, O Lorde: early in the morning will I direct my prayer vnto thee, and will looke vp.

4 For thou art the God that hast no pleasure in wickednesse: neither shall any euill dwell with thee.

5 Such as be foolish shal not stand in thy sight: for thou hatest all them that worke vanitie.

6 Thou shalt destroy them that speake leasing: the Lorde will abhorre both the bloodthirstie and deceitfull man.

7 But as for me, I will come into thy house, euen vpon the multitude of thy mercie: and in thy feare will I worship towarde thy holy Temple.

8 Leade me, O Lorde, in thy righteousnesse, because of mine enemies: make thy way plaine before my face.

9 For there is no faithfulnesse in his mouth: their inwarde partes are very wickednesse.

10 Their throte is an open sepulchre: they flatter with their tongue.

11 Destroy thou them, O God, let them perish through their owne imaginations: cast them out in the multitude of their vngodlines, for they haue rebelled against thee.

12 And let all them that put their trust in thee, reioyce: they shall euer be giuing of thankes, because thou defendest them, they that loue thy name shalbe ioyfull in thee.

13 For thou Lorde wilt giue thy blessing vnto the righteous: and with thy fauourable kindenesse wilt thou defend him as with a shielde.

Domine ne in furore. Psal. 6.

Euening prayer.

O Lorde rebuke me not in thine indignation: neither chasten me in thy displeasure.

2 Haue mercie vpon me, O Lord, for I am weake, O Lord heale me, for my bones are vexed.

3 My soule is also sore troubled: but Lord howe long wilt thou punish me?

4 Turne thee, O Lorde, and deliuer my soule: O saue me for thy mercies sake.

5 For in death no man remembreth thee: and who will giue thee thankes in the pit?

6 I am weary of my groning, euery night wash I my bed: and water my couch with my teares.

7 My beautie is gone for very trouble: and worne away because of all mine enemies.

8 Away from me all ye that worke vanitie: for the Lord hath heard the voyce of my weeping.

9 The Lord hath heard my petition: the Lord will receiue my prayer.

10 All mine enemies shall be confounded and sore vexed: they shall be turned backe, and put to shame suddenly.

Domine Deus meus. Psal. 7.

O Lorde my God, in thee haue I put my trust: saue me from all them that persecute me, and deliuer me.

2 Least hee deuoure my soule like a lion, and teare it in pieces: while there is none to helpe.

3 O Lorde my God, if I haue done any such thing: or if there be any wickednesse in my handes.

4 If I haue rewarded euill vnto him that dealt friendly with me: yea, I haue deliuered him that without any cause is mine enemie.

5 Then let mine enemie persecute my soule, and take me: yea, let him tread my life downe vpon the earth, and lay mine honour in the dust.

6 Stand vp, O Lord, in thy wrath, and lift vp thy selfe: because of the indignation of mine enemies, arise vp for me in the iudgement that thou hast commaunded.

7 And so shall the congregation of the people come about thee: for their sakes therefore lift vp thy selfe againe.

8 The Lorde shall iudge the people, giue sentence with me, O Lord: according to my righteousnesse, and according to the innocencie that is in me.

9 Oh let the wickednesse of the vngodly come to an ende: but guide thou the iust.

10 For the righteous God: tryeth the very hearts and reines.

11 My helpe commeth of God: which preserueth them that are true of heart.

12 God is a righteous iudge, strong and patient: and God is prouoked euery day.

13 If a man will not turne, he will whet his sword: he hath bent his bowe, and made it ready.

14 Hee hath prepared for him the instruments of death: hee ordereth his arrowes against the persecutors.

15 Behold, he trauaileth with iniquitie: hee hath conceiued sorrowe, and brought forth vngodlinesse.

16 Hee hath grauen and digged vp a pit: and is fallen himselfe into the destruction that he made for other.

17 For his trauaile shall come vpon his owne head: and his wickednes shall fall on his owne pate.

18 I will giue thanks vnto the Lord, acco-

ding to his righteousnesse: and will praise the name of the Lord the most high.

Domine dominus. Psal. 8.

O Lorde our gouernour, howe excellent is thy name in all the world: thou that hast set thy glory aboue the heauens.

2 Out of the mouth of very babes and sucklings hast thou ordeined strength, because of thine enemies: that thou mightest still the enemie and the auenger.

3 For I will consider the heauens, euen the workes of thy fingers: the moone and the starres which thou hast ordeined.

4 What is man that thou art mindfull of him: and the sonne of man that thou visitest him?

5 Thou madest him lower then the angels: to crowne him with glorie and worshippe.

6 Thou makest him to haue dominion of the workes of thy handes: and thou hast put all things in subiection vnder his feete.

7 All sheepe and oxen: yea, and the beasts of the fielde.

8 The foules of the aire, and the fishes of the sea: and whatsoeuer walketh through the paths of the seas.

9 O Lorde our gouernour: howe excellent is thy name in all the world!

Confitebor tibi. Psal. 9.

Morning prayer.

I will giue thankes vnto thee, O Lord, with my whole heart: I will speake of all thy marueilous workes.

2 I will be glad and reioyce in thee: yea, my songs will I make of thy name, O thou most highest.

3 While mine enemies are driuen backe: they shall fall and perish at thy presence.

4 For thou hast maintained my right, and my cause: thou art set in the throne that iudgest right.

5 Thou hast rebuked the heathen, and destroyed the vngodly: thou hast put out their name for euer and euer.

6 O thou enemie, destructions are come to a perpetuall end: euen as the cities which thou hast destroyed, their memoriall is perished with them.

7 But the Lorde shall endure for euer: hee hath also prepared his seate for iudgement.

8 For he shall iudge the worlde in righteousnesse: and minister true iudgement vnto the people.

9 The Lorde also will be a defence for the oppressed: euen a refuge in due time of trouble.

10 And they that knowe thy name, will put their trust in thee: for thou Lorde hast neuer failed them that seeke thee.

11 O praise the Lorde which dwelleth in Sion: shewe the people of his doings.

12 For when hee maketh inquisition for blood, he remembreth them: and forgetteth not the complaint of the poore.

13 Haue mercie vpon me O Lorde, consider the trouble which I suffer of them that hate me: thou that liftest me vp from the gates of death.

14 That I may shewe all thy praises within the portes of the daughter of Sion: I will reioyce in thy saluation.

15 The heathen are sunke downe in the pit that they made: in the same nette which they hid priuily, is their foote taken.

16 The Lord is knowen to execute iudgement: the vngodly is trapped in the worke of his owne handes.

17 The wicked shall be turned into hell: and all the people that forget God.

18 For the poore shall not alway be forgotten: the patient abiding of the meeke shall not perish for euer.

19 Vp Lorde, and let not man haue the vpper hand: let the heathen be iudged in thy sight.

20 Put them in feare (O Lorde:) that the heathen may knowe themselues to bee but men.

Vtquid Domine. Psal. 10.

Why standest thou so farre off (O Lorde:) and hidest thy face in the needefull time of trouble?

2 The vngodly for his owne lust doeth persecute the poore: let them bee taken in the craftie wilinesse that they haue imagined.

3 For the vngodly hath made boast of his owne heartes desire: and speaketh good of the couetous whom God abhorreth.

4 The vngodly is so proude, that hee careth not for God: neither is God in all his thoughtes.

5 His wayes are alway grieuous: thy iudgements are farre aboue out of his sight, and therefore defieth he all his enemies.

6 For he hath saide in his heart, tush, I shall neuer bee cast downe: there shall no harme happen vnto me.

7 His mouth is full of cursing, deceite, and fraude: vnder his tongue is vngodlines and vanitie.

8 Hee sitteth lurking in the theeuish corners of the streetes: and priuily in his lurking dennes doeth he murder the innocent, his eyes are set against the poore.

9 For hee lyeth waiting secretly, euen as a lion lurketh he in his denne: that hee may ravish the poore.

10 Hee doeth ravish the poore when hee getteth him into his net.

11 Hee falleth downe and humbleth him selfe: that the congregation of the poore may fall into the hand of his captaines.

12 He saide in his heart, Tush, God hath forgotten: hee hideth away his face, and hee will neuer see it.

13 Arise

13 Arise (O Lorde God) and lift vp thine hand: forget not the poore.

14 Wherefore shoulde the wicked blaspheme God: while he doeth say in his heart, tush, thou God carest not for it?

15 Surely thou hast seene it: for thou beholdest vngodlinesse and wrong.

16 That thou mayest take the matter into thy hand: the poore committeth himself vnto thee, for thou art the helper of the friendlesse.

17 Breake thou the power of the vngodly, and malicious: take away his vngodlinesse, and thou shalt finde none.

18 The Lorde is king for euer and euer: and the heathen are perished out of the land.

19 Lorde, thou hast heard the desire of the poore: thou preparest their heart, and thine eare hearkeneth thereto.

20 To helpe the fatherlesse and poore vnto their right: that the man of the earth bee no more exalted against them.

In Domino confido. Psal. 11.

IN the Lord put I my trust: how say ye then to my soule, that thee should flee as a birde vnto the hill?

2 For loe, the vngodly bend their bowe, and make ready their arrowes within the quiuer: that they may priuily shoote at them which are true of heart.

3 For the foundations wilbe cast downe: and what hath the righteous done?

4 The Lorde is in his holy Temple: the Lords seate is in heauen.

5 His eyes consider the poore: and his eye lides trieth the children of men.

6 The Lord alloweth the righteous: but the vngodly, and him that delighteth in wickednesse doeth his soule abhorre.

7 Vpon the vngodly he shal raine snares, fire, and brimstone, storme, and tempest: this shalbe their portion to drinke.

8 For the righteous Lorde loueth righteousnesse: his countenance will beholde the thing that is iust.

Saluum me fac. Psal. 12.

Evening prayer.

HElpe me Lorde, for there is not one godly man left: for the faithfull are minished from among the children of men.

2 They talke of vanitie euery one with his neighbour: they doe but flatter with their lips, and dissemble with their double heart.

3 The Lord shal roote out al deceitful lips: and the tongue that speaketh proud things.

4 Which haue said, with our tongue wee will preuaile: wee are they that ought to speake, who is Lord ouer vs?

5 Now for the comfortlesse troubles sake of the needie: and because of the deepe sighing of the poore.

6 I wil vp (saith the Lord:) and wil helpe euery one from him that swelleth against him, and will set them at rest.

7 The words of the Lord are pure words: euen as the siluer which from the earth is tried, and purified seuen times in the fire.

8 Thou shalt keepe them, O Lorde: thou shalt preserue him from this generation for euer.

9 The vngodly walke on euery side: when they are exalted, the children of men are put to rebuke.

Vsquequo Domine. Psal. 13.

HOwe long wilt thou forget me (O Lorde) for euer: howe long wilt thou hide thy face from me?

2 How long shall I seeke counsell in my soule, and be so vexed in my heart: howe long shall mine enemies triumph ouer me?

3 Consider and heare me, O Lorde my God: lighten mine eyes, that I sleepe not in death.

4 Least mine enemie say, I haue preuailed against him: for if I be cast downe, they that trouble me will reioyce at it.

5 But my trust is in thy mercie: and my heart is ioyfull in thy saluation.

6 I will sing of the Lord, because he hath dealt so louingly with me: yea, I will prayse the name of the Lord most highest.

Dixit insipiens. Psal. 14.

THe foole hath said in his heart: there is no God.

2 They are corrupt and become abominable in their doings: there is not one that doeth good, (no not one.)

3 The Lorde looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men: to see if there were any that would vnderstand and seeke after God.

4 But they are all gone out of the way, they are altogether become abominable: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

5 Their throte is an open sepulchre, with their tongues haue they deceiued: the poison of aspes is vnder their lippes.

6 Their mouth is full of curling and bitternesse: their feete are swift to shed blood.

7 Destruction and vnhappinesse is in their wayes, and the way of peace haue they not knowen: there is no feare of God before their eyes.

8 Haue they no knowledge, that they are all such workers of mischiefe: eating vp my people as it were bread?

9 And call not vpon the Lord, there were they brought in great feare (euen where no feare was:) for God is in the generation of the righteous.

10 As for you, ye haue made a mocke at the counsaile of the poore: because he putteth his trust in the Lord.

11 Who shall giue saluation vnto Israel out of Sion: when the Lord turneth the captiuitie of his people, then shal Iacob reioyce, and Israel shalbe glad.

Domine

Domine quis habitabit? Psal. 15.

Morning prayer.

LOrd who shall dwell in thy Tabernacle: or who shall rest vpon thy holy hill?

2 Euen hee that leadeth an vncorrupt life: and doeth the thing which is right, & speaketh the trueth from his heart.

3 Hee that hath vsed no deceite in his tongue, nor done euill to his neighbour: and hath not slandered his neighbours.

4 Hee that setteth not by himselfe, but is lowly in his owne eyes: and maketh much of them that feare the Lord.

5 He that sweareth vnto his neighbour, and disappointeth him not: though it were to his owne hinderance.

6 He that hath not giuen his money vpon vsurie: nor taken reward against the innocent.

7 Who so doeth these things: shall neuer fall.

Conserua me. Psal. 16.

PReserue me, O God: for in thee haue I put my trust.

2 O my soule, thou hast said vnto the Lorde: thou art my God, my goods are nothing vnto thee.

3 All my delight is vpon the saintes that are in the earth: and vpon such as excell in vertue.

4 But they that run after another God: shall haue great trouble.

5 Their drinke offerings of blood will I not offer: neither make mention of their names within my lippes.

6 The Lorde himselfe is the portion of mine inheritance, and of my cup: thou shalt maintaine my lot.

7 The lotte is fallen vnto me in a faire ground: yea, I haue a goodly heritage.

8 I will thanke the Lorde for giuing me warning: my reynes also chasten me in the night season.

9 I haue set God alwayes before me: for he is on my right hand, therefore I shall not fall.

10 Wherefore my heart was gladde, and my glorie reioyced: my flesh also shall rest in hope.

11 For why? thou shalt not leaue my soule in hell: neither shalt thou suffer thine holy one to see corruption.

12 Thou shalt shew me the path of life, in thy presence is the fulnesse of ioy: and at thy right hand there is pleasure for euermore.

Exaudi Domine iustitiam. Psal. 17.

HEare the right, O Lorde, consider my complaint: and hearken vnto my prayer, that goeth not out of fayned lippes.

2 Let my sentence come foorth from thy presence: and let thine eyes looke vpon the thing that is equall.

3 Thou hast proued and visited mine heart in the night season, thou hast tried me, and shalt finde no wickednesse in me: for I am vtterly purposed that my mouth shal not offend.

4 Concerning of mens workes that are done against the wordes of my lippes: I haue kept me from the wayes of the destroyer.

5 O hold thou vp my goings in thy paths: that my footesteps slip not.

6 I haue called vpon thee, O God, for thou shalt heare me: encline thine eare to me, and hearken vnto my wordes.

7 Shewe thy marueilous louing kindenesse, thou that art the Sauiour of them which put their trust in thee: from such as resist thy right hand.

8 Keepe me as the apple of an eye: hide me vnder the shadowe of thy wings.

9 From the vngodly that trouble me: mine enemies compasse me round about, to take away my soule.

10 They are inclosed in their owne fatte: and their mouth speaketh proud things.

11 They lye waytyng in our way on euery side: turning their eyes downe to the ground.

12 Like as a Lion that is greedy of his pray: and as it were a lions whelpe lurking in secret places.

13 Vp Lord, disappoint him, and cast him downe: deliuer my soule from the vngodly, which is a sword of thine.

14 From the men of thy hand, O Lorde, from the men I say, & from the euill worlde: which haue their portion in this life, whose bellies thou fillest with thy hid treasure.

15 They haue children at their desire: and leaue ꝙ rest of their substance for their babes.

16 But as for me, I will beholde thy presence in righteousnesse: & when I awake vp after thy likenesse, I shall be satisfied with it.

Diligam te. Psal. 18.

IWill loue thee (O Lorde) my strength, the Lorde is my stonie rocke and my defence: my Sauiour, my God, and my might, in whom I wil trust, my buckler, the horne also of saluation, and my refuge. Euening prayer.

2 I wil call vpon the Lord, which is worthie to be praised: so shall I be safe from mine enemies.

3 The sorowes of death compassed me: and the ouerflowings of vngodlinesse made me afraide.

4 The paines of hell came about me: the snares of death ouertooke me.

5 In my trouble I will call vpon ꝙ Lord: and complaine vnto my God.

6 So shall hee heare my voyce out of his holy temple: and my complaint shal come before him, it shall enter euen into his eares.

7 The earth trembled and quaked: the very foundations also of the hilles shooke and and were remoued, because he was wroth.

8 There went a smoke out of his presence: & a consuming fire out of his mouth, so that coales were kindled at it.

9 He bowed the heauens also and came downe: and it was darke vnder his feete.

10 He rode vpon the Cherubims, and did flie: he came flying vpon the wings of the winde.

11 He made darknesse his secret place: his pauilion round about him, with darke water and thicke cloudes to couer him.

12 At the brightnesse of his presence his cloudes remoued: hailestones & coales of fire.

13 The Lord also thundred out of heauen, & the highest gaue his thunder: hailestones and coales of fire.

14 He sent out his arrowes, and scattered them: he cast forth lightnings and destroyed them.

15 The springs of waters were seene, and the foundations of the rounde worlde were discouered at thy chiding, O Lord: at the blasting of the breath of thy displeasure.

16 He shal sende downe from the high to fetche mee: and shall take mee out of many waters.

17 He shall deliuer me from my strongest enemie, and from them which hate mee: for they are to mightie for me.

18 They preuented mee in the day of my trouble: but the Lord was my vpholder.

19 He brought mee forth also into a place of liberrie: he brought me forth, euen because he had a fauour vnto me.

20 The Lorde shall reward me after my righteous dealing: according to the cleannes of my hands shal he recompence me.

21 Because I haue kept the wayes of the Lord: and haue not forsaken my God as the wicked doeth.

22 For I haue an eye vnto all his lawes: and will not cast out his commandementes from me.

23 I was also vncorrupt before him: and eschewed mine owne wickednesse.

24 Therefore shall the Lord reward me after my righteous dealing: and according vnto the cleannes of my hands in his eye sight.

25 With the holy, thou shalt be holy: and with a perfect man, thou shalt be perfect.

26 With the holy, thou shalt be cleane: and with the froward, thou shalt learne frowardnesse.

27 For thou shalt saue the people that are in aduersitie: and shalt bring downe the high lookes of the proude.

28 Thou also shalt light my candle: the Lorde my God shall make my darknesse to be light.

29 For in thee I shall discomfite an hoste of men: and with the helpe of my God I shall leape ouer the wall.

30 The way of God is an vndefiled way: the word of the Lord also is tryed in the fire, he is the defender of all them that put their trust in him.

31 For who is God but the Lord: or who hath any strength except our God?

32 It is God y girdeth me with strength of warre: and maketh my way perfect.

33 He maketh my feete like Hartes feete: and setteth me vp on high.

34 He teacheth my handes to fight: and mine armes shal breake euen a bow of steele.

35 Thou hast giuen me the defence of thy saluation: thy right hand also shall holde me vp, and thy louing correction shall make me great.

36 Thou shalt make rowme ynough vnder me for to goe: that my footesteps shall not slide.

37 I wil follow vpon mine enemies, and ouertake them: neither will I turne againe till I haue destroyed them.

38 I will smite them, that they shall not be able to stand: but fall vnder my feete.

39 Thou hast girded mee with strength vnto the battell: thou shalt throwe downe mine enemies vnder me.

40 Thou hast made mine enemies also to turne their backes vpon mee: and I shall destroy them that hate me.

41 They shal cry, but there shalbe none to helpe them: yea, euen vnto the Lord shal they cry, but he shal not heare them.

42 I will beate them as small as the dust before the winde: I will cast them out as the clay in the streetes.

43 Thou shalt deliuer mee from the striuings of the people: and thou shalt make me the head of the heathen.

44 A people whom I haue not knowen: shall serue me.

45 Alloone as they heare of me, they shall obey mee: but the strange children shall dissemble with me.

46 The strange children shall fayle: and be afraide out of their prisons.

47 The Lorde liueth, and blessed be my strong helper: and praysed be the God of my saluation.

48 Euen the God which seeth that I be auenged: and subdueth the people vnto me.

49 It is he that deliuereth mee from my (cruell) enemies, and setteth mee vp aboue mine aduersaries: thou shalt rid me from the wicked man.

50 For this cause will I giue thanks vnto thee (O Lorde) among the Gentiles: and sing prayses vnto thy name.

51 Great prosperitie giueth he vnto his king: & sheweth louing kindnes vnto Dauid his anoynted, & vnto his seede for euermore.

Cœli enarrant. Psal. 19.

THe heauens declare the glory of God: and the firmament sheweth his handie worke. Morning prayer.

2 One day telleth another: & one night certifieth another.

3 There

3 There is neither speach nor language: but their voyces are heard among them.

4 Their sound is gone out into all lands: and their wordes into the endes of the world.

5 In them hath hee set a tabernacle for the sunne: which commeth forth as a bridegrome out of his chamber, and reioyceth as a Gyant to runne his course.

6 It goeth forth from the vttermost part of the heauen, and runneth about vnto the ende of it againe: and there is nothing hid from the heate thereof.

7 The lawe of the Lord is an vndefiled lawe, conuerting the soule: the testimonie of the Lord is sure, and giueth wisedome vnto the simple.

8 The statutes of the Lorde are right, and reioyce the heart: the commaundement of the Lord is pure, and giueth light vnto the eyes.

9 The feare of the Lord is cleane, and endureth for euer: the iudgements of the Lord are true, and righteous altogether.

10 More to be desired are they then gold, yea, then much fine golde: sweeter also then hony, and the hony combe.

11 Moreouer, by them is thy seruant taught: and in keeping of them there is great reward.

12 Who can tell how oft hee offendeth: O clense thou me from my secret faults.

13 Keepe thy seruant also from presumptuous sinnes, least they get the dominion ouer me: so shal I be vndefiled, and innocent from the great offence.

14 Let the wordes of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart: be alway acceptable in thy sight.

15 O Lorde: my strength, and my redeemer.

Exaudiat te Dominus. Psal. 20.

THe Lorde heare thee in the day of trouble: the name of the God of Iacob defend thee.

2 Send thee helpe from the Sanctuary: and strength thee out of Sion.

3 Remember al thy offerings: and accept thy burnt sacrifice.

4 Graunt thee thy hearts desire: and fulfill all thy minde.

5 Wee will reioyce in thy saluation, and triumph in the name of the Lord our God: the Lord performe all thy petitions.

6 Nowe knowe I that the Lorde helpeth his anoynted, & wil heare him from his holy heauen: euen with the wholsome strength of his right hand.

7 Some put their trust in Charets, and some in horses: but wee will remember the name of the Lord our God.

8 They are brought downe and fallen: but we are risen, and stand vpright.

9 Saue Lorde, and heare vs, O King of heauen: when we call vpon thee.

Domine in virtute. Psal. 21.

THe king shall reioyce in thy strength, O Lorde: exceeding glad shall he be of thy saluation.

2 Thou hast giuen him his hearts desire: & hast not denied him the request of his lips.

3 For thou shalt preuent him with the blessings of goodnes: and shalt set a crowne of pure golde vpon his head.

4 Hee asked life of thee, and thou gauest him a long life: euen for euer and euer.

5 His honour is great in thy saluation: glorie and great worship shalt thou lay vpon him.

6 For thou shalt giue him euerlasting felicitie: and make him glad with the ioy of thy countenance.

7 And why? because the king putteth his trust in the Lorde: and in the mercy of the most highest, he shall not miscary.

8 All thine enemies shall feele thy hande: thy right hand shall finde out them that hate thee.

9 Thou shalt make them like a fiery ouen in time of thy wrath: the Lorde shall destroy them in his displeasure, and the fire shal consume them.

10 Their fruite shalt thou roote out of the earth: and their seede from among the children of men.

11 For they intended mischiefe against thee: and imagined such a deuice that they are not able to performe.

12 Therfore shalt thou put them to flight: and the strings of thy bowe shalt thou make ready against the face of them.

13 Be thou exalted Lorde in thine owne strength: so will we sing & prayse thy power.

Deus Deus meus. Psal. 22.

MY God, my God, (looke vpon me) why hast thou forsaken me: and art so farre frō my health, and from the wordes of my complaint? Euening prayer.

2 O my God, I cry in the day time, but thou heerest not: and in the night season also I take no rest.

3 And thou continuest holy: O thou worship of Israel.

4 Our fathers hoped in thee: they trusted in thee, and thou diddest deliuer them.

5 They called vpon thee, and were holpen: they put their trust in thee, and were not confounded.

6 But as for mee, I am a worme, and no man: a very scorne of men, and the outcast of the people.

7 All they that see me, laugh me to scorne: they shoote out their lippes, and shake their head, saying,

8 He trusted in God, that he would deliuer him: let him deliuer him, if he wil haue him.

9 But thou art hee that tooke mee out of my my mothers wombe: thou wast my hope when I hanged yet vpon my mothers breastes.

10 I haue bene left vnto thee euer since I was borne: thou art my God, euen from my mothers wombe.

11 O goe not from me, for trouble is hard at hand: and there is none to helpe me.

12 Many oxen are come about mee: fat Bulles of Basan close me in on euery side.

13 They gape vpon me vñ their mouthes: as it were a ramping and roaring Lion.

14 I am powred out like water, and all my bones are out of ioynt: my heart also in the middest of my body is euen like melting waxe.

15 My strength is dried vp like a pot-sherde, and my tongue cleaueth to my gummes: and thou shalt bring mee into the dust of death.

16 For (many) dogges are come about mee: and the counsell of the wicked layeth siege against me.

17 They pearced my handes, and my feete, I may tell all my bones: they stande staring and looking vpon me.

18 They part my garments among them: and cast lots vpon my vesture.

19 But be not thou farre frō me, O Lord: thou art my succour, haste thee to helpe me.

20 Deliuer my soule from the sworde: my darling from the power of the dogge.

21 Saue mee from the Lyons mouth: thou hast heard mee also from among the hornes of the vnicornes.

22 I will declare thy name vnto my brethren: in the middest of the congregation will I praise thee.

23 O prayse the Lord yee that feare him: magnifie him all ye of the seede of Jacob, and feare him all ye seede of Israel.

24 For hee hath not despised nor abhorred the lowe estate of the poore, hee hath not hid his face from him: but when he called vnto him, he heard him.

25 My praise is of thee in the great congregation: my vowes will I performe in the sight of them that feare him.

26 The poore shall eate and bee satisfied: they that seeke after the Lorde, shall prayse him, your heart shall liue for euer.

27 All the ends of the world shall remember them selues, and bee turned vnto the Lorde: and all the kinreds of the nations shall worship before him.

28 For the kingdome is the Lordes: and he is the gouernour among the people.

29 All such as bee fat vpon earth: haue eaten and worshipped.

30 All they that goe downe into the dust shall kneele before him: and no man hath quickened his owne soule.

31 My seede shall serue him: they shalbe counted vnto the Lord for a generation.

32 They shall come, and the heauens shall declare his righteousnesse: vnto a people that shall bee borne, whome the Lorde hath made.

Dominus regit me. Psal. 23.

THE Lorde is my shepheard: therefore can I lacke nothing.

2 Hee shall feede mee in a greene pasture: and leade me forth beside the waters of comfort

3 He shall conuert my soule: and bring me forth in the paths of righteousnesse, for his names sake.

4 Yea, though I walke through the valley of the shadowe of death, I will feare no euill: for thou art with me, thy rodde and thy staffe comfort me.

5 Thou shalt prepare a table before mee, against them that trouble mee: thou hast anointed my head with oyle, and my cup shall be full.

6 But thy louing kindnes and mercy shall follow me all the dayes of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for euer.

Domini est terra. Psal. 24.

THE earth is the Lords, and all that therein is: the compasse of the worlde, and they that dwell therein. Morning prayer.

2 For hee hath founded it vpon the seas: and prepared it vpon the floods.

3 Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord: or who shall rise vp in his holy place?

4 Euen hee that hath cleane handes, and a pure heart: and that hath not lift vp his minde vnto vanitie, nor sworne to deceiue his neighbour.

5 Hee shall receiue the blessing from the Lorde: and righteousnesse from the God of his saluation.

6 This is the generation of them that seeke him: euen of them that seeke thy face, O Jacob.

7 Lift vp your heads, O ye gates, and be ye lift vp ye euerlasting doores: and the king of glory shall come in.

8 Who is the king of glory: it is the Lord strong and mightie, euen the Lorde mightie in battell.

9 Lift vp your heads, O yee gates, and be ye lift vp ye euerlasting doores: and the king of glory shall come in.

10 Who is the king of glory: euen the Lord of hostes, he is the king of glory.

Ad te Domine. Psal. 25.

VNto thee, O Lorde, will I lift vp my soule, my God, I haue put my trust in thee: O let mee not bee confounded, neither let mine enemies triumph ouer mee.

2 For all they that hope in thee shall not bee ashamed: but such as transgresse without a cause, shalbe put to confusion.

3 Shewe mee thy wayes, O Lorde: and teach me thy paths.

4 Leade me forth in thy truth, and learne me: for thou art the God of my saluation, in thee hath bene my hope all the day long.

5 Call to remembrance, O Lorde, thy tender mercies: and thy louing kindnesse which haue bene euer of olde.

6 Oh remember not the sinnes and offences of my youth: but according to thy mercie thinke thou vpon me (O Lord) for thy goodnesse.

7 Gracious and righteous is the Lorde: therefore will he teach sinners in the way.

8 Them that bee meeke shall hee guide in iudgement: and such as be gentle, them shall he learne his way.

9 All the paths of the Lorde are mercie and trueth: vnto such as keepe his couenant and his testimonies.

10 For thy names sake, O Lord: be mercifull vnto my sinne, for it is great.

11 What man is he that feareth the Lord: him shall hee teach in the way that hee shall choose.

12 His soule shall dwell at ease: and his seede shall inherite the land.

13 The secret of the Lord is among them that feare him: and hee will shewe them his couenant.

14 Mine eyes are euer looking vnto the Lord: for hee shall plucke my feete out of the net.

15 Turne thee vnto mee, and haue mercie vpon mee: for I am desolate and in miserie.

16 The sorowes of my heart are enlarged: O bring thou me out of my troubles.

17 Looke vpon mine aduersitie and miserie: and forgiue me all my sinne.

18 Consider mine enemies howe many they are: and they beare a tyrannous hate against me.

19 O keepe my soule, and deliuer mee: let mee not bee confounded, for I haue put my trust in thee.

20 Let perfectnesse and righteous dealing waite vpon mee: for my hope hath bene in thee.

21 Deliuer Israel, O God: out of all his troubles.

Iudica me Domine. Psal. 26.

BEe thou my iudge, O Lorde, for I haue walked innocently: my trust hath bene also in the Lord, therefore shall I not fall.

2 Examine me, O Lord, and proue me: trie out my reines and my heart.

3 For thy louing kindnesse is euer before mine eyes: and I will walke in thy trueth.

4 I haue not dwelt with vaine persons: neither will I haue fellowship with the deceitfull.

5 I haue hated the congregation of the wicked: and will not sit among the vngodly.

6 I will wash my handes in innocencie, O Lord: and so will I go to thine altar.

7 That I may shewe the voyce of thanksgiuing: and tell of all thy wonderous workes.

8 Lorde, I haue loued the habitation of thy house: and the place where thine honour dwelleth.

9 O shut not vp my soule with the sinners: nor my life with the blood thirstie.

10 In whose hands is wickednesse: and their right hands are full of gifts.

11 But as for mee, I will walke innocently: O Lorde deliuer mee, and bee mercifull vnto me.

12 My foote standeth right: I will praise the Lord in the congregations.

Dominus illuminatio. Psal. 27.

THE Lorde is my light and my saluation, whome then shall I feare: the Lorde is the strength of my life, of whome then shall I be afraid? Euening prayer.

2 When the wicked (euen mine enemies and my foes) came vpon mee to eate vp my flesh: they stumbled and fell.

3 Though an hoste of men were laide against me, yet shall not my heart bee afraide: and though there rose vp warre against me, yet will I put my trust in him.

4 One thing haue I desired of the Lord, which I will require: euen that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the dayes of my life, to beholde the faire beautie of the Lord, and to visite his temple.

5 For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his tabernacle: yea, in the secret place of his dwelling shall he hide me, and set mee vp vpon a rocke of stone.

6 And nowe shall he lift vp mine head: aboue mine enemies round about me.

7 Therefore will I offer in his dwelling an oblation with great gladnesse: I will sing, and speake praises vnto the Lord.

8 Hearken vnto my voyce, O Lord, when I crie vnto thee: haue mercie vpon mee, and heare me.

9 My heart hath talked of thee, seeke yee my face: thy face Lord will I seeke.

10 O hide not thou thy face from me: nor cast thy seruant away in displeasure.

11 Thou hast bene my succour: leaue me not, neither forsake me, O God of my saluation.

12 When my father and my mother forsake me: the Lord taketh me vp.

13 Teach me thy way, O Lord: & lead me in the right way, because of mine enemies.

14 Deliuer mee not ouer into the will of mine aduersaries: for there are false witnesses risen vp against mee, and such as speake wrong.

15 I

13 I should vtterly haue fainted, but that I beleeue verily to see the goodnesse of the Lord in the land of the liuing.

16 O tarie thou the Lordes leasure: bee strong, and hee shall comfort thine heart, and put thou thy trust in the Lord.

Ad te Domine. Psal. 28.

VNto thee will I crye, O Lorde, my strength: thinke no scorne of mee, least if thou make as though thou hearest not, I become like them that goe downe into the pit.

2 Heare the voyce of my humble petitions when I cry vnto thee: when I holde vp my hands towarde the mercy seate of thy holy temple.

3 O plucke me not away (neither destroy mee) with the vngodly and wicked doers: which speake friendly to their neighbours, but imagine mischiefe in their hearts.

4 Reward them according to their deeds: and according to the wickednesse of their owne inuentions.

5 Recompence them after the worke of their handes: pay them that they haue deserued.

6 For they regard not in their minde the workes of the Lord, nor the operation of his hands: therefore shall he breake them downe, and not build them vp.

7 Praysed be the Lord: for hee hath heard the voyce of my humble petitions.

8 The Lord is my strength and my shield, my heart hath trusted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart daunceth for ioy, and in my song will I praise him.

9 The Lord is my strength: and he is the wholsome defence of his anoynted.

10 O saue thy people, and giue thy blessing vnto thine inheritance: feede them, and set them vp for euer.

Afferte Domino. Psal. 29.

BRing vnto the Lorde (O yee mightie) bring young rammes vnto the Lorde: ascribe vnto the Lord worship & strength.

2 Giue the Lorde the honour due vnto his name: worship the Lord with holy worship.

3 It is the Lorde that commandeth that waters: it is the glorious God that maketh the thunder.

4 It is the Lord that ruleth the sea, the voyce of the Lorde is mightie in operation: the voyce of the Lord is a glorious voyce.

5 The voyce of the Lord breaketh the Cedar trees: yea, the Lord breaketh the Cedars of Libanus.

6 He made them also to skip like a calfe Libanus also and Syrion like a yong vnicorne.

7 The voyce of the Lorde deuideth the flames of fire, the voyce of the Lord shaketh the wildernesse: yea, the Lorde shaketh the wildernesse of Cades.

8 The voyce of the Lorde maketh the Hindes to bring forth young, and discouereth the thicke bushes: in his temple doeth euery man speake of his honour.

9 The Lord sitteth aboue the water flood: and the Lord remaineth a king for euer.

10 The Lord shall giue strength vnto his people: the Lord shall giue his people the blessing of peace.

Exaltabo te Domine. Psal. 30.

I will magnifie thee, O Lorde, for thou hast set mee vp: and not made my foes to triumph ouer me. Morning prayer.

2 O Lord my God, I cryed vnto thee: and thou hast healed me.

3 Thou Lord hast brought my soule out of hell: thou hast kept my life from them that goe downe to the pit.

4 Sing praises vnto the Lorde (O yee saints of his:) and giue thanks to him for a remembrance of his holinesse.

5 For his wrath endureth but the twinckling of an eye, and in his pleasure is life: heauinesse may endure for a night, but ioy commeth in the morning.

6 And in my prosperitie I sayde, I shall neuer be remooued: thou Lord of thy goodnesse hadst made my hill so strong.

7 Thou diddest turne thy face (fro mee:) and I was troubled.

8 Then cryed I vnto thee, O Lorde: and gate me vnto my Lord right humbly.

9 What profite is there in my blood: when I goe downe to the pit?

10 Shall the dust giue thanks vnto thee: or shall it declare thy trueth?

11 Heare, O Lord, and haue mercie vpon me: Lord be thou my helper.

12 Thou hast turned my heauinesse into ioy: thou hast put off my sackcloth, and girded me with gladnesse.

13 Therefore shall euery good man sing of thy praise without ceassing: O my God, I will giue thanks vnto thee for euer.

In te Domine speraui. Psal. 31.

IN thee, O Lorde, haue I put my trust: let me neuer be put to confusion, deliuer mee in thy righteousnesse.

2 Bowe downe thine eare to mee: make haste to deliuer me.

3 And bee thou my strong rocke, and the house of defence: that thou mayest saue mee.

4 For thou art my strong rocke and my castell: bee thou also my guide, and leade mee for thy names sake.

5 Drawe mee out of the nette that they haue layde priuily for mee: for thou art my strength.

6 Into thy hands I commend my spirite:

for thou hast redeemed mee, O Lorde, thou God of trueth.

7 I haue hated them that holde of superstitious vanities: and my trust hath bene in the Lord.

8 I will bee glad, and reioyce in thy mercie: for thou hast considered my trouble, and hast knowen my soule in aduersities.

9 Thou hast not shut me vp into the hand of the enemie: but hast set my feete in a large roome.

10 Haue mercie vpon me, O Lorde, for I am in trouble: and mine eye is consumed for very heauinesse, yea, my soule and my body.

11 For my life is waren olde with heauinesse: and my yeeres with mourning.

12 My strength faileth mee, because of mine iniquitie: and my bones are consumed.

13 I became a reproofe among all mine enemies, but specially among all my neighbours: and they of mine acquaintance were afraid of mee, and they that did see me without, conueied themselues from me.

14 I am cleane forgotten, as a dead man out of minde: I am become like a broken vessell.

15 For I haue heard the blasphemie of the multitude: and feare is on euery side, while they conspire together against mee, and take their counsaile to take away my life.

16 But my hope hath bene in thee, O Lord: I haue said, Thou art my God.

17 My time is in thy hand, deliuer mee from the hand of mine enemies: and from them that persecute me.

18 Shewe thy seruant the light of thy countenance: and saue mee for thy mercies sake.

19 Let mee not be confounded, O Lord, for I haue called vpon thee: let the vngodly be put to confusion, and be put to silence in the graue.

20 Let the lying lips bee put to silence: which cruelly, disdainfully, and despitefully speake against the righteous.

21 O howe plentifull is thy goodnesse, which thou hast laide vp for them that feare thee: and that thou hast prepared for them that put their trust in thee, euen before the sonnes of men.

22 Thou shalt hide them priuily by thine owne presence, from the prouoking of all men: thou shalt keepe them secretly in thy tabernacle, from the strife of tongues.

23 Thanks bee to the Lord: for hee hath shewed mee marueilous great kindnesse in a strong citie.

24 And when I made haste, I said: I am cast out of the sight of thine eyes.

25 Neuertheless thou heardest the voyce of my prayer: when I cryed vnto thee.

26 O loue the Lord all yee his saints: for the Lord preserueth them that are faithfull, and plenteously rewardeth the proud doer.

27 Bee strong, and hee shall stablish your heart: all ye that put your trust in the Lord.

Beati quorum. Psal. 32.

BLessed is hee whose vnrighteousnesse is forgiuen: and whose sinne is couered.

2 Blessed is the man vnto whom the Lorde imputeth no sinne: and in whose spirit there is no guile.

3 For while I held my tongue: my bones consumed away, through my daily complaining.

4 For thy hand is heauie vpon mee day and night: and my moysture is like the drought in sommer.

5 I will knowledge my sinne vnto thee: and mine vnrighteousnesse haue I not hid.

6 I sayde, I will confesse my sinnes vnto the Lorde: and so thou forgauest the wickednesse of my sinne.

7 For this shall euery one that is godly make his prayer vnto thee in a time when thou mayest bee found: but in the great water floods they shall not come nigh him.

8 Thou art a place to hide mee in, thou shalt preserue me frō trouble: thou shalt compasse me about with songs of deliuerance.

9 I will enforme thee, and teach thee in the way wherein thou shalt goe: and I will guide thee with mine eye.

10 Bee not like to horse and mule, which haue no vnderstanding: whose mouthes must be holden with bit and bridle, least they fall vpon thee.

11 Great plagues remaine for the vngodly: but who so putteth his trust in the Lorde, mercie embraceth him on euery side.

12 Bee glad, O ye righteous, and reioyce in the Lord: and be ioyfull all ye that are true of heart.

Exultate iusti. Psal. 33.

REioyce in the Lord, O ye righteous: for it becōmeth well the iust to be thankful.

2 Praise the Lorde with Harpe: sing Psalmes vnto him with the Lute, and instrument of ten strings.

3 Sing vnto the Lorde a newe song: sing prayses lustily (vnto him) with a good courage.

4 For the worde of the Lorde is true: and all his workes are faithfull.

5 Hee loueth righteousnesse and iudgement: the earth is full of the goodnesse of the Lord.

6 By the word of the Lorde were the heauens made: and all the hostes of them by the breath of his mouth.

7 Hee gathereth the waters of the sea together, as it were vpon an heape: and layeth vp the deep as in a treasure house.

8 Let all the earth feare the Lorde: stand in awe of him, all ye that dwell in the world.

9 For he spake, and it was done: hee commanded, manded, and it stoode fast.

10 The Lord bringeth the counsell of the heathen to nought: and maketh the deuises of the people to be of none effect, and casteth out the counsailes of Princes.

11 The counsaile of the Lord shal endure for euer: and the thoughtes of his heart from generation to generation.

12 Blessed are the people whose God is the Lord Iehoua: and blessed are the folke that he hath chosen to him to be his inheritance.

13 The Lord looked downe from heauen, and beheelde all the children of men: from the habitation of his dwelling, hee considereth all them that dwell in the earth.

14 Hee fashioneth all the hearts of them: and vnderstandeth all their workes.

15 There is no king that can be saued by the multitude of an hoste: neither is any mightie man deliuered by much strength.

16 A horse is counted but a vaine thing to saue a man: neither shall he deliuer any man by his great strength.

17 Beholde, the eye of the Lorde is vpon them that feare him: and vpon them that put their trust in his mercie.

18 To deliuer their soules from death: and to feede them in the time of dearth.

19 Our soule hath patiently taried for the Lord: for he is our helpe, and our shielde.

20 For our heart shall reioyce in him: because we haue hoped in his holy Name.

21 Let thy mercifull kindnelle (O Lord) be vpon vs: like as we doe put our trust in thee.

Benedicam Domino. Psal. 34.

I will alway giue thankes vnto the Lorde: his prayse shall euer be in my mouth.

2 My soule shall make her boast of the Lorde: the humble shall heare thereof, and be glad.

3 O prayse the Lord with me: and let vs magnifie his name together.

4 I sought the Lord, & he heard me: yea, he deliuered me out of all my feare.

5 They had an eye vnto him, & were lightned: and their faces were not ashamed.

6 Loe, the poore crieth, and the Lord heareth him: yea, and saueth him out of all his troubles.

7 The Angel of the Lorde tarieth round about them that feare him: and deliuereth them.

8 O taste & see how gratious the Lord is: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

9 O feare the Lorde ye that be his saints: for they that feare him lacke nothing.

10 The lions doe lacke, & suffer hunger: but they which seeke the Lord, shall want no maner of thing that is good.

11 Come ye children, and hearken vnto me: I will teach you the feare of the Lord.

12 What man is hee that lusteth to liue, and would faine see good dayes: keepe thy tongue from euill, and thy lippes that they speake no guile.

13 Eschewe euill, & doe good: seeke peace, and ensue it.

14 The eyes of the Lorde are ouer the righteous: and his eares are open vnto their prayers.

15 The countenance of the Lord is against them that doe euill: to roote out the remembrance of them from the earth.

16 The righteous crie, and the Lord heareth them: and deliuereth them out of all their troubles.

17 The Lord is nigh vnto them that are of a contrite heart: and wil saue such as be of an humble spirit.

18 Great are the troubles of the righteous: but the Lord deliuereth him out of all.

19 He keepeth all his bones: so that not one of them is broken.

20 But misfortune shall slay the vngodly: and they that hate the righteous, shall be desolate.

21 The Lord deliuereth the soules of his seruants: and all they that put their trust in him, shall not be destitute.

Iudica Domine. Psal. 35.

PLeade thou my cause, O Lord, with them that striue with me: and fight thou against them that fight against me. Morning prayer.

2 Lay hand vpon the shield and buckler: and stand vp to helpe me.

3 Bring foorth the speare, & stop the way against them that persecute me: say vnto my soule, I am thy saluation.

4 Let them bee confounded, and put to shame that seeke after my soule: let them be turned backe, and brought to confusion, that imagine mischiefe for me.

5 Let them be as the dust before ỹ winde: and the Angel of the Lord scattering them.

6 Let their way be darke & slipperie: and let the Angel of the Lord persecute them.

7 For they haue priuily laide their net to destroy me without a cause: yea, euen without a cause haue they made a pit for my soule.

8 Let a sudden destruction come vpon him vnawares, and his net that hee hath laide priuily catch himselfe: that he may fall into his owne mischiefe.

9 And my soule be ioyfull in the Lorde: it shall reioyce in his saluation.

10 All my bones shall say, Lorde, who is like vnto thee, which deliuerest the poore from him that is too strong for him: yea, the poore, and him that is in miserie, from him that spoyleth him.

11 False witnes did rise vp: they laide to my charge things that I knewe not.

12 They rewarded me euill for good: to the great discomfort of my soule.

13 Neuertheleſſe, when they were sicke I put on sackcloth, and humbled my soule with fasting: and my prayer shall turne into mine owne bosome.

14 I behaued my selfe as though it had bene my friende, or my brother: I went heauily, as one that mourneth for his mother.

15 But in mine aduersitie they reioyced, and gathered them together: yea, the very abiects came together against mee vnawares, making mowes at mee, and ceased not.

16 With the flatterers, were bulie mockers: which gnashed vpon mee with their teeth.

17 Lord, how long wilt thou looke vpon this: O deliuer my soule from the calamities which they bring on mee, and my darling from the Lyons.

18 So will I giue thee thankes in the great congregation: I will praise thee among much people.

19 O let not them that are mine enemies triumph ouer me vngodly: neither let them winke with their eyes that hate mee without a cause.

20 And why? their communing is not for peace: but they imagine deceitfull wordes against them that are quiet in the land.

21 They gaped on me with their mouthes, and sayd: Fie on thee, fie on thee, we sawe it with our eyes.

22 This thou hast seene, O Lorde: holde not thy tongue then, goe not farre from me, O Lorde.

23 Awake and stand vp to iudge my quarrell: auenge thou my cause, my God and my Lorde.

24 Judge me, O Lord my God, according to thy righteousnesse: and let them not triumph ouer me.

25 Let them not say in their heartes, There, there, so would wee haue it: neither let them say, We haue deuoured him.

26 Let them be put to confusion & shame together that reioyce at my trouble: let them be clothed with rebuke and dishonour, that boast themselues against me.

27 Let them be glad and reioyce that fauoure my righteous dealing: yea, let them say alway, Blessed be the Lord, which hath pleasure in the prosperitie of his seruant.

28 And as for my tongue, it shall be talking of thy righteousnesse: and of thy praise all the day long.

Dixit iniustus. Psal. 36.

MY heart sheweth mee the wickednesse of the vngodly: that there is no feare of God before his eyes.

2 For hee flattereth himselfe in his owne sight: vntill his abominable sinne be found out.

3 The wordes of his mouth are vnrighteous and full of deceite: he hath left off to behaue himselfe wisely, and to doe good.

4 He imagineth mischiefe vpon his bed, and hath set himselfe in no good way: neither doeth he abhorre any thing that is euill.

5 Thy mercy (O Lord) reacheth vnto the heauens: and thy faithfulnesse vnto the cloudes.

6 Thy righteousnesse standeth like the strong mountaines: thy iudgements are like the great deepe.

7 Thou Lorde shalt saue both man and beast, howe excellent is thy mercie, O God: and the children of men shall put their trust vnder the shadowe of thy wings.

8 They shall be satisfied with the plenteousnesse of thy house: and thou shalt giue them drinke of thy pleasures, as out of the riuer.

9 For with thee is the well of life: and in thy light shall we see light.

10 O continue forth thy louing kindnes vnto them that knowe thee: and thy righteousnesse vnto them that are true of heart.

11 O let not the foote of pride come against me: and let not the hand of the vngodly cast me downe.

12 There are they fallen (all) that worke wickednesse: they are cast downe, and shall not be able to stand.

Noli æmulari. Psal. 37.

FRet not thy selfe, because of the vngodly: neither be thou enuious against the euill doers. Euening prayer.

2 For they shall soone be cut downe like the grasse: and be withered euen as the greene herbe.

3 Put thou thy trust in the Lorde, and be doing good: dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fedde.

4 Delight thou in the Lorde: and he shall giue thee thy hearts desire.

5 Commit thy way vnto the Lorde, and put thy trust in him: and hee shall bring it to passe.

6 Hee shall make thy righteousnesse as cleare as the light: and thy iust dealing as the noone day.

7 Holde thee still in the Lorde, and abide patiently vpon him: but grieue not thy selfe at him whose way doeth prosper, against the man that doeth after euill counsailes.

8 Leaue off from wrath, and let goe displeasure: fret not thy selfe, else shalt thou be moued to doe euill.

9 Wicked doers shall be rooted out: and they that patiently abide the Lorde, those shall inherite the land.

10 Yet a litle while, and the vngodly shal be cleane gone: thou shalt looke after his place, and he shalbe away.

11 But the meeke spirited shal possesse the earth: and shall be refreshed in the multitude of peace.

12 The vngodly seeketh counsell against the iust: and gnasheth vpon him with his teeth.

13 The Lorde shall laugh him to scorne: for he hath seene that his day is comming.

14 The vngodly haue drawen out the sworde, and haue bent their bowe: to cast downe downe the poore and needy, and to ſlay ſuch as be of a right conuerſation.

15 Their ſworde ſhall goe through their owne heart: and their bow ſhall be broken.

16 A ſmal thing that the righteous hath: is better then great riches of the vngodly.

17 For the armes of the vngodly ſhalbe broken: the Lord vpholdeth the righteous.

18 The Lord knoweth the dayes of the godly: and their inheritance ſhall endure for euer.

19 They ſhal not be confounded in the perilous time: and in the dayes of dearth they ſhal haue ynough.

20 As for the vngodly they ſhal perish, and the enemies of the Lord ſhal conſume as the fatte of lambes: yea, euen as the ſmoke ſhall they conſume away.

21 The vngodly borroweth, and payeth not againe: but the righteous is mercifull and liberall.

22 Such as bee bleſſed of God ſhall poſſeſſe the lande: and they that bee curſed of him ſhall be rooted out.

23 The Lorde ordereth a good mans going: & maketh his way acceptable to himſelf.

24 Though hee fall, he ſhal not bee caſt away: for ỹ Lord vpholdeth him with his hand.

25 I haue bene young, and now am olde: and yet ſaw I neuer the righteous forſaken, nor his ſeede begging their bread.

26 The righteous is euer mercifull, and lendeth: and his ſeede is bleſſed.

27 Flee from euil, and doe the thing that is good: and dwell for euermore.

28 For the Lord loueth the thing that is right: he forſaketh not his that be godly, but they are preſerued for euer.

29 The righteous ſhalbe punished: as for the ſeede of the vngodly it ſhalbe rooted out.

30 The righteous ſhall inherite the land: and dwel therein for euer.

31 The mouth of the righteous is exerciſed in wiſedome: and his tongue will be talking of iudgement.

32 The lawe of his God is in his heart: and his goings ſhal not ſlide.

33 The vngodly ſeeth the righteous: and ſeeketh occaſion to ſlay him.

34 The Lorde will not leaue him in his hand: nor condemne him when he is iudged.

35 Hope thou in the Lord, and keepe his way, and hee ſhall promote thee, that thou ſhalt poſſeſſe the lande: when the vngodlie ſhall perish, thou ſhalt ſee it.

36 I my ſelfe haue ſeene the vngodly in great power: and flouriſhing like a greene Bay tree.

37 And I went by, and lo he was gone: I ſought him, but his place could no where be founde.

38 Keepe innocencie, and take heede vnto the thing that is right: for that ſhal bring a man peace at the laſt.

39 As for the tranſgreſſours, they ſhal perish together: and the end of the vngodly is, they ſhalbe rooted out at the laſt.

40 But the ſaluation of the righteous commeth of the Lorde: which is alſo their ſtrength in the time of trouble.

41 And the Lord ſhall ſtand by them, and ſaue them: he ſhal deliuer them from the vngodly, and ſhall ſaue them, becauſe they put their truſt in him.

Domine ne in furore. Pſal. 38.

PVt me not to rebuke (O Lord) in thine anger: neither chaſten mee in thy heauie diſpleaſure. Morning prayer.

2 For thine arrowes ſticke faſt in mee: and thy hande preſſeth mee ſore.

3 There is no health in my fleſh becauſe of thy diſpleaſure: neyther is there any reſt in my bones, by reaſon of my ſinne.

4 For my wickednelles are gone ouer my head: and are like a ſore burden too heauie for me to beare.

5 My woundes ſtinke, and are corrupt: through my fooliſhneſſe.

6 I am brought into ſo great trouble and miſerie: that I goe mourning all the day long.

7 For my loynes are filled with a ſore diſeaſe: and there is no whole part in my body.

8 I am feeble and ſore ſmitten: I haue roared for the very diſquietneſſe of my heart.

9 Lorde, thou knoweſt all my deſire: and my groning is not hid from thee.

10 My heart panteth, my ſtrength hath fayled me: and the light of mine eyes is gone from me.

11 My louers and my neighbours did ſtande looking vpon my trouble: and my kinſemen ſtood afarre off.

12 They alſo that ſought after my life, layde ſnares for mee: and they that went about to do me euil, talked of wickednes, and imagined deceite all the day long.

13 As for me, I was like a deafe man, and heard not: and as one that is dumme, which doeth not open his mouth.

14 I became euen as a man that heareth not: and in whoſe mouth are no reproofes.

15 For in thee, O Lorde, hatte I put my truſt: thou ſhalt anſwere for me, O Lord my God.

16 I haue required that they (euen mine enemies) ſhould not triumph ouer mee: for when my foote ſlipt, they reioyced greatly againſt mee.

17 And I truely am ſet in the plague: and my heauineſſe is euer in my ſight.

18 For I wil confeſſe my wickednelſe: and be ſory for my ſinne.

19 But mine enemies liue, & are mighty: and they that hate mee wrongfully, are many in number.

20 They alſo that reward euill for good, are against me: because I followe the thing that good is.

21 Forsake mee not, O Lord my God: bee not thou farre from me.

22 Haste thee to helpe mee: O Lord God my saluation.

Dixi, Custodiam. Psal. 39.

I Sayd, I will take hee to my wayes: that I offend not in my tongue.

2 I will keepe my mouth (as it were with a bridle:) while the vngodly is in my sight.

3 I helde my tongue and spake nothing: I kept silence, yea, euen from good wordes, but it was payne and griefe to me.

4 My heart was hote within mee, and while I was thus musing, the fire kindled: and at the last I spake with my tongue.

5 Lord, let me know mine ende, and the number of my dayes: that I may be certified how long I haue to liue.

6 Beholde, thou hast made my dayes as it were a span long: and mine age is euen as nothing in respect of thee, and verely euery man liuing is altogether vanitie.

7 For man walketh in a vayne shadowe, and disquieteth himself in vaine: he heapeth vp riches, and cannot tell who shall gather them.

8 And now Lord, what is my hope: truely my hope is euen in thee.

9 Deliuer me from al mine offences: and make me not a rebuke vnto the foolish.

10 I became dumbe, and opened not my mouth: for it was thy doing.

11 Take thy plague away from mee: I am euen consumed by the meanes of thy heauie hand.

12 When thou with rebukes doest chasten man for sinne, thou makest his beautie to consume away like as it were a moth fretting a garment: euery man therefore is but vanitie.

13 Heare my prayer, O Lorde, and with thine eares consider my calling holde not thy peace at my teares.

14 For I am a stranger with thee, and a soiourner: as all my fathers were.

15 Oh spare me a litle, that I may recouer my strength: before I goe hence, and bee no more seene.

Expectans expectaui. Psal. 40.

I wayted patiently for the Lorde: and hee enclined vnto me, and heard my calling.

2 He brought mee also out of the horrible pitte, out of the myre and clay: and set my feete vpon the rocke, and ordered my goings.

3 And hee hath put a newe song in my mouth: euen a thanks giuing vnto our God.

4 Many shall see it, and feare: and shall put their trust in the Lord.

5 Blessed is the man that hath set his hope in the Lord: and turned not vnto the proude, and to such as goe about with lyes.

6 O Lord my God, great are thy wonderous workes which thou hast done: like as be also thy thoughtes which are to vs ward, and yet there is no man that ordereth them vnto thee.

7 If I would declare them and speake of them: they should be more then I am able to expresse.

8 Sacrifice and meat offring thou wouldest not haue: but mine eares hast thou perced.

9 Burnt offrings and sacrifice for sinne hast thou not required: then sayde I, Lo, I come.

10 In the volume of the booke it is written of me, that I should fulfill thy wil, O my God: I am content to doe it; yea thy lawe is within my heart.

11 I haue declared thy righteousnesse in the great congregation: lo, I will not refraine my lippes, O Lorde, and that thou knowest.

12 I haue not hid thy righteousnes within my heart: my talking hath bene of thy trueth, and of thy saluation.

13 I haue not kept backe thy louing mercie and trueth: from the great congregation.

14 Withdraw not thou thy mercie from me, O Lorde: let thy louing kindnesse and thy trueth alway preserue me.

15 For innumerable troubles are come about me, my sinnes haue taken such holde vpon me, that I am not able to looke vp: yea, they are moe in number then the hayres of mine head, and my heart hath failed me.

16 O Lord, let it bee thy pleasure to deliuer me: make haste (O Lord) to helpe me.

17 Let them be ashamed and confounded together that seeke after my soule to destroy it: let them be driuen backeward and put to rebuke that wish me euill.

18 Let them bee desolate and rewarded with shame, that say vnto mee: Fie vpon thee, fie vpon thee.

19 Let all those that seeke thee, be ioyfull and glad in thee: and let such as loue thy saluation, say alway, The Lord be praised.

20 As for mee, I am poore and needy: but the Lord careth for me.

21 Thou art my helper and redeemer: make no long tarying, O my God.

Beatus qui intelligit. Psal. 41.

BLessed is hee that considereth the poore (and needie:) the Lord shall deliuer him in the time of trouble. Euening prayer.

2 The Lorde preserue him and keepe him alive, that he may bee blessed vpon earth: and deliuer not thou him into the will of his enemies.

3 The Lorde comfort him when he lieth sicke vpon his bed: make thou al his bedde in his sickenesse.

4 I sayd, Lord be merciful vnto me: heale my soule, for I haue sinned against thee.

5 Mine

5 Mine enemies speake euil of me: when shall he die, and his name perish?

6 And if he come to see mee, hee speaketh vanitie: and his heart conceiueth falsehood within himself, & when hee commeth forth, he telleth it.

7 All mine enemies whisper together against me: euen against me doe they imagine this euill.

8 Let the sentence of guiltinesse proceede against him: and now that he lieth, let him rise vp no more.

9 Yea, euen mine owne familiar friend whome I trusted: which did also eate of my bread, hath laid great waite for me.

10 But be thou mercifull vnto mee, O Lorde: raise thou me vp againe, and I shall reward them.

11 By this I know thou fauourest mee: that mine enemie doth not triumph against me.

12 And when I am in my health, thou vpholdest me: and shalt set me before thy face for euer.

13 Blessed bee the Lorde God of Israel: world without end. Amen.

Quemadmodum. Psal. 42.

LIke as the Hart desireth the water brookes: so longeth my soule after thee, O God.

2 My soule is a thirst for God, yea, euen for the liuing God: when shall I come to appeare before the presence of God?

3 My teares haue bene my meate day and night: while they daily say vnto mee, where is now thy God?

4 Nowe when I thinke thereupon, I powre out my heart by my selfe: for I went with the multitude, and brought them forth into the house of God.

5 In the voyce of praise and thankes giuing: among such as keepe holy day.

6 Why art thou so full of heauines (O my soule:) and why art thou so disquieted within me?

7 Put thy trust in God: for I will yet giue him thanks for the helpe of his countenance.

8 My God, my soule is vexed within me: therefore will I remember thee, concerning the land of Iordane, and the litle hill of Hermon.

9 One deepe calleth another, because of the noyse of the water pipes: all thy waues and stormes are gone ouer me.

10 The Lorde hath graunted his louing kindnesse on the day time: and in the night season did I sing of him, and made my prayer vnto the God of my life.

11 I will say vnto the God of my strength, why hast thou forgotten me: why goe I thus heauily, while the enemie oppresseth me?

12 My bones are smitten asunder as with a sword: while mine enemies (that trouble me) cast me in the teeth.

13 Namely while they say daily vnto me: Where is now thy God?

14 Why art thou so vexed, O my soule: and why art thou so disquieted within me?

15 O put thy trust in God: for I will yet thanke him which is the helpe of my countenance, and my God.

Iudica me Deus. Psal. 43.

GIue sentence with me, O God, and defend my cause against the vngodly people: O deliuer mee from the deceitfull and wicked man.

2 For thou art the God of my strength, why hast thou put mee from thee: and why goe I so heauily while the enemie oppresseth me?

3 O send out thy light & thy trueth, that they may lead me: and bring me vnto thy holy hill, and to thy dwelling.

4 And that I may goe vnto the altar of God, euen vnto the God of my ioy and gladnesse: and vpon the harpe will I giue thanks vnto thee, O God, my God.

5 Why art thou so heauie, O my soule: and why art thou so disquieted within me?

6 O put thy trust in God: for I will yet giue him thankes, which is the helpe of my countenance, and my God.

Deus auribus. Psal. 44.

WE haue heard with our eares, O God, our fathers haue told vs: what thou hast done in their time of old. Morning prayer.

2 How thou hast driuen out the heathen with thy hand, and planted them in: how thou hast destroied the nations, and cast them out.

3 For they gate not the land in possession through their owne sworde: neither was it their owne arme that helped them.

4 But thy right hand and thine arme, and the light of thy countenance: because thou haddest a fauour vnto them.

5 Thou art my king (O God:) send helpe vnto Iacob.

6 Through thee will we ouerthrowe our enemies: and in thy name will wee tread them vnder that rise vp against vs.

7 For I will not trust in my bow: it is not my sword that shall helpe me.

8 But it is thou that sauest vs from our enemies: and puttest them to confusion that hate vs.

9 We make our boast of God all day long: and will praise thy name for euer.

10 But nowe thou art farre off, and puttest vs to confusion: and goest not forth with our armies.

11 Thou makest vs to turne our backes vpon our enemies: so that they which hate vs, spoile our goods.

12 Thou lettest vs to bee eaten vp like sheepe: and hast scattered vs among the heathen.

13 Thou

13 Thou sellest thy people for nought: and takest no money for them.

14 Thou makest vs to bee rebuked of our neighbours: to be laughed to scorne, and had in derision of them that are round about vs.

15 Thou makest vs to bee a byworde among the Heathen: and that the people shake their heads at vs.

16 My confusion is daily before me: and the shame of my face hath couered me.

17 For the voyce of the slanderer and blasphemer: for the enemie and auenger.

18 And though all this be come vpon vs, yet doe wee not forget thee: nor behaue our selues frowardly in thy couenant.

19 Our heart is not turned backe: neither our steps gone out of thy way.

20 No not when thou hast smitten vs into the place of dragons: and couered vs with the shadow of death.

21 If we haue forgotten the name of our God, & holden vp our handes to any strange god: shall not God search it out? for he knoweth the very secrets of the heart.

22 For thy sake also are wee killed all the day long: and are counted as sheepe appointed to bee slayne.

23 Vp Lorde, why sleepest thou: awake and bee not absent from vs for euer.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face: and forgettest our miserie and trouble?

25 For our soule is brought low, euen vnto the dust: our belly cleaueth vnto ỹ ground.

26 Arise and helpe vs: and deliuer vs for thy mercies sake.

Eructauit cor meum. Psal. 45.

MY heart is inditing of a good matter: I speake of the things which I haue made vnto the king.

2 My tongue is the pen: of a ready writer.

3 Thou art fayrer then the children of men: full of grace are thy lips, because God hath blessed thee for euer.

4 Girde thee with thy sworde vpon thy thigh, O thou most mightie: according to thy worship and renoume.

5 Good lucke haue thou with thine honor: ride on, because of the word of trueth, of meekenesse, and righteousnesse, and thy right hand shall teach thee terrible things.

6 Thy arrowes are very sharpe, and the people shal be subdued vnto thee: euen in the midst among the kings enemies.

7 Thy seate (O God) endureth for euer: the scepter of thy kingdome is a right scepter.

8 Thou hast loued righteousnesse, and hated iniquitie: wherefore God (euen thy God) hath anointed thee with the oyle of gladnesse aboue thy fellowes.

9 All thy garments smell of Myrrhe, Aloes, and Cassia: out of the Ivorie palaces, whereby they haue made thee glad.

10 Kings daughters were among thy honourable women: vpon thy right hand did stand ỹ Queene in a vesture of gold (wrought about with diuers colours.)

11 Hearken (O daughter) and consider, incline thine eare: forget also thine owne people, and thy fathers house.

12 So shal the king haue pleasure in thy beautie: for hee is thy Lord (God) and worship thou him.

13 And the daughter of Tyre shalbe there with a gift: like as the rich also among the people shall make their supplication before thee.

14 The kings daughter is all glorious within: her clothing is of wrought gold.

15 She shall be brought vnto the king in raiment of needle worke: the virgines that belong vnto her fellowes shal beare her company, and shall be brought vnto thee.

16 With ioy and gladnesse shall they bee brought: & shall enter into the kings palace.

17 Instead of thy fathers thou shalt haue children: whom thou mayest make princes in all lands.

18 I will remember thy name from one generation vnto another: therefore shall the people giue thankes vnto thee, world without end.

Deus noster refugium. Psal. 46.

GOd is our hope & strength: a verie present helpe in trouble.

2 Therfore will we not feare though the earth be moued: and though the hils be caried into the mids of the sea.

3 Though the waters thereof rage and swell: and though the mountaines shake at the tempest of the same.

4 The riuers of the floud thereof shall make glad the citie of God: the holy place of the tabernacle of the most highest.

5 God is in the mids of her, therfore shall she not be remoued: God shall helpe her, and that right early.

6 The heathen make much adoe, and the kingdomes are moued: but God hath shewed his voice, and the earth shall melt away.

7 The Lord of hosts is with vs: the God of Iacob is our refuge.

8 O come hither, and beholde the works of ỹ Lord: what destruction he hath brought vpon the earth.

9 Hee maketh warres to cease in all the world: he breaketh the bowe, and knappeth the speare in sunder, and burneth the charets in the fire.

10 Be still then, and knowe that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen, and I will be exalted in the earth.

11 The Lord of hosts is with vs: the God of Iacob is our refuge.

Omnes gentes plaudite. Psal. 47.

OClap your handes together, (all yee people:) O sing vnto God with the voyce of melodie. Euening prayer.

2 For the Lorde is high, nd and to bee feared: he is the great king vpon all the earth.

3 He ſhal ſubdue the people vnder vs: and the nations vnder our feete.

4 He ſhall chuſe out an heritage for vs: euen the worſhip of Jacob whom he loued.

5 God is gone vp with a mery noyſe: and the Lord with the ſound of the trumpe.

6 O ſing prayſes, ſing prayſes vnto (our) God: O ſing praiſes, ſing praiſes vnto our king.

7 For God is the king of all the earth: ſing ye prayſes with vnderſtanding.

8 God raigneth ouer the heathen: God ſitteth vpon his holy ſeate.

9 The princes of the people are ioined vnto the people of the God of Abraham: for God (which is very hie exalted) doeth defend the earth as it were with a ſhield.

Magnus Dominus. Pſal. 48.

GReat is the Lord, and highly to be prayſed: in the citie of our God, euen vpon his holy hill.

2 The hill of Sion is a faire place, and the ioy of the whole earth: vpon the Northſide lieth the citie of the great king, God is well knowen in her palaces, as a ſure refuge.

3 For loe, the kings of the earth: are gathered and gone by together.

4 They marueiled to ſee ſuch things: they were aſtonied, and ſuddenly caſt downe.

5 Feare came there vpon them, & ſorow: as vpon a woman in her trauaile.

6 Thou ſhalt breake the ſhips of the Sea: through the Eaſt wind.

7 Like as we haue heard, ſo haue we ſeen in the citie of the Lord of hoſtes, in the citie of our God: God vpholdeth the ſame for euer.

8 Wee waite for thy louing kindneſſe (O God:) in the mids of thy temple.

9 O God, according vnto thy name, ſo is thy prayſe vnto the worldes ende: thy right hand is full of righteouſneſſe.

10 Let the mount Sion reioyce, and the daughters of Juda bee glad: becauſe of thy iudgements.

11 Walke about Sion, and goe round about her: and tell the towers thereof.

12 Marke well her bulwarkes, ſet vp her houſes: that ye may tell them that come after.

13 For this God is our God for euer and euer: he ſhalbe our guide vnto death.

Audite hæc omnes. Pſal. 49.

OHeare ye this all yee people: ponder it with your eares all ye that dwel in the world.

2 High and low, rich and poore: one with another.

3 My mouth ſhal ſpeake of wiſedom: and my heart ſhall muſe of vnderſtanding.

4 I wil encline mine eare vnto the parable: & ſhew my darke ſpeach vpon the Harpe.

5 Wherefore ſhould I feare in the dayes of wickednes: and when the wickedneſſe of my heeles compaſſeth me round about?

6 There bee ſome that put their truſt in their goods: & boaſt themſelues in the multitude of their riches.

7 But no man may deliuer his brother: nor make agreement vnto God for him.

8 For it coſt more to redeeme their ſoules: ſo that he muſt let that alone for euer.

9 Yea, though hee liue long: and ſee not the graue.

10 For he ſeeth that wiſemen alſo die, and periſh together: as well as the ignorant and fooliſh, and leaue their riches for other.

11 And yet they thinke that their houſes ſhall continue for euer: and that their dwelling places ſhall endure from one generation to another, & call the lands after their owne names.

12 Neuertheleſſe, man will not abide in honour: ſeeing he may be compared vnto the beaſts that periſh, this is the way of them.

13 This is their fooliſhneſſe: and their poſteritie prayſe their ſaying.

14 They lie in the hell like ſheepe, death gnaweth vpon them, and the righteous ſhall haue domination of them in the morning: their beautie ſhall conſume in the ſepulchre out of their dwelling.

15 But God ſhall deliuer my ſoule from the place of hell: for he ſhall receiue me.

16 Be not thou afraid though one be made rich: or if the glory of his houſe be increaſed.

17 For hee ſhall cary nothing away with him when he dieth: neither ſhall his pompe follow him.

18 For while hee liued, hee counted himſelfe an happy man: and ſo long as thou doeſt well vnto thy ſelfe, men will ſpeake good of thee.

19 Hee ſhall follow the generation of his fathers: and ſhall neuer ſee light.

20 Man being in honor, hath no vnderſtanding: but is compared vnto the beaſtes that periſh.

Deus Deorum. Pſal. 50.

THe Lord, euen the moſt mightie God, hath ſpoken: and called the world, from the riſing vp of the ſunne, vnto the going downe thereof. Morning prayer.

2 Out of Sion hath God appeared: in perfect beautie.

3 Our God ſhall come, and ſhall not keepe ſilence: there ſhal go before him a conſuming fire, and a mightie tempeſt ſhall be ſtirred vp round about him.

4 He ſhal call the heauen from aboue: and the earth, that he may iudge his people.

5 Gather my ſainctes together vnto mee: thoſe that haue made a couenant with mee, with ſacrifice.

6 And the heauens ſhal declare his righteouſneſſe:

oulnesse: for God is iudge himselfe.

7 Heare, O my people, and I will speake: I my selfe will testifie against thee, O Israel, for I am God, euen thy God.

8 I will not reproue thee, because of thy sacrifices, or for thy burnt offerings: because they were not alway before me.

9 I wil take no bullocke out of thy house: nor yee goates out of thy folds.

10 For al the beasts of the forest are mine: and so are the cattels vpon a thousand hils.

11 I know all the foules vpon the mountains: and the wild beasts of the field are in my sight.

12 If I bee hungrie, I will not tell thee: for the whole world is mine, and all that is therein.

13 Thinkest thou that I will eate Buls flesh: and drinke the blood of goates?

14 Offer vnto God thankesgiuing: and pay thy vowes vnto the most highest.

15 And cal vpon me in the time of trouble: so will I heare thee, and thou shalt praise me.

16 But vnto the vngodly sayd God: why doest thou preach my lawes, and takest my couenant in thy mouth?

17 Whereas thou hatest to bee reformed: and hast cast my words behind thee.

18 When thou sawest a theefe, thou consentedst vnto him: and hast bene partaker with the adulterers.

19 Thou hast let thy mouth speake wickednesse: and with thy tongue thou hast set foorth deceit.

20 Thou satest & spakest against thy brother: yea, and hast slandered thine owne mothers sonne.

21 These things hast thou done, & I held my tongue, and thou thoughtest wickedly that I am euen such a one as thy selfe: but I wil reproue thee, & set before thee the things that thou hast done.

22 O consider this, yee that forget God: least I plucke you away, and there bee none to deliuer you.

23 Who so offereth me thanks and praise, he honoureth me: and to him that ordereth his conuersation right, wil I shew the saluation of God.

Miserere mei Deus. Psal. 51.

HAue mercy vpon me (O God) after thy great goodnesse, according vnto the multitude of thy mercies, doe away mine offences.

2 Wash me thoroughly from my wickednes: and cleanse me from my sinne.

3 For I knowledge my faultes: and my sinne is euer before me.

4 Against thee onely haue I sinned, and done this euil in thy sight: that thou mightest be iustified in thy saying, & cleare when thou art iudged.

5 Behold, I was shapen in wickednesse: and in sinne hath my mother conceiued me.

6 But loe, thou requirest trueth in the inward partes: and shalt make mee to vnderstand wisedom secretly.

7 Thou shalt purge me with hysope, and I shall be cleane: thou shalt wash mee, and I shall be whiter then snow.

8 Thou shalt make mee heare of ioy and gladnesse: that the bones which thou hast broken may reioyce.

9 Turne thy face from my sinnes: and put out all my misdeeds.

10 Make me a cleane heart, O God: and renew a right spirit within thee.

11 Cast mee not away from thy presence: and take not thy holy spirit from me.

12 O giue mee the comfort of thy helpe againe: and stablish me with thy free spirit.

13 Then shal I teach thy wayes vnto the wicked: and sinners shall be conuerted vnto thee.

14 Deliuer me from bloodguiltinesse, O God, thou that art the God of my health: and my tongue shall sing of thy righteousnesse.

15 Thou shalt open my lippes, (O Lord:) and my mouth shall shew thy praise.

16 For thou desirest no sacrifice, els would I giue it thee: but thou delightest not in burnt offerings.

17 The sacrifice of God is a troubled spirite: a broken and contrite heart (O God) shalt thou not despise.

18 O bee fauourable and gracious vnto Sion: build thou the wals of Hierusalem.

19 Then shalt thou be pleased with the sacrifice of righteousnesse, with the burnt offerings and oblations: then shall they offer yong bullocks vpon thine altar.

Quid gloriaris? Psal. 52.

WHy boastest thou thy selfe, thou tyrant: that thou canst doe mischiefe?

2 Whereas the goodnesse of God: endureth yet daily.

3 Thy tongue imagineth wickednesse: and with lies thou cuttest like a sharpe rasor.

4 Thou hast loued vnrighteousnesse more then goodnesse: and to talke of lies more then righteousnesse.

5 Thou hast loued to speake all wordes that may doe hurt: O thou false tongue.

6 Therefore shall God destroy thee for euer: he shal take thee, and plucke thee out of thy dwelling, and roote thee out of the land of the liuing.

7 The righteous also shall see this, and feare: and shall laugh him to scorne.

8 Lo, this is the man that tooke not God for his strength: but trusted vnto the multitude of his riches, and strengthned himselfe in his wickednesse.

9 As for mee, I am like a greene Olive tree in the house of God: my trust is in the tender mercie of God for euer and euer.

10 I will alwayes giue thankes vnto thee for that thou hast done: and I will hope in thy name, for thy saintes like it well.

Dixit

Dixit insipiens. Psal. 53.

Euening prayer.

THe foolish body hath sayde in his heart: There is no God.

2 Corrupt are they, and become abominable in their wickednesse: there is none that doeth good.

3 God looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men: to see if there were any that would vnderstand, and seeke after God.

4 But they are all gone out of the way, they are altogether become abominable: there is also none that doeth good, no not one.

5 Are not they without vnderstanding that worke wickednesse: eating vp my people as if they would eate bread: they haue not called vpon God.

6 They were afraid where no feare was: for God hath broken the bones of him that besieged thee, thou hast put them to confusion, because God hath despised them.

7 Oh that the saluation were giuen vnto Israel out of Sion: oh that the Lord would deliuer his people out of captiuitie.

8 Then should Iacob reioyce: and Israel should be right glad.

Deus in nomine. Psal. 54.

SAue me, O God, for thy names sake: and auenge me in thy strength.

2 Heare my prayer, O God: and hearken vnto the wordes of my mouth.

3 For strangers are risen vp against mee: and tyrants (which haue not God before their eyes) seeke after my soule.

4 Behold, God is my helper: the Lorde is with them that vphold my soule.

5 He shall reward euill vnto mine enemies: destroy thou them in thy trueth.

6 An offering of a free heart will I giue thee, and prayse thy name (O Lord:) because it is so comfortable.

7 For he hath deliuered me out of all my trouble: and mine eye hath seene his desire vpon mine enemies.

Exaudi Deus. Psal. 55.

HEare my prayer, O God: and hide not thy selfe from my petition.

2 Take heede vnto mee, and heare me: how I mourne in my prayer, and am vexed.

3 The enemie crieth so, and the vngodly commeth on so fast: for they are minded to doe me some mischiefe, so maliciously are they set against me.

4 My heart is disquieted within me: and the feare of death is fallen vpon me.

5 Fearefulnesse and trembling are come vpon me: and an horrible dread hath ouerwhelmed me.

6 And I sayde, O that I had wings like a doue: for then would I flee away, and be at rest.

7 Loe, then would I get me a way farre off: and remaine in the wildernesse.

8 I would make haste to escape: because of the stormie winde and tempest.

9 Destroy their tongues (O Lord) and deuide them: for I haue spyed vnrighteousnes and strife in the citie.

10 Day and night they goe about within the walles thereof: mischiefe also and sorowe are in the middes of it.

11 Wickednesse is therein: deceite & guyle goe not out of their streetes.

12 For it is not an open enemie that hath done mee this dishonour: for then I could haue borne it.

13 Neither was it mine aduersarie that did magnifie himselfe against mee: for then (peraduenture) I would haue hid my selfe from him.

14 But it was euen thou my companion: my guide, and mine owne familiar friend.

15 We tooke sweete counsel together: and walked in the house of God as friends.

16 Let death come hastily vpon them, and let them goe downe quicke into hell: for wickednesse is in their dwellings, and among them.

17 As for me, I will call vpon God: and the Lord shall saue me.

18 In the euening and morning, and at noone day will I pray, & that instantly: and he shall heare my voyce.

19 It is he that hath deliuered my soule in peace, from the battell that was against me: for there were many with me.

20 Yea, euen God that endureth for euer shall heare me, and bring them downe: for they will not turne, nor feare God.

21 He layde his hands vpon such as be at peace with him: and he brake his couenant.

22 The wordes of his mouth were softer then butter, hauing warre in his heart: his wordes were smoother then oyle, and yet be they very swordes.

23 O cast thy burden vpon the Lord, and he shall nourish thee: and shall not suffer the righteous to fall for euer.

24 And as for them: thou, O God, shalt bring them into the pit of destruction.

25 The bloodthirstie and deceitfull men shal not liue out halfe their dayes: neuertheles, my trust shall be in thee, O Lord.

Miserere mei Deus. Psal. 56.

BE mercifull vnto me, O God, for man goeth about to deuoure me: he is daily fighting and troubling me. Morning prayer.

2 Mine enemies are daily in hand to swallow me vp: for they be many that fight against me, O thou most highest.

3 Neuertheles, though I am sometime afraid: yet put I my trust in thee.

4 I will prayse God because of his worde:

I haue put my trust in God, and will not feare what flesh can doe vnto me.

5 They dayly mistake my wordes: all that they imagine, is to doe me euill.

6 They holde all together, & keepe themselues close: and marke my steps, when they lay in waite for my soule.

7 Shall they escape for their wickednes: thou (O God) in thy displeasure shalt cast them downe.

8 Thou tellest my flittings, put my teares into thy bottell: are not these things noted in thy booke?

9 Whensoeuer I call vpon thee, then shal mine enemies be put to flight: this I know, for God is on my side.

10 In Gods worde will I reioyce: in the Lordes worde will I comfort me.

11 Yea in God haue I put my trust: I wil not be afraide what man can doe vnto me.

12 Vnto thee (O God) will I pay my vowes: vnto thee will I giue thankes.

13 For thou hast deliuered my soule from death, and my feete from falling: that I may walke before God in the light of the liuing.

Miserere mei Deus. Psal. 57.

BE mercifull vnto me, O God, be mercifull vnto mee, for my soule trusteth in thee: & vnder the shadowe of thy wings shall be my refuge, vntill this tyrannie be ouerpast.

2 I will call vnto the most high God: euen vnto the God that shall performe the cause which I haue in hand.

3 He shall send from heauen: and saue me from the reproofe of him that would eate me vp.

4 God shall sende foorth his mercie and trueth: my soule is among Lions.

5 And I lie euen among the children of men (that are set on fire:) whose teeth are speares and arrowes, and their tongue a sharpe sworde.

6 Set vp thy selfe, O GOD, aboue the heauens: and thy glory aboue all the earth.

7 They haue layde a net for my feete, and pressed downe my soule: they haue digged a pit before me, and are fallen into the middes of it themselues.

8 My heart is fixed, O God, my heart is fixed: I will sing and giue prayse.

9 Awake vp my glory, awake lute and harpe: I my selfe will awake right early.

10 I will giue thanks vnto thee, O Lord, among the people: and I will sing vnto thee among the nations.

11 For the greatnesse of thy mercie reacheth vnto the heauens: and thy trueth vnto the cloudes.

12 Set vp thy selfe, O GOD, aboue the heauens: and thy glory aboue all the earth.

Si vere vtique. Psal. 58.

ARe your mindes set vpon righteousnesse, O yee congregation: and doe yee iudge the thing that is right, O yee sonnes of men?

2 Yea, ye imagine mischiefe in your heart vpon the earth: and your handes deale with wickednes.

3 The vngodly are frowarde euen from their mothers wombe: assoone as they be borne they goe astray, and speake lyes.

4 They are as venemous as the poyson of a Serpent: euen like the deafe Adder that stoppeth her eares.

5 Which refuseth to heare the voyce of the charmer: charme he neuer so wisely.

6 Breake their teeth (O GOD) in their mouthes, smite the chawe bones of the Lions, O Lorde: let them fall away like water that runneth apace, and when they shoote their arrowes, let them be rooted out.

7 Let them consume away like a snayle, and be like the vntimely fruite of a woman: and let them not see the Sunne.

8 Or euer your pots be made whote with thornes: so let indignation vexe him, euen as a thing that is raw.

9 The righteous shall reioyce when hee seeth the vengeance: he shall wash his footesteps in the blood of the vngodly.

10 So that a man shall say, Verely there is a reward for the righteous: doubtlesse there is a God that iudgeth the earth.

Eripe me de inimicis. Psal. 59.

DEliuer mee from mine enemies, (O GOD:) defende mee from them that rise vp against me. Euening prayer.

2 O deliuer mee from the wicked doers: and saue mee from the bloodthirstie men.

3 For loe, they lye waiting for my soule: the mightie men are gathered against mee, without any offence or fault of me, O Lord.

4 They runne and prepare themselues without any fault: arise thou therefore to helpe me, and beholde.

5 Stand vp (O Lord God of hostes) thou God of Israel, to visite all the heathen: and be not merciful vnto them that offend of malicious wickednesse.

6 They go to and fro in the euening: they grinne like a dogge, and run about through the citie.

7 Beholde, they speake with their mouth, and swordes are in their lippes: for who doth heare?

8 But thou, O Lord, shalt haue them in derision: and thou shalt laugh all the heathen to scorne.

9 My strength will I ascribe vnto thee: for thou art the God of my refuge.

10 God sheweth mee his goodnesse plenteously: and God shall let me see my desire vpon vpon mine enemies.

11 Slay them not, least my people forget it: but scatter them abroade among the people, & put them downe, O Lord, our defence.

12 For the sinne of their mouth, and for the wordes of their lippes, they shall be taken in their pride: and why? their preaching is of cursing and lies.

13 Consume them in thy wrath, consume them, that they may perish: and know that it is God which ruleth in Jacob, and vnto the endes of the world.

14 And in the euening they will returne: grin like a dogge, and will go about the citie.

15 They will runne here and there for meate: and grudge if they be not satisfied.

16 As for me, I wil sing of thy power, and will praise thy mercie betimes in the morning: for thou hast bene my defence and refuge in the day of my trouble.

17 Vnto thee (O my strength) wil I sing: for thou, O God, art my refuge, and my mercifull God.

Deus repulisti nos. Psal. 60.

O God, thou hast cast vs out, and scattered vs abroade: thou hast also bene displeased, O turne thee vnto vs againe.

2 Thou hast moued the land, and deuided it: heale the sores thereof, for it shaketh.

3 Thou hast shewed thy people heauie things: thou hast giuen vs a drinke of deadly wine.

4 Thou hast giuen a token for such as feare thee: that they may triumph because of the trueth.

5 Therefore were thy beloued deliuered: helpe me with thy right hand, and heare me.

6 God hath spoken in his holinesse, I wil reioyce and deuide Sichem: and mete out the valley of Sucoth.

7 Gilead is mine, and Manasses is mine: Ephraim also is the strength of my head, Juda is my lawe giuer.

8 Moab is my wash pot, ouer Edom will I cast out my shoe: Philistia bee thou glad of mee.

9 Who will leade me into the strong citie: who will bring me into Edom?

10 Hast thou not cast vs out, O God: wilt not thou, O God, goe out with our hostes?

11 O bee thou our helpe in trouble: for vaine is the helpe of man.

12 Through God shall we doe great acts: for it is hee that shall treade downe our enemies.

Exaudi Deus. Psal. 61.

HEare my crying, O God: giue eare vnto my prayer.

2 From the endes of the earth will I call vnto thee: when my heart is in heauinesse.

3 O set me vp vpon the rocke that is higher then I: for thou hast bene my hope, and a strong towre for me against the enemie.

4 I will dwell in thy tabernacle for euer: and my trust shalbe vnder the couering of thy wings.

5 For thou, O Lorde, hast heard my desires: and hast giuen an heritage vnto those that feare thy Name.

6 Thou shalt graunt the king a long life: that his yeeres may endure throughout all generations.

7 Hee shall dwell before God for euer: O prepare thy louing mercie and faithfulnesse, that they may preserue him.

8 So will I alwayes sing praise vnto thy Name: that I may dayly performe my vowes.

Nonne Deo. Psal. 62.

MY soule truely waiteth still vpon God: for of him commeth my saluation. Morning prayer.

2 Hee verily is my strength and my saluation: hee is my defence, so that I shall not greatly fall.

3 How long will ye imagine mischiefe against euery man: ye shalbe slaine all the sort of you, yea as a tottering wall shal ye be, and like a broken hedge.

4 Their deuice is onely howe to put him out whom God will exalt: their delight is in lies, they giue good words with their mouth, but curse with their heart.

5 Neuertheless, my soule waite thou still vpon God: for my hope is in him.

6 He truely is my strength and my saluation: he is my defence, so that I shall not fall.

7 In God is my health and my glory: the rocke of my might, and in God is my trust.

8 O put your trust in him alway (ye people:) powre out your hearts before him, for God is our hope.

9 As for the children of men, they are but vaine: the children of men are deceitfull vpon the weightes, they are altogether lighter then vanitie it selfe.

10 O trust not in wrong and robberie, giue not your selues vnto vanitie: if riches encrease, set not your heart vpon them.

11 God spake once and twise: I haue also heard the same, that power belongeth vnto God.

12 And that thou Lord art mercifull: for thou rewardest euery man according to his worke.

Deus, Deus meus. Psal. 63.

O God, thou art my God: early will I seeke thee.

2 My soule thirsteth for thee, my flesh also longeth after thee: in a barren and drie land, where no water is.

3 Thus haue I looked for thee in holines: that I might beholde thy power and glory.

4 For thy louing kindenesse is better then the life it selfe: my lips shall praise thee.

5 As long as I liue will I magnifie thee on this maner: and lift vp my handes in thy Name.

6 My ſoule ſhall bee ſatiſfied euen as it were with marowe and fatneſſe: when my mouth praiſeth thee with ioyfull lippes.

7 Haue I not remembred thee in my bed: and thought vpon thee when I was waking?

8 Becauſe thou haſt bene my helper: therefore vnder the ſhadow of thy wings wil I reioyce.

9 My ſoule hangeth vpon thee: thy right hand hath vpholden me.

10 Theſe alſo that ſeeke the hurt of my ſoule: they ſhall goe vnder the earth.

11 Let them fall vpon the edge of the ſworde: that they may be a portion for foxes.

12 But the king ſhall reioyce in God, all they alſo that ſweare by him, ſhall bee commended: for the mouth of them that ſpeake lies, ſhall be ſtopped.

Exaudi Deus. Pſal. 64.

HEare my voyce, O God, in my prayer: preſerue my life from feare of the enemie.

2 Hide me from the gathering together of the frowarde: and from the inſurrection of the wicked doers.

3 Which haue whet their tongue like a ſworde: and ſhoote out their arrowes, euen bitter wordes.

4 That they may priuily ſhoote at him which is perfect: ſuddenly doe they hit him, and feare not.

5 They courage themſelues in miſchiefe: and commune among themſelues how they may lay ſnares, and ſay that no man ſhall ſee them.

6 They imagine wickednes, and practiſe it: that they keepe ſecret among themſelues, euery man in the deepe of his heart.

7 But God ſhall ſuddenly ſhoote at them with a ſwift arrowe: that they ſhalbe wounded.

8 Yea, their owne tongues ſhall make them fall: inſomuch that who ſo ſeeth them, ſhall laugh them to ſcorne.

9 And all men that ſee it, ſhall ſay, This hath God done: for they ſhall perceiue that it is his worke.

10 The righteous ſhal reioyce in the Lord, and put his truſt in him: and all they that are true of heart, ſhalbe glad.

Te decet hymnus. Pſal. 65.

Euening prayer.

THou, O God, art prayſed in Sion: and vnto thee ſhall the vow be performed in Hieruſalem.

2 Thou that heareſt the prayer: vnto thee ſhall all fleſh come.

3 My miſdeedes preuaile againſt me: O be thou mercifull vnto our ſinnes.

4 Bleſſed is the man whom thou chuſeſt and receiueſt vnto thee: he ſhall dwell in thy court, and ſhalbe ſatisfied with the pleaſures of thy houſe, euen of thy holy temple.

5 Thou ſhalt ſhew vs wonderfull things in thy righteouſneſſe, O God of our ſaluation: thou that art the hope of all the endes of the earth, and of them that remaine in the broade ſea.

6 Which in his ſtrength ſetteth faſt the mountaines: and is girded about with power.

7 Which ſtilleth the raging of the ſea: and the noyſe of his waues, and the madneſſe of his people.

8 They alſo that dwell in the vttermoſt partes of the earth, ſhalbe afraide at thy tokens: thou that makeſt the outgoings of the morning and euening to prayſe thee.

9 Thou viſiteſt the earth, and bleſſeſt it: thou makeſt it very plenteous.

10 The riuer of God is ful of water: thou preparеſt their corne, for ſo thou proundeſt for the earth.

11 Thou watereſt her furrowes, thou ſendeſt raine into the little valleyes thereof: thou makeſt it ſoft with the droppes of raine, and bleſſeſt the encreaſe of it.

12 Thou crowneſt the yeere with thy goodneſſe: and thy cloudes drop fatneſſe.

13 They ſhall drop vpon the dwellings of the wilderneſſe: and the little hilles ſhall reioyce on euery ſide.

14 The foldes ſhall bee full of ſheepe: the valleyes alſo ſhall ſtand ſo thicke with corne, that they ſhall laugh and ſing.

Iubilate Deo. Pſal. 66.

OBe ioyfull in God all yee landes: ſing prayſes vnto the honour of his Name, make his prayſe to be glorious.

2 Say vnto God, O how wonderfull art thou in thy workes: through the greatneſſe of thy power ſhall thine enemies be found lyars vnto thee.

3 For all the world ſhall worſhip thee: ſing of thee, and prayſe thy Name.

4 O come hither, and behold the workes of God: howe wonderfull he is in his doing toward the children of men.

5 He turned the ſea into drie land: ſo that they went through the water on foote, there did we reioyce thereof.

6 He ruleth with his power for euer, his eyes behold the people: and ſuch as will not beleeue, ſhal not be able to exalt themſelues.

7 O prayſe our God (ye people:) and make the voyce of his prayſe to be heard.

8 Which holdeth our ſoule in life: and ſuffereth not our feete to ſlip.

9 For thou (O God) haſt proued vs: thou alſo haſt tried vs, like as ſiluer is tried.

10 Thou broughteſt vs into the ſnare: and layedſt trouble vpon our loynes.

11 Thou ſufferedſt men to ride ouer our heads: we went through fire and water, and thou broughteſt vs out into a wealthy place.

12 I will goe into thy houſe with burnt offerings: and wil pay thee my vowes which I promiſed with my lippes, and ſpake with my my mouth when I was in trouble.

13 I will offer vnto thee fat burnt ſacrifices, with the incenſe of rammes: I will offer bullockes and goates.

14 O come hither and hearken all ye that feare God: and I will tell you what he hath done for my ſoule.

15 I called vnto him with my mouth: and gaue him praiſes with my tongue.

16 If I incline vnto wickednesſe with my heart: the Lord will not heare me.

17 But God hath heard me: and conſidered the voyce of my prayer.

18 Praiſed bee God, which hath not caſt out my prayer: nor turned his mercie from mee.

Deus miſereatur. Pſal. 67.

GOd be mercifull vnto vs, and bleſſe vs: and ſhewe vs the light of his countenance, and be mercifull vnto vs.

2 That thy way may bee knowen vpon earth: thy ſauing health among all nations.

3 Let the people praiſe thee, O God: yea, let all the people praiſe thee.

4 O let the nations reioyce and bee glad, for thou ſhalt iudge the folke righteouſly: and gouerne the nations vpon earth.

5 Let the people praiſe thee, O God: let all the people praiſe thee.

6 Then ſhall the earth bring foorth her encreaſe: and God, euen our owne God, ſhall giue vs his bleſſing.

7 God ſhall bleſſe vs: and all the endes of the world ſhall feare him.

Exurgat Deus, Pſal. 68.

Moming prayer.

LEt God ariſe, and let his enemies bee ſcattered: let them alſo that hate him, flee before him.

2 Like as the ſmoke vaniſheth, ſo ſhalt thou driue them away: and like as waxe melteth at the fire, ſo let the vngodly periſh at the preſence of God.

3 But let the righteous bee glad and reioyce before God: let them alſo bee merie and ioyfull.

4 O ſing vnto God, and ſing praiſes vnto his Name: magnifie him that rideth vpon the heauens as it were vpon an horſe, praiſe him in his Name, yea, and reioyce before him.

5 He is a father of the fatherleſſe, and defendeth the cauſe of the widowes: euen God in his holy habitation.

6 He is the God that maketh men to be of one minde in an houſe, and bringeth the priſoners out of captiuitie: but letteth the runnagates continue in ſcarceneſſe.

7 O God, when thou wenteſt forth before the people: when thou wenteſt through the wildernesſe.

8 The earth ſhooke, and the heauens dropped at the preſence of God: euen as Sinai alſo was moued at the preſence of God, which is the God of Iſrael.

9 Thou, O God, ſenteſt a gracious raine vpon thine inheritance: and refreſheſt it when it was wearie.

10 Thy congregation ſhall dwell therein: for thou, O God, haſt of thy goodneſſe prepared for the poore.

11 The Lorde gaue the word: great was the companie of the preachers.

12 Kings with their armies did flee, and were diſcomfited: and they of the houſholde deuided the ſpoyle.

13 Though ye haue lyen among the pots, yet ſhall ye be as the wings of a Doue: that is couered with ſiluer wings, and her feathers like golde.

14 When the Almightie ſcattered kings for their ſake: then were they as white as ſnowe in Salmon.

15 As the hill of Baſan, ſo is Gods hill: euen an high hill, as the hill of Baſan.

16 Why hop yee ſo yee high hilles? this is Gods hill, in the which it pleaſeth him to dwell: yea, the Lord will abide in it for euer.

17 The charets of God are twentie thouſande, euen thouſandes of angels: and the Lorde is among them as in the holy place of Sinai.

18 Thou art gone vp on high, thou haſt ledde captiuitie captiue, and receiued gifts for men: yea, euen for thy enemies, that the Lord God might dwell among them.

19 Praiſed bee the Lorde daily: euen the God which helpeth vs, and powreth his benefites vpon vs.

20 He is our God, euen the God of whom commeth ſaluation: God is the Lorde, by whom we eſcape death.

21 God ſhall wounde the head of his enemies: and the hairie ſcalpe of ſuch a one as goeth on ſtill in his wickednesſe.

22 The Lord hath ſaide, I will bring my people againe, as I did from Baſan: mine owne will I bring againe, as I did ſometime from the deepe of the ſea.

23 That thy foote may bee dipped in the blood of thine enemies: and that the tongue of thy dogges may be red through the ſame.

24 It is well ſeene, O God, howe thou goeſt: howe thou my God and king goeſt in the ſanctuarie.

25 The ſingers goe before, the minſtrels follow after: in the middeſt are the damoſels playing with the tymbrels.

26 Giue thanks, O Iſrael, vnto God the Lord in the congregations: from the ground of the heart.

27 There is little Beniamin their ruler, and the princes of Iuda their counſell: the princes of Zabulon, and the princes of Nephthali.

28 Thy God hath ſent forth ſtrength for thee: ſtabliſh the thing, O God, that thou haſt wrought in vs.

29 For thy Temples ſake at Ieruſalem:

so shall kings bring presents vnto thee.

30 When the company of the spearemen, and multitude of the mightie, are scattered abroade among the beastes of the people (so that they humbly bring pieces of siluer:) and when hee hath scattered the people that delight in warre.

31 Then shall the princes come out of Egypt: the Morians lande shall soone stretche out her handes vnto God.

32 Sing vnto God, O yee kingdomes of the earth: O sing praises vnto the Lord.

33 Which sitteth in the heauens ouer all from the beginning: loe, hee doeth sende out his voyce, yea, and that a mightie voyce.

34 Ascribe ye the power to God ouer Israel: his worship and strength is in the cloudes.

35 O God, wonderfull art thou in thy holy places: euen the God of Israel, hee will giue strength and power vnto his people, blessed be God.

Saluum me fac. Psal. 69.

Euening prayer.

SAue me, O God: for the waters are come in, euen vnto my soule.

2 I sticke fast in the deepe myre where no ground is: I am come into deepe waters, so that the floods runne ouer me.

3 I am weary of crying, my throte is dry: my sight faileth me for wayting so long vpon my God.

4 They that hate me without a cause, are moe then the haires of my head: they that are mine enemies, and would destroye mee giltlesse, are mightie.

5 I payde them the thinges that I neuer tooke: God thou knowest my simplenesse, and my faultes are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that trust in thee, O Lord God of hostes, bee ashamed for my cause: let not those that seeke thee, bee confounded through me, O Lord God of Israel.

7 And why? for thy sake haue I suffered reproofe: shame hath couered my face.

8 I am become a stranger vnto my brethren: euen an aliant vnto my mothers children.

9 For the zeale of thy house hath euen eaten mee: and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, are fallen vpon me.

10 I wept and chastened my selfe with fasting: and that was turned to my reproofe.

11 I put on a sackecloth also: and they iested vpon me.

12 They that sit in the gate speake against mee: and the drunkardes make songes vpon mee.

13 But Lorde I make my prayer vnto thee: in an acceptable time.

14 Heare mee, O God, in the multitude of thy mercie: euen in the trueth of thy saluation.

15 Take mee out of the mire, that I sinke not: Oh let me be deliuered from them that hate me, and out of the deepe waters.

16 Let not the water flood drowne mee, neither let the deepe swallow me vp: and let not the pit shut her mouth vpon me.

17 Heare mee, O Lorde, for thy louing kindenesse is comfortable: turne thee vnto mee, according to the multitude of thy mercies.

18 And hide not thy face from thy seruant: for I am in trouble: Oh haste thee, and heare me.

19 Draw nigh vnto my soule, and saue it: Oh deliuer me, because of mine enemies.

20 Thou hast knowen my reproofe, my shame, and my dishonour: mine aduersaries are all in thy sight.

21 Thy rebuke hath broken my heart, I am full of heauinesse: I looked for some to haue pitie on me, but there was no man, neither found I any to comfort me.

22 They gaue me gall to eate: and when I was thirstie, they gaue mee vineger to drinke.

23 Let their table be made a snare to take themselues withall: and let the things (that shoulde haue bene for their wealth) bee vnto them an occasion of falling.

24 Let their eyes be blinded that they see not: and euer bowe downe their backes.

25 Powre out thine indignation vpon them: and let thy wrathfull displeasure take holde of them.

26 Let their habitation be voyde: and no man to dwel in their tentes.

27 For they persecute him whome thou hast smitten: and they talke howe they may vexe them whom thou hast wounded.

28 Let them fall from one wickednesse to another: and not come into thy righteousnesse.

29 Let them be wiped out of the booke of the liuing: and not bee written among the righteous.

30 As for mee, when I am poore and in heauinesse: thy helpe (O God) shall lift mee vp.

31 I will praise the Name of God with a song: and magnifie it with thanksgiuing.

32 This also shall please the Lorde: better then a bullocke, that hath hornes and hooues.

33 The humble shall consider this, and bee glad: seeke yee after God, and your soule shall liue.

34 For the Lorde heareth the poore: and despiseth not his prisoners.

35 Let heauen and earth praise him: the sea and all that mooueth therein.

36 For God will saue Sion, and builde the cities of Iuda: that men may dwell there, and haue it in possession.

37 The posteritie also of his seruants shal inherite it: and they that loue his Name shal dwel therein.

Deus

Deus in adiutorium. Psal. 70.

HAste thee, O God, to deliuer me: make haste to helpe me, O Lord.

2 Let them bee ashamed and confounded that seeke after my soule: let them be turned backward and put to confusion that wish me euill.

3 Let them (for their reward) be soone brought to shame: that crie ouer me, There, there.

4 But let all those that seeke thee, be ioyfull and glad in thee: and let all such as delight in thy saluation, say alway, The Lorde be prayed.

5 As for me, I am poore and in miserie: haste thee vnto me (O God.)

6 Thou art my helper and my redeemer: O Lord make no long tarying.

In te Domine speraui. Psal. 71.

Morning prayer.

IN thee, O Lord, haue I put my trust, let me neuer be put to confusion: but rid me, and deliuer me in thy righteousnesse, encline thine eare vnto me, and saue me.

2 Be thou my strong holde, whereunto I may alway resort: thou hast promised to helpe me, for thou art my house of defence, and my castle.

3 Deliuer me, O my God, out of the hand of the vngodly: out of the hand of the vnrighteous and cruell man.

4 For thou, O Lorde God, art the thing that I long for: thou art my hope, euen from my youth.

5 Through thee haue I beene holden vp euer since I was borne: thou art hee that tooke me out of my mothers wombe, my praise shall be alway of thee.

6 I am become as it were a monster vnto many: but my sure trust is in thee.

7 O let my mouth bee filled with thy praise: (that I may sing of thy glory) and honour all the day long.

8 Cast me not away in the time of age: forsake me not when my strength faileth me.

9 For mine enemies speake against me, and they that lay waite for my soule, take their counsell together, saying: God hath forsaken him, persecute him, and take him, for there is none to deliuer him.

10 Goe not farre from me, O God: my God, haste thee to helpe me.

11 Let them bee confounded and perish, that are against my soule: let them be couered with shame and dishonour, that seeke to doe me euill.

12 As for me, I will patiently abide alway: and will praise thee more and more.

13 My mouth shall daily speake of thy righteousnesse and saluation: for I knowe no ende thereof.

14 I will goe forth in the strength of the Lorde God: and will make mention of thy righteousnesse onely.

15 Thou, O God, hast taught me from my youth vp vntill nowe: therefore will I tell of thy wonderous workes.

16 Forsake me not, O God, in mine olde age, when I am gray headed: vntill I haue shewed thy strength vnto this generation, and thy power to all them that are yet for to come.

17 Thy righteousnesse, O God, is very high: and great things are they that thou hast done, O God, who is like vnto thee?

18 O what great troubles & aduersities hast thou shewed me, and yet diddest thou turne and refresh me: yea, and broughtest me from the deepe of the earth againe.

19 Thou hast brought mee to great honour: and comforted me on euery side.

20 Therefore will I praise thee and thy faithfulnesse (O God) playing vpon an instrument of musicke: vnto thee will I sing vpon the Harpe, O thou holy one of Israel.

21 My lippes will be faine when I sing vnto thee: and so will my soule whom thou hast deliuered.

22 My tongue also shall talke of thy righteousnesse all the day long: for they are confounded and brought vnto shame that seeke to doe me euill.

Deus iudicium. Psal. 72.

GIue the king thy iudgements (O God:) and thy righteousnesse vnto the kings sonne.

2 Then shall he iudge the people according vnto right: and defend the poore.

3 The mountaines also shall bring peace, and the little hilles righteousnesse vnto the people.

4 Hee shall keepe the simple folke by their right: defende the children of the poore, and punish the wrong doer.

5 They shall feare thee as long as the sunne and moone endureth: from one generation to another.

6 He shall come downe like the raine into a fleece of wooll: euen as the droppes that water the earth.

7 In his time shall the righteous florish: yea, and abundance of peace, so long as the moone endureth.

8 His dominion shall be also from the one sea to the other: and from the flood vnto the worldes ende.

9 They that dwell in the wildernesse shall kneele before him: his enemies shall licke the dust.

10 The kings of Tharsis and of the Iles shall giue presents: the kings of Arabia and Saba shall bring giftes.

11 All kings shall fall downe before him: all nations shall doe him seruice.

12 For he shall deliuer the poore when he cryeth: the needie also, and him that hath no

no helper.

13 He shall bee fauourable to the simple and needie: and shall preserue the soules of the poore.

14 He shall deliuer their soules from falsehood and wrong: and deare shall their blood be in his sight.

15 He shall liue, and vnto him shall be giuen of the golde of Arabia: prayer shall be made euer vnto him, and dayly shall hee be praysed.

16 There shall be an heape of corne in the earth high vpon the hilles: his fruite shall shake like Libanus, and shalbe greene in the citie, like grasse vpon the earth.

17 His name shall endure for euer, his name shall remaine vnder the sunne among the posterities: which shalbe blessed through him, and all the heathen shall praise him.

18 Blessed be the Lord God, euen the God of Israel: which onely doeth wonderous things.

19 And blessed be the name of his maiestie for euer: and all the earth shall be filled with his maiestie, Amen, Amen.

Quam bonus Israel. Psal. 73.

Euening prayer.

TRuely God is louing vnto Israel: euen vnto such as are of a cleane heart.

2 Neuertheless, my feete were almost gone: my treadings had wellnigh slipt.

3 And why? I was grieued at the wicked: I doe also see the vngodly in such prosperitie.

4 For they are in no perill of death: but are lustie and strong.

5 They come in no misfortune like other folke: neither are they plagued like other mē.

6 And this is the cause that they be so holden with pride: and ouerwhelmed with crueltie.

7 Their eyes swell with fatnesse: and they doe euen what they lust.

8 They corrupt other, and speake of wicked blasphemie: their talking is against the most highest.

9 For they stretch foorth their mouth vnto the heauen: and their tongue goeth throwe the world.

10 Therefore fall the people vnto them: and thereout sucke they no small aduantage.

11 Tush (say they) howe shoulde God perceiue it: is there knowledge in the most highest?

12 Loe, these are the vngodly, these prosper in the worlde, and these haue riches in possession: and I saide, Then haue I clensed my heart in vaine, and washed my hands in innocencie.

13 All the day long haue I bene punished: and chastened euery morning.

14 Yea, & I had almost said euen as they: but loe, then shoulde I haue condemned the generation of thy children.

15 Then thought I to vnderstand this: but it was too hard for me.

16 Untill I went into the sanctuarie of God: then vnderstood I the end of these men.

17 Namely, howe thou doest set them in slipperie places: and castest them downe, and destroyest them.

18 Oh howe suddenly doe they consume: perish, and come to a fearefull end?

19 Yea, euen like as a dreame when one awaketh: so shalt thou make their image to vanish out of the citie.

20 Thus my heart was grieued: and it went euen through my reines.

21 So foolish was I and ignorant: euen as it were a beast before thee.

22 Neuertheless, I am alway by thee: for thou hast holden me by my right hand.

23 Thou shalt guide me with thy counsell: and after that receiue me with glory.

24 Whom haue I in heauen but thee: and there is none vpon earth that I desire in comparison of thee.

25 My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for euer.

26 For loe, they that forsake thee shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that commit fornication against thee.

27 But it is good for me to holde me fast by God, to put my trust in the Lord God: and to speake of all thy workes (in the gates of the daughter of Sion.)

Vt quid Deus. Psal. 74.

O God, wherefore art thou absent from vs so long: why is thy wrath so hote against the sheepe of thy pasture?

2 O thinke vpon thy congregation: whom thou hast purchased and redeemed of olde.

3 Thinke vpon the tribe of thine inheritance: and mount Sion wherein thou hast dwelt.

4 Lift vp thy feete, that thou maist vtterly destroy euery enemie: which hath done euill in thy sanctuarie.

5 Thine aduersaries roare in the middest of thy congregations: and set vp their banners for tokens.

6 He that hewed timber afore out of the thicke trees: was knowen to bring it to an excellent worke.

7 But nowe they breake downe all ỹ carued worke thereof: with Axes & Hammers.

8 They haue set fire vpon thy holy places: and haue defiled the dwelling place of thy name, euen to the ground.

9 Yea, they saide in their heartes, Let vs make hauocke of them altogether: thus haue they burnt vp all the houses of God in the land.

10 We see not our tokens, there is not one Prophet more: no not one is there among vs that vnderstandeth any more.

11 O God,

11 O God, how long shall the aduersarie doe this dishonour: how long shall the enemie blaspheme thy name, for euer?

12 Why withdrawest thou thy hand: why pluckest not thou thy right hand out of thy bosome to consume the enemie?

13 For God is my king of olde: the helpe that is done vpon earth, he doeth it himselfe.

14 Thou diddest deuide the sea through thy power: thou brakest the heads of the dragons in the waters.

15 Thou smotest the heads of Leuiathan in pieces: and gauest him to be meate for the people in the wildernesse.

16 Thou broughtest out fountaines and waters out of the hard rockes: thou driedst vp mightie waters.

17 The day is thine, & the night is thine: thou hast prepared the light and the sunne.

18 Thou hast set all the borders of ỹ earth: thou hast made Sommer and Winter.

19 Remember this, O Lord, how the enemie hath rebuked: and how the foolish people hath blasphemed thy name.

20 O deliuer not the soule of thy turtle Doue vnto the multitude of the enemies: and forget not the congregation of the poore for euer.

21 Looke vpon the couenant: for all the earth is full of darknesse and cruell habitations.

22 Oh let not the simple goe away ashamed: but let the poore and needie giue praise vnto thy name.

23 Arise, O God, maintaine thine owne cause: remember how the foolish man blasphemeth thee dayly.

24 Forget not the voyce of thine enemies: the presumption of them that hate thee, encreaseth euer more and more.

Confitebimur tibi. Psal. 75.

Morning prayer.

VNto thee (O God) doe wee giue thankes: yea vnto thee doe wee giue thankes.

2 Thy name also is so nigh: and that doe thy wonderous workes declare.

3 When I receiue the congregation: I shall iudge according vnto right.

4 The earth is weake, and all the inhabiters thereof: I beare vp the pillars of it.

5 I saide vnto the fooles, Deale not so madly: and to the vngodly, Set not vp your horne.

6 Set not vp your horne on high: & speake not with a stiffe necke.

7 For promotion commeth neither from the East nor from the West: nor yet from the South.

8 And why? God is the iudge: he putteth downe one, and setteth vp another.

9 For in the hand of the Lorde there is a cup, and the wine is red: it is ful mixt, and he powreth out of the same.

10 As for the dregs thereof: all the vngodly of the earth shall drinke them, and sucke them out.

11 But I will talke of the God of Iacob: and praise him for euer.

12 All the hornes of the vngodly also will I breake: and the hornes of the righteous shalbe exalted.

Notus in Iudea. Psal. 76.

IN Iurie is God knowen: his name is great in Israel.

2 At Salem is his tabernacle: and his dwelling in Sion.

3 There brake he the arowes of the bow: the shield, the sword, and the battell.

4 Thou art of more honour and might: then the hilles of the robbers.

5 The proude are robbed, they haue slept their sleepe: and all the men (whose handes were mightie) haue found nothing.

6 At thy rebuke (O God of Iacob:) both the charet and horse are fallen.

7 Thou, euen thou art to be feared: and who may stand in thy sight when thou art angry?

8 Thou diddest cause thy iudgement to be heard from heauen: the earth trembled and was still.

9 When God arose to iudgement: and to helpe all the meeke vpon earth.

10 The fiercenesse of man shall turne to thy prayse: and the fiercenesse of them shalt thou refraine.

11 Promise vnto the Lord your God, and keepe it, al ye that be round about him: bring presents vnto him that ought to be feared.

12 He shall refraine the spirit of princes: & is wonderfull among the kings of the earth.

Voce mea ad Dominum. Psal. 77.

I will cry vnto God with my voyce: euen vnto God will I crie with my voyce, and he shall hearken vnto me.

2 In the time of my trouble I sought the Lorde: my sore ran & ceased not, in the night season my soule refused comfort.

3 When I am in heauinesse I will thinke vpon God: when my heart is vexed, I will complaine.

4 Thou holdest mine eyes waking: I am so feeble that I cannot speake.

5 I haue considered the dayes of olde: and the yeeres that are past.

6 I call to remembrance my song: and in the night I commune with mine owne heart, and search out my spirites.

7 Will the Lorde absent himselfe for euer: and will he be no more intreated?

8 Is his mercie cleane gone for euer: and is his promise come vtterly to an ende for euermore?

9 Hath God forgotten to be gracious: and will hee shut vp his louing kindenesse in displeasure?

10 And I said, It is mine owne infirmitie:

but

but I will remember the yeeres of the right hand of the most highest.

11 I will remember the workes of the Lorde: and call to mind thy wonders of olde time.

12 I will thinke also of all thy workes: and my talking shalbe of thy doings.

13 Thy way, O God, is holy: who is so great a God (as our God?)

14 Thou art the God that doeth wonders: and hast declared thy power among the people.

15 Thou hast mightily deliuered thy people: euen the sonnes of Iacob and Ioseph.

16 The waters sawe thee, O God, the waters sawe thee, and were afraid: the depthes also were troubled.

17 The cloudes powred out water, the ayre thundered: and thine arrowes went abroade.

18 The voyce of thy thunder was heard round about: the lightnings shone vpon the ground, the earth was moued, and shooke withall.

19 Thy way is in the sea, and thy paths in the great waters: and thy footesteps are not knowen.

20 Thou leddest thy people like sheepe: by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

Attendite populè. Psal. 78.

Euening prayer.

HEare my lawe, O my people: encline your eares vnto the wordes of my mouth.

2 I will open my mouth in a parable: I will declare hard sentences of olde.

3 Which wee haue heard and knowen: and such as our fathers haue told vs.

4 That we should not hide them from the children of the generations to come: but to shewe the honour of the Lorde, his mightie and wonderfull workes that he hath done.

5 Hee made a couenant with Iacob, and gaue Israel a law: which he commanded our forefathers to teach their children.

6 That their posteritie might knowe it: and the children which were yet vnborne.

7 To the intent that when they came vp: they might shewe their children the same.

8 That they might put their trust in God: and not to forget the workes of God, but to keepe his commandements.

9 And not to bee as their forefathers, a faithlesse & stubborne generation: a generation that set not their heart aright, & whose spirite cleaueth not stedfastly vnto God.

10 Like as ẏ children of Ephraim: which being harnessed and carying bowes, turned themselues backe in the day of battell.

11 They kept not the couenant of God: and would not walke in his lawe.

12 But forgate what hee had done: and the wonderfull worke that hee had shewed for them.

13 Marueilous things did he in the sight of our forefathers in the land of Egypt: euen in the fielde of Zoan.

14 Hee deuided the sea, and let them goe through: he made the waters to stand on an heape.

15 In the day time also he led them with a cloude: and all the night through with a light of fire.

16 He claue the hard rockes in the wildernesse: and gaue them drinke thereof, as it had bene out of the great depth.

17 Hee brought waters out of the stonie rocke: so that it gushed out like the riuers.

18 Yet for all this they sinned more against him: and prouoked the most highest in the wildernesse.

19 They tempted God in their hearts: and required meate for their lust.

20 They spake against God also, saying: Shal God prepare a table in the wildernes?

21 He smote the stonie rocke in deede, that the water gushed out, & the streames flowed withall: but can hee giue bread also, or prouide flesh for his people?

22 When the Lorde heard this, hee was wroth: so the fire was kindled in Iacob, and there came vp heauie displeasure against Israel.

23 Because they beleeued not in God: and put not their trust in his helpe.

24 So he commanded the cloudes aboue: and opened the doores of heauen.

25 Hee rained downe Manna also vpon them for to eate: and gaue them foode from heauen.

26 So man did eate angels foode: and he sent them meate ynough.

27 He caused the East winde to blowe vnder heauen: & through his power he brought in the South west winde.

28 He rained flesh vpon them as thicke as dust: and feathered foules like as the sand of the sea.

29 He let it fall among their tentes: euen round about their habitation.

30 So they did eate and were well filled, for hee gaue them their owne desire: they were not disappointed of their lust.

31 But while the meate was yet in their mouthes, the heauie wrath of God came vpon them, and slue the wealthiest of them: yea and smote downe the chosen men that were in Israel.

32 But for all this they sinned yet more: and beleeued not his wonderous workes.

33 Therefore their dayes did he consume in vanitie: and their yeeres in trouble.

34 When he slewe them, they sought him: and turned them early, and enquired after God.

35 And they remembred that God was their strength: and that the high God was their redeemer.

36 Neuertheless, they did but flatter him with their mouth: and dissembled with him in their tongue.

37 For their heart was not whole with him: neyther continued they stedfast in his couenant.

38 But he was so mercifull that hee forgaue their misdeedes: & destroyed them not.

39 Yea many a time turned he his wrath away: and woulde not suffer his whole displeasure to arise.

40 For hee considered that they were but flesh: and that they were euen a winde that passeth away, and commeth not againe.

41 Many a time did they prouoke him in the wildernesse: & grieued him in the desert.

42 They turned backe and tempted God: and moued the holy one in Israel.

43 They thought not of his hand: and of the day when hee deliuered them from the hand of the enemie.

44 Howe hee had wrought his miracles in Egypt: and his wonders in the fielde of Zoan.

45 He turned their waters into blood: so that they might not drinke of the riuers.

46 He sent lice among them, and deuoured them vp: and frogges to destroy them.

47 He gaue their fruit vnto the Caterpiller: and their labour vnto the Grashopper.

48 He destroyed their vines with hailestones: and their Mulberie trees with the frost.

49 He smote their cattell also with hailestones; and their flockes with hot thunderbolts.

50 He cast vpon them the furiousnesse of his wrath, anger, displeasure, and trouble: and sent euill angels among them.

51 Hee made a way to his indignation, and spared not their soule from death, but gaue their life ouer to the pestilence.

52 And smote all the first borne in Egypt: the most principal and mightiest in the dwellings of Ham.

53 But as for his owne people, hee ledde them forth like sheepe: and caried them in the wildernesse like a flocke.

54 He brought them out safely that they should not feare: and ouerwhelmed their enemies with the sea.

55 And brought them within the borders of his Sanctuarie: euen to his mountaine which he purchased with his right hand.

56 Hee cast out the Heathen also before them: caused their land to be deuided among them for an heritage, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.

57 So they tempted & displeased the most high God: and kept not his testimonies.

58 But turned their backs, and fel away like their forefathers: starting aside like a broken bowe.

59 For they grieued him with their hill altars: and prouoked him to displeasure with their images.

60 When God heard this, he was wroth: and tooke sore displeasure at Israel.

61 So that hee forsoke the tabernacle in Silo: euen the tent that hee had pitched among them.

62 Hee deliuered their power into captiuitie: and their beautie into the enemies hand.

63 He gaue his people ouer also vnto the sword: and was wroth with his inheritance.

64 The fire consumed their yong men: & their maydens were not giuen to mariage.

65 Their priestes were slayne with the sword: and there were no widowes to make lamentation.

66 So the Lorde awaked as one out of sleepe: and like a gyant refreshed with wine.

67 Hee smote his enemies in the hinder partes: and put them to a perpetuall shame.

68 He refused the tabernacle of Joseph: and chose not the tribe of Ephraim.

69 But chose the tribe of Juda: euen the hill of Sion, which he loued.

70 And there hee buylded his temple on high: and layde the foundation of it like the ground which he hath made continually.

71 He chose Dauid also his seruant: and tooke him away from the sheepefoldes.

72 As he was following the Ewes great with yong ones, he tooke him: that he might feede Jacob his people, and Israel his inheritance.

73 So he fedde them with a faithful and true heart: and ruled them prudently with all his power.

Deus, venerunt. Psal. 79.

O God, the heathen are come into thine inheritance: thy holy temple haue they defiled, and made Hierusalem an heape of stones. Morning prayer.

2 The dead bodies of thy seruants haue they giuen to be meate vnto the foules of the ayre: and the flesh of thy Saintes vnto the beastes of the land.

3 Their blood haue they shedde like water on euery side of Hierusalem: and there was no man to burie them.

4 Wee are become an open shame to our enemies: a very scorne and derision vnto them that are round about vs.

5 Lord, how long wilt thou be angry: shal thy iealousie burne like fire for euer?

6 Powre out thine indignation vpon the heathen that haue not knowen thee: and vpon the kingdomes that haue not called vpon thy Name.

7 For they haue deuoured Jacob: and laid waste his dwelling place.

8 O remember not our olde sinnes, but haue mercie vpon vs, and that soone: for we are come to great miserie.

9 Helpe vs, O God of our saluation, for the glorie of thy Name: O deliuer vs, and bee mercifull vnto our sinnes for thy Names sake.

10 Where-

10 Wherefore do the heathen say: where is now their God?

11 O let the vengeance of thy seruantes blood that is shed, be openly shewed vpon the heathen in our sight.

12 O let the sorowful sighing of the prisoners come before thee: according to the greatnesse of thy power preserue thou those that are appointed to die.

13 And for the blasphemie wherwith our neighbours haue blasphemed thee: reward thou them, O Lorde, seuen folde into their bosome.

14 So we that be thy people and sheepe of thy pasture, shall giue thee thankes for euer: and will alway be shewing forth thy prayse from generation to generation.

Quis regis Israel. Psal. 80.

HEare, O thou shepheard of Israel, thou that leadest Joseph like a sheepe: shewe thy selfe also thou that sittest vpon the Cherubims.

2 Before Ephraim, Beniamin, and Manasses: stirre vp thy strength and come and helpe vs.

3 Turne vs againe, O God: shew the light of thy countenance, and wee shalbe whole.

4 O Lorde God of hostes: how long wilt thou be angry with thy people that prayeth?

5 Thou feedest them with the bread of teares: & giuest them plenteousnes of teares to drinke.

6 Thou hast made vs a very strife vnto our neighbours: and our enemies laugh vs to scorne.

7 Turne vs againe, thou God of hostes: shewe the light of thy countenance, and we shalbe whole.

8 Thou hast brought a vine out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it.

9 Thou madest roume for it: and when it had taken roote, it filled the land.

10 The hilles were couered with the shadow of it: and the boughes thereof were like the goodly Cedar trees.

11 She stretched out her branches vnto the sea: and her boughes vnto the riuer.

12 Why hast thou then broken downe her hedge: that all they which goe by plucke off her grapes?

13 The wilde Bore out of the wood doeth roote it vp: and the wilde beastes of the fielde deuoure it.

14 Turne thee againe, thou God of hosts, looke downe from heauen: behold, and visite this vine.

15 And the place of the vineyard that thy right hande hath planted: and the branche that thou madest so strong for thy selfe.

16 It is burnt with fire, and cut downe: and they shall perish at the rebuke of thy countenance.

17 Let thy hande be vpon the man of thy right hand: & vpon the sonne of man whome thou madest so strong for thine owne selfe.

18 And so wil not we go backe from thee: O let vs liue, & we shall call vpon thy name.

19 Turne vs againe, O Lorde God of hostes: shewe the light of thy countenance, and we shalbe whole.

Exultate Deo. Psal. 81.

SIng wee merily vnto God our strength: make a cheerefull noyse vnto the God of Jacob.

2 Take the Psalme, bring hither the Tabret: the mery harpe, with the Lute.

3 Blowe vp the trumpet in the newe moone: euen in the time appointed, and vpon our solemne feast day.

4 For this was made a statute for Israel: and a law of the God of Jacob.

5 This hee ordeined in Joseph for a testimonie: when he came out of the lande of Egypt, and had heard a strange language.

6 I eased his shoulder from the burden: and his hands were deliuered from making the pottes.

7 Thou calledst vpon me in troubles, and I deliuered thee: and heard thee what time as the storme fell vpon thee.

8 I proued thee also: at the waters of strife.

9 Heare, O my people, and I will assure thee, O Israel: if thou wilt hearken vnto mee.

10 There shall no strange God be in thee: neither shalt thou worship any other God.

11 I am the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt: open thy mouth wide, and I shall fill it.

12 But my people woulde not heare my voyce: and Israel would not obey me.

13 So I gaue them vp vnto their owne hearts lust: and let them followe their owne imaginations.

14 O that my people would haue hearkened vnto mee: for if Israel had walked in my wayes.

15 I should soone haue put downe their enemies: and turned my hand against their aduersaries.

16 The haters of the Lorde should haue bene found lyars: but their time should haue endured for euer.

17 He should haue fed them also with the finest wheate floure: and with honie out of the stonie rocke should I haue satisfied thee.

Deus stetit. Psal. 82.

Evening prayer.

GOd standeth in the congregation of princes: he is a iudge among gods.

2 How long will yee giue wrong iudgement: and accept the persons of the vngodly?

3 Defend the poore and fatherles: see that such as be in neede and necessitie haue right.

4 Deliuer the outcast & poore: saue them from the hand of the vngodly.

5 They

They will not bee learned, nor vnderstand: but walke on still in darkenesse: all the foundations of the earth be out of course.

6 I haue said, Ye are Gods: and ye all are children of the most highest.

7 But ye shall die like men: and fall like one of the princes.

8 Arise, O God, and iudge thou the earth: for thou shalt take all heathen to thine inheritance.

Deus quis similis. Psal. 83.

HOld not thy tongue, O God, keepe not still silence: refraine not thy selfe, O God.

2 For loe, thine enemies make a murmuring: and they that hate thee haue lift vp their head.

3 They haue imagined craftily against thy people: and taken counsaile against thy secret ones.

4 They haue said, Come, and let vs roote them out, that they be no more a people: and that the name of Israel may bee no more in remembrance.

5 For they haue cast their heads together with one consent: and are confederate against thee.

6 The Tabernacles of the Edomites and the Ismaelites: the Moabites, and Hagarenes.

7 Gebal, and Ammon, and Amelech: the Philistines, with them that dwell at Tyre.

8 Assur also is ioyned vnto them: and haue holpen the children of Lot.

9 But doe thou to them as vnto the Madianites: vnto Sisera, and vnto Iabin, at the brooke of Kison.

10 Which perished at Endor: and became as the doung of the earth.

11 Make them and their princes like Oreb and Zeb: yea, make all their princes like as Zeba and Salmana.

12 Which say, Let vs take to our selues: the houses of God in possession.

13 O my God, make them like vnto a wheele: and as the stubble before the winde.

14 Like as the fire that burneth vp the wood: and as the flame that consumeth the mountaines.

15 Persecute them euen so with thy tempest: and make them afraid with thy storme.

16 Make their faces ashamed, O Lorde: that they may seeke thy name.

17 Let them bee confounded and vexed euer more and more: let them be put to shame and perish.

18 And they shall know, that thou (whose name is Iehouah:) art only the most highest ouer all the earth.

Quam dilecta. Psal. 84.

O How amiable are thy dwellings: thou Lord of hostes!

2 My soule hath a desire and longing to enter into the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh reioyce in the liuing God.

3 Yea, the sparrowe hath found her an house, and the swalow a nest, where she may lay her young: euen thy altars, O Lorde of hostes, my king and my God.

4 Blessed are they that dwel in thy house: they will be alway praysing thee.

5 Blessed is the man whose strength is in thee: in whose heart are thy wayes.

6 Which going through the vale of miserie, vse it for a well: and the pooles are filled with water.

7 They will go from strength to strength: and vnto the God of gods appeareth euery one of them in Sion.

8 O Lord God of hosts, heare my prayer: hearken, O God of Iacob.

9 Behold, O God, our defender: and looke vpon the face of thine anointed.

10 For one day in thy courtes: is better then a thousand.

11 I had rather bee a doore keeper in the house of my God: then to dwell in the tents of vngodlinesse.

12 For the Lorde God is a light and defence: the Lord will giue grace and worship, and no good thing shall bee withholde from them that liue a godly life.

13 O Lorde God of hostes: blessed is the man that putteth his trust in thee.

Benedixisti Domine. Psal. 85.

LOrd, thou art become gracious vnto thy land: thou hast turned away the captiuitie of Iacob.

2 Thou hast forgiuen the offence of thy people: and couered all their sinnes.

3 Thou hast taken away all the displeasure: and turned thy selfe from thy wrathfull indignation.

4 Turne vs then, O God our Sauiour: and let thine anger cease from vs.

5 Wilt thou bee displeased at vs for euer: and wilt thou stretch out thy wrath from one generation to another?

6 Wilt thou not turne againe and quicken vs: that thy people may reioyce in thee?

7 Shewe vs thy mercie, O Lorde: and graunt vs thy saluation.

8 I will hearken what the Lord God wil say concerning me: for hee shall speake peace vnto his people, and to his saints, that they turne not againe.

9 For his saluation is nigh them that feare him: that glory may dwell in our land.

10 Mercie and trueth are met together: righteousnesse and peace haue kissed eche other.

11 Trueth shall flourish out of the earth: and righteousnesse hath looked downe from heauen.

12 Yea, the Lord shall shewe louing kindenesse: and our land shall giue her increase.

13 Righteousnesse shall goe before him: and he shall direct his going in the way.

Inclina Domine. Psal. 86.

BOw downe thine eare, O Lord, and heare mee: for I am poore and in miserie.

2 Preserue thou my soule, for I am holy: my God saue thy seruant that putteth his trust in thee.

3 Bee mercifull vnto mee, O Lord: for I will call daily vpon thee.

4 Comfort the soule of thy seruant: for vnto thee (O Lord) doe I lift vp my soule.

5 For thou Lorde art good and gracious: and of great mercie vnto all them that call vpon thee.

6 Giue eare Lorde vnto my prayer: and ponder the voyce of my humble desires.

7 In the time of my trouble I wil call vpon thee: for thou heerest me.

8 Among the gods there is none like vnto thee (O Lorde:) there is not one that can doe as thou doest.

9 All nations whom thou hast made, shal come and worship thee, O Lorde: and shall glorifie thy name.

10 For thou art great, and doest wonderous things: thou art God alone.

11 Teach mee thy way (O Lord) and I will walke in thy trueth: O knit my heart vnto thee, that I may feare thy name.

12 I will thanke thee, O Lorde my God, with all my heart: and will praise thy name for euermore.

13 For great is thy mercy toward me: and thou hast deliuered my soule from the nethermost hell.

14 O God, the proude are risen against me: and the congregations of naughtie men haue sought after my soule, and haue not set thee before their eyes.

15 But thou (O Lorde God) art full of compassion and mercie, long suffering, plenteous in goodnesse and trueth.

16 O turne thee then vnto me, and haue mercie vpon me: giue thy strength vnto thy seruant, and helpe the sonne of thine handmaid.

17 Shew some good token vpon mee, for good, that they which hate mee may see it, and be ashamed: because thou Lord hast holpen me, and comforted me.

Fundamenta eius. Psal. 87.

HER foundations are vpon the holy hils: the Lord loueth the gates of Sion, more then all the dwellings of Iacob.

2 Very excellent things are spoken of thee: thou citie of God.

3 I will thinke vpon Rahab and Babylon: with them that know me.

4 Behold ye the Philistines also: and they of Tyre, with the Mozians, loe, there was he borne.

5 And of Sion it shalbe reported, that hee was borne in her: and the most highest shall stablish her.

6 The Lorde shall rehearse it when hee writeth vp the people: that hee was borne there.

7 The singers also and trumpetters shall hee rehearse: all my fresh springs shall bee in thee.

Domine Deus. Psal. 88.

O Lorde God of my saluation, I haue cried day and night before thee: O let my prayer enter into thy presence, encline thine eare vnto my calling.

2 For my soule is full of trouble: and my life draweth nigh vnto hell.

3 I am counted as one of them that goe downe into the pit: and I haue bene euen as a man that hath no strength.

4 Free among the dead, like vnto them that be wounded and lie in the graue: which bee out of remembrance, and are cut away from thy hand.

5 Thou hast laide me in the lowest pit: in a place of darkenesse, and in the deepe.

6 Thine indignation lieth hard vpon me: and thou hast vexed me with all thy stormes.

7 Thou hast put away mine acquaintance farre from mee: and made me to be abhorred of them.

8 I am so fast in prison: that I can not get foorth.

9 My sight faileth for very trouble: Lord, I haue called daily vpon thee, I haue stretched out my hands vnto thee.

10 Doest thou shew wonders among the dead: or shal the dead rise vp againe and praise thee?

11 Shall thy louing kindnesse be shewed in the graue: or thy faithfulnesse in destruction?

12 Shall thy wonderous workes be known in the darke: and thy righteousnesse in the land where all things are forgotten?

13 Vnto thee haue I cryed, O Lorde: and earely shall my prayer come before thee.

14 Lorde, why abhorrest thou my soule: and hidest thou thy face from me?

15 I am in miserie, and like vnto him that is at the poynt to die: (euen from my youth vp) thy terrours haue I suffered with a troubled minde.

16 Thy wrathfull displeasure goeth ouer me: and the feare of thee hath vndone me.

17 They came round about me daily like water: and compassed me together on euery side.

18 My louers and friendes hast thou put away from mee: and hid mine acquaintance out of my sight.

Misericordias Domini. Psal. 89.

MY song shall bee alway of the louing kindnesse of the Lorde: with my mouth will I euer be shewing thy trueth from one generation to another. Euening prayer.

2 For I haue sayde, Mercie shall bee set vp vp for euer: thy trueth shalt thou stablish in the heauens.

3 I haue made a couenant with my chosen: I haue sworne vnto Dauid my seruant.

4 Thy seed will I stablish for euer: and set vp thy throne from one generation to another.

5 O Lorde, the very heauens shall praise thy wonderous workes: and thy trueth in the congregation of the saints.

6 For who is he among the cloudes: that shall be compared vnto the Lord?

7 And what is hee among the gods: that shalbe like vnto the Lord?

8 God is very greatly to bee feared in the counsaile of the saints: and to be had in reuerence of all them that are about him.

9 O Lorde God of hostes, who is like vnto thee: thy trueth (most mightie Lord) is on euery side.

10 Thou rulest the raging of the sea: thou stillest the waues thereof when they arise.

11 Thou hast subdued Egypt, and destroied it: thou hast scattered thine enemies abroade with thy mightie arme.

12 The heauens are thine, the earth also is thine: thou hast laid the foundation of the round world, and all that therein is.

13 Thou hast made the North and the South: Tabor and Hermon shall reioyce in thy name.

14 Thou hast a mightie arme: strong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand.

15 Righteousnesse and equitie is the habitation of thy seate: mercie and trueth shall goe before thy face.

16 Blessed is the people (O Lord) that can reioyce in thee: they shall walke in the light of thy countenance.

17 Their delight shall bee daily in thy name: and in thy righteousnesse shall they make their boast.

18 For thou art the glory of their strength: and in thy louing kindnesse thou shalt lift vp our hornes.

19 For the Lord is our defence: the holy one of Israel is our King.

20 Thou spakest sometime in visions vnto thy Saints, and saidest: I haue laid helpe vpon one that is mightie, I haue exalted one chosen out of the people.

21 I haue founde Dauid my seruant: with my holy oyle haue I anoynted him.

22 My hand shall holde him fast: and my arme shall strengthen him.

23 The enemie shall not be able to do him violence: the sonne of wickednesse shall not hurt him.

24 I shall smite downe his foes before his face: and plague them that hate him.

25 My trueth also and my mercie shall be with him: and in my name shall his horne be exalted.

26 I will set his dominion also in the sea: and his right hand in the floods.

27 He shall call mee, Thou art my father: my God, and my strong saluation.

28 And I will make him my first borne: higher then the kings of the earth.

29 My mercie will I keepe for him for euermore: and my couenant shall stand fast with him.

30 His seed also will I make to endure for euer: and his throne as the dayes of heauen.

31 But if his children forsake my lawe: and walke not in my iudgements.

32 If they breake my statutes, and keepe not my commandements: I will visite their offences with the rod, and their sinne with scourges.

33 Neuertheless, my louing kindenesse will I not vtterly take from him: nor suffer my trueth to faile.

34 My couenant will I not breake, nor altar the thing that is gone out of my lippes: I haue sworne once by my holinesse that I would not faile Dauid.

35 His seede shall endure for euer: and his seate is like as the sunne before me.

36 Hee shall stand fast for euermore as the moone: & as the faithful witnesse in heauen.

37 But thou hast abhorred and forsaken thine anoynted: and art displeased at him.

38 Thou hast broken the couenant of thy seruant: and cast his crowne to the ground.

39 Thou hast ouerthrowen all his hedges: and broken downe his strong holdes.

40 All they that go by, spoyle him: and he is become a rebuke to his neigbours.

41 Thou hast set vp the right hand of his enemies: and made all his aduersaries to reioyce.

42 Thou hast taken away the edge of his sword: & giuest not him victorie in the battel.

43 Thou hast put out his glory: and cast his throne downe to the ground.

44 The dayes of his youth hast thou shortened: and couered him with dishonour.

45 Lord, how long wilt thou hide thy selfe, for euer: and shall thy wrath burne like fire?

46 Oh remember howe short my time is: wherfore hast thou made al men, for nought?

47 What man is hee that liueth, and shall not see death: and shall hee deliuer his soule from the hand of hell?

48 Lord, where are thy olde louing kindnesses: which thou swarest vnto Dauid in thy trueth?

49 Remember (Lord) the rebuke that thy seruants haue: and howe I doe beare in my bosome the rebukes of many people.

50 Wherewith thine enemies haue blasphemed thee, and slandered the footesteps of thine anoynted: praised bee the Lord for euermore. Amen. Amen.

Domine, refugium. Psal. 90.

LOrd, thou hast bene our refuge: from one generation to another. Morning prayer.

2 Before the mountaines were brought forth, or euer the earth and the worlde were made: thou art God from euerlasting, and worlde without ende.

3 Thou turnest man to destruction: againe thou sayest, Come againe yee children of men.

4 For a thousande yeeres in thy sight, are but as yesterday: seeing that is past as a watch in the night.

5 As soone as thou scatterest them, they are euen as a sleepe: and fade away suddenly like the grasse.

6 In the morning it is greene, and groweth vp: but in the euening it is cut downe, dryed vp, and withered.

7 For wee consume away in thy displeasure: and are afraide at thy wrathfull indignation.

8 Thou hast set our misdeedes before thee: and our secret sinnes in the light of thy countenance.

9 For when thou art angry, all our dayes are gone: we bring our yeeres to an ende, as it were a tale that is told.

10 The dayes of our age are threescore yeeres and ten, and though men be so strong that they come to fourescore yeeres: yet is their strength then but labour and sorow, so soone passeth it away and we are gone.

11 But who regardeth the power of thy wrath: for euen thereafter as a man feareth, so is thy displeasure.

12 O teach vs to number our dayes: that we may apply our hearts vnto wisedome.

13 Turne thee againe (O Lord) at the last: and be gracious vnto thy seruants.

14 O satisfie vs with thy mercy, and that soone: so shall we reioyce and be glad all the dayes of our life.

15 Comfort vs againe now after the time that thou hast plagued vs: and for the yeeres wherein we haue suffred aduersitie.

16 Shewe thy seruants thy worke: and their children thy glory.

17 And the glorious maiestie of the Lord our God be vpon vs: prosper thou the worke of our handes vpon vs, O prosper thou our handie worke.

Qui habitat. Psal. 91.

WHo so dwelleth vnder the defence of the most high: shall abide vnder the shadow of the almightie.

2 I will say vnto the Lord, Thou art my hope and my strong hold: my God, in him will I trust.

3 For he shall deliuer thee from the snare of the Hunter: and from the noysome pestilence.

4 Hee shall defend thee vnder his wings, and thou shalt be safe vnder his feathers: his faithfulnesse and trueth shalbe thy shield and buckler.

5 Thou shalt not be afraid for any terror by night: nor for the arrow that flieth by day.

6 For the pestilence that walketh in the darkenes: nor for the sickines that destroyeth in the noone day.

7 A thousand shall fall beside thee, and ten thousand at thy right hand: but it shall not come nigh thee.

8 Yea, with thine eyes shalt thou behold: and see the reward of the vngodly.

9 For thou Lord art my hope: thou hast set thine house of defence very high.

10 There shall no euill happen vnto thee: neither shal any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

11 For hee shall giue his angels charge ouer thee: to keepe thee in all thy wayes.

12 They shall beare thee in their handes: that thou hurt not thy foote against a stone.

13 Thou shalt goe vpon the Lion and Adder: the yong lion and the dragon shalt thou tread vnder thy feete.

14 Because he hath set his loue vpon me, therefore shall I deliuer him: I shall set him vp, because he hath knowen my name.

15 He shal call vpon me, and I will heare him: yea, I am with him in trouble, I will deliuer him, and bring him to honour.

16 With long life will I satisfie him: and shew him my saluation.

Bonum est confiteri. Psal. 92.

IT is a good thing to giue thanks vnto the Lord: and to sing praises vnto thy name, O most highest.

2 To tell of thy louing kindnesse early in the morning: and of thy trueth in the night season.

3 Vpon an instrument of ten strings, and vpon the Lute: vpon a loud instrument, and vpon the Harpe.

4 For ỹ Lord hast made me glad through thy works: and I wil reioice in giuing praise for the operations of thy hands.

5 O Lord, how glorious are thy workes: and thy thoughts are very deepe.

6 An vnwise man doeth not wel consider this: and a foole doeth not vnderstand it.

7 When the vngodly are greene as the grasse, and when all the workers of wickednesse doe flourish: then shall they be destroied for euer, but thou Lord art the most highest for euermore.

8 For loe, thine enemies (O Lord) lo thine enemies shall perish: and all the workers of wickednes shalbe destroyed.

9 But my horne shall bee exalted like the horne of an vnicorne: for I am anointed with fresh oyle.

10 Mine eye also shall see his lust of mine enemies: and mine eare shall heare his desire of the wicked that rise vp against me.

11 The righteous shal florish like a palme tree: and shall spread abroad like a Cedar in Libanus.

12 Such as be planted in the house of the Lord: shall florish in the courts (of the house) of our God.

13 They also shall bring forth more fruit in in their age: and shalbe fat and well liking.

14 That they may shewe howe true the Lord my strength is: and that there is no vnrighteousnesse in him.

Dominus regnauit. Psal. 93.

Euening prayer.

THe Lorde is King, and hath put on glorious apparell: the Lorde hath put on his apparell, and gyrded himselfe with strength.
2 Hee hath made the rounde worlde so sure: that it cannot be moued.
3 Euer since the worlde beganne hath thy seate bene prepared: thou art from euerlasting.
4 The floods are risen (O Lord) the floods haue lift vp their voyce: the floods lift vp their waues.
5 The waues of the sea are mightie, and rage horribly: but yet the Lorde that dwelleth on high is mightier.
6 Thy testimonies, O Lord, are very sure: holinesse becommeth thine house for euer.

Deus vltionum. Psal. 94.

O Lord God to whom vengeance belongeth: thou God to whome vengeance belongeth: shew thy selfe.
2 Arise thou iudge of the worlde: and reward the proud after their deseruing.
3 Lord how long shall the vngodly: how long shall the vngodly triumph?
4 How long shall all wicked doers speake so disdainefully: and make such proude boasting?
5 They smite downe thy people, O Lord: and trouble thine heritage.
6 They murder the widow and the stranger: and put the fatherlesse to death.
7 And yet they say, Tush, the Lorde shall not see: neither shall the God of Jacob regard it.
8 Take heede yee vnwise among the people: O ye fooles, when will ye vnderstand?
9 He that planted the eare, shall hee not heare: or he that made the eye, shal he not see?
10 Or he that nurtureth the heathen: it is hee that teacheth man knowledge, shall not he punish?
11 The Lorde knoweth the thoughts of man: that they are but vaine.
12 Blessed is the man whome thou chastenest (O Lorde:) and teachest him in thy lawe.
13 That thou mayest giue him patience in time of aduersitie: vntill the pit be digged vp for the vngodly.
14 For the Lorde will not faile his people: neither will he forsake his inheritance.
15 Vntill righteousnesse turne againe vnto iudgement: all such as be true in heart shall follow it.
16 Who will rise vp with me against the wicked: or who will take my part against the euill doers?
17 If the Lord had not helped me: it had not failed but my soule had bene put to silence.
18 But when I sayd, My foote hath slipped: thy mercy (O Lord) helde me vp.
19 In the multitude of the sorowes that I had in mine heart: thy comforts haue refreshed my soule.
20 Wilt thou haue any thing to doe with the stoole of wickednesse: which imagineth mischiefe as a lawe?
21 They gather them together against the soule of the righteous: and condemne the innocent blood.
22 But the Lorde is my refuge: and my God is the strength of my confidence.
23 Hee shall recompense them their wickednesse, and destroy them in their owne malice: yea, the Lorde our God shall destroy them.

Venite, exultemus. Psal. 95.

OCome, let vs sing vnto the Lorde: let vs heartily reioyce in the strength of our saluation. Morning prayer.
2 Let vs come before his presence with thankesgiuing: and shewe our selues glad in him with Psalmes.
3 For the Lorde is a great God: and a great King aboue all gods.
4 In his hand are all the corners of the earth: and the strength of the hils is his also.
5 The sea is his, and he made it: and his hands prepared the dry land.
6 O come, let vs worship and fall downe: and kneele before the Lord our maker.
7 For he is (the Lorde) our God: and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheepe of his hands.
8 To day if yee will heare his voyce, harden not your hearts: as in the prouocation, and as in the day of temptation in the wildernesse.
9 When your fathers tempted me: proued me, and sawe my workes.
10 Fourtie yeeres long was I grieued with this generation, and sayd: it is a people that do erre in their hearts, for they haue not knowen my wayes.
11 Vnto whome I sware in my wrath: that they should not enter into my rest.

Cantate Domino. Psal. 96.

OSing vnto the Lorde a newe song: sing vnto the Lorde all the whole earth.
2 Sing vnto the Lorde and prayse his Name: be telling of his saluation from day to day.
3 Declare his honour vnto the Heathen: and his wonders vnto all people.
4 For the Lord is great, and cannot worthily thily be prayſed: he is more to be feared then all gods

5 As for all the gods of the heathen, they be but idols: but it is the Lorde that made the heauens.

6 Glory and worſhip are before him: power and honour are in his ſanctuarie.

7 Aſcribe vnto the Lord, (yee kinreds of the people:) aſcribe vnto the Lorde worſhip and power.

8 Aſcribe vnto the Lorde the honour due vnto his name: bring preſents, and come into his courtes.

9 O worſhip the Lorde in the beautie of holineſſe: let the whole earth ſtand in awe of him.

10 Tell it out among the Heathen, that the Lord is King: and that it is hee which hath made the round worlde ſo faſt that it cannot be mooued, and howe that hee ſhall iudge the people righteouſly.

11 Let the heauens reioyce, and let the earth be glad: let the ſea make a noyſe, and all that therein is.

12 Let the fielde be ioyfull, and all that is in it: then ſhall all the trees of the wood reioyce before the Lord.

13 For hee commeth, for hee commeth to iudge the earth: and with righteouſneſſe to iudge the worlde, and the people with his trueth.

Dominus regnauit. Pſal. 97.

THe Lord is King, the earth may be glad thereof: yea, the multitude of the Iles may be glad thereof.

2 Cloudes and darkenes are round about him: righteouſneſſe and iudgement are the habitation of his ſeate.

3 There ſhall goe a fire before him: and burne vp his enemies on euery ſide.

4 His lightnings gaue ſhine vnto the world: the earth ſawe it, and was afraid.

5 The hilles melted like waxe at the preſence of the Lord: at the preſence of the Lord of the whole earth.

6 The heauens haue declared his righteouſneſſe: and all the people haue ſeene his glory.

7 Confounded bee all they that worſhip carued images, and that delight in vaine gods: worſhip him all ye gods.

8 Sion heard of it, and reioyced: and the daughters of Iuda were glad, becauſe of thy iudgements, O Lord.

9 For thou Lord art higher then all that are in the earth: thou art exalted farre aboue all gods.

10 O yee that loue the Lorde, ſee that yee hate the thing which is euill: the Lorde preſerueth the ſoules of his ſaints, hee ſhall deliuer them from the hand of the vngodly.

11 There is ſprung vp a light for the righteous: and ioyfull gladneſſe for ſuch as be true hearted.

12 Reioyce in the Lord ye righteous: and giue thanks for a remembrance of his holines.

Cantate Domino. Pſal. 98.

OSing vnto the Lorde a newe ſong: for he hath done maruelous things. Euening prayer.

2 With his owne right hand, and with his holy arme: hath he gotten himſelfe the victorie.

3 The Lorde declared his ſaluation: his righteouſneſſe hath he openly ſhewed in the ſight of the Heathen.

4 Hee hath remembred his mercie and trueth toward the houſe of Iſrael: and all the ends of the worlde haue ſeene the ſaluation of our God.

5 Shew your ſelues ioyful vnto the Lord all ye lands: ſing, reioyce, and giue thankes.

6 Praiſe the Lord vpon the harpe: ſing to the harpe with a Pſalme of thankeſgiuing.

7 With trumpets alſo and ſhawmes: O ſhewe your ſelues ioyfull before the Lorde the King.

8 Let the ſea make a noyſe, and all that therein is: the round worlde, and they that dwell therein.

9 Let the floods clap their hands, and let the hils be ioyfull together before the Lorde: for he is come to iudge the earth.

10 With righteouſneſſe ſhall he iudge the world: and the people with equitie.

Dominus regnauit. Pſal. 99.

THe Lorde is King, be the people neuer ſo vnpatient: hee ſitteth betweene the Cherubims, be the earth neuer ſo vnquiet.

2 The Lorde is great in Sion: and high aboue all people.

3 They ſhal giue thanks vnto thy name: which is great, wonderfull, and holy.

4 The Kings power loueth iudgement, thou haſt prepared equitie: thou haſt executed iudgement, and righteouſnes in Jacob.

5 O magnifie the Lord our God: and fall downe before his footeſtoole, for he is holy.

6 Moſes and Aaron among his prieſts, and Samuel among ſuch as call vpon his name: theſe called vpon the Lorde, and he heard them.

7 He ſpake vnto them out of the cloudie pillar: for they kept his teſtimonies, and the lawe that he gaue them.

8 Thou heardeſt them (O Lord our God:) thou forgaueſt them, O God, and puniſhedſt their owne inuentions.

9 O magnifie the Lorde our God, and worſhip him vpon his holy hill: for the Lord our God is holy.

Iubilate Deo. Pſal. 100.

OBe ioyfull in the Lorde all yee landes: ſerue the Lorde with gladneſſe, and come before his preſence with a ſong.

2 Be ye ſure that the Lorde hee is God, it is hee that hath made vs, and not wee our ſelues: wee are his people, and the ſheepe of his paſture.

3 O goe your way into his gates with thanks-thanksgiuing, & into his courts with praise: bee thankfull vnto him, and speake good of his name.

4 For the Lord is gracious, his mercie is euerlasting: and his trueth endureth from generation to generation.

Misericordiam & iudicium. Psal. 101.

MY song shalbe of mercy & iudgement: vnto thee, O Lord, will I sing.

2 O let mee haue vnderstanding: in the way of godlinesse.

3 When wilt thou come vnto mee: I will walke in my house with a perfite heart.

4 I will take no wicked thing in hand, I hate the sinnes of vnfaithfulnesse: there shall no such cleaue vnto me.

5 A froward heart shall depart from me: I will not know a wicked person.

6 Who so priuily slandereth his neighbour: him will I destroy.

7 Who so hath also a proude looke, & high stomache: I will not suffer him.

8 Mine eyes looke vnto such as be faithfull in the land: that they may dwel with me.

9 Who so leadeth a godly life: he shall be my seruant.

10 There shall no deceitfull person dwell in my house: he that telleth lies shall not tarie in my sight.

11 I shall soone destroy all the vngodly that are in the land: that I may roote out all wicked doers from the citie of the Lord.

Domine exaudi. Psal. 102.

Morning prayer.

HEare my prayer, O Lorde: and let my crying come vnto thee.

2 Hide not thy face from me in the time of my trouble: encline thine eares vnto mee when I call, O heare me, and that right soone.

3 For my dayes are consumed away like smoke: & my bones are burnt vp as it were a firebrand.

4 My heart is smitten downe, and withered like grasse: so that I forget to eate my bread.

5 For the voyce of my groning: my bones will scarce cleaue to my flesh.

6 I am become like a Pellicane in the wildernesse: and like an owle that is in the desart.

7 I haue watched, and am euen as it were a sparow: that sitteth alone vpon the house top.

8 Mine enemies reuile mee all the day long: and they that are mad vpon mee, are sworne together against me.

9 For I haue eatē ashes, as it were bread: and mingled my drinke with weeping.

10 And that because of thine indignation and wrath: for thou hast taken mee vp, and cast me downe.

11 My dayes are gone like a shadow: and I am withered like grasse.

12 But thou (O Lorde) shalt endure for euer: and thy remembrance throughout all generations.

13 Thou shalt arise and haue mercy vpon Sion: for it is time that thou haue mercy vpon her, yea, the time is come.

14 And why? thy seruants thinke vpon her stones: and it pitieth them to see her in the dust.

15 The Heathen shall feare thy name, O Lorde: and all the kings of the earth thy maiestie.

16 When the Lorde shall build vp Sion: and when his glory shall appeare.

17 When he turneth him vnto the prayer of the poore destitute: and despiseth not their desire.

18 This shall bee written for those that come after: and the people which shall bee borne, shall prayse the Lord.

19 For hee hath looked downe from his sanctuarie: out of the heauen did the Lord behold the earth.

20 That he might heare the mournings of such as bee in captiuitie: and deliuer the children appointed vnto death.

21 That they may declare the name of the Lorde in Sion: and his worship at Hierusalem.

22 When the people are gathered together: & the kingdomes also to serue the Lord.

23 He brought downe my strength in my iourney: and shortned my dayes.

24 But I said, O my God, take me not away in the middest of mine age: as for thy yeeres, they endure throughout all generations.

25 Thou Lord in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth: and the heauens are the worke of thy hands.

26 They shall perish, but thou shalt endure: they all shall waxe olde as doeth a garment.

27 And as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shalbe changed: but thou art the same, and thy yeeres shall not faile.

28 The children of thy seruants shal continue: and their seede shall stand fast in thy sight.

Benedic anima. Psal. 103.

PRayse the Lord, O my soule: and all that is within me, prayse his holy name.

2 Prayse the Lorde, O my soule: and forget not all his benefites.

3 Which forgiueth all thy sinne: and healeth all thine infirmities.

4 Which saueth thy life from destruction: and crowneth thee with mercy and louing kindnesse.

5 Which satisfieth thy mouth with good things: making thee young and lustie as an Eagle.

6 The Lord executeth righteousnes and iudgement: for all them that are oppressed with wrong.

7 Hee shewed his wayes vnto Moses:

his workes vnto the children of Israel.

8 The Lord is full of compassion and mercie: long suffering and of great goodnesse.

9 He will not alway be chiding: neither keepeth he his anger for euer.

10 Hee hath not delt with vs after our sinnes: nor rewarded vs according to our wickednesse.

11 For looke howe high the heauen is in comparison of the earth: so great is his mercy also toward them that feare him.

12 Looke how wide also the East is from the West: so farre hath he set our sinnes from vs.

13 Yea, like as a father pitieth his owne children: euen so is the Lorde mercifull vnto them that feare him.

14 For he knoweth whereof we be made: hee remembreth that we are but dust.

15 The dayes of man are but as grasse: for he flourisheth as a flower of the fielde.

16 For as soone as the winde goeth ouer it, it is gone: and the place thereof shall know it no more.

17 But the mercifull goodnes of the Lord endureth for euer and euer, vpon them that feare him: and his righteousnesse vpon childrens children.

18 Euen vpon such as keepe his couenant: and thinke vpon his commandements to doe them.

19 The Lorde hath prepared his seate in heauen: and his kingdome ruleth ouer all.

20 O praise the Lord, ye angels of his, yee that excell in strength: yee that fulfill his commandement, and hearken vnto the voice of his wordes.

21 O praise the Lord, all ye his hostes: ye seruants of his that doe his pleasure.

22 O speake good of the Lorde, all yee workes of his, in all places of his dominion: praise thou the Lord, O my soule.

Benedic anima mea. Psal. 104.

Euening prayer.

PRaise the Lorde, O my soule: O Lord my God, thou art become exceeding glorious, thou art clothed with maiestie and honour.

2 Thou deckest thy selfe with light as it were with a garment: and spreadest out the heauens like a curtaine.

3 Which layeth the beames of his chamber in the waters: and maketh the cloudes his charet, and walketh vpon the wings of the winde.

4 He maketh his angels spirits: and his ministers a flaming fire.

5 Hee laide the foundations of the earth: that it neuer should moue at any time.

6 Thou coueredst it with the deepe like as with a garment: the waters stand in the hils.

7 At thy rebuke they flee: at the voyce of thy thunder they are afraid.

8 They goe vp as high as the hils, and down to the valleys beneath: euen vnto the place which thou hast appointed for them.

9 Thou hast set them their bounds, which they shall not passe: neither turne againe to couer the earth.

10 He sendeth the springs into the riuers: which run among the hils.

11 All beasts of the fielde drinke thereof: and the wilde asses quench their thirst.

12 Beside them shall the foules of the aire haue their habitation: and sing among the branches.

13 He watereth the hils from aboue: the earth is filled with the fruit of thy workes.

14 Hee bringeth foorth grasse for the cattel: and greene herbe for the seruice of men.

15 That hee may bring foode out of the earth, and wine that maketh glad the heart of man: & oile to make him a cheerefull countenance, and bread to strength mans heart.

16 The trees of the Lord also are full of sappe: euen the Cedars of Libanus, which hee hath planted.

17 Wherein the birdes make their nests: and the firre trees are a dwelling for the Storke.

18 The high hils are a refuge for the wild goates: and so are the stonie rockes for the conies.

19 He appointed the Moone for certaine seasons: and the sunne knoweth his going downe.

20 Thou makest darkenesse, that it may be night: wherein all the beasts of the forest doe moue.

21 The lions roaring after their pray: do seeke their meate at God.

22 The sunne ariseth, and they get them away together: and lay them downe in their dennes.

23 Man goeth forth to his worke, and to his labour: vntill the euening.

24 O Lord, how manifold are thy workes: in wisedome hast thou made them all, the earth is full of thy riches.

25 So is the great and wide sea also: wherein are things creeping innumerable, both small and great beasts.

26 There go the shippes, and there is that Leuiathan: whome thou hast made to take his pastime therein.

27 These waite all vpon thee: that thou mayest giue them meate in due season.

28 When thou giuest it them, they gather it: and when thou openest thy hand, they are filled with good.

29 When thou hidest thy face, they are troubled: whē thou takest away their breath they die, and are turned againe to their dust.

30 When thou lettest thy breath go forth, they shalbe made: and thou shalt renew the face of the earth.

31 The glorious maiestie of the Lorde shall endure for euer: the Lorde shall reioyce in his workes.

32 The

32 The earth shall tremble at the looke of him: if he doe but touch the hils they shall smoke.

33 I will sing vnto the Lord as long as I liue: I wil praise my God, while I haue my being.

34 And so shall my words please him: my ioy shall be in the Lord.

35 As for sinners, they shall be consumed out of the earth, and the vngodly shall come to an end: praise thou the Lord, O my soule, praise the Lord.

Confitemini Domino. Psal. 105.

Morning prayer.

GIue thankes vnto the Lorde, and call vpon his name: tel the people what things hee hath done.

2 O let your songs be of him, and praise him: and let your talking bee of all his wonderous workes.

3 Reioyce in his holy name: let the heart of them reioyce that seeke the Lord.

4 Seeke the Lord and his strength: seeke his face euermore.

5 Remember the marueilous workes that he hath done: his wonders, and the iudgements of his mouth.

6 O yee seed of Abraham his seruant: yee children of Jacob his chosen.

7 He is the Lord our God: his iudgements are in all the world.

8 He hath bene alway mindfull of his couenant and promise: that he made to a thousand generations.

9 Euen the couenant that he made with Abraham: and the othe that hee sware vnto Isahac.

10 And appoynted the same vnto Jacob for a lawe: and to Israel for an euerlasting testament.

11 Saying, Vnto thee wil I giue the land of Chanaan: the lot of your inheritance.

12 When there were yet but a fewe of them: and they strangers in the land.

13 What time as they went from one nation to another: from one kingdome to another people.

14 He suffred no man to doe them wrong: but reproued euen kings for their sakes.

15 Touch not mine annoynted: and doe my Prophets no harme.

16 Moreouer, hee called for a dearth vpon the lande: and destroyed all the prouision of bread.

17 But hee had sent a man before them: euen Joseph which was sold to be a bond seruant.

18 Whose feet they hurt in the stocks: the iron entred into his soule.

19 Vntill the time came that his cause was knowen: the worde of the Lord tried him.

20 The king sent and deliuered him: the prince of the people let him goe free.

21 Hee made him Lord also of his house: and ruler of all his substance.

22 That he might enforme his princes after his will: & teach his Senators wisedom.

23 Israel also came into Egypt: and Jacob was a stranger in the land of Ham.

24 And he encreased his people exceedingly: and made them stronger then their enemies.

25 Whose heart turned, so that they hated his people: and dealt vntruely with his seruants.

26 Then sent he Moses his seruant: and Aaron whom he had chosen.

27 And these shewed his tokens among them: and wonders in the land of Ham.

28 Hee sent darkenesse, and it was darke: and they were not obedient vnto his word.

29 He turned their waters into blood: and slew their fish.

30 Their land brought forth frogs: yea, euen in their kings chambers.

31 He spake the word, and there came all maner of flies: and lice in all their quarters.

32 He gaue them haillstones for raine: and flames of fire in their land.

33 Hee smote their vines also and figge trees: & destroied the trees that were in their coasts.

34 Hee spake the word, & the grashoppers came, and caterpillers innumerable: and did eat vp all the grasse in their land, and deuoured the fruit of their ground.

35 He smote all the first borne in their land: euen the chiefe of all their strength.

36 He brought them forth also with siluer and gold: there was not one feeble person among their tribes.

37 Egypt was glad at their departing: for they were afraid of them.

38 He spread out a cloud to be a couering: and fire to giue light in the night season.

39 At their desire he brought quailes: and he filled them with the bread of heauen.

40 Hee opened the rocke of stone, and the waters flowed out: so that riuers ran in drie places.

41 For why? he remembred his holy promise: and Abraham his seruant.

42 And he brought forth his people with ioy: and his chosen with gladnesse.

43 And gaue them the lands of the Heathen: and they tooke the labors of the people in possession.

44 That they might keepe his statutes: and obserue his lawes.

Confitemini Domino. Psal. 106.

OGiue thankes vnto the Lorde, for hee is gracious: and his mercy endureth for euer. Euening prayer.

2 Who can expresse the noble acts of the Lord: or shew forth all his praise?

3 Blessed are they that alway keepe iudgeiudgement: and doe righteousnesse.

4 Remember me, O Lorde, according to the fauour that thou beerest vnto thy people: O visite me with thy saluation.

5 That I may see the felicitie of thy chosen: and reioyce in the gladnes of thy people, and giue thanks with thine inheritance.

6 We haue sinned with our fathers: wee haue done amisse, and dealt wickedly.

7 Our fathers regarded not thy wonders in Egypt, neither kept they thy great goodnesse in remembrance: but were disobedient at the sea, euen at the red sea.

8 Neuertheless, hee helped them for his names sake: that hee might make his power to be knowen.

9 He rebuked the red sea also, and it was dried vp: so he led them through the deepe, as through a wildernesse.

10 And hee saued them from the aduersaries hand: and deliuered them from the hand of the enemie.

11 As for those that troubled them, the waters ouerwhelmed them: there was not one of them left.

12 Then beleeued they his wordes: and sang praise vnto him.

13 But within a while they forgate his workes: and would not abide his counsell.

14 But lust came vpon them in the wildernesse: and they tempted God in the desert.

15 And hee gaue them their desire: and sent leannesse withall into their soule.

16 They angred Moses also in the tents: and Aaron the saint of the Lord.

17 So the earth opened, and swallowed vp Dathan: and couered the congregation of Abiram.

18 And the fire was kindled in their company: the flame burnt the vngodly.

19 They made a calfe in Horeb: and worshipped the molten image.

20 Thus they turned their glory: into the similitude of a calfe that eateth haie.

21 And they forgate God their sauiour: which had done so great things in Egypt.

22 Wonderous workes in the land of Ham: and fearefull things by the red sea.

23 So hee sayd hee would haue destroied them, had not Moses his chosen stand before him in the gappe: to turne away his wrathful indignation, least he should destroy them.

24 Yea, they thought scorne of that pleasant land: and gaue no credence vnto his word.

25 But murmured in their tentes: and hearkened not vnto the voyce of the Lord.

26 Then lift he vp his hand against them: to ouerthrow them in the wildernesse.

27 To cast out their seed among the nations: and to scatter them in the lands.

28 They ioyned themselues vnto Baal Peor: and ate the offerings of the dead.

29 Thus they prouoked him vnto anger with their owne inuentions: and the plague was great among them.

30 Then stoode vp Phinees, and prayed: and so the plague ceased.

31 And that was counted vnto him for righteousnes: among all posterities for euermore.

32 They angred him also at the waters of strife: so that he punished Moses for their sakes.

33 Because they prouoked his spirite: so that he spake vnaduisedly with his lips.

34 Neither destroied they the heathen: as the Lord commanded them.

35 But were mingled among the Heathen: and learned their workes.

36 Insomuch that they worshipped their idoles, which turned to their owne decay: yea, they offered their sonnes and daughters vnto deuils.

37 And shedde innocent blood, euen the blood of their sonnes, and of their daughters: whom they offered vnto the idols of Chanaan, and the land was defiled with blood.

38 Thus were they stayned with their owne workes: & went a whoring with their owne inuentions.

39 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people: insomuch that he abhorred his owne inheritance.

40 And he gaue them ouer into the hand of the heathen: & they that hated them were lordes ouer them.

41 Their enemies oppressed them: and had them in subiection.

42 Many a time did he deliuer them: but they rebelled against him with their own inuentions, and were brought downe in their wickednesse.

43 Neuertheless, when he sawe their aduersitie: he heard their complaint.

44 He thought vpon his couenaunt, and pitied them according vnto the multitude of his mercies: yea, hee made all those that had led them away captiue to pitie them.

45 Deliuer vs (O Lord our God) and gather vs from among the heathen: that wee may giue thankes vnto thy holy name, and make our boast of thy praise.

46 Blessed be ỹ Lord God of Israel, from euerlasting, and world without end: and let all the people say, Amen.

Confitemini Domino. Psal. 107.

Giue thanks vnto the Lord, for he is gracious: and his mercie endureth for euer. Morning prayer.

2 Let them giue thankes whom the Lord hath redeemed: and deliuered from the hand of the enemie.

3 And gathered them out of the landes, from the East and from the West: from the North and from the South.

4 They went astray in the wildernesse out of the way: and found no citie to dwel in.

5 Hungry and thirstie: their soule fainted in in them.

6 So they cryed vnto the Lorde in their trouble: and hee deliuered them from their distresse.

7 Hee led them forth by the right way: that they might goe to the citie where they dwelt.

8 O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodnesse: and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men.

9 For he satisfieth the emptie soule: and filleth the hungry soule with goodnesse.

10 Such as sit in darkenes and in the shadow of death: being fast bound in misery and iron.

11 Because they rebelled against ỹ words of the Lord: and lightly regarded the counsell of the most high.

12 Hee also brought downe their heart through heauinesse: they fell downe, & there was none to helpe them vp.

13 So when they cryed vnto the Lord in their trouble: he deliuered them out of their distresse.

14 For he brought them out of darknesse, and out of the shadowe of death: and brake their bonds in sunder.

15 O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodnesse: and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men.

16 For he hath broken the gates of brasse: and smitten the barres of iron in sunder.

17 Foolish men are plagued for their offence: and because of their wickednesse.

18 Their soule abhorred all maner of meat: & they were euen hard at deaths doore.

19 So when they cried vnto the Lord in their trouble: he deliuered them out of their distresse.

20 He sent his word and healed them: and they were saued from their destruction.

21 O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodnesse: and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men.

22 That they would offer vnto him the sacrifice of thankesgiuing: and tell out his works with gladnesse.

23 They that go downe to the sea in ships: and occupie their businesse in great waters.

24 These men see the workes of the Lord: and his wonders in the deepe.

25 For at his worde the stormie wind ariseth: which lifteth vp the waues thereof.

26 They are caried vp to the heauen, and downe againe to the deepe: their soule melteth away because of the trouble.

27 They reele to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man: and are at their wits end.

28 So when they cry vnto the Lorde in their trouble: he deliuereth them out of their distresse.

29 For hee maketh the storme to cease: so that the waues thereof are still.

30 Then are they glad, because they be at rest: and so he bringeth them vnto the hauen where they would be.

31 O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodnes: and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men.

32 That they would exalt him also in the congregation of the people: and praise him in the seate of the elders.

33 Which turneth the flouds into a wildernes: and drieth vp the water springs.

34 A fruitfull land maketh he barren: for the wickednes of them that dwell therein.

35 Againe hee maketh the wildernesse a standing water: and water springs of a dry ground.

36 And there he setteth the hungry: that they may build them a citie to dwell in.

37 That they may sowe their lande, and plant vineyards: to yeeld them fruits of increase.

38 He blesseth them, so that they multiplie exceedingly: and suffreth not their cattell to decrease.

39 And agayne, when they are minished & brought low: through oppression, through any plague or trouble.

40 Though he suffer them to be euill intreated through tyrants: and let them wander out of the way in the wildernesse.

41 Yet helpeth he the poore out of miserie: and maketh him householdes like a flocke of sheepe.

42 The righteous will consider this, and reioyce: and the mouth of all wickednes shal be stopped.

43 Who so is wise, wil ponder these things: and they shal vnderstand the louing kindnes of the Lord.

Paratum cor meum. Psal. 108.

O God, my heart is readie (my heart is ready:) I will sing and giue prayse with the best member that I haue. Euening prayer.

2 Awake thou lute & harpe: I my selfe will awake right early.

3 I will giue thanks vnto thee, O Lord, among the people: I will sing prayses vnto thee among the nations.

4 For thy mercie is greater then the heauens: and thy trueth reacheth vnto the clouds.

5 Set vp thy selfe (O God) aboue the heauens: and thy glory aboue all the earth.

6 That thy beloued may be deliuered: let thy right hand saue them, and heare thou me.

7 God hath spoken in his holinesse: I wil reioyce therefore and deuide Sichem, and mete out the valley of Sucoth.

8 Gilead is mine, and Manasses is mine: Ephraim also is the strength of my head.

9 Juda is my lawegiuer, Moab is my washpot: ouer Edom will I cast out my shoe, vpon the Philistines will I triumph.

10 Who will lead me into the strong citie: and who will bring me into Edom?

11 Hast

11 Hast not thou forsaken vs, O God: and wilt not thou God go forth with our hostes?

12 O helpe vs against the enemie: for vaine is the helpe of man.

13 Through God we shall doe great acts: and it is he that shall tread downe our enemies.

Deus laudem. Psal. 109.

HOlde not thy tongue, O God of my prayse: for the mouth of the vngodly, yea, and the mouth of the deceitfull is opened vpon me.

2 And they haue spoken against me with false tongues: they compassed mee about also with wordes of hatred, and fought agaynst me without a cause.

3 For the loue that I had vnto them, loe, they take now my contrary part: but I giue my selfe vnto prayer.

4 Thus haue they rewarded me euill for good: and hatred for my good will.

5 Set thou an vngodly man to bee ruler ouer him: and let Satan stand at his right hand.

6 When sentence is giuen vpon him, let him be condemned: and let his prayer be turned into sinne.

7 Let his dayes be fewe: and let another take his office.

8 Let his children be fatherlesse: and his wife a widow.

9 Let his children be vagabonds, and beg their bread: let them seeke it also out of desolate places.

10 Let the extortioner consume al that he hath: and let the stranger spoyle his labour.

11 Let there be no man to pitie him: nor to haue compassion vpon his fatherlesse children.

12 Let his posteritie be destroyed: and in the next generation let his name bee cleane put out.

13 Let the wickednes of his fathers be had in remembrance in the sight of the Lord: and let not the sinne of his mother be done away.

14 Let them alway bee before the Lorde: that he may roote out the memoriall of them from off the earth.

15 And that because his mind was not to doe good: but persecuted the poore helpelesse man, that he might slay him that was vexed at the heart.

16 His delight was in cursing, and it shal happen vnto him: hee loued not blessing, therefore shall it be farre from him.

17 He clothed himselfe with cursing like as with a rayment: and it shall come into his bowels like water, and like oyle into his bones.

18 Let it be vnto him as the cloke that he hath vpon him: and as the girdle that he is alway girded withall.

19 Let it thus happen from the Lord vnto mine enemies: and to those that speake euill against my soule.

20 But deale thou with me (O Lord God) according vnto thy name: for sweete is thy mercy.

21 O deliuer me, for I am helpelesse and poore: and my heart is wounded within me.

22 I go hence like the shadow that departeth: and am driuen away as the grashopper.

23 My knees are weake through fasting: my flesh is dried vp for want of fatnesse.

24 I became also a rebuke vnto them: they that looked vpon me, shaked their heads.

25 Helpe me (O Lord my God:) oh saue me according to thy mercy.

26 And they shall know how that this is thy hand: and that thou Lord hast done it.

27 Though they curse, yet blesse thou: and let them bee confounded that rise vp against me, but let thy seruant reioyce.

28 Let mine aduersaries be clothed with shame: and let them couer themselues with their owne confusion, as with a cloke.

29 As for me, I wil giue great thanks vnto the Lord with my mouth: and prayse him among the multitude.

30 For hee shall stand at the right hand of the poore: to saue his soule from vnrighteous iudges.

Dixit Dominus. Psal. 110.

THE Lord said vnto my Lorde: Sit thou on my right hand, vntil I make thine enemies thy footestoole. Morning prayer.

2 The Lord shal send the rod of thy power out of Sion: be thou ruler euen in the mids among thine enemies.

3 In the day of thy power shall the people offer thee free wil offrings with an holy worship: the dew of thy birth is of the wombe of the morning.

4 The Lord sware, and will not repent: thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech.

5 The Lorde vpon thy right hand: shall wound euen kings in the day of his wrath.

6 Hee shall iudge among the heathen, hee shall fill the places with the dead bodies: and smite in sunder the heads ouer diuers countries.

7 He shal drinke of the brooke in the way: therefore shall he lift vp his head.

Confitebor tibi. Psal. 111.

I will giue thankes vnto the Lord with my whole heart: secretly among the faythfull, and in the congregation.

2 The workes of the Lorde are great: sought out of all them that haue pleasure therein.

3 His worke is worthy to be praysed and had in honor: and his righteousnesse endureth for euer.

4 The mercifull and gracious Lord hath so done his marueilous workes: that they ought to be had in remembrance.

5 He

5 Hee hath giuen meate vnto them that feare him: hee shall euer bee mindfull of his couenant.

6 He hath shewed his people the power of his workes: that he may giue them the heritage of the Heathen.

7 The workes of his handes are verritie and iudgement: all his commaundements are true.

8 They stand fast for euer and euer: and are done in trueth and equitie.

9 He sent redemption vnto his people: he hath commanded his couenant for euer, holy and reuerent is his Name.

10 The feare of the Lord is the beginning of wisedome: a good vnderstanding haue all they that doe thereafter, the prayse of it endureth for euer.

Beatus vir. Psal. 112.

BLessed is the man that feareth the Lord: hee hath great delight in his commaundements.

2 His seede shalbe mighty vpon earth: the generation of the faithfull shalbe blessed.

3 Riches and plenteousnesse shall be in his house: and his righteousnesse endureth for euer.

4 Vnto the godly there ariseth vp light in the darkenesse: he is mercifull, louing, and righteous.

5 A good man is mercifull and lendeth: and will guide his wordes with discretion.

6 For hee shall neuer be moued: and the righteous shall be had in an euerlasting remembrance.

7 Hee will not be afrayde for any euill tidings: for his heart standeth fast and beleeueth in the Lord.

8 His heart is stablished and will not shrinke: vntill he see his desire vpon his enemies.

9 He hath dispersed abroade and giuen to the poore: and his righteousnesse remaineth for euer, his horne shall be exalted with honour.

10 The vngodly shall see it, and it shall grieue him: hee shall gnash with his teeth, and consume away, the desire of the vngodly shall perish.

Laudate pueri. Psal. 113.

PRaise the Lord (O ye seruants:) O praise the Name of the Lord.

2 Blessed bee the Name of the Lorde: from this time forth for euermore.

3 The Lordes name is praysed: from the rising vp of the Sunne, vnto the going downe of the same.

4 The Lorde is high aboue all Heathen: and his glory aboue the heauens.

5 Who is like vnto the Lorde our God, that hath his dwelling so high: and yet humbleth him selfe to behold the things that are in heauen and earth?

6 He taketh vp the simple out of the dust: and lifteth the poore out of the mire.

7 That he may set him with the princes: euen with the princes of his people.

8 He maketh the barren woman to keepe house: and to be a ioyfull mother of children.

In exitu Israel. Psal. 114.

WHen Israel came out of Egypt: and the house of Iacob from among the strange people. Euening prayer.

2 Iuda was his sanctuarie: and Israel his dominion.

3 The sea saw that, and fledde: Iordane was driuen backe.

4 The mountaines skipped like rammes: and the litle hilles like yong sheepe.

5 What ayleth thee, O thou sea, that thou fleddest: and thou Iordane, that thou wast driuen backe?

6 Yee mountaines that ye skipped like rammes: and ye litle hilles like yong sheepe?

7 Tremble thou earth at the presence of the Lord: at the presence of the God of Iacob.

8 Which turned the hard rocke into a standing water: and the flint stone into a springing well.

Non nobis Domine. Psal. 115.

NOt vnto vs, O Lord, not vnto vs, but vnto thy Name giue the prayse: for thy louing mercy, and for thy trueths sake.

2 Wherefore shal the Heathen say: Where is nowe their God?

3 As for our God, he is in heauen: he hath done whatsoeuer pleased him.

4 Their idoles are siluer and golde: euen the worke of mens hands.

5 They haue mouthes, and speake not: eyes haue they, and see not.

6 They haue eares, and heare not: noses haue they, and smell not.

7 They haue hands, and handle not, feete haue they, & walke not: neither speake they throwe their throte.

8 They that make them, are like vnto them: and so are all such as put their trust in them.

9 But thou house of Israel, trust thou in the Lord: he is their succour and defender.

10 Ye house of Aaron, put your trust in the Lord: he is their helper and defender.

11 Ye that feare the Lorde, put your trust in the Lord: he is their helper and defender.

12 The Lorde hath bene mindfull of vs, and he shall blesse vs: euen he shall blesse the house of Israel, hee shall blesse the house of Aaron.

13 Hee shall blesse them that feare the Lorde: both small and great.

14 The Lord shall encrease you more and more: you and your children.

15 Ye are the blessed of the Lorde: which made heauen and earth.

16 All the whole heauens are the Lords: the earth hath he giuen to the children of men.

17 The dead praise not thee, O Lord: neither all they that go downe into the silence.
18 But we wil praise the Lord: from this time forth for euermore. Prayse the Lord.

Dilexi quoniam. Psal. 116.

Morning prayer.

I Am well pleased: that the Lord hath heard the voyce of my prayer.
2 That hee hath inclined his eare vnto me: therefore wil I call vpon him as long as I liue.
3 The snares of death compassed mee round about: and the paines of hell gat holde vpon me.
4 I shal finde trouble and heauinesse, and I shall call vpon the Name of the Lorde: O Lord I beseech thee deliuer my soule.
5 Gracious is the Lorde and righteous: yea our God is mercifull.
6 The Lord preserueth the simple: I was in miserie, and he helped me.
7 Turne againe then vnto thy rest, O my soule: for the Lord hath rewarded me.
8 And why? thou hast deliuered my soule from death: mine eyes from teares, and my feete from falling.
9 I will walke before the Lorde: in the land of the liuing.
10 I beleeued, and therefore wil I speake, but I was sore troubled: I said in my haste, All men are lyars.
11 What rewarde shall I giue vnto the Lord: for all the benefites that he hath done vnto me?
21 I wil receiue the cup of saluation: and call vpon the Name of the Lord.
13 I will pay my vowes nowe in the presence of all his people: right deare in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints.
14 Beholde (O Lord) how that I am thy seruant: I am thy seruant, and the sonne of thine handmayd, thou hast broken my bones in sunder.
15 I wil offer to thee ỹ sacrifice of thanks giuing: and will call vpon the Name of the Lorde.
16 I will pay my vowes vnto the Lorde, in the sight of all his people: in the courts of the Lords house, euen in the middes of thee, O Hierusalem. Prayse the Lord.

Laudate Dominum. Psal. 117.

O Prayse the Lord all ye Heathen: prayse him all ye nations.
2 For his mercifull kindnesse is euer more and more toward vs: and the trueth of the Lord endureth for euer. Prayse the Lorde.

Confitemini Domino. Psal. 118.

O Giue thankes vnto the Lorde, for he is gracious: because his mercy endureth for euer.
2 Let Israel nowe confesse, that hee is gracious: and that his mercy endureth for euer.
3 Let the house of Aaron nowe confesse: that his mercy endureth for euer.
4 Yea, let them now that feare the Lorde confesse: that his mercy endureth for euer.
5 I called vpon the Lord in trouble: and the Lord heard me at large.
6 The Lord is on my side: I will not feare what man doeth vnto me.
7 The Lorde taketh my part with them that helpe me: therefore shall I see my desire vpon mine enemies.
8 It is better to trust in the Lord: then to put any confidence in man.
9 It is better trust in the Lorde: then to put any confidence in princes.
10 All nations compassed mee round about: but in the Name of the Lord wil I destroy them.
11 They kept mee in on euery side, they kept me in (I say) on euery side: but in the name of the Lord will I destroy them.
12 They came about me like Bees, and are extinct euen as ỹ fire among the thornes: for in the Name of the Lorde will I destroy them.
13 Thou hast thrust sore at mee, that I might fall: but the Lord was my helpe.
14 The Lord is my strength and my song: and is become my saluation.
15 The voyce of ioy and health is in the dwellings of the righteous: the right hand of the Lorde bringeth mightie thinges to passe.
16 The right hand of the Lorde hath the preeminence: the right hand of the Lorde bringeth mightie things to passe.
17 I will not die, but liue: and declare the workes of the Lord.
18 The Lorde hath chastened and corrected me: but he hath not giuen me ouer vnto death.
19 Open me the gates of righteousnesse: that I may goe into them, and giue thankes vnto the Lord.
20 This is the gate of the Lord: the righteous shall enter into it.
21 I wil thanke thee, for thou hast heard me: and art become my saluation.
22 The same stone which the builders refused: is become the head stone in the corner.
23 This is the Lordes doing: & it is marueilous in our eyes.
24 This is the day which the Lorde hath made: we will reioyce and be glad in it.
25 Helpe me now, O Lord: O Lord send vs nowe prosperitie.
26 Blessed be hee that commeth in the name of the Lord: we haue wished you good lucke, ye that be of the house of the Lord.
27 God is the Lorde which hath shewed vs light: binde the sacrifice with cordes, yea euen vnto the hornes of the altar.
28 Thou art my God, and I will thanke thee: thou art my God, and I wil praise thee.

29 O

29 O giue thanks vnto the Lord, for he is gracious: and his mercie endureth for euer.

Beati immaculati. Psal. 119.

Evening prayer.

BLessed are those that are vndefiled in the way: and walke in the Lawe of the Lord.

2 Blessed are they that keepe his testimonies: and seeke him with their whole heart.

3 For they which doe no wickednesse: walke in his wayes.

4 Thou hast charged: that we shall diligently keepe thy commandements.

5 O that my wayes were made so direct: that I might keepe thy statutes.

3 Thy wordes haue I hidde within mine heart: that I should not sinne against thee.

4 Blessed art thou, O Lord: O teach mee thy statutes.

5 With my lippes haue I bene telling: of all the iudgements of thy mouth.

6 I haue had as great delight in the way of thy testimonies: as in all maner of riches.

7 I will talke of thy commaundements: and haue respect vnto thy wayes.

8 My delight shalbe in thy statutes: and I will not forget thy word.

Retribue seruo tuo.

O Doe wel vnto thy seruant: that I may liue, and keepe thy word.

2 Open thou mine eyes: that I may see the wonderous thinges of thy Lawe.

3 I am a stranger vpon earth: O hide not thy commandements from me.

4 My soule breaketh out for the very feruent desire: that it hath alway vnto thy iudgements.

5 Thou hast rebuked the proude: and cursed are they that doe erre from thy commandements.

6 O turne from me shame and rebuke: for I haue kept thy testimonies.

7 Princes also did sit and speake against mee: but thy seruant is occupied in thy statutes.

8 For thy testimonies are my delight: and my counsellers.

Adhæsit pauimento.

MY soule cleaueth to the dust: O quicken thou me according to thy word.

2 I haue knowledged my wayes, and thou heardest mee: O teache mee thy statutes.

3 Make me to vnderstand the way of thy commandements: and so shall I talke of thy wonderous workes.

4 My soule melteth away for very heauinesse: comfort thou mee according vnto thy worde.

5 Take from mee the way of lying: and cause thou me to make much of thy Lawe.

6 I haue chosen the way of trueth: and thy iudgements haue I layde before me.

7 I haue sticken vnto thy testimonies: O Lord confound me not.

8 I wil runne the way of thy commandements: when thou hast set my heart at libertie.

Legem pone.

TEach me, O Lorde, the way of thy statutes: and I shall keepe it vnto the ende. Morning prayer.

2 Giue me vnderstanding, and I shal keepe thy lawe: yea, I shall keepe it with my whole heart.

3 Make me to goe in the path of thy commandements: for therein is my desire.

4 Encline my heart vnto thy testimonies: and not to couetousnesse.

5 O turne away mine eyes, least they behold vanitie: & quicken thou me in thy way.

6 O stablish thy word in thy seruant: that I may feare thee.

7 Take away the rebuke that I am afraide of: for thy iudgements are good.

8 Beholde, my delight is in thy commandements: O quicken mee in thy righteousnesse.

Et veniat super me.

LEt thy louing mercie come also vnto me, O Lorde: euen thy saluation, according vnto thy word.

2 So shall I make answere vnto my blasphemers: for my trust is in thy word.

3 O take not the worde of thy trueth vtterly out of my mouth: for my hope is in thy iudgements.

4 So shall I alway keepe thy Lawe: yea, for euer and euer.

5 And I wil walke at libertie: for I seeke thy commandements.

6 I will speake of thy testimonies also, euen before Kings: and will not be ashamed.

7 And my delight shalbe in thy commandements: which I haue loued.

8 My handes also will I lift vp vnto thy commandements, which I haue loued: and my studie shalbe in thy statutes.

Memor esto verbi tui.

OThinke vpon thy seruant, as concerning thy word: wherein thou hast caused me to put my trust.

2 The same is my comfort in my trouble: for thy word hath quickened me.

3 The proude haue had mee exceedingly in derision: yet haue I not shrinked from thy Lawe.

4 For I remembred thine euerlasting iudgements, O Lord: and receiued comfort.

5 I am horribly afraide: for the vngodly that forsake thy Lawe.

6 Thy statutes haue bene my songs: in the house of my pilgrimage.

7 I haue thought vpon thy Name, O Lord, in the night season: and haue kept thy Lawe.

8 This I had: because I kept thy commandements.

Portio mea Domine.

THou art my portion, O Lorde: I haue promised to keepe thy Lawe.

2 I made my humble petition in thy presence with my whole heart: O bee mercifull vnto me according vnto thy word.

3 I called mine owne wayes to remembrance: and turned my feete vnto thy testimonies.

4 I made haste, and prolonged not the time: to keepe thy commandements.

5 The congregation of the vngodly haue robbed me: but I haue not forgotten thy law.

6 At midnight I wil rise to giue thankes vnto thee: because of thy righteous iudgements.

7 I am a companion of al them that feare thee: and keepe thy commandements.

8 The earth, O Lord, is full of thy mercy: O teach me thy statutes.

Bonitatem fecisti.

O Lorde, thou hast dealt graciously with thy seruant, according vnto thy word.

2 O learne me true vnderstanding and knowledge: for I haue beleeued thy commandements.

3 Before I was troubled, I went wrong: but now haue I kept thy word.

4 Thou art good and gracious: O teache me thy statutes.

5 The proud haue imagined a lye against me: but I will keepe thy commaundements with my whole heart.

6 Their heart is as fatte as brawne: but my delight hath bene in thy Lawe.

7 It is good for mee that I haue bene in trouble: that I may learne thy statutes.

8 The Lawe of thy mouth is dearer vnto me: then thousands of golde and siluer.

Manus tuæ fecerunt me.

Euening prayer.

THy handes haue made me, and fashioned mee: O giue mee vnderstanding, that I may learne thy commandements.

2 They that feare thee, will be glad when they see mee: because I haue put my trust in thy word.

3 I know, O Lord, that thy iudgements are right: and that thou of very faithfulnesse hast caused me to be troubled.

4 O let thy mercifull kindenesse bee my comfort: according as thy worde vnto thy seruant.

5 O let thy louing mercies come vnto mee, that I may liue: for thy Lawe is my delight.

6 Let the proude bee confounded, for they goe wickedly about to destroy me: but I will be occupied in thy commaundements.

7 Let such as feare thee, and haue known thy testimonies: be turned vnto me.

8 O let my heart be sound in thy statutes: that I be not ashamed.

Defecit anima mea.

MY soule hath longed for thy saluation: and I haue a good hope because of thy worde.

2 Mine eyes long sore for thy word: saying, O when wilt thou comfort me?

3 For I am become like a bottell in the smoke: yet doe I not forget thy statutes.

4 Howe many are the dayes of thy seruant: when wilt thou bee auenged of them that persecute me?

5 The proude haue digged pits for mee: which are not after thy Lawe.

6 All thy commandements are true: they persecute me falsly, O be thou my helpe.

7 They had almost made an ende of mee vpon earth: but I forsooke not thy commandements.

8 O quicken mee after thy louing kindenesse: and so shall I keepe the testimonies of thy mouth.

In æternum Domine.

O Lord, thy worde: endureth for euer in heauen.

2 Thy trueth also remaineth from one generation to another: thou hast laid the foundation of the earth, & it abideth.

3 They continue this day according to thine ordinance: for all things serue thee.

4 If my delight had not bene in thy Law: I should haue perished in my trouble.

5 I wil neuer forget thy cõmandements: for with them thou hast quickened me.

6 I am thine, Oh saue mee: for I haue sought thy commandements.

7 The vngodly layde waite for mee to destroy me: but I wil consider thy testimonies.

8 I see that all thinges come to an ende: but thy commandement is exceeding broade.

Quomodo dilexi.

LOrd, what loue haue I vnto thy Lawe: all the day long is my studie in it.

2 Thou through thy commaundements hast made mee wiser then mine enemies: for they are euer with me.

3 I haue more vnderstanding then my teachers: for thy testimonies are my studie.

4 I am

4 I am wiser then the aged: because I keepe thy commandements.

5 I haue refrained my feete from euery euill way: that I may keepe thy word.

6 I haue not shrunke from thy iudgements: for thou teachest me.

7 O howe sweete are thy wordes vnto my throte: yea, sweeter then honie vnto my mouth.

8 Through thy commaundements I get vnderstanding: therefore I hate all wicked wayes.

Lucerna pedibus meis.

Morning prayer.

THy worde is a lanterne vnto my feete: and a light vnto my pathes.

2 I haue sworne, and am stedfastly purposed: to keepe thy righteous iudgements.

3 I am troubled aboue measure: quicken me (O Lord) according to thy word.

4 Let the free will offrings of my mouth please thee, O Lord: and teach me thy iudgements.

5 My soule is alway in my hande: yet do I not forget thy Lawe.

6 The vngodly haue layd a snare for mee: but yet I swarued not from thy commandements.

7 Thy testimonies haue I claymed as mine heritage for euer: and why? they are the very ioy of my heart.

8 I haue applyed my heart to fulfill thy statutes alway: euen vnto the ende.

Iniquos odio habui.

I Hate them that imagine euill things: but thy Lawe doe I loue.

2 Thou art my defence and shielde: and my trust is in thy word.

3 Away from me ye wicked: I will keepe the commandements of my God.

4 O stablish me according vnto thy word, that I may liue: and let me not be disappointed of my hope.

5 Holde thou mee vp, and I shall be safe: yea, my delight shall be euer in thy statutes.

6 Thou hast troden downe all them that depart from thy statutes: for they imagine but deceite.

7 Thou puttest away all the vngodly of the earth like drosse: therefore I loue thy testimonies.

8 My flesh trembleth for feare of thee: and I am afraide of thy iudgements.

Feci iudicium.

I Deale with the thing that is lawfull and right: O giue mee not ouer vnto mine oppressours.

2 Make thou thy seruant to delight in that which is good: that the proude doe mee no wrong.

3 Mine eyes are wasted away with looking for thy health: and for the worde of thy righteousnesse.

4 O deale with thy seruant according vnto thy louing mercie: and teache mee thy statutes.

5 I am thy seruant, O graunt me vnderstanding: that I may know thy testimonies.

6 It is time for thee Lorde to lay to thine hand: for they haue destroyed thy Lawe.

7 For I loue thy commandements: aboue golde and precious stone.

8 Therefore holde I straite all thy commaundements: and all false wayes I vtterly abhorre.

Mirabilia.

THy testimonies are wonderfull: therefore doeth my soule keepe them.

2 When thy worde goeth forth: it giueth light and vnderstanding vnto the simple.

3 I opened my mouth, and drewe in my breath: for my delight was in thy commandements.

4 O looke thou vpon me, and be mercifull vnto me: as thou vsest to doe vnto those that loue thy Name.

5 Order my steppes in thy worde, and so shall no wickednesse haue dominion ouer mee.

6 O deliuer mee from the wrongfull dealings of men: and so shall I keepe thy commandements.

7 Shew the light of thy countenance vpon thy seruant: and teach me thy statutes.

8 Mine eyes gush out with water: because men keepe not thy Lawe.

Iustus es Domine.

RIghteous art thou, O Lorde: and true is thy iudgement.

2 The testimonies that thou hast commaunded: are exceeding righteous and true.

3 My zeale hath euen consumed mee: because mine enemies haue forgotten thy wordes.

4 Thy word is tried to the vttermost: and thy seruant loueth it.

5 I am small, and of no reputation: yet doe I not forget thy commandements.

6 Thy righteousnesse is an euerlasting righteousnesse: and thy Lawe is the trueth.

7 Trouble and heauinesse haue taken holde vpon me: yet is my delight in thy commandements.

8 The righteousnesse of thy testimonies is euerlasting: O grant mee vnderstanding, and I shall liue.

Clamaui in toto corde meo.

Euening prayer.

I Call with my whole heart: heare me, O Lord, I will keepe thy statutes.

2 Yea, euen vpon thee doe I call: helpe me, and I shall keepe thy testimonies.

3 Earely in the morning doe I crie vnto thee: for in thy worde is my trust.

4 Mine eyes preuent the night watches: that I might be occupted in thy wordes.

5 Heare my voyce, (O Lorde) according vnto thy louing kindenesse: quicken mee according as thou art wont.

6 They drawe nigh that of malice persecute me: and are farre from thy Lawe.

7 Be thou nigh at hand, O Lorde: for all thy commandements are true.

8 As concerning thy testimonies, I haue knowen long since: that thou hast grounded them for euer.

Vide humilitatem.

O Consider mine aduersitie, and deliuer me: for I doe not forget thy Lawe.

2 Auenge thou my cause and deliuer me: quicken me according vnto thy worde.

3 Health is farre from the vngodly: for they regarde not thy statutes.

4 Great is thy mercie, O Lorde: quicken me as thou art wont.

5 Many there are that trouble mee, and persecute mee: yet do I not swarue from thy testimonies.

6 It grieueth mee when I see the transgressours: because they keepe not thy Lawe.

7 Consider, O Lord, how I loue thy commaundements: O quicken mee according to thy louing kindenesse.

8 Thy word is true from euerlasting: all the iudgements of thy righteousnesse endure for euermore.

Principes persecuti sunt.

PRinces haue persecuted mee without a cause: but my heart standeth in awe of thy wordes.

2 I am as glad of thy worde: as one that findeth great spoyles.

3 As for lyes, I hate and abhorre them: but thy Lawe doe I loue.

4 Seuen times a day do I praise thee: because of thy righteous iudgements.

5 Great is the peace that they haue which loue thy law: and they are not offended at it.

6 Lorde, I haue looked for thy sauing health: and done after thy commandements.

7 My soule hath kept thy testimonies: and loued them exceedingly.

8 I haue kept thy commandements and testimonies: for all my wayes are before thee.

Appropinquet deprecatio.

LEt my complaint come before thee, O Lord: giue me vnderstanding according to thy worde.

2 Let my supplication come before thee: deliuer me according to thy word.

3 My lippes shall speake of thy prayse: when thou hast taught me thy statutes.

4 Yea, my tongue shall sing of thy worde: for all thy commandements are righteous.

5 Let thine hande helpe mee: for I haue chosen thy commandements.

6 I haue longed for thy sauing health, O Lord: and in thy Lawe is my delight.

7 Oh let my soule liue, and it shall praise thee: and thy iudgements shall helpe me.

8 I haue gone astraye like a sheepe that is lost: Oh seeke thy seruant, for I doe not forget thy commandements.

Ad Dominum. Psal. 120.

VVHen I was in trouble, I called vpon the Lorde: and hee heard me. Morning prayer.

2 Deliuer my soule, O Lorde, from lying lippes: and from a deceitfull tongue.

3 What reward shalbe giuen or done vnto thee thou false tongue: euen mightie and sharpe arrowes, with hote burning coles.

4 Woe is mee, that I am constrained to dwell with Mesech: and to haue mine habitation among the tentes of Cedar.

5 My soule hath long dwelt among them: that be enemies vnto peace.

6 I labour for peace, but when I speake vnto them thereof: they make them readie to battell.

Leuaui oculos. Psal. 121.

I will lift vp mine eyes vnto the hilles: from whence commeth my helpe.

2 My helpe commeth euen from the Lord: which hath made heauen and earth.

3 Hee will not suffer thy foote to be moued: and he that keepeth thee, will not sleepe.

4 Beholde, hee that keepeth Israel: shall neither slumber nor sleepe.

5 The Lorde himselfe is thy keeper: the Lord is thy defence vpon thy right hand.

6 So that the Sunne shall not burne thee by day: neither the Moone by night.

7 The Lorde shall preserue thee from all euill: yea, it is euen hee that shall keepe thy soule.

8 The Lorde shall preserue thy going out and thy comming in: from this time foorth for euermore.

Lætatus sum. Psal. 122.

I was glad when they saide vnto mee: We will goe into the house of the Lord.

2 Our feete shall stand in thy gates: O Hierusalem.

3 Hierusalem is builded as a citie: that is at vnitie in it selfe.

4 For thither the tribes goe vp, euen the tribes of the Lorde: to testifie vnto Israel, to giue thankes vnto the Name of the Lord.

5 For there is the seate of iudgement: euen the seate of the house of Dauid.

6 O pray for the peace of Hierusalem: they shall prosper that loue thee.

7 Peace be within thy walles: and plenteousnesse within thy palaces.

8 For

8 For my brethren & companions ſakes: I will wiſh thee proſperitie.

9 Yea, becauſe of the houſe of the Lorde our God: I will ſeeke to doe the good.

Ad te leuaui oculos meos. Pſal. 123.

VNto thee lift I vp mine eyes: O thou that dwelleſt in the heauens.

2 Beholde, euen as the eyes of ſeruants looke vnto the hand of their maſters, and as the eyes of a mayden vnto the hand of her miſtres: euen ſo our eyes waite vpon the Lorde our God, vntill he haue mercie vpon vs.

3 Haue mercie vpon vs, O Lorde, haue mercie vpon vs: for we are vtterly deſpiſed.

4 Our ſoule is filled with the ſcornefull reproofe of the wealthie: and with the deſpitefulneſſe of the proude.

Niſi quia Dominus. Pſal. 124.

IF the Lorde himſelfe had not bene on our ſide (nowe may Iſrael ſay:) if the Lorde himſelfe had not beene on our ſide when men roſe vp againſt vs.

2 They had ſwallowed vs vp quicke: when they were ſo wrathfully diſpleaſed at vs.

3 Yea, the waters had drowned vs: and the ſtreame had gone ouer our ſoule.

4 The deepe waters of the proude: had gone euen ouer our ſoule.

5 But praiſed be the Lorde: which hath not giuen vs ouer for a pray vnto their teeth.

6 Our ſoule is eſcaped, euen as a bird out of the ſnare of the fouler: the ſnare is broken, and we are deliuered.

7 Our helpe ſtandeth in the name of the Lorde: which hath made heauen and earth.

Qui confidunt. Pſal. 125.

THey that put their truſt in the Lorde, ſhalbe euen as the mount Sion: which may not be remooued, but ſtandeth faſt for euer.

2 The hilles ſtande about Hieruſalem: euen ſo ſtandeth the Lord rounde about his people, from this time foorth for euermore.

3 For the rodde of the vngodly commeth not into the lotte of the righteous: leaſt the righteous put their hande vnto wickednelle.

4 Doe well, O Lorde: vnto thoſe that be good and true of heart.

5 As for ſuch as turne backe vnto their owne wickednelle: the Lorde ſhall leade them foorth with the euill doers, but peace ſhall be vpon Iſrael.

In conuertendo. Pſal. 126.

Euening prayer.

WHen the Lorde turned againe the captiuitie of Sion: then were wee like vnto them that dreame.

2 Then was our mouth filled with laughter: and our tongue with ioy.

3 Then ſaide they among the heathen: The Lorde hath done great things for them.

4 Yea, the Lorde hath done great things for vs already: whereof we reioyce.

5 Turne our captiuitie, O Lord: as the riuers in the South.

6 They that ſowe in teares: ſhall reape in ioy.

7 He that nowe goeth on his way weeping, and beareth foorth good ſeede: ſhall doubtleſſe come againe with ioy, and bring his ſheaues with him.

Niſi Dominus. Pſal. 127.

EXcept the Lorde builde the houſe: their labour is but loſt that build it.

2 Except the Lorde keepe the citie: the watchman waketh but in vaine.

3 It is but loſt labour that ye haſte to riſe vpearely, and ſo late take reſt, and eate the bread of carefulneſſe: for ſo he giueth his beloued ſleepe.

4 Loe, children and the fruite of the wombe: are an heritage and gift that commeth of the Lord.

5 Like as the arrowes in the hand of the Gyant: euen ſo are the yong children.

6 Happie is the man that hath his quiuer full of them: they ſhall not be aſhamed when they ſpeake with their enemies in the gate.

Beati omnes. Pſal. 128.

BLeſſed are all they that feare the Lorde: and walke in his wayes.

2 For thou ſhalt eate the labours of thine handes: O well is thee, and happie ſhalt thou be.

3 Thy wife ſhall be as the fruitfull vine: vpon the walles of thine houſe.

4 Thy children like the Oliue branches: round about thy table.

5 Loe, thus ſhall the man be bleſſed: that feareth the Lord.

6 The Lorde from out of Sion ſhall ſo bleſſe thee: that thou ſhalt ſee Hieruſalem in proſperitie all thy life long.

7 Yea, that thou ſhalt ſee thy childrens children: and peace vpon Iſrael.

Sepe expugnauerunt. Pſal. 129.

MAny a time haue they fought againſt me from my youth vp: (may Iſrael nowe ſay.)

2 Yea, many a time haue they vexed me from my youth vp: but they haue not preuailed againſt me.

3 The plowers plowed vpon my backe: and made long furrowes.

4 But the righteous Lorde: hath hewen the ſnares of the vngodly in pieces.

5 Let them bee confounded and turned backewarde: as many as haue euill will at Sion.

6 Let them be euen as the graſſe growing vpon the houſe toppes: which withereth afore it be plucked vp.

7 Whereof

7 Whereof the mower filleth not his hande: neither hee that bindeth vp the sheaues, his bosome.

8 So that they which goe by, say not so much as the Lorde prosper you: we wish you good lucke in the name of the Lord.

De profundis. Psal. 130.

OVt of the deepe haue I called vnto thee (O Lorde:) Lord heare my voyce.

2 Oh let thine eares consider well: the voyce of my complaint.

3 If thou Lord wilt be extreme to marke what is done amisse: oh Lorde, who may abide it?

4 For there is mercie with thee: therefore shalt thou be feared.

5 I looke for the Lorde, my soule doeth waite for him: in his word is my trust.

6 My soule fleeth vnto the Lorde: before the morning watch, I say, before the morning watch.

7 O Israel trust in the Lord, for with the Lord there is mercie: and with him is plenteous redemption.

8 And hee shall redeeme Israel: from all his sinnes.

Domine, non est. Psal. 131.

LOrde, I am not high minded: I haue no proude lookes.

2 I doe not exercise my selfe in great matters: which are too high for me.

3 But I refraine my soule, and keepe it lowe, like as a child that is weaned from his mother: yea, my soule is euen as a weaned childe.

4 O Israel trust in the Lorde: from this time foorth for euermore.

Memento Domine. Psal. 132.

Morning prayer.

LOrde remember Dauid: and all his trouble.

2 Howe he sware vnto the Lorde: and vowed a vowe vnto the almightie God of Jacob.

3 I will not come within the tabernacle of my house: nor clime vp into my bed.

4 I will not suffer mine eyes to sleepe, nor mine eye liddes to slumber: neither the temples of my head to take any rest.

5 Untill I finde out a place for the temple of the Lorde: an habitation for the mightie God of Jacob.

6 Loe, we heard of the same at Ephrata: and found it in the wood.

7 Wee will goe into his tabernacle: and fall lowe on our knees before his footestoole.

8 Arise, O Lorde, into thy resting place: thou and the arke of thy strength.

9 Let thy Priestes be clothed with righteousnesse: and let thy saintes sing with ioyfulnesse.

10 For thy seruaunt Dauids sake: turne not away the presence of thine anointed.

11 The Lorde hath made a faithfull othe vnto Dauid: and he shall not shrinke from it.

12 Of the fruite of thy body: shall I set vpon thy seate.

13 If thy children will keepe my couenant and my testimonies that I shall learne them: their children also shall sitte vpon thy seate for euermore.

14 For the Lorde hath chosen Sion to be an habitation for himselfe: hee hath longed for her.

15 This shalbe my rest for euer: here will I dwell, for I haue a delight therein.

16 I wil blesse her vitailes with increase: and will satisfie her poore with bread.

17 I will decke her Priestes with health: and her saintes shall reioyce and sing.

18 There shall I make the horne of Dauid to florish: I haue ordeined a lanterne for mine anointed.

19 As for his enemies, I shal clothe them with shame: but vpon him selfe shall his crowne florish.

Ecce quam bonum. Psal. 133.

BEholde howe good and ioyfull a thing it is: brethren to dwell together in vnitie.

2 It is like the precious oyntment vpon the head, that ranne downe vnto the beard: euen vnto Aarons beard, and went downe to the skirts of his clothing.

3 Like as the dewe of Hermon: which fell vpon the hill of Sion.

4 For there the Lorde promised his blessing: and life for euermore.

Ecce nunc. Psal. 134.

BEholde (nowe) praise the Lorde: all yee seruants of the Lord.

2 Ye that by night stand in the house of the Lorde: euen in the courtes of the house of our God.

3 Lift vp your handes in the sanctuarie: and praise the Lord.

4 The Lord that made heauen and earth: giue thee blessing out of Sion.

Laudate nomen. Psal. 135.

OPraise the Lorde, laude ye the name of the Lorde: praise it, O ye seruaunts of the Lorde.

2 Ye that stand in the house of the Lord: in the courts of the house of our God.

3 O praise the Lorde, for the Lord is gracious: O sing prayses vnto his name, for it is louely.

4 For why? the Lorde hath chosen Jacob vnto himselfe: and Israel for his owne possession.

5 For I knowe that the Lorde is great: and that our Lord is aboue all gods.

6 Whatsoeuer the Lorde pleased, that did he in heauen and in earth: and in the sea, and in all deepe places.

7 He bringeth forth the cloudes from the ends endes of the worlde: and sendeth forth lightnings with the raine, bringing the windes out of his treasures.

8 He smote the first borne of Egypt: both of man and beast.

9 He hath sent tokens and wonders into the middest of thee, O thou lande of Egypt: vpon Pharao and all his seruants.

10 Hee smote diuers nations: and slewe mightie kings.

11 Sehon king of the Amorites, and Og the king of Basan: and all the kingdomes of Chanaan.

12 And gaue their land to be an heritage: euen an heritage vnto Israel his people.

13 Thy name, O Lord, endureth for euer: so doeth thy memoriall, O Lorde, from one generation to another.

14 For the Lorde will auenge his people: and be gracious vnto his seruants.

15 As for the images of the heathen, they are but siluer and golde: the worke of mens handes.

16 They haue mouthes, and speake not: eyes haue they, but they see not.

17 They haue eares, and yet they heare not: neither is there any breath in their mouthes.

18 They that make them, are like vnto them: and so are all they that put their trust in them.

19 Praise the Lorde ye house of Israel: praise the Lord ye house of Aaron.

20 Praise the Lorde ye house of Leui: ye that feare the Lord, praise the Lord.

21 Praised be he the Lord out of Sion: which dwelleth at Hierusalem.

Confitemini. Psal. 136.

Euening prayer.

O Giue thankes vnto the Lord, for hee is gracious: & his mercie endureth for euer.

2 O giue thankes vnto the God of all gods: for his mercie endureth for euer.

3 O thanke the Lord of all lordes: for his mercie endureth for euer.

4 Which onely doeth great wonders: for his mercie endureth for euer.

5 Which by his excellent wisedome made the heauēs: for his mercy endureth for euer.

6 Which laid out the earth aboue the waters: for his mercie endureth for euer.

7 Which hath made great lightes: for his mercie endureth for euer.

8 The Sunne to rule the day: for his mercie endureth for euer.

9 The Moone & the Starres to gouerne the night: for his mercie endureth for euer.

10 Which smote Egypt with their first borne: for his mercie endureth for euer.

11 And brought out Israel from among them: for his mercie endureth for euer.

12 With a mightie hand, and stretched out arme: for his mercie endureth for euer.

13 Which deuided the red sea in two partes: for his mercie endureth for euer.

14 And made Israel to goe thorowe the middest of it: for his mercy endureth for euer.

15 But as for Pharao and his hoste, hee ouerthrewe them in the red sea: for his mercie endureth for euer.

16 Which led his people thorowe the wildernesse: for his mercie endureth for euer.

17 Which smote great kings: for his mercie endureth for euer.

18 Yea, and slewe mightie kings: for his mercie endureth for euer.

19 Sehon king of the Amorites: for his mercie endureth for euer.

20 And Og the king of Basan: for his mercie endureth for euer.

21 And gaue away their land for an heritage: for his mercie endureth for euer.

22 Euen for an heritage vnto Israel his seruant: for his mercie endureth for euer.

23 Which remembred vs when wee were in trouble: for his mercie endureth for euer.

24 And hath deliuered vs from our enemies: for his mercie endureth for euer.

25 Which giueth foode to all flesh: for his mercie endureth for euer.

26 O giue thankes vnto the God of heauen: for his mercie endureth for euer.

27 O giue thankes vnto the Lord of lordes: for his mercie endureth for euer.

Super flumina. Psal. 137.

BY the waters of Babylon we sate downe and wept: when we remembred (thee) O Sion.

2 As for our harpes, we hanged them vp: vpon the trees that are therein.

3 For they that led vs away captiue, required of vs then a song and melodie in our heauinesse: sing vs one of the songs of Sion.

4 How shall we sing the Lords song: in a strange land?

5 If I forget thee, O Hierusalem: let my right hand forget her cunning.

6 If I doe not remember thee, let my tongue cleaue to the roofe of my mouth: yea, if I preferre not Hierusalem in my mirth.

7 Remember the children of Edom, O Lorde, in the day of Hierusalem: howe they said, Downe with it, downe with it, euen to the ground.

8 O daughter of Babylon, wasted with miserie: yea, happy shal he be that rewardeth thee as thou hast serued vs.

9 Blessed shall hee be that taketh thy children: and throweth them against the stones.

Confitebor tibi. Psal. 138.

I will giue thanks vnto thee, O Lord, with my whole heart: euen before the gods will I sing praise vnto thee.

2 I will worship toward thy holy temple, and praise thy name, because of thy louing kindnesse and trueth: for thou hast magnified thy thy name, and thy word aboue all things.

3 When I called vpon thee, thou heardest me: and endouedst my soule with much strength.

4 All the kinges of the earth shall praise thee, O Lord: for they haue heard the words of thy mouth.

5 Yea, they shall sing in the wayes of the Lord: that great is the glory of the Lord.

6 For though the Lorde be high, yet hath he respect vnto the lowly: as for the proude, he beholdeth them a farre off.

7 Though I walke in the middes of trouble, yet shalt thou refresh me: thou shalt stretch forth thine hand vpon the furiousnesse of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall saue me.

8 The Lorde shall make good his louing kindenesse towarde me: yea, thy mercie, O Lord, endureth for euer, despise not then the workes of thine owne handes.

Domine, probasti. Psal. 139.

Morning prayer.

O Lorde, thou hast searched me out, and knowen me: thou knowest my downe sitting, & mine vprising, thou vnderstandest my thoughts long before.

2 Thou art about my path, and about my bed: and spiest out all my wayes.

3 For loe, there is not a worde in my tongue: but thou, O Lord, knowest it altogether.

4 Thou hast fashioned me behind and before: and laid thine hand vpon me.

5 Such knowledge is too wonderful and excellent for me: I cannot attaine vnto it.

6 Whither shall I goe then from thy spirite: or whither shall I goe then from thy presence?

7 If I clime vp into heauē, thou art there: if I goe downe to hell, thou art there also.

8 If I take the wings of the morning: & remaine in the vttermost parts of the sea.

9 Euen there also shal thy hand leade me: and thy right hand shall hold me.

10 If I say, Peraduenture the darkenesse shall couer me: then shal my night be turned to day.

11 Yea, the darkenes is no darkenes with thee, but the night is as cleare as the day: the darkenesse and light (to thee) are both alike.

12 For my reynes are thine: thou hast couered me in my mothers wombe.

13 I will giue thanks vnto thee: for I am fearefully and wonderfully made: marueilous are thy workes, and that my soule knoweth right well.

14 My bones are not hid frō thee: though I be made secretly, and fashioned beneath in the earth.

15 Thine eyes did see my substance, yet being vnperfect: and in thy booke were all my members written.

16 Which day by day were fashioned: whē as yet there was none of them.

17 Howe deare are thy counsailes vnto me, O God: O howe great is the summe of them?

18 If I tell them, they are mo in number then the sand: when I wake vp, I am present with thee.

19 Wilt not thou slay the wicked, O God: depart from me ye bloodthirstie men.

20 For they speake vnrighteously against thee: and thine enemies take thy name in vaine.

21 Doe not I hate them, O Lorde, that hate thee: and am not I grieued with those that rise vp against thee?

22 Yea, I hate them right sore: euen as though they were mine enemies.

23 Try me, O God, and seeke the grounde of my heart: proue mee, and examine my thoughts.

24 Looke well if there be any way of wickednesse in me: and leade me in the way euerlasting.

Eripe me Domine. Psal. 140.

DEliuer me, O Lord, from the euill man: and preserue me from the wicked man.

2 Which imagine mischiefe in their hearts: and stirre vp strife all the day long.

3 They haue sharpened their tongues like a serpent: Adders poyson is vnder their lippes.

4 Keepe me, O Lorde, from the handes of the vngodly: preserue mee from the wicked men which are purposed to ouerthrowe my goings.

5 The proud hath laid a snare for me, and spread a net abroade with cordes: yea, and set trappes in my way.

6 I said vnto ỹ Lorde, Thou art my God: heare the voyce of my prayers, O Lord.

7 O Lord God, thou strēgth of my health: thou hast couered my head in ỹ day of battel.

8 Let not the vngodly haue his desire, O Lorde: let not his mischieuous imagination prosper, least they be too proude.

9 Let the mischiefe of their owne lippes fall vpon the head of them: that compasse me about.

10 Let hot burning coales fal vpon them: let them be cast into the fire, and into the pit, that they neuer rise vp againe.

11 A man full of wordes, shall not prosper vpon the earth: euill shall hunt the wicked person to ouerthrowe him.

12 Sure I am that the Lord wil auenge the poore: and maintaine the cause of the helpelesse.

13 The righteous also shall giue thankes vnto thy name: and the iust shal continue in thy sight.

Domine, clamaui. Psal. 141.

LOrde, I call vpon thee, haste thee vnto me: and consider my voyce, when I crie vnto thee.

2 Let

2 Let my prayer be set foorth in thy sight as the incense: and let the lifting vp of my handes be an euening sacrifice.

3 Set a watche (O Lorde) before my mouth: and keepe the doore of my lippes.

4 O let not mine heart be enclined to any euill thing: let me not be occupied in vngodly workes, with the men that worke wickednesse, least I eate of such things as please them.

5 Let the righteous rather smite mee friendly: and reproue me.

6 But let not their precious balmes breake mine head: yea, I will pray yet against their wickednesse.

7 Let their iudges be ouerthrowen in stony places: that they may heare my wordes, for they are sweete.

8 Our bones lie scattered before the pit: like as when one breaketh and heweth wood vpon the earth.

9 But mine eies looke vnto thee, O Lord God: in thee is my trust, O cast not out my soule.

10 Keepe mee from the snare which they haue layde for mee: and from the trappes of the wicked doers.

11 Let the vngodly fall into their owne nettes together: and let me euer escape them.

Voce mea ad Dominum. Psal. 142.

Euening prayer.

I Cryed vnto the Lord with my voyce: yea, euen vnto the Lord did I make my supplication.

2 I powred out my complaintes before him: and shewed him of my trouble.

3 When my spirite was in heauinesse, thou knewest my path: in the way wherein I walked, haue they priuily layde a snare for me.

4 I looked also vpon my right hande: and saw there was no mã that would know me.

5 I had no place to flee vnto: and no man cared for my soule.

6 I cryed vnto thee, O Lorde, and sayde: Thou art my hope, and my portion in the land of the liuing.

7 Consider my complaynt: for I am brought very lowe.

8 O deliuer mee from my persecutours: for they are to strong for me.

9 Bring my soule out of prison, that I may giue thankes vnto thy name: which thing if thou wilt graunt mee, then shall the righteous resort vnto my companie.

Domine, exaudi. Psal. 143.

HEare my prayer, O Lord, and consider my desire: hearken vnto mee for thy trueth and righteousnes sake.

2 And enter not into iudgement with thy seruant: for in thy sight shall no man liuing be iustified.

3 For ỹ enemie hath persecuted my soule, he hath smitten my life down to the ground: he hath layd me in the darknesse, as the men that haue bene long dead.

4 Therfore is my spirit vexed within me: and my heart within me is desolate.

5 Yet doe I remember the time past, I muse vpon all thy workes: yea, I exercise my selfe in the workes of thy handes.

6 I stretch forth my hands vnto thee: my soule gaspeth vnto thee as a thirstie land.

7 Heare me, O Lord, and that soone, for my spirite waxeth faynt: hide not thy face from mee, least I be like vnto them that goe downe into the pit.

8 O let me heare thy louing kindenes betimes in the morning, for in thee is my trust: shewe thou me the way that I should walke in, for I lift vp my soule vnto thee.

9 Deliuer me, O Lorde, from mine enemies: for I flee vnto thee to hide me.

10 Teach me to do the thing that pleaseth thee, for thou art my God: let thy louing spirite leade mee forth into the lande of righteousnesse.

11 Quicken me, O Lord, for thy names sake: and for thy righteousnes sake bring my soule out of trouble.

12 And of thy goodnesse slaye mine enemies: and destroy al them that vexe my soule, for I am thy seruant.

Benedictus Dominus. Psal. 144.

Morning prayer.

BLessed be the Lord my strength: which teacheth my handes to warre, and my fingers to fight.

2 My hope and my fortresse, my castle and deliuerer, my defender, in whome I trust: which subdueth my people that is vnder me.

3 Lord, what is man that thou hast such respect vnto him: or the sonne of man that thou so regardest him?

4 Man is like a thing of nought: his time passeth away like a shadow.

5 Bowe thy heauens, O Lord, and come downe: touch the mountaines, and they shal smoke.

6 Cast forth thy lightning, and teare them: shoote out thine arrowes, and consume them.

7 Send downe thine hand from aboue: deliuer me, and take me out of the great waters, from the hand of strange children.

8 Whose mouth talketh of vanitie: & their right hand is a right hand of wickednesse.

9 I will sing a newe song vnto thee, O God: and sing prayses vnto thee vpon a ten stringed Lute.

10 Thou hast giuen victorie vnto kings: and hast deliuered Dauid thy seruant from the perill of the sword.

11 Saue mee and deliuer mee from the hand of strange children: whose mouth talketh of vanitie, and their right hande is a right hand of iniquitie.

12 That

12 That our sonnes may grow vp as the yong plants: and that our daughters may be as the polished corners of the temple.

13 That our garners may be full & plenteous with all maner of store: that our sheepe may bring forth thousands, and tenne thousandes in our streetes.

14 That our oxen may bee strong to labour, that there bee no decay: no leading into captiuitie, and no complayning in our streetes.

15 Happie are the people that be in such a case: yea, blessed are the people which haue the Lord for their God.

Exaltabo te Deus. Psal. 145.

I Will magnifie thee, O God, my king: and I wil praise thy name for euer and euer.

2 Euery day will I giue thanks vnto thee: and praise thy name for euer and euer.

3 Great is the Lorde, and marueilous worthy to be prayed: there is no ende of his greatnesse.

4 One generation shal praise thy workes vnto another: and declare thy power.

5 As for me, I will be talking of thy worship: thy glory, thy prayse, and wonderous workes.

6 So that men shall speake of the might of thy marueilous actes: and I will also tell of thy greatnesse.

7 The memorial of thine abundant kindnesse shalbe shewed: and men shall sing of thy righteousnesse.

8 The Lorde is gracious and mercifull: long suffering, and of great goodnesse.

9 The Lord is louing vnto euery man: and his mercy is ouer all his workes.

10 All thy works praise thee, O Lord: and thy saints giue thankes vnto thee.

11 They shew the glory of thy kingdome: and talke of thy power.

12 That thy power, thy glory, and mightinesse of thy kingdome: might bee knowen vnto men.

13 Thy kingdome is an euerlasting kingdome: and thy dominion endureth throughout all ages.

14 The Lorde vpholdeth all such as fall: and lifteth vp all those that be downe.

15 The eyes of all wayte vpon thee, O Lorde: and thou giuest them their meate in due season.

16 Thou openest thine hand: and fillest al things liuing with plenteousnesse.

17 The Lorde is righteous in all his wayes: and holy in all his workes.

18 The Lorde is nigh vnto all them that call vpon him: yea, all such as call vpon him faithfully.

19 Hee will fulfill the desire of them that feare him: he also will heare their cry, and wil helpe them.

20 The Lorde preserueth all them that loue him: but scattereth abroade all the vngodly.

21 My mouth shal speake the praise of the Lord: and let all flesh giue thankes vnto his holy name for euer and euer.

Lauda anima mea. Psal. 146.

PRayse the Lorde, O my soule, while I liue will I praise the Lorde: yea, as long as I haue any being, I will sing prayses vnto my God.

2 O put not your trust in princes, nor in any childe of man: for there is no helpe in them.

3 For whē the breath of man goeth forth, he shal turne againe to his earth: and then al his thoughts perish.

4 Blessed is hee that hath the God of Iacob for his helpe: and whose hope is in the Lord his God.

5 Which made heauen and earth, the sea and all that therein is: which keepeth his promise for euer.

6 Which helpeth them to right that suffer wrong: which feedeth the hungrie.

7 The Lord looseth men out of prison: the Lord giueth sight to the blinde.

8 The Lord helpeth them that are fallen: the Lord careth for the righteous.

9 The Lord careth for the strangers, hee defendeth the fatherlesse and widowe: as for the way of the vngodly, hee turneth it vpside downe.

10 The Lord thy God, O Sion, shall be king for euermore: and throughout all generations.

Laudate Dominum. Psal. 147.

O Praise the Lord, for it is a good thing to sing prayses vnto our God: yea, a ioyful and pleasant thing it is to be thankfull. Euening prayer.

2 The Lord doth build vp Hierusalem: and gather together the outcastes of Israel.

3 He healeth those ꝑ are broken in heart: and giueth medicine to heale their sicknesse.

4 Hee telleth the number of the starres: and calleth them all by their names.

5 Great is our Lorde, and great is his power: yea, and his wisedome is infinite.

6 The Lord setteth vp the meeke: & bringeth the vngodly downe to the ground.

7 O sing vnto the Lorde with thankesgiuing: sing prayses vpon the harpe vnto our God.

8 Which couereth ꝑ heauen with clouds, and prepareth rayne for the earth: & maketh the grasse to growe vpon the mountaines, and herbe for the vse of men.

9 Which giueth fodder vnto the cattel: & feedeth the yong rauens that call vpon him.

10 He hath no pleasure in the strength of an horse: neyther delighteth he in any mans legges.

11 But the Lords delight is in them that feare him: and put their trust in his mercie.

12 Praise

12 Praise the Lord, O Hierusalem: praise thy God, O Sion.

13 For hee hath made fast the barres of thy gates: and hath blessed thy children within thee.

14 Hee maketh peace in thy borders: and filleth thee with thee flowre of wheate.

15 He sendeth forth his commandement vpon earth: & his word runneth very swiftly.

16 He giueth snowe like wooll: and scattereth the hoare frost like ashes.

17 Hee casteth forth his yce like morsels: who is able to abide his frost?

18 He sendeth out his word, and melteth them: hee bloweth with his winde, and the waters flowe.

19 He sheweth his word vnto Jacob: his statutes and ordinances vnto Israel.

20 He hath not dealt so with any nation: neither haue the heathen knowledge of his lawes.

Laudate Dominum. Psal. 148.

O Praise the Lord of heauen: praise him in the height.

2 Praise him all yee angels of his: praise him all his hoste.

3 Praise him Sunne and Moone: praise him all ye starres and light.

4 Praise him all ye heauens: and yee waters that be aboue the heauens.

5 Let them praise the name of the Lorde: for hee spake the word, and they were made, he commanded, and they were created.

6 Hee hath made them fast for euer and euer: he hath giuen them a lawe which shall not be broken.

7 Praise the Lorde vpon earth: yee Dragons and all deepes.

8 Fire and haile, snowe and vapours: winde and storme, fulfilling his word.

9 Mountaines and all hilles: fruitefull trees, and all Cedars.

10 Beastes and all cattell: wormes, and feathered foules.

11 Kings of the earth, and all people: princes, and all iudges of the world.

12 Young men and maydens, olde men and children, praise the name of the Lord: for his name onely is excellent, and his praise aboue heauen and earth.

13 He shall exalt the horne of his people, all his saints shall praise him: euen the children of Israel, euen the people that serueth him.

Cantate Domino. Psal. 149.

O Sing vnto the Lorde a newe song: let the congregation of saintes praise him.

2 Let Israel reioyce in him that made him: and let the children of Sion be ioyfull in their king.

3 Let them praise his name in the dance: let them sing praises vnto him with Tabret and Harpe.

4 For the Lorde hath pleasure in his people: and helpeth the meeke hearted.

5 Let the saints be ioyfull with glorie: let them reioyce in their beds.

6 Let the praises of God be in their mouth: and a two edged sword in their hands.

7 To be auenged of the heathen: and to rebuke the people.

8 To binde their kings in chaines: and their nobles with linkes of yron.

9 That they may be auenged of them, as it is written: such honour haue all his saints.

Laudate Dominum. Psal. 150.

O Praise God in his holinesse: praise him in the firmament of his power.

2 Praise him in his noble actes: praise him according to his excellent greatnesse.

3 Praise him in the sound of the trumpet: praise him vpon the Lute and Harpe.

4 Praise him in the Cimballes and dances: praise him vpon the strings and pipe.

5 Praise him vpon the well tuned Cymbals: praise him vpon the loud Cymballes.

6 Let euery thing that hath breath: praise the Lord.

Here end the Psalmes of Dauid.

The Prouerbes of Solomon.

The first Chapter.

1 The power of the word of God. 7 Of the feare of God, and knowledge of his word. 10 Wee may not consent to the entisings of sinners. 20 Wisedome complaineth that shee is contemned. 24 The punishment of them that contemne her.

THE Prouerbes of Solomon the sonne of Dauid king of Israel:

2 To learne wisedome and instruction, and to perceiue the wordes of vnderstanding,

3 To receiue the instruction of wisdome, iustice, iudgement, and equitie:

4 To giue witte vnto the simple, and that the yong men might haue knowledge and vnderstanding.

5 The wise man will giue eare, and will come by more wisedome, and hee that is endued with vnderstanding, shall attaine vnto wise counsels.

6 To vnderſtand a parable, and the interpretation thereof, the wordes of the wiſe, and their darke ſpeeches.

Eccl. 1.16. pſa. 110.10 7 *The feare of the Lorde is the beginning of knowledge: but fooles deſpiſe wiſedome and inſtruction.

8 My ſonne, heare thy fathers doctrine, and forſake not the ‖ lawe of thy mother:

‖Or, inſtruction.

9 For they ſhall bee an increaſe of grace vnto thy head, and as a chayne about thy necke.

‖Or, leade thee out of the way. 10 My ſonne, if ſinners ‖ entice thee, conſent not vnto them.

11 If they ſay, come with vs let vs laye waite for blood, and lurke priuily for the innocent without a cauſe:

12 Let vs ſwallowe them vp like the graue quicke and whole, as thoſe that goe downe into the pit:

13 So ſhall wee finde all maner of coſtly riches, and fill our houſes with ſpoyles:

14 Caſt in thy lot among vs, and let vs all haue one purſe.

15 My ſonne, walke not thou with them, refraine thy foote from their wayes.

Pſal. 59.7. rom. 3.15. 16 *For their feete runne to euill, and are haſtie to ſhed blood.

17 But as in vaine the nette is laide foorth before the birds eyes:

18 So theſe laye wayte for the blood of them, and lie priuily for their liues.

19 Such are the wayes of euery one that is greedie of gaine, who taketh away the life of the owner thereof.

20 Wiſedome crieth without, and putteth forth her voyce in the ſtreetes:

21 Shee calleth before the congregation in the open gates, and sheweth her wordes thorowe the citie, ſaying, 22 O ye children, howe long will ye loue childiſhneſſe? howe long will the ſcorners delight in ſcorning, and the vnwiſe hate knowledge?

Eſa. 65. 12. ierem. 7.13. 23 *Turne you at my correction: loe, I wil expreſſe my minde vnto you, and make you vnderſtand my wordes.

24 Becauſe I haue called, and yee refuſed, I haue ſtretched out my hand, and no man regarded.

25 But all my counſels haue yee deſpiſed, and ſet my correction at nought:

26 Therefore will I alſo laugh at your deſtruction, and mocke you, when the thing that ye feare commeth vpon you,

27 Euen when the thing that ye be afraid of, falleth in ſuddenly like a ſtorme, and your miſerie like a tempeſt, yea when trouble and heauineſſe commeth vpon you.

28 Then ſhal they call vpon me, but I wil not anſwere: they ſhall ſeeke mee earely, but they ſhall not finde me:

29 And that becauſe they hated knowledge, and did not chuſe the feare of the Lord, 30 They would none of my counſell, but deſpiſed all my correction.

31 Therefore ſhall they eate of the fruite of their owne way, and bee filled with their owne inuentions.

32 For the turning away of the vnwiſe ſhall ſlay them, and the proſperitie of fooles ſhall deſtroy them.

33 But who ſo hearkeneth vnto me, ſhall dwell ſafely, & be ſure from any feare of euill.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Wiſedome exhorteth to obey her. 5 Shee teacheth the feare of God. 6 Shee is giuen of God. 10 Shee preſerueth from wickedneſſe.

MY ſonne, if thou wilt receiue my wordes, and lay vp my commandements within thee,

2 That thou wilt encline thine eares vnto wiſedome, apply thine heart to vnderſtanding.

3 For if thou crieſt after wiſedome, and crieſt for knowledge:

4 If thou ſeekeſt for her as for ſiluer, and ſearcheſt for her as for treaſures,

5 Then ſhalt thou vnderſtand the feare of the Lord, and finde the knowledge of God.

6 For the Lorde giueth wiſedome, out of his mouth commeth knowledge and vnderſtanding.

7 He ſtirreth vp health for the righteous: and defendeth them that walke vprightly,

8 That they may keepe the right path: and hee preſerueth the way of ſuch as doe ſerue him with godlineſſe.

9 Then ſhalt thou vnderſtand righteouſneſſe, and iudgement, and equitie, yea, and euery good path.

10 When wiſedome entreth into thine heart, and thy ſoule delighteth in knowledge:

11 Then ſhall counſell preſerue thee, and vnderſtanding ſhall keepe thee,

12 That thou mayeſt bee deliuered from the euil way, and from the man that ſpeaketh froward things:

13 From ſuch as leaue the wayes of righteouſneſſe, to walke in the wayes of darkeneſſe:

14 Which reioyce in doing naught, and delight in the wickedneſſe of the euill:

15 Whoſe wayes are crooked, and they froward in their paths.

16 That thou mayeſt bee deliuered alſo from the ſtrange woman, and from her that is not thine owne, which giueth ſweete wordes, 17 Forſaketh the huſband of her youth, and forgetteth the couenant of her God.

18 For her houſe is enclined vnto death, and her paths vnto hell, 19 All they that goe in vnto her, come not againe, neither take they holde of the way of life.

20 Therefore walke thou in the way of ſuch as be vertuous, and keepe the paths of the righteous.

21 For the iuſt ſhall dwell in the land, and they that be perfect, ſhall remaine in it.

22 *But the vngodly ſhall be cut off from the Iohn 15.17

the earth: and the wicked doers shall be rooted out of it.

The iij. Chapter

1 The word of God giueth life. 5 Trust in God. 7 Feare him. 9. Honour him. 11. Suffer his correction. 25. To them that followe the worde of God, all things shall succeede well.

MY sonne, forget not thou my lawe, but see that thine heart keepe my commandements.

Deut.8.1. and 30.16. 2 *For they shall prolong the dayes and yeeres of thy life, and and bring thee peace.

3 Let mercie and faithfulnesse neuer goe from thee: binde them about thy necke, and write them in the tables of thine heart:

4 So shalt thou finde fauour and good vnderstanding in the sight of God and men.

5 Put thy trust in God with all thine heart: and leane not vnto thine owne wit.

6 In al thy wayes acknowledge him, and he shall order thy goings.

Rom.12.16 7 * Bee not wise in thine owne conceite: but feare the Lord, and depart from euill:

1 Thes.v. thy whole body. 8 So shall thy *nauill be whole, and thy bones strong.

Iob.4.7. Luk.14.13. 9 *Honour the Lord with thy substance, and with the firstlings of thine increase:

10 So shal thy barnes be filled with plentifulnesse, and thy presses shall flowe ouer with sweete wine.

Heb.12.5. Apoc.3.19. 11 * My sonne, refuse not the chastening of the Lorde, neither faint when thou art corrected of him.

12 For whome the Lorde loueth, him hee chasteneth, and yet delighteth in him, euen as a father in his owne sonne.

13 Well is him that findeth wisedome, and getteth vnderstanding:

14 For the marchandise of it is better then the marchandise of siluer, and the gaine therof is better then golde.

15 Shee is more worthy then precious stones: and all the things that thou canst desire, are not to be compared vnto her.

16 In her right hand is long life, and in her left hand riches and honour.

17 Her wayes are pleasant wayes, and all her paths are peaceable.

18 Shee is a tree of life to them that lay hold vpon her: and blessed is he that keepeth her fast.

19 With wisedome hath the Lord laid the foundation of the earth, and through vnderstanding hath he stablished the heauens.

20 Through his knowledge the depthes are broken vp, and the cloudes drop downe the dewe.

21 My sonne, let not these things depart from thine eyes, but keepe wisdome and vnderstanding:

22 So they shalbe life vnto thy soule, and grace vnto thy mouth.

23 Then shalt thou walke safely in thy way, and thy foote shall not stumble.

24 If thou sleepest, thou shalt not be afraid: but shalt take rest, and sleepe sweetely.

25 Thou shalt not be afraid of any sudden feare, neither for the violent rushing in of the vngodly when it commeth.

26 For the Lord shal stand by thy side, and keepe thy foote that thou be not taken.

27 Withdrawe no good thing from them that haue neede, so long as thine hande is able to doe it.

28 Say not to thy neighbour, Goe thy way, and come againe, and to morowe wil I giue thee: whereas thou hast nowe to giue him.

29 Intende no hurt against thy neighbour, seeing hee hopeth to dwell in rest by thee.

30 Striue not with any man without a cause whereas he hath done thee no harme.

31 * Follow not a wicked man, and choose none of his wayes: Psal.36.1.

32 For the Lord abhorreth the frowarde: but his ‖ counsell is among the righteous. ‖Or, secret.

33 The curse of the Lord is in the house of the vngodly: but he blesseth the dwellings of the righteous.

34 As for the scornefull, doeth hee not laugh them to scorne: but hee giueth grace vnto the lowly.

35 The wise shall haue honour in possession: but shame is the promotion that fooles shall haue.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 Wisedome and her fruites ought to bee searched. 14 The way of the wicked must bee refused. 20 By the word of God, the heart, eyes, and course of life must be guided.

HEare, O children, a fatherly instruction, and take good heede, that yee may learne vnderstanding.

2 For I haue giuen you a good doctrine, forsake not ye my lawe.

3 For when I my selfe was my fathers deare sonne, and tenderly beloued of my mother:

4 He taught me also, and sayde vnto mee, Let thine heart receiue my words, keepe my commandements, and thou shalt liue.

5 Get thee wisedom, and get thee vnderstanding: forget not the words of my mouth, and shrinke not from them.

6 Forsake her not, and shee shall preserue thee, loue her, and she shall keepe thee.

7 The chiefe poynt of wisedome, is to possesse wisedome, and before all thy goods, to get thee vnderstanding.

8 Make much of her, and shee shall promote thee, yea, if thou imbrace her, shee shall bring thee vnto honour:

9 Shee shall beautifie thy head with manifolde graces, and garnish thee with a crowne of glorie.

10 Heare, my sonne, and receiue my words, and the yeeres of thy life shalbe many.

11 I haue shewed thee the way of wisedome, wisedome, and leade thee in the right paths.

12 So that if thou goest in them, there shall no straightnesse hinder thee: and when thou runnest, thou shalt not fall.
13 Take fast holde of doctrine, and let her not goe: keepe her, for she is thy life.
14 Come not in the path of the vngodly, and walke not in the way of the wicked.
15 Abhorre it, and goe not therein, depart aside, and passe ouer by it.
16 For they sleepe not except they haue done mischiefe: & sleepe is taken from them, vntill they haue done harme.
17 For they eate the bread of wickednesse, and drinke the wine of robberie.
18 The path of the righteous shineth, as the light that is euer brighter and brighter vnto the perfect day.
19 But the way of the vngodly is as the darknesse, they know not where they fall.
20 My sonne, marke my words, and encline thine eare vnto my sayings:
21 Let them not depart from thine eyes, but keepe them euen in the middes of thine heart.
22 For they are life vnto those that finde them, and health vnto all their bodies.
23 Keepe thine heart with all diligence: for out of it issueth life.
24 Put away from thee a frowarde mouth: and let the lippes of slander be farre from thee.
25 Let thine eyes beholde that thing that is right: and let thine eye lids looke straight before thee.
26 Ponder the path of thy feete, and let all thy wayes be ordered aright.
27 Turne not aside neither to the right hand nor to the left: but withholde thy foote from euill.

The v. Chapter.

3 Whoredome forbidden, 9 and prodigalitie. 13 Hee willeth a man to liue on his labour, and to helpe others. 18 To loue his wife. 22 The wicked taken in their owne wickednesse.

MY sonne, giue heede vnto my wisedome, and bow thine eare vnto my ‖ prudence:
‖ Or, knowledge.
2 That thou mayest regard good counsell, and that thy lips may keepe knowledge.
3 For the lippes of a strange woman are a dropping honie combe, and her throte is more glistering then oyle:
4 But at the last shee is as bitter as wormewood, and as sharpe as a two edged sword.
5 Her feete go downe vnto death, and her steppes pearce thorowe vnto hell.
6 Perchaunce thou wilt ponder the path of her life: so vnstedfast are her wayes, that thou canst not know them.
7 Heare mee nowe therefore, O yee children, and depart not from the wordes of my mouth.
8 Keepe thy way farre from her, and come not nigh the doores of her house.
9 That thou giue not thine honour vnto other, and thy yeeres vnto the cruell,
10 That other men be not filled with thy vertues, and that thy labours come not in a strange house:
11 Yea, that thou mourne not at the last, when thou hast spent thy bodie and lustie youth, and then say, 12 Alas, why hated I nurture? why did my heart despise correction?
13 Wherefore was I not obedient vnto the voyce of my teachers, and hearkened not vnto them that enfourmed me?
14 I was come almost into all misfortune, in the middest of the multitude and congregation.
15 *Drinke of the water of thine owne well, and of the riuers that runne out of thine owne spring.
* Content thy selfe with thine owne wife, and desire not other.
16 Let thy welles flowe out abroade, that there may be riuers of waters in the streets:
17 But let them be onely thine owne, and not strangers with thee.
18 Let thy wel be blessed, and be glad with the wife of thy youth.
19 Let her bee as the louing Hinde and pleasant Roe: let her breastes alway satisfie thee, and holde thee euer content with her loue.
20 Why wilt thou, my sonne, haue pleasure in a strange woman? and embrace the bosome of a stranger?
21 *For euery mans wayes are open in the sight of the Lord, and hee pondereth all their goings.
Iob. 34. 21.
22 The wickednesse of the vngodly shall catch himselfe, and with the snares of his owne sinnes shall he be trapped.
23 He shall die without ‖ amendment, and for his great foolishnesse he shall goe astray.
‖ Or, instruction.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Instruction for sureties. 6 The slouthfull and sluggish is spurred to worke. 12 He describeth the nature of the wicked. 16 The things that God hateth. 20 To obserue the word of God. 24 To flee adultrie.

MY sonne, if thou be suretie for thy neighbour, and hast fastened thine hand for another man,
2 Thou art ‖ bounde with thine owne wordes, and taken with thine owne speech.
‖ Or, snared.
3 Therefore, my sonne, do this, and thou shalt be discharged: when thou art come into thy neighbours daunger, goe thy wayes then soone, humble thy selfe, and with thy friends intreat (thy ‖ creditour.)
‖ Or, neighbour.
4 Let not thine eyes sleepe, nor thine eye lids slumber.
5 Saue thy selfe as a Doe from the hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.
6 Goe to the Emmet, thou sluggarde, consider consider her wayes, and learne to be wise:

7 Shee hath no guide, nor ouerseer, nor ruler:
8 Yet in the sommer shee prouideth her meate, and gathereth her foode together in the harueſt.
Prou. 24. 32 9 *How long wilt thou sleepe, thou sluggish man? when wilt thou arise out of thy sleepe?
10 Yea sleepe on stil a litle, slumber a litle, folde thine handes together yet a litle, that thou mayest sleepe:
11 So shall pouertie come vnto thee as one that trauaileth by the way, and necessitie like a weaponed man.
12 An vngodly person, a wicked man, goeth with a froward mouth.
13 He winketh with his eies, he tokeneth with his feete, he teacheth with his fingers, 14 He is euer imagining mischiefe, & frowardnes in his heart, and causeth discord.
15 Therefore shall his destruction come hastily vpon him, suddenly shall hee be all to broken, and not to be healed.
16 These sixe things doth the Lorde hate, and the seuenth he vtterly abhorreth:
17 A proud looke, a lying tongue, hands that shed innocent blood,
18 An heart that goeth about wicked imaginations, feete that be swift in running to mischiefe, 19 A false witnes that bringeth vp lies, & him that soweth discord among brethren.
20 My sonne, keepe thy fathers commandement, and forsake not the lawe of thy mother.
21 Tie them continually in thine heart, and bind them about thy necke.
22 That shall lead thee when thou goest, preserue thee when thou art asleepe, & when thou awakest talke with thee.
23 For the commandement is a lanterne, and the law a light, yea chastening and nurture is the way of life:
24 That they may keepe thee from the euill woman, and from the flattering tongue of the strange woman.
25 Lust not after her beautie in thine heart, lest thou be take with her faire lookes.
26 By an harlot a man is brought to beg his bread, and a woman will hunt for the precious life of man.
27 May a man take fire in his bosome, and not be burnt?
28 Or can one goe vpon hote coales, and his feete not be burnt?
29 Euen so, whosoeuer goeth in to his neighbours wife, and toucheth her, cannot be vnguiltie.
30 Men doe not vtterly despise a thiefe that stealeth to satisfie his soule when hee is hungrie:
31 But if he may be gotten, hee restoreth againe seuen times as much, or else hee maketh recompence with all the good of his house.
32 But who so committeth adulterie with a woman, lacketh vnderstanding: and her that doeth it, destroyeth his owne soule.
33 He getteth himselfe a plague, and dishonor, and his reproch shal neuer be put out:
34 For the iealousie and wrath of the man will not be entreated,
35 No though thou wouldest offer him great giftes to make amends, he will not receiue them.

The vij. Chapter.

1 An exhortation to wisdome, and to the worde of God, 5 which will preserue vs from the harlot, 6 whose maners are described.

MY sonne, keepe my wordes, and lay vp my commaundements by thee.
2 Keepe my cõmandements and my law, euen as the apple of thine eye, and thou shalt liue.
3 Bind them vpon thy fingers, and write them in the table of thine heart.
4 Say vnto wisdome, Thou art my sister, and call vnderstanding thy kinswoman:
5 That they may keepe thee from the strange woman, and from the forraine woman, which giueth sweete wordes.
6 For at the windowe of my house I looked thorowe the windowe,
7 And beheld among ỹ simple people, and among the children, a yong man voyd of wit,
8 Going ouer the streete by the corner in the way toward her house,
9 In the twilight of the euening, when it began now to be night and darke:
10 And behold, there met him a woman, with open tokens of an harlot, onely her heart was hid:
11 She was full of loud wordes, and readie to dallie, whose feete could not abide in the house:
12 Now is she without, now in the streets, and lyeth in waite at euery corner.
13 She caught him, and kissed him, and was not ashamed, saying,
14 I had a vowe of peace offrings to pay, and this day I performe it:
15 Therefore came I forth to meete thee, that I might seeke thy face, and so haue I found thee.
16 I haue decked my bed with couerings of tapestrie, and clothes of Egypt.
17 My bed haue I made to smel of myrrhe, aloes, and cynamom.
18 Come, let vs take our fill of loue vntill the morning, and let vs solace our selues with the pleasures of loue.
19 For the good man is not at home, he is gone farre off.
20 He hath taken the bag of money with him, and will returne at the appointed solemne feast.
21 Thus with many sweete wordes thee ouercame him, and with her flattering lips she entised him.

22 Sodainly he followed her, as it were an oxe led to the ſlaughter, & like as it were a foole that laugheth when hee goeth to the ſtockes to be puniſhed, 23 So long till he had wounded his liuer with her dart: like as if a bird haſted to the ſnare, not knowing that the perill of his life lieth thereupon.

24 Heare me now therefore, O my child, and marke the wordes of my mouth:

25 Let not thine heart wander in her wayes, & be not thou deceiued in her paths.

26 For many one hath ſhe wounded & caſt downe, yea many a ſtrong man hath bene ſlaine by the meanes of her.

27 Her houſe is the way vnto hell, & bringeth men down into the chambers of death.

The viij. Chapter.

1 Wiſedome declareth her excellencie, 11 riches, 15 power, 22 eternitie. 32 Shee exhorteth all to loue and follow her.

DOeth not wiſedome crie? doeth not vnderſtanding put foorth her voyce?

2 She ſtandeth in the top of high places by the way, in the place of the paths:

3 She crieth at the gates of the citie, at the entrie of the doores.

4 Vnto you, O ye men, ſayth ſhe, whom I call, vnto the children of men doe I lift vp my voyce.

5 Take heede vnto knowledge, O yee ignorant, be ye wiſe in heart, O ye fooles.

6 Giue eare for I will ſpeake of great matters, and open my lippes to tell things that be right:

7 For my mouth ſhall be talking of the trueth, and my lips abhorre vngodlineſſe.

8 All the wordes of my mouth are righteous, there is no frowardneſſe nor falſhoode in them.

9 They are all plaine to ſuch as will vnderſtand, and right to them that finde knowledge.

10 Receiue my doctrine, and not ſiluer, and knowledge rather then fine golde:

Prou. 3.13. 11 *For wiſdome is more worth then precious ſtones, yea all things that thou canſt deſire may not be compared vnto it.

12 I wiſedome dwell with counſell, and finde out knowledge and vnderſtanding.

13 The feare of the Lorde abhorreth wickednes, pride, diſdaine, and the euill way, and a mouth that ſpeaketh wicked things I vtterly abhorre.

14 Counſell is mine, and direction, I am vnderſtanding, and I haue ſtrength.

15 Through me kings reigne, and princes make iuſt lawes.

16 By me princes beare rule, and noble men doe iudge the earth.

17 I am louing vnto thoſe that loue mee: and they that ſeeke mee earely, ſhall finde me.

18 Riches and honour are with me, yea, durable riches and righteouſneſſe.

19 My fruite is better then gold and precious ſtones, and mine encreaſe more worth then fine ſiluer.

20 I will guide thee in the way of righteouſneſſe, and in the middeſt of the paths of iudgement:

21 That I may eſtabliſh the inheritance of them that loue mee, and increaſe their treaſure.

22 *The Lorde himſelfe had me in poſſeſſion in the beginning of his wayes, or euer he began his workes aforetime. Sap. 9.9.

23 *I haue bene ordeined from euerlaſting, and from the beginning, or euer the earth was made. Eccl. 24.14

24 When I was borne, there were neither depths, nor ſpringes of water.

25 Before the foundations of the mountaines were layd, yea, before all hilles was I borne.

26 The earth, & all that is vpon the earth was not yet made, no nor the duſt it ſelfe.

27 For when hee made the heauens, I was preſent, when he compaſſed the depths about:

28 When hee hanged the cloudes aboue, when he faſtened the ſpringes of the deepe,

29 When he chut the ſea within certaine bounds, that the waters ſhould not goe ouer their markes that he commanded, when he layd the foundation of the earth,

30 I was with him ‖ordering all things, delighting dayly, and reioycing alway before him. ‖Or, as a nourſher.

31 As for the round compaſſe of this world, I make it ioyfull: for my delight is to be among the children of men.

32 Therefore hearken vnto me, O ye children: bleſſed are they that keepe my wayes.

33 O giue eare vnto nurture, be wiſe, and refuſe it not: Bleſſed is the man that heareth me, watching dayly at my gates, and giuing attendance at the poſts of my doores.

34 For who ſo findeth me, findeth life, and ſhall obtaine fauour of the Lord.

35 But who ſo offendeth againſt me, hurteth his owne ſoule: and they that hate me, are the louers of death.

The ix. Chapter.

2 Wiſdome calleth all to her feaſt. 7 The ſcorner will not be corrected. 10 The feare of God. 13 The conditions of an harlot.

WIſedome hath buſilded her houſe, and hewen out ſeuen pillars.

2 She hath killed her victailes, powred out her wine, and prepared her table.

3 She hath ſent forth her maidens to cry vpon the higheſt place of the citie,

4 Who ſo is without knowledge, let him come hither: And to the vnwiſe ſhe ſaid,

5 O come on your way, eate my bread, and and drinke my wine which I haue powred out for you.

6 Forsake foolishnesse, and ye shall liue: & see that ye goe in the way of vnderstanding.

7 Who so reproueth a scornefull person, getteth himselfe dishonour: and hee that rebuketh the vngodly, staineth himselfe.

8 Reproue not a scorner, least hee owe thee euill will: but rebuke a wise man, and he will loue thee.

9 Giue a discreete man but an occasion, & he will be the wiser: teach a righteous man, and he wil increase in knowledge.

Psa.111.10 pro.1.7. eccle.1.16. 10 *The feare of the Lorde is the beginning of wisedome: and the knowledge of holy thinges is vnderstanding.

11 For through me thy daies shalbe prolonged, and the yeeres of thy life shalbe manie.

12 If thou be wise, thy wisedome shall doe thy selfe good: but if thou thinkest scorne thereof, it shalbe thine owne harme.

13 A foolish ritchles woman full of words, and such a one as hath no knowledge, 14 Sitteth at the doore of her house, and at the high places of the citie,

15 To cal such as goe by, and that walke straight in her wayes.

16 Who so is ignorant saith she, let him come hither: and to the vnwise she saith, 17 Stolen wares are sweete, and the bread that is priuily eaten hath a good taste.

18 And hee doeth not consider that they are but dead which bee there, and that her ghests are in the deepe of hell.

The x. Chapter.

In this Chapter, and all that follow vnto the thirtieth, the wise man exhorteth by diuers sentences, which he calleth parables, to follow vertue and flee vice, and sheweth also what profite commeth of wisedome, and what hinderance proceedeth of foolishnesse.

A wise sonne maketh a glad father: but an vndiscreete sonne is an heauinesse vnto his mother.

2 Treasures that are wickedly gotten, profite nothing: but righteousnesse deliuereth from death.

3 The Lorde will not let the soule of the righteous suffer hunger: but hee taketh away the riches of the vngodly.

4 An idle hand maketh poore: but a quick labouring hand maketh rich.

5 Who so gathereth in sommer, is wise: but hee that is sluggish in haruest, bringeth him selfe to confusion.

6 Blessings are vpon the head of the righteous: and the mouth of the vngodly keepeth mischiefe in secret.

7 The memoriall of the iust shall haue a good report: but the name of the vngodly shall stinke.

‖Or, commandements 8 A wise man wil receiue ‖warning: but a prating foole shall be punished.

15 The riche mans goods are his strong holde: but the neede of the poore is their pouertie.

16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life: but the fruites of the vngodly to sinne.

17 Nurture keepeth the way of life: but he that refuseth to bee nurtured, deceyueth himselfe.

18 He that hideth hatred with lying lips, and he that speaketh slander, is a foole.

19 Where much babling is, there must needs be offence: and he that refraineth his lippes, is wise.

‖Or, an innocent tongue is a noble treasure. 20 ‖The tongue of the iust man is as tried siluer: but the heart of the vngodly is a thing of nought.

21 The lippes of the righteous feede a whole multitude: but fooles shall die in their owne folly.

22 The blessing of the Lord maketh rich: and bringeth no sorow of heart with it.

23 A foole doeth wickedly, and maketh but a sport of it: but wisedome ruleth the man that hath vnderstanding.

24 The thing that the vngodly is afraid of, shall come vpon him: but the righteous shall haue their desire.

25 As the tempest, so passeth away the vngodly, and is not: but the righteous remaineth sure for euer.

26 As vineger is to the teeth, and as smoke is vnto the eyes: euen so is a sluggish person to them that send him foorth.

27 The feare of the Lord maketh a long life: but the yeeres of the vngodly shall bee shortned.

28 The patient abiding of the righteous shall be turned to gladnesse: but the hope of the vngodly shall perish.

29 The way of the Lorde giueth courage vnto the godly: but it is a feare for wicked doers.

30 The righteous shall neuer bee ouerthrowen: but the vngodly shall not remaine in the land.

‖Or, perish. 31 The mouth of the iust will be talking of wisedome: but the tongue of the froward shall ‖be cut out.

10 When the prophecie is in the lips of the king, his mouth shall not goe wrong in iudgement.

11 *A true weight and ballance are the Lordes iudgement: all the weights of the bag are his worke.

Pro. 11. 1.

12 ‖ Wicked doers are an abomination to the king: for a kings seat should bee holden vp with righteousnesse.

‖Or, it is an abhomination when kings are wicked.

13 Righteous lippes are pleasaunt vnto kings, and them that speake the ‖ trueth, shal he loue.

‖Or, right things.

14 The kings displeasure is a messenger of death: but a wise man will pacifie it.

15 The cheerful countenance of the king, is life: and his louing fauour is as a cloud of the latter raine.

16 To haue wisedom in possession, is better then to haue gold: and to get vnderstanding, is rather to bee chosen then to haue siluer.

17 The path of the righteous is to eschew euill: and who so looketh well to his wayes, keepeth his owne soule.

18 Pride goeth before destruction: and an high mind before the fall.

19 Better it is to be of humble mind with the lowly, then to diuide the spoiles with the proud.

20 He that handleth a matter wisely, obteineth good: and blessed is hee that putteth his trust in the Lord.

21 Who so is wise in heart, shall be called prudent: and the sweetenesse of his lips encreaseth learning.

22 Vnderstanding is a well of life vnto him that hath it: as for the chastening of fooles it is but foolishnesse.

23 A wise heart ordereth his mouth wisely, and ministreth learning vnto his lips.

24 Faire wordes are an honie combe, a refreshing of the minde, and health of the bones.

25 *There is a way that men thinke to bee right: but the ende thereof leadeth vnto death.

Pro. 14. 12.

26 ‖ A troublous soule disquieteth her selfe: for her owne mouth hath brought her thereto.

‖Or, the labouring soule trauelleth for for it selfe: his mouth constraineth him vnto it.

27 An vngodly person stirreth vp euill, and in his lips is an hote burning fire.

28 A froward body causeth strife: and he that is a blab of his tongue, maketh diuision among princes.

29 A wicked man beguileth his neighbour, and leadeth him into the way that is not good:

30 He shutteth his eies to deuise mischiefe, and mooueth his lips to bring euil to passe.

31 Age

31 Age is a crown of worship, if it be found in the way of righteousnesse.

32 A patient man is better thē one strong: and he that can rule himself, is more worthy then he that winneth a citie.

33 The lots are cast into the lap: but the ordering thereof standeth all in the Lord.

The xvii. Chapter.

BEtter is a dry morsell with quietnesse, then a house full of fat offering with strife.

Eccl.10.30 2 A * discreet seruaunt shall haue rule ouer a lewd sonne, and ‖ shall haue heritage with the brethren.

‖Or, and shall diuide the heritage among the brethren.

3 As the siluer is tried in the fire, and gold in the furnace: so doeth the Lord prooue the hearts.

4 A wicked bodie giueth heede to false lippes: and a liar giueth eare to a deceitfull tongue.

Pro.14.31. 5 *Who so scorneth the poore, blasphemeth his maker: & he that is glad at another mans hurt, shall not be vnpunished.

6 Childrens children are a crowne of the aged: and the fathers are the honour of the children.

7 Speech of authoritie becommeth not a foole: much lesse a lying mouth thē beseemeth a prince.

a Gifts blind the eyes of the wise, and peruert the words of the righteous.

8 A gift is as a precious stone vnto him that hath it: but vnto whomsoeuer it a turneth, it maketh him vnwise.

9 Who so coureth a fault, procureth loue: but he that discloseth it, diuideth very friends.

10 One reproofe more feareth a wiseman, then an hundred stripes doeth a foole.

11 A seditious person seeketh mischiefe, and a cruell messenger shall bee sent agaynst him.

12 It were better to meete a shee beare robbed of her whelps, then a foole trusting in his foolishnesse.

Rom.12.17 13 *Who so rewardeth euill for good, euill

Esa.5.23. 15 *The Lorde hateth as well him that iustifieth the vngodly, as him that condemneth the innocent.

16 Wherefore hath a foole treasure in his hand to buy wisedome, seeing hee hath no mind thereto?

17 He is a friend that alway loueth: and in aduersitie a man shall know who is his brother.

18 Who so promiseth by the hand, and is suretie for his neighbour, he is a foole.

19 Hee that delighteth in sinne, loueth strife: and who so setteth his doore too high, seeketh destruction.

20 Who so hath a froward heart, obteineth no good: and hee that hath a double tongue, shall fall into mischiefe.

21 Hee that begetteth a foole, begetteth his sorow: and the father of a foole can haue no ioy.

Pro.15.13. 22 *A merie heart ‖maketh a lustie age: but a sorowfull mind drieth vp the bones.

‖Or, causeth good health.

23 The vngodlie taketh giftes b out of the bosome, to wrest the wayes of iudgement.

b That is, priuily. 24 *Wisedome shineth in the face of him that hath vnderstanding: but the eyes of fooles wander throughout all lands.

Eccle.2.14

25 An vndiscreete sonne is a griefe vnto his father, and ‖an heauinesse vnto his mother.

‖Or, a bitternesse to her that bare him.

26 Certainly to condemne the iust, is not good: nor to strike the Gouernours which iudge rightly.

27 *A wise man vseth fewe wordes: and a man of vnderstanding is of a ‖ patient spirit.

Iob 1.19.

‖Or, cold.

28 Yea a very foole when hee holdeth his tongue, is counted wise: and he that stoppeth his lips, is esteemed prudent.

The xviii. Chapter.

WHo so hath an earnest desire to wisedom, he will sequester himselfe to seeke it, & occupie himselfe in all [illegible]stnesse & sound doctrine.

2 A foole hath no delight in vnderstanding: but only to vtter the fansies of his own heart.

3 When the vngodly commeth, then commeth also disdaine: and with the dishonest person commeth shame and dishonour.

4 The wordes of a wise mans mouth are like deepe waters: and the well of wisedome is a full streame.

5 It is not good to regard the person of the vngodly, to ouerthrow the righteous in iudgement.

6 A fooles lips come with brawling, and his mouth prouoketh vnto stripes.

7 A fooles mouth is his owne destruction, and his lippes are the snare for his owne soule.

8 The wordes ‖ of a slaunderer are like wounds, and go thorow the innermost parts of the body.

‖Or, of a tale bearer.

9 Who so is slouthful in his labour, is the brother of him that is a waster.

10 The name of the Lord is a strong castle, the righteous runneth into it, and is in safegard.

11 The rich mans goods are his strong citie, and as an high wall in his owne conceit.

12 Before destruction, the heart of man is proud: and before honour goeth humilitie.

13 *Hee that giueth sentence in a matter before he heare it, the same to him is folly and shame. Eccle.11.8.

14 A good stomache beareth out sicknesse: but the mind being sicke who shall beare it?

15 A wise heart possesseth knowledge, and a prudent eare seeketh vnderstanding.

16 An mans gift maketh an open way to bring him before great men.

17 The righteous declareth his owne cause first himselfe, and his neighbour commeth and tryeth him.

18 The lot causeth variance to cease, and parteth the mightie a sunder.

19 Brethren being at variance, are harder to be wonne then a strong citie, and their contentions are like the barre of a castle.

20 A mans belly shalbe satisfied with the fruite of his owne mouth, and with the increase of his lips shall he be filled.

21 Death and life are in the ‖instrument of the tongue, and they that loue it, shall eate the fruite thereof. ‖Or, power.

23 The poore prayeth meekely: but the rich giueth a rough answere.

24 A man that will haue friendes, must shew himselfe friendly: and there is a friend which is nearer then a brother.

The xix. Chapter.

Pro.28.6. BEtter *is the poore that liueth godly, then hee that abuseth his lips, and is a foole.

2 The desire without discretion is not good: but as a man which hasteth with his feete offendeth.

3 The foolishnesse of man peruerteth his way: and his heart fretteth against the Lorde.

4 Riches make many friendes: but the poore is separated from his neighbour.

Deu.19.19. daniel 13.6 5 *A false witnesse shall not be vnpunished: and hee that speaketh lies, shall not escape.

‖Or, liberall men shall want no friends. 6 ‖The multitude hangeth vpon great men: and euery man fauoureth him that giueth rewardes.

7 All the brethren of the poore doe hate him, yea, his owne friends withdraw themselues from him: and he that giueth credence to wordes, getteth nothing.

8 He that is wise, loueth his owne soule: and keepeth vnderstanding that hee may prosper.

9 A false witnes shall not be vnpunished: and he that speaketh lyes, shall perish.

10 Pleasure is not seemely for a foole: much lesse for a bondman to haue rule of Princes.

11 A wise man can put off displeasure, and it is his honour to let some faults passe.

12 The kings displeasure is like the roaring of a Lion, but his fauour is like the deawe vpon the grasse.

13 An vndiscrete sonne is the heauinesse of his father, and a brawling wife is like the toppe of an house wherethrough it is euer dropping.

Pro.18.22. 14 House and riches may a man haue by the heritage of his elders: * but a discrete woman is the gift of the Lord.

15 Slouthfulnesse bringeth sleepe, and a soule accustomed with craft, shall suffer hunger.

16 Who so keepeth the commandement, keepeth his owne soule: but hee that regardeth not his wayes, shall die.

17 He that hath pitie vpon the poore, lendeth vnto the Lord: and looke what he layeth out, ‖it shalbe payd him againe. ‖Or, he will pay him againe.

18 Chasten thy sonne while there is hope: and let not thy soule spare for his crying.

19 A man of great wrath shall suffer punishment: and though thou once deliuer him, thou must doe it againe.

20 O giue eare vnto good counsaile, and be content to be reformed: that thou maist be wise in thy latter dayes.

21 There are many deuises in a mans heart: neuertheless, the counsaile of the Lorde shall stand.

22 It is a mans worship to doe good: and a poore man is better then a lyar.

23 The feare of the Lorde bringeth a man to life: and hee shall rest the whole night in plenteousnesse without visitation of ‖any plague. ‖Or, euill.

24 *A slouthfull man shutteth his hand into his bosome: and will not take paine to put it to his mouth. Pro.26.15.

25 *If thou smitest a scornefull person, the ignorant shall take better heede: and if thou reproouest one that hath vnderstanding, he will be the wiser. Pro.21.11.

26 Hee that ‖hurteth his father, or shutteth out his mother, is a shamefull and an vnworthy sonne. ‖Or, robbeth.

27 My sonne, heare no more the doctrine that leadeth thee vnto errours from the wordes of vnderstanding.

28 A wicked witnes mocketh iudgement: and the mouth of the vngodly ‖deuoureth wickednesse. ‖Or, coueteth.

29 Iudgements are ordeined for the scornfull, and stripes for the fooles backes.

4 A slouthfull body wil not goe to plowe for colde of the winter, therefore shall he beg in sommer, and haue nothing.

5 Counsaile in the heart of man, is like deepe water: but a man of vnderstanding will draw it out.

6 Many there bee that would bee called good doers: but where shall one finde a faithfull man?

20 In a wise mans house there is great treasure and oyle, but a foolish body spendeth vp all.

21 Who so loueth righteousnes & mercie, findeth both life, righteousnes, and honour.

22 A wise man scaleth the citie of the mightie, and ouerthroweth the strength wherein they trusted.

23 Who so keepeth his mouth and his tongue, the same keepeth his soule from troubles.

24 He that is proude and arrogant, is called a ſcorner, which in his wrath worketh preſumptuouſly.

18 Least the Lord when he seeth it, be angry, and turne his wrath from him vnto thee.

19 *Fret not thy selfe because of the malicious, neither be enuious at the wicked: Pſal. 37. 1.

20 For there shalbe no ende of plagues to the wicked man, and the ‖ candle of the vngodly shalbe put out. ‖Or, reward.

21 My sonne, feare thou the Lord and the king, and keepe no companie with them that slide backe from his feare:

22 For their destruction shall rise suddainly: and who knoweth the aduersitie that may come ‖ from them both? ‖Or, of them both.

THESE ARE ALSO THE SAYINGS OF THE WISE.

23 *It is not good to haue respect of any person in iudgement. Leui. 19. 15. deut. 1. 17.

24 He

24 He that ſaith to the vngodly, Thou art righteous: him ſhall the people curſe, yea, the communaltie ſhall abhorre him.

25 But they that rebuke the vngodly, in them doeth God delight, and a riche bleſſing ſhall come vpon them.

26 Euery man ſhall kiſſe his lippes that giueth a good anſwere.

27 Make readie thy worke that is without, and looke wel vnto that which thou haſt in the fielde, and then builde thine houſe.

28 Bee not a falſe witneſſe againſt thy neighbour, and ſpeake no falſhood with thy lippes.

Pro. 20.22. 29 *Say not, I will handle him euen as he hath dealt with me, and wil reward ‖ euery man according to his deedes.

‖Or, the man.

30 I went by the fielde of the ſlouthfull, and by the vineyard of the fooliſh man:

31 And loe, it was all couered with nettles, and ſtoode full of thornes, and the ſtone wall was broken downe.

32 This I ſaw, and conſidered it well: I looked vpon it, and tooke it for a warning.

33 Yea ſleepe on ſtill I ſay, a litle, ſlumber a litle, folde thy hands together yet a litle:

34 So ſhall pouertie come vnto thee as one that trauaileth by the way, and neceſſitie like a weaponed man.

The xxv. Chapter.

Theſe are alſo parables of Solomon, which the men of Hezekia King of Iuda copied out.

IT is the glorie of God to keepe a thing ſecret: but the kings honour is to ſearche out a thing.

2 The heauen is high, the earth is deepe: and the kings heart is vnſearchable.

3 Take the droſſe from the ſiluer, and there ſhalbe a veſſell for the fyner.

4 Take away the vngodly from the king, and his ſeate ſhalbe ſtabliſhed with righteouſneſſe.

‖Or, ſtand not in, Luke 14. 10. 5 Put not forth thy ſelfe in the preſence of the king, and ‖ preaſſe not into the place of great men:

6 *For better is it that it bee ſayde vnto thee, Come vp hither: then thou to bee put lower in the preſence of the Prince whome thou ſeeſt with thine eyes.

‖Or, be not haſtie to ſtriue. 7 Be not ‖ haſtie to goe to lawe: leaſt haply thou knoweſt not what to doe when thy neighbour hath confounded thee.

8 Handle thy matter with thy neighbour himſelfe, and diſcouer not thy ſecrete to another:

9 Leaſt hee that heareth it, put thee to ſhame, and thine infamie doe not ceaſſe.

10 A word ſpoken in due ſeaſon, is like apples of golde in a graued worke of ſiluer.

11 Who ſo reproueth a wiſe man that hath an obedient eare, is as a golden earing, and an ornament of fine golde.

12 As the colde of ſnowe in the time of harueſt: ſo is a faithfull meſſenger to them that ſende him, for hee refreſheth his maſters minde.

‖Or, of falſe liberalitie. 13 Who ſo maketh great boaſtes ‖ and giueth nothing, is like clouds and winde without raine.

Pro. 15. 1. ‖Or, bones are. 14 *With patience is a prince pacified, and with a ſoft tongue ‖ is rigorouſnes broken.

15 If thou findeſt honie, eate ſo much as is ſufficient for thee: leaſt thou be ouerfull, and parbreake it out againe.

16 Withdrawe thy foote from thy neighbours houſe: leaſt hee be wearie of thee, and ſo hate thee.

‖Or, a maule. 17 Who ſo beareth falſe witneſſe againſt his neighbour, hee is ‖ a very club, a ſworde, and a ſharpe arrowe.

18 The confidence that is put in an vnfaithful man in time of trouble, is like a broken tooth, and a ſliding foote.

‖Or, ſaltpeter, or ſope, or niter. 19 Who ſo taketh away a mans garment in the colde weather, is ‖ like vineger vpon lime, or like him that ſingeth ſongs to an heauie heart.

Rom. 12. 19. 20 *If thine enemie hunger, feede him, if he thirſt, giue him drinke:

21 For ſo ſhalt thou heape coales of fire vpon his head, and the Lord ſhall reward thee.

22 The North winde driueth away the raine: euen ſo doeth an angry countenance a backbiters tongue.

Prou. 21. 9. 23 *It is better to ſit in a corner vpon the houſe toppe, then with a brawling woman in a wide houſe.

24 Good newes from a ſtrange countrey, are as colde water to a thirſtie ſoule.

25 A righteous man falling downe before the vngodly, is like a troubled well, and a ſpring that is corrupted.

Eccl. 3. 22. 26 *As it is not good to eate too much honie: ſo curiouſly to ſearch the glory of heauenly things, is not commendable.

‖Or, his ſpirit. 27 Hee that cannot rule ‖ himſelfe, is like a citie which is broken downe, and hath no walles.

The xxvj. Chapter.

LIke as ſnowe is not meete in ſommer, and raine in harueſt: euen ſo is worſhip vnſeemely for a foole.

2 As the bird and the ſwallowe take their flight to flie here and there: ſo the curſe that is giuen in vaine, ſhall not light vpon a man.

3 Vnto the horſe belongeth a whippe, to the aſſe a bridle, and a rodde to the fooles backe.

4 Giue not the foole an anſwere after his fooliſhnes, leaſt thou become like vnto him.

5 But make the foole an anſwere to his fooliſhneſſe, leaſt hee bee wiſe in his owne conceite.

6 As hee that cutteth off his meſſengers feete, endamageth himſelfe: ſo doeth he that committeth a meſſage to a foole.

7 Like as in a lame man his legges are not equall: euen so is a parable in a fooles mouth.

8 He that setteth a foole in high dignitie, ‖ Or, would hide a pretious stone in an heape of stones. that is euen as if a man would binde a ‖ stone in a sling.

9 As is a thorne in the hande of a drunkard: so is a parable in a fooles mouth.

10 The mightie that fourmed all things, rewardeth the fooles and transgressours.

2.Pet.2.22. 11 *Like as the dogge turneth againe to his owne vomite: euen so a foole beginneth his foolishnes againe afresh.

12 If thou seest a man that is wise in his owne conceite: there is more hope in a foole then in him.

Pro.22.13. 13 *The slouthfull saith, There is a Lion in the way, and a Lion in the middest of the streetes.

14 Like as the doore turneth about vpon the hinges: euen so doeth the slouthfull walter himselfe in his bed.

Pro.19.24. 15 *The slouthfull body ‖ thrusteth his ‖ Or, hideth. hande into his bosome, and it grieueth him to put it againe to his mouth.

16 The sluggard thinketh himselfe wiser ‖ Or, that can render a reason. then seuen men ‖ that sit and teach.

17 Who so goeth by and medleth with other mens strife: hee is like one that taketh a dogge by the eares.

18 As hee that raineth himselfe mad, casteth firebrands, deadly arrowes and dartes:

19 So doeth a dissembler with his neighbour, and saith, Am not I in sport?

20 Where no wood is, there the fire goeth out: euen so, where the talebearer is taken away, there the strife ceaseth.

Eccl.38.12. 21 *As coales kindle heate, and wood the ‖ Or, a contentious. fire: euen so doeth ‖ a brawling fellowe stirre vp variance.

‖ Or, as flatterings. 22 A talebearers wordes are like ‖ men that strike with hammers, and they pearce the inward partes of the body.

23 Burning lippes and a wicked heart, are like a potshard couered with siluer drosse.

24 An enemie will dissemble with his lippes, and layeth vp deceite in his heart:

‖ Or, many. 25 But when hee speaketh faire, beleeue him not, for there are ‖ seuen abominations in his heart.

26 Hatred may be couered by deceite: but the malice thereof shalbe shewed before the whole congregation.

Eccle.10.8. eccl.27.26. 27 *Who so diggeth vp a pit, shal fal therein: and hee that rolleth vp a stone, it will returne vpon him.

28 A lying tongue hateth the afflicted: and a flattering mouth worketh mischiefe.

The xxvij. Chapter.

MAke not thy boast of to morow: for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.

2 Let another man praise thee, & not thine owne mouth, yea, other folkes, and not thine owne lippes.

3 *The stone is heauie, and the sande weightie: but a fooles wrath is heauier then them both. Eccl.22, 18.

4 Wrath is a cruel thing, and furiousnes is a very tempest: but who is able to abide enuie?

5 Open rebuke is better then secret loue.

6 Faithfull are the woundes of a louer: but the kisses of an enemie are ‖ deceitfull. ‖ Or, deceitfull. Iob 6.6.

7 *Hee that is full, abhorreth an honie combe: but vnto him that is hungrie, euery ‖ sowre thing is sweete. ‖ Or, bitter.

8 He that oft times flitteth, is like a birde that forsaketh her nest.

9 Baulme and sweete incense make the heart merrie: so, sweete is that friende that giueth counsaile from the heart.

10 Thine owne friende and thy fathers friende see thou forsake not, and goe not into thy brothers house in time of thy trouble: for better is a ‖ friend at hand, then a brother farre off. ‖ Or, neighbour.

11 My sonne, bee wise, and make mee a glad heart, that I may make answere vnto my rebukers.

12 A wise man seeing the plague, wil hide himselfe: as for fooles, they goe on still and suffer harme.

13 *Take his garment that is suretie for a stranger, and take a pledge of him for the vnknowen sake. Pro.20.16.

14 ‖ Hee that is too hastie to praise his neighbour aboue measure, shalbe taken as one that giueth him an euill report. ‖ Or, he that praiseth his friend with a loude voice rising early in the morning, it shalbe counted to him as a dispraise.

15 A brawling woman and the roofe of the house dropping in a rainie day, may well be compared together:

16 He that stilleth her, stilleth the winde, & stoppeth the smel of oyntment in his hand.

17 Like as one iron whetteth another, so doeth one man ‖ comfort another. ‖ Or, sharpe the countenance of another.

18 Who so keepeth his figge tree, shal eate the fruites thereof: so hee that waiteth vpon his master, shall come to honour.

19 *Like as in one water there appeare diuers faces: euen so diuers men haue diuers hearts. 1.Cor.2.15.

20 Hell and destruction are neuer full: euen so the eyes of men can neuer be satisfied.

21 *As is the fining pot for the siluer, and the furnace for golde: so is a man tried by the mouth of him that praiseth him. Eccl.14. and 17.1.

22 Though thou wouldest bray a foole with a pestell in a morter like firmitie corne: yet will not his foolishnesse goe from him.

23 Be thou diligent to knowe the state of thy cattell thy selfe, and looke well to thy flockes.

24 For riches abideth not alway, and the crowne endureth not for euer.

25 The hay groweth, the grasse commeth vp, and herbes are gathered in the mountaines.

26 *The lambes shall clothe thee, and for the goates thou shalt haue money to thy husbandry. 1.Tim.6.7.

27 Thou

27 Thou shalt haue goates milke ynough to feede thee, to vphold thy household, and to sustaine thy maydens.

The xxviij. Chapter.

THE vngodly fleeth when no man pursueth him: but the righteous are bolde as a Lion.

2 For the wickednesse of the lande, the prince is oft changed: but through ‖ a man of vnderstanding and wisedome, a realme endureth long. ‖Or, men.

3 One poore man oppressing another by violence, is like a raging raine that destroyeth the ‖ fruite. ‖Or, foode.

4 They that forsake the lawe, prayse the vngodly: but such as keepe the law, are grieued at them.

5 Wicked men vnderstande not iudgement: but they that seeke the Lorde, vnderstand all things.

Prou.19.1. 6 *Better is the poore that walketh in his vprightnesse: then hee that peruerteth his wayes, and is rich.

7 Who so keepeth the lawe, is a childe of vnderstanding: but he that ‖ is a companion of riotous men, shameth his father. ‖Or, feedeth gluttons.

8 He that by vsurie and vniust gaines gathereth riches: he shall lay them in store for a man that will pitie the poore.

9 Hee that turneth away his eare from hearing ỹ law, his prayer shalbe abominable.

10 Who so causeth the righteous to goe astray by an euill way, shall fall into his owne pit: but the iust shall haue good thinges in possession.

11 The rich man thinketh himselfe to bee wise: but the poore that hath vnderstanding, ‖ can perceiue him well ynough. ‖Or, can try him.

12 When righteous men do reioyce, there is great glory: but when the wicked come vp, the man is tryed.

13 He that hideth his sinnes, shal not prosper: but who so knowledgeth them, and forsaketh them, shall haue mercie.

14 Well is him that standeth alway in awe: as for him that hardeneth his heart, he shall fall into mischiefe.

15 As a roaring Lion and an hungry Beare, so is an vngodly Prince ouer the poore people.

16 Where the prince is without vnderstanding, there is great oppression & wrong: but if he hateth couetousnesse, hee shall long reigne.

17 He that by violence sheddeth any mans blood, shall be a vagabond vnto his graue, and no man shalbe able to succour him.

18 Who so leadeth an innocent life, shalbe saued: but hee that goeth frowarde wayes, shall once haue a fall.

Pro.12.11. 19 *Hee that tilleth his land, shall haue plentifulnesse of bread: but he that followeth idle persons, shall haue pouertie ynough. eccl.20.30.

20 A faithfull man shalbe blessed with bles-
Pro.13.11. sings: * and he that maketh haste to be rich, shall not be vnguiltie.

21 To haue respect of persons in iudgement, is not good, for that man will doe wrong, yea euen for a piece of bread.

22 He that will be rich all too soone, hath an euill eye, and considereth not that pouertie shall come vpon him.

23 He that following my precepts, rebuketh a man, shall finde more fauour at the last then he that flattereth him.

24 Who so robbeth his father & mother, and saieth it is no sinne: the same is the companion of a ‖ destroyer. ‖Or, of a murderer.

25 He that is of a proude stomache, stirreth vp strife: but hee that putteth his trust in the Lorde, shall be well fedde.

26 He that trusteth in his owne heart, is a foole: but he that dealeth wisely, shalbe safe.

27 He that giueth vnto the poore, shall not lacke: but hee that hideth his eyes from them, shall haue many a curse.

28 When the vngodly are come vp, men are faine to hide themselues: but when they perish, the righteous increase.

The xxix. Chapter.

HE that is stifnecked, and will not be reformed, shall suddenly be destroyed ‖ without any helpe. ‖Or, and not be cured.

2 When the righteous are in authoritie, the people doe reioyce: but when the wicked beare rule, the people mourne.

3 Who so loueth wisedome, maketh his father a glad man: *but he that keepeth companie with harlots, spendeth away ‖ that hee hath. Luk.15.13. ‖Or, his substance.

4 With true iudgement the king stablisheth the land: but if he be a man that oppresseth the people with gatherings, he turneth it vpside downe.

5 Who so flattereth his neighbour, laieth a net for his feete.

6 The sinne of the wicked is his owne snare: but the righteous doeth sing and reioyce.

7 The righteous considereth the cause of the poore: but the vngodly regardeth no vnderstanding.

8 Scornefull men bring a citie into a snare: but wise men turne away wrath.

9 If a wise man contendeth with a foole: whether he be angry or laugh, there is no rest.

10 The bloodthirstie hate the righteous: but the iust seeke his soule. a That is, beeing ready to saue his soule or life.

11 A foole vttereth all his minde at once: but a wise man keepeth it in till afterward.

12 If a Prince delight in lyes, all his seruants are vngodly.

13 The poore and the ‖ lender meete together, and the Lord lightneth both their eyes. ‖Or, vsurer.

14 The feare of the king that ‖ faithfully iudgeth the poore, shall continue sure for euermore. ‖Or, truely.

15 The

15 The rodde and correction giueth wisedome, but a childe left to his owne will, bringeth his mother to shame.

16 When the vngodly are multiplied, wickednesse increaseth: but the righteous shall see their fall.

17 Nurture thy sonne with correction, and thou shalt be at rest: yea he shall doe thee good at thine heart.

18 When the word of God is not preached, the people perish: but well is him that keepeth the lawe.

19 A stubborne seruant wil not be the better for wordes: for though he vnderstand, yet will he not regard them.

20 Seest thou a man that is hastie to speake vnaduisedly? there is more hope in a foole then in him.

‖Or, his sonne. 21 He that delicately bringeth vp his ‖ seruant from a childe, shal make him his master at length.

22 An angry man stirreth vp strife, and he that beareth euill will in his minde, doeth much euill.

Iob.22.29. 23 *‖After pride commeth a fall: but a lowly spirit bringeth great worship.

‖Or, a mans pride shall bring him lowe.

24 Whoso is partner with a thiefe, hateth his owne soule: he heareth ‖blasphemie, and telleth it not foorth.

‖Or, cursing

25 He that feareth men, shall haue a fall: but who so putteth his trust in the Lord, ‖ is without danger.

‖Or, shall be exalted,

26 Many there be that seeke the Princes fauour: but euery mans iudgement commeth from the Lord.

27 The righteous abhorreth the vngodly: and the wicked hateth him that is in the right way.

The xxx. Chapter.

The pureneſſe of the worde of God, and what wee ought to require of God, with certaine wonderfull thinges that are in this world.

¶ THE WORDES OF AGVR THE SONNE OF IAKE.

1 And the prophecie that the same man spake vnto Ithiel, euen vnto Ithiel and Uchal.

Surely I am more foolish then any man, and haue no mans vnderstanding.

3 I neuer learned wisedome, nor had knowledge of holy things.

4 Who hath climed vp into heauen, and come downe from thence? who hath holden the winde fast in his hand? who hath gathered together the waters in a garment? who hath established all the endes of the worlde? what is his name, and what is his sonnes name, if thou canst tell?

Pſal.19.8. 5 *Euery worde of God is pure: hee is a shielde vnto all them that put their trust in him.

6 *Put thou nothing vnto his wordes, least hee reproue thee, and thou be found a lyar. Deut.4.2. and 12.32.

7 Two things haue I required of thee, denie me them not before I die.

8 Remoue farre from me vanitie & lyes, giue me neither pouertie nor riches, ‖ graunt me a necessarie liuing: ‖Or, feede me with foode conuenient for me.

9 Least peraduenture I being full, should denie thee, and say, Who is the Lord? or being oppressed with pouertie, fall to stealing, and forsweare the name of my God.

10 Accuse not a seruant vnto his master, least he speake euill of thee, and thou be hurt.

11 There is a generation that curseth their father, & doeth not blesse their mother.

12 There is a generation ‖ that thinke themselues cleane, and yet is not cleansed from their filthinesse. ‖Or, whose eyes are hautie.

13 There is a generatiō that hath a proud looke, and doth cast vp their eye liddes.

14 There is a generation whose teeth are as swordes, and their chawes as kniues to deuoure the poore from off the earth, and the needie from among men.

15 The horse leach hath two daughters, crying, Bring hither, bring hither. There be three thinges that are neuer satisfied, yea, foure things say neuer ho:

16 The graue, the barren wombe, and the earth that hath neuer water ynough: as for fire, it saith neuer ho.

17 Who so laugheth his father to scorne, and setteth his mothers commandement at nought, the Rauens of ‖ the valley picke out his eyes, and deuoured be he of the young Eagles. ‖Or, of the brooke.

18 There bee three thinges, which are wonderfull to me, yea, foure which passe my vnderstanding:

19 The way of an Eagle in the ayre, the way of a Serpent vpon a stone, the way of a ship in the middes of the sea, and the way of a man with a yong woman.

20 Such is the way also of a wife that breaketh wedlock, which wipeth her mouth like as when she hath eaten, and saith, As for me, I haue done no wickednesse.

21 For three things the earth is disquieted, and the fourth may it not abide.

22 A seruaunt that beareth rule, a foole that is full fedde, 23 A spitefull woman when shee is married, and an handmaide that is heyre to her mystresse.

24 There be foure things in the earth the which are very litle, but in wisedome they exceede the wise:

25 The Emmets are but a weake people, which yet gather their meat in the sommer:

26 The Conies are but a feeble folke, yet make they ‖ their boroughes among the rockes: ‖Or, houses

27 The Grashoppers haue not a ‖ guide, yet goe they forth together by heapes: ‖Or, a king.

28 The Spyder laboureth with her hāds, and is in kings palaces.

29 There

29 There be three things that goe well, yea, foure are comely in going.
30 A Lion which is strongest among beasts, and shunneth not at the sight of any.
31 A Grayhounde strong in the hinder partes, a Ramme also, and a King against whom no man ariseth vp.
32 If thou hast done foolishly when thou wast in high estate, or if thou hast taken euill counsell, then lay thine hande vpon thy mouth.
33 Who so churneth milke, bringeth forth butter, and hee that rubbeth his nose, maketh it bleede: euen so he that forceth wrath, bringeth forth strife.

The xxxj. Chapter.

2 He exhorteth to chastitie and iustice, 10 and sheweth the conditions of a wife and worthie woman.

1 The wordes of king a Lamuel, and the lesson that his mother taught him.
2 What my sonne? what the sonne of my body? and what, O my deare beloued sonne?
3 Giue not ouer thy strength and wayes vnto wome, which are the destruction euen of kings.
4 O Lamuel, it is not for kings, it is not I say for kings to drinke wine, nor princes strong drinke,
5 Lest they by drinking forget the ‖ lawe, and peruert the iudgement of all ‖ poore mens children.
6 Giue strong drinke vnto such as are ready to perish, and wine vnto those that mourne:
7 That they may drinke it, & forget their miserie and aduersitie.
8 Be thou an aduocate for the dumbe, to speake in the cause of all such as be succourlesse in this transitorie world.
9 Open thy mouth defend the thing that is lawfull and right, and the cause of the poore and helpelesse.
10 Who so findeth an honest faithfull woman, she is much more worth then pearles.
11 The heart of her husband may safely trust in her, so that he shall fall into no ‖ pouertie.
12 She will doe him good, and not euill, all the dayes of her life.
13 She occupieth wooll and flare, and laboureth gladly with her hands.
14 She is like a marchans ship that bringeth her ‖ vitailes from a farre. ‖Or, bread.
15 She is vp in the night season, to prouide meate for her houseliolde, and foode for her maydens.
16 She considereth lande, and buyeth it: and with the fruite of her handes shee planteth a vineyard:
17 She girdeth her loynes with strength, and fortifieth his armes.
18 And if she perceiueth that her huswiferie doeth good, her candle goeth not out by night.
19 She layeth her fingers to the spindle, and her hand taketh hold of the distaffe.
20 She openeth her handes to the poore, yea, she stretcheth forth her hands to such as haue neede.
21 She feareth not that the colde of winter shall hurt her houshold, for all her household folkes are clothed with scarlet.
22 She maketh her selfe faire ornaments, her clothing is white silke and purple.
23 Her husbande is much ‖ set by in the gates, when hee sitteth among the rulers of the land. ‖Or, knowen
24 Shee maketh cloth of silke, and selleth it, and deliuereth girdles vnto the marchant.
25 Strength and honour is her clothing, and in the latter dayes she shall reioyce.
26 Shee openeth her mouth with wisedome, and in her tongue is the law of grace.
27 Shee looketh well to the wayes of her houshold, and eateth not her bread with idlenesse.
28 Her children arise vp, and call her blessed, and her husband shal ‖ make much of her. ‖Or, praise.
29 Many daughters there be that gather riches together: but thou goest aboue them all.
30 As for fauour it is deceitfull, and beautie is a vaine thing: but a woman that feareth the Lord, shalbe praised.
31 Giue her of the fruite of her handes: and let her owne workes praise her in the gates.

a Lamuel signifieth God with him, or with them. For when Solomon leadeth the people to God, and pronounceth his power, God was with him and the Spirit: therefore it is no strange thing in the Scriptures, one man to haue many names.

‖Or, ordinance.

‖Or, of all the afflicted children.

‖Or, he shal haue no neede of spoiles: that is, he shall not neede to get his liuing vnlawfully.

The ende of the Prouerbes of Solomon.

The booke of the Preacher, otherwise called Ecclesiastes, which is Solomon the King.

For Solomon is called in Scripture by three sundrie names. The one, Solomon, that is, the maker of peace. The second, Idida, that is, beloued of God. The third, Ecclesiastes, that is, a preacher, teaching that true and eternall felicitie consisteth not in any worldly wisedome, or abundance of riches, or in carnall pleasure, which all be but vaine and transitorie: but hee proueth that true felicitie consisteth in a whole ioyning our selues to God by pure religion, that is, with a syncere faith and the feare of God, obseruing his commaundements.

The first Chapter.

2 All things in this world are full of vanitie, and of none endurance. 13 All mans wisedome is but follie and grief.

THe wordes of the Preacher the sonne of Dauid king of Hierusalem.

a Heedoth not condemne the creatures and gifres of God as euil: but the careful seeking of them, and the pride and trust that man hath in worldly things.

2 [a] All is but most vaine vanitie, saith the preacher, and al is most vaine I say: but plaine vanitie.

3 For what els hath a man of all the labour that hee taketh vnder the Sunne?

4 One generation passeth away, another commeth: but the earth abideth still.

5 The sunne ariseth, the sunne goeth downe, and returneth to his place, that hee may there rise vp againe.

6 The winde goeth towarde the South, and turneth vnto the North, fetcheth his compasse, whirleth about, and goeth forth, and returneth againe to his circuites from whence he did come.

Eccl.40.11. 7 *All floods runne into the sea, and yet is the sea it selfe not filled: for looke vnto what place the waters runne, thence they come to flowe againe.

8 All things are so hard to bee knowen, that no man can expresse them: the eye is not satisfied with sight, the eare is not filled with hearing.

9 The thing that hath bene, commeth to passe againe, and the thing that hath beene done, shall be done againe: there is no newe thing vnder the sunne.

10 Is there any thing whereof it may be said, Loe, this is newe? for it was long agoe in the times that haue bene before vs.

11 The thing that is past is out of remembrance: euen so the thinges that are for to come, shall no more be thought vpon among them that come after.

12 I my selfe the Preacher was king of Israel at Hierusalem,

13 And did apply my minde to seeke out and search for the knowledge of all thinges that are done vnder heauen: (Such trauaile and labour hath God giuen vnto the children of men, to exercise themselues therein.)

14 Thus haue I cõsidered all these things that come to passe vnder the sunne: and loe, they are all but vanitie & vexation of minde.

15 [b] The crooked can not bee made straight, nor the imperfection of things can be numbred.

b Christ is not able of his owne power to reforme that is amisse, and in vse by reason of mans sin to bring it vnto the rule of God.

16 I communed with mine owne heart, saying, Loe, I am come to great estate, and haue gotten more wisdome then al they that haue bene before me in Hierusalem.

17 Yea, my heart had great experience of wisedome and knowledge: for thereunto I applied my minde, that I might know what were wisedome and vnderstanding, what were errour & foolishnesse: and I perceiued that this was also but a vexation of minde.

18 For where much wisedome is, there is also great trauaile and disquietnesse: and the more knowledge a man hath, the more is his care.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Pleasures, sumptuous buildings, riches, and possessions are but vanitie. 14 The wise and the foole haue both one ende touching the bodily death.

THen saide I thus in my heart, Nowe goe to, [a] I will take mine ease, and haue good dayes: but loe, that is vanitie also.

He proueth by foure reasons, that true felicitie consisteth not in any worldly pleasure.

a 1. Therein is nothing condemnation in any ease or pleasure in this life, b 2. Or the mother of many pleasures and much laughter, is hastie mirth.

2 Inlomuch that [b] I saide vnto the man giuen to laughter, Thou art madde: and to myrth: what doest thou?

3 [c] So I thought in my heart to giue my flesh vnto wine, and againe to applie my minde vnto wisedome, and to comprehend foolishnesse: vntill the time that among all the things which are vnder the Sunne, I might see what were best for men to doe so long as they liue vnder heauen.

c 3. By that application hee selfe to the loue of godly wisedome, may not haue too much pleasure in drinking of wine.

4 [d] I made gorgeous faire workes: I builded my house, and planted vineyards.

5 I made me Orchardes and Gardens of pleasure, planted trees in them of all maner of fruites.

6 I made pooles of water, to water the greene and fruitfull trees withall.

7 I bought seruants and maydens, and had a great houshold: as for cattel and sheepe I had more substance of them, then all they that were before me in Hierusalem.

8 I gathered together siluer and golde, and the chiefe treasures of kings and landes: I haue prouided me men singers and women singers, and the delightes of the sonnes of men, as a woman taken captiue, and d 4. The more plentie of gorgeous building, apparel, riches, & worldly pleasure, the more vexation of minde: and all are but vanitie in comparison of godly feruentie, as Salomon affirmeth of his owne experience.

women

women taken captiues.

9 And I was greater and in more worshippe then all my predecessours in Hierusalem, for wisedome remained with me.

10 And looke whatsoeuer my eyes desired, I let them haue it: and wherein soeuer my heart delighted or had any pleasure, I withheld it not from it: Thus my heart reioyced in all that I did, and this was my portion of all my trauaile.

11 But when I considered all the workes that my hands had wrought, and all the labour that I had taken therein: loe, all was but vanitie and vexation of minde and nothing of any value vnder the Sunne.

12 [c] Then turned I me to consider wisedome, errour, and foolishnesse (for what is he among men that might be compared to mee the king in such workes?)

13 And I sawe that wisedome excelleth foolishnesse, as farre as light doeth darknesse.

14 *For a wise man hath his eyes in his head, but the foole goeth in darknes: I perceiued also that they both [f] had one ende.

15 Then thought I in my minde, If it happen vnto the foole as it doeth vnto mee, what needeth mee then to labour any more for wisedome? So I confessed within my heart that this also was but vanitie.

16 For the wise are euer as litle in remembrance as the foolish: for the dayes shall come, [g] when all shalbe forgotten: yea, the wise man dyeth as well as the foole.

17 Thus beganne I to bee weary of my life, insomuch that I could away with nothing that is done vnder the Sunne: for all was but vanitie and vexation of minde.

18 [h] Yea, I was wearie of my labour which I had taken vnder the Sunne, because I shoulde be fayne to leaue them vnto another man that commeth after me.

19 [i] And who knoweth whether he shall be a wise man or a foole? and yet shall hee be lorde of all my labours, which I with such wisedome haue taken vnder the Sunne: This is also a vaine thing.

20 So I turned me to refraine my minde from all such trauaile as I tooke vnder the Sunne, 21 Forasmuch as a man shoulde wearie himselfe with wisedome, with vnderstanding and opportunitie, and yet bee fayne to leaue his labours vnto another that neuer sweat for them: This is also a vaine thing, and great miserie.

22 For what getteth a man of all the labour and trauaile of his minde, that hee taketh vnder the Sunne, 23 But heauinesse, sorowe, and disquietnesse all the dayes of his life, insomuch that his heart can not rest in the night? This is also a vayne thing.

24 Is it not better then for a man to eate and drinke, and his soule to be merry in his labour? yea, I sawe that this also is a gift of God.

25 For who will eate, or goe more luskily to his worke then I?

26 And why? God giueth to the man that is good before him, wisedome, vnderstanding, and gladnesse: but vnto the sinner hee giueth wearinesse, that hee may gather and heape together the thing that afterward shal be giuen vnto him whome it pleaseth God: This is nowe a vaine thing, yea, a very disquietnesse and vexation of minde.

The iij. Chapter.

1 All things haue their time. 14 The workes of God are perfect, and cause vs to feare him. 17 God shall iudge both the iust and vniust.

[a] Euery thing hath a time, yea, all that is vnder the heauen hath his conuenient season.

2 There is a time to bee borne, and a time to dye: there is a time to plant, and a time to plucke vp the thing that is planted.

3 A time to slay, and a time to make whole: a time to breake downe, & a time to build vp.

4 A time to weepe, and a time to laugh: a time to mourne, and a time to daunce.

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together: a time to embrace, and a time to refraine from embracing.

6 A time to winne, and a time to lose: a time to spare, and a time to spend.

7 A time to cut in pieces, and a time to sowe together: a time to keepe silence, and a time to speake.

8 A time to loue, and a time to hate: a time of warre, and a time of peace.

9 What hath a man els that doeth any thing, but wearinesse and labour?

10 [b] For as touching the trauaile and carefulnesse which God hath giuen vnto men, I see that he hath giuen it them to be exercised in it.

11 All things hath he made beautifull in their time, yea, further then this, hee hath planted the world in their heartes, that man may not comprehende the worke that God maketh from the beginning to the ende.

12 So I perceiued that in those things there is nothing better for a man, then to be mery, and to doe well as long as he liueth.

13 For al that a man eateth and drinketh, yea, whatsoeuer a man enioyeth of all his labour, that same is a gift of God.

14 I considered also, that whatsoeuer God doeth, it continueth for euer, and that nothing can be put vnto it, nor taken from it, and that God doeth it, to the intent that men should feare him.

15 The thing that hath bene, is nowe: and the thing that is for to come, hath bene afore time: for God requireth again the thing that was past.

16 Moreouer, I sawe vnder the Sunne vngodlinesse in the steade of iudgement, and iniquitie in the steade of righteousnesse.

17 Then

[a] Although true felicitie is not to be put in any worldly thing: yet God hath appointed all necessarie things to be done in due time, order, and measure.

[b] God hath appointed that euery man shoulde diligently trauaile and take paynes in his vocation, to the ende he woulde haue him humble and feare God.

[c] God hath appointed that man should be occupied to godly studie, as to the kingdome not to be idle with carnall affection.

Pro. 17. 24.

[f] They both suffer like aduersitie in this worlde, in as much as the appointment of the body, they be both mortall.

[g] Perishing in this world.

[h] That he might seek the true felicitie which is in God.

[i] He rebuketh men that make calculation of worldlie things before they be finished, or their time commeth, or their businesse ripe, not vnderstanding, that God hath appointed all things in their time.

17 Then thought I in my minde, God shall separate the righteous from the vngodly: and then shall be the time and iudgement of all counsels and workes.

18 I communed with mine owne heart also concerning the children of men, howe God hath chosen them, and yet letteth them appeare as though they were beastes.

e There is no difference betwixt a man & a beast as touching the body, which of them both dieth: but the soule of man liueth immortally, and the body of man riseth vp againe by the mighty power of the spirit of God.

19 c For it happeneth vnto men, as it doth vnto beastes, euen one condition vnto them both: as the one dyeth, so dyeth the other: yea, they haue both one maner of breath: so that in this, a man hath no preeminence aboue a beast, but are al subdued vnto vanity.

d The immortalitie of the soule is not knowen by carnall reason or sense: but by the worde, and spirit of God.

20 They go all vnto one place: for as they be all of dust, so shall they all turne vnto dust againe.

21 d Who knoweth the spirite of ‖ man that goeth vpward, & the breath of the beast that goeth downe to the earth?

‖Or, of the children of men.

22 Wherefore I perceiue that there is nothing better for a man, then to be ioyfull in his labour, for that is his portion: but who wil bring him to see the thing that shal come after him?

The iiij. Chapter.

1 The innocent are oppressed. 4 Mens labours are full of abuse and vanitie. 9 Mans societie is necessarie. 13 A yong man poore and wise, is to be preferred before an olde king that is a foole.

SO I turned me, and considered all the violent wrong that is vnder the Sunne: and behold, the teares of such as were oppressed, and there was no man to comfort them, or that woulde deliuer and defend them from the violence of their oppressours.

‖Or, praised,

2 Wherefore I ‖ iudged those that are dead, to be more happy then those that bee aliue:

a He speaketh here according to the iudgement of the flesh which can not well abide persecution and trouble.

3 a Yea, him that is yet vnborne, to bee better at ease then they both: because hee seeth not the miserable workes that are done vnder the Sunne.

b The more perfect that the worke is, the more it is enuyed of the wicked.

4 b Againe, I sawe that all trauaile and diligence of labour that euery man taketh in hand, was done of enuie against his neighbour: This is also a vaine thing, and a vexation of minde.

A foy slothes destroyeth himselfe.

5 c The foole foldeth his hands together, and eateth vp his owne flesh.

6 One handful saith he is better with rest, then both the handes full with labour and trauaile of minde.

7 Moreouer, I turned me, and behold yet another vanitie vnder the Sunne:

8 There is one man, no more but himselfe alone, hauing neither childe nor brother, yet is there no ende of his carefull trauaile, his eyes can not bee satisfied with riches: yet saith he not, For whome doe I take such trauaile? for whose pleasure doe I thus consume away my life? This is also a vaine and miserable thing.

A spirituall societie is both comfortable & necessary for a mans life.

9 d Therefore two are better then one, for they may well enioy the profite of their labour: for if one of them fall his companion helpeth him vp againe.

10 But wo is him that is alone, for if hee fall, he hath not another to helpe him vp.

11 Againe, when two sleepe together they are warme: but howe can a body be warme alone?

12 One may be ouercome, but two may make resistance: a three folde cable is not lightly broken.

13 A poore childe being wise, is better then an olde king that doteth, ‖ and can not beware in time to come.

‖Or, will not receiue admonition.

14 Some one commeth out of prison, and is made a king, and another which is borne in the kingdome, commeth vnto pouertie.

15 And I perceiued that all men liuing vnder the Sunne c go with the second child, that shall stand vp in the steade of the other.

16 As for the people that haue bene before him, and that come after him, they are innumerable, and they that come f after him shall not reioyce of him: This is also a vaine thing, and vexation of minde.

17 When thou commest into the house of God, keepe thy foote, and drawe nigh, that God which is at hand may heare, that thou giue not the g offerings of fooles: for they knowe nought, but to doe euill.

The v. Chapter.

1 Not to speake lightly, chiefly in Gods matters. 9 The couetous can neuer haue ynough.

BE a not hastie with thy mouth, and let not thine heart speake any thing rashly before God, for God is in heauen, and thou vpon earth: therefore let thy words be fewe.

a Be warie in speaking of the matters of God, as in hearing and praying to God.

2 For where much carefulnesse is, there are many dreames: and where many words are, there men may heare fooles.

3 * If thou make a vowe vnto God, bee not slacke to performe it: as for foolish vowes, he hath no pleasure in them: if thou promise any thing, pay it.

Deu. 23. 21

b We ought to beleeue that things which tend to the glory of God, and helpeth are in our power in performing them.

4 b For better is it that thou make no vow, then that thou shouldest promise, & not pay.

5 Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesh for to c sinne, neither say thou before the angel, that it is thy ignorance: for then God wil bee angry at thy voyce, and destroy all the worke of thine hands.

c Hypocrites which care not what they promise, & how lewdly they performe it, by interpreting & excusing their doings, as by leauing that out which they should not leaue out, of necessitie, making God the author of sinne.

6 d And why? where as are many dreames, and many wordes, there are also diuers vanities, but looke that thou feare God.

d Dreames are not to be credited but God is to be feared.

7 If thou seest the poore to bee oppressed, and wrongfully dealt withal, so that equitie and right of the lawe is wrested in the land, marueile not thou at such a thing: for he that is e higher then the highest, regardeth, and there be higher then they.

e Speaking, that God bridleth things, and ouerruleth the most desperate in their purposes.

8 f The encrease of the earth vpholdeth all things: yea, the king himselfe is maintayned by husbandry.

f The benefit of husbandry is the decay of the prince.

9 He

9 He that loueth money, will neuer be satisfied with money: and he that loueth riches, shalbe without the fruite therof: This is also a vaine thing.

10 Whereas much riches is, there are many also that spend them away: and what pleasure more hath hee that possesseth them, sauing that hee may looke vpon them with his eyes?

11 A labouring man sleepeth sweetely, whether it bee little or much that he eateth: but the abundance of the rich will not suffer him to sleepe.

12 Yet is there a sore plague which I haue seene vnder the Sunne, namely, riches kept to the hurt of him that hath them in possession:

13 For oftentimes they perish with his great miserie and trouble: and if he haue a childe, it getteth nothing.

14 Like as he came naked out of his mothers wombe, soo goeth hee thither againe, and carrieth nothing away with him of all his labour.

15 This is a miserable plague, that he shal go euen as he came away: what helpeth it him then that he hath laboured in the wind?

16 All the dayes also of his life he did eate in the darke with great carefulnesse, sickenesse, and sorowe.

17 Therefore me thinketh it a better and a fairer thing a man to eate and drinke, and cate refreshed of all his labour that he taketh vnder the Sunne, all the dayes of his life which God giueth him: for this is his portion.

18 For vnto whomsoeuer God giueth riches, goods, and power, hee giueth it him to enioy it, to take it for his portion, and to be refreshed of his labour: this is the gift of God.

19 For he thinketh not much howe long hee shall liue, forasmuch as God filleth his heart with gladnesse.

The vj. Chapter

The miserable estate of him to whome God hath giuen riches, and not the grace to vse them.

THere is yet a plague vnder the Sunne, and it is a generall thing among men: when God giueth a man riches, goods, and honour, so that he wanteth nothing of al that his heart can desire, and yet God giueth him not leaue to enioy the same, but an other man spendeth them: This is a vaine thing, and a miserable plague.

2 If a man beget a hundred children, and liue many yeeres, so that his dayes are many in number, and yet can not enioy his good, neither bee buried, as for him, I say, that vntimely birth is better then he.

3 For he cometh to nought, & spendeth his time in darkenes, and his name is forgotten.

4 Moreouer, hee seeth not the Sunne, and knoweth not of it: and yet hath he more rest then the other.

5 Yea, though hee liued two thousande yeeres, yet hath hee no good life: Come not all to [b] one place?

b That is, to death, meaning that he is nothing better then the vntimely fruite.

6 All the labour that a man taketh, is for him | selfe, and yet his desire is neuer filled after his minde.

| Or, for his mouth.

7 For what hath the wise more then the foole? what helpeth it the poore, that [c] he knoweth to walke with fooles before the liuing?

c That is, that he knoweth how to vse his riches well in the iudgement of the wise.

8 The [d] cleare sight of the eye is better then that the soule should walke after desires of the lust: Howbeit, this is also a vaine thing, and a disquietnesse of minde.

d It is better to be content with that that God hath giuen, than to follow his desire that neuer will be satisfied.

9 The thing that hath bene, is named already, and knowen that it is euen man himselfe: neither may hee goe to lawe with him [e] that is mightier then he.

e That is, with God, who will teach him that he is mortall.

10 Many things there bee that encreasle vanitie, and what hath a man els?

11 For who knoweth what is good for man liuing in the dayes of his vaine life, which is but a shadowe? Or who will tell a man what shall happen after him vnder the Sunne?

The vij. Chapter.

Diuers precepts to follow that which is good, and to auoyd the contrary.

A Good name is more worth then precious ointment: and the [a] day of death, is better then the day of birth.

a Because that this corporall death is the entring in to life euerlasting.

2 [*b] It is better to goe into an house of mourning, then into a banqueting house: for there is the ende of all men, and he that is liuing, taketh it to heart.

Pro. 22. 1.

b The house of mourning putteth vs in minde of death, and to examine and amend our liues.

3 [c] Grauitie is better then to laugh: for when the countenance is heauie, the heart is reformed.

c The heart of a sinner is sooner reformed by an angry countenance, then by a laughing.

4 The heart of the wise is in the mourning house: but the heart of the foolish is in the house of mirth.

5 It is better to giue eare to the chastening of a wise man, then to heare the song of fooles.

6 For the laughing of fooles is like the [d] cracking of thornes vnder a pot: and that is but a vaine thing.

d Thornes in the fire crackle for a while, but they are soone gone out.

7 The wise man hateth wrong dealing, and abhorreth the heart that coueteth rewardes.

8 Better it is to consider the ende of a thing, then the beginning: the patient spirit is better then the high minded.

9 Be not hastily angry in thy minde: for wrath resteth in the bosome of fooles.

10 [e] Say not thou, what is the cause that the dayes of the olde time were better then they that bee nowe? for that were no wise question.

e Good dayes are not to be esteemed by prosperitie, but by vertue and true religion, as the dayes of Christ are better than the former dayes of Moses.

11 Wisedome with inheritance is good, yet better is it with them that without care may beholde the Sunne.

12 For wisedome defendeth as well as money, and the excellent knowledge and wisedome giueth life vnto him that hath it in possession.

13 Consider the worke of God, howe that no man can make the thing straight, which he maketh crooked.

14 Vse well the time of prosperitie, and remember the time of misfortune: for God doeth so temper the one and the other, that a man [f] can finde nothing els.

15 All things haue I considered in the time of my vanitie: that the [g] iust man perisheth for his righteousnesse sake, and the vngodly liueth in his wickednesse.

16 Therefore be thou neither too righteous, nor ouerwise, that thou perish not.

17 Bee neither too vnrighteous also, nor too foolish, lest thou die before thy time.

18 It is good for thee to [h] take holde of this, and not to let that goe out of thy hand: For hee that feareth God, commeth forth with them all.

19 Wisedome giueth more courage vnto the wise, then ten mightie men of the citie.

20 * For there is not one iust vpon earth that doeth good, and sinneth not.

21 Take no heede vnto euery worde that is spoken, lest thou heare thy seruant curse thee: for thine owne heart knoweth that thou thy selfe also hast oft time spoken euill by other men.

22 All these things haue I proued in wisdome, for I thought to be wise, but thee went farther from me then he was before: yea, and so deepe, that I might not reach vnto her.

23 I applied my minde also vnto knowledge, and to seeke and search out science, wisdome, and vnderstanding, to knowe the foolishnesse of the vngodly, and the errour of doting fooles.

24 And I founde that a woman is bitterer then death, the which hath cast abroade her heart as a nette that men fish with, and her handes are chaines. [i] Who so pleaseth God, shall escape from her, but the sinner will be taken with her.

25 Behold (saith the Preacher) this haue I diligently searched out and proued. One thing must be considered with another, that a man may come by knowledge: which ‖ as yet I seeke, and finde it not.

26 Among a thousand men I haue found one: but [k] not one woman among all.

27 Loe, this onely haue I founde, that God made man iust and right: [l] but they sought many inuentions.

The viij. Chapter.

2 To obey princes and magistrates. 27 The workes of God passe mans knowledge.

WHo is wise? who hath knowledge to make an answere? A [a] mans wisedome maketh his face to shine: but ‖ vnshamefastnesse putteth it out of fauour.

2 * Keepe the kings commaundement, namely, for the othe that thou hast made vnto God for the same.

3 [b] Bee not hastie to goe out of his sight, and see thou continue in no euill thing: for whatsoeuer it pleaseth him, that doeth he.

4 Like as when a king giueth a charge, his commandement is mightie: euen so, who may say vnto him, what doest thou?

5 Who so keepeth the commaundement, shall feele no harme: but a wise mans heart discerneth the time and iudgement.

6 For euery thing will haue opportunitie and iudgement: and this is the thing that maketh men full of carefulnesse and sorowe.

7 And why? a man knoweth not what is for to come: for who can tell when it shalbe?

8 Neither is there any man that hath power ouer the spirit, to keepe still the spirit, nor to haue any power in the time of death, nor that can make an ende of the battell, neither may vngodlinesse deliuer them that meddle withall.

9 All these things haue I considered, and applyed my minde vnto euery worke that is vnder the Sunne, howe one man hath lordship vpon another to [c] his owne harme.

10 For I haue seene often the vngodly brought to their graues, [d] and yet they haue returned into the citie againe, and [e] came from the place of holy men, which in the citie were growen out of memorie, as were they also that liued well: This is also a vayne thing.

11 [f] Because nowe that euill workes are not hastily punished, the heart of man giueth himselfe ouer vnto wickednesse.

12 Because an euill person offendeth an hundred times, and God deferreth, giuing him long life: therefore am I sure that it shall goe well with them that feare God, which haue him before their eyes.

13 Againe, as for the vngodly, it shall not be well with him, neither shal he prolong his dayes, but euen as a shadowe, so shall hee bee that feareth not God.

14 Yet is there a vanitie vpon earth: There be iust men, vnto whom it happeneth as though they had the workes of the vngodly: Againe, there be vngodly, with whome it goeth as though they had the workes of the righteous: This haue I called also a vaine thing.

15 Therefore I commend gladnesse, because a man hath no better thing vnder the Sunne, then to eate and drinke, and to be merrie: [g] for that shall he haue of his labour all the dayes of his life, which God giueth him vnder the Sunne.

16 And so I applied my minde to learne wisedome, and to knowe the trauaile that is in the world, and that of such a fashion, that I suffred not mine eyes to sleepe, neither day nor night.

17 I vnderstoode of all the workes of God, but it is not possible for a man to attaine vnto the workes that are done vnder the sunne: and though hee bestowe his labour to seeke them out, yet can hee not reach vnto them: yea, though a wise man would vndertake to knowe them, yet shall he not finde them.

The ix. Chapter.

1 By no outward thing can man knowe whom God loueth or hateth. 11 No man knoweth his ende. 19 Wisedome excelleth strength.

FOr all these things purposed I in my minde to seeke out: The righteous and wise, yea, and their seruantes also are in the hand of God, [a] and there is no man that knoweth either loue or hate, but all things are before them.

a By any outward thing in this life, no man knoweth whether he is loued or hated of God.

2 It happeneth vnto one, as vnto another, it goeth with the righteous, as with the vngodly, [b] with the good and cleane, as with the vncleane: with him that offereth, as with him that offereth not: like as it goeth with the vertuous, so goeth it also with the sinner: as it happeneth vnto the periured, so happeneth it also to him that is afraid to be forsworne.

b Prosperitie and aduersitie commeth in this life, as well to the godly, as to the wicked.

3 Among all things that come to passe vnder the Sunne, this is a miserie, that it happeneth vnto all alike: This is the cause also, that the hearts of men are full of wickednesse, and madde foolishnesse is in their hearts, as long as they liue, vntill they die.

4 And why? as long as a man liueth, he hath an hope: for a [c] quicke dogge say they is better then a dead Lion.

c The wicked account themselues to be in Gods fauour, notwithstanding they liue, lay vp, and heape vp sinne.

5 For they that be liuing, know that they shall die: but [d] they that be dead, knowe nothing, neither deserue they any more, for their memoriall is forgotten.

d The dead know not what is done in this world.

6 Also their loue and their hatred, and their enuie is nowe perished, neither haue they any more part in the world in all that is done vnder the Sunne.

7 [e] Goe thou thy way then, eate thy bread with ioy, and drinke thy wine with a glad heart, for thy works please God: Let thy garments bee alwayes white, and let thy head lacke no ointment.

e The wicked account themselues to be in Gods fauour, notwithstanding they liue, lay vp, and heape vp sinne.

8 Vse thy selfe to liue ioyfully with thy wife whome thou louest, all the dayes of thy life, which is but vaine, that God giueth thee vnder the Sunne all the dayes of thy vanitie: for that is thy portion in this life of all thy labour and trauaile that thou takest vnder the Sunne.

9 Whatsoeuer thou takest in hand to doe, that doe with all thy power: for in the graue that thou goest [f] vnto, there is neither worke, counsell, knowledge, nor wisedome.

f There is no state of repentance after this life.

10 So I turned mee vnto other things vnder the Sunne, and I saw that in running it helpeth not to bee swift, in battell it helpeth not to be strong, to feeding, it helpeth not to be wise, to riches, it helpeth not to be a man of much vnderstanding, to be had in fauour, it helpeth not to be cunning: [g] but that all lieth in time and fortune.

g Thus the wicked worldlings are deceiued, attributing to fortune, that which is ordered by the secret prouidence of God, by that the vnderstanding of mens hearts is not in this life, but chiefly in the life to come.

11 For a man knoweth not his time: but like as the fishes are taken with the angle, and as the birdes are caught with the snare: euen so are men taken in the perilous time, when it commeth suddenly vpon them.

12 [h] This wisedome haue I seene also vnder the Sunne, and me thought it a great thing.

h A praise of wisedome.

13 There was a litle citie, and a few men within it: so there came a great king & besieged it, and made great bulwarkes against it.

14 And in the citie there was found a poore man, but he was wise, which with his wisedome deliuered the citie, yet was there no body that had any respect to such a simple man.

15 Then said I, Wisedome is better then strength: neuertheless, a simple mans wisedome is despised, & his wordes are not heard.

16 A wise mans counsell that is ‖ followed in silence, is farre aboue the crying of a captaine among fooles.

‖ Or, heard.

17 * For wisedome is better then harnesse: but one sinner alone destroyeth much goodnesse.

Sapi. 6.8.

The x. Chapter.

1 The difference of foolishnesse and wisedome. 10 A slaunderer is like a Serpent that cannot bee charmed. 15 Of foolish kings and riotous princes. 16 And of good kings and princes.

AS dead flye doeth corrupt sweete ointment, and maketh it to stinke: euen so oft times, he that hath bene had in estimation for wisedome and honour, is abhorred because of a litle foolishnesse.

2 [a] A wise mans heart is vpon his right hand, but a fooles heart vpon his left.

a A wise man doth things aptly, and with good consideration, but a foole doth contrary.

3 A foole will shewe himselfe when he goeth by the way, ‖ yet thinketh he that euery man doeth as foolishly as himselfe.

‖ Or, and being a foole himselfe, esteemes all other men as fooles.

4 If a principall spirite bee giuen thee to beare rule, be not negligent then in thine office: for he that can take cure of himselfe, auoydeth great offences.

5 Another plague is there which I haue seene vnder the Sunne, namely, the ignorance that is commonly among princes: in that a foole sitteth in great dignitie, and the [b] rich are set downe beneath.

b Rich in wisedome and vertue.

6 I haue seene seruants ride vpon horses, and princes going vpon ‖ their feete, as it were seruants.

‖ Or, the earth.

7 * But he that diggeth vp a pit, shall fall therein himselfe: and who so breaketh downe the hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

Pro. 26.27. eccle. 27.30

8 Who so remoueth stones, shal haue trauaile withall: and he that heweth wood, shal be hurt therewith.

9 When an yron is blunt, and the poynt not sharpened, [c] it must be whet againe, and that with might: euen so doth wisedome followe diligence.

c Meet helpes of nature.

10 A backbiter is no better then a serpent that stingeth without hissing.

11 The words out of a wise mans mouth are gracious: but the lippes of a foole will destroy himselfe.

12 The beginning of his talking is foolishnesse: and the last word of his mouth is starke madnesse.

13 A foole is full of wordes, and a man can not tell what shall come to passe: who will then warne him of it that shall followe after him?

d The foolish will discusse hie matters, and know not his owne duetie.

14 The labour of the [d] foolish is grieuous vnto them, while they know not howe to goe into the citie.

15 Woe be vnto thee, O thou land, whose king [e] is but a childe, and whose princes are earely at their banquets.

e A childe in affection and maners, and voyd of graue counsell.

16 But well is thee, O thou land, whose king is come of nobles, and whose princes eate in due season for necessitie, & not for lust.

17 Through slouthfulnesse the balkes fal downe, and through idle hands it raineth in at the house.

18 Meate maketh men to laugh, & wine maketh them merrie: but vnto money are all things obedient.

f Treason can not bee wrought so secretly, but it will be knowen.

19 [f] Wish the king no euill in thy thought, and speake no hurt of the rich in thy priuie chamber: for a birde of the ayre shall betray thy voyce, and with her feathers shall she bewray thy wordes.

The xj. Chapter.

1 To be liberall to the poore. 4 Not to doubt of Gods prouidence. 8 All worldly prosperitie is but vanitie. 9 God will judge all.

a Be liberall to the poore, though it seeme to be cast into the sea, yet shall it profite thee at the last. b Distribute thy almes to any that haue need, without respect of person. c In what state man dyeth, in that shall hee be iudged at the latter day of iudgement.

CAst [a] thy bread vpon wet faces, and so shalt thou finde it after many dayes.

2 [b] Giue part seuen dayes, and also vpon the eight: for thou knowest not what miserie shall come vpon earth.

3 When ỹ cloudes are full, they powre out raine vpon the earth. [c] And when the tree falleth, whether it be toward ỹ South or north, in what place soeuer it fall, there it lieth.

4 Hee that regardeth the winde, shall not sow: & he that hath respect vnto the cloudes, shall not reape.

5 Now like as thou knowest not the way of the spirite, nor how the bones doe grow in the wombe of her that is with childe: euen so thou knowest not the workes of God which is the workemaster of all.

6 Cease not therfore with thy hands to sowe thy seede, whether it bee in the morning or in the euening: for thou knowest not whether this or that shall prosper, and if they both take, it is the better.

7 The light is sweet, and a pleasant thing is it for the eyes to looke vpon the sunne.

8 If a man liue many yeeres, and be glad in them all, let him remember the dayes of darknesse which shall be many, and that followeth: All things shalbe but vanitie.

d Ha de ialte thee in all worldly affaires, that thou remember alwayes the accompt that thou must make to God for the same at the day of iudgement.

9 Be glad then (O thou yong man) in thy youth, and let thy heart be merry in thy yong dayes, follow the waies of thine owne heart, and the lust of thine eyes, [d] but bee thou sure that God shall bring thee into iudgment for all these things.

The xij. Chapter.

2 To thinke on God in youth, and not to deferre till age. 7 The soule returneth to God. 12 Wisedome is the gift of God, and consisteth in fearing him, and keeping his commandements.

PUt * away displeasure out of thine heart, and remoue euill from thy body: for childehoode and youth is but vanitie.

* This verse in the Latine is read in the chapter before.

2 Remember thy maker the sooner in thy youth, or euer ỹ dayes of aduersitie come, and or the yeres draw nigh when thou shalt say, I haue no pleasure in them:

3 Before the Sunne, the Light, the Moone, and starres be darkened, and or the cloudes turne againe after the rayne:

4 [a] when the keepers of the house shall tremble, and when the [b] strong men shal bow themselues, when the [c] milners stand still because they be so fewe, and when the [d] sight of the windowes shall waxe dimme:

a The hands. b The thighes. c The mill. d The eyes.

5 when the [e] doores of the streetes shalbe shut, and when the [f] voyce of the milner shall be laide downe, when men shall rise vp at the voyce of the [g] byrd, and when all the [h] daughters of musicke shalbe brought lowe:

e The mouth. f The chinne. g Metaphorically for the singers. h The eares. i When it is hard to heare a voice. k Or bare. l Or flourishing. m Or Locust. n Or to his graue. o Lamenting. p The marie in the backe bone. q The veines (whereby the water is carried to the braine). r The two great veines. s The liuer. t The heart. u The iaws.

6 When men shall feare in [i] high places, and be afraid [k] in the streetes, when the [l] Almond tree shall flourish and be laden with the [m] Grashopper, and when all lust shall passe: because man goeth to his [n] long home, and the mourners goe about the [o] streetes:

7 [p] Or euer the siluer lace be taken away, and or the [q] golden well bee broken: Or the [r] pot be broken at the [s] well, and the [t] wheele broken vpon the [u] cesterne.

8 Then shal the dust be turned againe vnto earth from whence it came, and the spirite shall returne vnto God who gaue it.

9 All is but vanitie (saith the preacher) all is but plaine vanitie.

10 The preacher was yet more wise, and taught the people knowledge, hee gaue good heede, sought out the ground, and set forth many parables: His diligence was to finde out acceptable wordes, right scripture, and the wordes of trueth.

11 For the wordes of the wise are like prickes and nayles that goe thorowe, of the [x] authors of gatherings, which are giuen of one Shepheard.

x Authours of gathering be called wise men, because they gather the sayings of the wisest out of men in their bookes.

12 Therefore beware my sonne of that doctrine that is beside this: for to make many bookes, it is an endlesse worke: and too much studie wearieth the body.

13 Let vs heare the conclusion of all things: Feare God, and keepe his commandements: for that toucheth all men. For God shall iudge all workes and secrete things, whether they be good or euill.

The ende of the booke of the Preacher, otherwise called Ecclesiastes.

The

The Ballet of Ballets of Solomon, called in Latine, Canticum Canticorum.

The first Chapter.

1 The familiar talke and mysticall communication of the spirituall loue betweene Iesus Christ and his Church. 6 The domesticall enemies that persecute the Church.

a The Church desireth the peace of Christ.

O That a hee wolde kisse me with the kisses of his mouth: for thy loue is more pleasant the wine, and that because of the good and pleasant sauour of thy most precious baulmes.

b Christ was sold by Iudas. c The mayden, that is, they that are poore in spirit.

2 b Thy name is a sweete smelling oyntment when it is shed foorth, therefore doe the c maydens loue thee.

3 Draw me thou mee vnto thee, we will runne after thee. The king hath brought me into his priuie chambers: wee will be glad and reioyce in thee, we thinke more of thy loue, then of wine: they that be righteous loue thee.

d Blacke, through the heate of Sunne and persecution. e Feare, for none liuely in the Church of Christ.

4 d I am blacke (O yee daughters of Hierusalem) but yet e fayre and well fauoured, like as the tentes of the Cedarenes, and as the hangings of Solomon.

5 Maruaile not at mee that I am so blacke, for why? the Sunne hath shined vpon me: my mothers children haue euill wil at me: they made mee the keeper of the vineyardes, but mine owne vineyarde haue I not kept.

6 Tell me, O thou, whome my soule loueth, where thou feedest the sheepe, where thou makest them rest at the noone day? for why shall I be like him that goeth wrong about the flockes of thy companions?

f After the doctrine of the Apostles.

7 If thou knowe not thy selfe (O thou fayrest among women) then goe thy way foorth after the f foottesteppes of the sheepe, and feede thy goates beside the shepheardes tentes.

8 Vnto the hoste of Pharaos charrets haue I compared thee, O my loue.

9 Thy cheeks and thy necke is beautifull as the Turtles, and hanged with spangs and goodly ie wels, a neckeband of golde wil we make thee, with siluer buttons.

g The Spouse being in the Church, knowing Christ, he shall not erre from the true faith of saluation.

10 g When the King sitteth at the table, hee shall smell my Nardus: a bundle of Myrrhe is my loue vnto mee, he will lie betwixt my breastes: a cluster of Camphire in the vineyardes of Engaddi is my loue vnto me.

11 Oh howe faire art thou my loue, Oh howe faire art thou? thou hast doues eyes. O howe faire art thou my beloued, howe well fauoured art thou?

12 Our bed is decht with flowres, the seelings of our house are of Cedar tree, and our crosse ioynts of Cypresse.

The ij. Chapter.

3 The Church desireth to rest vnder the shadowe of Christ. 8 She heareth his voyce. 14 She is compared to the Doue, 15 And the enemies to the Foxes.

I Am the Rose of the fielde, and Lilie of the valleyes.

a Christ among his enemies.

2 a As the Lilie among the thornes: so is my loue among the daughters.

b The loue of the Church toward Christ.

3 b Like as the apple tree among the trees of the wood: so is my beloued among the sonnes.

c His fruits, that is, his worde.

4 My delight is to sit vnder the shadowe, for c his fruite is sweete vnto my throte.

5 Hee bringeth me into his owne celler, his banner spred ouer me, which is his loue.

6 Set about me cuppes of wine, comfort me with apples, for I am sicke of loue.

7 His left hand lyeth vnder my head, and his right hand shall imbrace me.

d Christ chargeth the rulers of the Church as it were by an othe, that they trouble not the quietnesse thereof.

8 d I charge you (O ye daughters of Hierusalem) by the Roes and Hindes of the field, that ye wake not vp my loue, nor touch her, till she be content her selfe.

9 Me thinke I heare the voyce of my beloued: loe, there cōmeth he hopping vpon the mountaines, e leaping ouer the litle hilles.

e His diuinitie was hidden vnder our flesh.

10 My beloued is like a Roe or a young Hart: behold, he standeth behind e our wall, he looketh in f at the windowe, and peepeth thorowe the grate.

f We can not knowe him in this life perfectly.

11 My beloued answered, and sayd vnto me, O stand vp, my loue, my beautifull, and goe to thine owne: g for loe, the winter is nowe past, the raine is away and gone.

g That is, sin and infidelitie is put away by Christ.

h Good works

12 h The flowres are come vp in the field, the time of the birdes singing is come, and the i voyce of the turtle doue is heard in our lande.

i The voyce of the holy Ghost.

13 The figge tree bringeth forth her figs, and the vines beare blossomes, and haue a good smell.

14 O stande vp then, and come, my loue, my beautifull, and come I say, O my Doue, out of the caues of the rocks, out of the holes of the wall, O let me see thy countenance, and heare thy voyce: for sweete is thy voyce, and faire is thy face.

k Happily the heretikes at the beginning, before they openly raile blaspheme.

15 Get vs k the Foxes, yea the litle Foxes that hurt the vines: for our vines beare blossomes.

16 My loue is mine, and I am his, which feedeth among the Lilies vntill the day breake, and till the shadowes be gone.

l The Church inspired, Christ as a prisoner perhaps now shewed in time of neede.

17 ¶ Come againe, O my beloued, and be like a Roe or a young Hart vpon the wide mountaines.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The Church desired to bee ioyned inseparably to Christ her husband. 6 Her deliuerance out of the wildernesse.

a Christ is not found by carnall reason, but by the Scripture.

BY a night in my bed I sought him whome my soule loueth: yea, diligently sought I him, but I found him not.

b We must continue in prayer, though we feele no comfort at the first.

2 I will get vp, thought I, b and goe about the citie, in the wayes in all the streetes will I seeke him whome my soule loueth: but when I sought him, I found him not.

3 The watchmen also that goe about the citie, found me, to whome I sayde, Sawe ye not him whome my soule loueth?

4 So when I was a litle past them, I found him whome my soule loueth, I haue gotten holde vpon him, and wil not let him goe, vntill I bring him into my mothers house, and into her chamber that bare me.

5 I charge you, O yee daughters of Hierusalem, by the Roes and Hindes of the field, that ye wake not vp my loue, nor touch her, till she be content her selfe.

e By this is vnderstanded the children of Israel, which in the wildernesse did followe Christ.

6 Who is this that commeth vp c out of the wildernesse like vapours of smoke, as it were a smell of Myrrhe, Frankincense, and all maner of the Apotecarie?

d By Solomons bedstead is vnderstanded the temple of Solomon, the which is defended by the sword, that is, by the worde.

7 Beholde, about d Solomons bedstead there stande three score valiant, of the most mightie in Israel: they holde swordes euery one, and are expert in warre.

8 Euery man also hath his sworde vpon his thigh, because of feare in the night.

9 King Solomon had made him selfe a palace of the wood of Libanus, the pillars are of siluer, ‖ the couering of golde, the seate of purple, the grounde is pleasantly paued with loue for the daughters of Hierusalem.

‖ Some reade, the pauement of gold, the couering of purple.

10 Goe foorth (O ye daughters of Sion) and beholde King Solomon in the crowne wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his marriage, and in the day of the gladnesse of his heart.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 The prayses of the Church. 7 She is without blemish in his sight. 9 The loue of Christ toward her.

a Christ prayseth his Church wherin hee hath great delight.

HOwe a faire art thou, my loue, howe faire art thou? thou hast b Doues eies, beside that which lyeth hid within: c thy hairie lockes are like the wooll of a flocke of Goates that be shorne vpon mount Gilead.

b A simple faith, and sincere.

c The fruites of a true faith.

d By the teeth, is signified faith, by the which we are all made the sonnes of God equally.

2 d Thy teeth are like a flocke of sheepe of the same bignesse which went vp from the washing place, where euery one beareth two twinnes, and not one vnfruitfull among them.

3 Thy lippes are like a Rose coloured ryband, thy wordes are louely, thy cheekes are like a piece of a Pomegranate within thine haires.

e By the necke is signified the preachers.

4 Thy e necke is like the towre of Dauid, builded with costly stones lying out on the sides, whereupon there hang a thousande shieldes, yea all the weapons of the Gyants.

f The two breasts signifie the two testaments.

5 f Thy two breasts are like two twinnes of yong Roes, which feede among Roses.

6 O that I might goe to the mountaine of Myrrhe, and to the hill of Frankincense, till the day breake, and till the shadowes bee past away.

7 Thou art all fayre (O my loue) and no spot is there in thee.

8 Come to mee from Libanus (O my spouse) come to mee from Libanus: looke from the top of Amana, from the top of Sanir & Hermon, from the Lions dennes, and from the mountaines of the Leopardes.

9 Thou hast with loue bewitched my heart, O my sister, my spouse, thou hast bewitched my heart with one of thine eies, and and with one chaine of thy necke.

10 O howe faire are thy breastes, my sister, my spouse? Thy breastes are more pleasant then wine, and the smell of thine oyntments passeth all spices.

g The preaching of the Gospel bringeth forth much consolation and ioye.

11 g Thy lippes, O my spouse, drop as the honie combe, yea milke and honie is vnder thy tongue, and the smell of thy garments is like the smell of Libanus.

h The Church is beloued by Christ.

12 h A garden well locked is my sister, my spouse: a garden well locked, & a sealed well.

13 The fruites that are planted in her, are like a very paradise of Pomegranates with sweete fruites, as Camphire, Nardus, and Saffron, Calamus, Cynamom, with all sweete smelling trees, Myrrhe, Aloes, and all the best spices a well of gardens, a well of liuing waters which runne downe from Libanus.

i By the North winde is ment the persecution that came from the Church, and by the South winde, the preaching of the Gospel in it.

14 i Vp thou Northwinde, come thou South winde, and blowe vpon my garden, that the smell thereof may be caryed on euery side: yea, that my beloued may come into his garden, and eate of the sweete fruits that growe therein.

The v. Chapter.

1 Christ calleth his Church to the participation of all his treasures. 2 Shee heareth her voyce. 6 Shee confesseth her nakednesse. 10 She prayseth Christ her husband.

a The garden signifieth the Church of God, in the which Christ beholdeth his flowrets, herbs, fruits.

I Am a come into my garden, O my sister, my spouse, I haue gathered my Myrrhe with my spice: I haue eaten honie with my honie combe, I haue drunken my wine with milke: Eate, O ye friends, drinke, and be merie, O ye beloued.

2 I am asleepe, but my heart is waking: I heare the voyce of my beloued when hee knocketh, saying, Open to me, O my sister, my loue, my doue, my darling: for my head is full of deawe, and the lockes of my haire are full of the night droppes.

3 I haue put off my coate, how can I put it on againe? I haue washed my feete, howe shall shall I file them againe?

4 My loue put in his hand at the hole, and my heart was moued within me.

5 I stood vp to open vnto my beloued, and my handes dropped with Myrrhe, and the Myrrhe ranne downe my fingers vpon the locke.

6 I opened vnto my beloued, but hee was departed and gone his way: Nowe when he spake, my heart was gone: [b] I sought him, but I could not find him: I cryed vpon him neuertheleſſe, he gaue me no answere.

b Christ doeth some time try a man, to that he would stirre vp in them a greater desire of him.

7 So the watchmen that went about the city, found me, smote me, & wounded me: yea they that kept the walles, tooke away my kerchiefe from me.

8 I charge you therfore, O ye daughters of Hierusalem, if ye finde my beloued, that ye tell him howe that I am sicke for loue.

9 What maner of man is thy loue aboue other louers, O thou fairest among women? Or what can thy loue do more then other louers, that thou chargest vs so straightly?

10 Is for my loue, hee [c] is white and red coloured, a goodly person among ten thousand.

c The Church setteth forth Christ in her affection and reuerence as one comparable.

11 His head is as the most fine golde, the lockes of his haire are bushed, and blacke as a Crowe.

12 His eyes are as the eyes of doues by the water brooks, as though they were washed with milke, ‖ and are set like pearles in golde.

‖ Some reade, and remaine by the full veſſels.

13 His cheekes are like a garden bedde wherein the Apothecaries plant all maner of sweete things.

14 His lippes are like Lilies that droppe sweete smelling Myrrhe: his hands are like gold rings, hauing enclosed the precious stone of Tharsis.

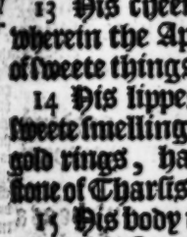
15 His body is as the pure Iuorie, deckt ouer with Saphires: his legges are as the pillars of Marble set vpon sockets of gold.

16 His face is as Libanus, & as the beautie of the Cedar trees.

17 The wordes of his mouth are sweete, yea hee is altogether louely: Such a one is my loue, O yee daughters of Hierusalem, such a one is my loue.

The vj. Chapter.

3 The Church assureth her selfe of the loue of Christ, 4 The praise of the Church. 8 Shee is but one and vndefiled.



Whither is thy loue gone then, O thou fayrest among women? whither is thy loue departed, and wee will seeke him with thee?

a Christ is conuersant in his Church, which is directed by his Scriptures.

2 [a] My loue is gone downe into his garden vnto the sweete smelling beddes, that hee may refresh him selfe in the garden, and gather Lilies.

3 My loue is mine, and I am his, which feedeth among the Lilies.

4 Thou art beautifull, O my loue, as is the place Thirza, thou art faire as Hierusalem, fearefull as an armie of men with their banners.

5 Turne away thine eyes away from me, for they ‖ haue set me on fire: thy hairie locks are like a flocke of Goates shorne vpon the mount of Gilead.

‖ Or, ouercome me.

6 Thy teeth are like a flocke of shorne sheepe, which goe out of the washing place, where euery one beareth twinnes, and not one vnfruitful among them.

7 Thy cheekes are like a piece of a pomegranate within thy lockes of haire.

8 [b] There are threescore Queenes, fourescore wiues, and damosels without number.

b There be many in the Church of God, and diuers orders and degrees therein.

9 [c] One is my doue, one is my darling, she is the onely beloued of her mother, and deare vnto her that bare her: when the daughters sawe her, they sayde she was blessed, yea the queenes and wiues praised her.

c Diuers particular Churches dispersed, make but one Catholique Church.

10 What is she this that looketh forth as the morning, fayre as the moone, cleare as the sunne, and fearefull as an armie of men with their banners?

11 [d] I went downe into the nut garden, to see what grew by the brooks, and to looke if the vineyard flourished, or if the Pomegranats were not forth.

d Christ looketh vpon his Church subiect to afflictions, what fruit it bringeth.

12 I knewe not that my soule had made me the chariot of the people that bee vnder tribute.

13 Turne againe, turne againe, O thou perfect one, turne againe, turne againe, and we will looke vpon thee: What will ye see in the [e] Sulamite? She is like men of warre singing in a company.

e Sulamite, that is, Hierusalem, which was Shalem, that signifieth peace.

The vij. Chapter.

1 The beautie of the Church in all her members. 10 She is assured of Christs loue towards her.

Howe pleasant are thy treadings with thy shooes, thou princes daughter? the ioynts of thy thighes are like a faire iewell, which is wrought by a cunning workemaster.

2 Thy [a] nauill is like a rounde goblet, which is neuer without drinke.

a Thy nauill is replenished with the riche knowledge of Gods worde and heauenly desires.

3 Thy [b] wombe is like a heape of wheate that is set about with Lilies.

b The Church is full of spirituall treasures.

4 [c] Thy two breasts are like two twinnes of yong Roes.

c The two testaments come from God, and they be of equall authoritie.

5 [d] Thy neck is as it were a tower of Iuorie: thine [e] eyes also are like the water pooles that are in Hesebon, beside the port of Bathrabbim: thy [f] nose is like the towre of Libanus, which looketh toward Damascus.

d The preachers ought to be pure.

e The magistrates must be well instructed in the word of God.

f The iudges of good and euill.

6 That head that standeth vpon thee is like Carmel: and the haire of thy head is like purple, and like a king dwelling among many water conduites.

7 O howe faire and louely art thou my darling in pleasures?

8 Thy stature is like a [g] Palme tree, and thy breastes like the grapes.

g The Church doeth encrease the more it is pressed and persecuted.

Fr. iiii. 9 I saide,

9 I saide, I will clime vp into the Palme tree, and take hould of his high branches.
10 Thy breasts also shalbe as the wine clusters, the smell of thy nostrells like as the smell of apples.
11 And the roofe of thy mouth like the best wine, which is meete for my best beloued, pleasant for his lippes, and for his teeth to chawe.
12 I am my beloueds, and he shal returne him vnto me.
13 O come on, my loue, we will go forth into the fielde, and take our lodging in the villages.
14 [h] In the morning will we goe see the vineyarde, wee will see if the vine be sprung foorth, if the grapes bee growen, and if the Pomegranates be shut out.
15 [i] There will I giue thee my breastes: the Mandragoras giue their sweete smell, and beside our doores are all maner of pleasant fruites both newe and olde, which I haue kept for thee, O my beloued.

h Christ will call them that profesle his worde, to account what fruite they doe bring.
i God giueth his graces to the faithfull the which be in his Church.

The viij. Chapter.

1 The Church will be taught by Christ. 3 She is vpholden by him. 6 The vehement loue wherewith Christ loueth her. 11 Shee is the vine that bringeth foorth fruite of the spirituall Solomon, which is Iesus Christ.

[a] That I might finde thee without, & kisse thee, whom I loue as my brother which suckt my mothers breastes, and that thou shalt not bee despised.
2 I will leade thee, and bring thee into my mothers house, that thou mightest teach me, and that I might giue thee drinke of the spiced wine, and of the sweete sappe of my Pomegranates.
3 His [b] left hand shall be vnder my head, and his right hand shall embrace me.

a The fathers of the olde testament desire to see the incarnation of Christ.
b His gratuite fauour shall preserue me from desperation in adnersitie, and from presumption in prosperitie.

4 I charge you, O yee daughters of Hierusalem, that ye wake not vp my loue, nor touch her, till shee be content her selfe.
5 (What is shee this that commeth vp from the wildernesse, and leaneth vpon her loue?) I wake thee vp among the apple trees where thy mother conceiued thee, where thy mother I say brought thee into the worlde.
6 [c] O set me as a seale vpon thine heart, and as a seale vpon thine arme: for loue is mightie as the death, and ielousie as the hel.
7 Her coles are coles of fire, and a very vehement flame of the Lorde, so that many waters are not able to quench loue, neither may the streames drowne it: yea if a man would giue all the good of his house for loue, he should count it nothing.
8 [d] Our sister is but yong, and hath no breastes: what shall wee doe for our sister when she shall be spoken for?
9 [e] If she be a wall, we shall builde a siluer bulwarke thereupon: if shee bee a doore, we shall fasten her with boardes of Cedar trees.
10 I am a wall, and my breastes like towres, then was I as one that hath found fauour in his sight.
11 Solomon hath a vineyarde at Baalhamon, and his vineyard deliuered hee vnto the keepers, that euery one for the fruite thereof shoulde giue him a thousande pieces of siluer.
12 My vineyard which is mine, is in my sight: thou (O Solomon) must haue a [f] thousande, and the keepers two hundred, which keepe the fruite.
13 Thou that dwellest in the gardens, O let me heare thy voyce, that my companions may hearken to the same.
14 O get thee away, my loue, and be as a Roe or a yong Hart vpon the sweet smelling mountaines.

c The Church declareth to be layned vnto Christ by the feare of the holy Ghost.
d The Iewes Church foorthey that of the Gentiles, the which were long vnknowen.
e The apostles preach in them that are called vnlearned by the Gospell of Gods saluation.
f By this thousand is signified the greatest number, which is vnknowen vnto vs, but is discerned by the grace of God, and not by our reason.

The ende of the Ballet of Ballets of Solomon, called in Latine, Canticum Canticorum.

The booke of the Prophet Esay.

The first Chapter.

2 The Prophet reproueth the sinnes of the people: namely, of ingratitude, stubbernes, 11 faithlesse seruice of God, and sheweth Gods terrible iudgement against them, vnlesse they repent.

[a] The vision of Esay the sonne of Amos, which he sawe vpon Iuda and Hierusalem, in the daies daies of Vzia and Iotham, Ahaz, and Ezechias, Kings of Iuda.
2 Heare, O heauens, and hearken, O earth: for the Lorde hath spoken, I haue nourished and brought vp children, and they haue done vnfaithfully against me.
3 The ore hath knowen his owner, and the asse his masters cribbe: but Israel hath not knowen, my people hath giuen no heede:
4 Ah sinfull nation, a people laden with iniquitie, a seede of the wicked, corrupt children: they haue forsaken the Lord, they haue prouoked the holy one of Israel vnto anger, they are gone backeward.

a Is reuelation or prophecie.

5 why

5 Why should ye be striken any more? for ye are euer falling away: euery head is diseased, and euery heart heauie.

6 From the sole of the foote vnto the head, there is nothing sound in it, but woundes, blaynes, and putrifying sore: they haue not bene salued, neither wrapped vp, neither mollified with the ointment.

7 Your lande is wasted, your cities are burnt vp, strangers deuoure your land before your face, and it is made desolate, as it were the destruction of enemies in the time of warre.

8 And the daughter of Sion shall bee left as a cotage in a vineyard, like a lodge in a garden of cucumers, like a besieged citie.

Rom. 9. 29. gen. 19. 24. 9 *Except the Lord of hostes had left vs a small remnant, we should haue bene as Sodoma, and like vnto Gomorra.

Ier. 6. 20. amos 5. 22. 10 *Heare the word of the Lord, ye lordes of Sodoma, & hearken vnto the lawe of our God, thou people of Gomorra.

11 Why offer yee so many sacrifices vnto me, will the Lord say? I am full of the burnt offerings of weathers, and of the fatnesse of fed beastes, b I haue no pleasure in the blood of bullocks, lambs, and goates.

b God hateth all maner of seruice and worship, seeme they neuer so good and holy, when they be done without faith & purenes of mind.

12 When ye come to appeare before mee, treading in my courtes, who hath required this at your hands?

13 Offer me no moe oblations, for it is but lost labour: incense is an abominable thing vnto me, I may not away with your new moones, your Sabbothes, and solemne meetings, your solemne assemblies are wicked.

14 I hate your new moones & appoynted feastes euen from my very heart, they make me weary, I cannot abide them.

15 When yee hold out your hands, I will turne mine eies from you: & though ye make many prayers, yet will I heare nothing at all, * seeing your hands are full of blood.

Esay 59. 3. 1 Pet. 3. 11. 16 *Wash you, make you cleane, put away your euill thoughtes out of my sight: cease from doing of euill,

17 Learne to doe well, apply your selues to equitie, deliuer the oppressed, helpe the fatherlesse to his right, let the widowes complaint come before you:

18 And then goe to, sayth the Lord, let vs talke together: though your sinnes be as red as scarlet, they shalbe as white as snow: and though they were like purple, they shal be as white as wooll.

19 If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eate the good of the land:

20 But if ye be obstinate and rebellious, ye shall be deuoured with the sword: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

21 How happeneth it then that the faithfull citie, which was ful of equitie, is become vnfaithfull as a whore? Righteousnes dwelt in it, but now murderers.

22 Thy siluer is turned to drosse, and thy wine mixt with water,

23 Thy princes are wicked, and companions of thieues: they lone giftes altogether, and gape for rewards. * As for the fatherlesse, they helpe him not to his right, neither will they let the widowes causes come before them. Iere. 5. 28. zach. 7. 10.

24 Therefore saith the Lord God of hostes, the mightie one of Israel: Ah I must ease me of mine enemies, and auenge me of mine aduersaries.

25 And I shal lay my hand vpon thee, and purely purge away thy drosse, and take away all thy tinne:

26 And set thy Iudges agayne as they were sometime, and thy senatours as they were from the beginning: and then thou shalt be called the righteous citie, the faithful citie.

27 Sion shall be redeemed with equitie, and her conuerts with righteousnesse.

28 But the transgressors, and the vngodly, and such as forsake the Lord, shall altogether be vtterly destroyed.

29 For ye shalbe confounded for the trees which ye haue desired: and ye shalbe ashamed of the gardens that ye haue chosen.

30 For ye shall bee as a tree whose leaues are fallen away, and as a garden that hath no moistnesse.

31 And the very strong one of your idoles shall be as towe, & the maker of it as a sparke of fire, and they shall both burne together, and no man quench them.

The ij. Chapter.

1 A prophecie of Christ and his kingdome. 11 Pride, couetousnesse, superstition, and idolatrie are reproued. 17 Gods terrible iudgement against these.

THe selfe same worde that Esai the sonne of Amos sawe vpon Iuda and Hierusalem.

2 * And this shall come to passe in the latter dayes, The • hill of the Lordes house shall be prepared in the height of the mountaines, and shall be higher then the hilles, and all nations shall prelle vnto him. Mich. 4. 2. • Christ, his church and his word.

3 And a multitude of people shal go, speaking thus one to another, Come, let vs ascend to the hill of the Lord, to the house of the God of Iacob, & he wil instruct vs of his wayes, and wee will walke in his paths: for out of Sion shal come a lawe, and the worde of the Lord from Hierusalem:

4 And shal giue sentence among the heathen, & shal reforme the multitude of people: they shall breake their swords also into mattocks, and their speares to make sithes: And one people shall not lift vp a weapon against another, neither shall they learne to fight from thencefoorth.

5 Come, O yee house of Iacob, and let vs walke in the light of the Lord:

6 For thou hast forsaken thy people the house of Iacob, b because they be replenished with euils from the East, and with soothsayers like b The cause why God forsaketh his people, are idolatry, beastlinesse, pride, riches, fleshly trust, confidence, and trust in other things then in God alone.

like the Philistines, and in strange children they thinke themselues to haue ynough.

7 Their land is ful of siluer and gold, neither is there any end of their treasure: their land is also ful of horses, and no ende is there of their charets.

8 Their land is also ful of vaine gods, and before the workes of their owne handes they haue bowed themselues, yea euen before the thing that their owne fingers haue made.

9 There kneeleth the man, there falleth the man downe before them: therfore forgiue them not.

10 Get thee into the rocke, and hide thee in the ground, for feare of the Lorde, and for the glory of his maiestie.

11 The high lookes of man shalbe brought lowe, and the hautinesse of men shall be bowed downe: and the Lord alone shalbe exalted in that day.

12 For the day of the Lord of hostes shalbe vpon all the proud, loftie, and vpon all that is exalted, and he shalbe brought lowe.

13 And vpon all high and stoute Cedar trees of Libanus, and vpon all the Okes of Basan,

14 And vpon all the high mountaines, and vpon all the high hils,

15 And vpon euery high towre, and vpon euery fenced wall,

16 And vpon all the ships of Tharsis, and vpon all pictures of pleasure.

17 And the pride of man shall bee brought downe, and the loftinesse of men shalbe made lowe, and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day.

18 As for the idols, he shal vtterly abolish:

Luk.23.30 apoc.6.16. ose.10.8. 19 *And they shall creepe into holes of stone, and into caues of the earth, for feare of the Lorde, and for the glory of his maiestie, when he ariseth to destroy the wicked ones of the earth.

20 In the selfe same day shall man cast away his gods of siluer, and his gods of gold, into the holes of Mowles and Backs, which he neuertheless had made to himselfe to honour them.

21 And they shall creepe into the clefts of the rockes, & into the tops of the hard stones, for feare of the Lord, and for the glory of his maiestie, when he ariseth to destroy the wicked ones of the earth.

22 Cease therefore from man, in whose nostrels there is wrath: for wherein is he to be accounted of?

The iii. Chapter.

1 The mischiefe that God sendeth on common weales for the contempt of his word. 14 The couetousnesse of rulers reproued. 16 The proude wantonnesse of women punished to their shame.

FOr loe, the Lord God of hostes doeth take away from Hierusalem and Juda all maner of stay, all stay of meat and drinke,

2 The captaine and the souldior, the Judge and the Prophet, the prudent and the aged man.

a The prudent, that is, such as can foresee by their prudencie things to come.

3 The captaine of fiftie, and the honourable, the senatour, the cunning artificer, and the eloquent orator.

4 And I shal giue children to be their princes, and babes shal rule ouer them.

5 And the people shal ech one of them violently oppresse another, & euery one against his neighbor: The boy shall presume against the elder, & the person of lowe degree against the honorable.

6 Yea one shall take a friend of his owne kinred by the bosome, and say, Thou hast clothing, thou shalt be our head, and stay this ruine with thy hand.

7 Then shal he sweare, and say, I cannot helpe you: there is neyther meate nor clothing in my house, make me no ruler of the people.

8 For Hierusalem and Juda must decay: because that both their wordes and counsels are against the Lord, to prouoke the presence of his maiestie to anger.

9 Their verie countenaunce bewrayeth the, yea they declare their owne sinnes themselues as Sodome, they hide it not: Woe be to their owne soules, for they haue rewarded euil vnto themselues.

10 Say to the righteous that it shall goe well with them: for they shall eate the fruite of their owne studies.

11 But wo be vnto the wicked, for it shalbe euill with him: for he shalbe rewarded after his owne workes.

12 Children are extortioners of my people, and women rule ouer them: O my people, thy leaders deceiue thee, and corrupt the way of thy footesteps.

13 The Lorde is here to commune of the matter, and standeth to iudge the people.

14 The Lorde shall enter into iudgement with the elders and princes of his people, and shall say to them, It is yee that haue burnt vp my vineyard, the spoile of the poore is in your houses.

15 What meane ye that ye bray as in a morter my people, & grinde the faces of the poore, saith the Lord God of hostes?

16 Moreouer, the Lord hath said, Seeing the daughters of Sion are wared proud, and walke with stretched forth necks, & wanton lookes, going and tripping nicely, and tinckling with their feete:

17 Therfore shal the Lord shaue the heads of the daughters of Sion, and shall discouer their filthinesse.

18 In that day shall the Lord take away the gorgeousnes of ꝑ attire about their feete, and the cawles, and the round tires after the fashion of the moone,

19 The sweete perfumes, & the bracelets, and the mufflers,

20 The bonnets, and the slops, and the head bands, and the tablets, & the earings,

21 And rings, and nose iewels,

22 The

22 The costly apparel, and the vailes, and the wimples, and the crisping pins, 23 And the glasses, and the fine linnen, and the hoods, and the lawnes.
24 And in stead of good smell, there shal be stinke, and in stead of their girdle, a rent, and for well set haire, there shall be baldnesse, in stead of a stomacher, a sackecloth, and sunne burning for beautie.
25 Thy men shall perish with the sword, and thy valiant souldiors in the battaile, O Hierusalem.
26 And her gates shall mourne and bewayle: and shee being desolate, shall sit vpon the ground.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 The miserie of the stubburne. 3 A promise of Gods favour to the residue.

IN that day seuen women shall take holde of one man, saying, We will finde our selues meate & apparell: only let vs be called by thy name, to take our shamefull reproofe from vs.

2 a In that day shal the bud of the Lord be beautifull and glorious, and the fruit of the earth shall be excellent and pleasant for them that are escaped of Israel.

a Christes comming and kingdome in the ayre of the Church.

3 Then shall the remnant in Sion, and the remnant at Hierusalem bee called holy: namely, all such as are written among the liuing in Hierusalem,

4 b After that the Lord hath washt away the filthinesse of the daughters of Sion, and hath purged ꝑ blood out from Hierusalem in the spirit of iudgement, & in the spirit of fire.

b They are by the holy ghost borne anew and made meete for the kingdome of Christ.

5 And vpon all the dwellings of the hils of Sion, and vpon her congregations, the Lord shall create a cloud & smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for all the c glory shalbe preserued.

c Christ will protect and defend the glorie of his kingdom and Church against all troubles and temptations.

6 And there shalbe a tabernacle for a shadow in the day time from the heat, and a safe place and refuge from weather and raine.

The v. Chapter.

1 Of Christ and his vineyard, 8 with an execration of couetousnesse, 11 drunkennesse, 19 and contempt of Gods word.

NOw will I sing, my beloued friend, a song of my friend touching his vineyard: *My beloued friend had a vineyarde in a very fruitfull plenteous ground.

Ier. 2. 21. Ez. 15. 33.

2 This hee hedged, and gathered out the stones from it, and planted it with the choisest vine: In the middest of it builded hee a towre, also made a wine presse therein: and he looked that it should bring him grapes, and it brought foorth wild grapes.

a God likeneth himselfe vnto a man, the people the Church vnto a vineyard, and the vnfruitfulnesse vnto wilde grapes.

3 Now, O citizen of Hierusalem, and man of Iuda, iudge, I pray thee, betwixt mee and my vineyard.
4 What more could haue bene done for it, that I haue not done? wherefore then hath it giuen wilde grapes, where I looked to haue had grapes of it?
5 Well, now I shal tell you how I will doe with my vineyarde: I will take the hedge from it, that it may perish, and breake downe the wall thereof, that it may be troden vnder foote.
6 I will lay it waste, it shall neuer be digged nor cut, but beare thornes and briers: I will also forbid the cloudes that they shal not raine vpon it.
7 As for the vineyard of the Lord of hosts, it is the house of Israel: and the man of Iuda, the plant of his pleasure: of these hee looked for equitie, but see, there is oppression: for righteousnesse, and lo, it is a crying.
8 Woe vnto them that ioine one house to another, and bring one land so nigh vnto another, that there is no more place: will ye be placed alone in the midst of the earth?
9 These things are in the eares of ꝑ Lorde of hosts: of a trueth great and fayre houses shalbe without any dweller in them.
10 And ten acres of vines shall giue but a quart, and thirtie bushels of seede shall giue but an Epha.
11 Woe be vnto them that rise vp early to follow drunkennes, continuing vntil night, till they be set on fire with wine.
12 In their feasts are Harpes and Lutes, Tabrets & Pipes, and wine: but they regard not the worke of the Lord, and consider not the operation of his hands.
13 Therefore commeth my folke into captiuitie, because they haue no vnderstanding: b Their glory is famished with hunger, and their multitude dried vp with thirst.

b Their glory, their noble and honorable personages.

14 Therefore gapeth hell, and openeth her mouth marueilous wide, that their glorie, multitude, and wealth, with such as reioyce in her, may descend into it.
15 Thus hath man a fall, and is brought lowe, and the high looke of the proud shall be laied downe.
16 But the Lord of hosts shall be exalted in iudgement, and God that is holy, is sanctified in righteousnesse.
17 Then shal the sheepe eate as they were wont, and the rich mens wastes shall c strangers deuour.

c Gods children, as though they were strangers, and straglers beit without by the oppression of the couetous, shall after a time repossesse and enioy the lands and goods, which the oppressors vniustly possessed. A shalbe your trauels to keepe fast and labour as well.

18 Woe be vnto them that draw wickednesse with cordes of vanitie, and sinne as it were with a cartrope:
19 Which vse to speake on this maner, Let him make speede, and hasten his worke, that we may see it: let the counsell of the holy one of Israel come and draw nigh, that wee may know it.
20 Woe be vnto them that call euill good, and good euill, which make darknesse light, and light darknesse, that make sowre sweete, and sweete sowre.
21 *Woe bee vnto them that are wise in their owne sight, and thinke themselues to haue vnderstanding.

Prou. 3. 7. Rom. 12. 16.

22 Woe

22 Woe bee vnto them that are strong to sup out wine, and expert men to set vp drunkennesse.

23 Woe be vnto them that giue sentence with the vngodly for rewards, but condemne the iust cause of the righteous.

24 Therefore like as fire licketh vp the strawe, and as the flame consumeth the stubble: euen so their roote shal be as corruption, and their blossome shal vanish away like dust: for they haue cast away the law of the Lord of hostes, and despised the worde of the holy one of Israel.

25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lorde kindled against his people, and hath stretched forth his hand vpon them, yea, he hath smitten them: and the hilles did tremble, and their carkeises did lye torne in the open streetes: and in all this the wrath of God hath not ceased, but his hand stretched out still.

26 And he shall giue a token to a people of a farre countrey, and shall hisse vnto them from the end of the earth: and beholde, they shall come hastily with speed.

27 There shall not be one faint nor feeble among them, no not a sluggish or sleepie person: there shal not one of them put off his girdle from his loines, nor loose the latchet of his shoe.

28 His arrowes are sharpe, and all his bowes bent: his horse hookes are as flint, and his cart wheeles like a whirlewind.

29 His crie is as it were of a lion, and hee roareth like lions whelpes: they shall roare and hanch vp the praie, and no man shal recouer it, nor get it from them.

30 In that day hee shall be so fierce vpon him, as the raging of the sea: then one shall behold the [d] land, and loe, darkenesse and sorow, and the light is darkned in the heauens thereof.

d The land of Iuda shalbe ouerwhelmed with miserable affection.

The vi. Chapter.

1 Esay sawe the glory of the Lord, 9 And was sent to prophecie the desolation of Iurie.

IN the yeere that king Oziah died, I sawe also the Lorde sitting vpon an high and glorious seate, and his trayne filled the Temple.

2 And about him stood Seraphims, whereof one had sixe wings, with twaine ech couered his face, with twaine his feete, and with twaine did he flie.

3 They cried also eche one to another on this maner, *Holy, holy, holy is the Lorde of hostes, the whole earth is full of his glory.

Apoc. 4.8.

4 And the lyntiles of the doore cheekes mooued at his crying, and the house was full of smoke.

5 Then sayd I, woe is mee, for I am lost, in as much as I am a man of vncleane lips, and dwell among people that hath vncleane lips also: for mine eyes haue seene the king the Lord of hostes.

6 Then flew one of the Seraphims vnto me, hauing a hot coale in his hand, which he had taken from the altar with the tongs,

7 And laied it vpon my mouth, and sayd, Loe, this hath touched thy [a] lippes, and thine vnrighteousnes shalbe taken away, and thy sinne forgiuen.

a Gods holy mouers are not bare figures: but vnder the figure and the tough, the matter Spiritual, is expressed in the tongue.

8 Also I heard the voyce of the Lorde on this maner, Whom shall I sende, and who wil be our messenger? Then I said, Here am I, send me.

9 And hee sayd, Goe and tell this people, *Heare in deed, yet vnderstand not: see plainly, and yet perceiue not.

Mat. 13.14 mark. 4.12. luke 8.10. iohn 12.40.

10 Harden the heart of this people, stoppe their eares, and shut their eyes: least they see with their eyes, heare with their eares, and vnderstand with their hearts, and conuert, and be healed.

11 Then spake I, Lord, how long? He answered, Vntill the cities bee vtterly wasted without inhabitants, & the houses without men, and till the land be also vtterly desolate.

12 For the Lord shal put the men farre away, and there shalbe great waste in the middest of the land.

13 Yet in it shall succeed ten kings, and it shall returne, and be afterward wasted: but as the Teyle tree, and the Oke in the fall of their leaues, haue yet the sappe remayning in them, euen so, the holy seed shal be the [b] stay thereof.

b Christ liuing by faith in the elect hys seede: as also in the figure of the trees of the wood, is in them life and stay that they perish not.

The vii. Chapter.

The Syrians mooue battell against Hierusalem. 14 A virgin shall beare a child.

IT [*] hapned in the time of Ahaz the sonne of Iotham, which was the sonne of Vziah king of Iuda, that Razin the king of Syria, and Pecah the sonne of Romelyah king of Israel, went vp toward Hierusalem to besiege it: but Razin was not able to win it.

* 4.Kin. 16.5

2 Now when the [a] house of Dauid heard word thereof, that Syria and Ephraim was confederate together, his heart quaked, yea, & the hearts also of his people, like as when the trees of the wood are mooued with the wind.

a Dauids posteritie, 2.Sam. 7.16.

3 Then sayd God vnto Esay, Go meet Ahaz, thou, and thy sonne Sear Iasub, at the head of the ouerpoole, in the foote path by the Fullers ground,

4 And say vnto him, Take heed vnto thy selfe, and bee still, feare not, neither bee faint hearted: for these two tailes, that is, for these two smoking firebrands, the wrath and furiousnesse of Razin the Syrian and Romelies sonne:

5 Because that the Syrian, Ephraim, and Romelies sonne, haue wickedly conspired against thee,

6 Saying, We will goe vp against Iuda, vexe them, and bring them vnder vs, and set a king there, euen the sonne of Tabel:

7 Thus

7 Thus saieth the Lord God thereto, It shall not stand goe foorth, neither so come to passe:

8 For the head citie of the Syrians, is Damascus, but the head of Damascus, is Razin: and after threescore and fiue yeeres, shal Ephraim be no more a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, but the head of Samaria is Romelies sonne: if ye beleeue not, surely ye shall not be established.

*The Epistle on the Annunciation of Marie.

10 *Moreouer, God spake againe vnto Ahaz, saying,

11 Require to thy selfe a token of the Lord thy God, whether it be toward the depth beneath, or toward the height aboue.

12 Then said Ahaz, I will require none, neither will I tempt the Lord.

13 The prophet answered, Then heare ye of the house of Dauid: Is it not inough for you that ye bee grieuous vnto men, but yee must grieue my God also?

14 Therefore the Lord himselfe shall giue you a token: *Behold, a virgin shal conceiue and beare a sonne, and shall call his name Emmanuel.

Mat.1.23. luke 1.31.

15 Butter and hony shal he eate, vntill he know to refuse the euil, and choose the good.

16 For or euer the childe come to knowledge to eschew the euil, and choose the good, the land that thou so abhorrest, shall be desolate of both her kings.

17 The Lord also shall send a time vpon thee, vpon thy people, and vpon thy fathers house, such as neuer came since the time that Ephraim departed from Juda, namely thorowe the king of the Assyrians.

18 For at the same time shall the Lorde hisse for the flies that are about the water of Egypt, and for the Bees in the Assyrians land.

19 These shall come, and shall light all in the desolate valleyes, in the holes of stones, and vpon all thornie and bushie places.

20 At the same time shall the Lorde shaue the [b] haire of the head, and the feete, and the beard cleane off, with the *rasor that he shall hire beyond the waters: namely, with the king of the Assyrians.

[b] The haire of the head, and the beard, the princes, & men of authoritie, therfore, the common sort of people. 4.Reg.19. 35.

21 At the same time shall a man nourish a young cowe, and two sheepe.

22 Then because of the abundance of milke that they giue, he shall eate butter: so that euery one which remaineth in the land, shall eate butter and hony.

23 At the same time all vineyards wherein there shall bee a thousande vines, worth a thousand siluerlings, shalbe turned to briers and thornes.

24 They shall come into the land with arrowes and bowes, because all the land shall become briers and thornes.

25 As for all hilles they shall bee digged with the mattock, there shall not come vpon them any feare of briers and thornes: but the cattel shalbe driuen thither, and the sheep shall feede there.

The viij. Chapter.

The deliuerance of the land by Emmanuel. 14 The stone of offence, at which many stumble.

MOreouer, the Lorde saide vnto mee, Take thee a great roule, and write in it, as men do with a penne, Make hastie speede to rob, and haste to the spoyle.

2 And I called vnto me faithfull witnesses to record, Uriah the priest, and Zacharias the sonne of Barachias.

3 After that, went I vnto the prophetisse, and shee conceiued, and bare a sonne: Then sayd the Lord to me, Giue him his name, Maher shalal hashbaz, An hastie spoyler.

4 For why? or euer the childe shall haue knowledge to cry, My father and mother, shall the riches of Damascus, and the spoyle of Samaria be taken away before the king of Assyrians.

5 The Lorde spake also vnto me againe, saying,

6 For so much as this people refuseth the still running water of Silo, and put their delight in Razin and Romelies sonne:

7 Beholde, the Lorde shall bring mightie and great floods of water vpon them, namely, the king of the Assyrians, with all his power, which shal clime vp vpon all his floods, and runne ouer all his bankes,

8 And shall breake in vpon Juda, he shall shall flowe and passe thorowe, till he come vp to the necke thereof: he shall fill also the wildernesse of thy land with his wings, O Emmanuel.

9 Breake downe, O yee people, [a] and yee shall be broken downe, hearken to, all yee of farre countries, muster you, and you shall be broken downe, prepare you, and you shall be torne in pieces.

[a] Spare politicie and deuice without God, preuaileth not.

10 Take your counsaile together, yet shal your counsaile come to nought: determine the matter, yet shall it not prosper: for God is with vs.

11 For the Lorde spake thus to mee in a mightie prophecie, [b] and warned mee that I should not walke in the way of this people, saying,

[b] Affiance ought to be put in God, and not in mans policie or helpe.

12 Yee shall not speake wordes of conspiracie, in all things when this people shal say, Conspiracie: feare them not, neither be afraid of them.

13 But sanctifie the Lorde of hostes, let him be your feare and dread.

14 For he shall be the holy place to flee to, *and a stone to stumble at, the rocke to fall vpon, a snare and net to both the houses of Israel, and the inhabiters of Hierusalem. Luke 2.34. 1.pet.2.7.

15 And many among them shall stumble and fall, and be broken, yea they shall be snared and taken.

16 [c] Binde vp the testimonie, seale the lawe in my disciples.

[c] The words of Christ.

17 And I wil waite vpon the Lorde that hideth his face from the house of Jacob, and I will looke for him.

Heb.2.13. 18 *But loe, as for mee and the children which the Lord hath giuen mee, wee are to be a token and a wonder in Israel from the Lord of hostes, which dwelleth vpon the hill of Sion.

19 And if they say vnto you, Aske counsell at the Soothsayers, witches, Charmers, and Coniurers: then make them this answere, Is there a people any where that asketh not counsel at his God? should men runne vnto the dead for the liuing?

d We must seeke in Gods word, what to follow, for in meanes without Gods word there is no light.

20 Get thee to the d law, the testimonie: and if they speake not after this worde, there is no light in them.

21 And they shall wander thorowe this land hardly bestead and hungry, and when they suffer hunger, they will bee out of patience, and curse their king and their God, and shall looke vpwarde and downeward to the earth.

22 And behold, there is trouble and darknesse, dimnesse is round about him, and hee shall be driuen into darknesse.

23 Neuertheless, the darknesse shall not bee such as was in her vexation, when at the first he lightly afflicted the land of Zabulon, and the land of Nephthali, and afterwarde did more grieuously afflict her by the way of the sea beyonde Jordane in Galilee of the Heathen.

The ix. Chapter.

He prophecieth of Christes natiuitie and dominion.

THe people that walked in darknesse haue seene a great light: As for them that dwelt in the land of the shadow of death, vpon them hath the light shined.

2 Thou hast multiplied the people, and not increased their ioy: they reioyce before thee, euen as men make merry in haruest, and they be ioyfull, as men that doe deuide the spoyle after the victory.

3 For thou hast broken the yoke of his burden, the staffe of his shoulder, and the rod of his oppressour, * in the day of Madian.

Iudg.7.22.

4 And truely euery battaile that the warrier maketh, is done with confused noyse, and defiling their garments with blood, but this battaile shall be with burning and consuming of fire.

5 For vnto vs a a Childe is borne, and vnto vs a * Sonne is giuen, vpon his shoulder doeth the rule lie, ‖ and he is called with his owne name, Wonderfull, The giuer of counsell, The mightie God, The euerlasting father, The prince of peace.

a Christ his kingdome and his names. Iohn 3.16. ‖ Or, and his name shall be called, Or, and (the holy ghost) shall call his name.

6 Hee shall make no ende to increase the rule and peace, and shall sit vpon the seate of Dauid, and in his kingdome, to order the same, and to stablish it with equitie and righteousnesse from henceforth for euermore: This shall the zeale of the Lorde of hostes bring to passe.

7 The Lord sent a worde into Jacob, the same is come into Israel.

8 And all the people of Ephraim shall knowe, and they that dwell in Samaria, that say with pride and high stomacks on this maner, 9 The tile worke is fallen downe, but we will builde it vp with squared stones: the Mulberie timber is broken, but we will set it vp againe with Cedar.

10 But the Lorde shall strengthen the enemies of Razin, and ioyne his aduersaries together against him.

11 The Syrians before, and the Philistines behinde, and shal deuoure Israel with open mouth: After all this is not the wrath of the Lorde ceased, but yet his hand is stretched out still.

12 For the people turneth not vnto him that chastiseth them, neither doe they seeke the Lorde of hostes.

13 Therefore hath the Lorde rooted out of Israel both head and taile, bough, & reede in one day.

14 By the head, is vnderstood the Senatour and honourable man, and by the taile, the prophet that preached lies.

15 For the guides of this people are deceiuers, and those that be gouerned, are vtterly lost.

16 Therefore shal the Lord haue no pleasure is their young men, neither haue pitie of their fatherlesse and widowes: for they are altogether hypocrites and wicked, and all their mouthes speake folly: After all this, is not the Lords wrath ceased, but yet his hand is stretched out still.

17 For vngodlines burneth as a fire, and it shall deuoure briers and thornes, and shal burne as in the thicket of wood, and the wicked aduance themselues, as the smoke is carried vp.

18 Through the wrath of the Lorde of hostes is the land full of darkenesse, and the people be consumed as it were with fire: no man doeth spare his brother.

19 But he robbeth on the right hand, and doeth famish, he eateth on the left hand, and he shall not haue ynough: euery man shall eate the flesh of his owne arme.

20 Manasses shall eate Ephraim, and Ephraim Manasses, & they both together shall eate Juda: After all this, is not the Lordes wrath ceased, but yet his hand is stretched out still.

The x. Chapter.

1 He threateneth the oppressours of the poore, 12 and prophecieth against Sennacherib.

WOe bee vnto them that make vnrighteous lawes, and that cause their actuaries to write grieuousnesse,

2 Wherthrough the poore are put from their right, & my seely people robbed of iudgement, that widowes may bee their pray, & that they may rob the fatherles.

3 What will yee doe in the time of visitation, and when destruction shall come from farre?

farre? to whom will ye runne for helpe? and where will ye leaue your glory?

4 That when I withdraw my hand, yee come not among ỹ prisoners, nor lie among the dead? After all this doeth not the wrath of the Lorde cease, but yet is his hand stretched out still.

5 O Assur which art ỹ staffe of my wrath, in whose hand is the rod of mine indignation,

6 I will send him among these hypocritish people: among the people that haue deserued my displeasure will I send him: that hee vtterlie robbe them, spoyle them, and treade them downe like the myre in the streete.

7 Howbeit, his meaning is not so, neither thinketh his heart on this fashion: but he imagineth how he may roote out and destroy much people.

8 For hee saieth, Are not my Princes all kings?

9 Is not Chalno as easie to win, as Charchamis? Is it harder to conquere Hamath then Arphad? or is it lighter to ouercome Damascus, then Samaria?

10 As who say, I were able to winne the kingdomes of the idolaters and their gods, but not Hierusalem and Samaria.

11 Shall I not do vnto Hierusalem and her images, as I did vnto Samaria and her idols?

12 Wherefore it shall come to passe, that assoone as the Lorde hath performed his whole worke * vpon the hill of Sion and Hierusalem, then will I visite the fruite of the stout heart of the king of Syria, with his proude lookes. 4.Reg.19. 31.

13 For he standeth thus in his owne conceite, This doe I through my wisedome: for I am wise, I am hee that remooueth the landes of the people, I robbe their treasure, and haue pulled downe the inhabitants like a baliant man.

14 My hand hath found out the strength of the people as it were a nest: and like as egges that were layde here and there are gathered together, so do I gather all countreis, and there was none so bolde as to mooue the wing, that dare open his mouth, or once whisper.

15 Shall the axe boast it selfe against him that heweth therewith? or shall the sawe make any bragging against him that ruleth it? That were euen like as if the rod did exalt it selfe against him that beareth it, or as though the staffe shoulde magnifie it selfe, as who say, it were no wood.

16 Therefore shall the Lorde God of hostes sende among his fatlings leanneſſe, and burne vp his glory as it were with a fire.

17 And the light of Israel shall bee that fire, and his holy one shall bee the flame: and it shall kindle and burne vp as thornes and briers in one day.

18 Yea all the glory of his woods and fieldes shalbe consumed with body and soule, and they shall bee as an hoste of men, whose standard bearer saileth.

19 The trees also of his wood which remaine, shalbe of such a number, that a childe may tell them.

20 After that day, shal the remnant of Israel, and such as are escaped out of the house of Jacob, seeke no more comfort at him that smote them: but vnfaignedly shall they trust vnto the Lord, the holy one of Israel.

21 * The remnant, euen the posteritie of Jacob, shall conuert vnto God the mightie one. Rom. 9. 27.

22 For though thy people, O Israel, be as the sande of the sea, yet shall the remnant of them conuert vnto him: the decreed consumption ouerfloweth with righteousnesse.

23 * And therefore the Lorde of hostes shall perfectly fulfill the thing that hee hath determined in the middest of the whole world. Esai. 28. 22.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of hostes, Thou my people that dwellest in Sion, bee not afraide for the king of the Assyrians, he shall smite thee with a rod, and shall lift vp his staffe against thee, as the Egyptians did sometime.

25 But soone after shall my wrath and indignation be fulfilled in the destruction of them:

26 Moreouer, the Lorde of hostes shall stirre vp a scourge for him, * like as was the slaughter of Madian vpon the rocke Oreb, and as the destruction of the Egyptians, when he lifted vp his rod vpon the sea. Iudg. 7. 25.

27 Then shall his burden be taken from thy shoulders, and his yoke from thy necke, and the same yoke shall bee destroyed because of the vnction.

28 Hee shal come to Aiath, and go thorow toward Migron, at Michmas shall he lay vp his harneſſe.

29 They shall goe ouer the foorde: Geba shalbe their resting place, Rhama shall be afraide, Gibea Saul shall flee away.

30 Lift vp thy voyce, O daughter Gallim, giue eare to Laisa, thou poore Anathoth.

31 Madmena shall tremble for feare: but the citizens of Gabim are manly.

32 Yet shall hee remaine at Nob that day: after that, shall hee lift vp his hande against the mount of the daughter of Sion, the hill of Hierusalem.

33 But see, the Lorde God of hostes shall breake downe the bough with feare, he shall hewe downe the proud, & lofty high minded.

34 The thickets also of the wood shall be roote out with yron, and Libanus shal haue a fall through the mightie.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Hee prophesieth of the natiuitie of Christ, and of his people. 6 Of the remnant of Israel. 10 And of the faith of the Heathen and Gentiles.

Act. 13.23. a Chriſt ſhalbe borne of the ſeede of Iſai. ‖Or, Iſai.

AND there ſhall come a *ſpring foorth of the a ſtemme of ‖Jeſſe, and a young ſhoote ſhall growe out of his roote.

2 The Spirit of the Lorde ſhall reſt vpon him, the ſpirite of wiſedome and vnderſtanding, the ſpirite of counſaile and ſtrength, the ſpirite of knowledge, and of the feare of the Lord,

3 And ſhall make him of deepe iudgement in the feare of God: for hee ſhall not giue ſentence after the thing that ſhall be brought before his eyes, neither reprooue after the hearing of his eares:

4 But with righteouſneſſe ſhall he iudge the poore, and with equitie ſhall he reſourme the ſimple of the worlde, *and hee ſhall ſmite the world with the rodde of his b mouth, and with the breath of his mouth ſhall he ſlay the vngodly.

2.Theſ. 2.8. b The armour of Chriſt and of his kingdome.

5 Righteouſneſſe ſhalbe the girdle of his loynes, and faithfulnes the girding vp of his reines.

6 The Woolfe ſhall dwel with the lambe, and the Leopard ſhal lie downe by the Goat: Bullocks, Lions, and cattel ſhall keepe company together, ſo that a litle childe ſhall leade them.

7 The Cow and the Beare ſhall feede together, and their young ones ſhall lie together: the Lion ſhall eate ſtrawe like the Oxe or the Cow.

8 The childe while he ſucketh, ſhall haue a deſire to the Serpents neſt, and when he is weaned, he ſhal put his hand into the Cockatrice denne.

9 No man ſhall do euill vnto another, no man ſhal deſtroy another in all the hill of my holyneſſe: for the earth ſhalbe ful of the knowledge of the Lorde, euen as the ſea floweth ouer with water.

Rom.15. 12. ‖Or, Iſai.

10 *And in that day ſhal the Gentiles enquire after the roote of ‖Jeſſe, which ſhall be ſet vp for a token vnto the people, and his reſt ſhalbe glorious.

11 At the ſame time ſhall the Lorde take in hande againe to recouer the remnant of his people, which ſhalbe left aliue, from the Aſſyrians, Egyptians, Arabians, Moziams, Elamites, Chaldees, Antiochians, and from the Ilands of the ſea.

12 And he ſhall ſet vp a token among the Gentiles, and gather together the diſperſed of Iſrael, yea, and the outcaſts of Juda, from the foure corners of the world.

13 The hatred of Ephraim alſo, and enemies of Juda ſhall be cleane rooted out: Ephraim ſhall beare none euill will to Juda, and Juda ſhall not vexe Ephraim.

14 But they both together ſhall flee vpon the ſhoulders of the Philiſtines towarde the weſt, and ſpoile them together that dwell towarde the Eaſt: the Idumites and the Moabites ſhall come vnder their hands, and the Ammonites ſhalbe obedient vnto them.

15 The Lord alſo ſhal cleaue the tongues c of the Egyptians ſea, and with his mightie winde ſhall he lift vp his hande ouer Nilus, and ſhall ſmite his ſeuen ſtreames, and make men goe ouer drie ſhod.

c The tongue that is, the arme of the ſea that ſomtime parted the paſſage.

16 And thus ſhall there bee a way for his people that remaineth from the Aſſyrians, like as it happened to the Iſraelites, what *time they departed out of the land of Egypt. Exod.14. 29.

The xij. Chapter.

The ſong of the Church for the obteining of the victorie, and ouercomming of the world.

AND in that day thou ſhalt ſay, O Lorde, I will praiſe thee, for thou waſt diſpleaſed at me: but refraine thou from thy wrath, and comfort me.

2 Behold, God is my ſaluation, in whom I will truſt, and not be afraide: for *the Lord God is my ſtrength and my ſong, hee alſo is become my ſaluation. Exod.15.2. pſal.117. 14.

3 Therefore with ioy ſhall ye draw water out of the welles of ſaluation:

4 And then ſhall yee ſay, *Giue thankes vnto the Lorde, call vpon his Name, declare his workes among the people, keepe them in remembrance, for his Name is excellent. 1.Chro.15. 16. pſal.104.

5 Sing praiſes vnto the Lorde, for hee hath done great thinges, as it is knowen in all the world.

6 Cry out, and ſing, thou that dwelleſt in Sion: for great is the holy One of Iſrael in the middeſt of thee.

The xiij. Chapter.

He propheſieth the deſtruction of Babylon, the captiuitie and the comming againe of the people.

THis is the a burden of Babylon, which Eſay the ſonne of Amos did ſee. a Burden, or ſad ſtory.

2 Lift vp the banner vpon the high hill, call vnto them, wagge your hand, that they may go into the gates of the princes.

3 I haue commaunded my ſanctified, I haue alſo called my valiant ones, toying in my honour to execute my wrath.

4 There is a noyſe of a multitude in the mountaines, like as of a great people, a ruſhing as though the kingdomes of the nations came together: the Lord of hoſtes muſtereth his armie to battaile.

5 They come out of a farre countrey from the ende of the heauen, euen the Lorde himſelfe, with the miniſters of his wrath, to deſtroy the whole land.

6 Mourne ye, for the day of the Lord is at hand, and ſhall come as a deſtroyer from the Almightie.

7 Therefore ſhall all handes bee letten downe, and all mens hearts ſhal melt away,

8 They ſhall ſtande in feare, carefulneſſe, and ſorowe ſhall come vpon them, and they ſhall haue paine as a woman that trauaileth with childe: one ſhall bee abaſhed of another, and their faces ſhall burne like the flame of fire.

9 Beholde,

9 Beholde, the day of the Lord shall come terribly, and full of indignation, furie, and wrath, to make the lande waste, and to roote out the sinners therof.

10 For the starres and planets of heauen shall not giue their light, * the Sunne shalbe darkened in the rising, and the Moone shall not shine with her light.

Ezec.32.7. ioel 3.15. mat.24.29. mar.13.24. luke 21.25.

11 And I will visite the wickednes of the worlde, and the sinnes of the vngodly. The high stomackes of the proude will I take away, and will lay downe the boasting of the tyrant.

12 I will make a man dearer then fine golde, and a man to bee more worth then a golden wedge of Ophir.

13 Therefore I will shake the heauens, and the earth shall remooue out of her place, in the wrath of the Lord of hostes, and in the day of his fearefull indignation.

14 And Babylon shalbe as an hunted or chased Roe, and as a sheepe that no man taketh vp: euery man shall turne to his owne people, and flee eche one into his owne land.

15 Who so is founde, shalbe thot thorow: and who so taketh their part, shalbe destroyed with the sword.

Psal.136.9. 16 * Their children shalbe slaine before their eyes, their house spoyled, and their wines rauished.

17 For loe, I shall bring vp the Medes against them, which shall not regarde siluer, nor be desirous of golde.

18 With bowes shall they destroye the yong men, and haue no pitie on women with childe, and their faces shall not spare the children.

19 And Babylon, that glorie of kingdomes, and beautie of the Chaldees honour, shalbe destroyed, * euen as God destroyed Sodome and Gomor.

Gen.19.25. ierem.50.40.

20 It shall not endure for euer, neither shall there be any more dwelling there, from generation to generation: the Arabians shal pitche no tents there, neither shall the shepheards make their foldes there any more.

21 But fearefull wilde beastes shall lye there, and the houses shalbe full of great Owles, Estriches shall dwel there, and Apes shall daunce there.

22 Wilde Cattes shall cry in the palaces, and Dragons shalbe in the pleasant houses: and as for Babylons time, it is at hand, and her dayes shall not be prolonged.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 The returne of the people from captiuitie, the prosperitie of the people of God, and affliction of their enemies. 13 The pride of Babylon.

BVt the Lorde will bee mercifull vnto Iacob, and will yet choose Israel againe, and set them in their owne lande, straungers shal cleaue and get them to the house of Iacob.

2 The people shall take them, and carie them home to their owne lande: and the house of Israel shall possesse them in the lande of the Lorde, that they may bee seruantes and handmaydens: and they shall take those prisoners, whose captiues they had bene before, and rule those that had oppressed them.

3 When the Lord now shall bring thee to rest from thy trauaile, feare, and harde bondage that thou wast laden withall:

4 Then shalt thou vse this mockage vpon the king of Babylon, and say, Howe happeneth it that the oppressour leaueth off? Is the golden tribute come to an ende?

5 The Lord hath broken the scepter of the vngodly, and the rod of the lordly.

6 Which rodde in anger smiteth the people with continuall stroke, and in wrath reigneth ouer the nations persecuted without compassion.

7 And therefore the whole world is now at rest and quietnesse, and men sing for ioy.

8 Yea euen the Firre trees, and Cedars of Libanus reioyce at thy fall, saying, Nowe that thou art layd downe, there come no moe vp to hewe downe vs.

9 Hell also beneath trembleth to meete thee at thy comming, and for thy sake hath raised his dead, all mightie men, and princes of the earth, all kings of the earth stande vp from their seates,

10 That they may al answere and speake vnto thee, Art thou become weake also as we? Art thou become like vnto vs?

11 Thy pompe & thy pride is layd downe into the pit, and so is the melodie of thy instruments. wormes be layd vnder thee, and wormes be thy couering.

12 Howe art thou fallen from heauen, O Lucifer, thou faire morning childe? Howe hast thou gotten a fall, euen to the ground, which diddest weaken the nations?

13 For thou saydest in thine heart, I will clime vp into heauen, and exalt my throne aboue beside the starres of God, I will sit also vpon the mount of the congregation toward the North.

14 I will clime vp aboue the cloudes, and will be like the highest of all.

15 Yet thou shalt be brought downe to the deepe of hell, to the sides of the lake.

16 They that see thee, shall narrowly looke vpon thee, and thinke in themselues, saying, Is this the man that brought al lands in feare, and made the kingdomes afraide?

17 Is this he that made the worlde in a maner waste, and layde the cities to the ground, which let not his prisoners goe out?

18 The kings of the nations lie euery one in his owne house with worship.

19 And thou art cast out of thy graue like a filthie abominable branche, like as dead mens rayment that are thrist thorowe with the sworde, and goe downe to the stones of the deepe, as a dead coarse that is troden vnder feete.

20 Thou art not buried with them, euen because that thou hast wasted thy lande, and destroyed thy people: the generation of the wicked shalbe out of memorie for euer.

21 Let there a way bee sought to destroy their children that bee in their fathers wickednesse, that they come not vp againe to possesse the land, and fill the world full of enemies.

22 I will stande vp against them, sayeth the Lorde of hostes, and roote out the name and remnant, sonne, and sonnes sonne of Babylon, saith the Lord.

23 I will giue it to the Otters, and will make water puddles of it, and I will sweepe them out with the besome of destruction, saith the Lord of hostes.

24 The Lorde of hostes hath sworne an othe, saying, It shall come to passe as I haue determined, and shalbe fulfilled as I haue deuised.

25 So that the Assyrian shall I destroy in my lande, and vpon my mountaines will I treade him vnder foote, wherethrough his yoke shall come from them, and his burden shalbe taken from their shoulder.

26 This deuice hath God taken thorowe the whole worlde, and this his hand is stretched out ouer all people.

27 For if the Lorde of hostes determine a thing, who is able to disanull it? And if hee stretche foorth his hande, who may turne it againe?

2.Chro.28. 27. 28 *The same yeere that king Ahaz died, was this burden:

29 Reioyce not thou whole Palestina, because the rodde of him that beateth thee is broken: for out of the serpents roote there shall come an Adder, and his fruite shall be a fierie flying worme.

30 But the first borne of the poore shall be fedde, and the simple shall dwel in safetie: thy roote also will I destroy with hunger, and it shall slay the remnant.

31 Mourne thou port, weepe thou citie, for, O whole lande of Palestina, thou art layde waste: for there shall come from the North a smoke, that not one alone may abide at home in his times.

32 What shall one then answere the messengers of the Gentiles? For the Lorde hath stablished Sion, and the poore of his people that be therein, shall put their trust in it.

The xv. Chapter.

A prophecie against Moab.

THis is the burden vpon Moab:
Ar of Moab was destroyed and ouerthrowen in the night season, Kir also in Moab was destroyed & perished in the night.

2 Moab went vp to the Idols house, euen to Dibon to the high places to weepe: for Nebo and Moab shall mourne for Medba.
All their heades were balde, and all their beardes shauen.

3 *In her streetes are they girded about Iere.48.38. ezech.7.18.
with sackcloth: in all the tops of her houses and streetes shalbe nothing but mourning and weeping.

4 Hesbon and Eleale shall cry, that their voyce shalbe heard vnto Jahaz: and therefore the armed souldiers also of Moab shall bleate out and crye for very sorowe of their mindes.

5 Woe shall my heart be for Moabs sake, they shall flee vnto the citie of Zoar, which is like a faire yong bullocke of three yeeres old, for they shall all goe vp to Luith weeping:
euen so by the way towarde Horonaim they shall make lamentation for their vtter destruction.

6 For the waters of Nimrim shalbe dryed vp, by reason whereof the grasse is withered, the herbes destroyed, and the greene thinges gone.

7 Therefore the goods that remaine in Moab, and the riches thereof, they shall carrie to the brooke of willowes.

8 For the cry went ouer the whole lande of Moab, vnto Eglaim, and vnto Beer-Elim was there nothing but mourning.

9 Because the waters of Dimon were full of blood, I will adde more vpon Dimon:
and Lions vpon the remnant of the lande, and on them that are escaped from Moab.

The xvj. Chapter.

The destruction of Moab.

SEnde the Lorde of the worlde a Lambe from the rocke that lyeth toward the desart, vnto the hill of the daughter Sion.

2 For as for the daughters of Moab, they shalbe as a trembling birde that is put out of her nest: for they shall carrie them vnto Arnon.

a The carnall and wilfull despisers of timely repentance, moued
by the preaching of Gods
worde, shall repent when it is too late.

3 Gather your counsaile, come together in iudgement, couer vs with your shadow in the midday, as the night doeth hide the chased, and bewray not them that are fled.

4 Let my persecuted people dwell among you: Moab, be thou their refuge against the destroyer: for the aduersarie is brought to nought, the robber is vndone, the tyrant is wasted out of the land.

5 And in mercie shal the seate be prepared and hee shall sit vpon it in the truth in the tabernacle of Dauid, iudging and seeking iudgement, and making haste vnto righte-ousnesse.

6 We haue heard of the pride of Moab, he is very proud, presumptuous, arrogant, and full of indignation, and vaine are his lyes.

7 Therefore shall Moab make lamenta- Iere.48.20.
tion, because of the Moabites that shall bee slaine, yea they shall waile together: because of the foundations of the citie that is made of bricke shall yee complaine, euen yee lame people that are left onely behinde.

8 For the vines of Hesbon are cut downe:

as for the vine of Sibma, the lordes of the heathen haue broken downe her principall branches, they are come euen vnto Jazer, they went on wandring vnto the wildernesse, her goodly branches were throwen downe as they went ouer the sea.

9 Therefore wil I mourne for Jazer, and for the vine of Sibma, I will powre my teares vpon thee, O Hesbon and Eleale: for the crie of thine enemies is fallen vpon thy Sommer fruites, and vpon thy harueſt.

Iere.48.33. 10 *The mirth * & cheare is taken away out of the plentifull fielde, and in the vineyards there shall be no ioy nor gladnesse: the treader shal treade out no wine in their presses, the song of their merrie cheare haue I laide downe.

b Or the superstitious and deuilishe Papistes haue wrought in our dayes, and in some one place then in other: but all in vaine. 11 bWherefore my bowelles shall rumble like an harpe for Moabs sake, and mine inward partes for the cities sake that is made of bricke.

12 And it shall come to passe, that when it is seene that Moab shall be made weary of his hill Chappels, hee shall come to his temple to pray, c but he shall not be able.

c That he able through incredulitie, as it shall not profite him. 13 So then, this is the saying that the Lorde hath spoken concerning Moab since that time.

14 But nowe the Lorde hath spoken, saying, In three yeeres, which shall be as the yeeres of an hyred seruant, shall the glorie of Moab be turned into contempt throughout all his multitude, which is very great: and that which remaineth, shalbe very small and feeble.

The xvij. Chapter.

A prophecie against Damascus.

THis is the burden vpon Damascus: beholde, Damascus is taken away to be no more a citie, but shall be an heape of broken stones.

2 The waste cities of Aroer shalbe foldes for cattel which shall lie there, and there shall be none to fray them away.

3 Ephraim also shall no more be strong, and Damascus shall no longer bee a kingdome, and the remnant of Syria shall be as the glorie of the children of Israel, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

4 And in ỹ day it shall come to passe, that the glory of Jacob shalbe made very thinne, and the fatnes of his flesh shall waxe leane.

5 And he shalbe as one that gathereth vp corne in harueſt, euen like him whose arme reapeth the eares of corne: he shalbe also like him that gathereth eares of corne in the valley of Rephaim.

6 Some gathering in deede shall there be left in it, euen as in the shaking of an Olive tree there remaine two or three berries in the top of the vppermost bough, and foure or fiue in the broade fruitfull branches thereof, saith the Lord God of Israel.

7 Then shall man turne againe to his maker, and his eyes shall haue respect to the holy one of Israel.

8 As for the altars, which are his owne handie worke, he shall not regard them, and the things that his fingers haue made, as groues and images, those shall hee not cast his eyes vnto.

9 In that day shall their strong cities be as the forsaken shrubbes & branches, which they left because of the children of Israel, and the land shalbe desolate.

10 Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy saluation, and hast not bene mindfull of thy strong rocke: therefore shalt thou set pleasant plants, and shalt graffe the branch of another mans vine.

11 In that day shalt thou make thy plant to growe, and earely in the morning shalt thou make thy seede to florish: the harueſt shall be gone in the day of inheritance, and there shall be sorowe without hope of comfort.

12 Woe shall be to the multitude of much people, which shall make a sound like to the noise of the sea, and the violence of the nations, which shall rage like the rushing in of many waters.

13 Euen like many waters shall the people rage, God shall rebuke him, and he shall flee farre off, he shall be chased away like as drie straw vpon the mountaines before the winde, and like a thing that turneth before the storme.

14 At euen beholde there is trouble, and or euer it be morning, loe, it is gone: this is the portion of them that oppresse vs, and the lot of them that robbe vs.

The xviij. Chapter.

1 An exhortation to the Ethiopians, and the countreys nigh adioyning to them. 7 The vocation of the Gentiles.

OThat land that trusteth vnder the shadow of wings, that land which is beyond the waters of Ethiopia,

2 Sending messengers by the sea, euen in vessels of reedes ouer the water: Get you hence ye speedie messengers, to a nation that is scattered abroade, and robbed of that they had, a fearefull people from their beginning hitherto, a nation troden downe by litle & litle, whose lande the floods haue spoiled.

3 All the inhabiters of the world, and indwellers of the earth, looke vp when he setteth vp a token in the mountaines, & hearken when he bloweth with the Trumpe.

4 For so the Lorde said vnto me, as for me I will take my rest, and looke vpon the matter in my habitations, like a faire heate after the raine, and like a cloude of dewe in the heate of harueſt.

5 For afore the harueſt when the branch is growen, there shall come ripe fruite of the floure: and hee shall cutte downe the increase with sythes: and the branches shal he take away with hookes.

6 Thus shall they bee left together vnto the foules of the mountaines, and to the beastes of the earth: for in Sommer the birdes shall remaine vpon it, and euery beast of the land shall be vpon it in Winter.

7 In that time shall there a present bee brought vnto the Lord of hostes, euen a people that is scattered abroade and robbed of that they had, that same people which haue bene fearefull from their beginning hitherto, a nation troden downe by litle and litle, whose lande the floods haue spoyled, to the place of the name of the Lord of hostes, euen to the mount Sion.

The xix Chapter.

1 He prophecieth against Egypt: 18 and the vocation of the Gentiles to Christ.

THe burden of Egypt. Beholde, the Lorde rideth vpon a swift cloude, and shall come into Egypt, and the idoles of Egypt shall tremble at the presence of him, and the heart of Egypt shall quake in the middest of her.

2 And I will set the Egyptians one against another, so that one brother shall fight against another, and one neighbour against another, citie against citie, and realme against realme.

3 The minde also of Egypt shalbe cleane without counsell within it selfe, and the deuise that they take will I destroy: and they shall seeke counsell at idols, and at sorcerers, at workers with spirites, and at soothsayers.

4 And the Egyptians will I giue ouer into the hand of a marueilous cruell lorde, and a mightie king shal haue dominion ouer them, saith the Lord God of hostes.

5 The waters of the sea shall fasle, and the riuers shall decrease and be dryed vp.

6 The waters shall be drawen out, the riuers of Egypt shall be emptied and dryed vp, the reedes and flagges shal be cut downe.

7 The grasse in the riuer and by the riuers banke, and all that groweth by the riuer, shall wither away and be brought to nought.

8 The fishers also shall mourne, and all they that cast angle into the water shal make lamentation, and they that lay foorth their net beside the waters, shalbe rooted out.

9 Moreouer, they that worke in flare, and make fine workes, shall be confounded, and so shall they that weaue open workes.

10 For their open workes shall euen be destroyed, and all they that make pondes and slues for fish, shall come to nought.

11 But you foolish princes of Zoan, yee wise counsellers of Pharao, whose witte is turned to foolishnesse, how say ye vnto Pharao, I am come of wise men, and of ancient kings?

12 Where are thy wise men? Let them tell thee if they can, what the Lord of hostes hath deuised vpon Egypt.

13 The princes of Zoan are become fooles, the princes of Noph are deceiued, they haue deceiued Egypt, euen they that were taken for the chiefe stay thereof.

14 In the midst of it hath the Lorde powred the spirite of wickednesse: and they haue deceiued Egypt in euery worke thereof, euen as a drunken man staggereth in his vomite.

15 Neither shall the a head or tayle, the branche or reede, be able to doe any worke in Egypt.

a By the head and branche are meant the honourable and chiefest of the Land: By the tayle and reede, the vnderstanding is taken for the vnlearned people.

16 In that day shall Egypt be like vnto women: it shall be afraide, and stand in feare at the motion of the hande of the Lorde of hostes, which he shaketh ouer it.

17 And Egypt shall be afraide of the lande of Juda: so that euery one that maketh mention of it shalbe afraid thereat, because of the counsell of the Lord of hostes, which he deuised for it.

18 In that day shall fiue cities in the land of Egypt speake the language of Chanaan, and sweare by the Lord of hostes: the citie of desolation shalbe called one of them.

19 In that day shall the altar of the Lorde be in the midst of the land of Egypt, and this title beside it, Vnto the Lord.

20 And it shall be a token and a witnesse vnto the Lord of hostes in the land of Egypt: for they shall crye vnto the Lorde, because of such as trouble them, and hee shall sende them a sauiour, and a great man to deliuer them.

21 And the Lorde shall be knowen in Egypt, and the Egyptians shal know the Lord in that day, and doe sacrifice & oblation, yea, they shall vowe a vowe vnto the Lorde, and performe it.

22 The Lorde also shall smite Egypt sore, and heale them againe: and they shall be conuerted vnto the Lord, and he shall be entreated of them, and shall heale them.

23 In that day shall there be a common way out of Egypt into Assyria, and Assyria shall come into Egypt, and Egypt into Assyria: so that the Egyptians and the Assyrians shall serue the Lord together.

24 In that day shall the nation of Israel be the third with Egypt and Assyria: & they shall be blessed in the midst of the land, 25 Which lande the Lorde of hostes hath blessed, saying, Blessed is my people of Egypt, Assur also is the worke of my hands, and Israel is mine inheritance.

The xx. Chapter.

Against Egypt and Ethiopia.

IN the yeere that Tharthan came vnto Asdod, when Sargon the king of Assyria had sent him, and had fought against Asdod, and taken it:

2 At

2 At the same time spake the Lord by the hand of Esay the sonne of Amos, saying, Goe and take off the sackcloth from thy loynes, and put off thy shooe from thy foote. And he did so, walking naked and barefoote.

3 And the Lord said, Like as my seruant Esay hath walked naked and barefoote, for a signe and wonder three yeeres vpon Egypt and Ethiopia:

4 Euen so shall the king of Assyria take away out of Egypt and Ethiopia, children and olde men naked and barefoote, with their loynes vncouered, to the great shame of Egypt.

5 They shall be brought in feare also, and be ashamed of Ethiopia their hope, and of Egypt, wherein they are wont to glorie.

6 And they that dwell in the same Isle, shal say in that day, Behold, such is our hope: whither shall we flee for helpe, that we may be deliuered from the king of Assyria? and howe shall we escape?

The xxj. Chapter.

Against Babylon, Idumea, and Arabia.

THe burden of the [a] waste sea. Euen as the stormie weather passeth thorowe at the noone day from the wildernesse, so shall it come from the terrible land.

[a] Or waste in as Babylon in Chaldea.

2 A grieuous vision was shewed vnto me: let one deceitfull offender come against another, and one destroyer against another: vp Elam, lay siege thou of Media, all their groning haue I laid downe.

3 Therefore are my loynes filled with sorowe, heauinesse hath taken hold vpon me, as the pangs of a woman that is trauailing: it made me stoupe when I heard it, and it vexed me when I sawe it.

4 My heart panted, fearefulnesse came vpon me: the night of my voluptuousnesse hath he turned against me into feare.

5 While they garnished the table, the watchman looked: and while I was eating and drinking, it was saide, Vp ye captaines, take you to your shield.

6 For thus hath the Lorde saide vnto me, Goe, and set a watchman to tell what he seeth.

7 And he sawe a charet which two horsemen sate vpon, with the cariage of an asse, and the cariage of a camell: so he looked, and tooke diligent heede.

Habac. 2.1. 8 *And he cried, A lion, my lord, I stand continually vpon the watch tower in the day time, and am appointed to keepe my watch euery night.

9 And beholde, here commeth a charet of men, with two horsemen: and he answered and said, *Babylon is fallen, it is fallen, and all the images of her gods hath hee smitten downe vnto the ground.

Iere. 51.8. Apoc. 14.8.

10 Thou art he whom I must threth, and thou belongest to my corne floore: this that I heard of the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, haue I shewed vnto you.

11 The burden of Duma. Hee calleth to me out of Seir: Watchman, what hast thou espied by night? watchman, what hast thou espied by night?

12 The watchman saide, The morning commeth, and so doeth the night: if ye will aske me any question, then aske it, returne and come againe.

13 The burden concerning Arabia. In the woods of Arabia shall ye tary all night, euen in the streetes of Dedanim.

14 The inhabiters of the land of Thema brought foorth water to him that was thirstie, they preuented him that was fled away with their bread.

15 For because of swordes they are become fugitiue, euen for the drawen sword, and for the bent bowe, and because of the grieuousnesse of warre.

16 For thus hath the Lord saide vnto me, There is yet a yeere, according to the yeeres of an hired seruant, and al the glory of Cedar shall faile.

17 And the number of them that shall escape from the bowes, shall be minished by the mightie children of Cedar: for the Lorde God of Israel hath spoken it.

The xxij. Chapter.

A prophecie against Hierusalem.

THe burden of the [a] valley of vision. What hast thou to do here, that thou climest the house toppes?

[a] Hierusalem is meant by the valley of vision.

2 Thou that art full of tumultuousnesse, thou troublesome and proud citie: thy slaine men are neither put to death with the sword, nor dead in battell.

3 All thy captiues are fugitiue together, the archers haue taken thē prisoners: al they I say that are found in thee, are in captiuitie together, and they also that fledde farre off.

4 Therefore said I, Let me alone, and I will make lamentation: ye shall not be able to comfort me, because of the destruction of the daughter of my people.

5 For this is a day of trouble, of ruine, and of destruction, that the Lord the God of hostes will bring to passe in the valley of vision, breaking downe the citie, and crying vnto mountaines.

6 Elam bare the quiuer with a charet of footemen and horsemen, and the citie of Cir shewed the shield open.

7 The chiefe valley also was full of charets, and the horsemen set their faces directly toward the gate.

8 And in that day did the enemie take away the couer of Iuda, and then didst thou looke towarde the [b] armour of the house of the forest.

[b] The armorie that Salomon made and furnished with munition, 1. King. 7.

9 Ye haue seene also the broken places of the citie of Dauid, how that they are many, and yee gathered together the waters of the lower poole.

10 As for the houses of Hierusalem, yee haue numbred them, and the houses haue ye broken downe, to make the wall strong.

11 A pit also haue yee made betweene the two walles for the waters of the olde poole, [c] and haue not regarded the maker thereof, neither had respect vnto him that fashioned it long agoe.

[c] The Lorde doeth not forbid to make prouision of sure defence against the enemies, so that our trust be put in him, and not in our fortresses and strong holdes.

12 And in that day did the Lorde God of hosts call men vnto weeping and mourning, to baldnesse and girding about with sackecloth.

13 And behold, they haue ioy & gladnesse, slaying oxen, and killing sheepe, eating flesh, and drinking wine: *let vs eate and drinke, for to morow we shall die.

1.Cor.15. 12.

14 And it came to the eares of the Lorde of hostes. This iniquitie shall not be purged from you till yee die, saieth the Lord God of hostes.

15 Thus saieth the Lorde God of hostes, Get yee vnto yonder treasurer, euen vnto Sebna, which is the ruler of the house.

16 What hast thou to do here? and whom hast thou here, that thou shouldest here hewe thee out a sepulchre, as it were one that heweth him out a sepulchre on high, or that graueth an habitation for himselfe on an hard rocke?

17 Beholde, O thou man, the Lord shall cary thee away into captiuitie, & shall surely couer thee with confusion.

18 The Lorde shall turne thee ouer like a ball with his hands, and shall send thee into a farre countrey: there shalt thou die, and there in steade of the charets of thy pompe, shall the house of the Lord haue confusion.

19 I will driue thee from thy place, and out of thy dwelling shal he ouerthrowe thee.

20 And in that day shall I call my seruant Eliacim the sonne of Helcia:

21 And with thy garments will I clothe him, and with thy girdle will I strength him: thy power will I also commit into his hand, and he shall be a father of such as dwel in Hierusalem, and in the house of Juda.

22 *And the key of the house of Dauid will I lay vpon his shoulder: so that he shall open, and no man shut, he shall shut, and no man open.

Iob 12.14. apoc.3.7.

23 And I will fasten him as a naile in a sure place, and he shalbe the glorious seate of his fathers house.

24 Moreouer, al generations & posterities shall hang vpon him all the glory of their fathers house, all vessels both great and small, and al instruments of measure and musicke.

25 In that day, saith the Lorde of hostes, shall the naile that is fastened in the sure place, depart and be broken, and fall: and the burden that was vpō it shall be pluckt away, for so the Lord hath spoken.

The xxiij. Chapter.

1 A prophecie against Tyrus: 17 and a promise that it shall be restored againe.

THe burden of Tyre. Mourne ye shippes of Tharsis, for there commeth such destructiō, that ye shall not haue an house to enter into, and that there shall be no traffike out of the land of Cittim, they haue knowledge of this plague.

2 Bee still yee that dwell in the Ile, the marchants of Sidon, and such as passe ouer the sea, haue made thee plenteous.

3 The corne that groweth by the great waters of Nilus, and the fruits of the riuer, were her victuals, so that it became a common marte of nations.

4 Be ashamed thou Sidon: for the [a] sea, euen the strength of the sea hath spoken, saying, I haue not trauailed nor brought forth children, nor nourished vp young men, or brought vp virgines.

[a] By the sea and the strength of the sea is meant Tyre.

5 When tidings come to the Egyptians, they shalbe sorie for the rumour of Tyre.

6 Get you to Tharsis, mourne you that dwell in the Ile.

7 Is not this that glorious citie of yours, which hath bene of old antiquitie? her owne feete shall cary her forth, to be a sojourner into a farre countrey.

8 Who hath deuised this against Tyre that [b] crowneth her selfe? whose marchants are princes, and whose factours are honourable in the world.

[b] That commeth per lete, that in which beautifieth her selfe to be set ouer the diuerse of all cities on the sea coastes.

9 Euen the Lorde of hostes hath deuised this, to put downe the pride of all such as be glorious, & to minish all them that be proude vpon the earth.

10 Get thee out of thy land like a flood vnto the daughter of Tharsis, for thou hast no more strength.

11 Hee that smote the kingdomes together, holdeth out his hand ouer the sea: euen the Lord himselfe hath giuen a commaundement against the same common place of marchandise, that they shall vtterly destroy the might thereof.

12 And he saide, Make no more thy boast, O virgin, thou daughter Sidon, thou shalt be brought downe: Vp, get thee ouer vnto Cittim, where neuertheless thou shalt haue no rest.

13 Beholde, this people came not of the Chaldees, but Assur made them strong with great shippes: they set vp the strong holdes thereof, and destroyed his palaces: and hee brought it in decay.

14 Mourne yee shippes of Tharsis, for your strength is brought downe.

15 And in that day shal Tyre be forgotten seuentie yeeres, according to the yeres of one king, and after the ende of seuentie yeeres, shall Tyre sing as doeth an harlot.

16 Take an harpe, and goe about the citie, thou harlot that hast beene forgotten, make sweete melodie, sing moe songs, that thou mayest be had in remembrance.

17 And after the ende of the seuentie yeres, shall the Lorde visite Tyre, and she shall conuert uert vnto her reward, and shall commit fornication with al the kingdomes of the earth that are in the world.

18 Their occupying also and their reward shalbe holy vnto the Lord: their gaines shall not be laide vp nor kept in store, but it shalbe theirs that dwell before the Lorde, that they may eate ynough, & haue clothing sufficient.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

A prophecie of tribulation to come vpon the world, because of sinne.

BEholde, the Lorde maketh the earth waste and emptie, he turneth it vpside downe, and scattereth abroad the inhabiters thereof.

Osee 4. 2 *And the Priest shall bee as the people, and the master as the seruant, the mistresse like the maide the seller like the byer, he that lendeth vpon vsurie, like him that borowoth vpon vsurie, the creditor as the detter.

3 The land shalbe cleane wasted, and vtterly spoyled: for so the Lord hath spoken.

4 The earth is sory and consumeth away, the world is feeble and perisheth, the proude people of the earth are come to nought.

5 The earth also is become vnprofitable vnder the inhabiters thereof, which haue transgressed the lawes, changed the ordinance, broken the euerlasting couenant.

6 Therefore hath the curse consumed the earth, and they that dwell therein are fallen and trespasse: wherefore the inhabiters of the earth are perished with drought, and few men are left behinde.

7 The wine faileth, the vine hath no might, all they that haue bene mery of heart are come to mourning.

8 The mirth of Tabrets is laide downe, the noyse of such as haue made mery is ceased, the ioy of the harpe is at an ende.

9 They shall drinke no more wine with mirth, strong drinke shalbe bitter to them that drinke it.

10 The citie of vanitie is broken downe, euery house is shut vp, that no man may come in.

11 In the streetes is there a crying, because of wine, all cheere is banished away, the mirth of the land is gone.

12 In the citie is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction.

13 For in the middes of the land, euen among the people, it shall come to passe as at the shaking of Oliues, and as the grapes are when the wine haruest is done.

14 They shal lift vp their voice, and make a mery noyse, and in magnifying of the Lord shall they cry out of the west.

15 Wherefore prayse yee the Lorde in the valleis, euen the name of the Lorde God of Israel in the Iles of the sea.

16 From the vttermost part of the earth haue we heard praises and mirth, because of the righteous: and I said, I knowe a thing in secret, I know a thing in secret, wo is me: the transgressers haue offended, the transgressers haue grieuously offended.

17 Fearefulnesse, the pit, and the snare are vpon thee, O thou that dwellest on the earth.

Iere. 48. 44. 18 *It will come to passe, that whosoeuer escapeth the fearefull noyse, shal fall into the pit, and hee that commeth vp out of the pit, shalbe taken with ỹ snare: for the windowes from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth are moued.

19 The earth is vtterly broken downe, the earth hath a sore ruine, the earth quaketh exceedingly.

20 The earth shall reele to and fro like a drunkard, and shall be remoued like a tent, and the iniquitie thereof shal be heauie vpon it, it shall fall, and not rise vp againe.

21 And in that day shall the Lorde visite the host aboue that is on high, and the kings of the world that are vpon the earth.

22 And they shall be gathered together as they that be in prison, and they shall bee shut vp in warde, and after many dayes shall they be visited.

23 The moone shall bee abashed, and the sunne ashamed, when the Lord of hosts shall reigne in mount Sion and in Hierusalem with worship, and in the sight of such as shall be of his counsell.

The xxv. Chapter.

A thanksgiuing to God for his woorks.

THou art my Lord my God, I will magnifie thee, I will giue thanks vnto thy name, for thou hast brought wonderful things to passe, according to thine olde counsell, trulie and faithfully.

2 Thou hast made a citie an heape of stones, and brought a strong towne into decay: the habitation of strangers hast thou made to be no citie, neither shal it bee builded any more.

3 Therefore shall the mightie people giue glorie vnto thee, the citie of the valiant heathen shall feare thee.

4 For thou hast bene a strength vnto the poore, & a succour for the needie in his trouble, a refuge against euill weather, a shadow against the heate: for the blast of raging men is like a storme that casteth downe a wall.

5 Like as the heate in a drie place wasteth all things: so shalt thou suppresse the noyse of aliants, the heate is abated with the shadow of the cloud, euen so shal God allwage the noise of the cruell tyrants.

6 And in this mountaine shall the Lorde of hostes make vnto all people a feast of plenteous and delicate things, euen of most pleasant and daintie dishes.

7 And in this mountaine shall the Lord destroy the couering that al people are wrapped in, and the hanging that is spread vpon all nations.

8 As for death hee hath destroyed it for euer,

Apoc.7.17. and 21.4. euer, and the * Lorde God [illegible] away teares from all faces, and [illegible] of his people shall he take away [illegible] all the earth, for so the Lord hath [illegible]

9 And in that day it shall be sayde, Loe, this is our God, we haue waited for him, and he shall saue vs, this is the Lorde in whome we haue hoped, we will be mery, and reioyce in the saluation that commeth of him.

10 For in this mountaine shall the hande of the Lord cease, and Moab shalbe threshed vnder him, euen as straw is troden to doung on the dounghill.

11 And hee shall stretch out his hand in the midest of them, as hee that swimmeth casteth out his hands to swimme: and with the strength of his handes shall hee bring downe their pride.

12 The strong hold also, & defence of thy walles hath hee ouerthrowen & cast downe, and brought them to the ground, euen vnto dust.

The xxvj. Chapter.

A song of deliuerance of the people.

IN that day shall this song bee sung in the land of Juda, We haue a strong citie, saluation shall God appoint in steade of walles and bulwarkes.

2 Open ye the gates, that the righteous people which keepeth ỹ trueth may enter in.

3 By an assured purpose wilt thou preserue perfect peace, because they put their trust in thee.

4 Put yee your trust alway in the Lorde: for in the Lorde God there is strength for euermore.

5 For hee hath brought downe the high minded citizens: as for the proude citie, hee hath brought it lowe, euen to the grounde shall he cast it downe, and bring it vnto dust.

6 The foote, euen the foote of the poore, and the steps of such as bee in necessitie shall treade it downe.

7 The path of equitie wilt thou graunt vnto the iust, O thou most righteous, thou shalt order the path of him that is righteous.

8 Yea in the way of thy iudgements, O Lorde, haue we put our trust in thee: thy name also, and the remembrance of thee, is the thing that our soule longeth for.

9 My soule hath longed for thee all the night, & with my spirit which is within me, will I seeke thee early in the morning: for when thy iudgements are in the earth, the inhabiters of the worlde shall learne righteousnesse.

10 Shall the vngodly man be fauoured, which hath not learned righteousnesse, but doth wickedly in the earth, where nothing ought to bee done, but that which is righteous: he shall not see the glory of the Lord.

11 Lord, when thy hand is lift vp to strike, they see it not, but they shall see it, and bee confounded with the zeale of the people, and the fire that consumeth thine enemies shal deuoure them.

12 Lord, vnto vs thou shalt prouide peace: for thou also hast wrought all our workes in vs.

13 O Lord our God, other lordes besides thee haue subdued vs: but wee wil be mindfull only of thee, and of thy name.

14 The dead wil not liue, they that bee out of life wil not rise againe, therefore hast thou visited and rooted them out, and destroyed all the memorie of them.

15 Thou hast increased the people, O Lorde, thou hast increased the people, thou art glorious, thou hast sent them farre off vnto all the coasts of the earth.

16 Lord, in trouble haue they visited thee, they powred out their prayer, when thy [illegible] was vpon them.

17 Like as a woman with childe that draweth nigh towards her trauaile, is sory and crieth in her paines: euen so haue wee bene in thy sight, O Lord.

18 We haue bene with childe and suffred paine, as though wee had brought forth winde: for there is no saluation in the earth, neither doe the inhabiters of the world submit themselues.

19 Thy dead men shall liue, euen as my body shall they rise againe: awake and sing ye that dwell in dust, for thy dewe is euen as the dewe of herbes, and the earth shall cast out them that be vnder her.

20 Come my people, enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doores about thee, hide thy selfe for a litle while, vntil the indignation be ouerpast.

21 * For beholde, the Lorde is comming out of his place, to visite the wickednesse of such as dwell vpon earth: the earth also shall disclose her bloods, and shall no more hide them that are slaine in her. Mich 1.3.

The xxvij. Chapter.

A prophecie of the comming of Christ, and destruction of idolatrie.

IN that day the Lorde with his sore, great, & mightie sword shal visite [a] Leuiathan the fugitiue serpent, euen Leuiathan that crooked serpent, and he shal slay the dragon that is in the sea.

a My interpretation the power and of Christ is the sea to signifie the kingdome of darkenesse and the mightie by power of the worlde, meaning to Christ and perfectioners of his religion.

2 In the day see that yee sing of the congregation, which is the vineyard that bringeth foorth the best wine:

3 Euen I the Lorde doe keepe it, in due seasons shall I water it: and least the enemie doe it any harme, I will both night and day preserue it.

4 There is no displeasure in me, els when the vineyard bringeth me foorth briers and thornes, I would goe thorowe it by warre, and burne it vp together.

b God calleth his word his strength, because thereby he ouercometh men and bendeth them to obedience.

5 Let it take holde of my [b] strength, and it shall be at one with me, euen at one shall it be with me.

6 The dayes are comming that Jacob shall shall take roote, Israel shal be greene and florish, and the world shalbe filled with fruite.

7 Hath hee smitten him as sore as hee did the other that smote him? Or is her slaine with so sore a slaughter as they slewe him?

8 Thou wilt punish it in the branches, yet not beyonde measure: for in the day that the East winde bloweth sore, it taketh away the fruites.

9 By this meanes therefore shall the iniquitie of Iacob be purged, and this is all the fruite, namely the c taking away of his sinne, if he make al ꝑ stones of the altar of idoles, as chalke stones that are beaten in sunder, that their groues and images rise not vp againe.

c Gods holy afflictions, are meanes to call men to repentance, before they feele the extremitie of iudgement.

10 Els shall the strong citie be desolate, and the habitation forsaken and left like a wildernes: there shal the calfe feed, and there shall he lie, and eate vp the grasses thereof.

11 When the branches of it are drie, they are broken off, and the women come and set them on fire: for it is a people of no vnderstanding, and therefore he that made them, shall not fauour them, and hee that created them, shall giue them no grace.

12 And in that day shall the Lorde make a threshing from the middes of the riuer Euphrates, vnto the riuer of Egypt, and yee children of Israel shall be gathered together one to an other.

13 In that day shall the great trumpe be blowen, so that they which were lost in the land of Assyria, and they that were banished in the land of Egypt, shall come and worship the Lord in the holy mount of Hierusalem.

The xxviij. Chapter

1 Against the pride of Ephraim, 9 and against false priests and preachers.

WO be vnto the crowne of pride, euen vnto the drunken people of Ephraim, whose great pompe is as a flowre that fadeth away vpon the head of the valley of such as be in wealth, and are ouerladen with wine.

2 Beholde, there commeth a vehement and sore day from the Lorde, like an vnmeasurable haile and perilous tempest, euen like the force of mightie and horrible waters that violently beareth downe all things.

3 The crowne of the pride of the drunken Ephraimites shalbe troden vnder foote.

4 So that the flowre of his fairenesse and beautie, which is in the head of the valley of fatnesse, shall fade away as doeth an vntimely ripe figge before harueste: which when a man espieth, he looketh vpon it, and while it is yet in his hand he eateth it vp.

5 In that day shall the Lord of hostes bee the crowne of glorie and diamond of beautie vnto the residue of his people.

6 He will be also a spirite of perfect knowledge to him that sitteth in iudgement, and strength vnto them that turne away the battell to the gate of the enemies.

7 But they are out of the way by reason of wine, yea farre out of the way are they through strong drinke: the priest also and the prophet are gone astray by the meanes of strong drinke, they are drunken with wine, they goe amisse through strong drinke, they faile in prophecying, & stumble in iudgement.

8 For all tables are full of vomite and filthinesse, that no man is cleane.

9 Whom then shall such one teach knowledge? and whom shall hee make to vnderstand the thing that he heareth? for they are as ignorant as yong children that are taken from the milke, and are weaned.

10 For they that bee such, must take after one lesson, another lesson, after one commandement, another cõmandement, for one rule, another rule, after one instruction, another instruction, there a litle, and there a litle.

11 *For hee that speaketh vnto this people, is euen as one that vseth rudenesse of speech, and a strange language. 1.Cor.14.21.

12 If any man say vnto them, Loe, this is the rest wherewith ye may ease him that is wearie, this is the refreshing: they wil not hearken.

13 Therefore shall the word of the Lorde be vnto them lesson vpon lesson, commandement vpon commandement, rule vpon rule, instruction vpon instructiõ, there a litle, and there a litle: that they may goe on, and fall backeward, be bruised, tangled, and snared.

14 Wherefore heare the word of the Lord ye mockers, ye that haue rule of this people which is at Hierusalem.

15 Because ye haue said, We haue made a couenant with death, and with hell are wee at agreement: and though there goe foorth a sore plague, it shall not come vnto vs, for wee haue made falshoode our refuge, and vnder banitie are we hid:

16 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God, *Beholde, I lay in Sion for a foundation a stone, euen a tryed stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation: who so beleeueth, let him not be too a hastie. Mat.21.4.

a Who so through faith doeth stay him selfe vpon Christ, in hasty going forward shall not faile: that is, shall not faile of that he hopeth to obtaine.

17 Iudgement also will I lay to the rule, and righteousnesse to the balance, so that the b haile shall sweepe away as a broome your vaine confidence, and the priuie place of your refuge shall the waters runne ouer.

b The Gospel is compared to haile and floods, for that it breaketh downe and carrieth away idolatrie and superstition, wherein men doe trust in vaine.

18 And thus the couenant that yee made with death, shalbe disanulled, & your agreement that ye made with hell, shall not stand, yea when the sore plague goeth forth, ye shall be troden downe vnder it.

19 From the time that it goeth forth, it shall take you away: for early in the morning euery day, yea both day and night, shall it goe thorowe, and when the noise thereof is perceiued, it shall gender vexation.

20 For the bed is narowe, and not large, and the couering so small, that a man can not winde himselfe vnder it. 1.Reg.3.20 1.Chro.24. 11.ios.10. 12.

21 *For the Lord shall stand as in mount Perazim, and shall bee wroth like as in the valley of Gibeon, that he may doe his worke, his strange worke, and bring to passe his act, his strange act.

22 Nowe therefore see that ye be no mockers, least your punishment encrease: for I heard the Lord of hosts, that there shall come a short ende vpon the whole earth.

23 Heare ye then, and hearken vnto my voyce, consider and ponder my speech.

24 Doeth not the husbandman plowe all the day, and openeth & breaketh the clots of his ground, that he may sowe?

25 when he hath made it plaine, will he not spread abroad the fitches, and sowe cummin, and cast in wheate by measure, and the appointed barley and rye in their place?

26 God will instruct him to haue discretion, euen his God will teach him.

27 For fitches shall not bee threshed with an harrowe, neither shall a cart wheele bee brought thorow the cummin: but the fitches are beaten out with a staffe, and cummin with a rodde.

28 But the seede that bread is made of, is threshed, though it be not alway a threshing, and the cart wheele must be brought ouer it, lest he grinde it with his teeth.

29 This also cometh of the Lord of hosts, which worketh with wonderfull wisedome, and bringeth excellent workes to passe.

The xxix. Chapter.

A prophecie against Hierusalem, and against the vaine traditions of men.

WOe vnto thee, O Ariel, Ariel, thou citie that Dauid dwelt in: Goe on from yeere to yeere, and let the lambes be slaine.

2 I will lay siege vnto Ariel, so that there shall be heauinesse and sorowe in it: and it shall be vnto me euen an altar of slaughter.

3 I wil beseige thee round about, and wil fight against thee thorowe a bulwarke, and will reare vp ditches against thee.

4 Thou shalt be brought downe, and shalt speake out of the ground, and thy speech shall goe lowe out of the dust:

5 Thy voyce also shall come vp out of the ground, like the voyce of a witch, and thy talking shall whisper out of the dust.

6 Moreouer, the noyse of the strange enemies shall be like thinne dust, and the multitude of tyrants shall bee as drie straw that can not tarie: euen suddenly and in haste shal their blast goe.

7 Thou shalt bee visited of the Lorde of hostes, with thunder, earthquake, and with a great noise, with storme and tempest, and with the flame of a consuming fire.

8 And the multitude of all nations that fight against Ariel, shall be as a dreame seene by night: euen so shall they bee that make warre against it, and strong holdes to ouercome it, and that lay any siege vnto it.

9 In conclusion, it shall be euen as when an hungry man dreameth that he is eating, and when he awaketh, his soule is emptie; or as when a thirstie man dreameth that hee is drinking, when he awaketh, he is yet faint, and his soule hath appetite: euen so shall the multitude of all nations be that fight against mount Sion.

10 Ponder these things once in your mindes, and wonder: Blinded are they them selues, and the blinde guides of other, they are drunken, but not with wine: they are vnstable, but not through strong drinke:

11 For the Lord hath couered you with a slumbring spirit, and hath closed your eyes: your prophets also and rulers that should see, them hath he couered.

12 And the vision of all the prophets, is become vnto you as the wordes of a booke that is sealed vp, which men deliuer to one that is learned, saying, Reade thou in it: and he saith, I cannot, for it is sealed.

13 And the booke is giuen to him that is not learned, saying, Reade thou in it: and he saith, I am not learned.

14 Therefore thus hath the Lorde sayde, *For as much as this people, when they be in trouble, doe honour mee with their mouth, and with their lips, but their heart is farre from me, and the feare which they haue vnto me, proceedeth of a commandement that is taught of men: Mar. 15.8. mar. 7.6.

15 Therfore will I doe maruelles among this people, euen maruellous things I say and a wonder: *for the wisdome of their wise men shall perish, and the vnderstanding of their wittie men shall hide it selfe. 1.Cor.1.19

16 *Wo vnto them that keepe secret their thoughts, to hide their counsell from the Lord, and to do their works in darknesse, saying, *who seeth vs? and who knoweth vs? Abd.1.3. Eccl.23.19.

17 Doubtlesse your destruction is in reputation as the Potters clay: and doeth the worke say of him that made it, Hee made not me? And doeth an earthen vessell say of him that fashioned it, He had no vnderstanding?

18 Is it not hard at hand that Libanus shalbe turned into a lowe fielde, and that the lowe field shall be taken as the wood?

19 And in that day shall deafe men heare the wordes of the booke, and the eyes of the blinde shall see euen out of the cloude, and out of darkenesse.

20 The meeke spirited also shal be merry in the Lord, and the poore among them that be lowly shall reioyce in the holy one of Israel.

21 For he that did violence is brought to nought, and the scornefull man is consumed, and they rooted out that made haste earely to vnrighteousnesse, 22 Making a man to sinne in the word, and that tooke him in a snare, which reproued them in the open place, & they that haue turned the cause of the righteous to nought.

23 Therefore thus saieth the Lord to the house of Iacob, euen thus saith he that redeemed Abraham, Iacob shall not nowe be confounconfounded, nor his face pale.

24 But when hee seeth his children the worke of my hands in the mids of him, they shall sanctifie my name, and praise the holy one of Iacob, and feare the God of Israel.

25 They also that haue bene of an erroneous spirit, shal come to vnderstanding, & they that haue bin sorowful, shal learne doctrine.

The xxx. Chapter.

1 Against them that forsake the counsell of God, and cleaue to the counsell of men. 3 The Prophet also threatneth the remnant of the people, that after the destruction of Hierusalem went into Egypt.

Las for those disobedient children, saith the Lorde, that they will take counsell, and not of me, that they will take a secrete aduise, and not out of my spirit, and therefore adde they sinne vnto sinne.

2 Euen they that walke to goe downe into Egypt, and haue asked no question at my mouth, but seeke strength in the might of Pharao, and trust in the shadowe of Egypt.

3 Therefore shall the strength of Pharao be your confusion, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt, your shame.

4 For his captaines were at Zoan, and his embassadours came vnto Hanes.

5 They were ashamed of the people that could doe them no good, and that might not helpe them, nor shewe them any profite, but were their confusion and rebuke.

6 The burden of the beasts of the South. In a land of trouble & anguish, from whence shall come the yong and olde lion, the viper, and fierce serpent, that flieth against them that vpon coltes beare their riches, and vpon camels their treasures, to a people that can doe them no good.

7 For vaine and nothing worth shall the helpe of the Egyptians be: therefore haue I cryed vnto Hierusalem, they shall haue strength inough, if they will settle their minds in quietnesse.

8 Now therefore goe thy way, and write this before them in a table, and note it in a booke, that it may finally remaine and bee kept still for euer.

9 For this is an obstinate people, and dissembling children, children that refuse to heare the law of the Lord.

10 For they say vnto the seers, See not: and to them that bee cleare of iudgement, Looke not out right things for vs: but speake faire wordes vnto vs, looke out errours, 11 Get you out of this way, depart out of this path, and turne the holy one of Israel from vs.

12 Wherefore thus saith the holy one of Israel, Because your hearts rise against this word, and because your trust in wrong dealing, and peruerse iudgement, and put your confidence therein:

13 Therefore shall ye haue this mischiefe for your destruction and fall, like as an high wall that falleth because of some rift or blast, whose breaking commeth suddenly.

14 And the hurt therof is like an earthen vessell which breaketh without helpe, so that in the bursting of it, there is not founde one shiuer to fetch fire in, or to take water withal out of the pit.

15 For thus saith the Lord God, euen the holy one of Israel, In repentance, and in rest shall yee bee safe, in quietnesse and sure confidence shall be your strength, but ye haue had no lust thereto.

16 For yee haue sayde, No, but we will escape through horses, therfore shal ye flee, and we will get vs vp vpon swift beastes, and therefore shall your persecuters be swifter.

17 A thousande shall flee at the rebuke of one, and at the rebuke of fiue, shall ye all flee, till ye bee left as a ship mast vpon the top of a mountaine, and as a beacon vpon an hill.

18 Therefore doeth the Lord cause you to waite, that he may haue mercie vpon you, to the intent that he may haue the preeminence when he is gracious vnto you: for the Lorde is the God of iudgement, blessed are all they that hope in him.

19 If the people remaine in Sion, and at Hierusalem, thou shalt not be in beautnesse: but at the voice of thy complaint shal he haue mercy vpon thee, and when he heareth it, he shall giue thee an answere.

20 And though the Lorde giue you the bread of trouble, and the water of aduersitie, thy raine shall be no more so scant, but thine eyes shall see thy raine,

21 Yea, and thine eare shall heare the talking of him that doeth speake behinde thee: This is the way, walke ye in it, turne not aside, neither to the right hand, nor to the left.

22 Yee shall destroy also the couering of your siluer images, and the decking of your golden idoles, euen as filthinesse shalt thou put them away, and thou shalt say vnto it, Get thee hence.

23 Then shall God giue raine vnto thy seede that thou shalt sow the ground withal, and bread of the encrease of the earth, which shalbe fat & very plenteous: in that day also shall thy cattell be fed in large pastures.

24 The oxen likewise, and the yong asses that eare the grounde, shall eate cleane prouender, which is purged with the winde and the fanne.

25 Finally, vpon euery high mountaine and hill shall there be riuers, and streames of waters in ye day of the great slaughter when the towers fall.

26 Moreouer, the light of the Moone shal be as the light of the Sunne, & the Sunne light shall be seuen folde, and haue as much shine as the seuen dayes beside, when the Lord bindeth vp the sore of the people, and healeth the stroke of their wound.

27 Beholde, the name of the Lord commeth from farre, and his presence is so hot, that no man is able to abide: his lippes are full of indignation, and his tongue is as a conſuming fire.

28 His breath is a behement flood of water that reacheth vp to the necke: that he may ſift away the heathen in the ſieue of vanitie, and his breath is a bridle of errour in the iawes of the people.

29 And yee ſhall ſing like as in the night when the holy ſolemnitie beginneth, and ye ſhall haue gladneſſe of heart, like as when one commeth with a pipe vnto the hill of the Lord, and to the moſt mightie one of Iſrael.

30 And the Lord ſhall cauſe his glorious voyce to be heard, and ſhall declare his ſtretched out arme with a terrible countenance, and with a flame of conſuming fire, with noyſome lightning, with a ſhowre, and with haileſtones.

31 For through the voyce of the Lord ſhal Aſſur bee deſtroyed, which ſmote other men with the rodde.

32 And it ſhal come to paſſe, that whitherſoeuer hee goeth, the rodde ſhall cleaue vnto him, which the Lord ſhall lay vpon him with Tabrets and harpes: and with great warre ſhall he fight againſt his hoſte.

33 For the fire of hell is ordeined from the beginning, yea euen for the king is it prepared: this hath the Lord ſet in the deepe, and made it wide, the burning whereof is fire and much wood: the breath of the Lorde, which is like a riuer of brimſtone, doeth kindle it.

The xxxj. Chapter.

He curſeth them that forſake God, and ſeeke for the helpe of men.

WOe bee vnto them that goe downe into Egypt for helpe, and truſt in horſes, and put their confidence in charets, becauſe they be many, & in horſemen, becauſe they bee luſtie and ſtrong: but they regard not the holy one of Iſrael, and they aſke no queſtion at the Lord.

2 And hee neuertheleſſe is wiſe, and will plague the wicked, and goeth not from his word, he wil ariſe againſt the houſhold of the froward, and againſt the helpe of euill doers.

3 Nowe the Egyptians are men, and not God, and their horſes fleſh, and not ſpirite: and as ſoone as the Lord ſtretcheth out his hand, then ſhall the helper fall, and hee that ſhould haue bene helped, and they ſhall all together be deſtroyed.

4 For thus hath the Lorde ſpoken vnto mee, Like as the Lion and Lions whelpe roreth vpon the pray that hee hath gotten, and is not afraid though the multitude of Sheepheards cry out vpon him, neither abaſhed for all the heape of them: ſo ſhall the Lord of hoſtes come downe to fight for mount Sion, and defend his hill.

5 Like as the birdes flutter about their neſtes: ſo ſhall the Lord of hoſtes keepe, ſaue, defend, and deliuer Hieruſalem.

6 Therefore, O yee children of Iſrael, turne againe vnto him whom you haue oftimes forſaken.

7 For in that day euery man ſhall caſt out his idoles of ſiluer, and his idoles of golde, which ye haue made with your owne hands vnto your ſinne.

8 Aſſur alſo ſhalbe ſlaine with the ſword, not with a mans ſworde, neither ſhall the ſword of any man deuoure him, and he ſhall flee from the ſlaughter, and his choyſe yong men ſhalbe diſcomfited.

9 He ſhall go for feare to his ſtrong holds, and his princes ſhall flee from his ſtandard, ſaith the Lord, whoſe fire is in Sion, and his furnace in Hieruſalem.

The xxxij. Chapter.

The conditions of good rulers and officers.

BEhold, a king ſhall gouerne after the rule of righteouſneſſe, and the princes ſhal rule according vnto ꝯ balance of equitie.

2 And that man ſhalbe vnto men as a defence for the winde, and as a refuge for the tempeſt, like as a riuer of water in a thirſtie place, and the ſhadowe of a great rocke in a drie land.

3 The eyes of the ſeeing ſhall not bee dimme, and the eares of them that heare ſhal take diligent heede.

4 The heart of the vnwiſe ſhall attaine to knowledge, and the vnperfect tongue ſhall ſpeake plainely and diſtinctly.

5 Then ſhall the fooliſh-nigarde bee no more called gentle, nor the churle liberall.

6 But the nigard will ſpeake nigardly, and his heart will worke euill, and play the hypocrite, & imagine abominations againſt God, to make the hungry leane, and to withholde drinke from the thirſtie.

7 The weapons of the churliſh are euill, he deuiſeth noyſome deuiſes, that he may beguile the poore with deceitfull wordes, yea, euen there as hee ſhould giue ſentence with the poore.

8 But the liberall perſon imagineth honeſt things, and commeth vp for liberalitie vnto promotion.

9 Vp yee rich and idle women, hearken vnto my voice: ye careleſſe daughters, marke my wordes.

10 Many yeeres and dayes ſhall yee bee brought in feare, O ye careleſſe women: for the vintage ſhall faile, and the harueſt ſhall not come.

11 Bee abaſhed, you that liue in abundance, tremble you that liue careleſſe, caſt off your rayment, make your ſelues bare, and put ſackcloth about you.

12 For as the infants weepe when their mothers teates are dried vp: ſo ſhall you weepe for your fayre fieldes and fruitefull vineyardes.

13 Vp peoples fielde ſhall bring thornes and thiſtles: and ſo ſhall it be in euery houſe of of voluptuousnesse, and in euery citie that reioyceth.

14 The palaces also shall be broken, and the greatly occupied cities desolate: the towres and bulwarkes shall become dennes for euermore, where wilde asses take their pleasure, and sheepe their pasture, 15 Vnto the time that the spirit be powred vpon vs from aboue, and that the wildernesse be a fruitfull fielde, and the plenteous fielde be reckoned for a wood.

Esai.19.17. 16 *Then shall equitie dwell in the desart, and righteousnesse in a fruitfull land.

17 And the worke of righteousnesse shall be peace, and her fruite rest and quietnesse for euer.

18 And my people shal dwel in the Innes of peace, and in sure dwellings, in safe places of comfort.

19 And when the hayle falleth, it shall fall in the wood, and the citie shall be set low in the valley.

20 O howe happie shall yee be when yee shall safely sowe your seede beside all waters, and driue thither the feete of your Oxen and Asses.

The xxxiij. Chapter.

1 Threatning against the Assyrians. 20 A destruction of them that shall see the Lord.

WOe to thee that destroyest, when thou wast not destroyed, thou breakest the league, whereas none hath broken it with thee: for when thou shalt leave destroying, thou thy selfe shalt be destroyed: and when thou ceasest from breaking the league, then shall they breake it to thee.

2 O Lorde, haue mercie vpon vs, wee haue put our whole trust in thee: bee an arme to such early, and our health in the time of trouble.

3 At that confuse noyse the people fled, & at thine exalting, the heathen were scattered.

4 And the spoyles shall bee gathered, which shall be yours, as are the gathering of Bruchus, and the multitude going to it shall be as Locustes running to and fro.

5 The Lorde is exalted, for it is hee that dwelleth on high, he hath filled Sion with iudgement and righteousnesse.

6 And a sure stablishing of the times, shal be strength, health, wisedome, and knowledge: and the very feare of the Lorde shall be the treasure of it.

7 Beholde, the messengers shal crie without; and the ambassadours of peace shall weepe bitterly.

8 Their streetes are waste, there walketh no man therein: God hath broken the appointment, the cities are cast away, & men are nothing regarded.

9 The desolate earth is in heauinesse, Libanus is shamed and hewen downe, Saron is like a wildernesse, Basan and Charmel are spoyled of their fruites.

10 And therefore saith the Lorde, I will vp nowe, nowe will I be aduanced, nowe will I be exalted.

11 Yee shall conceiue stubble, and beare strawe: and your spirite shalbe the fire, that it may consume you.

12 And the people shalbe burnt like lime, and as thornes burnt that are hewen off, and cast in the fire.

13 Now hearken to, ye that are farre off, howe I haue done, and consider my power, ye that are at hand.

14 The sinners at Sion are afraid, a sudden fearefulnes is come vpon the hypocrites: what is he among vs, say they, that shall dwell by the consuming fire? which of vs may abide the euerlasting heate?

15 *He that leadeth a godly life, and speaketh the trueth, he that abhorreth gaines by violence and deceit, he that keepeth his hand that hee touch no rewarde, which stoppeth his eares that he heare no counsell against the innocent blood, which holdeth downe his eyes that he see no euill: Psal.15.2.

16 He it is that shal dwell on high, whose safegarde shall be in a bulwarke of rockes: to him shalbe giuen meate, and his waters shall not faile.

17 Thine eyes shall see the King in his glorie, euen the King of the farre countreies shall they see.

18 Thine heart studied for feare, thinking thus, *what shall then become of the Scribe? of the receiuer of our money? what of him that tared our faireſt houses? 1.Cor.1.16

19 There shalt thou not see a cruel people of a strange tongue, to haue so defused a language ỹ it may not be vnderstanded, neither so strange a speach but it shall be perceiued.

20 Looke vpon Sion, the head citie of our solemne feastes: thine eyes shall see Hierusalem that glorious habitation, the tabernacle that neuer shall remoone, whose nailes shall neuer be take out world without end, whose cords euery one shall neuer corrupt.

21 For the glorious maiestie of the Lorde shall there bee present among vs, as a place where faire broad riuers and streames are, thorow the which, shall neither Galley row, nor great ship saile.

22 For the Lord is our iudge, the Lord is our law giuer, the Lord is our King, and hee himselfe shall be our Sauiour.

23 Thy tackling is loosed, therefore it can not make fast the maste, nor spread the sayle: then there is dealed great spoyle, yea, lame men run after the pray.

24 There lieth no man that saieth, I am sicke: but all euill is taken away from the people that dwell there.

The xxxiiij. Chapter.

The last destruction of the synagogue, in which the kingdome and priesthood of the people was translated to the Church and congregation of Christ.

COme ye Heathen, and heare, take heede you people: hearken thou earth, & all that is therein, thou round compasse, and all that dwelleth thereupon.

2 For the Lord is angrie with all people, and his displeasure is kindled against all the multitude of them, he hath destroyed them, and deliuered them to the slaughter.

3 So that their slaine shall be cast out, and their bodies shall stinke, that euen the very hilles shalbe wet with the blood of them.

4 All the starres of heauen shall waste, and the heauens shal folde together as a role, and all the starres thereof shall fall, like as the leaues fall from the vines and fig trees.

5 For my sword shalbe bathed in heauen, and shall immediatly come downe to iudgement vpon Idumea, and vpon the people which I haue cursed.

6 And the Lordes sworde shall be full of blood, and be ruttie with the fatnesse and blood of Lambes and Goates, with the fatnesse of the kidneyes of wethers: For the Lord shall kill a great offering in Bozra, and a great slaughter in the land of Idumea.

7 There shal the vnicorns fall with them, and the Bulles with the Giants, and their land shall be throughly soked with blood, and their ground corrupt with fatnesse.

a God declareth his loue and care to preserue his Church by his seuere punishing of the enemies to his Church.

8 For it is the a day of Gods vengeance, and the yeere of recompence for the reuenge of Sion.

9 And his floods shall be turned to pitch, and his earth to brimstone, and therewith shall the land be kindled.

10 So that it shall not be quenched day nor night, but smoke euermore, and so forth lye waste: and no man shall goe thorowe it for euer.

Soph. 2, 14. 11 * But Pelicanes, Storkes, great Owles, and Rauens shall haue it in possession, and dwell therein: for God shall spread out the line of desolation vpon it, and the stones of emptinesse.

12 Her nobles shall call, and there is no kingdome: & all her princes shall be nothing.

13 Thornes shal growe in their palaces, nettles and thistles in their strong holdes, that the dragons may haue their pleasure therein, and that they may bee a court for Estriches.

14 There shall strange bisures and monsterous beastes meete one another, and the wilde keepe companie together, there shall the Lamia lye and haue hir lodging.

15 There shall the Owle make her nest, builde, be there at home, and bring foorth her yong ones: there shall the Kites come together, eche one to his like.

16 Seeke throughout the booke of the Lord, and reade it: there shall none of these things be left out: there shall not one nor such like fayle: for his mouth cōmandeth, & that same doeth his spirite gather together, or fulfill.

17 Hee hath cast the lot for them, and to those beasts hath his hand deuided it by the line: therefore those shall possesse it for euer, from generation to generation shall they dwell therein.

The xxxv. Chapter.

Of the time and kingdome of Christ.

BUt a the desart and wildernes shall reioyce, the waste ground shall be glad, and florish as the Lilie.

a The barren natures of vnkinde to all goodnes, shal be made fruitfull by grace promised in Christ. Iesus. 20. and 3.

2 She shal florish pleasantly, and be ioyfull, and euer be giuing thankes more and more: For the glorie of Libanus, the beautie of Charmel and Saron shall be giuen her: These shal knowe the honour of the Lorde, and the maiestie of our God.

b God giueth strength of grace to the feeble consciences by preaching the Gospel.

3 And therefore b strengthen the weake handes, and comfort the feeble knees.

4 Say vnto them that are of a fearefull heart, Be of good cheare, & feare not, beholde, your God commeth to take vengeance, & you shall see the rewarde that God giueth: God commeth his owne selfe, & will deliuer you.

Mat. 15, 30. 5 * Then shall the eyes of the blinde be lightened, & the eares of the deafe opened.

6 Then shall the lame men leape as an Hart, and the dumbe mans tongue shal giue thankes: for in the wildernesse there shall welles spring, & floods of water in the desart.

7 The dry ground shall turne to riuers, and the thirstie to springs of water: whereas Dragons dwelt afore, there shall growe sweete flowres and greene rushes.

8 There shalbe footepaths, and common streets, this shalbe called, The holy way, no vncleane person shall goe thorowe it, for the Lord him selfe shal goe with them that way, & the wayfayrer nor ignorant shall not erre.

9 There shall bee no Lion, and no rauening beasts shall come therein, nor be there, but men redeemed shall goe there free & safe.

10 And the redeemed of the Lord, I say, shall conuert, & come to Sion with thankesgiuing: euerlasting ioy shall they haue, pleasure and gladnesse shall be among them, and as for all sorowe & heauinesse, it shall vanish.

The xxxvj. Chapter.

Hierusalem is besieged by Sennacherib, in the time of King Ezecias.

IN * the fourteenth yeere of King of Ezecias, came Sennacherib King of the Assyrians downe, to lay siege vnto all the strong cities of Juda, to conquere them. 4. King. 18. 13. 2. chro. 32. 1.

2 And the king of the Assyrians sent Rabsaceh from Lachis towarde Hierusalem, against Ezecias, with an exceeding hoste, which set him by the conduite of the ouer poole, in the way that goeth thorowe the Fullers land.

3 And so there came foorth vnto him Eliacim, Helcias sonne, the chiefe ouer the houshold, houſholde, Sobna the ſcribe, and Joah Aſaphs ſonne, the ſecretarie:

4 And Rabſaceh ſayde vnto them, Tell Ezecia that the great King ſaith thus vnto him, what preſumption is this that thou truſteſt vnto?

5 I ſayd ſurely that thou truſteſt in vaine wordes, when counſell and ſtrength are neceſſarie to battell: but now whereto truſteſt thou, that thou rebelleſt againſt me?

6 Loe, thou putteſt thy truſt in a broken ſtaffe of reede, I meane Egypt, which he that leaneth vpon, it goeth into his hande, and thooteth it thorowe: euen ſo is Pharao the king of Egypt, vnto all thē that truſt in him.

7 But if thou wouldeſt ſay vnto me, We truſt in the Lorde our God: Is not he that God whoſe high places and altars Ezecia tooke downe, and commanded Juda & Hieruſalem to worſhip onely before this altar?

8 Nowe therefore deliuer hoſtages, that thou rebell no more againſt my lord the king of the Aſſyrians, and I will giue thee two thouſand horſes, if thou bee able to ſet men vpon them.

9 Howe dareſt thou reſiſt the power of the ſmalleſt prince that my lorde hath? how dareſt thou truſt in the charets and horſemen of Egypt?

10 Moreouer, thinkeſt thou that I am come vp hither to deſtroy this land without the Lordes will? The Lorde ſayde vnto me, Goe vp againſt this lande, and deſtroy it.

11 Then ſayde Eliacim, Sobna, and Joah, vnto Rabſaceh, Speake to vs thy ſeruants, we pray thee, in the Syrians language, for we vnderſtand it well, and ſpeake not to vs in the Jewes tongue, leſt the folke heare which ſyeth vpon the wall.

12 Then anſwered Rabſaceh, Hath my maſter ſent me to ſpeake this onely to thy maſter and thee? hath hee not ſent mee to them alſo that ſye vpon the wall, that they may be compelled to eate their owne doung, and drinke their owne ſtale with you?

13 And Rabſaceh ſtoode ſtiffe, and cryed with a loud voyce in the Jewes tongue, and ſayde, Nowe take heede how the great king of the Aſſyrians giueth you warning.

14 Thus ſaith the King, Let not Ezecia deceiue you, for he ſhall not be able to deliuer you.

15 Moreouer, Let not Ezecia comfort you in the Lorde, when he ſayeth, The Lord without doubt ſhall defende vs, and ſhal not giue ouer this citie into the handes of the king of the Aſſyrians.

16 Hearken not to Ezecia, for thus ſayeth the King of Aſſyria, Obteine my fauour, encline to mee, ſo may euery man enioy his vineyardes and figge trees, and drinke the water of his ceſterne:

17 Vnto the time that I come my ſelfe, and bring you into a lande that is like your owne, wherein is wheate and wine, which is both ſowen with ſeede, and planted with vineyardes.

18 Let not Ezecia deceiue you, when hee ſayeth vnto you, The Lord ſhall deliuer vs: might the god of the Gentiles keepe euery mans lande from the power of the King of the Aſſyrians?

19 Where is the god of Hemath & Arphad? where is the god of Sepharuaim? and who is able to defend Samaria out of my hand?

20 Or which of al the gods of theſe lands hath deliuered their countrey out of my power? Is the Lorde in deede able to deliuer Hieruſalem from my hande?

21 Vnto this Ezecias meſſengers helde their tongues, and anſwered not one word: for the king had charged them that they ſhould giue him no anſwere.

22 So came Eliacim Helcias ſonne the chiefe ouer the houſholde, Sobna the ſcribe, and Joah Aſaphs ſonne the ſecretarie, vnto Ezecia with rent clothes, and tolde him the wordes of Rabſaceh.

The xxxvij. Chapter.

1 Ezecia humbleth himſelfe before the Lord. 35 The armie of Sennacherib is ſlaine of the Angel of the Lord, 38 And he him ſelfe is killed of his owne ſonnes.

WHen Ezecia heard that, hee rent his clothes, and put on ſackecloth, and went into the Temple of the Lorde.

2 But he ſent Eliacim the chiefe ouer the houſholde, and Sobna the ſcribe, with ẏ eldeſt prieſts, clothed in ſacke, vnto the Prophet Eſay the ſonne of Amos,

3 And they ſaide vnto him, Thus ſayeth Ezecia, This is the day of trouble, of plague, and of blaſphemie: for the children are come to the place of birth, but there is no power to bring them forth.

4 The Lorde thy God no doubt hath well conſidered the wordes of Rabſaceh, whome his lorde king of the Aſſyrians hath ſent to defie and blaſpheme the liuing God, with ſuch words as the Lord thy God hath heard right well: and therefore lift vp thy prayer for the remnant that yet are left.

5 So the ſeruantes of the king Ezecia came to Eſay.

6 And Eſay gaue them this anſwere, Say thus vnto your Lorde, Thus ſaith the Lorde, Bee not afraide of the wordes that thou haſt heard, wherewith the king of the Aſſyrians ſeruants haue blaſphemed me.

7 Beholde, I will raiſe vp a winde againſt him, and he ſhal heare a rumour, and he ſhall goe againe into his countrey, there will I deſtroy him with the ſworde in his owne lande.

8 Nowe when Rabſaceh returned, hee founde the King of Aſſyria laying ſiege to Libnas: for hee had vnderſtanding that hee was departed from Lachis.

9 *And there came a rumour that Thara- 4. Reg. 19. 9.
caeh king of Ethiopia was come forth to warre againſt him: & when ẏ king of Aſſyria heard that, he sent other messengers to king Ezecia with this commandement.

10 Say thus to Ezecia king of Juda, Let not thy God deceiue thee in whome thou hopest, and sayest, Hierusalem shall not be giuen into the handes of the king of Assyria.

11 For loe, thou knowest well howe the kings of Assyria haue handled all the landes that they haue subuerted: and hopest thou to escape?

12 Were the people of the Gentiles, whom my progenitours conquered, deliuered at any time through their gods? As namely, Gosan, Haran, Rezeph, and the children of Eden, which were at Thalassar?

13 Where is the King of Hemath, and the king of Arphad, and the king of the citie Sepharuaim, Ena, and Ana?

14 Nowe when Ezecia had receiued the letter of the messengers, and read it, he went vp into the house of the Lorde, and opened the letter before the Lorde.

15 And Ezecia prayed vnto the Lorde on this maner.

16 O Lord of hostes, thou God of Israel, which dwellest vpon Cherubim, thou art the God that onely is God of all the kingdomes of the world, for thou onely hast created heauen and earth, 17 Encline thine eare, Lorde, and consider, open thine eyes, Lord, & see, & ponder all the wordes of Sennacherib, which hath sent his embassage to blaspheme the liuing God.

18 It is true, O Lorde, that the kings of Assyria haue conquered all kingdoms and lands.

19 And cast their gods in the fire: for those were no gods, but the works of mens hands, of wood, or stone, therefore haue they destroied them.

20 Nowe therefore deliuer vs, O Lorde our God, from the handes of Sennacherib, that all the kingdomes of the earth may knowe that thou onely art the Lorde.

21 Then Esay the sonne of Amos sent vnto Ezecia, saying, Thus sayth the Lorde God of Israel, whereas thou hast made thy prayer vnto mee as touching Sennacherib the king of Assyria, 22 This is the answere that the Lorde hath giuen concerning him: The virgin the daughter of Sion hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorne: the daughter of Hierusalem hath shaken her head at thee.

23 But thou Sennacherib, whome hast thou defied and blasphemed? Against whom hast thou lifted vp thy voyce, and exalted thy proude lookes? euen against the holy one of Israel.

24 Thou with thy seruants hast blasphemed the Lorde, and thus holdest thou of thy selfe: I will couer the high mountaines and sides of Libanus with my horsemen, and there will I cut downe the high Cedar trees, and the sayrest firre trees: I will vp into the height of it, and into the chiefest of his timber woods.

25 If there bee no water, I will grawe and drinke: and as for waters of defence, I will dry them vp with the feete of mine host.

26 Yea, hast thou not heard what I haue taken in hande, and brought to passe of olde time? That same will I doe nowe also, and waste, destroy, and bring strong cities vnto heapes of stones.

27 For their inhabiters shall be like lame men brought in feare and confounded: they shalbe like grasse and greene hearbes in the fielde, like haye vpon the house toppes that withereth before it be growen vp.

28 I knowe thy wayes thy going forth, and thy comming home, yea and thy madnesse against me.

29 Therefore thy furiousnes against me, and thy pride is come before me, I will put my ring in thy nose, and my bridle bit in thy chawes of thee, and turne thee about euen the same way that thou camest.

30 I will giue thee also this token, O Ezecia, this yeere shalt thou eate such as groweth of it selfe, and the seconde yeere that which springeth againe of the same, and in the thirde yeere yee shall sowe and reape, yea ye shall plant vineyards, and enioy the fruits thereof.

31 And such of the house of Juda as are escaped, shal come together, and the remnant shall take roote beneath, and bring fourth fruite aboue.

32 For the escaped shall goe out of Hierusalem, and the remnant from the mount Sion: and this shall the zeale of the Lorde of hostes bring to passe.

33 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde, concerning the King of the Assyrians, Hee shall not come into this citie, and shall shoote no arrowe into it, there shall no shielde hurt it, neither shall they cast ditches about it.

34 The same way he came he shal returne, and not come in this citie, saith the Lord.

35 And I will keepe and saue this citie, saith hee, for mine owne, and for my seruant Dauids sake.

36 *Thus the Angel of the Lorde went forth, and slewe of the Syrians hoste, an hundred foure score and fiue thousande: and when men arose vp earely in the morning, beholde, they were slaine, and all lay full of dead bodies. 4.Reg.19. 35. eccle.48. 24.

37 So Sennacherib the King of the Assyrians brake vp, and dwelt at Nineue.

38 Afterwarde it chanced as he prayed in the temple of Nesroch his god, that Adramelech and Sarazer his owne sonnes slewe him with the swoorde, and fled into the lande of Armenia: and Asarhaddon his sonne reigned in his steade.

The xxxviij. Chapter.

1 Ezecia is sicke vnto death, 5 but is yet reuiued by the Lord, and liueth fiftene yeeres after. 10 For which benefite he giueth thankes.

About

2.Kin.20.1 2.Par.32.24

ABout this time was * Ezecia ſicke vnto death, and the Prophete Eſay the ſonne of Amos came vnto him, & ſayde, Thus commandeth the Lorde, Set thine houſe in order, for thou muſt die, and ſhalt not eſcape.

2 Then Ezecia turned his face towarde the wall, and prayed vnto the Lorde,

3 And ſayde Remember O Lorde, I beſeech thee, that I haue walked before thee in truely and a ſtedfaſt heart, and haue done the thing that is pleaſant to thee. And Ezecia wept ſore.

4 Then ſayd God vnto Eſay,

5 Go and ſpeake vnto Ezecia, The Lord God of Dauid thy father ſendeth thee this word, I haue heard thy prayer and conſidered thy teares: beholde, I will put fifteene yeeres moe vnto thy life,

6 And deliuer thee and thy citie alſo from the hand of the king of Aſſyria: for I will defend the citie.

7 And take thee this token of the Lorde, that he wil do it as he hath ſpoken.

8 Behold, I will returne the ſhadowe of Ahaz dyall that nowe is layde out with the Sunne, and bring it ten degrees backward. So the Sunne turned tenne degrees backward, the which he was deſcended afore.

9 A thankeſgiuing which Ezecia King of Iuda wrote, when hee had bene ſicke and recouered.

10 I thought I ſhulde haue gone to the gates of hell, when mine age was ſhortened, and haue wanted the reſidue of my yeeres.

11 I ſpake within my ſelfe, I will neuer ſee the Lorde, the Lord I ſay, in this life: I will neuer ſee man among the dwellers of the world.

12 Mine age is folden together, & taken away from me like a ſhepeheards cottage, I haue hewen off my life by my ſinnes, like as a weauer cutteth off his web: He will with pining ſickneſſe make an end of me, yea he will make an end of me in one day.

13 I thought I would haue liued vntill the morow, but hee bruiſed my bones like a Lion: and in one day thou wilt make an end of me.

14 Then chattered I like a Swallowe, and like a Crane, and mourned like a Doue, I liſt vp mine eyes into the height: O Lorde ſayd I, my ſickeneſſe keepeth me downe, eaſe thou me.

15 What ſhal I ſay? The Lord hath made a promiſe to me, yea, & hee himſelfe hath performed it: I will therefore ſo long as I liue, remember this bitterneſſe of my life.

16 O Lord, to all thoſe that ſhal liue hereafter, yea to all men ſhall it be knowen, that euen in thoſe yeeres I haue a ioyful life, and that it was thou that cauſedſt me to ſleepe, againe thou haſt giuen life to me.

17 Beholde, bitter as gall was my penſiueneſſe, ſo ſore longed I for health, & it was thy pleaſure to deliuer my life from the filthy pit: for thou it is, O Lord, that haſt caſt all my ſinnes behinde thy backe.

18 For hell prayſeth not thee, death doeth not magnifie thee: they that goe downe into the graue prayſe not thy trueth:

19 But the liuing, yea the liuing knowledge thee, as I do this day: the father telleth his children of thy faithfulneſſe.

20 To heale mee it is the Lordes worke, and we wil ſing my ſongs in the houſe of the Lord all the dayes of our life.

21 And Eſay ſayd, Take a plaſter of figs, and lay it vpon the ſore, ſo ſhal it be whole.

22 Then ſayd Ezecia, O what a miracle is this, that I ſhal go vp into the houſe of the Lord.

The xxxix. Chapter.

Ezecia is reproued of Eſay, becauſe he ſhewed his treaſure vnto the Ambaſſadours of Babylon.

AT the ſame time * Merodach Baladans ſonne, King of Babylon, ſent letters and preſents to Ezecia: for hee vnderſtoode that he had bene ſicke, and was recouered againe. 4.King.20.12.

2 And Ezecia was glad thereof, & ſhewed them the houſe of his treaſures of ſiluer and gold, of ſpices, and rootes, of precious oyles, and all that was in cupboordes and treaſure houſes: there was not one thing in Ezecias houſe, and ſo throughout all his kingdome, but he let them ſee it.

3 Then came Eſay the Prophet to King Ezecia, & ſaid vnto him, What haue the men ſaid, and from whence came they vnto thee? Ezecia anſwered, They came out of a farre countrey vnto me, out of Babylon.

4 Eſay ſaid, What haue they looked vpon in thy houſe? Ezecia anſwered, All that is in my houſe haue they ſeene, and there is nothing in my treaſure but I ſhewed it them.

5 Then ſaide Eſay vnto Ezecia, Vnderſtand the word of the Lord of hoſtes.

6 Behold, the time will come, that euery thing which is in thine houſe, and all that thy progenitors haue layde vp in ſtore vntill this day, ſhalbe carried to Babylon, and nothing left behinde: thus ſaith the Lord.

7 Yea, and part of thy ſonnes that ſhall come of thee, and whom thou ſhalt beget, ſhal be carted hence, and become gelded chamberlaines in the king of Babylons court.

8 Then ſaide Ezecia to Eſay, Good is the worde of God which thou haſt tolde me. Hee ſaide moreouer, For there ſhall bee peace and faithfulneſſe in my time.

The xl. Chapter.

3 The comming of Saint Iohn Baptiſt. 9 The preparation of the Apoſtles. 11 The calling of the Gentiles.

COmfort my people, O yee Prophets, comfort my people, ſaith your God. The Epiſtle on S. Iohn Baptiſts day.

2 Comfort Hieruſalem at the heart, and tell her that her trauell uell is at ende, that her offence is pardoned, that she hath receiued at the Lords hand sufficient correction for all her sinnes.

Matth.3.3. mar.1.3. luke 3.4. iohn 1.23. 3 * A voyce cryeth in wildernesse: Prepare the way of the Lorde, make straight the path of our God in the desart.

4 All valleys shall be exalted, and euery mountaine and hill layde lowe: what so is crooked shalbe made straight, and the rough shalbe made plaine.

5 For the glory of the Lord shall appeare, for all flesh shall at once see that the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

Eccle.4.18 iam.1.11. 1.pet.1.24. 6 *The same voyce spake, Howe cry. And the Prophet answered, what shall I crye? That all flesh is grasse, and that all the goodlinesse thereof is as the floure of the fielde.

7 The grasse is withered, ỹ floure falleth away, for the breath of the Lord bloweth vpon them: of a trueth the people are grasse.

8 The grasse withereth, and the floure fadeth away: Ioh.12.34. * yet the worde of our God endureth for euer.

9 Go vp vnto the high hill, O Sion, thou that bringest good tidings, lift vp thy voyce with power, O thou preacher Hierusalem, lift it vp without feare, and say vnto the cities of Juda, Behold your God.

10 Behold, the Lord God shall come with power, and shall of himselfe beare rule with his arme: beholde his reward with him, and his workes before him.

Eze.34.23. ioh.10.11. 11 *He shall feede his flocke like an heardman, hee shall gather the lambes together with his arme, and carrie them in his bosome, and shall kindely entreate those that beare yong.

12 Who hath measured the waters in his fist? who hath measured heauen vp his span, and hath comprehended all the earth of the world in three measures? who hath weighed the mountaines and hilles in a balance?

Wis.9.13. rom.11.34. 1.cor.2.16. 13 *Who hath directed the spirite of the Lord? or who gaue him counsell, and shewed him?

14 Who is of his counsell, and giueth him vnderstanding, and hath taught him the path of iudgemẽt? who taught him cunning, and opened to him the way of vnderstanding?

15 Beholde, all people are in comparison of him as a droppe of a bucket full, and are counted as the least thing that the balance weigheth: yea and the yles he taketh vp as a very litle thing.

16 Libanus is not sufficient to minister fire to his offering, and all the beasts thereof are not ynowe for one sacrifice.

17 All people in comparison of him are reckoned as nothing: if they bee compared with him, lesse then nothing, and as it that is not.

Act.17.29. 18 *To whom then wil ye liken God, or what similitude will ye set vp to him?

19 Shall the Caruer make him a carued image? and shall the Goldesmith couer him with golde, or cast him into a forme of siluer plates?

20 Moreouer, shall the image maker (that the poore man which is disposed, may haue some thing to set vp also) seeke out a choose a tree that is not rotten, and carue thereout an image that mooueth not?

21 Know ye nothing? heard ye neuer of it? hath it not bene preached vnto you since the beginning? haue ye not bene enformed of this by the foundation of the earth?

22 It is hee that sitteth vpon the circle of the world, whose inhabiters are in comparison of him but as grashoppers: hee spreadeth out the heauens as a couering, he stretcheth them out as a tent to dwell in.

23 He bringeth princes to nothing, & the iudges of the earth as though they were not.

24 So that of them it may be sayd, They bee not planted nor sowen agayne, neyther their stocke rooted againe in the earth: for as soone as hee bloweth vpon them, they wither and fade away like the straw in a whirlwind.

25 To whom now will ye liken mee, and whom shal I be like, saith the holy one?

26 Lift vp your eyes on high, and consider who hath made those things which come out by so great heapes, and hee calleth them al by their names: there is nothing hid from the greatnesse of his power, strength, and might.

27 How may then Jacob thinke, or may Israel say, My wayes are hidde from the Lord, and my God knoweth not of my iudgements.

28 Knowest thou not, or hast thou not heard that the euerlasting God, the Lorde which made all the corners of the earth, is neither wearie nor faint? and that his wisdome cannot be comprehended?

29 It is he that giueth strength vnto the wearie, and power vnto the faint.

30 Children are weary and faint, and the strong men fall:

31 But vnto them that haue their trust in the Lord, shal strength be encreased: Egles wings shall grow vpon them, when they run they shall not fall, and when they go they shal not be wearie.

The xli. Chapter.

Of the goodnes and mercy of God toward the people.

BE still you a Ilands, and hearken vnto me: let the people lay their strength together, let them come hither, and then shew their cause: we will go to the law togither.

a By the Ilands God meaneth the Gentiles, whom he reproueth for their idolatry.

2 Who raised vp the b iust man from the East, and called him to goe forth? who cast downe the people, and subdued the kings before him? that hee may throw them all to the grounde with his sword, and scatter them like stubble with his bowe.

b By the iust man, is meant Abraham, who being called out of Vr of the Chaldeans, who being iustified by faith, became the father of many nations, and God alwaye defended against all his enemies.

3 He followeth vpon them, & goeth safely himselfe,

Gentiles, and that in a way where before thys foote had not troden.

4 Who hath made & created these things?
euen he that called the generations from the beginning, *euen I the Lord which am the Apoc.1.17.
first, and with the last.

5 The iles saw and did feare, & the endes of the earth were abashed, drewe nigh, and came hither.

6 Euery man helped his neighbour, and sayd to his brother, Be strong.

7 The carpenter comforted the goldsmith, and the goldsmith the hammerman, saying,
Sodder will do very well in it: and they fastenmoued.

8 But thou Israel art my seruaunt, thou Iacob whome I haue chosen, thou art the seed of Abraham my beloued.

9 Thou art he whom I led from the ends of the earth: for I called thee euen from among the glorious men of it, and sayde vnto thee, Thou art my seruaunt, I haue chosen thee, and not cast thee away.

10 Bee not afrayd, for I am with thee:
Melt not away as ware, for I am thy God, to strength thee, helpe thee, and keepe thee with the right hand of my righteousnesse.

11 Beholde, all they that resist thee shall come to confusion & shame, & thine aduersaries shalbe destroied and brought to nought.

12 So that who so seeketh after them, shal not find them, thy destroiers shall perish: and so shal they that vndertake to make battell against thee, be as that is not, and as a thing of nought.

13 For I ye Lord thy God will strengthen thy right hand, euen I that say vnto thee, feare not, I will helpe thee.

14 Bee not afrayd, thou little worme Ia-cob, and thou despised Israel: for I will helpe thee, sayth the Lord, and thy holy one of Israel thy redeemer.

15 Beholde, I will make thee a treading cart, and a new flaile, that thou mayest thresh and grinde the mountaines, and bring the hils to powder.

16 Thou shalt fanne them, and the wind shall carry them away, and the whirlewind shall scatter them: but thou shalt reioyce in the Lord, and shalt delight in the holy one of Israel.

17 When the thirstie and poore seeke water and find none, and when their tongue is dry of thirst, I giue it them, sayth the Lord, I the God of Israel forsake them not.

18 I bring foorth floods in the hils, and wels in the plaine fields: I turne the wildernesse to riuers, and the dry land to conduites of water.

19 I plant in the waste ground trees of Cedar, Bore, Myrre, and Oliues, and in the dry I set Firre trees, Elmes, & Hawthornes together.

20 All this do I, that they altogether may see and marke, perceiue with their heartes, and consider that the hand of the Lorde ma-keth these things, and that the holy one of Israel bringeth them to passe.

21 Stand at your tasks, saieth the Lord, and bring forth your strongest ground, saieth
the king of Iacob.

22 Let them bring foorth their gods, and let their gods tell vs what shall chance hereafter, yea, let them shew vs the things that are past what they be, let them declare them vnto vs, that wee may take them to heart, and know them hereafter.

23 Either tell vs things for to come, and tell vs what shalbe done hereafter, to shall we know that ye are gods: do some thing either good or bad, so will wee both knowledge the same, and tell it out.

24 Behold, ye are gods of nought, & your making is of nought: yea, abominable is the man that hath chosen you.

25 Neuertheless, I haue waked vp one Cyrus. from the North, and hee shall come from the East, he shall call vpon my name, & shal tread vpon princes as vpon clay, and as the potter treadeth downe the myre.

26 Who declareth this from ye beginning, and wee will know him? or from the olde times, and we will confesse and say that he is righteous? but there is none that sheweth or declareth any thing, there is none also that heareth your words.

27 The first is hee that shall say to Sion, Behold, behold, they are present: and to Hierusalem it selfe will I giue an Euangelist.

28 But when I consider, there is not a man among them, nor any that can giue counsel, nor that when I examine them that can answere one word.

29 Loe wicked are they, and vayne, with the things also that they take in hand, yea, their images are but wind and vain things.

The xlij. Chapter.

The comming of Christ.

BEhold, this is my seruant vpon whom I leane, *my elect in Mat.12.18. whom my soule is pacified, I haue giuen my spirit vpon him, that hee may shew forth iudge-ment among the Gentiles.

2 He shall not bee an outrier, nor lift vp his voyce, his voyce shall not be heard in the streetes.

3 And a bruised reede shall he not breake, and the smoking flare shall hee not quench:
but faithfully and truely shall he giue iudge-ment.

4 He shal not be pensiue nor carefull, that he may restore righteousnesse vnto the earth:
& the Gentiles also shal looke for his lawes.

5 For thus saith God the Lord vnto him, euen hee that made the heauens and spread them abroad, and set forth the earth with her encrease, which giueth breath vnto the people that is in it, and spirite to them that dwell therein,

6 I the Lorde haue called thee in righteousnesse, and will holde thee by the hand, and Esa.49.6. will also defend thee: and giue thee for a couenant of the people, to be the light of the Gentiles.

7 That thou mayest open the eyes of the blinde, let out the prisoners from their bonds, and them that sit in darknesse out of the dungeon house.

8 Euen I am the Lorde, and this is my Esa.48.11. name: & my glory will I giue to none other, neither mine honour to grauen images.

9 Beholde, olde things are come to passe, and newe things doe I declare, and or euer they come I tell you of them.

10 Sing vnto the Lorde a newe song of thankesgiuing, blow out his prayse from the ende of the worlde: they that be vpon the sea, and all that is therein prayse him, the Iles and they that dwell in them.

11 Let the wildernesse with the cities lift vp her voyce, the townes also that they of Cedar dwel in: let them be glad that sit vpon rockes of stone, and let them cry downe from the high mountaines,

12 Ascribing glory vnto the Lorde, and magnifying him among the Gentiles, 13 The Lord shal come forth like a giant, and take a stomache to him like a fresh man of warre: he shal roare and cry, and ouercome his enemies.

14 I haue long holden my peace saith the Lord, a I haue bene still and refrayned my selfe, but nowe I will cry like a trauayling woman, and at once wil I destroy and deuoure.

a Christ for a time deferreth, as it were, with paine, to deliuer his elect from the tyrannie of antichrist but at the time appointed her will enforce himselfe as a woman in her trauell, to deliuer his people.

15 I will make waste both mountaine and hill, and dry vp euery greene thing that groweth thereon: I wil dry vp the floods to become Ilands, and drinke vp the riuers.

16 I will bring the blinde into a streete that they knowe not, and leade them into a footepath that they are ignorant in: I shall make darkenesse light before them, and the thing that is crooked to be straight: These things haue I done vnto them, and not forsaken them.

17 They are fallen backe, yea, & let them be ashamed earnestly that hope in idols, and say to the molten images, Ye are our gods.

18 Heare, O yee deafe men, and sharpen your eyes to see, O ye blinde.

19 Who is blind but my seruaunt? or so deafe as b my messenger, whom I sent vnto them? for who is so blind as the perfect man, and so blind as the Lords seruant?

b By the seruant, messenger, & the perfect man, he meaneth the Iewes & their priests, who ought of all other people to haue had knowledge, & so haue serued God perfectly.

20 Thou hast seene much, and keepest nothing: the eares are open, & no man heareth.

21 The Lorde is mercifull vnto them for his righteousnesse sake, that his word might be magnified and prayed:

22 c But the people themselues are robbed and troden vnder the foote, chayned in dungeons, and they all, I say, are shut vnto prison houses: they bee caried away captiue, and no man doeth loose them: they be troden vnder foote, & no man doeth labour to bring them againe.

c A grieuous sentence against those that will not behold the light when it shineth, nor beleeue Gods word when it is preached.

23 But who is hee among you that giueth eare to this, that considereth it, and taketh it for a warning in time to come?

24 Who gaue Iacob to bee troden vnder foote, and Israel to be spoyled? Is it not the Lord, because we haue sinned against him, & haue had no delight to walke in his wayes, neither bene obedient vnto his law?

25 Therefore hee hath powred vpon him his wrathfull displeasure and strong battell, and hath fired him on euery side, yet will hee not vnderstand: he burneth him vp, yet sinketh it not into his heart.

The xliii. Chapter.

1 God promiseth to send his Christ which shall deliuer his people. 7 He forgiueth sinnes for his owne sake.

But nowe the Lorde that made thee, O Iacob, and hee that fashioned thee, O Israel, saieth thus, Feare not, for I haue redeemed thee, I haue called thee by thy name, thou art mine owne.

2 If thou goest thorow the water, I will be with thee, the strong floods shall not ouerwhelme thee: and if thou walkest thorow the fire, it shal not burne thee, and the flame shall not kindle vpon thee:

3 For I am the Lorde thy God, the holy one of Israel thy sauiour: I gaue Egypt for thy deliuerance, the Ethiopians & the Sabees for thee:

4 Because thou wast deare in my sight, and because I set by thee and loued thee: I will giue ouer all men for thee, and deliuer vp all people for thy sake.

5 Feare not, for I am with thee, I will bring thy seed from the East, and gather thee together from the west.

6 I will say to the North, Let goe: and to the South, Keepe not backe: but bring mee my sonnes from farre, and my daughters from the ends of the world,

7 Namely all those that be called after my name: For them haue I created, fashioned, and made for mine honour.

8 Bring forth that people which is blind and yet hath eyes, which are deafe, although they haue eares.

9 If all nations come in one, and bee gathered together, which among them shall declare such things, and tell vs the things that are past? let them bring their witnesse, that they be iust: els let them heare, and say, It is trueth.

10 You are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my seruant whom I haue chosen: therefore bee certified, and giue mee faithfull credence, & consider that I am hee before whom there was neuer any God, neither shall be any after me.

11 d I am, euen I am the only Lord, and beside me there is no sauiour. Ose.13.4

12 I gaue warning, I made whole, I taught taught you when there was no straunge god among you: and this recorde muste yee beare mee your selues, saieth the Lorde, that I am God.

13 And euen he am I who was from the beginning, and there is none that can take any thing out of my hand: I doe the worke, and who shalbe able to let it?

14 Thus sayth the Lorde the holy one of Israel your redeemer, For your sake I haue sent to Babylon, and brought it downe: all they are fugitiue with the Chaldees, whose sorowfull cry is in their shippes.

15 I am the Lorde your holy one, which haue made Israel, and am your King.

16 Thus saith the Lord, euen he that maketh a way in the sea, and a footepath in the mightie waters.

17 It is hee which bringeth forth the charets and horses, the hoste and power of warre, that they may fall together, and neuerrise, and be extinct: like as towe are they quenched.

18 Remember not thinges of olde, and regard nothing that is past.

19 *Beholde, I shal make a newe thing, and shortly shall it appeare, and shall you not knowe it: I will make a way in the desart, and riuers of waters in the wildernesse.

20 The wilde beasts shall worship me, the Dragons and the yong Estriches: for I shall giue water in the wildernesse, and streames in the desart, that they may giue drinke to my people whom I chose.

21 This people haue I made for my selfe, and they shall shewe forth my prayse.

22 For thou Jacob wouldest not call vpon mee, but thou haddest an vnlust towarde me, O Israel.

23 Thou gauest mee not the beastes for burnt offerings, neither diddest honour me with sacrifices: I haue not bene chargeable vnto thee in offerings, neither grieuous in incense.

24 Thou boughtest mee no deare spice with thy money, neither powredst the fatte of thy sacrifices vpon mee: but thou hast laden mee with thy sinnes, and wearied mee with thine vngodlinesse.

25 Whereas I yet, euen I am hee onely that for mine owne selues sake do away thine offences, and forget thy sinnes, so that I will neuer thinke vpon them.

26 Put me nowe in remembrance, for we will reason together: and shewe what thou hast for thee to make thee righteous.

27 Thy first father offended sore, and thy rulers haue sinned against me:

28 Therefore I prophaned the princes of the sanctuarie, I doe curse Jacob, & gaue Israel into reproofe.

The xliij. Chapter.

Christ promiseth to deliuer his Church without any her desertes.

HEare nowe, O Jacob my seruant, and Israel whome I haue chosen. Ierc.30. 10.

2 For thus sayeth the Lorde that made thee, fashioned thee, and helped thee euen from thy mothers wombe: Be not afraide, O Jacob my seruant, thou righteous whom I haue chosen.

3 *For I shall powre water vpon the dry ground, and riuers vpon the thirstie: I shall powre my spirite vpon thy seede, and my blessing vpon thy stocke. Ioel.2.28. actes 2.17. iohn 7.38.

4 They shall growe together like as the grasse, and as the willowes by the waters side.

5 One shall say, I am the Lordes: another shall call himselfe after the name of Jacob: the third shall subscribe with his hand vnto the Lord, and giue himselfe vnder the name of Israel.

6 Thus hath the Lord spoken, euen the king of Israel, and his redeemer the Lord of hostes: *I am the first and the last, & besides me there is no God. Esai.41.4. apoc.1.17. esai.48.12.

7 If any be like me, let him call forth the thing past, and openly shewe it, and lay it plaine before mee what hath chaunced since I appointed the people of the worlde, and what shall be hereafter, or what shall come to passe in time long to come, let them shew these things.

8 Be not abashed nor afraid: for haue not I euer tolde you hitherto, and warned you? ye can beare me record your selues: is there any God except mee, or any maker, that I should not know him?

9 All Caruers of images are but vaine, and the carued image that they loue can doe no good: they must beare record themselues, that seeing they can neither see nor vnderstand, they shalbe confounded.

10 Who dare then make a god, or fashion an image that is profitable for nothing?

11 Behold, all the felowship of them must be brought to confusion, and truely all the workmasters of them are men: they shal al be gathered together, they shall stand, tremble, and be confounded one with another.

12 *The Smith maketh an axe, and temperethit with hote coles, and fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with all the strength of his armes, yea, sometime hee is faint for very hunger, and so thirstie that he hath no more power. Wis.13.11. ierc.10.3.

13 The Carpenter or image Caruer taketh measure of the timber, and spreadeth forth his line, hee marketh it with some colour, he planeth it, he ruleth it, and squareth it, and maketh it after the image of a man, and according to the beautie of a man, that it may stand in the house.

14 Moreouer, hee goeth out to hewe Cedar trees, hee bringeth home Elmes and Okes, and taking a bolde courage, he seeketh out the best timber of the wood: he himselfe hath planted a Pine tree, which the raine hath ſwelled,

15 which wood ſeruetly for men to burne: Of this hee taketh and warmeth himſelfe withall, hee maketh a fire of it to bake bread, and maketh alſo a god thereof to honour it, and a grauen image to kneele before it.

16 One piece he burneth in the fire, with another he rofteth fleſh, that he may eate roſt his belly full: with the thirde hee watmeth himſelfe, and ſaith, Aha, I am wel warmed, I haue bene at the fire.

17 And of the reſidue hee maketh him a god, & grauen image for himſelfe: hee kneeleth before it, hee worſhippeth it, hee prayeth vnto it, and ſaieth, Deliuer me, for thou art my god.

18 Yet men neither conſider nor vnderſtand, becauſe their eyes be ſtopped that they can not ſee, and their hearties that they can not perceiue.

19 They ponder not in their mindes, for they haue neither knowledge nor vnderſtanding to thinke thus, I haue burnt one piece in the fire, I haue baked bread with the coles thereof, I haue roſted fleſh withall and eaten it: and I will nowe of the reſidue make an abominable idole, and fall downe before a rotten piece of wood.

20 Thus doth he but loſe his labour, and his heart which is deceiued doeth turne him aſide, ſo that none of them can haue a free conſcience to thinke, Doe not I erre?

21 Conſider this, O Iacob and Iſrael, for thou art my ſeruant: I made thee, that thou mighteſt ſerue me, O Iſrael, forget me not.

22 As for thine offences, I haue driuen them away like the cloudes, and thy ſinnes as the myſt: turne thee againe vnto me, for I haue redeemed thee.

23 Be glad yee heauens, for the Lorde hath dealt gratiouſly with his people, let all that is here beneath vpon the earth be ioyfull: reioyce yee mountaines and woods, with all the trees thereof, for the Lord hath redeemed Iacob, and wil ſhew his glory vpon Iſrael.

24 Thus ſaith the Lord thy redeemer, euen he that faſhioned thee from thy mothers wombe, I the Lord doe all things my ſelfe alone, I only ſpread out the heauens, and I onely haue layd abroad the earth by mine owne ſelfe.

25 I deſtroy the tokens of witches, and make the ſoothſayers fooles: As for the wiſe, I turne them backwarde, and make their cunning fooliſhneſſe.

26 He doeth ſet vp the purpoſe of his ſeruant, and fulfilleth the counſel of his meſſengers: concerning Hieruſalem, hee ſayth it ſhalbe inhabited, and of the cities of Iuda, they ſhalbe builded againe, & I will repaire their decayed places.

27 He ſayth to the deapth, Be dry: and, I wil drie vp water floods.

28 He ſayth of Cyrus, Hee is my heardman, ſo that he ſhall fulfill all things after my wil: he ſaith alſo of Hieruſalem, It ſhall be builded: and of the temple, It ſhalbe faſt grounded.

The xlv. Chapter.

The comming of Chriſt, and the calling of the Gentiles.

THus ſayth the Lorde vnto Cyrus his anoynted, whome I haue taken by the right hand, to ſubdue nations before him: I will looſe the * loynes of kings, and I wil open the gates before his face, and the gates ſhal not be ſhut.

2 I wil go before thee, and make the crooked ſtraight: I ſhal breake the braſen doores, and burſt the yron barres.

3 I ſhal giue thee hid treaſures, and the thing which is ſecretly kept: that thou mayſt knowe that I am the Lorde God of Iſrael, which haue called thee by thy name.

4 For Iacob my ſeruants ſake, and for Iſrael my choſen, I called thee by thy name, and ordeined thee or euer thou kneweſt me.

5 I am the Lorde, and there is none other, for without me there is no god, I haue prepared thee or euer thou knewest me.

6 Therefore they ſhall know from the riſing of the Sunne, vnto the going downe of the ſame, that all is nothing without me: for I am the Lord, and there is els none.

7 It is I that created light and darkneſſe, I make peace and trouble: yea, euen I the Lord doe all theſe things.

8 Ye heauens from aboue droppe downe, and let the cloudes raine righteouſneſſe: the earth open it ſelfe, let ſaluation and righteouſneſſe grow forth, let it bring them forth together: I the Lord haue created him.

9 Woe be vnto him that ſtriueth with his maker, let the potſhard ſtriue with the potſhards of the earth: * Saieth the clay to the Potter, What makeſt thou? or, Thy worke is not perfectly done?

10 Woe bee vnto him that ſaith to his father, What begetteſt thou? and to his mother, What beareſt thou?

11 Thus ſaieth the Lorde, euen the holy one and maker of Iſrael, Aſke me of things for to come concerning my ſonnes, and put me in remembrance as touching the workes of mine hands.

12 I haue made the earth, and created man vpon it: with my hands haue I ſpread forth heauen, and giuen a commandement for all the hoſte thereof.

13 I ſhall wake him vp with righteouſneſſe, and order all his waies: He ſhall build my citie, and let out my priſoners, and that neither for gifts nor rewards, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes.

14 Thus ſaieth the Lord, The occupiers of Egypt, the merchants of the Ethiopians and Sabees ſhall come vnto thee with tribute, they ſhalbe thine, they ſhal follow thee, and goe with chaines vpon their feete, they ſhall

The xlvj. Chapter.

1 Idolatrie is reproued. 3 The health that commeth by it is prophecied.

BEl is fallen, Nabo is broken downe, whose images were a burden for the beastes and cattell, to ouerlade them, and to make them wearie.

2 They are stoupe downe together, and bowed together, for they may not ease their burden, therefore must they go into captiuitie.

3 Hearken unto me, O house of Jacob, and all yee that remaine yet of the house of Israel, whome I haue borne from your mothers wombe, and brought you vp from your 4 Be ye euen I will beare you unto your last age: I haue made you, I will also beare you, and saue you.

5 Whom will ye make me like, or to whom will ye ouerlooke me, and compare me, that I should be like him?

6 They powre out siluer and golde out of your purses, and weigh it, and hyre a goldsmith to make a god of it, that men may fall downe and worship it.

7 Yea they bee taken on mens shoulders and borne, and set in his place, that hee may stande, and not moue out of his place: and if one crye unto him, hee answereth not, nor helpeth him from his trouble. Baruc. 6. 18.

8 Consider this well, and be ashamed, goe into your owne selues.

9 Remember the thinges that are past since the beginning of the worlde, that I am God, and that there is els no God, yea, and that there is nothing like unto me.

10 In the beginning of a thing, I shewe the end thereof, and I tell before things that are not yet come to passe: My counsell standeth stedfastly stablished and I will fulfill all my pleasure.

11 I call a byrd out of the East, & the man by whom my counsaile shalbe fulfilled out of strange countreies: as I haue spoken, so will I bring to passe: as soone as I thinke to deuise a thing, I doe it.

12 Heare me, O ye that are of an high stomacke, but are farre from righteousnesse:

13 I shall bring forth my righteousnesse, it is not farre, and my health shall not tary long away: I will lay health in Sion, and in Israel my glory.

The xlvij. Chapter.

The word of the Lord against Babylon.

BEnt as for thee, O daughter, thou virgin Babylon, sit thou downe in the dust, sit upon the ground, there is no throne, O thou daughter of Chaldea, for thou shalt no more bee called, Tender and pleasant.

2 Bring forth the querne and grynde meale, vntruss thy broydered haire, put off thy shooes, make bare thy knees, and wade thorow the water riuers.

3 Thy filthinesse shal be discouered, and thy shame shall be seene: for I will auenge me of thee, and will shewe no mercy to thee, as I doe to other men. Naum. 3. 5.

4 Our redeemer is called the Lorde of hostes, the holy one of Israel.

5 Sit still, holde thy tongue, get thee into some darke corner, O daughter Chaldea: for thou shalt no more bee called, Lady of kingdomes.

6 I was so wroth with my people, that I punished mine inheritance, & gaue them into thy power, neuertheless, thou shewedst them no mercie, but euen the very aged of them diddeſt thou oppreſſe right ſore with thy yoke.

7 And thou thoughteſt thus, I ſhalbe lady for euer, and beſide all that, thou haſt not regarded theſe thinges, neyther remembred what was the ende of that citie Hieruſalem.

8 Heare now therefore thou delicate one that ſitteſt ſo careleſſe, and ſpeakeſt thus in thine heart, I am alone, and without mee is there none, I ſhall neuer be widowe nor deſolate againe.

Eſai. 51. 19. reuel. 18. 7. 9 * And yet both theſe thinges ſhall come to thee, vpon one day in the twincking of an eye, namely widowhood and deſolation: they ſhall mightily fall vpon thee, for the multitude of thy witches, and for the great heape of thy conſurers.

10 For thou haſt truſted in thy wickednes, and haſt ſaid, No man ſeeth me: thine owne wiſedome and cunning hath deceiued thee, in that thou haſt ſaide in thine heart, I am alone, and without me there is none.

11 Therefore ſhall trouble come vpon thee, and thou ſhalt not know from whence it ſhall ryſe: miſchiefe ſhall fall vpon thee, which thou ſhalt not be able to put off, a ſudden vtter deſtruction ſhall come vpon thee or euer thou be ware.

12 Nowe goe to thy conſurers, and to the multitude of thy witches with whome thou haſt wearied thy ſelfe from thy youth, if they may helpe thee, or ſtrength thee.

13 Thou haſt hitherto had many counſels of them: So let the heauen gazers, and the beholders of ſtarres, & moone prophets, come on nowe and deliuer thee, yea, and let them ſhewe when theſe newe thinges ſhall come vpon thee.

14 Beholde, they ſhalbe like ſtraw, which if it be kindled with fire, no man may rid it for the behemencie of the flame, and yet it giueth no ſynders to warme a man by, nor cleare fire to ſit by.

15 Thus are they with whome thou haſt wearied thy ſelfe, & thus are thy marchants that haue bene with thee from thy youth: euery one hath taken his owne way, and none of them ſhall defend thee.

The xlviij. Chapter.

1 The hypocriſie of the Iewes is reproued. 11 The Lord alone will bee worſhipped, which hath choſen vs, 20 and which ſuccoureth vs for his owne ſake.

HEare this, O thou houſe of Jacob, yee that are called by the name of Iſrael, and are come out of one ſtocke with Juda: which ſweare by the Name of the Lord, and beare witneſſe by the God of Iſrael, but not with trueth and right.

2 For they are named of the holy citie, and are grounded vpon the God of Iſrael, whoſe Name is the Lord of hoſtes.

3 The thinges that I haue ſhewed you euer ſince the beginning, haue I brought them to paſſe immediately, and they came out of my mouth, and declared them: ſuddenly they are come.

4 Becauſe I knowe that you are ſtubborne, and that thy necke ſinewe is an yron one, and that thy browe is of braſſe.

5 Therefore haue I euer ſince the beginning ſhewed thee of thinges to come, and declared them vnto thee before they came to paſſe: leaſt thou ſhouldeſt ſay, Mine idole hath done it, my carued or molten image hath ſet them forth.

6 Thou hearedſt it before, and behold, it is come to paſſe. And ſhall not ye confeſſe it? I ſhewe you frome hence forth of thinges to come, and hidde things, euen ſuch as you neuer knewe of.

7 And ſome bone of late time, and not of olde, euen ſuch as thou neuer heardeſt before, leaſt thou ſhouldeſt ſay, Beholde, I knewe of them.

8 Moreouer, thou neuer heardeſt before, neyther knewe, neyther hath mine eare before time bene opened vnto thee: for I knewe that thou wouldeſt vſe moſt cruell fraude, therefore haue I called thee a tranſgreſſour, euen from my mothers wombe.

9 Nether the leſſe, for my names ſake will I withdraw me my wrath, and for my praiſe ſake I will patiently forbeare thee, leaſt I ſhould not roote thee out.

10 Beholde, I haue purged thee, but not as ſiluer, I haue choſen thee in the fornace of affliction.

11 And that onely for mine owne ſake, yea, euen for mine owne ſake will I doe it: for els what diſhonour would they bee to my Name? ſurely I will not giue my glorie to another.

12 Hearken vnto mee, O Jacob, and Iſrael whome I haue called: * I am the ſame, that is, I am the firſt and the laſt.

13 My hand hath laide the foundation of the earth, and my right hande hath meaſured out the heauens: as ſoone as I call vnto them, they ſtand together.

14 Gather you all together, and heare: which of yonder gods hath declared theſe? The Lord hath a loue vnto him, and he ſhall performe his will againſt Babel, and declare his power againſt the Chaldees.

15 I my ſelfe alone, euen I haue ſpoken this, I did call him, and bring him forth, and he ſhall make his iourney proſperous.

16 Come to mee, and heare this: I haue not ſpoken any thing darkely ſince the beginning: From the time that this thing was done, there am I: nowe therefore the Lord God and his ſpirit hath ſent me.

17 And thus ſaith the Lorde God the redeemer, the holy One of Iſrael, I am the Lorde thy God, which teache thee profitable thinges, and leade thee the way that thou ſhouldeſt goe.

18 O

18 O that thou haddest regarded my commandements, then had thy wealthines bene as the water streame, and thy righteousnesse as the waues flowing in the sea.

19 Thy seede also had bene like as the sande in the sea, and the fruite of thy body like the grauell stones thereof: His name shoulde not bee rooted out, nor destroyed before mee.

20 Go away from Babylon, flee from the Chaldees, with a merie voyce speake of this, declare it abroade, and goe forth into the ende of the worlde, say, * The Lorde hath redeemed his seruant Iacob. 17.6.

21 They suffered no thirst, he ledde them through the wildernesse, and caused the * waters to flowe out vnto them from out of the rocke: hee claue the rocke in sunder, and the water gushed out. 20.

22 As for the vngodly, * they haue no peace, saith the Lorde. 7.21.

The xlix. Chapter.

6 Christ shall gather together all nations bee they neuer so farre off.

HEare mee, O Iles, and take heede yee people from farre: The Lorde hath called mee from my birth, and made mention of my name from my mothers wombe:

2 Hee hath made my mouth like a sharpe sworde, vnder the shadowe of his hande hath he defended me, and hid me in his quiuer as a good arrowe,

3 And saide vnto mee, * Thou art my seruant Israel, I will be honoured in thee. 44.1.

4 Then I answered, I haue lost my labour, I haue spent my strength in vaine: Neuertheless, I will commit my cause and my worke vnto the Lord my God.

5 And nowe, sayeth the Lorde, euen hee that fashioned me from my mothers wombe to bee his seruant, that I may bring Iacob againe vnto him, albeit Israel will not bee gathered vnto him againe, yet in Gods sight shall I bee glorious, my God shall bee my strength.

6 And hee saide, It is but a small thing that thou art my seruant, to set vp the kindreds of Iacob, and to restore the destruction of Israel: * For I haue made thee the light of the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my health vnto the ende of the world. 42.6. 46.6.

7 Moreouer, thus saith the Lorde, the redeemer and holy one of Israel, concerning the abhorred and despised among the Gentiles and the seruant of them that beare rule, Kings and princes shall see, and arise, and worship, because of the Lord that is faithfull, and because of the holy one of Israel that hath chosen thee.

8 And thus sayeth the Lorde, * In the time accepted haue I heard thee, and in the day of saluation haue I helped thee: I will preserue thee, and make thee to be the atonement of the people, that thou mayest helpe vp the earth againe, and possesse againe the desolate heritages: 2.

9 That thou mayest say vnto the prisoners, Goe forth: and to them that are in darkenesse, Come into the light: they shall feede thee in the high wayes, and get their pasture in all high places.

10 * They shall neither hunger, nor thirst, heate nor Sunne shall not hurt them: for hee that fauoureth them shall leade them, and giue them drinke of the well springs. Reue. 7.16.

11 I will make wayes vpon all my mountaines, and my footepathes shall bee exalted.

12 And beholde, these shall come from farre, loe, some from the North and west, some from the lande of Sinis, which is in the South.

13 Reioyce ye heauens, and sing prayses thou earth, talke of ioye yee hilles: for God hath comforted his people, and will haue mercie vpon his that be in trouble.

14 But Sion saide, God hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

15 Will a woman forget her owne infant, and not pitie the sonne of her owne wombe? And though they doe forget, yet will I not forget thee.

16 Beholde, I haue written thee vp vpon my handes, thy walles are euer in my sight.

17 They make haste who builde thee vp againe: as for those that ouerthrowe thee, and make thee waste, they shall depart from thee.

18 * Lift vp thine eyes, and looke about thee, al these gather them together, and come to thee: As truely as I liue, sayeth the Lord, thou shalt put them all vpon thee as an apparell, and girde them vnto thee, as a bride doeth her iewels. Esa.60.4.

19 As for thy lande that lyeth desolate, wasted, and destroyed, it shalbe too narrowe for them that shall dwell in it, and they that would deuoure thee, they shalbe farre away.

20 Then thy children whome the barren shall bring forth, shall say in thine eare, This place is too narrowe, giue place that I may haue roume.

21 Then shalt thou thinke by thy selfe, who hath begotten mee these, seeing I am barren and alone, a captiue and an outcast: and who hath nourished them vp for mee: I am desolate and alone, but from whence come these?

22 And therefore thus sayeth the Lorde God, Beholde, I will stretche out my hande vnto the Gentiles, and set vp my token to the people, they shall bring thee thy sonnes in their lappes, and carrie thy daughters vnto thee vpon their shoulders.

23 For kings shalbe thy nursing fathers, and queenes shall bee thy nursing mothers: they shall fall before thee with their faces flat vpon the earth, and licke vp the dust of thy feete: that thou mayest knowe howe that I am the Lorde, and that who so putteth their trust in me, shall not bee confounded.

24 Shall the spoyle bee taken from the mightie? or the lawfull prisoner from the taker?

25 But thus sayeth the Lorde, The prisoners shall bee taken from the mightie, and the spoyle shalbe recouered from the violent: for I will maintaine thy cause against thine aduersarie, and I will saue thy sonnes.

26 And I will feede thine enemies with their owne flesh, and make them drunken with their owne blood, as with sweete wine: And all flesh shall know, O Iacob, that I am the Lord thy Sauiour, thy noble redeemer.

The L. Chapter.

The Iewes are reprooued and also called.

THus saith the Lorde, where is the bill of your mothers diuorcement, whome I sent away? or who is the vsurer to whome I solde you? Beholde, for your offences are you solde, and because of your transgression is your mother forsaken.

2 For why woulde no man receiue mee when I came? And when I called, no man gaue mee answere: * Is my hande shortened that it might not helpe? or haue I not power to deliuer? loe, at a word I drinke vp the sea, and of water floods I make dry land: so that for want of water the fish doeth corrupt, and die for thirst.

Esai. 59.8.

3 As for heauen, I clothe it with darkenesse, and put as it were a sacke vpon it.

4 The Lorde God hath giuen mee a well learned tongue, so that I can comfort them that are troubled, yea, and that in due season: hee wakeneth mine eare vp betimes in the morning, I say betimes in the morning he wil waken mine eare, that I might hearken as to the scholemasters.

The Epistle on the tuesday before Easter.

5 The Lord God hath opened mine eare, and I haue not gainesaid, nor withdrawen my selfe.

Mat. 26.67.

6 * But I offered my backe vnto the smiters, and my cheekes vnto the nyppers: I tourned not my face from shame and spittings,

7 And the Lord God shall helpe me, therefore shall I not be confounded: I haue therefore hardened my face like a flynt stone, for I am sure that I shall not come to confusion.

Rom. 8. 33.

8 * Hee is at hande that iustifieth mee, who will then goe with me to lawe? Let vs stande together, if there bee any that will reason with mee, let him come here foorth to mee.

9 Beholde, the Lorde God will helpe me, what is he then that can condemne me? loe, they all shall ware olde like a cloth, the moth shall eate them vp.

10 Therefore who so feareth the Lorde among you, let him heare the voyce of his seruant: who so walketh in darkenesse, and no light shineth vpon him, let him put his trust in the Name of the Lord, and holde him by his God.

11 But take heede, yee all kindle a fire, and stirre vp the coales: walke on in the glistering of your owne fire, and in the coales that yee haue kindled: This commeth vnto you from my hande, namely, that yee shall sleepe in sorowe.

The Lj. Chapter.

Consolation and comfort is promised vnto the faithfull.

HEarken vnto mee ye that holde of righteousnesse, and yee that seeke the Lorde: take heede to the stone whereout ye are hewen, and to the graue wherecut ye are digged.

2 Consider Abraham your father, and Sara that bare you, howe that I called him alone, and blessed him, and encreased him.

3 Therefore shal the Lord comfort Sion, and repaire all her decay, making her desert as a paradise, and her wildernesse as the garden of the Lorde: Mirth and ioy shall be founde there, thankesgiuing, and the voyce of praise.

4 Haue respect vnto mee then, O my people, both high and lowe, and lay thine eare vnto mee: for a lawe and an ordinaunce shall goe foorth from me to lighten the Gentiles.

5 It is hard by that my health and my righteousnesse shall go foorth, and the people shalbe ordered with mine arme: the Ilands, that is the Gentiles, shall hope in mee, and put their trust in mine arme.

6 Lift vp your eyes toward heauen, and looke vpon ye earth beneath: for the heauens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall ware old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall perish in like maner: but my saluation shall endure for euer, and my righteousnes shall not cease.

7 Hearken vnto mee yee that haue knowledge in righteousnesse, thou people, that bearest my lawe in thine heart: feare not the reuilings of men, be not afraid of their blasphemies.

8 For wormes and mothes shal eate them vp like cloth and wooll: but my righteousnesse shal endure for euer, & my sauing health from generation to generation.

9 Wake vp, wake vp, & be strong, O thou arme of the Lord, wake vp, like as in time past, euer, and since the world began.

10 * Art not thou the same arme that hast wounded the proude, and hewen the Dragon in pieces? Art not thou euen the same which hast dryed vp the deepe of the sea, which hast made playne the sea ground, that 11 Therefore the redeemed of the Lorde shall turne againe, and come with ioy vnto Sion, continuall ioy shall be in their head, and mirth and gladnesse shall be with them, and sorow and woe shall flee from them.

12 Yea I, euen I am he that in all things giueth you consolation: what art thou then that feareſt a mortall man, and the childe of man, which goeth away as doeth the floure?

13 And forgetteſt the Lord that made thee, that spread out the heauens, and layde the foundation of the earth: but thou art euer afraide for the sight of thine oppressour, which is ready to doe harme: where is the wrath of the oppressour?

14 The exile maketh haſt to be looſed, that he die not in prison, and that his bread faile him not.

15 I am the Lorde thy God, that deuide the sea, & his waues shall rage, whose name is the Lord of hostes.

Ei.49.3. 16 *I haue put my wordes in thy mouth, and haue defended thee in the shadowe of my hand, that I may plant the heauens, and lay the foundation of the earth, and say vnto Sion, Thou art my people.

17 Awake, awake, and stand vp, O Hierusalem, thou that from the hande of the Lorde haſt drunken out the cuppe of his wrath, thou that haſt supped off and sucked out the slumbring cuppe to the bottome.

18 For among all the sonnes whom hee hath gotten, there is not one that may holde it vp, and not one to leade it by the hand, of al the sonnes that he hath nourished.

Ei.47.9. 19 *Both these things are happened vnto thee, but who is sory for it? yea, destruction, wasting, hunger, and sworde, but who will comfort thee?

20 Thy sonnes lye comfortleſſe at the head of euery streete like a taken venison, and are full of the terrible wrath of the Lord, and punishment of thy God.

21 And therefore thou miserable & drunken, (howbeit not with wine) heare this:

22 Thus saieth the Lorde, thy Lorde and God, the defender of his people, Beholde, I will take the slumbring cup out of his hand, euen the cuppe with the dregs of my wrath, that from henceforth thou shalt neuer drinke of it more:

23 But I will put it into their hand that trouble thee, which haue spoken to thy soule, Stowpe downe, that we may goe ouer thee, make thy body euen with the grounde, and as the streete to goe vpon.

The lij. Chapter.

An exhortation and comfort to the people of God.

VP Sion, vp, take thy strength vnto thee, put on thine honeſt rayment, O Hierusalem, thou holy citie: for from this time forth there shall no vncircumciſed nor vncleane person come in thee.

2 Shake thee from the dust, arise and stande vp, O Hierusalem: pluche out thy necke from the bond, O thou captiue daughter Sion. 1

6 But that my people may knowe my name, I my ſelfe wil speake in that day, Beholde, here am I.

7 *O howe beautifull are the feete of the ambaſſadour that bringeth the meſſage from the mountaine, and proclaimeth peace: that bringeth the good tydings, and preacheth health, and sayeth vnto Sion, Thy God is the king. Num.1.15. rom.10.15.

8 Thy watchmen shal lift vp their voice, with loude voyce they shall reioyce together: for they shall see plainely when the Lord shal conuert Sion.

9 Be glad, O thou deſolate Hierusalem, and reioyce together: for the Lord hath comforted his people, hee hath deliuered Hierusalem.

10 The Lorde hath made bare his holy arme, and shewed it forth in the sight of all the Gentiles, * and all the endes of the earth haue seene the sauing health of our God. Pſal.98.2.

12 For ye shall not escape by running, nor by fleeing away: but the Lord shal goe before you, and the God of Israel shall gather you together.

13 Beholde, my [a] seruant shall deale proſperously, therefore shall he be magnified, exalted, and greatly honoured.

[a] Christ is called Gods seruant for his office sake, which he exercised in the time of his abasing himself in the flesh.

14 Like as the multitude shall wonder vpon him, because his face shall be so deformed, and not as mans face, his beautie like no man:

Luk. gal. BE * glad nowe thou barren that bearest not, reioyce, sing, and be merie, thou that art not with child: for the desolate hath mo children then the maried wife, saith the Lord.

2 Make thy tent wider, and spread out the hangings of thine habitation: spare not, laye foorth thy cordes, and make fast thy stakes:

3 For thou shalt be multiplied on y right side, and on the left, and thy seede shall haue the Gentiles in possession, and dwell in the desolate cities.

4 Feare not, for thou shalt not bee confounded: bee not ashamed, for thou shalt not come to confusion: yea, thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, and shalt not remember the dishonour of thy widowhead.

5 For he that made thee, shall be thy Lord and husband (whose * name is the Lorde of Luk. hostes) and thy redeemer shall be euen the holy one of Israel, and the Lord of the whole world.

6 For the Lord hath called thee being as a desolate sorowfull woman, and as a young wife that was forsaken, sayeth thy God.

7 A litle while haue I forsaken thee: but with great mercifulnesse shall I take thee vnto me.

8 When I was angry, I hid my face from thee for a litle season: but through euerlasting goodnesse haue I pardoned thee, sayeth the Lord thy redeemer.

9 * And this is vnto me as the water of Gen. Noe: for like as I haue sworne that I will not bring the water of Noe any more vpon the worlde: so haue I sworne that I will neuer be angry with thee, nor reproue thee.

10 The mountaines shall remoue, and the hils shall fall downe, but my louing kindnesse shall not moue, and the bonde of my peace shall not fall downe from thee, sayeth the Lord, thy mercifull louer.

11 Beholde, thou poore, vexed, and despised, I wil make thy wals of precious stones, and thy foundation of Saphires,

The lv. Chapter.

1 Exhortation and comfort to the people. 9 The vnprofite that commeth of the worde of God.

Come to the waters, * all ye that be thirstie, and yee that haue no money, come, buy, eate ye may haue to eate: come, buy wine and milke without any money, and without worth.

2 Wherefore doe ye lay out any money for that which is not bread? and spende your labour for that thing that satisfieth you not?
Hearken rather vnto me, and yee shall eate the best, and your soule shall haue her delite in plenteousnesse.

3 Encline your eares, and come vnto me, heare and your soule shall liue: for I will make an euerlasting couenant with you, even the sure mercies of Dauid.

4 Beholde, I gaue him for a witnesse among the people, for a prince and teacher vnto the people.

5 Lo, thou shalt call an vnknowen people:
and a people that had no knowledge of thee, shall runne vnto thee, because of the Lorde thy God, and the holy one of Israel which glorifieth thee.

6 Seeke the Lord while he may be found, call vpon him while he is nigh.

7 Let the vngodly man forsake his owne way, and the vnrighteous his owne imaginations, and turne againe vnto the Lord, and he will be mercifull vnto him, and to our God, for he is very ready to forgiue.

8 For thus saith the Lord, My thoughts are not your thoughts, and your wayes are not my wayes.

9 But as farre as the heauens are higher then the earth: so farre do my wayes excede your wayes, and my thoughts yours.

10 And like as the raine and snowe commeth downe from heauen, and returneth not thither againe, but watereth the earth, maketh it fruitfull and greene, that it may give come vnto the sower, and bread to him that eateth:

11 So the word also that commeth out of my mouth, shall not turne againe vnto me voyd, but shall accomplish my will, and prosper in the thing whereto I send it.

12 And ye shall goe forth with ioy, and be led with peace: the mountaines and hils shall sing with you for ioy, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.

13 For thornes there shal grow firre trees, and for nettles myrthe tree in stead of brieres: and this shall be done to the praise of the Lord, and for an euerlasting token that shall not be taken away.

The lvij. Chapter.

1 The good men are taken away. 3 The wicked ones take pleasure in idolatrie, the godly receiue comfort, the wicked doeth perish.

THE righteous perisheth, & no man regardeth it in his heart: good godly people are taken away, and no man considereth it, namely, that the righteous is conueyed away from the wicked.

2 He commeth into peace, and godly men rest in their chambers, and before the godly man goeth peace.

3 Come hither therefore yee charmers children, ye sonnes of the adulterer, and the whore.

4 Wherein take ye your pleasure? vpon whom gape ye with your mouth, and bleare out your tongue? are ye not children of transgression, and a seede of dissimulation?

5 Ye make your fires vnder the okes, and vnder all greene trees, and yee offer children in the valleis and dennes of stone.

6 Thy part shall be with the stony rockes by the riuer, yea, euen these shall bee thy part: for there thou hast powred meate and drinke offering vnto them: should I delight in that?

7 Thou hast made thy bedde vpon high mountaines, thou wentest vp thither, and there thou hast slaine sacrifices.

8 Behind the doores and postes hast thou set vp thy remembrance, when thou hadst discouered thy selfe to another then me, when thou wentest vp, and made thy bed wider, and with those idoles hast thou made a couenant, and louedst their couches where thou sawest them.

9 Thou wentest straight to kings with oyle and diuerse ointments, that is, thou hast sent thy messengers farre off, and yet art thou fallen into the pit.

10 Thou art wearie for the multitude of thine owne wayes, yet saydest thou neuer, There is no hope: thou hast had the life that thy hands wrought, and therefore thou art careles.

11 For whom wilt thou be abashed or feare, seeing thou hast broken thy promise, and remembrest not me, neither hast me in thine heart? thinkest thou that I also will hold my peace as aforetime, that thou fearest me not?

12 Yea verily I will declare thy goodnes & thy workes, but they shall not profite thee.

13 When thou criest let thy chosen heape deliuer thee: but the winde shall blowe them foorth, and vanitie shall take them all away: neuertheles, they that put their trust in me, shall inherit the land, and haue my holy hill in possession.

Esai.40.4. & 62.10.

14 *And therefore thus hee saith, Make plaine, make plaine, and cleanse the streete, take vp the stumbling blocks out of the way of my people.

15 For thus saith the high and excellent, euen hee that dwelleth in eternitie, whose name is the holy one: I dwell in the high place, and in the sanctuarie, and with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to make the spirit of the humble to liue, and to comfort the heart of the contrite.

16 For I chide not euer, neither am I angrie without ende: but the liuing spirit should faile before me, and I created the soules of men.

17 I am wroth with him for his couetousnesse, I smite him, I hide me, and am angrie, and he turneth himselfe, and followeth the way of his owne heart.

18 I haue seene his wayes, and will heale him, I leade him, and restore to him comfort, and to those that were sory for him.

19 I make the fruits of the lippes to reioyce, he may say, Peace, peace, vnto them that are farre off, and vnto them that are nigh, saith the Lord, I make him whole.

20 But the wicked are like the raging sea that cannot rest, whose water casteth vp the mire and grauell.

21 *Euen so the wicked haue no peace, saith God. Esa.

The lviij. Chapter.

1 The Lorde (by the mouth of the Prophet) reproueth the people for their fastings, 5 which were full of hypocrisie.

CRie now as loud as thou canst, leaue not off, lift vp thy voyce like a trumpet, and shewe my people their offences, and the house of Iacob their sinnes.

2 For they seeke me dayly, and will know my wayes, euen as it were a people that did right, and had not forsaken the statutes of their God: they aske of me concerning right iudgement, and will be nigh vnto God.

3 Wherefore fast wee, say they, and thou seest it not? we put our liues to straightnesse, and thou regardest it not.

4 Beholde, when ye fast, your lust remaineth still, for ye doe no lesse violence to your detters: loe, yee fast to strife and debate, and to smite with your fist without mercie: now ye shall not fast thus, that your voyce might be heard aboue.

5 *Thinke ye this fast pleaseth me, that a man should chasten himselfe for a day? and to hang downe his head like a bulrush, and to lie vpon the earth in an heatie cloth? Should that be called fasting, or a day that pleaseth the Lord? Zach.7.

6 Doth not this fasting rather please me, That thou loose the wicked bands, that thou take off the ouer heauie burdens, that thou let the oppressed goe free, and breake all manner of yoke?

7 *To deale thy bread to the hungry, and to bring the poore wandring home into thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou couer him, and hide not thy selfe from thine owne flesh? Ezec.18.7. mat.25.

8 Then

8 Then shall thy light breake forth as the morning, and thy health shall right shortly: righteousnesse shall goe before thee, and the glory of the Lord shall embrace thee:

9 Then if thou call'st, the Lord shall answere thee, if thou cryest, he shall say, Here I am: yea, if thou layest away from thee thy burdens, and holdest thy fingers, and ceasest from ungracious talking:

10 If thou hast compassion vpon the hungry, and refreshest the troubled soule, then shall thy light spring out in the darkenesse, and thy darknesse shalbe as the noone day.

11 The Lord shall euer be thy guide, and fulfille the desire of thy heart in the time of drought, and fill thy bones with marowe: thou shalt be like a fresh watred garden, and like the fountaine of water that neuer leaueth running.

12 *Then the places that haue euer bene waste, shalbe builded of thee, there shalt thou lay a foundation for many kinreds: thou shalt be called the maker vp of the breach, & the builder againe of the way to dwell in.

13 Yea, if thou turne thy feete from the sabboth, so that thou doe not the thing which pleaseth thy selfe in my holy day, and call the pleasant, holy, & glorious Sabboth of the Lord, and that thou giue him the honour, so that thou do not after thine own imagination, neither seeke thine owne wil, nor speake thine owne wordes:

14 Then shalt thou haue thy pleasure in the Lord, and I will carie thee high aboue the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Iacob thy father: for the Lords owne mouth hath so promised.

The lix. Chapter.

1 The Lorde is mightie to saue, and readie to heare our requests. 2 Our sinnes are the cause, why God heareth not vs, neither granteth our requests.

BEholde, *the Lordes hand is not so shortned that it cannot helpe, neither is his eare so stopped that it may not heare. 2 But your misdeeds haue separated you from your God, and your sinnes hide his face from you, that he heareth you not.

3 *For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with vnrighteousnes: your lips speake leasings, and your tongue setteth out wickednesse.

4 No man regardeth righteousnesse, and no man iudgeth truely: euery man hopeth in vaine things, and imagineth deceite, *conceiueth wearinesse, and bringeth forth euill.

5 They breede Cockatrice egges, and weaue the Spiders webbe, who so eateth of their egges dyeth: but if one treade vpon them, there commeth vp a serpent.

6 Their webbe maketh no cloth, and they may not couer them with their labours: their deedes are the deedes of wickednes, and the worke of robberie is in their hands.

7 *Their feete runne to euill, and they make haste to shed innocent blood, their counsels are wicked counsels, harme and destruction are in their wayes. Pro.1.16. rom.3.13.

8 But the way of peace they know not, in their goings is no equitie: their wayes are so crooked, that whosoeuer goeth therein, knoweth of no peace.

9 And this is the cause that equitie is so farre from vs, and that righteousnesse commeth not nigh vs: we looke for light, loe, it is darknesse: for the morning shine, see, wee walke in the darke.

10 We grope like the blind vpon the wal, we grope euen as one that hath no eyes, we stumble at the noone day as though it were toward night in the falling places, like men that are halfe dead.

11 We roare all like Beares, and mourne still like doues: we looke for equitie, but there is none: for health, but it is farre from vs.

12 For our offentes are many before thee, and our sinnes testifie against vs: yea, wee must confesse that we offend, and knowledge that we doe amisse:

13 Namely, transgresse and dissemble against the Lorde, and fall away from our God: vsing presumptuous and traiterous imaginations, and casting false matters in our hearts.

14 And therfore is equitie gone aside, and righteousnesse standeth farre off, trueth is fallen down in the street, and the thing that is plaine and open, may not be shewed.

15 Yea, the trueth is taken away, and he that refraineth himselfe from euill, must be spoiled: when the Lord sawe this, it displeased him sore that there was no equitie.

16 He sawe also that there was no man righteous, and he wondered that there was no man to helpe him wherfore hee held him by his owne power, and he sustained him by his owne righteousnesse.

17 *Hee put righteousnesse vpon him for a brestplate, he set the helmet of health vpon his head: he put on wrath in the stead of clothing, and tooke ielousie about him for a cloke. Ephe.6.17. 1.thes.5.8.

18 Euen as when a man goeth foorth wrathfully to recompense his enemies, and to be auenged of his aduersaries, he will recompense and reward the Ilands.

19 They shall feare the name of the Lorde from the rising of the Sunne, and his maiestie vnto the going downe of the same: for hee shall come as a violent water streame, which the winde of the Lord hath mooued.

20 But vnto *Sion there shall come a redeemer, & vnto them in Iacob that turne from wickednesse, saith the Lord. Rom.11.26

21 I

21 I wil make this couenant with them (saith the Lord,) My spirit that is vpon thee, and the woordes which I haue put in thy mouth, shall neuer go out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy childrens children, from this time foorth for euermore worlde without end, sayth the Lorde.

The lx. Chapter.

1 A consolation and comfort to Hierusalem. 5 The Church is gathered together among the Gentiles by preaching of the Gospel, 16 and aboundeth with all good things.

ARise thee vp betimes, be bright, O Hierusalem, for thy light commeth, and the glory of the Lord is risen vp vpon thee.

2 For lo, while the darkenesse and cloud couereth the earth and the people, the Lord shall shew thee light, and his glorie shall be seene in thee.

3 The Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightnesse that springeth foorth vpon thee.

Esai.49.18. 4 *Lift vp thine eies, and looke round about thee: all these gather themselues and come to thee, thy sonnes shall come vnto thee from farre, and thy daughters shall gather themselues to thee on euery side.

5 Then thou shalt see this, and bee glorious, thou shalt maruaile exceedingly, and thine heart shall be opened: when the abundance of the sea shall be conuerted vnto thee, that is, when the riches of the Gentiles shall come vnto thee,

6 The multitude of camels shal couer thee, the dromedaries of Madian and Epha: all they of Saba shall come, bringing golde and incense, and shewing the praise of the Lord.

7 All the cattell of Cedar shall bee gathered vnto thee, the rammes of Nabaioth shall serue thee, to bee offered acceptablie vpon mine altar: and the house of my glory will I garnish.

8 But what are these that flee here like the clouds, and as the doues flying to their windowes?

9 The Iles also shall wait for me, and specially the shippes of Tharsis, that they may bring thy sonnes from farre, and their siluer and their gold with them, vnto the name of the Lord thy God, vnto the holy one of Israel that hath glorified thee.

10 Strangers shall build vp thy walles, and their kings shal do thee seruice: for when I was angry, I smote thee, and of my mercy I pardoned thee.

Apo.21.24 11 *Thy gates shall stand open still both day and night, and neuer bee shut, that the hoste of the Gentiles may come, and that their kings may be brought vnto thee.

12 For euery people and kingdome that serueth not thee shall perish, and be destroied with vtter destruction.

13 The glory of Libanus shall come vnto thee, the firre trees, boxes, and Cedars together, to garnish the place of my sanctuary: for I will glorifie the place of my feete.

14 Moreouer, those shall come kneeling vnto thee that haue vexed thee, & all they that despise thee, shall fal downe at thy foote: thou shalt be called, The citie of the Lorde, Sion the citie of the holy one of Israel.

15 Because thou hast bene forsaken and hated, so that no man went thorow thee: I will make thee glorious for euer and euer, and ioyfull throughout all posteritie.

16 Thou shalt sucke the milke of the Gentiles, and kings breastes shall feede thee, and thou shalt knowe that I the Lord am thy sauiour and redeemer, the mightie one of Iacob.

17 For brasse, wil I giue thee gold, and for iron, siluer: for wood, brasse: and for stones, iron: I wil turne thine oppressiō into peace, and thine exactions into righteousnesse.

18 Violence and robberie shall neuer bee heard of in thy land, neither harme and destruction within thy borders: thy walls shall bee called healthy, and thy gates the praise of God.

19 *The Sunne shall neuer bee thy day light, and the light of the Moone shall neuer shine vnto thee: but the Lord himselfe shall be thine euerlasting light, and thy God thy glory. Apo.21.11

20 Thy Sunne shal neuer go downe, and thy Moone shall not be hid: for the Lord himselfe shall bee thine euerlasting light, and thy sorowfull dayes shall be ended.

21 The people shall be all righteous and possesse the land euer, the flowre of my planting, the worke of my hands wherof I will reioyce.

22 The yongest and least shall growe into a thousand, and the simplest into a strong people: I the Lorde shall shortly bring this thing to passe in his time.

The lxj. Chapter.

Hee prophecieth that Christ shall bee anointed and sent to preach.

THe spirite of the Lorde *is vpon mee: for the Lorde hath anoynted mee, and sent mee to preach good tidings vnto the poore, that I might bind vp the wounded hearts, that I might preach deliuerance to the captiue, and open the prison to them that are bound: Luk.4.18.

2 That I might declare the acceptable yeere of the Lord, and the day of the vengeance of our God: that I might comfort all them that are in *heauinesse: Mat.5.3.

3 That I might giue vnto them that mourne in Sion, that I might giue, I say, beautie in steade of ashes, ioyfull oyntment for sighing, pleasant rayment for an heauie mind, that they might be called trees of righteousnesse, a planting of the Lorde for him to reioyce in.

4 *They shall build the long rough wil- Esai.58.12.

dernesse, and set vp the olde desart: they shall repayre the waste places, and such as haue bene void throughout many generations.

5 Strangers shall stand and feede your cattel, and the aliants shalbe your plowmen, and dressers of your vines.

6 But ye shalbe named the Priests of the Lorde, and men shall call you the seruants of our God: ye shall enioy the goods of the Gentiles, and triumph in their substance.

7 For your great reproofe you shall haue double ioy, and for shame shall they haue ioy of their portion: for they shall haue double possession in their lande, and euerlasting ioy shalbe with them.

8 For I the Lord which loue right, and hate robberie (though it were offered mee) shall make their workes full of faithfulnesse, and make an euerlasting couenaunt with them.

9 Their seede also and their generation shall be knowen among the Gentiles, and among the people: all they that see them, shall knowe that they are the high blessed seede of the Lord.

10 And therfore I am ioyful in the Lord, and my soule reioyceth in God: for hee hath put vpon me the garment of saluation, and couered mee with the mantle of righteousnes: he shall decke me like a bridegrome, and as a bride that hath her apparell vpon her.

11 For like as the ground bringeth foorth her fruite, and as the garden shooteth foorth seede: so shall the Lord God cause righteousnesse and prayse to flourish foorth before all the heathen.

The lxij. Chapter

A propheſie of the comming of Christ.

FOr Sions sake will I not holde my tongue, and for Hierusalems sake I will not cease, vntill their righteousnesse breake foorth as the shining light, and their saluation as a burning lampe.

2 Then shall the Gentiles see thy righteousnesse, and al kings thy glory: thou shalt be named with a newe name, which the mouth of the Lord shall shew.

3 Thou shalt bee a crowne in the hand of the Lord, and a glorious garland in the hand of thy God.

4 From this time foorth thou shalt neuer be called, The forsaken, and thy land shall no more be called, The wildernesse: but thou shalt be called, My pleasure is in her: and thy land shalbe called, The married woman: for the Lord loueth thee, and thy land shall bee ioyned in mariage.

5 And like as a yong man taketh a virgin to mariage, so shall thy sonnes bee married vnto thee: and as a bridegrome is glad of his bride, so shall thy God reioyce ouer thee.

6 I haue set watchmen vpon thy walles, O Hierusalem, which shall neither cease day nor night to preach the Lorde: and yee also that remember the Lord, yee shall not keepe him close,

7 Nor leaue to speake of him, vntill Hierusalem be set vp, and made the praise of the world.

8 The Lorde hath sworne by his right hand & by his strong arme, that from henceforth he will not giue thy corne to be meate for thine enemies, nor thy wine wherein thou hast laboured, to be drinke for the strangers.

9 But they that haue gathered in the corne, shall eate it, and giue thankes to the Lord: and they that haue borne in the wine, shall drinke it in the court of my sanctuarie.

10 *Goe you, goe you thorowe the gates, make cleane the way for the people, make plaine, make plaine the footepath, and take away the stones out of it, and set out a token for the people. Esai. 57. 14.

11 Beholde, the Lorde proclaimeth vnto the endes of the worlde, *Tell the daughter Sion, See, thy Sauiour commeth, beholde, he bringeth his recompence with him, and his worke before him. Zach. 9. 9. mat. 21. 5.

12 For they whome the Lord deliuereth, shall bee called, The holy people: and as for thee, thou shalt be named, The greatly occupied, and not, The forsaken citie.

The lxiij. Chapter.

7 Of the redemption promised to the people.

WHat is hee this that commeth from Edom, with red coloured clothes from Bosra? Hee is honourably araied, and commeth in mightily with his power: I am he that teacheth righteousnesse, and am of power to helpe. The Epistle on the Munday before Easter.

2 *Wherfore then is thy clothing red, and thy raiment like his that treadeth in the winepresse? Apo. 19. 13

3 I haue troden the presse my selfe alone, and of all people there is not one with mee: thus will I treade them downe in my wrath, and set my feete vpon them in mine indignation, and their blood shall be sprung vpon my clothes, and so will I staine all my raiment.

4 For the day of vengeance is assigned in my heart, and the yeere when my people shal be deliuered, is come.

5 I looked about me, & there was no man to shewe me any helpe, I marualed that no man held mee vp: then I held mee by mine owne arme, & my seruentnesse sustained me.

6 And thus will I treade downe the people in my wrath, and bathe them in my displeasure, and vpon the earth will I lay their strength.

7 I wil declare the goodnesse of the Lord, yea and the praise of the Lord for all that hee hath giuen vs, for the great good that hee hath done for Israel, which hee hath giuen them of his owne fauour, and according to the multitude of his louing kindnesse.

8 For hee sayde, These no doubt are my people, and no shrinking children: and so was he their Sauiour.

9 In their troubles, he was alle troubled with them, and the Angel that went forth from his presence deliuered them: Of very loue and kindnesse that he had vnto them he redeemed them, he hath borne them and caried them vp euer since the world began.

10 But after they prouoked him to wrath, and vexed his holy spirite, hee was their enemie, and fought against them himselfe.

11 Yet remembred Israel the olde time of Exo.14.30. Moses and his people, saying, * where is hee that brought them from the water of the sea, with them that feede his sheepe? where is hee that hath giuen his holy spirit among them?

12 He led them by the right hand of Moses with his glorious arme, deuiding the water before them, whereby he gate himselfe an euerlasting name.

13 He led them in the deepe as an horse is led in the plaine, that they should not stumble.

14 As a tame beast goeth in the fielde, and the spirite of God giueth him rest: thus (O God) hast thou led thy people, to make thy selfe a glorious name withall.

Deu.26.15. baruc.2.16. 15 *Looke downe then from heauen, and beholde from the dwelling place of thy sanctuarie and thy glorie: howe is it that thy iealousie, thy strength, the multitude of thy mercies, and thy louing kindenesse will not be intreated of vs?

16 Yet art thou our father: for Abraham knoweth vs not, neither is Israel acquainted with vs: but thou Lorde art our father and redeemer, and thy name is euerlasting.

17 O Lorde, wherefore hast thou led vs out of the way? wherefore hast thou hardened our hearts that we feare thee not? Be at one with vs againe for thy seruants sake, and for the generation of thine heritage.

18 Thy holy people haue had but a little while thy sanctuarie in possession, for our enemies haue troden downe thy holy place.

19 And wee were thine from the beginning, when thou wast not their Lorde, for they haue not called vpon thy name.

The lxiiij. Chapter.

1 The Prophet (vnder the person of the Iewes) bewaileth their exile and banishment. 6 Mans righteousnesse is like a cloth defiled.

O That thou wouldest cleaue the heauens in sunder and come downe, that the mountaines might melt away at thy presence,

2 Like as at an hoate fire, and that the malicious might boyle away as the water doeth vpon the fire: whereby thy name might bee knowen among thine enemies, and that the Gentiles might tremble before thee.

3 When thou wroughtest wonderous strange workes, we looked not for them: thou camest downe, and the hilles melted at thy presence.

4 *For since the beginning of the worlde, 1.Cor.2.9. it hath not bene heard or perceiued, neither hath any eye seene another God beside thee, which doest so much for them that put their trust in thee.

5 Thou helpest him that doth right with cheerefulnesse, and them that thinke vpon thee in thy wayes: but lo, thou hast bene angry, for wee offended, and haue bene euer in sinne, though the worlde haue cleaued to them, yet shall we be saued.

6 We are all as an vncleane thing, and all our righteousnesse is as filthie rags: we fall euery one as the leafe, for our sinnes carry vs away like the winde.

7 There is no man that calleth vpon thy name, that standeth vp to take holde by thee: therefore hidest thou thy face from vs, and consumest vs, because of our sinnes.

8 But now, O Lord, thou father of ours, we are thy clay, and thou art our potter, and we all are the worke of thy hands.

9 *Bee not too sore displeased, O Lorde, Psal.78. and keepe not our offences too long in thy remembrance: but consider that we all are thy people.

10 The cities of thy sanctuarie lie waste, Sion is a wildernesse, and Hierusalem a desart.

11 Our holy house, which is our beauty, where our fathers praised thee, is burnt vp yea, all our commodities and pleasures are wasted away.

12 Wilt thou not bee intreated, O Lord, for all this? wilt thou holde thy peace, and scourge vs so sore?

The lxv. Chapter.

The reiecting of the Iewes, and the calling of the Heathen.

THey *seeke mee, that hitherto Ro.10.20. haue not asked for me, they find mee, that hitherto haue not sought me: I haue sayde, I am here, I am here, I am found of a people that neuer called vpon my name.

2 For thus long haue I euer holden out mine hands to an vnfaithful people, that goe not the right way, but after their owne imagination:

3 To a people that is euer defying mee to my face, they make their oblations in gardens, and their smoke vpon altars of bricke.

4 They lurke among the groues, and lie in the dennes all night: they eate swines flesh, and vncleane broth is in their vessels.

5 If thou commest nigh them, they say, Touch mee not, for I am holier then thou: All these men when I am angry, shall bee turned to smoke and fire that shall burne for euer.

6 Beholde, it is written before my face, and shall not be forgotten, but recompenced, I will reward it them into their bosome.

7 I meane

7 I meane your misdeedes, and the misdeedes of your fathers together, sayeth the Lord, which haue made their smokes vpon the mountaines, and blasphemed mee vpon the hilles: therefore will I measure their old deedes into their bosome againe.

8 Moreouer, Thus saith the Lord, Like as when newe wine is found in the cluster, and one sayeth, Loose it not, for there is blessing therein: euen so will I doe also for my seruants sakes, that I will not destroy them all.

9 But I will take a seede out of Jacob, and out of Juda one, to take possession of my hill: My chosen shall possesse it, and my seruants shall dwell there.

10 Saron shalbe a sheepefold, and the valley of Achor shall giue the stalling for the cattell of my people that seeke after me.

11 But as for you, yee are they that haue forsaken the Lorde, and forgotten my holy hill: yee haue set vp an altar vnto Jupiter, and giuen rich drinke offerings vnto the planets:

12 Therefore will I number you to the sword, that yee shall bee destroyed altogether: for that when I called, no man gaue me answere, when I spake, ye hearkened not vnto me, but did wickednesse before mine eyes, and chose the things that pleased me not.

13 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde God, Beholde, my seruants shall eate, but yee shall haue hunger: beholde, my seruants shal drink, but ye shall suffer thirst: beholde, my seruants shalbe mery, but ye shalbe confounded:

14 Beholde, my seruants shall reioyce for very quietnesse of heart, but yee shall cry for sorowe of heart, and complaine for veration of minde.

15 Your name shall yee leaue accursed among my chosen: for God the Lord shall slay you, and call his seruants by another name.

16 Who so reioyceth vpon earth, shall reioyce in the true God, and who so sweareth vpon earth, shall sweare in the true God, for the olde afflictions shall be forgotten, and taken away out of my sight.

17 For loe, I shall make a newe heauen and a new earth: and as for the old, they shall neuer be thought vpon, nor kept in minde:

18 But the Lord saith, Bee glad, and euermore reioyce for the things that I shall doe: for why? beholde, I will make a ioyfull Hierusalem, and his people ioyfull.

19 Yea, I my selfe will reioyce with Hierusalem, and be glad with my people: and the voyce of weeping and wayling shall not bee heard in her from thencefoorth.

20 There shall neither bee childe nor olde man that haue not their full dayes: but when the childe commeth to an hundred yeres old, it shall die, and if he that is an hundred yeeres of age doe wrong, he shalbe cursed.

21 They shall builde houses and dwell in them, they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruite of them.

22 They shall not build, and another possesse: they shall not plant, and another eate: but the life of my people, shall be like a tree, and mine elect shall enioy still the worke of their hands.

23 They shall not labour in vaine, nor beget with trouble: for they are the high blessed seed of the Lord, and their fruits with them.

24 * And it shall bee, that or euer they call, I will answere them, while they are yet but thinking how to speake, I will heare them. Psal.32.5.

25 * The wolfe and the lambe shall feede together, and the Lion shall eate hay like the bullocke, but earth shall bee the Serpents meate: there shall no man hurt nor slay another in all my holy hill, saith the Lord. Esai.11.6.

The lxvj. Chapter.

1 God dwelleth not in temples made by mans hand. 3 Hee despiseth sacrifices done without mercie and faith. 5 God comforteth them that are troubled for his sake. 23 Among the Christen the Sabboth is continually.

THus sayeth the Lord, * Heauen is my seate, and the earth is my footestoole: where shall nowe the house stande that yee will build vnto me? And where shall be the place that I will dwell in? Acts.7.48.

2 As for these things, my hand hath made them all, and they are all created, sayeth the Lorde, which of them shall I then regard? Euen him that is poore and of a lowly troubled spirite, and standeth in awe of my wordes.

3 For who so slayeth an Oxe for me, doth mee so great dishonour as hee that killeth a man: he that killeth a Sheepe for me, ‖ knetcheth a dog: he that bringeth me meate offerings, offereth swines blood: who so maketh me a memoriall of incense, praiseth the thing that is vnright: Yet take they such wayes in hand, and their soule delighteth in these abominations. ‖ Cutteth off a dogs necke.

4 Therefore will I also haue pleasure in laughing them to scorne, and the thing that they feare, will I bring vpon them: * for when I called, no man gaue answere, when I spake, they would not heare: but did wickednesse before mine eyes, & chose the things that displeased me. Prou.1.23. esai.65.12. icre.7.13.

5 Heare the word of God all ye that feare the thing which hee speaketh: your brethren that hate you, and cast you out for my names sake, say, The Lorde is heinous against vs: but you shall see him in ioy, when they shalbe confounded.

6 Then shall be heard a great noyse from the citie and the temple, the voyce of the Lord that will rewarde and recompence his enemies:

7 Like as when a wife bringeth foorth a man childe, or euer she suffer the paine of the birth and anguish of the trauaile.

8 Who euer heard or sawe such things? doth the ground beare in one day? or are the people borne all at once, as Sion trauailed in childe birth and bare her sonnes?

9 For thus saith the Lord, Am I hee that maketh other to beare, and beare not my self? Am not I hee that beareth and maketh barren, saith thy God?

10 Reioyce with Hierusalem, and be glad with her all ye that loue her, be ioyfull with her all ye that mourne for her.

11 For yee shall sucke comfort out of her breasts, and be satisfied: ye shal taste and haue delight in the brightnesse of her glory.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I wil let peace into her like a water flood, and the glory of the heathen like a flowing streame: then shall ye sucke, ye shall be borne vpon her sides, and be ioyfull vpon her knees.

13 For like as a childe is comforted of his mother, so shall I comfort you, and ye shall be comforted in Hierusalem.

14 And when ye see this, your heart shall reioyce, and your bones shall florish like an herbe: Thus shall the hand of the Lorde be knowen among his seruants, and his indignation among his enemies.

15 For beholde, the Lord shall come with fire, and his charet shalbe like a whirle wind: that hee may recompence his vengeance in his wrath, and his indignation with the flame of fire.

16 For the Lord shall iudge all flesh with the fire, and with his sword, and there shalbe a great number slaine of the Lord.

17 Such as haue made themselues holy and cleane in the gardens, and those that haue eaten swines flesh, mice, and other abominations, shall bee taken away together, saith the Lord.

18 For I doe knowe their workes and thoughts, and I will come to gather all people and tongues: then they shall come and see my glory.

19 Vnto them shall I giue a token, and send certaine of them that bee deliuered among the Gentiles, into Cilicia, Africa, and Lydia, where men can handle bowes, into Italie, and also Greeke land: the yles farre off that haue not heard speake of mee, and haue not seene my glory, shall preach my praise among the Gentiles,

20 And shall bring all your brethren for an offring vnto the Lord out of al the people, vpon horses, charets, and horselitters, vpon mules and carts to Hierusalem my holy hill, sayeth the Lord: Like as the children of Israel bring the offering in cleane vessels to the house of the Lord.

21 And I shall take out certaine of them for to be Priests and Leuites, saith the Lord.

22 *For like as the newe heauen and the newe earth which I will make, shalbe fast stablished by mee, saith the Lorde: so shall your seede and your name continue. Reue. 21.1.

23 And it shall come to passe, that from Moone to his Moone, from Sabboth to his Sabboth, all flesh shall come to worship before me, saith the Lord.

24 *And they shall goe foorth and looke vpon the carions of them that haue transgressed against me: for their wormes shall not die, neither shall their fire bee quenched, and all flesh shall abhorre them. Mat. 9.44.

The end of the Prophet Esai.

The booke of the Prophet Ieremie.

The first Chapter.

1 The stocke of Ieremie, and in what time hee prophecied. 6 He excuseth himselfe, and woulde refuse the office of a Prophet, because he is yong and vnexpert. 8 He is taught of the Lord, and becommeth bold.

THese are the Sermons of Ieremie the sonne of Helciah the Priest, one of them that dwelt at Anathoth in the land of Beniamin,

2 when the Lord had first spoken with him in the time of Iosiah the sonne of Amon king of Iuda, in the thirteenth yeere of his reigne:

3 And so during vnto the time of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iuda, and vntill the eleuenth yeere of Zedechiah the sonne of Iosiah king of Iuda were ended, when Hierusalem was taken, euen the fifth moneth.

4 The word of the Lord spake thus vnto me,

5 Before I fashioned thee in thy mothers wombe, I did knowe thee: and or euer thou wast borne, I sanctified thee, and ordeined thee to be a Prophet vnto the people.

6 Then saide I, O Lord God, I can not speake, for I am yet but young.

7 And the Lord answered mee thus, Say not so, I am too young: for thou shalt go to all that I shall sende thee vnto, and whatsoeuer I command thee, that shalt thou speake.

8 Bee not afraide of their faces: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

9 And with that the Lorde stretched out his hand & touched my mouth: and the same Lorde saide vnto mee, *Beholde, I put my wordes in thy mouth. Iere. 18.7.

10 And behold, this day do I set thee ouer the people and kingdomes, that thou mayest roote out, and breake off, destroy, and make waste, & that thou maiest build vp and plant.

11 After

11 After this, the Lorde ſpake vnto mee, ſaying, Jeremie, what ſeeſt thou? And I ſaid, I a ſee a rod of an Almond tree.

a God threateneth to Jeremie the deſtruction of the Iewes by the Babylonians, to be at hande.

12 Then ſaid the Lorde vnto mee, Thou haſt ſeene right, for I wil make haſte ſpedily vpon my worde to performe it.

13 It happened afterward that the Lord ſpake to me againe, & ſaide, What ſeeſt thou? And I ſaid, I doe ſee a ſeething pot, looking from out of the North.

Ier.4.6. 14 Then ſaid the Lord vnto me, *Out of the North ſhall come a plague vpon all the dwellers of the land.

15 For loe, I will call all the kinreds of the kingdomes of the North, ſaieth the Lord, and they ſhall come, and euery one ſhall ſet his ſeate in the gates of Hieruſalem, and in all the walles round about, and in all cities of Juda.

16 And through them ſhall I declare my iudgement vpon all the wickednеſſe of thoſe men that haue forſaken me, that haue burnt incenſe vnto ſtrange gods, and worſhipped the workes of their owne hands.

17 And therefore gird vp thy loynes, ariſe, and tell them all that I giue thee in commandement: Feare them not, leaſt I deſtroy thee before them.

Ier.1.17. 18 For behold, *this day doe I make thee a ſtrong fenced towne, an yron pillar, and a braſen wall againſt the whole land, againſt the kings and mightie men of Juda, againſt the prieſts and people of the land.

19 They ſhal fight againſt thee, but they ſhall not be able to ouercome thee: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, ſaieth the Lorde.

The ij. Chapter.

2 God rehearſeth his benefits done vnto the Iewes. 8 Againſt prieſts and prophets or preachers that contemne and deſpiſe God. 12 The Iewes are deſtroyed becauſe they forſooke God, and becauſe they ranne a whore hunting after idoles.

MOreouer, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

2 Goe thy way, crie in the eares of Hieruſalem, and ſay, Thus ſaieth the Lorde, I remember thee, the kindneſſe of thy youth, and the loue of thy eſpouſing, in that thou followedſt mee thorowe the wildernеſſe, in an vntilled land.

3 Iſrael was an halowed thing vnto the Lord, and was his firſt fruites: all they that deuoure Iſrael ſhall offend, miſfortune ſhall fall vpon them, ſaieth the Lorde.

4 Heare therefore the worde of the Lord, O thou houſe of Jacob, and all the generations of the houſe of Iſrael.

5 Thus ſaieth the Lorde, What vnfaithfulnes found your fathers in mee, that they went ſo farre away fro mee, falling to lightneſſe, and being ſo vaine?

6 They thought not in their heartes, Where is the Lorde that brought vs out of the land of Egypt, that ledde vs thorowe the wildernes, thorow a deſart and rough land, thorowe a dry and deadly land, yea a lande that no man had gone thorow, and wherein no man had dwelt?

7 And when I had brought you into a pleaſant fertile land, that ye might enioy the fruites and all the commodities of the ſame, ye went forth and defiled my land, & brought mine heritage to abomination.

8 The Prieſts themſelues ſaid not, Where is the Lorde? They that had the Lawe in their hands knew me not, the ſhepheards offended againſt mee, the prophets did prophecie in Baal, and followed ſuch things as ſhall bring them no profite.

9 Wherefore I am conſtrained, ſayth the Lorde, yet againe to contende in iudgement with you, and with your childrens childrен.

10 Goe into the Iles of Cethim, & looke well: ſende vnto Cedar, take diligent heede, and ſee whether ſuch things be done there:

11 whether the Gentiles them ſelues haue changed their gods, which yet are no gods in deede: but my people haue changed a their honour for a thing that may not helpe them.

a Honor, that is, the fatherhood and euerliuing God, in whom onely they ought to glory.

12 Be aſtonished, O ye heauens, be afraid and abaſhed at ſuch a thing, ſayth the Lorde.

13 For my people hath done two euils: they haue forſaken me the well of the water of life, and digged them pits, yea bile and broken pits that can holde no water.

14 Is Iſrael a bond ſeruant, or one of the houſeholde? why is he then ſo ſpoyled?

15 They roare and cry vpon him as Lions, they haue made his land waſte: his cities are ſo burnt vp, that there is no man dwelling in them:

16 Yea, the children of Noph and Taphnes ſhall cracke their crowne.

17 Commeth not this vnto thee, becauſe thou haſt forſaken the Lorde thy God, euen when he led thee by the way?

18 And what haſt thou now to doe in the ſtreete of Egypt, to drinke water out of b Nilus? either what makeſt thou in the way to Aſſyria, to drinke water of the flood?

b God reproueth the people for that they ſought remedies, which are meant by the water of Nilus and the flood, againſt their euils among the Egyptians and Aſſyrians, whereas their onely remedie had bene to haue reconciled themſelues vnto the Lorde with faithfull repentance. Ier.3.6.

19 Thine owne wickednes ſhall reproue thee, and thy turning away ſhall condemne thee: that thou mayeſt knowe and vnderſtande howe euill and hurtfull a thing it is, that thou haſt forſaken the Lorde thy God, and haſt not feared me, ſaieth the Lord God of hoſtes.

20 I haue euer broken thy yoke of olde, and burſt thy bonds, yet ſayeſt thou, I will no more tranſgreſſe: but like an harlot thou runneſt about vpon all high hilles, *and among all greene trees.

21 *whereas I planted thee a noble vine, and wholly a right ſeede: howe art thou turned then into a bitter vnfruitful and ſtrange grape?

Eſai.5.1. mat.21.33.

22 Yea and that ſo ſore that though thou waſh thy ſelfe with Nitrus, and make thy selfe to sauour with that sweete smelling herbe of Bozith: yet in my sight thou art stained with thy wickednesse, saieth the Lozde thy God.

23 Howe sayest thou nowe, I am not vncleane, and I haue not followed Baalim? Looke vpon thine owne wayes in the valleyes what thou hast done: thou art like a swift dromedarie that goeth easily her way.

24 And thy wantonnesse is like a wilde Asse that vseth the wildernes, and that snuffeth and bloweth at her will: who can tame her? All they that seeke her, shal not faile but finde her in her moneth.

25 Keepe thy foote from nakednesse, and thy throte from thirst, and thou thinkest in thine selfe, Tush, I wil take no sozowe, foz I haue loued the [e] strangers, and them will I follow.

26 Like as a thiefe that is taken with the deede commeth to shame: euen so is the house of Israel come to confusion, the common people, their kings and rulers, their priests and prophets:

27 Foz they say to a stocke, Thou art my father: and to a stone, Thou hast begotten me: yea, they haue turned their backe vpon mee, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble, when they say, Stand vp, and helpe vs:

28 I shall answere them, Where are nowe thy gods that thou hast made thee? bid them stande vp, and helpe thee in the time of thy neede: foz looke howe many cities thou hast, O Juda, * so many goddes hast thou also.

29 Wherefoze then will yee goe to lawe with me? seeing ye al are sinners against me, sayth the Lozd.

30 It is but lost labour that I smite your children, foz they receiue not my cozrection: your owne sworde destroyeth your prophets like a deuouring Lion.

31 Oh generation, hearken vnto the worde of the Lozd: Am I become a wildernesse vnto the people of Israel? oz a land that hath no light? wherefoze saieth my people then, We are lozdes, wee wil come no mozе vnto thee?

32 Doeth a maide forget her raiment, oz a bride her stomacher? but my people hath forgotten me a very long while.

33 Why beautifiest thou thy wayes so highly, to obtaine fauour therethrough? therefoze also hast thou taught wickednesse through thy wayes.

34 Vpon thy wings is found the blood of poore and innocent people, whome thou didest not finde in corners and holes: but thou slewest the prophets foz reprooving all these things.

35 Yet darest thou say, I am without sinne and guiltlesse. Tush, his wrath can not come vpon me. Beholde, I wil reason with thee, because thou darest say, I haue not offended.

36 Why gaddest thou so much hither and thither, to change thy wayes? foz thou shalt be confounded as wel of Egypt as thou wast of the Assyrians.

37 Yea, thou shalt go thy way from them, and smite thine handes together vpon thy head, because the Lozde shall bring that confidence and hope of thine to nought, and thou shalt not prosper withall.

[e] The propertie of idolaters is, not onely to contemne the voyce of the preacher calling them to repentance: but shamelesly to proue the lone of strangers and the following of them, that is, the worshipping of stockes and stones & serning of God against his worde, after their owne deuises.

Ier. 11. 13.

The iij. Chapter.

1 God being mercifull, calleth to repentance his people which he had forsaken for their whoredome with idoles. 20 He exhorteth Israel vnto repentance, promising them shepheardes that should haue the true knowledge of God. 23 The returne of Israel vnto God, confessing their offence.

COmmonly when a man putteth away his wife, and she goeth from him, and marrieth with another, then the question is, Should hee resort vnto her any more after that? (Is not that land then defiled and vncleane?) But as for thee, thou hast played ỹ harlot with many louers, yet turne againe to me, sayth the Lozde.

2 Lift vp thine eyes to the high places, and looke where thou hast not bene defiled: thou hast waited foz them in the streets, and as a murderer in the wildernesse, through thy whoredome and shamefull blasphemies is the land defiled.

3 This is the cause that the raine and euening deaw hath ceased: thou hast gotten thee an whozes forehead, and wilt not be ashamed.

4 Wilt thou not hereafter say vnto me, O my father, thou art he that hast brought me vp, and led me from my youth?

5 Wil God continue his wrath foz euer? will he keepe our faultes in memozie to the end? Neuertheles, thou speakest such words, but thou art euer doing wozse and wozse to the vttermost of thy power.

6 The Lozde sayde also vnto mee in the time of Josiah the king, * Hast thou seene what that rebellious Israel hath done? how she hath runne vp vpon all the hilles, and among all thicke trees, and there played the harlot? Ier. 2. 20.

7 Hast thou seene also when she had done all this, howe I said vnto her, that she should turne againe vnto me, and yet she is not returned? Juda that vnfaithfull sister of hers also sawe this:

8 Namely, that after I had well seene the adulterie of the thrinking harlot Israel, I put her away, and gaue her a bill of diuorcement: foz all this, her vnfaithfull sister Juda was not ashamed, but went backe and played the whoze.

9 Yea, and the wantonnes of her whozedome hath defiled the whole land: foz shee hath committed fornication with stocks and stones.

10 Neuertheles, her vnfaithful sister Juda is not returned vnto me againe with her whole whole heart, but layned, saith the Lord.

11 And the Lord said vnto me, The backslider Israel, is more righteous then the vnfaithfull Juda.

12 And therefore go preach these wordes toward the North, and say, Thou disobedient Israel, turne againe, saith the Lorde, and I will not bring my wrath vpon you: for I am mercifull, saith the Lorde, and I will not alway beare displeasure against thee.

13 But on this condition, that thou know thy great blasphemie, namely, that thou hast vnfaithfully forsaken the Lord thy God, and hast made thy selfe partaker of strange Gods vnder all greene trees, and hast had no will to heare my voyce, saith the Lord.

14 O yee disobedient children, turne againe, saith the lord, and I will be married with you: for I will take one out of the citie, and two out of one generation from among you, and bring you into Sion, 15 And will giue you heardmen after mine owne minde, which shall feed you with learning and wisedome.

16 Moreouer, when ye be increased and multiplied in the land, then saith the Lord, There shall no more boast bee made of the arke of the Lordes Testament: no man shall thinke vpon it, neither shall any man make mention of it: for from thencefoorth it shall neither be visited, neither shall such thing be done any more.

17 Then shall Hierusalem be called, The Lordes seate, and all Heathen shall be gathered vnto it for the name of the Lords sake which shalbe set at Hierusalem: and from that time forth they shall follow no more the imagination of their owne froward heart.

18 Then those that be of the house of Juda shall go into the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the North, into the same land that I haue giuen your fathers.

19 I haue thought thus, Howe shall I take thee among my children, and giue a pleasant land for thine heritage, yea, and a goodly host of the Heathen: And I said, Call me father, and shrinke not from me.

20 Truely, like as a woman falseth her husband, so are ye vnfaithfull vnto me, O ye house of Israel, saith the lord.

21 The voyce of the children of Israel was heard on high, weeping and wailing, for that they haue defiled their way, and forgotten God their Lord.

22 O yee disobedient children, turne againe, and so shall ye heale your backeturnings. Loe, we come vnto thee, for thou art the Lord our God.

23 Truely in vaine is health hoped for from the hilles be they neuer so many: but the health of Israel standeth onely vpon God our Lord.

24 Confusion hath deuoured our fathers labour from our youth vp, yea their sheepe and bullocks, their sonnes and daughters.

25 So do we also sleepe in our confusion, and shame couereth vs: for we & our fathers from our youth vp vnto this day, haue sinned against the Lord our God, and haue not obeied the voyce of the Lord our God.

The iiij. Chapter.

2 The true repentance or returning to God. 4 Hee exhorteth to the circumcision of the heart. 5 The destruction of Iurie is prophecied for the malice of their hearts.

O Israel, if thou wilt turne thee, then turne vnto mee, saith the Lorde: and if thou wilt put away thine abominations out of my sight, thou shalt not be mooued,

2 And shalt sweare, The Lord liueth in trueth, in equitie and righteousnes, and all people shall bee fortunable and ioyfull in him.

3 For thus saieth the Lorde to all Juda and Hierusalem, * Plow your land, and sow not among the thornes. Ose. 10. 12.

4 Be circumcised in the Lord, and cut away the foreskin of your hearts, all ye of Juda, and all the indwellers of Hierusalem: that mine indignation breake not out like fire, and kindle, so that no man may quench it, because of the wickednesse of your imaginations.

5 Preach in Juda and Hierusalem, cry out and speake, blowe the trumpets in the land, cry, that euery man may heare, & say, Gather you together, and wee will goe into strong cities.

6 Set vp the token in Sion, speede you, and make no tarying: * for I will bring a great plague, and a great destruction from the North. Iere. 1. 14.

7 For the spoyler of the Gentiles is broken vp from his place, as a Lion out of his den, that he may make my land waste, and destroy the cities, so that no man may dwell therein.

8 Wherefore gird your selues about with sackcloth, mourne and weepe: for the feareful wrath of the Lorde is not withdrawen from vs.

9 At the same time, saith the Lorde, the heart of the king and of the princes shall bee gone, the priests shalbe astonished, & the prophets shalbe sore afraid.

10 Then said I, O Lorde God, hast thou then deceiued this people and Hierusalem, saying, Ye shall haue peace, & now the sword goeth thorow their liues?

11 Then shall it be saide to the people and Hierusalem, A strong wind in the high places of the wildernesse commeth through the way of my people, but neither to fanne nor to cleanse.

12 After that shall there come vnto me a strong wind from those places, and then will I also giue sentence vpon them.

13 For loe, hee ariseth like a cloude, and his charets are like a stormie winde, his horses are swifter then the Eagle: Woe vnto vs, for wee are destroyed.

14 O Hierusalem, wash thine heart from wickednes, that thou mayest be helped: how long shall thy vaine thoughts remaine with thee?

15 For a voyce from Dan, and from the hill of Ephraim speaketh out, and telleth of a destruction.

16 Remember the Heathen, and giue Hierusalem warning, and preach vnto her, that watchers ouer her are comming from farre countreys, they haue cryed out against the cities of Iuda.

17 And they haue beset her about in euerie place, like as the watchmen in the fielde: for they haue prouoked mee to wrath, saieth the Lorde.

Wisd.1.8. 18 *Thy wayes and thy thoughts haue brought thee vnto this, such is thine owne wickednesse and disobedience: and because it is a bitter thing, it hath stricken thee to the heart.

19 Ah my belly, ah my belly, shalt thou crie, howe is my heart so sore? my heart panteth within me, I cannot be still, for I haue heard the crying of the trumpets and peales of warre.

20 They cry murder vpon murder, the whole lande shall perish: Immediatly my tents were destroyed, and my hangings in the twinckling of an eye.

21 Howe long shall I see the tokens of warre, and heare the noise of the trumpets?

22 Neuertheles, this shall come vpon them, because my people are become foolish, and hath not knowen mee: they are the children of foolishnesse, and without any discretion: to doe euill they haue wit ynough, but to doe well they haue no wisedome.

23 I haue looked vpon the earth, and see, it was waste and voyde: I looked towarde heauen, and it had no shine.

24 I beheld the mountaines, and loe, they trembled, and all the hilles were in a feare.

25 I looked about me, and there was no body: and all the birdes of the aire were away.

26 I marked well, and the plowed fielde was become waste, yea, all their cities were broken downe at the presence of the Lorde, and indignation of his wrath.

27 For thus hath the Lorde saide, The whole lande shalbe desolate, yet will I not then haue done.

28 And therefore shal the earth mourne, and the heauen be sory aboue: for the thing that I haue spoken to the prophets, purposed, and taken vpon mee to doe, shall not repent me, and I will not goe from it.

29 The whole land shall flee for the noyse of horsemen and bowmen, they shall runne into dennes, into woods, and clime vp the stonie rockes: all the cities shalbe voyde, and no man dwelling therein.

30 What wilt thou nowe doe, thou being destroyed? For though thou clothest thy selfe with scarlet, and deckest thee with golde, though thou paintest thy face with colours now, yet shalt thou trim thy selfe in vaine: For those that hitherto haue bene thy louers, shall abhorre thee, and goe about to slay thee.

31 For I heare a noyse like as it were of a woman trauailing, and one labouring of her first childe, euen the voyce of the daughter Sion, that casteth out her armes, and swooneth, saying, Ah, woe is me, how sore vexed and faint is my heart for feare of the murderers?

The v. Chapter.

1 In Iewry there is no righteous or faythful man founde, eyther amongst the people, or the rulers, for whose sake the Lord should spare the citie. 15. Wherefore Iewry is destoyed of the Assyrans.

LOoke thorowe Hierusalem, behold, and see, seeke thorow her streetes also within, if yee can finde one man that doeth equal and right, or seeketh for the trueth, and I shall spare the citie, saieth the Lorde.

2 For though they can say, The Lorde liueth: yet they sweare to deceiue.

3 Whereas thou (O Lorde) lookest onely vpon faith and trueth: Thou hast scourged them, but they tooke no repentance, thou hast corrected them for amendment, but they refused thy correction, they made their faces harder then a stone, and would not amend.

4 Therefore I thought in my selfe, Peraduenture they are so simple and foolish, that they vnderstand nothing of the Lords way, and iudgements of their God.

5 Therefore will I goe vnto their heads and rulers, & talke with them, if they knowe the way of the Lorde, & iudgements of their God: But these in like maner haue broken the yoke, and burst the bondes in sunder.

6 Wherefore a Lion out of the wood hath hurt them, and a Woolfe in the euening shal destroy them, the Leopard doeth lie lurking by their cities, to teare in pieces all them that come thereout: for their offences are multiplied, and their departing away is increased.

7 Should I then for all this haue mercy vpon thee? Thy children haue forsaken mee, and sworne by them that are no Gods: and albeit that I fed them to the full, yet they fall to adulterie, and haunt harlots houses.

8 *In the desire of vncleanly lust they are become like the stoned horse, euery man neigheth at his neighbours wife. Ezec.22.11

9 Shoulde I not correct this, saieth the Lord? should I not be auenged of euery people that is like vnto this?

10 Clime vp vpon their walles, beate them

* God vseth not to be sodeinly vnto the citie or house which were vtterly vnworthy: but of a remnant of the people whom God wil reserue, that his whole church should not vtterly perish, although for a time it seeme fairly hid.

them downe, and * destroy them not vtterly: take away their battlements, because they are not the Lordes.

11 For vnfaithfully hath the house of Israel and Juda forsaken me, saith the Lord.

12 They haue denied the Lord, and sayde, It is not hee that looketh vpon vs, tushe, there shal no misfortune come vpon vs, we shall see neither sword nor hunger.

13 As for the warning of the Prophets, it is but winde, yea, there is not the worde of God in them: such things shall happen vnto themselues.

14 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God of hostes, Because ye speak such words, behold, the words that are in thy mouth wil I turne to fire, and make the people to bee wood, that the fire may consume them.

15 Loe, I will bring a people vpon you from farre, O house of Israel, saith the Lord, a mightie people, an olde people, a people whose speach thou knowest not, neither vnderstandest what they say.

16 Their arrowes are sudden death, yea, they themselues be very Giants.

17 This people shall eate vp thy fruit and thy meate, yea, they shall deuour thy sonnes and thy daughters, thy sheepe and thy bullocks, they shall eate vp thy grapes and figs: As for thy strong and well defenced cities wherein thou didst trust, they shall bring to powertie, and that through the sword.

18 Neuertheless, I wil not the haue done with you, saith the Lord.

Jer.16.10. 19 * But if they say, wherefore doeth the Lord our God all this vnto vs? Then answere them, Because that like as yee haue forsaken me, and serued strange gods in your land, euen so shall ye serue strangers out of your land.

20 Preach this vnto the house of Jacob, and crie it out in Juda, and say thus, Esai 6.9. 21 * Heare this, thou foolish & vndiscreete people, Yee haue eies, but yee see not, eares haue ye, but ye heare not.

22 Feare ye not me, saith the Lord? will ye not tremble at my presence? which binde the sea with the sand by a continuall decree, so that it cannot passe his boundes: for though it rage, yet can it do nothing, and though the waues thereof doe swell, yet may they not go ouer.

23 But this people hath a false and obstinate heart, they are departed and gone away from me.

24 They thinke not in their hearts, O let vs feare the Lorde our God, who giueth vs raine earely and late when need is, which keepeth euer still the haruest for vs yeerely.

25 Neuertheless, your misdeedes haue turned these from you, and your sinnes haue robbed you of good things.

26 For among my people are found wicked persons, that priuily lay snares and wait for men to take them, and destroy them.

27 And like as a net is full of birdes, so are their houses full of that which they haue gotten with falshood and deceit: Hereof commeth their great substance and riches.

28 Hereof are they fat and wealthie, and are more mischieuous then any other: * they minister not the law, they make no end of the fatherlesse cause, yea & they prosper: yet they iudge not the poore according to equitie. Esai 1.23. zach.7. 10.

29 Shoulde I not punish these things, saith the Lord? should not I be auenged of all such people as these be?

30 Horrible & grieuous things are done in the land.

31 The prophets teach falsly, and the preachers receiue gifts, and my people hath pleasure therein: what will come thereof at the last?

The vj Chapter.

1 The sinnes for which Hierusalem is afflicted. 10 Vncircumcised eares, 13 couetousnesse, 15 deceit. 20 The Lord reiecteth the sacrifices of the Iewes. 22 The comming of the Babylonians is prophecied againe.

GOme out of Hierusalem, yee strong children of Beniamin, blowe vp the Trumpets yee Thecuites, set vp a token vnto Bethcaran: for a plague and a great miserie appeareth out from the North.

2 I will liken the daughter Sion to a faire and tender woman, and to her shal come the * shepheards with their flockes.

* The shepheards with their flocks, that is, the princes and captains with their armies.

3 Their tents shal they pitch round about her, and euery one shall feede in his place.

4 Make battell against her, shall they say; arise, let vs goe vp while it is yet day: Alas the day goeth away, and the night shadowes fall downe.

5 Arise, let vs goe vp by night, and destroy her strong holdes.

6 For thus hath the Lorde of hostes commanded, Hewe downe her trees, and set vp bulwarkes against Hierusalem: for the time is come that this citie must be punished, for in her is all maliciousnesse.

7 Like as a conduit spowteth out waters, so she spowteth out her wickednesse: Robberie & vnrighteousnesse is heard in her, sorow and woundes are euer there in my sight.

8 Amend thee (O Hierusalem) least I withdraw me my heart from thee, & make thee desolate, and thy lande also, that no man dwell in it.

9 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, There-sidue of Israel shall be gathered as the remnant of grapes: & therefore turne thine hand againe into the basket, like a grape gatherer.

10 But vnto whom shal I speake? whom shal I warne, that he may take heede? Their eares are so vncircumcised, that they may not heare: behold, they take the word of God but for a scorne, and haue no lust thereto.

11 And therefore I am so full of thine indignation, O Lord, that I may suffer no longer, but shed it out vpon the children that are without, and vpon all young men: yea, the mari man must be taken prisoner with the wife, and the aged with the creeple.

12 Their houses with their landes and wiues shall bee turned into strangers: for I will stretch out mine hand vpon the inhabiters of this land, saith the Lord.

Esai.56.11. Ierc.8.10. 13 *For from the least to the most they hang all vpon couetousnesse, and from the prophet vnto the priest, they goe about falshood and lyes.

14 And beside that, they heale the hurt of my people with sweet wordes, saying, Peace, peace: when there is no peace at all.

15 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? Truely nay, they be past shame, and therefore they shall fall among the slayne, and in the houre when I shall visite them, they shalbe brought downe, saieth the Lord.

16 Thus saieth the Lorde, Goe into the streetes, consider and make inquisition for the olde way, and if it be the good and right
Mat.11.29. way, *then goe therein, that yee may finde rest for your soules: but they say, We will not walke therein.

17 Moreouer, I wil set watchmen ouer you, and therefore take heede vnto the voyce of the Trumpet: but they say, Wee will not take heede.

18 Heare therefore, ye Gentiles, and thou congregation shalt knowe what I haue deuised for them.

19 Heare thou earth also: Behold, I will cause a plague to come vpon this people, euen the fruite of their owne imaginations, for that they haue not bin obedient vnto my wordes, and to my lawe, but abhorred them.

Esai.1.11. amos 5.21. b Ceremonies, although they be Gods ordinances, please him not without faith and pureneesse of mind. 20 *Wherefore bring ye me incense from Saba, and sweete smelling Calamus from farre countreyes? b your whole burnt offerings displease me, and I reioyce not in your sacrifices.

21 And therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will lay stumbling blockes among this people, and there shall fall at them the father with the children, one neighbour shal perish with another.

22 Thus saieth the Lorde, Beholde, there shall come a people from the North, and a great people shall arise from the endes of the earth.

23 With bowes and with dartes shal they be weaponed, it is a rough and fierce people, and an vnmercifull people, their voyce roareth like the sea, they ride vpon horses well appointed to the battell against thee, O daughter Sion.

c So soone as the hypocrites heare tell that Gods iudgements are at hand, their heart faileth, and is full of sorow. 24 The fame of them haue we heard, our armes are feeble, c heauinesse and sorowe is come vpon vs, as vpon a woman trauailing with childe.

25 Let no man goe foorth into the fielde, let no man come vpon the high streete: for the swoorde and feare of the enemie is on euery side.

26 Wherefore gird a sackcloth about thee, O thou daughter of my people, sprinckle thy selfe with ashes: mourne and weepe bitterly, as vpon thine onely beloued sonne, for the destroyer shall suddenly fall vpon vs.

27 *Thee haue I set for a strong towre, Iere.1.18. O thou Prophet, and a well fenced wall among my people, to seeke out and to trie their wayes.

28 For they are all stubborne Apostates, and fallen away, walking deceitfully, they are cleane brasse and yron, for they hurt and destroy euery man.

29 The bellowes are burnt in the fire, the lead is not molten, the melter melteth in vayne, for the euill is not taken away from them.

30 Therefore do they call them naughtie siluer, because the Lord hath cast them out.

The vij. Chapter.

2 Ieremie is commaunded to shewe vnto the people the word of God, which trusteth in the outward seruice of the temple. 13 The euils that shall happē to the Iewes for the despising of their Prophets. 21 Sacrifices doth not the Lord chiefly require of the Iewes, but that they should obey his word.

THese are the wordes that God spake vnto Ieremie, saying,

2 Stand vnder the gate of the Lordes house, and crie out these wordes there with a loude voyce, and say, Heare the worde of the Lorde all yee of Iuda, that goe in at this doore, to worship the Lord:

3 Thus saieth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, *Amende your wayes and your Iere.26.13. counsailes, and I will let you dwell in this place.

4 Trust not in false lying wordes, saying, Here is the temple of the Lorde, here is the temple of the Lord, here is the temple of the Lord:

5 But rather in deed amend your wayes and counsails, & iudge right betwixt a man and his neighbour.

6 Oppresse not the stranger, ꝑ fatherlesse, and the widow, shed not innocent blood in this place, cleaue not to strange gods, to your owne destruction:

7 Then will I let you dwel in this place, yea, in the land that I gaue aforetime to your fathers for euer.

8 But take heed, ye trust in lying tales that beguile you, and doe you no good.

9 For when yee haue stolen, murdered, committed adulterie, and periurie, when ye haue offered vnto Baal, following strange and vnknowen gods: shall ye bee vnpunished?

10 Yet then come ye, and stand before mee in this house (which hath my name giuen vnto it) and say, Truthe, we are absolued quite, though we haue done all these abominations.

11 What *thinke you this house that beareth my name, is a den of theeues? And yet I Mat.21.13. mar.11.14. luke 19.46. see what you thinke, saith the Lord.

12 Goe

12 Goe to my place in Silo, whereunto I gaue my name afore time, * and loke well what I did to the same place for the wickednesse of my people of Israel.

Ps.1.13. Ieri.65.12.

13 And nowe seeing yee haue done all these deedes, saith the Lord, and I my selfe rose vp euer betimes to warne you, and to commune with you, yet would ye not heare mee, I called, ye would not answere:

14 Therefore, * euen as I haue done vnto Silo, so will I doe to this house that my name is giuen vnto, and that yee put your trust in: yea, vnto the place that I haue giuen to you, and your fathers:

1.Kin.4.13.

15 And I shall thrust you out of my sight, as I haue cast out all your brethren the whole seed of Ephraim.

16 * Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, thou shalt neither giue thankes nor bid prayer for them: make thou no intercession for them, for in no wise will I heare thee.

Iere.14.12.

17 Seest thou not what they doe in the cities of Iuda, and in the streetes of Hierusalem?

18 * The children gather sticks, the fathers kindle the fire, the women knead the dowe to bake cakes for the queene of heauen: they powre out drinke offrings vnto strange gods, to prouoke me vnto wrath.

Iere.44.19.

19 Howbeit they hurt not mee, saieth the Lord, but rather confound and shame themselues.

20 And therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, my wrath and indignation shall bee powred out vpon this place, vpon men and cattell, vpon trees in the field and fruit of the land: and it shall burne, so that no man may quench it.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Heape vp your burnt offerings with your sacrifices, and eate the flesh.

22 For when I brought your fathers out of Egypt, I spake no word vnto thē of burnt offerings and sacrifices.

23 But this I commanded them, saying, Hearken and obey my voyce, and I shall bee your God, and ye shalbe my people, so that yee walke in all the wayes which I haue commanded you, that ye may prosper.

24 But they were not obedient, they inclined not their eares thereunto: but went after their owne imaginations, and after the motions of their owne wicked heart, and so turned themselues away, and conuerted not vnto me.

25 And this haue they done from the time that your fathers came out of Egypt, vnto this day: Neuertheless, I sent vnto you my seruants the Prophets, I rose vp earely, and sent you word.

26 * Yet woulde they not hearken, nor offer me their eares, but were obstinate, and worse then their fathers.

Ier.16.12.

27 And thou shalt nowe speake all these wordes vnto them, but they will not heare thee: thou shalt cry vpon them, but they will not answere thee.

28 Therefore shalt thou say vnto them, This is the people that neither heareth the voyce of the Lorde their God, nor receiueth his correction: faithfulnesse and trueth is cleane rooted out of their mouth.

29 Wherefore cut off thine haire O Hierusalem and cast it away, take vp a complaint on high: for the Lorde hath cast away and forsaken the people that hee is displeased withall.

30 For the children of Iuda haue done euill in my sight, saith the Lorde, they haue set vp their abominations in the house that hath my Name, and haue defiled it:

31 They haue also builded altars at Thopheth, which is in the valley of the children of Hennom, that they might burne their sonnes and daughters in fire: which I neuer commaunded them, neither came it euer in my thought.

32 And therefore beholde, the dayes shall come (saith the Lord) that it shall no more be called Thopheth, or the valley of the children of Hennom, but the valley of slaughter: for in Thopheth they shalbe buried, because they shall els haue no roume.

33 Yea, the dead bodies of this people shall be eaten vp of the foules of the ayre, and wilde beastes of the earth, and no man shall fray them away.

34 * And as for the voyce of mirth and gladnesse of the cities of Iuda and Hierusalem, the voyce of the bridegrome, and of the bride, I will make them cease: for the land shall be desolate. Eze.26.13.

The viij. Chapter.

1 The destruction of the Iewes. 4 The Lord mooueth the people to amendment, reckoning vp their sinnes. 20 Hee reprehendeth the lying doctrine of the prophets and priests.

AT the same time, saith ỹ Lord, the bones of the kings of Iuda, the bones of his princes, the bones of the preachers and prophets, yea, and the bones of the citizens of Hierusalem, shall bee brought out of their graues,

2 And laied against the Sunne, and the Moone, & all the heauenly host, whom they loued, whom they serued, whom they ranne after, whom they sought & worshipped: they shal neither be gathered together nor buried but shall lie as dung vpon the earth.

3 And all they that remaine of this wicked generation, shall desire rather to die then to liue, wheresoeuer they remaine, & where as I scatter them, saith the Lord of hostes.

4 Thus shalt thou say vnto them also, Thus sayth the Lord, Doe men fall, so that they rise not vp agayne? or if Israel repent, will not God turne againe to them?

5 Wherefore then is this people of Hierusalem gone so farre backe, that they turne not agayne? They are euer the longer the more more obstinate, and will not be conuerted.

6 For I haue looked and considered, but there is no man that speaketh a good worde, there is no man that taketh repentance for his sinne, that wil so much say, what haue I done? but euery man turneth to his owne course, like a fierce horse headlong to ꝯ battel.

7 The Storke in the ayre knoweth his appointed time, the Turtle Doue, the Swallow and the Crane consider the time of their trauaile: but my people will not knowe the time of the punishment of the Lord.

8 Howe dare ye say then, we are wise, we haue the law of the Lord among vs? Truely in vaine hath hee prepared his penne, and vainely haue the writers written it.

9 Therefore shal the wise be confounded, they shalbe afrayde and taken: for loe, they haue cast out the worde of the Lorde, what wisedome can then be among them?

10 Wherefore I wil giue their wiues vnto aliants, and their fields to destroyers: For *from the lowest vnto the highest they follow filthie lucre, and from the prophet vnto the priest, they deale all with lies. Esa.55.12. iere.6.13.

11 Neuertheless, they heale the hurt of my people verie slenderly, saying, Peace, peace: where there is no peace at all.

12 Fie for shame, how abominable things doe they, and yet they bee not ashamed, yea, they know of no shame: wherefore in the time of their visitation, they shall fall among the dead bodies, and bee ouerthrowen, saith the Lord.

13 Moreouer, I will consume them in deed (saieth the Lord) so that there shall not be one grape vpon the vine, neither one fig vpon the figge tree, and the leaues shall bee pluckt off, and the thing that I haue giuen them, shall be taken from them.

14 Why prolong wee the time, let vs gather our selues together, and goe into the strong citie, there shall we bee in rest: for the Lord our God hath put vs to silence, & giuen vs water mixt with gall to drinke, because we haue sinned against him.

15 *We looked for peace, and wee fare not the better, wee waited for the time of health, and loe, here is nothing but trouble. Iere.14.19.

16 The noyse of his horses is heard from Dan, the whole land is afrayd at the neighing of his strong horses: for they are come in, and haue deuoured the land with all that is in it, the cities, and those that dwell therein.

17 Moreouer, I will send Cockatrices and Serpents among you (which wil not be charmed) & they shal bite you, saith the Lord.

18 I would haue had comfort against sorow: but sorow is come vpon me, and heauinesse vexeth my heart.

19 For loe, the voyce of the crying of my people is heard for feare of them that come from a farre countrey: Is not the Lord in Sion? Is not her king in her? Wherefore then haue they grieued me shall the Lorde say, with their images & foolish strange fashions of a forreine God?

20 The harueſt is gone, the Sommer hath ended, and we are not helped.

21 I am sore vexed because of the hurt of my people, I am heauie and abashed.

22 Is there not triacle at Gilead? Is there no Phyſicion there? why then is not the health of my people recouered?

The ix. Chapter.

1 The complaint and bewailing of the Prophet. 3 The malice of the people. 24 In the knowledge of God ought we onely to reioyce. 26 The vncircumcision of the heart.

O who will giue my head water ynough, and a well of teares for mine eyes, that I may weepe night and day for the slaughter of my people?

2 Would God that I had a cottage some where farre from folke, that I might leaue my people and goe from them, for they bee all adulterers, and a shrinking sort.

3 They bend their tongues like bowes to shoote out lies, they waxe strong vpon earth: As for the trueth, they may nothing away withall in the world, for they goe from one wickednesse to another, and will not know me, saith the Lord.

4 Yea, one must keepe himselfe from another, no man may safelie trust his owne brother: for one brother vndermineth another, one neighbour beguileth another.

5 Yea, one dissembleth with another, and they deale with no trueth: They haue practised their tongues to lie, and taken great paines to doe mischiefe.

6 Thou sittest in the mids of a deceitfull people, which for very dissembling falsehood will not know me, saith the Lord.

7 Therfore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, I wil melt them, and trie them: for what should I els do to my people?

8 Their tongues are like sharpe arrowes to speake deceite: * with their mouth they speake peaceably to their neighbour, but priuily they lay waite for him. Pſal.28.3.

9 Shoulde I not punish them for these things, saith the Lord? or should I not be auenged of any such people as this?

10 Vpon the mountaines will I take vp a lamentation, and a sorowfull crie, and a mourning vpon the fayre places of the wildernesse: namely, how they are so burnt vp, that no man goeth there any more, yea, a man shal not heare one beast cry there: birds and cattell are all gone from thence.

11 I wil make Hierusalem also an heape of stones, and a denne of venemous wormes: and I will make the cities of Iuda so waste, that no man shall dwell therein.

12 What man is so wise as to vnderstand this? or to whom hath the Lorde spoken by mouth, that hee may shewe this, and say, O thou land, why perishest thou so? wherefore art thou so burnt vp, and like a wildernesse that no man goeth thorowe?

13 Yea, the Lord himselfe tolde the same vnto them that forsooke his lawe, and kept not the thing that he gaue them in commandement, neither liued thereafter:

14 But followed the wickednesse of their owne hearts, and serued strange gods, as their forefathers taught them.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, * Beholde, I wil feede this Ier.23.15. people with wormewood, and giue them gall to drinke.

16 I will scatter them also among the heathen, whome neither they, nor their fathers haue knowen: and I wil send a sword among them to persecute them, vntil I bring them to nought.

17 Moreouer, thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, Beware of the vengeance that hangeth ouer you, & call for mourning wiues, & send for wise wome, that they come shortly, 18 And sing a mourning song of vs, that the teares may fall out of our eyes, and that our eye liddes may gush out of water.

19 For there is a lamentable noyse heard of Sion: O how are we so sore destroyed? O howe are we so piteously confounded? Wee must forsake our owne naturall countrey, and we are shut out of our owne lodgings.

20 Yet heare the worde of the Lord (O ye women) & let your eares regard the words of his mouth, that yee may learne your daughters to mourne, & that euery one may teache her neighbour to make lamentation.

21 Namely thus, Death is climing vp in at our windowes, hee is come into our houses, to destroy the childe before the doore, and the yong man in the streete.

22 But tell thou plainly, Thus saith the Lord, The dead bodies of men shall lye vpon the ground as the doung vpon the fielde, and as the handfull after the mower, and there shall be no man to take them vp.

1.Cor.1.31. 2.cor.10.17 23 Thus sayth the Lorde, * Let not the wise man reioyce in his wisedome, nor the strong man in his strength, neither the rich man in his riches.

24 But whoso wil reioyce, let him reioyce in this, that he vnderstandeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lorde, which doe mercie, equitie, and righteousnesse vpon the earth: therefore haue I pleasure in such things, saith the Lord.

25 Beholde, the time commeth (sayth the Lord) that I will visite all them whose foreskinne is vncircumcised, & the circumcised, 26 The Egyptians, the Iewes, the Edomites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, and the shauen Madianites that dwel in the wildernesse: for all the Gentiles are all vncircumcised in the flesh, but all the house of Israel are vncircumcised in the heart.

The x. Chapter.

a The constellations of the starres are not to be feared. 5 Of the weakenesse of idoles, and of the power of God. 21 Of euill Curates.

HEare the word of the Lord that he speaketh vnto thee, O thou house of Israel.

2 Thus saieth the Lord, Ye shall not learne after the maner of the heathen, and ye shall not bee afrayd for tokens of heauen: for the heathen are afrayd of such.

3 Yea, all the customes and lawes of the Gentiles are nothing but vanitie: They hewe downe a tree in the woode with the hands of the workeman, and fashion it with the axe.

4 They couer it ouer with gold or siluer, they fasten it with nailes and hammers, that it moue not.

5 It standeth as stiffe as the Palme tree, it can neyther speake, nor goe on foote, but must bee borne: be not ye afraid of such, for they can doe neither good nor euill.

6 * But there is none like vnto thee, O Lord, and great is the name of thy power. Apoc.15.4.

7 Who would not feare thee, O king of the Gentiles: for thine is the dominion: for among all the wise men of the Gentiles, and in all their kingdomes, there is none that may be likened vnto thee.

8 They are altogether brutish and vnwise in this one thing: a wood is the teaching of vanitie.

a By woode is meant al kinde of matter, whereof images are wont to be made, which although they be garnished with gold and siluer, & clothed in purple and silke, & set vp (as some men say) to be lay mens bookes, yet teach they nothing (sayth the Prophet) but vanitie.

9 Siluer is brought out of Tharsis, and beaten to plates, and golde from Ophir, a worke that is made with the hand of the craftsman, and they are clothed with yealow silke and scarlet: all these are the worke of cunning men.

10 But the Lorde is a true God, a liuing God, and an euerlasting king: if he be wroth, the earth shaketh, all the Gentiles may not abide his indignation.

11 As for their gods, thus shall you say to them, They are no gods that made neyther heauen nor earth, therefore shall they perish from the earth, and from all things vnder heauen.

12 * But as for our God, hee hath made the earth with his power, & with his wisedome doth he order ỹ whole compasse of the world, with his discretion hath hee spread out the heauens. Gen.1.6. psal.13.5.

13 At his voyce the waters gathered together in the ayre, he draweth vp the cloudes from the vttermost partes of the earth: * He turneth lightening to rayne, and bringeth foorth the windes out of their treasures. Psal.134.7

14 His wisedome maketh all men fooles, and confounded be casters of images: for that they cast is but a vayne thing, and hath no life.

15 The vayne craftesmen with their works that they in their vanitie haue made, shall perish one with another in time of visitation.

16 Neuertheless, Jacobs portion is none such: but it is he that hath made all things, and Israel is the rod of his inheritance: the Lord of hostes is his name.

17 Gather vp thy wares out of the land, thou that art in the strong place.

18 For thus sayth the Lorde, Beholde, I will nowe throwe as with a stone sling the inhabiters of this lande at this once, and I will bring trouble vpon them, that they shal proue true the wordes that I haue spoken by the Prophets.

19 Alas how am I hurt? alas how painefull are my scourges vnto me? for I consider this sorow by my selfe, and I must suffer it.

20 My tabernacle is destroyed, and all my cordes are broken, my children are gone from me, and can no where be founde: Now haue I none to spread out my tent, nor to set vp my hangings.

b The kings, the rulers, the prophets, and the priests are blinde, and so destroy the flocke.

21 b For the heardmen are become foolish, and they haue not sought the Lord: therfore haue they dealt vnwisely with their cattell, and all are scattered abroade.

22 Behold, the noyse is hard at hand, and great sedition out of the North, to make the cities of Iuda a wildernesse, and a dwelling place for Dragons.

23 Now I knowe (O Lord) that it is not in mans power to order his owne wayes, or to rule his owne steps and goings.

Psal.6.1. 24 *Therefore chasten thou me, O Lord, but with fauour, and not in thy wrath, least thou bring me vtterly to nought.

Psal.79.6. 25 *Powre out thine indignation vpon the Gentiles that knowe thee not, and vpon the people that call not vpon thy name, and that because they haue consumed, deuoured, and destroyed Iacob, and haue made his habitation waste.

The xj. Chapter.

3 A curse to them that obey not the worde of Gods promise. 10 The people of Iuda folowing the steppes of their fathers, worship strange gods. 15 The Lord saith that he will not heare the Iewes, and forbiddeth also Ieremie to pray for them.

THis is a sermon which ỹ Lord commaunded Ieremie for to preach, saying,

2 Heare the wordes of this couenant, and speake vnto the men of Iuda, and to all them that dwell at Hierusalem,

3 And say vnto them, Thus saieth the Lord God of Israel, Cursed be euery one that is not obedient vnto the wordes of this couenant,

4 Which I commaunded vnto your fathers, what time as I brought them out of Egypt from the yron fornace, saying, Be obedient vnto my voyce, and doe according to all that I commaund you, so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God:

5 And wil keepe my promise that I haue sworne vnto your fathers, namely, that I would giue them a land which floweth with milke and honie, as ye see it is come to passe vnto this day. Then answered I, and saide, Amen: let it be euen so Lorde as thou sayest.

6 Then the Lorde sayd vnto me againe, Preach this in the cities of Iuda, and round about Hierusalem, and say, Heare the wordes of this couenant, and keepe them.

7 For I haue diligently exhorted your fathers, euen since the time that I brought them out of the land of Egypt vnto this day, I gaue them warning betimes, saying, Hearken vnto my voyce.

8 Neuertheless, they would not obey me, nor encline their eares vnto me: but followed the wicked imaginations of their owne hearts, and therefore I haue brought vpon them all the wordes of this couenant that I gaue them to keepe, which they notwithstanding haue not kept.

9 And the Lord said vnto me, It is found out that whole Israel, and all the cities of Hierusalem are gone backe.

10 They haue turned them selues to the blasphemies of their forefathers, which had no lust to heare my wordes: Euen likewise also haue these folowed strange gods, and worshipped them: The house of Israel and Iuda haue broken my couenaunt which I made with their fathers.

11 Therfore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will send a plague vpon them, which they shall not be able to escape, and they shall crie vnto me, and I will not heare them.

12 Then shall the townes of Iuda, and the citizens of Hierusalem goe and call vpon their gods vnto whom they made their oblations: but they shall not be able to helpe them in time of their trouble.

13 * For as many cities as thou hast, O Iuda, so many gods hast thou had also, and looke how many streetes there be in thee, (O Hierusalem) so many shamefull altars haue ye set vp, altars I say, to offer vpon them vnto Baal. Iere.2.28.

14 *Therefore pray not thou for this people, bid neither prayse nor prayer for them: for though they cry vnto me in their trouble, yet wil I not heare them. Iere.14.11.

15 What part hath my beloued in my house, seeing he hath wrought abomination, seruing many gods? The holy flesh offrings in the temple are gone from thee, O Iuda, and thou, when thou hast done euill, makest thy boast of it.

16 The Lorde called thee a greene Olive tree, a faire one, a fruitfull one, a goodly one: but with great clamour hath the enemie set fire vpon it, & the branches of it are destroyed.

17 For the Lorde of hostes that planted thee, hath deuised a plague for thee, (O thou house of Israel and Iuda) for the euil that ye haue done to prouoke him to wrath, in that ye did seruice to Baal.

18 This (O Lord) haue I learned of thee, and vnderstand it: for thou hast shewed mee their imaginations.

19 But I am as a meeke Lambe, an Ore that that is caryed away to bee slaine, not knowing that they had deuised such a counsell against me, saying, wee will destroy his meate with wood, and driue him out of the land of the liuing, that his name shall neuer bee thought vpon.

1.Chr.28.9. iere.17.10. and 20.12. psal.7.10. 20 *Therefore I will beseech thee nowe, (O Lorde of hostes) thou righteous Iudge, thou that triest the reynes and the hearts, let mee see thee auenged of them: for vnto thee haue I committed my cause.

21 The Lorde therefore spake thus of the citizens of Anathoth that sought to slay mee, saying, Preach not vnto vs in the Name of the Lord, or els thou shalt die of our hands.

22 Thus I say spake the Lorde of hostes, Beholde, I will visite you, your young men shall perish with the sword, your sonnes and your daughters shall vtterly die of hunger.

23 So that none shall remaine: for vpon the citizens of Anathoth will I bring a plague, euen the yeere of their visitation.

The xij. Chapter.

1 The Prophete marueileth greatly at the prosperitie of the wicked, although he confesse God to be righteous. 7 The Iewes are forsaken of the Lorde. 10 He speaketh against the Curates and Preachers that seduce the people. 14 The Lorde threatneth destruction vnto the nations that bordered vpon Iurie, which troubled and vexed it.

lob 21.7. abac.1.3. O Lorde, thou art more righteous then that I shoulde dispute with thee: neuertheless, let me talke with thee in thinges reasonable. *How happeneth it that the way of the vngodly is so prosperous? and that it goeth so well with them which without any shame offende and liue in wickednesse?

2 Thou plantest them, they take roote, they growe, and bring foorth fruite: they boast much of thee, yet art thou farre from their [a] reynes.

a By the reynes he meaneth the inward affections and secrets of the minde.

3 But thou Lorde to whome I am well knowen, thou that hast seene and proued my heart, take them away, like as a flocke is caried to the slaughter house, and appoint them for the day of slaughter.

4 How long shall the lande mourne, and all the herbes of the fielde perish for the wickednesse of them that dwell therein? The cattell and the birdes are gone, yet say they, Tush, God will not destroy vs vtterly.

5 Seeing thou art wearie in running with the footemen, how wilt thou then run with horses? In a peaceable sure land thou mayest be safe: but how wilt thou doe in the furious pride of Iordane?

6 For thy brethren and thy kinred haue altogether despised thee, and cried out vpon thee altogether: Beleeue them not though they speake faire wordes to thee.

7 As for mee, I say, I haue forsaken mine owne dwelling place, and left mine heritage: I haue giuen that my soule [b] loued so wel into the hand of her enemies.

b Her meaneth the citie, with the temple and the people whome he loued intirely.

8 Mine heritage is become vnto me as a Lion in the wood: it cried out vpon me, therefore haue I forsaken it.

9 Is not mine heritage vnto mee as a speckled birde? are not the birdes rounde about against her? Come and gather ye together all ye beastes of the fielde, come, that yee may eate it vp.

10 Diuers heardmen haue broken downe my vineyard, and troden vpon my portion: of my pleasant portion they haue made a wildernesse and desart.

11 They haue laid it waste, and now that it is waste, it lyeth vnto me: yea, the whole land lieth waste, and no man regardeth it.

12 The destroyers come ouer the borders in the desart euery way: for the sword of the Lord doeth consume from the one ende of the land to the other, and no flesh hath rest.

13 They haue sowen wheate, and reaped thornes, ‖ they haue taken heritage in possession, but it doth them no good: and they were ashamed of your fruites, because of the great wrath of the Lord.

‖ Some read, they were sicke and had no profite.

14 Thus saith the Lord vpon all my euill neighbours that lay hand on mine heritage which I haue possessed, euen my people of Israel, Beholde, I will plucke them namely Israel out of their lande, and put out the house of Iuda from among them.

15 And when I haue rooted them out, I will be at one with them againe, and I will haue mercie vpon them, and bring them againe euery man to his owne heritage, and into his land.

16 And if they, namely that trouble my people will learne the wayes of them to sweare by my Name, The Lorde liueth, like as they learned my people to sweare by Baal: then shall they be built among my people.

17 But if they will not obey, then will I roote out the same folke, and destroy them, saith the Lorde.

The xiij. Chapter.

1 The destruction of the Iewes is prefigured, and their sparsing abroade. 11 Why Israel was receiued to bee the people of God, and why they were forsaken.

THus saith the Lorde vnto mee, Go thy way, and get thee a linnen girdle, and girde it about thy loynes, let it not be wette.

2 Then I got mee a girdle, according to the commaundement of the Lord, and put it about my loynes.

3 After this, the seconde time the Lorde spake vnto me againe.

4 Take the girdle that thou hast prepared, and put about thee, and get thee vp, and goe vnto Euphrates, and hide it there in a hole of the rocke.

5 So went I, and hid it at Euphrates, as the Lord commaunded me.

6 And it happened long after this, that the Lorde spake vnto me, Vp, and get thee to Euphrates, and fetch the girdle from thence, which I commaunded thee to hide there.

7 Then went I to Euphrates, and digged vp, and tooke the girdle from the place where I had hid it: and beholde, the girdle was corrupt, so that it was profitable for nothing.

8 Then said the Lord vnto me,

9 Thus sayeth the Lorde, Euen so will I corrupt the pride of Iuda, and the high mind of Hierusalem.

10 This people is a wicked people, they will not heare my word, they follow the wicked imaginations of their owne heart, and hang vpon strange gods, them they serue and worship, and therefore they shall bee as this girdle that serueth for nothing.

11 For as straightly as a girdle cleaueth vpon a mans loynes, so straightly did I binde the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Iuda vnto mee, saith the Lorde, that they might bee my people, that they might haue a glorious name, that they might bee in honour: but they would not obey me.

12 Therefore say this riddle before them, and say, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Euery potte shall bee filled with wine. And they shall say vnto thee, Thinkest thou wee knowe not that euery pot shalbe filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lorde, Beholde, I shall fill all the inhabiters of this lande with drunkennesse, the Kings that sit vpon Dauids stoole, the priestes and prophets, with all that dwell at Hierusalem.

14 And I will set them one against another, yea, the fathers against the sonnes, saith the Lord, I wil not pardon them, I wil not spare them, nor haue pitie vpon them: but destroy them.

15 Heare, giue eare, take not disdaine at it: for it is the Lord himselfe that speaketh.

16 Honour the Lord your God or he take his light from you, & or euer your feete stumble in darkenesse at the hill: least when you looke for the light, hee turne it into the shadowe and darkenesse of death.

17 But if ye will not heare mee that giue you secret warning, I wil mourne from my Lamen.1.1. whole heart for your stubbernnesse: * Piteously will I weepe, and the teares shall gush out of mine eyes, for the Lords flocke shall be caried away captiue.

18 Tell the King and the Queene, Humble your selues, sit you downe lowe, for your dignitie shalbe throwen downe, & the crowne of your glory shall fall from your head.

19 The cities toward the South shall be shut vp, and no man shall open them: all Iuda shall be caried away captiue, so that none shall remaine.

20 Lift vp your eyes, and beholde them that come from the North: where is the flocke O thou land that was giuen thee? and where are thy fatte and rich sheepe?

21 To whome wilt thou make thy mone when the enemie shall come vpon thee? for thou hast taught them thy selfe, & made them masters ouer thee: shal not sorow come vpon thee as on a woman trauailing with childe?

22 And if thou wouldest then say in thine heart, wherefore come these thinges vpon mee? Euen for the multitude of thy blasphemies shall thy hinder partes and thy feete be discouered.

23 May a man of Inde change his skin, and the catte of the mountaine her spots? so, may ye that be exercised in euill, doe good.

24 Therefore will I scatter them like as the stubble that is taken away with the South winde.

25 This shall bee your portion, and the portion of your measure wherewith ye shall be rewarded of mee, saith the Lorde, because ye haue forgotten mee, and put your trust in deceitfull things.

26 Therefore shall I turne thy clothes ouer thy head, and discouer thy shame.

27 Thy adulteries, thy neyghings, thy shamefull whoredome on the hilles in the fieldes, and thy abominations haue I seene: woe be vnto thee (O Hierusalem) wilt thou neuer be cleansed any more? or when shall that bee?

The xiiij. Chapter.

Of the dearth that should come in Iurie. 7 The prayer of the people asking mercie of the Lorde. 10 The vnfaithfull people are not heard. 12 Of prayer, fasting, and of false prophets that seduce the people.

THe word of the Lord shewed vnto Ieremie, concerning the dearth of the fruites.

2 Iuda hath mourned, his gates are desolate, they are brought to heauines, euen vnto the ground, and the crie of Hierusalem goeth vp.

3 The lordes sent their seruants to fetche water, and when they came to the welles, they did finde no water, but caryed their vessels home emptie: they be ashamed and confounded, and couer their heads.

4 For the ground is dried, because there commeth no raine vpon it: the plowmen also be ashamed and couer their heads.

5 The Hinde also forsooke the yong fawne that shee brought foorth in the fielde, because there was no grasse.

6 The wilde asses did stande in the high places, and drew in their winde like the dragons, their eyes did faile for want of grasse.

7 Doubtlesse, our owne wickednesse doeth reward vs: but Lorde doe thou according to thy Name, though our transgressions and sinnes bee many, and against thee haue we sinned.

8 For thou art the comfort and helpe of Israel in the time of trouble: why wilt thou be as a stranger in the lande, and as one that goeth his iourney, and commeth onely to remaine for a night?

9 Why wilt thou make thy selfe a coward, eowarde, and as it were a gyant that yet may not helpe? But thou, O Lorde, art in the middest of vs, and thy Name is called vpon of vs, forsake vs not.

19 Thus hath the Lorde sayde vnto his people, Seeing they haue had such a lust to wander abroade, and haue not refrained their feete: therefore the Lorde hath no pleasure in them, but he will now bring againe to remembrance all their misdeedes, and punish all their sinnes.

21 Yea, euen thus sayde the Lorde vnto mee, * Thou shalt not pray to doe this people good. Iere. 7. 14.

22 For though they fast, I will not heare their prayers, and though they offer burnt offerings and sacrifices, yet I will not accept them: for I will destroye them with the sworde, hunger, and pestilence.

23 * Then answered I, O Lord God, the prophets say vnto them, Tush, ye shall neede to feare no sworde, and no hunger shall come vpon you: but the Lorde shall giue you sure rest in this place. Iere. 23. 21. and 27. 21. and 29. 8.

24 And the Lorde sayd vnto me, The prophets preach lyes in my Name, whereas I haue not sent them, neither gaue I them any charge, neither did I speake vnto them: yet they preach vnto you false visions, charming, vanitie, and deceitfulnesse of their owne heart.

25 Therefore thus saith the Lord, As for those prophetes that preache in my Name, whome I neuertheless haue not sent, and that say, Tush, there shall no sworde nor hunger be in this lande: with sworde and with hunger shall those prophets perish.

26 And the people to whome they preach, shall be cast out of Hierusalem, die of hunger, and be slaine with the sworde, and there shall bee no man to burie them, both they, and their wiues, their sonnes, and their daughters: for thus will I powre their wickednes vpon them.

27 This shalt thou say also vnto them, * Mine eyes shall weepe without ceassing day and night: for my people shall be destroyed with great harme, and shall perish with a great plague. Lamen. 1. 16. and 2. 18.

28 For if I goe into the fielde, loe, it lyeth all full of slaine men: If I come into the citie, loe, they bee all famished of hunger: yea, their prophets also and priestes shall be ledde into an vnknowen land.

29 Hast thou then vtterly forsaken Juda? Doest thou abhorre Sion? wherefore hast thou so plagued vs, that we can be healed no more? * we looked for peace, and there commeth no good, for the time of health, and loe, here is nothing but trouble. Iere. 8. 15. * The temple at Hierusalem is called the seate of Gods honour, because he had appointed that place wherein especially to be honoured, and there to shewe the tokens of his fauour and his presence.

30 We knowledge (O Lord) all our misdeedes, and the sinnes of our fathers: for we haue offended thee.

31 Cast vs not off (O Lorde) for thy Names sake, forget not thy louing kindnesse, ouerthrow not the * throne of thine honour, breake not the couenant that thou hast made with vs.

32 Are there any among the gods of the Gentiles that send raine, or giue the showres from heauen? Art not thou thy selfe our Lorde God? wee will trust in thee, for thou doest all these things. Deu. 32. 39.

The xvi. Chapter.

1 The Lorde will not heare Moses and Samuel if they pray for the people, but wil wrappe them in many miseries. 6 The cause of such great miseries.

THus spake the Lord vnto mee, Though Moses and Samuel stood before mee, yet haue I no heart to this people, driue them away, that they may goe out of my sight.

2 And if they say vnto thee, whither shall wee goe? then tell them, The Lorde giueth you this answere, * Some vnto death, some to the sworde, some to hunger, some into captiuitie. Zach. 11. 9.

3 For I will bring foure plagues vpon them, sayeth the Lorde, The sword shall slay them, the dogges shall teare them in pieces, the foules of the ayre and beastes of the earth shall eate them vp, and destroy them.

4 I will scatter them about also in all kingdoms and lands to be plagued, * because of Manasses the sonne of Ezechias king of Juda, for the things that hee did in Hierusalem. 4. Reg. 21. 11.

5 Who shall then haue pitie vpon thee, O Hierusalem? who shall bee sory for thee? Or who shall make intercession to obteine peace for thee?

6 Seeing thou goest from mee, and turnest backe warde, saith the Lorde, therefore I did stretch out my hand against thee to destroy thee, and I haue bene sorie for thee so long that I am wearie.

7 I haue scattered them abroad with the fanne on euery side of the lande, I haue wasted my people and destroyed them, yet they haue had no lust to turne from their owne wayes.

8 I haue made their widdowes moe in number then the sandes of the sea, vpon the mothers of their children did I bring a destroyer in the noone day: suddenly and vnwares did I sende a feare vpon their cities.

9 Shee that hath borne seuen children, hath none, her heart is full of sorowe, * the sunne doeth faile her in the cleare day, she is confounded and faintie for very beautinesse: As for those that remaine, I will deliuer them vnto the sworde before their enemies, saith the Lord. Amos 8. 9.

10 O mother, Alas that thou euer diddest beare mee, a brawler & rebuker of the whole lande: though I neuer lent nor receiued vpon vsurie, yet all men speake euil vpon me.

11 And the Lorde answered mee, Verily thy * remnant shall haue wealth: Come not I to thee when thou art in trouble, and helpe thee when thine enemie oppresseth thee? * By the remnant is meant the times toward the last end of his life, when God caused Nabuzaradan to shewe fauour vnto Jeremie, Jerem. 40.

12 Doeth one man hurt another? or one metall that commeth from the North, another?

13 As for thy riches and treasure, I will giue them out vnto a praye: not for money, but because of all thy sinnes that thou hast done in all thy coastes.

Deu.32.21. 14 *And I wil bring thee with thine enemies into a lande that thou knowest not: for the fire that is kindled in mine indignation shall burne you vp.

15 O Lorde, thou knowest, therefore remember mee, and visite mee, reuenge mee of my persecuters, take me not from this life in the time of thine anger: thou knowest that for thy sake I suffer rebuke.

16 When I had found thy wordes, I did eate them vp greedily, they haue made my heart ioyfull and glad, for thy Name was b called vpon me, O Lord God of hostes.

b I am called thy Prophet.

17 I dwell not among the scorners, neither is my delight therein: but I dwel alone because of thy hande, for thou hast filled mee with bitternesse.

18 Shal heauinesse endure for euer? Are my plagues then so great that they may neuer bee healed? wilt thou be as one that is false, and as a water that falleth, and cannot continue?

19 Vpon these wordes, thus sayde the Lorde vnto mee, If thou wilt turne againe, I shall set thee in my seruice, and if thou wilt take out the thing that is precious from the vile, thou shalt bee euen as my owne mouth: they shall conuert vnto thee, but turne not thou vnto them.

20 And so shall I make thee a strong brasen wall against this people, they shall fight against thee, but they shall not preuaile: for I my selfe will bee with thee, to helpe thee and deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

21 And I will rid thee out of the handes of the wicked, and deliuer thee out of the handes of tyrants.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth the miserie of the Iewes. 2 He sheweth that the worshipping of images, and the contempt of Gods lawe is cause of their miserie. 13 He prophecieth the captiuitie of Babylon, and their deliuerance from thence againe. 19 The calling of the Gentiles.

THus saith the Lord vnto me,

2 Thou shalt take thee no wife, nor beget children in this place.

3 For of the children that are borne in this place, of their mothers that haue borne them, and of their fathers that haue begotten them in this lande, thus saith the Lord,

4 They shal die an horrible death, no man shall weepe for them, nor burie them, but they shall lye as doung vpon the earth: they shall perish through the swords and hunger, and their bodies shall be meate for the foules of the ayre, and beastes of the earth.

5 For thus saith the Lorde, Goe not thou into the house of mourning, nor come to mourne and weepe for them: for I haue taken my peace from this people, saieth the Lord, yea, my fauour and my mercies.

6 And in this lande shall they die olde and yong, and shall not bee buried: no man shall beweep them, no man shall clippe or shaue himselfe for them.

7 They shall not wring their handes in mourning wise on their dead, one to comfort another: one shall not offer another the cup of consolation to forget their heauinesse for their father and mother.

8 Thou shalt not goe into their feast house, to sit downe to eate or drinke with them.

9 For thus saith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I shall take away out of this place the voyce of myrth and gladnesse, the voyce of the bridegrome and of the bride, yea, and that in your dayes, that yee may see it.

10 * Nowe when thou shewest this people all these wordes, and they say vnto thee, wherefore hath the Lorde deuised all this great plague for vs? or what is the offence and sinne that wee haue done against the Lord our God? Iere.5.19.

11 Then make thou them this answere, Because your fathers haue forsaken mee, sayeth the Lorde, and haue walked after strange gods, whome they honoured and worshipped, but mee haue they forsaken, and haue not kept my Lawe:

12 *And ye with your shamefull blasphemies haue exceeded the wickednesse of your fathers: for euery one of you hath followed the frowarde and euill imaginations of his owne heart, and is not obedient vnto me, Iere.7.26.

13 * Therefore will I cast you out of this lande, into a lande that yee and your fathers knowe not: and there shall yee serue strange gods day and night, there will I shewe you no fauour. Iere.22.8.

14 Beholde therefore, saith the Lord, the dayes are come that it shall no more be saide, The Lord liueth which brought the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt:

15 But it shall be saide, The Lorde liueth that brought the children of Israel from the North, and from all landes where hee had scattered them: for I will bring them againe into the land that I gaue their fathers.

16 Beholde, saith the Lorde, I will sende out many Fishers to take them, and after that will I send out many Hunters, to hunt them from all mountaines and hilles, and out of the caues of stone.

17 For mine eyes behold all their wayes, and they can not be hid from my face: neither can their wicked deedes bee kept close out of my sight.

18 But first will I sufficiently reward their shamefull blasphemies and sinnes, because they haue defiled my lande with their stinking carions and their abominations, wherewith a Gods iustice done according to his word, although wicked men iudge that in vain, which is, that is, abhorred and much blasphemed of God.

where with they haue filled mine heritage.

19 O Lorde my strength, my power and refuge in time of trouble: the Gentiles shall come vnto thee from the endes of the world, and say, Verely our fathers haue cleaued vnto lyes, their idoles are but vaine and vnprofitable.

20 Howe can a man make those his gods, which are not able to be gods?

21 And therefore I will once teach them, sayeth the Lorde, I will shewe them my hand and my power, and they shall knowe that my name is the Lord.

The xvij. Chapter.

1 The frowardnesse of the Iewes. 5 Cursed be those that put their confidence in man, and those blessed that trust in God. 9 Mans heart is wicked. 10 God is the searcher of the heart. 13 The liuing waters are forsaken. 21 The hallowing of the Sabboth is commaunded.

YOur sinne, O yee of the tribe of Iuda, is written in the table of your heartes, and grauen vpon the edges of your altars with a penne of yron, and with an Adamant clawe:

2 That as the fathers thinke vpon their children, so thinke you also vpon your altars, woodes, thicke trees, high hilles, mountaines, and fieldes.

3 Wherefore, O my mount that standeth in the fielde, I will make all thy substance and treasure to be spoyled, for the great sinne that thou hast done vpon thy high places, throughout all the coastes of thy land.

4 Thou shalt be cast out also from the heritage that I gaue thee: and I will subdue thee vnder the heauie bondage of thine enemies, in a lande that yee knowe not: for yee haue ministred fire to mine indignation, which shall burne euermore.

5 Thus sayeth the Lorde, Cursed be the man that putteth his trust in man, and that taketh flesh for his arme, and he whose heart departeth from the Lord.

6 He shall bee like the heath that groweth in wildernesse: As for the good thing that is for to come, he shall not see it, but dwell in a drie place of the wildernesse, in a salt and vnoccupied land.

7 O blessed is the man that putteth his trust in the Lorde, and whose hope is in the Lord himselfe.

Psal. 1.3. 8 *For he shall be as a tree that is planted by the water side, which spreadeth out the roote vnto moystnesse, whom the heate can not harme when it commeth, but his leafe shall be greene: And though there growe but litle fruite because of drouth, yet is hee not careful, but he neuer leaueth off to bring foorth fruite.

9 Among all things, man hath the most deceitfull and stubburne heart: who shall then knowe it?

Reuel. 2.23. psal. 7.10. 10 Euen I the Lord *search out the ground of the heart, and try the reines, and rewarde euery man according to his wayes, and according to the fruite of his workes.

11 The Partriche maketh a nest of egges, which she layde not: hee commeth by riches, but not righteously, in the middest of his life must he leaue them behinde him, and at the last be found a very foole.

12 But thou (O Lorde) whose throne is most glorious, excellent, and of most antiquitie, which dwellest in the place of our holy rest:

13 Thou art the comfort of Israel, all they that forsake thee shall be confounded, all they that doe depart from thee shalbe written in earth: for they haue forsaken the Lorde, the very conduite of the waters of life.

14 Heale me, O Lorde, and I shall bee whole: saue thou me, and I shall be saued: for thou art my praise.

15 Behold, these men say vnto me, where is the word of the Lord? let it come nowe.

16 Whereas I neuertheless obediently followed thee as a shepheard, and haue not vncalled taken this office vpon me, this knowest thou well: my wordes also were right before thee.

17 Bee not thou terrible vnto me, O Lord: for thou art hee in whom I hope when I am in perill.

18 Let my persecutours be confounded, but not me: let them be afraide, and not me: Thou shalt bring vpon them the time of plague, and shalt destroy them right sore.

19 Thus hath the Lorde saide vnto me, Goe and stand vnder the gate wherethorow the people and the kings of Iuda go out and in, yea vnder all the gates of Hierusalem,

20 And say vnto them, Heare the word of the Lord, ye kings of Iuda, and all thou people of Iuda, and all the citizens of Hierusalem that goe thorowe this gate, 21 Thus the Lord commaundeth, Take heede for your liues that ye carie no burden vpon you in the Sabboth, to bring it thorowe the gates of Hierusalem.

22 Ye shall beare no burden also out of your houses in the Sabboth, you shal doe no labour therein: but hallowe the Sabboth, as I commanded your fathers.

23 Howbeit they obeyed me not, neither hearkened they vnto me: but were obstinate and stubburne, and neither obeyed me, nor receiued my correction.

24 Neuertheless, if ye will heare me, saith the Lorde, and beare no burden into the citie thorowe this gate vpon the Sabboth, if ye will halowe the Sabboth, so that ye doe no worke therein:

25 Then shall there goe thorow the gates of this citie kings and princes, that shall sit vpon the throne of Dauid, they shall be carried vpon charets, and ride vpon horses, both they and their princes: yea whole Iuda, and all the citizens of Hierusalem shall goe herethorow, and this citie shal euer be inhabited.

26 There

26 There shall come men also from the cities of Juda, from about Hierusalem, and from the land of Beniamin, from the plaine fieldes, from the mountaines, and from the wildernesse; which shall bring whole burnt offerings, sacrifices, oblations, and incense, and offer vp thankesgiuing in the house of the Lord.

27 But if ye will not be obedient vnto me, to hallow the Sabboth, so that ye will beare your burdens thorowe the gates of Hierusalem vpon the Sabboth: then shall I set fire vpon the gates of Hierusalem, and it shall burne vp the houses of Hierusalem, and no man shall be able to quench it.

The xviij. Chapter.

1 God sheweth by the example of a potter that it is in his power to destroy the despisers of his worde, and to helpe them againe when they amend. 18 The conspiracie of the Iewes against Ieremie. 19 His prayer against his aduersaries.

THis is another communication that God had with Ieremie, saying,

2 Arise and goe downe into the potters house, and there shall I tell thee more of my mind.

3 Nowe when I came to the potters house, I found him making his worke vpon a wheele.

4 The vessell that the potter made of clay brake among his handes: So hee beganne a newe, and made another vessell according to his mind.

5 Then said the Lord thus vnto me,

6 May not I doe with you as this potter doeth, O yee house of Israel, sayeth the Lorde? Beholde, ye house of Israel, ye are in my hande, euen as the clay is in the potters hand.

Rom.9.20. esay 45.9. 7 *When I take in hand to roote out, to destroy, or to waste away any people or kingdome:

Iere.1.10. 8 *If that people against whom I haue thus deuised, conuert from their wickednesse, I repent of the plague that I deuised to bring vpon them.

9 Againe, when I take in hand to builde or to plant a people or a kingdome:

10 If the same people doe euill before me, and heare not my voyce, I repent of the good that I haue deuised for them.

11 Speake nowe therefore vnto whole Juda, and to them that dwell at Hierusalem, Thus sayth the Lorde, Beholde, *I am Iere.25.5. and 35.10. ionas 3.9. deuising a plague for you, and am taking a thing in hand against you: therefore let euery man turne from his euill way, and take vpon you the thing that is good and right.

12 But they saide, No more of this, wee will followe our owne imaginations, and doe euery man according to the wilfulnesse of his owne mind.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lorde, Aske among the heathen if any man haue heard such horrible things, as the mayden Israel hath done?

14 Will a man forsake the snowe of Libanus, which commeth from the rocke of the fielde? Or shall the cold flowing waters that come from another place be forsaken? It is ye same made ners to signifie God the auctor of fresh flowing of pure pleasant waters, who is nigh at hand, and to goe farre off is to forsake him and flitte awaye.

15 But my people hath forgotten me, they haue made sacrifice in vaine, and their prophets make them fall in their wayes from the ancient pathes, and to go into a way not vsed to be troden of iust men. Whereon there is nothing but vncleane and stinking water.

16 *Wherethrough they haue brought their lande into an euerlasting wildernesse & scorne: so that whosoeuer trauaileth thereby shalbe abashed, and wagge their heads. Iere.19.8. and 49.10.

17 With an East winde will I scatter them before their enemies: and when their destruction commeth, I wil turne my backe vpon them, but not my face.

18 Then saide they, Come, let vs imagine some thing against this Jeremie: for the priestes shall not be destitute of the lawe, neither shall ye wise men be destitute of counsell, nor the prophetes destitute of the worde of God: Come, and let vs smite him with the tongue, and let vs not marke all his wordes.

19 Consider me, O Lorde, and heare the voyce of mine enemies.

20 Shall they recompense euill for good? for they haue digged a pit for my soule: Remember howe that I stoode before thee to speake good for them, and to turne away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore let their children die of hunger, and let them bee oppressed with the sworde: let their wiues be robbed of their children and become widowes, let their husbands be slaine, let their yong men be killed with the sword in the fielde.

22 Let the noise be heard out of their houses when thou bringest the murderer suddenly vpon them: for they haue digged a pit to take me, and laid snares for my feete.

23 Yet Lord thou knowest all their counsel, that they haue deuised to slay me, forgiue not their wickednes, and let not their sinnes be put out of thy sight, but let them be iudged before thee as guiltie: this doe thou vnto them in the time of thine indignation.

The xix. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth the destruction of Hierusalem, for the contempt and despising of the word of God.

THus sayeth the Lorde, Goe thy way and buy thee an earthen pitcher, and bring foorth the senatours, and chiefe priestes.

2 Vnto the valley of the children of Hennom, which lyeth without the East gate, and shewe them there the wordes that I shall tell thee,

3 And say thus vnto them, Heare the worde of the Lorde, ye kings of Juda, and ye citizens of Hierusalem, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel: Beholde, I will bring such a plague vpon this place, that the eares eares of all that heare it shall glowe:

4 And that because they haue forsaken me and vnhalowed this place, and haue offred in it vnto strange gods, whom neither they, their fathers, nor the kings of Juda haue knowen: they haue filled this place also with the blood of innocents.

5 And they haue set vp an altar vnto Baal, to burne their children for a burnt offring vnto Baal, which I neither commaunded nor charged them, neither thought once thereupon.

6 Beholde therefore, the time commeth (sayth the Lord) that this place shall no more be called Thopheth, nor the valley of the children of Hennom: but the valley of slaughter.

7 For in this place wil I bring to nought the counsel of Juda and Hierusalem, and kil them downe with ỹ sworde before their enemies, and I wil deliuer them into the hands of them that seeke their liues, and their dead carkeises will I giue to be meate for ỹ fowles of the ayre, and the beastes of the fielde.

Iere.18.16. 8 *And I will make this citie so desolate and despised, that whosoeuer goeth thereby shall be abashed, and iest vpon her, because of all her plagues.

9 I will feede them also with the flesh of their sonnes and their daughters, yea, euery one shal eate vp one another in the besieging and straightnesse wherewith their enemies that seeke their liues shall keepe them in.

10 And the pitcher shalt thou breake in the sight of the men that goe with thee, 11 And say vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, Euen so will I destroy this people and citie, as a man breaketh an earthen vessell that cannot bee made whole againe: in Thopheth shall they be buried, for they shall haue none other place.

12 Thus will I doe vnto this place also saith the Lord, and to them that dwell therein, yea, I wil make this citie as Thopheth.

13 For the houses of Hierusalem, and the houses of the kings of Juda, shall be defiled like as Thopheth, and so shall all the houses in whose roofes they did sacrifice vnto all the hoste of heauen, and powred drinke offrings vnto strange gods.

14 And so Jeremie came from Thopheth, where the Lorde had sent him to prophecie, and stoode in the court of the house of the Lord, and spake to all the people, 15 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring vpon this citie, and vpon euery towne about it, all the plagues that I haue deuised against them, because they haue bene obstinate, and would not obey my warnings.

The xx. Chapter.

3 Ieremie is smitten, and cast into prison, for preaching of the word of God. 4 Hee prophecieth the captiuitie of Babylon. 7 Hee complaineth that he is a mocking stocke for the word of God. 9 He is compelled by the spirit to preach the word.

WHen Phashur the Priest, the sonne of Emmer, chiefe in the house of the Lord, heard Jeremie preach these wordes so stedfastly, 2 Hee smote Jeremie, and put him in the prison that is in the high gate of Beniamin, towards the house of the Lord.

3 The next day following, Phashur brought Jeremie out of the prison againe: Then said Jeremie vnto him, The Lord hal call thee no more Phashur, that is, excellent and encreasing, but Magor, that is, feareful and afraide euery where.

4 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I wil make thee afraide, euen thy selfe, and all that fauour thee, which shal perish with ỹ sworde of their enemies, euen before thy face, and I will giue whole Juda into the handes of the king of Babylon, which shall carry some vnto Babylon prisoners, and slay some with the sword.

5 Moreouer, al the substance of the citie, whatsoeuer they haue gotten with their trauell, all their precious things, & all the treasure of the kings of Juda, will I giue into the hands of their enemies, which shal spoile them, and carry them vnto Babylon.

6 But as for thee (O Phashur) thou shalt goe into captiuitie with al thy houshold, and to Babylō shalt thou come, where thou shalt dye, and be buried, thou and all thy fauourers, to whom thou hast preached lies.

7 O Lord, if I am deceiued, then hast thou [a] deceiued me, thou enforcedst me, and hast preuailed: dayly am I despised, and laughed to scorne of euery man.

[a] The Prophet assureth the trueth of his doctrine, against the slanderer: for it is the word of God, who can not deceiue nor be deceiued.

8 For since I began to preach, I cried out against violence, and exclaymed against oppression: for the which cause they cast the worde of the Lord in my teeth, to my reproch continually.

9 Wherefore I thought from henceforth not to speake of him, nor to preach any more in his name, but the worde of the Lord was a very burning fire in my heart, and in my bones, which when I woulde haue stopped, I might not.

10 Verely I heard the euill reports of many, terrour was on euery side of me: [b] complaine vpon him, say they, and we wil tel his tale: yea, all mine owne companions, and such as were conuersant with me, lay in waite for my halting, saying, Peraduenture he will be deceiued, and so shall we preuaile against him, and be auenged of him.

[b] The Priests and such as were in authoritie with the king, stirred vp the people to watch narrowly Jeremies sayings, if they could finde him to halt in any thing wherefore they might accuse him to the king.

11 But the Lord stood by me like a mightie Giant, therefore my persecutors fell, and could doe nothing: they shalbe sore confounded, for they haue done vnwisely, they shall haue an euerlasting shame, which shal neuer be forgotten.

12 And now, *O Lord of hosts, that triest the righteous, which knowest ỹ reines and the very hearts, let me see them punished: for vnto thee I haue declared my cause. Psal.7.10.

13 Sing

13 Sing vnto the Lorde, and praise him, for he hath deliuered the soule of the oppressed from the hand of the violent.

Iob.3.3. 14 * Cursed bee the day wherein I was borne, vnhappie be the day wherein my mother brought me forth.

15 Cursed bee the man that brought my father the tidings to make him glad, saying, Thou hast begotten a sonne:

16 Let it happen vnto that man, as to the cities c which ỹ Lord turned vpside downe, and repented not: let him heare crying in the morning, and at noone day lamentable howling.

17 Why slewest thou not me as soone as I came out of my mothers wombe? or that my mother had bene my graue her selfe, that the birth might not haue come out, but remained still in her?

18 Wherefore came I forth of my mothers wombe, to haue experience of labour and sorowe, and to leade my life with shame?

c The most godly men are sometimes caried away vp the vnruly rage of immoderate affection, albeit in this Prophet the cause of his immoderate zeale was, for that he sawe his trauaile to saue the people to be in vaine, Gods worde contemned, & all godlinesse scornefully despised.

The xxj. Chapter.

Hee prophecieth that Zedecias shalbe taken, and the citie burned.

THese are the wordes that the Lorde spake vnto Ieremie, what time as king Zedecias sent vnto him Phashur the sonne of Melchias, and Sophonias the sonne of Maasias Priest, saying,

2 Aske counsell at the Lord, we pray thee, on our behalfe, for Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon besiegeth vs: if the Lorde peraduenture will deale with vs according to his marueilous power, and take him from vs.

3 Then spake Ieremie, Giue Zedecias this answere:

4 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Beholde, I will turne backe the weapons that ye haue in your handes, wherewith ye fight against the king of Babylon and the Chaldees, which besiege you rounde about the walles, and I will bring them together into the middest of this citie.

5 And I my selfe will fight against you, with an outstretched hand, and with a mightie arme, in great displeasure and terrible wrath:

6 And will smite them that dwell in this citie, yea, both men and cattell shall dye of a great pestilence.

7 But after this, (saith the Lorde) I shall deliuer Zedecias king of Juda, and his seruants, his people, and such as are escaped in the citie, from the pestilence, sword, and hunger, into the power of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, yea into the handes of their enemies, into the handes of those that followe vpon their liues, which shal smite them with the sword, they shall not pitie them, they shal not spare them, they shall haue no mercy vpon them.

8 And vnto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the Lord, *Beholde, I lay before Iere. 38.2. you the way of life and death.

9 Whoso abideth in the citie, shall perish either with the sword, with hunger, or pestilence: but who so goeth out to holde on the Chaldees part that besiege it, he shal saue his life, and shall winne his soule for a pray.

10 For I haue set my face against this citie (saith the Lorde) to plague it, and to doe it no good: it must bee giuen into the hande of the king of Babylon, and be burnt with fire.

11 And vnto the house of the king of Juda say thus, Heare the word of the Lord:

12 O thou house of Dauid, * thus saieth Iere.22.3. the Lorde, Minister righteousnesse, and that soone, deliuer the oppressed from violent power, or euer my terrible wrath breake out like a fire, and burne, so that no man may quench it, because of the wickednesse of your imaginations.

13 Beholde, saith the Lorde, I will come vpon thee that dwellest in the valleyes, rockes, and fieldes, and say, Tush, who will make vs afraide? or who will come into our houses?

14 For I will visit you, saith the Lord, because of the wickednesse of your inuentions, and will kindle such a fire in your wood, as shall consume all that is about you.

The xxij. Chapter.

2 He exhorteth the king of Iuda to iudgement and righteousnesse. 9 Why Hierusalem is brought into captiuitie. 11 The death of Sellum the sonne of Iosias is prophecied.

THus saith the Lord, Go downe into the house of the king of Juda, and speake there this worde,

2 And say, Heare the worde of the Lord, thou king of Juda, that sittest in the kingly seate of Dauid, thou, and thy seruants, and thy people, that goeth in and out at these gates.

3 Thus the Lorde commandeth, *Keepe Iere.23.11. equitie and righteousnesse, deliuer the oppressed from the power of the violent, doe not grieue nor oppresse the stranger, the fatherlesse, nor the widowe, and shead no innocent blood in this place.

4 And if ye keepe these things faithfully, then shall there come in at the doore of this house, kings to sit vpon Dauids seate, they shall be caried in charets, and ride vpon horses, both they, and their seruants, and their people.

5 But if yee will not bee obedient vnto these commaundements, I sweare by mine owne selfe, saith the Lorde, this house shall be waste.

6 For thus hath the Lorde spoken vpon the kings of Juda, Thou Gilead art vnto me the head of Libanus: shall I not make thee so waste as the cities that no man dwell in?

7 I wil prepare a destroyer with his weapons for thee, to hewe downe thy especiall

Cedar

Cedar trees, and to cast them in the fire.

8 And all the people that go by this citie, shal speake one to another, *Wherefore hath the Lord done thus vnto this noble citie?

Deu.29.24 1.king.9.8.

9 Then shal it be answered, Because they haue broken the couenant of the Lord their God, and haue worshipped & serued strange gods.

10 Mourne not ouer the dead, and be not woe for them: but be sory for him that departeth away, for hee commeth not againe, and seeth his native countrey no more.

11 For thus sayth the Lorde as touching Sellum the sonne of Iosias king of Juda, which reigned after his father, when he is carryed out of this place, he shall neuer come hither againe.

12 For he shall dye in the place whereunto he is ledde captiue, and shall see this lande no more.

13 Wo worth him that buildeth his house with vnrighteousnesse, & his parlours with the good that hee hath gotten by violence, which neuer recompenseth his neighbours labour, nor payeth him his hyre:

14 who thinketh in himselfe, I wil build me a wide house & gorgeous parlours, who causeth windowes to be hewed therein, and the seelings and ioystes maketh he of Cedar, and painteth them with Sinoper.

15 Thinkest thou to reigne nowe, that thou hast inclosed thy selfe with Cedar? Did not thy father eate and drinke and prosper well, as long as hee dealt with equitie and righteousnesse:

16 Yea: when he helped the oppressed and poore to their right, then prospered he well: from whence came this, but only because he knew me, sayth the Lord?

17 Neuertheless, as for thine eyes & thine heart they looke vpon couetousnesse, to shed innocent blood, to do wrong and violence.

18 And therefore thus sayth the Lorde against Jehoacim the sonne of Iosias king of Juda, They shall not mourne for him as they vse to doe, Alas brother, alas sister: neither shal they say vnto him, Alas syr, alas for that noble prince.

19 But as an Asse shall he be buryed, eorrupt, and be cast without the gates of Hierusalem.

20 Clime vp the hill of Libanus, O thou daughter Sion, lift vp thy voyce vpon Basan, cry from all partes: for all thy louers are destroyed.

21 I gaue thee warning whyle thou wast yet in prosperitie: but thou saydest, I shal not heare: And this maner hast thou vsed from thy youth, that thou wouldest neuer heare my voyce.

22 All thy heardmen shalbe driuen with the winde, and thy darlings shalbe caried away into captiuitie: then shalt thou bee brought to shame and confusion, because of all thy wickednesse.

23 Thou that dwellest vpon Libanus, and makest thy nest in the Cedar trees, O howe litle shalt thou bee regarded when thy sorow and pangs come vpon thee, as vpon a woman trauailing with childe?

24 As truely as I liue, sayth the Lorde, Though ‖Cononias the sonne of Jehoacim king of Juda were ẏ signet of my right hand, yet will I plucke him off.

‖Or, Iechonias.

25 And I will giue thee into the hand of them that seeke thy life, and into the power of them that thou fearest, euen into the power of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, and into the power of the Chaldees.

26 Moreouer, I will send thee & thy mother that bare thee into a strang land where ye were not borne, and there shall ye dye.

27 But as for the land that ye wil desire to returne vnto, ye shal neuer come at it againe.

28 This man Cononias shall bee like an image robbed and torne in pieces, and like a vessell wherein there is no pleasure: wherefore both he and his seede shall be sent away, and cast into a land that they know not.

29 O thou earth, earth, earth, heare the worde of the Lord.

30 Thus saith the Lord, Write this man destitute of children: for no prosperitie shall this man haue all his dayes, neither shall any of his seede be so happie as to sit vpon the seate of Dauid, and to beare rule any more in Juda.

The xxiij. Chapter.

1 He speaketh against euill Curates that make hauocke of the flocke of the Lord. 5 The comming of the true shepearde Christ is prophecied. 9 Against false prophets. 32 The miracles of false prophets.

WOe vnto the * Shepheardes that destroy and scatter my flocke, sayth the Lord. Ezec.34.2.

2 Wherefore this is the saying of the Lord God of Israel concerning the Shepheardes that feede my people, Ye scatter and thrust out my flock, and looke not vpon them: therefore now will I visite the wickednesse of your imaginations, sayth the Lord.

3 * And I will gather together the remnant of my flocke from all landes that I had driuen them vnto, and will bring them againe to their foldes, that they may growe and increase. Eze.34.13

4 I will set Shepheards alloouer them, which shall feede them: they shall no more feare and dread, and there shal none of them be lost, sayth the Lord.

5 * Beholde, the time commeth, sayth the Lorde, that I will rayse vp the righteous branch of Dauid, which king shal beare rule, and he shal prosper with wisedome, and shall set vp equitie and righteousnesse againe in the earth. The Epistle on the xx. sunday after Trinitie. Iere.33.14. esay.4.2.

6 * In his time shall Juda be saued, and Israel shall dwel without feare: and this is the name that they shal call him, The Lorde our righteousnesse. Deu.33.28

7 And therefore behold, the time commeth, sayth

sayth the Lord, that it shalbe no more sayde, The Lord liueth which brought the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt:

Ier. 16. 13. 8 But * the Lord liueth, which brought forth and led the seede of the house of Israel out of the North land, and from al countries where I had scattered them: and they shall dwell in their owne land againe.

9 My heart breaketh in my body because of the false prophets, al my bones shake, I am become like a drunken man, that by the reason of wine can take no rest for very feare of the Lord, and his holy words,

10 Because the land is full of adulterers, and through swearing it mourneth, and the pleasant pastures of the desart are dryed vp: yea the way that men take is wicked, their power is nothing right.

11 For the prophets and the priests themselues are polluted hypocrites, and their wickednesse haue I found in my house, saith the Lord.

12 Wherefore their way shalbe slippery in the darknes wherein they may stacker & fall: for I wil bring a plague vpon them, euen the yeere of their visitation, sayth the Lord.

13 I haue seene folly among the prophets of Samaria that preached for Baal, and deceiued my people of Israel.

14 I haue seene also among the prophets of Hierusalem foule adulterie, and presumptuous lyes: they take the most shameful men by the hand, flattering them, so that they can not returne from their wickednesse, all these with their citizens are vnto me as Sodome, and as the inhabiters of Gomorrhe.

Iere. 9. 25. 15 * Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes concerning these prophets, Behold, I wil feede them with wormewood, and make them drinke the water of gall: for from the prophets of Hierusalem is hypocrisie come into all the land.

16 And therefore the Lord of hosts giueth you this warning, Heare not the wordes of the prophets that preach vnto you, & deceiue you, truely they teache you vanitie: for they speake the meaning of their owne heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They say vnto them that despise mee, The Lord hath spoken it, Tush, ye shall prosper right well: and vnto all them that walke after the lust of their owne heart, they say, Tush, there shal no misfortune happen you.

18 For who hath sitten in the counsell of the Lord, that he hath heard and vnderstand what he is about to doe? who hath marked his deuice, and heard it?

19 Beholde, the stormie weather of the Lord, that is, his indignation shall goe forth, and a violent whirle winde shall fall downe vpon the head of the vngodly.

20 And the wrath of the Lorde shall not turne againe, vntil he performe and fulfill ye thought of his heart: and in the latter dayes ye shall know this meaning.

Iere. 14. 13. and 27. 21. 21 * I haue not sent these prophetes saith the Lord, and yet they ran, I haue not spoken to them, and yet they preached.

22 But if they had continued in my counsell, they had opened to my people my words, and they had turned my people from their euill wayes and wicked imaginations.

23 Am I then God that seeth but ye thing which is nigh at hand, and not that is farre off, sayth the Lord?

24 May any man hide himselfe so, that I shal not see him, sayth the Lord? do not I fulfill heauen and earth, sayth the Lord?

25 I haue heard well ynough what the prophets say that preache lyes in my name, saying, I haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.

26 Howe long will this continue in the prophetes heart to tell lyes, and preache the craftie subtiltie of their owne heart?

27 Whose purpose is with the dreames that euery one tell, to make my people forget my name, as their fathers did when Baal came vp.

28 The prophet that hath a dreame, let him tell it, and hee that vnderstandeth my worde, let him shewe it faithfully: for what hath chaffe and wheate to do together, sayth the Lord?

29 Is not my worde like a fire, sayth the Lord, and like an hammer that breaketh the hard stone?

30 Therfore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I wil vpon the prophets that steale my word priuily from euery man.

31 Beholde, here am I, sayth the Lorde, against the prophetes that make tongues tender to speake, and to say, The Lorde hath sayde it.

32 Beholde, here am I, sayth the Lord, against those prophets that dare prophecie lying dreames, & deceiue my people with their vanitie and inconstant deuices, yet I neuer sent nor commanded them: they shal doe this people no good at all, sayth the Lord.

33 If this people, eyther any prophet or priest aske thee, and say, What is the * burden of the Lord? Thou shalt say vnto them, What burden? I will forsake you, sayth the Lorde.

34 And the prophet, priest, or people, that vseth this terme, The burden of the Lorde: him will I visite, and his house also.

35 But thus shal ye say euery one to another, and euery man to his brother, What answere hath the Lord giuen? or what is the Lordes commandement?

36 And as for the burden of the Lorde, ye shall speake no more of it, for euery mans owne worde is his burden: because ye haue altered the wordes of the liuing God, the Lord of hostes our God.

37 Thus shall euery man say to the prophets, What answere hath the Lorde giuen thee? or what sayth the Lord?

38 And not once to name the burden of the Lord. Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde, For as much as ye haue vsed this terme,

* The wicked seeme prouerbes here to be vsed against the truth, & they vsed scornefully to scoffe at Gods threatning prophecies in mockage, calling them Gods farthe or burden.

(The

(The burden of the Lorde) whereas I notwithstanding sent vnto you, and forbade you to speake of the Lordes burden:

39 Beholde, therefore I will take you vp as a burden, and will cast you farre off from my presence, yea, & the citie also that I gaue you and your fathers:

40 *And will bring you to an euerlasting confusion, and into a shame that shall neuer be forgotten. Ier.20.11.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

1 The vision of the two paniers of figs. 5 The first vision signifieth, that part of the people should be brought againe from captiuitie: 8 the second, that Zedecias and the rest of the people should be destroyed.

THe Lord shewed me a vision: Beholde, there stood two maunds of figges before the Temple of the Lorde, after that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had ledde away captiue Iechonias the sonne of Iehoacim king of Iuda, the mightie men also of Iuda, with the workemasters and cunning men of Hierusalem, vnto Babylon.

2 In the one maunde were verie good figs, euen like those that bee first ripe: in the other maund were very naughtie figs, which might not bee eaten, they were so euill.

3 Then said the Lord vnto me, What seest thou Ieremie? I sayd, Figs, whereof some be very good, and some so euill that no man may eate them.

4 Then came the word of the Lorde vnto me, after this maner:

5 Thus saieth the Lorde God of Israel, Like as thou knowest the good figs: so shal I know the men led away, whom I haue sent out of this place, into ꝑ land of the Chaldees for their profit:

6 And I will set mine eyes vpon them for the best, for I will bring them againe into this land, I will build them vp, & not breake them downe, I wil plant them, and not root them out.

7 *I will giue the an heart to know how that I am the Lord, they shall bee my people, and I will be their God: for they shall return vnto me with their whole heart. Ier.13.3.

8 *And like as thou knowest the naughtie figs which may not be eaten, they are so euil: euen so will I, saith the Lord, cause Zedecias the king of Iuda, yea, & all his princes, and the residue of Hierusalem that remaine ouer in this land, and them also that dwel in Egypt, to be vexed and plagued in kingdoms and lands. Ier.29.17.

9 And I will make them to be a reproofe, a common byworde, a laughing stocke and shame in all the places where I shall scatter them.

10 I wil send the sword, hunger, and pestilence among them, vntill I haue cleane consumed them out of the land that I gaue vnto them and their fathers.

The xxv. Chapter.

Ieremie prophecieth that they shall be in captiuitie threescore and ten yeeres, because they contemned and despised the word of God.

A Sermon that was giuen vnto Ieremie vpon all the people of Iuda, in the fourth yeere of Iehoacim the sonne of Iosias king of Iuda (that was in the first yeere of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon,)

2 Which sermon Ieremie the Prophete made vnto all the people of Iuda, and to all the inhabiters of Hierusalem, on this maner,

3 From the thirteenth yeere of Iosias the sonne of Amon king of Iuda, vnto this present day (that is euen twentie & three yeres) the word of the Lord hath beene committed vnto me, and so haue I spoken vnto you, I haue risen vp early, I haue giuen you warning in season: but ye would not heare me.

4 Though the Lorde hath sent his seruaunts all the Prophets vnto you in season: yet would ye not obey, ye would not encline your eares to heare.

5 He saide, *Turne againe euery man from his euill way, and from your wicked imaginations, and so shall ye dwell for euer in the land that the Lorde promised you and your forefathers. 4.King.17. 13. iohn 3.3.

6 And goe not after strange gods, serue them not, worship them not, and anger me not with the workes of your owne handes, then will I not punish you.

7 Neuertheless, ye would not heare me, saith the Lorde, but haue prouoked me to anger with the workes of your handes, to your great harme.

8 Wherefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Because yee haue not hearkened vnto my worde, 9 Loe, I will send out, and call for all the people that dwell in the North, sayeth the Lord, and will prepare Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon my seruant, and will bring them vpon this land, and vpon all that dwell therein, and vpon all the people that are about them, and will vtterly roote them out: I will make them amazed, a mocking, and a continuall desart.

10 Moreouer, I will take from them the voyce of gladnesse and solace, the voyce of the bridegrome, & the bride, the noise of the millstones, and the light of the candlestick.

11 And this whole lande shall become a wildernesse, and astonished: and these nations shall serue the king of Babylon threescore yeeres and tenne.

12 *When the threescore and tenne yeeres are expired, I will visite all the wickednes of the king of Babylon, and his people, sayeth the Lorde, yea, and the land of the Chaldees, and will make it a perpetuall wildernesse, Iere. 26.10. 2.chr. 36.2. 1.esdr. 1.1. dan. 9.2.

13 And wil fulfil all my wordes vpon that land which I haue deuised against it: yea, all that is written in this booke, which Ieremie hath prophecied of all people.

14 So that they also shalbe subdued vnto diuers nations and great kings: for I wil recompence them according to their deedes and workes of their owne hands.

15 For thus hath the Lord God of Israel spoken vnto mee, *Take this wine cup of indignation fro my hande, that thou mayest cause all people to whom I send thee, for to drinke of it: Apo.16.19.

16 That when they haue drunken thereof, they may be mad, and out of their wittes, when the sworde commeth that I will sende among them.

17 Then tooke I the cup from the Lordes hand, and made all people to drinke thereof, vnto whom the Lord had sent me:

18 But first the citie of Hierusalem, and all the cities of Iuda, their kings and princes, to make them desolate, amazed, despised, and hissed at, and cursed, according as it is come to passe this day:

19 Yea, and Pharao the king of Egypt, his seruants, his princes, and his people, all together one with another:

20 And all kings of the land of Hus, all kings of the Philistines lande, Ascalon, Azah, Accaron, and the remnant of Asdod,

21 The Edomites, the Moabites, and the Ammonites,

22 All the kings of Tyrus and Sidon, the kings of the yles that are beyond the sea,

23 Dedan, Thema, Buz, and all them that dwell in the vttermost parts of the world,

24 All the kings of Arabia, and generally all the kings that dwell in the desart,

25 All the kings of Zimri, all the kings of Elam, all the kings of the Medes, 26 All the kings toward the North, whether they be farre or nigh, euery one against his neighbour, yea, all the kingdomes that are vpon the whole earth: and the king of Sesach shall drinke also after them.

27 Therefore say thou vnto them, This is the commandement of the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Drinke, and bee drunken: spewe, and fall, that yee neuer arise, and that through the sworde which I wil send among you.

28 But if they will not receiue the cuppe of thy hand, and drinke it, then tel them, thus doth the Lord of hostes threaten you, Drinke it you shall, and that shortly.

29 For loe, *I beginne to plague the citie that my name is giuen vnto, thinke ye then that I will leaue you vnpunished: yee shall not goe quite: for why? I call for a sworde vpon all the inhabiters of the earth, saith the Lord of hostes. 3.Pet.4.17.

30 Therefore tell them all these wordes, and say vnto them, The Lord shall cry from aboue, and his voyce shall be heard from his holy habitation, with a great noyse shall hee cry from his court regal: he shall giue a great voyce like the grape gatherers, and the sound thereof shall bee heard vnto the endes of the world. Ioel 3.16. amos 1.2.

31 For the Lord hath a iudgement to giue vpon all people, and will holde his court of iustice with all flesh, and will deliuer the vngodly to the sword, saith the Lord.

32 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, Beholde, a miserable plague shall goe from one people to another, and a great stormie water shall arise from all the endes of the earth.

33 And the same day shall the Lord himselfe slay them from one ende of the earth to an other: there shall no mone bee made for any of them, none gathered vp, none buried: but it shall lie as doung vpon the ground.

34 Mourne, O ye shepheards, and crie, sprinckle your selues with ashes, O yee rammes of the flocke: for the time of your slaughter and breach is fulfilled, and ye shall fall like vessels that were much set by.

35 The shepheards shall haue no way to flee, and the rammes of the flocke shall not escape.

36 Then shall the shepheards cry horribly, and the rammes of the flocke shall mourne: for the Lord hath consumed their pasture, 37 And their best fields lie dead, because of the horrible wrath of the Lord.

38 They haue forsaken their foldes like as a Lion: for their land is waste, because of the spoilers furious crueltie, and of his fearfull indignation.

The xxvj. Chapter.

2 Ieremie mooueth the people to amendment. 7 He is taken of the prophets & priests, and brought to iudgement. 23 Vrias the Prophet is killed of Iehoacim, contrary to the will of God.

IN the beginning of the reigne of Iehoacim the sonne of Iosias king of Iuda, came this word from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the court of the Lords house, and speake vnto all them which (out of the cities of Iuda) come to doe worship in the Lordes house, all the wordes that I command thee to say: looke that thou keepe not one word backe.

3 (If peraduenture they wil hearken and turne euery man from his wicked way, that I may also repent of the plague which I haue determined to bring vpon them, because of their wicked inuentions.)

4 And after this maner shalt thou speake vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, If yee will not obey me, to walke in my lawes which I haue giuen you,

5 And to heare the wordes of my seruants the prophets, whom I sent vnto you, rising vp early, and still sending, yet you haue not hearkened:

6 Then will I doe to this house, *as I did vnto Silo, and will make this citie to be abhorred of all the people of the earth. 1.Kin.4.14

7 And

7 And the priests, the prophets, and all the people heard Jeremie preach these words in the house of the Lord.

8 Nowe when hee had spoken out all the wordes that the Lorde commaunded him to preach vnto the people, then the priests, the prophets, and all the people tooke hold vpon him, and saide, Thou shalt die:

9 Howe darest thou be so bolde as to say in the name of the Lorde, It shall happen to this house, as it did vnto Silo, and this citie shalbe so waste, that no man may dwell therein?

10 And when all the people were gathered about Jeremie in the house of the Lorde, the princes of Juda heard of this rumour, & they came soone out of the kings palace into the house of the Lord, and sate them downe before the newe doore of the Lord.

11 Then spake the priests & the prophets vnto the rulers, and to all the people these words, This man is worthy to die: for hee hath preached against this citie, as yee your selues haue heard with your eares.

12 Then saide Jeremie vnto the rulers, and to al the people, The Lord hath sent mee to preach against this house, & against this citie, all the words that ye haue heard.

13 * Therefore amend your waies and your aduisements, and be obedient vnto the voyce of the Lord your God, so shall the Lord repent of the plague that hee hath deuised against you. Iere. 7.3.

14 Nowe as for me, I am in your hands, doe with mee as you thinke expedient and good:

15 But this shall ye know, if ye put me to death, yee shall make your selues, this citie, and all the inhabitants thereof, guiltie of innocent blood: for this is of a trueth, that the Lorde hath sent mee vnto you, to speake all these words in your eares.

16 Then saide the rulers and the people vnto the priestes and prophets, This man may not be condemned to death, for he hath preached vnto vs in the name of the Lorde our God.

17 The elders also of the land stoode vp, and said thus vnto all the people, 18 Micheas the Morasthite, which was a Prophet vnder Ezecias king of Juda, spake to all the people of Juda, Thus saieth the Lord of hostes * Sion shalbe plowed like a field, Hierusalem shalbe an heape of stones, and the hil of the Lords house shalbe turned to an high wood. Mich. 3.12.

19 Did Ezecias the king of Juda, and all the people of Juda put him to death for this? No verily, but rather feared the Lorde, and made their prayer vnto him, for the which cause also the Lorde repented of the plague that he had deuised against them: should we then doe such a shamefull deede against our soules?

20 There was a Prophet that preached likewise in the name of the lord, called Urias, the sonne of Semaiah of Ciriath-iarim: this man also preached against this citie, and against this land, according to all as Jeremie saieth.

21 Now when Jehoacim the king, with all the estates and princes, had heard his wordes, the king went about to slay him: when Urias perceiued that, he was afrayd, and fled, and departed into Egypt:

22 Then Jehoacim the king sent seruãts into the land of Egypt, namely, Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and certaine men with him into Egypt:

23 Which fetched Urias out of Egypt, & brought him vnto king Jehoacim, that slue him with the sworde, and cast his dead body into the common peoples graue.

24 But Ahicam the sonne of Saphan helped Jeremie, that he came not into the hands of the people to be slaine.

1 In the diuine nature there is no such affections & changeable motion: but God speaketh after the manner of men in repent. where he doth not exclude that he had determined, if they did not leaue the plague which he had threatned.

The xxvij. Chapter.

1 Jeremie at the commaundement of the Lorde, sendeth bonds to the King of Iuda, and to the other kings that were nigh, wherby they are monished to become subiects vnto Nabuchodonosor. 9 He warneth the people, and the kings and rulers, that they beleeue not false prophets.

IN the beginning of the reigne of Jehoacim the sonne of Josias king of Juda, came this word vnto Jeremie from the Lorde, which spake thus vnto me,

2 Make thee bonds and chaines, and put them about thy necke,

3 And send them to the king of Edom, to the king of Moab, to the king of Ammon, to the king of Tyrus, and to the king of Sidon, and that by the messengers which shal come to Hierusalem, vnto Zedecias the king of Juda:

4 And bid them say vnto their masters, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Speake thus vnto your masters:

5 I am he that made the earth, the men, and the cattel that are vpõ the ground, with my great power and stretched out arme, and hath giuen it to whom it pleased me.

6 And now wil I deliuer all these lands into the power of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon my seruant: the beasts also of the fielde wil I giue him, to doe him seruice.

7 And all the people shall serue him, and his sonne, and his childrens children, vntill the time of the same land be come, and his time also: yea many people and great kings shall serue him.

8 Moreouer, that people and kingdome which wil not serue Nabuchodonosor, and that will not put their necks vnder the yoke of the king of Babylon: the same people will I visite with the sword, with hunger and pestilence, vntil I haue consumed them in his hands, sayth the Lord.

9 And therfore follow not your prophets, soothsayers, expounders of dreames, charmers, and witches, which say vnto you, Yee shall not serue the king of Babylon.

10 For they preach you lies, to bring you farre from your land, and that I might cast you out, and destroy you.

11 But the people that put their neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serue him; those will I let remaine still in their owne land, saieth the Lorde, and they shall occupie it, and dwell therein.

12 All these things tolde I Zedecias the king of Juda, and said, Put your neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serue him and his people, that ye may liue.

13 Why wilt thou and thy people perish with the sworde, with hunger, with pestilence, like as the Lord hath deuised for al people that will not serue the king of Babylon?

14 Therefore giue no eare vnto those prophets that tell you, ye shall not serue the king of Babylon: for they preach you lies.

Iere.14.15. 15 *Neither haue I sent them, saieth the Lord: howbeit they are bolde falsely to prophecie in my name, that I might the sooner driue you out, and that ye might perish with your preachers.

16 I spake to the Priestes also, and to all this people: thus saith the Lord, Heare not the words of your prophets that preach vnto you, and say, Behold, the vessels of the Lords house shall shortly bee brought hither againe from Babylon, for they prophecie lies vnto you.

17 Heare them not, but serue the king of Babylon, that ye may liue: wherefore will ye make this citie to be destroyed?

18 But if they be true Prophets in very deede, and if the word of the Lord be committed vnto them, then let them pray the Lord of hosts, that the remnant of the ornaments which are in the house of the Lorde, and in the house of the king of Juda and at Hierusalem, be not caried to Babylon also.

4.King.25. 13. 19 *For thus hath the Lord of hostes spoken concerning the pillars, the lauer, the seate, and the residue of the ornaments that yet remaine in this citie,

20 which Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon tooke not, when hee caried away Jechonias the sonne of Jehoacim king of Juda, with all the power of Juda and Hierusalem vnto Babylon captiue,

21 Yea, thus hath the Lord of hostes the God of Israel spoken, as touching the residue of the ornaments of the Lords house, of the king of Juda his house, and of Hierusalem:

1.Esdr.1. 22 *They shall be caried vnto Babylon, and there shall they remaine vntill I visite them, saith the Lord: then will I bring them hither againe.

The xxviij. Chapter.

1 The false prophecie of Hananias the Prophet. 12 Ieremie sheweth that the prophecie of Hananias is false, by the example of the other Prophets.

AND it came to passe the same yeere, euen in the beginning of the reigne of Zedecias king of Juda, in the fourth yeere, the fifth moneth, that Hananias the sonne of Assur, the Prophet of Gibeon, spake to me in the *house of the Lord, in the presence of the priests, and of all the people, and said, 1.King.34

2 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, I haue broken the yoke of the king of Babylon,

3 And after two yeeres will I bring againe into this place al the ornaments of the Lords house, that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon caried away from this place vnto Babylon,

4 Yea, I wil bring againe Jechonias the sonne of Jehoacim the king of Juda himselfe, with all the prisoners of Juda that are caried vnto Babylon, euen into this place, saith the Lord: for I will breake the yoke of the king of Babylon.

5 Then the Prophet Jeremie gaue answere vnto the Prophet Hananias before all the priestes, and before all the people that were present in the house of the Lord.

6 And the Prophet Jeremie said, Amen, the Lord do that, and grant the thing which thou hast prophecied, that hee may bring againe all the ornaments of the Lords house, and restore all the prisoners from Babylon into this place.

7 Neuertheless, hearken thou also what I will say, that thou and all the people may heare.

8 The Prophets that were before vs in time past, which prophecied of warre, or trouble, or pestilence, 9 Either of peace vpon many nations and great kingdomes, were proued by this (if God hath sent them in very deede) when the thing came to passe which the Prophet tolde before.

10 And Hananias the Prophet tooke the chaine from the Prophet Jeremies necke, and brake it.

11 And with that said Hananias that all the people might heare, Thus hath the Lord spoken, Euen so will I breake the yoke of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon from the necke of all nations, yea, and that within this two yeere. And so the Prophet Jeremie went his way.

12 Now after that Hananias the prophet had taken the chaine from the Prophet Jeremies necke, and broken it, the worde of the Lorde came vnto the Prophet Jeremie, saying, 13 Goe and tell Hananias these wordes, Thus sayeth the Lord, thou hast broken the chaine of wood, but in steade of wood thou shalt make chaines of yron.

14 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, I will put a yoke of yron vpon the necke of all this people, that they may may serue Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, yea, and so shall they doe: and I will giue him the beastes of the fielde.

15 Then said the Prophet Jeremie vnto the Prophet Hananias, Heare me, Hananias, The Lord hath not sent thee, but thou bringest this people into a false beliefe.

16 And therfore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I wil send thee out of the land, & within a yeere thou shalt die, because thou hast falsly spoken against the Lord.

17 So Hananias dyed the same yeere in the seuenth moneth.

The xxix. Chapter.

1 The Epistle of Ieremie sent vnto them that were in captiuitie in Babylon. 10 Hee prophecieth their returne from the captiuitie after seuentie yeeres.

THese are the wordes of the booke that Jeremie the Prophet sent from Hierusalem vnto the prisoners, the senatours, priestes, prophets, and all the people, whome Nabuchodonosor had led from Hierusalem vnto Babylon,

2 After the time that king Jechonias and his queene, his chamberlaines, the princes of Juda and Hierusalem, the workemasters of Hierusalem, were departed thither.

3 Which booke Elasah the sonne of Saphan, and Gamariah the sonne of Helcia did beare, whom Sedecias the king of Juda sent vnto Babylon to Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon: these were the wordes of Jeremies booke.

4 Thus hath the Lord of hostes the God of Israel spoken vnto all the prisoners that were led from Hierusalem to Babylon:

5 Builde you houses to dwell therein, plant you gardens, that you may enioy the fruites thereof.

6 Take you wiues to beare you sonnes & daughters, prouide wiues for your sonnes, and husbands for your daughters, that they may get sonnes and daughters, and that yee may multiplie there, and decrease not.

7 Seeke after the peace and prosperitie of the citie wherein yee be prisoners, and pray vnto the Lord for it: for in the peace thereof shall your peace be.

8 For thus saieth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, * Let not these prophets and soothsayers that be among you deceiue you, and beleeue not your owne dreames: Ier.14.14. ier.23.21.

9 For why? they preach you lyes in my name, & I haue not sent thē, sayth the Lord.

10 But thus saieth the Lorde, * When ye haue fulfilled seuentie yeeres at Babylon, I will bring you home, & of mine owne goodnesse I wil carie you hither againe into this place. Ier.25.10. 2.chr.36.22 1.esdr.1.1. dan.9.1.

11 For I knowe what I haue deuised for you, sayth the Lord, my thoughts are to giue you peace, and not trouble, and to giue you an ende as you wish and hope to haue.

12 Ye shal cry vnto me, ye shal go and call vpon me, and I will heare you.

13 Ye shal seeke me, and find me: yea, if so be that you seeke me with your whole heart,

14 I will be found of you, saith the Lord, and will deliuer you out of prison, and gather you together againe out of all places wherein I haue scattered you, sayeth the Lord, and will bring you againe to the same place from whence I caused you to be caried away captiue.

15 But whereas ye say that God hath raised you vp prophets at Babylon, 16 Thus hath the Lorde spoken to the king that sitteth in the throne of Dauid, and to all the people that dwell in the citie, and to your brethren that are not gone with you into captiuitie:

17 Thus I say speaketh the Lord of hostes, *Beholde, I wil send a sword, hunger, and pestilence vpon them, and will make them like vntimely figges that may not bee eaten for bitternesse: Iere.24.8.

18 And I will persecute them with the sword, with hunger, and pestilence, I will deliuer them vp to be vexed of all kingdomes, to be cursed, abhorred, laughed to scorne, and put to confusion of all the people among whom I haue scattered them:

19 And that because they haue not bene obedient vnto my commandements, sayeth the Lord, which I sent vnto them by my seruants the Prophets: I stoode vp early, and sent vnto them, but they would not heare, saieth the Lord.

20 Heare therefore the word of the Lord, all ye prisoners, whom I sent from Hierusalem to Babylon, 21 Thus hath the Lord of hostes the God of Israel spoken of Ahab the sonne of Cholaiah, and of Sedecias the sonne of Maasiah, which prophecie lyes vnto you in my name, Beholde, I will deliuer them into the hande of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, that he may slay them before your eyes.

22 And all the prisoners of Juda that are in Babylon, shall take this terme of cursing, and say, Now God do vnto thee as he did vnto Sedecias and Ahab, whom the king of Babylon rosted in the fire, 23 Because they sinned shamefully in Israel: for they haue not onely defiled their neighbours wiues, but also preached lying wordes in my name, which I haue not commaunded them: this I testifie & assure, sayth the Lord.

24 But as for Shemeiah the Nehelamite, thou shalt speake vnto him:

25 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Because thou hast sent letters in thine owne name vnto all the people that is at Hierusalem, and to Sophonias the sonne of Maasiah the priest, yea and vnto them to all the priests, saying,

26 The Lord hath ordeined thee to be priest in the steade of Jehoiada the priest, that thou shouldest be chiefe in the house of the Lorde aboue all prophets and preachers, and that thou mightest set them vpon the pillorie, or in the stockes.

27 How happeneth it then that thou hast not reproued Ieremie of Anathoth, which neuer leaueth off his prophecying?

28 And besde all this, hee hath sent vs word vnto Babylon, & tolde vs playnly that our captiuitie shall long endure, that wee should build vs houses to dwell therein, and to plant vs gardens, that we may enioy the fruites thereof.

29 Which letters Sophonias the priest read, and let Ieremie the Prophet heare it.

30 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremie, saying,

31 Sende worde to all them that bee in captiuitie, on this maner, Thus hath the Lord spoken concerning Semeiah the Nehelamite: Because that Semeiah hath prophecied vnto you without my commission, and brought you into a false hope:

32 Therefore thus the Lord doeth certifie you, Behold, I wil visite Semeiah the Nehelamite and his seede, so that none of his shall remaine among this people, and none of them shall see the good that I wil doe for my people, sayth the Lorde, for he hath preached falsly of the Lord.

The xxx. Chapter.

1 The returne of the people from Babylon. 8 God by his chastening sheweth that ỹ people is sinfull. 16 The destruction of the enemies of Israel.

THese are the wordes that the Lorde sheweth vnto Ieremie, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, write vp diligently all the wordes that I haue spoken vnto thee in a booke.

3 For loe, the time commeth, sayeth the Lord, that I will bring againe the prisoners of my people of Israel & Iuda, saith the Lorde: for I will restore them vnto the land that I gaue to their fathers, and they shall haue it in possession.

4 Againe, these wordes spake the Lorde concerning Israel and Iuda, 5 Thus saith the Lord, we haue heard a terrible cry, feare, and disquietnesse.

6 For what else doeth this signifie that I see? namely, that all strong men smite euery man his hand vpon his loynes, as a woman in the paine of her trauaile? who euer sawe a man trauaile with childe? Enquire hereafter and see, yea, all their faces are maruelous pale.

Ioel 2.11. amos 5.10. soph.1.15.

7 Alas for this day, which is so dreadfull that none may be likened vnto it, and alas for the time of Iacobs trouble, from the which he shall yet be deliuered.

8 For in that day, saith the Lord of hostes, I will take his yoke from off thy necke, and breake thy bondes, and strangers shall no more haue dominion ouer him:

9 But they shal do seruice vnto God their Lord, and to Dauid their King, whom I wil raise vp vnto them.

10 *And as for thee, O my seruant Iacob, feare not, saieth the Lord, and be not afrayd, O Israel: for loe, I will helpe thee also from farre, and thy seed from the land of their captiuitie: and Iacob shal turne againe, he shall be in rest, and haue a prosperous life, and no man shall make him afraide: Esai.44.1. luke 1.70.

11 For I am with thee, to helpe thee, saith the Lorde: and though I shall destroy all the people, among whom I haue scattered thee, yet wil I not destroy thee, but correct thee, and that with discretion: for I will not vtterly destroy thee.

12 Therefore thus saieth the Lorde, Thy bruisings are perillous, and thy wounds readie to cast thee into sicknesse.

13 There is no man to meddle with thy cause, or to lay a plaister vpon thee, or to bind vp thy wounds to heale thee.

14 All thy louers haue forgotten thee, and are nothing for thee: for I haue giuen thee a cruell stroke, and chastened thee roughly, and that for the multitude of thy misdeeds: for thy sinnes haue had the ouerhand.

15 *Why makest thou mone for thy harme? In deede thou art sore wounded and in ieopardie: but for the multitude of thy misdeeds and sinnes I haue done this vnto thee. Iere.15.18.

16 And therefore all they that deuoure thee, shalbe deuoured, and all thine enemies shall be led into captiuitie: all they that make thee waste, shall be wasted themselues, and all those that rob thee, will I make also to be robbed.

17 For I wil giue thee thy health againe, and make thy woūds whole, saith the Lord, because they reuiled thee, as one cast away and despised: Sion sayd they is she, whom no man regardeth.

18 For thus sayeth the Lord, Beholde, I will bring againe the captiuitie of Iacobs tents, and defend his dwelling place: the citie shalbe builded in her olde estate, and the houses shall haue their right foundation.

19 And out of them shall goe thankesgiuing and the voyce of ioy: I will multiplie them, and they shall not be fewe, I will endue them with honour, and no man shal subdue them.

20 Their children shalbe as aforetime, and their congregation shal continue in my sight: and all those that vexe them will I visite.

21 A captaine also shall come of them, and a prince shall spring out from the middest of them, him will I challenge to my selfe, and he shall come vnto me: for what is hee that giueth ouer his heart to come vnto me, saith the Lord?

22 Ye shalbe my people also, and I wil be your God.

23 Behold, on the other side shal the wrath of the Lord breake out as a stormy water, as a mighty a mighty whirle winde, and shall fall vpon the heads of the vngodly.

24 The terrible displeasure of the Lorde shall not leaue off, vntill hee haue done and performed the intent of his heart, which in the latter dayes ye shall vnderstand.

The xxxj. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth that the people of Israel shalbe restored againe vnto their prosperitie. 18 To bee turned from sinne, is the gift of God. 27 The birth of Christ is prophecied.

AT the same time, sayeth the Lord, shall I bee the God of all the generations of Israel, and they shalbe my people:

2 Thus sayeth the Lorde, The people of Israel which escaped in the wildernesse from the sworde, found grace to come into their rest.

3 Euen so shal the Lord now also appeare vnto me from farre, and say, I loue thee with an euerlasting loue, therefore by my mercy I haue drawen thee vnto me.

4 I will repaire thee againe, O thou daughter of Israel, that thou mayest bee fast and sure: thou shalt take thy tabrets againe, & go forth with them that leade the daunce:

5 Thou shalt plant vines againe vpon the hils of Samaria, & the grape gatherers shall plant, and commonly eate of it.

6 For the dayes shall come when the watchmen vpon the mount of Ephraim shal cry, Arise, let vs go vp vnto Sion to our Lord God.

7 For thus sayth the Lord, Reioyce with gladnesse because of Jacob, cry vnto the head of the Gentiles, speake out, sing & say, O Lord saue thy people the remnant of Israel.

8 Behold, I wil bring them againe from out of the North land, and gather them from the endes of the world, with the blinde and lame that are among them, with the women that be great with child, and such as be also deliuered: and the company of them that come againe shalbe great.

9 They shall come weeping, & with mercifull pitie will I bring them hither againe: I will leade them to the riuers of water in a straight way where they shall not stumble: for I am Israels father, and Ephraim is my first borne.

10 Heare the word of the Lord, O ye Gentiles, preach in the Iles that lie farre off, and say, He that hath scattered Israel shal gather him together againe, and shall keepe him as a shepheard doeth his flocke.

11 For the Lorde hath redeemed Jacob, and rid him from the hand of the violent.

12 And they shall come & reioyce vpon the hill of Sion, and shall haue plenteousnesse of goods, which the Lorde shall giue them, namely wheate, wine, oyle, young sheepe, and calues: & their soule shalbe as a well watered garden, for they shall no more be hungry.

13 Then shall the maide reioyce in the daunce, yea both young and olde folkes: for I wil turne their sorowe into gladnesse, and will comfort them from their sorowes, and make them ioyfull.

14 I will powre plenteousnesse vpon the hearts of the priests, & my people shalbe satisfied with my goodnesse, saith the Lord.

15 Thus sayth the Lorde, *The voyce of heauinesse, weeping, and lamentation was heard on high, euen of Rachel mourning for her children, and would not bee comforted, because they were not. Mat. 2. 18.

16 But nowe, sayeth the Lord, leaue off from weeping and crying, withholde thine eyes from teares: for thy labour shall bee rewarded, saith the Lord, and they shal come againe out of the land of their enemies.

17 Yea, euen thy posteritie shall haue consolation in this, saith the Lord, that thy children shal come againe into their owne land.

18 Moreouer, I heard Ephraim that was led away captiue complaine on this maner, O Lord, thou hast corrected mee, & thy chastening haue I receaued as an vntamed calf, conuert thou me, and I shalbe conuerted: for thou art my Lord God.

19 Yea, as soone as thou turnest mee, I shal reforme my self, and when I vnderstand I shal smite vpon my thigh, for verely I haue committed shameful things: for I haue borne the reproofe and confusion of my youth.

20 Vpon this complaint I thought thus by my self, Is not Ephraim my deare sonne? Is hee not the childe with whome I haue had all my mirth and pastime? For since the time that I first communed with him, I haue him euer in remembrance: therefore my heart driueth mee vnto him, gladly and louingly will I haue mercie vpon him saith the Lord.

21 Make thy selfe markes, set vp heaps of stone, set thine heart vpon the way that thou diddest walke, and turne againe, O thou daughter of Israel, turne againe to these cities of thine.

22 How long wilt thou go astray, O thou shrinking daughter? for the Lord wil worke a newe thing vpon earth: A woman shall compasse a man.

23 For thus saith the Lord of hosts & God of Israel, It wil come thereto, that when I haue brought Juda out of captiuitie, these wordes shalbe heard in the land & in his cities, The Lord bless thee, O thou dwelling place of righteousnesse, O thou holy hill.

24 And there shal dwell Juda and all her cities, the Shepheards and hill banditmen:

25 For I will feede the hungry soule, and refresh all faint hearts.

26 When I heard this, I came againe to my selfe, I sawe like as I had bene waked out of a sweete sleepe.

27 Behold, saith the Lord, the daies come that I will sowe the house of Israel and the house of Juda with men and with cattell.

28 Yea, it shall come thereto, that like as I haue gone about in times past to roote them out, to scatter them, to breake them downe, to destroy them, and chasten them: euen so will I also goe diligently about to builde them vp againe, and to plant them, saith the Lorde.

Ezec.18.3. 29 Then shall it no more be said, *The fathers haue eaten a sowre grape, and the childrens teeth are set on edge.

30 For euery one shall die for his owne misdeedes: so that who so eateth a sowre grape, his teeth shalbe set on edge.

Heb.8.8. 31 *Behold, the dayes will come, saith the Lord, that I wil make a newe couenant with the house of Israel, and the house of Juda:

32 Not after the couenant that I made with their fathers, when I tooke them by the hand, and led them out of the land of Egypt, which couenant they brake, yea, euen when I as an husband had rule ouer them, sayth the Lord.

33 But this shalbe the couenant that I will make with the house of Israel after Iere.24.7. those dayes, sayth the Lord, *I wil plant my luke.1.57. law in the inward partes of them, and write 38 Behold, the daies come, saith the Lord, that the citie of the Lorde shalbe enlarged, from the towre of Hananeel, vnto the gate of the corner wall.

39 From thence shall the right measure be taken before her vnto the hill top of Gareb, and shall come about Gaath.

40 And the whole valley of the dead carkeises, and of the ashes, and al the fieldes, vnto the brooke of Cedron, and vnto the corner of the horse gate toward the East, it shalbe holy vnto the Lorde, and shall neuer be broken nor cast downe any more.

The xxxij. Chapter.

1 Ieremie is cast into prison, because he prophecied that the citie should be taken of the king of Babylon.

THese words spake the Lord vnto Ieremie, in the tenth yeere of Zedecias king of Juda, which was the eyghteenth yere of Nabuchodonosor,

2 What time as the king of Babylons host layde siege vnto Hierusalem: but Ieremie the Prophet lay bounde in the court of the prison, which was in the king of Judaes house,

3 Where Zedecias the king of Juda caused him to be layde, because hee had prophecied on this maner, Thus sayeth the Lorde, Beholde, I will deliuer this citie into the handes of the king of Babylon, which shall take it.

4 As for Zedecias the king of Juda, hee shall not be able to escape the Chaldees: but surely hee shall come into the handes of the king of Babylon, which shal speake with him mouth to mouth, and one of them shall looke another in the face.

5 And Zedecias shall be caried vnto Babylon, and there shall he bee vntill the time that I visite him, sayth the Lord: but if thou takest in hand to fight against the Chaldees, thou shalt not prosper.

6 And Ieremie said, Thus hath the Lord spoken vnto me,

7 Beholde, Hananeel the sonne of Sellum thine vncles sonne shal come vnto thee, and require thee to redeeme the lande that lyeth in Anathoth vnto thy selfe: for by reason of kindred it is thy right to redeeme it, and buy it out.

8 And Hananeel mine vncles sonne came to me in the court of the prison, according to the worde of the Lorde, and sayde vnto mee, Buy my land, I pray thee, that lyeth in Anathoth in the countrey of Beniamin, for by heritage thou hast right to loose it out for thy selfe, therefore redeeme it. Then I perceiued that this was the commaundement of the Lord:

9 And so I bought the land from Hananeel of Anathoth mine vncles sonne, and weyghed him there the money, euen seuen sicles, and ten siluer pence:

10 And I writ it in a booke, and sealed it, and tooke witnesses, and weighed him there the money vpon the weights.

11 So I tooke the euidence with the copie when it was orderly sealed.

12 And I gaue the euidence to Baruch the sonne of Neriah the sonne of Maasiah, in the sight of Hananeel my cousin, and in the presence of the witnesses that be named in the euidence, and before al the Jewes that were there by in the court of the prison.

13 I charged Baruch also before them, saying,

14 The Lorde of hostes the God of Israel commaundeth thee to take this sealed euidence with the copie, and to lay it in an earthen vessel, that it may long continue.

15 For the Lord of hostes the God of Israel rael hath determined, that houses, fields and vineyards shall bee possessed againe in this land.

16 Nowe when I had deliuered the euidence vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, I besought the Lord, saying, 17 O Lord God, it is thou that hast made heauen and earth with thy great power and high arme, & there is nothing hid from thee.

Exod. 34.7. Deut. 5.9. 18 Thou shewest mercy vpon thousands, thou recompensest the wickednesse of the fathers into the bosome of the children that come after them.

19 Thou art the great and mightie God, whose name is the Lorde of hostes, great in counsell, and excellent in worke, thine eyes looke vpon all the wayes of mens children, to reward euery one after his way, and according to the fruits of his inuentions.

20 Thou hast done great tokens & wonders in the land of Egypt, as we see this day, vpon the people of Israel, & vpon those men, to make thy name great, as it is come to passe this day,

21 Thou hast brought thy people of Israel out of the land of Egypt with tokens, with wonders, with a mightie hand, with a stretched out arme, and with great terribleneſſe:

22 And hast giuen them this land, like as thou haddest promised vnto their fathers, namely, that thou wouldest giue them a land that floweth with milke and honie.

23 Nowe when they came therein and possessed it, they followed not thy voyce, and walked not in thy lawes: but all that thou commaundedst them to doe, that haue they not done, and therfore come all these plagues vpon them.

24 Beholde, there are bulwarkes made now against the citie to take it, and it shall be wonne of the Chaldees that besiege it with sword, with hunger, and death: and looke what thou hast spoken, that same shall come vpon them, for loe, all things are present vnto thee.

25 Yet saiest thou vnto me, O Lord God, and commandest me that I shall buy a piece of land vnto my selfe for mony, and take witnesses thereto: and yet in the meane season the citie is deliuered into the power of the Chaldees.

26 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremie, saying,

27 Behold, I am the Lord God of al flesh: is there any thing then too hard for me?

28 Therefore thus saieth the Lorde, Behold, I shall deliuer this citie into the power of the Chaldees, and into the power of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, they shal take it:

29 For the Chaldees shall come and win this citie, & set fire vpon it, and burne it, with the gorgeous houses, in whose parlors they haue made sacrifice vnto Baal, and powred drinke offerings vnto strange gods, to prouoke me vnto wrath.

30 For the children of Israel and the children of Iuda haue onely beene doing wickednesse before me from their youth vp, they haue beene onely prouoking me to wrath with the workes of their owne hands, saith the Lord.

31 For what hath this citie bene else, but a prouoking of my wrath euer since the day that they builded it, vnto this houre wherein I cast it out of my sight?

32 Because of the great blasphemies of the children of Israel and Iuda, which they haue done to prouoke me, yea, they, their kings, their princes, their priestes, their prophets, the men of Iuda, and the citizens of Hierusalem:

33 When I stoode vp earely and taught them, and instructed them, they turned their backs to me, and not their faces,

34 They would not heare to be reformed & corrected: *but set their idoles in the house that is halowed to my name, to defile it. 4.Reg.21.4

35 They haue builded hie places for Baal in the valley of the children of Hennom, to cause their sonnes and daughters to passe thorow fire in the honour of Moloch, which I neuer commaunded them: neither came it euer in my thought to make Iuda sinne with such abomination.

36 And nowe therefore thus hath the Lorde God of Israel spoken concerning this citie, which as ye your selues confesse, shalbe deliuered into the hand of the king of Babylon, when it is wonne with the sworde, with hunger, and with pestilence.

37 Beholde, I will gather them together from al lands, wherein I haue scattred them in my wrath, in fearefull and great displeasure, and will bring them againe vnto this place, where they shall dwell safely:

38 *And they shalbe my people, and I will be their God. Ezec.11.19

39 And I will giue them one heart and one way, that they may feare me al the dayes of their life: that they and their children after them may prosper.

40 And I will set vp an euerlasting couenant with them, namely, that I will neuer cease to doe them good, and that I will put my feare in their hearts, so that they shal not runne away from me.

41 Yea, I will haue a lust and pleasure to doe them good, and faithfully to plant them in this land with my whole heart, and with my whole soule.

42 For thus saith the Lorde, Like as I haue brought al this great plague vpon this people: euen so will I also bring vpon them all the good that I haue promised them.

43 And men shall haue their possessions in this land, whereof ye say now that it shall neither be inhabited of the people, nor of cattell, but be deliuered into the handes of the Chaldees:

44 Yea, lande shall be bought for mony, and and euidences made thereupon, and sealed before witnesses in the countrey of Benjamin, and round about Hierusalem, in the cities of Juda, in the cities that are vpon the mountains, and them that lie beneath, yea, and in the cities that are in the South: for I will bring their prisoners hither agayne, saith the Lord.

The xxxiij. Chapter.

1 The Prophet is monished of the Lorde to pray for the deliuerance of the people, which the Lorde promiseth. 8 God forgiueth sinnes, and doeth graciously to the people for his owne renowne. 15 Of the birth of Christ.

MOreouer, the word of the Lord came to Jeremie againe when hee was yet bound in the court of the prison.

2 Thus saith the Lord, who made Hierusalem, who fashioned the same to establish it, whose name is the Lord,

3 Crie vnto me, and I will answere, and shew thee great and high things which were vnknowen vnto thee.

4 Thus I say speaketh the Lorde God of Israel, concerning the houses of this citie, and the houses of the kings of Juda that are broken through the ordinaunce and the sword.

5 The inhabiters of this citie haue come to fight against the Chaldees, and they are filled with the dead carkeises of men, whom I haue slayne in my wrath and displeasure, when I turned my face from this citie, because of all her wickednesse.

6 Behold, saieth the Lord, I will repaire and heale their woundes, and make them whole: I will open them the large treasure of peace and trueth,

7 And will returne the captiuitie of Juda and Israel, & will set them vp againe as they were before:

8 From all misdeedes wherein they offended against me, I will cleanse them: and all their blasphemies which they haue done against me, when they regarded me not, I will forgiue them.

9 And this shall get mee a name, a prayse and honor among all the people of the earth, which shall heare all the good that I will shew vnto them, yea, they shall be afrayd and astonied at all the good deedes and benefites that I will do for them.

10 Moreouer, thus saith ỹ Lord, In this place (whereof ye say that it shall be a wildernesse, wherein neither people nor cattell shal dwel) in like maner in the cities of Juda, and in the streets of Hierusalem (which also shall be so voyd, that neither people nor cattell shal dwell there,)

11 Shall the voyce of gladnes be heard againe, the voice of the bridegrome and of the bride, the voice of them that shall sing, Praise the Lord of hostes, for hee is louing, and his mercie endureth for euer: and the voyce of them that offer vp giftes in the house of the Lord: for I will restore the captiuitie of this land as it was afore, saith the Lord.

12 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, It shall come yet thereto, that in this land which is voide from men and cattell, and in all the cities of ỹ land, there shalbe set vp shepeheards cottages to rest their flocks.

13 In the cities vpon the mountains, and in the cities that lie vpon the playne, and in the cities of the South, in the land of Benjamin, and round about Hierusalem, and in the cities of Juda, shal the sheepe passe againe vnder the hand of him that telleth the, saieth the Lord.

14 * Behold, the time commeth, sayth the Lord, that I will performe that good thing which I haue promised vnto the house of Israel, and vnto the house of Juda. * Iere. 23.5.

15 In those dayes, and at the same time, I will bring foorth vnto Dauid the branch of righteousnesse, and he shall doe equitie and righteousnesse in the land.

16 In those dayes shal Juda be saued, * Deu. 33.28. Hierusalem shall dwell safe: and this shall be her name, a God our righteousnesse.

a This name hath God giuen to Christ, and doth properly belong to him alone, but here it is attributed vnto the Church, by that God the father hath ordained Christ his owne body the Church, and hath ordeined her both all that is his.

17 For thus the Lord promiseth, Dauid shall neuer want one to sit vpon the throne of the house of Israel:

18 Neither shall the priests and Leuites want one to offer alway before mee burnt offrings, to kindle the meate offerings, and to prepare the sacrifices.

19 And the worde of the Lord came vnto Jeremie after this maner, 20 Thus saieth the Lord, May the couenãt which I haue made with day and night bee broken, that there should not bee day and night in due season?

21 Then may my couenant also be broken which I made with Dauid my seruant, and so hee not to haue a sonne to reigne in his throne, so shall also the Priests and Leuites neuer faile, but serue me.

22 For like as the starres of heauen may not bee numbred, neither the sand of the sea measured: so will I multiplie the seed of Dauid my seruant, and the Leuites my ministers.

23 Moreouer, the word of the Lord came to Jeremie, saying,

24 Considerest thou not what this people speaketh? Two kinreds say they had the Lord chosen, and those same two hath hee cast away: for so they haue despised my people, and they reputed them as though they were no people.

25 Therefore thus saieth the Lorde, If I haue made no couenaunt with day and night, and giuen no statute vnto heauen and earth:

26 Then will I also cast away the seed of Jacob and Dauid my seruant, so that I will take no prince out of his seed to rule the posteritie of Abraham, Isahac, and Jacob: but yet I will turne againe their captiuitie, and bee mercifull vnto them.

The

The xxxiiij. Chapter.

2 He threateneth that the citie, and the king Zedecias alſo ſhall be giuen into the handes of the king of Babylon.

THeſe are the wordes which the Lorde ſpake vnto Jeremie, what time as Nabuchodonoſor the king of Babylon, and all his hoſte, and all the kingdomes that were vnder his power, and all his people, fought againſt Hieruſalem and all the cities thereof.

2 Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael, Goe and ſpeake to Zedecias the king of Juda, and tell him, The Lord ſendeth thee this worde, Beholde, I will deliuer this citie into the hand of the king of Babylon, he ſhall burne it with fire.

3 And thou ſhalt not eſcape his handes, but ſhalt be taken priſoner, and deliuered into his power: Thou ſhalt looke the king of Babylon in the face, and hee ſhall ſpeake to thee mouth to mouth, and then ſhalt thou go to Babylon.

4 Yet heare the word of the Lord, O Zedecias thou king of Juda, thus ſaieth the Lord vnto thee, Thou ſhalt not be ſlain with the ſword,

2 Chro. 16. 14. a Kinsmen is ſignified to be buried after the death of their kinsmen, as it were ſpeaking vnto them.

5 But ſhalt die in peace: *And as thy forefathers the kings thy a progenitours were burnt, ſo ſhalt thou be burnt alſo, and in thy mourning they ſhall ſay, O Lorde: for thus haue I determined, ſaith the Lord.

6 Then ſayde Jeremie the Prophet all theſe wordes vnto Zedecias king of Juda in Hieruſalem, 7 What time as the king of Babylons hoſt beſieged Hieruſalem, and the remnant of the cities, namely, Lachis, and Azecath, which yet remained of the ſtrong defenced cities of Juda.

8 Theſe are the wordes that the Lorde ſpake vnto Jeremie the Prophet, when Zedecias was agreed with all the people of Hieruſalem, that there ſhould be proclaimed a libertie:

9 So that euery man ſhould let his ſeruant and handmaid goe free, Hebrew, and Hebreweſſe, and no Jew hold his brother as a bondman.

10 Nowe as they had conſented, all the princes and all the people which had gathered vnto this agreement, that euerie man ſhould ſet at libertie his bondſeruaunt and bondwoman, and no longer to hold them bound: euen ſo they were obedient, and let them go free:

11 But afterward they repented, & tooke againe the ſeruants & handmaidens whome they had let go free, and ſo made them bond againe.

12 For which cauſe the word of the Lorde came vnto Jeremie from the Lord himſelfe, ſaying, 13 Thus ſaieth the Lord God of Iſrael, I made a couenant with your fathers, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of the houſe of bondage, ſaying,

14 *When ſeuen yeeres are out, euery man ſhall let his bought ſeruant an Hebrew goe free, if he haue ſerued him ſixe yeeres: but your fathers obeyed me not, and hearkened not vnto me. Exod. 21. 2. deut. 15. 12

15 As for you, yee were now turned, and did right before mee, in that ye proclaimed euery man to let his neighbour goe free, and in that ye made a couenant before mee in the temple that beareth my name.

16 But yet ye turned your ſelues agayne, and blaſpheimed my name, in this that euery man hath required his ſeruant & handmaid again whom ye had let go quite and free, and compelled them to ſerue you againe, and ſo to be bondmen and bondwomen.

17 And therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Ye haue not obeied me, euery man to proclaime freedome vnto his brother and neighbour: wherefore I wil cal you vnto freedome, ſaith the Lord, euen vnto the ſworde, to the peſtilence, and to hunger, and will make you to be plagued in all the kingdoms of the earth.

18 Yea, thoſe men that haue broken my couenant, and not kept the words of the appointment which they made before me when they hewed the calfe in two, and when they went thorow the two halfs thereof,

19 The princes of Juda, the princes of Hieruſalem, the gelded men, the prieſts, and al the people of the land which went thorow the two ſides of the calfe:

20 Thoſe men wil I giue into the power of their enemies, and into the hands of them that follow vpon their liues: and their dead bodies ſhalbe meat for the foules of the aire, and beaſts of the field.

21 As for Zedecias the king of Juda, and his princes, I will deliuer them into the power of their enemies, and of them that deſire to ſlay them, & into the hand of the king of Babylons hoſt, which is now departed from you.

22 But through my commaundement (ſaieth the Lorde) they ſhall come agayne before this citie, they ſhal fight againſt it, win it and burne it: Moreouer, I will lay the cities of Juda ſo waſte, that no man ſhall dwell therein.

The xxxv. Chapter.

Hee propoundeth the obedience of the Rechabites, and thereby confoundeth the pride of the Iewes.

THe wordes which the Lord ſpake vnto Jeremie in the reigne of Jehoacim the ſonne of Joſias king of Juda, are theſe:

2 Goe vnto the houſe of the Rechabites, and call them out, & bring them to the houſe of the Lord, into ſome commodious place, and giue them wine to drinke.

3 Then tooke I Jazaniah the ſonne of Jeremie, the ſonne of Habaziniah, and his brethren, and all his ſonnes, and the whole houſhold houlhold of the Rechabites,

4 And brought them into the houſe of the Lord, into the cloſet of the children of Hanan the ſonne of Igedaliah ẏ man of God, which was by the cloſet of the princes, that is aboue the cloſet of Maaſiah the ſonne of Sellum, which is the treaſurer.

5 And before the ſonnes of the kinred of the Rechabites, I ſet pots full of wine, and cups, and ſaid vnto them, Drinke wine.

6 But they ſaid, We will drinke no wine: for Ionadab the ſonne of Rechab our father commanded vs, ſaying, Ye and your ſonnes ſhall neuer drinke wine, build houſes, ſowe no ſeed, plant no vines,

7 Yea, ye ſhall haue no vineyards: but for all your time ye ſhall dwell in tents, that yee may liue long in the land wherin ye be ſtrangers.

8 Thus haue wee obeyed the commandement of Ionadab the ſonne of Rechab our father, in all that he hath charged vs, and ſo we drinke no wine all our life long, wee, nor our wiues, our ſonnes, and our daughters,

9 Neither builde we any houſe to dwell therein: wee haue alſo among vs neyther vineyards, nor corne land to ſowe:

10 But we dwel in tents, we obey, and do according vnto all that Ionadab our father commanded vs.

11 But nowe that Nabuchodonoſor the king of Babylon came vp into the land, wee ſayd, Come, let vs go to Hieruſalem, that we may eſcape the hoſte of the Chaldees, and the Allyrians: and ſo wee dwell now at Hieruſalem.

12 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremie, ſaying, 13 Thus ſaieth the Lorde of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael, Goe and tell the men of Iuda, and the inhabiters of Hieruſalem, will yee not be reformed to obey my words, ſaieth the Lord?

14 The words which Ionadab the ſonne of Rechab commanded his ſonnes, that they ſhould drinke no wine, are kept ſtirely kept, for vnto this day they drinke no wine, but obey their fathers commandement: but as for me, I haue ſtand vpearely, I haue ſpoken vnto you, and giuen you earneſt warning, and yet haue ye not bene obedient vnto me.

15 Yea, I haue ſent my ſeruaunts all the Prophets vnto you, I roſe vp early, and ſent you word, ſaying, * O turne you nowe euery man frō his wicked way, amend your liues, and goe not after ſtrange gods to worſhip them, that yee may continue in the lande which I haue giuen vnto you and your fathers: but ye would neither heare mee, nor folow me.

Iere. 18.11. and 25.5. Iohn 3.8.

16 The children of Ionadab Rechabs ſonne haue ſtedfaſtly kept their fathers commaundement that hee gaue them: but this people is not obedient vnto me.

17 And therefore thus ſaieth the Lord of hoſts the God of Iſrael, Behold, I will bring vpon Iuda, and vpon euery one that dwelleth in Hieruſalem, all the trouble that I haue deuiſed againſt them: for I haue ſpoken vnto them, but they would not follow, I haue called vnto them, neuertheleſſe they would giue me no anſwere.

18 Ieremie alſo ſpake vnto the houſholde of the Rechabites, Thus ſaieth the Lorde of hoſtes the God of Iſrael, For as much as yee haue obeyed the commaundement of Ionadab your father, & kept all his precepts, and done according to all that he hath bidden:

19 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts the God of Iſrael, Ionadab the ſonne of Rechab ſhal not faile, but haue one out of his ſtocke to ſtand alway before me.

The xxxvi. Chapter.

Baruch writeth (as Ieremie enditeth) the booke of the curſes againſt Iuda and Iſrael.

IN the fourth yere of Iehoiacim the ſonne of Ioſias the king of Iuda, came ẏ word of the Lord vnto Ieremie, ſaying,

2 Take a booke and write therein all the words that I haue ſpoken to thee againſt Iſrael, againſt Iuda, & againſt all the people, from the time that I began to ſpeake vnto thee in the raigne of Ioſias, vnto this day:

3 That when the houſe of Iuda heareth of the plague which I haue deuiſed for them, they may peraduenture turne euery man from his wicked way, that I may forgiue their offences and ſinnes.

4 Then did Ieremie call Baruch ẏ ſonne of Neriah, and Baruch wrote in the booke at the mouth of Ieremie, all the wordes of the Lord which he had ſpoken vnto him.

5 And Ieremie commanded Baruch, ſaying, I am in priſon, ſo that I may not come into the houſe of the Lord.

6 Therefore go thou thither, and read the booke that thou haſt written at my mouth, namely, the words of the Lord, and read them in the Lordes houſe vpon the a faſting day, that the people, whole Iuda, & all they that come out of the cities, may heare.

7 Peraduenture they will pray meekely before the face of the Lorde, and turne euery one from his wicked way: for great is the wrath and diſpleaſure that the Lord hath taken againſt this people.

8 So Baruch the ſonne of Neriah did according to all that Ieremie the Prophet commanded him, reading the wordes of the Lord out of the booke in the Lords houſe.

9 And this was done in the fift yeere of Iehoiacim the ſonne of Ioſias king of Iuda, in the ninth moneth, when it was commaunded that all the people of Hieruſalem ſhould faſt before the Lord, and they alſo that were come from the cities of Iuda vnto Hieruſalem.

10 Then read Baruch the wordes of Ieremie out of the booke within the houſe of the a When Iehoiacim the king of Iuda hearde that the king of Babylons armie was comming to beſiege Hieruſalem, he appointed a day for all the people, commanding them to reſort vnto the temple at the time appointed, there to make their humble prayers vnto God for peace and his feare, as the manner of Gods people was in all their diſtreſſes to faſt & pray in ſackcloth and penitence.

the Lorde, out of the treasurie of Gamariah the sonne of Saphan the Scribe, which is beside the higher loft of the newe doore of the Lords house, that all the people might heare.

11 Now when Micheas the sonne of Gamariah the sonne of Saphan, heard all the words of the Lord out of the booke, 12 Hee went downe to the kings palace, into the Scribes chamber, for there all the princes were set, Elisama the Scribe, Dalaiah the sonne of Semei, Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, Gamariah the sonne of Saphan, Zedecias the sonne of Hananias, with all the princes.

13 And Micheas told them all the words that he heard Baruch read out of the booke before the people.

14 Then all the princes sent Jehudi the sonne of Nathaniah, the sonne of Selemiah, the sonne of Chusi, vnto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the booke whereout thou hast read before all the people, and come. So Baruch the sonne of Neriah tooke the booke in his hand, and came vnto them.

15 And they sayd vnto him, Sit downe and read the booke, that we may heare also. So Baruch read, that they might heare.

16 Nowe when they had heard all the wordes, they were abashed one vpon another, and said vnto Baruch, We will certifie the king of all these wordes.

17 And they examined Baruch, saying, Tell vs, how didst thou write all these words out of his mouth?

18 Then Baruch answered them, Hee spake all these wordes vnto mee with his mouth, and I wrote them in the booke.

19 Then saide the princes vnto Baruch, Go thy way, hide thee with Jeremie, so that no man know where ye be.

20 And they went in to the king to the court, (but they kept the booke in the chamber of Elisama the Scribe) and told the king all the wordes, that he might heare.

21 So the king sent Jehudi to fetch him the booke: which he brought out of Elisama the Scribes chamber, and Jehudi read in it, that the king and all the princes which were about him might heare.

22 Now the king sate in the winter house (for it was in the ninth moneth) and there was a fire before him.

23 And when Jehudi had read three or foure leaues thereof, he cut the booke in pieces with a pennifie, and cast it into the fire vpon the hearth, vntill the booke was all burnt in the fire vpon the hearth.

24 Yet no man was abashed thereof, nor rent his clothes, neither the king himselfe, nor his seruants, though they heard all these wordes.

25 Neuertheles, Elnathan, Dalaiah, and Gamariah besought the king that he would not burne the booke: notwithstanding the king would not heare them, 26 But commanded Jerahmeel the sonne of Amelech, Saraiah ꝯ sonne of Ezriel, and Selemiah the sonne of Abdeel, to lay hands vpon Baruch the Scribe, & vpon Jeremie the Prophet: but the Lord kept them out of sight.

27 Now after that the king had burnt the booke, & the sermons which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremie, the worde of the Lord came vnto Jeremie, saying, 28 Take another booke, and write in it all the foresaide sermons that were written in the first booke, which Jehoacim the king of Juda hath burnt.

29 And tell Jehoacim the king of Juda, Thus saith the Lorde, Thou hast burnt the booke, and thoughtest within thy selfe, why hast thou written therein, that the king of Babylon shall come, & make this land wast, so that he shall make both people and cattell to be out of it?

30 Therefore thus the Lorde saith of Jehoacim the king of Juda, There shall none of his generation sit vpon the throne of Dauid, his dead coarse shall be cast out, that the heate of the day, and the frost of the night may come vpon him.

31 And I wil visit the wickednes of him, of his seede, and of his seruants: Moreouer, all the euill that I haue promised them, though they heard mee not, will I bring vpon them, vpon the inhabiters of Hierusalem, and vpon all Juda.

32 Then tooke Jeremie another booke, and gaue it Baruch the Scribe the sonne of Neriah, which wrote therein out of the mouth of Jeremie, all the sermons that were in the first booke which Jehoacim the king of Juda did burne: & there were added vnto them many mo sermons, like vnto ꝯ former.

The xxxvij. Chapter.

1 Zedecias succeedeth Cononiah: 3 hee sendeth vnto Ieremie to pray for him.

ZEdecias * the sonne of Josia, which was made king through Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, reigned in the land of Juda, in the stead of ‖Cononiah the sonne of Jehoacim. 2.Kin.24.4. 1.chro.36. 10. ‖Or, Iechonia.

2 But neither hee, nor his seruants, nor the people in his land would obey the wordes of the Lorde which he spake by the Prophet Jeremie.

3 Neuertheless, Zedecias the king sent Jehucal the sonne of Selemiah, and Sophoniah the sonne of Maasiah the priest, to the Prophet Jeremie, saying, O pray thou vnto the Lord our God for vs.

4 Now Jeremie walked free among the people at that time, * and was not put in prison as yet. Ier.36.26.

5 Pharaos hoste also was come out of Egypt: which when the Caldees which besieged Hierusalem perceiued, they departed from thence.

6 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto the Prophet Ieremie, saying,

7 Thus saieth the Lorde God of Israel, This answere shall yee giue to the king of Juda, that sent you vnto me for counsel: Behold, Pharaos hoste which is come foorth to helpe you, shall returne into Egypt into his owne land.

8 But the Chaldees shall come againe, and fight against this citie, winne it, and set fire vpon it.

9 For thus saith the Lorde, Deceiue not your owne minds, thinking on this maner, Tush, the Chaldees goe now their way from vs: No, they shall not goe their way.

10 For though yee had slaine the whole hoste of the Chaldees that besiege you, and that none remained of them but wounded men, yet should they stand vp, and set fire vpon this citie.

11 Now when the hoste of the Chaldees was broken vp from Hierusalem for feare of the Egyptians armie, 12 Ieremie went out of Hierusalem toward the land of Beniamin, to get him from among the people.

13 And when he came vnder Beniamins port, there was a porter called Jeriah, the sonne of Selemiah, the sonne of Hananiah, which fell vpon him, and tooke him, saying, Thy minde is to runne to the Caldees.

14 Then said Ieremie, It is not so, I goe not to the Chaldees: Neuertheless, Jeriah would not beleeue him, but brought Ieremie bound before the princes.

15 Wherefore the princes were angry with Ieremie, and smote him, and laid him in prison in the house of Jonathan ỹ scribe: for they had made that house the prison.

16 Thus was Ieremie put in a dungeon and prison, and so lay there a long time.

17 Then Zedecias the king sent for him, and called him, and asked him quietly in his owne house, saying, Thinkest thou this businesse that nowe is in hand, commeth of the Lord? Ieremie answered, Yea that it doeth: and thou (sayd he) shalt be deliuered into the king of Babylons power.

18 Moreouer, Ieremie sayde vnto king Zedecias, * what haue I offended against thee, against thy seruants, or against this people, that ye haue put me in prison? Iere.9.10.

12 Where are your prophets which haue prophesied vnto you, and said, That the king of Babylon should not come against you, and this land?

20 And therefore heare nowe, O my lord the king, let my prayer bee accepted before thee, and sende me no more into the house of Jonathan the scribe, that I die not there.

21 Then Zedecias commanded to put Ieremie in the forecentrie of the prison, and daily to bee giuen him a cake of bread of the bakers streete, vntill all the bread in the citie was eaten vp: Thus Ieremie remained in the forecentrie of the prison.

The xxxviij. Chapter.

By the motion of the rulers, Ieremie is put into a dungeon.

Saphatiah the sonne of Mathan, Gedaliah the sonne of Phashur, Jucal the sonne of Selemiah, and Phashur the sonne of Melchia, perceiued the words that Ieremie had spoken vnto all the people, namely on this maner;

2 Thus saith the Lorde, * who so remaineth in this citie, shall perish either with the sworde, with hunger, or pestilence: but who so falleth vnto the Chaldees, shal escape, winning his soule for a pray, and shall liue. Iere.21.8.

3 For thus saith the Lord, This citie no doubt must be deliuered into the power of the king of Babylon, and he also shall winne it.

4 Then sayde the princes vnto the king, Sir, wee beseech you let this man be put to death: for thus he discourageth the hands of the souldiers that be in this citie, & the hands of all the people, when hee speaketh such wordes vnto them: This man laboureth not for peace of the people, but mischiefe.

5 Zedecias the king answered, and sayd, Loe, hee is in your handes: for the king may denie you nothing.

6 Then tooke they Ieremie, and cast him into the dungeon of Melchiah the sonne of Amelech, that dwelt in the forecentrie of the prison, and they let downe Ieremie with cordes into a dungeon where there was no water, but myre: So Ieremie stacke fast in the myre.

7 Now when Abedmelech the Mozian, being a chamberlaine in the kings court, vnderstood that they had cast Ieremie into the dungeon,

8 Hee went out of the Kings house, and spake to the King, which then sate vnder the port of Beniamin, these wordes, 9 My Lord the king, whereas these men meddle with Ieremie the Prophet, they doe him wrong, namely, in that they haue put him in prison, there to die for hunger: for there is no more bread in the citie.

10 Then the King commanded Abedmelech the Mozian, and said, Take from hence thirtie men, whom thou wilt, and drawe vp Ieremie the Prophet out of the dungeon before he die.

11 So Abedmelech tooke the men with him, and went to the house of the king, and there vnder the treasurie he gate old ragges and worne cloutes, and let them downe by a corde into the dungeon to Ieremie.

12 And Abedmelech the Mozian said vnto the Prophet Ieremie, O put these ragges and cloutes vnder thine arme holes, betwixt them and the cordes: and Ieremie did so.

13 So they drew vp Ieremie with cords, and tooke him out of the dungeon: and hee remained in the forecentrie of the prison.

14 Then

14 Then Zedecias the king sent, and caused Jeremie the Prophete to bee called vnto him, into the third entrie that is in the house of the Lord, and the king said vnto Jeremie, I will aske thee some what, but hide nothing from me.

15 Then Jeremie answered Zedecias, If I be plaine vnto thee, thou wilt cause me to suffer death: If I giue thee counsell, thou wilt not follow me.

16 So the king swore an othe secretly to Jeremie, saying, As the Lorde liueth that made vs these soules, I wil not slay thee, nor giue thee into the handes of them that seeke after thy life.

17 Then saide Jeremie vnto Zedecias, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, If case be that thou wilt go foorth vnto the king of Babylons princes, thou shalt saue thy life, and this citie shall not be burnt, yea, both thou and thy houshold shall escape with your liues:

18 But if thou wilt not goe foorth to the king of Babylons princes, then shall this citie bee deliuered into the handes of the Chaldees, which shall set fire vpon it, and thou shalt not be able to escape them.

19 And Zedecias said vnto Jeremie, I am afraide for the Jewes that are fled vnto the Chaldees, least I come into their hands, and so they to haue me in derision.

20 But Jeremie answered, No, they shal not betraye thee: O hearken vnto the voyce of the Lorde, I beseech thee, which I speake vnto thee, so shalt thou bee well, and saue thy life:

21 But if thou wilt not goe foorth, the Lord hath tolde me this plainely, 22 Behold, all the women that are left in the king of Judaes house, shall be led foorth vnto the king of Babylons princes: and they shall say, Thou art deceiued, and the men in whom thou didst put thy trust haue gotten thee vnder, and set thy feete fast in the myre, and gone their way from thee.

23 Therefore all thy wiues, with thy children, shall they lead forth vnto the Chaldees, and thou shalt not escape their handes, but shalt bee the king of Babylons prisoner, and this citie shalt thou cause to be burnt.

24 Then sayde Zedecias vnto Jeremie, Looke that no body knowe of these wordes, and thou shalt not die.

25 But if the princes perceiue that I haue talked with thee, and come vnto thee, saying, O speake, what said the king to thee, hide it not from vs, and we will not put thee to death, tell vs (we pray thee) what saide the king vnto thee?

26 See thou giue them this answere, I haue humbly besought the king that hee would let mee lie no more in Jehonathans house, that I die not there.

27 Then came all the princes vnto Jeremie, and asked him: and hee tolde them after the maner as the king bade him. Then they held their peace, and let him alone: for they perceiued nothing.

28 So Jeremie abode still in the fore entrie of the prison, vntill the day that Hierusalem was wonne.

The xxxix. Chapter.

1 Nabuchodonosor besiegeth Hierusalem. 4 Zedecias fleeth. 5 Hee is taken of the Chaldees. 6 His sonnes are slaine. 7 His eyes are thrust out.

NOwe* when the citie of Hierusalem was taken (for in the ninth yeere of Zedecias King of Juda, the tenth moneth, came Nabuchodonosor ỹ King of Babylon, and all his hoste, and besieged Hierusalem, and fought against it. 4.Kin.25.1. iere.52.4.

2 And in the eleuenth yeere of Zedecias, in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, he brake into the citie.)

3 Then all the princes of the king of Babylon came in, and sate them downe vnder the port: Neregel, Sarezer, Samgarnebo, Sarsachim, Rabsaris, Neregel, Sarezer, Rabmag, with all the other princes of the king of Babylon.

4 And when Zedecias the king of Juda with his souldiers sawe them, then they fledde, and departed out of the citie by night, thorowe the Kings garden, and thorowe the port that is betweene the two walles, and so the King went towarde the wildernesse:

5 But the Chaldees hoste folowed fast after them, and tooke Zedecias in the fielde of Hiericho, and brought him prisoner to Nabuchodonosor the King of Babylon, vnto Reblath, that lyeth in the lande of Hemath, where he gaue iudgement vpon him.

6 So the King of Babylon caused the children of Zedecias, and al the nobles of Juda, to be slaine before his face at Reblath, 7 And made Zedecias eyes to be put out, and bounde him with two chaines, and sent him to Babylon.

8 Moreouer, the Chaldees burnt vp the kings palace, with the other houses of the people, and brake downe the walles of Hierusalem.

9 As for the remnant of the people that were in the citie, and such as were come to him, and whatsoeuer was left of the common sort, Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine caried them to Babylon.

10 But Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine let the rascall people, and those that had nothing, dwell still in the lande of Juda, and gaue them vineyards and corne fields at the same time.

11 Nabuchodonosor also the king of Babylon, gaue Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine a charge concerning Jeremie, saying, 12 Take and cherish him, make much of him, see thou doe him no harme, but intreat him after his owne desire.

13 So Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine,

Nabuzarban, Rabsares, Neregel, Sarezer, Rabmag, and all the king of Babylons lords sent for Ieremie, 14 And caused him to be set out of the forecentry of the prison, and committed him vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam the sonne of Saphan, that he should cary him home: and so he dwelt among the people.

15 Now when Ieremie lay yet bound in the forecentrie of the prison, the worde of the Lord came vnto him, saying,

16 Goe and tel Abedmelech the Mozian, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, the cruell and sharpe plague that I haue deuised for this citie, wil I bring vpon them, and thou shalt see it:

17 But I will deliuer thee in that day, sayeth the Lorde, and thou shalt not come in the hands of those men whom thou fearest:

18 For doubtlesse I will saue thee, so that thou shalt not perish with the sworde: but thy life thalbe saued, and that because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lord.

The xl. Chapter.

1 Ieremie hath licence to goe whither he will. 14 Iohanan propheciеth death vnto Gedaliah.

THis is the word that the Lorde spake vnto Ieremie, when Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine had let him goe free from Ramath, whither hee had led him bounde among all the prisoners that were caried from Hierusalem and Juda, vnto Babylon.

2 The chiefe captaine called for Ieremie, and said vnto him, The Lord thy God spake mightily before of the miserie vpon this place.

3 Now the Lord hath sent it, and performed it, as hee hath promised: for ye haue sinned against the Lord, and haue not bene obedient vnto his voyce, therefore commeth this plague vpon you.

4 Beholde, I loose the bandes from thy handes this day: if thou wilt nowe goe with mee vnto Babylon, vp then, for I will see to thee, and prouide for thee: but if thou wilt not goe with me to Babylon, then remaine here: Beholde, all the lande is at thy will, looke where thou thinkest conuenient and good for thee to abide, there dwell.

5 For as yet hee was not gone backe againe to Gedaliah: therefore he saide to him, Goe backe to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam the sonne of Saphan, whome the king of Babylon had made gouernour ouer the cities of Juda, and dwell with him among the people, or remaine wheresoeuer it pleaseth thee. So the chiefe captaine gaue him his expences, with a rewarde, and let him goe.

6 Then went Ieremie vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam, to Mispa, and dwelt there with him among the people that were left in the lande.

7 Nowe when the captaines of the hoste of Juda, which with their fellowes were scattered abroade on euery side in the lande, vnderstoode that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam gouernour in the lande, and that man, wife, and childe, yea, and the poore men in the lande that were not led captiue to Babylon, should be vnder his iurisdiction:

8 They came to Gedaliah vnto Mispa, namely, Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah, Johanan and Jonathan the sonnes of Careah, Sareah the sonne of Thanehumeth the sonnes of Ephai the Netophatite, Jezaniah the sonne of Maachati, with their companions.

9 And Gedaliah, the sonne of Ahicam the sonne of Saphan, sware vnto them and their fellowes in this maner, Be not afraide to serue the Chaldees, dwell in the land, and doe the king of Babylon seruice, so shall yee prosper. 4. King. 25. 24.

10 Beholde, I dwell at Mispa, to bee an officer in the Chaldees behalfe, and to satisfie such as come to vs: therefore gather wine, corne, and oyle, and keepe them in your warehouses, and dwell in your cities that ye haue in keeping.

11 Yea, all the Jewes also that dwell in Moab vnder the Ammonites, Idumea, and in all the countreys, when they heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam the sonne of Saphan gouernour vpon all them that were left in Juda:

12 All the Jewes I say returned out of all places where they fled vnto, and came into the lande of Juda to Gedaliah vnto Mispa, and gathered wine and other fruites, and that very much.

13 Moreouer, Johanan the sonne of Careah, and all the captaines of the hoste that were scattered on euery side of the land, came to Gedaliah to Mispa, and sayde vnto him, 14 Knowest thou not that Baalis the king of the Ammonites hath sent Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah to slaye thee? But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam beleeued them not.

15 Then saide Johanan the sonne of Careah vnto Gedaliah in Mispa these wordes secretly, Let mee goe, I pray thee, and I will slay Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah, so that no body shall know it: wherefore will he kill thee, that all the Jewes which resort vnto thee might be scattered, and the remnant in Juda perish?

16 And Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam said to Johanan the sonne of Careah, Thou shalt not do it: for they are but lies that thou sayest of Ismael.

The xlj. Chapter.

2 Ismael killeth Gedaliah guilefully, and many other with him. 11 Iohanan followeth after Ismael.

But

But in the seuenth moneth, it happened that Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah the sõne of Elisama, one of the kings blood came, and the greatest about the king, and ten men with him, vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam to Mispa, and they did eate together in Mispa.

2 And Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah, with those ten men that were with him, start vp, and smote Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam the sonne of Saphan with the sworde, and slue him, whome the king of Babylon had made a gouernour of the land.

3 Ismael also slewe all the Iewes that were with Gedaliah at Mispa, and all the Chaldees that he found there waiting vpon him, and those that were able to fight, hee slew with him.

4 The next day after that hee had slaine Gedaliah, the matter was yet vnknowen:

5 And there came certaine men from Sichem, from Silo and Samaria, to the number of fourescore, which had shauen their beardes, rent their clothes, and were all heawie, bringing meate offerings and incense in their handes, to offer it in the house of the Lord.

6 And Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah went forth of Mispa weeping, to meet them: Now when he met them, he saide, Goe your way to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam.

7 And when they came in the midst of the citie, Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah, with them that were with him, slewe them euen at the midst of the pit.

8 Among these fourescore men there were tenne that sayde vnto Ismael, Oh slaye vs not, for wee haue yet a great treasure in the field, of wheat, barley, oyle, and honie: So he spared them, and slewe them not with their brethren.

9 Nowe the pit wherein Ismael did cast the dead bodies of the men whom he slew because of Gedaliah, had king Asa caused to be made for feare of Baasa the king of Israel, and the same pitte did Ismael fill with slaine men.

10 As for the remnant of the people, the kings daughters, and al the people that were left at Mispa, vpon whome Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam gouernour, Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah caried them away prisoners toward the Ammonites.

11 But when Johanan the sonne of Careah, and all they which had bene captaines ouer the kings hoste with him, heard of all the wickednesse that Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah had done:

12 They tooke their companions, & went out for to fight with Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah, and found him by the great waters that are at Gibeon.

13 Nowe when all the people whome Ismael led captiue, saw Johanan the sonne of Careah, and all the other captaines of the hoste, they were glad.

14 So all the people that Ismael had caried away from Mispa, were brought againe: and when they returned, they came to Johanan the sonne of Careah.

15 But Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah fled from Johanan with eight companions, and went to the Ammonites.

16 Then Johanan the sonne of Careah, and all the captaines of the hoste that were with him, tooke all the remnant of the people, whome Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah had led away when hee had slaine Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam, whom they also had reserued from him, fighting men, women, and children, and gelded men, whome they brought againe from Gibeon:

17 And went from thence, and sate them downe at Geruth Chamaam, which lyeth beside Bethlehem, that they might goe into Egypt for feare of the Chaldees:

18 Of whom they were afraide, because that Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah had slaine Gedaliah Ahicams sonne, whome the king of Babylon had made gouernour in the land.

The xlij. Chapter.

1 The captaines aske counsell at Ieremie what they ought to doe. 19 Ieremie admonisheth the remnant of the people not to goe into Egypt.

So all the captaines, and Johanan the sonne of Careah, Iezaniah the sonne of Osaiah, came, with all the people from the least vnto the most,

2 And said vnto Ieremie the Prophet, O heare our petition, that thou mayest pray for vs vnto the Lorde thy God, namely, for all the remnant whereof there be few of vs left of many, as thou seest vs:

3 That the Lord thy God may shewe vs a way to goe in, and tel vs what we should do.

4 Then Ieremie the Prophet sayde vnto them, I haue heard you: beholde, I will pray vnto God your Lord as ye haue required me: and looke what answere the Lorde giueth, I shall certifie you thereof, and keepe nothing backe from you.

5 And they said vnto Ieremie, The Lord bee a true and faithfull witnesse betwixt vs, that we will doe all that the Lorde thy God commandeth vs.

6 Whether it bee good or euill, wee will hearken vnto the voyce of the Lord our God, to whom we send thee, that wee may prosper when we haue followed the voyce of the Lord our God.

7 And after ten dayes came the woorde of the Lord vnto Ieremie.

8 Then called hee Johanan the sonne of Careah, and all the captaines of the people that were with him, yea, and all the people from the least to the most,

9 And saide vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, vnto whom ye sent mee to lay foorth your prayers before him:

10 If you will dwell in this lande, I will builde you vp, and not breake you downe, I will plant you, and not roote you out: for I repent as concerning the trouble that I haue done to you.

a Gods repentance is nothing els, but that he doeth not prosecute to the vttermost his wrath according to the deserts of this people.

11 Feare not the King of Babylon, of whom ye stand in awe, O bee not afraide of him, saith the Lord, for I will be with you to helpe you, and deliuer you from his hand.

12 I will pardon you, I wil haue mercie vpon you, and cause him to pitie you, and bring you againe into your owne land.

13 Neuertheless, if yee purpose not to dwell in this land, nor to follow the voyce of the Lord your God,

14 But will say thus, we will not dwell here, but goe into Egypt, where we shall neither see warre, heare the noise of the trumpe, nor suffer hunger, there will we dwell:

15 Wherefore heare now the word of the Lord, O ye remnant of Juda, thus saith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, If ye bee wholy purposed to go into Egypt, and to dwel there as strangers, 16 The sworde that yee feared shall ouertake you in Egypt: and the hunger whereof ye be afraide, shal hang vpon you, and follow you into Egypt, and there shall ye die.

17 And all they that of set purpose vndertake to goe into Egypt to sojourne there, shal perish with the sworde, with hunger, and pestilence, not one of them shall remaine, there shal none escape the plague that I wil bring vpon them.

18 For thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Like as my wrath and indignation is moued against the inhabiters of Hierusalem: so shall my displeasure be kindled against you also if ye goe into Egypt, and there ye shall be reuiled, abhorred, brought to shame and confusion, and as for this place ye shall neuer see it more.

19 The Lord forbiddeth you (O yee remnant of Juda) that ye shall not go into Egypt: and forget not that I haue warned you earnestly this day.

20 For ye haue dissembled with me: for ye sent me vnto the Lord your God, and said, O pray thou the Lord our God for vs, and looke what answere the Lord our God giueth thee, that bring vs againe, and we will doe thereafter.

21 Now haue I shewed and declared vnto you, but yee haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lorde your God, for the which cause hee hath sent me to you.

22 Now therefore be ye sure that ye shall perish with the sworde, with hunger and pestilence, euen in the same place where your lust is to goe and dwell.

The xliij. Chapter.

1 Johanan carieth the remnant of the people into Egypt contrary to the minde of Ieremie. 8 Ieremie propheticth the destruction of Egypt.

NOw when Ieremie had ended all the words of the Lord his God vnto the people, which to declare, the Lorde their God had sent him vnto them, euen all these wordes I say.

2 Azariah the sonne of Osaiah, and Johanan the sonne of Careah, with all the stubborne persons, said vnto Ieremie, thou liest, the Lord our God hath not sent thee to speake vnto vs, that wee should not goe into Egypt, and dwell there:

3 But Baruch the sonne of Neriah prouoketh thee against vs, that hee might bring vs into the captiuitie of the Chaldees, that they might slay vs, and carie vs away prisoners vnto Babylon.

4 So Johanan the sonne of Careah, and all the captaines of the hoste, and all the people, followed not the commaundement of the Lord, namely, to dwell in the land of Juda:

5 But Johanan the sonne of Careah, and all the captaines of the hoste caried away all the remnant of Juda, that were come together againe from all the Heathen, among whom they had bene scattered, to dwel in the land of Juda,

6 Men, women, children, the kings daughters, all those that Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine had left with Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam, the sonne of Saphan: they caried away also the Prophete Ieremie, and Baruch the sonne of Neriah,

7 And so came into Egypt: for they were not obedient vnto the commaundement of God. Thus came they to Thaphnis:

8 And in Thaphnis the word of the Lord happened vnto Ieremie, saying,

9 Take great stones in thine hande, and hide them in the bricke wall vnder the doore of Pharaohs house in Thaphnis, that all the men of Juda may see,

10 And say vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I will sende and call for Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon my seruant, and wil set his seate vpon these stones that I haue hid, and he shall spread his tent ouer them.

11 And when he commeth, he shall smite the land of Egypt, some with slaughter, some with banishment, and some with the sword.

12 He shall set fire vpon the Temple of the Egyptians Gods, and burne them vp, and take themselues prisoners: moreouer, he shal aray himselfe with the land of Egypt, like as a shepheard putteth on his coate: and shall depart his way from thence in peace.

13 The pillars also of the Temple of the Sunne that is in Egypt shall hee breake in pieces, and burne the temples of the Egyptians gods.

The xliiij. Chapter.

1 He reproueth the people for their idolatrie. 15 They that set light by the threatning of the Lorde are chastened.

This

THis is the word that was shewed to Ieremie concerning all the Iewes which dwelt in Egypt, at Migdol, at Thaphnis, at Noph, and in the land of Pathures.

2 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Ye haue seene all the miserie that I haue brought vpon Hierusalem, and vpon all the cities of Iuda: so that this day they are desolate, and no man dwelling therein,

3 And that because of the great blasphemies which they committed, to prouoke me vnto anger, in that they went backe to do sacrifice and worship vnto strange gods, whom neither they nor yee, nor your fathers haue knowen,

4 Howbeit, I sent vnto them my seruants all the Prophets, I arose vp earely, I sent vnto them, and gaue them warning, O doe no such abominable things, and things that I hate.

5 But they would not followe nor hearken, to turne from their wickednesse, and to doe no more sacrifice vnto strange gods.

6 Wherefore mine indignation & wrath was kindled, and it burnt vp the cities of Iuda, with the streetes of Hierusalem, so that they were made waste and desolate, as it is come to passe this day.

7 Nowe therefore thus sayeth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Howe happeneth it that yee doe so great euill vnto your owne soules, thus to destroy the men and women, children and babes of Iuda, so that none of you is left,

8 Because ye prouoke me to wrath with the workes of your owne handes, when yee offer vnto strange gods in the land of Egypt whereas ye be gone to dwell, that yee might vtterly perish, and that ye might be reuiled, and shamefully entreated of all nations?

9 Or haue ye nowe forgotten the wickednesse of your forefathers, the wickednesse of the kings of Iuda and their wiues, the wickednesse that ye your selues and your wiues haue done in the lande of Iuda, and in the streetes of Hierusalem?

10 Yet are yee not sorie this day, yee feare not, neither walke ye in my lawe, and in my commaundements that I haue giuen vnto you and your forefathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, * I am stedfastly aduised and determined to punish you, and to roote out all Iuda. Amos 9.4.

12 As for the remnant of Iuda that purposely went into Egypt there to dwel, I will take them, and they shall all be destroyed, in the land of Egypt shall they perish, being consumed with the sword and with hunger: for from the least vnto the most, they shall perish with the sworde and with hunger: Moreouer, they shall be reuiled, abhorred, shamed, and confounded.

13 For I will visite them that dwell in Egypt, as I haue visited Hierusalem, with the sword, with hunger, and with pestilence:

14 So that none of the remnant of Iuda which are gone to dwell in Egypt, shal be left to come agayne into the lande of Iuda, although they thinke to come thither agayne, and to dwell there: for none shal come againe but such as are fled away.

15 Then all the men which knewe that their wiues had offered vnto strange gods, & a great sort of wiues that stood there, yea and all the people that dwelt there in Egypt in the citie of Pathures, answered Ieremie, and sayd,

16 As for the words that thou hast spoken vnto vs in the name of the Lord, wee will in no wise heare them:

17 But whatsoeuer goeth out of our owne mouth, that will we doe, wee will doe sacrifice, and offer oblations vnto the Queene of heauen, like as we and our forefathers, our kings and our heads haue done in the cities of Iuda, and in the streets of Hierusalem: for then had we plenteousnesse of victuals, then were wee in prosperitie, and no misfortune came vpon vs:

18 But since we left to offer and to doe sacrifice vnto the Queene of heauen, wee haue had scarcenesse of all things, and perish with the sword and hunger.

19 *Last of all, when wee women did sacrifice, and offered vnto the Queene of heauen: did wee make her cakes, and powre vnto her drinke offerings, to doe her seruice, without our husbands wils? Iere.7.18.

20 Then said Ieremie vnto all the people, to the men, to the women, and to all the folke which had giuen him that answere,

21 Did not the Lord remember the sacrifices, that yee, your forefathers, your kings and rulers, which all the people haue offered in the cities of Iuda, in the streetes of Hierusalem: and hath he not considered this in his mind?

22 In so much that the Lorde might no longer suffer the wickednesse of your inuentions, and the abhominable things which yee did: Is not your land desolate and void, yea and abhorred, so that no man dwelleth therein any more, as it is come to passe this day?

23 Did not all this happen vnto you, because yee made such sacrifice, and sinned against the Lord? Yee haue not followed his voyce, to walke in his law, in his ordinances and statutes: yea, this is the cause that all misfortune happened vnto you, as it is come to passe this day.

24 Moreouer, Ieremie spake vnto all the people, and to al the women, Heare the word of the Lord all Iuda that be in the land of Egypt,

25 Thus saieth the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Yee and your wiues haue spoken with your owne mouth the thing that ye

ye haue fulfilled in deede, yea, thus haue yee saide, wee will not faile but performe the vowes that we haue vowed, we will doe sacrifice, and powre out drinke offerings to the Queene of heauen: purposely will ye set vp your owne meanings, and performe your vowes.

26 And therefore heare the worde of the Lorde all Juda that dwell in the lande of Egypt: Beholde, I haue sworne by my great name, saith the Lord, that my name shall not be rehearsed through any mans mouth of Juda in all the lande of Egypt, to say, The Lord God liueth.

27 For I wil watch to plague them, and not for their wealth: and all the men of Juda that be in the lande of Egypt shall perish with the sword, and with hunger, vntil they be vtterly destroyed.

28 Neuertheless, those that fled away for the sword, shall come againe out of Egypt into the land of Juda, but there shall be very fewe of them: and all the remnant of Juda that are gone into Egypt there to dwell, shall knowe whose wordes shall be founde true, theirs, or mine.

29 Take this for a token, that I will visite you in this place, saith the Lord, and that ye may knowe howe that I without doubt will performe my purpose vpon you, to punish you.

30 Beholde, sayeth the Lord, I will deliuer Pharao Hophrea king of Egypt, into the handes of his enemies that seeke after his life: euen as I gaue Zedecias the king of Juda into the handes of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon his enemie, which sought after his life.

The xlv. Chapter.

Baruch is reproued of Ieremie.

THese are the wordes that Jeremie the Prophet spake vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, after that hee had written these Sermons in a booke at the mouth of Jeremie, in the fourth yeere of Jehoacim the sonne of Josias king of Juda, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel vnto thee, O Baruch:

3 Insomuch as thou thoughtest thus when thou wast writing, Woe is me, the Lorde hath giuen me paine for my trauell, I haue wearied my selfe with sighing, and haue found no rest.

4 Therefore tel him, O Jeremie, that the Lord saith thus: Beholde, the thing that I haue builded, will I breake downe againe, and roote out the thing that I haue planted, yea, this whole land:

5 And seekest thou yet promotion? looke not for it, and desire it not, for I will bring a miserable plague vpon all flesh, sayeth the Lord: but thy life will I giue thee for a pray, in all places whither soeuer thou goest.

The xlvj. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth the destruction of Egypt. 27 Deliuerance is promised to Israel.

HEre followe the wordes of the Lord to the Prophet Jeremie, which he spake against all the Gentiles.

2 These wordes following preached hee to the Egyptians, concerning the hoste of Pharao Necho king of Egypt, when he was in Charchamis beside the water of Euphrates, what time as Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon slewe him, in the fourth yeere of Jehoacim the sonne of Josias king of Juda.

3 Make ready buckler and shield, and go forth to fight.

4 Harnesse your horses, & set your selues vpon them, set your sallets fast on, bring forth speares, scoure your swords, and put on your breast plates.

5 But alas, howe happeneth it that I see you so afraide? why shrinke ye backe? Their worthies are slaine, yea, they runne so fast away, that none of them looketh behind him: fearefulnesse is fallen vpon euery one of them, sayth the Lord.

6 The lightest of foote shal not flee away, and the worthies shal not escape: toward the North by the water of Euphrates they did stumble and fall.

7 But what is hee this that swelleth vp as it were a flood, roaring and raging like the streames of water?

8 It is Egypt that riseth vp like the flood, and casteth out the waters with so great noise: And he said, I will goe vp, and will couer the earth, I will destroy the citie with them that are therein.

9 Get vp ye horses, roule forth ye charets, come forth worthies, ye Ethiopians, ye Lybyans with your bucklers, ye Lydians with your bowes.

10 But this day of the Lord God of hostes is a day of vengeance, that he may auenge him of his enemies: The sword shal deuoure, it shall be satisfied and bathed in their blood, for the Lord of hostes shall haue a slayne offering toward the North, by the water of Euphrates.

11 Goe vp vnto Gilead, and bring triacle, O virgine, thou daughter of Egypt: but in vaine shalt thou go to surgerie, for thy wound shall not be stopped.

12 The Heathen haue heard of thy shame, and the land is full of thy confusion: for one strong man did stumble vpon another, and they are fallen both together.

13 These are the wordes that the Lorde spake to the Prophet Jeremie, concerning the comming of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, which was sent to destroy the land of Egypt:

14 Preach out through the land of Egypt, and cause it to bee proclaymed at Migdol, Noph, and Taphnis, and say, Stand fast, make make thee readie, for the ſworde ſhal conſume thee round about.

15 Howe happeneth it that thy mightie worthies are fallen? why ſtood they not faſt? euen becauſe the Lord thruſt them downe.

16 The ſlaughter was great, for one fell euer ſtill vpon another: and they ſaide, vp, let vs goe againe to our owne people, and to our owne naturall countrey, from the cruell ſworde.

17 They did crie euen there, Pharao the king of Egypt is a king of troubleſomeneſſe: he hath ouerpaſt the appointed time.

18 As I liue (ſaith the king whoſe name is the Lorde of hoſtes) ſo ſurely as Thabor ſtandeth among the mountaines, and Charmel in the ſea: euen ſo aſſuredly ſhal this miſchiefe come vpon Egypt.

19 O thou daughter of Egypt, make ready thy geare to flit: for Noph ſhalbe voyd and deſolate, ſo that no man ſhall dwell therein.

20 The lande of Egypt is like a goodly faire calfe: but deſtruction ſhall come out of the North, I ſay it commeth.

21 Her waged ſouldiers that be with her are like fat calues, they alſo ſhal flee away together, and not abide: for the day of their ſlaughter, and the time of their viſitation ſhall come vpon them.

22 The crie of them ſhall make a noyſe as the hiſſing of ſerpents: for they ſhall enter in with their hoſtes, and come againſt her with axes, as it were hewers downe of wood.

23 And they ſhall cut downe her [a] wood, ſayth the Lorde, they ſhall be innumerable: for they ſhall bee moe in number then the graſhoppers, ſo that no man ſhall be able to tell them.

[a] Or booke, that is, the Egyptians multitude of the people, reſpect how like a great booke.

24 The daughter of Egypt is confounded, and deliuered into the handes of the people of the North.

25 Thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael, Beholde, I will viſite that reſtleſſe people of Alexandria, Pharao, and Egypt, yea both their gods and their kings, euen Pharao and all them that put their truſt in him:

26 Yea, I will deliuer them into the handes of thoſe that ſeeke after their liues, namely into the power of Nabuchodonoſor the king of Babylon, and into the power of his ſeruants: & after all theſe things, it ſhall be inhabited as afore time, ſaith the Lord.

Eſay 44.1. ire. 30.10. 27 *Be not thou afraid, O my ſeruant Iacob, feare not thou, O Iſrael: for loe, I will helpe thee from farre, and thy ſeede from the land of their captiuitie: Iacob alſo ſhall come againe and be in reſt, he ſhall proſper, and no man ſhall doe him harme.

28 Feare thou not (O Iacob my ſeruant) ſayth the Lord, for I am with thee, and will deſtroy all nations among whom I haue ſcattered thee: neuertheleſſe I will not conſume thee, but chaſten thee and correct thee, yea, and that with diſcretion, neither will I vtterly deſtroy thee.

The xlvij. Chapter.

The worde of the Lord againſt the Philiſtines.

THeſe are the wordes that the Lorde ſpake vnto Ieremie the Prophete againſt the Philiſtines, before that Pharao ſmote the citie of Azah.

2 Thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, there ſhal waters ariſe out of the North, and ſhall growe to a great flood, running ouer and couering the lande and all that is therein, the cities, and them that dwell therein: and the men ſhall crie, and all they that dwell in the land ſhall mourne,

3 At the noyſe & ſtamping of their ſtrong barded horſes, at the ſhaking of their charrets, and at the rumbling of the wheeles: the fathers ſhall not looke to their children, ſo feeble and wearie ſhall their handes be.

4 At the ſame time when he ſhalbe there to deſtroy the whole land of the Philiſtines, he ſhal make waſte both Tyrus, Sidon, and the reſidue of their ayde: for the Lorde will deſtroy the Philiſtines, the remnant of the yle of ‖ Caphtor.

‖ Or, Cappadocia.

5 Baldneſſe is come vpon Azah, Aſcalon is put to ſilence, with the reſt of their valleys: Howe long wilt thou teare thy ſelfe?

6 O thou ſworde of the Lorde, howe long wilt thou not ceaſe? Turne againe into thy ſheath, reſt, and leaue off.

7 But howe can it ceaſe, when the Lord himſelfe hath giuen it a charge againſt Aſcalon, and raiſed it vp againſt the cities of the ſea coaſt?

The xlviij. Chapter.

The worde of the Lord againſt the Moabites.

THus ſayeth the Lorde of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael, againſt Moab, woe be to the citie of Nebo, for it is layde waſte, brought to confuſion, and Kiriathaim is taken: Miſgab is brought to ſhame and afraide.

2 Moab can boaſt no more of Heſbon, for they haue deuiſed a miſchiefe againſt it: Come, ſhall they ſay, let vs roote them out: that they may be no more a nation, thou alſo ſhalt be deſtroyed, O Madmena, and the ſworde ſhall perſecute thee.

3 A voyce ſhall crie from Horonaim: Great waſting and deſtruction ſhall come vpon them.

4 Moab is made deſolate, her litle ones haue cryed out.

5 For at the going vp vnto Luith he aroſe with lamentation and mourning, and downe towarde Horonaim they heard a cruell and deadly crye:

6 *Get you away, ſaue your liues, and be like vnto the heath in the wilderneſſe. Iere. 17.6.

7 For becauſe thou haſt truſted in thine owne workes and treaſure, thou ſhalt be taken: Chamos with his prieſtes and princes ſhall goe away into captiuitie.

8 The

8 The destroyer shall come vpon al cities, none shall escape: the valleys shalbe destroyed, and the fieldes shalbe laide waste, like as the Lord hath spoken.

9 Giue wings vnto Moab, that shee get her away speedily: for her cities shall be made so desolate, that no man shall dwell therein.

10 Cursed be hee that doeth the worke of the Lord fraudulently, and cursed be he that keepeth backe his swoorde from shedding of blood.

11 Moab hath euer bene rich & careleste from her youth vp, shee hath bene still setled vpon lees, shee was neuer yet put out of one vessell into another, that is, shee neuer went away into captiuitie, therefore her taste remaineth, and her sauour is not yet changed.

12 But loe, the time commeth, sayeth the Lorde, that I shall send her trussers to trusse her vp, which shall remooue her from her dwelling, and emptie her vessels, and breake her wine pots.

13 And Moab shall be ashamed of Chamos, *like as Israel was ashamed of Bethel, wherein she put her trust. 3.King.12.29.

14 Wherefore doe ye thinke thus, * wee are mightie and strong men of warre? Esay 16.7.

15 Moab is destroyed, & her cities burnt vp, her chosen yong men be slaine, saith the king, whose name is the Lord of hostes.

16 The destruction of Moab commeth on apace, and her fall is at hand.

17 All ye neighbours mourne for her, and all ye that know her name, say, O howe happeneth it that the strong staffe and the goodly rodde is thus broken?

18 And thou daughter Dibon, come downe from thy glory, and sit in thirst: for he that destroyeth Moab, shall come vp to thee also, and breake downe thy strong holdes.

19 And thou that dwellest in Aroer, get thee to the streete, and looke about thee, aske them that are fled and escaped, and say, what thing is happened?

20 Oh, Moab is confounded and ouercome: mourne and cry, tell it out at Arnon, that Moab is destroyed:

21 For iudgement shall come vpon the plaine land, namely, vpon Holon, and Jahzah, and vpon Mephaath, 22 And vpon Dibon, vpon Nabo, and Beth Deblathaim,

23 Vpon Kiriathaim, and vpon Beth Gamul, vpon Beth Maon, 24 And vpon Carioth, vpon Bozra, and all the cities in the lande of Moab, whether they lye farre or neere.

25 The horne of Moab is smitten downe, and her arme broken, sayth the Lord.

26 Make her drunken, for shee magnified her selfe aboue the Lord, that men may clap their hands at her vomite, and that shee also may be laughed to scorne.

27 Diddest not thou laugh Israel to scorne, as though he had bene taken with theft among thieues? for so often as thou madest mention of him, thou skippest for ioy.

28 Ye Moabites, leaue the cities, and dwell in rockes of stone, and become like Doues that make their nestes in holes.

29 As for Moabs pride we haue heard of it, shee is very high minded, I knowe her stoutnesse, her boasting, her arrogancie, and the pride of her stomacke, saith the Lord.

30 I know (sayth the Lord) her indignation, she doeth not right, her words are lyes, and they haue not dealt truely.

31 Therefore will I mourne for Moab, for whole Moabs sake: my heart shal lament the men of Kirchares.

32 O thou vineyard of Sabamah, I will weepe for thee as for Jazer: thy vine branches shall come ouer the sea, vnto the sea of Jazer, the destroyer shall breake into thy haruest and grape gathering.

33 * Myrth and cheere shalbe taken away from the fertill fielde, and from the lande of Moab: there shalbe no sweete wine in the presse, the treader shall haue no stomacke to cry, yea, there shalbe none to cry vnto him, Esay 16.10

34 Which aforetime were heard from Hesbon to Eleale, and Jahaz, which lifted vp their voyce from Zoar vnto Horonaim, that bullocke of three yeere olde: the waters also of Nemrim shalbe dried vp.

35 Moreouer, I will make Moab ceale, sayth the Lorde, from the offerings and censing that shee hath made vnto her gods in high places.

36 Wherefore my heart mourneth for Moab like a croude playing an heauie song, and for the mens sake of Kirchares my heart mourneth also, euen as a pipe that pipeth a dolefull song: for their riches which they haue gathered, shalbe destroyed.

37 * All heads shall bee shauen, and all beardes clipped off, all hands bound, and all loynes girded about with sackcloth. Esay 15.2. ecclc.7.28.

38 Vpon all the house toppes and streetes of Moab, there shall be lamentable mourning, for I will breake Moab like an vnpotable vessell, sayth the Lord.

39 O how is she destroyed? O how mourneth she? O howe doeth Moab hang downe her head, and is ashamed? Thus shall Moab be a laughing stocke, and had in derision of all them that be round about her.

40 For thus saith the Lorde, Beholde, the enemie shall come fleeing as an Eagle, and spread his wings vpon Moab.

41 They shall take the cities, and winne the strong holdes: then the mightie mens heartes in Moab shall be like the heart of a woman trauailing with childe.

42 And Moab shall be made so desolate, that she shall no more be a people, because she hath set vp her selfe against the Lord.

43 Feare, pit, and snare shall come vpon thee, O Moab, saith the Lord.

44 * Who so escapeth the feare, shall fall into the pit, and who so getteth out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for I will bring a Esay 24.17.

yeere of visitation vpon Moab, sayth the Lorde.

45 They that are able to flee, shall stande vnder the shadowe of Hesbon, for there shall goe a fire out of Hesbon, and a flame from Sion, and shall burne vp that proude people of Moab, and the toppe of those seditious children.

46 Woe be vnto thee O Moab, thou people of Chamos shalt perish: yea thy sonnes and daughters shalbe led away captiue.

47 Yet at the last will I bring Moab out of captiuitie againe, saith the Lorde. Thus farre is of the plague of Moab.

The xlix. Chapter.

1 The word of the Lorde against the Ammonites. 7 against Idumea, 23 Damascus, 28 Cedar, 34 Elam.

AS concerning the Ammonites, thus the Lorde sayth, Hath Israel no children? or is hee without any heire? why hath your king then taken Gad in? wherefore doeth his people dwell in his cities?

2 Beholde therefore, the time commeth, sayth the Lord, that I will bring a noyse of warre into Rabbath of the Ammonites, and it shall be layde on a desolate heape, and her cities burnt vp, and the Israelites shall bee lordes ouer those that had them in possession afore, saith the Lord.

3 Hesbon shall mourne, for Ai shall bee rooted out of the grounde, saith the Lord, the citie of Rabbath shall cry out, and gird themselues with sackcloth, they shall mourne and runne about the walles, for their king shall be ledde away prisoner, yea his priestes and princes with him.

4 Wherefore gloriest thou in the valleis? thy valley hath flowed away, O thou rebellious daughter, and thinkest thou that thou art so safe by reason of thy treasure, that no man shall come to thee?

5 Behold, I will bring a feare vpon thee, sayth the Lorde GOD of hostes, from all those that bee about thee, so that ye shall be scattered euery man from another, and no man shall gather them together againe that be fled.

6 But after that, I wil bring the Ammonites also out of captiuitie againe, sayth the Lorde.

7 Vpon the Edomites hath the Lorde of hostes spoken on this maner, Is there no more wisdome in Theman? Is there no more good counsell among his people? Is their wisdome then turned cleane to nought?

8 Get you hence, turne your backes, creepe downe into the deepe, O ye citizens of Dedan: for I will bring destruction vpon Esau, yea and the day of his visitation.

9 * If the grape gatherers come vpon thee, shoulde they not leaue some grapes? If the night robbers come vpon thee, shoulde they not take so much as they thought were ynough? Abdi.3.

10 But I will make Esau bare, and discouer his secrets, so that he shall not be able to hide them: his seede shalbe wasted away, yea his brethren and his neighbours, and he himselfe shall not be left behinde.

11 Thou shalt leaue thy fatherlesse children behinde thee, and I will keepe them, and thy widdowes shall take their comfort in mee.

12 For thus hath the Lorde spoken, Behold, they that men thought were vnmeete to drinke of the cup, haue drunken with the first: and thinkest thou then to bee free? No no, thou shalt neither bee quit nor free: but thou must drinke also.

13 For why? I haue sworne by my selfe, sayth the Lorde, that Bozrah shall become a wildernes, an open shame, a laughing stock, and curling: and all her citie shall bee a continuall desart.

14 * For I am perfectly informed of the Lorde, that he hath sent a message already vnto the Heathen: Gather you together, and goe forth against her, make you ready to battell: Abdias.1.

15 For loe, I will make thee but small among the Heathen, & litle regarded among men.

16 Thy high stomacke, and the pride of thy heart hath deceiued thee, because thou doest dwell in the holes of stony rockes, and hall the high mountaines in possession: Neuertheles, though thy nest were as high as the Egles, yet I will cast thee downe, sayth the Lorde.

17 Moreouer, Idumea shall be a wildernesse, who so goeth by it, shall bee abashed, and woonder at all her miserable plagues.

18 * Like as Sodome, Gomor, and the cities that lay thereabout were turned vpside downe, sayth the Lord: so shall no body dwel in Idumea, and no man shall haue his habitation there. Gen.19.25.

19 Behold, like as the Lion, so shall a destroyer come vp from the pleasant medowes of Iordane, vnto the strong dwelling place, and when I haue made him quiet, I will make him to flie from her, and all chosen men will I set in aray against her: who is like vnto mee? what is hee that will striue with me? what shepheard may stand in my handes? Iob.41.1.

20 Therefore heare the counsell of the Lord that he hath taken vpon Idumea, and his purpose that he hath deuised vpon the citizens of Theman: the least of the flocke shall draule them, and loose what faire habitation they haue, they shal make it waste, and themselues also.

21 At the noyse of their fall the earth shal quake, the cry of their voyce shal be heard vnto the red sea.

22 Beholde, the enemie shall come and flee flee vp hither like as it were an Eagle, and spreade his winges vpon Bozrah: then shall the heartes of the worthies in Edom bee as the heart of a woman trauailing of childe.

23 Vpon Damascus, Hemath, and Arphad, shall come confusion: for they shal heare euill tidings, they shall bee tossed to and fro like the sea that can not stand still.

24 Damascus shall be sore afrayde, and shall flee: trembling commeth vpon her, sorowe and payne shall ouertake her, as a woman trauailing of childe.

25 But howe happeneth it that the famous citie, the citie of my ioy, is not spared?

26 Her yong men shall fal in the streetes, and al her men of warre shall be taken away in that time, sayth the Lord of hostes.

27 I will kindle a fire in the walles of Damascus, which shall consume the palace of Benhadad.

28 As for Cedar and the kingdome of Hazor, whom Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon smote, the Lord hath spoken thus vpon them: Arise, and get you vp vnto Cedar, and destroy the people towarde the East.

29 Their tents and their flockes shall they take away, yea their hangings and their vessels, their Cammels also shall they carry away with them: they shall cry to them, Feare is on euery side.

30 Flee, get you farre away, creepe into caues, that ye may dwell there, O ye inhabitours of Hazor, sayth the Lord: for Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon hath holden a counsell concerning you, and concluded his deuice against you.

31 Arise, and get you vp against yonder rich and careless people, sayeth the Lorde, which haue neither gates nor dooze barres, but dwell alone.

32 Their Camels shalbe a pray, and the droues of their cattell driuen away: Moreouer, those wil I scatter toward al the winds, and to the farthest partes of the worlde, yea from all the sides thereof will I bring their destruction, sayth the Lord.

33 Hazor also shall be a dwelling for Dragons, and an euerlasting wildernesse, so that no body shall dwell there, and no man shall haue there his habitation.

34 These are the wordes that the Lorde spake to the Prophet Ieremie concerning Elam, in the beginning of the reigne of Sedecias king of Juda.

35 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will breake the bowe of Elam, their principall strength.

36 And vpon Elam I wil bring the foure windes from the foure quarters of heauen, and will scatter them against the same foure windes: and there shalbe no people, but some of Elam shall flee vnto them.

37 For I will cause Elam to be afrayd of their enemies, and of them that seeke their liues, and will bring vpon them a mischiefe, euen my wrath, saith the Lord: and I will persecute them with the sword, so long till I haue brought them to nought.

38 I will set my throne in Elam, I will destroy both the king & princes from thence, saith the Lord: but in processe of time I will bring Elam out of captiuitie againe, sayeth the Lord.

The l. Chapter.

He prophecieth the destruction of Babylon, and the deliuerance of Israel, which was in captiuitie.

THe wordes that the Lord spake vnto the Prophet Ieremie concerning Babylon and the land of the Chaldees:

2 Preach among the Gentiles, let your voyce be heard, make a token, cry out, keepe no silence, but say, Babylon is wonne, Bel is confounded, and Merodach is ouercome, yea their gods bee brought to shame, and their images burst in pieces.

3 For out of the North there doeth come a people against her, which shall make her land so waste, that no body shall dwell therein, neither man nor beast, for they shall flee and depart from thence.

4 In those dayes, and at that time, sayeth the Lorde, the children of Israel shall come, they and the children of Juda, weeping and making haste, and shall seeke the Lorde their God.

5 They shal aske the way to Sion, thither shall they turne their faces, saying, Come, and wee will cleaue to the Lorde in a couenant that neuer shalbe broken.

6 My people haue bene a lost flocke, my shepheards haue deceiued them, and haue made them goe astray vpon the hilles, they haue gone from the mountaine to the little hill, and forgotten their folde.

7 All they that came vpon them, haue deuoured them, and their enemies sayde, Wee haue made no fault against them, for they haue displeased the Lord, yea euen the Lorde which is the habitation of their righteousnesse, and the hope of their fathers.

8 Flee from Babylon, and depart out of the land of the Chaldees, and bee yee as the rammes that goe before the flocke.

9 For loe, I will wake vp an host of people from the Northren land, and bring them vpon Babylon, these shall lay siege to it, and winne it: their arrowes shall not misse, like as a cunning archer shooteth not wrong.

10 And the Chaldees shalbe spoyled, and al they that spoyle them shalbe satisfied, saith the Lord.

11 Although yee were so cheerefull and glad to treade downe mine heritage, and fulfilled your pleasures as the Calues in the grasse, and triumphed ouer them like Bulles when ye had gotten the victorie,

12 Your mothers shalbe sore confounded, and they that bare you shall come to shame, her shall bee the least set by among the nations, doyde, wasted, and dryed vp.

13 No man shall be able to dwell there for the feare of the Lord, but shee shall be wholy desolate: all they that goe by Babylon shall stand still and be abashed, and shall wonder at all her plagues.

14 Goe forth in your array against Babylon rounde about, all yee that can handle bowes, shoote at her, spare no arrowes: for shee hath sinned against the Lord.

15 Crye out against her round about: she shal yeeld her selfe, her foundations shall fall, and her walles shall come downe, for it shall be the vengeance of the Lord, yea vengeance shalbe taken of her: and as she hath done, so deale ye with her.

16 Roote out the sower from Babylon, and him that handleth the sickle in harueste: for feare of the sworde of the enemie, euery man shall get him to his owne people, and euery man shall flee to his owne land.

17 Israel is a scattered flocke, the Lions haue dispersed them: *first the king of the Assyrians deuoured them, last of all this Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon hath bruised all their bones. 1. King. 17. 14.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Beholde, I will visite the king of Babylon and his kingdome, as I haue visited the king of the Assyrians, 19 And will bring Israel againe to his pleasant pasture, that hee may feede vpon Charmel and Basan, and bee satisfied vpon the mount Ephraim and Galaad.

20 In those dayes, and at the same time, saith the Lord, if the offence of Israel bee sought for, there shall none be found, if men enquire for the sinne of Juda, there shall be none: for I will be merciful vnto them whom I suffer to remaine.

21 Goe downe O thou auenger into the enemies land, and visit them that dwell therein: downe with them, and smite them vpon the backes, saith the Lord, doe according to all that I command thee.

22 There is gone about the land a crye of a slaughter and great murder, namely on this maner, 23 How happeneth it that the hammer of the whole world is thus broken and bruised in sunder? How chanceth it that Babylon is become a wildernesse among the Heathen on this maner?

24 I my selfe haue layde a snare for thee, and thou art taken vnawares, thou art trapped and snared: for why? thou hast contended against the Lord.

25 The Lord hath opened his house of ordinance, and brought forth the weapons of his wrath: for the thing that is done in the land of the Chaldees, it is the Lord of hostes worke.

26 Come against her, for this is her ende, breake vp her chests, threw her as yee threw corne, destroy her, that nothing shalbe left.

27 Slay all their mightie souldiers, and put them to death: woe be vnto them, for the day and time of their visitation is at hand.

28 Mee thinke I heare already a crye of them that be fled and escaped out of the lande of Babylon, which shew in Sion the vengeance of the Lord our God, the vengeance of his Temple, yea a voyce of them that crye against Babylon, 29 Call vp all the archers against Babylon, pitch your tents round about her, that none escape, recompense her as shee hath deserued, and according as shee hath done, so deale with her againe: for she hath set vp her selfe against the Lord, against the holy one of Israel.

30 Therefore shal her yong men fal downe in the streetes, and all her men of warre shall be rooted out in that day, saith the Lord.

31 Behold, I speake vnto thee, O thou proud, saith the Lord God of hosts, for thy day shall come, euen the time of thy visitation.

32 And the proude shall stumble and fall, and no man shall helpe him vp, I will burne vp his cities with fire, and it shall consume all that is round about him.

33 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, The children of Israel and Juda suffer violence together, all they that haue them in captiuitie keepe them fast, and will not let them goe.

34 But their auenger and redeemer is mightie, whose name is the Lord of hosts, he shall maintaine their cause, he shal make the land shake, and iudge them that dwell therein one with another.

35 The sworde shall come vpon the Chaldees, saith the Lord, vpon them that dwell in Babylon, vpon their princes, and vpon their wise men.

36 The sword vpon their soothsayers: as for those they shall become fooles: the sword vpon their worthies, so that they shall stande in feare.

37 The sworde vpon their horsemen and charrets, and vpon all the common people that dwell among them, so that they shall all become like women: the sword vpon their treasure, so that it shalbe stollen away.

38 A drought vpon their waters, so that they shall be dryed vp: for the land worshippeth images, and delighteth wonderfully in idoles.

39 Therefore shall wilde beastes, Lamia, and Cat of mountaines, and Estriches dwel therein: for there shall neuer man dwell there, neither shall any man haue his habitation there for euermore.

40 *Like as God destroyed Sodome and Gomor, with the cities that lay thereabout, saith the Lord: so shall no man dwell there also, neither shal any man haue there his habitation. Gen. 19. 25 esay. 13. 19.

41 Behold, there shall come a people from the North with a great band of men, and many kings shall stand vp from the endes of the earth.

42 They beare bowes and bucklers, cruell are they and vnmercifull: their voyce roareth like the raging sea, they ride vpon horses, and arme themselues to fight against thee, O Babylon.

43 As soone as the king of Babylon shall heare tell of them, his hands shal wax feeble, sorow and beautinesse shal come vpon him as a woman trauailing with childe.

44 Behold, like as the Lion commeth vp from the swelling of Iordane, vnto ye dennes of Ethan, so will I driue them sodenly, and make them run against her: but whom shall I chuse out and ordeine to such a thing? Iob.41.1. for who is like me? or who will striue with me? or what shepheard may stand against me?

45 Therefore heare the counsell that the Lord hath giuen vpon Babylon, and the deuice that he hath taken vpon the land of the Chalders, The least among the people shall draw them out, and loose what pleasant houses they haue, they shall lay them waste.

46 The noyse at the winning of Babylon shall moue the earth, and the cry shall be heard among the Gentiles.

The lj. Chapter.

1 Howe Babylon should be ouerthrowen. 59 Ieremie giueth his booke to Saraias.

THus hath the Lorde sayde, Behold, I will rayse vp a perillous winde against Babylon and her citizens that beare euill will against me.

2 I will send also into Babylon fanners, to fanne her out, and to destroy her land: for in the day of her trouble they shall bee about her on euery side.

3 Moreouer the Lord will say vnto the bowmen, and to them that aduance themselues in their armour: Ye shall not spare her yong men, kill downe all her hoste.

4 Thus the slaine shall fall downe in the land of the Chaldees, and the wounded in the streetes.

5 As for Israel and Iuda, they shall not be forsaken of their God, of the Lorde of hostes, yea, [a] for the holy one of Israels sake, haue the Chaldees filled their land full of sinne.

[a] For the holy one of Israels sake, that is, for the grieuous affliction and great iniurie done to Gods people, which he requiteth as done vnto himselfe.

6 Flee away frō Babylon, euery man saue his life, that yee bee not rooted out with her wickednesse: for the time of the Lords vengeance is come, yea, he shall reward her againe.

7 Babylon hath bene in the Lords hand a golden cup, that maketh al lands drunken: of her wine haue all people drunken, therefore are they out of their wittes.

8 * But suddenly is Babylon fallen and destroyed: mourne for her, bring plasters for her woundes, if shee may peraduenture bee healed againe. Esa.21.9. apoc.18.8.

9 We would haue made Babylon whole, say they, but she is not recouered: therefore will we let her alone, and go euery man into his owne countrey: for her iudgement is come into heauen, and is gone vp into the cloudes.

10 The Lorde hath brought forth our [b] righteousnesse, and therefore come on, wee will shewe in Sion the worke of the Lorde our God. [b] Vnderstand the Iewes had beleeued to be plagued at Gods hand, yet had the Chalders no cause so to punish them, and so God declareth his righteousnesse in respect of the Chalders, by punishing them, and by louering his people.

11 Make sharpe the arrowes, and multiplie your shieldes: for the Lorde shall raise vp the spirite of the king of the Medes, which hath already a desire to destroy Babylon: this shall bee the vengeance of the Lord, and the vengeance of his temple.

12 Set vp tokens vpon the walles of Babylon, make your watch strong, set your watchmen in aray, yea, holde prouide watches, and yet for all that, shall the Lorde goe forth with his deuice, which hee hath taken vpon them that dwell in Babylon.

13 O thou that dwellest by the great waters, O thou that hast so great treasure and riches, thine ende is come, and the reckening of thy winnings.

14 * The Lorde of hostes hath sworne by himselfe, that he will ouerwhelme thee with men, like Grashoppers in number, which with a courage shall crie alarme alarme against thee. Amos 6.8.

15 * Yea, euen the Lord of hosts that with his power made the earth, with his wisedome prepared the rounde worlde, and with his discretion spred out the heauens. Gene.1.6. psal.135.6. iere. 10.16.

16 As soone as hee letteth his voyce bee heard, the waters in the ayre waxe fierce: he draweth vp the cloudes from the endes of the earth, he turneth the lightnings to raine, he bringeth the winds out of their secret places.

17 If they be esteemed by their wisedome all men are become fooles: confounded be all the casters of images, for the thing that they make is but deceite, and hath no breath.

18 Vaine is it, and an erronious worke, and in the time of visitation it shall perish.

19 The portion of Iacob is none such: but he that made all things, whose name is the Lord of hosts, he is the rod of his inheritance.

20 [c] Thou hast bene mine hammer and weapons for warre: for with thee haue I broken the people in pieces, and with thee haue I destroyed kingdomes. [c] Thou hast bene. The God speaketh vnto Babylon

21 Through thee haue I beaten to powder horse and horsemen, yea, the charets, and such as sate vpon them.

22 Through thee I haue broken man and woman, old and yong, bacheler and maiden.

23 Through thee I haue destroyed the shepheard and his flocke, the husbandman and his cattell, the princes and the rulers.

24 Therefore will I rewarde the cities of Babylon, and all the inhabitants of Chaldea, with all the euill which they had done vnto Sion, yea, that ye your selues shall see it, saith the Lord.

25 Behold, I come vnto thee, thou noysome [d] hill, saith the Lord, thou that destroyest all lands, I will stretch out my hand ouer thee, and cast thee downe from the stonie rockes, and will make thee a burnt hill. [d] Babylon is called an hill, although it stoode in a low place, and so pils about it: for that by waters & buildings were in great and hie as mountaines.

26 So that neither corner stones shalbe taken taken any more out of thee, but waſte & deſolate ſhalt thou lye for euermore, ſaieth the Lord.

27 Set vp a token in the land, blowe the trumpets among the Heathen, prouoke the nations againſt her, call the kingdomes of Ararat, Menni, and Aſcanez, againſt her, ſet the prince againſt her, bring as great a ſort of terrible horſes againſt her, as if they were graſſehoppers.

28 Prepare againſt them the people of the Medes, with their kings, princes, and all their chiefe rulers, yea, and the whole lande that is vnder him.

29 The land alſo ſhall ſhake and be afraid, when the deuice of the Lord ſhall come forth againſt Babylon, to make the land of Babylon ſo waſte, that no man ſhall dwell any more therein.

30 The worthies of Babylon ſhall leaue the battell, and keepe themſelues in ſtrong holdes, their ſtrength hath failed them, they ſhall bee like women, their dwelling places ſhall be burnt vp, their barres ſhalbe broken.

31 One purſeuant ſhall meete another, yea, one poſte ſhall come by another, to bring the king of Babylon tidings that his citie is taken on euery ſide, 32 The foords occupied, the fennes burnt vp, and the ſouldiers ſore afraid.

33 For thus ſaith the Lorde of hoſtes the God of Iſrael, c The daughter of Babylon hath bene in her time like as a threſhing floore, but ſhortly ſhall her harueſt come.

c Or, the congregation of Gods people.

34 Nabuchodonoſor the king of Babylon hath deuoured & deſtroied me, he hath made me an emptie veſſel, he ſwallowed me vp like a Dragon, and filled his beſtie with my delicates, he hath caſt me out.

35 My ſubſtance whereof he hath ſpoiled me, and the thing that was left mee, which he hath caried away, cry out againſt Babylon, ſaith the daughter that dwelleth in Sion, yea, and my blood alſo againſt the Chaldees, ſaith Hieruſalem.

36 Therefore thus ſayeth the Lorde, Beholde, I will defende thy cauſe, and auenge thee, I will drinke vp her Sea, and drie vp her water ſprings.

37 Babylon ſhall become an heape of ſtones, a dwelling place for Dragons, a fearfulneſſe and wondering, and no man ſhall dwell there.

38 They ſhall roare together like Lions, and as the yong Lions when they be angry, ſo ſhall they bend themſelues.

39 In their heate I will giue them a dinner, and they ſhalbe drunken for ioy: then ſhal they ſleepe an euerlaſting ſleepe, and neuer wake, ſaith the Lord.

40 I will carry them downe to bee ſlaine like ſheepe, like wethers, and goates.

41 O howe was Sefach wonne? O how was the glory of the whole land taken? how happeneth it that Babylon is ſo wondered at among the Heathen?

42 The ſea is riſen ouer Babylon, and hath couered her with her great waues.

43 Her cities are layde waſte, the land lyeth vnbuſided and voyde, it is a land where no man dwelleth, and where no man trauaileth thorowe.

44 Moreouer, I will viſite Bel at Babylon, & the thing that he hath ſwallowed vp, that ſame ſhal I pluck out of his mouth: the Gentiles alſo ſhall runne no more vnto him, yea and the walles of Babylon ſhall fall.

45 O my people, come out of Babylon, that euery man may ſaue his life from the fearefull wrath of the Lord.

46 Be not faint hearted, and feare not at euery rumour that ſhal be heard in the land: for euery yeere bringeth newe tidings, and in the yeere following newe tidings, and robbing in the land, and lord vpon lord.

47 And loe, the time commeth, that I wil viſit the images of Babylon, and the whole land ſhalbe confounded, yea and her ſlaine ſhall lie in the middeſt of her.

48 Heauen and earth with all that is therein ſhall reioyce ouer Babylon, when the deſtroyers ſhall come vpon her from the North, ſaith the Lord.

49 Like as Babylon hath beaten downe and ſlaine many out of Iſrael, ſo ſhall there fall many, and be ſlaine in all her kingdome.

50 Ye that haue eſcaped the ſword, haſte you, ſtand not ſtil, remember the Lord a farre off, and thinke vpon Hieruſalem.

51 For wee are aſhamed to heare the blaſphemies, our faces were couered with ſhame, becauſe the ſtrange aliants came into the ſanctuarie of the Lord.

52 Wherefore beholde, ſaith the Lord, the time commeth that I wil viſit the images of Babylon, and throughout the whole land they ſhall mourne and fall.

53 Though Babylon climed vp into heauen, and kept her power on high, yet ſhall I ſend her deſtroyers, ſaith the Lord.

54 A piteous cry ſhall be heard from Babylon, and a great miſerie from the lande of the Chaldees,

55 when the Lord deſtroyeth Babylon, and when he driueth out the high ſtomache and proude boaſting, wherewith they haue bene as furious as the waues of the great water floods, and made great crakes with their words:

56 For the deſtroyer ſhall come vpon her, euen vpon Babylon, which ſhall take their worthies, and breake their bowes: for the God of recompence, euen the Lorde ſhall ſufficiently recompenſe them, 57 Yea, ſaith the Lord, I will make their princes, their wiſe men, their chiefe rulers, their nobles, and their worthies drunken, ſo that they ſhall ſleepe an euerlaſting ſleepe, and neuer wake: thus ſaith the king, whoſe name is the Lord of hoſtes.

58 Moreouer, thus ſayeth the Lord of hoſtes, The thicke wall of Babylon ſhall be broken, and her high gates ſhall be burnt vp, and the thing that the Gentiles and the people haue wrought with great trauaile and labour, shall come to nought, and be consumed in the fire.

59 This is the charge that Ieremie the Prophet gaue vnto Saraiah the sonne of Neriah the sonne of Maasiah, when he went toward Babylon with Zedecias the king of Juda, in the fourth yeere of his reigne: now this Saraiah was a peaceable prince.

60 Ieremie wrote in a booke all the miserie that shoulde come vpon Babylon, yea, and al these sermons that be written against Babylon,

61 And gaue Saraiah this charge, when thou commest vnto Babylon, see that thou reade these wordes, 62 And say, O Lord, thou art determined to roote out this place, so that neither people nor cattell shall dwell there any more, but to lye wast for euer.

63 And when thou hast read out the booke, binde a stone to it, and cast it in the middest of Euphrates, 64 And say, Euen thus shall Babylon sinke, and be thrust downe with the burden of trouble that I will bring vpon her: so that shee shall neuer come vp againe. Thus farre are the preachings of Ieremie.

The lij. Chapter.

1 He repeateth the taking of Zedecias. 4 Hierusalem is taken of the Chaldees. 14 The Temple is spoyled and robbed.

4.King. 24. 17. 2.chr. 36. 11. ZEdecias *was one and twentie yeeres olde when he was made king, and reigned eleuen yeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name was Hamutal, Jeremies daughter of Libna.

2 He liued wickedly before the Lord, euen as Jehoacim did.

3 For the Lord was angry at Hierusalem and Juda, so long till he had cast them out of his presence: and Zedecias fell from the king of Babylon.

4.Kin. 25. 1. iere. 9. 13. 4 *But in the ninth yeere of his reigne, in the tenth moneth, the tenth day of the moneth, it happened that Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon with all his hoste came before Hierusalem, and besieged it, and made bulwarkes round about it.

5 And this besieging of the citie endured vnto the eleuenth yeere of king Zedecias.

6 And in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, there was a great hunger in the citie, that there were no more victuals for the people of the land.

7 So all the souldiers brake away, and fled out of the citie by night, thorow the way of the port, betweene the two walles, by the kings garden: (Now the Chaldees had compassed the citie round about) yet went those men their way thorowe the wildernesse.

8 And so the Chaldees followed vpon them, and tooke Zedecias the king in the fielde of Jericho, when his hoste was runne from him.

9 So they caried the king away prisoner to Reblath, vnto the king of Babylon in the land of Hemath, where hee gaue iudgement vpon him.

10 The king of Babylon also caused Zedecias sonnes to be slaine before his face, yea, and put all the princes of Juda to death at Reblath.

11 Moreouer, he put out the eyes of Zedecias, and caused him to bee bound with two chaines, to be caried vnto Babylon, and let him lie in prison till he died.

12 Now the tenth day of the fifth moneth, in the nineteenth yeere of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine, and the king of Babylons seruants, came vnto Hierusalem, 13 And burnt vp the house of the Lord: he burnt vp also the kings palace, all the houses, and all the gorgeous buildings in Hierusalem.

14 And the whole hoste of the Chaldees that were with the chiefe captaine, brake downe all the walles of Hierusalem round about.

15 As for the poore people, and such folke as was yet left in the citie, which also were fallen to the king of Babylon, yea, and what people as yet remained, Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine caried them away prisoners.

16 But the poore people of the country did Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine leaue in the land, to occupie ℔ vineyards & the fieldes.

17 The Chaldees also brake the brasen pillars that were in the house of the Lorde, yea, the seate and the brasen lauer that was in the house of the Lord, and caried all the metall of them vnto Babylon.

18 They tooke away also the Caldrons, Shouels, Flesheyookes, Sprinckelers, Spoones, and all the brasen vessels that were occupied in the seruice, 19 with the basons, colepans, sprinklers, pottes, candlesticks, spoones, & cups, whereof some were of golde, and some of siluer.

20 The chiefe captaine tooke also the two pillars, the lauer, the twelue brasen bullocks that stoode vnder the seate which king Solomon had made in the house of the Lord: and all the vessels conteined so much metall, that it might not be weighed.

21 For euery pillar was eighteene cubites high, and the rope that went about it was twelue cubits, and foure fingers thicke, and round.

22 Now vpon the rope were brasen knops, and euery knop was fiue cubites high, and vpon the knops were hoopes, and pomegranates round about of cleane brasse.

23 After this maner were both the pillars fashioned with the pomegranates, whereof there were an hundred, ninetie and fiue, which hanged vpon the hoopes round about.

24 The chiefe captaine also tooke Saraiah the high Priest, and Sophoniah that was was chiefe next him, and the three keepers of the doore.

25 Hee tooke out of the citie a chamberlaine, which was captaine of the souldiers, and seuen men that were the kings seruãts, which were found in the citie: and Sopher a captaine that vsed to muster the men of warre, with threescore men of the countrey that were taken in the citie:

26 These Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine tooke, and caryed them to the king of Babylon, vnto Reblath:

27 And the king of Babylon caused them to be put to death at Reblath in the land of Hemath: and thus Iuda was led away captiue out of his owne land.

28 This is the summe of the people whom Nabuchodonosor led away captiue: In the seuenth yere of his reigne, he caried away of the Iewes, three thousand, twentie & three.

29 In the eighteenth yeere, Nabuchodonosor caryed away from Hierusalem, eight hundred, thirtie and two persons.

30 In the three and twentieth yeere of Nabuchodonosor, Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine tooke away seuen hundred, fourtie & fiue Iewes, prisoners. The whole summe of the prisoners is foure thousande, and sixe hundred.

31 In the thirtie and seuenth yeere after that Iehoiachin the king of Iuda was caried away, in the fiue and twentieth day of the twelfth moneth, Euilmerodach king of Babylon (the same yeere that he reigned) gaue Iehoiachin the king of Iuda his pardon, and let him out of prison, 32 And spake louingly to him, and set his throne aboue the thrones of the other kings that were with him in Babylon.

33 Hee changed also the clothes of his prison, yea, and did eate with him all his life long.

34 And he had a continuall liuing giuen him of the king of Babylon, euery day a certaine thing allowed him, all the dayes of his life, vntill he dyed.

The ende of the booke of the Prophet Ieremie.

The Lamentations of the Prophet Ieremie.

The first Chapter.

Whereof it happened after Israel was brought into captiuitie, and Hierusalem destroyed, that Ieremie the Prophet sate weeping, and sorowfully bewailed Hierusalem, and sighing and howling with an heauie and wofull heart, sayde.

ALas, howe sitteth the citie so desolate, that sometime was full of people? Howe is shee become like a widowe, which was great among nations? Howe is she brought vnder tribute, that ruled lands?

Iere.13.17. 2 She weepeth sore in the night, so that the teares runne downe her cheekes: for among all her louers, there is none that giueth her any comfort, yea, her next friendes transgresse against her, and are become her enemies.

3 Iuda went away by reason of the affliction and great bondage: shee dwelleth among the heathen, she findeth no rest, all they that persecuted her, tooke her in straite places, where she could not escape.

4 The streetes of Sion mourne, because no man commeth no more to the solemne feastes: all her gates are desolate, her priests make lamentation, her maydens are carefull, and she her selfe in great heauinesse.

5 Her enemies haue bene rulers ouer her, & her enemies haue prospered, because the Lorde hath chastened her for her great wickednesse: her children are led away captiue before their enemies.

6 All the beautie of the daughter of Sion is away, her princes are become like Hartes that finde no pasture, they are driuen away before their enemie, so that they haue no more power.

7 Nowe Hierusalem remembred in the time of her miserie and bare estate, all her ioy and pleasure that she hath had in times past, seeing her people is brought downe vnder the power of their enemies, and there is no man for to helpe her: her enemies stande looking at her, and laugh her Sabboth dayes to scorne.

8 Hierusalem hath sinned grieuously, therefore is she come in decay: all they that had her in honour, despise her, for they haue seene her filthinesse, yea, she sighyeth, and is ashamed of her selfe.

lOr, and is turned backward.

9 Her filthes are spied, she remembred not her last ende, therefore is her fall so wonderfull, and there is no man to comfort her: O Lorde consider my trouble, for mine enemie hath the vpper hand.

10 The enemie hath put his hand to all the precious things that she had, yea, euen before her eyes came the heathen in and out of the sanctuarie, whome thou hadst charged that they should not come within thy congregation.

11 All her people seeke their bread with heauinesse, and looke what precious thing euery man hath, that giueth he for meate to saue his life: consider, O Lord, and see how vile I am become.

12 Haue ye not regard all ye that go forby, beholde and see if there be any sorowe like vnto mine, wherewith the Lorde hath troubled me in the day of his feareful wrath.

13 From aboue hath he sent downe a fire into my bones, and it burneth them cruelly: he hath laid a net for my feete, and throwen me wide open, hee hath made me desolate, so that I must euer be mourning.

a The bondage through sinne is most grieuous, which therefore is called the yoke of sinnes, fastened in ire to Gods hand, because by no meanes it can be shaken off or remitted, but onely of Gods speciall grace and mercie.

14 The a yoke of my transgressions is bound fast to his hande, they are wrapped or wreathen and come vp about my necke: he hath caused my strength to fayle, the Lorde hath deliuered me into those hands wherevnto I can not quit my selfe.

15 The Lord hath destroyed all the mightie men that were in me, he hath proclaimed an appointed time to slaughter all my best men: the Lord hath troden down the daughter of Iuda, like as it were in a wine presse.

Iere. 14. 17. 16 *Therefore doe I weepe, and mine eyes gush out of water: for the comfort that should quicken mee, is farre from mee: my children are driuen away, for why? the enemie hath gotten the vpper hand.

17 Sion casteth out her hands, and there is no man to comfort her: the Lord hath layd the enemies round about Iacob, and Hierusalem is become abomination in the middest of them.

18 The Lord is righteous, for I haue prouoked his countenance vnto anger: O take heede all yee people, and consider my heauinesse, my maydens and my yong men are led away into captiuitie.

19 I called for my louers, but they beguiled me, for my priestes and counsailours, but they perished, euen while they sought for meate to saue their liues.

20 Consider (O Lorde) howe I am troubled, my wombe is disquieted, my heart turneth about in mee, and I am full of heauinesse, because I rebelled stubburnely: the sworde hurteth me without, and within I am like vnto death.

21 They heare my mourning, but there is none that will comfort me: all mine enemies haue heard of my trouble, and are glad thereof, because thou hast done it, and thou hast brought forth the time which thou calledst, when they also shalbe like vnto me.

22 Let all their wickednesse come before thee, and doe thou to them as thou hast done vnto me for all my trespasses: for my sorowe is very great, and my heart is heauie.

The ij. Chapter.

ALas howe hath the Lorde darkened the daughter of Sion in his wrath? as for the honour of Israel, he hath cast it downe from heauen vnto the earth, and he remembred not his owne a footestoole when he was angrie.

a By the footestoole is meant the temple of Hierusalem.

2 The Lorde hath cast out all the habitations of Iacob without any fauour, all the strong places of the daughter of Iuda hath he broken downe in his wrath, and throwen them downe to the ground, her kingdome and her princes hath he prophaned.

3 In the wrath of his indignation hee hath broken all the b horne of Israel, he hath withdrawen his right hand from the enemie, yea, a flame of fire is kindled in Iacob, and hath consumed vp all round about.

b By horne is meant the power of strength.

4 He hath bent his bowe like an enemie, he hath fastened his right hand as an aduersarie, and euery thing that was pleasant to see, he hath slaine: he hath powred out his wrath like a fire into the tabernacle of the daughter of Sion.

5 The Lorde is become like as it were an enemie, he hath deuoured Israel and all his palaces, yea, all his strong holdes hath he destroyed, and filled the daughter of Iuda with much sorowe and heauinesse.

6 His tabernacle as a garden hath he destroyed, his solemne meetings hath he put downe, the Lorde hath brought it so to passe, that the high solemne feastes and Sabboths in Sion are cleane forgotten: in his heauie displeasure hath hee despised the king and priestes.

7 The Lorde hath forsaken his owne altar, and hath abhorred his owne sanctuarie, and hath giuen the walles of their towres into the handes of their enemie: their enemies made a noyse in the house of the Lord, as it had bene a solemne feast day.

8 The Lord thought to breake downe the walles of the daughter of Sion, hee spredde out his line, and drewe not in his hand till hee had destroied them: therefore mourne the turrets, and the broken walles fall downe together.

9 Her gates are sunke downe to the ground, her barres are broken & smitten in sunder, her kings & princes are caried away to the Gentiles: they haue not the law, neither her prophets haue any vision from the Lord.

10 The Senatours of the daughter Sion sit vpon the ground in silence, they haue strawed ashes vpon their heads, and girded themselues with sackcloth, the maidens of Hierusalem hang downe their heads to the ground.

11 Mine eyes doe faile through weeping, my bowels doe swell, my liuer is powred vpon the earth, for the great hurt of the daughter of my people, seeing the children & babes did swoone in the streetes of the citie.

12 They haue sayde to their mothers, where is ‖ bread and drinke? when they fell downe as wounded in the streets of the citie, & when they dyed in their mothers bosome.

‖ Or, wheate and wine.

13 What shall I take to witnesse against thee, or what shall I liken to thee, O daughter Hierusalem? To whome shall I compare pare thee, O thou daughter Sion, to comfort thee withall: thy heart is like a maine sea, who may heale thee?

14 Thy prophets haue looked out vaine and foolish things for thee, they haue not shewed thee of thy wickednesse, to keepe thee from captiuitie: but they haue seene out for thee ‖burdens of vanitie and banishment.

15 All they that goe by the way, clappe their handes at thee, hissing and wagging their heades vpon the daughter of Hierusalem, and say, Is this the citie that men call so sayre, and the ioy of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies gape vpon thee, they hisse and grinde their teeth, saying, Let vs deuoure, for the time that wee looked for is come, we haue found and seene it.

17 The Lord hath fulfilled the thing that he was purposed to doe, and performed his worde that he had ‖deuised long agoe: he hath destroyed & not spared, hee hath caused thine aduersarie to triumph ouer thee, and set vp the horne of thine enemie.

18 * Their heart cryed vnto the Lorde, O thou ‖citie of the daughter Sion, let thy teares runne downe like a riuer day and night, rest not, and let not the apple of thine eye leaue off.

19 Stand vp, cry in the night in the beginning of the watch, powre out thine heart like water before the Lorde: lift vp thine handes towards him, for the liues of thy yong children that dye of hunger in the streetes.

20 Beholde, O Lorde, and consider to whome thou hast done thus: shal the women then eate their owne fruite, euen children of a spanne long? shall the priests and prophets be slaine in the Sanctuarie of the Lorde?

21 Yong and old lye thorowe the streetes vpon the grounde, my maydens and yong men are slaine with the sworde, whome thou in the day of thy wrathfull indignation hast put to death, yea, euen thou hast put them to death, and not spared them.

22 My ‖terrours that are rounde about me, hast thou called as it were to a feast day, so that in the day of the Lordes wrath none escaped, neither was any left behinde: those that I haue brought vp and nourished, hath mine enemie destroyed.

The iij. Chapter.

I Am the man that through the rodde of his wrath haue experience of miserie.

2 He droue me forth, and led me, yea, into darkenesse, but not into light.

3 Surely against mee is hee turned, hee turneth his hande daily against me.

4 My flesh and my skinne hath he made olde, and my bones hath he brused.

5 He hath builded against me, and closed me in with gall and trauaile.

6 Hee hath set mee in darkenesse, as they that be dead for euer.

7 Hee hath hedged me in, that I can not get out, and hee hath layde heauie linkes vpon me.

8 Though I crie and call piteously, yet heareth he not my prayer.

9 Hee hath stopped vp my wayes with squared stones, and made my paths crooked.

10 Hee layeth waite for me like a Beare, and as a Lion in a hole.

11 Hee hath marred my wayes, and broken me in pieces, he hath layde me waste.

12 He hath bent his bowe, and made mee as it were a marke ‖to shoote at.

13 The arrowes of his quiuer hath hee shot, euen into my reines.

14 I am laughed to scorne of al my people, they make songs vpon me all the day long.

15 He hath filled me with bitternes, and made me drunken with wormewood.

16 Hee hath smitten my teeth in pieces with stones, and rouled me in the dust.

17 My soule departed from peace: I forgat all good things.

18 And I sayde, My strength and my hope is perished from the Lorde.

19 O remember yet my miserie and my trouble, the wormewood, and the gall.

20 Yea, in remembring my soule doth still remember them, & is humbled within me.

21 I consider these things in my heart, and I get hope againe.

22 Namely, it is of the Lords mercies that we are not vtterly consumed, for truely his pitifull compassion hath not ceased.

23 New mercies shall the Lord shew vpon thee early in the day springing, (O Lord) great is thy faithfulnesse.

24 The Lorde is my portion, sayeth my soule, therefore will I hope in him.

25 O howe good is the Lorde vnto them that put their trust in him, and to the soule that seeketh after him?

26 The good man with stilnesse and patience tarryeth for the health of the Lorde.

27 Good is it for a man to take the yoke vpon him from his youth vp.

33 For hee doeth not plague willingly, nor afflict the children of men,

The end of the Lamentations of Ieremie.

The prophecie of Ezechiel.

The first Chapter.

1 The time wherein Ezechiel prophecied, and in what place. 3 His kindred. 5 The vision of the foure beasts, 16 The fashion and worke of the wheeles. 26 The vision of the Lord.

[a] After the Babilon, in which yeere the booke of Ieremie began to reigne, begin was the 13. yeere of Iosias, begin 23. yeeres after the booke had reigned. Iehoiakim had his seate vpon Ezechiel, and many of the people, before this yeere that Ieconias was caried.

IT came to passe in the [a] thirtieth yeere, in the fourth moneth, in the fifth day of the moneth, that (I being in the midst of the captiuitie, by the riuer Chebar) the heauens were opened, and I saw visions of God:

2 In the fifth day of the moneth, which was the fifth yeere of king Ioacims captiuitie,

3 The word of the Lord came to Ezechiel the Priest, the sonne of Buzi, in the lande of the Chaldeans by the riuer Chebar, where the hand of the Lord was vpon him.

4 And I looked, & behold, a stormie winde came out of the North, a great cloud, and a fire folding it selfe in the cloud, and a brightnesse round about it, and foorth of the midst therof as the colour of amber out of the midst of the fire.

5 And out of the mids thereof, the likenes of foure [b] beasts appeared, and this was their forme: They had the likenesse of a man.

[b] Which were the foure Cherubims that represented the glory of God, as Ezech. 3.

6 And

6 And euery one had foure faces, and euery one of them had foure wings.

7 Their feete were streight feete, and the sole of their feete like the sole of calues feete, and they glistered as the appearance of brasse burnished.

8 From vnder their wings vpon all the foure ‖ corners they had mens hands: & they foure had their faces and their wings.

‖ Or, quarters.

9 Their wings were ioyned one to another: when they went, they looked not backe, but each one went straight forward.

10 But touching the similitude of their faces, they foure had the e face of a man, and the face of a lion on the right side, and they foure had the face of an oxe on the left side, they foure also had the face of an Eagle.

e Euery Cherub had foure faces, the face of a man and of a lion on the right side, and the face of a bullocke and of an Eagle on the left side.

11 Thus were their faces: and their wings were spread out aboue, so that two wings of euery one were ioyned one to another, and two wings couered euery one of their bodies.

12 Euery one went straight forwarde: d whither as the spirit led them, thither they went, and returned not in their going.

d Whither their will or mind was to goe.

13 And the fashion of the beasts, their appear ãce was like coales of fire, burning like the appearance of cressets, it ran among the beastes, and the fire gaue a glister, and out of the fire there went lightning.

14 And the beasts ran, and returned like lightning.

15 When I had considered the beasts, beholde, a wheele vpon the earth nigh to the beasts, to ‖ euery of the foure before his face.

‖ Or, hauing foure faces.

16 The fashion and worke of the wheeles was like the colour of e Tharsis, & they foure had one fashion, and their fashion and their worke was as though it were a wheele in the middle of a wheele.

e That is, a precious stone of a goodly colour, thought to be the Turkeis.

17 When they went, they went vpon their foure sides: they turned not when they went.

18 They had f rings, and height, and were fearefull to behold: and their rings were full of eyes round about them foure.

f The vtter compasse of the wheeles, which some call strakes.

19 When the beastes went, the wheeles went also by them: & when the beastes were lift vp from the earth, the wheeles were lift vp.

20 Whither soeuer the spirite was to goe, they went, and thither was the spirite of the wheeles to goe, and the wheeles were lift vp before them: for the spirit of the beasts was in the wheeles.

21 When the beasts went, they went, and when they stood, they stoode, and when they were lifted vp from the earth, the wheeles were lifted vp before them: for the spirite of the beasts was in the wheeles.

22 And the similitude of the firmament vpon the heads of the beasts, was like the colour of chrystall, wonderfull, spred ouer their heads aboue.

23 And vnder the firmament their wings were straight foorth one towardes another, euery one had two couering them, and euery one had two couering them, euen their bodies.

& The vtter two couered that was ioyned to couer their faces, and the other two to couer their bodies.

24 And when they went, I heard the noise of their wings, like ỹ noise of many waters, as the voyce of the almightie, the voyce of speach as ỹ noise of an host: when they stood, they let downe their wings.

25 And there was a voice from the firmament, that was ouer their heads, when they stood, and had let downe their wings.

26 And aboue the firmament that was ouer their heads, there was the fashion of a throne like a Saphire stone: and vpon the similitude of the throne by appearance, as the similitude of a man aboue vpon it.

27 And I saw as the appearance of amber and as ỹ similitude of fire round about within, from the appearance of his loynes vpward: and from the appearance of his loines and downward, I saw as the likenes of fire, and brightnes round about it.

28 As the likenesse of a bowe that is in a cloude in the day of rayne, so was the appearance of the brightnesse roumde about: this was the appearance of the similitude of the glory of the Lord, and when I saw it, I h fell vpon my face, and hearkened vnto the voyce of one i that spake.

h Confessing the maiestie of God, and his inualerable of hell.

The ij. Chapter.

The Prophet is sent to call the people from their errour.

AND then said he vnto me, Stand vp vpon thy feete (O thou sonne of man) and I will talke with thee.

2 And the spirit entred into me when he had spoken vnto me, and set me vpon my feete, so that I heard him that spake vnto me.

3 And hee sayde vnto me, Thou sonne of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to a rebellious people, which haue rebelled against mee, both they and their forefathers haue wickedly behaued themselues against me, euen vnto this very day.

hee to them, saying that I giue thee.

10 Moreouer he said vnto me, Thou sonne of man, receiue in thine heart all my words that I speake vnto thee, and heare them with thine eares.

11 And goe, get thee to the captiuitie, to the children of thy people, and thou shalt speake vnto them, and shalt say vnto them, Thus saieth the Lorde God: but surely they will not heare, neyther will they leaue it.

12 With that the spirite tooke me vp, and I heard behind me a voice of a great rushing, saying, Blessed bee the glory of Iehouah from his place.

13 I heard also the noyse of the wings of the beasts ioyning one with another, and the rushing of the wheeles that were before them, euen a noise of great rushing.

14 Nowe when the spirite lift mee vp and tooke me away, I went in bitternesse and furie of my spirite: but the hand of the Lord vpon me was strong.

15 Then I came to the captiues in Telabib that dwelt by the riuer Chebar, and I sate where they sate, and I remayned there seuen dayes astonished among them.

16 And when the seuen dayes were expired, the word of the Lord came vnto me, 17 Then sonne of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israel: therefore thou shalt heare the worde at my mouth, and giue them warning from me. Ezc. 33. 7.

18 When I shall say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die, and thou giuest not him warning, nor speakest to admonish the wicked of his euill way, and so to liue: the same wicked man shall die in his owne vnrighteousnes, but his blood will I require of thine hand.

19 Neuertheless, if thou giue warning vnto the wicked, and hee yet turne not from his vngodlinesse and from his wicked way: he shall die in his owne wickednesse, but thou hast deliuered thy soule.

20 Againe, if a righteous man turne from his righteousnesse, and doe the thing that is euil, I will lay a stumbling block before him: and he shall die, because thou hast not giuen him warning, die shall he in his owne sinne, so that his righteousnes which he hath done shall not be thought vpon: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

21 Neuertheless, if thou admonish that righteous man, that the righteous sinne not, and so the righteous do not sinne: then shall hee liue, because hee hath receiued thy warning, and thou hast deliuered thy soule.

22 And the hand of the Lorde was there vpon me, and he said vnto mee, ‖ Stand vp, and goe into the field, that I may there talke with thee. ‖ Or, arise.

23 So when I had risen vp, and gone foorth into the field, behold, the a glory of the Lord stood there, like the glory which I saw by the riuer Chebar: then fell I downe vpon my face. a Meaning, the vision of the Cherubims & the wheeles. Ezech. 1. 1.

24 And the spirit came into me, which set me vp vpon my feete, and spake vnto me, and said vnto me, ‖ Go thy way, and shut thy selfe in thy house. ‖ Or, get thee in.

25 Behold, O thou sonne of man, ‖ they haue prepared bonds against thee, and they will bind thee with them, and thou shalt not go out among them. ‖ Or, they shall put bonds vpon thee.

26 And I will make thy tongue b cleaue to the roofe of thy mouth, that thou shalt bee dumbe, and not be as a reprouer vnto them: for they are a rebellious house. b It is a great plagues of God toward the people, when he causeth the ministers to cease from crying & rebuking of sinne.

27 But when I speake vnto thee, I will open thy mouth, & thou shalt say vnto them, Thus saieth the Lord God, who so heareth, let him heare, who so leaueth off, let him leaue: for they are a rebellious house.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 The siege of the citie of Hierusalem is signified. 9 The long continuance of the captivitie of Israel. 16 A dearth is prophecied to come in the captivitie.

THou sonne of man, take thee a tile stone, and lay it before thee, and portray vpon it the citie of Hierusalem,

2 And lay siege against it, & build a fort against it, & cast a mount against it: set the campe also against it, and lay engines of warre against it round about.

3 Moreouer, take an iron panne, and set it betwixt thee and the citie for an iron wall, then set thy face toward it to besiege it, and make an assault against it: this shalbe a token vnto the house of Israel.

4 But thou shalt sleepe vpon thy left side, and lay the sinne of the house of Israel vpon it: according to the number of the dayes that thou shalt sleep vpon it, thou shalt beare their iniquitie.

5 For I haue laid vpon thee the yeeres of their iniquitie, according to the number of the dayes, euen three hundred and ninetie dayes, so shalt thou beare the iniquitie of the house of Israel.

6 When thou hast fulfilled these dayes, lie downe againe, and sleepe vpon thy [b] right side, and beare the sinnes of the house of Iuda: fourtie dayes haue I appointed thee, [c] a day for a yeere, euen a day for a yeere.

7 Therefore set now thy face toward the siege of Hierusalem, & discouer thine arme, that thou mayest prophecie against it.

8 Behold, I will lay ‖ chaines vpon thee, that thou shalt not turne thee from one side to another, till thou hast ended the dayes of thy besieging.

9 Wherefore take vnto thee wheate, barley, beanes, lentils, millet, & fitches, and put these together in a vessel, & make thee loaues of bread thereof, according to the number of the dayes ‖ that thou must lye vpon thy side, that thou mayest haue bread to eate for three hundred and ninetie dayes.

10 And thy meate that thou eatest shall bee by weight, namely, twentie sicles euery day: and from time to time shalt thou eate thereof.

11 Thou shalt drinke also water by measure, namely, the sixth part of a Hinne: from time to time shalt thou drinke.

12 Barley cakes shalt thou eate, and them shalt thou bake in [d] mans dung before their eyes.

13 And with that sayde the Lorde, Euen thus shall the children of Israel eate their defiled bread among the Gentiles, whither I will cast them.

14 Then said I, Oh Lorde God, beholde, my soule was yet neuer stayned, for from my youth vp vnto this houre, I did neuer eate of a dead carkeise, or of that which was slayne of wilde beasts, neither came there euer any vncleane flesh in my mouth.

15 Whereupon he answered me, Beholde, I will graunt thee cowe calues in steede of mans dung, and thou shalt make thy bread with them.

16 And he sayde vnto me, Behold thou sonne of man, I will breake the [e] staffe of bread in Hierusalem, and they shall eate their bread with weight and with care, and drinke water in measure & astonishment shall they drinke, 17 That they hauing a lacke of bread and water, may bee astonied one at another, and be consumed in their iniquitie.

1 The figure of the haire, by which is signified the destruction of the people. 5 Therefore set of the anger of God toward the people.

AND thou sonne of man, take thee then a sharpe knife, namely, a barbers rasing, take and cause it to passe ouer thee, and cause it to passe vpon thy head and vpon thy beard, then take thee weight scales and deuide the haire.

2 Thou shalt burne with fire the third part in the midst of the citie, when the dayes of the siege are fulfilled, and thou shalt take the other third part, and smite about it with a knife, and the last third part thou shalt scatter in the wind, and I will draw a sword after them.

3 Thou shalt also take thereof a fewe in number, and bind them in thy lap.

4 Of them yet shalt thou take, & cast them into the midst of the fire, and burne them in the fire: thereof shall a fire come forth into all the house of Israel.

5 Moreouer, thus sayeth the Lord God, This same is Hierusalem, which I set in the midst of nations and countreis round about her.

6 But shee hath changed my iudgements into wickednesse more then the nations, and my statutes more then the countreys that are round about her: for they haue refused my iudgements and my statutes, and haue not walked in them.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, For your [c] multiplying more then the Gentiles that dwell round about you, and because ye haue not walked in my lawes, neither haue ye kept my ordinances, no, yee haue not done according to the iudgements of the nations that are round about you:

8 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde God, Beholde, I will also come against thee, I my selfe, I say: for in the middest of thee will I execute iudgement in the sight of the heathen.

9 And I wil do in thee as I neuer did before, and as I will neuer doe the like from that time forth, and that because of all thine abominations.

10 For in the middest of thee the fathers shall eate their owne sonnes, and the sonnes shall

11 Wherefore, as truely as I liue, saieth the Lorde God, surely seeing thou hast defiled my sanctuarie with all maner of abominations, and with all shamefull offences:

12 For this cause will I also destroy thee, mine eye shall not spare thee, neither will I haue any pitie.

13 One third part of thee shall die of the pestilence, and shall be consumed of hunger in the midst of thee, another third part shall be slaine downe round about thee with the sword, the other third part that remaineth wil I scatter abroad toward all the windes, and draw out a sword after them.

14 Thus will mine indignation be performed, and I will cause my wrath to cease among them, and I will be [d] comforted: so that when I haue fulfilled mine anger against them, they shal know that I the Lord with a feruent zeloufie haue spoken it.

15 Moreouer, I will make thee waste, and a reproche among all the heathen that dwell about thee, in the sight of all them that goe by thee.

16 So thou shalt be a reproch and shame, a chastisement and a wondring vnto the nations that are rounde about thee, when I shall execute iudgements in thee, in anger and in wrath, and in sharpe rebukes, I the Lord haue spoken it:

17 When I shall shoote among them the perillous [e] dartes of hunger, which shall be for their destruction, therefore shall I shoote them, because I will destroy you, I will encrease hunger vpon you, and wil breake your staffe of bread.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Hee sheweth that the people shall be plagued for the sinne of idolatrie.

AND the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

Ezech. 36.1

2 Thou sonne of man, [a] set thy face to the mountaines of Israel, and prophecie against them,

3 And say, Heare the worde of the Lorde God, O ye mountains of Israel, Thus hath the Lorde God spoken to the [a] mountaines, hils, riuers, and dales, Beholde, euen I will bring a sworde vpon you, and I wil destroy your high places.

4 Your altars shalbe destroyed, and your images of the sunne shall be broken downe, your slaine men will I cast downe before your idoles.

5 And the dead carkeises of the children of Israel will I ‖ cast before their idoles, ‖ Or, and cease.

7 The slaine shal fall among you: and ye shall knowe that I am the Lord.

8 Yet wil I leaue a remnant, that you may haue some that shall escape the sworde among the nations, when ye shall be scattered throughe the countries.

9 And they that escape of you, shall thinke vpon mee among the heathen where they shall be in captiuitie, because I haue bene ‖ broken: for their whorish heart which hath departed from mee, and for their eyes that haue gone a whoring after their idols: and ‖ they shall be abhorred before their owne eyes for the euils which they haue committed in all their abominations.

‖ Or, grieued.

‖ Or, they shalbe ashamed of themselues.

10 And they shall knowe that I am the Lord, & that I haue not said in vaine, that I would doe this euill vnto them.

11 Thus saith the Lorde God, ‖ [b] Smite thine handes together, and stampe with thy feete, and say, Woe worth all the abhominations and wickednesses of the house of Israel: for they shal fall with the sworde, with hunger, and with pestilence.

‖ Or, smite with thine hand, and spurne with thy foote.

b He willeth the Prophet not onely with wordes but also with gestures of hand and foote, to signifie the destruction to come.

12 Who so is farre off, shall die of the pestilence, hee that is nigh at hand, shall perish with the sworde, and the remnant that are besieged, shal die of hunger: thus will I satisfie my wrathfull displeasure vpon them.

13 And so shall yee knowe that I am the Lord, when their slaine men shall be among their idoles round about their altars, vpon euery high hill and tops of mountaines, and vnder euery greene tree, and vnder euery thicke oke, euen in the places where they did offer sweete sauour to all their idols.

14 I wil stretch mine hande out vpon them, and wil make the land waste and desolate, [c] from the wildernesse vnto Diblath, throughe all their habitations: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

c Hee shall make desolate from the wildernesse of Diblath, which was in Syria, as hardened vpon Israel: but it may stand well for the wildernesse, which was South vnto Diblath which was North, meaning the whole countrey.

13 So that the seller shall not come againe to the thing that hee solde, although their life bee d yet with the liuing: for when the prophecie was preached vnto all the people, none returned, no man shall e strengthen himselfe in the iniquitie of his life.

14 f They haue blowen the trumpet, and made all ready, but none goeth to the battel: for my wrath is vpon the whole multitude.

15 The sword shall be without, pestilence and hunger within: so that who so is in the field shall be slaine with the sword, & he that is in the citie shall be deuoured with hunger and pestilence.

16 But they that flee away from them, shall escape, and shall bee in the mountaines like the doues of the valleyes, all they shall mourne, euery one for his iniquitie.

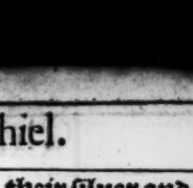
27 The king shal mourne, the prince shall be clothed with desolation, and the hands of the people in the land shall bee troubled: I will doe vnto them after their owne wayes, and according to their owne iudgements will I iudge them: and they shall know that I am the Lorde.

The viij. Chapter.

2 An appearance of the similitude of God. 3 Ezechiel is brought to Hierusalem in the spirite. 6 The Lorde sheweth the idolatries of the house of Israel, and chiefly of the priestes.



a Of the captiuitie of Iechonias, in that there was fourteene moneths betwixt the first vision and this.

AND it was in the a sixt yeere, in the sixt moneth, in the fifth day of the moneth, I sate in my house, and the Elders of Iuda sate before me, and the hande of the Lorde God fell there vpon mee.

2 Then I behelde, and loe, there was a likenesse as the appearance of fire: from the appearance of his loynes downewarde, fire: and from his loynes vpwarde as the appearance of brightnesse, like the colour of Amber.

3 *And hee stretched out the likenesse of an hand, and tooke me by an hairie locke of my head, and the spirite lift mee vp betwixt earth and heauen, and b brought me in a diuine vision to Hierusalem, into the entrie of the the inner c gate that lieth toward the North, where remained the ‖ image of d emulation and of gaine.

4 And beholde, the glory of the God of Israel was in the same place, euen as I had seene it afore in the fielde.

5 And he saide vnto mee, Thou sonne of man, lift vp thine eyes nowe towarde the North: then lift I vp mine eyes towarde the North, and beholde, Northward at the gate of the e altar this ‖ image of emulation was in the entrie.

6 And he said furthermore vnto me, Thou sonne of man, seest thou not what these doe? namely, the great abominations that the house of Israel commit in this place, to driue mee from my Sanctuarie? But turne thee about, and thou shalt see yet greater abominations.

7 And with that brought hee mee to the court gate, and when I looked, behold, there was a hole in the wall.

8 Then said he vnto mee, Thou sonne of man, digge nowe in the wall: and when I digged in the wall, beholde, there was a doore.

9 And he saide vnto mee, Goe thy way in, and looke what wicked abominations they doe here.

10 So I went in and sawe, and beholde, there were all maner of creeping things, f and abominable beastes, and all the idoles of the house of Israel painted vpon the wall round about.

11 There stoode also before the images threescore and tenne men of the ancients of the house of Israel, and in the middest of them stoode Iaazaniah the sonne of Saphan, with euery man his censor in his hande, and the smoke of the incense ascended as a cloude.

12 Then said he vnto me, Thou sonne of man, hast thou seene what the ancients of the house of Israel doe ‖ secretely, euery one in the g chamber of his imagerie? for they say, The Lorde seeth vs not, the Lorde hath forsaken the earth.

13 And he said vnto mee, Turne thee yet againe, and thou shalt see greater abominations that they doe.

14 And with that hee brought mee to the doore of the gate of the Lordes house toward the North, and beholde, there sate women mourning for h Thammuz.

15 Then said he vnto me, Hast thou seene this, thou sonne of man? Turne thee yet about, and thou shalt see greater abominations then these are.

16 And so he brought me into the inward court of the Lords house, and beholde, at the doore of the Lords house, betwixt the porche and the altar, there were about twentie and fiue men that turned their backes vpon the temple of the Lorde, and their faces towarde the East, and these worshipped the Sunne Eastward.

17 And he said vnto mee, Hast thou seene this thou sonne of man? Thinketh the house of Iuda that it is but a trifle to doe these abominations which they doe here? For they haue filled the lande full of wickednesse, and haue returned to prouoke mee to anger, and loe, i they are putting the ‖ branches to their noses.

18 Therefore will I also doe something in my wrathfull displeasure, so that mine eye shall not spare them, neither will I haue pitie: yea, and though they crie in mine eares with a loude voyce, yet will I not heare them.

i They smelled to their branches, flowers, or posies, in doing their sacrifice to the sunne, which yet before God was vile and stinking, howe sweete soeuer they seemed to themselues.
‖ Or, stinch.

The ix. Chapter.

1 The destruction of the citie. 4 They that shall be saued, are marked. 8 A complaint of the Prophete for the destruction of the people.

HEe cryed also with a loude voyce in mine eares, saying, Draw neere ye a visitations of the citie, euery man with a destroying weapon in his hande.

a The persons appointed to visite the citie, as Nabuchadonosor and his captaines.

2 And behold, then came there b sixe men out of the streete of the vpper gate towarde the North, and euery man a slaughter weapon in his hande: There was one amongst them that had on him linnen rayment, and a writers c inkehorne by his side: these went in, and stoode beside the brasen altar.

b Which were sixe angels in likenesse of men.

c To marke them that should be saued from destruction.

3 And the glorie of the God of Israel was gone from the Cherub whereupon it was, to the doore of the house: and he called to the man that had the linnen raiment vpon him, and the writers inkehorne by his side.

4 And the Lord saide vnto him, Goe thorowe the midst of the citie, euen thorowe the midst of Hierusalem, * and set a marke vpon the foreheads of them that mourne and ‖ are sorie for all the abominations that bee done therein.

Exo.12.22. apoca.7.3.
‖ Or, crie.

5 And to the other he saide, that I might heare, Goe ye after him thorow the citie, and smite, let your eyes spare none, neither haue ye any pitie:

6 Kill and destroye both olde men and yong, maydens, children, and women: but as for all those that haue the marke vpon them, see that yee touche them not, and beginne at my Sanctuarie. Then they began at the auncient men which were before the house.

7 And hee saide vnto them, Defile ye the temple, fill the courtes with the slaine, then goe your way forth. So they went out, and slew downe thorow the citie.

8 Nowe when they had done the slaughter, and I yet escaped, I fell downe vpon my face, and cryed, saying, Ah Lorde God, wilt thou then destroye all the residue of Israel, in powring out thy wrath vpon Hierusalem?

9 Then saide hee vnto mee, The wickednesse of the house of Israel and Juda is exceeding great, so that the lande is full of blood, and the citie full of reuolting from God: for they say, The Lord hath forsaken the earth, and the Lord seeth it not.

10 As touching mee also, mine eye shall not spare them, neither will I haue pitie: but will recompense their wayes vpon their heades.

11 And beholde, the man that had the linnen rayment vpon him, and the writers inckhorne by his side, reported the matter, and saide, As thou hast commaunded mee, so haue I done.

The x. Chapter.

Of the man that tooke hote burning coales out of the middle of the wheeles of the Cherubims.

AND as I looked, beholde, in the firmamẽt that was aboue the head of the [a] Cherubims, as it were a Saphire stone made like the similitude of a throne was seene ouer them.

[a] Which in the first chapter and fifth verse he called the foure beastes.

2 Then spake hee to him that had the linnen raiment vpon him, and saide, ‖ Creepe in betweene the wheeles that are vnder the Cherub, and take thine handful of hote coles out from betweene the Cherubims, and scatter them ouer the citie. And he ‖ crept in, that I might see.

‖ Or, goe.

‖ Or, went in.

3 (Nowe the Cherubims stoode vpon the right side of the house when the man went in, and the cloude filled the inner court.

4 And the glorie of the Lorde remooued from the Cherubims, and came vpon the doore of the house: so that the temple was filled with a cloude, and the court was full of the shine of the Lords glorie.

5 Yea, and the sounde of the Cherubims wings was heard into the forecourt, like as it had bene the voyce of the Almightie God when he speaketh)

6 Now when he had bidden the man that was clothed in linnen, saying, Take fire from the midst of the wheeles, and from the midst of the Cherubims, he went and stoode beside the wheeles.

7 Then one Cherub reached foorth his hande from betweene the Cherubims, vnto the fire that was betweene the Cherubims, and tooke thereof, and gaue it into the hands of him that had on the linnen rayment: which tooke it, and went out.

8 And vnder the winges of the Cherubims there appeared the likenesse of a mans hande.

9 I looked also, and behold, foure wheeles beside the Cherubims, one wheele by one Cherub, and an other by another Cherub, and the wheeles were to looke vpon after the fashion of the precious stone Tharsis.

10 As touching their appearance (they were al foure of one fashion) as if one wheele had bene in an other.

11 When they went foorth, they went vpon their foure sides, not turning backe in their going: for which way the head of the first looked, after it they went, so that they turned not backe in their going.

12 * And their whole bodies, their backs, their handes, and winges, yea, and the wheeles also, were full of eyes rounde about the foure wheeles. Ezech. 1.8.

13 And to the wheeles, he cried to them in my hearing, O wheele.

14 Euery one of them had foure faces, so that the face of the first was the face of a Cherub, and the face of the seconde the face of a Man, and of the thirde the face of a Lion, and of the fourth the face of an Egle.

15 And the Cherubims were lifted vp: this is the beast that I sawe at the water of Chebar.

16 Now when the Cherubims went, the wheeles went by them: and when the Cherubims lift vp their winges to mount vp from the earth, the same wheeles also turned not from besides them.

17 Shortly when they stoode, these stoode also, & when they were lifted vp, the wheeles lift vp themselues also with them: for the [b] spirit of the beast was in the wheeles.

[b] There was one cooling betweene the Cherubims and the wheeles.

18 Then the glorie of the Lorde departed from aboue the doore of the temple, and remained vpon the Cherubims.

19 And the Cherubims flackered with their wings, and lift themselues vp from the earth in my sight: when they went, the wheeles were besides them, and they stoode at the doore of the East gate of the house of the Lorde: so the glory of the God of Israel was vpon them on high.

20 * This is the [c] beast that I sawe vnder the God of Israel by the riuer Chebar, and I perceiued that it was the Cherubims. Ezech. 1. 14.

[c] That is, the whole body of the foure beasts of Cherubims.

21 Euery one had foure faces, and euery one foure winges, and vnder their winges the likenesse of mens handes.

22 The similitude of their countenances, were the very same countenances which I sawe at the riuer Chebar, and the selfe same appearances, euery one in his going went straight forward.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Who they were that seduced the people of Israel. 5 Against these hee prophecieth, shewing them howe they shalbe dispersed abroade.

MOreouer, the Spirite lift mee vp, and brought mee vnto the East gate of the Lordes house, which lyeth Eastwarde: and beholde, at the entrie of the gate were fiue and twentie men, among whome I sawe Jaazaniah the sonne of Azur, and Phel-Pheltiah the sonne of Banaiahu, the rulers of the people.

2 Then saide he vnto mee, Thou sonne of man, these men imagine mischiefe, and a wicked counsell take they in this citie,

3 Saying, It is not neere, let vs builde houses: this Hierusalem is the a caldron, and we be the flesh.

a We that are not beseiged out of Hierusalem, tell the Iewes of our beauty come, as the flesh is not taken out of the caldron, till it be boiled.

4 Therefore shalt thou prophecie against them: yea, prophecie, O sonne of man.

5 And with that fell the Spirite of the Lord vpon mee, and said vnto mee, Speake, Thus saith the Lorde, On this maner haue ye spoken (O ye house of Israel) and I know the imaginations of your hearts.

6 Many one haue ye murdered in this citie, and filled the streetes full of the slaine:

7 Therfore thus saith the Lord God, The slaine men that yee haue layed in the midst of the citie are the b flesh, and this citie is the caldron: but I will bring you out of it.

b Contrary to their vaine confidence he bringeth in hope, that though the citie were the caldron, that is, because of the hurt he laid there, yet none should be murthered therein, and he as the flesh in the caldron.

8 Ye haue feared the swoorde, and I will bring a swoorde ouer you, saith the Lord God.

9 And I wil bring you out of the middest thereof, and deliuer you into the handes of strangers, and will execute iudgements among you.

10 Yee shall fall by the swoorde, in the borders of c Israel will I iudge you, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

c That is, in Ribla, 2. King. 25.

11 This citie shall not bee your caldron, neither shall ye be the flesh in the midst thereof: but in the borders of Israel will I ‖ punish you,

‖ Or, iudge.

12 That yee may knowe that I am the Lorde, in whose commaundements ye haue not walked, nor kept my lawes, but haue done after the customes of the heathen that lie round about you.

13 Nowe when I prophecied, d Pheltiah the sonne of Banaiahu died: then fell I downe vpon my face, and cried with a loude voyce, saying, Ah Lorde God, wilt thou then vtterly destroy all the remnant of Israel?

d Likewise, this vnto was kind of true vertible vnity, and ioyning the Prophet him selfe many things vnderstood of God touch the rest of the people.

14 And so the word of the Lord came vnto me on this maner, 15 Thou sonne of man, thy brethren, euen thy brethren the men of thy kinred, and al the house of Israel, wholy are they vnto whome the inhabitants of Hierusalem haue sayde, e Withdraw ye farre from the Lorde, for the land is giuen vs in possession.

e They that remained in Hierusalem, thus reproched them that were gone into captiuitie, as though they were cast off, and forsaken of God.

16 Therefore tell them thus sayeth the Lorde God, Although I sende them farre off among the Gentiles, and scatter them among the nations, yet will I bee to them as a litle f Sanctuarie in the lands where they shall come.

f They shal be as a litle church, by reason he shall preserue them, although they be dispersed, and feele affliction.

17 Tell them also, Thus sayeth the Lord God, I will gather you againe out of the nations, and bring you from the countreyes where ye be scattered, and I wil giue you the land of Israel againe.

18 And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all their idoles, and all their abominations from thence.

19 And I will giue them one heart, and I wil put a new spirit within their bowels: that stonie heart will I take out of their body, and giue them a fleshie heart, Iere. 32.39. ezec. 36.27.

20 That they may walke in my commandements, and keepe mine ordinances, and do them, that they may bee my people, and I their God.

21 But to the heart of their idoles and their abominations their heart goeth, their wayes will I bring vpon their owne heads, saith the Lord God.

22 After this did the Cherubims lift vp their wings, and the wheeles besides them, and the glory of the God of Israel was vpon them on high.

23 So the glory of the Lord went vp from the middest of the citie, and stoode vpon the mount of the citie toward the East.

24 And the spirit tooke me vp, g brought mee againe to Chaldea to the captiuitie in a vision by the Spirite of God: then the vision that I had seene went vp from me.

25 So I spake vnto the g captiues all the wordes of the Lorde which hee had shewed me.

g Those that were led away captiues with Ieconias.

The xij. Chapter.

1 The parable of the captiuitie. 10 The exposition of the parable, by which the taking of king Zedecias is signified.

THe worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, thou dwellest in the midst of a rebellious house, which haue eyes to see, and yet see not, eares haue they to heare, and yet heare they not: for they are a rebellious house.

3 Therefore (O thou sonne of man) ‡ prepare thee instruments to flit with, & remoue on the day time that they may see, yea, euen in their sight shalt thou go from thy place to another place, if peraduenture they will consider that they be a rebellious house.

‡ Make the vessels to goe into captiuitie.

4 Thou shalt bring foorth thine instruments as stuffe to flit with by the day time in their sight, and thou thy selfe shalt go forth also at euening before their eyes, as they that goe forth to flit.

5 Digge thorowe the wall in their sight, and carie out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou beare vpon thy shoulders, and carrie it foorth in the darke: hide thy face, that thou see not the earth, for I haue made thee a h shewe token vnto the house of Israel.

h That as thou doest, so shall they doe, and therefore in thee they shall see their owne plague and punishment.

7 And I did so as I was commaunded, I brought foorth my stuffe by day, as the stuffe of one that goeth into captiuitie: and in the euening I digged thorowe the wall with my handes, and brought it foorth in the darke, and bare it vpon my shoulder in their sight.

8 And in the morning came the worde of the Lord vnto me, saying,

9 Thou sonne of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, sayde vnto thee [b] what doest thou?

b Do not they deride and mocke thy doings?

10 Then tell them, Thus saith the Lorde God, This ‖ burden toucheth the prince at Hierusalem, and all the house of Israel that dwell among them.

‖ Or, prophecie.

11 Tell them, I am your shew token, like as I haue done, so shal it be done vnto them, they shall goe into bondage and captiuitie.

12 The prince that is among them shall loade his shoulders in the darke, and get him away, they shall breake downe the wall, to carie thorowe by it: hee shall couer his face, that he see not the ground with his eyes.

c When the king shall thinke to escape by fleeing, I will take him in my net, as Ezec. 17. and 32.

13 My net wil I [c] spreade out vpon him, and he shalbe caught in my ‡ net, and I will bring him to Babylon in the lande of the Chaldees, which he shall not see, and yet shall he die there.

‡ Tooles.

14 As for all his helpers and al his bands that bee about him, I will scatter them toward all the windes, and draw out a sworde after them.

15 So when I haue scattered them among the heathen, and strawed them in the lands, they shall know that I am the Lord.

16 But I will leaue a little number of them from the sword, hunger, and pestilence, to tell all their abominations among the heathen where they come, that they may know how that I am the Lord.

17 Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

18 Thou sonne of man, with a fearefull trembling eate thy bread, with vnquietnesse and sorowe drinke thy water.

19 And vnto the people of the land speake thou, Thus saith the Lorde God vpon them that dwell in Hierusalem, and vpon the land of Israel, They shall eate their bread with sorowe, and drinke their water with desolation, yea, the lande after plentifulnesse shalbe layde waste, for the wickednesse of all them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that now be well inhabited, shalbe voyd, and the land desolate, that ye may know that I am the Lord.

21 Yet came the worde of the Lorde vnto me againe, saying,

22 Thou sonne of man, what maner of prouerbe is that which ye vse in the lande of Israel, saying, [d] The dayes are slacke in comming, and all visions faile?

d Because they did not see the prophecies accomplished, they contemned them as though they neuer should be fulfilled.

23 Tell them therefore, Thus sayeth the Lorde God, I will make that prouerbe to cease, and they shall no more vse it as a prouerbe in Israel: but say vnto them, The dayes are at hand, & the effect of euery vision.

24 There shall no vision bee any more in vaine, neither any flattering diuination within the house of Israel:

25 For I the Lord speake it, and whatsoeuer I shall speake, it shalbe performed, and not bee slacke in comming any more, yea, euen in your dayes, O rebellious house, will I speake the thing, and bring it to passe, sayeth the Lord God.

26 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

27 Behold, thou sonne of man, the house of Israel saith on this manet, The vision that hee seeth, it will bee many a day or it come to passe: it is farre off yet the time that hee prophecieth of.

28 Therefore say vnto them, Thus saith the Lorde God, All my wordes shall no more bee delayed, looke what I speake, that same shall come to passe, saith the Lord God.

The xiij. Chapter.

The worde of the Lorde against false prophetes, which teach the people the counsels of their owne hearts.

THe * worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying, Ezec. 14.

2 Thou sonne of man, prophecie against those prophetes of Israel, which prophecie: and say vnto them that prophecie out of their owne hearts, Heare the word of the Lord,

3 Thus saith the Lord God, Woe be vnto those foolish prophets that follow their owne spirit, and haue seene nothing.

4 O Israel, thy prophets are like the foxes in [a] desart places.

a Meaning as before, the vnfruitfull and euill ones.

5 For yee haue not stande vp in the gaps, nor made a hedge for the house of Israel, to stand in the battaile in the day of the Lord.

6 They haue seene vanitie and lying diuination, saying, The Lorde sayeth it: and the Lorde hath not sent them, and they haue made men hope that they would confirm the worde.

7 Haue yee not seene vaine visions, & spoken false prophecies, when ye say, The Lorde hath spoken it, whereas I neuer said it?

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because ye haue spoken vanitie, and haue seene lyes: therefore beholde, I am against you, saith the Lord God:

9 Mine hande shalbe vpon the prophetes that see vanities, and diuine lies: they shall not be in the counsell of my people, nor written in the booke of the house of Israel, neither shal they come in the land of Israel, that ye may know how that I am the Lord God:

10 And that for because they haue deceiued my people, and told them of peace, where no peace was: one setteth vp a [b] wall, and they daube it with vntempered clay.

b What euil false prophet did say (which as here called the building vp of a wall, an other false prophet would affirme the same, though he had neither occasion, nor good ground to beare him. ‖ Or, daubing.

11 Therefore tell them which daube with vntempered morter, that it shal fall: for there shall come a great showre of raine, I wil send hailestones to cause it to fall, and a great stormе of winde shall breake it.

12 And loe, when the wall is fallen, shall it not then be said vnto you, where is nowe your ‖ morter that ye daubed withall?

13 Therefore thus saith ye Lord God, I wil cause a stormie winde to breake out in my wrathfull displeasure, so that in mine anger there shall come a mightie showre of raine, and hailestones in my wrath to destroy it.

14 As

14 As for the wall that yee haue dawbed with vntempered morter, I will breake it downe, and make it euen with the grounde, so that the foundation thereof shall be discouered, and it shall fall: yea, and by your selues shall perish in the midst thereof, and yee shall know that I am the Lord.

15 Thus will I perfourme my wrath vpon this wall, and vpon them that haue dawbed it with [c] vntempered morter, and then will I say vnto you, The wall is ‖ gone, and the dawbers of it:

16 To witte the prophets of Israel, which prophecie vpon Hierusalem, and looke out visions of peace for it, whereas no peace is, saith the Lord God.

17 Wherefore, O thou sonne of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophecie out of their owne heartes, and prophecie against them:

18 And say, Thus sayeth the Lorde God, Woe be vnto them that sowe [d] pillowes vnder all arme holes, and put kerchieues vpon the heads of euery stature, to hunt soules, will yee hunt the soules of my people, & giue life to the soules that come vnto you?

19 And will ye pollute me to my people for handfulles of barley, and for pieces of bread, to kill the soules of them that die not, & promise [e] life to them that liue not, in lying to my people that heareth your lies?

20 Wherefore, thus saith the Lorde God, Beholde, I will vpon your pillowes wherewith ye hunt the soules to [f] make them flee, and I will teare them from your armes, and will let the soules goe, euen the soules that ye hunt to make them flee.

21 Your kerchieues also will I teare in pieces, and deliuer my people out of your hands, so that they shall come no more in your hands to be hunted: and ye shall knowe that I am the Lord.

22 Seeing that with your lyes ye discomfite the heart of the righteous, whom I haue not discomfited: againe, for so much as ye encourage the hand of the wicked, so that hee may not turne from his wicked way, in promising him life:

23 Therefore shall ye see no more banitie, neither shall ye diuine diuinations, for I wil deliuer my people out of your hand, that yee may knowe howe that I am the Lord.

[c] Or, in the midst thereof.

[e] Which are by vaine grounde pie haue precisned from God.

[f] Which are by vaine grounde pie haue precisned from God.

The xiiij. Chapter.

The Lorde denyeth his worde to the people for their sinnes sake.

THere resorted vnto me certaine of the elders of Israel, and sate downe by me.

2 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto me, saying,

3 Thou sonne of man, these men haue set vp their idoles in their heartes, and put the stumbling block of iniquity before their face: should I then answere them at their request?

4 Therefore speake vnto them, and say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God, Euery man of the house of Israel that setteth vp his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquitie before his face, and commeth to the prophet: vnto that man will I the Lord my selfe giue answere when he commeth, according to the [a] multitude of his idols:

5 That the house of Israel may be snared in their [b] owne heartes, because they bee cleane gone from me all of them through their idols:

6 Wherefore tel the house of Israel, Thus sayeth the Lorde God, Returne, and cause [c] to returne from your idols, and turne your faces from all your abominations.

7 For euery man, whether yee be of the house of Israel, or a stranger that soiourneth in Israel, which departeth from me, and setteth vp his idoles in his heart, and putteth the stumbling blocke of his wickednesse before his face, and commeth to a prophet for to aske counsel at me through him: vnto that man will I the Lorde giue answere by mine owne selfe:

8 I will set my face against that man, and will make him to bee an example for other, yea, and a common by worde, and will roote him out of my people, that yee may knowe howe that I am the Lord.

9 And if that prophet be deceiued when he telleth a thing, then I [*] the Lord my selfe haue deceiued that prophet, and will stretch out my hand vpon him, to destroy him out of my people of Israel. Ezec. 13.1.

10 And they shalbe punished for their wickednesse, according to the sinne of him that asketh, shall the sinne of the prophet be:

11 That the house of Israel may wander no more from me, neither be any more defiled in all their transgressions: but that they may be my people, and I their God, sayth the Lord God.

12 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

13 Thou sonne of man, when the lande sinneth against me by cõmitting a trespasse, I will stretch out my hand vpon it, [*] breake their staffe of bread, and sende dearth vpon them, to destroy man and beast forth of it. Ezec. 4.16. and 5.17.

14 And though Noe, Daniel, and Iob, these three men were among them: yet shall they in their righteousnesse deliuer but their owne soules, saith the Lord God.

15 If I bring noysome beasts into ỹ land, and they spoile it, and it be so desolate that no man may passe thorowe it for beastes,

16 If these three men were also in the midst thereof, as truely as I liue, sayeth the Lord God, they shall saue neither sonnes nor daughters, but bee onely deliuered themselues: and as for the land, it shalbe waste,

17 Or, if I bring a sworde vpon the land, and say, Sworde goe thorowe this lande, so that I slay downe man and beast in it,

[a] As his abomination herby declared, that is, he shall be led with lyes, according as he delighted therein.

[b] That is, conuince them by their owne consciences.

[c] Which are by vaine grounde pie haue precisned from God.

‖ Or, in the midst thereof.

18 And if these three men were ‖ therein: as truely truely as I liue, sayeth the Lorde God, they shall deliuer neither sonnes nor daughters, but onely be ‖saued themselues.

‖Or, deliuered.

19 If I send a pestilence into this lande, and powre out my sore indignation vpon it in blood, so that I roote out of it both man and beast, 20 And if Noe, Daniel, & Job were ‖therein: as truely as I liue, sayth the Lorde God, they shall deliuer neither sonne nor daughter, but ‖saue their owne soules in their righteousnesse.

‖Or, in the midst of it.

‖Or, deliuer.

21 Moreouer, thus sayth the Lorde God, Howe much more when I sende my foure ‖troublous plagues vpon Hierusalem, the sworde, hunger, perilous beastes, and pestilence, to destroy man and beast out of it?

‖Or, foure sore iudgements.

22 Beholde, there shalbe a remnant saued therein, which shall bring forth their sonnes and daughters: behold, they shal come forth vnto you, and ye shal see their way, and their enterprise, and ye shall be comforted concerning the euil that I haue brought vpon Hierusalem, euen concerning all that I haue brought vpon it:

23 They shall comfort you when ye shall see their way and workes, and ye shall know howe that it is not without a cause that I haue done all against Hierusalem as I did, sayth the Lord God.

The xv. Chapter.

As the vnprofitable wood of the vine tree is cast into the fire, so sayth he that Hierusalem shall be burnt.

THe word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, what commeth of the vine tree more then of euery other tree, and of the wilde vine among other trees of ỹ forest?

3 Doe men take wood of it to make any worke withall? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessell thereon?

4 Behold, it is cast in the fire to be burnt, the fire consumeth both the endes of it, the midst of it is burnt: is it meete then for any worke?

5 Seeing then that it was meete for no worke being whole, much lesse may there any thing be made of it, when the fire hath consumed and burnt it.

6 And therefore, thus saith the Lord God Is the vine tree that is among the trees of the forest, which I haue giuen to the fire to be consumed, so will I giue the inhabitants of Hierusalem.

7 And I will set my face against thē, they shall goe out from the fire, & yet the a fire shall consume them: then shall ye know that I am the Lord, when I set my face against them, a Though they escape one danger, yet another shall take them.

8 And when I make the lande waste, because they haue so sore offended, sayeth the Lord God.

The xvj. Chapter.

2 The Prophet declareth the benefites of God towarde Hierusalem. 60 Mercy is promised to the repentant.

AGaine the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, shew Hierusalem their abominations,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God vnto Hierusalem, Thy habitation and kinred is of the lande of a Chanaan, thy father was an Amorite, thy mother an Hittite.

a Thou hast left to be of the seede of Abraham, but thou art degenerate and followest the abominations of the Gentiles that inhabited Chananites, as children do the manners of their fathers. Esai 1.17.

4 In the day of thy birth, b when thou wast borne, the string of thy nauill was not cut off, thou wast not bathed in water to ‖make thee cleane, thou wast not salted with salt, nor swadled in cloutes.

b When I first knewe thee sayth the Lord of the land of Egypt, I planted thee as this land in the my Church.

‖Or, to soften thee.

5 No eye pitied thee to doe any of these things for thee, for to haue compassion vpon thee: but thou wast vtterly cast out vpon the fielde, in contempt of thy person in the day of thy birth.

6 Then came I by thee, & saw thee defiled in thine owne blood, & I said vnto thee when thou wast in thy blood, Liue, euē when thou wast in thy blood, I said vnto thee, Liue.

7 I caused thee to multiplie as the bud of the fielde, thou art growen vp, and waxen great, thou hast gotten a maruelous pleasant beautie, thy breastes are fashioned, thy haire is goodly growen, whereas thou wast naked and bare.

8 Now when I went by thee, and looked vpon thee, beholde, thy time was come, yea euen the time to woo thee: then spred I my clothes ouer thee to couer thy c dishonestie, yea, I made an othe vnto thee, and contracted my selfe vnto thee (sayth the Lorde God) and so thou becamest mine owne.

c Gods people, which, putting out, and forgetting, &c. are of nature ouergrowen, to haste vpon them, yong, fair, and in good estate, and when they were farre from God, entered them in mariage, honoured them and adorned them.

9 Then washed I thee with water, and purged thy blood from thee, and I anoynted thee with oyle.

10 I clothed thee with broydred worke, and shodde thee with Badgers skinne, and I girded thee about with fine linnen, and couered thee with silke.

11 I decked thee with costly apparell, I put bracelets vpon thy handes, a chaine about thy necke, 12 And I put a frontlet vpon thy face, and earerings vpon thine eares, and a beautiful crowne vpon thine head.

13 Thus wast thou decked with golde and siluer, and thy rayment was of fine linnen, and of silke, and of broydred worke: thou didest eate fine flowre, honie, and oyle, maruelous beautifull wast thou, and thou diddest luckily prosper into a kingdome.

14 And thy name was spred among the Heathen for thy beautie: for it was perfect through my beautie which I put vpon thee, sayth the Lord God.

15 But thou hast put thy confidence in thine owne beautie, and played the harlot, because of thy renowne, and hast d powred out thy fornications with euery one that went by, ‖thou wast his.

d There was none rebellion so vile, wherewith thou didst not pollute thy selfe.

‖Or, that thou mightest be his.

16 Thou diddest take thy garments, and decke deckt thy high places with c diuers colours, and played the harlot thereupon, ‡ they come not, and it shall not be.

17 The goodly iewels which I gaue thee of mine owne golde and siluer, hast thou taken, and made thee mens images thereof, and committed whoredome with them.

18 Thy broidered garments hast thou taken, and deckt them therewith: mine oyle and incense hast thou set before them.

19 My meate which I gaue thee, as fine flowre, oile, and honie, to feede thee withall, that hast thou set before them for a sweete sauour: and thus it was, saith the Lord God.

20 Thou hast taken thine owne sonnes and daughters whom thou hast begotten vnto me, and these hast thou offered vp vnto them to be e deuoured: is this but a small whoredome of thine?

21 And thou hast slaine my children, and deliuered them, to cause them to passe thorow the fire for them.

22 And yet in all thine abominations and whoredomes, thou hast not remembred the dayes of thy youth, howe naked & bare thou wast at that time, and wast defiled in thine owne blood.

23 After all this thy wickednesse (woe, woe vnto thee, saith the Lord God)

24 Thou hast built vnto thee an high place, and hast made thee an high place in euery streete.

25 Thou hast built thine high place at euery ‡ head of the way, thou hast made thy beautie to be abhorred, thou hast opened thy feete to euery one that came by, and multiplied thy whoredome.

26 Thou hast cõmitted fornication with the h Egyptians thy neighbors which were great in flesh, and thus hast thou encreased thine whoredome to anger me.

27 Beholde, I did stretch out my hand ouer thee, & did minish thine ordinarie food, and deliuered thee ouer into the willes of them that hate thee, euen to the daughters of the Philistines, which are ashamed of thy abominable wayes.

28 Thou hast played the whore also with the Assyrians, because thou wast insatiable: yea, thou hast I say with them played the harlot, and yet hadst thou not ynough.

29 Thus hast thou furthermore multiplied thy fornication from the lande of Chanaan vnto the Chaldees, and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

30 Howe weake is thine heart, saith the Lorde God, seeing thou doest all these, euen the workes of a presumptuous whorish woman?

31 Building thy high places at the head of euery way, and makest thy high places in euery streete: thou hast not bene as another whore that holdeth scorne of a reward:

32 But as a wife that breaketh wedlocke, and taketh other in stead of her husband.

33 Giftes are giuen to all other whores: but thou giuest rewards vnto all thy louers, and rewardest them to come vnto thee on euery side for thy fornication.

34 It is come to passe with thee in thy whoredomes contrary to the vse of other women, yea, there hath no such fornication bin committed after thee: seeing that thou giuest giftes vnto other, and no reward is giuen thee, therefore thou art contrary.

35 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, O thou harlot.

36 Thus saith the Lorde God, Because thou hast i powred out ‖ thy brasse, & discouered thy filthinesse through thy fornications with thy louers, & with all the idoles of thine abominations, and in the blood of thy children whom thou hast giuen them:

37 Beholde therefore, I will gather together all thy k louers with whom thou hast taken pleasure, yea, & al them whom thou hast loued, and euery one that thou hatest: I will I say gather them together rounde about against thee, & will discouer thy shame before them, that they may see all thy filthinesse.

38 * Moreouer, l I will iudge thee as a breaker of wedlocke and a murtherer, and recompense thee thine owne blood in wrath and iealousie.

39 I wil giue thee ouer into their hands, and they shall destroy the high place, & breake downe thy high places, they shall strip thee also out of thy clothes: thy faire iewels shall they take from thee, and so leaue thee naked and bare.

40 Yea, they shall bring a companie vpon thee, which shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee thorow with their swordes.

41 * They shall burne vp thy houses with fire, and punish thee in the sight of many women: thus wil I make thee cease from playing the harlot, so that thou shalt giue out no more rewards.

42 So will I make my wrath towarde thee to rest, and my iealousie shall depart from thee, and I will cease, and be angry no more.

43 Seeing thou remembrest not the daies of thy youth, but hast fretted me in all these things: beholde therefore, I wil bring thine owne wayes vpon thine head, sayeth the Lorde God, so that m thou shalt not commit any more mischiefe vpon all thine abominations.

44 Behold, all they that vse common prouerbes, shall vse this prouerbe also against thee, saying, Such a n mother such a daughter.

45 Thou art euen thy mothers owne daughter, that hath cast off her husband and her children: yea, thou art the sister of thy o sisters, which forsooke their husbands and their children, your mother is an Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

46 Thine eldest sister is Samaria, she and her p daughters that dwel vpõ thy left hand: but thy yonger sister that dwelleth on thy right 47 Yet hast thou not walked after their wayes, nor done after their abominations, as a litle and litle: but in al thy wayes thou hast bene more corrupt then they.

49 *Beholde, the sinnes of thy sister Sodoma, were these, q Pride, fulnesse of meate, and abundance of idlenesse, these thinges had shee and her daughters: besides that, they strengthened not the hand of the poore and needie.

q He alleageth these foure vices, pride, excesse, idlenesse, and contempt of the poore, as foure principall causes of such abomination, wherefore they were so horribly punished.

50 But they were hawtie, and committed abomination before me, therefore I tooke them away as I saw good.

51 Neither hath r Samaria done halfe of thy sinnes, yea, thou hast exceeded them in thine abominations, and hast s iustified thy sisters in al thine abominations which thou hast done.

s Thou art so wicked, that in respect of thee Sodom and Samaria were iust.

52 Therefore thou which didst condemne thy sister, beare thine owne shame, for thine owne offences that thou hast cõmitted more abominable then they did, which in deede are more righteous then thou art, be thou I say ashamed, and beare thy shameful rebuke, seeing that thou hast iustified thy sisters.

53 Therefore I will bring againe their captiuitie, the captiuitie of Sodom and her daughters, and the captiuitie of Samaria and her daughters, and the captiuitie of thy captiues among them, 54 That thou mayest take thine owne confusion vpon thee, and be ashamed of all that thou hast done, in that thou hast t comforted them.

t In that thou hast shewed thy selfe worse then they, and yet thoughtest to escape punishment.

55 And thy sister Sodom and her daughters shall returne to their former state, Samaria also and her daughters shall returne to their former state, u whē thou & thy daughters shall returne to your former state.

u That is, as if he had said, neuer.

x Thou wouldest not cal her punishment to minde, when thou wast a lost, to learne by her example to feare my iudgements.

58 Thou hast borne thy wickednesse and thine abomination, saith the Lord.

59 For thus saith the Lord God, I might by right deale with thee as thou hast done, which hast despised the z othe in breaking the couenant:

z Reade the eight verse.

60 Neuertheless, I will remember my couenant with thee in ỹ dayes of thy youth, and I will establish vnto thee an euerlasting couenant:

61 Then shalt thou remember thy wayes, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receiue thy sisters, both thy elder and thy yonger: and I will giue them vnto thee for daughters, but not by thy couenant.

62 And I wil establish my couenant with thee, that thou mayest knowe that I am the Lord, 63 That thou mayest thinke vpon it, and be a ashamed, and neuer open thy mouth any more for shame of thy selfe, when I am pacified towarde thee for all that thou hast done, sayth the Lord God.

b Chaldea, in Babylon.

5 He tooke also of the c seede of the lande, and planted it in a fruitefull grounde, he brought it vnto great waters, and set it in ‖ an open trench.

c That is, Ioachim, who was of the kings blood, & was left at Nabuchodonozors departing, to make kings in stede of Jechonias. 2. king. 24. Jeremie 37.

‖ Or, as a willowe tree.

6 Then did it growe, and was a d spreading vine, but e low of stature, whose branches turned toward ‖ it, and the rootes of it were vnder it: Thus there came of it a vine, and it brought forth branches, and shot forth buds.

d This was Sedechias kingdome.

e That might not haue power to rebel against Nabuchodonozor, as verse 14.

7 But there was an other f Eagle, a great one, which had great wings, and many feathers: and behold, the rootes of this vine turned towards it, and spread out her branches towards it, that she might water it by the trenches of her plantation,

‖ Or, the Eagle.

f Meaning the king of Egypt of whom Jeremie speaketh much, forbidding to make league against Babylon, Jeremie xxxvij.

8 It was planted vpon a good soile, beside great waters, so that it should haue brought out branches, and borne fruite, and bene a goodly vine.

9 Speake thou therefore, Thus saith the Lord God, Shall this vine prosper? shall he not pull vp the rootes thereof, and destroy the fruite thereof, and cause them to drie? all the leaues of her bud shall wither without great power, or many people to pluck it vp by the rootes thereof.

g Sedechias honoring before God by the first Eagle.

10 Beholde, it was planted: Shall it prosper therefore? Shall it not be dried vp and withered? when the h East winde shall touch it, it shal wither in the trenches where it grewe.

h That is, the Babylonians.

11 Moreouer, the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

12 Speake nowe to the rebellious house, Know ye not what these things doe signifie? Tell them, Beholde, the king of Babylon is come to Hierusalem, & hath taken the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and hath led them with him to Babylon.

13 He tooke of the kings seede, and made a coue-a couenant with him, and tooke an othe of him: the princes of the lande tooke hee with him also,

14 That the kingdome might be in subiection, and not lift vp it selfe, but keepe the couenant, and stand to it.

15 But hee rebelled against him, and sent his ambassadors into Egypt, that he might haue horses and much people: Should hee prosper? shall hee escape that doeth such things? or shall he breake the couenant and escape free?

16 As truly as I liue, saith the Lord God, he shal die at Babilon in the place where the king dwelleth that made him king, whose othe hee hath despised, and whose couenant he hath broken.

17 Neither shall Pharao with his great host and multitude of people maintaine him in the warre, whē they haue cast vp mounts and built a fort to destroy many persons.

18 For seeing hee hath despised the othe, and broken the couenant (whereas hee yet gaue his hand thereupon) and done all these things, he shall not escape.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God, As truely as I liue, I will bring mine othe that he hath despised, and my couenant that he hath broken, vpon his owne head.

20 I will spread my net vpon him, and he shall be caught in my net: and I will bring him to Babylon, and enter into iudgement with him there, for the trespasse which hee hath committed against me.

21 As for those that flee from him, with al his host, they shall be slaine with the sworde, and the residue shalbe scattered towardes all the windes: and yee shall knowe that I the Lord haue spoken it.

22 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also take off the top of this high Cedar, and will set it, and cut off the toppe of the tender plant thereof, and will plant it vpon an high hill and a great,

23 Namely, vpon the high hill of Israel will I plant it, that it may bring forth boughes, and giue fruit, and be an excellent Cedar, and vnder it shall remaine all birds, and euery fowle shall remaine vnder the shadow of the branches thereof.

24 And all the trees of the field shall know that I the Lorde haue brought downe the high tree, and exalted the lowe tree, that I haue dried vp the greene tree, and made the dry tree to flourish, euen I the Lord haue spoken it, haue also brought it to passe.

The xviij. Chapter.

4 Hee sheweth that euery man shall beare his owne sinne. 21 To him that amendeth, is saluation promised.

THe word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 What meane yee by this common prouerbe, that ye vse in the land of Israel, saying, The a fathers haue eaten sowre grapes, and the childrens teeth are set on edge.

a The people murmured at the chastisings of the Lord, & therefore vsed this prouerbe, meaning that their fathers had sinned, & they were punished for their transgressions, read 8 Jere. 31.

3 As truely as I liue, saieth the Lorde God, yee shall vse this byworde no more in Israel.

4 Behold, all soules are mine like as the soule of the father is mine, so is the soule of the sonne mine also: the soule that sinneth, shall die it selfe.

5 But if a man be iust, and do that which is lawfull and right:

6 And hath not b eaten vpon the hilles, and hath not lift his eyes to the idoles of the house of Israel, neither hath defiled his neighbours wife, neither hath come neere a c woman remooued:

b That is, if he haue not communicated in the sacrifices of idoles.

c Meaning, such as were set apart in time of naturall & monethly diseases, namely, in time of childe birth, leprosie, & such like, as Leuit. 20.

7 Neither hath oppressed any man, but hath restored to the debter his pledge: he that hath not spoyled any by violence, hath giuen his bread to the hungry, and hath clothed the naked:

8 And hath not giuen forth vpon vsurie, neither taken any encrease, and hath withdrawen his hande from iniquitie, and hath executed true iudgement betwene man and man:

9 And hath walked in my statutes, and kept my iudgements to deale truely: this is a righteous man, hee shall surely liue, saieth the Lord God.

10 If he now get a sonne that is a robber, a shedder of blood, and doe any one of these things:

11 Though he do not all these things, but either hath eaten vpon the hilles, or defiled his neighbours wife:

12 Or hath oppressed the poore and needy, or spoyled by violence, or hath not restored the pledge, or hath lift vp his eyes vnto the idoles, or hath committed abomination:

13 Or hath giuen forth vpon vsurie, or hath taken encrease: Shall this man liue? he shall not liue: seeing he hath done al these abominations, hee shall die the death, his blood shalbe vpon him.

14 Now if this man get a sonne also, that seeth all his fathers sinnes which hee hath done, and feareth, neither doeth such like:

15 Namely, that hath not eaten vpon the hilles, neither hath lift vp his eyes to the idoles of the house of Israel, nor defiled his neighbours wife:

16 Neither hath oppressed any, nor hath withholden the pledge, neither hath spoyled by violence: but hath giuen his bread to the hungry, and hath couered the naked with a garment:

17 Neither hath withdrawen his hande from the afflicted, nor receyued vsurie nor increase, but hath executed my iudgements, and walked in my statutes: this man shall not die in his fathers sinne, but shall liue without fayle:

18 As for his father, because hee hath cruelly oppressed and spoiled his brother by violence, and hath not done good among his people, people, lo, he dieth in his owne sinne.

19 And yet say ye, Wherefore then should not this sonne beare his fathers sinne? Because the sonne hath done iudgement and rigteousnesse, hee hath kept all my statutes, and done them: therefore shall he liue in deede.

Deu.24.16. 4.kin.4.6. 2.chr.25.4. 20 *The same soule that sinneth shall die, the sonne shall not beare the fathers iniquitie, neither shall the father beare the sonnes iniquitie: the righteousnes of the righteous shall be vpon him, and the wickednesse of the wicked shalbe vpon himselfe also.

21 But if the vngodly will turne away from all his sinnes that hee hath done, and keepe all my statutes, and do the thing that is iudgement and right, doubtlesse hee shall liue, and not die.

22 As for all his sinnes that he did before, they shall not be mentioned vnto him: but in his righteousnesse that he hath done, he shall liue.

23 For haue I any pleasure in the death of a sinner, saith the Lorde God? shall he not liue if he returne from his wayes?

24 Againe, if the righteous turne from his righteousnesse, and do iniquitie, and shal doe according to all the abominations that the wicked man doeth, shall he liue? All the righteousnesse that he hath done shall not be remembred, but in his transgression that he hath committed, in his sinne that hee hath sinned, in them he shall die.

Ezec.33.20 d In punishing the fathers with the children. 25 And yet ye say, *The way of the Lorde is not [d] indifferent. Heare therefore yee house of Israel, Is not my way equall? or are not your wayes rather vnequall?

26 When a righteous man turneth away from his righteousnes, and committeth iniquitie, and dieth in the same: in his iniquity which he hath committed, shall he die.

27 Againe, when the wicked turneth away from his wickednes that he hath done, and doth iudgement and right, he shall saue his soule alive:

‡Considereth or remembreth his iniquitie. 28 Because hee ‡seeth and turneth away from all his iniquitie that hee hath committed, he shall surely liue, and not die.

29 And yet saieth the house of Israel, The way of the Lorde is not equall. Are not my wayes equall, O ye house of Israel? are not your wayes rather vnequall?

Mat.3.2. 30 Therefore I will iudge you, euery man according to his wayes, O yee house of Israel, saieth the Lorde God, *returne and bring againe others from all your wickednesse, so iniquitie shall not bee your destruction.

2.King. 14. 14. 31 Cast away from you al your transgressions whereby ye haue transgressed, & make you a new heart and a newe spirit: for why will ye die, O ye house of Israel?

‖Or, cause therefore one another to returne. 32 *Seeing I haue no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God, ‖bring againe your selues then, and ye shall liue.

The xix. Chapter.

2 The captiuitie of Iehoas and Iehoiakim is signified by the Lions whelpes, and by the Lion.

THou also take vp a lamentation for the [a] princes of Israel, a That is, Iehoas & Iehoiakim Iudas sonnes, who for their crueltie and pride were carried vnto Babel.

2 And say, Wherfore lay thy mother that Lionesse among the Lions? shee nourished her yong ones among the Lions whelpes.

3 One of her whelpes she brought vp, and it became a Lion, it learned to catch the pray, and to deuoure folke.

4 The [b] heathen heard of him, and caught him in their snare, & brought him in ‖hookes vnto the land of Egypt.

b Speaking of Pharao king of Egypt. ‖Or, chains.

5 Now when she saw that she had waited, and her hope was lost, shee tooke another [c] of her whelpes, and made him a Lion.

c Which was Ioachaz.

6 Which went among the Lions, and became a fierce Lion, learned to catch the pray, and deuoure folke.

7 He ‖destroyed their palaces, and made their cities waste, insomuch that the whole lande, and euery thing therein, were vtterly desolate through the voyce of his roaring.

‖Or, and he knew their widowes.

8 Then set the [d] heathen together on euerie side of the countreyes against him, layde their nettes for him, and tooke him in their pitte.

d Babylon hauing with his great armie, being sent against Ierusalem.

9 So they put him in prison in chaynes, and brought him to the king of Babylon: they put him in holdes, that his voice should no more bee heard vpon the mountaines of Israel.

13 As for thy [e] mother, she is like a vine in thy blood, planted by the waters: she brought forth fruite and branches by the abundant waters.

e He speaketh right in the person of the wicked king, in whose blood, that is, in the ruine of his subiects, [illegible] as though [illegible] accepting in [illegible] fire, and he [illegible] like a [illegible] full vine.

11 And shee had strong rods for the sceptres of them that bare rule, and her stature was exalted on high among the branches, and she appeared in her height with the multitude of her branches.

12 But shee was plucht vp in wrath, cast out vpon the ground, *the East winde dried vp her fruit, her branches were broken off and withered, as for the rodde of her strength, the fire consumed them. Ose.13. 15.

13 And now she is planted in the wildernesse, in a drie and thirstie ground.

14 And there is a fire gone out of the rod of her branches, it hath deuoured her fruite, so that shee hath no strong rod for a sceptre to rule: This is a lamentation, and shalbe for a lamentation.

The xx. Chapter.

The Lord denieth that he will answere them when they pray, for the offence of vnkindnesse which he here obiecteth.

IN the [a] seuenth yere, the tenth day of the fifth moneth, certaine of the elders of Israel came for to aske counsell at the Lord, & sate downe before me.

a Of the captiuitie of Ieconiah.

2 Then

2 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto me, saying,

3 Thou sonne of man, speake vnto the elders of Israel, & say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Are ye come to enquire of me? As truely as I liue, I will not be sought of you, saith the Lord God.

4 Wilt thou iudge them, sonne of man, wilt thou iudge them? cause them to vnderstand the abominations of their fathers.

5 And tell them, Thus sayeth the Lorde God, In the day when I chose Israel, and lift vp mine hand vpon the seed of the house of Iacob, and was knowen vnto them in the land of Egypt, yea, when I lift vp mine hand ouer them, and sayde, I am the Lord your God:

6 Euen in the day that I lift vp mine hand vnto them, to bring them out of the lande of Egypt, into a lande that I had prouided for them, which floweth with milke and honie, and is pleasant among all other lands:

7 Then sayde I vnto them, Cast away euery man the abominations of his eyes, and defile not your selues with the idoles of Egypt: for I am the Lord your God.

8 But they rebelled against me, & would not hearken vnto me, they did not cast away euery man the abominations of his eyes, neither did they forsake the idoles of Egypt: then I said I would powre out mine indignation ouer them, and accomplish my wrath vpon them, yea, euen in the middest of the land of Egypt.

9 And I wrote for my names sake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen among whom they were, to whom I was manifestly knowen, in bringing them forth of the land of Egypt.

10 Now when I had caused them to goe out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wildernesse:

11 [a] I gaue them my statutes, and shewed them my iudgements: which who so doth, shall liue in them.

12 [b] I gaue them also my Sabboth daies, to be a token betwixt me and them, and thereby to know that I am the Lord which halow them.

13 And yet the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wildernesse, they would not walke in my statutes, they haue cast away my iudgements, which who so doeth, shall liue in them, * and my Sabboth daies haue they greatly polluted: Then I said I would powre out mine indignation vpon them, and consume them in the wildernes.

14 And I wrought for my names sake, least it should be defiled before the Heathen, in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet neuertheles I lift vp my hande vnto them in the wildernesse, that I would not bring them into the lande which I gaue them, that floweth with milke and hony, and is a pleasure of all lands:

16 And that because they cast away my iudgements, and walked not in my statutes, but haue defiled my Sabboths: for their heart was gone after their idoles.

17 Neuertheless mine eye spared them, so that I woulde not destroy them, nor consume them in the wildernesse.

18 Moreouer, I sayde vnto their sonnes in the wildernesse, walke not in the statutes of your [c] fathers, keepe not their iudgements, and defile not your selues with their idols.

19 I am the Lord your God, walke in my statutes, keepe my iudgements, and doe them.

20 Halowe my Sabboths, for they are a token betwixt me and you: that ye may know how that I am the Lord your God.

21 Notwithstanding, their sonnes rebelled against mee also, they walked not in my statutes, they kept not my iudgements to fulfill them, which he that doeth, shall liue in them, they prophaned my Sabboth dayes, and I sayd, I would powre out mine indignation ouer them, and accomplish my wrath vpon them in the wildernesse.

22 Neuertheless, I withdrew my hand, and wrought for my names sake, least it should bee defiled in the sight of the heathen, before whom I had brought them forth.

23 I lift vp my hand to them also in the wildernesse, that I would scatter them among the heathen, and strawe them among the nations:

24 Because they had not kept my iudgements, but cast aside my statutes, and broken my Sabboths, and their eies were after their fathers idols.

25 Wherefore I [d] gaue them also statutes that were not good, and iudgements wherein they should not liue.

26 And I defiled them in their owne gifts, in that they [e] caused all that openeth the wombe to passe, that I might destroy them, that they might know how that I am the Lord.

27 Therefore speake vnto the house of Israel, thou sonne of man, and thou shalt say vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lorde God, Yet in this also your fathers haue blasphemed me, and grieuously transgressed against me:

28 For after I had brought them into the land, for the which I lifted vp my hande to giue it vnto them, when they saw euery high hill, and all thicke trees, they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented their offering of [f] anger, there also they made their sweete sauours, and powred out their wine offerings.

29 And I sayde vnto them, What is that high place whereunto yee resort? and the name of it is called [g] Bamah vnto this day.

30 Wherefore speake vnto the house of Israel, Thus sayeth the Lord God, Are yee not defiled in the wayes of your fathers, and 31 For when ye offer your gifts, and make your sonnes to passe thorowe the fire, you are polluted with all your idoles vnto this day: shall I answere you when I am asked, O house of Israel? As I liue, saith the Lorde God, I ‖ will not be sought of you.

‖ Or, I will not answere when I am asked.

32 And that which commeth into your minde shall not be at all, which you say, Wee will bee as the Gentiles, as the kinreds of countries to serue wood and stone.

33 As truely as I liue, saith the Lord God, I my selfe will rule you with a mighty hand, with a stretched out arme, and with indignation powred out ouer you.

i I will reason and pleade my cause with you my selfe.

36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wildernesse of Egypt: so will I pleade with you also, saith the Lord God.

37 I will cause you to passe vnder the rodde, and I will bring you into the bond of the couenant.

38 And I will ‖ purge out of you the rebels, and them that transgresse against mee, and bring them out of the land of their habitation: as for the land of Israel they shall not come in it, that you may knowe howe that I am the Lord.

39 As for you, O house of Israel, thus saith the Lord God, Goe you and serue euery man his idoles, seeing that yee obey not mee: and pollute no more my holy name with your gifts and your idoles.

40 For vpon my holy hill, euen vpon the high hill of Israel, saith the Lord God, shall all the house of Israel, and all that is in the land worship me: and in the same place will I fauour them, and there wil I require your heaue offerings, and the firstlings of your oblations, with all your holy things.

41 I will accept your sweete sauour, when I bring you from the nations, and gather you together out of the landes wherein yee haue bene scattered, that I may be hallowed in you before the heathen.

42 And yee shall knowe that I am the Lord, when I shall bring you into the lande of Israel, into the lande for the which I lift vp my hand to giue it vnto your fathers.

43 There shall yee call to remembrance your owne waies, and all your workes wherin ye haue bene defiled, and ye shall be cut off in your [k] owne sight for all your wickednesse that ye haue done.

k Your owne conscience shal condemne you as worthy to be cut off from the earth.

44 And ye shal know that I am the Lord, when I deale with you for my names sake, and not after your wicked wayes, nor according to your corrupt workes, O yee house of Israel, saith the Lord God.

45 Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

46 Thou sonne of man, set thy face toward the way of [l] Themanah, and drop thy word toward the [m] South, and prophecie toward the forest of the South field, l To wit, the South.

m That is, the south parte of Iurie, which lieth Southward from Hierusalem.

47 And say to the forest of the South, Heare the word of the Lord, Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will kindle a fire in thee, that shall consume all the [n] greene trees with all the drie: the continuall flame shall not bee quenched, and euery face from the South to the North shalbe burnt therein.

n That is, both strong and weake in Hierusalem.

48 And all flesh shall see that I the Lorde haue kindled it, and it shall not be quenched.

o Meaning the people, that they shall not escape for hoping the Lord to giue them a prosperous iourney vnto Hierusalem.

49 Then sayd I, Ah Lord God, they say of me, Doth not he speake [o] parables?

The xxj. Chapter.

3 He threatneth the sword, that is to say, destruction to the citie of Hierusalem.

AND the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, set thy face toward Hierusalem, and [a] drop thy word toward the holy places, and prophecy against the land of Israel.

a No doctrine is conuenient to time, nor to perr sons are conuenient to all.

3 Say to the lande of Israel, Thus sayeth the Lord, Beholde, I am against thee, and will drawe my sworde out of the sheath, and cut off from thee both the [b] righteous, and the wicked.

b That is, such as seeme to haue an outward shew of righteousnesse by obseruation of the ceremonies of the law.

4 Seeing then that I will cut off from thee both the righteous and the wicked, therefore shall my sworde goe out of his sheath against all flesh from the [c] South to the North,

c Meaning, throughout all the land.

5 That all flesh may knowe howe that I the Lorde haue drawen my sworde out of the sheath, and it shall not be put in againe.

6 Mourne therefore, O thou sonne of man, yea, euen with the [d] breaking of thy loynts, mourne bitterly in their presence.

d As things that were in sporting ouerpassed, where vnto the beloued hould hands.

7 And if they say vnto thee, wherefore mourneth thou? then tell them, For the tidings that commeth: All hearts shall melt, all hands shall be letten downe, all stomacks shall faint, and all knees shall goe as water: beholde, it commeth, and shall bee brought to passe, saith the Lord God.

8 Againe, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

9 Thou sonne of man, prophecie and speake, Thus saith the Lorde God, Speake, The sword, the sword is sharpened, and well fourbished.

10 Sharpened is it to make a great slaughter, and fourbished that it may glitter: Shall wee then make myrth? It contemneth the [e] rodde of my sonne as [f] all other trees.

e Speaking the scripter, shewing that it will not spare the king, who should be as the sonne of God, and in his place.
f That is, the rest of the people.

11 He hath giuen it to be fourbished, to hold it in his hand: this sword is sharpened, and fourbished, to giue it into the hand of the [g] slayer.

g To wit, into the armies of the Chaldeans.

12 Cry

12 Cry and howle, sonne of man, for it commeth vpon my people, it commeth vpon all the princes of Israel: the terrours of the sword shall bee vpon my people, smite therefore thou vpon thy thigh.

13 Because it is a triall, and what if [h] it contemne the rodde? it shall be no more, saith the Lord God.

14 Prophecie, thou sonne of man, and smite thy handes together, and let the sword be doubled thrise, euen the sword of the great slaughter entering into their priuie chambers.

15 To make them faint at their hearts, and to multiplie their falles, in all their gates haue I giuen the terror of the sworde: Ah, it is made bright, and dressed for the slaughter.

16 Get thee [k] one way or other, either vpon the right hand or vpon the left, whithersoeuer thy face turneth.

17 I will smite my handes together also, and make my wrathfull indignation to rest: euen I the Lord haue said it.

18 The word of the Lorde came yet vnto me, againe, saying,

19 Thou sonne of man, appoint thee two wayes, that the sword of the king of Babylon may come: both these wayes shall go out of one land, & chuse thee a place, at the head of the cities wayes choose it.

20 Appoynt a way that the sworde may come toward Rabbath of the Ammonites, and toward [m] Juda in the defenced Hierusalem.

21 For the king of Babylon stoode at the [n] parting of the wayes, at the head of the two wayes, consulting by diuination, hee made his arrowes bright, consulted with Images, and looked in the liuer.

22 At his right hand was the soothsaying for Hierusalem, to appoynt captaines, to open their mouth to the slaughter, and to lift vp their voyce with the alarme, to set battell rammes against the gates, to cast a bulwarke, and to build a fort.

23 And it shall bee vnto them as a false diuination in their sight, for the [o] othes made vnto them: but [p] he will cal to remembrance their iniquitie, to the intent that they may be taken.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God, Because yee haue made your iniquitie to bee remembred in discouering your transgressions, so that in all your workes your sinnes might appeare, because yee are come to remembrance, ye shalbe taken by hand.

25 O thou shamefull wicked [q] prince of Israel, whose day is come, euen when wickednesse shall haue an end, 26 Thus saith the Lord God, I will take away the [r] Diademe, and put off the crowne: this shall bee no more the same, I will exalt the humble, and abase him that is high.

27 Ouerthrowen, ouerthrowen, ouerthrowen will I put [t] it, and it shall not bee, vntill he come to whome the iudgement belongeth, and to whom I haue giuen it.

28 And thou, O sonne of man, prophecie and speake, Thus saieth the Lorde God to the children of Ammon, and to their blasphemie, speake thou, The sworde, the sworde is drawen foorth alreadie to slaughter, and sourbished to consume because of the glittering:

29 whiles they see vnto thee vanitie, and diuine a lie vnto thee, to put thee with the neckes of the wicked that bee slaine, whose day is come when their iniquitie shall haue an end.

30 Shoulde I cause it to returne into his sheath? In the place where thou wast created, in the land of their habitation will I iudge thee.

31 And I will powre mine indignation vpon thee, and will blowe vpon thee in the fire of my wrath, and deliuer thee into the hands of desperate people, which are skilfull to destroy.

32 Thou shalt feede the fire, and thy blood shall be shed in the middest of the land: thou shalt bee put out of remembrance, for I the Lord haue spoken it.

The xxij. Chapter.

The word of the Lord against Hierusalem for manslaughter, and denying due honour to their fathers and mothers, and other wickednesse.

MOreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, and said,

2 Thou sonne of man, wilt thou not [a] iudge, wilt thou not iudge this bloodie citie? wilt thou not shewe her all her abominations?

3 And tell them, Thus saieth the Lord God, The citie sheadeth blood in the middest of it, and her [b] time may come, and maketh idoles [c] against her selfe, to defile her selfe.

4 Thou hast made thy selfe guiltie in the blood that thou hast shed, and defiled thee in the idoles which thou hast made: thou hast caused thy dayes to draw nigh, and made the time of thy yeeres to come: therefore will I make thee a reproch among the heathen, and to be a mocking in all lands.

5 whether they bee nigh or farre from thee, they shall laugh thee to scorne, thou that hast gotten thee so foule a name, and art full of trouble.

6 Beholde the rulers of Israel, euery one in thee was ready to his power to shead blood.

7 In thee haue they dispised father and mother, in thee haue they oppressed the stranger, in thee haue they vexed the widowe and the fatherlesse.

8 Thou hast despised my holy things, and defiled my Sabbothes.

9 ‖ Tale tellers are there in thee to shead blood, in thee are such as eat vpon the hilles, ‖ Or, pick thanks.

a That is, wilt thou winke at such horrible faults, and not giue iudgements against them?

b That is, the time of her destruction.

c To her owne vndoing.

and in the middest of thee they commit abomination,

10 In thee they discouered their fathers shame, in thee they haue humbled her that was set apart for pollution.

Iere.5.8. 11 *Euery man hath dealt shamefully with his neighbours wife, and abominably defiled his ‖ daughter in law, in thee hath euery man forced his owne sister, euen his fathers daughter.

‖ Or, sonnes wife.

12 Yea, giftes haue bene receiued in thee to shead blood, thou hast taken vsurie and increase, thou hast oppressed thy neighbours by extortion, and forgotten me, saith the Lorde God.

d As sorowing and lamenting their wickednesse: or in token of his wrath and vengeance.

13 Behold, I haue [d] smitten my handes vpon thy couetousnesse that thou hast vsed, and vpon the blood which hath bene shead in the middest of thee.

14 Is thy heart able to endure? or may thy handes bee strengthened in the dayes that I shall haue to doe with thee? Euen I the Lord that speake it, will bring it also to passe.

15 I will scatter thee among the Heathen, and straw thee about in the lands, and will cause thy filthinesse to [e] cease out of thee.

e I will take away the occasion of thy wickednesse. f Where as before thou wast Gods inheritance, now thou shalt be left to thy selfe miserable and forsaken.

16 Yea, and thou shalt be thine [f] owne inheritance in the sight of the Heathen, that thou mayest know that I am the Lord.

17 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

18 Thou sonne of man, the house of Israel is vnto me as drosse: all they are brasse, tin, yron, and lead in the middest of the furnace, euen drosse of siluer are they.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God, Forasmuch as yee all are turned into drosse, therefore beholde, I will bring you together vnto Hierusalem.

20 Like as they gather siluer, brasse, yron, tin, and lead into the middest of the furnace, and the fire is blowen thereunder to melt them: euen so will I gather you in mine anger and in my wrath, and let you remaine there, and cause you to [g] melt.

g Meaning thereby, that the godly should be tried, and the wicked destroyed.

21 I will bring you together, and blowe the fire of my wrath vpon you, and yee shall be moulten in the middest thereof.

22 Like as the siluer is moulten in the midst of the furnace, so shall yee also be moulten therein, that yee may knowe howe that I the Lorde haue powred my wrath vpon you.

23 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

24 Thou sonne of man, tell her, Thou art an vncleane land, which is not [h] rained vpon in the day of wrath.

h Thou art like a barren land which the Lord plagueth with drought.

25 There is a [i] conspiracie of her Prophets in the middest thereof: as a roaring lion rauening his pray they deuoure soules, they haue taken the rich & precious things, they haue made her many widowes in the middest thereof.

i The false prophets haue conspired together to make their doctrine more probable 26 Her priestes haue broken my law, and defiled my holy things, they put no difference betweene the holy and vnholy, neither discerne they betweene the cleane and vncleane: they turne their eyes from my Sabbothes, and I am defiled among them.

27 Thy rulers in the middest of thee are like wolues rauening the pray, to sheade blood, and destroy soules for their owne couetous lucre.

28 As for her [k] prophets, they dawbe with vntempered morter, they see vanities, and diuine lies vnto them, saying, The Lord saith so: whereas the Lord hath not spoken.

k They which should pure cry against them flatter them in their sinnes, and couered their wrongs with lies, Ezech.13.

29 The people in the lande vsed wicked extortion and robberie, they vexed the poore and needie, & oppressed the stranger against right.

30 And I sought among them for a man that would [l] make vp the hedge, and set himselfe in the gappe before me in the landes behalfe that I should not destroy it: but I could finde none.

l What would God punish you being so many in number as you be, Ezech.22. and 36. and yet will not turn me to withdraw my plagues, Psal.106.

31 Therefore haue I powred out my cruel displeasure vpon them, & consumed them in the fire of my wrath: their owne wayes will I recompense vpon their heads, saieth the Lord God.

The xxiij. Chapter.

3 Of the fornication, that is to say, of the idolatrie of Samaria and Hierusalem, vnder the name of Aholah, and Aholibah.

THE word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, there were two women the daughters of [a] one mother.

a Hauing Abel & Iohn which came both out of one bodie.

3 And they committed fornication in [b] Egypt, they played the harlots in their youth: there were their breastes pressed, and there they bruised the teates of their virginitie.

b They be commonly taxed after the manner of the Egyptians.

4 The [c] names of them were Aholah the elder, and Aholibah her sister, and they were mine, and they bare sonnes and daughters: thus were their names, Samaria is Aholah, and Hierusalem Aholibah.

c Aholah by reason a man of vnderstanding for with meaning Samaria, which bare the royall citie of Iuda, and Aholibah signifying, My tabernacle in her, wherein Gods seruice was, & Iudea, for that in her were my lawes, and my true seruice & worship of God, became Gentiles, and put their trust in the Assyrians.

5 Aholah played the harlot [d] when shee was mine, and shee was set on fire with her louers the Assyrians her neighbours:

d Shee ceased to be Gods people.

6 Which were clothed with blewe silke, both captaines and princes, they were all pleasant young men, and horsemen riding vpon horses.

7 Thus shee committed her whoredome with them, being all chosen men of Assur, and with all on whom shee doted, and defiled her selfe with all their idols.

8 Neither left shee the fornication that she vsed with the Egyptians: for in her youth they [e] lay with her, they bruised the breastes of her maidenhead, and powred their whoredome vpon her.

e The holy Ghost vseth sometimes vnlyke termes to shadow out vnto vs the horrible abhominations that were committed among them: and namely why he should abhorre to powre the name thereof vpon vs.

9 Wherefore I deliuered her into the handes of her louers, euen into the handes of the Assyrians vpon whom she doted.

10 These discouered her shame, tooke her her sonnes and daughters, and slue her with the sword, an euil name had shee among women: for they had executed iudgement vpon her.

11 Her sister Aholibah sawe this, and destroyed her selfe with inordinate loue more then shee, and with her fornications, more then her sister with her fornications.

12 Shee doted vpon the Assyrians captaines and princes her neighbours, clothed with all maner of gorgeous apparell, horsemen riding vpon horses, being all pleasant young men.

13 Then I saw that she was defiled, and they tooke both one way.

14 But she encreased still in whoredome: for when she saw men painted vpon the wal, the [f] images of the Chaldees painted with vermillion,

15 And girded with girdles vpon their loynes, & with dyed attyre vpon their heads, looking all like princes, after the maner of the Babylonians in Chaldea, ỹ land where they were borne:

16 As soone as she saw them, she burnt in loue vpon them, and sent messengers vnto them, into the land of the Chaldees.

17 Nowe when the Babylonians came vnto her in the bed of loue, they defiled her with their whoredome: and so was she polluted with them, and her lust was abated from them.

18 And shee discouered her whoredome, and discloſed her shame: then my heart forsooke her, like as my heart was gone from her sister also.

19 Nevertheles, she encreased her whoredome more, and remembred the dayes of her youth, wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 Shee burnt in lust vpon their lechers, whose flesh was like the flesh of asses, & their issue like the issue of horses.

21 Thus thou hast called to remembrãce the filthinesse of thy youth, when thy teates were bruised by the Egyptians, for the paps of thy youth.

22 Therefore, O Aholibah, thus sayeth the Lorde God, I wil raise vp thy louers against thee from whome thy heart is departed, and gather them together against thee on euery side.

23 Namely the Babylonians and all the Chaldees, ‖ rulers, wealthie, and mightie men, with all the Assyrians, all pleasant young men, captaines and princes, all valiant and renowmed, ryding vpon horses.

24 These shall come vpon thee with charets, weapons, and wheeles, and great multitude of people, with buckler, shielde, and helmet they shall beset thee on euery side: ‖ I wil giue iudgement before them, yea, they themselues shal iudge thee according to their owne iudgement.

25 I will lay mine indignation vpon thee, so that they shal deale cruelly with thee: they shall cut off thy nose and thine eares, and thy remnant shal fall by the sword, they shall cary away thy sonnes and daughters, and the residue shalbe deuoured by the fire.

26 They shal strip thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy fayre iewels.

27 Thus will I make thy wickednesse to cease from thee, and thy fornication out of the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt turne thine eyes no more after them, and cast thy minde no more vpon Egypt.

28 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I wil deliuer thee into the handes of them whome thou hatest, yea, euen into the hands of them from whom thine heart is departed.

29 And they shall deale hatefully with thee, and take away all thy [g] labour, and leaue thee naked, and bare, and the shame of thy fornications [h] shalbe discouered, both thy wickednesse and thy whoredome.

30 I wil doe these things vnto thee, because thou hast gone a whoring after the Heathen, & because thou art polluted with their idoles.

31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister, therefore wil I giue her cuppe into thine hand.

32 Thus saith the Lord God, Thou shalt drinke of thy sisters cup deepe and large, thou shalt be laughed to scorne, and had in derision, because it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt be filled with [i] drunkennes and sorowe, euen with the cup of destruction and desolation, with the cuppe of thy sister Samaria.

34 Thou shalt drinke it, and sucke it out, and thou shalt breake the sheardes thereof, and teare thine owne breasts: for I haue spoken it, sayth the Lord God.

35 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde God, Forasmuch as thou hast forgotten me, & cast mee aside behinde thy backe, so beare nowe thine owne wickednesse and whoredome.

36 The Lorde sayde moreouer vnto me, Thou sonne of man, wilt thou not iudge Aholah, and Aholibah? shewe them their abominations.

37 Namely that they haue broken their wedlocke, and blood is in their hands: and with their idols haue they committed adulterie, and haue also caused their sonnes whome they bare vnto me, to passe by the fire to be their [k] meate.

38 Yea, and this haue they done vnto me also, they haue defiled my Sanctuarie in the same day, & haue prophaned my Sabboths.

39 For when they had slayne their children for their idoles, they came the same day into my sanctuarie to defile it: and loe, thus haue they done in the middest of mine house.

40 And howe much more is it that they sent for men to come from [l] farre, vnto whom a messenger was sent, and lo, they came: for whome thou diddest wash thy selfe, and painted thine eyes, and deckedst thee with ornaments,

[f] This declareth that no bodies are able sufficiently to expresse the vanities, and abhominations, and horrible sinnes, which were committed there in their idolatrie, in their ragging lusts and filthie acts done vpon the images & paintings of them at whom they lust.

[g] All thy treasures and riches which thou hast gotten by labour.

[h] All ỹ world shall see thy shamefull forsaking of God to serue idols.

[i] Meaning, ỹ the afflictions should be so great, that they should cause them to lose their senses & reason.

[k] That is, as be sacrificed to their idols: Read Eze. 16.

[l] They went into other countries to hyre such as should teach them the seruice of their idoles.

[f] Or, Pekod, and Shoah, and Koa.

[g] Or, I will leaue the punishment vpon them.

41 Thou sakest vpon a stately bed, and a [m] table spred before it, whereupon thou hast set mine incense and mine oyle.

42 And a noyse of a merrie companie at ‖ it, and with the men, belide the multitude of the people, were brought men of Saba out of the desart, which gaue them bracelets vpon their handes, and beautifull crownes vpon their heads.

43 And I sayde vnto her that was worne in her adulteries, Nowe shall her fornications come to an ende, and she also.

44 And they went in to her as they goe vnto a common harlot: euen so went they to Aholah & Aholibah, those wicked women.

45 And the righteous men they shal iudge them after the maner of harlots, and after the maner of murderers: for they are harlots, and blood is in their handes.

46 Wherefore thus sayth the Lorde God, I will bring a great multitude of people vpon them, and giue them to be scattered and spoyled.

47 And the multitude shall stone them with stones, and cut them downe with their swords, they shall slay their sonnes & daughters, and burne vp their houses with fire.

48 Thus will I cause wickednes to cease out of the land, that all [n] women may bee taught not to doe after your wickednesse.

49 And so they shall lay your wickednes vpon your owne selues, and the sinnes of your idoles shall ye beare: and ye shal know that I am the Lord God.

m Hee meaneth the altars that were prepared for the idols.
‖ Or, the table.
n Meaning, all other cities & countries.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

He proueth the firing of Hierusalem by a parable of a seething pot.

IN the [a] ninth yeere, in the tenth moneth, the tenth day of the [b] moneth, came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

2 O thou sonne of man, write thee the name of this day, yea, euen of this present day: for the king of Babylon set himselfe against Hierusalem this selfe same day.

3 And shew the rebellious house a parable, and speake vnto them, Thus saieth the Lorde God, Prepare a [c] pot, set it on, and powre water into it.

4 Gather the [d] pieces thereof into it, euery good piece, the thigh & the shoulder, and fill it with the chiefe bones.

5 Take one of the best sheepe, ‖ and burne also bones vnder it, let it boyle well, let the bones thereof seethe well therein.

6 With that sayde the Lord God on this maner, Woe vnto the bloodie citie, to the pot whose scumme is therein, & whose scumme is not gone out of it: bring it out [c] piece by piece, let no [f] lot fall vpon it.

7 For her blood is in the middest of it, vpon a high drie [g] stone hath shee powred it, and not vpon the ground, that it might be couered with dust:

8 That it might cause wrath to arise, and take vengeance: I haue set her blood vpon an high drie rocke, that it should not be couered.

9 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God, * Woe be vnto the bloodthirstie citie, for whom euen I my selfe will make a great fire,

10 And heape on much wood, and [h] kindle the fire, and seethe the flesh, and ‖ spice the pot, so that the very bones shalbe burnt.

11 Moreouer, I will set the pot emptie vpon the coales, so that the braste thereof may be hot and burnt, and the filthinesse of it may be molten in it, and the scumme of it shalbe consumed.

12 Shee hath wearied her selfe with ‖ labour, yet her great scumme is not gone of her, in the fire her scumme must be consumed.

13 In thy filthines is wickednes: because I [i] would haue purged thee, and thou wast not purged from thy filthinesse, thou shalt not be purged any more, till I haue caused mine indignation to rest in thee.

14 Euen I the Lord haue spoken it: yea, it is come thereto already that I will doe it, I will not goe backe, I wil not spare, I will not repent: but according to thy wayes and imaginations shall they iudge [k] thee, sayth the Lord.

15 And the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

16 Thou sonne of man, beholde, I will take away from thee the [l] pleasure of thine eyes with a plague, yet shalt thou neither mourne nor weepe, neither shall thy teares runne downe.

17 Mourne in silence, make no mourning of the dead, binde the tyre of thy head vpon thee, & put on thy shoes vpon thy feete, couer not thy lips, and [m] eate no mans bread.

18 So I spake vnto the people betimes in the morning, and at Euen my wife dyed: then vpon the next morowe I did as I was commanded.

19 And the people sayde vnto mee, Wilt thou not tell vs what this signifieth toward vs, that thou doest so?

20 I answered them, The worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

21 Tell the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lorde God, Beholde, I wil pollute my sanctuarie, euen the glory of your power, the pleasure of your eyes, and your hearts delite: and your sonnes & daughters whome you haue left, shall fall through the sword.

22 Like as I haue done, so shall ye doe also: ye shall not couer your lippes, ye shall eate no mans bread, 23 And your tyre shalbe vpon your heads, and your shoes vpon your feete: yee shall neither mourne nor weepe, but yee shall pine away in your iniquities, and mourne one towards another.

24 Thus Ezechiel is your shewe token: according to all that hee hath done, yee shall doe: when it commeth, then yee shall knowe that

The xxv. Chapter.

1 The word of the Lorde vnto the sonnes of Ammon, which reioyced at the fall of Hierusalem. 8 Against Moab and Seir, against Idumea, against the Philistines.

THe word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, set thy face towarde the Ammonites, & prophecie vpon them,

3 And say vnto the Ammonites, Heare the word of the Lorde God, Thus saieth the Lord God, Forsomuch as thou saidest, [a] Ha, ha, ouer my Sanctuarie because it was polluted, and ouer the land of Israel because it was desolate, and ouer the house of Juda because they went into captiuitie:

4 Behold therefore, I will deliuer thee to the people of the [b] East, that they may haue thee in possession: these shall settle their [c] palaces in thee, and make their dwellings in thee, they shall eate thy fruite, and drinke vp thy milke.

5 As for [d] Rabbath, I will make of it a stable for camells, and of the Ammonites a sheepefolde: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

6 For thus saith the Lord God, Insomuch as thou hast clapped with thine hands, and stamped with thy feete, yea, and reioyced ouer the lande of Israel with all thy ‖ despite in hart:

7 Behold therefore, I will stretch out my hand ouer thee, & deliuer thee to bespoyled of the Heathen, and roote the out from among the people, and cause thee to perish out of the lands, yea, I will make thee to be destroyed, that thou maiest know that I am the Lord.

8 Thus saith the Lorde God, Forsomuch as Moab and Seir do say, Behold, the house of Juda is like as all Gentiles be:

9 Therefore beholde, I will open the side of Moab from the cities, from the cities I say of his frontiers, the pleasures of the countrey, as namely Bethiesimoth, Baalmeon, and Kiriathiarim:

10 Vnto the children of the East, against the Ammonites, and wil giue it into possession, so that the Ammonites shall no more bee had in remembrance among the Heathen.

11 And I wil execute iudgments vpō Moab: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

[a] Because ye reioyced when enemies had ouerthrowen any of Gods people.

[b] That is, to the Babylonians.

[c] They shall destroy or buy, and take the possessions lands in deed.

[d] Called alla Rhamathgilead, which was the chiefe citie of the Ammonites, and full of inhabitants, 1. Esdras. 12.

[Or] Prickling of heart.

12 Thus sayth the Lord God, For that Edom hath done in auenging reuengement vpon the house of Juda, and hath done great offence, and auenged himselfe vpon them:

13 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde God, I will reache out mine hande vpon Edom, and destroy man and beast out of it, I will make it desolate from Theman, and Dedanah shall fall by the sworde.

14 And I will execute my reuengement vpon Edom by the hand of my people Israel, they shal do in Edom according to my wrath and indignation, so that they shall know my vengeance sayth the Lord God.

15 Thus sayeth the Lord God, For that the Philistines did in vengeance, namely in auenging reuengement, with a [+] despiteful heart to destroy it for the olde enmitie:

16 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde God, Behold, I wil stretch out my hand ouer the Philistines, and destroy the [f] Cerethites, and cause all the remnant of the sea coast to perish:

17 A great vengeaunce will I take vpon them, with punishments of my wrath, that they may know that I am the Lorde, when I shall lay my vengeance vpon them.

The xxvj. Chapter.

1 He prophecyeth that Tyrus shalbe ouerthrowen, because it reioyced at the destruction of Hierusalem.

AND it came to passe in the [a] eleuenth yeere, the first day of the moneth, the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, because that Tyre hath spoken vpon Hierusalem, Ha, ha, the gates of the people is broken, [b] it is turned vnto me, for now that she is destroyed I shall be [c] filled:

3 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde God, Beholde, O Tyre, I will vpon thee, I will raise vp many nations against thee, like as when the sea ariseth with his waues.

4 They shall breake the walles of Tyre, and cast downe her towres, I will scrape her dust from her, and make her a drie roche.

5 She shall be for a spreading of nettes in the sea, for I haue spoken it, sayth the Lorde God, and shee shal be for a spoile to the nations.

6 Her [d] daughters that are in the fielde shall be slaine with the sword, that they may know how that I am the Lord.

7 For thus sayth the Lorde God, Behold, I will bring vpon Tyrus Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon from the North, a king of kings, with horses, charets, horsemen, with a multitude, and much people.

8 Thy daughters that are in the fielde shall he slay with the sword: but against thee he shall make bulwarkes, & cast a mount against thee, & lift vp his speare against thee.

9 He shall set engins of warre before him against thy walles, and with his weapons breake downe thy towres.

[a] Either of the captiuitie of Jeconias, or of the reigne of Zedechias.

[b] The traffique of marchandise that was vsed in Hierusalem, shalbe turned to me againe.

[c] My riches and fame shall encrease: thus the wicked reioyce at their fall by whome they may haue any profite or aduantage.

[d] spreading, the small townes and villages that were in the countrey or territorie of Tyrus.

10 The dust of his horses shall couer thee they shalbe so many, thy walles shall shake at the noyse of the horsemen, wheeles, and charets, when hee shall enter into thy gates, as into the entrie of a citie broken downe.

11 With the hooues of his horses shall hee treade downe all thy streetes: he shall slay the people with the sword, and the pillars of thy strength shall fall downe to the ground.

12 They shall robbe thy riches, and spoile thy marchandize, thy walles shal they breake downe, and destroy thy houses of pleasure, thy stones, thy tymber, and dust shal they cast into the middes of the water.

Iere.7.34. 13 *Thus will I cause the sounde of thy songs to cease, and the noyse of thy harpes shall no more be heard.

14 I will bring thee into a dry rocke, thou shalt bee for a spreading of nettes, thou shalt neuer be built againe: for euen I the Lorde haue spoken it, sayeth the Lord God.

15 Thus hath the Lorde God spoken concerning Tyre, Shal not the Iles tremble at the noyse of thy fall, and at the crye of the wounded, when they shalbe slayne and murdered in the middest of thee?

e The gouernours and rulers of other countries by the sea: whereby he signifieth that her destruction should be so horrible, that all the world should heare thereof, and be afrayde.

16 All princes of the [e] sea shall come downe from their thrones, they shall lay away their robes, & put off their broudered garments, yea, with trembling shall they bee clothed, they shall sit vpon the grounde, they shalbe astonished at euery moment, and be amased at thee.

f Meaning marchants, which by their traffike did enrich her wonderfully, and encrease her power.

17 They shall mourne for thee, and say vnto thee, How art thou destroyed that wast inhabited of the [f] seas, the renowmed citie which was strong in the sea, shee and her inhabitants, which caused their feare to be on all that haunted therein?

18 Nowe shall the inhabiters of the Iles bee astonished in the day of thy fall: yea, the Iles that are in the sea shall bee troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus sayth the Lorde God, when I make thee a desolate citie, as other cities be that no man dwell in, and when I bring vp the deepe vpon thee, that great waters may couer thee:

20 Then will I cast thee downe vnto them that descend into the pit, vnto a people of [g] olde time, and set thee in a lande that is beneath, like the olde ruines, with them which go down to the graue, so that no man shall dwell more in thee: but I will reserue honour for the [h] land of the liuing.

g Which are dead long ago.

h Meaning Iudea, when it shalbe restored.

21 I will [‡] make thee terrours, and thou shalt be no more: though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou not bee founde for euermore, sayth the Lord God.

‡ I wil bring thee to nought.

The xxvij. Chapter.

The Prophet is mooued to bewayle the desolation of Tyrus.

THe worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 O thou sonne of man, take vp a lamentable complaint vpon Tyre,

3 And say vnto Tyre that is situate at the entrie of the sea, which is the mart of the people for many Iles, Thus sayth the Lord God, O Tyre, thou hast sayd, I am of perfect beautie.

4 Thy borders are in the middes of the seas, thy builders haue made perfect thy beautie.

5 They haue made all thy ship boardes of Fyrre trees of Shenir, from Libanus haue they taken Cedar trees to make thee maste:

6 And the Okes of Basan to make thee Ores, they of Assyria haue made thy benches of Iuorie, brought out of the Iles of [b] Chittim.

23 Haran, Chenne, and Eden, the marchants of Seba, Assyria, and Chelmad, were doers with thee.

33 When thy wares went forth of the seas, thou filledst many people: the kings of the earth hast thou made riche, through the multitude of thy riches and marchandize.

34 When thou shalt be broken by the seas in the deapths of the waters, thy marchandize, and all thy multitude that was in the middes of thee, shall fall.

35 All the inhabitants of the yles shall be astonied at thee, and all their kings shall bee sore afraide, and troubled in their countenance.

36 The marchants of the nations shall hisse at thee: thou shalt be a terrour, and shalt [m] neuer be any more.

The xxviij. Chapter.

The word of God against the king of Tyrus for his pride.

THE worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, Tell the prince of Tyre, Thus sayth the Lorde God, Because thou hast a proud heart, & hast saide, I am a [a] God, I sit in the seate of God, in the middest of the sea: whereas thou art but a man, and not God, [b] though thou set thine heart as the heart of God.

[a] Like as God is safe in heauen, euen so I am safe that none can come to hurt me.

[b] Though thou in deed thinke in thine heart that thou wast equall with God.

3 Beholde, thou thinkest thy selfe wiser then [c] Daniel, that there is no secrets hid from thee.

[c] Thus hee speaketh by derision, for Daniel had declared notable signes of his wisdome in Babylon, when Ezechiel wrote thus.

4 With thy great wisedome and thine vnderstanding thou hast gotten thee great wealthinesse, and gathered treasure of siluer and gold.

5 With thy great wisedome & occupying hast thou encreased thy ‖ power, and because of thy great riches thy heart is proude.

‖ Or, riches.

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, For so much as thou hast set thine heart as the heart of God:

7 Beholde, I will bring strangers vpon thee, euen the terrible nations, these shall draw out their swordes vpon the beautie of thy wisedome, and shall defile thy glorie.

8 They shall cast thee downe to the pit, so that thou shalt dye the death of them that be slaine in the middest of the sea.

9 Wilt thou say then before them that slaye thee, I am a God: whereas thou art but a man, and not God, in the handes of them that slay thee.

10 Die shalt thou the death of the [d] vncircumcised in the hands of the strangers: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

[d] Like the rest of the heathen and infidels, which are Gods enemies.

11 Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

12 Thou sonne of man, take vp a lamentation vpon the king of Tyre, and tell him, Thus saith the Lord God, Thou sealest vp the summe, [e] full of wisedome & perfite beautie.

[e] He describeth the vaine opinion and confidence that the Tyrants had in their riches, strength and pleasures.

13 Thou hast bene in the pleasant garden of God, thou art decke with all maner of precious stones, with Rubie, Topas, Diamond, Turkeis, Onyx, Jasper, Saphyr, Emerald, Carbuncle, and golde: the worke-manship of thy Tymbrels, and of thy Pipes that be in thee, was prepared in the day that thou wast created.

14 Thou art an [f] anoynted Cherub that couereth, and I haue set thee in this dignitie, thou wast vpon the holy mount of God, thou hast walked in the middes of the stones of fire.

[f] He meaneth the royall state of Tyrus, which for the excellencie thereof, hee compareth to the Cherubins which couered the arke, and by this word anoynted, he signifieth the same.

15 From ỹ time of thy creation thou hast bene perfite in thy wayes, till wickednesse was found in thee.

16 By the multitude of thy marchandize they haue filled the middes of thee with crueltie, and thou hast sinned: I will cast thee as prophane out of the [g] mount of God, and I will destroy thee, O couering Cherub, from the middes of the stones of fire.

[g] Thou shalt haue no part among my people.

17 Thy heart was proude in thy beautie, and and through thy brightnes thou hast destroied thy wisedome: I wil cast thee downe to the ground, I will lay thee before kings, that they may behold thee.

h That is, the honour whereunto I called thee.

18 Thou hast defiled thy h sanctification with the great wickednesse of thine vnrighteous occupying: I will bring a fire from the midst of thee, to consume thee, and will make thee to ashes vpon the earth, in the sight of all them that looke vpon thee.

19 All they that haue bene acquainted with thee among the Heathē, shalbe abashed at thee: thou hast bene a terrour, and neuer shalt thou be any more.

20 And the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

21 Thou sonne of mā, set thy face against Sidon, and prophecie vpon it,

22 And speake, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, O Sidon, I will vpon thee, and I will be glorified in the middest of thee: that it may bee knowen howe that I am the Lorde, when I shall haue executed iudgements in her, and shalbe sanctified in her.

23 For I will send pestilence and bloodshedding into her streetes, and the slaine shall fall in the midst of her by the sword comming vpon her on euery side: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

24 They shal be no more a pricking thorne vnto the house of Israel, nor a grieuous thorne of all that are rounde about them, and despised them: and they shall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Thus saith the Lord God, when I gather the houshold of Israel together againe from the nations among whome they bee scattered, then shall I bee sanctified in them in the sight of the Gentiles, and they shall dwell in the land that I gaue to my seruant Iacob.

26 They shal dwell with confidence therein, builde houses, and plant vineyardes, yea, with confidence shall they dwell therein when I haue executed iudgements vpon all those that despite them round about, and then shall they know that I am the Lorde their God.

The xxix. Chapter.

He prophecieth against Pharao, and of the desolation of Egypt, with the sparkling abroad of the Egyptians.

a To wit of the captiuitie of Iechonias, and of the reigne of Zedechias. But note that the disposition of these matters are not set foorth according to the order of the times: but according to the neerenesse and distance of the countreys against whom they were written. As the siege of Tyrus came in the eleuenth yeere, as set before this came in the tenth yeere, because it was neerer to Iurie then Egypt.

IN the a tenth yeere, vpon the twelfth day of the tenth moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, set thy face against Pharao the king of Egypt, prophecie against him, and against the whole land of Egypt.

3 Speake and tell him, Thus sayeth the Lorde God, Beholde, O Pharao, thou king of Egypt, I will vpon thee thou great Dragon, b that lyeth in the middes of his riuers, thou that sayest, The riuer is mine, I haue made it for my selfe.

b He compareth Pharao to a Dragon or Crocodile which was wont to haunt the riuer Nilus.

4 I will put c hookes in thy chawes, and hang thy fish in thy riuers vpon thy skales: after that, I will drawe thee out of the middes of thy riuers, yea, and all the fish of thy riuers shall hang vpon thy skales.

c I will send enemies against thee, which shall plucke thee and thy people that trust in thee out of thy sure places.

5 I will leaue thee in the wildernesse both thee and all the fish of thy riuers: thou shalt fall vpon the open fielde, thou shalt not be brought together, nor gathered: I haue giuen thee for meate to the beastes of the fielde, and to the foules of the ‖ ayre.

‖ Or, of heauen.

6 That all they which dwell in Egypt, may knowe that I am the Lorde, because they haue beene a staffe of reede to the house of Israel.

7 When they tooke holde of thee with their hand, thou brakest and rent all their shoulder: and when they leaned vpon thee, thou brakest and madest all their loynes to stand vpright.

8 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde God, Behold, I will bring a sword vpon thee, and destroy out of thee both man and beast.

9 Yea, the land of Egypt shall be desolate and waste, and they shall knowe that I am the Lorde, because hee saide, The riuer is mine, I my selfe haue made it.

10 Behold therefore, I wil vpon thee, and vpon thy riuers, I will make the land of Egypt vtterly waste & desolate, from the towre of Seueneh, vnto the borders of Ethiopia.

11 No foote of man shall passe by it, nor foote of beast shall passe by it, neither shall it be inhabited fourtie yeeres.

12 I will make the lande of Egypt to be desolate among other waste countreys, and her cities destroyed fourtie yeeres among other destroyed cities: and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and strawe them thorowe the countreys.

13 Againe, thus saith the Lorde God, When the fourtie yeeres are expired, I will gather the Egyptians together againe out of the nations among whom they were scattered.

14 And I will bring the captiuitie of Egypt againe, and cause them to returne into the land of Pathros, the land of their habitation, and they shall be there a d small kingdome.

d Meaning, that they should not haue full dominion, but be vnder the Persians, Grecians, and Romanes: and the cause is, that the Israelites should no more put their trust in them, but learne to depend on God.

15 Yea, it shalbe the smallest among other kingdomes, neither shall it exalt it selfe any more aboue the nations: for I will so minish them, that they shall no more rule the nations.

16 And they shalbe no more vnto the house of Israel a trust, which bringeth their iniquitie to remembrance, when they shal looke after them: and they shall know that I am the Lord God.

17 In the e twentie and seuenth yere, the first day of the first moneth, came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying, e Counting from the captiuitie of Iechonias.

18 Thou

18 Thou sonne of man, Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon caused his armie to serue a great seruice against Tyre: euery head was made bald, and euery shoulder bare, yet had neither hee nor his armie any wages for Tyrus for the seruice which hee serued against it.

19 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde God, Behold, I will giue the land of Egypt vnto Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, that he may take away her multitude, and spoyle her spoyles, and take her pray to pay his hoste their wages withall.

‡ The trauel they tooke about Tyre.

20 For the ‡ worke which hee wrought about it, I haue giuen him the land of Egypt, because they wrought for me, sayth the Lord God.

21 In that day I will cause the horne of the house of Israel to bud foorth, and I will giue thee the opening of thy mouth in the midst of them: and they shal know that I am the Lord.

The xxx. Chapter.

The destruction of Egypt, and of his cities is bewailed.

THe word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, prophecie, and speake, Thus sayth the Lorde God, Howle, woe worth this day:

3 For the day is neere, the day of the Lord is at hand, the ‡ darke day, the time of the nations shall be.

‡ Cloudie day.

4 And the sword shall come vpon Egypt: and feare shalbe in Ethiopia when the slayne shall fall in Egypt: and they shall take away her multitude, and her foundations shall bee broken downe.

5 Yea, Ethiopia, Libya, and Lydia, all their common people, and Chub, and all that be confederate vnto them, shal fal with them through the sword.

6 Thus saith the Lord, The mainteiners of the land of Egypt shall fall, the pride of her power shal come down, euen from the tower of * Seueneh shall they fall downe in it with the sword, saith the Lord God.

* Which was a strong citie of Egypt.

7 Among other desolate countreys they shall be made desolate, among other waste cities they shalbe wasted.

8 And they shal know that I am the Lord, when I haue set a fire in Egypt, and when all her helpers shall be destroyed.

9 In that day shall messengers goe foorth from me in ships, to make the careliesse Morians afrayd, and feare shall come vpon them, according to the day of Egypt: for loe, it commeth.

10 Thus saith the Lord God; I will cause the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hand of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon.

11 He, and his people with him, the terrible nations shal be brought to destroy the land: they shal draw out their swords vpon Egypt, and fill the land full of slaine men.

12 I will make their riuers drie, and sell the land into the hands of wicked people: the land and all that is therein I will destroy through the hand of straungers: euen I the Lord haue sayd it.

13 Thus saieth the Lord God, * I will destroy the idols, & bring the images of [b] Noph to an end: there shall no more bee a prince of Egypt, and a fearefulnes will I send into the Egyptians land.

Zach. 13. 2.

b Called also Memphis, or Alkatra.

14 As for Pathros I will make it desolate, and kindle a fire in [c] Zoan, and I wil execute iudgements in [d] No.

c Or Thaphnis.

d Which is supposed of diuers to be the citie of Alexandria.

15 And I wil powre out my wrathful indignation vpon Sin the strength of Egypt, and I will destroy the multitude of No.

16 And I will kindle a fire in Egypt, Sin shalbe in great heauinesse, No shall be rooted out, and Noph shall haue daily sorow.

17 The yong men of ‖ Auen, and of ‖ Phibeseth shall fall by the sword, and these cities shall goe into captiuitie.

‖ Heliopolis ‖ Pubastum.

18 At Tehaphnees the day shalbe [e] darke, when I breake there the barres of Egypt, and when the pompe of her power shall cease in her, a cloud shal couer her, and her daughters shall goe into captiuitie.

e Meaning, that there shal be great sorowes and afflictions, when the strength and force of Egypt shall be broken.

19 Thus will I execute my iudgements in Egypt, and they shall knowe how that I am the Lord.

20 And in the [f] eleuenth yeere, vpon the seuenth day of the first moneth, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying, f Of the captiuitie of Jeconias, or reigne of Zedecias.

21 Thou sonne of man, I haue [g] broken the arme of Pharao king of Egypt: and loe, it shall not be bound vp to be healed, to put a roller to bind it, to make it strong to hold the sword.

g For Nabuchodonosor destroyed Pharao Necho at Charchemish. Jere. 46.

22 Therefore thus saieth the Lorde God, Behold, I will vpon Pharao king of Egypt, and breake his arme that was strong, but is broken: and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand.

23 As for the Egyptians, I will scatter them among the nations, and straw them in the lands about.

24 Againe, I will strengthen the arme of the king of Babylon, and giue him my sword in his hand, but I wil breake Pharaos arms, and hee shall grone the gronings of a deadly wounded man before him:

25 Yea, I wil strengthen the king of Babylons arme, and the armes of Pharao shall fall downe: and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall [h] giue my sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, that he may stretch it out vpon the land of Egypt.

h Whereby we see that tyrants haue no power of themselues, neither can do any more harme then God appointeth, and when he will, they must cease.

26 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and straw them in the lands about: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

The xxxi. Chapter.

1 A comparison of the prosperitie of Pharao with the prosperitie of the Assyrians. 10. Hee prophecieth a like destruction to them both.

More-

a Of Zedcias reigne, or Jeconias captiuitie.

MOreouer, in the a eleuenth yere, the first day of ỹ third moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, speake vnto Pharao king of Egypt, and to all his people, whome art thou b like in thy greatnesse?

b Meaning, that hee was not like in strength to the king of the Assyrians whom the Babylonians ouercame

3 Beholde, Assur is a Cedar in Libanon, with faire branches, & with thick shadowing boughs of a high stature, and his top was among the thicke boughs.

4 The waters made him great, and the deepe set him vp on high, with ỹ riuers running round about his plants, and set out her c litle riuers vnto all the trees of the field.

c Many other nations which were vnder their dominiõ.

5 Therefore was hee higher then all the trees of the field, and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches were long, because of the multitude of the waters which the deepe sent out.

‖Or, heauen

6 All foules of the ‖ aire made their nests in his branches, vnder his boughs did all the beastes of the field bring foorth their yong, and vnder his shadow dwelt all mightie nations.

7 Beautiful was he in his greatnes, and in the length of his branches: for his roote stood beside great waters.

d Signifying that there was no greater power in the world then he was.

8 No Cedar tree might d hide him in the garden of God, there was no firre trees like his branches, the Chestenut trees were not like the boughes of him: all the trees in the garden of God might not bee compared vnto him in his beautie.

9 I made him fayre with the multitude of his branches: insomuch that all the trees in the pleasant garden of God had enuie at him.

10 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, For so much as hee hath lift vp himselfe so high, and hath shot vp his toppe among the thicke boughs, and his heart is lift vp in his height:

11 I haue therfore deliuered him into the hands of the c mightiest among the heathen: hee shall handle him, for in his wickednesse haue I cast him away.

c That is, Nabuchodonosor, who afterward was the Monarch and onely ruler of the world.

12 And strangers haue destroyed him, euen the terrible nations, and haue left him: vpon the mountaines, and vpon all valleys haue his boughs fallen, and his boughs are f broken by all the riuers of the land: and all the people of the earth are departed from his shadow, and haue forsaken him.

f Hereby is signified the destruction of the power of the Assyrians by the Babylonians.

13 Vpon his ruine shall all the foules of the ‖ ayre remaine, and all the beasts of the field shalbe vpon his branches.

‖Or, heauen.

14 So that none of all the trees by the waters shall be exalted in their height, nor shoote vp their toppes among the thicke boughes, neither shall their trees stand in their height, as many of them as drinke water: for they are all deliuered vnto death in the neather partes of the earth, in the midst of the children of men, among them that goe downe to the pit.

15 Thus sayth the Lord God, In the day when he went downe to the graue, I caused a lamentation to bee made, I g couered the deepe for him, I restrained the floods thereof, and the great waters were stayed, I caused Libanus to mourne for him, and all the trees of the field fainted.

g The deepe waters that caused him to mourne is hyd, meaning his great abundance and pompe, shall now lament as they that in mourning were couered with sackcloth 16 I made the heathen shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him downe to hell with them that descend into the pit: all the excellent trees of Eden, and the best of Libanus, all that h drinke waters, shall be comforted in the neather parts of the earth.

h That are nourished with waters. I. As a cause that destruction of the kings of Syria in Assur, moued Nabuchodonosor to destroy their other kings and princes which are here ment by trees, as they resemble at the end of each a tree.

17 They also went down to hell with him vnto them ỹ be slaine with the sword, which were his arme, and dwelt vnder his shadow in the midst of the nations.

18 To whom art thou thus like in glorie and in greatnesse among the trees of Eden? yet thou shalt be cast downe with the trees of Eden, vnto the neather parts of the earth: in the middest of the vncircumcised shalt thou sleepe with them that are slayne with the sword: This is Pharao & all his multitude, sayth the Lord God.

The xxxij. Chapter.

2 The Prophet is commaunded to bewaile Pharao king of Egypt. 12 Hee prophecieth that destruction shall come vnto Egypt through the king of Babylon.

IN the a twelfth yeere, the first day of the twelfth moneth, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying, a Which was the last yere of the generall captiuitie, vnder Zedcias.

2 Thou sonne of man, take vp a lamentation vpon Pharao the king of Egypt, and say vnto him, Thou art b like a Lion of the heathen, and as a whale fish in the sea: thou drawest out thy riuers, thou c troublest the waters with thy feet, and stampest in their riuers.

b That the Scriptures compare the kings to beasts to signifie their power, which seemeth great in their owne eies, but is nothing before God.

c That is, thou hindrest the course of the riuers with thy feet.

3 Thus saieth the Lord God, I will spread my net ouer thee with a great multitude of people, these shall make thee come vp into my net.

4 For I will leaue thee vpon the lande, and cast thee vpon the open fielde, and I will cause all the foules of the aire to remaine vpon thee, and fill all the beasts of the field with thee.

5 Thy flesh will I lay vpon the hils, and fill the valleys with thy d highnesse.

d With the heapes of the carkeises of thine armie.

6 I will e water thine ouerflowing land with thy blood, euen to the mountaines, and the riuers shall be full of thee.

e His filthy murthered Egypt, & will I make the blood of that past to mount into it.

7 When thou art put out, I will couer the heauen, and make his starres dimme: I will spred a cloud ouer the Sonne, & the Moone shall not giue her light.

8 All the lightes of heauen will I make darke for thee: and bring darknesse vpon thy land, saith the Lord.

9 I will stirre vp to anger the hearts of many people, when I bring thy destruction among the heathen, and vpon the countreis which thou knowest not.

10 Yea,

10 Yea, I wil make many people amazed at thee, and their kings shall bee abomished with feare for thee, when I shall make my sword to glitter against their faces: and they shall be afrayd at euery moment, euery man for his owne life, in the day of thy fall.

11 For thus saith ỹ Lord God, The king of Babylons sword shall come vpon thee:

12 With the swordes of the mightie will I smite downe thy multitude: they all shall be terrible nations, and they shal destroy the pompe of Egypt, and the multitude thereof shall be consumed.

13 I wil destroy also all the beasts thereof from the great waters sides, neither shall the foote of man trouble them any more, nor the hooues of beastes trouble them.

14 Then wil I make their waters deepe, and cause their riuers to runne like [h] oyle, saith the Lord.

15 When I make the land of Egypt desolate, and when the countrey with all that is therein shalbe laide waste, and when I smite all them which dwell in it, then shall they knowe that I am the Lord.

16 This is the mourning when they shall lament her, The daughters of the nations shall lament her, they shall make the lamentation ouer Egypt, and ouer all the people thereof, saith the Lord.

17 In the twelfth yeere, the fifteenth day of the moneth, came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

18 Thou sonne of man, lament for the multitude of Egypt, and [i] cast them downe, euen them, and the daughters of the famous nations, to the nether partes of the earth, with them that goe downe into the pit.

19 Whome doest thou passe in [k] beautie? goe downe & sleepe with the vncircumcised.

20 Among those that be slayne with the sworde shall the lye, to the sworde is [l] her already deliuered: drawe her downe, and all her multitude.

21 The [m] mightie worthies shall speake to her out of the middest of hell, and to her helpers: they are gone downe and sleepe with the vncircumcised that be slayne with the sworde.

22 Assur is there also with all his company, & their graues round about him, which were slaine and fell all with the sword:

23 Whose graues are made in the side of the pit, and his multitude are round about his graue, to wit, all the slaine are fallen by the sworde, which cause a feare to be in the land of the liuing.

24 There is Elam also, with all his people rounde about his graue, which all being slayne and fallen with the sworde, are gone down vncircumcised vnder the earth, which neuertheless sometime brought feare into the land of the [n] liuing: they beare their owne shame, with the other that be gone downe to the graue.

25 They haue made his bed in the midst of the slayne, with all his multitude: their graues are round about him: all these vncircumcised slaine by the sworde, although they caused their feare in the land of the liuing, yet haue they borne their shame with them that goe downe to the pit, they are layde in the middest of them that are slaine.

26 There is [o] Meshech also & Tubal, and their people, and their graues round about him: these al vncircumcised were slaine with the sworde, because aforetime they made the land of the liuing afraide.

27 They shall not lye with the [p] valiant which are fallen of the vncircumcised, which are gone downe to the graue with their weapons of warre, and haue laide their swordes vnder their heads: but their iniquitie shalbe vpon their bones, because the terrour of their mightie was in the land of the liuing.

28 Yea, and among the vncircumcised shalt thou be destroyed, and sleepe with them that perished through the sword.

29 There is Edom with her kings and princes also, which with their strength are laide by them that are slaine with the sword: yea among ỹ vncircumcised shall they sleepe, and with them which are gone downe into the pit.

30 Moreouer, there be all the princes of the [q] North, with all the Sydonians, which are gone downe with the slaine: with their feare and strength they are come to confusion, and lye there vncircumcised among those that be slaine with the sworde, and beare their owne shame with them that be gone downe to the pit.

31 Pharao shall see them, and be [r] comforted ouer all his multitude: Pharao & all his armie shall be slaine with the sword, saith the Lord God.

32 For I haue giuen my feare [s] in the land of the liuing: but Pharao and all his people shall be layde among the vncircumcised, and among them that be slaine with the sworde, saith the Lord God.

The xxxiij. Chapter.

He setteth out the office of the gouernours and ministers, 14 He strengtheneth them that despayre, and boldeneth them with the promise of mercie.

AGaine, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, speake to the children of thy people, and tell them, when I send a sword vpon a land, if the people of the land take a man of their coastes, and set him to be their [a] watchman:

3 If when he seeth the sword come vpon the land, hee shall blowe the trumpet, and warne the people:

4 Then hee that heareth the noyse of the trumpet, and will not be warned, and the sworde come and take him away, his blood shalbe vpon his owne head.

5 For he heard the sound of the trumpet, a Hee sheweth that the people ought continually to haue gouernours & teachers, which may haue a care ouer thē, and to warne them euer of the dangers which are at hand.

and would not bee warned, therefore his blood be vpon him: but hee that receiueth warning, he shall saue his life.

6 Againe, if the watchman see the sword come, and blowe not the trumpet, so that the people is not warned, if the sword come then, and take any man from among them: the same shalbe [b] taken away in his owne sinne, but his blood will I require at the watchmans hand.

7 And thou, O sonne of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israel: therefore thou shalt heare the worde at my [c] mouth and thou shalt warne them from me.

8 If I say vnto the wicked, Thou wicked, thou shalt surely die: and thou speakest not to admonish the wicked of his way: that wicked man shall die in his owne sinne, but his blood will I require at thy hand.

9 Neuertheles, if thou warne the wicked of his way to turne from it, and hee yet will not be turned from his way: then shall hee die in his iniquitie, but thou hast deliuered thy soule.

10 Therefore, O thou sonne of man, speake vnto ỹ house of Israel, yea, say thus, If our offences and sinnes lye vpon vs, and we be consumed in them, [d] howe should we then liue?

11 Tell them, As truely as I liue, sayth the Lord God, I haue no pleasure in ỹ death of the wicked, but much rather that the wicked turne from his way, and liue: Turne you, turne you from your wicked wayes, for why will ye die, O ye of the house of Israel?

12 Therefore thou sonne of man, tell the children of thy people, The righteousnesse of the righteous shall not saue him in the day of his iniquitie: againe, The wickednes of the wicked shall not ouerthrowe him for it, in the day that he returneth from his wickednesse: neither shall the righteous liue for [e] it in the day that he sinned.

13 If I say vnto the righteous, Hee shall surely liue, and so he trust to his owne righteousnesse, and doe sinne: then shall his righteousnesse be no more thought vpon, but in his wickednesse that hee hath done, in it hee shall die.

14 Againe, if I say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt surely dye: and so hee turne from his sinnes, and [f] doe the thing that is lawful and right, 15 Insomuch that the same wicked man giueth the pledge againe, restoreth that he had taken away by robberie, walketh in the commandements of life, and doeth none iniquitie: then shall he surely liue, and not die.

16 None of the sinnes that he hath committed shalbe mentioned vnto him: for insomuch as he doeth now the thing that is lawfull and right, he shall liue.

17 And yet the children of thy people, say, The way of the Lord is not equall: but their owne way is not equall.

18 When the righteous turneth from his righteousnesse, and doeth the thing that is wicked, he shall die therein.

19 But if the wicked turne from his wickednesse, doing the thing that is lawfull and right, he shall liue therefore.

20 Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equall: O ye house of Israel, I will iudge euery one of you after his wayes.

21 In the twelfth yere, the fifth day of the tenth moneth of our [g] captiuitie, one which was escaped out of Hierusalem came vnto me, and sayde, The citie is smitten.

22 Nowe the [h] hand of the Lord had bene vpon me the euening afore this man which was escaped came vnto me, and had [i] opened my mouth, vntill the morning that he came to me: yea, my mouth was opened, so that I was no more dumbe.

23 Then came the word of the Lord vnto me, and sayde,

24 Thou sonne of man, these that dwell in the wasted land of Israel talke & say, [k] Abraham was but one man, and hee had the land in possession: now are we many, and the land is giuen vs to possesse also.

25 And therefore tell them, Thus sayth the Lord God, In the blood haue ye eaten, your eyes haue ye lift vp to idols, & haue shed blood: shall ye then haue ỹ land in possession?

26 Ye [l] leane vpon your swords, ye worke abominations, euery one defileth his neighbours wife: and shall possesse the land?

27 Say thou thus vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, As truely as I liue, they that are in the desolate places shall fall by the sword, and him that is in the open the fielde, will I giue vnto the beastes to be deuoured: and they that be in the strong holds & dennes, shall dye of the pestilence.

28 For I wil make the land so desolate and waste, that the pompe of her strength shal cease: the mountaines of Israel shall be so waste, that no man shall trauaile thereby.

29 Then shal they know that I am the Lorde, when I make the land desolate and waste, because of all their abominations that they haue wrought.

30 And thou sonne of man, the children of thy people that talke of thee by the waters and in the doores of their houses, and speake one to another, euery one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, let vs heare what worde is gone forth from the Lord:

31 They come vnto thee as the people vseth to come, and my people sit before thee and heare thy words, but they doe not thereafter: for in their mouthes they make a [m] iest of them, and their heart goeth after their couetousnesse.

32 And lo, thou art vnto them as a [n] iesting song of one ỹ hath a pleasant voice, & can sing wel: for they heare thy words, but do thē not.

33 When this commeth to passe (loe it commeth) then shall they know that there hath bene a Prophet among them.

The

b Signifying, that ỹ wicked shal not escape punishment, though the watchman be negligent: but if the watchman blow the trumpet, and then hee will not obey, hee shall deserue double punishment, Chap. 3.

c Which teacheth that hee that receiueth not his charge & wathworde at the Lordes mouth, is a spy and not a true watchman.

d Thus the wicked when they heare of Gods iudgements for their sinnes, despaire of his mercies and murmure.

e Namely, his righteousnes.

f Hereby hee condemneth al them of hypocrisie, which pretend to forsake wickednesse, and yet declare not the same by their fruites: that is in obeying Gods commandements and by godly life.

g When the Prophet had told all his company that Ierusalem was taken.

h I was moued with the spirite of prophecie, chap. 8.

i Whereby is signified, that the mouthes of God cannot speake till God giue them courage, and open their mouthes.

k Thus the wicked abuse them whom Gods iudgements haue stricken or cause other to murmure against the iudgements of God in whom they were vnderstood to be better then God in his iudgements, though they would not be found to him.

l As they that are ready fall to the lust.

m This declareth that we ought to heare Gods worde with such zeale and affection, that we should not onely be light therein to heare it preached, but also in all points obey it: for we abuse ỹ worde to our owne condemnation, and make of the ministers as though they were sent to serue our fantasies.

n Of a song of pleasure and pleasure.

The xxxiiij. Chapter.

Against shepheards that despise the flocke of Christ, and seeke their owne gaine.

AND the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

Ier.23.1. 2 *Thou sonne of man prophecie against the shepheardes of Israel, prophecie and speake vnto them, Thus saith the Lorde God vnto the shepheards, Woe be vnto the shepheards of Israel that feede themselues: shoulde not the shepheards feede the flockes?

a By the shepheardes he meaneth the kinges, gouernours, rulers, and prophets.

3 Ye eate vp the fatte, ye clothe you with the wooll, the best fedde doe yee slaye: but the flocke doe ye not feede.

4 The weake haue yee not strengthened, the sicke haue ye not healed, the broken haue ye not bound together, the driuen away haue yee not brought againe, the lost haue yee not sought: but with force and crueltie haue yee ruled them.

b Ye lacke of good gouernement and discipline they ye selues.

5 They are scattered without a shepherd, yea, all the beasts of the field b deuoure them, and they goe astray.

6 My sheepe go wandring vpon al mountaines, and vpon euery high hill, yea, my flocke is scattered through all the face of the earth, and there is no man that seeketh or searcheth after them.

7 Therefore, O yee shepheards, heare the word of the Lord.

8 As truely as I liue, sayeth the Lorde God, for as much as my sheepe are robbed and deuoured of all the wilde beastes of the fielde, hauing no shepheard, and seeing that my shepheardes seeke not my sheepe, but the shepheardes feede themselues, and feede not my sheepe:

9 Therefore heare the word of the Lorde, O ye shepheardes,

10 Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will vpon the shepheardes, and require my sheepe from their handes, & make them ceasse from feeding of the sheepe, yea, the shepheards shal feede themselues no more: for I wil c deliuer my sheepe out of their mouthes, so that they shall not deuoure them after this.

c By taking away the cruell tyrannes, and true shepheards.

11 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I, euen I will looke to my sheepe my selfe, and seeke them out.

12 Like as a shepheard when he hath bene among the flocke, seeketh after the sheepe that are scattered abroade: euen so will I seeke after my sheepe, and deliuer them out of all places where they haue bene scattered in the d cloudie and darke day.

d In the day of their affliction and trouble: and this manner of speaking is to signifie the ouerthrow of all things.

13 I wil bring them out from the people, and gather them together out of the landes, I will bring them into their owne land, and feede them vpon the mountaines of Israel by the riuers, and in all the inhabited places of the countrey.

14 I will feede them in right good pastures, and vpon the high mountaines of Israel shall their foldes be: there shal they lye in a good folde, and in a fat pasture shall they feede, euen vpon the mountaines of Israel.

15 I will feede my sheepe, and bring them to their rest, saith the Lord God.

16 Such as be lost, will I seeke: such as are driuen away, will I bring againe: such as bee broken, will I binde vp: such as bee weake, wil I make strong: such as be fat and strong, those wil I roote out, and feede them with e iudgement.

e That is, by putting difference betweene the good and bad, and so giue to either as they deserue.

17 And as for you, O my sheepe, saith the Lorde God, I will iudge betweene cattell and cattell, betweene the rammes and the goates.

18 Seemeth it a small thing to you to haue eaten vp the good f pasture, and to tread downe the residue of your pasture with your feete also? to drinke the deepe waters, and to trouble the rest also with your feete?

f By good pasture & deepe waters is meant the pure word of God, and the administration of iustice, which they did not distribute to the poore till they had corrupted it.

19 Thus my sheepe must bee faine to eate the thing that yee haue troden downe with your feete, and to drinke it that ye with your feete haue defiled.

20 Therefore, thus saith the Lorde God vnto them, Beholde, I, euen I will iudge betweene the fat cattell and the leane cattel, 21 Forsomuch as with side and shoulder ye haue shooued, and with your hornes haue pushed all the weake, till yee haue scattered them abroade.

22 I will saue my sheepe, so that they shal no more bee spoyled, yea, I will iudge betweene cattell and cattell.

23 *I will set vp ouer them a shepheard, and hee shall feede them, euen my seruant g Dauid, he shall feede them, and hee shall bee their shepheard.

Esa.40.11. ioh.10.11.

g Meaning Christ, of whome Dauid was a figure, as Ose.3.

24 And I the Lord wil be their God, and my seruant Dauid shalbe their prince: euen I the Lord haue spoken it.

25 Moreouer, I will make a couenant of peace with them, and cause euill beastes to ceasse out of the land: so that they may dwell h safely in the wildernesse, and sleepe in the woods.

h This declareth, that vnder Christ the flocke should bee truely deliuered from sinne and hell: and so be safely preserued in the Church, where they should neuer perish.

26 And I wil set them as a blessing round about my hill, and I wil cause raine to come downe in due season, and there shalbe raine of blessing.

27 And the tree of the field shall yeelde her fruite, and the earth shall giue her encrease: they shalbe safe in their land, and shall know that I am the Lorde, when I haue broken the bondes of their yoke, and deliuered them out of the handes of those that serued themselues of them.

28 They shall no more be spoyled of the heathen, nor deuoured with the beasts of the land: but safely shall they dwell, and no man shall fray them.

29 And I will raise vp for them a i plant of renowme, and they shalbe no more ‖ clunged with hunger in the lande, neither beare the reproch of the heathen any more.

i That is, the rod that shall come out of the roote of Iesse.

‖ or, clembd or hunger staruen.

30 Thus shall they vnderstande that I the Lorde their God am with them, and that they, euen the house of Israel, are my people, saith the Lord God:

Ioh. 10.11. 31 And ye my sheepe, the sheepe of my pasture, are men: and I am your God, sayeth the Lord God.

The xxxv. Chapter.

The destruction that shall come on the mount Seir, that is, on the Idumeans, because they troubled the people of the Lorde.

MOreouer, the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, set thy face towarde the mount [a] Seir, prophecie against it, a Where the Idumeans dwelt.

3 And say vnto it, Thus saith the Lorde God, Behold, O thou mount Seir, I wil vpon thee, I will reach out my hand ouer thee, yea, waste and desolate wil I make thee.

4 Thy cities will I laye waste, and thou shalt lye voyde, that thou mayest knowe how that I am the Lord.

5 For as much as thou bearest an olde enmitie, and hast put the children of Israel to flight by the force of the sworde, in the time of their calamitie, when their iniquitie had an ende:

6 Therefore as truely as I liue, saith the Lorde God, I will prepare thee vnto blood, yea, blood shall follow vpon thee, except thou [b] hate blood, euen blood shall persecute thee.

b Except thou repent thy former crueltie.

7 Thus will I make the mount Seir desolate and waste, and cut out from it him that passeth out, and him that returneth:

8 His mountaines will I fill with his slaine men, thy hils, valleys, & all thy riuers, the slaine with the sworde shall fall in them.

9 I will make thee a perpetuall wildernesse, so that thy cities shal not [c] returne: that ye may know that I am the Lord.

c To wit, to their former estate.

10 And because thou hast sayde, [d] Both these nations, and both these landes must be mine, and wee will haue them in possession, whereas the Lord was there:

d Speaking, Israel and Iuda.

11 Therefore as truely as I liue, saith the Lorde God, I will euen doe according to thy [e] wrath, & according to thine enuying which thou hast vsed in thy hatred against them: and I will make my selfe [f] knowen amongst them when I haue iudged thee.

e As thou hast done cruelly, so shalt thou be cruelly handled.

f Shewing, that when God punisheth the enemies, the godly ought to consider that hee hath a care ouer them, and so praise his name: and also that the wicked rage, as though there were no God, till they feele his hande to their destruction.

12 Yea, and thou shalt knowe that I the Lord haue heard all thy blasphemies, which thou hast spoken against the mountaines of Israel, saying, They are made waste, and giuen vs to deuoure.

13 Thus with your mouthes yee haue made your boastes against me, yea, and multiplyed your wordes against mee, which I haue heard.

14 Thus saith the Lorde God, To the ioy of all the world will I make thee waste.

15 And like as thou wast glad because the heritage of the house of Israel was destroyed, euen so will I doe vnto thee, thou shalt bee destroyed, O mount Seir, and all Idumea wholly, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

The xxxvj. Chapter.

1 He promiseth to deliuer Israel from the Gentiles. 12 The benefites done vnto the Iewes, are to bee ascribed to the mercie of God, not vnto their deseruings.

THou sonne of man, prophecie vnto the mountaines of Israel, and speake, *Heare the word of the Lord, O ye mountaines of Israel. Ezech. 6.2.

2 Thus sayeth the Lorde God, Because your [a] enemie hath saide vnto you, Aha, the [b] high places of the world are nowe become ours in possession:

a That is the Idumeans.

b That is, the hilly countreis of Iuda.

3 Prophecie therefore, and speake, Thus saith the Lorde God, For because that they haue made you desolate, and swallowed you vp on euery side, that ye might be a possession vnto the residue of the Gentiles, and yee are taken vp in the [c] lippes and tongues of men, and to the reproche of the people:

c Ye are made a matter of talke and derision to all the world.

4 Therefore heare the word of the Lorde God, O ye mountaines of Israel, thus saith the Lord God to the mountaines and hilles, to the riuers & valleys, to the waste and desolate places, & to the cities that are forsaken, which are spoyled and had in derision on euery side, among the residue of the heathen:

5 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde God, Surely in the fire of my ielousie haue I spoken against the residue of the Gentiles, and against all Edom, which haue [d] appointed my land for their possession, which also reioyced from their whole heart, with a despiteful stomache, to cast it out for a praye.

d They appointed with themselues to haue it, and therefore came with Nabuchodonozor against Hierusalem for this purpose.

6 Prophecie therefore vpon the lande of Israel, and speake vnto the mountaines and hilles, to the riuers and dales, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, this haue I spoken in my ielousie and terrible wrath, because yee haue borne the [e] shame of the heathen:

e Because ye haue been a laughing stock vnto them.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God, I haue [f] lift vp my hande, surely the heathen that are about you, shall beare their shame.

f By making a solemne oth, Chap. 20.

8 But you, O mountaines of Israel, yee shall [g] shoote out your branches, and bring foorth your fruite to my people of Israel: for they are at hand to come.

g God declareth his mercies and goodnes towarde his Church, who still preserueth his, euen when he destroyeth his enemies.

9 Behold, I come vnto you, and vnto you wil I turne, that ye may be tilled and sowen.

10 I wil multiply men vpon you, euen all the house of Israel wholly, the cities shall be inhabited, and the decayed places shalbe repaired againe.

11 And I will multiply vpon you man and beast, which shall increase and bring fruite: and I will cause you to dwell after your old estate, and be better [h] vnto you then at the beginning: and yee shall knowe that I am the Lord.

h Which was accomplished vnder Christ, to whom all these temporall deliuerances did direct them.

12 Yea, I will cause men to walke vpon [i] you, euen my people Israel, and they shall possesse [k] thee, and thou shalt bee their inheritance, and thou shalt no more henceforth deprriue them of men.

i That is, vpon the mountaines of Iuda.

13 Thus sayeth the Lorde God, Forasmuch as they say vnto you, Thou art an [l] eater eater vp of men, and a waster of thy people:

14 Therefore thou shalt eate no more men, neither destroye thy people any more, saith the Lord God:

15 Neither will I cause men to heare in thee the shame of the heathen any more: neither shalt thou beare the reproche of the people any more, nor cause thy folke to fall any more, saith the Lord God.

16 Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

17 O thou sonne of man, when the house of Israel dwelt vpon their owne grounde, they defiled them selues with their owne wayes and imaginations, so that in my sight their way was like the vncleannesse of a remooued woman.

18 Wherefore I powred my wrathful displeasure vpon them, because of the blood that they had shed in the land, and because of their idoles wherewith they had defiled it:

19 I scattered them also among the heathen, so that they were strawed about in the landes: according to their wayes, and after their owne inuentions, so did I iudge them.

Eza.12.3. rom.2.24. 20 *And when they entred vnto the heathen whither they went, they polluted my holy Name, when they saide of them, These are the people of God, and are gone out of his land.

21 Then spared I my holy [m] Name, which the house of Israel had dishonoured among the Gentiles where they came.

22 Therefore tell the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, I [n] doe not this for your sakes, O house of Israel, but for my holy Names sake, which ye dishonoured among the heathen where ye came.

23 Therfore I wil halow my great Name againe, * which among the Gentiles is polluted, for yee your selues haue dishonoured it among them: & the Gentiles shal know that I am the Lord, saith the Lord God, when I shall be sanctified in you before your eyes.

Iere.2.24. 24 As for you, I will take you from among the heathen, and gather you together out of all countreyes, and bring you againe into your owne land.

25 Then will I sprinkle cleane [o] water vpon you, and ye shall be cleane: yea, from all your vncleannesse and from all your idoles shall I cleanse you.

26 A newe heart also wil I giue you, and a newe spirit will I put into you: as for that stonie heart I will take it out of your flesh, and giue you a fleshie heart.

27 I will giue my spirit among you, and cause you to walke in my commandements, and yee shall keepe my iudgements, and doe them.

28 And so yee shall dwell in the lande that I gaue to your fathers: and yee shall bee my people, and I will be your God.

29 I will deliuer you from all your vncleannesse, I will call for the [p] corne, and will increase it, and lay no famine vpon you.

30 I will multiplie the fruites of the trees, and the increase of the fielde, so that ye shall receiue no more reproche of hunger among the heathen.

31 Then shall yee remember your owne wicked wayes, and your imaginations which were not good: so that ye shall be [q] irksome in your owne eyes for your sinnes and abominations.

32 But I will not do this for your sakes, saith the Lord God, be ye sure of it: therefore O yee house of Israel, bee ashamed and confounded of your owne wayes.

33 Moreouer, thus saith the Lorde God, what time as I shall cleanse you from all your iniquities, then will I make the cities to be inhabited againe, and the places that be decayed, shall be repaired.

34 The desolate lande shall bee tilled againe, which afore time lay waste in the sight of all them that went by.

35 And they shall say, This waste lande was like the garden of Eden: and these waste and desolate and ruinous cities were strong and inhabited.

36 Then the residue of the heathen that lie rounde about you, shall know that I the Lorde [r] repaire that was broken downe, and plant againe that that was made waste: euen I the Lord haue spoken it, and will doe it in deede.

37 Thus sayeth the Lorde God, I wil yet for this be sought of the house of Israel to doe it for them, I will multiplie them as a flocke of men.

38 Like as a holy flocke, and the flocke of Hierusalem are in the hie solemne feastes, so shall also the wasted cities bee filled with flockes of men: and they shall know that I am the Lorde.

q Ye shal come to true repentance, and thinke your selues vnworthie to bee of the number of Gods creatures, for your ingratitude against him.

r He declareth that it ought not to be referred to the fertilitie of the earth, that any countrey is rich and abundant, but onely to Gods mercies, as his plagues and curses declare when he maketh it barren.

The xxxvij. Chapter.

Hee prophecieth the bringing againe of the people being in captiuitie. 16 Hee sheweth the vnion of the tenne tribes with the two.

THe hand of the Lord was vpon mee, and caried mee out in the spirite of the Lorde, and set mee downe in the midst of a plaine fielde that was full of [a] bones.

2 And hee led me rounde about by them, and beholde, there were very many in the open fielde, and loe, they were very dry.

3 Then saide he vnto mee, Thou sonne of man, thinkest thou these bones may liue againe? I answered, O Lorde God, thou knowest.

4 And he saide vnto mee, Prophecie thou vpon these bones, and speake vnto them, Yee drie bones, heare the word of the Lord.

5 Thus saith the Lorde God vnto these bones, Beholde, I will cause breath to enter into you, that ye may liue.

6 I will giue you sinewes, and make flesh growe vpon you, and couer you ouer with skinne, and so giue you breath, that yee may liue, and know that I am the Lord.

a By this vision he prophecieth that the people of Israel shall be deliuered, whome he compareth to bones of dead men: for as dry bones seeme without all hope of life againe, so the Israelites thought they should neuer returne into their countrey, as appeareth by their words in the 11. verse, Our bones are dried vp, our hope is gone, &c.

7 So I prophecied as I was commaunded: and as I was prophecying, there was a noise, and loe, a great motion, so that the bones came neere together, bone to his bone.

8 Now when I had looked, beholde, they had sinewes, and flesh grew vpon them, and aboue they were couered with skinne: but there was no breath in them.

9 Then saide he vnto mee, Thou sonne of man, prophecie thou toward the winde, prophecie and speake to the winde, Thus saith the Lord God, Come, O thou ‖ ayre from the foure windes, and ‖ blowe vpon these slaine, that they may liue.

‖ Or, breath.
‖ Or, breathe.

10 So I prophecied as he had commaunded me: then came the breath into them, and they receiued life, and stoode vp vpon their feete, a marueilous great armie.

11 Moreouer, hee saide vnto mee, Thou sonne of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel: behold, they say, Our bones are dried vp, our hope is gone, and wee are cleane cut off.

12 Therefore prophecie thou, and speake vnto them, Thus saith the Lorde God, Beholde, I will open your graues, O my people, and cause you to come vp out of your sepulchres, and bring you into the lande of Israel againe.

13 So shall ye know that I am the Lord, when I open your graues, O my people, and bring you [b] out of your sepulchres.

b That is, when I bring you out of these places and rowmes where ye are captiues.

14 My spirite also will I put in you, and yee shall liue, I will set you againe in your owne lande: and yee shall knowe that I the Lorde haue saide it, and fulfilled it in deede, saith the Lord.

15 The word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

16 Thou sonne of man, take one sticke, and write vpon it, Vnto Juda and to the children of Israel his companions. Then take another sticke, and write vpon it, Vnto Joseph the ‖ stocke of Ephraim, and to all the houshold of Israel his companions.

‖ Or, tree.

17 And [c] ioyne them one to another into one sticke: & they shalbe as one in thy hand.

c Which signifieth the ioyning together of the two houses of Israel and Juda.

18 Nowe if the children of thy people speake vnto thee, saying, Wilt thou not shew vs what thou meanest by these?

19 Then giue them this answere, Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will take the [d] ‖ stocke of Joseph, which is in the lande of Ephraim, and of the tribes of Israel his fellowes, and will put them with him, euen with the stocke of Juda, and make them one ‖ stocke, and they shall be one in my hand.

d That is, the house of Israel.
‖ Or, tree.
‖ Or, tree.

20 And the sticks whereupon thou writest, shalt thou haue in thy hande, that they may see.

21 And thou shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will take the children of Israel from among the heathen vnto whome they bee gone, and will gather them together on euery side, and bring them againe into their owne land.

22 * Yea, I will make one people of them in the lande vpon the mountaines of Israel, and one King shall be King to them all: they shall no more bee two peoples, neither be deuided from henceforth into two kingdomes.

Ioh. 10.16.

23 They shall also defile themselues no more with their idoles and abominations, and all their wicked doings: I wil saue them out of al their dwelling places wherein they haue sinned, and will so cleanse them, that they shalbe my people, & I will be their God.

24 * Dauid my seruant shall bee their king, and they all shall haue one shepheard: they shall walke in my iudgements, and my commaundements shall they keepe, and fulfill them.

Esai. 40.11. iere. 23.1. dan. 9.24.

25 They shall dwell in the lande that I gaue vnto Jacob my seruant, whereas your fathers also haue dwelt, yea, euen in the same lande shall they, their children, and their childrens children dwell for euermore: and my seruant Dauid shall bee their prince for euer.

26 Moreouer, * I will make a bonde of peace with them, which shall bee vnto them an euerlasting couenant: I will settle them also and multiplie them, my sanctuarie will I set among them for euermore.

Psal. 109.4. iob. 18.14.

27 My tabernacle shall bee with them: yea, I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

28 Thus the heathen also shal know that I the Lorde doe sanctifie Israel, when my sanctuarie shalbe among them for euermore.

The xxxviij. Chapter.

He prophecieth that Gog and Magog shall come with an appointed hoste into the land of promise.

AND the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

Apoc. 20.8.

2 * Thou sonne of man, set thy face against [a] Gog, the land of Magog, which is the chiefe prince of Mesech and Tubal, and prophecie against him, a Which was a people that came of Gog the sonne of Japhet. Genesis 10. Magog also here signifieth a certaine countrey, & that by their countreyes which had the gouernment of Gentes and Iewes, but meaneth the principall enemies of the Church, apoc. 20.

3 And say, Thus saith the Lorde God, O Gog, thou chiefe prince of Mesech and Tubal, beholde, I will vpon thee:

4 And I will ‖ turne thee backe, and put hookes in thy chawes, I wil bring thee forth and all thine hoste, both horse and horsemen, all armed with all sortes of armour, a great multitude with speares and shieldes, all handling swordes.

‖ Or, destroy thee.

5 They of [b] Paras, of Chush, and Phut, with them euen all hauing shieldes and helmets, b The Persians, Ethiopians, and men of Affrica.

6 Gomer and all his hostes, the house of Togarma out of the North quarters and all his hostes, yea, and much people with thee.

7 Therefore prepare thee, set thy selfe in aray with all the people that are come vnto thee by heapes, and be thou their defence.

8 After

8 After many dayes thou shalt be visited, and in the latter yeeres thou shalt come into the land that hath bene turned and rost with the swoorde, and gathered together againe out of many people vpon the mountaines of Israel, which haue beene alwayes subiect to waste: but it is brought out of the people, and they dwell all safe.

9 Thou shalt ascende and come vp like a storme, as a cloude to couer the lande shalt thou be: thou with all thine hostes, and a great multitude of people with thee.

10 Moreouer, thus sayth the Lorde God, At the same time shall thinges come into thy minde, so that thou shalt thinke [c] euill thoughtes.

11 And say, I will vp to the lande of [d] vnwalled villages, I will goe to them that bee at rest, which dwell safely, all dwelling without walles, they haue neither barres nor gates:

12 To spoyle the pray, and to take a bootie, to turne thy hand vpon the desolate places that are nowe inhabited, and vpon that people that is gathered together frō among the heathen, which haue gotten cattell and goods, and dwell in the middes of the land.

13 Then shall Saba and Dedan, and the marchants of Tharsis with all their Lions, say vnto thee, [e] Art thou come to spoyle a pray? hast thou gathered thy people together to take a bootie, to take away siluer and gold, to carry away cattell and good, and to haue a great pray?

14 Therefore, O thou sonne of man, thou shalt prophecie & say vnto Gog, Thus saith the Lorde God, In that day when my people Israel [f] dwelleth safe, shalt thou not knowe it?

15 And thou shalt come from thy place out of the North parts, thou and much people with thee, which ride all vpon horses, euen a great multitude and a mightie armie.

16 Yea, thou shalt come vpon my people of Israel, as a cloude to couer the lande: this shall come to passe in the [g] latter dayes, and I will bring thee vp into my lande, that the heathen may knowe me, when I shall bee [h] sanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes.

17 Thus sayeth the Lorde God, Art thou not hee of whom I haue spoken in olde time by the handes of my seruants the Prophets of Israel, which prophecied in those dayes and yeeres, that I shoulde bring thee vpon them?

18 At the same time when Gog commeth vp into the lande of Israel, sayeth the Lorde God, shall mine indignation rise in my wrath:

19 For in my ielousie and fire of my wrath haue I spoken it, surely at that time there shalbe a great shaking in the land of Israel.

Mat. 24. 29. luke 21. 26. 20 *The very fishes in the sea, the foules in the ayre, the beastes of the fielde, and all that moue and creepe vpon the earth, and the men that are vpon the earth, shall tremble at my presence; the hilles also shall be turned vpside downe, the [i] stayres shall fall, and all walles shall fall downe to the ground.

21 I will call for a swoorde vpon [k] him in all my mountaines, sayeth the Lorde God: so that euery mans swoorde shall be vpon another.

22 With pestilence and blood will I plead against him: stormie raine and hailestones, fire and brimstone will I cause to raine vpon him and all his hostes, yea, and vpon all that great people that is with him.

23 Thus will I be magnified, sanctified, and knowen in the eyes of many nations: and they shall knowe that I am the Lord.

i All meanes whereby man thoulde thinke to saue himselfe, shall faile, the afflictions in those dayes shalde so great, and the enemies destruction shall be so terrible.

k Against the people of Gog and Magog.

The xxxix. Chapter.

1 He sheweth the destruction of Gog and Magog. 13 The graue of Gog and his hoste.

THerefore, O thou sonne of man, prophecie against Gog, & speake, Thus sayeth the Lorde God, Behold, O Gog, thou chiefe prince of Meiech and Tubal, I will vpon thee.

2 And I will ‖ turne thee about, and I will [a] prouoke thee forwarde, and cause thee to come vp from the North partes, and bring thee vp to the mountaines of Israel.

‖ Or, I will strike thee with sixe plagues.

3 And as for thy bowe, I will smite it out of thy left hand, and cause thine arrowes to fall out of thy right hand.

‖ Or, I will leaue but the sixth part of thee.

4 Thou, with all thine hoste, and all the people that is with thee, shall fall vpon the mountaines of Israel: then will I giue thee vnto the [b] flockes of birdes, euen to all feathered foules and beastes of the fielde, to be deuoured.

a That is, I will encourage thee with clapping and striking, as men doe horses when they will encourage them.

5 Thou shalt fall vpon the open fielde: for I haue spoken it, sayth the Lord God.

6 Into Magog, and among those that sit so careless in the Iles will I send a fire, and they shall knowe that I am the Lord.

b Hereby he signifieth that which is wont to befall in warre: that the bodies of the slaine should be vnburied.

7 I will make also the name of my holinesse to be knowen among my people of Israel, and I wil not let them pollute my holy name any more: but the very heathen also shall know that I am the Lord, the holy one of Israel.

8 Behold, it is [c] come, and it is done, saith the Lorde God: this is the day whereof I haue spoken.

c That is, this plague is fully determined in my counsell, and cannot be changed.

9 They that dwell in the cities of Israel, shall goe foorth, and [d] set fire vpon the weapons, and burne them, shieldes and speares, bowes and arrowes, ‖ handstaues, and swoordes, and they shall burne them with fire seuen yeere.

d After this destructiō shall be such peace and tranquiltie, that they shall neede no weapons of warre, but burne them all with fire.

10 So that they shall els bring no wood from the fielde, neither hewe downe any out of the wood: for with weapons shall they make their fire, they shall robbe those that robbed them, and spoyle those that spoyled them, sayth the Lord God.

‖ Or, Iauelins.

11 At the same time will I giue vnto Gog

Gog a place to be buried in Israel, euen the valley wherethrough men goe towarde the East sea: those that trauaile thereby, shall [e] stoppe their noses: there shall Gog and all his multitude be buried: and it shall be called the valley of the ‖ multitude of Gog.

12 Seuen moneths long shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that they may cleanse the land.

13 Yea, all the people of the land shall burie them, and they shall haue a name when I shall be glorified, saith the Lord God.

14 They shall choose out men to goe continually thorowe the land, to [f] burie as they passe thorowe those that remaine vpon the grounde, to cleanse it: after the ende of seuen moneths shall they make their search.

15 And the trauailers that passe thorowe the lande, where they see a mans bone, they shall set vp a token by it, till the dead buriers haue buried it also in the valley of ‖ the multitude of Gog.

16 And the name of the citie shall bee called [g] Hamonah: thus shal they make the land cleane.

17 And thou sonne of man, thus sayth the Lorde God, Speake vnto all feathered foules, yea, and to all the beastes of the field, Assemble you together, and come, gather you round about to my [h] sacrifice that I sacrifice for you, euen a great sacrifice vpon the mountaines of Israel, that ye may eate flesh, and drinke blood.

18 Ye shall eate the flesh of the valiant, and drinne the blood of the princes of the lande, of the rammes, of the weathers, of the goates, and of the bullockes, that be all fed at Basan.

19 Ye shall eate the fatte your belly full, and drinke blood till ye be drunken of my sacrifice, which I haue sacrificed for you.

20 Ye shall fill you at my table with horses and ‖ horsemen, with the valiant, and men of warre, sayth the Lord God.

21 I wil set my glory also among the Gentiles, that all the Heathen may see my iudgement that I haue executed, and my hande which I haue layd vpon them.

22 And the house of Israel shall knowe that I am the Lorde their God, from that day, and so forward.

23 And the Heathen shall knowe, that whereas the house of Israel was led into captiuitie, it was for their [i] wickednes sake, because they offended me: for the which cause I hid my face from them, and deliuered them into the handes of their enemies, that they might all be slaine with the sword.

24 According to their vncleanneſſe, and according to their transgressions haue I done vnto them, and hid my face from them.

25 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God, Nowe will I bring againe the captiues of Iacob, and haue mercie vpon the whole house of Israel, and be ielous for my holy names sake,

26 After that they haue born their shame, and all their transgression, whereby they haue transgressed agaynst mee, when they dwelt safely in their land, and no mā to feare them:

27 And when I haue brought them againe from among the people, when I haue gathered them together out of their enemies lands, and am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations:

28 Then shall they knowe that I am the Lord their God, which caused them to bee led into captiuitie among the heathen, but haue gathered them againe into their owne land, and not left one of them any more there.

29 After that wil I hide my face no more from them, but will powre out my spirit vpon the house of Israel, saith the Lord God.

The xl. Chapter.

The restoring of the citie, and of the temple that was to come, is shewed vnto the Prophet.

IN the fiue and twentieth yere of our captiuitie, in the [a] beginning of the yeere, the tenth day of the moneth, that is, the fourteenth yere after the citie was smitten, the selfe same day came the hand of the Lord vpon me, and brought me thither:

2 Euen into the land of Israel brought he me in the visions of God, and set mee downe vpon a maruelous hie mountaine, whereupon there was as it had bene the building of a citie toward the South.

3 There he caried mee, and behold, there was a [b] man, whose similitude was like brasse, which had a twisted line of flaxe in his hand, and a cane to measure with: and he stood in the doore.

4 And that man sayde vnto mee, Thou sonne of man, marke well with thine [c] eyes, hearken to with thine eares, and fasten it in thy heart whatsoeuer I shall shewe thee: for to the intent that they may be shewed thee, therefore art thou brought hither, and whatsoeuer thou seest, thou shalt certifie the house of Israel thereof.

5 Beholde, there was a wall on the [d] outside of the house rounde about: the cane to measure with, that hee had in his hande, was sixe cubites long by the [e] cubite, and a hand breadth: So he measured the breadth of the building with one cane, & the height with one cane.

6 Then came hee to the gate which looketh towarde the East, & went vp the staires thereof, and measured the poste of the gate one cane broade, and the other poste of the gate one cane broade.

7 And euery chamber was one cane long, and one cane broad, and betweene the chambers were fiue cubites: and the poste of the gate by the porche of the gate within, was one cane.

8 He measured also the porche of the gate within, with one cane.

9 Then

e For the stinke of the carkeises that shall lie flaine there vnburied.

‖ Or, Hamon-Gog.

f Partly that the holy land should not be polluted, and partly for the compassion which the children of God haue euen vpon their enemies.

‖ Or, Hamon-Gog.

g So called, for the multitude of the people of Gog that should be slaine there.

h As solemne sacrifices were common feasts to great multitudes of people assembled, so was this slaughter as a great sacrifice & feast for all birdes and beastes to feede vpon.

‖ Or, chariots.

i The heathen shall knowe that they ouercame not my people by their owne strength, neither yet by the weakenesse of mine arme, but that this was for my peoples sinnes.

a The Iewes counted the beginning of the yeere after two sortes: for Nisan they began at Easter in March: and for their other affaires, in September. It is that this is to be vnderstand of September.

b Which was an angel in figure of a man, that came to measure out this building.

c By this and the like phrases, he exhorted him to behold, and marke diligently as a thing worthy meeting.

d Which compasseth it about: for all of them, in the top where of the temple is now builded.

e The cubite which he here sets of, was larger then the common cubite by a hand breadth, that is, foure inches, and it was called the holy cubite: the common cubite contained but fiue handbreadthes, and this the, reade chap. 43.

9 Then measured he the porch of the gate eight cubites: & the ‖ pentises thereof two cubites, and the porch of the gate was inward.
‖ Or, fronts.

10 And the chambers of the gate Eastward, were three on this side, and three on that side: they three were of one measure, and the pentises had one measure on this side, and one measure on that side.

11 After this hee measured the breadth of the entrie of the gate tenne cubites, and the height of the gate thirteene cubites.

12 The space also before the chambers, was one cubite on this side, & the space one cubite on that side: and the chambers, sixe cubits on this side, and sixe cubites on that side.

13 Hee measured the gate from the roofe of a chamber to his owne roofe, the breadth of fiue and twentie cubites, doore against doore.

14 He made ‖ frontes also of threescore cubites, euen vnto the front of the court round about the gate.
‖ Pyrenis.

15 And from the forefront of the entrie of the gate, vnto the forefront of the gate within, were fiftie cubites.

16 And there were narrow windowes in the chambers, and in the frontes within the gate round about, & so in the arches: and the windowes went rounde about within, and vpon the frontes were Palme trees.

17 Then brought he me into the outward court, whereas were chambers, and a pauement made for the court rounde about: thirtie chambers were vpon the pauement.

18 And the pauement was by the side of the gates ouer against the length of the gates: and the pauement was beneath.

19 Then hee measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate without, vnto the forefront of the court within, a hundred cubites Eastward and Northward.

20 And the gate in the outwarde court that looked towarde the North, measured he after the length and breadth thereof.

21 And the chambers thereof were three on this side, and three on that side: and the frontes thereof, and the arches thereof were after the measure of ẏ † first gate: the length thereof was fiftie cubites, and the breadth fiue and twentie cubites.
† That is, the old gate, as appeareth by the first.

22 And their windowes, & their arches, with their Palme trees were after the measure of the gate that looketh towarde ẏ East: and the going vp vnto it had seuen steps, and the arches thereof were before them.

23 And the gate of the inner court stoode ouer against the gate toward the North and toward the East, and he measured from gate to gate a hundred cubites.

24 After that, he brought me towarde the South, where there stoode a gate towarde the South, & he measured the frontes thereof and the arches thereof according to those measures.

25 And there were windowes in it, and in the arches thereof rounde about like these windowes: the length was fiftie cubites, and the breadth fiue and twentie cubites.

26 And there were seuen steps at the going vp to it, & the arches thereof before them: and it had palme trees, one on this side, and another on that side, vpon the front thereof.

27 And there was a gate in the inner court towarde the South, and he measured from gate to gate towarde the South a hundred cubites.

28 So he brought me into the inner court thorowe the South gate, & he measured the South gate according to those measures.

29 And the chambers thereof, the fronts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures, & windowes in it: and in the arches thereof rounde about, fiftie cubites long, and fiue and twentie cubites broade.

30 And the arches rounde about were fiue and twentie cubites long, and fiue cubites broade.

31 And the arches thereof were towarde the vtter court, and palme trees vpon the frontes thereof, and the going vp to it had eight steppes.

32 Hee brought me also into the inmost court towarde the East, and measured the gate according to those measures.

33 And the chambers thereof, and fronts thereof, & the arches thereof were according to those measures, & there were windowes therein, and in the arches thereof rounde about, it was fiftie cubites long, and fiue and twentie cubites broade.

34 And the arches thereof were towarde the vtter court, and palme trees vpon the fronts thereof on this side, and on that side, and the going vp to it had eyght steppes.

35 And he brought me to the North gate, & measured it according to those measures.

36 The chambers thereof, the frontes thereof, and the arches thereof, & there were windowes therein rounde about: and the length was fiftie cubites, and the breadth fiue and twentie cubites.

37 And the frontes thereof were towarde the vtter court, & palme trees were vpon the frontes thereof on this side and on that side, and the going vp to it had eight steppes.

38 And a chamber and the entrie thereof was vnder the fronts of the gates, there they washed the § burnt offrings.
§ That is, the inwardes or entrailes of the sacrifice that was offered for a burnt offering.

39 And in the porch of the gate stood two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, vpon the which they slue the burnt offering, and the sinne offering, and the trespasse offering.

40 And at the side without the steppes, at the entrie of the North gate stoode two tables, and on the other side which was at the porch of the gate were two tables.

41 Foure tables were on this side, and foure on that side, by the side of the gate, euen eight tables, whereupon they slewe their sacrifices.

42 And the foure tables were of hewen stone stone for the burnt offering, of a cubite and a halfe long, and a cubite and a halfe broade, and one cubite high, whereupon were laide the instruments wherewith they slewe the burnt offering, and the sacrifice.

‡ trenets. 43 And within there were ‡ hookes one hand breadth long fastened rounde about, and vpon the tables was the offering flesh.

44 And without the inner gate were the chambers of ỹ singers in the inward court, which was at the side of the North gate, and their prospect was towarde the South: and one was at the side of the East gate, hauing the prospect toward the North.

45 And he saide vnto me, This chamber whose prospect is towarde the South, is for the Priestes that haue charge to keepe the house.

46 And the chamber whose prospect is towarde the North, is for the Priestes that haue charge to keepe the altar: these are the sonnes of Sadoc, which of the sonnes of Leui come neere to the Lorde, to minister vnto him.

47 So he measured the court, which had in length a hundred cubites, and a hundred in breadth, euen foure square: and the altar stood before the house.

48 And he brought me to the porche of the h house, and measured the porch fiue cubites on this side, and fiue cubites on that side, and the breadth of the gate was three cubites on this side, and three cubites on that side.

h That is, of the temple.

i From North to South. 49 The i length of the porch was twentie cubites, the breadth eleuen cubites, and by steppes went men vp to it: by the fronts also were pillars, one on this side, and another on that side.

The xlj. Chapter.

The disposition and deuise of building againe of the temple, and of the other things thereto belonging.

AFter this he brought me to the temple, & measured the fronts, fiue cubites broade on the one side, and fiue cubites broade on the other side, which was the breadth of the tabernacle.

2 The breadth of the doore was tenne cubites, and the sides of the doore were fiue cubites on the one side, and fiue cubites on the other side, & he measured the length a thereof fourtie cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites.

a Of the temple, from this doore to the most holy place.

3 Then went he in & measured the front of the doore two cubites: but the doore it selfe was sixe cubites, & the breadth on the other side of the doore was seuen cubites.

4 He measured the length thereof twentie cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites before the temple: and he said vnto me, This is the most holy place.

5 He measured also the wall of the house sixe cubites, and the breadth of a chamber foure cubites round about the house on euery side.

6 And the chambers were chamber vpon chamber, ‖ three and thirtie in order: & they entred the wall which was of the house for the chambers round about, that they might be fastened, and not be fastened in the wall of the house.

‖ Or, three and thirtie foote high.

7 There was an enlarging, and a winding about, mounting still vpwarde to the chambers: for the staire of the house was mounting still vpwarde rounde about the house, therefore the house was larger vpward: so they went vp from the lowest chamber to the highest by the middest.

8 And I saw the house high round about: the foundations of the chambers were a full cane of sixe cubites b vp to the arme holes.

b That is, great, and of the largest size.

9 The thicknesse of the wall which was for the chamber without was fiue cubites, and that which remained was the place of the chambers that were within.

10 And betweene the chambers was the widenesse of twentie cubites rounde about the house on euery side.

11 And the doores of the chambers were towarde the ‖ place that remained, one doore toward the North, and another toward the South: and the breadth of the place that remained, was fiue cubites round about.

‖ Or, voyde space.

12 Now the building that was before the separate place at the ende towarde the west was seuentie cubites broade: and the wall of the building was fiue cubites thicke rounde about, and the length ninetie cubites.

13 So he measured the house, which was a hundred cubites long, & the separate place and the building with the walles, were a hundred cubites long also.

14 The breadth also of the forefront of the house, and of the separate place towarde the East, was a hundred cubites.

15 And hee measured the length of the building ouer against ỹ separate place which was behind it, and the chambers on the one side and on the other side, a hundred cubites, with the temple within, and the porches of the court.

16 The doore postes, and the narow windowes, and the chambers rounde about, on three sides ouer against the doore, sieled with wood round about, and from the ground vp to the windowes: and the windowes themselues were sieled.

17 And from aboue the doore vnto the house within and without, and vpon euery wal round about within and without, tooke he measure.

18 And it was made with c Cherubims and Palme trees, so that a Palme tree was betweene a Cherub and a Cherub, and euery Cherub had two faces.

c That is, Cherubims & Palme trees were grauen and carued in the walles.

19 So that the face of a man was toward the Palme tree on the one side, and the face of a Lion towarde the Palme tree on the other side: thus was it made through all the house round about.

20 From the ground vnto aboue the doore were were Cherubims & palme trees made: and thus was the wall of the temple.

21 The postes of the temple were foure squared and the fashion of the sanctuarie was [d] appearance like appearance.

22 The altar of wood was three cubites high, and two cubites long: the corners, the length, and the walles therof were of wood. And he sayd vnto me, This is the table that shalbe before the Lord.

23 The Temple and the holiest of all had either of them two doores.

24 And ẏ doores had two [e] doores apiece, euen two folding doores, two for the one doore, and the two doores for the other.

25 And vpon the doores of the temple there were made Cherubims, and Palme trees, like as was made vpon the walles: & thick beames vpon the forefront of the porch without.

26 And there were narow windowes and palme trees on the one side, and on the other side, by the sides of the porche, and vpon the sides of the house, and thicke beames.

d That is, the inner partition of the Sanctuary, was like the outer Quyers of the temple.

e That is, two leaues, one on the one side, & the other side, of either of the doores.

The xlij. Chapter.

Of the chambers of the Temple for the Priests, and the holy things.

THen ledde he mee into the vtter court by the way toward the North, & he brought mee into the chamber that was ouer against ẏ separate place, which was before the building toward the North.

2 Before the length of an hundred cubits was the North doore: and the breadth was fiftie cubites.

3 Ouer against the twenty cubits which were for the inner court, and ouer against the pauement, which was for the vtter court, was chamber against chamber, three orders.

4 And before the chambers there was a walking place of ten cubites wide inward, the way of one cubite: and their doores toward the North.

5 Thus the vpper chambers were alway narrower: for those chambers seemed to eate vp these, to wit, the lower and the middlemer of the building.

6 For they were in three orders, but had no pillars as the pillars of the courts: therefore were they smaller then the neathermost and the middlemost to recken from the ground.

7 And the wall that was without ouer against the chambers, toward the vtter court on the forefront of the chambers, the length thereof was fiftie cubites.

8 For the length of ẏ chambers that were in the vtter court, was fiftie cubites, and lo, before the temple was a hundred cubites.

9 And vnder these chambers was the entrie from the East, as one goeth vnto them from the vtter court.

10 In the thickines of the wal of the court toward the East, before the separate place, and before the building of the chambers.

11 And the way before them after the appearance of the chabers which were toward the North: as their length, so was their breadth: & all their entries were according to their fashion, and according to their doores.

12 And according to the doores of the chambers that were toward the South, was a doore in the head of the way, euen the way directly before the wall toward the East as one entreth.

13 Then said he vnto me, The chambers toward the North, & the chambers toward the South, which are before the separate place, those be holy chambers, wherein the Priests that [a] approch vnto the Lorde must eate the most holy things, & there must they lay the most holy things, and the meate offering, and sinne offering, & trespasse offering: for it is a holy place.

a That is, which exercise the priests office, as more fully is declared in the next chapter following, ver. 19.

14 When the Priestes come therein, they shall not goe out of the holy place into the vter court, but there they shall lay vp their garmentes wherein they minister, for they are holy: and shall put on [b] other garments, and so shal approch to those which are for the people.

b That is, their common apparel which they vsed among the people: & as some say, was such as the common people vsed.

15 Now when he had finished the measuring of the house within, he led mee forth toward the gate, whose prospect is toward the East, and he measured it round about.

16 Hee measured the East side with the measuring cane, fiue hundred canes, euen with the measuring cane round about.

17 And hee measured the North side fiue hundred canes, euen with the measuring cane round about.

18 The South side also measured he fiue hundred canes, by the measuring cane.

19 He turned about also to the west side, and measured fiue hundred canes, by the measuring cane.

20 So he measured it by the foure sides: it had a wall round about, fiue hundred canes long, and fiue hundred broade, to make a separation betweene the [c] sanctuarie, and the prophane place.

c That is, betweene the temple & the citie, which in respect of the sanctuary and the temple was counted prophane.

The xliij. Chapter.

He seeth the glorie of God going into the Temple, from whence it had before departed.

SO hee brought mee to the gate, euen the gate that turneth toward the East:

2 And behold, then came the glory of the God of Israel from out of the East, whose voice was like a great noise of waters, and the earth was lightened with his glory.

3 * And according to the appearaunce of the vision which I sawe, euen according to the vision which I saw [a] when I came to destroy the citie: and the visions were like the visions which I sawe by the riuer Chebar, and I fell vpon my face.

5 So a ‖ winde tooke me vp, and brought me into the innermer court: and behold, the house was full of the glory of the Lord.

‖ Or, the spirit.

6 And I heard one speaking vnto me out of the house, and there stoode a man by me.

7 And he sayde vnto me, O thou sonne of man, this roome is my seate, and the place of my footesteppes, whereas I will dwell among the children of Israel for euermore, so that the house of Israel shall no more defile my holy name, neyther they nor their kings through their whoredome, and through the dead bodies of their [c] kings in their high places.

[c] He alludeth to Manasses, who were buryed in their gardens neere the temple, and there had erected vp monuments to their idoles.

8 Albeit they haue set their threshelds by my threshelds, and their postes by my postes, and a wall betweene me and them, yet haue they defiled my holy name with their abominations that they haue committed: wherefore I haue consumed them in my wrath.

9 But nowe let them put away their whoredome, and the dead bodies of their kings out of my sight, & I will dwell among them for euermore.

10 Therfore, O thou sonne of man, shew thou the house of Israel this house, that they may bee ashamed of their wickednesse, and measure themselues an example thereat.

11 And if they bee ashamed of all their works: then shew them the forme of the house and paterne thereof, the going out, the comming in, all the maner thereof, yea, al the ordinances thereof, the figures, & all the lawes thereof, and write it in their sight, that they may keepe the whole fashion thereof, and all the ordinances therof, and do them.

[d] Description.

12 This is the [d] lawe of the house vpon the top of the mount shall all the limits therof be, rounde about the most holy place: loe, this is the law of the house.

13 And these are the measures of the altar in cubites: the cubite is a cubite and a handbreadth, the bottome shalbe a cubite, and the breadth a cubite, and the borders thereof by the edge thereof round about was one spanne, and this shalbe the height of the altar.

14 And from ỹ bottome vpon the ground, vnto the lower piece, shalbe two cubites, the breadth one cubite: and from the litle piece to the great piece, shalbe foure cubites, and the breadth one cubite.

15 The altar was foure cubites high, & from the altar vpward stood foure hornes.

16 And the altar was twelue cubits long, and twelue cubites broade, square in the foure corners thereof.

17 The frame of the altar shalbe fourteene cubites long, & fourteene broade in the foure square corners thereof, and the border about it shalbe half a cubite and the bottome thereof shalbe a cubite about, and the steps thereof shalbe turned toward the East.

18 And he saide vnto me, Thou sonne of man, thus saith the Lord God, These are the ordinances of the altar, in the day when it is made, to offer burnt offrings thereupon, and to sprinkle blood thereupon.

19 And thou shalt giue to the priests, to the Leuites that bee of the seede of Sadoc, & approch vnto me, saith ỹ Lord God, to minister vnto me, a yong bullocke for a sinne offring.

20 And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the foure hornes of it, and on the foure corners of the frame, and vpon the border round about: thus shalt thou cleanse it, and purge it.

21 Thou shalt take the bullocke also of the sinne offring, and burne him in the appointed place without the sanctuarie.

22 The seconde day, take a goate bucke without blemish for a sinne offering, to cleanse the altar withall, like as it was cleansed with the bullocke.

23 Now when thou hast made an ende of cleansing it, then offer a yong bullocke without blemish, and a ramme out of the flocke without blemish also.

24 Offer them before the Lord, and let the priests cast salt thereupon, and giue them so vnto the Lord for a burnt offring.

25 Seuen dayes shalt thou prepare euery day a goate bucke for sinne, a yong bullocke and a ramme of the flocke, both without blemish shal they prepare.

26 Seuen dayes shall they reconcile, and cleanse the altar, and [e] fill the place thereof.

[e] Or, make cleare it.

27 When these daies are expired, then vpon the eight day, and so forth, the Priests shal make your burnt offrings, & peace offerings vpon the altar: so I will accept you, saith the Lord God.

The xliiij. Chapter.

1 He sheweth what doore of the temple is shut. 6 He is commanded to vpbraid the people with their offence.

AFter this he brought me again to the outward gate of the sanctuary on the East side, & that was shut.

2 Then said the Lorde vnto me, This gate shalbe stil [a] shut, & not opened, neither shall any man goe thorowe it: for the Lorde God of Israel hath entred by it, and it shalbe shut.

[a] Meaning, from the common people, but not from the priests, nor the prince, Chap. 46.

3 It is for the prince, the prince himselfe shal sit in it to eate bread before the Lorde: he shall enter by the way of the porche of that gate, & shal go out by the way of the same.

4 Then brought he me toward the North gate before the house: and as I looked, behold, the glory of the Lord filled the house of the Lord, and I fell vpon my face.

5 So the Lorde spake vnto mee, O thou sonne of man, set thine heart, & behold with thine eies, & heare with thine eares, all that I say vnto thee concerning al ỹ ordinãces of the house of the Lord, & al the lawes thereof, and marke well the entring in of the house, with euery going forth of the sanctuarie.

6 And

6 And thou shalt say to the rebellious, euen to the house of Israel, Thus sayeth the Lord God, O house of Israel, ye haue inough of all your abominations,

7 Seeing yee haue brought into my sanctuarie [b] strangers, hauing vncircumcised hearts, and vncircumcised flesh, to bee in my sanctuarie to pollute my house, when ye offer my bread, fat, and blood, and they haue broken my couenant because of all your abominations.

8 And yee haue not kept the [c] ordinances of my holy things, and ye haue set keepers to keepe my sanctuarie [d] for you.

9 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Of all the strangers that dwell among the children of Israel, no stranger vncircumcised in heart, nor vncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my sanctuarie.

10 But the Leuites that went backe from me when Israel went astray, which strayed from mee after their idols, [e] shall beare their iniquitie:

11 And they shalbe ministers in my sanctuarie, and keepe the gates of the house, and minister in the house: they shall slay the burnt offerings, and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before them, to serue them.

12 Because they serued before their idols, and caused the house of Israel to fall into iniquitie: therefore haue I lift vp mine hande against them, sayeth the Lord God, and they shall beare their iniquitie.

13 And they shall not come neere vnto me to do the office of a priest vnto me, neither shall they come neere vnto any of mine holy things in the most holy place: but they shall beare their owne shame and abominations which they haue done.

14 And I will make them keepers of the watch of the house, for all the seruice thereof, and for all that shalbe done therein.

15 But the Priestes, the Leuites, the sonnes of Sadoc, that [f] kept the charge of my sanctuarie when the children of Israel strayed from me, shal come to me, to do me seruice, to stand before mee, and to offer me the fatte and the blood, saith the Lord God.

16 They shall go into my sanctuarie, and approch vnto my table to doe me seruice, and they shall keepe my charge.

17 Now when they goe in at the gates of the innermer court, they shall put on linnen clothes, so that no wollen come vpon them while they doe seruice vnder the gates of the innermer court, and within.

18 They shall haue linnen bonnets vpon their heads, and linnen [‡] breeches vpon their loynes: they shall not girde themselues in the [‡] sweate.

19 And when they go forth into the vtter court, euen to the vtter court of the people, they shall put off the clothes wherein they haue ministred, and lay them in the chamber of the sanctuarie, and put on other apparell, and they shall not sanctifie the people with their clothes.

20 They shall not [g] shaue their heads, nor suffer their haire to growe long, but powre their heads onely.

21 All the priests that goe into the innoft court, shall drinke no wine.

22 [*] They shall marrie no widowe, neither one that is put from her husband, but a maide of the seede of the house of Israel, or a widowe that hath had a priest before.

23 They shall shewe my people the difference betweene the holy and vnholy, & cause them to discerne betwixt the cleane and vncleane.

24 And in controuersie they shall stand to iudge, and giue sentence after my iudgements: and my lawes and my statutes shall they keepe in all my solemne feasts, and hallow my Sabboths.

25 They shall come at no dead person to defile themselues, but to father or mother, sonne or daughter, brother or sister, that hath yet no husbande, in those may they bee [h] defiled.

26 And when he is cleansed, there shall be reckoned vnto him seuen dayes.

27 And when hee goeth into the sanctuarie vnto the inner court to minister in the sanctuarie, he shall bring his sinne offering, saith the Lord.

28 [*] [i] There shall bee to them an inheritance, euen I their inheritance: but possession shall ye giue them none in Israel, for I am their possession.

29 The meate offring, sinne offring, and trespasse offring shall they eate: and euery dedicate thing in Israel shalbe theirs.

30 [*] And all the first of the first borne, and euery oblation, euen all of euery sort of your oblations shall be the Priestes: ye shall also giue vnto the Priests the first of your dough, that he may cause the blessing to rest in thine house.

31 [*] But the Priestes shall eate nothing that is dead by it selfe, or torne of fowle, or of beast.

Of iust weights and measures.

WHen yee deuide the land by the lot for an inheritance, ye shall offer an oblation to the Lorde, a holie [a] portion of the lande, twentie and fiue thousande canes long, and ten thousand broade: this shall be holy in all the borders thereof round about.

2 Of this part there shall belong vnto the sanctuarie fiue hundred cubites in length with fiue hundred in breadth square rounde about: and fiftie cubites round about for the suburbes.

3 And of this measure shalt thou measure, namely of the length of twentie and fiue thousand, and the breadth of ten thousand,

5 And in the twentie and fiue thousande length, and ten thousand breadth, shall the Leuits that minister in the house haue their possession for twentie chambers.

6 Yee shall giue also vnto the citie a possession of fiue thousande canes broade, and twenty and fiue thousand long, ouer against the oblation of the holy portion that shall bee for the whole house of Israel.

14 Concerning the ordinances of the oyle, euen of the Bath of oyle, ye shall offer the tenth part of a Bath out of the Cor, tenne Baths shalbe a Homer, because ten Baths fill a Homer.

15 And one lamb from two hundred sheep out of the fat pastures of Israel for a meate offering, whole burnt offering, and peace offering, to reconcile them, saith the Lord God.

17 Againe, it shall be the princes part to offer whole burnt offrings, meate offrings, and wine offerings in the holy dayes, newe Moones, Sabboths, and in al the high feasts of the house of Israel: hee shall prepare the sinne offering, meate offering, whole burnt offering, and peace offering, to reconcile the house of Israel.

18 Thus saith the Lord God, The first day of the first c moneth, thou shalt take a yong bullocke without blemish, and cleanse the sanctuarie.

2 And the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate without, and shall stand by the post of the gate: and the Priest shall make his whole burnt offring, and his peace offrings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate, and goe forth: and the gate shall not be shut vntill the euening.

3 On the same maner shall the people of the lande also doe their worship before the Lord, at the dore of this gate vpon the Sabboths, and new Moones.

4 The whole burnt offering that the prince shall bring vnto the Lorde vpon the Sabboth, shall bee sixe lambes without blemish, and a ramme without blemish.

5 And the meate offering shall be an Ephah

Ephah for a ramme, and the meate offering for the lambes a gift of his hand, and a Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

6 In the day of the new moneth, it shalbe a yong bullocke without blemish, and sixe lambes, and a ramme also without blemish.

7 With the bullocke hee shall giue an Ephah: and with the ramme an Ephah also for a meate offering: but to the lambes [b] according as his hand shall take, and an Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

8 And when the prince shall enter, hee shall goe in by the way of the porch of that gate: he shall goe forth by the way thereof.

9 But when the people of the lande come before the Lord in the high solemne feast, as many as come in by the North gate to doe worship, shall goe out againe at the South gate: and they that come in at the South gate, shall goe forth againe at the North gate: there shal none returne by the gate where he came in, but shall goe right forth ouer on the other side.

10 And the prince, he shall go in the midst of them when they goe in, and so come forth when they come forth.

11 Vpon the solemne and high feast dayes this shall bee the meate offering: an Ephah to a bullocke, and an Ephah to a ramme, and to the lambs the gift of his hand, and an Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

12 Nowe when the prince shall make a free whole burnt offering, or peace offerings freely vnto the Lord: one then shall open him the gate that turneth toward the East, and he shall make his whole burnt offerings, and his peace offrings, as he did on the Sabboth day: after, he shall goe forth, and when he is gone forth, one shall shut the gate.

13 Thou shalt daily make a whole burnt offring vnto the Lord of a Lambe of one yere without blemish, thou shalt doe it euery morning.

14 Thou shalt prepare a meate offering for it euery morning, the sixt part of an Ephah, and the third part of an Hin of oyle to mingle with the fine floure: this meate offering shall be continually by a perpetuall ordinance vnto the Lord.

15 Thus shall they prepare the Lambe, the meate offering, and oyle, euery morning, for a continuall whole burnt offering.

16 Moreouer, thus saith the Lord God, If the prince giue a gift vnto any of his sonnes, the inheritance thereof shall bee his sonnes: their possession shall be by inheritance.

17 But if he giue a gift of his inheritance vnto one of his seruants, then it shall bee his to the [c] yeere of libertie, and then returne to the prince: but the inheritance thereof is his sonnes, and shalbe theirs.

18 The Prince also [d] shall take none of the peoples inheritance, nor put them from their possession: but to his sonnes shall hee giue his owne possession, that my people be not scattered abroade euery man from his possession.

19 And hee brought me thorowe the entrance at the side of the gate to the holy chambers of the priestes, which stoode toward the North, and beholde, there was a place vpon the West side of them.

20 Then sayde hee vnto mee, This is the place where the Priestes shall seeth the trespasse and sinne offerings, and bake the meate offerings: that they needе not beare them into the outward court, and to [e] sanctifie the people.

21 So hee brought mee into the vtter court, and caused mee to goe by the foure corners of the court: and beholde, in euery corner of the court there was a court.

22 In the foure corners of the court there were courts ioyned of fourtie cubites long, and thirtie broade: these foure corners were of one measure.

13 The coastes of the land of promise, and the deuision thereof by tribes.

AFterward he brought me again vnto the doore of the house, and beholde, there gushed out [a] waters from vnder the threshold of the house Eastwarde: for the forefront of the house stood toward the East, and the waters ranne downe from vnder the right side of the house, which lieth to the altar Southward.

[a] Whereby are meant the spirituall graces that should be giuen to the Church vnder the kingdome of Christ, as Ioh. 4.

2 Then led he me to the North gate, and ledde me about by the way without vnto the vtter gate by ye way that turneth Eastwarde: and behold, there issued forth waters from the right side.

3 Now when the man that had the line in his hand went forth Eastward, he measured a thousand cubites, and then he brought me thorowe the waters, the waters were to the anckles.

4 So hee measured yet a thousande, and brought me thorow the waters, the waters were to the knees: yet measured hee a thousand, and brought mee thorowe, the waters were to the loynes.

5 After this hee measured a thousand againe, then was it such a [b] riuer that I might not wade thorow it, the waters were risen, and the waters did flow as a riuer that might not be waded ouer.

[b] Signifying that the graces of God should neuer decreale, but euer abound in his Church.

6 And he sayde vnto me, Hast thou seene this, O thou sonne of man? and with that he brought me, and caused mee to returne to the riuer banke againe.

c spreading, the multitude of them that should be refreshed with the spirituall waters.

d Shewing, that the abundance of these graces should be so great, that all the world should be full thereof, which is here meant by the Persian sea, by Genezareth, and the sea called Mediterraneum, Zacha.14.

e The waters which of nature are salt and unwholsome, shalbe made sweete and comfortable.

7 Now when I returned, beholde, at the banke of the riuer were very many trees c on the one side and on the other.

8 Then sayde he vnto mee, These waters flow out toward the East countrey, and run downe into the plaine, and come into the d sea: which when it commeth into the sea, the e waters shalbe wholsome.

9 Yea, all that liue and mooue, whereunto this riuer commeth, shall liue: and there shalbe a very great multitude of fish, because these waters shall come thither, for they shall be wholsome: and euery thing shall liue whither the riuer commeth.

10 By this riuer shall the Fishers stand, from Engaddi vnto En-eglaim, and there spread out their nets: for their fish shall be according to their kindes as fish of the maine sea, exceeding many.

11 But the marishes thereof, and the pits thereof, shall not be made wholesome, they shalbe made salt pits.

12 By this riuer, vpon the banks thereof on this side and on that side, shall growe all trees for meate, whose leaues shall not fade, neither shall the fruit thereof faile, but shall bring forth newe fruite according to his moneths, for the waters thereof runne out of the sanctuarie: and the fruite thereof shall be for meate, and the leaues thereof for ‖ medicine.

15 This is the border of the f land vpon the North side, from the maine sea toward Hethlon, as men goe to Zedada.

16 Namely, Hamah, Berotha, Sabarim, which are betweene the borders of Damascus, and betweene the borders of Hamah, Hazar, Hatichon, that lyeth vpon the coasts of Hauran.

17 Thus the borders from the sea forth shall be Hazar Enan, the border of Damascus, and the North Northward, and the borders of Hamah: this is the North part.

18 The East side shall yee measure from Hauran and Damascus, from Gilead and the land of Israel by Iordane, and from the border vnto the East sea: and this is the East part.

19 The South side shall bee toward Teman, from Thamar to the waters of ‖ strife in Cades, and the riuer to the maine sea: and this is the South part toward Teman.

‖ Or, Meribath.

20 The West part also shall bee the great sea, from the borders till a man come ouer against Hamah: this is the West part.

21 This land shall ye part among you according to the tribes of Israel, 22 And diuide it by lot to bee an heritage for you, and for the strangers that dwell among you, and beget children among you: for yee shall take them among the children of Israel, like as though they were of your own countrey, and they shall haue g heritage with you among the children of Israel.

g Shewing, that in this spirituall kingdome there shoulde be no difference betweene Iewe nor Gentile, but that all should be partakers of the inheritance in their head Christ.

1 The lottes of the seuen tribes. 23 The lottes of the other tribes.

THese are the names of the tribes: from the North side to the coast toward Hethlon, till thou comest vnto Hamah, and Hazar Enan, the borders of Damascus Northward, the coast of Hamah, Dan shall haue his portion from the East quarter vnto the West.

2 Vpon the borders of Dan, from the East side vnto the West, shal Aser haue his portion.

3 Vpon the borders of Aser, from the East part vnto the West, shall Nepthali haue his portion.

4 Vpon the borders of Nepthali, from the East quarter vnto the West, shall Manasses haue his portion.

5 Vpon the borders of Manasses, from the East side vnto the West shall Ephraim haue his portion.

6 Vpon the borders of Ephraim, from the East part vnto the West, shall Ruben haue his portion.

7 Vpon the borders of Ruben, from the East quarter vnto the West, shall Iuda haue his portion.

8 Vpon the borders of Iuda, from the East part vnto the West part, shall bee the a offering which they shall offer, of fiue and twentie thousand canes broade, and of length as one of the partes from the East side vnto the West side: and the sanctuarie shall bee in the middest of it.

a That is, the portion of the ground which they shall separate and appoynt to the Lord, which shalbe deuided into three partes, for the priests, for the prince, and for the rest.

9 The oblation that ye shall offer vnto the Lord, shalbe fiue and twentie thousand long, and ten thousand broad.

10 And for these euen for the priests, shalbe this holy oblation: towarde the North fiue and twentie thousand long, and towarde the West ten thousand broade, toward the East ten thousande broade also, and towarde the South fiue and twentie thousand long, and the sanctuarie of the Lord shalbe in the midst thereof.

11 This sanctified portion shall bee the Priestes that are of the children of Sadoc, which haue kept my charge, which went not astray in the errour of the children of Israel, like as the Leuites went astray.

12 Therefore this oblation of the lande that is offered, shall be theirs as a thing most holy, hard vpon the borders of the Leuites.

13 And ouer against the border of the priests, shall the Leuites haue fiue & twentie thouthousand long, and ten thousand broade: all the length shalbe fiue and twentie thousand, and the breadth ten thousand.

14 Of this portion they shall sell nothing, nor make any permutation thereof, nor alienate the first fruites of the land: for it is holy vnto the Lord.

15 And the fiue thousand that are left in the breadth ouer against the fiue and twenty thousand, shalbe a prophane place for the citie, for housing and for suburbes: and the citie shalbe in the middes thereof.

16 And these shalbe the measures thereof: The North part fiue hundred & foure thousand, and the South [b] part fiue hundred and foure thousande, and the East part fiue hundred and foure thousande, and the West part fiue hundred and foure thousand.

[b] meaning, that it should be square.

17 The suburbes of the citie shall haue towarde the North two hundred and fiftie, towarde the South two hundred and fiftie, towarde the East two hundred and fiftie, towarde the West also two hundred and fiftie.

18 And the residue in length ouer against the oblation of the holy portion shall bee ten thousand toward the East, and ten thousand toward the West: and it shall be ouer against the oblation of the holy portion, and the increase thereof shalbe for their meat that serue the citie.

19 And they that serue the citie, they shall serue it out of all the tribes of Israel.

20 All the oblation shalbe fiue and twentie thousande [c] with fiue and twentie thousand: ye shal offer this oblation foure square, for the sanctuarie, and for the possession of the citie.

[c] Euery way fiue and twentie thousand.

21 And the residue shall be for the prince, on the one side and on the other of the holy oblation, and of the possession of the citie ouer against the fiue and twentie thousand of the oblation towarde the East border, and Westwarde ouer against the fiue and twentie thousande towarde the West border, ouer against shalbe the portion for the prince: this shalbe the holy oblation, and the house of the sanctuarie shall be in the middest thereof.

22 Moreouer, from the possession of the Leuites, & the cities possession, that which is in the middest shalbe the princes, betwixt the border of [d] Juda, and the border of Beniamin shalbe the princes.

[d] So that Juda was on the North side of the princes and Leuites portions, and Beniamin on the South side.

23 Now of the other tribes: from the East part vnto the West, shall Beniamin haue his portion.

24 Upon the borders of Beniamin, from the East side vnto the West, shall Simeon haue his portion.

25 Upon the borders of Simeon, from the East side vnto the West, shall Issachar haue his portion.

26 Upon the borders of Issachar, from the East side vnto the West, shall Zabulon haue his portion.

27 Upon the borders of Zabulon, from the East part vnto the West, shall Gad haue his portion.

28 Upon the borders of Gad at the South side towarde Temanah, the border shall bee from Thamar, vnto the waters of ‖ strife to Cades, and to the riuer that runneth into the maine sea.

‖ Or, Meribah.

29 This is the land which ye shall diuide by lot for an inheritance vnto the tribes of Israel, and these be their portions, saith the Lord God.

30 These be the bounds of the citie, vpon the North part fiue hundred and foure thousand measures.

31 The gates of the citie shall haue the names of the tribes of Israel, three gates of the North side: one gate of Ruben, another of Juda, the third of Leui.

32 Upon the East side fiue hundred and foure thousand measures, with three gates: the one of Joseph, another of Beniamin, the third of Dan.

33 Upon the South side fiue hundred and foure thousande measures, with the three gates: the one of Simeon, another of Issachar, the third of Zabulon.

34 And vpon the West side, fiue hundred and fiue thousande measures, with their three gates also: the one of Gad, another of Aser, the third of Nepthali.

35 Thus shall it haue eighteene thousand measures round about: and the name of the citie from that time forth shalbe, ‡ The Lord is there.

The ende of the prophecie of Ezechiel.

The booke of the Prophet Daniel.

The first Chapter.

1 The Prophet sheweth the captiuitie of Iehoakim king of Iuda. 4 Of the children that were in captiuitie, the king cõmandeth to chooſe which of them ſhould be taught the learning and language of the Chaldeans.

a Reade 2.king 24.10.

IN the [a] third yeere of the reign of Iehoakim king of Iuda, came Nabuchodonoſor king of Babylon vnto Hieruſalem, and beſieged it.

2 And the Lord deliuered Iehoakim [b] king of Iuda into his hand, with part of the veſſels of the houſe of God, which he caried away into the land of [b] Sennar, to the houſe of his god, and hee brought the veſſels into his gods treaſurie.

b Which was a plaine by Babylon, where was the temple of their great god, and is here taken for Babylon.

3 And the king ſpake vnto Aſphenaz the [c] chiefe chamberlaine, that hee ſhould bring him certaine of the children of Iſrael, of the kings ſeede, and of the princes:

c Or, maſter of the Eunuches.

4 Syrringales without any blemiſh, but well fauoured, ſtudious in all wiſdome, ſkilfull for knowledge, able to vtter knowledge, and ſuch as haue liuelineſſe in them, that they [d] may ſtand in the kings palace: and whome they might teach the learning and the tongue of the Chaldeans.

d As well to ſerue at the tables, as in other offices.

5 Vnto theſe the king appointed a daily prouiſion euery day of a portion of the kings meate, and of the wine which he dranke, ſo to nourith them three yeeres, that afterward they might ſtand before the king.

6 Among theſe now were certaine of the children of Iuda, namely, Daniel, Ananias, Miſael, and Azarias.

7 Vnto theſe the chiefe Chamberlaine gaue [e] other names, & called Daniel, Baltaſſar: Ananias, Sidrach: Miſael, Miſach: and Azarias, Abednego.

e Either becauſe they would declare their power, as conquerers to change the names of them they ouercame, or els for hatred of their Hebrewe names.

8 But Daniel purpoſed in his heart that he would not defile himſelfe with the portion of the kings meate, nor with the wine which hee dranke: therefore hee required the chiefe Chamberlaine that he might not defile himſelfe.

9 (And God brought Daniel into fauour and tender loue with the chiefe Chamberlaine.)

10 And the chiefe Chamberlaine ſaid vnto Daniel, I am afraide of my Lord the king which hath appointed you your meate and your drinke: wherefore ſhould he ſee your faces worſe liking then the ſyrringales of your age, and ſo yee ſhall make mee indanger my head vnto the king.

11 Then Daniel ſayde vnto Melaſſar, whome the chiefe Chamberlaine had ſet ouer Daniel, Ananias, Miſael, and Azarias:

12 O proue but ten dayes with thy ſeruants, and let vs haue pulſe to eate, and water to drinke.

13 Then let our countenances be looked vpon before thee, & the countenances of the children that eate of the portion of the kings meate: and as thou ſeeſt, deale with thy ſeruants.

14 So he conſented to them in this matter, and proued them ten dayes.

15 And at the end of ten dayes their countenances appeared fairer and [f] fatter in fleſh then all the children which did eate the portion of the kings meate.

f By humane liking.

16 Thus Melaſſar tooke away the portion of their meate, and the wine that they ſhould drinke, and gaue them pulſe.

17 As for theſe foure children, God gaue them knowledge and vnderſtanding in [g] all learning and wiſedome: alſo hee gaue Daniel vnderſtanding of all [h] viſions and dreames.

g Hearing, in deed ſciences and naturall knowledge, which long did before they were conuerſant.

h So that he euery was a Prophet, and none of the other: for by dreames and viſions God appeared in his prophets, Num. 12.

i Of the three yeeres aboue mentioned, verſ. 5.

18 Now when the [i] time was expired that the king had appointed to bring them in, the chiefe Chamberlaine brought them before Nabuchodonoſor.

19 And the king communed with them: but among them all were founde none ſuch as Daniel, Ananias, Miſael, and Azarias: therefore ſtoode they before the king.

20 In all matters of wiſedome and vnderſtanding that the king enquired of them, he founde them ten times better then all the wiſe men and ſoothſayers that were in all his realme.

21 And Daniel abode ſtill vnto the [k] firſt yeere of king Cyrus.

k That is, he was eſteemed in Babylon as a Prophet, and in authoritie ſo long as that common weale ſtood.

The ij. Chapter.

1 The dreame of Nabuchodonoſor. 2 He calleth vnto him ſoothſayers, and requireth of them both the dreame and the interpretation thereof.

IN the ſecond yere of the reigne of Nabuchodonoſor, had Nabuchodonoſor a dreame, wherethrough his ſpirite was troubled, and his ſleepe brake from him.

1 The father and the ſonne were both called by this name, ſo that it is meant of the ſonne when he reigned alone: for he reigned alſo after a ſort with his father. Or elſe in the ſecond yeere of his generall conqueſt of other barbarous nations.

2 Then the king commaunded to call the wiſe men, and ſoothſayers, and ſorcerers, and the Chaldees, for to ſhewe the king his dreame: So they came, and ſtoode before the king.

3 And the king ſayde vnto them, I haue dreamed a dreame, and my ſpirite was troubled to know the dreame.

4 Vpon this the Chaldeans anſwered the king in the Syrians ſpeech, O king, God ſaue thy life for euer: ſhewe thy ſeruaunts the dreame, and wee ſhall ſhewe the interpretation.

5 The king anſwered & ſaid to the Chaldeans, The thing is gone from mee: If yee will will not make me vnderstand ỹ dreame, with the interpretation thereof, ye shalbe drawen in peeces, and your houses made a iakes.

6 But if ye tell me the dreame, and the interpretation thereof, yee shall receiue of mee gifts, rewards, & great honour, therfore shew me the dreame, & the interpretation thereof.

7 They answered againe, and sayd, The king must shew his seruants the dreame, and so shal we declare the interpretation thereof.

8 Then the king answered, saying, I perceiue of a trueth that ye would [b] redeeme the time, for so much as ye see the thing is gone from me.

9 Therfore if ye wil not tel me the dreame, this is your onely purpose, Ye haue prepared lying and corrupt words to speake before me, till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dreame, that I may know that ye can declare me the interpretation thereof.

10 Vpon this the Chaldees gaue answer before the king, and sayd, There is no man vpon earth that can tell the thing which the king speaketh of, yea, there is neither king, prince, nor lord, that euer asked such things at a wise man, soothsaier, or Chaldean.

11 For it is a rare matter that the king requireth, neither is there any that can certifie the king thereof, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh.

12 For the which cause ỹ king was wroth with great indignation, and commanded to destroy all the wise men at Babylon.

13 So the decree went forth, & the wise men were slaine: they sought also to slay Daniel, with his companions.

14 Then Daniel staied the counsell and decree with Arioch the captaine of the kings gard, who was gone forth to put to death the wise men of Babylon.

15 He answered and said vnto Arioch the kings captaine, Why is the sentence so hastie from the king? Then Arioch told Daniel the matter.

16 Vpon this went Daniel, & desired the king that hee would giue him laisure, & that he would shew the king the interpretation.

17 Then Daniel went to his house, and shewed the thing to Ananias, Misael, and Azarias, his companions:

18 That they should beseech the God of heauen for grace in this secret, that Daniel and his fellowes, with other such as were wise in Babylon, perished not.

19 Then was this secret reuealed vnto Daniel in a vision by night: then Daniel prayed the God of heauen.

Psal.113.1. 20 Daniel also answered, and sayd, [a] The name of God be praised for euer and euer: for wisedome and strength are his.

21 He changeth the times and seasons, he taketh away kings, he setteth vp kings: he giueth wisedome vnto the wise, and vnderstanding to those that vnderstand.

22 He reuealeth the deepe & secret things: he knoweth the thing that lieth in darkenesse, for the light dwelleth with him.

23 I thanke thee and praise thee, O thou God of my fathers, that thou hast giuen mee wisedome and strength, and hast shewed me nowe the thing that wee desired of thee: for thou hast declared the kings matter vnto vs.

24 Vpon this went Daniel in vnto Arioch, whom the king had ordeined to destroy the wise men at Babylon: hee went and sayd thus vnto him, Destroy not the wisemen of Babylon, but bring me before the king, and I shall shew the king the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought Daniel before the king in all the haste, and sayd thus vnto him, I haue founde a man among the children of Juda that were brought captiues, that will declare vnto the king the interpretation.

26 Then answered the king and sayde to Daniel, whose name was Baltassar, Art thou able to shewe me the dreame which I haue seene, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Daniel answered in the presence of the king, and sayd, As for this secret which the king maketh inquisition, there can neither the men of vnderstanding, nor soothsayers, nor the wise men, nor readers of destinies, declare it vnto the king:

28 But there is a [c] God in heauen that reuealeth secrets, and sheweth the king Nabuchodonosor, what is for to come in the latter dayes. Thy dreame, & that which thou hast seene in thine head vpon thy bed, is this.

29 O king, when thou wast in thy bed, thoughts came into thy minde, what should come hereafter: so hee that is the opener of mysteries, telleth thee what is for to come.

30 As for me this secret is not shewed me for any wisedome that I haue more then any other liuing, but onely that I might shew the king the interpretation, and that thou mightest knowe the thoughts of thine owne heart.

31 Thou king sawest, and beholde, there was a great image: this great [d] image, whose brightnesse was excellent, stood before thee, and the forme thereof was terrible.

32 This images [e] head was of fine golde, his breast and armes of siluer, his belly and his thighes of brasse.

33 His legs were of iron, his feete were part of iron and part of clay.

34 Thou beheldest it till a stone was cut without hands, which smote the image vpon his feete that were of iron and clay, and brake them to peeces.

35 Then was the iron, the clay, the brasse, the siluer and gold broken all together, and became like the chaffe of Sommer floores, and the winde caried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image, became a great mountaine, and filled the whole earth.

36 This is the dreame: and now will we shew before the king what it meaneth.

37 O

[b] Whereby he meaneth the king with a certaine feare and reuerence of God, that he might be the more apt to receiue the high mysteries that should be reuealed.

[d] By this is vnderstanded the world.

[e] By gold, siluer, brasse, and iron, are meant the Chaldees, Persians, Macedonians, and Romaine kingdoms, which should successiuely rule the world, till Christ (which is here called the stone) come himselfe and destroy the last.

37 O king, thou art a king of kings: for the God of heauen hath giuen vnto thee a kingdom, power, strength and glorie.

38 And in all places whereſoeuer the children of men dwell, the beaſts of the field, and the foules of the aire hath hee giuen into thy hand, and hath made thee ruler in them all: thou art this [f] head of gold.

f The firſt monarchie of the Chaldeans.
g The ſecond of the Perſians.
h That is, of the Macedonians.
i That is, of the Romans.

39 After thee ſhal ariſe another kingdom, inferior to thee, and another [h] third kingdom ſhalbe of braſſe, which ſhall beare rule ouer all the earth.

40 The [i] fourth kingdome ſhall be ſtrong as iron: for as iron breaketh in pieces & ſubdueth all things, & as iron bruiſeth all theſe things, ſo ſhall it breake in pieces and bruiſe all.

41 Whereas thou ſaweſt the feet and toes, part of potters clay, and part of iron, the kingdom ſhalbe [k] deuided, but there ſhall be in it of the ſtrength of iron, for ſo much as thou ſaweſt the iron mixt with the clay and earth.

k That is, either by ciuill warres and diſcords, or els into two ſorts of people: the one ſhould be warreſike, and therefore compared to iron, the other factious and ſeditious, and therefore compared to clay and earth.

42 And as the toes of the feete were part of iron and part of clay: ſo ſhall the kingdome be part ſtrong, and part broken.

43 And whereas thou ſaweſt iron mixt with clay and earth, they ſhall mingle themſelues with the ſeed of men, and yet not ioine one with another, as iron will not bee mixt with clay.

44 And in the dayes of theſe kings ſhal the God of heauen ſet vp a kingdome, which ſhal neuer be deſtroyed, and this kingdome ſhall not be giuen ouer to another people: but it ſhall breake and deſtroy all theſe kingdomes, and it [l] ſhall ſtand for euer.

l It ſhall be eternall, for the ſpirit that is in the Church, is life eternall, Rom. 8.

45 Like as thou ſaweſt that [m] without any handes there was cut out of the mount a ſtone, which brake the iron, the braſſe, the clay, the ſiluer and gold in pieces: ſo the great God hath ſhewed the king what ſhall come to paſſe after this; this is a true dreame, and the interpretation of it is ſure.

m That is, that the kingdome of Chriſt ſhould be ſet vp by God, not by men.

46 Then the king Nabuchodonoſor fell downe vpon his face, & bowed himſelfe vnto Daniel, & commanded to ordaine [n] rewards and ſweete odours for him.

n The performe his promiſe made to him that ſhould interpete his dreame. 2. verſe 6.

47 The king anſwered Daniel, and ſaid, Of a trueth [o] your God is a God of gods, and the Lord of kings, and a reueiler of ſecrets, ſeeing thou couldeſt reueile this ſecret.

o This confeſſion was but a ſudden motion, as it was alſo in Pharao, Exod. 6. but his heart was not touched, as appeared ſoone afterward.

48 So the king made Daniel a great man, and gaue him many and great gifts: he made him ruler of all the countreis of Babylon, and the chiefe of the rulers aboue all the the wiſe men of Babylon.

49 Then Daniel made requeſt to the king, and he ſet Sidrach, Miſach, and Abednego, ouer the charge of the prouince of Babylon: but Daniel ſate in the kings gate.

The iii. Chapter.

1 The king ſetteth vp a golden image, which he commandeth to be worſhipped. 8 Sidrach, Miſach, and Abednego are accuſed, becauſe they diſpiſed the kings commandement.

NAbuchodonoſor the king made an image of gold, which was threeſcore cubites high, and ſix cubites thicke: hee ſet it vp in the plaine of Dura, in the prouince of Babylon.

2 Then Nabuchodonoſor the king ſent forth, to gather together the Dukes, Lords, and Nobles, the iudges and officers, the deputies and ſhiriffes, with all the rulers of the prouinces, that they might come to the [a] dedication of the image which Nabuchodonoſor the king had ſet vp.

a Shewing, that the Church is not hindered for an houre in long as it is with the worſhippers: here begin the ceremonies and cuſtomes are receiued and vſed, and the conſent of the people is there, from of a blacke they thinke they haue made a God.

3 So the Dukes, Lords, and Nobles, the iudges and officers, deputies and ſhiriffes, with all the rulers of the prouince, gathered them together vnto the dedication of the image that Nabuchodonoſor the king had ſet vp, & they ſtoode before the image which Nabuchodonoſor had ſet vp.

4 Then an Herald cried aloud, To you it is commanded, O people, nations, and languages,

5 That when yee heare the noyſe of the Cornet, Trumpet, Harpe, Shawme, Pſalteries, Dulcimer, and all maner of inſtruments of muſike, ye fall downe and worſhip that golden image that Nabuchodonoſor the king hath ſet vp.

6 Who ſo then falleth not downe and worſhippeth, ſhall euen the ſame houre be caſt into the middeſt of a hot fierie furnace.

7 Therefore when all the folke heard the noyſe of the Cornet, Trumpet, Harpe, Shawme, Pſalteries, and all inſtruments of muſike, then all the people, nations, and languages fell downe & worſhipped the golden image that Nabuchodonoſor the king had ſet vp.

8 Nowe were there certaine men of the Chaldees, that went euen then, and [b] cryed out an accuſation of the Jewes.

b That is, accuſed the Jewes with an outcry.

9 They ſpake, and ſaid vnto the king Nabuchodonoſor, O king, liue for euer.

10 Thou, O king, haſt made a decree, that euery man that ſhall heare the ſound of the Cornet, Trumpet, Harpe, Shawme, Pſalteries, Dulcimer, and all inſtruments of muſike, ſhall fall downe and worſhip the golden image:

11 And who ſo then fell not downe, and worſhipped not, that hee ſhoulde be caſt into the middeſt of an hot fierie furnace.

c It ſeemeth that they named not Daniel, becauſe he was greatly in the kings fauour, thinking if their hate deſtroyed, they might haue better occaſion to accuſe Daniel after: neither this declareth that this policie of erecting this image, was inuented by the malicious flatterers, publickly ſought nothing but the deſtruction of the Jewes, whom they accuſed of rebellion and ingratitude.

12 Now are there certaine Jewes, whom thou haſt ſet ouer the charge of the prouince of Babylon, namely Sidrach, Miſach, and Abednego: theſe men, O king, regarded not thy commandement: yea, they will not ſerue thy gods, nor worſhip the golden image that thou haſt ſet vp.

13 Then Nabuchodonoſor in his anger and wrath commaunded that Sidrach, Miſach, and Abednego ſhould bee brought before him: ſo theſe men were brought before the king.

14 Then Nabuchodonoſor ſpake vnto them, and and saide, Is it true, O Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, will not you serue my gods, nor worship the golden image that I haue set vp?

25 Now therefore be readie when ye heare the sound of the Cornet, Trumpet, Harpe, Shawme, Psalteries, Dulcimer, and all instruments of musike, to fall downe and worship the image which I haue made: for if yee worship it not, yee shall bee cast immediately into the mids of a hote firie fornace: for who is that God that can deliuer you out of my hands?

16 Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego answered the king, and said, O Nabuchodonosor, we are not [d] carefull to answere thee in this matter:

17 Behold, our God whom wee serue, is [e] able to deliuer vs from the hote fierie furnace: and he will deliuer vs out of thy hand, O king.

18 And though he will not, yet shalt thou know, O king, that wee will not serue thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set vp.

19 Then was Nabuchodonosor full of indignation, so that the countenaunce of his face chaunged vpon Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego: therefore hee charged and commaunded that they should heate the fornace, one seuen times more then it was woont to be heat.

20 And he charged the most valiant men of warre that were in his armie, to bind Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, and to cast them into the hot fierie fornace.

21 So these men were bounde in their coates, hosen, head attire, with their other garments, and cast into the mids of the hote fierie fornace.

22 Therefore because the kings commandement was straite, and the fornace was exceeding hote, the men that put in Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, the flame of the fire destroyed them.

23 And these three men, Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, fell downe in the mids of the hot fierie fornace bound.

24 Then Nabuchodonosor the king was astonied, and rose vp in all haste: he spake vnto his counsell, & said, Did not we cast three men bound into the mids of the fire? They answered and sayd vnto the king, It is true, O king.

25 He answered and said, Lo, I see foure men loose, walking in the middes of the fire, and they haue no hurt: and the forme of the fourth is like the [f] sonne of God.

26 Vpon this went Nabuchodonosor vnto the mouth of the hote fierie fornace, hee spake also, and said, O Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, ye seruants of the high God, goe forth, and come hither. And so Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, came forth of the mids of the fire.

27 The Dukes, Lords, and Nobles, and the kings counsell came together to see these men, vpon whome the fire had no maner of power in their bodies: insomuch that the very haire of their head was not burnt, and their clothes vnchanged, yea there was no smell of fire felt vpon them.

28 Then spake Nabuchodonosor, & sayd, Blessed be the God of Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, which hath sent his angel, and deliuered his seruants that put their trust in him, and haue altered the kings commandement, & ieoparded their bodies, rather then they would serue or worship any god, except their owne God onely.

29 Therefore I make a decree, that euery people, nation, and language, which speake any blasphemie against the God of Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, shall bee drawen in pieces, and their houses shalbe made a iakes: because there is no god that can deliuer after this sort.

30 So the king promoted Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, in the prouince of Babylon.

The iiij. Chapter.

Nabuchodonosor dreameth againe.

NAbuchodonosor king, vnto all people, nations, & languages that dwell vpon the [a] whole earth, peace bee multiplied among you.

a Meaning, so farre as his dominion extended.

2 I thought it good to shew the signs and marueilous workes that the high God hath wrought vpon me.

3 O how great are his signes, and how mightie are his wonders? his kingdome is an [b] euerlasting kingdom, and his dominion is from generation to generation.

b Read chap. 3

4 I Nabuchodonosor being at rest in my house, and flourishing in my palace,

5 Sawe a [c] dreame, which made mee afraid, and the thoughts vpon my bed with the visions of my head troubled me.

c This was an other dreame, beside that which he saw of the foure empires

6 Therefore made I a decree, that they should bring all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might declare vnto me the interpretation of the dreame.

7 So came the wise men, the soothsaiers, the Chaldeans, and wisards, to whom I told the dreame: but they could not shew mee the interpretation thereof.

8 Till at the last Daniel came before mee (whose name was Baltassar, according to the name of my god) which hath the spirit of the holy gods in him, and before him I tolde the dreame, saying,

9 O Baltasser, thou prince of wise men, for so much as I know that thou hast the spirite of the holy gods, and no secret troubleth thee: tel me therfore the visions of my dreame that I haue seene, and the interpretation thereof.

10 Thus were the visions of my head vpon my bed: and behold, I sawe a tree in the middest of the earth, and the height thereof was was great:

11 A great tree and strong, and the height thereof reached vnto the heauen, & the sight thereof to the ends of all the earth.

12 The leaues thereof were faire, and the fruite thereof much, and in it was meate for all: the beastes of the field had shadowes vnder it, and the foules of the aire dwelt in the boughes thereof: all flesh fed of it.

d Which was an angel of God,

13 I sawe in the visions of my head vpon my bed, and beholde, a d watcher, and a holy one came downe from heauen, 14 And cried mightily, saying thus, Hew downe the tree, breake off his braunches, shake off his leaues, and scatter his fruite abroad, that the beastes may get them away from vnder him, & the foules from his branches.

15 Neuertheless, leaue the stumpe of his rootes still in the earth, and with a bande of yron and brasse binde it among the grasse of the field, and let it bee wet with the dew of heauen, & let his portion be with the beasts among the grasse of the field.

e That is, let him be depriued of naturall reason, and mans vnderstanding.

16 Let his heart be e changed from mans nature, and let a beastes heart bee giuen vnto him, and seuen times bee passed ouer him.

f This was the decree of God vniuersall, as appeareth in the 24 verse following, but it is called the decree of the watchmen, or angels, because they brought it, and reuealed it: which the holy ones desire to come to passe, so consenting to the decree of God, that the proud might be brought down, and the humble exalted.

17 This sentence is according to the f decree of the watchers, and the request according to the word of the holy ones: because liuing men should know that the highest hath power ouer the kingdom of men, and giueth it to whom it liketh him, and setteth vp ouer it the basest among men.

18 This is the dreame that I king Nabuchodonosor haue seene: therefore thou, O Baltassar, declare the interpretation therof, for so much as all the wise men of my kingdome are not able to shewe me what it meaneth: but thou canst do it, for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

g Partly considering the great iudgements of God in the horrible punishment of this great prince: & partly moued with pitie of his cause, whom God had commanded the Iewes to wish well to, and pray for, as Iere. 29.

19 Then Daniel, whose name was Baltassar, held his peace by ỹ space of one houre, and his thoughtes g troubled him. So the king spake, and sayd, O Baltassar, let neither the dreame, nor the interpretation thereof trouble thee. Baltassar answered, saying, O my lord, this dreame bee to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine aduersaries.

20 As for the tree that thou sawest, which was great & mightie, whose height reached vnto the heauen, & the sight thereof through all the world,

21 Whose leaues were faire, and the fruite thereof much, and in it was meate for all, vnder the which the beasts of the field had their habitation, and vpon whose branches the foules of the aire did sit:

22 It is thou, O king, which art great & mightie, for thy greatnesse encreaseth & reacheth vnto the heauen, so doth thy dominion to the ends of the earth.

23 But whereas the king sawe a watcher, and a holy one that came downe from heauen, and sayde, Hewe downe the tree, and destroy it, yet leaue the stumpe of the rootes thereof in the earth, and with a bande of yron and brasse binde it among the grasse of the field, and let it be wet with the dewe of the heauen, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till h seuen times passe ouer him:

h Whereby is vnderstood a long space, as seuen yeeres, or seuen quarters of yeeres, or seuen moneths: for the interpretation is diuers.

24 This, O king, is the interpretation, yea, it is the very decree of him that is highest of all, and it toucheth my lord the king.

i Not that his shape, or figure was changed into a beast, but that he was cleane driuen out, & so consequently many comma nde: as hauing cast out of his presence, and to wandered among the beasts, and ate herbes and grasse.

25 Thou shalt be cast out from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beastes of the field: with grasse shalt thou bee fedde lyke i oxen, thou must be wet with the dewe of the heauen, yea, seuen times shal passe ouer thee, till thou k know that the highest hath power ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it to whom he list.

k Daniel sheweth the cause why God thus punished him.

26 Moreouer, whereas it was sayd that the stumpe of the roote of the tree should bee left still: it betokeneth that thy kingdome shall remaine whole vnto thee, after thou hast learned to knowe that the power commeth from heauen.

l Cease from presuming God or anger any longer by thy sinnes, and where thou hast cruelly oppressed my people, vse mercifull dealing with the poore in righteousnesse, to shall there reigne of thy posterity vntil it be recouered.

27 Wherefore, O king, let my counsell be acceptable vnto thee, & l breake off thy sinnes by righteousnesse, & thine iniquities by mercie toward the poore: loe, let there bee a healing of thine errour.

28 All these things touch the king Nabuchodonosor.

29 So after twelue moneths, the king walked in the palace of the kingdome of Babylon.

30 And the king spake, and sayde, Is not this great Babylon that I haue built for the house of the kingdome by the might of my power, and for the honour of my maiestie?

31 While these wordes were yet in the kings mouth, there fell a voyce from heauen, saying, O king Nabuchodonosor, to thee be it spoken, Thy kingdome is departed from thee, 32 And thou shalt be cast out of mens companie, thy dwelling shall be with the beastes of the fielde: so that thou shalt eate grasse like oxen, and seuen times shall passe ouer thee, vntill thou knowest that the highest hath power vpon the kingdome of men, & giueth it vnto whome it pleaseth him.

33 The very same houre was this matter fulfilled vpon Nabuchodonosor, so that hee was cast out of mens companie, and did eate grasse like oxen, and his body was wet with the dewe of heauen, till his haires were growen as Eagles feathers, and his nayles like birds clawes.

m Charis. the seuen times or yeeres mentioned in the verses 16, 23, and 25.

34 When this m time was past, I Nabuchodonosor lift vp mine eyes vnto heauen, and mine vnderstanding was restored vnto me: then gaue I thanks vnto the highest, I magnified and prayed him that liueth for euermore, whose power is an euerlasting power, and his kingdome is from one generation to another.

35 All

35 All they that dwell vpon the earth are to be reputed as nothing, & according to his wil he worketh in the army of heauen, and among the inhabitters of the earth: and there is none that may resist his hand, or say vnto him, what doest thou?

36 At the same time was mine vnderstanding giuen me againe, and I was restored to the honour of my kingdome, my glorie and my beautie was restored vnto mee, and my counsailours and [n] princes sought vnto mee, and I was established in my kingdome, and my glory was augmented toward me.

37 Nowe therefore I [o] Nabuchodonosor praise, and extoll, and magnifie the king of heauen, whose works are all trueth, and his wayes iudgement, and those that walke in pride he is able to abase.

n The nobles & diuersly by whom you know the kingdome stood.

o He doth now make ample proofe of that he said before, in the 21. verse, that God only may haue the glorie of all things.

The v. Chapter.

1 Balthasar king of Babylon abusing the vessels of the Temple, seeth an hande writing on the wall. 8 The soothsayers called of the king, cannot expound the writing.

KIng Balthasar made a great feast to a thousand of his princes, and dranke wine [a] before the thousand.

a Whether it were vpon some solemne day, or vpon some other occasion, we know not.

2 And Balthasar, when hee had tasted the wine, commaunded to bring him the golden and siluer vessels, which his father Nabuchodonosor had brought from the Temple in Hierusalem, that the king, and his princes, and his wiues, and his concubines might drinke therein.

3 So were brought the golden vessels that they had taken out of the Temple of the Lordes house at Hierusalem: and the king, and his princes, his wiues, and his concubines dranke in them.

4 They dranke wine, and prayed the gods of golde, siluer, braſſe, iron, wood, and stone.

5 In the very same howre there appeared fingers of a mans hand writing, right ouer [b] agaynst the candlesticke vpon the plaister of the wall of the kings palace, and the king sawe the knockles of the hand that wrote.

b That it might be better seene.

6 Then chaunged the king his countenance, & his thoughts troubled him, so that the ioynts of his loines were loosed, and his [c] knees smote one against the other.

c For fear he fell before God, and trembled for the feare of Gods displeasure.

7 Wherefore the king cried mightily, that they shoulde bring the soothsayers, Chaldees, and wisardes: the king spake also to the wise men of Babylon, and sayde, who so can read this writing, and shew mee the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with purple, and haue a chaine of gold about his necke, and shal be the third ruler in the kingdome.

8 Vpon this came all the kings wise men, but they could neither read the writing, nor shew the king the interpretation.

9 Then was king Balthasar greatly troubled, and his countenaunce was changed in him, and his princes were astonied.

10 Nowe the [d] Queene, by reason of the talke of the king and his princes, came into the banquet house: and the Queene spake, and sayde, O king, liue for euer: let not thy thoughts trouble thee, and let not thy countenance be changed.

d This some thinke was his mother, other, his grandmother, of al likelihood a woman of great age, that could remember the acts of Daniel.

11 There is a man in thy kingdome that hath the spirite of the holy gods within him: and in the dayes of thy father, light, and vnderstanding, and wisedome, like the wisedome of the gods was found in him, whom the king Nabuchodonosor thy father, the king I saie thy father made chiefe of the [e] wisemen, soothsaiers, Chaldeans, and wisards, e Read Chap. 4. and this declareth both þ this name was giuen vnto him, and also that he did not vse their practises, because he was not among them when all were called.

12 Because that such an abundant spirit, knowledge, and vnderstanding, to expound dreames, to open secrets, and to declare hard doubts, was found in him, yea, euen in Daniel, whom the king named Baltassar: let Daniel be called, and hee shall declare the interpretation.

13 Then was Daniel brought before the king: so the king spake vnto Daniel, & sayd, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captiuitie of Juda, whom my father the king brought out of Jurie?

14 I haue heard of thee that thou hast the spirit of the holy gods, and that light and vnderstanding, and excellent wisedom is found in thee.

15 Nowe haue there bene brought before mee wise men, and soothsayers, to read this writing, and to shew mee the interpretation thereof: but they could not declare the interpretation of the thing.

16 Then heard I of thee, that thou couldest shew interpretations, & dissolue doubts: now if thou canst read this writing, and shew me the meaning thereof, thou shalt bee clothed with purple, and haue a chaine of gold about thy necke, and be the third ruler in the kingdome.

17 Then Daniel answered, and sayd before the king, As for thy rewards keepe them to thy selfe, and giue thy gifts to another: yet I will read the writing vnto the king, and shew him the interpretation.

18 O thou king, the most high God gaue vnto [f] Nabuchodonosor thy father a kingdome, and maiestie, and honour, and glory.

f Before he read this writing, he declareth to þ king his great ingratitude toward God, who could not be moued to giue him the glory, considering þ wonderful workes toward his grandfather: and so sheweth that he sinned not of ignorance, but of malice.

19 And for the maiestie that he gaue him, all people, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him: hee slewe whom hee would, hee smote whom it pleased him: againe, whom hee would he set vp, and whom he list he put downe.

20 But because his heart was lofty, and his mind strengthened in pride, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and they tooke his glory from him.

21 Hee was driuen out from the sonnes of men, his heart was made like the beasts, and and his dwelling was with the wilde asses, they fedde him with grasse like oxen, and his body was wette with the dew of heauen, till hee knewe that the most high God bare rule ouer the kingdome of men, and that hee appointeth ouer it whomsoeuer he pleaseth.

‖Or, Belsasar.

22 And thou his sonne, O ‖ Balthasar, hast not submitted thine heart, though thou knewest all these things:

23 But hast lift vp thy selfe against the Lorde of heauen, so that the vesselles of his house were brought before thee, that thou and thy princes, with thy wiues and concubines, might drinke wine thereout: and thou hast praysed the goddes of siluer, and golde, of brasse, and yron, of wood, and stone, which neither see, heare, nor vnderstand: as for the God in whose hande consisteth thy breath, and all thy wayes, thou hast not glorified him.

g After that God had so long time deferred his anger and patiently waited for thine amendment. h This worde is doubled, not vnlyke craftely to aggregate the certainty of the matter, but also as some thinke, the one to signifie the ende of the king, the other the ende of the kingdome.

g 24 Then was the knockles of the hande sent from him, and hath written this writing.

25 And this is the writing that hee hath written: MENE, h MENE, THECEL, VPHARSIN.

26 Nowe the interpretation of the thing is this, MENE, God hath numbred thy kingdome, and brought it to an ende.

27 THECEL, Thou art weighed in the ballance, and art found wanting.

28 PHERES, Thy kingdome is deuided, and giuen to the Medes and Perses.

29 Then commaunded Balthasar, and they clothed Daniel with purple, and a chaine of golde about his necke, and made a proclamatiõ concerning him, that he shoulde be the third ruler in the kingdome.

30 The very same night was Balthasar the king of the Chaldees slayne.

i Cyrus his sonne in lawe gaue him this title of honor, although Cyrus in effect had the dominion.

31 And i Darius of the Medes tooke the kingdome, being threescore and two yeeres of age.

The vi. Chapter.

Daniel is made ruler ouer the lordes.

IT pleased Darius to set ouer his kingdome a hundred and twentie gouernours, which shoulde be ouer the whole kingdome.

2 Aboue these hee set three princes, of whome Daniel was one, that the gouernours might giue accompts vnto them and the king shoulde haue no dammage.

k Thus the wicked can not abide the graces of God in others, but seeke by all occasions to deface them, therefore against such attempts there is no better remedy then to walke vprightly in the feare of God, and to haue a good conscience.

3 Now this Daniel was preferred aboue the princes and gouernours, for the spirite of God was plenteous in him, so that the king was minded to set him ouer the whole realme.

k 4 Wherefore the rulers and gouernours sought an occasion against Daniel, concerning the kingdome, but they coulde finde none occasion or fault: for hee was so faythful, that there was no blame nor fault found in him.

5 Then sayde these men, Wee shall finde none occasion against this Daniel, except we find it against him concerning the lawe of his God.

6 Vpon this went the princes and lordes together vnto the king, and saide thus vnto him, King Darius, liue for euer.

7 And the rulers of the kingdome, the officers and gouernours, the counsaylers and dukes haue consulted together to make a decree for the king, and to establish a statute, That who so desireth any petition eyther of any god or man within these thirtie dayes, except of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the Lions denne.

8 Now, O king, confirme the decree, and seale the writing, that it be not changed, according to the law of the Medes & Persians, which altereth not.

9 Wherefore king Darius sealed the writing and decree.

l Because he would not by any meanes haue it thought that he confirmed this his owne decree, he let open his windowes toward Hierusalem, to the end he might be seene, and so stirre vp the remembrance of Gods promises vnto his people, whom then he had in captiuitie, that they might pray vnto him for their deliuerance. Or els he might be of that minde, that he would not cease to pray vnto God, although he should be compelled to pray in priuie places, as in dennes, caues, and such like, or in the Temple: or else he might thinke that he should not offend, if he prayed in his chamber, so that he did it openly, and not in secret.

10 Now when Daniel vnderstoode that he had sealed the writing, hee went into his house, and the l windowes of his chamber toward Hierusalem stoode open, there kneeled hee downe vpon his knees three times a day, he made his petition, and prayed his God, as he did aforetime.

11 Then these men assembled, and found Daniel making his petition, and praying vnto his God.

12 So they came to the king, and spake before him concerning his commandement, saying, O king, hast thou not sealed the decree, that within thirtie dayes whoso requireth his petition of any god or man, but only of thy selfe, O king, he shall bee cast into the denne of Lions? The king answered, and sayde, Yea, it is true, according to the lawe of the Medes and Persians that altereth not.

13 Then answered they, and saide vnto the king, This Daniel which is of the children of the captiuitie of Iuda, O king, regardeth neither thee, nor thy decree that thou hast sealed: but maketh his petition three times a day.

14 When the king heard these wordes, he was sore displeased with himselfe, and set his heart on Daniel to deliuer him, and he laboured till the sunne went downe, to deliuer him.

15 Then these men assembled vnto the king, and sayde vnto him, Knowe this, O king, that the lawe of the Medes and Persians is, that the commandement and statute which the king maketh, may not bee m altered.

m Thus if wicked mainteyners of all euils by continuance and authoritie, which is often times ouerthrowen by themselues, as it hapned vnto Nebuchadnezzar, when as the threatning therof pearst and terrified gouernours ought neuer to feare nor be ashamed to breake forth.

16 Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and they cast him into the Lions den. Now the king spake vnto Daniel, and said, Thy God whom thou alway seruest, euen he will deliuer thee.

17 And there was brought a stone, & laid vpon the mouth of the denne, this the king sealed with his owne ring, and with the signet of his princes, that the purpose concerning of the righteous and faithfull.

16 The feare of the Lorde is the right Gods seruice,

17 That preserueth & iustifieth the heart, and giueth mirth and gladnesse:

18 Who so feareth the Lord shal be happy, and when he hath need of comfort, he shal be blessed.

19 She hath built her euerlasting foundations with men, and is giuen to bee with their seede.

20 To feare God is the wisedome that maketh rich, and bringeth al good with her.

21 She filleth the whole house with her gifts, and garners with her treasure.

22 The feare of the Lord is the crowne of wisedome, and giueth plenteous peace and health: he hath seene her and numbred her: both these are the gifts of God.

23 Knowledge & vnderstanding of wisedome hath he powred out as raine, & thē that held her fast hath he brought vnto honour.

24 The feare of the Lorde is the roote of wisedome, and her branches are long life.

25 In the treasures of wisedome is vnderstanding and deuotion of knowledge, but wisedome is abhorred of sinners.

26 The feare of the Lorde driueth out sinne, and when she is present, she driueth away anger.

27 For hee that is without feare cannot be made righteous, and his wilful boldnesse is his owne destruction.

28 A patient man wil suffer vnto ỹ time, and then shal he haue the reward of ioy.

29 A good vnderstanding will hide his words for a time, and many mens lips shall speake of his wisedome.

30 In the treasures of wisedome is the declaration of doctrine: but the sinner abhorreth the worship of God.

31 My sonne, if thou desire wisedome, keepe the commaundement, and God shall giue her vnto thee.

32 For the feare of the Lord is wisedome and nurture: he hath pleasure in faith & louing meeknesse, and he shal fill the treasures thereof.

33 Be not obstinate and vnfaithful to the feare of the Lorde, and come not vnto him with a double heart.

34 Be not an hypocrite in ỹ sight of men, and take good heede what thou speakest.

35 Exalt not thy selfe, least thou happen to fall, and bring thy soule to dishonour: and so discouer thy secretes, and cast thee downe in the middest of the congregation, because thou wouldest not receiue the feare of God, and because thy heart is full of fainednesse and deceit.

The ii. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth the seruants of God to righteousnesse, loue, vnderstanding and patience. 11 To trust in the Lord. 13 A curse vpon them that are faint hearted and impatient.

MY sonne, if * thou wilt come into the seruice of God, stand fast in righteousnes and feare, and arme thy soule to temptation. Matth.4.1. 2.tim.3.12. 1.pet.4.12.

2 Settle thine heart, and be patient, bow downe thine eare, receiue the wordes of vnderstanding, and shrink not away whē thou art assaulted.

3 Hold thee fast vpon God, ioyne thy selfe vnto him, and suffer, that thy life may increase at the last.

4 Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto thee, receiue it: suffer in heauinesse, and be patient in thy trouble.

5 *For like as gold and siluer are tried in the fire, euen so are acceptable men in the furnace of aduersitie. Sap.3.6. pro.17.3.

6 Beleeue in God, and hee shall helpe thee: order thy way aright, and put thy trust in him: holde fast his feare, and growe therein.

7 Ye that feare the Lord, take sure hold of his mercie, shrinke not away from him, that ye fall not.

8 Ye that feare the Lord, beleeue him, and your reward shall not be emptie.

9 Ye that feare the Lord, a trust in good thinges, and mercie shall come vnto you for pleasure. a That is, look for good things, & trust to haue the reward of euerlasting life, promised to them that with patience continue in his feare.

10 Ye that feare the Lord, set your loue vpon him, and your hearts shal be lightned.

11 Consider the olde generations of men (O ye children) and marke them well: was there euer anie one confounded that put his trust in the Lorde? who euer continued in his feare, and was forsaken? or whome did he euer despise that called faithfully vpon him?

12 *For God is gracious and mercifull, he forgiueth sinnes in the time of trouble, & is a defender for all them that seeke him in the trueth. Psal.37.25.

14 Wo be vnto them that are faint hearted, which put not their trust in God, and therefore shall they not be defended of him.

15 Wo bee vnto ‖ you that haue lost patience, forsaken the right wayes, & are turned backe into froward waies: what will you doe when the Lord shall begin to visite you? ‖Or, them, 17 They that feare the Lorde, will seeke out the thinges that are pleasant vnto him: and they that loue him, be fulfilled with his law.

18 They that feare the Lord, will prepare their hearts, and humble their soules in his sight.

33 The very same houre was this matter fulfilled vpon Nabuchodonosor, so that hee was cast out of mens companie, and did eate grasse like oxen, and his body was wet with the dewe of heauen, till his haires were growen as Eagles feathers, and his nayles like birds clawes.

m That is, the seuen times or yeeres mentioned in the verses 16. 23. and 25.

34 When this [m] time was past, I Nabuchodonosor lift vp mine eyes vnto heauen, and mine vnderstanding was restored vnto me: then gaue I thanks vnto the highest, I magnified and prayed him that liueth for euermore, whose power is an euerlasting power, and his kingdome is from one generation to another.

35 All

35 All they that dwell vpon the earth are to be reputed as nothing, & according to his will he worketh in the army of heauen, and among the inhabiters of the earth: and there is none that may resist his hand, or say vnto him, what doest thou?

36 At the same time was mine vnderstanding giuen me againe, and I was restored to the honour of my kingdome, my glorie and my beautie was restored vnto mee, and my counsailours and [n] princes sought vnto mee, and I was established in my kingdome, and my glory was augmented toward me.

37 Nowe therefore I [o] Nabuchodonosor praise, and extoll, and magnifie the king of heauen, whose works are all trueth, and his wayes iudgement, and those that walke in pride he is able to abase.

The v. Chapter.

1 Balthasar king of Babylon abusing the vessels of the Temple, seeth an hande writing on the wall. 8 The soothsayers called of the king, cannot expound the writing.

KIng Balthasar made a great feast to a thousand of his princes, and dranke wine [a] before the thousand.

2 And Balthasar, when hee had tasted the wine, commaunded to bring him the golden and siluer vessels, which his father Nabuchodonosor had brought from the Temple in Hierusalem, that the king, and his princes, and his wiues, and his concubines might drinke therein.

3 So were brought the golden vessels that they had taken out of the Temple of the Lordes house at Hierusalem: and the king, and his princes, his wiues, and his concubines dranke in them.

4 They dranke wine, and praysed the gods of golde, siluer, braſſe, iron, wood, and stone.

5 In the very same howre there appeared fingers of a mans hand writing, right ouer [b] againſt the candlestick vpon the plaister of the wall of the kings palace, and the king sawe the knockles of the hand that wrote.

6 Then chaunged the king his countenance, & his thoughts troubled him, so that the ioynts of his loines were loosed, and his [c] knees smote one against the other.

7 Wherefore the king cried mightily, that they shoulde bring the soothsayers, Chaldees, and wisardes: the king spake also to the wise men of Babylon, and sayde, who so can read this writing, and shew mee the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with purple, and haue a chaine of gold about his necke, and shal be the third ruler in the kingdome.

8 Vpon this came all the kings wise men, but they could neither read the writing, nor shew the king the interpretation.

9 Then was king Balthasar greatly troubled, and his countenaunce was changed in him, and his princes were astonied.

10 Nowe the [d] Queene, by reason of the talke of the king and his princes, came into the banquet house: and the Queene spake, and sayde, O king, liue for euer: let not thy thoughts trouble thee, and let not thy countenance be changed.

11 There is a man in thy kingdome that hath the spirite of the holy gods within him: and in the dayes of thy father, light, and vnderstanding, and wisedome, like the wisedome of the gods was found in him, whom the king Nabuchodonosor thy father, the king I saie thy father made chiefe of the [e] wisemen, soothsaiers, Chaldeans, and wisards,

12 Because that such an abundant spirit, knowledge, and vnderstanding, to expound dreames, to open secrets, and to declare hard doubts, was found in him, yea, euen in Daniel, whom the king named Baltassar: let Daniel be called, and hee shall declare the interpretation.

13 Then was Daniel brought before the king: so the king spake vnto Daniel, & sayd, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captiuitie of Juda, whom my father the king brought out of Jurie?

14 I haue heard of thee that thou hast the spirit of the holy gods, and that light and vnderstanding, and excellent wisedom is found in thee.

15 Nowe haue there bene brought before mee wise men, and soothsayers, to read this writing, and to shew mee the interpretation thereof: but they could not declare the interpretation of the thing.

16 Then heard I of thee, that thou couldest shew interpretations, & dissolue doubts: now if thou canst read this writing, and shew me the meaning thereof, thou shalt bee clothed with purple, and haue a chaine of gold about thy necke, and be the third ruler in the kingdome.

17 Then Daniel answered, and sayd before the king, As for thy rewards keepe them to thy selfe, and giue thy gifts to another: yet I will read the writing vnto the king, and shew him the interpretation.

18 O thou king, the most high God gaue vnto [f] Nabuchodonosor thy father a kingdome, and maiestie, and honour, and glory.

19 And for the maiestie that he gaue him, all people, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him: hee slewe whom hee would, hee smote whom it pleased him: againe, whom hee would he set vp, and whom he list he put downe.

20 But because his heart was lofty, and his mind strengthened in pride, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and they tooke his glory from him.

21 Hee was driuen out from the sonnes of men, his heart was made like the beasts, and

d This some thinke was his mother, other, his grandmother, of al likelihood a woman of great age, that could remember the acts of Daniel.

e Read Chap. 4. and this declareth both þ this name was odious vnto him, and also that he did not vse these vile practises, because he was not among them when all were called.

f Before he read this writing, he declareth to þ king his great ingratitude toward God, who could not be moued to giue him the glory, considering how wonderful workes toward his grandfather: and so sheweth that he sinned not of ignorance, but of malice.

and his dwelling was with the wilde asses, they fedde him with grasse like oxen, and his body was wette with the dew of heauen, till hee knewe that the most high God bare rule ouer the kingdome of men, and that hee appointeth ouer it whomsoeuer he pleaseth.

‖Or, Belsasar.

22 And thou his sonne, O ‖Balthasar, hast not submitted thine heart, though thou knewest all these things:

23 But hast lift vp thy selfe against the Lorde of Heauen, so that the vesselles of his house were brought before thee, that thou and thy princes, with thy wiues and concubines, might drinke wine thereout: and thou hast praysed the goddes of siluer, and golde, of brasse, and yron, of wood, and stone, which neither see, heare, nor vnderstand: as for the God in whose hande consisteth thy breath, and all thy wayes, thou hast not glorified him.

g After that God had so long time deferred his anger and patiently waited for thine amendment. h This worde is doubled, not onely to exaggerate the certainty of the matter, but also as some thinke, the one to signifie the ende of the king, the other the ende of the kingdome.

24 g Then was the knockles of the hande sent from him, and hath written this writing.

25 And this is the writing that hee hath written: MENE, h MENE, THECEL, VPHARSIN.

26 Nowe the interpretation of the thing is this, MENE, God hath numbred thy kingdome, and brought it to an ende.

27 THECEL, Thou art weighed in the ballante, and art found wanting.

28 PHERES, Thy kingdome is deuided, and giuen to the Medes and Perses.

29 Then commaunded Balthasar, and they clothed Daniel wyth purple, and a chaine of golde about his necke, and made a proclamatiõ concerning him, that he shoulde be the third ruler in the kingdome.

30 The very same night was Balthasar the king of the Chaldees slayne.

i Cyrus his sonne in lawe gaue him this title of honor, although Cyrus in effect had the dominion.

31 And i Darius of the Medes tooke the kingdome, being threescore and two yeeres of age.

The vi. Chapter.

Daniel is made ruler ouer the lordes.

IT pleased Darius to set ouer his kingdome a hundred and twentie gouernours, which shoulde be ouer the whole kingdome.

2 Aboue these hee set three princes, of whome Daniel was one, that the gouernours might giue accompts vnto them and the king shoulde haue no dammage.

a Thus the wicked can not abide the graces of God in others, but seeke by all occasions to defame them, therefore against such assautes there is no better remedy then to walke vprightly in the feare of God, and to haue a good conscience.

3 Now this Daniel was preferred aboue the princes and gouernours, for the spirite of God was plenteous in him, so that the king was minded to set him ouer the whole realme.

4 Wherefore the rulers and gouernours a sought an occasion against Daniel, concerning the kingdome, but they couldc finde none occasion or fault: for hee was so faythfull, that there was no blame nor fault found in him.

5 Then sayde these men, Wee shall finde none occasion against this Daniel, except we find it against him concerning the lawe of his God.

6 Vpon this went the princes and lordes together vnto the king, and saide thus vnto him, King Darius, liue for euer.

7 And the rulers of the kingdome, the officers and gouernours, the counsaylers and dukes haue consulted together to make a decree for the king, and to establish a statute, That who so desireth any petition eyther of any god or man within these thirtie dayes, except of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the Lions denne.

8 Now, O king, confirme the decree, and seale the writing, that it be not changed, according to the lawe of the Medes & Persians, which altereth not.

9 Wherefore king Darius sealed the writing and decree.

10 Now when Daniel vnderstoode that he had sealed the writing, hee went into his house, and the b windowes of his chamber toward Hierusalem stoode open, there kneeled hee downe vpon his knees three times a day, he made his petition, and praysed his God, as he did afore time.

11 Then these men assembled, and found Daniel making his petition, and praying vnto his God.

12 So they came to the king, and spake before him concerning his commandement, saying, O king, hast thou not sealed the decree, that within thirtie dayes whosoeuer asketh his petition of any god or man, but only of thy selfe, O king, he shall bee cast into the denne of Lions? The king answered, and sayde, Yea, it is true, according to the lawe of the Medes and Persians that altereth not.

13 Then answered they, and saide vnto the king, This Daniel which is of the children of the captiuitie of Iuda, O king, regardeth neither thee, nor thy decree that thou hast sealed: but maketh his petition three times a day.

14 When the king heard these wordes, he was sore displeased with himselfe, and set his heart on Daniel to deliuer him, and set laboured till the sunne went downe, to deliuer him.

15 Then these men assembled vnto the king, and sayde vnto him, Knowe this, O king, that the lawe of the Medes and Persians is, that the commandement and statute which the king maketh, may not bee altered.

16 Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and they cast him into the Lions den. Now the king spake vnto Daniel, and said, Thy God whom thou alway seruest, euen he will deliuer thee.

17 And there was brought a stone, & laid vpon the mouth of the denne, this the king sealed with his owne ring, and with the signet of his princes, that the purpose concerning of the righteous and faithfull.

16 The feare of the Lorde is the right Gods seruice,
17 That preserueth & iustifieth the heart, and giueth mirth and gladnesse:
18 Who so feareth the Lord shal be happy, and when he hath need of comfort, he shal be blessed.
19 She hath built her euerlasting foundations with men, and is giuen to bee with their seede.
20 To feare God is the wisedome that maketh rich, and bringeth al good with her.
21 She filleth the whole house with her gifts, and garners with her treasure.
22 The feare of the Lord is the crowne of wisedome, and giueth plenteous peace and health: he hath seene her and numbred her: both these are the gifts of God.
23 Knowledge & vnderstanding of wisedome hath he powred out as raine, & thē that hold her fast hath he brought vnto honour.
24 The feare of the Lorde is the roote of wisedome, and her branches are long life.
25 In the treasures of wisedome is vnderstanding and deuotion of knowledge, but wisedome is abhorred of sinners.
26 The feare of the Lorde driueth out sinne, and when she is present, she driueth away anger.
27 For hee that is without feare cannot be made righteous, and his wilful boldnesse is his owne destruction.
28 A patient man wil suffer vnto ỹ time, and then shal he haue the reward of ioy.
29 A good vnderstanding will hide his words for a time, and many mens lips shall tell of his wisedome.
30 In the treasures of wisedome is the declaration of doctrine: but the sinner abhorreth the worship of God.
31 My sonne, if thou desire wisedome, keepe the commaundement, and God shall giue her vnto thee.
32 For the feare of the Lord is wisedome and nurture: he hath pleasure in faith & louing meeknesse, and he shal fill the treasures therof.
33 Be not obstinate and vnfaithful to the feare of the Lorde, and come not vnto him with a double heart.
34 Be not an hypocrite in ỹ sight of men, and take good heede what thou speakest.
35 Exalt not thy selfe, least thou happen to fall, and bring thy soule to dishonour: and so discouer thy secretes, and cast thee downe in the middest of the congregation, because thou wouldest not receiue the feare of God, and because thy heart is full of fainednesse and deceit.

The ii. Chapter.

¶ He exhorteth the seruants of God to righteousnesse, loue, vnderstanding and patience. 11 To trust in the Lord. 13 A curse vpon them that are faint hearted and impatient.

MY sonne, if * thou wilt come into the seruice of God, stand fast in righteousnes and feare, and arme thy soule to temptation. Matth.4.1. 2.tim.3.12. 1.pet.4.12.

2 Settle thine heart, and be patient, bow downe thine eare, receiue the wordes of vnderstanding, and thinke not away whē thou art assaulted.

3 Hold thee fast vpon God, ioyne thy selfe vnto him, and suffer, that thy life may increase at the last.

4 Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto thee, receiue it: suffer in heauinesse, and be patient in thy trouble.

5 * For like as gold and siluer are tried in the fire, euen so are acceptable men in the furnace of aduersitie. Sap.3.6. pro.17.3.

6 Beleeue in God, and hee shall helpe thee: order thy way aright, and put thy trust in him: holde fast his feare, and growe therein.

7 O ye that feare the Lord, take sure hold of his mercie, thinke not away from him, that ye fall not.

8 O ye that feare the Lord, beleeue him, and your reward shall not be emptie.

9 O ye that feare the Lord, [a] trust in good thinges, and mercie shall come vnto you for pleasure.

[a] That is, look for good things, & trust to haue the reward of euerlasting life, promised to them that with patience continue in his feare.

10 O ye that feare the Lord, set your loue vpon him, and your hearts shal be lightned.

11 Consider the olde generations of men (O ye children) and marke them well: was there euer anie one confounded that put his trust in the Lorde? who euer continued in his feare, and was forsaken? or whome did he euer despise that called faithfully vpon him?

12 * For God is gracious and mercifull, Psal.37.25. he forgiueth sinnes in the time of trouble, & is a defender for all them that seeke him in the trueth.

13 Wo be vnto them that haue a ‖ fearefull heart, wicked lips, and euil occupied hands, and to the sinner that goeth two maner of wayes. ‖Or, double

14 Wo be vnto them that are faint hearted, which put not their trust in God, and therefore shall they not be defended of him.

15 Wo bee vnto ‖ you that haue lost patience, forsaken the right wayes, & are turned backe into frowarde waies: what will you doe when the Lord shall begin to visite you? ‖Or, them, 16 * They that feare the Lord, wil not disobey his word: and they that loue him, will keepe his commandements. Ioh.14.24.

17 They that feare the Lorde, will seeke out the thinges that are pleasant vnto him: and they that loue him, be fulfilled with his law.

18 They that feare the Lord, will prepare their hearts, and humble their soules in his sight.

19 They that feare the Lorde, keepe his commandements, & will be patient, till they see himselfe,

2.Sa.24.12 20 Saying, *If wee doe not repent, we shal fal into the hands of the Lorde, and not into the hands of men.

21 For his mercy is as great as himselfe.

The iii. Chapter.

1 To our father and mother ought wee to giue double honour. 10 Of the blessing and curse of the father and mother.

THe children of wisedome are a congregation of the righteous, and their offring is obedience and loue.

2 Heare your fathers iudgement, (O my deare children) and doe thereafter, that ye may be safe.

Exo.20.6. deut.5.10. 3 *For the Lord will haue the father honoured of the children: and looke what a mother commandeth her children to doe, he will haue it kept.

4 Whoso honoureth his father, his sinnes shalbe forgiuen him: and he shall absteine frō them, and shall haue his dayly desires.

5 And he that honoureth his mother, is like one that gathereth treasure together.

6 Whoso honoureth his father, shall haue ioy of his owne children: and when hee maketh his prayer, he shalbe heard.

7 He that honoureth his father, shal haue a long life: and hee that is obedient vnto the Lord, shal comfort his mother.

8 He that feareth the Lord, honoureth his father and mother, and doth them seruice as it were vnto Lordes.

Exo.20.12. deut.5.10. 9 *Honour thy father & mother in deede, in word, and in al patience, that thou maiest haue Gods blessing: and his blessing shall abide with thee at the last.

Gen.27.27. deut.33.1. 10 *The blessing of the father stablisheth the houses of the children: but the mothers curse rooteth out the foundations.

11 Reioyce not when thy father is reproued: for it is not honour vnto thee, but a shame.

12 For the worship of a mans father, is his owne worship: and the reproch of the mother, is the dishonestie of the sonne.

13 My sonne, make much of thy father in his age, and grieue him not as long as he liueth.

14 And if his vnderstanding faile, haue patience with him, and despise not him in thy strength.

15 For the good deede that thou shewest vnto thy father, shall not be forgotten: & whē thou thy selfe wantest, it shall bee rewarded thee: and for thy mothers offence thou shalt be recompensed with good, yea, it shalbe foulded for thee in righteousnesse.

16 And in the day of trouble thou shalt be remembred: thy sinnes also shall melt away, like as the yce in the faire warme weather.

17 He that forsaketh his father, shal come to shame: and he that defieth his mother, is cursed of God.

18 My sonne, performe thy works with louing meekenesse, so shalt thou be loued aboue other men.

19 *The greater thou art, the more humble thy selfe in al things, and thou shalt finde fauour in the sight of God. Phil.2.3.

20 Many are excellent & of renowme: but the secrets are reuealed vnto the meeke.

21 For great power belongeth onely vnto God: and he is honoured of the lowly.

22 *Seeke not out the thinges that are aboue thy capacitie, & search not the grounde of such things as are too mightie for thee. Pro.25.27. rom.12.3.

23 But looke what God hath commaunded thee, thinke vpon that alway, and be not curious in many of his workes: for it is not needefull for thee to see with thine eies the thinges that are secret.

24 Make not too much search in superfluous things, and be not curious in many of his workes: for many thinges are shewed vnto thee already, which be aboue the capacitie of men.

25 The medling with such hath beguiled many a man, and tangled their wittes in vanitie.

26 Thou canst not see without eies, therfore professe not the thing that thou hast not.

27 An harde heart shall fare euill at the last: and he that loueth danger, shall perish therein.

28 An heart that goeth two wayes shall not prosper, and he that is froward of heart, wil euer be worse and worse.

29 An obstinate heart shal bee laded with sorowes, and the vngodly sinner will heape one sinne vpon another.

30 The counsaile of the proude hath no health, and his footestepps shall be plucked vp: for the plant of sinne hath taken roote in him.

31 The heart of him that hath vnderstanding, shall perceiue high things: and a good eare will gladly hearken vnto wisedome.

32 An heart that is wise and hath vnderstanding, wil absteine frō sinnes, & increase in the workes of righteousnesse.

33 Water quencheth burning *fire, and mercy reconcileth sinnes. Psal.40.2. dan.4.24 math.5.7.

34 God hath respect vnto him & is thankefull: he thinketh vpon him against the time to come, so that when he falleth, he shal finde a strong holde.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 Almes must be done with gentlenesse. 12 The study of wisedome and her fruite. 20 An exhortation to eschew euill, and to do good.

MY *sonne, defraud not & poore of his almes, and turne not & way thine eyes from him that hath neede. Deut.15.4 tob.4.7. matt.23.23

2 Despise not an hūgry soule, and defie not the poore in his necessitie.

3 Greeue not the heart of him that is helpelesse, and withdraw not the gift from the needneedfull.

4 Refuse not the prayer of one that is in trouble, turne not away thy face from the needie.

5 Cast not thine eyes aside from the poore for any euill will, that thou giue him not occasion to speake euill of thee.

6 For if hee complaine of thee in the bitternesse of his soule, his prayer shalbe heard: euen he that made him shall heare him.

7 Bee curteous vnto the companie of the poore, humble thy soule vnto thy elder, and bow downe thy head to a man of worship.

8 Let it not grieue thee to bowe downe thine eare vnto the poore, * but pay the debt, and giue him a friendly answere, and that with meekenesse.

* Be a man mild of heart in counsell to the young, humble to the ancient, bowing to the wealthy: to a wise man, and one that is of vnderstanding, to a true hearer of counsell, to a iudge, and hee that is set to be a ruler of the people.

9 Deliuer him that suffreth wrong, from the hand of the oppressour: and bee not faint hearted when thou sittest in iudgement.

10 Be mercifull vnto the fatherlesse as a father, and bee in steade of an husbande vnto their mother: so shalt thou bee an obedient sonne of the highest, and hee shall loue thee more then thy mother doth.

11 Wisedome exalteth her children, receiueth them that seeke her, and will goe before them in the way of righteousnesse.

12 Hee that loueth her, loueth life: and they that seeke her diligently, shall haue great ioy.

13 They that keepe her, shall inherite glorie: for where she entreth in, there is the blessing of God.

14 They that honour her, shalbe the seruants of the holy one: and they that loue her, are beloued of God.

15 Who so giueth eare vnto her, shal iudge the heathen: and hee that ‖ hath respect vnto her, shall dwell safely.

‖ Or, giueth.

16 He that beleeueth her, shal haue her in possession, and his generation shall endure.

‖ Or, walketh

17 For when he ‖ falleth, she doth go with him, and chuseth him among the best: feare, dread, and temptation shall shee bring vpon him, and try him in her doctrine, til she haue approued him in his thoughts, that he commit his soule vnto her.

18 Then shall shee stablish him, bring the right way vnto him, make him a glad man, shewe him her secrets, and heape vpon him the treasures of knowledge, and vnderstanding of righteousnesse.

19 But if hee goe wrong, she shall forsake him, and giue him ouer into the hands of destruction and ruine.

Rom. 12.11

20 * My sonne, make much of the time, eschew the thing that is euill:

21 And for thy life shame not to say the trueth: [b] for there is a shame that bringeth sinne, and there is a shame that bringeth worship and fauour.

22 Accept no person after thine owne will, that thou bee not confounded to thine owne decay: Bee not ashamed of thy neighbour in his aduersitie.

23 And keepe not backe thy counsel when it may do good, neither hide thy wisedome in her beautie.

24 For in the tongue is wisdome knowen, so is vnderstanding, knowledge, and learning, in the talking of the wise, and stedfastnesse in the workes of righteousnesse.

25 In no wise speake against the word of trueth, but bee ashamed of the lies of thine owne ignorance.

26 Shame not to confesse thine errour, and resist not the course of the riuer.

27 And submit not thy selfe vnto a foolish man, neither accept the person of the mightie.

28 And striue thou not against ỹ streame: but for righteousnesse take paines with all thy soule, and for the trueth striue thou vnto death, and God shall fight for thee against thine enemies.

29 Bee not hastie in thy tongue, neither slacke and negligent in thy workes.

30 Be not as a lion in thine owne house, destroying thy houshold folkes, and oppressing them that are vnder thee.

31 Let not thine hand be stretched out to receiue, and shut when thou shouldest giue.

The v. Chapter.

1 In riches we may not put any confidence. 7 The vengeance of God ought to bee feared, and repentance may not be deferred.

TRust not vnto thy riches, and say not, Tush, * I haue inough for my life, for it shall not helpe in the time of vengeance and temptation. Luk. 12.15.

2 Follow not the lust of thine owne heart in thy strength.

3 And say not, Tush, howe haue I had strength? or who will bring mee vnder, because of my workes? For doubtlesse God shall auenge it.

4 And say not, I haue sinned, and what euill hath happened me? for the almightie is a patient rewarder.

5 Because thy sinne is forgiuen thee, bee not therefore without feare, neither heape one sinne vpon another.

6 And say not, Tush, the * mercie of the Lord is great, hee shall forgiue me my sinnes be they neuer so many: for like as he is mercifull, so goeth wrath from him also, and his indignation commeth downe vpon sinners. Eccl. 21.1.

7 * Make no tarying to turne vnto the Lord, and put not off from day to day: for sodainely shall his wrath come, and in the time of vengeance he shall destroy thee. Eccl. 16.13

8 Trust not in * wicked riches, for they shall not helpe thee in the day of punishment and wrath. Prou. 10.2. ezech. 7.19

9 Be not caried away with euery winde, and goe not into euery way: for so doeth the sinner that hath a double tongue.

10 Stand fast in the way of the Lord, be stedfast in thy vnderstanding, abide by the word, and follow the word of peace and righteousnesse.

11 Bee gentle to heare the word of God, that thou mayest vnderstand it, and make a true answere with wisedome.

Iacob.1.19 12 *Be swift to heare, but slowe and patient in giuing answere.

13 If thou hast vnderstanding, shape thy neighbour an answere: if no, lay thy hande vpon thy mouth, lest thou bee trapped in an vndiscreete word, and so confounded.

14 Honour and shame is in the talke, but the tongue of the vndiscreete is his owne destruction.

15 Be not a priuy accuser as long as thou liuest, and vse no slander with thy tongue: for shame and sorowe goeth ouer the theefe, and an euill name ouer him that is double tongued: but hee that is a priuie accuser of other men, shall bee hated, enuied, and confounded.

16 Doe not rashly, neither in great nor small.

The vj. Chapter.

1 It is the propertie of a sinner to be euill tongued. 6 Of friendship. 33 Desire to be taught.

BE not of a friende an enemie: [a] for such a man getteth an euill name, shame, and rebuke: and whosoeuer beareth enuie, and a double tongue, offendeth.

a For that is against the rule of charitie, which loueth all, and hateth nothing but onely sinne.

2 Be not proud in the deuice of thine vnderstanding: lest thy soule rent thee as a [b] bull, b Or as a bull teareth in pieces a young tree with his hornes, so you trusting in thine owne wisdome, and standing in thine owne concrite, because of thy power, or riches, shouldest destroy thy selfe.

3 And lest thy leaues wither, and thy fruit be destroyed, and so thou be left as a drie tree in the wildernesse.

4 For a wicked soule destroyeth him that hath it, maketh him to bee laughed to scorne of his enemies, and bringeth him to the portion of the vngodly.

5 A sweete word multiplieth friends, and pacifieth them that bee at variance: and a thankefull tongue will bee plenteous in a good man.

6 Hold friendship with many: neuertheless, haue but one counseller of a thousand.

7 If thou get test a friend, proue him first, and be not hastie to giue him credence.

8 For some man is a friende but for his owne turne, and will not abide in the day of trouble.

9 And there is some friend that turneth to enmitie, and taketh part against thee: and if he know any hurt by thee, he telleth it out.

Ecl.37.5. 10 *Againe, some friende is but a companion at the table: and in the day of neede he continueth not.

11 But in thy prosperitie hee will bee as thou thy selfe, and deale plainely with thy houshold folke.

12 If thou be brought low, he will bee against thee, and will be hidden from thy face.

13 Depart from thine enemies, yea, and beware of thy friends.

14 A faithfull friende is a strong defence, who so findeth such one, findeth a treasure.

15 A faithfull friende hath no peere, the weight of gold and siluer is not to be compared to the goodnesse of his faith.

16 A faithfull friende is a medicine of life and immortalitie, and they that feare the Lord shall finde him.

17 Who feareth the Lorde, shall prosper with friends: and as hee is himselfe, so shall his friends be also.

18 My sonne, receiue doctrine from thy youth vp, so shalt thou find wisedome til thou be olde.

19 Goe to her as to one that ploweth and soweth, and waite patiently for her good fruites: for thou shalt haue but little labour in her worke, but thou shalt eate of her fruits right soone.

20 O how exceeding sharpe is wisedome to vnlearned men: an vnstedfast body will not remaine in her.

21 Vnto such shee is as it were a touchstone, and hee casteth her from him in all the haste.

22 For wisedome is with him but in name, there are but fewe that haue knowledge of her.

23 But with them that knowe her, she abideth euen vnto the appearing of God.

24 Giue eare my sonne, receiue my doctrine, and refuse not my counsell.

25 Put thy foote into her links, and take her yoke vpon thy necke.

26 *Bowe downe thy shoulder vnto her, Mat.11.29. beare her patiently, and be not wearie of her bands.

27 Come vnto her with thy whole heart, and keepe her wayes with all thy power.

28 Seeke after her, and she shalbe shewed thee: and when thou hast her, forsake her not.

29 For at the last thou shalt finde rest in her, and that shalbe turned to thy great ioy.

30 Then shall her fetters bee a strong defence for thee, and her yoke a glorious rayment.

31 For there is a golden ornament in her, and her bands are laces of purple colour.

32 Thou shalt put her on as a robe of honour, and shalt put her about thee as a crowne of ioy.

33 My sonne, if thou wilt take heed, thou shalt haue vnderstanding, and if thou wilt apply thy minde, thou shalt be wise.

34 If thou wilt bowe downe thine eare, thou shalt receiue doctrine: and if thou delight in hearing, thou shalt be wise.

35 *Stande with the multitude of such Ecl.8.9. elders as haue vnderstanding, and consent vnto their wisedome with thine heart, 36 That thou mayest heare all godly sermons, and that the worthy sentences escape thee not.

37 And if thou seest a man of discreete vnderstanding, get thee soone vnto him, and let set thy foote treade vpon the steppes of his doores.

Psal.1.2. 38 Let thy * minde be vpon the commandements of God, and be earnestly occupied in his lawes: so shall he stablish thy heart, and giue thee wisedome at thine owne desire.

The vij. Chapter.

1 Wee must forsake euill, and yet not iustifie our selues.
23 The behauiour of the wife towarde his wife, his friend, his children, his seruants, his father and mother.

DOe no euill, so shall there no harme happen vnto thee.

2 Depart away from the thing that is wicked, & no misfortune shall meddle with thee.

3 My sonne, sowe no euill things in the furrowes of vnrighteousnesse, so shalt thou not reape them seuen folde.

4 Labour not to the Lorde for preeminence, neither vnto the king for the seate of honour.

Psal.142.2. ecclē.7.17. iob 9.20. luke 18.11. 5 * Iustifie not thy selfe before God, for he knoweth the heart: and desire not to be reputed wise in the presence of the king.

6 Make no labour to bee made a Iudge, except it were so that thou couldest mightily put downe wickednesse: for if thou shouldest stand in awe of the presence of the mightie, thou shouldest faile in giuing sentence.

7 Offend not in the multitude of the citie, and put not thy selfe among the people.

Eccl.12.5. 8 * Binde not two sinnes together: for in one sinne thou shalt not be vnpunished.

9 Say not, Tush, God will looke vpon the multitude of my oblations, and when I offer to the highest God, he will accept it.

10 Bee not faint hearted when thou makest thy prayer, neither lacke in giuing of almes.

11 Laugh no man to scorne in the heauinesse of his soule, for God (which seeth all things) is he that can bring downe, and set vp againe.

1.Sam.2.7. 12 * Accept no leasing against thy brother, neither doe the same against thy friend.

13 Vse not to make any maner of lye: for the custome thereof is not good.

14 Make not many wordes when thou art among the elders: and when thou prayest, make not much babbling.

15 Let no laborious workes bee tedious vnto thee, neither the husbandry which the almightie hath created.

16 Make not thy boast in the multitude of thy wickednesse: but humble thy selfe euen from thine heart.

17 And remember that the wrath shall not bee long in tarying, and that the vengeance of the flesh of the vngodly is a very fire and worme.

18 Giue not ouer thy friend for any good, nor thy faithfull brother for the best gold.

19 Depart not from a discreete and good woman that is fallen vnto thee for thy portion in the feare of the Lord: for the gift of her honestie is aboue golde.

20 * Whereas thy seruant worketh truly, entreate him not euill, nor the hireling that is faithfull vnto thee. Leu.19.13.

21 Loue a discreet seruant as thine owne soule, defraud him not of his libertie, neither leaue him a poore man.

22 * If thou haue cattel, looke wel to them: and if they be for thy profite, keepe them. Deut.25.4.

23 If thou hast sonnes, bring them vp in nurture and learning, and hold them in awe from their youth vp.

24 If thou haue daughters, keepe their body, and shew not thy face cheereful toward them.

25 Marry thy daughter, and so shalt thou performe a weightie matter: but giue her to a man of vnderstanding.

26 If thou haue a wife after thine owne minde, forsake her not: but commit not thy selfe vnto the hatefull.

27 Honour thy father from thy whole heart: and forget not the sorowfull trauaile that thy mother had with thee.

28 Remember that thou wast borne through them, & how canst thou recompense the the things that they haue done for thee?

29 Feare the Lord with all thy soule, and honour his ministers.

30 Loue thy maker with all thy strength, and forsake not his seruants.

31 Feare the Lord with all thy soule, and honour his Priests: giue them their portion of the first fruites and increase of the earth, like as it is commaunded thee, and reconcile thy selfe of thy negligence with the litle flock, giue them the shoulders, and their appointed offerings, and firstlings.

32 Reach thine hand vnto the poore, that God may blesse thee with plenteousnesse.

33 Be liberall vnto all men liuing: yet let not, but do good euen to them that are [a] dead.

34 Let not them that weepe be without comfort, but mourne with such as mourne.

35 Let it not grieue thee to visit the sicke, for that shall make thee to be beloued.

36 Whatsoeuer thou takest in hand, remember the ende, and thou [b] shalt neuer doe amisse.

a To burie their bodies with honour, against the day of the resurrection, as did Abraham, Ioseph, &c. to succour and helpe, and deale faithfully and truely with their children committed to thy charge, as did Dauid with the children of his friend Ionathan.

b Do al things to the glory of God, and the profite of thy neighbour, or otherwise remember the day of death, of the last iudgement, of euerlasting ioy and paine.

The viij. Chapter.

We must take heede with whom we haue to doe.

STriue not with a mighty man, lest thou chaunce to fall into his hands.

2 * Make no variance with a rich man, least hee happen to bring vp an hard quarell against thee: for golde and siluer hath vndone many a man, yea, euen the hearts of kings hath it made to fall. Mat.5.25. Eccl.31.6.

3 Striue not with a man that is full of words, and lay no sticks vpon his fire.

4 Keepe no company with the vnlearned, lest he giue thy kinred an euill report.

5 * Despise not a man that turneth him from wickednesse, and call him not in Gal.6.1. 2.cor.2.6.

the teeth withall: but remember that we are fraile euery one.

Leu.19.32. 6 *Thinke scorne of no man in his olde age: for we ware olde also.

7 Be not glad of the death of thine enemie: but remember that we must die all the sort of vs, and faine we would come into ioy.

Gal.6.33. 8 *Despise not the sermons of such elders as haue vnderstanding, but acquaint thy selfe with the wise sentences of them: for of them thou shalt learne wisedome, and the doctrine of vnderstanding, and how to serue great men without complaint.

9 Goe not from the doctrine of the elders, for they haue learned it of their fathers: for of them thou shalt learne vnderstanding, so that thou mayest make answere in the time of neede.

10 Kindle not the coales of sinners when thou rebukest them, lest thou be burnt in the fierie flames of their sinnes.

11 Resist not the face of the blasphemer, that they lay not waite for thy mouth.

Eccles.19.4. 12 *Lend not vnto him that is mightier then thy selfe: if thou lendest him, count it but lost.

13 Be not surety aboue thy power: if thou be, then thinke surely to pay it.

14 Goe not to lawe with the iudge: for he will iudge according to his honour.

Gen.4.8. 15 *Trauaile not by the way with him that is braineles, lest he doe thee euill: for he followeth his owne wilfulnesse, and so shalt thou perish through his follie.

Pro.22.24. 16 *Striue not with him that is angrie and cruell, and goe not with him into the wildernesse: for blood is as nothing in his sight, and where there is no helpe, hee shall murder thee.

17 Take no counsaile at fooles: for they can not keepe a thing close.

18 Do no secrete thing before a stranger: for thou canst not tell what will come of it.

19 Open not thy heart vnto euery man, lest he be vnfaithfull to thee, and put thee to reproofe.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Of ielousie. 12 An olde friende is to be preferred before a newe.

BEe not ielous ouer the wife of thy bosome, that she shew not some shrewd point, [a] lest thou teach her an euill lesson against thy selfe.

a Let her not haue rule ouer thee, for then will she be contrary vnto thee, take away thy heart and strength, and bring thee to confusion among thine enemies, as did Eua to Adam, Dalila to Samson, and strange woman to Salomon.

2 Giue not the power of thy life vnto a woman, lest shee come in thy strength, and so thou be confounded.

3 Looke not vpon a woman that is desirous of many men, lest thou fall into her snares.

4 Vse not the company of a woman that is a player and a dauncer, and heare her not, lest thou perish through her entising.

5 Behold not a maiden, that thou be not hurt in her beautie.

6 Cast not thy minde vpon harlots in any maner of thing, lest thou destroy both thy selfe and thine heritage.

7 Goe not about gasing in euery lane of the citie, neither wander thou abroade in the streetes thereof.

8 *Turne away thy face from a beautifull woman, and looke not vpon the fairenesse of other: many a man hath bene deceiued through the beautie of women, for through it the desire is kindled as it were a fire. Gen.34.22. 1.sam.11.2. Iudith 10.17.

9 An adulterous woman shall bee troden vnder foote as myre, of euery one that goeth by thy way.

10 Many a man wondering at the beautie of a strange woman, hath bene cast out: for her words kindle as a fire.

11 Sit not with another mans wife by any meanes, lie not with her vpon the bed, make no wordes with her at the wine, least thine heart consent vnto her, & so thou with thy blood fall into destruction.

12 Forsake not an olde friend, for the new shall not be like him: a new friend is as new wine, let him bee olde, and thou shalt drinke him with pleasure.

13 Desire not the honour and riches of a sinner: for thou knowest not what *destruction is for to come vpon him. Iudith 9.3.

14 Delight not thou in the thing that the vngodly hath pleasure in, being sure that the vngodly shall not bee accepted vntill their graue.

15 Keepe thee from the man that hath power to slay, so needest thou not to be afraid of death: and if thou comest vnto him, make no fault, least hee happen to take away thy life: remember that thou goest in the middest of snares, and vpon the bulwarkes of the citie.

16 *Beware of thy neigbour as nigh as thou canst, and meddle with such as be wise, and haue vnderstanding. Eccl.7.8.

17 Let iust men bee thy ghestes, let thy mirth be in the feare of God.

18 Let the remembrance of God be in thy minde, and let all thy talking be in the commandements of the highest.

19 In the handes of craftesmen shall the workes be commended: so shall the princes of the people in the wisedome of their talking.

20 A man full of wordes, is perillous in his citie: and he that is rash in his talking, shall be abhorred.

The x. Chapter.

1 Of kings and iudges. 7 Pride and couetousnesse are to be abhorred. 38 Labour is praised.

A Wise iudge wil order his people with discretion: and where a man of vnderstanding beareth rule, there goeth it well.

2 *As the iudge of the people is himselfe, euen so are his officers: and looke what maner of man the ruler of the citie is, such are they that dwell therein also. Pro.29.12.

3 An vnwise king destroyeth his people: but but where they that bee in authoritie are men of vnderstanding, there the citie prospereth.

4 The power of the earth is in the hand of God, and all iniquitie of the people is to bee abhorred, and when time is, he shall set a profitable ruler vpon it.

5 In the hand of God is the prosperitie of man, and vpon the person of the scribe shall he lay his honour.

Leuit.19. 17. 6 *Bee not angry for any wrong of thy neighbour, & meddle thou with no vnrighteous workes.

1 Or is, Godly studies ry in Latin Ver bum, & bonus mundi and bonitie in life. 7 Pride is hatefull before God and man, and all wickednesse of the heathen is to bee abhorred.

8 Because of vnrighteous dealing, wrong, blasphemies, and diuers deceites, a realme shall bee translated from one people to another.

9 There is nothing worse then a couetous man: why art thou proude, O thou earth and ashes? there is not a more wicked thing then to loue money: and why? such one hath his soule to sell, yet is he but filthie dung while he liueth.

10 Ill tyrannie is of smal endurance, and the disease that is hard to heale, grieueth the physition.

11 And though the Physition shewe his helpe neuer so long, yet in conclusion it goeth after this maner, To day a king, to morowe dead.

12 For when a man dieth, he is the heire of serpents, beasts, and wormes.

13 The beginning of mans pride, is to fal away from God: and why? his heart is gone from his maker.

14 For pride is the originall of all sinne: who so taketh hold thereof, shal be filled with cursings, and at the last it shall ouerthrowe him: therefore hath the Lorde brought the congregations of the wicked to dishonor, and destroyed them to the end.

15 God hath destroyed the seates of proud princes, and set vp the meeke in their stead.

16 God hath withered the rootes of the proud heathen, & planted the lowly for them.

17 God hath ouerthrowen the landes of the heathen, and destroyed them vnto the ground: hee hath caused them to wither away, hee hath brought them to nought, and made the memorial of them to cease from out of the earth.

18 God hath destroyed the name of the proude, and left the name of the humble in mind.

19 Pride was not made for man, neither wrathfulnesse for mens children.

20 The seed of men that feareth God, shall bee brought to honour: but the seede which transgresseth the commaundements of the Lord, shalbe shamed.

21 He that is the ruler among brethren, is holden in honour among them: and hee that regardeth such as feare the Lord, is acceptable in his sight.

22 The feare of the Lord causeth that the kingdome faileth not: but the kingdome is lost by crueltie and pride.

23 The glory of the rich, of the honourable, and of the poore, is the feare of God.

24 Despise not thou the iust poore man that hath vnderstanding, and magnifie not the rich vngodly.

25 Great is the iudge, and mighty in honour, yet is there none greater then he that feareth God.

26 *Vnto the seruaunt that is discreete, shall the free doe seruice: he that is wise and well nurtured, will not grudge when hee is reformed, and an ignorant body shal not come to honour. Prou.17.7, 2.sam,12. 13.

27 Be not proud to doe thy worke, and despaire not in the time of aduersitie.

28 *Better is he that laboureth, and hath plenteousnesse of all things, then hee that is gorgeous, and wanteth bread. Prou, 12.9.

29 My sonne, get thy soule honour by meekenesse, and giue her her due honour.

30 Who shall iustifie him that sinneth against himselfe? who will honour him that dishonoureth his owne soule?

31 The poore is honoured for his faithfulnesse and trueth: but the rich is had in reputation because of his goods.

32 He that ordereth himselfe honestly in pouertie, how much more shall hee behaue himselfe honestly in riches? and who so ordereth himselfe honestly in riches, how much more shall he behaue himselfe honestly in pouertie?

The xi. Chapter.

1 The praise of humilitie. 2 After the outward appearance ought we not to iudge.

THe *wisedome of him that is brought lowe, shall lift vp his head, and shall make him to sit among great men. Gen.41.40 dan,6.3.

2 Commend not thou a man in his beautie, neither despise a man in his vtter appearance.

3 The Bee is but a small beast among the fowles, yet is her fruit exceeding sweete.

4 *Be not proud of thy rayment, and exalt not thy selfe in the day of thy honour: for the workes of the highest onely are wonderfull: yea, glorious, secret, and vnknowen are his workes. Acts 12.21

5 Many tyrants haue bene faine to sit downe vpon the earth, and the vnlikely hath worne the crowne.

6 *Many mighty men haue bene brought lowe, and the honourable haue bene deliuered into other mens hands. 1.Reg.15. 28. esth.6 10.

7 *Condemne no man before thou haue tried out the matter: & when thou hast made inquisition, then reforme righteously. Deut.12. 24.

8 *Giue no sentence before thou hast heard the cause: but first let men tell out their tales. Pro.8.13.

9 Striue not for a matter y toucheth not thy thy selfe, and stand not in the iudgement of sinners.

Mat.19.22. 10 *My sonne, meddle not with many 1.tim.6.9. matters: & if thou gaine much, thou shalt not be blameless, and if thou folow after it, thou shalt not attaine it, and though thou runnest thy way afore, yet shalt thou not escape.

Pro.10.15. 11 *There is some man that laboureth and taketh paine, and the more hee wearieth himselfe, the lesse he hath.

12 Againe, some man is slouthfull, hath neede of helpe, wanteth strength, and hath great pouertie:

Iob 24.10. 13 *And Gods eye looketh vpon him to good, setteth him from his lowe estate, and lifteth vp his head: so that many men marueil at him, and giue honour vnto God.

Iob 1.12. 14 *Prosperitie, & aduersitie, life, & death, ezec.28.4. pouertie, and riches, come all of the Lord.

15 Wisedome, nurture, and knowledge of the lawe are with God, loue, and the wayes of good are with him.

16 Errour and darkenes are made for sinners, and they that exalt themselues in euill, waxe old in euill.

17 The gift of God remaineth for the righteous: and his good will shall haue prosperitie for euer.

18 Some man is rich by his care and nigardship, and that is the portion of his reward:

Luke 12.9. 19 In that he saith, *Now haue I gotten rest, and now will I eate and drinke of my goods my selfe alone: and yet hee considereth not that the time draweth nigh, and death approcheth that hee must leaue all these things vnto other men, and die himselfe.

Mat.10.22. 20 *Stand thou fast in thy couenant, and exercise thy selfe therein: and remaine in the worke vnto thy age.

21 Maruell not at the works of sinners, but put thy trust in God, and bide in thy labour: for it is but an easie thing in the sight of God to make a poore man rich, and that suddenly.

22 The blessing of God hasteth to the reward of the righteous, & maketh his fruites soone to flourish, and prosper.

23 Say not, what helpeth it me? & what good thing shall I haue hereafter?

24 Againe, say not, I haue ynough, how can I want?

Eccl.18.2. 25 When thou art in *welfare, forget not thine aduersitie, and when it goeth not well with thee, haue a good hope that it shalbe better:

26 For it is but a small thing vnto God in the day of death, to reward euery man according to his wayes.

27 The aduersitie of an houre maketh one to forget all pleasure: and when a man dieth, his works are discouered.

28 Iudge no man blessed before his death: for a man shalbe known in his children.

29 Bring not euery man into thine house: for the deceitfull laieth wayte diuerly, and a are like stomacks that belch filthily.

30 Like as a partrich in a maund, so is the heart of the proud: and like as a spie that looketh vpon the fall of his neighbour.

a That is, after they haue tipp secretly, better the same with sligh tnesse.

31 For he turneth good vnto euil, and slandereth the chosen.

32 Of one sparke is made a great fire, and of one deceitfull man is blood encreased: and an vngodly man layeth wayte for blood.

33 Beware of the deceitfull, for he imagineth wicked things, to bring thee into a perpetuall shame.

34 If thou takest an aliant vnto thee, hee shall destroy thee in vnquietnesse, & driue thee from thine owne wayes.

The xii. Chapter.

2 Vnto whom we ought to do good. 10 Enemies ought not to be trusted.

WHen thou wilt doe good, know to whom thou doest it, & so shalt thou be greatly thanked for thy benefites.

2 Doe good vnto the righteous, and thou shalt find great reward, though not of him, yet no doubt the Lord himself shal reward thee.

3 He standeth not in a good case that is alway occupied in euill, and giueth no almes: for the highest hateth the sinners, and hath mercy vpon them that shew the workes of repentance.

4 Giue thou vnto such as feare God, and receiue not a sinner.

5 As for the vngodly and sinners, he shall recompense vengeance vnto them, and keepe them to the day of wrath.

6 Giue thou vnto the good, and receiue not the sinner, do well vnto him that is lowly, but giue not to the vngodly: Let not the bread be giuen him, that he be not mightier then thy selfe therein: for so shalt thou receiue twise as much euil, in all that good that thou doest vnto him.

7 And why? the highest hateth sinners, and shall reward vengeance to the vngodly.

8 In prosperitie a friend shall be knowen, and in aduersitie an enemie shall not be hid.

9 For when a man is in wealth, it grieueth his enemies: but in heauinesse & trouble a mans very friend will depart from him.

10 Trust neuer thine enemie: for like as iron rusteth, so doeth his wickednesse.

11 And though he make much crouching and kneeling, yet keepe well thy minde and beware of him, and thou shalt bee to him as he that wipeth a glasse, and thou shalt know that all his rust hath not bene well wiped away.

12 Set him not by thee, neither let him sit at thy right hand: least he turne him, get into thy place, take thy roome, and seeke thy seate, and so thou at the last remember my words, and be pricked at my sayings.

13 Binde not two sirmes together: for there there shall not one be vnpunished.

14 Who will haue pitie of the Charmer that is stinged of ꝧ Serpent, or of all such as come nigh the beasts?

15 Euen so is it with him that keepeth company with the wicked man, and lappeth himselfe in his sinnes.

16 For a season will he bide with thee: but if thou stumble, he tarieth not.

17 An enemie is sweete in his * lippes, he can make many wordes, and speake many good things: Yea, hee can weepe with his eyes, but in his heart he imagineth how to throw thee into the pit, and if hee may finde opportunitie, hee will not bee satisfied with blood. Ier. 41. 6.

18 If aduersitie come vpon thee, thou shalt find him there first: and though he pretend to do thee helpe, yet shall he vndermine thee.

19 He shal shake his head & clap his hands ouer thee for very gladnes: and while he maketh many words, he shall disguise his countenance.

The xiij. Chapter.

1 The companies of the proude and of the rich are to bee eschewed. 15 The loue of God. 17 Like do companie with their like.

WHo so toucheth pitch, shalbe defiled withall: & * he that is familiar with the proud, shall clothe himselfe with pride. Deu. 7. 2.

2 Hee taketh a burden vpon him, that accompanieth a more honourable man then himselfe, therefore keepe no familiaritie with one that is richer then thy selfe: How agree the kettle and the pot together? for if the one be smitten against the other, it shalbe broken.

3 The rich dealeth vnrighteously, & threatneth withall: but the poore being oppressed, and wrongfully delt withall, suffereth scarcenesse, & giueth faire wordes. If the rich haue done wrong, yet must he be entreated: but if the poore haue done it, he shal straightwayes be threatned.

4 If thou be for his profit, he vseth thee: but if thou haue nothing, he shall forsake thee.

5 As long as thou hast any thing of thine own, he shalbe a good fellow with thee: yea, he shall make thee a bare man, and not be sorie for thee.

6 If he haue need of thee, he shall defraud thee, and with a priuy mocke shal he put thee in an hope, and giue thee all good words, and say, What wantest thou?

7 Thus shall he shame thee in his meate, vntill hee haue supt thee cleane vp twise or thrise, and at the last shall hee laugh thee to scorne: afterward, when he seeth that thou hast nothing, he shall forsake thee, and shake his head at thee.

8 Submit thy selfe vnto God, and waite vpon his hand.

9 Beware that thou bee not deceiued and brought downe in thy simplenes: be not too humble in thy wisedom, least when thou art brought low, thou bee deceiued through foolishnesse.

10 If thou be called of a mightie man, absent thy selfe, so shall hee call thee to him the more oft.

11 Preasse not thou vnto him, that thou be not shut out: but go not thou farre off, lest he forget thee.

12 Withdraw not thy self from his speach, but beleeue not his many wordes: for with much communication shall hee tempt thee, and with a priuy mocke shal he question with thee of thy secrets.

13 The vnmerciful mind of his shal marke thy words, he shal not spare to doe thee hurt, and to put thee in prison.

14 Beware & take good heede to thy selfe, for thou walkest in perill of thy ouerthrowing: Nowe when thou hearest his wordes, make thee as though thou wast in a dreame, and wake vp.

15 Loue God all thy life long, and call vpon him in thy need.

16 Euery beast loueth his like: euen so let euery man loue his neighbour.

17 All flesh will resort to their like, and euery man will keepe companie with such as he is himselfe.

18 But as ꝧ wolfe agreeth with the lamb: so doeth the vngodly with the righteous.

19 a What peace is there betweene Hiena and a dog? how can the rich and the poore agree together?

a That is, with a sinner that returneth continually to his sin againe as a dog to his vomit: as elis after the other translation, Hyena is a subtile beast, watching about sheepe-heards folds, resembling a mans voyce, and learning certaine names, doeth call the shepe, and so destroy them, whose nature is contrary to the dog, which is a keeper of the fold, & friendly vnto man.

20 The wild Asse is the Lions praie in the wildernesse: euen so are poore men the meate of the rich.

21 Like as the proud may not away with lowlinesse: euen so doeth the rich abhorre the poore.

22 If a rich man fall, his friends set him vp againe: but when the poore falleth, his acquaintance forsake him.

23 If a rich man fal into an error, he hath many helpers, he speaketh proud words, and yet men iustifie him: but if a poore man goe wrong, he is punished, yea though hee speake wisely, yet can it haue no place.

24 When the rich man speaketh, euery body holdeth his tongue, & looke what he saith, they praise it vnto the clouds: but if the poore man speake, they say, What fellow is this? and if he doe amisse, they shall destroy him.

25 Riches are good vnto him that hath no sinne in his conscience: and pouerty is a wicked thing in the mouth of the vngodly.

26 The heart of man changeth his countenance, whether it be in good or euil.

27 A cheerefull countenance is a token of a good heart: for else it is an hard thing to know the thought.

BLessed * is the man that hath not fallen with the worde of his mouth, and is not pricked with the conscience of sinne.

2 Happy is hee that hath no heauinesse in his mind, and is not fallē from his hope in the Lord.

3 It becommeth not a couetous man and a niggard to be rich: and what should an enuious man do with money?

4 He that with all his carefulnes heapeth together vnrighteously, gathereth for other folks, & another man shall make good cheare with his goods.

5 Hee that is wicked vnto himselfe, howe should he bee good vnto other men? how can such one haue any pleasure of his goods?

6 There is nothing worse then when one disfauoureth himselfe: and this is a reward of his wickednesse.

7 If hee doeth any good, hee doeth it, not knowing thereof and against his wil, and at the last he declareth his vngraciousnesse.

8 A niggard hath a wicked eie, he turneth away his face, and despiseth men.

1 The goodnesse that foloweth him which feareth God. 8 God reiecteth and casteth off the sinner. 11 God is not the author of euill.

HE that feareth God, will doe good, & who so keepeth the law, shall obtaine wisedome.

5 She shall bring him to honour among his neighbours, and in the midst of the congregation shall shee open his mouth: with the spirit of wisdome and vnderstanding shal she fil him, and clothe him with the garment of glory.

6 Shee shall heape the treasure of myth and ioy vpon him, and giue him an euerlasting name to heritage.

7 Foolish men wil not take hold vpon her, but such as haue vnderstanding will meete her: foolish mē shal not see her, for she is farre from pride and deceit.

8 Men that goe about with lies, will not remember her: but men of trueth shall bee found in her, and shall prosper euen vnto the beholding of God.

10 But if praise come of wisedom, and be plenteous in a faithful mouth, then the Lord will prosper it.

11 Say not thou, It is the Lordes fault that I am gone by: for thou shalt not doe the thing that God hateth.

12 Say not thou, Hee caused mee to do wrong: for he hath no need of the vngodly.

13 God hateth all abomination of error, and they that feare God, will loue none such.

The xvi. Chapter.

1 Of vnhappie and wicked children. 39 No man can hide himselfe from God.

DEsire not thou in the multitude of vngodly children, and haue no pleasure in them, if they feare not God.

2 Trust not thou to their life, and regarde not their labours.

3 For one sonne that feareth God, is better then a thousande vngodly: and better it is for a man to die without children, then to leaue behind him such children as are vngodly.

4 For by one that hath vnderstanding, may a whole citie bee vpholden: but though the vngodly bee many, yet shall it bee wasted through them.

5 Many such things haue mine eie seene, and greater things then these haue I heard with mine eares.

Gen.19.24 8 *Neither spared he them among whom Lot was a stranger: but smote them, and abhorred them, because of the pride of their wordes.

9 Hee had no pitie vpon them, but destroyed all the people that were so stoute in sinne.

Nu.14.15. 10 And forasmuch as he ouerlaw the *fire hundred thousand that gathered themselues together in the hardnes of their heart, in afflicting them, in pitying them, in smiting them, and healing them with mercie & chastisement: it were maruaile if one beeing hardnecked should be free.

Eccle.5.10 11 For *mercie and wrath is with him, he is both mightie to forgiue, and to powre out displeasure.

12 Like as his mercie is great, euen so is his punishment also: hee iudgeth a man according to his workes.

13 The vngodly shall not escape in his spoile, & the long patience of him that sheweth mercie, shall not bide behind.

14 He will make a place for euery mercifull deed, and euery man shall find according to his workes.

15 The Lorde hardened Pharao that he should not knowe him, and that his workes might be knowen vpon the earth vnder the heauen.

16 His mercie is knowen to al creatures, hee hath separated his light from the darknesse with an Adamant.

17 Say not thou, I will hide my selfe from God: for who will thinke vpon mee from aboue? I shall not bee knowen in so great an heape of people: for what is my soule among so many creatures?

18 *Beholde the heauen, yea, the heauen of heauens of God, the deepe, the earth, and all that therein is, shall bee mooued at his presence. 2.Pet.7.10.

19 The mountaines, the hilles, and the foundations of the earth shal shake for feare, when God visiteth them.

20 These things doeth no heart vnderstand worthily: but he vnderstandeth euery heart.

21 And who vnderstandeth his wayes? no man seeth his stormes, and the most part of his workes are secrete.

22 Who will declare the workes of his righteousnesse? or who shal be able to abide them? for the couenant is farre from some, and trying out of men is in the ende.

23 Hee that is humble of heart, thinketh vpō such things: but an vnwise & erronious man casteth his mind vnto foolish things.

24 My sonne hearken thou vnto me, and learne vnderstanding, and marke my words with thine heart: I will giue thee a sure doctrine, and plainly shall I instruct thee.

25 Marke my words then in thine heart: for in righteousnesse of the spirit do I speake of the wōders that God hath shewed among his workes from the beginning, and in the trueth doe I shew the knowledge of him.

26 God hath set his workes in good order from the beginning, and part of them hath he sundred from the other.

27 Hee hath garnished his workes from euerlasting, and their beginnings according to their generations: they are not hungry nor wearied in their labors, nor cease from their offices.

28 None of them hindred another, neither was any of thē disobedient vnto his words.

29 After this God looked vpon the earth, and filled it with his goodnesse.

30 With all maner of liuing beasts hath he couered the ground, and they all shall be turned vnto earth againe.

18 So the king went into his palace, and remained fasting, neither was there any instruments of musicke brought in before him, and his sleepe went from him.

19 But betimes in the morning at the breake of the day, the king arose, and went in all haste vnto the denne of the Lions.

20 Now as he came nigh vnto the denne, hee cryed with a piteous voyce vnto Daniel, yea, the king spake, and sayd vnto Daniel, O Daniel, thou seruant of the liuing God, is not thy God whome thou seruest alway able to deliuer thee from the Lions?

21 Then sayde Daniel vnto the king, O king, liue for euer.

22 [a] My God hath sent his angel, which hath shut the Lions mouthes, so that they might not hurt me, for mine [d] vnguiltinesse is founde out before him: and as for thee, O king, I neuer [c] offended thee.

23 Then was the king exceeding glad for him, and commanded to take Daniel out of the denne: so Daniel was brought out of the denne, and no maner of hurt was founde vpon him, for hee [f] put his trust in his God.

24 And as for those men which had accused Daniel, the king commaunded to bring them, and to cast them into the lions denne, them, their children, their wiues: so the Lions had the masterie of them, and brake al their bones asunder or euer they came at the ground of the denne.

25 After this wrote king Darius vnto all people, nations, and tongues, that dwelt in all landes, Peace bee multiplied vnto you:

26 My commaundement is in all my dominion and kingdome, that men feare and stande in awe of Daniels God: for hee is the liuing God which abideth euer, his kingdome shall not fayle, and his power is euerlasting.

27 It is he that deliuereth and saueth, he doeth wonders and marueilous workes in heauen and in earth, he hath preserued Daniel from the power of the Lions.

28 * So this Daniel prospered in the reigne of Darius, and in the reigne of Cyrus of Persia.

The vij Chapter.

A vision of foure beasts is shewed vnto Daniel.

IN the first yeere of Balthasar king of Babylon, sawe Daniel a dreame, and there were visions in his head vpon his bed: which dreame he wrote, & declared the summe of the matter.

2 Daniel spake, and said, I sawe in my vision by night, and behold, the foure [g] windes of heauen stroue vpon the great sea.

3 And foure great beastes came vp from the sea, one diuers from another.

4 The first was a [b] Lion, and had Egles wings: I beheld till his wings were pluckt from him, and hee lifted vp from the earth, and set vpon his feete like a man, and there was giuen him a mans heart.

5 Beholde, another beast which was the second, was like a [c] Beare, and stoode vpon the one side: betwixt his teeth in his mouth hee had three ribbes, and it was sayde vnto him thus, Arise, eate vp much flesh.

6 Then I looked, and beholde, there was another like vnto a [d] Leoparde, this had wings as a foule, euen [e] foure vpon the back: this beast had foure heads, and there was power giuen him.

7 After this I sawe in a vision by night, and beholde, the fourth beast was [f] grimme and horrible, and marueilous strong: it had great yron teeth, it deuoured and destroyed, and stamped the residue vnder his feete, it was vnlike the other beastes that were before it: for it had [g] tenne hornes.

8 As I considered the hornes, beholde, there came vp among them another little horne, before whome there were three of the first hornes pluckt away: and beholde, this horne had eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking presumptuous things.

9 I beheld till the thrones were set vp, and the ancient of dayes did sit, whose garment was white as snowe, and the haires of his head like the pure wooll: his throne was like the fierie flame, and his wheeles as burning fire.

10 There issued foorth a fierie streame, and went out from before him: a thousand thousandes ministred vnto him, and tenne thousande thousandes stoode before him: the iudgement was set, and the bookes opened.

11 Then tooke I heede thereunto, because of the voyce of the proude wordes which the horne spake: I beheld till the beast was slaine, and his body destroyed, and giuen to be burnt in the fire.

12 As concerning the other beastes, they had their dominion taken away, but their liues were prolonged for a certaine time and season.

13 I sawe in visions by night, and beholde, there came one in the cloudes of heauen, like the sonne of man, which went vnto the ancient of dayes, before whome they brought him.

14 And hee gaue him dominion and honour, and a kingdome, that all people, nations, and languages should serue him: * his dominion is an euerlasting dominion, which shal neuer be taken away, and his kingdome shall neuer be destroyed.

15 I Daniel was troubled in my spirite in the middest of my body, and the visions of my head made me afraid.

i That is, Gods elect people, which shall haue a kingdome and church to continue in for euer.

18 But the [i] high saintes shall receiue a kingdome, and possesse a kingdome for euer, euen for euer and euer.

19 After this, I required to knowe the trueth concerning the fourth beast, which was so vnlike the other beasts, and so horrible, whose teeth were of yron, and his nayles of brasse, which deuoured and destroyed, and stamped the residue vnder his feete:

20 I desired also to knowe the trueth as touching the tenne hornes that he had vpon his head, and this other which came vp afterwarde, before whose face there fell downe three, which horne had eyes, and a mouth that spake presumptuous things, and looked with a grimmer visage then his [k] fellowes.

k That is, the three other empires.

21 I beheld, and the same horne made battell against the saints, yea, and preuailed against them, l That is, God which was before all times, as verse. 9.

23 He gaue me this answere, That fourth beast shall bee the fourth kingdome vpon earth, it shall be vnlike to all the kingdomes: it shall deuoure, treade downe, and destroy all other lands.

24 The ten hornes, are tenne kings that shall arise out of the kingdomes: after whom there shall stand vp another, which shall bee vnlike to the first, and hee shall subdue three kings:

25 And hee shall speake wordes against the highest of all, hee shall destroy the high saints, and thinke that he may change times and lawes: they shall be giuen into his hand vntill a time, and times, and the diuiding of a time.

26 But the iudgement shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and destroy it vnto the ende.

Luke 1. 33.

27 * And the kingdome and dominion, and the greatnesse of the kingdome vnder the whole heauen, shalbe giuen to the [m] people of high saints, whose kingdome is an euerlasting kingdome, and all power shal serue and obey it.

m That is, to the Church.

28 Hitherto the end of the wordes: I Daniel had many cogitations which troubled me, and my countenance changed in me: but the wordes I kept still in my heart.

The viij. Chapter.

A vision of a strife betweene a Ramme and a hee Goate.

IN the third yere of the reigne of king Balthasar, there appeared a vision vnto me, euen vnto me Daniel, [a] after that which I had seene in the beginning.

a Where the Prophet writes before he commeth to certaine particular visions as touching the destruction of the monarchie of the Persians and Grecians, by the name of Babylonians is put, and also vpon sufficiently spoken shall.

2 I sawe in a vision (and when I sawe it, I was in the palace of Susis, which is in the prouince of [b] Elam) and in the vision me thought I was in the riuer Vlai.

b Elam, is the kingdome of the Persians and Medes ioyned together.

3 Then I looked vp, and saw, and behold, there stood before the riuer a [c] Ramme which had two hornes, and these two hornes were high, but [d] one was higher then the other, and the highest came vp last.

d Shewing Cyrus, to be after greater power then Darius the Mede and the Persians.

4 I sawe that this Ramme pushed with his hornes against the west, against the North, and against the South: so that no [e] beastes might stand before him, nor defend them from his power, but hee did as him listed, and became great.

c Ro kings in number.

e Shewing to remember, that came vnto great reputation.

5 And as I considered, behold, there came a hee [f] Goate from the west ouer the whole earth, and touched not the ground, and this Goate had a [g] horne appearing betwixt his eyes.

f Through he came in the name of all Grecia, yet he bare the title and dignitie of the generall captaine, in that the Prouerbe hath attributed to him, aboue all the rest.

g Meaning onely Alexander the first king of Grecia.

6 And hee came vnto the Ram that had the two hornes (whom I had seene standing by the riuer) and ranne fiercely vpon him with his might.

7 And I sawe him draw nigh vnto the Ramme, being very fierce vpon him, yea, hee [h] smote the Ramme, and brake his two hornes, neither had the Ramme so much strength as to stand before him: but hee cast him downe to the grounde, trode him vnder his feete, and there was none able to deliuer the Ramme out of his power.

h Meaning concerning the ruine of two kingdomes, and to put the things touched before more plainely.

8 Therefore the Goate waxed exceeding great, and when he was at the strongest, his great horne was broken: then grewe there vnder foure notable ones in the stead of it, toward the foure windes of heauen.

9 And out of one of them came forth a little horne, which waxed very great, toward the South, toward the East, and toward the pleasant land.

10 [i] It grew vp vnto the hoste of heauen, whereof it did cast some to the grounde, and of the starres also, and trode them vnder foote.

i That is, Antiochus, in raging against the elect of God.

11 Yea, it grewe vp against the [k] prince of the hoste, from whom the daily sacrifice was taken away, and the places of the sanctuarie cast downe.

k That is, God.

12 And power was giuen vnto it ouer the daily sacrifice for the iniquitie, and it shall cast downe the trueth to the grounde: and thus it shall doe, and prosper.

l This horne shall abolish for a time the true doctrine, and so corrupt Gods seruice.

13 Vpon this I heard one of the Saints speaking, and one of the [m] Saints spake vnto [n] Palmoni, saying, Howe long shall the vision of the daily sacrifice and of the iniquitie of desolation endure, to giue both the sanctuarie and the power to be troden vnder foote?

14 And hee answered mee, Vnto the [c] Euening and the morning, two thousand and three hundred: then shall the sanctuarie bee cleansed.

15 Nowe when I Daniel had seene this vision, and sought for the vnderstanding of it, behold, there stood before me [r] like the similitude of a man.

16 And I heard a mans voyce [q] betweene Ulai, which cryed, and saide, * O Gabriel, [r] make this man vnderstand the vision.

17 So hee came and stoode by mee, but I was afraide at his comming, and fel downe vpon my face: then saide he vnto me, Vnderstand, O thou sonne of man: for at the [s] time of the end this vision shalbe.

18 Nowe as hee was speaking vnto me, I fell in a slumber vpon my face to the ground: but hee touched me, and set mee vp in my place.

19 And he said, Behold, I will shewe thee what shalbe in the last wrath: for in the time appointed it shall be fulfilled.

20 The Ramme which thou sawest hauing two hornes, is the king of the Medes and Persians.

21 And the Goate is the king of Grecia: and the great horne that is betwixt his eies, that is the first king.

22 But whereas it brake, & foure other rose vp in the stead, it signifieth that out of one of this people shal stand vp foure kingdoms, but not so mightie as it.

23 And in the end of their kingdom, when the wicked are come to the full, a king of a fierce countenance, & vnderstanding hard sentences, shall stand vp.

24 His power shall be mightie, but not in [u] his strength, and hee shall destroy wonderfully, hee shall prosper, and practise, and destroy the [x] mightie and the holy people.

25 And through his pollicie also, he shall cause craft to prosper in his hands, hee shall extoll himselfe in his heart, and in prosperitie hee shall destroy many, and many one shall hee put to death in his wealthinesse: hee shall stand vp against the [y] prince of princes, but hee shall bee destroyed without [z] hand.

26 And the vision of the * Euening and morning which is declared, is true: therefore seale thou vp the vision, for it shall be after many dayes.

27 Vpon this was I Daniel feeble, so that I lay sicke certaine dayes: but when I rose vp, I went about the kings businesse, and was astonied at the vision, nevertheles, no man vnderstood it.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Daniel desireth to haue that performed of God, which hee hath promised concerning the returne of the people from their banishment in Babylon. 26 The death of Christ.

IN the first yeere of * Darius the sonne of [a] Ahasuerus, which was of the seede of the Medes, and was made king ouer the [b] realme of the Chaldees,

2 Euen in the first yeere of his reigne, I Daniel vnderstood [c] by bookes the number of the yeeres, whereof the Lorde spake vnto Jeremie the Prophet that he would accomplish seuentie yeeres in the desolation of Hierusalem.

3 And I turned my face vnto the Lorde God, and sought by prayer and supplication, with fasting, sackcloth, and ashes.

4 I prayed vnto the Lorde my God, and made my confession, * saying, O Lord God great and fearefull, which keepeth couenant and mercy with them that loue [‡] him, and keepe his commandements,

5 * We haue sinned, and haue committed iniquitie, and haue done wickedly, yea, wee haue rebelled, and haue departed from thy precepts, and from thy iudgements,

6 Wee would not obey thy seruants the Prophetes that spake in thy name to our kings and princes, to our forefathers, and to all the people of the land.

7 O Lord, righteousnesse belongeth vnto thee, vnto vs open shame, as is come to passe this day vnto euery man of Juda, and to them that dwell at Hierusalem, yea, vnto all Israel, whether they bee farre or nigh, throughout all the lands whither thou hast driuen them, because of their offences that they haue done against thee.

8 Yea, O Lorde, vnto vs, to our kings, and princes, to our forefathers that haue offended thee, belongeth open shame.

9 Vnto the Lorde our God pertaineth compassion & forgiuenesse, though wee haue rebelled against him.

10 And we haue not obeyed the [d] voyce of the Lorde our God, to walke in his lawes which he laid before vs, by the hande of his seruants the Prophets,

11 Yea, all Israel haue transgressed and gone backe from thy law, so that they haue not hearkened vnto thy voyce: wherefore the [e] curse and othe that is written in the lawe of Moses the seruant of God against whome wee haue offended, is powred vpon vs:

12 And hee hath confirmed his wordes which hee spake against vs, and against our iudges that iudged vs, to bring vpon vs such a great plague as neuer was vnder heauen, like as it is nowe come to passe in Hierusalem.

13 Yea, al this plague, as it is written in the law of Moses, is come vpon vs: yet made we not our prayers before the Lord our God, that we might turne againe from our wickednesse, and vnderstand thy trueth.

14 Therefore hath the Lord watched vpon the plague, and brought it vpon vs: for the Lorde our God is righteous in all his workes which he doeth: for we would not hearken vnto his voyce.

Baruc.2.11. exo. 14.28.

15 And nowe, O Lorde our God, *thou that with a mightie hand hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt, to get thy self a name, which remaineth this day, we haue sinned, we haue done wickedly.

f That is, according to all thy mercifull promises, and performance thereof.

16 O Lord, according to all f thy righteousnesse, I beseech thee let thine anger and thy wrath be turned away from the citie of Hierusalem, thy holy hill: for because of our sinnes, and for the wickednes of our fathers, Hierusalem and thy people are a reproch vnto all them that are about vs.

17 Now therefore, O our God, heare the prayer of thy seruant, and his intercession: O let thy face g shine ouer thy sanctuarie that lyeth waste, for the h Lords sake.

g Shew thy selfe fauourable.

h That is, for thy Christes sake, in whom thou wilt accept all our prayers.

18 O my God, encline thine eare, & hearken, open thine eyes, behold how wee be desolated, yea, and the citie also which is called after thy name: for wee doe not present our prayers before thee in our i owne righteousnesse, but in thy great mercies.

i Declaring that the godly flee onely vnto gods mercies, & renounce their owne workes, whē they seeke for remission of their sinnes.

19 O Lorde heare, O forgiue Lorde, O Lorde k consider, and doe it, deferre not for thine owne sake, O my God: because thy name is called vpon thy citie, and vpon thy people.

k Thus he could not content himselfe with any vehemencie of wordes, when he was so led with a feruent zeale, considering Gods promise made to the citie in respect of the Church, & for the aduancement of Gods glory.

20 As I was yet a speaking at my prayers, knowledging mine owne sinnes, & the sinnes of my people Israel, presenting so mine intercession before the Lorde my God for the holy hill of my God:

21 Yea, while I was yet speaking in my prayer, the man Gabriel (whom I had seene afore in the vision) came flying, and touched mee about the time of the euening oblation:

22 And he enfourmed me, & talked with mee, and sayde, O Daniel, I am now come foorth to giue thee knowledge and vnderstanding.

l Ye alludeth to Jeremies prophecie, whereby he declared there should be seuentie yeeres of the Jewes captiuitie for the execution of gods iudgement: but now Gods mercie should seuen fold exceede his iudgement, in giuing them seuentie times seuen yeeres of a happier state, though not altogether voyde of affliction, which amounteth to foure hundred and ninetie yeeres, euen to the comming of Christ, and so then it should continue for euer.

23 At the beginning of thy supplications, the commandement came foorth, and I am come to shew thee, for thou art greatly beloued: therefore vnderstand the matter, and consider the vision.

24 l Seuentie weekes are determined ouer thy people, and ouer thy holy citie, to finish the wickednesse, & to seale vp the sinnes, and to reconcile the iniquitie, and to bring in euerlasting righteousnesse, to seale vp the vision and prophesie, and to anoint the most holy.

Math.24. 19.

25 Knowe therefore and vnderstande, that from the going foorth of the commandement to bring againe the people and to build Hierusalem, vnto Messiah the prince, there shall be seuen weekes, and threescore and two weekes: and the streete shalbe built againe, and the wall, euen in the straitnesse of time.

26 After these threescore and two weekes shall Messiah be slaine, and not for himselfe: and the people of the prince that shall come, shal destroy the citie and the sanctuarie, & the end thereof shalbe with a flood, and vnto the end of the battel it shall be destroyed by lations.

27 He shall confirme the couenant with many for one weeke, and in the middest of the weeke he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, and for the ouerspreading of the abominations, * he shall make it desolate, euen vntill the consummation determined shall be powred vpon the desolate.

The x. Chapter.

1 There appeareth vnto Daniel a man clothed in linen, 11 which sheweth him wherefore he was sent.

a Perswade this third yeere, because at this time the building of the temple began to be hindered by Cambyses tyrant of Persia, when the false Magi made warre in Media against the Assyrians, which was a discouraging to the godly and a great feare to Daniel.

IN the a third yeere of Cyrus king of Persia, there was shewed vnto Daniel, otherwise called Baltassar, a matter, yea a true matter, but it is yet a long time vnto it: he vnderstood the matter, and perceiued what the vision was.

2 At the same time I Daniel mourned for the space of three weekes of dayes.

3 I ate no pleasant bread, as for flesh and wine there came none within my mouth: no, I did not once anoint my selfe till the whole three weekes of dayes were fulfilled.

4 Vpon the foure and twentieth day of the first moneth, I was by the side of that great riuer, euen Hiddekel.

5 I lift vp mine eyes, and looked, and beholde, a man clothed in linen, whose loynes were girded vp with fine golde of Uphaz.

6 His bodie was like the Turkeis stone, his face to looke vpon was like lightning, his eyes as lampes of fire, his armes and feete were like in colour to pullished brasse, and the voyce of his wordes was like the voyce of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel alone sawe this vision, for the men that were with me saw not the vision: but a great fearefulnes fel vpon thē, so that they fled away, and hid them selues.

8 Therefore I was left alone, & saw this great vision, and there remained no strength in me: for my colour was turned in me into corruption, and I reteined no strength.

9 Yet heard I the voyce of his wordes: and when I heard the voyce of his wordes, I fell astonied vpon my face, and my face towarde the earth.

10 And beholde, a hande touched me, which set me vp vpon my knees, and vpon the palmes of my handes.

11 And he said vnto me, O Daniel, thou well beloued man, take good heede to the wordes that I say vnto thee, and stande in thy place: for vnto thee am I now sent. And when he had sayde these wordes vnto me, I stoode vp trembling.

12 Then said he vnto me, Feare not, Daniel: for since the first day that thou diddest set thine heart to vnderstand, and to chasten thy selfe before thy God, thy wordes were heard, and I am come for thy wordes.

13 But

13 But the [b] prince of the kingdome of Persia withstood me one and twentie daies: but loe, Michael, one of the chiefe princes came to helpe mee, and I remained there by the kings of Persia.

14 And I am come to shewe thee what shal come vnto thy people in the latter daies: for it will bee long yet or the vision bee fulfilled.

15 Now when he had spoken these words vnto mee, I cast downe my head to the ground, and held my tongue.

16 And beholde, there touched my lippes one very like vnto a man: then opened I my mouth, and spake, and sayde vnto him that stoode before mee, O my Lorde, by the vision my ‖ ioynts are turned out of their place, and I haue retained no strength.

17 For howe can the seruant of this my Lord talke with my Lord, being such a one? And as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither is there breath left in me.

18 Then there came againe and touched me one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me:

19 And sayde, O man greatly beloued, feare not, peace be vnto thee, be strong, and of good courage. So when hee had spoken vnto mee, I was strengthened, and saide, Speake on, my Lorde: for thou hast strengthened me.

20 Thus sayde he, Knowest thou wherefore I am come vnto thee? nowe will I returne to fight with the Prince of the Perses: as soone as I goe foorth, loe, the [c] Prince of Greeke land shall come.

21 Neuertheless, I will shewe thee that that is noted in the scripture of trueth: and there is none that helpeth mee in these things, but [d] Michael your Prince.

The xi. Chapter.

1 A prophecie of the kings of Persia. 3 Of the kingdom of Greece. 5 Of the kingdome of Egypt, and of the bond thereof. 15 Of the battell with the kingdome of Syria.

ND in the first yeere of Darius of Media [a] I stoode to comfort him, and to strengthen him.

2 And nowe will I shewe thee the trueth: beholde, there shall stand vp yet three kings in Persia, but the fourth shalbe farre richer then they all: and by his strength and by his riches he shall stirre vp all against the realme of Greeke land.

3 Then shall there arise yet a mightie king, that shall rule with great dominion, and doe what him list.

4 And when hee shall stand vp, his kingdome shall be [b] broken, and shall bee deuided toward the foure windes of the heauen, and not towarde his posteritie, nor according to his dominion which he ruled: for his kingdome shall bee plukt vp, euen for others beside these.

5 And the [c] king of the South shall be mightie, and [d] one of his Princes, and he shall preuaile against him, and beare rule: his dominion shalbe a great dominion.

6 And in the ende of yeeres they shall bee ioyned together, and the kings [e] daughter of the South shall come to the king of the North for to make agreement, but she shall not reteine the power of [f] the arme, neither shall he continue nor his arme, but she shall be deliuered to death, and they that brought her, and he that begate her, and he that comforted her in these times.

7 But out of the budde of her rootes shall one stand vp in his stead, which shall come with an armie, and shall enter into the fortresse of the king of the North, and doe with them as he list, and shall preuaile,

8 And shall also cary captiues into Egypt their gods, with their moulten images, with their precious vessels of siluer and of golde, and hee shall continue more yeeres then the king of the North.

9 So the king of the South shall come into his kingdome, and shall returne into his owne land.

10 Wherefore his sonnes shall bee stirred vp, and shal gather together a mightie great host of people, and one shall come and ouerflowe, and passe thorowe: then shal he turne againe, and be stirred vp at his fortresse.

11 Then the king of the South shall be angrie, and shall come forth to fight with him, euen with the king of the North: for he shall set foorth a great multitude, and the multitude shalbe giuen into his hand.

12 Then the multitude shalbe proud, and their hearts shalbe lifted vp, for hee shall cast downe thousands: but he shall not still preuaile.

13 For the king of the North shal returne, and shall set forth a greater multitude then afore, and shall come forth (after certaine yeeres) with a mightie armie and great riches.

14 And at the same time there shall many stand vp against the king of the South, so that the seditious children of thy people also shall exalt themselues to establish the vision, but they shall fall.

15 So the king of the North shall come and cast vp a mount, and take the strong cities: and the [g] armes of the South shall not resist, neither his chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to withstand.

16 And when hee commeth, he shall handle him as he list, and no man shall stand against him, hee shall stand in the pleasant [h] land, which by his hand shalbe consumed.

17 Againe, hee shall set his face to enter with the power of his whole kingdome, and his confederates with him, thus shall hee doe: and hee shall giue him the [i] daughter of women to destroy her, but she shall not stand on his side, neither be for him.

18 After this shall he turne his face vnto

21 In his steade there shall stand vp a vile person, to whome they shall not giue the honour of the kingdome: but hee shal come in peaceably, and obtayne the kingdome with flatteries.

22 And the armes shalbe ouerflowed with a flood before him, and also the prince of the couenant.

23 And after the league made with him, he shall worke deceitfully, for hee shall come vp, and ouercome with a small people.

24 He shall enter into the quiet and plentifull prouince, and hee shall doe that which his fathers haue not done, nor his fathers fathers: he shal diuide among them the pray, and the spoyle, and the substance, yea, and shall forecast his deuices against the strong holdes, euen for a time.

25 Also his power and heart shall bee styrre vp with a great armie against the king of the South: the king of the South shall bee mooued vnto battell with a great and a mightie hoste also: neuertheless, he shall not stand, for they shall forecast deuices against him.

26 Yea, they that feede of the portion of his meate shall destroy him, and his armie shall m ouerflowe, and many shal fall and bee slaine.

27 These two kings hearts shall be to doe n mischiefe, and they shall talke of deceite at one table, but it shall not prosper, for yet the ende shalbe at the time appointed.

28 Then shall he goe home againe into his land with great o substance, and set his heart against the holy couenant, so shall hee doe, and returne to his owne land.

29 At the time appointed he shall come againe, and goe toward the South: but the last shall not be as the first.

30 For the ships of p Chittim shall come against him, therefore he shal be sory, and returne, and fret against the holy couenant: so shall he doe, hee shall euen returne and haue intelligence with them that forsake the holy couenant.

31 And armes shal stand on his part, and they shall pollute the sanctuarie of strength, and shall take away the daily sacrifice, and they shall set vp the abominable desolation.

32 And such as wickedly breake the couenant, shall he cause to sinne by flatterie: but the people that knowe their God, shall preuaile and prosper.

33 Those also that haue vnderstanding among the people, shall enstruct the multitude, and for a long season they shal fall with the swoorde, with fire, with captiuitie, and with the taking away of their goods.

34 Nowe when they shal fall, they shalbe holpen with a little helpe, but many shall cleaue vnto them fainedly.

35 Yea, some of those that haue vnderstanding shal fall, that they may be tryed, purified, and made white, till the time bee out: for there is a time appointed.

36 And a king shall doe what him list, he shall exalt and magnifie himselfe against all that is good, yea, hee shall speake marueilous things against the God of Gods, and he shall prosper till the wrath be fulfilled: for the determinations made.

37 He shall not regard the God of his fathers, nor the desires of women, yea, he shall not care for any good: for hee shall magnifie himselfe aboue all.

38 But in his place shal he honour ỹ god Mauzzim, and the god whome his fathers knew not shal he honour, with gold & siluer, with precious stones, and pleasant things.

39 Thus shal he do in the holds of Mauzzim with a strange god whome hee shall acknowledge, he shall encrease his glory, and shall cause them to rule ouer many, and shall deuide the land for gaine.

40 And at the ende of time shal the king of the q South push at him, and the king of the North shall come against him like a whirlewinde, with charets, horsemen, & with many shippes: he shall enter into the countries, and shall ouerflowe, and passe thorow.

41 He shall enter also into the pleasant land, and many countreys shall be ouerthrowen: but these shall escape out of his hande, euen Edom and Moab, and the chiefe of the children of Ammon.

42 He shall stretch forth his hand also vpon the countreys, and the land of Egypt shal not escape.

43 But he shal haue power ouer the treasures of gold and of siluer, and ouer all the precious things of Egypt, and of ỹ Libyans and Ethiopians in his palling by them.

44 Neuertheless, the tydings out of the East r and the North shal trouble him, therefore he shall s goe forth with great wrath, to destroy and roote out many.

45 And hee shall plant the tabernacles of his palace betweene the seas, in the glorious and holy mountaine: yet he shall come to his ende, and none shall helpe him.

THe worde of the Lorde came vnto Osee the sonne of Beeri, in the dayes of Ozia, Joathan, Ahas, and Hezecias, kings of Juda, and in the time of Jeroboam the sonne of Joas king of Israel.

2 When the Lord spake first vnto Osee, he sayde vnto him, Goe take vnto thee a wife of [a] fornications, and children of fornications: for the land hath committed great fornication, departing from the Lorde.

3 So he went & tooke Gomer the daughter of Deblaim: which conceyued and bare him a sonne.

4 And the Lord sayde vnto him, Call his name Jezrahel: for I will shortly auenge the blood of Jezrahel vpon the house of Jehu, and will bring the kingdome of the house of Israel to an ende.

5 And in that day will I also breake the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezrahel.

6 And shee conceiued againe, and bare a daughter: and the Lord sayd vnto him, Call her name Loruhamah, that is, not obteining mercie, for I will no more haue pitie vpon the house of Israel, but I will vtterly take them away.

7 Yet I will haue mercy vpon the house of Juda, and will saue them, euen through the Lorde their God: and will not saue them by bowe, sworde, battell, horses, or horsemen.

children of Israel be gathered together, and appoynt themselues one head, and they shall come vp out of the land: for great shalbe the day of Iezrahel.

The ii. Chapter.

1 The people is called to repentance. 5 He sheweth their idolatrie, and threatneth them, except they repent.

TEll your brethren that they are my people, and your sisters that they haue obteyned mercie.

2 As for your mother, yee shall chide with her, and reproue her, for shee is not my wife, neyther am I her husband: let her therefore put away her whoredome from her face, and her adulterie from her breastes:

3 Lest I strip her naked, and set her euen as she came into the worlde, and make her as a wildernesse, and as a dry land, and slay her for thirst.

4 And I will haue no pitie vpon her children: for they be the children of fornication.

5 Their mother hath played the harlot, and she that bare them is come to confusion: for she sayde, I will goe after my louers, that giue me my bread and my water, my wooll and flaxe, my oyle and my drinke.

6 Therefore beholde, I will stoppe thy way with thornes, and make a hedge, that she shall not finde her paths.

7 And though she runne after her louers, yet shall she not ouertake them: she shall seeke them, but not finde them. Then shall she say, I will goe and returne to my first husbande: for at that time it was better with mee then nowe.

8 And she did not knowe that I gaue her corne, and wine, and oyle, and multiplyed her siluer and golde, which they bestowed on Baal.

9 Therefore will I returne and take away my corne in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and set againe my wooll and my flaxe which I gaue her to couer her shame.

10 And nowe will I discouer her shame, euen in the sight of her louers, and no man shall deliuer her out of my hands.

11 Moreouer, I will take away all her myrth, her holy dayes, her newe Moones, her Sabboths, and all her solemne feasts.

12 I will destroy her vineyardes and figge trees, whereof she sayde, These are my rewardes that my louers haue giuen me: I will make them as a wood, and wilde beasts shall eate them vp.

13 I will visite vpon her the dayes of Baal, wherein shee burned incense to him, and decked her selfe with earings and iewels, she followed her louers, and forgate mee, sayeth the Lord.

14 Wherefore beholde, I will allure her, and bring her into the wildernes, and speake friendly vnto her.

15 From thence wil I giue her her vineyardes againe, yea, and the valley of Achor for an entrie of hope: and shee shall sing there as in the dayes of her youth, and as in the day when shee came out of the lande of Egypt.

16 And at that day (sayth the Lord) thou shalt call me, O my husband, and shalt call me no more Baal.

17 For I will take away those names of Baal from her mouth, yea, she shall neuer remember their names any more.

18 Then wil I make a couenãt for them, with the beasts of the fielde, with the fowles of the ayre, and with euery thing that creepeth vpon the earth: As for bowe, sworde, and battell, I will destroy out of the lande, and will make them to sleepe safely.

19 And I will marrie thee vnto mine owne selfe for euer, yea, euen to my selfe will I marrie thee, in righteousnesse, in iudgement, in louing kindenesse and mercie.

20 In faithfulnesse also will I marrie thee vnto my selfe, and thou shalt know the Lorde.

21 At the same time wil I shewe my selfe gracious vnto the heauens, sayth the Lord, and the heauens shal helpe the earth.

22 And the earth shall helpe the corne, wine, and oyle: and they shal helpe Iezrahel.

23 *And I will sowe her for my selfe in the earth, and wil haue mercy vpon her that had not obteined mercy: and to them which were not my people, I will say, Thou art my people: and they shall say, Thou art my God. *1.Pet.2.10. rom.9.25.

The iii. Chapter.

1 The Iewes shal be cast off for their idolatrie. 5 Afterward they shal returne to the Lord.

THen sayd the Lorde to me, Goe yet and loue a woman beloued of her husband, and yet an adulteresse, according to the loue of the Lord toward the children of Israel: and yet they haue respect to strange gods, and loue the wine pots.

2 So I gate her for fifteene siluerlings, and for an homer and an halfe of barley,

3 And said vnto her, Thou shalt bide with me a long season, thou shalt not play the harlot, thou shalt be to no other man, and I wil be so vnto thee.

4 For the children of Israel shal sit a great while without king, without prince, without sacrifice, without image, without Ephod, and without Teraphim.

5 But afterward the children of Israel shalbe conuerted, and seeke the Lorde their God, and Dauid their king, and in the latter dayes they shall worshippe the Lorde, and his louing kindnesse.

The iiii. Chapter.

A complaint against the people, and the priestes of Israel.

Heare

HEare the worde of the Lord, O yee children of Israel, for the Lord hath a controuersie with the inhabitantes of the lande: for there is no trueth, there is no mercy, there is no knowledge of God in the land.

2 But swearing, lying, manslaughter, theft & adulterie hath gotten the ouerhand, and one bloodguyltinesse followeth another.

3 Therefore shall the lande mourne, and all they that dwell therein shalbe rooted out, the beasts of the fielde, the foules of the ayre, and the fishes of the sea, shalbe consumed.

4 Yet let no man rebuke or reproue another, for the people are as they that ‖ are at controuersie with the Priest.

‖Or, contend.

5 Therefore shalt thou fal in ỹ day time, and the Prophet with thee in the night, and I will bring thy mother to destruction.

6 My people perish for lacke of knowledge: because thou hast refused knowledge, therefore will I refuse thee also, so that thou shalt no more be my Priest: and for so much as thou hast forgotten the lawe of thy God, I will also forget thy children.

7 The more they encreased in multitude, the more they sinned against mee, therefore will I change their honour into shame.

8 They eate vp the * sinnes of my people, and encourage them in their wickednesse.

* That is, the priestes lusted after the peoples offerings, and suffered them to go on sinne. Esay 24. 2.

9 * Thus the Priest is become like the people: wherefore I will punish them for their wicked wayes, and reward them according to their imaginations.

10 They shal eate, and not haue ynough, they haue vsed whoredome, but shal not prosper, they haue forsaken the Lord, and not regarded him.

11 Whoredome, wine, and newe wine take the heart away.

12 My people aske counsel at their stocks, and their staffe teacheth them: for the spirite of fornication hath caused them to go astray, and they haue cõmitted fornication against their God.

13 They make sacrifices vpon the toppes of the mountaynes, and burne their incense vpon the hilles, yea, vnder the Okes, Poplars, and Elmes, for there are good shadowes: therefore your daughters are become harlots, and your spouses haue broken their wedlocke.

14 I will not punish your daughters for being defiled, and your spouses that became whores, seeing the fathers themselues haue medled with harlots, and sacrificed with whores: but the people that will not vnderstand, must be punished.

15 Though thou Israel play the harlot, yet let not Juda sinne, come not ye vnto Gilgal, neither goe ye to Bethauen, neither sweare ye, The Lord liueth.

16 For Israel is rebellious like an vnruly Heifer: nowe the Lorde will feed them as a Lambe in a large place.

17 Ephraim is become partaker of idols, let him alone.

18 Their drunkennesse stinketh, they haue committed whoredome: their rulers loue to say with shame, Bring ye.

19 The winde hath bound them vp in her wings, and they shall be ashamed of their sacrifices.

The v. Chapter.

1 Against the priests and rulers of Israel. 13 The helpe of man is in vayne.

HYe priestes, heare this, take heed, O thou houshold of Israel, giue eare, O thou house of the king, for iudgement is against you, because you are become as a snare on Mispah, and a spred net vpon the mount of Thabor.

2 They ‖ kill sacrifices by heapes, and turne farre from the Lord, and I haue bene a rebuker of them all.

‖Or they were profound wise to offer sacrifices.

3 I knowe Ephraim well ynough, and Israel is not hid fro me: for nowe, O Ephraim, thou art become an harlot, and Israel is defiled.

4 They will not giue their mindes to turne vnto their God: for the spirit of fornication is in the middest of them, and they haue not knowen the Lord.

5 And the pride of Israel doeth testifie to his face, therefore both Israel and Ephraim shall fal for their wickednes, and Juda with them also.

6 They shall come with their sheepe and bullockes to seeke the Lord, but they shal not finde him: for he is gone from them.

7 They haue transgressed against the Lorde, and brought vp bastard children: a moneth therefore shall deuoure them with their portions.

8 Blow with the shawmes at Gibea, and with the trumpet in Ramah, crye out at Bethauen, after thee, O Beniamin.

9 In the time of the plague shall Ephraim be laid waste, in the tribes of Israel haue I shewed the trueth.

10 The princes of Juda haue bene like them that remoue the lande markes, therefore will I powre out my wrath vpon them like water.

11 Ephraim is oppressed and broken in iudgement, because hee willingly ‖ followed the commandement.

‖Or, because he beginneth to goe about filthinesse, that is, to worship Ieroboams Calues.

12 Therefore will I be vnto Ephraim as a moth, and to the house of Juda as a caterpiller.

13 When Ephraim sawe his sickenesse, and Juda his disease, Ephraim went vnto Assur, and sent vnto king Jareb, yet coulde not he helpe you, nor ease you of your payne.

14 I will bee vnto Ephraim as a Lion, and as a Lions whelpe to the house of Juda: I, euen I will spoyle, and goe my way: I will take away, and no man shall rescue.

15 I will goe and returne to my place, til they they knowledge that they haue sinned, and seeke me. In their aduersitie they shall early seeke me.

a That is, diligently.

The vi. Chapter.

a Affliction causeth a man to turne to God. 2 The wickednesse of the Priestes.

COme, let vs turne againe to the Lord: for hee hath smitten vs, and hee shall heale vs, hee hath wounded vs, and hee shall bind vs vp againe.

1.Cor.15.4 2 *After two dayes shall hee quicken vs, in the third day he shall raise vs vp, so that we shall liue in his sight.

3 Then shal we haue vnderstanding, and endeuour our selues to knowe the Lorde: he shall go forth as a spring of the day, and come vnto vs as the rayne, and as the latter rayne vnto the earth.

4 O Ephraim, what shall I do vnto thee? O Juda, how shall I entreate thee? for your goodnesse is like a morning cloude, and like a dewe that goeth early away.

5 Therefore haue I cut downe the prophets, & let them be slaine for my words sake, so that thy punishment shall come to light.

Mat.9.17. and 12.7. Eccle.4.17 1.kin.15.22 6 *For I desired mercie, and not sacrifice: and the knowledge of God, more then whole burnt offerings.

7 But euen like as Adam did, so haue they broken my couenant, and set mee at nought.

8 Gilead is a citie of wicked doers, and is polluted with blood.

9 And as theeues armed wayte for him that passeth by the way: such is the counsell of the priests, which with one agreed counsel murder cruelly such as keepe the way, yea, they dare do all vnspeakeable mischiefe.

10 Horrible things haue I seene in the house of Israel: there is the fornication of Ephraim, and Israel is defiled.

11 Yea, and thou Juda keepest an haruest for thy selfe, when I returne the captiuitie of my people.

The vii. Chapter.

1 Of the vices and wantonnesse of the people. 12 Of their punishment.

WHen I vndertooke to make Israel whole, then the vngratiousnesse of Ephraim, and the wickednesse of Samaria came to light, for they go about with lyes, therefore the thiefe robbeth within, and the spoyler destroyeth without.

2 They consider not in their heartes that I remember all their wickednes: Now their owne inuentions haue beset them, which I see well ynough.

3 They make the king glad with their wickednesse, and the princes with their lies.

4 All these burne in aduulterie, as it were an ouen that the baker heateth whē he hath left kneading, till the dough be leauened.

5 That is the day of our king, the princes haue made him sicke with bottels of wine, he hath stretched out his hands to scorners.

6 For whiles they lye in waite they haue made readie their heart like an ouen, their baker sleepeth all night, in the morning it burneth as a flame of fire.

7 They are altogether as hot as an ouen, and haue deuoured their owne Judges, all their kings are fallen, yet is there none of them that calleth vpon me.

8 Ephraim hath myxt himselfe among heathen people, Ephraim is become like a cake that no man turneth.

9 Strangers haue deuoured his strength, and he regardeth it not: her wareth full of gray haires, yet will he not know it.

10 And the pride of Israel testifieth to his face, yet will they not turne to the Lord their God, nor seeke him for all this.

11 Ephraim is like a Doue that is beguyled, and hath no heart: nowe call they vpon the Egyptians, nowe goe they to the Assyrians.

12 But while they bee going here and there, I shall spread my nette ouer them, and drawe them downe as the fowles of the ayre: and according as they haue bene warned, so will I punish them.

13 Woe bee vnto them, for they haue forsaken mee, they must bee destroyed, for they haue set mee at nought: I am hee that hath redeemed them, yet haue they spoken lyes against me.

14 They call not vpon mee with their heartes, but lye howling vpon their beddes: they will assemble themselues for corne and wine, but they rebell against me.

15 I haue bounde vp and strengthened their arme: yet doe they imagine mischiefe against me.

16 They turne themselues, but not to the most highest, and are become as a broken bowe, their princes shall bee slaine with the sworde for the malice of their tongues: this shalbe their derision in the land of Egypt.

The viii. Chapter.

The destruction of Iuda and Israel, because of their Idolatrie.

SEt the Trumpe to thy mouth, swiftly as an Eagle shall the enemie come against the house of the Lord: for they haue broken my couenant, and transgressed my lawe.

2 Israel should haue said vnto me, Thou art my God, we know thee.

3 But hee hath refused the thing that is good, therefore shall the enemie pursue him.

4 They haue ordeyned kings, but not through me, they haue made princes, and I knewe it not: of their siluer and golde haue they made them idoles, therefore shal they be destroyed.

5 Thy Calfe, O Samaria, hath cast thee off, off, for my wrathful indignation is gone forth against them: how long wil they be without innocencie?

6 For the Calfe came from Israel, ẏ workman made it, therefore can it be no God: but euen in pieces shall the Calfe of Samaria be broken.

7 They haue sowen wind, therefore shall they reape a whirlewind: it hath no stalke, the bud shal bring forth no meale: and if happly it doe, strangers shall deuour it vp.

8 Israel is deuoured, now shall they be among the Gentiles as a vessell of no reputation.

9 For they haue gone vp to Assyria, and are as a wild Asse solitarie by himselfe: Ephraim hath hired louers.

10 And though they haue hired them among the heathen, yet nowe will I gather them, and they shall begin to be wearie with the burden of the king and the prince.

11 Ephraim hath made many altars to doe wickednesse, his altars I say he had to his sinne.

12 I haue written to them ẏ great things of my lawe, but they are counted as a strange thing.

13 They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifice of mine offerings, and eate it, but the Lord hath no pleasure in it: now wil he remember their iniquitie, and visite their sinnes, they shall returne into Egypt.

14 For Israel hath forgotten him ẏ made him, and hath builded faire palaces, and Iuda hath encreased strong cities: but I will send a fire into their cities, ẏ it shall consume their palaces.

The ix. Chapter.

Of the hunger and captiuitie of Israel.

DO not thou triumph, O Israel, make no boasting ouer ioyous things as doe the heathen: for thou hast committed adulterie against thy God, whorish rewards hast thou loued more then all the corn floores.

2 The corne floore and the wine presse shal not feede them: and the newe wine shal faile them.

3 They shall not dwell in the Lords land, but Ephraim shall turne againe into Egypt, and eate vncleane things among the Assyrians.

4 They powre out no wine for a drinke offering vnto the Lorde, neither shall their slayne offerings bee pleasant vnto him, they shalbe vnto them as the bread of mourners, all they that eate shall bee defiled: for their bread [a] for their soules shal not come into the house of the Lord.

[a] Ye sacrifice and offer vp your soules.

5 What will yee doe then in the solemne day, and in the feast day of the Lord?

6 For behold, they are gone away for destruction, but Egypt shall gather them, and Memphis shall burie them: the nettles shall possesse the pleasaunt places of their siluer, thornes shalbe in their tabernacles.

7 The dayes of visitation are come, the dayes of recompence are come: and then shall Israel know that they were deceiued by a foolish, madde, and frantike prophet: for the multitude of their iniquitie God shall multiplie enemies against thee.

8 The watchman of Ephraim was with my [b] God, but the prophet is the snare of a fouler in all his wayes, and an abomination in in the house of his God.

[b] At the beginning the teachers instructed the people out of Gods word onely: but afterward trained them to idolatrie. Iud. 19. 18.

9 * They haue gone to the bottome, they are corrupt as in the dayes of Gibea: therefore he will remember their iniquitie, and visite their sinnes.

10 I found Israel like grapes in the wildernesse, and sawe their fathers as the first ripe in the figge tree at her first season, but they went to Baal Peor, and separated themselues to that shame, and became as abominable as their louers.

11 Ephraim their glory shall flee away like a bird: from the byrth, from the wombe, and from the conception.

12 And though they bring vp children, yet I will destroy them before they be men: yea, woe shall come to them when I depart from them.

13 Ephraim (as me thinke) is planted in a pleasant place, like as is Tyrus: but nowe must she bring her owne children forth to the manslayer.

14 O Lorde giue them: what shalt thou giue them? Giue thē an vnfruitful wombe, and dry breasts.

15 * All their wickednesse is done at Gilgal, there doe I abhorre them: for the vngratiousnesse of their owne inuentions I will driue them out of my house, I wil loue them no more, for all their princes are vnfaithfull. 1. Kin. 8. 3.

16 Ephraim is hewen down, their roote is dryed vp, so that they shall bring no more fruite: yea, and though they bring forth any, yet will I slay euen the best beloued of their body.

17 My God shall cast them away, for they haue not bene obedient vnto him, therefore shall they wander among the heathen.

The x. Chapter.

1 Against Israel and his idoles. 14 His destruction for the same.

ISrael is an [a] emptie vine yet hath it brought forth fruite to it selfe, according to the multitude of the fruite thereof hee hath encreased the altars, according to the goodnes of their land, they haue made them faire images.

[a] As the vine spoiled of her grapes beareth new the yere following, so the Israelites trusting rest after afflictions, renewed their former wickednesse and idolatrie.

2 Their heart is deuided, therefore shall they nowe be destroyed, the Lord shall breake downe their altars, hee shall destroy their images.

3 For nowe shall they say, wee haue no king, king, because wee haue not feared the Lorde, and what should then a king do to vs?

4 They haue spoken wordes, sweering falsly in making a [b] couenant: thus [c] iudgement groweth as wormewood in the furrowes of the field.

b Promising to be faithful to God.
c They pretend sinceritie, but their fruits shewed the contrary, much like as when wormewood groweth where wheate was looked for.

5 They that dwel in Samaria shal feare, because of the calfe of Bethauen, for the people thereof shall mourne ouer it, yea, and the priests also reioiced on it for the glory thereof, because it is departed from it.

6 It shall be brought to the Assyrian for a present to the king Jareb: Ephraim shall receiue shame, and Israel shall bee confounded for his owne imaginations.

7 Samaria with his king shall vanish away as the fome vpon the water.

8 The high places of Auen where Israel doth sinne, shalbe destroied, thistles & thornes shal grow vpon their altars: *then shall they say to the mountaines, Couer vs, and to the hils, Fall vpon vs.

Luke 23. 30. apoc. 9. 16.

9 O Israel, thou hast sinned from the dayes [d] of Gabaa: there they stoode, the battell in Gabaa against the children of iniquitie did not touch them.

d In those daies wast thou as wicked as the Gadaonites, and hast continued in the same euer sithens.

10 It is my desire that I should chastise them, and the people shalbe gathered against them, when they shal ioyne themselues together in their two [e] furrowes.

e Binding themselues togither by leagues to aide one another, as cattell are yoked together at the plough.

11 And Ephraim is as an heifer vsed to delite in [f] treading out the corne: but I wil passe by her faire [g] necke, I will make Ephraim to [h] ride: Juda shall [i] plowe, & Jacob shal breake his clods.

f Delighting in pleasure & profit without paine.
g I will lay the yoke of affliction on his necke.
h To be caried away into captiuitie.
i The remnant of the people shall remaine and till the ground.

12 Sow to your selues in righteousnesse, and reape the fruites of well doing, plowe vp your fresh land: for it is time to seeke the Lorde, till he come and raine righteousnesse vpon you.

13 For you haue plowed vngodlines, you haue reaped iniquitie, you haue eaten the the fruit of lies, because thou puttest thy confidence in thine owne wayes, and leanest to the multitude of thy strong men.

14 There shall growe a sedition among thy people, all thy strong cities shall bee layed waste, euen as Salma destroyed Beth Arbel in the day of battell, where the mother with the children were dashed in pieces.

15 Euen so shall Bethel doe vnto you, because of your malicious wickednes: in a morning shal the king of Israel be destroyed.

9 I will not execute the fiercenesse of my wrath, I will not returne to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man, the holy one in the midst of thee, and I will not enter into the citie.

10 They shall walke after the Lord, hee shall roare like a Lion: when he shall roare, then the children of the west shall feare.

11 They ‖ shall feare as a sparowe out of Egypt, and as a doue out of the land of Assur, and I will place them in their houses, saith the Lord.

The xiij. Chapter.

1 The abomination of Israel, 9 and cause of their destruction.

WHen Ephraim spake, there was trembling, he was exalted among the Israelites: but he hath sinned in Baal, and is dead.

2 And nowe they sinne more and more, and of their siluer they haue made them molten images after the imaginations of their owne braines, that is very idols, and yet all is nothing but the worke of the craftesman, a they say one to another, whiles they sacrifice a man, let them kisse b the calues.

a What they learned their fathers in deede. b That is, worship the calues as the kings Ieroboam.

3 Therefore they shall be as the morning cloude, and as the dewe that early passeth away, and like as dust that the whirlewinde taketh away from the floore, and as smoke that goeth out of the chimney.

5 I did knowe thee in the wildernesse in the land of drought.

6 But when they were wel fed, and had enough, they waxed proude, and forgate me.

7 Therefore will I be vnto them as a lion, and as a leopard in the wayes to the Assyrians.

8 I will meete them as a shee beare that is robbed of her whelpes, and I will breake that stubburne heart of theirs, there will I deuoure them like a lion, yea, the wild beasts shall teare them.

9 O Israel, thine iniquitie hath destroyed thee: but in me onely is thy helpe.

14 I wil redeeme them from the power of the graue, and deliuer them from death: O death, I wil be thy death: O hell, I wil be thy sting: yet can I see no comfort.

Eze.19.12.

15 Though he grew among his brethren, *the East winde euen the winde of the Lord shall come vp from the wildernesse, and drie vp his veine, and his fountaines shalbe dried vp: he shall spoyle the treasure of all pleasant vessels.

16 Samaria shalbe made waste, for she is disobedient vnto her God: they shall perish with the sword, their children shall be dashed in pieces, and their women great with child shalbe ript vp.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 The destruction of Samaria. 3 He exhorteth the Israelites to turne to God, who requireth prayse & thankes.

ISrael, returne vnto the Lorde thy God, for thou hast fallen through thine owne wickednes.

2 Take these wordes with you when ye turne to the Lord, & say vnto him, O forgiue vs all our sinnes, receiue vs graciously, and then will we offer calues of our lippes vnto thee.

3 Ashur shall be no more our helper, neither wil we ride vpon horses any more, neither wil we say any more to the worke of our hands, Ye are our gods: for in thee the fatherlesse findeth mercy.

4 I wil heale their rebellion, I wil loue them freely: for mine anger is turned away from him.

5 I wil be vnto Israel as the dewe, and he shal grow as the lillie, and his roote shall breake out as the trees of Libanus.

6 His branches shall spread out abroade, and be as faire as the Oliue tree, and smell as Libanus.

7 They that dwel vnder his shadow, shall returne and growe vp as the corne, and florish as ỹ vine: he shall haue as good a ‖ name as the wine of Libanus.

‖ Or, sauour.

8 Ephraim shall say, what haue I to doe with idoles any more? I haue heard him, and looked vpon him, I am like a greene firre tree, vpon me is thy fruite found.

9 Who so is wise, shall vnderstande these things, and he that is right instruct, will regard them: for ỹ wayes of the Lorde are righteous, such as be godly wil walke in them: as for the wicked, they shal stumble therein.

The ende of the prophecie of Osee.

The booke of the Prophet Ioel.

The first Chapter.

1 A prophecie against the Iewes. 14 He exhorteth the people to prayer and fasting, for the miserie that was at hand.

THe woꝛd of the Lord that came to Ioel the sonne of Pethuel.

2 Heare ye this you elders, and hearken with your eares all you that dwell in this land: was there euer such a thing in your dayes, oꝛ in ẏ dayes of your fathers?

3 Of this thing tell your childꝛen, and let your childꝛen shewe it to their childꝛen, and their childꝛen to their posteritie afterwarde.

4 That which the caterpiller hath left, the grashopper hath eaten, and what the grashopper left, hath the a Canker woꝛme eaten, and what the Canker woꝛme left, the locust hath deuoured.

a That is, a woꝛme that hath wings, shaueth off the vtmost rine of herbes, and the tender darke of trées, feeding on them. Nah. 3.

5 Awake ye dꝛunkards, & weepe, howle all ye wine bibbers foꝛ lacke of newe wine: foꝛ it is cleane taken away frō your mouth.

6 Foꝛ a nation is come vp vpon my land, mightie, and without number: his teeth are as the teeth of a lion, and hee hath the iawes of a great lion.

7 He hath destroyed my vine, & barked my figge tree, hee hath pilled it, and cast it from him, and hath left boughes thereof white.

8 Lament as a virgin girded with sackecloth, foꝛ the husband of her youth.

9 The meat offring and dꝛinke offring is cut off from the house of the Lord, the pꝛiests I meane the Lords ministers mourne.

10 The fielde is wasted, the land mourneth: foꝛ coꝛne is destroyed, the newe wine is dꝛyed vp, the oyle is vtterly taken away.

11 Be yee ashamed, O yee husbandmen, howle, O yee vine dꝛessers, foꝛ the wheate and foꝛ the barley: foꝛ the haruest of the fielde is perished.

12 The vine is dꝛied vp, and the figge tree is decayed, the pomegranate tree, and the palme, and the apple tree, euen all the trees of the field are withered vp: foꝛ ioy is withered away from the sonnes of men.

13 Gird your selues, and lament, O yee pꝛiests, howle yee out yee ministers of the altar, come, and lie all night in sackcloth ye seruants of my God: foꝛ the meate and dꝛinke offerings are taken away from the house of your God.

Ioel 2.15. 14 *Pꝛoclaime a fast, call a congregation, gather the elders together, with all the inhabitants of the land, vnto the house of the Lord your God, and cry vnto the Lord, 15 Alas foꝛ this day, foꝛ the day of ẏ Lord is at hand, euen as a destruction from the almightie shall it come.

16 Is not the meate cut off before our eyes, yea mirth and ioy from the house of our God?

17 The seede is rotten vnder their clods, the garners are destroyed, the barnes are ouerthꝛowen: foꝛ the coꝛne is withered.

18 O howe cattel mourne, the heardes of beasts are in woefull case foꝛ lacke of pasture: and the flockes of sheepe are destroyed.

19 Vnto thee, O Lord, will I cry, foꝛ fire hath destroyed the fruitfull places of the desart, & the flame hath burnt vp all the trees of the fielde.

20 The beasts also of the field cry out vnto thee: foꝛ the riuers of water are dꝛied vp, and fire hath deuoured vp the fruitfull places of the desart.

The ij. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth of the comming and crueltie of their enemies. 13 An exhortation to moue them to conuert. 18 The loue of God toward his people.

BLowe vp a trumpet in Sion, and showte in my holy hill, let all the inhabitants of the earth tremble: foꝛ the day of the Lord is come, foꝛ it is nigh at hand.

2 A darke and gloomie day, a cloudie and blacke day: as the mozning is spꝛedde ouer the mountaines, so is this populous and strong people: like it there was none from the beginning, noꝛ shalbe hereafter foꝛ euermoꝛe.

3 Before him is a deuouring fire, and behinde him a burning flame: the land is as a pleasant garden before him, and behinde him a waste desart, yea and nothing shall escape him.

4 The shewe of him is as the shew of hoꝛses, and like hoꝛsemen, so shall they runne.

5 Like the noyse of charets vpon the tops of the mountaines they shall skippe, like the noise of a flaming fire deuouring the stubble, and as a strong people pꝛepared to battell.

6 Before his face shall the people tremble, the countenance of all folkes shall ware blacke.

7 They shall runne like strong men, and clime the walles like men of warre: and euery one shall marche on his way, and they shall not linger in their pathes.

8 No man shall thꝛust another, but euery one shall walke in his path: and if they shall fall on the swoꝛd, they shall not be wounded.

9 They shall runne to and fro in the citie, they shall run vp and downe vpon the wall, they shall clime into the houses, they shal enter in at the windowes like a thiefe.

10 *The earth shall quake before him, the heauens shall tremble, the sunne and the moone shall be darke, and the starres shall withdꝛawe their shining. Esai. 13.10 ezec. 3.7 mat. 24.29 mar. 13.24 luke 21.25

11 And

11 And the Lorde shall giue his voyce before his hoste, for his campe is exceeding great, for bee is mightie that executeth his commandement: * for the day of the Lord is great & very terrible, and who can abide it?

Ioel.2.7. amos 5.12. The Epistle on Ashwednesday.

12 But nowe saith the Lord, Turne you with me with all your hearts, with fasting, with weeping, and with mourning.

13 And rent your hearts, and not your garments, & turne you vnto the Lorde your God, * for he is gracious and mercifull, slowe to anger, and of great goodnesse, and he will repent him of the euill.

Psal.86.5. Ionas 4.1.

14 * Who knoweth whether the Lord wil returne and take compassion, and wil leaue behind him a blessing, euen meat offring and drinke offring vnto the Lord your God?

Ioel 1.14.

15 * Blowe the trumpet in Sion, proclayme a fast, call an assemblie, sanctifie the congregation.

16 Gather the people, gather the elders, assemble the children and sucking babes: let the bridegrome come foorth of his chamber, and the bride out of her closet.

17 Let the Priestes the Lordes ministers weepe betwixt the porche and the altar, and let them say, Spare thy people, O Lord, and giue not ouer thine heritage to reproch, that the heathen should rule ouer them: wherefore should they say amongst the Heathen, where is their God?

18 And then the Lord will be ielous ouer his land, and wil spare his people.

19 Yea, the Lord will answere and say to his people, Beholde, I will send you corne, and wine and oyle, and wil satisfie you therewith, and wil not giue you ouer any more to be a reproch among the Heathen.

20 And I will remoue farre off from you the Northren armie, and I wil driue him into a land barren and desolate, with his face towards the East sea, and his hinder partes towards the vttermost sea: & his stinch shall arise, and his corruption shal ascend, because he hath exalted himselfe to doe this.

21 Feare not, O thou land, be glad and reioyce: for the Lord wil doe great things.

22 Be not afrayd ye beasts of the field, for the fruitefull places of the desart are greene: for the tree beareth her fruite, the figge tree and the vine yeelde their strength.

23 Be glad then, ye children of Sion, and reioyce in the Lorde your God: for he ‖ hath giuen you moderate a rayne, and he wil send downe for you the rayne, euen the first rayne, and the latter rayne, and in the first moneth.

‖ Or, he hath giuen you the teacher of righteousnesse.

a At the first beginning belonging to sowing, and in the first beginning belonging to couering & harbouring of corne, that there bee no hinderance for lacke of necessarie rayne.

24 And the barnes shall bee filled with corne, and the presses shall ouerflowe with wine and oyle.

25 And I will restore to you the yeeres which the Grashopper, the Canker worme, the Locust, and the Caterpiller haue deuoured, my great armie which I sent amongst you.

26 And you shall eate in plentie, and bee satisfied, and shall praise the name of the Lord your God, which hath dealt wonderously with you, and my people shal not be ashamed any more.

27 And you shall knowe that I am in the middle of Israel, & that I am the Lorde your God, and none but I: and my people shall neuer be ashamed.

28 * And it shal come to passe after this, I will powre out my spirite vpon all flesh, and your sonnes and your daughters shall prophecie, your olde men shall dreame dreames, your yong men shall see visions.

Esai.44.1. acts.2.17.

29 Also in those dayes vpon the seruants, and vpon the handmaidens wil I powre out my spirite:

30 And I wil shewe wonders in heauen and in earth, blood, & fire, & pillars of smoke.

31 The Sunne shalbe turned into darknesse, and the Moone into blood, before that great and terrible day of the Lord come.

Ioel 3.15. mat.24.25. luke 21.25. Rom.10.13

32 * But whosoeuer shal call on the name of the Lord shalbe saued: for there shalbe deliuerance in mount Sion, and in Hierusalem, as the Lord hath promised, and also in the remnant whom the Lord shal call.

The iij. Chapter.

Of the iudgement of God against the enemies of his people.

FOr beholde, in those dayes and in that time when I shal bring againe the captiuitie of Iuda and Hierusalem,

2 I wil also gather all the Gentiles, and cause them to come into the valley of a Iehosaphat, and I wil plead with them there for my people and heritage Israel, which they haue scattered amongst the nations, and haue parted my land.

a He alludeth to the victorie described, 2.Chro.20.

3 And they haue cast lottes for my people, and changed the boy for an b harlot, and solde the girle for wine, that they might drinke.

b They bestowed the people of Gods people on whoredom & drunkennes.

4 And what haue yee to doe with me, O Tyre and Sidon, and all the coast of Palestine? will ye render me recompence? and if you recompense me, I shall swiftly and speedily returne your recompence vpon your owne heads.

5 For yee haue taken my siluer and my golde, my pleasant and precious things, and haue caryed them into your temples.

6 You haue solde also the children of Iuda, & the children of Hierusalem to the Grecians, that you might sende them farre from their owne countrey.

7 Beholde, I wil raise them out of that place whither you haue solde them, & wil returne your recompence vpon your own heads.

8 And I will sell your sonnes and your daughters into the hands of the children of Iuda, and they shall sell them vnto the Sabeans, to a nation that dwelleth a farre off: for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 Publish this thing among the Gentiles, proclaime warre, wake vp the mightie men, let all the men of warre drawe neere, and come vp.

10 Breake your plough ſhares into ſwordes, and your ſiethes into ſpeares, let the weake ſay, I am ſtrong.
11 Aſſemble your ſelues, and come all you Heathen, and gather your ſelues together round about, there ſhall the Lord caſt downe the mightie men.
12 Let the Heathen ariſe, and come vp to the valley of Iehoſaphat: for there wil I ſit to iudge all nations round about.
Apo.14.15 13 *Put in your ſiethes, for the harueſt is ripe, come ye and deſcend, for the [c] wine preſſe is full, yea the preſſes ouerflow: for their wickednes is multiplied.
[c] When the meaſure of wickedues is full, then deſtruction is at hand.
14 O people, people, come into the valley of ſinall ‖ iudgement: for the day of the Lorde is at hand in the valley of ſinall iudgement.
‖Or, threſhing.
Ioel 2.31. 15 *The ſunne and the moone ſhalbe darkened, and the ſtarres ſhall withdrawe their light.
Iere.25.30. amos 1.2. 16 *The Lorde alſo ſhall roare out of Sion, and out of Hieruſalem ſhall hee giue his voyce, the heauens and the earth ſhall ſhake: but the Lorde wil be the hope of his people, and the ſtrength of the children of Iſrael.
17 So ſhal ye knowe that I am the Lord your God, dwelling in Sion my holy mountaine: then ſhall Hieruſalem be holy, & there ſhal no ſtrangers paſſe thorow her any more.
18 *And in that day ſhal the mountaines Amos 9.13. drop downe ſweete wine, and the hilles ſhall flowe with milke, and all the riuers of Iuda ſhall run with water, and a fountaine ſhall come out of the houſe of the Lorde, and ſhall water the valley of Sittim.
19 Egypt ſhalbe waſte, and Edom ſhalbe a deſolate wildernelle: for the iniuries done to the children of Iuda, becauſe they haue ſhed innocent blood in their land.
20 But Iuda ſhall dwell for euermore, & Hieruſalem from generatiō to generation.
21 I wil alſo cleanſe the blood of them that I haue not cleanſed, and the Lord dwelleth in Sion.

The booke of the Prophet Amos.

The firſt Chapter.

1 The condition and ſtate of Amos, and the time of his prophecie. 3 The worde of the Lord againſt Damaſcus. the Philiſtines, Tyrus, Idumea, and Ammon.

THe wordes of Amos, who was among the ‖ ſhepherds at Thecua, which he ‖ ſawe vpon Iſrael in the dayes of Vſia king of Iuda, and in the daies of Ieroboam the ſonne of Ioas King of Iſrael, *two yeeres before the earthquake.
‖Or, heardmen.
‖Or, prophecied.
Zac.14.15. iere.25.30.
2 And he ſayde, The Lord ſhall roare out of Sion, and vtter his voyce from Hieruſalem: and the ‖ dwelling places of the ſhepheards ſhall ‖ mourne, and the top of Charmel ſhall wither.
‖Or, paſtures.
‖Or, periſh.
3 Thus ſayth the Lord, For [a] three ‖ wickednelles of Damaſcus, and for foure I wil not ‖ ſpare her, becauſe they haue threſhed Gilead with yron flayles.
[a] The manifolde ſinnes of Damaſcus, are meant by three & foure, which make ſeuen.
‖Or, tranſgreſſions.
4 But I will ſend a fire into the houſe of Hazael, and it ſhall deuoure the palaces of Benhadad.
‖Or, bring her againe, or turne to it.
5 I wil breake alſo the barres of Damaſcus, and ‖ roote out the inhabiters from the ‖ plaine of Auen, and him that holdeth the ſcepter, out of the houſe of ‖ Eden, and the people of Syria ſhal goe into captiuitie vnto Kir, ſayth the Lord.
‖Or, cut off.
‖Or, valley.
‖or, pleaſure
‖Or, Gaza.
6 Thus ſaith the Lord, For three wickednelles of ‖ Azza, and for foure, I wil not ſpare her: becauſe they caried ‖ away priſoners into captiuitie, to ſhut them vp in Edom.
‖Or, away priſoners ỹ whole captiuitie.
7 Therefore will I ſende a fire vpon the walles of ‖ Azza, which ſhall deuoure her palaces.
‖Or, Gaza.
8 And I will cut off the inhabiter from Aſdod, and him that holdeth the ſcepter from Aſcalon, and turne my hand to ‖ Ecron, and the remnant of the Philiſtines ſhall periſh, ſayth the Lord God.
‖Or, Accarō
9 Thus ſaith the Lorde, For three ‖ wickednelles of Tyre, and for foure, I will not ſpare her: becauſe they ſhut the whole captiuitie in Edom, and haue not remembred the [b] brotherly couenant.
‖Or, tranſgreſſions.
[b] For Edo (of whome came the Edomites) and Iacob were brethren.
10 Therefore will I ſende a fire vpon the wall of Tyre, and it ſhall conſume the palaces thereof.
11 Thus ſayth the Lorde, For three wickednelles of Edom, and for foure, I will not ſpare him: becauſe hee purſued his brother with the ſword, and did ‡ caſt off all pitie, and ‖ in his anger ſpoyled him continually, and his indignation he kept alwayes.
‡Heb. corrupt his cōpaſſions.
‖Or, his anger ſpoiled.
12 Therefore wil I ſend a fire into Theman, which ſhall deuoure the palaces of Bozra.
13 Thus ſayth the Lorde, For three wickednelles of the children of Ammon, and for foure, I will not ſpare them: becauſe they [c] haue ript vp the women with child of Gilead, that they might enlarge their borders.
[c] Yee notyce the great crueltie of ỹ Ammonites, that ſpared not the women with childe.
14 Therefore will I kindle a fire in the walles of Rabbath, that ſhall conſume her palaces, with a great cry in the day of batell, and and with a tempest in the day of the whirlewinde.

15 And their king shal goe into captiuitie, he and his princes together, saith the Lord.

The ij. Chapter.

He prophecieth against Moab, Iuda, and Israel.

THus saith the Lorde, For three wickednesses of Moab, and for foure I wil not ‖ spare him: because he burnt the bones of the king of Edom into a lime:

‖ Or, turne to him.

a That is, into ashes.

2 Therefore will I sende a fire into Moab, which shall consume the palaces of Carioth, and Moab shall die with tumult, with shouting, & with the sound of the trumpet.

3 And I will cut off the Iudge out of the middes thereof, and will slay all the princes thereof with him, saith the Lord.

4 Thus saith the Lord, For three wickednesses of Iuda, and for foure I will not spare him: because they haue cast away the lawe of the Lord, and haue not kept his ordinances, and their lyes caused them to erre, after the which their fathers walked.

5 Therefore will I send a fire into Iuda, which shall consume the palaces of Hierusalem.

6 Thus saith the Lord, For three wickednesses of Israel, and for foure I wil not spare him: because they solde the righteous for siluer, and the poore for a paire of shoes.

‖ Or, presse vpo the head, or trade vpon the head.

‖ Or, wretched.

‖ Or, yong woman.

7 They ‖ gape for breath ouer the head of the poore in the dust of the earth, and peruert the way of the ‖ meeke: A man and his father will goe in to one ‖ mayde, to dishonour my holy Name.

‖ Or, lie downe.

8 And they ‖ lie vpon clothes layde to pledge by euery altar: and in the house of their God they drinke the wine of ‖ the condemned.

‖ Or, of such as they haue fined or stolen.

9 * Yet destroyed I the Amorite before them, whose height was like the height of the Cedar trees, and hee was strong as the okes: notwithstanding, I destroyed his fruit from aboue, and his roote from beneath.

Num. 21. 24.

10 * Also I brought you vp from the land of Egypt, and led you fourtie yeeres thorow the wildernesse, to possesse the lande of the Amorites.

Exod. 14.6. Exod. 14.6.

11 And I raised vp of your sonnes for Prophets, and of your yong men for ‖ Nazarites: Is it not euen thus, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord?

‖ Or, abstainers.

12 But yee gaue the Nazarites wine to drinke, and commaunded the Prophets, saying, Prophecie not.

13 Beholde, I am pressed vnder you, as a cart is pressed that is full of sheaues.

‖ Or, swift by flight shall not escape.

14 Therefore the ‖ flight shall not perish from the swift, & the strong shall not strengthen his force, neither shall the mightie saue his life.

15 Nor hee that handleth the bowe, shall stande, nor hee that is swift of foote shall escape, neither shall hee that rideth the horse saue his life.

16 And hee that is of mightie courage among the strong men, shall flee away naked in that day, saith the Lord.

The iij. Chapter.

1 He reproueth the house of Israel of ingratitude, foreshewing Gods most iust punishment for the same. 9 Strangers are called to see the equitie of Gods iudgement against Israel.

HEare the word that the Lord pronounceth against you, O children of Israel, euen against ‖ the whole familie which I brought vp from the lande of Egypt, saying,

‖ Or, this

2 You onely haue I knowen of all the families of the earth, therefore I wil visite you for all your iniquities.

3 Can two walke together, except they be agreed?

4 Will a Lion roare in the forest when he hath no praye? or will a lions whelpe cry out of his denne if he haue taken nothing?

5 Can a birde fall in a snare vpon the earth where no fowler is? or will he take vp the snare from the earth, and haue taken nothing at all?

6 Or shall a trumpet bee blowen in the citie, and the people be not afraid? or shal there bee a euill in a citie, and the Lorde hath not done it?

a That is, calamitie, or aduersitie.

7 ‖ Surely the Lord God wil do nothing, but hee reuealeth his secrete vnto his seruants the Prophets.

‖ Or, for.

8 The lion hath roared, who will not bee afraide? The Lorde God hath spoken, ‖ who can but prophecie?

‖ Or, who will not prophecie?

9 Proclaime in the palaces of Asdod, and in the palaces of the lande of Egypt, and say, Assemble your selues vpon the mountaines of Samaria, and beholde the great tumults in the midst thereof, and the oppressed in the midst thereof:

10 For they knowe not to doe right, saith the Lord, they store vp ‖ violence and robbery in their palaces.

‖ Or, iniurie.

11 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord God, An aduersarie shall come euen rounde about the countrey, and shall bring downe thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shall bee spoyled.

12 Thus saith the Lord, As the shepheard taketh out of the mouth of the Lion two legs or a piece of an eare: so shall the children of Israel be taken out that dwell in Samaria in the corner of a bed, and in Damascus as in a couch.

13 Heare and testifie in the house of Iacob, saith the Lord God, the God of hostes:

14 That in the day that I shall visite the ‖ transgressions of Israel vpon him, I will also visite the altars of Bethel, & the hornes of the altar shall be ‖ broken off, and fall to the ground.

‖ Or, wickednesse.

‖ Or, cut off.

15 And I will smite the winter house with the sommer house, and the houses of Iuorie shall perish, and the great houses shalbe consumed, saith the Lord.

The iiij. Chapter.

Vnder the name of fat kine of Basan, hee inueyeth against the gouernours of Samaria, and foreshoweth their punishment.

HEare this worde yee kine of Basan, that are in the mountaine of Samaria, which oppresse the poore, and destroye the needie, which say to their a masters, Bring, and let vs drinke.

a That is, to the creditors, to whome the poore are indebted.

2 The Lorde God hath sworne by his holines, that loe, the dayes shal come vpon you, that hee will take you away with b thornes, and your posteritie with fishhookes.

b He alludeth to fishers, which catch fish vp hookes and thornes.

3 And yee shall goe out at the breaches, euery cowe forwarde, and ye shall ‖ cast your selues out of the palace, saith the Lord.

‖ Or, cast downe the palace.

4 Come to Bethel, and ‖ transgresse: to Gilgal, and multiplie transgression: and bring your sacrifices in the morning, and your tithes after three yeeres.

‖ Or, commit wickednesse.

5 And offer a thankesgiuing of leauen, publish and proclaime the free offerings: for this liketh you, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord God.

6 Therefore haue I giuen you c cleannesse of teeth in all your cities, and scarcenesse of bread in all your places: yet haue yee not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

c That is, lacke of bread and meate.

7 And also I haue withholden the raine from you when there were yet three moneths to the harueste, and I caused it to raine vpon one city, and haue not caused it to raine vpon another citie: one piece was rayned vpon, and the piece whereupon it rayned not, withered.

8 So two or three cities wandered vnto one citie to drinke water, but they were not satisfied: yet haue ye not returned vnto mee, saith the Lord.

9 I haue smitten you with blasting and mildewe, your great gardens, & your vineyardes, and your figge trees, and your oliue trees did the ‖ palmer worme deuoure: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

‖ Or, caterpiller.

10 Pestilence haue I sent among you after the maner of Egypt: your yong men haue I slaine with the sworde, and haue taken away your horses, & I haue made the stinke of your tentes to come euen vp to your nosethrilles: yet haue ye not returned vnto mee, saith the Lord.

11 * I haue ouerthrowen ‖ you, as God ouerthrew Sodoma and Gomorrha: and ye were as a firebrande pluckt out of the burning: yet haue yee not returned vnto mee, saith the Lord.

‖ Or, among you, meaning some part of their countrey to haue beene ouerthrowen.

12 Therefore thus will I doe vnto thee, O Israel, and because I will doe this vnto thee, d prepare to meete thy God, O Israel.

d Turne to him by repentance.

13 For loe, hee that fourmeth the mountaines, and createth the wind, and declareth vnto man what is his thought, which maketh the ‖ morning darkenesse, and walketh vpon the high places of the earth, the Lorde God of hostes is his Name.

‖ Or, morning and darkenesse.

The v. Chapter.

1 The Prophet lamenteth the captiuitie of Sion. 4 Hee calleth to repentance. 8 Hee describeth the power of God.

HEare yee this word which I lift vp vpon you, euen a lamentation ‖ of the house of Israel.

‖ Or, O ye house.

2 The virgine Israel is fallen, and shall no more rise, she is left vpon her land, and there is none to raise her vp.

3 For thus saith the Lorde God, the citie which went out by a thousande, shall leaue an hundred, and that which went foorth by an hundred, shall leaue tenne to the house of Israel.

4 For thus saith the Lord vnto the house of Israel, Seeke ye me, and ye shall liue.

5 But seeke not Bethel, nor enter into Gilgal, and goe not to Beer-seba: for Gilgal shall go into captiuitie, and Bethel shal come to nought.

6 Seeke the Lord, and ye shall liue: least he breake out like fire in the house of Ioseph, and deuoure it, and there be none to quench it in Bethel.

7 They turne iudgement to wormewood, and forsake righteousnesse in the earth.

8 [illegible] maketh the seuen starres and Orion, and he turneth the a shadowe of death into the morning, and he maketh the day darke as night: * hee calleth the waters of the sea, and powreth them out vpon the open earth, the Lord is his Name.

a That is, he changeth darkenesse into the morning light. Amos 9.6.

9 He strengtheneth the destroyer against the mightie, and the destroyer shall ‖ come against the fortresse.

‖ Or, assault.

10 They hate him that rebuketh b in the gate, and they abhorre him that speaketh vprightly.

b That is, in open assemblies.

11 For as much then as your treading is vpon the poore, and yee c take from him burdens of wheate: ye haue built houses of hewed stone, but yee shall not dwell in them: yet haue planted pleasant vineyards, but ye shal not drinke wine of them.

c Ye take vnto you money and alls for shoes when ye should liue.

12 For I know your ‖ manifolde transgressions, and your mightie sinnes: they afflict the iust, they take rewardes, and they oppresse the poore in the gate.

‖ Or, great wickednes.

13 Therefore the wise shall keepe silence in that time: for it is an euill time.

14 Seeke good, and not euill, that ye may liue: and so the Lorde God of hostes shall bee with you, as you haue spoken.

15 * Hate the euil, and loue the good, and stablish iudgement in the gate: it may bee, that the Lord God of hostes will be mercifull vnto the remnant of Ioseph.

Psal. 97.10. Rom. 12.9.

16 Therefore the Lord God of hostes, the Lorde saith thus, Mourning shall bee in all streetes, streetes, and they shall say in all the high wayes, Alas, alas: and they shall call the husbandman to lamentation, and such as can mourne, ‖ to mourning.

‖Or, shall mourne.

17 And in all the vines shall be lamentation: for I will passe thorowe thee, sayth the Lord.

Ierem. 30.7. Ioel 2.11. Soph. 1.13.

18 * Woe vnto you that desire the day of the Lorde, what haue yee to doe with it? the day of the Lord is darkenesse, and not light.

19 As if a man did flee from a lion, and a beare meete him, and went into the house, and leaned his hand vnto the wall, and a serpent bite him:

20 Shal not the day of the Lord be darkenesse, and not light? euen darkenesse, and no ‖ light in it?

‖Or, shine.

21 * I hate, I abhorre your feast dayes, and I will not [d] smell in your solemne assemblies.

Esai. 1.11.

d That is, I will not delight in the smell of your incense.

22 Though ye offer me whole burnt offerings, and meate offerings, I will not accept them, neither will I regard the peace offering of your fat beasts.

23 Take thou away from me the multitude of thy songs, for I wil not heare the melodie of thy vials.

24 And ‖ let iudgement run downe as water, and righteousnesse as a mightie riuer.

‖Or, iudgement shall run downe.

25 Haue ye offered vnto me sacrifices and offerings in the wildernesse fourtie yeeres, O house of Israel?

26 But ye haue borne [e] Siccuth your king, and Chiun your images, and the starre of your gods, which ye made to your selues.

e That thinke which yee deuised as your king, and cause about as ye did Chiun: in the which images ye thought that there was a certaine diuinitie.

27 Therefore will I cause you to goe into captiuity beyond Damascus, saith the Lord, whose name is the God of hostes.

The vj. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth against the princes of Israel, liuing in pleasures.

Luk. 6.24.

WOe to them * that are at ease in Sion, & trust in the mountaine of Samaria, which were famous at the beginning of the nations, and the house of Israel came to them.

2 Goe you vnto Calneh, and see, and from thence goe you to Hemath the great, then goe downe to Gath of the Philistines: be [a] they better then these kingdomes? or the border of their lande greater then your border?

a If God haue deliuered these mightie cities & their borders into the hands of the Assyrians, Babylon, Persia, and of the Philistines, & hath brought their borders into a greater straightnes then yours yet are, thinke ye, ô the houses, on to escape?

3 Ye that put farre away the euill day, and ‖ approch to the seate of iniquitie.

‖Or, bring vpon you,

4 They lie vpon beds of Iuorie, & stretch themselues vpon their couches, and eate the lambes out of the flocke, and the calues out of the stall.

5 They sing to the sound of the viall, and inuent to themselues instruments of musike, like Dauid.

6 They drinke wine in bowles, & anoint themselues with these ointments: but no man is sorie for the affliction of Ioseph.

7 Therefore nowe shall they goe captiue with the first that goe captiue, and ‖ the sorowe of them that stretched themselues is at hand.

‖Or, the ioy of them that stretched themselues shall depart. Iere. 52.14.

8 * The Lorde God hath sworne by himselfe, sayth the Lord God of hostes, I abhorre the excellencie of Iacob, and hate his palaces, therefore wil I deliuer vp the citie, with all that is therein.

‖Or, magnificencie, that is, the riches and pompe.

9 And if there remaine tenne men in one house, they shall die.

10 And his vncle shall take him vp, and burne him, to carry out the bones out of the house, & shall say to him that is by the [b] sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee? And he shal say, None. Then shall he say, Hold thy tongue: for we may not remember the name of the Lord.

b That is, to some neighbour that dwelleth neere about.

11 For beholde, the Lord commaundeth, and he will smite the great house with breaches, and the litle houses with clefts.

12 Shall horses runne vpon the [c] rocke? or will one plowe there with Oren? for yee haue turned iudgement into gall, and the fruite of righteousnesse into wormewood.

c He compareth them to barren rockes, whereupon it is in vaine to bestowe labour, shewing that Gods benefites can haue no place among them.

13 Ye reioyce in a thing of nought, ye say, Haue not we gotten vs hornes by our owne strength?

14 But beholde, I will raise vp against you a nation, O house of Israel, sayeth the Lord God of hostes, and they shall afflict you from the entring of Hemath, vnto the riuer of the wildernesse.

The vij. Chapter.

1 God sheweth certaine visions, whereby hee signifieth the destruction of the people of Israel.

THus hath the Lorde God shewed vnto me, and beholde, hee fourmed Grashoppers in the beginning of the shooting vp of the latter grouth, and loe, it was in the latter grouth, after the [a] kings mowing.

a After the publique commaundement for mowing was giuen, or as some reade, after the kings sheepe were shorne.

2 And when they had made an ende of eating the grasse of the lande, then I saide, O Lord God, spare, I beseech thee: who shall rayse vp Iacob? for he is small.

3 So the Lord [b] repented for this: It shall not be, saith the Lord.

b That is, staied this plague at my prayer.

4 Thus also hath the Lorde God shewed vnto me, and beholde, the Lord God called to iudgement by fire, and it deuoured the great deepe, and did eate vp ‖ a part

‖Or, the possession, meaning the whole fielde.

5 Then saide I, O Lord God, cease I beseech thee: who shall raise vp Iacob? for hee is small.

6 So the Lorde repented for this: This also shall not be, saith the Lord God.

7 Thus againe he shewed me, & beholde, the Lorde stoode vpon a wall made by line, [c] with a line in his hand.

c Signifiying that this should be the last measuring of the people, and that he would deferre his iudgement no longer.

8 And the Lorde saide vnto me, Amos, what seest thou? And I saide, A line. Then saide the Lorde, Behold, I will set a line in the midst of my people Israel, and will passe by by them no more.

9 And the high places of Isahac shall be desolate, and the ‖ temples of Israel shall be destroyed, and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword.

‖ Or, sanctuaries, or holy places.

10 Then Amazia the priest of Bethel sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the middest of the house of Israel: the lande is not able to beare all his wordes.

11 For thus Amos saith, Jeroboam shall die by the sworde, and Israel shall be ledde away captiue out of their owne land.

12 Also Amazia saide to Amos, O thou the Seer, goe, flee thou away into the land of Juda, and there eate thy bread, and prophecie there.

13 But prophecie no more at Bethel: for it is the kings Chappel, and it is the kings Court.

14 Then answered Amos, and saide vnto Amazia, I was no Prophet, neither was I a Prophets sonne: but I was an heardman, and a gatherer of wilde figges.

15 And the Lorde tooke me as I followed the flocke, and the Lorde saide vnto me, Goe, prophecie vnto my people Israel.

16 Nowe therefore heare thou the worde of the Lorde: Thou sayest, Prophecie not against Israel, and speake nothing against the house of Isahac.

17 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde, Thy wife shall be an harlot in the citie, and thy sonnes and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy lande shall be diuided by line, and thou shalt die in a polluted land, and Israel shall surely goe into captiuitie forth of his land.

The viij. Chapter.

By a vision of a Basket of Sommer fruite, the ende of the kingdome of Israel is shewed.

THus hath the Lord God shewed vnto me: and behold, a Basket of Sommer fruite.

2 And he saide, Amos, what seest thou? And I saide, A Basket of Sommer [a] fruite. Then said the Lorde vnto me, The ende is come vpon my people of Israel, I will passe by them no more.

[a] Which signified the expense of their sinnes, and the readinesse of Gods iudgements.

3 And the songs of the temple shalbe howlings in that day, saith the Lorde God: many dead bodies shall be in euery place, they shall cast them forth with silence.

4 Heare this, O ye that swallowe vp the poore, that yee may make the needie of the land to faile,

5 Saying, when will the newe moneth be gone, that wee may sell corne? and the Sabboth, that we may set forth Wheate, and make the [b] Ephah small, and the sicle great, and falsifie the weightes by deceite?

[b] That is, the measure small, and the price great.

6 That wee may buy the poore for siluer, and the needie for shoes, yea, and sell the refuse of the wheate?

7 The Lorde hath sworne by the excellencie of Jacob, Surely I will neuer forget any of their workes.

8 Shall not the lande tremble for this, and euery one mourne that dwelleth therein? and it shall rise vp wholy as a flood, and it shall be cast out, and [c] drowned, as by the flood of Egypt.

[c] That is, the inhabitances of the land shalbe ouerwhelmed, as Nilus ouerfloweth many times when it ouerfloweth.

9 And in that day, sayeth the Lorde God, I will euen cause the [d] Sunne to goe downe at noone, and I will darken the earth in the cleare day.

[d] In the midst of their prosperitie, I will sende great affliction. Tob. 2. 7. 1. mac. 8. 41.

10 * And I will turne your feastes into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation: and I will bring sackecloth vpon all loynes, and baldnesse vpon euery head, and I will make it as the mourning of an onely sonne, and the ende thereof as a bitter day.

11 Beholde, the dayes come, sayeth the Lorde God, that I will send a famine in the lande, not a famine of bread, nor thirst for water, but of hearing the word of the Lorde.

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the North euen vnto the East shall they runne to and fro, to seeke the worde of the Lord, and shall not finde it.

13 In that day shall the faire virgins, and the young men perish for thirst.

[e] For the idolaters vsed to sweare by their idoles, which here he calleth their sinne.

14 They that sweare by the [e] sinne of Samaria, and that say, Thy God, O Dan, liueth, and the [f] maner of Beer-seba liueth, euen they shal fall, and neuer rise vp againe.

[f] That is, the common maner of worshipping, and the seruice of religion there vsed.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Threatnings against the Temple. 5 The subuersion of the people.

I Saw the Lorde standing vpon the [a] altar, and hee sayde, Smite the lintell of the doore, that the postes may shake, and ‖ cut them in pieces, euen the [b] heades of them all, and I will slay the last of them with the sworde: hee that fleeth of them, shall not flee away, and he that escapeth of them, shall not be deliuered.

[a] Which was at Hierusalem.

‖ Or, wound them in the head, euen all.

[b] Both the chiefe of men, and alle the common people.

2 * Though they digge into hell, thence shall my hand take them, though they clime vp to heauen, thence will I bring them downe.

Psal. 138. 8.

3 And though they hide themselues in the toppe of Carmel, I will search and take them out thence: and though they be hidde from my sight in the bottome of the sea, thence will I commaund the [c] serpent, and he shall bite them.

[c] That is, the Whale, or some other huge beast of the sea.

4 And though they goe into captiuitie before their enemies, thence will I commaund the sworde, and it shall slay them, * and I will set mine eyes vpon them for euill, and not for good.

Amos 5. 8.

5 And the Lord God of hostes shall touch the lande, and it shall melt away: and all that dwell therein shall mourne, and it shall rise vp whole like a flood, and shall be drowned as by the flood of Egypt.

6 He

6 He buildeth his ‖ſpheres in the heauen, and hath layd the foundation of his globe of elements on the earth: * hee calleth the waters of the ſea, and powreth them out vpon the open earth, the Lord is his name.

‖Or, aſcēts, or degrees.

Iere.44.11.

7 Are ye not as the Ethiopians [d] vnto me, O children of Iſrael, ſaieth the Lorde? haue not I brought vp Iſrael out of the land of Egypt? and the Philiſtines from Cappadocia, and the Syrians from Cyrene?

[d] That is, am I more bound vnto you, then to the Egyptians, or Black Moores? yet now I beſtowed vpon you greater benefites.

8 Beholde, the eyes of the Lorde God are vpon the ſinfull kingdome, and I wil deſtroy it cleane out of the earth: neuertheleſſe, I wil not vtterly deſtroy the houſe of Iacob, ſaieth the Lord.

9 For loe, I wil command, and I will ſift the houſe of Iſrael among all nations, like as corne is ſifted in a ſiue: yet ſhall not the [e] leaſt ſtone fall vpon the earth.

[e] Meaning, that none of his ſhould periſh in his wrath.

10 But all the ſinners of my people ſhall die by the ſword, which ſay, The euil ſhall not come, nor haſten for vs.

Act.15.16.

11 *In that day will I raiſe vp the tabernacle of Dauid that is fallen downe, & cloſe vp the breaches thereof, and I will rayſe vp his ruines, and I wil build it as in the daies of olde:

12 That they may poſſeſſe the remnant of Edom, and of all the heathen, ‖ becauſe my name is called vpon them, ſaith the Lord that doeth this.

‖Or, vpon whom my name is called.

13 Behold, the daies come, ſaith the Lord, that the plowman ſhall [f] touche the mower, and the treader of grapes him that ſoweth ſeede, and the mountaines ſhall drop ſweete wine, and all the hils ſhall melt.

[f] Signifying that there ſhal be great plenty of all things, ſo that when one kinde of fruits is ripe, another ſhould ſow, & euery one in courſe, Leuit.26.

14 And I will bring againe the captiuitie of my people of Iſrael, and they ſhal build the waſte cities, and inhabite them: and they ſhal plant vineyards, and drinke the wine thereof, they ſhall alſo make gardens, and eate the fruites of them.

15 And I wil plant them vpon their land, and they ſhall no more bee pulled vp agayne out of their land which I haue giuen them, ſaith the Lord thy God.

The ende of the Prophecie of Amos.

The booke of the Prophet Abdias.

Againſt Edom, and the truſt that they had in riches.

THe viſion of Abdi. Thus ſayeth the Lorde God againſt Edom, *We haue heard a rumour from the Lorde, and an Ambaſſadour is ſent among ỹ heathen: Ariſe and let vs riſe vp againſt her to battell.

Iere.49.14.

2 Behold, I haue made thee ſmal among the heathen, thou art vtterly deſpiſed.

3 The pride of thine heart hath deceiued thee, thou that dwelleſt in the cleftes of the rockes, whoſe habitation is high, that ſayth in his heart, Who ſhall bring mee downe to the ground?

Iere.49.16.

4 *Yea, though thou exalt thy ſelfe as the Eagle, and make thy neſt among the ſtars, thence will I bring thee downe, ſayeth the Lord.

5 Came thieues to thee, or robbers by night? howe waſt thou brought to ſilence? woulde they not haue ſtollen till they had ynough? If the grape gatherers came to thee, would they not leaue ſome grapes?

6 Howe are the things of Eſau ſought vp, and his treaſures ſearched?

7 All the men of thy confederacie haue driuen thee to ỹ borders, the men that were at peace with thee haue deceiued thee, and preuailed againſt thee, they that eate thy bread haue layde a wounde vnder thee, there is none vnderſtanding in him.

Eſa.29.15.

8 *Shal not I in that day, ſaith the Lord, euen deſtroy the wiſe men out of Edom, and vnderſtanding from the mount of Eſau?

9 And thy ſtrong men, O Theman, ſhall be afrayd: becauſe euery one of the mount of Eſau ſhalbe cut off by ſlaughter.

10 *For thy crueltie againſt thy brother Iacob, ſhame ſhall couer thee, and thou ſhalt be cut off for euer.

Gen.27.41

11 When thou ſtoodeſt on the other ſide, in the day that the ſtrangers carried away his ſubſtance, and ſtrangers entred into his gates, and caſt lots vpon Hieruſalem, euen thou waſt as one of them.

12 But thou ſhouldeſt not haue beholden the day of thy brother in the day that hee was made a ſtranger, neither ſhouldeſt thou haue reioyced ouer the children of Iuda in the day of their deſtruction, thou ſhouldeſt not haue ſpoken proudly in the day of affliction:

13 Thou ſhouldeſt not haue entred into the gate of my people in the day of their deſtruction, neither ſhouldeſt thou haue once looked on their affliction in the day of their deſtruction, nor haue layde handes on their ſubſtance in the day of their deſtruction:

14 Neither ſhouldeſt thou haue ſtande in the croſſe wayes to cut off them that ſhoulde eſcape, neyther ſhouldeſt thou haue ſhut vp the remnant thereof in the day of affliction.

15 For the day of the Lorde is neere vpon all the Heathen: as thou haſt done, it ſhalbe done to thee, thy reward ſhall returne vpon thine head.

16 For

16 For as yee haue a drunke vpon mine holy mountaine, ſo ſhal all the heathē drinke continually: yea, they ſhall drinke and ſwallow vp, and they ſhalbe as though they b had not bene.

a That is, reioyced and triumphed.

b That is, at the length they ſhall vtterly periſh.

17 But vpon mount Sion ſhalbe deliuerance, and it ſhall bee holy, and the houſe of Jacob ſhal poſſeſſe their poſſeſſions.

18 And the houſe of Jacob ſhall be a fire, and the houſe of Joſeph a flame, & the houſe of Eſau as ſtubble, and they ſhall kindle in them and deuoure them, and there ſhalbe no remnant of the houſe of Eſau: for the Lorde hath ſpoken it.

19 And they ſhall poſſeſſe the South ſide of the mount of Eſau, and the plaine of the Philiſtines, and they ſhall poſſeſſe the fieldes of Ephraim, and the fields of Samaria, and Beniamin ſhall haue Gilead.

20 And the captiuitie of his hoſte of the children of Iſrael, which were among the Chananites, ſhall poſſeſſe vnto Sarephath, and the captiuitie of Hieruſalem which is in Sepharad, ſhall poſſeſſe the cities of the South.

21 And they that ſhall c ſaue, ſhall come vp to mount Sion to iudge the mount of Eſau, and the kingdome ſhalbe the Lords.

c Speaking, that God ſhall raiſe vp in his Church ſuch as ſhall rule & gouerne for the defence of the ſame, and deſtruction of his enemies vnder Chriſt.

The ende of the Prophet Abdias.

The booke of the Prophet Ionas.

The firſt. Chapter.

3 Ionas fled when he was ſent to preach. 4 A tempeſt ariſeth, & he is caſt into the ſea for his diſobedience.

THe worde of the Lorde came vnto a Jonas the ſonne of Amittai, ſaying, 2 Ariſe, and go to b Ninue the great citie, and crie againſt it: for their wickednes is come vp before me.

a He prophecied vnder Jeroboam the ſecond, 2. King. 14.

b It was the greateſt city of the Aſſyrians, ſituate by the riuer Lycus, as Strabo writeth, hauing in number an hundred & fifty townes.

3 And Jonas roſe vp to flee into Tharſis from the preſence of the Lord, & went downe to c Joppa, and found a ſhip going to d Tharſis: ſo he payed his fare, and went downe into it, that hee might goe with them vnto Tharſis from the e preſence of the Lord.

c It is an hauen towne in the which Peter lodged, Actes 10.

d It is the name of a place likely to be Cilicia, for there was a great citie of ꝑ name, where alſo Paul was borne.

e As the Leuites which miniſter to the Lord, are ſayd to ſtand before him: ſo they which forſake his commandement, are ſayd to flee before his preſence.

4 But the Lorde ſent out a great winde into the ſea, and there was a mighty tempeſt in the ſea, ſo that the ſhippe was in danger of ſplitting in ſunder.

5 Then the Mariners were afrayd, and cryed euery man vnto his god, and caſt the wares that were in the ſhippe into the ſea, to lighten it of them: but Jonas was gone downe into the ſides of the ſhippe, and he lay downe ſleeping.

6 And the ſhipmaſter came vnto him, and ſaid, What meaneſt thou ſleeper? vp, and cal vpon thy God, if ſo bee that God will ‖ ſhine vnto vs, that we periſh not.

‖ Or, be fauourable.

7 And they ſaid euery one vnto his felow, Come, let vs caſt lots, that we may know for whoſe cauſe this euill is on vs. And they caſt lottes: and the lot fell on Jonas.

8 Then ſayde they vnto him, Tell vs, for whoſe cauſe is this euil come vpon vs? what is thine occupation? whence cameſt thou? what countrey man art thou? and of what nation?

9 And he anſwered thē, I am an Hebrue, and I feare the Lord God of heauen, which hath made the ſea, and the drie land.

10 Then were the men exceedingly afrayde, and ſayde vnto him, Why haſt thou done this? (for the men knewe that he fled from the preſence of the Lord, becauſe he had told them.)

11 And they ſayde vnto him, What ſhall we doe vnto thee, that the ſea may be calme vnto vs? for the ſea wrought, and was troublous.

12 And he ſayd vnto them, Take me, and caſt me into the ſea, and the ſea ſhall be calme vnto you: for I know we that for my ſake this great tempeſt is vpon you.

13 Neuertheleſſe, the men aſſayed with rowing to bring the ſhippe to land, but they could not, becauſe the ſea wrought, and was troublous againſt them.

14 Wherefore they cryed vnto the Lorde, and ſayd, Wee beſeech thee, O Lorde, wee beſeech thee, let vs not periſh for this mans life, and laie not to our charge innocent blood: for thou, O Lord, haſt done as it pleaſed thee.

15 So they tooke vp Jonas, and caſt him into the ſea, and the ſea left raging.

16 And the men feared the Lorde exceedingly, and offered a ſacrifice vnto the Lord, and made f vowes.

f To feare the Lorde, to call vpon him, as Dauid often times in the Pſalmes moſt highly mention, and none other wiſe.

17 And the Lord prepared a great fiſhe to ſwallow vp Jonas: and Jonas was in the belly of the fiſh three dayes and three nights.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Ionas is in the fiſhes belly. 2 His praier. 10 He is deliuered.

AND Jonas prayed vnto the Lord his God out of the a fiſhes belly, a He afterward calleth it hell, and the word is taken often for the graue. Being come to himſelfe, he in great affliction called vpon the Lord.

2 And ſayd, In affliction I cryed vnto the Lord, and hee heard me: out of the belly of hell cried I, and thou heardeſt my voyce.

3 Thou hadſt caſt mee downe into the deepe, deepe, into the middest of the sea, & the floods compassed mee about: all thy billowes and waues passed ouer me.

4 And I sayd, *I am cast away out of thy sight, yet will I looke againe toward thine holy temple.

Psal.120.1.

5 *The waters compassed me euen vnto the soule, the depth closed mee on euery side, and the weedes were wrapt about my head.

Psal.69.2.

6 I went downe to the bottome of the mountaines, the earth with her barres was about me for euer: yet hast thou brought vp my life from corruption, O Lord my God.

7 When my soule fainted within mee, I remembred the Lord, and my prayer came in vnto thee into thy holy temple.

8 They that holde vpon [b] lying vanitie, forsake ‖ his mercie.

[b] All that is lying vanitie that is meere impiety of them that do trust in it. Or, their owne.

9 But I will sacrifice vnto thee with the voyce of thanksgiuing, and will pay that that I haue vowed: for saluation is of the Lord.

10 And the Lorde spake vnto the fish, and it cast out Ionas vpon the dry [c] land.

[c] Iudging by the holy booke of computation, that is meant by the land of the lost Gentiles, which is not far from Ioppa.

The iij. Chapter.

Ionas is sent againe to Niniue. 3 The repentance of the king of Niniue.

AND the word of the Lord came vnto Ionas the seconde time, saying,

2 Arise, and goe to Niniue that great citie, and preache against it the preaching which I speake vnto thee.

3 So Ionas arose and went to Niniue, according to the worde of the Lord: (Niniue was a great citie, and [a] excellent, of three dayes iourney.)

[a] Or of three dayes iourney.

4 And Ionas began to enter into the citie a dayes iourney, and he cryed, and sayd, Yet fourtie dayes, and Niniue shalbe destroyed.

5 *And the men of Niniue beleeued God, and proclaymed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them, to the least of them.

Mat.12.41. Luk.11.32.

6 And worde came vnto the king of Niniue: which arose from his throne, and put off his robe, & couered himselfe with sackcloth, and sate downe in ashes.

7 And he caused a crier to cry, and say thorow the citie by the counsell of the king and his nobles, Let neither man nor beast, bullocke, nor sheepe taste ought at all, neyther feede nor drinke water.

8 And let both man and beast put on sackcloth, and cry mightily vnto God: yea let euery man turne from his euill way, and from the wickednesse that is in his hands.

9 Who can tell whether God will turne and be moued with [b] repentance, and turne from his fierce wrath, that we perish not?

[b] God is sayd to repent, whe he doeth those things y men do repenting.

10 And God sawe their workes that they turned from their euill wayes, and he repented of the [c] euill that he sayd he would do vnto them, and did it not.

[c] Of the euill, that is of the plague which is euil to our sense, although not in his owne nature.

The iij. Chapter.

The great goodnesse of God toward his creatures.

AND this displeased Ionas greatly, and hee was [a] angrie within himselfe.

[a] Because hereby her should be taken as a false prayer, and the name of God which he preached, should be blasphemed.

2 And hee prayed vnto the Lord, and sayd, I pray thee, O Lord, was not this my saying when I was yet in my country? therefore I ‖ hasted to flee vnto Tharsis: For I knew that thou art a gracious God, and mercifull, long suffering, and of great kindnesse, and repentest thee of euill.

‖ Or, preuented.

Psal.68.5. Ioel.2.13.

3 And now, O Lord, take, I beseech thee, my life from me: for it is better for me to dye then to liue.

4 Then said the Lord, Doest thou well to be angry?

5 And Ionas went out of the citie, and sate him downe on the East side thereof, and there made him a boothe, and sate vnder it in the shadow, till he might see what should bee done in the citie.

6 And the Lorde God prepared a gourde, and made it spring vp ouer Ionas, that it might bee a shadow ouer his head, to deliuer him from his griefe: So Ionas was exceeding glad of the gourd.

7 But God prepared a worme, when the morning rose the next day, which smote the gourd, that it withered.

8 And when the Sunne rose, God prepared a feruent East winde, & the Sunne beat vpon the head of Ionas that hee fainted, and wished vnto his soule that he might die, and sayd, It is better for me to die, then to liue.

9 And the Lord sayd vnto Ionas, Doest thou well to be so angry within thy selfe for the gourd? And he said, I do well to be angry, euen vnto death.

10 Then sayd the Lorde, Thou hast had compassion on the gourde, about the which thou bestowedst no labour, neither madest it growe, which came vp in a night, and perished in a night:

11 And shal not I spare Niniue that great citie, in the which are more then fiue score thousand persons that know not their right hand and their left, and also much cattell?

The first Chapter.

Of the destruction of Samaria, because of their idolatrie.

THe worde of the Lorde came vnto Micheas the Morasthite, in the daies of Iotham, Ahas, and Ezecias, kings of Iuda, which hee sawe concerning Samaria, and Hierusalem.

Deut. 32.1. Esa. 1.2. 2 *Heare all ye people, marke this well, O earth, and all that therein is, yea, let the Lorde God himselfe be witnesse against you euen the Lord from his holy temple.

Esa. 26.21. 3 *For behold, the Lord shall come out of his holy place, and come downe, and treade vpon the high things of the earth.

4 The mountaines shal melt vnder him, and the valleys shall cleaue asunder, like as waxe melteth before the fire, and as the waters runne downeward.

5 And all this shalbe for the wickednes of Iacob, and the sinnes of the house of Israel: but what is the wickednes of Iacob? is not a Samaria? which are the high places of Iuda? is not Hierusalem?

6 Therefore I will make Samaria an heape of the fielde meete for the planting of a vineyard: her stones will I tumble downe into the valley, & discouer her foundations.

7 All her images shalbe broken downe, & all her ‖ garmentes shall be burnt in the fire, yea, all her idoles will I destroy: for they are gathered out of the hire of an b harlot, & into an harlots hire shal they be turned againe.

8 Wherefore I wil mourne and make lamentation, bare and naked will I go: I will mourne like the Dragons, and take sorow as the Estriches.

9 For their wound is past remedie, it is come into Iuda, and hath touched the gate of my people at Hierusalem already.

10 Declare it not at Gath, neither weepe yee: for the house of Aphra roule thy selfe in the dust.

11 Thou that dwellest in Saphir get thee hence naked with shame: thee that dwelleth at c Zaanan, shal not come forth in the mourning of Bethezel: the enemie shall receiue of you for his d standing.

12 For the inhabitãts of Maroth waited for good, but the plague shall come from the Lord, euen vnto the gates of Hierusalem.

13 O thou c inhabitant of Lachis, binde the charet to the swiftest e beast, she is the beginning of the sinne of the daughter of Sion: for the transgressions of Israel were founde in thee.

14 Therefore shalt thou bring presents to g Morasthgath: the houses of Achzib shal be as a lie to the kings of Israel.

15 And as for thee, O thou that dwellest at Marela, I will bring a possessioner vpon thee, he shall come to Adullam, the glory of Israel.

16 Make thee balde, h and shave thee, because of thy tender children: make thee cleane balde as an Eagle, for they shall be caried away captiue from thee.

Againſt the tyrannie of princes and falſe prophets.

AND I ſaide, Heare, I pray you, O heads of Iacob, and ye princes of the houſe of Iſrael, ſhould not ye know iudgement?

2 But they hate the good, and loue the euil, they plucke off their ſkins from them, and their fleſh from their bones.

3 And they eate alſo the fleſh of my people, and flay off their ſkinne from them: and they breake their bones, and choppe them in pieces as for the pot, and as fleſh within the cauldron.

4 Then ſhall they cry vnto the Lorde, but he wil not heare them: he will euen hide his face from them at that time, becauſe they haue done wickedly in their workes.

5 Thus ſaith the Lorde concerning the prophetes that deceiue my people, [a] and bite them with their teeth, and cry peace: but if a man put not into their mouthes, they prepare warre againſt him.

6 Therefore [b] night ſhalbe vnto you for a viſion, and darkenes ſhalbe vnto you for a diuination: and the ſunne ſhall goe downe ouer the Prophetes, and the day ſhalbe darke ouer them.

7 Then ſhall the ſeers bee aſhamed, and the ſoothſayers confounded: yea, [c] they ſhal all couer their lips, for they haue no anſwere of God.

8 Yet notwithſtanding, I am full of power by the ſpirit of the Lord, and of iudgement, and of ſtrength, to declare vnto Iacob his tranſgreſſion, and to Iſrael his ſinne.

9 Heare this, I pray you, yee heades of the houſe of Iacob, and princes of the houſe of Iſrael: they abhorre iudgement, and peruert all equitie.

The iiij. Chapter.

The calling of the Gentiles, and conuerſion of the Iewes.

BVT * in [a] the latter dayes it will come to paſſe, that the hil of the Lords houſe ſhalbe prepared in the top of the mountaines, and ſhall bee ſet vp higher then any mountaines or hilles, and people ſhall preſſe vnto it.

2 Yea, the multitude of the Gentiles ſhall haſte them thither, ſaying, Come, let vs goe vp to the hill of the Lorde, and to the houſe of the God of Iacob, and hee ſhall teache vs his wayes, and we will walke in his pathes, for the Lawe ſhall come out of Sion, and the word of God from Hieruſalem.

3 And he ſhall iudge many people, and rebuke mightie nations of farre countreyes: ſo that of their ſwordes they ſhall make ploweſhares, and ſithes of their ſpeares: one people ſhall not lift vp a ſword againſt an other, yea they ſhall no more learne to fight.

4 But euery man ſhall ſit vnder his vineyarde, and vnder his figge tree, and no man ſhall make them afraide: for the mouth of the Lord of hoſtes hath ſpoken it.

5 Therefore all people will walke euery man in the Name of his God: and wee will walke in the Name of our Lord God for euer and euer.

6 At the ſame time, ſaith the Lord, will I gather vp the lame and the outcaſt, and ſuch as I haue chaſtened,

7 * And will giue a remnant vnto the lame, and make of the outcaſt a mightie people: * and the Lorde himſelfe ſhall bee their king vpon the mount Sion, from this time forth for euermore. Soph.3.19. Dan.7.14. luke 1.33.

8 And vnto thee, O thou towre of the flocke, thou ſtrong holde of the daughter Sion, vnto thee ſhall it come, euen the lordſhippe and kingdome to the daughter Hieruſalem.

9 Why then doeſt thou cry and lament? is there no king in thee? are thy counſailers periſhed, that thou art ſo pained as a woman in her trauaile?

10 And now, O thou daughter Sion, ſorowe & lament as a woman in her trauaile: for nowe muſt thou get thee out of the city, and dwell vpon the plaine fielde: yea, vnto Babylon ſhalt thou goe, but there ſhalt thou bee deliuered, and there the Lorde ſhall redeeme thee from the hand of thine enemies.

11 Nowe alſo are there many people gathered together againſt thee, ſaying, Sion ſhalbe condemned, and our eye ſhall looke vpon Sion.

12 But they knowe not the thoughtes of the Lorde, they vnderſtand not his counſell: for hee ſhall gather them together as the ſheaues in the barne.

13 Therefore get thee vp, O thou daughter Sion, and threaſh out the corne: for I will make thy horne yron, and thy bones braſſe, that thou mayeſt breake in pieces many people: their goods ſhalt thou conſecrate vnto the Lorde, and their ſubſtance vnto the ruler of the whole world.

3 Therefore will hee giue them vp for a ſeaſon, vntill the time that ſhee which ſhall beare, hath borne: then ſhall the remnant of his brethren bee conuerted vnto the children of Iſrael.

4 He ſhall ſtand faſt, and giue foode in the ſtrength of the Lorde, and in the maieſtie of the Name of the Lorde his God: and when they be conuerted, he ſhall bee magnified vnto the farthеſt parts of the world.

5 And he ſhalbe our peace: when the Aſſyrians ſhall come into our land, when he ſhall treade in our palaces, then ſhall wee rayſe againſt him ſeuen ſhepheards, and eight principall men.

6 Theſe ſhal ſubdue the land of Aſſur with the ſword, and the land of Nimrod with their naked weapons: thus ſhall hee deliuer vs from the Aſſyrian when hee commeth within our land, and ſetteth his foote within our borders.

7 And the remnant of Jacob ſhalbe amõg the multitude of people as the deawe of the Lorde, and as the drops vpon the graſſe, that tarieth for no man, and waiteth on no body.

8 Yea, the reſidue of Jacob ſhalbe among the Gentiles, and the multitude of people, as the Lion among the beaſtes of the wood, and as the Lions whelpe among the flockes of ſheepe, which when hee goeth through, treadeth downe, teareth in pieces, and there is no man that can deliuer.

9 Thine hande ſhall be lift vp vpon thine enemies, and al thine aduerſaries ſhal periſh.

10 And it ſhall come to paſſe in that day, ſaith the Lord, that I will take thine horſes from thee, and deſtroy thy charets.

11 I will breake downe the cities of thy land, and ouerthrow all thy ſtrong holdes.

12 All witchcraftes will I roote out of thine hande, there ſhall no moe ſoothſayings be within thee.

13 Thine idoles and thine images will I deſtroy out of thee, ſo that thou ſhalt no more bow thy ſelfe vnto the workes of thine owne handes.

HEarken ye now what the Lord ſaith, Ariſe thou, and contende with the mountaines, and let the hilles heare thy voyce.

2 Heare, O ye mountaines, the Lords quarell, and mightie foundations of the earth: for the Lorde hath a quarell againſt his people, and wil plead with Iſrael.

3 O my people, what haue I done vnto thee? or wherein haue I grieued thee? giue me anſwere.

6 Wherewith ſhal I come before the Lord, and bowe my ſelfe to the high God? Shall I come before him with burnt offerings, and with calues of a yeere olde?

7 Hath the Lord a pleaſure in many thouſands of rammes, or innumerable ſtreames of oyle? ſhal I giue my firſt borne for mine offences, and the fruite of my body for the ſinne of my ſoule?

8 Hee hath ſhewed thee, O man, what is good, and what the Lorde requireth of thee, namely, to doe iuſtly, to loue mercy, and to humble thy ſelfe to walke with thy God.

9 The Lordes voyce crieth vnto the citie, and the man that ſhall bee ſaued conſidereth thy Name: hearken what is your rodde, and heare him that warneth you.

10 Are not yet the treaſures of wickedneſſe in the houſe of the wicked, and the ſcant meaſure, which is abominable?

11 Should I iuſtifie the falſe ballances, and the bagge of deceitfull weights?

12 For the rich men thereof are full of crueltie, and the inhabitants thereof haue ſpoken lies, and haue deceitful tongues in their mouthes.

13 Therefore I will take in hande to puniſh thee, and to make thee ‖ deſolate becauſe of thy ſinnes. ‖ Or, ſicke.

14 Thou ſhalt eate, and not haue ynough, yea, thou ſhalt bring thy ſelfe downe in the mids of thee, thou ‖ ſhalt flee, but not eſcape, and thoſe that thou wouldeſt ſaue, will I deliuer to the ſword. ‖ Or, the women ſhall conceiue, but not bring forth, and whom they bring forth, will I deliuer to the ſword.

16 Ye keepe the ordinances of Amri, and all the cuſtomes of the houſe of Ahab, yee walke in their counſailes: therefore will I make thee waſte, and cauſe thy inhabiters to be hiſſed at, and ye ſhall beare the reproche of my people.

3 To make good the euill of their handes, the prince and the iudge [a] asketh a reward, therefore the great man speaketh out of the corruption of his soule, and so they wrappe it vp.

4 The best of them is as a brier, the most righteous of them is sharper then a thorne hedge: the day of thy watchmen and of thy visitation cōmeth: then shalbe their confusion.

5 Let no man beleeue his friend, nor put his confidence in [his] brother: keepe the doore of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosome.

6 For the sonne dishonoureth his father, the daughter riseth against her mother, the daughter in law against her mother in law: Mat.10.36. [b] and a mans foes are euen they of his owne houshold.

7 Neuertheless, I will looke vp vnto the Lord, I will patiently abide God my Sauiour: my God shall heare me.

8 O thou enemie of mine, reioyce not at my fall, for I shall rise againe: and though I sit in darkenesse, yet the Lord is my light.

9 I will beare the wrath of the Lord, for I haue offended him, till he sit in iudgement vpon my cause, and see that I haue right: then will he bring me forth to the light, and I shall see his righteousnesse.

10 Whee that is mine enemie, shall looke vpon it, and be confounded, which now saith, where is the Lorde thy God? mine eyes shall behold her when she shalbe troden downe as the mire in the streetes.

11 This is the day that thy walles shalbe built, this day shall driue farre away the [b] decree.

12 And at that time shall they come vnto thee from Assur, from the strong cities, and from the strong holdes, euen vnto the riuer: from the one sea to the other, & from mountaine to mountaine.

13 Notwithstanding, the lande must bee wasted, because of them that dwell therein, and for the fruites of their owne imaginations.

14 Therefore feede thy people with thy rodde, the flocke of thine heritage (which dwelt desolate in the wood) let them feede vpon the [c] mount of Carmell: in Basan, and Gilead, as aforetime.

15 Marueilous things will I shew thee, like as when thou camest out of the lande of Egypt.

16 This shall the heathen see, and be ashamed for all their power: so that they shall lay their hand vpon their mouth, and their eares shall be deafe.

17 They shall licke the dust like a serpent, and as the wormes of the earth that tremble in their holes: they shall bee afraide of the Lord our God, and they shall feare thee.

18 [a] Who is such a God as thou, that pardonest wickednesse, and forgiuest the offences of the remnant of thine heritage? Hee keepeth not his wrath for euer: for his delite is to haue compassion. Act.10.43.

19 He shall turne againe and be mercifull to vs, he shall put downe our wickednesses, and cast all our sinnes into the bottome of the sea.

17 Thy princes are as grashoppers, and thy rulers as great locustes, they swarme in hedges in colde weather, the sunne ariseth, and they flee, and the place where they were is not knowen.

18 Thy shepheardes, O king of Assur, slumber, thy noble men shall dwell in death, thy people is scattered vpon the mountaines, and there is none to gather them together.

19 Thy wound shall not bee healed, thy plague is great, all that heare of thee, clappe their hands: for vpon whom hath not thy euill dealing passed continually?

The ende of the prophecie of Nahum.

The booke of the Prophet Habacuc.

The first Chapter.

A complaint against the wicked that persecute the iust.

[a] That is, the vision concerning which he prayed to God in the 2. verse, as a most grieuous burden, which they that see it, do feare.

THe [a] burden which Habacuc the Prophet did see.

2 O Lord, howe long shal I crie, and thou wilt not heare? euen crie out vnto thee for violence, and thou wilt not helpe?

3 Why doest thou shewe me iniquitie, and cause me to beholde sorowe? for spoyling and violence are before mee, and there are that raise vp strife and contention.

‖ Or, weakened.

4 Therefore the Lawe is ‖ dissolued, and iudgement doeth neuer goe foorth: for the wicked doeth compasse about the righteous, therefore wrong iudgement proceedeth.

Ac. 13. 41. 5 * Beholde among the heathen, and regard, and wonder, and marueile: for I will worke a worke in your dayes, ye will not beleeue it, though it be tolde you.

‖ Or, the Caldeans.

6 For loe, I raise vp the Chaldeans, that bitter and furious nation, which shall ‖ goe vpon the breadth of the land, to possesse the dwelling places that are not theirs.

7 They are terrible and fearefull: [b] their iudgement and their dignitie shall proceede of themselues.

8 Their horses also are swifter then the Leopardes, and are more fierce then the wolues in the euening, and their horsemen are many, and shall come from farre: they shall flee as the Egle hasting to meate.

9 They come all to spoyle: before their faces shalbe [c] an East winde, and they shall gather the captiuitie as the sand.

c For the Iewes might feared this winde, because it destroyed their fruits.

10 And they shall mocke the kings, and the princes shall be a scorne vnto them: they shall deride euery strong holde, for they shall gather [d] dust, and take it.

d They shall cast vp mountaines against it.

11 Then shall they ‡ take a courage, and transgresse, and doe wickedly, imputing this their power vnto their God.

‡ Change their spirit.

12 Art not thou of olde, O Lord my God, my holy one? we shall not die, O Lorde, thou hast ordeined them for iudgement, and O God, thou hast established them for correction.

13 Thou art of pure eyes, and canst not see euill, thou canst not behold wickednesse: wherefore then doest thou loobe vpon the transgressors, and holdest thy tongue, when the wicked deuoureth the man that is more righteous then he,

14 And makest men as the [e] fish of the sea, and as the creeping things that haue no ruler ouer them?

e That is, the great deuoureth the small.

15 They take vp all with the angle, they catch it in the nette, and gather it in their net, wherefore they reioyce, and are glad.

16 Therefore they sacrifice vnto their net, and burne incense vnto their yarne: because by them their portion is fat, and their meate ‖ plenteous.

17 Shall they therefore ‖ stretch out their net, and not spare continually to slay the [g] nations?

The ij. Chapter.

A vision against pride, couetousnesse, drunkennesse, and idolatrie.

I Will stand vpon my watch, and set mee vpon the towre, and will looke and see what he will say vnto me, & what I shall answere ‖ to him that rebuketh me.

2 And the Lord answered me, and sayde, Write the vision, and make it plaine vpon tables, that he may runne that [a] readeth it.

3 For the vision is yet for an appointed time, but at the last it shall speake, and not lie: though it tarie, waite: for it shal surely come, and shall not stay.

4 Beholde, [b] he that lifteth ‖ vp himselfe, his minde is not vpright in him: but the iust shall liue by his faith.

5 Yea, indeede the proud man is as he that transgresseth by wine, therefore shall he ‖ not endure, because he hath enlarged his desire as the hell, and is as death, and can not be satisfied, but gathereth vnto him all nations, and heapeth vnto him all people.

6 Shall not all these take vp a parable against him: & a ‖ taunting prouerbe against him, and say, Woe to him that encreaseth that which is not his. Howe long: and he that ladeth himselfe with thicke clay.

7 Shall they not rise vp suddenly that shall byte thee: and awake, that shall stirre thee, and thou shalt be ‖ their pray:

8 Because thou hast spoyled many nations, all the remnant of the people shall spoyle thee, because of mens blood, & for the wrong done in the lande, in the citie, and vnto all that dwell therein.

9 ‖ Woe to him that coueteth an euill couetousnesse to his house, that he may set his nest on high, to escape from the power of ‖ euill.

10 Thou hast consulted shame to thine owne house, by destroying many people, and hast sinned against thine owne soule.

11 For the stone shall crie out of the wall, and the beame out of the timber shall answere it.

12 [c] Woe vnto him that buildeth a towne with blood, and ‖ erecteth a citie by iniquitie.

13 Behold, is it not of the Lord of hostes, that the people shal ‖ labour in the very [d] fire? the people shall euen wearie themselues for very vanitie.

14 For the earth [e] shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters couer the sea.

15 Woe vnto him that giueth his neighbour drinke: thou ioynest thy ‖ rage, and makest him drunken also, that thou mayest see their priuities.

16 Thou art filled with shame for glorie, drinke thou also, ‖ and bee made naked: the cup of the Lords right hand shall be turned vnto thee, and shamefull spuing shalbe for thy glorie.

17 For the crueltie of [f] Libanus shall couer thee: so shal the spoile of the beasts ‖ which he made afraide, because of mens blood, and for the wrong done in the lande, in the citie, and vnto all that dwell therein.

18 What profiteth the image? for the maker thereof hath made it an image and a teacher of lyes, though hee that made it, trust therein, when he maketh dumbe idoles.

19 Woe vnto him that saith to the wood, Awake: and to the dumbe stone, Rise vp, ‖ it shall teach thee: beholde, it is layde ouer with gold and siluer, and there is no breath in it.

20 *But the Lorde is in his holy temple: let all the earth keepe silence before him. Psal. 11.4.

The iij. Chapter.

A prayer of the faithfull.

A Praier of Habacuc the Prophet for [a] the ignorances.

2 O Lord, I haue heard thy voyce, and was afraide, O Lord reuiue thy [b] worke in the middes of the yeres, in the middes of the yeeres make it knowen, in wrath remember mercie.

3 God commeth from Theman, and the holy one from mount Paran, Selah. his glorie couereth the heauens, and the earth is full of his praise.

4 And his brightnesse was as the light: he had hornes comming out of his handes, and there was the hiding of his power.

5 Before him went the pestilence, and burning coales went before his feete.

6 He stoode and measured the earth, he beheld, and dissolued the nations, and the euerlasting mountaines were broken, and the ancient hilles did bowe, his wayes are euerlasting.

7 For iniquitie I sawe the tents of Chusan, and the [c] curtaines of the lande of Madian did tremble.

8 Was the Lorde angrie against the [d] riuers? or was thine anger against the floods? or was thy wrath against the sea, that thou diddest ride [e] vpon thy horses? thy charrets brought saluation.

9 Thy [f] bowe was manifestly reuealed, and the [g] othes of the tribes were a sure word. Selah. thou diddest cleaue the earth with riuers.

10 The mountaines sawe thee, and they trembled, the streame of the water passed by, the deepe made a noyse, and lift vp his hands on high.

11 The Sunne and Moone stoode still in their habitation, [i] at the light of thine arrowes they went, and at the bright shining of thy speare.

The firſt Chapter.

Threatnings againſt Iuda & Hieruſalem, becauſe of their idolatrie.

THe worde of the Lorde, which came vnto Sophoni the ſonne of Chuſi, the ſonne of Gedaliah, the ſonne of Amarias, the ſonne of Ezecias, in the time of Joſia the ſonne of Amon king of Iuda.

2 I will ſurely deſtroy all things in the land, ſaith the Lord.

3 I will deſtroy man and beaſt, I will deſtroy the foules in the aire, and the fiſh in the ſea, and great ruine ſhall fall on the wicked, and I will vtterly deſtroy the men out of the land, ſaith the Lord.

4 I will ſtretch out mine hand vpon Iuda, and vpon all ſuch as dwel at Hieruſalem: thus will I roote out the remnant of Baal from this place, and the names of the Kemarims and prieſts:

5 Yea, and ſuch as vpon their houſe tops worſhip and bowe themſelues vnto the hoſte of heauen, which ſweare by the Lord, and by their m Malchom alſo.

7 Be ſtill at the preſence of the Lord God, for the day of the Lorde is at hand: yea, the Lord hath prepared a ſacrifice, and called his gheſts thereto.

8 And thus ſhall it happen, In the day of the Lordes ſacrifice I will viſite the princes and the kings children, and al ſuch as weare ſtrange clothing.

9 In the ſame day alſo will I viſite all thoſe that leap ouer the threſhold ſo proudly, which fill their lordes houſe with robberie and falſhood.

10 At the ſame time, ſaieth the Lord, there ſhalbe heard a great cry from the fiſh port, and an howling from the ſecond port, and a great deſtruction from the hils.

11 Howle ye that dwel in the low places, for all the marchant people are deſtroyed, and all they that were laden with ſiluer, are rooted out.

12 At the ſame time wil I ſearch Hieruſalem with lanternes, & viſite them that continue in their dregs, and ſay in their hearts, Tuſh, the Lorde will doe neither good nor euill.

The ende of the prophecie of Sophonia.

The booke of the Prophet Aggeus.

The firſt Chapter.

1 The time of the prophecie of Aggeus. 3 An exhortation to build the Temple againe.

IN the ſeconde yeere of king Darius, in the firſt moneth, the firſt day of the moneth, came the worde of the Lord by the miniſterie of the Prophet Aggeus [a] vnto Zorobabel [b] the ſonne of Salathiel, a Prince of Juda, and to Joſua the ſonne of Joſedech the high Prieſt, ſaying,

[a] Though the people tranſgreſſe, yet the prophet is ſent to the princes & prieſt, to ſhew the negligence of gouernors is the cauſe of the peoples ſinne.

[b] Zorobabel was the ſonne of Phaltiel, 1 Chr. 3. 18. his fathers name is left out, and his grandfathers name layde, becauſe it was not to obſcure as was the other. And yet there were many honourable perſons, till Cyrus had granted them liberty to build. God by the grace of regeneration, neither any any thing neither nothing ſhall hinder.

2 Thus ſpeaketh the Lorde of hoſtes, ſaying, This people ſaieth, [c] The time is not yet come for the Lordes houſe to bee builded.

3 Then came the worde of the Lorde by the miniſterie of the Prophet Aggeus, ſaying,

4 Is it time for you your ſelues to dwell in ſieled houſes, and this houſe lie waſte?

5 Nowe thus ſaieth the Lorde of hoſtes, Conſider your owne wayes in your hearts,

6 Yee haue [d] ſowen much, but yee bring little in: ye eate, but yee haue not ynough: yee drinke, but yee are not filled: yee clothe you, but ye bee not warme: and hee that earneth wages, putteth the wages into a broken bag.

7 Thus ſaieth the Lord of hoſtes, Conſider your owne wayes in your hearts.

8 Get you vp into the mountayne, and fetch wood, and build this houſe, and I will take pleaſure in it, and I will bee glorified, ſaieth the Lord.

9 Yee looked for much, and loe, it came to little, and when yee brought it home, I did blowe vpon it: and why, ſayeth the Lorde of hoſtes? becauſe of my houſe that is waſte, and you runne euery man into his owne houſe.

10 Therfore vpon you the heauen is ſtaid from dewe, and the earth is ſtayed from yeelding her increaſe.

11 And I haue called for a drought vpon the land, and vpon the mountaines, and vpon the corne, and vpon the wine, and vpon the oyle, and vpon all that the ground bringeth foorth, vpon men, and vpon cattell, and vpon all the labour of the hands.

12 When Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel, and Joſua the ſonne of Joſedech the high Prieſt, with all the [e] remnant of the people, heard the voyce of the Lord their God, and the [f] wordes of the Prophet Aggeus, as the Lord their God had ſent him, then the people did feare before the Lord.

[c] For the greater part tarried in Babylon, and would not take the liberty which Cyrus had giuen them.

[d] Here is no difference made betweene the worde of the Prophet and the worde of God, to them that the Prophet muſt ſo ſpeake, and the people ſo heare them, as the wordes of God.

13 Then Aggeus the Lordes meſſenger ſaide in the Lordes meſſage vnto the people, ſaying, I am with you, ſaith the Lord.

14 And the Lorde ſtirred vp the ſpirite of Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel, a prince of Juda, and the ſpirite of Joſua the ſonne of Joſedech the high Prieſt, and the ſpirite of all the people: and they came and did the worke in the houſe of the Lord of hoſtes their God.

The ii. Chapter.

He ſheweth that the glorie of the latter temple ſhall exceed the firſt.

IN the [a] twentie and fourth day of the sixt moneth, in the second yeere of king Darius,

2 In the [b] seuenth moneth, in the twentie & one day of the moneth, came the worde of the Lorde by the ministerie of the Prophet Aggeus, saying,

3 Say now to Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel prince of Iuda, & to Iosua the sonne of Iosedech the high priest, and to the rest of the people, saying,

4 Who is among you left, which saw this house in her first glorie, and how doe ye see it nowe? Is it not in your eyes in comparison of it as nothing?

5 Yet now bee of good cheere, O Zorobabel, saith the Lord, and be of good comfort, O Iosua thou high Priest sonne of Iosedech, and be strong all ye people of the land, saieth the Lord, & worke: for I am with you, saieth the Lord of hostes, 6 According to the [c] word that I couenanted with you, when ye came out of Egypt: and my [d] spirite shall remaine with you, feare yee not.

7 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, [e] *Yet a little while, and I will shake the heauens, and the earth, and the sea, and the drie land:

8 And I will moue all nations, and the desire of all nations shal come, & I wil fil this house with glory, saith the Lord of hostes.

9 The siluer is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the Lord of hostes.

10 The glory of the latter house, shall bee greater then the glory of the first, saieth the Lord of hostes: and in this place will I giue peace, saith the Lord of hostes.

11 In the twentie and fourth day of the ninth moneth, in the second yeere of king Darius, came the word of the Lord vnto the Prophet Aggeus, saying.

12 Thus saith the Lord God of hosts, Aske now the priests concerning the law, saying, 13 If one beare holy flesh in the skirt of his coat, and with his skirt do touch ỳ bread, pottage, wine, oile or any other meat, shall it be holy? And the priests answered, and sayd, No.

14 And Aggeus saide, If a polluted person touch any of these, shall hee not bee polluted? and the priests answered, and saide, Hee shall be polluted.

15 Then Aggeus answered, and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before mee, saith the Lorde, & so is all the worke of their hands: and that which they offer there is vncleane.

16 And now consider, I pray you, in your mindes, from this day and vpward, before there was layde one stone vpon another in the house of the Lord,

17 Before these things were done, when one came to a heape of twentie measures, there were but ten: so who came to the wine presse for to draw out fiftie vessels of wine out of the presse, there were but twentie.

18 I smote you with blasting, and with mildewe, and with haile in all the worke of your handes, and you turned not vnto mee, saith the Lord.

19 Consider now in your minds from this day, and afore, from the foure and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, euen from the day that the fundation of the Lords temple was laid, consider it in your minds:

20 Is the seede yet in the barnes? as yet the vines, & the figge tree, and the pomegranate, and the oliue tree hath not brought forth: from this day will I bless you.

21 And [f] againe the worde of the Lorde came vnto Aggeus in the foure and twentieth day of the moneth, saying,

22 Speake to Zorobabel the prince of Iuda, and say, I will shake the heauens and the earth:

23 And I will ouerthrow the throne of kingdomes, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdomes of the heathen, and I will ouerthrow the charets and the sitters thereon, and the horse & the riders shall fall downe euery one by the sword of his brother.

24 *In that day, saith the Lord of hostes, will I take thee Zorobabel my seruant, sonne of Salathiel, saith the Lord, and will make thee as a signet: for I haue chosen thee, saith the Lord of hostes.

The ende of the prophecie of Aggeus.

[a] They had but three weeks & three dayes to heare the prophet, and to prepare their tooles for their worke, so diligent were they after the preaching of the Prophet.

[b] They had now not wrought a full moneth yet they ward weare, & therfore had need to be set on afreth by the prophet, who was therefore now sent vnto them againe.

[c] God made many promises to his people after their departure out of Egypt: but in asmuch as he goeth about to speake of Christ in this place, it may well be thought that he meaneth here the promise made, Deut. 18. & repeated. Act. 7.

[d] Before he confirmed his promise made of Christ, now he promiseth his spirite: therefore there is no cause of feare.

[e] There passed 519. yeeres after this prophecie, before Christ came. Heb. 12. 26

The booke of the Prophet Zacharias.

The first Chapter.

1 He mooueth the people to returne to the Lord, and eschew the wickednesse of their fathers. 36 He prefigureth Christ and his Apostles.

IN the eight moneth of the second yeere of king Darius, came the word of the Lord vnto Zacharias the sonne of Barachias the sonne of Addo the Prophet, saying,

2 The Lord hath bene sore displeased with your forefathers.

3 And say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, *Turne you vnto mee, saieth the Lord of hostes, and I wil turne vnto you, saith the Lord of hostes.

4 Bee yee not like your forefathers, vnto whome the Prophets cried, saying, * Thus saieth the Lorde of hostes, turne you from your euil wayes, and from your wicked imaginations:

gnations: but they would not heare nor regard me, saith the Lord.

5 What is nowe become of your forefathers? and doe the prophets liue for euer?

6 But did not my wordes and statutes which I commaunded by my seruants the Prophets take hold of your forefathers? and they returned, and saide, Like as the Lord of hostes determined to doe vnto vs according to our owne wayes and imaginations, euen so hath he dealt with vs.

7 Vpon the twentie and fourth day of the eleuenth moneth (which is the moneth Sebah) in the second yeere of Darius, came the worde of the Lord vnto Zacharias the sonne of Barachias the sonne of Addo the Prophet, saying,

8 I sawe by night, and beholde, there sate one vpon a red horse, and stoode still among the Myrrhe trees that were in a bottome: and behinde him were there red, speckled, and white horses.

9 Then saide I, O my Lorde, what are these? And the angel that talked with me, said vnto me, I wil shew thee what these be.

10 And the man that stoode among the Myrrhe trees, answered, and saide, these are they whom the Lord hath sent to go thorow the world.

11 And they answered the angel of the Lorde that stoode among the myrrhe trees, and saide, We haue gone thorowe the world, and beholde, all the world sitteth still, and is carelesse.

12 Then the Lords angel gaue answere, and saide, O Lorde of hostes, howe long wilt thou be vnmercifull vnto Hierusalem, and to the cities of Juda, with whom thou hast bene displeased nowe this threescore and ten yeeres?

13 So the Lord gaue a louing and a comfortable answere vnto the angel that talked with me.

14 And the angel that communed with me, saide vnto me, *Crie thou, and speake, Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, I am exceeding ielous ouer Hierusalem and Sion, 15 And sore displeased at the careless heathen: for whereas I was but a litle angrie, they helped forward the affliction.

16 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde, I will returne vnto Hierusalem in tender mercie, so that my house shalbe builded in it, saith the Lord of hostes: yea, and the line shalbe stretched vpon Hierusalem.

17 Crie also and speake, Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, My cities through prosperitie shall be spread abroade, the Lorde shall yet comfort Sion, and choose Hierusalem.

18 Then lift I vp mine eyes and sawe, and behold, foure hornes.

19 And I saide vnto the angel that talked with me, What be these? Hee answered me, These are the hornes which haue scattered Juda, Israel, and Hierusalem.

20 And the Lorde shewed me foure Carpenters.

21 Then said I, what will these doe? He answered, and saide, These are the hornes which haue scattered Juda, so that no man durst lift vp his head: but these are come to fray them away, and to cast out the hornes of the Gentiles, which lift vp their horne ouer the land of Juda, to scatter it abroade.

The ij. Chapter.

The renewing of Hierusalem and Iuda.

I Lift vp mine eyes againe and looked: and behold a man with a measure line in his hand.

2 Then said I, whither goest thou? And he said vnto me, To measure Hierusalem, that I may see howe long and howe broade it is.

3 And behold, the angel that talked with me, went his way forth: then went there out an other angel to meete him,

4 And saide vnto him, Runne, speake to this yong man, and say, Hierusalem shall be inhabited without any wall, for the very multitude of people and cattell that shall be therein.

5 For I my selfe, sayeth the Lord, will be vnto her a wall of fire round about, and will be the glory in the middest of her.

6 O get you forth, O flee from the land of the North, saith the Lorde: for I haue scattered you into the foure windes of the heauen, saith the Lord.

7 Saue thy selfe, O Sion, thou that dwellest with the daughter of Babylon:

8 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, After this glory hath he sent me out to the heathen which spoyled you: for whoso toucheth you, shall touch the apple of his owne eye.

9 Behold, I will lift vp mine hand ouer them, so that they shall be spoyled of those which afore serued them: and ye shall know that the Lord of hostes hath sent me.

10 Be glad and reioyce, O daughter Sion: for loe, I am come to dwell in the middest of thee, sayth the Lord.

11 At the same time there shall many heathen cleaue to the Lorde, and shalbe my people: thus will I dwell in the middest of thee, and thou shalt knowe that the Lord of hostes hath sent me vnto thee.

12 The Lord shall haue Juda in possession for his part in the holy land, and shall choose Hierusalem yet againe.

13 Let all flesh be still before the Lord: for he is raised vp out of his holy place.

The iij. Chapter.

1 Of the low and high estate of Christ, vnder the figure of Iosua the high Priest; 8 A prophecie of Christ.

AND hee shewed mee Iosua the high Priest standing before the Angel of the Lorde, and Satan stood at his right hand to resist him.

2 And

2 And the Lorde ſaide vnto Satan, The Lorde reproue thee thou Satan, yea, the Lorde that hath choſen Hieruſalem reproue thee: is not this a brand taken out of the fire?

3 Nowe Joſua was clothed in vncleane rayment, and ſtood before the Angel.

4 And he anſwered, and ſaide vnto thoſe that ſtoode before him, Take away the foule clothes from him. And vnto him he ſaid, Beholde, I haue taken away thy ſinne from thee, and I will clothe thee with change of rayment.

5 And I ſaide, Let them ſet a faire miter vpon his head. So they ſet a faire myter vpon his head, and put on clothes vpon him, and the angel of the Lord ſtoode there.

6 Then the angel of the Lord teſtified vnto ‖ Joſua, and ſpake, ‖Or, Ieſua.

7 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, If thou wilt walke in my wayes, and keepe my watch, thou ſhalt iudge my houſe, and keepe my courtes, and I will giue thee place among theſe that ſtand here.

8 Heare, O Joſua thou high Prieſt, thou and thy fellowes that ſit before thee, for they are monſtruous perſons: beholde, * I will bring forth the branch my ſeruant. Luke 1.78.

9 For loe, the ſtone that I haue laide before Joſua, vpon one ſtone ſhalbe ſeuen eyes: beholde, I will cut out the grauing thereof, ſaith the Lorde of hoſtes, and I will take away the ſinne of the land in one day.

10 In that day ſhall euery man call his neighbour vnder the vine, and vnder the fig tree, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes.

The iiij. Chapter.

The viſion of the golden candleſticke, and the expoſition thereof.

AND the angel that talked with me, came againe, and waked me, as a man that is rayſed out of his ſleepe,

2 And ſaide vnto me, What ſeeſt thou? And I ſaide, I haue looked and beholde, a candleſticke all of golde, with a bowle vpon it, & his ſeuen lampes therein, and vpon euery lampe ſeuen pipes,

3 And two Oliue trees thereby: one vpon the right ſide of the bowle, and the other vpon the left ſide.

4 So I anſwered and ſpake to the angel that talked with me, ſaying, O my Lorde, what are theſe?

5 The angel that talked with me, anſwered and ſaide vnto me, Knoweſt thou not what theſe be? And I ſaide, No, my Lord.

6 He anſwered and ſaid vnto me, This is the worde of the Lorde vnto Zorobabel, ſaying, Neither through an hoſte of men, nor through ſtrength: but through my ſpirite, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes.

7 What art thou great mountaine before Zorobabel? thou muſt be made euen, and he ſhall bring forth the head ſtone thereof, with ſhoutings, crying, Grace, grace vnto it.

8 Moreouer, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

9 The hands of Zorobabel haue laide the foundation of this houſe, his hands ſhal alſo finiſh it: and thou ſhalt know that the Lorde of hoſtes hath ſent me vnto you:

10 For who hath deſpiſed the day of ſmall things? they ſhall reioyce, and ſhall ſee the ſtone of a tin in the hand of Zorobabel: theſe ſeuen are the eyes of the Lord, which go thorow the whole world. a A plummet of tinne, as noteth mens bis plummets of lead.

11 Then anſwered I, and ſaid vnto him, what are theſe two Oliue trees vpon the right and left ſide of the candleſticke?

12 I ſpake moreouer, and ſaid vnto him, what be theſe two Oliue branches, which through the two golden pipes emptie themſelues into the gold?

13 He anſwered me, and ſaide, Knoweſt thou not what theſe be? And I ſaid, No, my Lorde.

14 Then ſaid he, Theſe are the two Oliue branches that ſtande with the ruler of the whole earth.

The v. Chapter.

1 The viſion of the flying booke, ſignifying the curſe of theeues, and ſuch as abuſe, the name of God. 6 By the viſion of the meaſure, is ſignified the bringing of Iuda to Babylon.

SO I turned me, lifting vp mine eyes, and looked, and beholde, a flying booke.

2 And he ſaid vnto me, What ſeeſt thou? I anſwered, I ſee a flying booke of twentie cubites long, and ten cubites broad.

3 Then ſaid he vnto me, This is the curſe that goeth forth ouer the whole earth: for all theeues ſhall be ‖ iudged after this booke, and all periured perſons ſhalbe iudged according to the ſame. ‖Or, cut off, (as is written) on the one ſide: and all periured perſons ſhalbe cut off, as is on the other ſide.

4 And I wil bring it forth, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, ſo that it ſhall enter into the houſe of the theefe, and into the houſe of him that falſly ſweareth by my name, & ſhall remaine in the middeſt of his houſe, and conſume it, with the timber and ſtones thereof.

5 Then the angel that talked with me, went forth, and ſaid vnto me, Lift vp thine eyes, and ſee what is this that goeth forth.

6 And I ſaide, What is it? He anſwered, This is a ‖ meaſure going out. He ſaid moreouer, Euen thus are they that dwell vpon the whole earth to looke vpon. ‖Or, Ephah.

7 And beholde, there was lift vp a talent of lead: and loe, a woman ſate in the middeſt of the ‖ meaſure. ‖Or, Ephah.

8 And he ſaid, This is vngodlineſſe: ſo he caſt her into the middeſt of the ‖ meaſure, and threwe the lumpe of leade into the mouth of the ‖ meaſure. ‖Or, Ephah. ‖Or, Ephah.

9 Then lift I vp mine eyes, and looked, and behold, there came out two women, and the the winde was in their wings: for they had wings like the wings of a Storke, and they lift vp the | measure betwixt the earth and the heauen. Or, Ephah.

10 Then spake I to the angel that talked with me, whither will these beare the measure?

11 And he sayde vnto me, Into the lande of Shinnaar to build it an house, and it shall be established, and set there vpon her owne place.

The vi. Chapter.

1 By the foure charets he describeth the prosperitie of foure kingdomes.

MOreouer, I turned mee, lifting vp mine eyes, and looked, and beholde, there came foure charets out frō betwixt two hils, which hilles were of brasse.

2 In the first charet were red horses, in the second charet were blacke horses,

3 In the third charet were white horses, in the fourth charet were horses of diuers colours, and strong.

4 Then spake I, and said vnto the angell that talked with me, O my Lorde, what are these?

5 The angel answered, and said vnto me, These are the foure spirits of the heauen, which be come forth to stand before the ruler of all the earth.

6 That with the blacke horse went forth into the land of the North, and the white followed them, and the speckled horses went forth toward the South. Or, the pyed.

7 And the | strong horses went out, and required to goe and take their iourney ouer the whole earth: and he said, Get you hence, and goe thorowe the worlde: so they went throughout the world.

8 Then cryed he vpon me, and spake vnto me, saying, Behold, these that goe toward the North, shall still my wrath in the North countrey.

9 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

10 Take of the prisoners that are come from captiuitie, namely, Heldai, Tobiah, and Idaia, which came from Babilon: and come thou the same day, and goe vnto the house of Iosiah the sonne of Sophonia.

11 Then take golde and siluer, and make crownes thereof, and set them vpon the head of Iosua the sonne of Iosedech the high Priest, 12 And speake vnto him, Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, *Behold the man whose name is the Branch, and he shall growe vp out of his place, and he shall builde vp the Temple of the Lord. Luke 1.78.

13 Yea, euen he shall build vp the Temple of the Lord, and he shall beare the praise: he shall sit vpon | the Lords throne, and haue the dominion: a Priest shall he be also vpon his throne, and a peaceable counsel shall be betwixt them both. Or, his.

14 And the crowne shall be to Helem, and to Tobiah, and to Idaia, and to Hen the sonne of Zophoni, for a memoriall in ỹ Temple of the Lord.

15 And such as be farre off shall come and build in the temple of the Lorde, that ye may knowe how that the Lord of hosts hath sent me vnto you: and this shal come to passe, if ye will hearken diligently vnto the voyce of the Lord your God.

The vii. Chapter.

5 The true fasting. 11 The rebellion of the people is the cause of their affliction.

ANd the fourth yeere of king Darius, the word of the Lorde came vnto Zacharia, in the fourth day of the ninth moneth, which is called Casleu.

2 What time as Sarasar and Rogommelech, and the men that were with them, sent vnto the house of God for to pray before the Lord:

3 And that they shoulde speake vnto the Priestes which were in the house of the Lorde of hostes, and to the Prophets, saying, Shoulde I weepe in the fifth moneth, and abstaine as I haue done now these so many yeeres?

4 Then came the worde of the Lorde of hostes vnto me, saying,

5 Speake vnto all the people of the land, and to the Priests, and say, *When ye fasted and mourned in the fifth & seuenth moneth now this threescore and tenne yeeres, did ye fast vnto me? Esai 58.5.

6 When ye did also eate and drinke, did ye not eate and drinke for your owne selues?

7 Are not these the wordes which the Lord spake by his Prophets aforetime, when Hierusalem was yet inhabited & wealthy, shee and the cities rounde about her, when there dwelt men both toward the South and in the plaine countreys?

8 And the worde of the Lord came vnto Zacharie, saying,

9 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Execute true iudgement, shewe mercie and louing kindnesse euery man to his brother.

10 *Doe the widowe, the fatherlesse, the strangers and poore no wrong, and let no man imagine euil against his brother in his heart. Exo. 22.22. esay 1.23. iere. 6.28.

11 Neuertheless, they woulde not take heede, but turned their | backes, and stopped their eares, that they should not heare. Or, shoulders.

12 Yea, they made their hearts as an Adamant stone, lest they should heare the lawe and words which the Lorde of hostes sent in his holy spirite by the Prophets aforetime: wherefore the Lord of hosts was very wroth at them.

13 And thus is it come to passe, that like as he cryed, & they would not heare: euen so they cryed, and I would not heare, saith the

Lorde God of hostes,

14 But scattered them among all the nations whom they knewe not: thus the lande was made so desolate after them, that there trauailed no man in it: neither to nor fro: for that pleasant land was vtterly laide waste.

The viii. Chapter.

2 Of the returne of the people vnto Hierusalem, and of the mercie of God toward them. 16 Of good works. 20 The calling of the Gentiles.

AGain the word of the Lord of hostes came vnto me, saying,

2 Thus saieth the Lorde of hostes, I was in great ielousie for Sion, yea, I haue bene very ielous for her great wrath.

3 Thus saith the Lorde, I will returne vnto Sion, and will dwell in the middest of Hierusalem: so that Hierusalem shalbe called, A faithfull and true citie, the hill of the Lord of hosts, an holy hill.

4 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, There shall yet olde men and olde women dwell againe in the streetes of Hierusalem: yea, and such as goe with staues in their handes for very age.

5 The streetes of the citie also shall be full of yong boyes and damsels, playing in the streetes thereof.

6 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, If the residue of this people thinke it to be vnpossible in their eyes in these dayes: should it therfore be vnpossible in my sight, saith the Lord of hostes?

7 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, I will deliuer my people from the countryes of the East and West,

8 And will bring them againe, that they may dwel in the middest of Hierusalem: they shall bee my people, and I will bee their God in trueth and righteousnesse.

9 Thus sayth the Lord of hosts, Let your handes bee strong, ye that now heare these wordes by the mouth of the Prophets which are in these dayes, that the foundation of the house of the Lord of hostes is layde, that the Temple may be builded.

10 For before these dayes neither men nor cattell could winne any [a] thing, neither might any man come in and out in rest for trouble: but I let euery man goe against his neighbour.

a They laboured and toyled themselues & their cattell without encrease, because they cared not for Gods glory in rebuilding of þ Temple, but went about their priuate gaine.

11 Neuertheless, I wil now intreate the residue of this people no more as aforetime, sayth the Lord of hostes.

12 For the seede shal prosper, the vine shall giue her fruite, the ground shall giue her encrease, and the heauens shal giue their dewe, and I shall cause the remnant of this people to haue all these in possession.

13 And it shall come to passe, that like as ye were a curse among the heathen, O yee house of Juda and ye house of Israel, euen so will I deliuer you, that ye shal be a blessing: feare not, but let your handes be strong.

14 For thus saith the Lorde of hosts, Like as I thought to punish you, what time as your fathers prouoked me vnto wrath, saith the Lord of hosts, and spared not:

15 Euē so am I determined now in these dayes for to doe well vnto the house of Juda and Hierusalem: therefore feare ye not.

16 Now the things that ye shall doe, are these, *Speake euery man the trueth vnto his neighbour, execute iudgement truely and peaceably within your portes. Ephe. 4.25.

17 And let none of you imagine euill in his heart against his neighbour, and loue no false othes: for all these are the thinges that I hate, sayth the Lord.

18 And the worde of the Lorde of hostes came vnto me, saying,

19 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, The fast of the fourth moneth, the fast of the fifth, the fast of the seuenth, and the fast of the tenth, shalbe ioy and gladnesse, and prosperous high feastes vnto the house of Juda: only loue the trueth and peace.

20 Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, There shall yet come people, and the inhabiters of many cities:

21 And they that dwell in one citie shall goe to another, saying, Vp, let vs goe and pray before the Lord, let vs seeke the Lord of hostes: I will goe with you.

22 Yea much people and mightie nations shal come to seeke the Lord of hosts at Hierusalem, and to pray before the Lord.

23 Thus saieth the Lorde of hostes, In that time shall ten men (out of all maner of language of the Gentiles) take one Jewe by the hemme of his garment, and say, We will goe with you: for we haue heard that God is among you.

The ix. Chapter.

1 The threatning of the Gentiles. 9 The comming of Christ sitting on an Asse.

THe burden of the worde of the Lorde in the lande of Hadrach: and Damascus shalbe his rest, when the eyes of men, euen of all the tribes of Israel shall bee towardes the Lord.

2 The borders of Hemath shall be harde thereby, Tyrus also and Sidon, for they are very wise.

3 Tyrus shal make her selfe strong, heape vp siluer as the sand, and golde as the clay of the streetes.

4 Beholde, the Lorde shall spoyle her, he shall smite downe her power in the sea, and she shall be consumed with fire.

5 This shall Ascalon see, and be afraide: Gaza shalbe very sory, so shall Accaron also, because her hope is come to confusion: for the king of Gaza shall perish, and at Ascalon shall no man dwell.

6 Strangers shal dwel at Asdod, & as for the pride of þ Philistines I shal roote it out.

7 Their blood will I take away from their their mouth, and their abominations from betweene their teeth: Thus they that shall be left shall be for our God, hee shall bee as a prince in Juda, and Accaron like as a Jebusite.

8 And I will pitche a campe a about mine house against the armie, against him that passeth by, and against him that returneth, and no oppressour shal come vpon them any more: for now I haue seene with mine eyes.

a God is strong enough to defende his church against all his aduersaries.

9 Reioyce thou greatly, O daughter Sion, be glad, O daughter Hierusalem: Esay 62.11 mat. 21.5. for loe, thy king commeth vnto thee, euen the righteous and sauiour, lowly and simple is he, hee rideth vpon an Asse, and vpon the foale of an Asse.

10 I will roote out the charets from Ephraim, and the horse from Hierusalem, the battell bowes shall be destroyed, hee shall giue the doctrine of peace vnto the heathen: and his dominion shal be from the one sea to the other, and from the riuer to the ende of the worlde.

11 Thou also shalt bee saued through the blood of thy couenant: I haue loosed thy prisoners out of the pit wherein is no water.

12 Turne ye now to the strong holde yee that bee in prison and long sore to be deliuered: euen this day I bring thee worde, that I will reward thee double againe.

13 For Juda haue I bent as a bowe for me, Ephraim his hande haue I filled, and thy sonnes, O Sion, will I raise vp against the Grekes, and make thee as a Giants sworde.

14 The Lorde God shall be seene aboue them, & his darts shall go forth as the lightning: the Lord God shall blowe the trumpet, and shall come forth as a storme out of the South.

15 The Lorde of hostes shal defend them, they shall consume and deuoure, and subdue them with sling stones, they shall drinke and rage as it were through wine, they shall be filled like the balons, and as the hornes of the altar.

16 The Lord their God shal deliuer them in that day, as the flocke of his people: for as precious stones of a Diademe they shalbe set vp ouer his land.

17 O howe great is his goodnesse, and how excellent his beautie? For the corne shal make the yong men chearefull, and the new wine the maidens.

The x. Chapter.

1 The people is moued to require the doctrine of the trueth of the Lorde. 3 The Lorde promiseth to visite and comfort the house of Israel.

PRay the Lord then betimes to giue the latter raine, so shall the Lord make bright clouds, & giue you raine inough, and to euery one grasse in the field.

2 For vaine is the answere of idoles, the soothsayers see lies, and the dreamers tel but vaine things, the comfort that they giue is nothing worth: therefore they went away like a flocke of sheepe, and were troubled, because they had no shepheard.

3 My wrathfull displeasure was moued against the shepheards, and I will visite the Goates: for the Lord of hostes will visite his flocke the house of Juda, and will make them as a goodly fayre horse in the battell.

4 Out of Iuda shall come the corner, the nayle, the battell bowe, and the appointer of tribute also.

5 They shall be as gyantes which in the battell treade downe their enemies in the myre of the streetes: they shall fight, for the Lorde shall be with them, and the horsemen shalbe confounded.

6 I will comfort the house of Juda, and preserue the house of Joseph, I will bring them againe, for I pitie them, and they shall be like as they were whē I had not cast them off: for I the Lorde am their God, and will heare them.

7 Ephraim shall be as a Giant, and their heart shalbe cheareful as through wine: yea, their children shall see it, and be glad, & their heart shall reioyce in the Lord.

8 I will hisse for them, and gather them together, for I will redeeme them, they shall encrease, as they encreased afore.

9 I will sowe them among the people, that they may thinke vpon me in farre countreys, they shall liue with their children, and turne againe.

10 I will bring them againe also from the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria: I wil carie them into the land of Gilead, and to Libanus, and a place a shall not be found for them.

a The multitude shalbe so great.

11 And affliction shall passe ouer vnto the sea, and smite the sea waues, so that all the deepe floods shall be dried vp, the proude boasting of Assur shalbe cast downe, and the scepter of Egypt shalbe taken away.

12 I will comfort them in the Lord, that they may walke in his name, saith the Lord.

The xi. Chapter.

1 The destruction of the Temple. 4 The care of the faithfull is committed to Christ by the father. 7 A grieuous vision against Hierusalem and Iuda.

OPen the doores, O Libanus, that the fire may consume thy Cedar trees.

2 Howle ye firre trees, for the Cedar is fallen, yea, all the proude are wasted away: Howle, O yee oke trees of Basan, for the mightie strong wood is cut downe.

3 Men may heare ỹ shepheards mourne, for their glory is destroyed, men may heare the Lions whelps roare, for the pride of Jordane is wasted away.

4 Thus sayeth the Lorde my God, Feede the sheepe of the slaughter,

5 which haue bene ſlaine of thoſe that poſſeſſed them, yet they tooke it for no ſinne, but they that ſolde them, ſayde, The Lord be thanked, for I am rich, yea, their owne ſhepheards ſpare them not.

6 Therefore will I no more ſpare thoſe that dwell in the land, ſaith the Lord: but lo, I will deliuer the people euery man into his neighbours hande, and into the hand of his king, that they may ſmite the lande, and out of their hands I will not deliuer them.

7 I my ſelfe fedde the ſlaughter ſheepe, a poore flocke verily, and tooke vnto me two ſtaues, the one called Beautie, the other called Bands: and ſo fed the ſheepe.

8 Three ſhepheards I put out of office in one moneth, for I might not away with them: neither had they any delight in me.

Iere.15.2. 9 *Then ſayde I, I will feede you no more: the thing that dyeth, let it dye: and that that willl periſh, let it periſh: and let the remnãt eate euery one the fleſh of his neighbour.

10 I tooke alſo my ſtaffe, euen Beautie, and brake it, that I might diſanull the couenant which I made with all people.

11 And ſo it was broken in that day: then the poore ſimple sheepe that had a reſpect vnto me, knewe thereby that it was the worde of the Lord.

12 And I ſayd vnto them, If ye thinke it good, bring hither my wages, if not, then leaue. Mat.27.9. *So they wayed downe thirtie ſiluer pence, the value that I was priced at.

13 And the Lord ſaid vnto me, Caſt it vnto the potter, a goodly price for me to be valued at of them. And I tooke the thirtie ſiluer pence, and caſt them to the potter in ỹ houſe of the Lord.

14 Then brake I my other ſtaffe alſo, namely Bandes, that I might looſe the brotherhood betwirt Iuda and Iſrael.

15 And the Lord ſaid vnto me, Take thee alſo the ‖ ſtaffe of a fooliſh ſhepheard. ‖Or, inſtrument.

16 For loe, I will raiſe vp a ſhepheard in the land, which ſhal not ſeeke after ỹ things that be loſt, nor ſeeke the tender lambes, he ſhall not heale the wounded, he ſhal not nouriſh the things that are whole: but hee ſhall eate the fleſh of ſuch as be fat, and teare their clawes in pieces.

17 O idole ſhepheard that leaueth ỹ flocke, the ſword ſhall come vpon his arme, and vpon his right eye: his arme ſhalbe cleane dried vp, and his right eye ſhalbe ſore blinded.

The xii. Chapter.

Of the deſtruction, and building againe of Hieruſalem.

THe heauie burden which the Lorde hath deuiſed for Iſrael. Thus ſayeth the Lorde which ſtretched the heauens abroade, laid the foundatiõ of the earth, and gaue man the breath of life.

2 Behold, I will make Hieruſalem a cup ‖ Or, poyſon of ‖ ſurfet vnto all the people that are rounde about her: yea, Iuda himſelfe alſo ſhall be in the ſiege againſt Hieruſalem.

3 At the ſame time will I make Hieruſalem an heauie ſtone for the people, ſo that all ſuch as lift it vp ſhalbe torne and rent, and all the people of the earth ſhalbe gathered together againſt it.

4 In that day, ſayeth the Lorde, I will make al horſes aſtonied, and thoſe that ride vpon them to bee out of their wits: I will open mine eyes vpon the houſe of Iuda, and ſmite all the horſes of the people with blindneſſe.

5 And the princes of Iuda ſhall ſay in their hearts, The inhabiters of Hieruſalem ſhal giue me conſolation in the Lord of hoſts their God.

6 In that time will I make the princes of Iuda like an hotte burning ouen with wood, & like a firebrand among the ‖ ſtrawe, ‖ Or, ſheaf. ſo that they ſhall conſume all the people rounde about them, both vpon the right hand, and vpon the left: Hieruſalem alſo ſhalbe inhabited againe, namely in the ſame place where Hieruſalem ſtandeth.

7 The Lorde ſhall preſerue the tentes of Iuda as aforetime, ſo that the glorie of the houſe of Dauid, and the glory of the citizens of Hieruſalem, ſhall not be exalted againſt Iuda.

8 In that day ſhall the Lorde defende the citizens of Hieruſalem, ſo that the weakeſt then among them ſhalbe as Dauid, and the houſe of Dauid ſhalbe as Gods houſe, and as the angel of the Lord before them.

9 At the ſame time wil I goe about to deſtroy all ſuch people as goe againſt Hieruſalem.

10 Moreouer, vpon the houſe of Dauid, and vpon the citizens of Hieruſalem will I powre out the ſpirite of grace and compaſſion, *ſo that they ſhall looke vpon me whom Ioh.19.37. they haue pearced, and they ſhall lament for him, as men mourne for their onely begotten ſonne: yea, and be ſorie for him, as men are ſorie for their firſt childe.

11 Then ſhall there be a great mourning at Hieruſalem, *like as the lamentation at 2.Chro.35. Adadremmon in the fielde of Mageddon. 22.

12 And the lande ſhall bewaile, euery kinred by themſelues alone: the kinred of the houſe of Dauid by themſelues, and their wiues by themſelues: the kinred of the houſe of Nathan themſelues, and their wiues by themſelues:

13 The kinred of the houſe of Leui themſelues alone, and their wiues by themſelues: the kinred of the houſe of Simei themſelues alone, and their wiues by themſelues.

14 In like maner, all the other generations euery one by thẽſelues alone, and their wiues by themſelues.

The xiii. Chapter.

1 Of the well of grace and trueth. 2 Of the cleane riddance of idolatrie, and of falſe prophets.

In

IN that time shall the house of Dauid and the citizens of Hierusalem haue an open well to wash off sinne and vncleannesse.

2 *And then sayth the Lorde of hostes, I will destroy the names of the ydoles out of the land, so that they shall no more be put in remembrance: as for the false prophets also, and the vncleane spirits, I wil take them out of the land. *Exe.30.13.

3 So that if any of them prophecie any more, his owne father and mother that begate him, shall say vnto him, Thou shalt not liue, for thou speakest lies vnder the name of the Lorde: yea his owne father and mother that begate him shall wound him when hee prophecieth.

4 And then shall those prophets be confounded, euery one of his vision when hee prophecieth: neither shall they weare haire cloth any more to deceiue men withall.

5 But he shall be faine to say, I am no prophet, I am an husbandman: for so am I taught by man from my youth vp.

6 And if it be sayd vnto him, Howe came these woundes then in thine handes? Hee shall answere, Thus was I wounded in the house of mine owne friendes.

7 Arise, O thou sworde, vpon my shepheard, and vpon the man that is my fellowe, saieth the Lorde of hostes: *smite the shepheard, and the sheepe shall be scattered abroad, and so will I turne my hand to the litle ones. *Mat.26.31. Mar.14.27.

8 And it shal come to passe, saith the Lord, that in all the land two partes shalbe rooted out and dye, but the third part shall remaine therein.

9 And the same thirde part wil I bring thorowe the fire, and will cleanse them as the siluer is cleansed, yea and trye them like as golde is tryed: then shal they call vpon my name, and I wil heare them: I will say, It is my people, and they shall say, Lord my God.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 The wasting of the Church vnder the figure of Hierusalem. 9 Of the kingdome of the Lord.

BEholde, the day of the Lorde commeth, and thy spoyle shall be deuided in the middest of thee.

2 For I will gather together all the heathen to fight against Hierusalem, so that the citie shall be wonne, the houses spoyled, and the women defiled: the halfe of the citie shall goe away into captiuitie, and the residue of the people *shal not be caryed out of the citie.

3 After that, the Lorde shal goe forth to fight against those heathen, as men vse to fight in the day of battell.

4 Then shall his feete stande vpon the mount Oliuete that lyeth vpon the East side of Hierusalem, and the mount Oliuete shall cleaue in two, Eastwarde and westwarde, so that there shall be a great valley: and the halfe mount shal remoue toward the North, and the other towarde the South.

5 And yee shal flee vnto the valley of my hilles, for the valley of the hilles shall reach vnto Azal: yea, flee shall ye like as ye fled for the earthquake *in the dayes of Oziah king of Iuda: and the Lorde my God shall come, and all the saintes with him. *Amos 1.1.

6 In that day shall there bee no cleare light, but darke.

7 This shall be that speciall day, which is knowen vnto the Lorde, neither day nor night: but about the euening time it shalbe light.

8 In that time shall there waters of life runne out from Hierusalem: the halfe part of them towarde the East sea, and the other halfe towarde the vttermost sea, and shall continue both sommer and winter.

9 And the Lorde him selfe shall be King ouer all the earth: At that time shall there be one Lorde onely, and his name shall bee but one.

10 All the land shall be turned as a plaine from Gibea to Remmon towards ꝑ South of Hierusalem: She shalbe set vp, and inhabited in her place, from Beniamins port, vnto the place of the first port, and vnto the corner port, and from the towre of Hananeel vnto the kings wine presses.

11 There shall men dwell, and there shall be no more destruction, but Hierusalem shall be safely inhabited.

12 This shall be the plague wherewith the Lorde will smite all people that haue fought against Hierusalem, their flesh shall consume away, though they stande vpon their feete, their eyes shalbe corrupt in their holes, and their tongue shal consume in their mouth.

13 In that day shal the Lord make a great sedition among them: so that one man shall take another by the hand, and lay his hands vpon the handes of his neighbour.

14 Iuda shall fight against Hierusalem, and the armies of all the Heathen shall be gathered together round about with golde and siluer, and a very great multitude of apparell.

15 And this plague shal goe ouer horses, mules, camels, asses, and all the beastes that shalbe in the hoste, like as yonder plague was.

16 Euery one that remaineth then of all the people which came against Hierusalem, shall goe vp yeere by yeere to worshippe the King euen the Lorde of hostes, and to keepe the feast of tabernacles.

17 And looke what generation vpon the earth goeth not to Hierusalem for to worship the King the Lorde of hostes, vpon the same shall come no raine.

18 If the kinred of Egypt goe not vp, and come not, it shall not raine vpon them: Thus ſhall be the plague wherewith the Lord will ſmite all the Heathen that come not vp to keepe the feaſt of tabernacles, 19 Yea this ſhall be the plague of Egypt, and the plague of all people that goe not vp to keepe the feaſt of tabernacles.

20 At that time ſhall the riding geare of the horſes be holy vnto the Lord: the kettles in the Lordes houſe ſhall be like the baſons before the altar.

21 Yea, all the kettles in Hieruſalem and Juda ſhall be holy vnto the Lorde of hoſtes: and all they that ſlay offerings, ſhall come and take of them, and ſeethe therein: And at that time there ſhalbe no more Chanaanites in the houſe of the Lord of hoſtes.

A complaint againſt Iſrael, and chiefely the Prieſts.

a That is, the grieuous and threatning prophecie.

THe [a] burden of the worde of the Lord to Iſrael, by the miniſterie of Malachi.

5 And your eyes ſhall ſee: and you ſhall ſay, The Lorde will bee magnified vpon the borders of Iſrael.

6 A ſonne honoureth his father, and a ſeruant his maſter: If then I bee a father, where is mine honour? If I bee a maſter, where is my feare, ſayeth the Lorde God of hoſtes to you, O ye prieſtes that deſpiſe my Name? and yee ſay, Wherein haue we deſpiſed thy Name?

8 But yee haue gone out of the way, yee haue caused many to fall by the lawe, yee haue corrupted the couenant of Leui, saith the Lord of hostes.

16 If thou hatest her, put her away, saith the Lord God of Israel: yet hee couereth the iniurie vnder his garment, sayeth the Lord of hostes, and be yee kept in your spirite, and transgresse not.

17 Ye haue wearied the Lord with your wordes, and you haue sayde, Wherein haue we wearyed him? Whilest you say, Euery one that doeth euill, is good in the sight of the Lord, and he is pleased in them: or where is the God of iudgement?

The ende of the prophecie of Malachias, and consequently of all the Prophets.

The third booke of Esdras.

The first Chapter.

1 Iosias appointeth Priestes, and keepeth the Passeouer. 7 Offerings for the Priests and the people. 23 The vpright life of Iosias. 53 The destruction of Hierusalem.

AND Iosias held * the feast of Easter in Hierusalem vnto his Lord, and offred the Passeouer the fourteenth day of the first moneth. * 2 Chron. 35. 1 king. 23. 21.

2 He set the Priestes also in order according to their dayly courses, being arayed in long garments, in the temple of the Lord.

3 And he spake vnto the Leuites the holy ministers of Israel, that they should halowe themselues vnto the Lorde, to set the holy arke of the Lorde in the house that king Solomon the sonne of Dauid had builded,

4 And said, Ye shal no more beare the arke vpon your shoulders: and nowe serue the Lord your God, and take the charge of his people Israel, and prepare you after your villages and tribes,

5 According as king Dauid the king of Israel hath left in writing, and ‖ according as Solomon his sonne hath honourably prepared, and standing eche of you in that degree of authoritie which in the destruction was appoynted vnto your fathers the Leuites, in the presence of your brethren the children of Israel: ‖ Or, according to Solomon his sonnes great liberalitie.

6 Offer the Passeouer in order, and make ready the sacrifices for your brethren, and keepe the Passeouer according to the commandement of the Lorde, which was giuen vnto Moses.

7 And vnto the people that was founde there, Iosias gaue thirtie thousande lambes and kids, and three thousande calues. These things were giuen of the kings owne possessions, according as he promised to the people, to the Priests, and to the Leuites.

8 And Helkias, and Zacharias, and Sielus the gouernours of the temple, gaue to the Priests for the Passeouer, two thousand and fiue hundred sheepe, and three hundred calues.

9 Moreouer Iechonias, & Samaias, and Nathanael his brother, and Sabias, and Ochiel, & Joram, captaines ouer thousandes, gaue to the Leuites for the Passeouer, fiue thousand sheepe, and seuen hundred calues.

10 And when these things were brought to passe, the Priests and Leuites stood goodly in their order, & had the vnleauened bread throughout the tribes.

11 And after the degrees of preeminence appoynted to their fathers, to offer to the Lorde in the sight of the people, according as it is written in the booke of Moses: and thus did they in the morning.

12 And they rosted the Easter lambe with fire, as according was: as for the offerings, they dight them in kettels and pottes with good sauours, 13 And set them before all them of the people, & afterwarde they prepared for themselues and the Priestes their brethren the sonnes of Aaron.

14 For the Priests offered the fat, ‖ vntill the time was expired, and the Leuites prepared for themselues, and for the Priestes their brethren the children of Aaron. ‖ Or, vntill the euening time.

15 The holy singers also the children of Asaph, stood in their orders according as Dauid deuised, to wit, Asaph, ‖ Zacharias, and Iduthun, which was appointed by ỹ king. ‖ Or, Azarias, and Eddimus.

16 Moreouer, the porters and doore keepers stoode by the doores and that diligently, so that none went out of his ‖ standing and seruices, for their brethren the Leuites prepared for them. ‖ Or, his watch, or turne and course.

17 Thus were all things performed that belonged to the offering of the Lorde in that day, that they might holde the Passeouer, 18 And offer sacrifices vpon the altar of the Lorde, according to the commandement of king Iosias.

19 So the children of Israel which were then present, held an honourable Passeouer, and the feast of sweete bread seuen dayes long.

20 Yea, such a Passeouer was not kept in Israel, from the time of the Prophete Samuel.

21 And all the kings of Israel helde not such an Easter as this which king Iosias helde, and the Priestes, the Leuites, the Iewes, and al Israel, of all them that ‖ were at Hierusalem. ‖ Or, found dwelling at Hierusalem 22 In the eighteenth yeere of the reigne of Iosias was this Passeouer kept.

23 And with an heart full of godlines did king Iosias rightly order all his workes before the Lord.

24 And

24 And the things that came to passe in his time, they were writē of old before those dayes, concerning those that sinned, & were vngodly against the Lorde aboue all people and kingdomes, and howe they grieued him in seruing sensible things, so that the wordes of the Lord rose vp against Israel.

25 Nowe after all these actes of Iosias, it came to passe that Pharao the king of Egypt came to Charcamis vpō Euphrates, to moue warre: and Iosias went out against him.

26 But the king of Egypt sent to him, saying, what haue I to do with thee, O king of Iuda?
